7 Members Of Family Murdered By Bandits In Savage Attack In N. M.

FATHER TELLS OF ASSAULT

Three Men Shoot Family to Death as They Huddle in Kitchen of Home at Berino; Slaying Follows Inability of Father to Meet Demand For Payment of $5,000; Officers Begin Widespread Search For Slayers.

El Paso, Tex., Apr. 2.—(AP)—Border officers joined today in a hunt for three bandits who slew seven members of a Berino, N. W. dairyman's family in a savage raid last night.

Melouadio Espinosa, 60, the father, said the trio opened fire upon his family as they huddled in the kitchen of the home when he was unable to meet a demand for "that $5,000 you got when you sold your cattle." He denied the sale.

Espinosa escaped the death that overtook his wife and six children through a frontier trick and two women who fainted during the massacre were unharmed.

Vincenti Espinosa, 18, a son, was shot through both legs. He was brought to an El Paso hospital, where he was expected to recover. The dead are: Mrs. Felomena Mercedes Espinosa, 48; Luis, 32; Edna, 26, and Andrea, 23 sons; and Juanita 12; and Felipa, 9, daughters.

Confronted by the bandits' revolvers, the father dropped sprawling at the first shot. Powder burned on the face, he feigned death. The trio ignored his blind mother. Mrs. Juanita Espinosa, 82, and his sister-in-law, Mrs. Josefa Chabiri, who fainted.

The Espinosa home is 28 miles northwest of El Paso and about 12 miles from the Mexican border. Officers discounted a theory that the men might have been a raiding party from Mexico, explaining that the country on the Mexican side was wild and the roads almost impassable. They theorized that the three were Mexicans who lived on this side of the boundary. The bandits escaped in a light sedan.

Espinosa said the men posed on their arrival as officers from Santa Fe, N. M.

The survivors told officers the three came to the house and demanded to see the papers on the Espinosa cattle. They said they had heard some of the herd were stolen animals.

The dairyman informed them the suspicion was without basis, but invited them inside while he went for the papers.

When he returned to the front room two of the men had drawn pistols. The intruders said they did not care for his papers but wanted "that $5,000 you got when you sold your cattle." Espinosa replied that he had not sold any stock.

"Well, I believe I'll shoot you," one of the men remarked. Espinosa fell as the pistol cracked.

The trio proceeded towards the rear of the house, herding the mother and all six sons and daughters in a corner in the kitchen.

"We want to know where that $5,000 is and we want to know quick," one of the band said. The members of the group replied they had no money. The bandits immediately shot them down, the bodies forming a heap in the corner.

The dairyman's mother and his sister-in-law walked into the kitchen while the slaughter was in progress. They fainted and fell over the prostrate forms.

Believing all of the household dead, the bandits ransacked trunks, dresser drawers and mattresses. Finding no money, they fled in their car.

REPUBLICANS GATHER FOR DISTRICT MEETINGS

Marshall, April 2.—(AP)—Republicans of the tenth district gathered here today for their district convention and to select a congressional candidate, a district chairman, two delegates and two alternates to the national convention, four members of the state executive committee, a district executive committee and a Presidential elector.

JAPS DEFEAT REBEL TROOPS

Smash Thru Chinese Lines and Occupy The Town Of Mang-an.

Changchun, Manchuria, April 2.—(AP)—Japanese infantry, in a battle against Chinese rebel forces at Nungan, 35 miles north of here, smashed through the rebel lines this afternoon and occupied the town, turning back a serious threat against the new government. (Continued on Page Four)

GEN. TYSON PASSES AWAY

Native Pitt Countian Dies of Pneumonia at Home in Pikeville.

Goldsboro, April 2.—(AP)—Gen. B. H. Tyson, 88, one of the ranking officers of the North Carolina Confederate Veterans Association, died at the home of a daughter at Pikeville today.

General Tyson had been ill for two months at the home of Mrs. Cooper Person. A week ago double pneumonia set in and death followed today.

General Tyson was commander of the second brigade, North Carolina division of the United Confederate veterans. He joined a South Carolina regiment at the age of 15 and served throughout the Civil war.

Mrs. Person is the only surviving child. Funeral services will be held Sunday afternoon from the Wilson Episcopal church with Bishop Thomas C. Darst, assisted by the Rev. W. O. Cone, of Goldsboro, officiating.

KIWANIS CLUB HAS FOOL NITE

Program Revealing Fools and More Fools Is Presented Here Last Night.

Yesterday was April Fool day and nobody knew it better than members of the Greenville Kiwanis club who last night were treated to more fool tricks than the ordinary magician carries in his bag under the best of conditions.

The program was under direction of George Woodard, Kingfish of the committee of fools, assisted by Mrs. T. H. Boykin, Mrs. W. L. Hall, Mrs. R. A. Tyson, Jr., and Miss Frances Norman.

George introduced his co-workers, and for fear of his own personal safety, left the remainder of the program, consisting of musical numbers and contests, in their charge.

Mrs. Hall was liberally applauded in a pantomimic rendition of that old and one time popular song, "Girl of My Dreams," and received still greater ovation in a solo number.

Under direction of Mrs. Boykin, club members were given an opportunity to name the "seven chosen parts of the world" from counter-parts skillfully, but nevertheless, illusive arranged in the center of the table. C. B. Rowlett was declared winner and received an award in due acknowledgement of his skill in sizing up situations and things.

Dr. S. M. Crisp received the honor and award for hanging the first part to words beginning with "stone." The doctor displayed the fact that he knows his stuff when it comes to stones.

C. W. Harvey won out in the race of adding necessary words to unfinished sentences in which the word fool predominated.

The club accepted an invitation from the Ladies Aid Society of Grimesland to hold its next meeting in that place.

G. V. Smith presided over the meeting and the singing was in charge of C. B. Rowlett.

Named In Suit

Claire Windsor (above), film beauty, was accused of alienating the affections of Alfred C. Read, Jr., stock broker, in a suit filed in Oakland, Cal., by Mrs. Marian Read, who asks $100,000 damages.

VICE LEADER IS ARRESTED

Alleged Ringleader of Johnston County Gang Nabbed Last Night.

Smithfield, April 2.—(AP)—Red Stanley, alleged ringleader of the "vice-gang," recently rounded up by Johnston county officers, was arrested near Selma last night while driving the bandit car stolen from a Smithfield garage last week. He was unarmed, and a small quantity of whiskey was found in the car, officers said.

Officers discovered that Stanley is the same man arrested in Wilson, during the roundup of six alleged gang members, where he was known as L. Johnson, a respected citizen. The officers said he was known to the gang members merely as Red Stanley. Johnson furnished bond after his arrest ten days ago and was free when the bandit car was taken from a garage where deputies had stored it here.

The car driven by Stanley was registered in the name of Lucy Barnett. A second machine captured by police was licensed under the name L. Johnson.

Officers said their investigation disclosed that Stanley purchased the machine seized in a Selma garage from a Raleigh dealer and paid spot cash for it. He secured a license as a resident of Wilson but the machine had been stored in Selma for about a year. It was equipped with three secret compartments for concealing liquor and stolen goods and was only taken from the garage at night, when officers said it was driven on bandit "raids."

Officers say that arrests of the six alleged gang members has cleared up numerous robberies in this section and a large quantity of alleged stolen goods have been recovered.

Thinks Roosevelt Will Be Nominated

Raleigh, April 2.—(AP)—Homer S. Cummins, chairman of the Democratic National committee in 1919 and 1920, predicted here that Franklin D. Roosevelt would be nominated and elected President this year.

Coming here from Pinehurst, where he is spending a vacation, the political leader said "There is only one place Mr. Hoover can be re-elected. That is in the Democratic national convention. Common sense and desire for Democratic success plead strongly for a harmonious and successful convention."

Raleigh, N. C.—(AP)—Following the lead of the comptroller of the currency, Gurney P. Hood, state banking commissioner, announced there would be no first quarter call for state bank statements.

OPEN HEARINGS ON VETS' BILL BEGIN APRIL 11

House Committee To Consider Cash Payment of Soldiers' Compensation.

Washington, April 2.—(AP)—Acting Chairman Crisp of the House ways and means committee, today fixed Monday, April 11, to open hearings on legislation for full cash payment of the soldiers' bounties. "The committee wanted a week's rest after the tax bill, and I am going away for a shot vacation over that period," Crisp said. "Personally I am opposed to paying at this time the 50 per cent unpaid on the veterans' certificates but we promised advocates of such (Continued on Page Four)

TARIFF BILL FACES VETO

Measure Also Expected to Become Main Campaign Issue During Summer.

Washington, April 2.—(AP)—A place among the campaign issues of this summer and fall beckoned today to the Democratic tariff bill which passed the Senate yesterday but it is headed inevitably for a veto at the hands of President Hoover.

Strictly a party machine in its origins, the bill already has passed the House. The Senate passage, 42 to 30, saved the independent Republicans flocking to their old coalition with the Democrats, in a process well elaborated during the week of debate.

Amendments require that the bill go back to the House for adjustment before it is presented at the White House door. Its chief provision takes away from the Chief Executive the power to make changes in duties, ordering the tariff commission to report its suggestions to Congress instead. However, these are to pass through the President's hand and come to Congress accompanied by the Executive's recommendations.

As the Senate passed it the measure also sets up a "consumers' council" to represent the public before the Tariff Commission, and it requests the President to call an international conference to lower tariff barriers. It also carries an amendment by Senator Norris (R., Neb.) to suspend protection on products which are discovered to be manufactured and distributed without competition.

Thousand Men Out On Strike At Langly, S. C.

Langley, S. C., Apr. 2.—(AP)—Approximately 1,000 workers have gone out on strike from three Aiken county textile mills.

Langley mill operatives walked out first and as their action was endorsed by the United Textile Workers of America as a "fight against another vicious reduction of wages," workers left their posts at the Bath and Clearwater mills nearby.

Operators of the newly affected mills have made no statement other than to announce the plants were closed but Langley mill officials notified workers they welcomed an opportunity to close down in view of business conditions and advised them to seek employment elsewhere.

Stimson To Leave For Arms Confab Next Week

Washington, April 2.—(AP)—Secretary Stimson of the State Department will sail next Friday to assume his position as chairman of the American delegation at the Geneva Disarmament conference.

Stimson plans to remain in Geneva only a few days. After a brief survey of conditions he will return to this country, with Hugh Gibson, ambassador to Belgium, resuming the active chairmanship of the American delegation.

Secretary Stimson's visit abroad, it was said authoritatively has "no other purpose than the work of the conference."

He recently has been kept confined to his home by illness.

JAPS TO SEND NEW MILITARY TO MANCHURIA

Expedition of Un-announced Strength To Assist in Putting Down Rebellion.

Tokyo, April 2.—(AP)—The Japanese government ordered a new military expedition of unannounced strength to proceed to Manchuria today to assist in putting down a rampant rebellion against the government of the new federated state under Henry Pu-Yi.

The new expedition was ordered to assist the present Japanese force, which consists of two army divisions, by crossing over the Tumen river from Korea. It was directed to begin operations at Chingtao. (Continued on Page Four)

FLAYS YOUNCE BEFORE JURY

The Special Attorney Scores Activity of Former Solicitor at Lexington Trial.

Lexington, April 2.—(AP)—Geo. A. Younce's efforts to keep secret his movements here the night of February 5 when his friend, Sheriff James A. Leonard, was shot to death were stressed by E. Lee Wright, special attorney today in Younce's trial for manslaughter.

The tall, picturesque Wright, a former special Superior court judge, hammered at Younce's story before a coroner's jury that excitement and the influence of whiskey he admitted drinking that night with Leonard caused him to hide the death weapon.

"He was not too excited to warn the bell boy at the hotel to silence, nor to suggest silence to Jarvis Parker, hotel clerk," said Wright. Younce, who was district solicitor at the time of Leonard's death, told the coroner's jury Leonard was shot as the two struggled for possession of a pistol with which Leonard had just shot Neal Wimmer, 18, of Roanoke, Va., a truck driver with whom he had an argument over the responsibility for an automobile wreck.

The shooting took place before the home of W. F. Brinkley, chairman of the County Democratic executive committee, who spent the evening with Leonard and Younce. Brinkley was also indicted for manslaughter and wet on trial with Younce, but Judge G. V. Cowper yesterday quashed the charges against him, granting a non-suit.

The state had just completed its case when Brinkley was freed. Younce elected to allow his case to go to the jury without presentation of defense evidence. Wright's argument was followed by that of Norman A. Borden, of Greensboro, attorney for Younce. Borden argued the state had proven nothing contrary to the story that Younce told at the second coroner's inquest. (At the first inquest he denied any knowledge of the shooting, but changed his story at a second hearing called at his request.)

Continuing his argument, Borden contended his client was seeking only to prevent the commission of a felony and to save a friend from jeopardizing his position and his liberty.

Raleigh, N. C.—(AP)—A. J. Maxwell, candidate for governor, denied here that the large tobacco companies are backing his campaign, saying, instead, they opposed him for his 1931 opposition to a general sales tax.

Marjorie Dobson-Peacock, daughter of the Rev. Dobson-Peacock of Norfolk, Va., has been aiding her father since he announced negotiations for the return of the Lindbergh baby.

MOYES WIN DAMAGE SUIT

Robert Moye and Mother Awarded $1,250 Against City Of Greenville.

Robert Moye and mother, Mrs. Lucy Moye, were awarded a verdict for $1,250 against The City of Greenville in the final day's session of civil court in this city yesterday.

The plaintiffs were suing for $2,500 as payment for a street running through their property on Dickinson avenue, claiming that it damaged the property.

The city claimed the plaintiffs were not entitled to payment in view of the fact that the street was in use before they acquired the property.

The case was begun Thursday afternoon and went to the jury yesterday afternoon about five o'clock. The decision was returned within an hour after the case was received.

Although city authorities had not stated definitely what action would be taken in the matter, it was believed notice of appeal would be filed in the next few days.

The Tar River Lumber Company, suing V. E. Staton for $2,100 for building material consigned to a contractor in charge of construction of a building erected by the defendant, failed to recover when a jury denied contentions of the plaintiff.

About fifteen cases were disposed of in the two weeks term of court which was concluded with disposition of the damage suit. Two cases were completed during the first week's term and the remainder the present week. Virtually all cases handled both terms required more than usual time to dispose of prevented the making of a deeper dent in the calendar.

Man and Woman Again Held For Slaying Child

Asheville, April 2.—(AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Morris Brooks, released on bond after a coroner's inquest into the death of Willie Mae Mashburn, 8, have been re-arrested and charged with first degree murder in connection with the child's death. They are being held in the Buncombe county jail.

The little girl, who lived with the Brooks family, died March 23. Physicians testified at the inquest that the body was covered with bruises and that she had symptoms of pneumonia several weeks before her death.

Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Cutshaw, who lived at the Brooks home, testified the child was subjected to beatings and neglect. The jury gave a verdict that death resulted from cruelty and neglect at the hands of the Brooks, who were released under $2,500 bond each.

Then, following further investigations by Solicitor Zeb V. Nettles, the Brooks were re-arrested yesterday and charged with first degree murder.

KIDNAPED MAN RETURNS HOME

Two Minor Politicians Held at Peoria for Aiding in Abduction.

Peoria, Ill., April 2.—(AP)—Dr. James W. Parker, 65, a wealthy physician, was safely back at his home today after being held captive for 18 days by kidnapers.

Two minor politicians suspected by police of aiding in the abduction. (Continued on Page Four)

MAY LOCATE PLANT HERE

New York Manufacturer Considers This City as Location for Factory.

A large manufacturer of New York State, who operates several factories for the manufacture of fruit baskets, was in Greenville yesterday conferring with C. B. Rowlett, secretary of the Merchants Association, and other interested citizens, with reference to establishing one of his company's units here.

He has visited every other town of any consequence in this part of the state and said he was more impressed with Greenville than all others.

The company uses only hard wood, such as gum, for manufacture of their product and the representative was convinced there was ample quantity of such timber to meet their demand over an indefinite period.

The representative expects to return here in the near future to resume negotiations for the probable establishment of a plant here. He said they would employ around 75 to 100 people, including both men and women, if the industry was established here.

In view of the fact that Greenville is in need of industries of this kind, numbers of business men are giving the proposal consideration and the return of the representative is being looked forward to with interest.

Hoover Hopes to Do Away With Shipping Board

Washington, April 2.—(AP)—Giving impetus to the move for the abolition of the Shipping Board, President Hoover has decided not to appoint a successor to the late E. C. Plummer, vice-chairman of that organization.

He is hoping, Mr. Hoover told newspapermen yesterday, that Congress will take steps to do away with this once great independent government unit, so as to make drastic reductions in merchant marine expenditures. The President has been seeking this step for some time. The Shipping Board is entirely outside his authority, but its activities link in with those of the post office, commerce and navy departments at many points.

At present in subsidies, direct and indirect, the merchant marine is receiving $100,000,000 a year from the government, much of it in construction loans and mail contracts. Many ships of the big war-time fleet still remain in the government's hands under board control, though the greater part of those in service have passed into private ownership.

Gerard Resigns As Treasurer Of Democratic Party

Washington, April 2.—(AP)—James W. Gerard today notified the clerk of the House that he had resigned as treasurer of the Democratic national committee.

The letter under date of yesterday said "This is to advise you I have today resigned as treasurer of the Democratic national committee, my resignation to take effect immediately."

UNITY MARKS ITS PASSAGE

Measure Surpassing in Rates Any Tax Raising Proposal Drafted In Congress in Peace Time Given Overwhelming Vote; To Come up For Consideration of the Senate Next Week.

Washington, April 2.—(AP)—The billion dollar tax bill was through the House today and despatched to the Senate on an overwhelming vote which concluded in unity three bitter weeks of battling and bitter debate.

Surpassing in its rates any revenue raising proposal drafted in Congress during peace time, the bill was approved by the House late yesterday evening. The Senate, favorably disposed toward it will begin consideration early next week in committee hearings.

Combined with stringent economies in appropriations, the bill is designed to end deficits and place the government on a self-supporting basis for the coming fiscal year. The Democrats controlling this House expect the bill to achieve this aim, raising an estimated $1,032,400,000, to which they promise to add more than $200,000,000 of appropriation cuts.

The treasury shaves the estimated yield of the bill to $907,400,000 and cuts the possible appropriation reductions to $135,500,000, thus expecting to fall short by about $88,000,000 of equaling the anticipated $1,241,000,000 deficit. The figures entering all calculations, however, are estimates subject to marked change as time passes.

The vote by which the bill went through was 327 to 64 on entirely non-partisan lines. Favoring it were 164 Democrats and 162 Republicans, while 37 Democrats and 27 Republicans voted against. This sweeping victory was preceded by a lengthy series of roll calls in which the House went down the line for its leaders, supporting every amendment brought by the ways and means committee and rejecting one clause previously written in the bill over committee protest. In one vote, however, the membership recorded itself 236 to 100 against the general sales tax which was stricken from the bill at the climax of the earlier revolt, and which the committee and the House leaders had abandoned.

In the Senate there is now definite assurance that the sales tax issue will be revived. The bill is expected to receive the same strong Republican - Democratic coalition support which put through the Reconstruction Corporation, the credit expansion act and other units of the bi-partisan program for economic recovery.

Chairman Smoot (R. Utah), of the finance committee, will assemble his group Tuesday or Wednesday to begin work. He expects to hold hearings at which every industry taxed under this bill already is seeking to be heard, to renew the vigorous arguments they made before the House committee. Meantime the Democratic senators have been called by their leader, Robinson of Arkansas, to meet next week in a parley which he predicts will result in a favorable attitude on the bill.

A number of changes in the measure may result but no wholesale alteration is in prospect.

Negro Killed, Two Cops Hurt In Gun Battle

Winston-Salem, April 2.—(AP)—Two policemen were slightly wounded, a negro was killed and another negro was wounded in gunplay here last night.

Officers Tolitson and Smith were taking Roosevelt Hawkins, negro, to headquarters on a liquor violation charge when they saw William Stewart, 35-year-old negro, holding a group of negroes at bay with a shotgun.

Calling to him to drop the gun, they were answered by a volley of shots. The officers and their prisoner were all struck but not seriously hurt, and Stewart was killed in the return volley.

Washington, April 2.—(AP)—James W. Gerard today notified the clerk of the House that he had resigned as treasurer of the Democratic national committee.

The letter under date of yesterday said "This is to advise you I have today resigned as treasurer of the Democratic national committee, my resignation to take effect immediately."

ABOUT TOWN

The cantata given here last night by the Choral Society was one of the most splendid productions probably ever rendered here before.

This organization has won considerable recognition since its foundation several months ago, and the splendid training of the singers is an inspiration to the city as well as to the individual members themselves.

The need for an organization to develop interest in music has been long pronounced in Greenville for many years and now that one is functioning it should be the purpose of the citizenry to support it in every way possible.

Nothing adds more to the life of a community than well trained musical organizations and Prof. Frank Huffy who is directing the efforts of the society here is to be congratulated upon his achievement.

According to announcement of the Ministerial Association, city churches will hold regular evening services at 8 o'clock in the future instead of 7:30 o'clock as in the past.

Time of the services always changes the first of April and October and the public should take note of the fact and be prompt in attendance. The churches of the city are planning some mighty fine services during the summer months and those who attend may be assured of deriving inspiration from the sermons and musical programs rendered by choirs second to none in this section of the state.

Every person that became an unsuspecting victim of an April fool yesterday is not a fool in any sense of the word, as the majority of the people will testify.

In most cases those who were easy prey for pranks had the satisfaction of turning the tables before the day was over and the first to pull the trick suffered the most severely.

It is well that April the first is considered all fools day because it gives everybody license to have a little fun without fearing the consequences. The victim of an April fool usually smiles good naturedly and determines to return the prank to the best advantage.

Plenty of fools were in evidence yesterday, but the majority of them were clear headed business men who can afford to relax long enough to help bring a smile to faces which have been grim and unsmiling long enough.

The Interstate Commerce Commission continues to oppose Reconstruction loans to railroads to pay notes held by private banks.

The first announcement in this connection was made last week and the second was published yesterday.

That the commission has plenty room for complaint is indubitable. There are other forms of industry in worse need of money than the railroads, especially when securities are held by private banks and the Reconstruction organization probably will incur more widespread opposition as result of its action.

It is easy for large corporations to get money when needed but it is almost impossible to get anything through for the farmers of this part of the country in spite of the unprecedented situation confronting them the last several years.

The Reconstruction Corporation should be able to render splendid service to industry but it can't expect to accomplish as much as it should by loaning over fifteen millions of dollars to one organization.

At a time when unemployment is at the worst in this country, thousands of miners in the bituminous coal fields are idle because they can't reach an agreement in a wage controversy.

Of all times to hold out this is the worst and the miners would have done well to have stayed at their jobs and ironed out their difficulties without resorting to idleness.

Wage adjustments are inevitable as result of changing economic

Kitty Frew

By Jane Abbott

SYNOPSIS. Garfield Frew is sending flowers to Marge Crosby—at least, so his wife, Kitty, suspects. She does not realize that Marge is gaining a hold on Gar through the little theatre work they are doing. Though Gar dislikes his half-brother, David, Kitty remains loyal to David's friendship.

Chapter 26 DOES A PRINCESS EAT? Kitty put the incident of the orchids out of her mind. Marge were them often; any one of a number of admirers might have sent them to her. "And, anyway, what if Gar did?" she asked of herself, feeling very tolerant and understanding.

Christmas occupied her time and thought. In a bureau drawer she had hidden her gift for Gar. It was a crayon sketch of a New York skyscraper. "Granite Mountains," she had thought when she first saw it, and the rising peaks had made her think of the Panther range at dusk. Gar would think that, too.

She planned how Gar and she would celebrate this, their first Christmas together. They'd have a tree, of course. They'd trim it and light it Christmas Eve.

But Gar laughed when she said they'd have a tree. "We won't be home long enough to look at it, Kit. Marge is throwing a party Christmas Eve, at the theatre—a sort of christening. And mother'll want us over at the house on Christmas Day."

Kitty would not be dismayed. She only smiled when Gar called her a funny little kid.

Gar's time was given over more than ever to his players. It was necessary for him to go to these last rehearsals, he explained to Kitty. Every day he went over to the little theatre; there was always something or other there to demand his attention. He talked endlessly of one thing or another, the new drop curtain, the lighting effect, the little coffee room next to the foyer, who was gold and who wasn't in the cast. "Wait until you see Marge! She's perfect!" He confided to Kitty that Somerset was a bum. But Marge was handling him properly! And Kitty listened, believing she was really interested because Gar was so interested.

Gar had been insisting that she buy a new evening dress for herself. "Call it my Christmas present. If you want to, Kit." She consented, finally, on that understanding. But Gar was too busy to go with her to select it. She bought a filmy white and silver thing.

Three days before Christmas she ran into Dorcas in one of the stores. Dorcas' arms were full of bundles. She nodded down at her burden. "These are for my family. I always have a party Christmas Eve. Wish you could come."

They'd talked only for a moment for Dorcas was in a rush.

Kitty felt a moment's envy for the merriment they'd have in Dorcas' room. David would be there, of course.

Well, she was glad David would not be alone!

And she'd have her tree. She'd bought it; the janitor was going to help her stand it in a corner of the living room. She'd trim it before Gar came home. She'd have an especially nice supper and they'd eat in state. She'd pull on the new dress—Gar's Christmas gift. And then they'd light their tree—

Snow fell steadily the day before Christmas. At dusk the city was covered with a soft blanket.

She trimmed the little tree, lovingly, sniffing at its fragrance.

Her supper was ready except for switching on of the oven heat.

She put on the new dress with considerable excitement. Gar would like it.

The telephone rang. "Kit, I'm down at the theatre tied up in knots. I just can't get away. Will you be awfully jonesome if I don't get home until late?"

"But, Gar—"

"The racket here won't start until midnight. I'll dash up in time to get dressed. Have my things ready, will you? Looks like it was going to be some Christmas, Kit!"

Kitty put down the telephone. Her lips quivered, tears brimmed in her eyes. Christmas Eve! She turned her back on the little tree and went slowly into the bedroom. If Gar had sounded more sorry that he was detained! He hadn't explained what kept him. Unpleasant suspicions leaped to her mind.

But she met them defiantly. Of course something had come up; she understood how they all turned to Gar in any emergency, depended on him. She was proud that they did! Oh, she understood. She said aloud: "It's all right." It would be only a matter of two hours or so and then he'd come he'd dress, they'd go out to meet their Christmas guests.

Those "two hours or so" loomed threateningly until a saving thought came to her. She'd go to Dorcas' apartment, surprise them all in their merriment. They'd be glad to have her come. She ordered a taxi cab. "92 Ketchum Street."

She sat very erect in it, smiling in anticipation of bursting in upon them. She'd see David.

She heard laughter as she entered the house. Dorcas' door stood open flooding the narrow upper hall with rosy light. Kitty stood in the door for a moment before anyone noticed her. With one swift sweeping glance her eyes took in the familiar room, the familiar faces, the little white-haired man sitting in the chair of honor, the Christmas tree twinkling at the further end of the room, Dorcas and Mrs. Gentle and Mark in the alcove fussing over the table laden with food, David, his back to her, standing before the fire.

He turned as if some wordless greeting had reached him across the room. Her coat had slipped a little off her shoulder revealing to him more a vision of white and silver than the flesh and blood reality that waited, smiling, for a word to bid her enter.

The others saw her before David could speak. She was drawn into the room gayly. "I'd almost thought there was a dog's chance of your getting here Kitty," Dorcas cried. Emil and Max were pressing her hand. Everyone seemed to talk at once, everyone except David. He still stood by the fire but his eyes hung on her, his smile met hers.

"I can't quite believe you're real," he said to her in a low tone when she stood beside him.

They made a place for her in their merriment.

Mark passed the plates which Mrs. Gentle had heaped with food. Max filled the coffee cups. David put his pillow next to Kitty's chair.

"Does a princess eat?" She accepted his compliment with a vivid blush. "This one does. I'm ravenous! Oh, it's nice, being here with you tonight."

Behind the masterful pitching of Berry Dail, Greenville high school baseball club won the opening game of the conference season from Tarboro by the score of 7 to 1 at Third street school grounds yesterday afternoon.

Backed by timely stick work of his teammates, Dail, one of the ace moundsmen of the local club, held the visitors completely at his mercy at crucial periods of the game and deliberately forced batters to whiff the air or pop up when hits would have resulted in runs.

Tarboro, boasting one of the most formidable clubs of the conference, was rated to win the conference opener, but Greenville's surprising strength at bat and on the mound dissipated all forecasts concerning the engagement.

In addition to striking out eight, Dail displayed his ability as a hurler in the third and fifth innings when Tarboro loaded the bases and threatened to carry off honors of the day, in each inning Dail fanned two batters and caused the other two to lift short flies to infield. The visitors scored their lone run in the third.

Jenkins pitched for Tarboro and yielded nine hits, which acquired at opportune moments, enabled the locals to gain an overwhelming lead early in the game. He had ten strikeouts to his credit, however, and proved almost invincible at different stages of the game.

Roger Taylor, who was prevented from pitching for Greenville on account of a slight indisposition, covered first base and snatched batting honors of the day. He connected for three hits, one of which was for an extra base.

Charles Cobb also shared in batting honors, getting the only other double of the game while pinching for Woodard. All members of the club accounted for base hits except two.

Coach Porter expressed himself as highly pleased with the outcome of the contest. He said the boys did remarkably fine work in view of the fact that they had had only one week of practice.

Dail and Summrell composed the battery for Greenville and Jenkins and Hart for Tarboro.

Raleigh, N. C.—(AP)—A Roosevelt for President Club has been organized here, with Carol L. Williamson, commissioner of public safety, president.

almost midnight, almost Christmas Day. The lamp which Kitty had left burning touched with soft light the waiting Christmas tree. Kitty stood for a moment, looking at it. Before they rushed off to the party at the theatre she and Gar would take time for the ceremony of switching on the lights.

She went to the bedroom and laid out her Christmas evening clothes. She heard a key in the door—Gar! She ran out to the entry to meet him.

Tubby and Red Harding stood in the open door, supporting Gar between them. Gar's head was hanging limply, sideways, his face blotched, idiotically blank.

Where has Gar been, and what has happened? Kitty learns only too well on Monday.

HIGH SCHOOL WINS OPENING CONTEST HERE

Greenville high school was eliminated in the annual state-wide triangular debate held yesterday.

The affirmative team composed of Misses Ruth Horne and Catherine Tyson lost to Washington and New Bern yesterday morning, and the negative side, Misses Gretchen Willard and Elizabeth Ferguson, lost to New Bern at Washington.

At the same time Greenville was debating away from home, Washington affirmative won from New Bern here, and by virtue of their double victory will go to Chapel Hill to take part in the finals.

The subject of the debate was "Resolved, That the United States Should Adopt Unemployment Insurance."

Little Congress Dines Tonight

Washington, April 2.—(AP)—"The Little Congress" will banquet tonight and its idea of a good time is to hear some more speeches.

Guest orators will be Senator Smoot of Utah; Senator White of Maine; Representative Crail of California; Representative Kvale of Minnesota; Sergeant-at-Arms Romney of the House; Representative Laham of Texas; and Representative Mobley, the 25 year old Georgian, who was last to be graduated from the "Little Congress" to his "Big Congress."

Secretaries to senators and representatives make up the "Little Congress."

THREE MEN INDICTED ON MURDER CHARGE

Robinsonville, N. C., April 2.—(AP)—Oliver L. Baker, Charles Peterson, John Gladden and Jack Prince have been indicted for murder in connection with the slaying six years ago of Eagle Rose near here.

Officers said Rose was killed at Baker's store April 2, 1926, but his body was not found until 42 days later, and for several years the slaying was a mystery until new evidence discovered by J. J. O'Malley, former Chicago detective, resulted in the present arrests.

Miss Evelyn Hart is at home from Montreal for the week-end.

Miss Frances Turnage of Ayden, is spending the week-end with Miss Mary Woodard.

Mrs. D. Murray House and Miss Kemp House left yesterday for Raleigh to attend the dances at State college.

Miss Flanagan Hostess.

Miss Helen Flanagan was a delightful hostess to members of the Junior Bridge Club last night at her home on Fifth street.

After several spirited progressions of auction bridge, Miss Elizabeth Wilson was presented a deck of cards for high score prize.

The hostess, assisted by Misses Elizabeth Wilson and Jean Hodges then served a delectable sweet course.

After adjournment the members repaired to the home of Miss Jean Hodges where pleasant tete-a-tetes were enjoyed.

CLARK-CARROLL

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Carroll of Winterville, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Mary Jane Carroll, to Henry Irwin Clark, son of Mrs. H. L. Clark and the late Dr. Clark of Scotland Neck.

The wedding to take place in the early summer.

MAJOR WILSON IS TRANSFERRED TO HAWAII

(By Universal Press)

Washington, D. C., April 1.—Transfer of Major Bascom L. Wilson of the medical corps, native of Greenville, N. C., from Fort Sam Houston, Texas, to the Hawaiian Islands was today ordered by the War Department.

An announcement, signed by General Douglas MacArthur, chief of staff, and countersigned by Major C. H. Bridges, adjutant general, was to the effect that Major Wilson would be shifted from his present station at San Antonio to Honolulu. The change will not, however, take effect until fall.

Under the conditions of the order, Wilson will go to San Francisco, from which port he will sail on or about September 23 for Hawaii. On reaching the islands, he will report to the commanding general for assignment to duty with the medical corps there.

Mrs. Boyd in Hospital

Friends of Mrs. J. H. Boyd will regret to learn that she is in Pitt Community hospital.

EXECUTIVE BOARD AUXILIARY TO MEET

The executive board of the Presbyterian Auxiliary will meet Monday afternoon at four o'clock with Mrs. F. G. Dennis.

"Twilight Musical"

The Synanon Hill Baptist Church (colored) choir assisted by local talent, will present their second annual "Twilight Musical," Sunday evening, April 3, 1932, at 7:45.

ARTHUR SHARES HONORS IN DEBATING CONTEST

Arthur shared the honors in the State Triangular Debating contest held Friday night at the 210 high schools of the state, when their negative team, Drs. Nichols and Elbert Tyson Jr., won the decision at Maury.

At home, Mildred Taylor and Marjorie Flanagan upheld the affirmative side of the query against Howard and Blizzart of the P. D. High School of Pink Hill. Even though the negative team won the decision the Arthur girls are due much credit for their splendid efforts.

The Maury negative team won at Pink Hill, giving each school in the triangle one victory.

The interest shown in the school and entire community during their contest has been unusually good especially since this is Arthur's first entrance in the State Triangular contest.

Miss Myrtle Melton is spending the week-end in Rocky Mount with her mother.

Quite a number of Arthur people attended the debating contest in Maury Friday night.

Mrs. G. C. Cratch is spending the week-end in Arthur with her mother, Mrs. A. C. Jackson. Mr. Cratch is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Cratch of Washington

An outdoor adventure story, "Spirit of the West," featuring Hoot Gibson, will be the screen treat for Saturday.

CHORAL CLUB GIVES RECITAL

"The Holy City" Rendered by Forty-Two Voices Here Last Night.

A sacred cantata, "The Holy City," was presented by the Greenville Choral club at the Austin auditorium at East Carolina Teachers college last night.

It was the annual spring recital of the organization and the auditorium was well filled with music lovers of the city who expressed themselves as highly pleased with the splendid rendition of the various numbers of what is considered to be one of the most inspirational productions of the day.

The program was under direction of Frank R. Houty, of Wilson, who is well known in the musical circles of the state, and who has directed activities of the club since its organization last fall. Mrs. Catherine Thomas acted as accompanist.

The work of soloists and chorus was never better than last night. Each singer seemed to feel that he was a part of the important Scriptural passages around which the cantata is centered and put all power of expression into each number. Note coloring and enunciation were particularly splendid and were expressive of the long training in preparation for the presentation.

"The Holy City" was composed by Alfred R. Gau, for the Birmingham Musical Festival in 1882 and has since become one of the most loved sacred cantatas pertaining to the Easter season.

The first part of "The Holy City" was suggested by the passages of Scripture, "Here have we no continuing city," "Thy Kingdom Come," and reveals the desire for a higher, more exalted life as expressed in the words, "My soul is athirst for God," which desire is followed by other passages indicative of the higher life, such as "Eye hath not seen."

The second part was suggested by the words, "I saw a new heaven and a new earth for the first heaven and the first earth were passed away," thus realizing the desire and promise contained in the first part.

With exception of two hymns, a verse from Milton, and three verses from Te Deum, the words are entirely Scriptural. The program follows:

Part 1—Contemplation: 1. Chorus, incidental solo by Rev. R. F. Pittman; 2. tenor solo, Spruill Spain; 3. trio, Mrs. Dink James, Misses Agnes Fullilove, and Ona Shindler; 4. chorus; 5. soprano solo, Mrs. Chas. White; 6. chorus; 7. chorus.

Part 2—Adoration: 8. Bass solo, William Langley and chorus; 9. double chorus; 10. tenor solo, Spruill Spain; 11. solo, Mrs. Knott Proctor; 12. chorus; 13. soprano solo, Mrs. John Karsnak; 14. duet, Mesdames Dink James and Tom Watson; 15. women's chorus, with incidental solos by Frank Houty and Mrs. C. A. White; 16. chorus.

The club is composed of forty-two of the best voices in the county and is considered a credit to the community. The singers have confined much time to practice each week and had worked on the cantata since Christmas.

Officers of the society are: Mrs. Charles White, president; Mrs. Ray Tyson, vice-president; Mrs. Knott Proctor, secretary; Mrs. Ed Harvey, treasurer.

The executive committee is composed of the president, Miss Eva Hodges, and J. H. Rose.

The club has no financial backing and is entirely dependent upon the co-operation and support of those interested in the development of music, and members expressed gratification at the appreciation in evidence last night.

UNIVERSITY WOMEN TO MEET IN WINSTON-SALEM

Chapel Hill, March 23.—Winston-Salem was named as the place and April 15 and 16 were set as the dates for the fifth conference of the North Carolina division of the American Association of University Women at a meeting held here.

The Winston-Salem invitation was extended by five members of that branch who met here with Mrs. E. R. Mosher, state president, and Mrs. G. T. Schwenning, state publicity chairman. Those present from Winston-Salem were Mrs. Wingate Johnson, president of the Winston-Salem branch; Mrs. A. F. Johnst, convention chairman; Miss Lillian Haislip, publicity chairman; Mrs. Conrad Van Hyming, chairman of the drama group; and Mrs. Melville Prongay, chairman of luncheon arrangements.

The conference, according to a tentative program outlined at the meeting here, will open at 10:30 o'clock Friday morning, April 15, with a meeting of the executive board and presidents, followed by a luncheon of the afternoon program will be a garden tour followed by tea with President and Mrs. Howard Rondthaler of Salem College as hosts.

At the Friday evening session, J. Fred Rippey, professor of international relations, Duke University, and Miss Mary Kwei, dean of women in Hua Chung (Central China) College, Wuchang, will deliver addresses. A play by the Winston-Salem branch will close the evening session.

Saturday's session will open with a breakfast conference at Blue

Willow Inn at 8 o'clock, and from 9 to 12 o'clock the officers will make their reports, with Mrs. E. R. Mosher presiding. The drama group will be led by Harry Davis, assistant director of the Carolina Play-makers.

There will be a luncheon meeting at the Century Church to be featured by addresses by Miss Alice Messerve, professor of languages of Peace College, on the "History of the A. U. W. in North Carolina," and by Miss Harriet Elliott, professor of political science, North Carolina College for Women, on "The University Woman's Obligation to the State."

Election of officers and choice of the next meeting place will be final items on the program.

The Greenville branch will be well represented this year at the state meeting. For the past two years, at the meeting in Charlotte and the one in Durham, the local branch has had a good representation, and made excellent reports.

Mrs. Hillman, the president, has not missed a meeting since this branch has been organized and is planning to be on hand at Winston-Salem.

Seeing Through My Windshield

By ETHEL NICE (Home Demonstration Agent, Food Leaders' School.)

Food leaders assembled at the Woman's Club building last Tuesday afternoon for instructions in bread making. Miss Mary E. Thomas, extension food and nutrition specialist, demonstrated the entire process beginning with potato ferment. Previous to the meeting some dough had been prepared. This was baked and served to those present. This method of bread baking is much less expensive than methods using commercial yeast for each baking.

WEAKNESS TIRED FEELING

CARDUI has helped many women, as in a case described below by Mrs. E. F. Fogle, of Sulphur, La.: "I suffered a great deal from weakness and a very tired feeling. I was nervous and my back ached. I did not sleep at all well, so did not feel equal to my work when morning came. My sister told me that she thought Cardui would benefit me, and after I began taking it I could tell that it did help me. I rested much better, and felt better in every way. I took six bottles and it was quite a benefit to me."

Market Report

Cotton--Stocks--Grain

N. Y. COTTON

New York, April 2.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady today at a decline of one to six points on local and scattered selling, influenced by easy cables.

Initial offerings were absorbed by covering and trade buying, but the selling became somewhat more active after the call. The rather more favorable showing of the weather map may have been a factor, but the continued weakness of the stock market seemed to be the chief feature on the decline, which carried May contracts to 6.10 and October to 6.50 or about 7 to 8 points net lower, by the end of the first half hour. Liverpool cables reported trade calling and covering on the decline in sterling, and said there was an improved demand for cotton cloth from India.

The amount of cotton on shipboard at U. S. ports awaiting clearance at the end of the week was estimated at 191,000 bales against 115,000 last year.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, April 2.—(AP)—Soaring on sensational crop damage reports from the southwest and west, the wheat market rose about 3 cents a bushel today.

Big export buying of North American wheat 1,500,000 bushels, accelerated the gains in values. There was also aggressive purchasing on the part of all classes of traders, especially houses with connections southwest.

Wheat closed buoyant at the day's top level, 23-24 cents above yesterday's finish, corn 5-8-1 up, oats 1-4-1-2 advanced, and provisions unchanged to 15 cents lower.

STOCK MARKET

New York, April 2.—(AP)—Selling converged upon the railroad shares in today's short session of the stock market, and price averages penetrated new low levels for the third successive day.

Pressure was relaxed in the last hour, however, and enough short covering appeared to reduce the decline somewhat. Extreme losses of 1 to 4 points were numerous, but many of these were out in half.

The industrials and utilities generally finished within rations of yesterday's final level, but several falls were off 1 to 2 points net. The closing tone was heavy. Trading was in fair volume for a two-hour session, transfers approximating a million shares.

Union Pacific dropped 4 points, then recovered half. Santa Fe declined 2-1/2 to a new minimum, then recovered a fraction. Directors meet next week for action on Santa Fe's dividend, recently cut to a 36 annual basis from $10. Southern Pacific, Missouri Pacific preferred, New Haven, and New York Central closed a point or more lower. Baltimore and Ohio preferred lost 2.

Foreign exchanges were marked by a renewal of strength of the French franc. This currency ruled 3-16 of a point higher at 3-90 3-16 cents for cables, or not far from the outgoing gold point from New York. Sterling weakened, cables ruling 2 cents lower at 43.76.

Playboy Pays For Murder of His Sweetheart

Trenton, N. J., Apr. 2.—(AP)—William M. Frazer, small town playboy, paid last night for the murder of his sweetheart, Mrs. Phoebe Stader.

Nine minutes after the current was turned on he was announced dead.

The body was to be sent to his widow, Hilda, at Railway where they lived. She and his 70-year-old mother bade him goodbye Wednesday.

Until almost the last minute his world war buddies conducted a fight to save him.

Frazer led a humdrum life as a restaurant manager until he inherited $25,000. He proceeded to spend it all, much of it on Broadway.

Frazer was on an auto ride with Mrs. Stader when the slaying occurred in February, 1931. He said she was shot accidentally with his rifle. The prosecution contended he was afraid she would break off their acquaintance.

Frazer propped the body in his car and drove hundreds of miles. His cousin, Ira Jensen, said Frazer called him out of his house late at night, and said:

"Meet the girl friend."
 Jensen said he stretched out his hand, clasped Mrs. Stader's and found she was dead.

Driving south, Frazer dumped the body near Bowling Green, Va., where vultures attracted a passer-by's attention to it. He was arrested in Raleigh, N. C.

Mexico Prepares For Election Day

Mexico City, April 3.—(AP)—The Mexican army prepared today to take control of the country at 6 p. m. in preparations for primary elections which will be held tomorrow to choose candidates for state and congressional offices.

The military forces will be in control until 6 a. m., Monday. In Mexico City the only policemen on duty will be traffic officers and these will be disbanded.

Also, by order of Secretary of War Plutarco Elias Calles, any civilian caught carrying a gun during the election period will be jailed.

The emergency measures are being taken because of the tension developed during the primary campaign. More than 500 candidates are seeking the national revolutionary party's nominations for 168 deputy seats.

JAPS TO SEND NEW MILITARY TO MANCHURIA

 near the Korean and Soviet Russian borders.

Pierce fighting was reported in that section today and the plight of the new government was said to be extremely grave.

Minister Hata of overseas affairs consulted with Foreign Minister Kenkichi Yoshizawa late this afternoon on the advisability of sending the new expedition, claiming it was necessary to protect hundreds of Japanese citizens in the district around Chientao and Fanching.

The region already was in a panic state, the minister said, as a result of the advance of the Chinese rebels under General Wang Tshun and Chinese irregulars belonging to the "Big Swords" society. These he said, had drive hundreds of Japanese and "White" Russians to seek refuge across the border near Keigen Point, noted as the meeting place of three empires—Japan, Russia and China.

To cope with a revolt in the Sungari valley General Jiro Tamon, Japanese commander, moved the headquarters of his division from Harbin to Wukimilio, 85 miles east. From there he will direct the operations of his tow brigade which are engaging the rebels at Fang-Cheng Sanshin and also a part of Lieut.-Gen. Murai's brigade which is moving eastward from Harbin.

General Tamon planned to crush the former followers of Tang Chao, Chinese rebel leader who began the revolt, and in order to do this the Japanese expedition was expected.

Helen Rice of Ottomans, Va., will preside as May queen at the State Teachers college in Fredericksburg. She is highly popular and an officer in the student government.

KIDNAPED MAN BACK HOME

 were in custody, but other members of the alleged kidnap gang escaped after releasing their victim when squads of police attempted to close in on them late last night.

Agents of Chicago's "Secret Six" and Peoria and state highway police had kept vigil for the gang for 30 hours while the two suspects, Joseph H. Pursfull, Peoria lawyer, and J. W. Betson, carpenter contractor, were being questioned.

Parker told authorities that he had been treated well by the kidnapers and that he was released near Peoria by three men who pushed him blindfolded from an automobile.

Sergeant Oliver Kempster of the state highway police said no ransom had been paid. Alexander Jamie, chief investigator of the "Secret Six" and Peoria police officials did not comment on the ransom matter.

The two suspects, both of whom have been candidates for elective offices on "reform" tickets in the past, were said by police to have admitted aiding in the abduction. They were taken into custody Wednesday and held incommunicado until Dr. Parker was released.

 of Henry Pu-Yi.

The Japanese victory was accomplished after heavy fighting which took place south and east of the city during the day.

It was the first major defeat for the rebels, but in the meantime the rebels continued to spread through several other Manchurian areas.

A Japanese brigade under Major General Hasobe threw its forces against heavy fighting was reported.
