BARKLEY WILL MAKE KEYNOTE PARTY SPEECH

Jouett Shouse Recommended as Permanent Chairman of Democratic Confab

Chicago, April 5.—(AP)—A supporter of Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York—Senator Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky—has been named to sound the keynote for the Democrats when they meet here June 27 to select their presidential candidate.

Convention Heads

Senator Barkley (top), has been chosen keynote of the Democratic national convention in Chicago. Jouett Shouse (bottom), was elected permanent chairman.

Senator Barkley who but recently withdrew as a possible favorite son presidential candidate to support the Roosevelt campaign, was selected as the party's national convention temporary chairman yesterday by the Democratic arrangements committee.

Shouse, who is chairman of the party's executive committee, was regarded as the candidate of the anti Roosevelt faction for keynote. In making a recommendation for permanent chairman the committee disregarded precedent, for it has not been the practice in the past for the committee to take such action.

The selection of both a temporary and a permanent chairman was viewed as a compromise between Gov. Roosevelt's supporters and their opponents on the committee.

It was an all-day session, apparently marked by spirited debate. Shouse, who presided, said, however, that harmony prevailed and that the recommendations were unanimous.

SCHOOL COST DROPS IN N. C.

Six Months Institutions Operated for $3,000,000 Less This Year

Raleigh, April 5.—(AP)—Operating costs of the six months schools for the session just ended dropped approximately $3,000,000 under the cost for the previous term, statistics compiled today by the state board of equalization show, Leroy Martin, secretary, said.

Under state maintenance this year the six months schools were budgeted for an expenditure of $19,183,642 while the aggregate cost under county and district supervision last year was $22,500,000.

Taking the actual expenditures for this year rather than the amounts budgeted, the decrease will amount to nearly $4,000,000, Martin said.

A portion of the savings, $1,300,000 resulted from the 10 per cent reduction in teachers' salaries. Further reductions were made in the number of extra teachers employed from county and local funds and savings were reported through out the operating costs.

State and federal governments contributed $15,958,539 of the total expense of the six months schools. This amount would have operated the schools at the state standard for six months but local districts (Continued on page four)

Former Officer Held on Bond in Kidnapping

Lexington, April 5.—(AP)—R. F. Spivey, of High Point, former member of the Lexington police force, alleged to have kidnapped Deputy Sheriff W. M. Meacham for a short time when the latter sought to bring him here on a liquor charge, was placed under $1,500 bond pending a preliminary hearing.

After being chased through Davidson, Randolph and Montgomery counties by Sheriff Bodenheimer and Deputy Sides, Spivey eluded them, but Meacham noticed the car turn into highway 10 and careen, almost being wrecked, and followed it to a garage, where he found it contained liquor.

Meacham said Spivey agreed to come with him to town, but turned off a side road, carrying the officer away, threatened his life and finally forced him from the car at a lonely spot. Meacham was accompanied by his son, who accompanied him.

VETO AWAITS INDEPENDENCE IN PHILIPPINES

President Expected to Give Legislation Set-back After Passage by Congress

Washington, April 5.—(AP)—A veto apparently waits at the White House for legislation to grant independence to the Philippines Islands.

By an astonishing margin—306 to 47—the Hare bill under which independence would come after eight or ten years, passed the House yesterday. Later this session, perhaps in a month, this bill or a substitute for it will be taken up in the Senate, with fair chances of passage. It may, therefore, be up to the president to meet this long-standing issue. The two members of his cabinet most concerned in the question, are definitely and sharply opposed.

The House action, taken under the most stringent rules invoked since the Democrats took control, followed reading of a letter from Secretary Stimson in which turning loose the islands was condemned strongly. It preceded by a short time a jaunt: "Just giving President Hoover something else to veto," uttered by Secretary Hurley. He qualified this remark under questioning, however, by observing (Continued on page four)

NEW ARREST IN SHOOTING

Police Nab Another Man Wanted in Wounding of University Student

Charlotte, April 5.—(AP)—With two men under arrest and two others believed located, Charlotte detectives today predicted an early clean-up of the shooting near Chapel Hill last Thursday night in which Ashley Penn, University of North Carolina student, was wounded.

Acting on information given by Elwood Johnson, first of the bandits arrested, Greenville, S. C., police last night apprehended, and turned over to police here, Lawrence Armstrong, of Mount Holly, said by Johnson to have participated in the attempted hold-up of a weiner stand in Chapel Hill and the subsequent events.

In Durham, last night, it was revealed that Robert Stone, of Chapel Hill, was also in the Penn car, along with Miss Anne Edmonds, University co-ed, when it was commandeered by officer, U. M. Rackley, of Chapel Hill, to chase four men who had attempted to rob George Coleman, operator of the stand.

Stone said just as Penn overtook the bandit car a tire blew out, causing the car to swerve from side to side and forcing the bandits to halt. Stone said Penn asked Rackley for a gun, advanced on the "other car and opened a door, when he was met by a pistol bullet. Three occupants of the bandit car started to run away, he said, adding that Rackley had also disappeared.

He said Penn walked to his own car, got in and drove away, the remaining member of the bandit gang also drove off, back toward Chapel Hill, he said, returning a few minutes later with the other three. After telephoning for aid, Stone said, he was given a ride back toward Chapel Hill, to where he found Penn had become too weak to drive and Miss Edmonds had taken the wheel. He said they overtook Rackley walking.

He denied Johnson's story to police here that Penn fired first, being answered by the gun of Jack Thomas after Johnson had been struck in the arm by Penn's bullet. Stone also denied Johnson's statement that he and another of the bandits lifted Penn into the car after the shooting.

SENATE REFUSES TO RECONSIDER NOMINATION

Washington, April 5.—(AP)—The Senate today refused to reconsider its rejection of Charles A. Jonas as United States attorney for the Western district of North Carolina.

The vote came after more than two hours of debate on the motion of Senator Hastings (R., Del.) to reconsider. Jonas, a former Republican representative from North Carolina, had been rejected previously without a record vote, but today Hastings called for the yeas and nays.

SIX MONTHS SCHOOLS END

Half Dozen Institutions Close in Pitt With Inspirational Exercises

Six months' school of Pitt county closed the latter part of last week with inspirational commencement exercises, and several hundred children, released from duties of the classroom, returned home with six months of play and work in other fields ahead of them.

There are only six schools of this type in Pitt county at the present time owing to the extensive consolidated movement staged several years ago, and the remainder of the county boasts an eight and nine month term supported through appropriations other than those provided by the state.

From one to two teachers are employed in the operation of each six-month school. The schools are located at Galloway's Cross Roads, Cannon Swamp, Cox Mill, Red Banks, Frog Level and Elks.

Interesting programs were held in connection with the finals and both teachers and students returned to their homes with appeals for higher education ringing in their ears as result of the closing addresses.

The eight-month system will be brought to a close May 13, and elaborate preparations are being made for inspirational exercises in each of the consolidated districts.

Considerable progress has been made by the county system this year in spite of the economy move made necessary by passage of the McLean school law providing for (Continued on page four)

Frank Graham Will Address County Alumni

Frank Graham, president of the University of North Carolina, will address members of the Pitt County Alumni Association at the Woman's Club Wednesday, April 13, it was announced today by M. K. Blount, president of the association.

In a letter to Alumni throughout the county, Mr. Blount said they were quite fortunate in having President Graham to visit Pitt county and urged all members to be present.

This will be the second visit of Dr. Graham to Greenville since his elevation to the presidency of the university. He was the principal speaker at exercises dedicating Sheppard Memorial Library here about two years ago and was highly commended for his brilliant presentation of educational advancement in this state.

Checks Mailed for $20,000,000

New York, April.—(AP)—J. P. Morgan & Co. is mailing checks totaling $20,000,000 to 110 American banks today.

The payment is being made by the Morgan firm as the fiscal agent in this country of the British government. It will wipe out the $200,000,000 banking credit obtained last August in Britain's futile effort to avoid being pushed off the gold standard.

The credit was arranged to run for a year, but, as a result of recent improvement in the British financial condition, she has been able to extinguish her indebtedness four months in advance of maturity.

Says Farm Board Stocks Are 'Threat to Prices'

Washington, April 5.—(AP)—The director of the American Cotton Shippers association today told a Senate committee that the farm board wheat and cotton stocks were a continual threat to prices.

The witness, J. M. Locke of Muskogee, Okla., told a Senate agriculture sub-committee that "few investors will come into a market with a government bureau in control." (Continued on page four)

TO ADVERTISE FLETCHER IS TAXES IN MAY SPEAKER HERE

Commissioners Authorize Advertising of 1931 Delinquents on First Monday

The advertising of delinquent 1931 taxes will begin the first Monday in May, it was decided at the regular monthly meeting of the Board of Commissioners held at the court house here yesterday.

Persons who have failed to pay their taxes for that period before that date will be included in the list, it was said, and all delinquents were urged to get busy and settle to avoid this extra expense.

The question as to the constitutionality of the action came up for consideration, but a ruling recently handed down by Attorney General Brummitt provided that delinquent (Continued on page four)

Washington Man Tells of Program for Inter-City Meeting Here April 14

Plans for the inter-city meeting to be held in this city April 14 were outlined to members of the Greenville Rotary club last night by Mayor and Fletcher, of Washington, former district governor.

The speaker said thirty-five clubs were expected to be represented and that between four and five hundred Rotarians and their wives were expected to attend. It will be one of the outstanding gatherings of the kind held in this section of the state in years, and everybody is looking forward to it with pleasure.

The principal address will be delivered by F. C. Harding, of Greenville. Other speakers will be Ted Johnson, of Raleigh, district governor, and Mr. Phillips from Henderson, who is said to be in line for elevation to the district governorship at the next general meeting.

The meeting will be held in the campus building of East Carolina Teachers college as it will be impossible to care for the tremendous crowd in the Rotary house. The visitors will also be served lunch at the college.

An elaborate entertainment program will be provided for Rotary-Anns, including theatre parties and golf contests. They were also expected to be guests at several private functions.

Mr. Fletcher and Howard McGinnis, president of the Greenville club, are in charge of the program, and met at Washington several days ago to definitely plan for the occasion.

The program last night was in charge of T. Y. Walker, and President McGinnis presided. Walker introduced the crystal ball gazing craze, which has swept the world with such pronounced effect the last several years, and told the boys something about themselves they had never thought of before. Jail Man for Slaying Wife Goldboro, April 5.—(AP)—Joe Stafford was placed in jail here suffering from a self-inflicted wound in the head after he had killed his wife near their home in Wayne county yesterday.

Stafford, officers said, admitted he chased his wife from a sick bed when she threatened to leave him, and that he shot and clubbed her to death about a half mile from the house, from which she had run barefooted and in a nightgown.

After shooting his wife in the shoulder with a shotgun and crushing her skull with the butt, Stafford shot himself in the temple with a pistol, and then ran three miles through the woods before becoming exhausted from loss of blood.

Picked up by members of a posse of about 50 persons who joined the search, he was brought to the jail and his wound treated. Feeling appeared to be running and Sheriff Paul Garrison prepared to move him to another jail if trouble should develop. (Continued on page four)

Darrow Loses Initial Skirmish at Honolulu

Honolulu, April 5.—(AP)—An pointed public prosecutor, when the early legal skirmish in the trial of the sensational Kahahawai murder case lost to a youthful assistant prosecutor, the veteran Clarence Darrow, noted criminal lawyer, returned today to the task of selecting a jury from panels composed of a medley of races.

A dramatic clash between Darrow, bent with age and slowly patient, and relentless young Barry S. Ulrich ended in victory for the assistant prosecutor and the seating of a juror Darrow tried to show was biased.

Shortly before that court fight, the 74-year-old Chicagoan lost a point to John C. Kelley, newly appointed public prosecutor, when the court ruled that whether Joseph Kahahawai was innocent or guilty of an assault upon Mrs. Thalia Massie had no bearing on the case. Mrs. Massie's mother and husband, with two sailors, are on trial for the lurching of the young Hawaiian. The mother, Mrs. Granville Fortescue, sat during the first day of the trial on the same bench as Kahahawai's father, mother and sister. Nearby, Lieut. Thomas H. Massie bit his lips as he watched Darrow carefully sift the minds of the jurors. Darrow's persistence in question (Continued on page four)

Hoover Reorganization Proposal Buried Under Avalanche of Opposition

Defer Action On Election Brawls Again

Washington, April 5.—(AP)—The Senate elections committee today took no action on the North Carolina contest in which George M. Fritchard, Republican, is disputing the election of Senator Josiah Bailey, Democrat. The committee also failed again to reach a decision in the Tiffin-Bankhead contest and agreed to meet Friday for further arguments.

Opposing counsel will be heard for one hour Friday, after which the committee will again go into executive session to attempt to reach a decision. A sub-committee has submitted a majority report holding that John H. Bankhead was not elected as senator from Alabama and that his seat should be vacated. A minority report is before the committee upholding Bankhead's right to the seat.

RIFT CAUSED BY DEMOCRATS

Unless President Su... mits to Congress Specific Recommendations for Consolidation, the Democrats Plan to Write Their Own Economy Program; Both Parties Show Unity on the Revenue Bill

Washington, April 5.—(AP)—Answering congressional attacks upon his economy suggestions, President Hoover said today without the creation of a joint congressional-administration committee to consider the question could "see no way by which they can be a maximum reduction expenditures."

Only a short while before, Speaker Garner had told newspapermen that if the president sent to the capitol specific suggestions for cutting federal cash outlays, the House would approve them and do so quickly.

Mr. Hoover, at his semi-weekly press conference, outlined "three general directions" in which he believes federal expenses may be reduced by as much as $200,000,000 an effort to balance the budget in conjunction with the new tax law.

Referring to one of these organization and consolidation government functions, he asserted he had recommended such a step seven distinct times but that no action recommended has been taken.

Washington, April 5.—(AP)—President Hoover's proposal for joint congressional and executive commission on reorganization of government and saving $200,000,000 to balance the 1933 budget, was hurried today under an avalanche of Democratic opposition.

Unless the Chief Executive submits to congress specific recommendations for consolidating bureaus and eliminating activities the opposition party in congress intends to write its own economy program. Spokesman after spokesman made this clear in the room given Mr. Hoover's recommendation yesterday.

At the same time the Democratic Senate leadership has extended, hand across the aisle for cooperation with the Republicans in handling the billion dollar revenue bill. The major Senate coalition on the bill may develop with the move already started by independent members of both parties to boost the surtax rates on the higher incomes to a figure above 40 per cent maximum voted by the House.

The importance of government salary cuts into the economy which has been emphasized in support given the idea by such men as Senator Robinson, the Democratic leader, and Senator Harrison (Miss.). The latter today favored with regret, that a general salary cut was likely to materialize.

The House special economy committee yesterday approved bills to dispense with the army and navy transport service, with a 10 per cent annual reduction in expenditure; postpone indefinitely (Continued on page four)

CAPONE POWER IS AGAIN FELT

Activity of Gangster Embroils Chicago in Another Bitter Political Strife

Chicago, April 5.—(AP)—"Scarface Al" Capone is in jail but the city that breathed with relief at his sentence when his 11 year sentence was pronounced once more finds itself embroiled in as bitter a political strife as it ever was in the gang lord's heyday.

The figure of the overlord of crime, it is charged, has risen from within the walls of Cook county (Continued on page four)

N. Y. NAMING DELEGATES

Selection of District Convention Members Perfunctory Proceeding

Albany, April 5.—(AP)—Election of New York's district delegates to the Republican and Democratic national conventions today was a perfunctory proceeding in all but three of the 43 congressional districts.

There was one contest in the Democratic primary and two in the Republican. In the 41st district, which is in Buffalo, a slate of two delegates favorable to former Governor Smith is opposed to two men who are regarded as votes for Governor Roosevelt for the Democratic presidential nomination.

The Republicans have contests in the seventh district of King's county (Brooklyn) and in the 20th where Secretary of the Treasury (Continued on page four)

Pittman Delivers Fine Sermon Here

Rev. R. F. Pittman of Ayden, delivered a soul-stirring message at the Free Will Baptist Church last night. His scripture background was the rebuilding of the temple by Nehemiah. The message was directed to church people in particular. He stressed the great need of prayer and co-operation. He also called attention to the need of earnestness in the work and being separated from the world and things that would impede the progress of religious activities and called on all Christian people to rise as one to make the work a success.

He stated with emphasis that he regarded the conservation of the church of very great importance. Services will be every evening through the week at 8 o'clock and arrangements have been made for special music at every service.

The congregational singing is being directed by Rev. D. A. Windham of this city.

At the service last night the local male quartet rendered very touchingly "Will It Be You?" a solo which Mr. Pittman sang a solo, the title of which was "For Others." (Continued on page four)

Finland Begins Legalized Sale of Intoxicant

Helsinki, Finland, April 5.—(AP)—Hundreds of Finland's citizens lined up before Helsinki liquor shops this morning for the first legal sale of liquor in thirty years.

The first arrivals began to queue before the doors at 5 a. m., though the shops were not open until 10 o'clock. The longest line were in the working class section of the city. Order prevailed everywhere, however.

Tables for tonight have been booked at many restaurants for several weeks, but protests by restaurateurs against the low proportion of their profits, as fixed by the government regulations, curtail the celebrations somewhat. The Helsinki police department issued a notice that it would arrest every person caught drinking.

ABOUT TOWN

President Hoover has called on Congress to assist him in a national economy program, having as its purpose the reduction of expenses in every department of government.

The demand was made in a surprise message to the lawmakers yesterday, and probably will receive much consideration.

Mr. Hoover has kept Congress busy with messages this session with the hope of improving conditions before the coming of another election. He probably realizes that the present depressed condition of the country will have a bad effect on his party and hopes to regain public confidence by a series of programs having as their purpose the building up of temporary better times to relieve the situation.

He should have started a year ago when he had more time to accomplish his purpose. It is hardly probable he will be able to effect any transformation before election, and if he does he will surprise even his staunchest supporters.

The death of General B. Hawkins Tyson, who died at his home in Pikeville Saturday, was received with profound sorrow in this part of the country. He was born and reared in Pitt county, and like hundreds of other native sons went out into the world in quest of his fortune.

Success stamped the efforts of General Tyson. In addition to becoming one of the most influential leaders of his neighborhood, he acquired several fortunes which he used in the betterment of mankind. Men of this type always leave an indelible imprint on the lives of those with whom they come in contact, and Pikeville and the section to which he ministered so long and lovingly will glorify his name as long as memory lasts.

Pitt county is proud of those men who go out into the world and make their mark, and she has lost one of her most glorious sons in the passing of General Tyson.

In a call for campaign funds released yesterday, leaders of the Democratic party are claiming certain victory in fifteen states and conceding certainty of defeat in none.

Both parties have exhibited a profligate tendency toward predictions in past years but it appears the Democrats have good cause to expect overwhelming vote in their favor in the forthcoming balloting for the presidency.

The nation experienced the greatest wave of prosperity in history under the Democratic administration and has been going down the hill into the slough of depression since the Republican party gained ascendancy.

Nobody believes political parties have anything to do with economic conditions, but everybody knows something is wrong with general conditions and believes like the Democrats that a change at Washington might have a tendency to improve the situation.

Thirty persons were killed in a series of accidents in the south over the week-end, and automobiles were responsible for twenty-two of the fatalities.

Again the public is brought face to face with the constant menace of reckless driving on the highways of the nation, and whether we like it or not, we cannot escape the fact that something must be done to improve the condition.

The question naturally arises, 'How are we going to improve it?' And the answer is just as easy as the interrogation—careful driving. If every driver would realize the danger confronting him even when he is driving his best, the time would come soon when automobile accidents would be cut in half.

The danger is not caused by inexperienced drivers, but the thousands of experts who "step on the gas" and drive at terrific speed regardless of traffic.

When everybody begins to slow down and use more common sense at the wheel the toll of death and

Kitty Frew

By Jane Abbott

SYNOPSIS: Kitty Frew determines to tell her husband, Gar, that he must not be so extravagant. She has insisted that he work in the problems of her brief marriage. KITHY has been advised by her husband's half-brother, David. She doesn't suspect her greatest danger—Marge Crosby's interest in Gar.

Chapter 30 GAR'S ROADSTER WAITS "I went over our bills yesterday, Gar," Kitty said. "We'll have to scrimp for the next two months to pay for them." She laughed, to make the scrimping seem nothing. "Bills? Oh, I guess we don't have to worry about those."

"Christmas always costs a lot of money but it's worth it, isn't it? We can catch up easily; neither of us will need any clothes for ages. And I don't really need flowers, darling, though I love them when you send them. And I can cut down quite a bit on the house expenses." She kept on her light tone. "Gar pinched her cheek. "What you can't seem to grasp, Kit, is that you're married to a rich man's son. I could run an account in every store in this city and they'd stand for it; they know I'm coming into a lot of money some day."

Kitty had turned away to pour fresh coffee. Gar could not see the quick color that flamed to her face, the way she bit her lips together. She'd been dangerously near to a retort that would have made Gar angry. When she answered it was in a steady voice, soberly.

"I don't want it that way, Gar. I want us to get ahead on our own And we will."

"Sure we will. And you're not to stew about money. Where are those bills? Give them to me. I'll take care of them."

"But how Gar?" "Oh, I've got a deal on. If he keeps his eyes open a man in business can turn over a thousand any time he wants to."

She gave him the little packet of bills and he put them in his coat pocket. "After this, I'll take care of these matters at the office. I'm not going to have you fussing about them." His manner was all tender.

He kissed her, put on his coat, kissed her again. Kitty began her day's program with a light heart. Oh, what a goose she'd been to worry, to feel afraid of talking to Gar about their finances. And what a man of the world Gar was getting to be!

The morning's mail brought her a long letter from Sally Wilbers. "Kitty, I'm telling you before anyone else, except my family, of course. Phil and I are engaged."

"He's been working in his father's bank but last month he got a position over at the power plant at Corinth and he's getting fifty dollars a week and I'm going to take Miss Brant's place at the library and I'll get twenty, so with that we can manage with his father and mother for awhile. They're fixing an apartment on the third floor."

"Can you come down for the wedding? Phil says he'd like Gar to stand up with him and of course I want you. It's going to be very simple, just here at the house, and we plan now that it will be in March or April. I'll write to you the moment we've decided."

Kitty glowed and laughed over the letter. Practical Sally, putting her happiness in such a matter-of-fact way.

Of course she and Gar would go to the wedding. She called Gar on the telephone to give him the news. But Gar was not in his office. Old Jonathan told her that Gar would not be in until four o'clock.

Probably, Kitty exulted, he was out, somewhere, "turning" his wool thousand! She compared it, complacently, with Phil Corey's plodding.

The crisp winter's afternoon in vited her out for a walk. Within a few blocks of Ketchum street she yielded to a sudden impulse to hunt David out.

He answered her ring, hesitating a moment before he admitted her. But she knew by the swift lighting of his sensitive face that he was glad to see her.

"You've timed your coming by some magic," he told her. He indicated a thick flat package on his table. "There it is, ready for his fate."

"Oh, David, we'll celebrate! Let's have tea at that little place where we went before. David, when it's out, won't it show them?"

injury will undergo a pronounced downward trend, but until this is realized nothing but death and disaster may be expected.

Another child has been threatened with harm in this state, bringing the police to a realization that they must act quickly and drastically to cut down the operations of the kidnapping and extortionist element.

This state in past years has been free from crime of this kind while others suffered unspeakably from operations of the underworld, but unless the public and police begin a concerted movement to stop the practice it is impossible to foresee the serpe when it will eventually assume.

Life is too precious and priceless to have it jeopardized by hoodlums of this type, and the sooner the law strikes out in defense of the people it serves and hands the blackhand members everything coming to them, the sooner their activity will be brought to an end.

GEN. TYSON LAID TO REST

Native Pitt Countian Buried With High Honors in Wilson Cemetery

Wilson, April 3.—St. Timothy's Episcopal Church was thronged Sunday afternoon with friends and loved ones eager to pay a last tribute of love to Benjamin Hawkins Tyson, 67 years old, brigadier general of the Second Brigade of the North Carolina-Tennessee division of the United Confederate Veterans who, wearing the honors of long, active years, had on Saturday answered the final roll call and gone to rejoin those comrades in gray, whose cause he had served, since hearing the first shot fired on Fort Sumter April 12, 1861, while visiting friends near Charleston at the age of 16 years. His death, which occurred at the home of his daughter, Mrs. E. Cooper Person at Pikeville, resulted from pneumonia.

As the services, conducted by Dr. Frank Dean, rector of St. Timothy's, who was assisted by Rev. Cone of Goldsboro, were ended, the procession was formed with the Wilson chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, American Legionnaires and Boy Scouts leading the long line of motor cars. As the vested choir sang "My Faith Looks Up to Thee," the casket was placed on its frame in Maplewood cemetery above the grave and short graveside services followed, at the end of which the Confederate flag covering the casket, was removed, a gun salute was fired and "taps" was sounded. "The strife was over, the battle done, the victory of life was won; the song of triumph had begun."

General Tyson was descended from distinguished ancestors, being born November 27, 1844, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Tyson, on the Tyson plantation about eight miles from Farmville. His parents dying while he was a boy, he lived with his half-brother, Major W. M. Gay of Wilson, for several years, where he attended a military school headed by Dr. Deems.

He served during the entire war with the South Carolina command and surrendered with General Lee at Appomattox. He was a member of Company A of the Hampton-Lee regiment under the command of Generals Hampton and Gary, fighting in a number of battles and escaping without a wound. Imbued with the spirit of a "Fine soldier as ever despised death," his heart beat high with love for and pride in the south and her ideals unto the end.

Returning to his home at Wilson with his land and possessions gone, he went to work, picking for his board and one hat during the summer of '65, afterwards engaging in many phases of business, being a pioneer tobacco warehouseman and large property owner of Wilson. He made and spent several fortunes, being widely known over the state for his nobility of character and his high ideals of life, clean, strong manhood. It was often said of him, "His word was his bond." He had a masterful mind and vitally interested in matters of world importance, he stored it with valuable matter garnered from study and reading and was able to retain his remarkable mental faculties. General Tyson attributed his happiness and longevity to his buoyant and cheerful outlook on life and was often heard to remark "I am an optimist, thank God!"

He was married November 19, 1873 to Miss Virginia Bryan Kennedy, daughter of Col. and Mrs. Wm. L. Kennedy of Washington, belle of Eastern Carolina, linking two of the most prominent families of the south. To this union was born six children, of which only one survives, Mrs. E. Cooper Person of Pikeville, together with four grandchildren: Misses Virginia, Frances, Heleine and Cooper Person Jr.

Active pall bearers were: Lonnie along for a moment in silence. Then: "Gar has to stop at Marge's often. They're planning the next play, you see." Her head went up, her square little chin set determinedly. She was answering herself, for David had said nothing.

College to Make Debut in Baseball on Saturday

Facing their first game of the season Saturday with Atlantic Christian College in Wilson, the proteges of Coach R. C. Deal of East Carolina Teachers College will make their debut in the collegiate baseball season. Coach Deal will give his lineup for the opening game in a few days.

For the past few weeks the Teachers have been practicing and getting the kinks out of their arms and all appears as there are no sore arms or "charley horses." Coach Deal does not expect an unbeatable team this year, but does expect to instill in the East Carolina team a fighting spirit that does not know they are licked until the last man is out. Only colleges will be played.

Members of the baseball squad are: Tucker, Thomas, Brown, Sawyer, Hearne, Barrett, Barker, Forbes, Hodges, Rumley, Eason, King, Dupree, James Burton James, Noe and McLawhorn.

The schedule of games to be played by the East Carolina baseball team is as follows: April 9 A. C. C. there; April 16, Louisville, there; April 21, Campbell, here; April 27, William and Mary (Norfolk division) there; May 6, Louisville, here; May 17, William and Mary, here; (pending) A. C. C. here; (pending) Campbell, there.

GIFTS TO SHEPPARD MEMORIAL LIBRARY

Sheppard Memorial Library has received recently some valuable gifts. The Junior Woman's Club, has given a beautiful book, the title page of which reads as follows: "Interiors of Virginia House of Colonial Times," by Edith Tunis Sale. From the Beginnings of Virginia to the Revolution. Exhibiting the development of Interior Architecture and Decoration of the oldest state in the Union, special emphasis being made on illustration and material for text hitherto unpublished and unknown and showing where the True Colonial style of architecture began and ended with reference to the history of the houses and the lives of the Original Owners. Illustrated with Three Hundred and Seventy-one Original Plates.

"Of this volume one edition only has been printed and the type distributed."

The book is bound in old blue buckram with ivory lettering. The whole format is very attractive. The text is full of interesting facts.

A valuable gift from another source is an eight volume set of North Carolina Historical Review. Beginning with 1922 the library will subscribe to this publication, preserve the quarterly magazines and have them bound to match the gift. This is valuable history material and is especially worth while since the file is complete. With this gift came also a copy of King's Sketches of Pitt County.

Much Property Sold at Public Sale in Miss.

Jackson, Miss., April 5.—(AP)—Hammers of sheriffs in nearly every county of Mississippi fell on auction blocks yesterday, beating out news that approximately 25 per cent of the state's privately owned property was under sale for delinquent taxes.

State land commissioner, R. D. Moore, said one fourth of the state's private property was involved. The figure exceeded any year in the state's history.

Reports showed 39,699 farms or 16.2 per cent of the agricultural acreage of the state, went on the block, while 12 per cent of the city property was forfeited for non-payment of 1931 taxes.

Since the state already possesses from 15,000 to 40,000 forfeited acres in each county, Commissioner Moore estimated that if the present lands revert to the state, it will have more than one fourth of its property of the tax books two years from now when the redemption period closes.

Market Report Cotton--Stocks--Grain

N. Y. COTTON

New York, April 5.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady today at a decline of 6 to 8 points on southern and local selling. May sold at 6.20.

Covering was less active after the advance of yesterday but there was some trade buying to fix prices which caused bulges of a few points, after which the market eased again under selling encouraged by the lower opening of the stock and grain markets.

At the end of the first half hour prices showed net losses of about 8 to 12 points on the active positions with May selling at 6.17. Liverpool cables reported covering and local buying supplied by realising and selling on the steeper sterling, and said there was a fair cloth inquiry from India.

According to the New York cotton exchange service, sales of fertilizer tags in six cotton growing states during the four months, December to March, totaled only 493,000 tons against 1,059,000 last year.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, April 5.—(AP)—Grain values receded today from bulges that in the last few days had carried wheat up six cents over last week's low point.

Indications of a possible break in the drought which has prevailed over domestic winter wheat territory had a bullish effect, combined with unsteadiness of securities. Besides, Trans-Atlantic demand for wheat from North America was disappointing, although some business was done both by the United States and Canada.

Wheat closed nervous, 7-8-1/2 3-8 under yesterday's finish, corn 3-8 to 5-8 down, oats unchanged to 1-4 off, and provisions unchanged to 1/2 lower.

STOCK MARKET

New York, April 5.—(AP)—For the fifth successive session the stock market stubbornly persisted in its penetration of new low territory for recent years today.

Rather than providing any sustained forward impetus, yesterday's late covering movement appeared merely to have weakened the market's technical position, and prices dropped rather precipitately under comparatively light selling pressure. The market steadied a little after announcement of the Santa Fe dividend, but failed to develop much recuperative power.

Santa Fe tumbled 7 3/4 points to 53 3/4, the lowest since 1901, then rebounded more than 2. Union Pacific and Norfolk and Western skidded 6 and 7 points, before meeting support. American Telephone approximated its bear market low with a 3-point drop. Rails and utilities were again the notably weak groups, with Peoples Gas a soft spot in the latter, tumbling more than 8 points. Losses of 2 to 4 points appeared in such issues as U. S. Steel, American Can, American Tobacco B, Allied Chemical, DuPont, Drug, consolidated Gas, Standard Gas, American Water Works, North American and New York Central. Losses of a point or so were numerous.

Brokerage comment remained gloomy. In fact gloom has grown so deep in Wall Street that at least one group of investment trusts has started to do a little cautious buying, on the theory that pessimism has reached an unjustified extreme which would eventually necessitate reaction.

trol of large stocks of cotton.
He advocated passage of bills by Senator Gore (D., Okla.), which provide that the board cannot dispose of any of its wheat and cotton stocks prior to January 1, 1933.

The measures provide for limited monthly sales after that time, unless the prices of cotton gas to 15 cents and that of wheat to 81 cents. Then, the entire wheat and cotton stock could be disposed of.
Locke denied that his organization was attempting to break up the cooperative movement but did severely criticize farm board operation which has resulted in the board's acquiring approximately 1,300,000 bales of cotton and about 150,000,000 bushels of wheat in an attempt to stabilize prices.

Locke in answering to a question by Senator Gore said the American cotton farmer's market was diminishing and blamed the farm board for "most of it."

For a number of years, he said, foreign buyers had viewed with "alarm and fear" the "interference of the government in the cotton business."
This was true, he said, even before the farm board was set up.

ing venturers aroused the ire of Ulrich early. The assistant prosecutor shouted angrily "the defense counsel is putting words in the juror's mouth" when the gray haired leader of the defense continued, despite objections, in his efforts to show Henry Beckley, Hawaiian had already formed an opinion.
Circuit Judge Charles S. Davis permitted the veteran "defender" to continue his penetrating questioning. But Darrow's triumph lasted no longer than his examination of Beckley.

Today Beckley was, as Ulrich wished, among the six tentative jurors—two Chinese, two Americans and a Japanese and a Hawaiian.
For the rest of the week, Darrow indicated, he will maintain his endeavors to select an unbiased jury—a tedious task in the face of the widespread publicity the lynching has received.

When twelve men are seated (women cannot be jurors in Hawaii each side may exercise 24 preemptory challenges.
Darrow thought the question of whether Kahahawai was involved in the assault upon Mrs. Masie last September might have an important bearing on the second degree murder trial. Kahahawai was awaiting trial with four others when he was abducted and shot January 8.

The elder Kahahawai opened gun steadily as he watched the selection of the jury.
Mrs. Fortescue, smartly garbed, listened closely to the legal skirmishes. With her cheeks devoid of rouge she appeared pale. She was accompanied into court by her sister, Mrs. J. L. Ripley of New York.

CAPONE POWER AGAIN FELT

jail where he is confined to brighten the hope of a peaceful primary election a week from today with terrorism and violence of old.

Rumors that Capone was trying to strengthen his political influence to escape serving all or most of his sentence for income tax evasion have been vaguely heard for some time but now they have come out into the open.
A special grand jury investigation was ordered yesterday by Circuit Judge Michael Feinberg, himself a candidate for the Republican nomination for state's attorney, to determine to what extent if any Al Capone and his henchmen are employing terrorist tactics to force unfavorable candidates to withdraw and control the primary.
And from a prominent civic worker, President Fred W. Sargent of the Chicago and Northwestern railroad, came a statement that Capone "has a candidate for ward committeeman in the primary in every ward of Chicago."
"Capone," Sargent said, "has so gained control of law enforcement in Cook county that government is breaking down." Capone derives his power, he declared, from revenues that 10,000 saloons and 1,000 gambling houses bring him.
Candidates for ward committeemen have withdrawn hurriedly in recent days and told of being threatened. A precinct captain who refused to stop working for a certain candidate was shot to death last Sunday and others have been beaten and fired upon.

A musical program was given by Carson and Hooks, Bethel young men. With the aid of a guitar, the musicians presented solos and duets in a way that brought forth liberal encores.

N. Y. NAMING DELEGATES

Orden Mills is a candidate. Mr. Mills, although running in the 20th is a resident of the 17th district. His name was transferred to that district because the slate was completed in his home district.

The New York primaries do not bind delegates to support any aspirant for the presidential nomination. All of the Republicans, however, are favorable to President Hoover. There are both Smith and Roosevelt men in the Democratic list.

It is considered highly probable that the Democratic delegation will

NATIONAL IS SHOWING SOME REAL POWER

By HERBERT W. BARKER
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

New York, April 5.—(AP)—Just stretch this spring training season for a few more weeks and the National League might pull up on even terms with the American in their inter-league series.
From an impressive 650 two week ago the American League's winning average against the National had shrunk to a modest .581 today, based on 25 victories and 18 defeats in 43 games.

As a matter of fact had the world champion St. Louis Cardinals upheld their end, the National League might be in the lead. Of six contests with American League rivals the Cardinals won only the first.
Of the American League's 25 victories the New York Yankees and Philadelphia Athletics have contributed nine apiece. Detroit has won four games and Boston, Washington and Cleveland one each.

The New York Giants, with three wins and one defeat, and the Phillies with a record of four victories in six starts are the only National League clubs boasting an average of better than .500 against the junior circuit.
Against all major league opposition, whether or not of inter or intra-league character, the Boston Red Sox and Washington Senators each have perfect records. That's not as impressive as it might sound however, for each has played only one game against a major league team. The real leaders are the New York Giants with ten victories and four defeats.

In games of all descriptions, major and minor league competition combined, Washington leads with 14 victories and one defeat. The Chicago White Sox and Cleveland Indians have won 12 and lost

1 each and the Boston Red Sox nine and one. The Giants lead the National League in this respect with 20 victories and eight defeats.

TO ADVERTISE TAXES IN MAY

taxes for 1931 could be advertised under the present law.
The last legislature eliminated 1930 taxes from being advertised, but the attorney general held that this had no bearing on the 1931 levy.

Aside from this, only matters of a routine nature were considered by the board. The session was one of the shortest in the life of the present board and work was completed before the noon hour.

it was "very hard" to determine what the president would do, meantime predicting "fireworks" in the Senate.

By recent decision of the Senate's Republican steering committee the question of Philippine independence was given preferred status on the calendar in about fifth position on a list of highly controversial propositions. Even if it comes up out of turn, considerable time is expected to elapse before it can be reached.

The Next Best Thing to Eating REAL Grapes

Ever visit a vineyard early in the morning, when the dew still lingered on the great clusters of purple grapes? Ever squeeze them between your lips and experience the genuine thrill of that first delicious wine-like flavor? Nowhere else have you seemed to quite match that tang—until the New NuGrape came.

This unusual new drink, by a process exclusively its own, has succeeded in imprisoning the elusive tang of the dew-wet grape, just as it is plucked from the vineyard in season—clear, tingling with life, and perfumed. Yes—you can catch the bouquet of it the moment the bottle is opened. For that vivid moment, you are "In a Grape Arbor."

Try this delicious carbonated beverage today. It's now on sale everywhere for 5c.
