Senate To Begin Probe Of Stock Market Monday

Leaders Optimistic As They Meet To Discuss Economy With President

DRASTIC CUT IS EXPECTED

House Group Expected to Propose Drastic Cut of $200,000,000 to Aid Government's Recovery From Deficit; Little Hope Held For Complete Agreement Today.

Washington, April 9.—(AP)—President Hoover and the special House economy committee progressed today toward a program to save the government more than $200,000,000 a year.

At the end of a two and a half hour session, members of the committee and cabinet advisors of the President reported the conference was succeeding.

They declined details but it was indicated that a pay cut for government employes had been among the salient things the talk had centered upon.

Washington, April 9.—(AP)—Optimism over the outcome of President Hoover's conference with the House economy committee was sounded today at the White House as the group assembled to discuss a $200,000,000 money saving program.

Little hope was held, however, for a complete agreement today upon all items in the program devised by the President and 55 or 60 proposals of the economy group. Further parleys, will have to be held, it was said.

The Chief Executive early today summoned a group of official advisors to sit with him during the cabinet room conference. In addition to Secretary Mills and Director Roop of the budget, Postmaster General Brown and Secretary Wilbur were called.

Mills and Roop spent much of the morning in final conference with Mr. Hoover. Just before the conference convened, Mills reported the administration was "all set" with a group of suggestions.

Almost all of the President's proposals, it was learned, are dependent upon the granting of legislative authority by Congress. Many of the House committee's suggestions center upon consolidation of existing activities to eliminate overlap.

Representative Wood (R., Ind.), said as the conferees gathered. "We must cut federal salaries if we are to save $200,000,000. We can't get along without it."

Chairman McDuffie of the committee has expressed a similar idea, and said he would seek the President's idea on a proposal to reduce all federal salaries above $1,000 by 11 per cent, seeking to save $67,000,000.

Six of the seven members of the House committee were shown directly to the cabinet room upon their arrival. Representative Williamson (R., S. D.), was out of the city. The administration advisors met first in another office and proceeded to the cabinet room in a group at 11 o'clock.

Believed Dead Husband Will Return to Life

Los Angeles, April 9.—(AP)—A woman, so certain her husband is not dead that she shows no sign of grief, waited today at an undertaking establishment for the man, John David Guleph, 71, physician and claimant to the English throne, to show signs of life.

She has ordered the body held five days by the undertaker before burial, declaring her husband is not dead, but is in a state of suspended animation.

"Why, he has been in this same condition five times before; four times while a soldier in India and a fifth time at our home here in California," she said.

Three physicians have announced Guleph dead, but Mrs. Guleph refuses to consider herself a widow.

Mary Jane Temple went west from St. Louis and landed in Hollywood where she has made a promising start in motion pictures.

SHERIFF SLAIN BY OUTLAW

Oklahoma Officer Is Shot to Death By "Pretty Boy" Davis During Raid.

Tulsa, Okla., April 9.—(AP)—Ira Kelley, former sheriff of McIntosh county, was shot to death early today in a raid on the Bixby farm home of Ben Hargrave, father-in-law of "Pretty Boy" Floyd, notorious Oklahoma outlaw. Officers who saw the shooting from a distance said he was slain by Floyd in flight.

Officers said Kelley led a posse to the Hargrave home, but had dismissed its members a short time before the shooting in the belief that Floyd was not at the home.

They said Floyd escaped in a motor car with a man they identified as Earl Birdwell who also is wanted for a series of bank robberies and other crimes.

A. B. Cooper, Burns representative working on the Floyd case in behalf of the American Bankers Association, said Kelley asked himself and Jim Stormant, Okmulgee county sheriff who was a member of the posse, to go back to a schoolhouse about a half mile from the Hargrave home after the party's automobile.

"We had just reached the schoolhouse," Cooper said, "when we heard machine gun firing. We started back and got sight of a light green sedan speeding from the scene."

The officers had been watching the Hargrave home all night on the strength of a tip that Floyd and Birdwell were in hiding there. Kelley, since his defeat for reelection as sheriff of McIntosh county, had been working for the reward of approximately $10,000 posted for Floyd's arrest.

Floyd has had two gun battles with Tulsa police within the last 60 days, escaping unscathed each time, although one detective was wounded in the battle.

Counsel for Defense Will Seek Directed Verdict, it Was Revealed Today.

By WILLIAM H. EWING—Honolulu, April 9.—(AP)—Attorneys voiced hopes today for a swift conclusion of the murder trial of Mrs. Granville Fortescue and three navy men accused of lynching Joseph Kahahawai.

Montgomery Winn, associate of Clarence Darrow in the defense, said they sought a directed verdict, which would make it unnecessary for them to present testimony.

ANOTHER WET SEEKS SENATE

G. W. DePriest, Former Shelby Postmaster, to Run on Republican Ticket.

Charlotte, April 9.—(AP)—Wets and dries of both Democratic and Republican parties in North Carolina today squared off for a bitter primary battle after announcement by George W. DePriest, former Shelby postmaster, that he would seek the Republican nomination for the U. S. Senate on a wet platform.

Robert R. Reynolds, Asheville attorney, a ring and militant wet, injected the issue into the Democratic campaign with his active state-stumping against Cameron Morrison, the Democratic incumbent.

Tam C. Bowie, of West Jefferson, another candidate for the Democratic nomination, in a speech this week, accused Morrison's supporters of also supporting Reynolds, feeling secure in the knowledge that North Carolina would not vote for a wet if the Asheville man could be jockeyed into position as second high man (Continued on page four)

Dr. Fletcher to Deliver Sermon Here Tomorrow

Dr. Maynard O. Fletcher, of Washington, will deliver the sermon at Memorial Baptist church tomorrow morning, it was made known today. The coming of Dr. Fletcher was received with interest by members of the congregation and it was expected he would be greeted by capacity attendance.

He is well known in Greenville, having spoken on several occasions before the Rotary club and other organizations.

WILL OBSERVE PRAYER WEEK

Southern Baptists Everywhere to Offer Up Prayer April 10-17.

By WALTER M. GILMORE—Knoxville, April 9.—Thousands of churches and individuals throughout the eighteen states included in the Southern Baptist Convention will observe next week, April 10-17 as a week of prayer and consecration, according to information received here at the headquarters of the Promotion committee of Southern Baptists.

For several weeks Dr. F. P. Brown, pastor of the First Baptist church of this city and also executive secretary of the promotion committee, has been touring the southern states, speaking to multiplied thousands of Baptist pastors and other church leaders in behalf of this movement of deepening the spiritual life of all the people. It is hoped by Dr. Brown and his associates that out of this simultaneous week of prayer there may come ultimately a south-wide and nation-wide revival of religion.

Last fall Dr. Brown led in the movement of Southern Baptists to put on a simultaneous every-member canvass for the financial support of the local churches and also for the support of all the agencies and institutions of the denomination. While it has been impossible to tabulate the complete results of this campaign, yet all the state secretaries bear testimony to the highly beneficial effects of the canvass, in several cases saving the state work from complete collapse, it is said.

Advertising and filing of suits against tax payers causes increased cost to each individual involved, and officials expressed hope that such persons get busy at once and pay their taxes and save themselves this extra expense.

It takes money to operate city and county governments, it was stated, and as this is the only way governments have to meet expenses this extra expense.

To Protest Opposition To Bonus Here Tonight

Plans for the "indignation meeting" to be held at the courthouse tonight at 7:30 to protest the support of Henry Stevens, national commander of the American Legion, of President Hoover's opposition to cash payment of the soldiers' compensation certificates assumed definite form this morning and members of Pitt County Legion post were anticipating large attendance.

Legionnaires, former service men and the public were urged to attend the session and join the post in denouncing the action of Stevens, who several days ago asserted that only 23 posts in the country had "kicked over" the bonus payment, and that the government was unable to meet the demand.

Members of the local post were unable to say what would be the outcome of the session tonight, but it is known that vigorous protest will be made to Stevens' activity and that resolutions reiterating the post's position on the bonus question will be drafted and submitted to members of Congress.

The more Legionnaires think of Stevens' desertion of their cause at a time when thousands of former service men are suffering from

PEOPLE URGED TO PAY TAXES

County and City Officials Ask Payment Immediately, Avoid Extra Costs.

Pay your taxes and avoid expense involved in filing of suits and advertising, was the plea sent out by county and city officials today in an effort to impress upon the public the importance of making tax payments as early as possible.

At the last meeting of the County Board of Commissioners it was decided that foreclosure proceedings would be taken against 1929 delinquents. Suits are now being prepared and notices of suit will be published within the next few days, it was stated today.

The board also decided that 1931 taxes would be advertised the first Monday in May, in accordance with a ruling recently handed down by Attorney General Brummitt in which it was declared that action of the Legislature delaying the advertising of taxes applied only to last year.

The Board of Aldermen in regular monthly session Thursday night instructed the mayor to have the city attorney immediately begin the filing of suits against delinquent tax payers, and the city clerk was advised to begin advertising delinquent 1931 taxes during the month of May.

Advertising and filing of suits against tax payers causes increased cost to each individual involved, and officials expressed hope that such persons get busy at once and pay their taxes and save themselves this extra expense.

It takes money to operate city and county governments, it was stated, and as this is the only way governments have to meet expenses this extra expense.

FARMERS FACE INSECT FIGHT

Stubborn Battle With Pests Expected in all Sections of the Country.

Washington, Apr. 9.—(AP)—A stubborn battle with dreaded insect pests faces the country's farmers this year and the advantage at present is all with the insects.

For almost three years the pests have been favored by unusually warm weather and widespread drought. Thus entrenched, they are ready to come forth with the spring to reap a heavy toll which may take millions from farm incomes.

The agricultural department, disturbed at the prospect is sending out a call to arms—for early, active and unceasing fighting to bring the bugs under control.

Cold, wet spring weather may aid in reducing the attack on wheat, corn, tobacco, fruit and vegetables. Otherwise poison must be used freely. The greatest menace is that of grasshoppers in the northwestern plains where last year they annihilated every growing thing.

A survey in Minnesota, North and South Dakota, Nebraska, Iowa, Colorado, Wyoming and Montana, say agriculture officials, shows eggs by the millions and billions ready to hatch out a new devastating horde. They are bound to be numerous even if cold weather at the time of hatching should decimate them.

Nearly $1,500,000 has been asked of Congress to fight them.

The corn borer, the cornearworm and the Hessian fly have been aided by the mild winter, while other insects, ranging from the cinch bug to the vegetable weevil have survived in great numbers and already are doing damage.

Shoots Himself.

Charlotte, April 9.—(AP)—A. B. Anderson of Philadelphia, shot and killed himself on a downtown street here today. He was despondent because of financial troubles.

NOTHING NEW IN KIDNAPING

Three Intermediaries Wait for Developments in Case at Norfolk, Va.

Norfolk, Va., April 8.—(AP)—One month of service as intermediaries between kidnapers and parents found three Norfolk men waiting hopefully for some development that may lead to the recovery of Charles Augustus Lindbergh, Jr.

It was one month ago today that John Hughes Curtis, contact man for the negotiators was approached by a man who represented himself as an agent of the kidnapers. Today, after two "contact" trips to two unannounced destinations and two conferences at the Lindbergh home, Mr. Curtis and his associates, Rear Admiral Guy H. Burrage, retired, and the Very Rev. Dean H. Dobson-Peacock, said they had arrived at a point where further developments were awaited.

The three men have veiled in deepest secrecy their plans for pressing the negotiations toward a conclusion. Admiral Burrage, serving as spokesman, has stated that their efforts are progressing as rapidly as possible and that the three have an unshaken faith in their "chue."

A week ago today, Mr. Curtis slipped away from Norfolk by plane to make a contact with the kidnapers or their representatives. He returned after an absence of four days to announce that he had seen Colonel Lindbergh and that he had been informed that the baby was well.

Make Big 'Haul' At Swansboro

Fishing to a certain contingent of Greenville men is just like eating when you are hungry. This fact was proven to the general satisfaction of the entire community when the party returned from Swansboro yesterday with credit for catching 300 pounds of Black Bass.

MART RECORDS ARE DEMANDED

Richard Whitney, The President of N. Y. Stock Exchange, Will be First to Take Witness Stand; To Find Influence Which Caused the Prices of Securities to Tumble During The Present Week.

Washington, April 9.—(AP)—Acting on a suddenly reached decision the Senate banking committee will open the long-waited investigation of the New York Stock Exchange next Monday with Richard Whitney, its president on the witness stand.

Scenting a far-reaching conspiracy, the committee has determined to find out what influences, domestic or foreign, were behind the drive which smashed down security prices this week, culminating yesterday in record lows for many issues.

The committee assembled hastily in the Senate cloak room, the members rounded up from the floor during the conclusion of yesterday's debate. The chairman absent, Senator Brookhart, (R., Iowa), directed the proceedings. The date was set and a subpoena was issued for Whitney's appearance with a detailed record of all big short accounts as they stood at the close of business on the exchange last night.

A sergeant at arms of the Senate was in New York today to serve the papers and see that the desired records were assembled and brought to the capital.

The secrecy and suddenness of the committee's session startled the capital. The Senate, with the known backing of President Hoover, ordered an investigation of the stock market a month ago but it had been deferred pending disposition of other business, still uncompleted.

Senator Walcott (R., Conn.), administration spokesman, organized the meeting. He insisted he had received no suggestion from the White House for the next move, yet his closeness to the President left no doubt but that Mr. Hoover is supporting the inquiry. He was reluctant to comment.

"Just read today's papers," he told the newspapermen who crowded about him as they learned of the decision. They told of the downward movement of stocks, new gold shipments from this country to France and the campaign in that country against the American dollar.

Brookhart spoke of a "systematic bear raid" and hinted at foreign influences, specifically naming France. A lot of vague hints were passed out. Brookhart remarked he had in his pocket a report purporting to show an attempt to drive America off the gold standard.

Just who will be called, if anyone, after Whitney is heard, has not been determined. "Wait till we get the facts," said Walcott.

tion to carry on its payrolls more than a million of our people or nearly one out of every hundred people in our land; they find themselves in position to lend money to the railroads and other forms of big business; they find themselves in position to do many expensive things dictated by the powerful interests in this country. If these things are possible under present conditions is it not also possible for this government to pay a debt to those men upon whom it called in time of need to take up arms to defend the country's honor? If you are interested in these things we urge you to be present at the meeting at the court house tonight at 7:30 o'clock.

ABOUT TOWN

The veterans march on the capitol yesterday to demand payment of the soldiers' compensation certificates apparently has refuted the statement made by Henry L. Stevens, national commander of the American Legion, that only 23 posts of the nation had supported the proposed payment of the bonus. Two million five hundred thousand petitions from former service men in all parts of the country were presented to Congress and if this isn't ample evidence that the soldiers want their money, it is difficult to understand what would be considered as such. Tonight Pitt County Post of the American Legion will hold an "indignation" meeting at the court house to protest the action of Commander Stevens in lending his support to the opposition of President Hoover. The post was one of the first to send resolutions to Congress asking serious consideration of the Patman proposal for payment of the bonus, and it was to be expected its members would be upset over the action of the national leader. Stevens claims his statement carried out the sentiment of the Detroit Legion convention at which President Hoover was the principal speaker. Stevens conferred with the President on his return from the gathering and it is supposed he absorbed more of the Chief Executive's ideas concerning the measure. President Hoover has displayed active opposition to virtually every movement initiated by the Legion in behalf of payment of the former soldiers. He vetoed the bill providing for part payment not so long ago but Congress passed it over his head. Whatever the aspirations the President may have for re-election to the high office he holds, it may be said with a degree of certainty that he will receive very little support from the millions of men who risked their lives to uphold the high ideals of the government which is represented by the statesmen at Washington. The debt the nation owes the men should not be forgotten in the complex situation arising from the financial depression. If the government is able to apply enormous sums to the relief of corporations certainly it can pay a just debt to the men whose families in many instances are ragged and hungry as they wander the streets day and night in quest of employment. The President has sounded the death knell to all hopes he may have of continued public service, because back of these ragged, hungry, footsore men who risked their lives for democracy are millions of fathers and mothers who will not permit the petitions of their offspring to go unheeded because of the inability of the Chief Executive and the Legion commander to see and recognize their needs and their rights. The way of the criminal is hard and that statement is brought out forcefully in the sentencing of fourteen persons from this county to prison in federal court this week. The prison terms ranging from three months to three years were given for violation of the national prohibition laws. The men were captured in raids made by federal officers during the last two months, and probably others will follow the way these have gone when all of the violators have been rounded up. Whether it be selling whiskey, stealing, forgery or murder, the man that commits either of these crimes may be sure that justice will sooner or later overtake him and that he will be required to pay for his crime against society. No person can sin without reaping the consequences of sin, and when that fact is realized and taken at its true value the criminal element will be decreased. Persons who have not paid their taxes for the past year should get busy and do so at once. The county and city have notified that they will begin advertising delinquent taxes next month and this means additional expense to those who have not settled up by that time. Counties and cities are as hard hit by depression as any other branch of business and if they can't collect their taxes it will be next to impossible for them to continue operating without paying high rate of interest for borrowed money—and borrowing is almost a thing of the past these days in spite of the kind of security one may have to offer. The individual is finding it hard to make ends meet during these perilous times, but he should take sufficient pride in his government to make every effort to pay his taxes and in that way contribute his part toward the saving of local credit rating. City Aldermen have completed machinery for the aldermanic election Monday, May 2 when the citizenship will have the opportunity to vote on five members to the board. This is an important duty and residents in all wards should fully scrutinize the records of their candidates and vote for the ones they believe will adhere to the program of thrift and economy adopted by the present board at the beginning of the new year. By cutting expenses wherever possible, the board has succeeded in reducing the city's expense several thousands of dollars compared with last year. That was accomplished in the first nine months' operation and it is believed the amount will be increased before the year is over. Aldermen exert a powerful influence for development of a community, and as every city of the nation is having an uphill battle because of depressed finances, it is highly important that only men of vision and a complete understanding of local conditions be elected to office. Then, also, there should be the ability to pull together in a constructive way when common-sense and equanimity are needed, and if it is possible to combine all of these qualities in the new board the city's future life will be as secure as it is at the present time.

Kitty Frew
 By Jane Abbott

SYNOPSIS: "David is in love with you," Kitty Frew is told by Dorcas Taber. But Kitty has thought David, her husband's half-brother, merely a loyal friend. She needs her friends for her husband, Gar, borrows money from his mother instead of earning it, and is attracted by Marge Crosby. Chapter 34 SUSPICION Kitty shrank as though the other had struck her. She made a little quick sound of protest. Her face flamed and paled and flamed again. "It isn't so!" she answered faintly. Dorcas had quieted. She put her hand on Kitty's shoulder. "I was a beast to say that. You didn't know, of course. David wouldn't let you know by any word or sign. You must forgive my telling you. I've messed things up. I'm afraid. I lost hold of myself—You made me angry, you seemed so stupid. You see, Kitty I happen to care a great deal about David's happiness." Kitty stirred only enough to draw herself away from Dorcas' hand. But Dorcas went on, unnoticed. "I used to think that David would love me, some day, the way a man must love me if I marry him. But after I saw him with you I knew. I'm not jealous—those are things one can't help. But I feel very sorry for poor old David." Kitty felt tears on her cheeks and put up her hands to wipe them away. Her hands shuddered over her eyes. "You are just imagining it, Dorcas," she whispered. It wasn't so, it couldn't be so? "Oh, no. We've talked it out, David and I." Kitty got up quickly, moving a little blindly. "I must go." She would not look at Dorcas. She put on her coat, jammed her soft hat down on her head. "I wish you hadn't told me," she cried hotly, youthfully. "I wish I hadn't told you. David will never forgive me. Or you, perhaps." She followed Kitty to the door, and at the door she put out a hand and resolutely detained her. "Kitty, you must know what David's doing now. They refused that other manuscript he sent to them, but they want him to write another. He's gone down to his place to start it. He's all enthusiasm over it. You wouldn't know him, Kitty. He's found himself." "Poor old David," Dorcas had said later, thinking of this, Kitty struggled to smother a sympathy for David in her own heart. She did not think any more: "It isn't so." Somehow, she knew, now that it was so. The memory of countless moments with David, expressions she had caught on his face, words he had not said, his concern and consideration came back to her with a new understanding. He'd finished his book to prove himself to her. He was working desperately on another one. And she couldn't share it with him! Dorcas had made that with him! "I'll never forgive her," Kitty thought, indignantly. She had no compassion for Dorcas, who had admitted so frankly that she cared for David. "She's spoiled everything between David and me." That Margery Crosby was going abroad in April became an established fact. Every one talked of it; Marge talked of it. "Mother and I are going to travel during the summer, and then I'm going to stay in Paris." "Stay, Marge? For the winter?" "The rest of my life, perhaps." She said that, whenever she had a chance, always a little sadly, suggesting that she was seeking exile for some mysterious reason. "Is Marge really going to live in Paris?" Kitty had asked Gar impulsively. "How do I know what she'll do?" Gar had countered with such obvious annoyance as to silence Kitty, leaving her troubled. She noticed that Gar was moody, cross, restless, these days. Her old torment of fear and unwilling suspicion doubled. One evening Gar did not come home for dinner or telephone. He came in about eight o'clock, offering no explanation. No, he wasn't hungry. What did they have on for the night? Nothing? "Well, let's go to the movie. I don't want to sit here, doing nothing." Kitty had done an impulse to tell him she didn't feel like going to the movies. The waiting, the lonely

Kitty rejoiced heartily with Josie. And when she left her it was with a deep respect for the girl who knew so well how to meet life. She was thinking so intently of Josie that she did not see David approaching, until he was confronting her, speaking her name. "Oh—" The color poured to her face. (Copyright, Jane Adams)

When Kitty next sees David, on Monday, she is in a panic of terror and suspense.

Market Report

Cotton--Stocks--Grain

N. Y. COTTON

New York, April 9.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady today at an advance of 15 to 16 points on trade buying coupled with week-end covering, promoted by steady cables. May sold at 6.20.

Brokers with Far Eastern and continental conditions were reported among the early buyers while there was a moderately active demand from other sources, attributed largely to covering by recent sellers. The demand was supplied by realizing together with some southern and commission house selling, however, and the volume of business tapered off after the call with the market showing reactions of 6 or 7 points at the end of the first half hour.

STOCK MARKET

New York, April 9.—(AP)—The sudden decision of the Senate banking and currency committee to start its investigation of stock trading, together with a sharp rally in wheat, finally brought the stock market its anxiously awaited turn, today.

After sinking steadily into new low ground for 8 successive trading sessions, the market reversed itself with a violent upturn in the initial dealings today, as shorts hurried to cover their commitments. The rally was short lived, for there was little demand for stocks save from shorts. Extreme gains of 1 to 5 points were out in half later on, but a wide assortment of shares closed 1 to 2 points net higher. The closing tone was steady. The turnover was around 1,200,000 shares.

If there was any intention in Washington of acting to interrupt the slump in the market, brokers said the announcement of the investigation could not have been better timed to put shorts to cover. The stubborn and persistent decline had dragged so far without interruption that it was becoming extremely disturbing to sentiment generally, particularly the sharp decline in preferred stocks and bonds.

Popular trading issues normally the principal trading media of the bears shot up most violently at the opening. American Telephone rose 3 3/4, and closed 2 off from the top. U. S. Steel advanced 2 5/8, and finished up about 1. Auburn rose 5, and closed 2 higher. Miscellaneous issues up 1 to 2 at the close included American Can, Allied Chemical, Case, Corn Products, New York Central, and North American. There were a few soft spots. Dupont lost a point, and fractional losses appeared in Gold Dust, Electric Automobile and Standard of California.

Greenville High Beats Washington; Score 9-5

A terrific batting attack and superb pitching combined to give Greenville high school baseball team a 9 to 5 victory over an excellent Washington—at Third Street school grounds yesterday afternoon before probably one of the largest crowds of the season.

Pounding the ball at opportune moments, Greenville batters piled up a lead in the fourth inning which the visitors found impossible to overcome.

Roger Taylor, pitching with old-time brilliance, held the Pamlico batsmen without exception of two or three bad innings. Nineteen batters whiffed the breeze in a vain attempt to connect with his twisters, and this was largely responsible for the downfall of Washington, rated as one of the fastest teams of the conference.

Gautier pitched superbly for Washington at different stages of the game, but a terrific batting attack by Greenville in the fourth frame proved his undoing.

The victory enabled Greenville to maintain the unbeaten record growing out of victories against Tarboro and Snow Hill. Each club was credited with a circuit clout. Washington's netted two runs and Greenville's one.

In the third frame a Washington batsman was issued a free pass. Gray singled to center field and the ball took a bad hop and bounded over Register's head for a home run.

Greenville scored again in the third with a base on balls and singles by Gaston and Taylor.

E. C. T. C. Plays A.C.C. at Wilson

East Carolina Teachers College baseball team left for Wilson at 12:45 today in their bus to invade the lair of the Atlantic-Christian college nine. This will be the first baseball game ever participated in by the Greenville team and little is known of the strength of the team. The boys have been put into good condition by their coach, Mr. Deal, a former Davidson and professional baseball star.

Coach Deal announced this morning the following line-up: Thomas, catcher; Brown, 1b; Hodges, 2b; Barrett, 3b; Baker, 3b; Humley, captain; If; Forbes, cf; King, lf; Tucker, rf; Hunsucker, pitcher. Unless Coach Deal changes his mind at the last minute, Tucker will probably start the contest.

PEOPLE URGED TO PAY TAXES

penses it is necessary that taxes be collected as promptly as possible. Officials, it was reiterated some-time ago, do not wish to bring additional hardship to the people of the community, but the law provides for the institution of suits and advertising of delinquent taxes at fixed periods, and the government heads must comply with it. To fail to do so would make officials answerable to the courts for failure to live up to the responsibility imposed upon them, it was said.

in three days, fighting "as a matter of course" any attempt to link the lynching of Kahahawai January 8 with an assault last September on the daughter of Mrs. Fortescue, Mrs. Thalia Massie, wife of a naval lieutenant.

Darrow has indicated he will strive to hold the two cases together, seeking justification for the slaying of the young Hawaiian in the fact he was one of five men accused of the assault on Mrs. Massie.

The trial will be resumed Monday. So far developments have indicated Darrow's inclination toward an "honor slaying" defense, backed by a plea of emotional insanity. They are: Darrow's quick challenge of the prosecution's contention that the guilt of the slain Hawaiian had no bearing in the hearing; and the arrival of two alienists, Dr. Edward Huntington Williams and Dr. James Oroison of Los Angeles.

Darrow has displayed his craftiness and it is evident that he is in fine physical condition despite his 75 years. Already his opponents have witnessed his ability to pick a jury—the whitest jury, court attaches say, in the history of the territory.

cellation of war debts after an all night session over which Premier Mussolini presided. A settlement of the problem, its resolution declared, is the first step toward the economic recovery of the world.

The disarmament program was contained in a long document sent to the office of the world conference at Geneva. It struck at the 23,000 ton French cuirassiers and the battle fleets of England and the United States and proposed limiting all navies to the Italian standard of 10,000 ton cruisers.

It also provided for abolition of heavy artillery and tanks, submalines, airplane carriers, bombing aircraft and chemical and bacteriological warfare.

The Fascist council's statement contained five principal recommendations for economic rehabilitation of the world. Besides settlement of the reparations and war debts question, these were:

Removal of the shackles of international trade; solution of the economic difficulties of Danubian and Balkan countries; revision of the peace treaties and an end to too frequent international conferences.

Something must be done to restore international commerce before a condition of "total anemia" has reached in the trade of all countries the council's statement said. It did not go into the details of a solution, however.

Other speakers will include Roscoe McMillan, of Red Springs, Charlie Phillips, of Greensboro, and Ted Johnson of Raleigh, district governor.

The afternoon will be given over to a series of entertainments, including golf at the Greenville Country Club, baseball game between the high school and the college, a theatre party at State theatre, and bridge for Rotary-Anns at the Rotary building.

Courtesy cars will be placed at the disposal of the visiting hosts so they may have the opportunity of riding about the city and gaining first hand information on why Greenville has been able to capture the honor as the world's largest bright leaf tobacco market, and leading trade center of the east.

In addition to dinner and addresses at the college, the program will consist of stunts, awarding of prizes, singing under direction of Edmund Harding of the Washington club and the usual number of wise cracks that go to make an evening complete.

The committee on arrangements is composed of Haywood Dail, chairman, F. C. Harding, Norman Winslow, John Clark. The program committee is headed by Howard McGinnis, president of the Greenville club, and Maynard Fletcher of the Washington club.
