DETERMINED DEFENSE OF STOCK MARKET IS PUSHED BY WHITNEY

NEW YORKER RAPS PRESS

Declares "This Hue and Cry" in Vogue Throughout Country Supported by Press; Investigation To Be Postponed After Today Until Next Monday, Committee Decides.

Washington, April 12.—(AP)—Determined defense of the stock exchange was continued in testimony to the Senate banking committee today by its president, Richard Whitney.

He protested against "this hue and cry, perhaps helped by the gentlemen of the press in regard to loaning customers' stocks that has been in vogue throughout the country for the last two or three years."

Senator Couzens (R., Mich.) remarked that any man who signed the customers' agreement which Whitney produced "must have been a goat."

In response to questions from Couzens, Whitney said "The minimum margin indicated as good business by the New York Stock Exchange is 25 per cent margin."

"Do they ever go lower than 25 per cent?" asked Couzens.

"Not if we know it, Sir."

"Absolutely?" Couzens inquired.

"Yes, Sir," said Whitney.

A motion by Couzens to postpone further investigation after today until Monday in order to allow time to consider the Glass bank bill, was approved.

Taking the stand, Whitney gave the short interest as of April 7 as 2,849,895 shares, a decrease of 214,033 from the previous market day.

Between the opening of April 1 and of April 7 "during which period a very drastic decline had taken place," he said, "there has been a reduction in the short account of 429,503 shares."

Claude Branch of Providence, R. I., the committee's counsel, said it did not seem to him "at the present time worthwhile to go in detail into previous short accounts."

He asked if a chart submitted yesterday by Whitney did not show that generally an increase in prices was accompanied by a decrease in short interest.

"No," Whitney said. "Usually a decline in prices was accompanied by a decline in short interest."

Whitney agreed that during June 1931, the market went up, while there was a great decline in the short interest.

He pointed out, however, that the moratorium announcement was made on June 20.

The chart showed a very marked increase in the total short interest since last November, while the liquidation on the market has been continuous, except for short periods.

Argentina is Menaced By Erupting Volcanoes

Buenos Aires, April 12.—(AP)—The town of Mendoza, terrified by a two-day rain of volcanic ash from the Andes, rejoiced today as the manifestation stopped and the sun shone through for the first time since Sunday.

Government officials who had prepared to evacuate the city's inhabitants reconsidered their decision, for it appeared that the danger was over.

Buenos Aires, April 12.—(AP)—Government officials made tentative plans to evacuate the city's inhabitants reconsidered their decision, for it appeared that the danger was over.

MAKE APPEAL FOR VETERANS

Advocates of Bonus Press Case Before House Ways, Means Committee.

Washington, April 12.—(AP)—Against the united opposition of administration and Democratic leaders in Congress, advocates of a $2,400,000,000 cash payment on the soldiers' bonus today pressed their case before the House ways and means committee.

Father Charles E. Coughlin of Detroit was introduced by Representative Patman (D., Tex.) sponsor of the measure, and read a prepared statement before a crowded committee room.

He said the Reconstruction Corporation was hurried through both the House and Senate to make available $2,000,000,000 of public funds "for financing financiers and strengthening tottering railroads."

Coughlin, who conducts a radio program, said that within six weeks of the passage of the reconstruction act he received over 1,000,000 letters.

FINISH PLANS FOR MEETING

Thirty-two Rotary Clubs to Hold Inter-City Meet in Greenville Thursday.

Finishing touches were added today to plans for the inter-city Rotary meeting to be held here Thursday, members of the committee on arrangements announced.

The gathering will bring to the city between five and six hundred club members and their wives from thirty-odd towns of the eastern part of the state. It will be one of the most important meetings in the state and due to this fact several clubs have signified their intention to attend one hundred per cent strong.

Theodore S. Johnson, of Raleigh, district governor, and F. C. Harding, of Greenville, will be the principal speakers. The governor will sound a challenge of optimism and the Greenville man will discuss international service.

Other speakers will be Roscoe McMillan, of Red Springs, and Charlie Phillips, of Greensboro. Music and stunts will be under direction of Edmund Harding of Washington.

The meeting will be held in the dining hall of East Carolina Teachers college at 6:30 o'clock and Group Leader Edgar Bundy, of the Hertford club, will be toastmaster.

A round of entertainment has been planned for the afternoon hours, especially for Rotary-Anns. Golf at the Country club, bridge at the Rotary building, and a theatre party at State theatre will be among the principal entertainment features. A baseball game between Greenville high school and the college will also offer a source of diversion.

Courtesy cars will be placed at the disposal of the guests.

STATE PILES UP EVIDENCE IN HONOLULU

Attempts to Picture What Happened In Fortescue Home On Fatal Night Made.

Honolulu, April 12.—(AP)—Efforts to picture what happened behind the drawn blinds of the home of Mrs. Granville Fortescue January 8 when Joseph Kahahawai was allegedly lynched, were made by the prosecution today in the trial of the society woman and three navy men for the killing.

HUNDREDS SIGN PETITION HERE

Add Support to Legion's Plea for Payment of Compensation Certificates.

A petition bearing the names of between 150 and 200 persons will be forwarded to members of Congress today from this county asking for cash payment of veterans' compensation certificates as provided in a bill recently introduced by Rep. Wright Patman of Texas.

Resolutions calling on Congress to pass the measure were drafted at a special meeting of Pitt County Post of American Legion Saturday night and these have been circulated by Legion members with the hope of adding as many signatures as possible during the brief interval intervening between the meeting and the date for sending the petitions to Washington.

Resolutions in a more detailed form were drafted by the post several weeks ago, but since Henry Stevens recently registered opposition to payment of the compensation, leaders of the organization here felt like it would not be amiss to reiterate their demands and fully impress congressmen of their desire for full and complete settlement of the debt.

Speakers at Saturday night's gathering made renewed appeals in behalf of the Patman bill and declared if the government is able to grant enormous loans to railroads and corporations it should be able to settle the debt with the soldiers.

Service men were indignant over the position taken by the national commander and thought he should have more completely informed himself of the opinion of the entire Legion membership before declaring that "only 23 posts of the organization had kicked over on the side of the compensation demand."

Legionnaires believe the two bills will be passed.

Greensboro Bonus Meet Results In Near Riot

Greensboro, April 12.—(AP)—Approximately 2,000 ex-service men from 48 clubs and towns of North Carolina gathered here last night in the Woodrow Wilson tomb at Washington cathedral where Newton D. Baker called for a fight for cash bonus payment, but remarks attacking Henry L. Stevens, Jr., national commander of the American Legion, resulted in a near-riot.

A Warsaw legionnaire, understood to be named Barton, took exception to attacks on the commander for his stand against cash payment of adjusted compensation, and classed the authors of some of the remarks as "liars."

A couple of guns were brandished, along with a whiskey bottle, as a crowd rushed the Warsaw defender of Stevens, witnesses said. But the man was rushed to safety while police were called to stop the disorder. Nobody was hurt and no arrests were made.

Prior to the meeting service men staged a giant parade through the business district, flaunting banners demanding cash. At the courthouse the assembly heard Harold D. DeCo, of Washington, national commander in chief of the veterans of foreign wars, and James E. Van Zandt, of Altoona, Pa., junior vice commander, urge that pressure be brought to secure action by Congress on the cash payment proposal.

A resolution to this effect was adopted without a dissenting vote.

Eight other states also were represented at the meeting, which was presided over by Lieut. Col. Wade H. Phillips, former commander of the North Carolina Department, American Legion.

Burlington, April 12.—(AP)—Alamance county world war veterans gathered here last night under sponsorship of the Greensboro post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars endorsed unanimously immediate payment of veterans' bonus.

More than 120 wrote letters to Senators Bailey and Morrison and Representative Abernethy asking support of bonus legislation, a telegram from Abernethy pledging his support of the movement.

Forced To Resign

The life of Newfoundland's premier, Sir Richard Anderson Squires (above), was endangered when a mob stormed the house of assembly in St. John's and forced the government to resign.

PUSH WORK ON REVENUE BILL

United Determination To Pass Measure Disperses Fear Of Failure.

Washington, April 12.—(AP)—United determination to enact promptly the billion dollar tax bill—keystone of the 1933 budget structure—today dispelled fears that the measure might founder in a senatorial storm over tariff duties.

Senate Democrats in a four-hour conference last night agreed unanimously on expeditious consideration of the bill. In so doing they agreed that barring all tariff amendments to the measure is an impossibility, but held fast to the position that general tariff consideration is out of the question.

As a result, and with assured support of Republican leaders, a compromise limiting the bill to a few tariffs—probably on oil, coal, copper and wool pulp—is in sight.

The first two already are in the bill; the others are backed by strong and determined support.

With this solid congressional backing for speeding the huge bill, President Hoover turned confidently to demand of the business world a fresh conviction in American security, and a halt to the steady stream of criticism on the public exchanges. Late yesterday it was disclosed he was planning to summon business and industrial leaders for action in a new program of national unity against the unfavorable economic factors.

The President in the evening, and before the Democratic meeting, called in Senator Robinson of New Jersey.

SEARCH BEGINS AFTER ATTEMPT IS MADE TO SPEND RANSOM MONEY

France Begins Assault on American Arms Plan

Geneva, Switzerland, April 12.—(AP)—Premier Andre Tardieu of France, representing his own government at the disarmament conference, today assailed the disarmament proposals advanced yesterday by Hugh S. Gibson, the American representative.

Mr. Gibson proposed that tanks, big guns and gases be abolished in the interests of security, but he made no mention of battleships, the most obvious aggressive weapons.

WOMAN FLEES AT DISCOVERY

Twenty Dollar Bill is Offered in Exchange for Pie at Greenwich Bakery; Bakery Proprietress Exclaims, "That's One of Lindbergh Bills," and Woman Customer Makes Escape in Green Car.

Hopewell, N. J., April 12.—(AP)—A chic woman in a green town car became a quarry in the great Lindbergh kidnaping hunt today.

On the highways of many states, police sought her after a bakery proprietress in Greenwich, Conn., spotted a $20 bill she preferred in payment for a strawberry pie as part of the $50,000 ransom inflicted on Col. Charles A. Lindbergh.

The hunt intensified when detectives recalled that a green sedan was seen near the Lindbergh home on Sourland mountain on the night of kidnaping of Charles A. Lindbergh, Jr.

This development, and a theory that the person who took Colonel Lindbergh's $50,000 without returning the stolen child was an estranged member of the kidnap gang who no longer has the baby in his possession stirred the mystery to a new boiling point.

Police, wise in the underworld's ways, had expected the swindler or swindlers of the Flying Colonel to wait months before trying to spend the cash obtained by a double cross, but the Greenwich development, assuming the bakery owner got the number of the bill right, showed they had dared to throw a dice on the winds.

There was no indication as to whether the unknown woman actually was connected with the kidnaping or swindle, but the lead with which she fled when the number on the bill was pointed out, roused police suspicions.

The proprietress, Mrs. Ella DeCormille, had pasted beside her counter a list of the numbers on the $50,000, as sent out by the United States Treasurer. A handsome, middle-aged woman drove up to her shop last night, she said, with a liveried chauffeur at the wheel, and made a small purchase.

When she handed over the bill, Mrs. DeCormille, mechanically glanced at its number. It was K263387339A, the bakery woman said.

"Why this is one of the Lindbergh bills," she ejaculated.

The woman tore it from her hand, and sped away toward New York on the Boston Post road. Police automatic telegraphs clattered the alarm.

"Woman is white," it said. "Age 42. Five feet, six inches. Good looking. Dark complexion. Wore string of seven and silver beads around neck. Gray felt hat. Gray tweed coat. Brown dress."

No word from the kidnapers since the swindle has been recited by Colonel Lindbergh, said Col. H. Norman Schwarzkoff, head of the state police, after a conference in New York with Col. Henry Breckinridge, legal adviser of Lindbergh.

Dr. John F. Condon, sued editor of a series of cryptic newspaper advertisements signed "Jafale" which led to the thwarted negotiations for the baby's return, was believed to have attended the conference also.

The kidnaping case was to be laid before the Hunterdon county grand jury later today, Attorney General William A. Stevens said.

Dr. Condon was quoted as believing the situation would adjust itself, but three Norfolk men "who have been negotiating with a person they believe to be an agent for the kidnapers were represented as pessimistic about the return of the baby by the person who took the $50,000. The Norfolk intermediaries are understood to have warned Colonel Lindbergh they were dealing with the real abductors, and that the other person was a decoy."

MISSING N. C. GIRL FOUND

Maybelle Tothorow, of Andrews, Held Captive by Woman at Dearborn.

Detroit, Mich., April 12.—(AP)—Police of Dearborn, a suburb, were holding Mrs. Eva Byrd Karenkoff, 22, and Pelos Kazarkian, 45, today following the discovery in a house in Dearborn of a 15-year-old girl who disappeared from her home in Andrews, N. C., several days ago.

The girl is Hazel Maybelle Tothorow. Cries heard by persons passing the house in Amazon avenue led police to search the building Monday afternoon. They found no one, but returning later discovered the girl and Mrs. Karenkoff and later arrested Kazarkian as her accomplice.

A letter received by the police from the girl's father asked that his daughter, if found, be sent to Andrews, N. C., where he planned to meet her.

Lieut. Reuben Orr of the Dearborn police, said Mrs. Karenkoff admitted Kazarkian had given her $51 and instructed her to go to North Carolina and get the girl. Orr said he would communicate with federal authorities regarding the case.

Bridge Bandit Faces Trial At Winston-Salem

Salisbury, April 12.—(AP)—Wallace Scales, sentenced to pay a $300 fine or serve 120 months in jail in a liquor case here, is to be turned over to Winston-Salem authorities for trial on a charge that he participated in the $20,000 "bridge game" jewelry holdup at the home of A. H. Galloway last year.

Scales, who escaped from a state prison camp near Durham, was arrested here with 120 quarts of whiskey in his car, along with John Neal and Al Fox, of Washington.

Neal was ordered to pay $200 or serve 11 months and Fox was ordered to pay $300 or serve 13 months. Scales and Neal pleaded guilty.

FIVE STATES BALLOT TODAY

Political Interest Centered Around Primaries in Widely Separated Areas.

Washington, April 12.—(AP)—The political cross winds of April today swept over five widely scattered states where primaries and party conventions selected 96 Democratic and 101 Republican delegates to the presidential nominating conventions at Chicago.

National interest centered on the Illinois Republican and Nebraska Democratic races. Of the 16 Republican delegates being selected in Illinois, a group of 15 Chicagoans were running definitely opposed to renomination of President Hoover and on a prohibition repeal platform. Most of the down-state Republican candidates were believed to be pro-Hoover.

Former Senator France of Maryland was the only candidate for the Republican preference vote in Illinois, but he had no delegates in the field.

In Nebraska, Franklin D. Roosevelt, Speaker Garner, and Governor Murray of Oklahoma, fought it out for the preference vote in the first three-way contest of these candidates. The state organization was back of the New Yorker who is now far in the lead for the nomination. Sixteen delegates were being chosen.

Fifty-four district delegates were being named by the Illinois Democrats and were lined up for Senator J. Hamilton Lewis.

Nebraska Republicans also were selecting 17 delegates, probably for Hoover, although unpicked France also was the lone candidate there for the preference vote.

Besides these two states, Kentucky Democrats in convention were choosing 26 delegates, already promised Roosevelt, and Florida and Missouri Republican conventions were naming 15 and 7 delegates, respectively.

Bell Arthur News

The P. T. A. meeting was well attended, showing a continued interest in the contest, between the various rooms, for attendance. Miss Dilda's room won at this meeting.

The final winner will be judged from an average attendance of a series of meetings. The final debate was held for the purpose of selecting the best debater in high school.

The winner of this prize, offered by the P. T. A., will not be announced until commencement.

Mr. Dink James of Greenville, gave a most beneficial and interesting talk, while Mrs. James and Miss Agnes Fullilove, accompanied by Mrs. Harrison, rendered two vocal selections.

There was considerable rivalry in school last week in a marble and bob-jack contest. Eliminations were made within each room, and these winners played for the school championship.

Clara Mae Eastwood of the fourth grade proved to be the best bob-jack player after eliminating Marjorie Flanagan of the eighth grade.

In the marble contest Dewey Wallace Allen, also of the fourth grade won, after a hard fight with George Allen of the first grade.

The Senior 4-H Club girls were entertained Thursday night by Virginia Massey and Lula Rasberry at Lula's home.

After many games and contests the guests were led to the dining room, where ice cream and cake were served.

The colors of the club, green and white, were used in decorations. Besides the faculty, special guests included Miss Hazel Wilkerson, Messrs. Stuart McArthur, James Wilkerson and Robert McArthur.

Miss Melton spent Saturday night with Mrs. C. H. Ekum of Greenville.

Mrs. Phillips and Janie Reid were in Ayden for the week-end.

Miss Clarke went home with Miss Dilda for the week-end.

Fountain Speaks In Ashe County

Jefferson, N. C., April 12.—(AP)—Lieut. Gov. R. T. Fountain, candidate for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, brought his campaign to Ashe county with a speech in the courthouse here today.

Fountain asserted that, as agriculture is the basic industry it must be placed on a sound basis before a permanent rehabilitation can be expected and charged that "the reconstruction finance act is not giving the relief which we had hoped and, in any event, can only be temporary."

"Permanent relief must reach the ground," Fountain said, "and the only money so far that has reached the average citizen has been that paid to the soldier on his adjusted compensation."

"The only way to help the farmer is to reduce his taxes and give him a living wage for his produce."

Fountain reiterated his position that the 15-cent ad valorem tax must be removed; that cost of government must be reduced by elimination of the unnecessary; and that the state must run the six months schools.

TELLS ABOUT RELIEF WORK

Red Cross Worker Says the Organization Aided 7,400,000 Persons Lately.

Washington, April 12.—(AP)—Red Cross workers were told today that their organization, giving a helping hand to the unemployed, drought and storm victims and war veterans, served more than 7,400,000 needy persons in recent months.

Addressing the annual convention of the Red Cross, Robert E. Bondy, national director of disaster relief, found significant in these figures the unity that has developed the Red Cross into a great national relief agency, closely knit, functioning smoothly in varied branches of service to humanity.

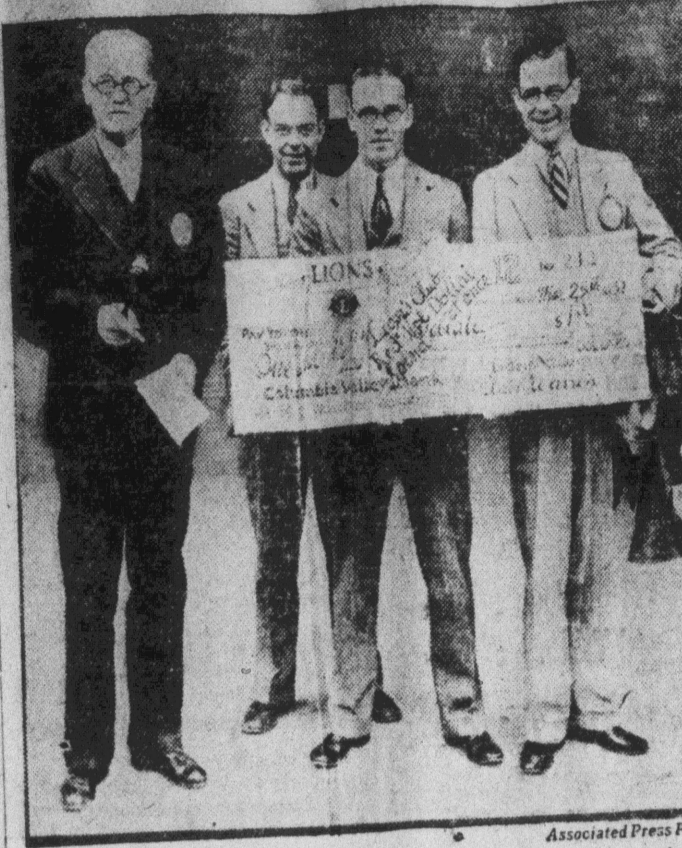

Two thousand local chapters, he said, have served 1,117,000 persons in some form of unemployment relief and 6,840,000 more have been benefited through the distribution of free government flour.

Henry M. Baker, assistant national director of disaster relief, criticized the action of some community leaders in disrupting family life of those needing assistance by the "mass treatment" plan—soup kitchens, commissaries, lodging houses, dormitories and "obsolescent" and maintained individual family treatment is the proper solution.

He called on the delegates also to insist that communities continue their social work of character building, disease prevention and social education and not confine their activities to direct relief to the unemployed.

He said many civil leaders were contending that direct economic relief is important to the exclusion of all else in the present emergency.

'RED HOT' DOLLAR TRAVELS FAST

Here's one check for $1 that's not being hoarded. It is the contribution of the Lions club of Watauga, Wash., to the national anti-hoarding campaign. It was made out to Gov. John A. Gellatly (left), of Washington state, then sent out by messenger with instructions to all receivers to "spend at once."

Marion Business Man Enters Race To U. S. Congress

Marion, April 12.—(AP)—J. Q. Gilkey, Marion business man, today announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination to Congress from the eleventh district in the coming primary.

At the same time he announced a platform which includes balancing the budget by paring government costs to the bone instead of raising taxes. He said salaries paid to government employees should be examined regularly to see that the pay is commensurate with the service rendered and on a basis of payments to like workers in civil life.

Gilkey said he advocated the early completion of the Great Smoky Mountains National Park and would work to have it developed adequately if elected.

ABOUT TOWN

President Whitney of the New York Stock Exchange told the Senate investigating committee yesterday that there has been no "bear raiding" on that market.

He said the unexpected decline in stock prices last week was due to heavy liquidating, but did not state what kind of animal that could be charged to.

Judging by the extent of the price decline the liquidating might be charged to the elephants, but surely not the goats. The goats are confined to that other element which suffered so extensively from the crash.

Everybody is happy in New York and Washington when the bulls go on a rampage, but let the bears begin raiding, and every congressman and senator within the confines of Capitol Hill begins yelling bloody murder. The statesmen probably have their skirts clear of stock gambling influences, but they have lots of friends probably they hate to see lose, and if investigations will improve the situation, recent losses may prepare to write more checks to take care of badly frayed margins and get on the happy train for prosperity land.

Pitt county veterans are solidly behind the bill providing for the payment of adjusted compensation certificates, and members of Congress will be forcefully convinced of the fact when they receive resolutions containing several hundred names drafted at the "indignation" meeting here Saturday night.

The government paid every other agency aiding the prosecution of the World War. Many laborers received from four to five times as much as the average soldier and they were paid in a short time after their work was completed.

It has been over thirteen years since the end of that war and the service men have been only partly paid what is due them. Nobody can criticize them for demanding settlement of the debt, especially in face of the fact that thousands of their buddies are suffering untold hardships from unemployment of accompanying economic depression.

It was no easy task the men had in boring their way through bobbled wire entanglements on European battlefields with machine guns splattering the blood of the dead in their very faces, and it is not surprising they should ask the government to pay them for their sacrifices at a time when they need the money to keep the wolf away from the door.

The government may be financially embarrassed, but it should stretch a point and pay this debt. The time will come again when this man power of the nation will be needed to protect our borders from invaders, and the sons of those men who fought the world war will respond more freely to the call to arms knowing that their fathers received fair treatment at the hands of their government.

Honesty in this cause will keep the fires of patriotism burning in the breasts of our people, and sons of the veterans and their sons will forever be dedicated to ideals for which their fathers offered every ounce of their blood to preserve.

The opening of major league baseball will give fans of the state something to talk about from now until early fall. The fact that this part of the state has not been able to have league baseball the last several years only intensifies interest in activities of the major leagues and this season will be no exception.

The activities of Babe Ruth, Gehrig, Martin and others of big league fame not only hold attention of the people in the metropolitan districts, but wherever baseball is known their exploits with

Kitty Frew

By Jane Abbott

SYNOPSIS: Kitty Frew has raced across country to her husband, Gar, who has been injured in an automobile crash. She had gone home to Bridgewater after a quarrel with Gar, but she forgets his interest in Marge Crosby and his lavish spending, in her worry. David, Gar's half-brother, meets her.

Chapter 30
A MASK STRIPPED OFF
 David put his arm around her shoulder. "Gar's all right, Kitty," he said quickly. "He's conscious this morning. He struck on his head but the X-ray showed there was no fracture of the skull. His shoulder's smashed up and his ankle's broken but—"

"David, I want to go to him at once!"
 "Of course," David answered quietly. He directed a redcap to carry her baggage. He kept his arm through hers, steadying her as he led her through the station to the taxi stand. He put her into a taxi and sat down beside her, taking her hand and holding it tight in his. The fingers of her hand in his tightened convulsively.

"David, we're angry with one another when I went away! I said horrible things. David, I'll never forget them. I told him I wasn't coming back from Bridgewater, that it was all a mistake, a bad business, just as you'd said. You didn't have any right to say that to me, David, for me to remember to say it to Gar!" She dragged her hand from his hold, she leaned away from him, tears streaming down her face. "If he dies before I have a chance to tell him that I didn't mean that—"

"You can tell him. He isn't going to die," David retorted grimly. "I failed him," Kitty added miserably, "just when he needed me most."

David offered no comment. They rode in silence until the car turned into the drive of the hospital grounds. He touched Kitty's arm as she hurried ahead.

To Kitty it seemed an endless interval of stupid questioning and answering before she was admitted to the room where Gar lay. Why, she was his wife!

David left her at the door of the room. She did not know it; she had forgotten his existence. She saw only Gar's dark head against the flat pillow of the high hospital bed.

"Gar!"
 And then a tall figure came between her and Gar. She faced Mrs. Frew.

"You cannot disturb him now," Mrs. Frew said in a low cold tone. "Who let you in? You must go away."

Kitty stood, balked. For a moment she saw the older woman's face stripped of its mask; hatred, consuming jealousy, triumph was on it. She faltered before it, drew back a little uncertain, frightened. And seeing that, Mrs. Frew smiled. "Kitty!" It was Gar, calling in a half-moan. Kitty pushed Mrs. Frew roughly out of her way. She dropped at the side of the bed, put her cheek against Gar's hand where it lay on the white sheet.

"Gar, darling, it's Kitty. I'm here."

"I thought you wouldn't come!" He drew a fretful sigh. His fingers moved, caught in her hair, feebly stroked it.

"I came as far as I could, darling."

"You won't go, sweet? You won't go now?"

"No, Gar."
 She heard a rustling of skirts, she whispered, a door closing and gave no heed.

"You mustn't let him talk, Mrs. Frew," a competent, friendly voice said over her shoulder and she nodded her head. As if she didn't know that Gar must be kept very quiet!

When a doctor came in the room she rose to her feet and moved to the window but she did not take her eyes from Gar.

"Doing very nicely," was the doctor's verdict. He looked at Kitty and smiled.

"He'll get along fast, now that you're here."
 It seemed to establish her right in the room. The nurse conceded it to her with a sympathetic look.

"We were pretty worried this time yesterday," she whispered to Kitty. "We didn't know you see—You were out of town? He called for you, first minute he knew anything."

Kitty had gone to the bed again, knelt there, her hand holding Gar's—the nurse pushed a chair up to the bedside.

The bat are followed daily by thousands.

The opening of the season will break the monotony of every-day life to some extent, and many a fan will crouch before the radio or under a reading lamp each day keeping tab on the activities of their favorites in the big company.

East Carolina Teachers College lost its initial diamond clash of the season last Saturday, but Coach Ralph Deal is not daunted. He believes better days are ahead of his club and that a pocketful of horse sense enabled the Wilson lads to capture the opening battle with his boys.

With several games on the schedule, Coach Deal believes his club will be able to capture the majority of them and keep faith with those who have believed so strongly in their ability to make their first year measure up to expectations.

JUNGLE BABY BREAKS LEG

After he had been given a pint of whiskey to cure colic, Zoobu, 350-pound baby elephant from the Malay peninsula, fell down and broke his leg. Twelve men were required to set the leg. Here's Zoobu supported by block and tackle with his leg in a plaster cast. The accident happened in the animal incubators at Atlantic City, N. J.

Kitty his face cleared. "I told him it was a shame to wake you up, Mrs. Frew, you were sleeping so soundly. I peeked in. And he almost took my head off—"

"Can he talk now?"
 "A little. But you mustn't let him get excited or move around. You see they haven't got his shoulder in a cast yet. Tomorrow, maybe. I tell him he's a lot luckier than that other poor fellow they brought in with him—"

But Kitty's arm had slipped around Gar; her face was against his. Neither of them heard what the nurse said, or cared. She went out.

"Kitty, you haven't told me—"

"I love you, Gar, and more tomorrow and more the next day—"

"Kitty, I didn't mean—the other night—"

"I know, Gar. I know you didn't. I didn't, either. I hate myself for what I said."

"I don't suppose it would make me any worse if you kissed me, the way—"

She put her lips on his. Her closed eyes were against his, their breathing was one.

"Gee, Kit, what if it had knocked me out?"

"But it didn't, Gar. Just your shoulder and your ankle—"

"What if I had never seen you again? Kit, you've got to believe me, all the time I never cared a hang for anyone but you—"

(Copyright, Jane Abbott)

Mrs. Frew tries to regain control of Gar in the next installment, and Carol takes a bold step toward freedom.

FLAG CHASE BREAKS INTO OPEN TODAY

Chicago, April 12.—(AP)—The American League pennant race, a struggle dominated for six straight years by Philadelphia and New York, broke into the open again today with the same two formidable rivals pitted against each other in the grand inaugural feature at Shibe Park.

Washington's Senators, off to a flying start with an old fashioned 1 to 0 victory over Boston in their 10-inning opener yesterday, moved over to the Red Sox camp for their second engagement, Cleveland invaded its Lake shore rival, Detroit, while the St. Louis Browns braved the chilly blasts of Lake Michigan at the home field of Chicago's White Sox.

Given any encouragement by the weather, nearly 95,000 baseball faithful were expected to watch the big send-offs. Lure by a mid-season natural, 30,000 were anticipated at Philadelphia and to view the first test between Babe Ruth and his Yankees and Connie Mack's forces, hand-picked favorites to win the 1932 flag.

Twenty-five thousand was the promised crowd for each of the Detroit-Cleveland, St. Louis-Chicago games, with 15,000 more at Boston. Chilly weather seemed to be the surest elemental setting for each inaugural.

A lively pitching duel was in prospect at each battle ground, topped by that between Vernon "Lefty" Gomez, the 22-year-old Yankee southpaw, and big George Earnshaw of the Athletics.

Connie Mack had just about the same big baseball guns—Al Simmons, Mickey Cochrane, et al—in position, while Manager Joe McCarthy had a shuffled line-up with the spectacular recruit, Frank Pieter Crosetti at third, Lyn Lary at shortstop and Sammie Byrd the apparent centerfield gardener in place of veteran Earl Combs.

Babe Ruth had his big war clubs poised and promised misery for all pitchers.

Manager Walter Johnson planned to send another veteran right hander, Fred Marberry, against the Red Sox, who countered with Ed Dupree, a right hander who compiled a fine record of eight victories and ten defeats with the team last season.

Although their star shortstop and clean-up hitter, Joe Cronin, was still out from an attack of tonsillitis, the Senators played errorless ball and won an inaugural game at home for the first time in four years. Manush's double scoring Meyer was the finishing blow with one out in the tenth inning.

A pitching duel between two rivals of high school days, Wesley Ferrell and Victor Sorrell, added punch to the Detroit-Cleveland inaugural. Both Ferrell and Sorrell came from North Carolina where they met often in prep days. Harry Davis, for whom the Tigers sent a hurry call for to Toronto yesterday, was a probable starter at first base for the Tigers.

Happenings In The Piedmont

Wilmington, N. C.—(AP)—The Wilmington Pirates got seven hits in four and a half innings to beat the House of David baseball team while Al Smith held the bearded ones to three singles. A return match is set for today.

Charlotte—(AP)—Under the direction of catcher Art Pond while Guy Lacy is at his home in Tennessee because of the death of a brother, the helmets loathed while it rained yesterday, and the management awaited arrival of several more players.

Durham—(AP)—W. G. Bramham Piedmont proxy, has announced he will donate a hefty loving cup to the team which draws the largest opening day attendance.

Winston-Salem—(AP)—Indoor workouts for the Twins and their foster-dad, the Bridgeport Bears, because of rain, replaced after being postponed at High Point exhibition contest.

Raleigh—(AP)—Odie Strain spent a rainy afternoon, which eliminated a scheduled game with Louisville College, in seeing where some of his rookies material could be fitted into the Cap's lineup.

Asheville—(AP)—Eleven errors, of which Asheville contributed six, featured the Tourists' 6 to 3 victory over the Hartford club of the Eastern league.

Greensboro—(AP)—Wanted one first class shortstop. That's the word coming out of the Patriot training camp. Steven Novak, who wants that job, arrived after being released by Durham but had to await some sunshine for a workout.

High Point—(AP)—The Pointers loafed after their game with Bridgeport was rained out and manager Turner started trying to arrange for a new date between the clubs.

FOUR GAMES FOR OPENING IN NATIONAL

New York, April 12.—(AP)—Eight National League baseball clubs have been winning league games on paper for two months or more. Today, with a little co-operation from the weather man, they'll see if it's just as easy to win them on the ball field.

Some 120,000 persons were expected at the four opening games in New York, Brooklyn, Cincinnati and St. Louis.

The opening schedule was: Pittsburgh-Pirates at St. Louis Cardinals.
Chicago Cubs at Cincinnati Reds.
Boston Braves at Brooklyn Dodgers.

Phillies at New York Giants.
Whatever the final result of the pennant drive that ends Sept. 25, the league looks forward now to one of the most interesting races in its long history. By trade and purchase, all eight clubs have strengthened weak spots in defense or offense until it appears that not one can be used as a convenient stepping stone for such outstanding pennant contenders as the world champion Cardinals, the Giants or Cubs.

Perhaps the Cardinals deserve to be rated as heavy favorites to win their third straight pennant but some observers believe the champions will feel the loss of Burleigh Grimes, veteran right handed pitcher and outfielder Chick Hafey league batting champion in 1931.

Except for the pitching staff, the Cardinals, Giants and Cubs start the season with only one change apiece in their lineups. The Cards will have Jimmy Collins in the outfield in place of Hafey; the Giants will use Len Koeneke in left field at least when opposition is had by a right-handed pitcher; and the Cubs will play Stanley Hack at third base.

The Phillies' principal addition is outfielder George Davis while the Braves count on Art Shires at first base and Fitz Knothe on third. The Pirates will present an unchanged lineup although their second baseman, Tony Piet, played only a few games last season.

Brooklyn and Cincinnati present the greatest changes and it is these two clubs that may furnish most of the fireworks.

Brooklyn has added Hack Wilson to the outfield, Tony Cuccinello, Joe Stripp and George Kelly to the infield. Clyde Sukeforth to the backstopping department and Hoyt to the pitching staff.

Cincinnati, which rounded out its infield by trading Benny Frey and Harvey Hendrick to the Cards for Hafey yesterday, will have such other newcomers as Babe Herman, Taylor Douthitt, Andy High, Wally Gelbert and Ernest Lombardi.

BUILD UP TO PREVENT PAINS

HOW a Missouri woman was benefited by taking Cardui is described below by Mrs. Joe Schumer, of Cape Girardeau: "I suffered with irregularity. For weeks at a time I was so weak I could not work. I had aches in my back and head and legs—I ached all over. I would get dizzy and feel faint. I had read about Cardui, so I got some and took it. I improved a great deal. After I had taken four bottles, I felt like a different person."

SEARCH BEGINS AFTER ATTEMPT IS MADE TO SPEND RANSOM MONEY (Continued from Page One) a member of the gang who broke away and used his inside knowledge to make $50,000.

According to the story told police headquarters in New York, the $50,000 was turned over by Dr. Condon after a series of meetings with a mysterious emissary, one of them near a cemetery. The New York Daily News says that after the baby failed to be returned, Colonel Lindbergh and aides returned to the cemetery scene in the Bronx, and using surgical plaster, took casts of the emissary's footprints to aid in the hunt.

The Daily News says that the tokens given to Colonel Lindbergh during the negotiations as proof that the baby really was in the possession of the persons demanding $50,000 were two safety pins such as had been used to pin the baby's blankets to his crib.

Dr. Condon, carrying two heavy suitcases and a satchel, made a mysterious trip away from his home in the Bronx yesterday, but refused to say where he had been.

Dr. Condon still expressed hope the agreement would be kept and the baby returned. The police theory was that the child is still alive. Last night Inspector Harry Walsh of the Jersey City police department said:

"We still hold the best hopes for the child's safety and we believe the child is still alive. We have very good reasons for this belief but the present is a poor time to explain."

The Rev. H. Dobson-Peacock, one of the Norfolk intermediaries, said in that city he was increasingly optimistic that the negotiations in which he is helping would be successful. One of his colleagues, John H. Curtis, boat builder, has been away from home since Sunday on a mysterious errand.

The "Jafse" advertisements were 13 in number. The last, inserted after the money was paid and the baby failed to come back, read:

"What is wrong? Have you crossed me. Please better instructions."

Abolition of certain types of aggressive arms will not necessarily provide security, he said, but might on the contrary be disadvantageous to an invaded country. The only means to security, he declared, is common action against an aggressor.

This was generally accepted as a restatement of the French proposal for placing offensive forces at the disposal of the League of Nations.

In any case, the premier disarmed the conference, this disarmament meeting is under the auspices of the League of Nations, and he suggested that non-members of the league keep that in mind.

Washington, April 12.—(AP)—America's proposal at Geneva that heavy mobile guns heavy tanks and war is in line with plans worked out by Norman H. Davis in conference with President Hoover and Secretary Stimson, now on his way to Geneva.

Secretary Stimson and other members of the American delegation believe some concrete step in disarmament must be taken to prevent the Geneva meeting from degenerating into a debating society which will get lost in technical details of disarmament. The Americans are eager to see principles established which will mark the limits of naval armament as definitely as naval armament is now restricted.

Fear of invasion, as Ambassador Hugh Gibson explained in his speech presenting the plan, is believed to be the inspiration for the wild expenditures Europe is making for defense. And as heavy offensive weapons are the most expensive items in defense budgets the Americans have struck at these in the hope of effecting immediate financial results.

STATE PILES UP EVIDENCE IN THE HONOLULU TRIAL (Continued from Page One) John C. Kelley, public prosecutor, has produced witnesses who linked the defendants with the abduction of Kahahawai and with the motor car stopped by police while rushing toward K'oa Head with the body, which apparently was to have been thrown to the sharks.

The prosecutor lined up today's witnesses in an attempt to show the killing took place in the Porteus home. As far as is publicly known, he has no actual witnesses to the shooting which ended Kahahawai's life.

In his opening statement Kelley told the racially mixed jury something of what he expected to prove concerning the home.

Two officers, he said, went to the place after the shooting and found windows closed and blinds drawn. They found a revolver, he said, and a bullet lying on a table.

A purse containing a photograph of Kahahawai, a cap which had been worn by the victim, blood stains, a rope identical with that used to bind Kahahawai's sheet enveloped body, and evidence indicating the floor had been recently mopped were found in the house, Kelley said.

Mrs. Fortescue and the other defendants, Lieut. Thomas H. Massie, Edward J. Lord and Albert O. Jones reacted in various ways to the words and actions of the territory's leading witnesses.

Edward Ullii, cousin of Kahahawai's, testified it was Mrs. Fortescue, Massie and Lord who lured the victim into an automobile with a false summons and whisked him away. When Ullii pointed to Mrs. Fortescue as the driver of the car she did not look up.

Rising from his chair, Ullii pointed to Jones as the man who had handed Kahahawai the "warrant." Jones arose and stared unflinchingly at the witness. Ullii said Kahahawai had gone to the judiciary building to make his daily report pending retrial of a charge that another man attacked Mrs. Massie, wife of the lieutenant and daughter of Mrs. Fortescue.

Clarence Darrow, head of the defense battery, continued to hold his fire. When the time came for him to make his opening statement he reserved it. He was sparing also of his cross questioning, putting only a few queries to Ullii and Von Arnswald.

FARM EXPERTS TO TALK HERE (Continued from Page One) at 10 a. m., and at the city hall in Farmville at 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

Speakers will discuss the toll taken by Blue Mold in the eastern and central sections of the state and advise the farmers as to the best method of combating the situation.

Mr. Arnold said it was generally agreed that the mixture of blue-stone and hydrated lime was the most effective means of preventing the spread of the disease, and has advised farmers to spread the mixture on plants which had not been affected.

Experts have conducted an intensive investigation of the situation for the last several weeks, and have warned farmers that unless they take immediate action to protect their plants they might suffer staggering losses.

Although it is impossible to estimate the damage to plant beds in Pitt county, Mr. Arnold expressed belief the crop would be reduced almost fifty per cent by shortage of plants unless the disease is controlled. Reports trickling into the Farm Department office the last few days indicated that scores of farmers have had their plant supply almost totally destroyed, and others have suffered almost severely.

Hope was expressed that growers from all parts of the country would attend the speaking here and at Farmville and fully familiarize themselves with the most expeditious and advisable way to rid themselves of the menace to the greatest industry of this part of the state.

PUSH WORK ON REVENUE BILL (Continued from Page One) Arkansas, the Democratic leader, to confer at length on general conditions and particularly on the revenue measure and the economy program. Robinson is inclined to leave the latter in the hands of the House, where appropriations originate.

HUNDREDS SIGN PETITION (Continued from Page One) lions of dollars that would be repaid in full settlement of the reparation would be a mighty stroke for relief of the severe economic situation confronting the nation. The money, it was said, would find its way into regular channels of trade and do more to ease the monetary tension than any other thing to be imagined.

MAKE APPEAL FOR VETERANS (Continued from Page One) 500,000 letters saying: "If the government can pay $2,000,000,000 to the bankers and the railroads to whom it owes no obligations, why should it not pay $2,000,000,000 to the soldiers to whom it recognizes an obligation?"

"To pay this bonus will enable 3,000,000 idle and part-time veterans to purchase some of the necessities of life," he said. "That would put $2,000,000,000 into channels of commerce and trade."

"It will compel us to revalue the American dollar to the approximate level it attained in 1929. It will probably throw us off the gold standard."

"Revaluation of the dollar will come eventually either legally or revolutionarily. We have given the last transfusion to the sickly economic system of this country and soon will have a corpse on our hands. The Reconstruction Finance Corporation has done little good."

"If we do not revalue the dollar legally—remember Russia of 1917; remember the French revolution; remember our own revolution of 1775."

ARGENTINA IS MENACED BY ERUPTING VOLCANOES (Continued from Page One) tive preparations today to evacuate the 80,000 inhabitants of Mendoza, Argentina's principal western city, as a chorus of erupting Andean volcanoes continued to menace a wide area with dust and gases.

Ashes lay more than fourteen inches deep over some of the territory today, westerly winds showered the fine dust down in a fan-like belt 800 miles across central South America and Martin Gil, local meteorologist, expressed the opinion that the current eruptions might be the forerunner of a worldwide volcanic wave.

He recalled the eruptions of Vesuvius, the San Francisco earthquake and the earthquake at Valparaiso, Chile, which followed each other closely in 1906.

Officials here were considering requests for railway facilities to begin the evacuation of Mendoza and other afflicted areas should the situation grow worse. Half a dozen villages near Mendoza, which was shaken three times yesterday, awaited the arrival of government trucks bearing first aid supplies to the people, many of whom have been without sleep for two nights, terrified by the rain of ashes and the sulphurous gases.

Volcanoes were becoming active which have long been considered dead. At Malargue earth cracks appeared last night and the ash blanket was 13.5 inches deep before midnight.

In spite of the widespread terror throughout the western territory more conservative scientists here were inclined to believe that the volcanic activity was more frightening and discomfiting than actually dangerous.

Wealthy Sports Leader Is Dead Chicago, April 12.—(AP)—The colorful Joseph Letter is dead and the spheres of sports, business and finance have lost a leader.

Letter, multimillionaire turfman and capitalist, son of Levi Letter, the merchant prince and partner of the first Marshall Field, died yesterday at the age of 63.

Complications that set in with pneumonia after he was pronounced on the way to recovery from serious heart trouble caused his death.

Funeral services were set for this afternoon in the fashionable Near North Side St. Chrysostom's church and the body will be sent to Washington for burial in the Letter family plot there after last rites in St. John's cathedral.

Of massive figure and fierce countenance, Letter was a familiar figure at nearly every race track of the nation and equally well known in the halls of business and finance. His first spectacular venture in business came in 1898 and made him a national figure. He tried to corner the wheat market and failed. That failure cost his father $12,000,000.

Despite the failure, the elder Letter at death had sufficient faith in the son's business acumen to make him custodian of his vast $30,000,000 estate.

His income at death was estimated at $1,000,000 a year.
