"Jafsie" Says He Is In Touch With Kidnappers

Dr. John Condon Makes Revelation Following Mystery Night Journey

TRIES TO STOP DOUBLE CROSS

Announcement Competes for Interest With Reports From London That Ransom Money Has Turned Up There and Rumors That Mrs. Lindbergh is Cracking Under the Strain; Norfolk Men Still Hopeful

Hopewell, April 13.—(AP)—Dr. John P. Condon indicated today that he had renewed negotiations with the kidnapers of the Lindbergh baby, to whom he has already paid a $50,000 ransom, and police disclosed they had received a "mysterious message" telling where definite information of the baby's whereabouts might be obtained.

"I'm convinced I had contact with the kidnapers and I still have contact with them," Dr. Condon, who negotiated with the criminals through a series of advertisements signed "Jafsie," said early today after a mysterious night journey. A few hours later Col. H. Norman Schwarzkopf, superintendent of state police who is in general charge of the police investigation, issued his usual morning bulletin and in it announced the latest clue. "A mysterious anonymous message was received," he said, advising that definite information of the kidnapers and the whereabouts of the child would be available on a boat on or near the A. A. C. and Company of Chrome, N. J.

"Detains outtroopers, together with a detail of the Carleton police, searched all boats in and near the A. A. C. dock and found only six barges. Two barges had just unloaded coal and four empty barges were about to be filled with fertilizer. All other boats at neighboring docks were examined but nothing of any importance was discovered.

Col. Schwarzkopf also said in his bulletin that Harry Fleischer, Detroit purple gangster long sought for questioning about the kidnaping, was reported to be planning to sail to England from Nova Scotia.

Hopewell, N. J., April 13.—(AP)—"Jafsie" says he is in touch with the kidnapers of the Lindbergh baby in a renewed effort to place the tot's arms "around his mother's neck."

Back from a mysterious night journey, Dr. John P. Condon, aged educator, indicated new negotiations are under way to get stolon Charles A. Lindbergh Jr. from persons who took the $50,000 ransom and then ran out on their promise to restore the baby.

A bid to reinforce his assurance to the kidnapers that they need fear no harm in negotiating with him was seen in a statement by the 72-year-old retired teacher as he stood, worn and sleepless, on his porch in the Bronx, New York City.

"I'm convinced I had contact with the kidnapers and I still have contact with them," he said "I have never identified them or said a word against them. My life would not be worth anything if I said anything against them."

Dr. Condon's trip and announcement came after he appealed once more to the kidnapers not to double cross him. In a renewal of the last of a series of newspaper advertisements signed "Jafsie," he reiterated:

RUM RUNNER IS CAPTURED

Two Others Escape Following Wrecking of Car Near Princeton Yesterday

Smithfield, April 13.—(AP)—Jack Green, said by police to be a notorious rum-runner operating with headquarters at Raleigh, was captured and two other men, Major Mitchell and Red Dixon, escaped a sheriff's posse following the wrecking of an automobile in which the three were riding near Princeton late yesterday.

Mitchell was declared an outlaw last week after he escaped from the Johnston county jail here while awaiting trial on charges of being a ring-leader in an alleged "rum-running" recently rounded-up in this section. Dixon is alleged by officers to have been a member of the gang.

Officers said three men were driving eastward in a high powered car and were unable to negotiate a curve just outside of Princeton. The car was ditched and the three fled to a nearby woods, where Sheriff R. H. Richardson and other officers found Green.

Investigation showed the car was stolen yesterday in Raleigh.

Warren Asked to Preside in House

Representative Lindsay Warren was called to the chair today by Speaker John N. Garner to preside for the next five days during the passage of the legislative appropriation bill, which is one of the nine great annual supply bills. It is on this bill that the great fight will occur on Thursday for the reduction of all federal salaries. The Rules Committee has given Chairman McDuiff's economy committee the right under a special rule to offer his amendment to the legislative bill. The Democratic program is to reduce all salaries in every department of the government 11 per cent after exempting the first thousand dollars, which would mean an annual saving of $68,000,000.

Representatives Pou, Warren, Doughton and Lambeth announced at the beginning of the session that they would vote to reduce Federal expenditures and salaries, including their own. A stormy battle is predicted in the House, and Mr. Warren, as the presiding officer, will be called upon to pass on many parliamentary questions.

BANS HITLER STORM TROOPS

Socialist Organization Declared Illegal by Decree of German Government

Berlin, April 13.—(AP)—Adolf Hitler's national Socialist "storm troops" were declared illegal by a government decree today.

The ban affects 400,000 "Nazis" organized on military lines and referred to by their political opponents as Hitler's "Pretorian Guard" and sometimes as "The state within a state."

Chancellor Bruening considered this extraordinary action so important that he delayed his departure for the disarmament conference at Geneva a full day to deliberate its every step and consequence.

THINK YOUTH KILLED SELF

Coroner's Jury Says University Student Probably Committed Suicide

Chapel Hill, April 13.—(AP)—A coroner's jury today gave a verdict that John A. Nicholson of Raleigh, University of North Carolina sophomore who was found dead in his room here yesterday, "probably committed suicide."

Dr. S. A. Nathan, coroner, said the verdict was based on evidence found in the student's room in a boarding house here.

On a table was found a soft drink bottle and a chemical beaker which the jury said probably had been used for a drinking glass. University chemistry professors analyzed the beaker and reported traces of poison.

Laboratory officials said a check-up revealed a shortage of a quantity of poison like that of which traces were found in the beaker. The jury advanced no motive for the death.

Last night the body was taken to Raleigh but the boy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. David N. Nicholson, had not announced funeral arrangements. They said they knew of no reason why their son should take his life.

ROTES TO VISIT CITY THURSDAY

Five Hundred Expected to Attend Inter-City Gathering Tomorrow

Approximately five hundred Rotarians from the eastern section of the state will converge on Greenville tomorrow for their first inter-city gathering of the year, and the city was making extensive plans for their entertainment.

Members of the local club were making last minute preparations for the coming of the members of thirty-two clubs, and by the end of the day the last plan looking to entertainment of the visitors was expected to be completed.

Among the distinguished visitors will be Theodore S. Johnson of Raleigh, district governor, who with F. C. Harding of Greenville, will deliver the principal addresses of the occasion. Other speakers will be Rescoe McMillan of Red Springs, and Charlie Phillips, of Greensboro.

The afternoon will be given over to entertainment of the Rotarians and will consist of bridge at the Rotary building, golf at the Country Club, theatre party at State Theatre, and last but not least by any means, a baseball game between Greenville and Raleigh last night.

San Francisco, April 13.—(AP)—Government chemists announced that traces of poison were found in the organs of Phar Lap, noted Australian race horse that died last week, but the source of the poison had not been definitely established today.

The poison resembled that used in a tree spray near the thoroughbred's stable at Moon Park, it was announced by W. W. Vincent, chief of U. S. Department of Agriculture.

WARSAW POST FAVORS BONUS

Stevens' Home Town Organization Votes for Payment of Soldiers' Compensation

Charlotte, April 13.—(AP)—The fight over the proposal for immediate cash payment of ex-service men's adjusted compensation certificates waxed warmer in North Carolina last night.

Following action of a Warsaw man in starting a near-riot at a state meeting in Greensboro, when Henry L. Stevens, national commander of the American Legion, was attacked Monday night, the Warsaw post to which the national commander belongs, met and voted unanimously for cash payment, in direct opposition to his announced stand.

Meanwhile, at Greensboro, where a state-wide meeting of ex-service men was held Monday to foster the cash payment movement, the American Legion post met and passed a resolution supporting the Legion commander in his statement to the President that the Legion was opposed to the Patman and other plans for cash payment.

Similar action was taken by the Asheville post, while other posts in the state the last few days have gone on record for the cash payment and against the national Legion policy, which was adopted at the last national convention.

TAKES RAP AT HIGH TARIFFS

Democratic Chieftain Advocates Abandonment of Prohibitive Tariff and Sharp Reduction in Governmental Expenses at Jefferson Day Luncheon; Other Speakers Score Administration

Washington, April 13.—(AP)—A six-point economic relief program, including abandonment of "prohibitive" tariffs and sharp reduction in the cost of government was advanced today by Senator Robinson of Arkansas, at the Jefferson Day luncheon rally of the nation's leading Democrats.

Joining Representative Rainey of Illinois, the House majority leader; Representative Mary T. Norton of New Jersey, and Mrs. Nellie Taylor Ross, vice chairman of the party's national committee, in a severe arraignment of Republican program and policies, the Senate's Democratic chieftain also called for:

Rigid enforcement of the anti-trust laws, use of American capital at home, a policy of non-cancellation of foreign debts and no reallocation of debts except in the interest of America, and re-establishment of higher commodities prices through orderly disposition of existing surpluses, readjustments in domestic production and other processes.

All the other speakers let loose critical darts at the administration's tariff and relief measures, but only one—Representative Norton—took a fling at prohibition.

Urging abandonment of the prohibition bureau, she said the "Noble Experiment" has cost the American people $37,000,000 for enforcement, not counting the revenue "which could be had from a legalized tax on beer and wine; while the cost in murders, suicides, corruption, crime and prison and insane asylum upkeep cannot be estimated."

"While all of this is developing," she added, "the leader of our country is not sufficiently interested to even attempt to discover the remedy. Men on capital hill with closed minds refuse to read the evidence handed in on the wall."

Taking the "harmful results of new economic" as his text, Sen. Robinson termed the Hoover relief proposals as "palliatives, not cure," and said financial institutions had been slow to avail themselves of the privileges afforded by the Glass and Steagall act, a Democratic measure, due to "fear which seems to have paralyzed the brains of those who control the sources of credit."

After saying a "nation-wide propaganda (in 1928) built up the myth that a letter mailed anywhere would be promptly delivered to Mr. Hoover," the Arkansas senator, vice-presidential nominee in that campaign, said every policy advanced by the president then "is now generally regarded as unsound, and many regard them as a direct cause of the depression."

"Everything that Mr. Hoover said would happen failed to occur," he continued. "Everything that he promised would not occur has taken place."

"When the Democrats cried out that the Hoover plan to increase mass and automatic machine production threatened to create unmanageable surpluses and to diminish employment, the Republican presidential nominee replied at Newark: 'It is the road to abolition of poverty.'"

"The record of the last three years," he said, "establishes the conclusion that the economic policy of the United States as reflected in extravagant government expenditures, in loans to bankrupt foreign governments, and in the enactment of tariffs which have well-nigh destroyed our commerce, have

Kitty Frew

By Jane Abbott

SYNOPSIS: Kitty Frew finds her husband, Gar, in a hospital, guarded by his too-devoted mother, when she is summoned back from a trip. He was hurt in an automobile accident, with Marge Crosby in who mKitty suspects he is interested and Paul Somerset with whom Gar's sister, Carol, is in love.

Chapter 37
"UNTIL DEATH DO US PART"
Gar was growing more excited. Kitty batted his hand gently. "Don't I know that? Now you mustn't talk. The nurse will send me away if you get tired."

"Well, hold my hand, anyway."

He was content with that. She told him of her brief three days stay in Bridgewater; she saw that her voice quieted him. In his eyes she saw that odd pleading that had been there when she'd accused him of staying in Winton because he did not want to leave Marge.

The nurse tiptoed in and out. Mr. Frew came in and sat for a little while in Kitty's chair, regarding Gar with an anxious face.

He had greeted Kitty warmly, with something like gratitude in his manner.

"If you need me, my dear, call me. Will you go to the apartment. She had not thought of it. She had not thought of leaving Gar for so much as an hour. But perhaps they would not let her stay here—Her face betrayed her distress and uncertainty. Mr. Frew patted her shoulder. "I'll talk to the superintendent. Perhaps she can arrange for you to have a room here for a night or two."

"Oh, thank you!" Impulsively Kitty lifted her lips and kissed Dalton Frew's strained, lined, tired face.

She was established in the room next to Gar's. At nine o'clock she bade Gar goodnight and went to it and to bed at once. She slept soundly, waking to daylight filtering through the drawn shades. She dressed and went back to Gar's room where the night nurse greeted her a little tiredly, indifferently. Miss Bixby came on duty at eight o'clock, fresh, smiling.

"He had a fine night. He'll be out of here in no time," she assured Kitty. She brought Kitty a breakfast tray when she brought Gar's. "You're lucky, Mrs. Frew. There's a girl comes to see the other fellow and she raised all sorts of a row downstairs last night because the nurse made her go at nine o'clock. They don't think he's going to get well—he was hurt internally."

It had been Carol, of course, who had made the row. Kitty felt a deep compassion for her and at the same moment that disquieting reluctance to admit Somerset's share in Gar's accident into her thoughts.

The day passed quietly; the doctor came and went. Gar was more comfortable, more like his old self, demanding that Kitty sit close to him most of the time.

Mr. Frew came again and sat with Gar, talking awkwardly, affectionately for a little while. When he moved to go he beckoned to Kitty to follow him out to the hall.

"Has his mother told you, Kitty? Doctor Harrington says that Gar can be moved safely in a few days. She's arranged for a hospital bed at the house and two nurses." He did not look at her. "I'll make things easier for you, my dear, until he's up and around."

She did not utter the quick vehement protest that sprang to her lips. She was not fighting this helpless man.

But after he'd gone she leaned for a moment against the gray painted wall of the corridor. She was frightened, dismayed. The vicious circle was beginning again and she felt herself slipping helplessly into it.

Another night in the bare, clean room next to Gar's another morning, the night nurse yawning, Miss Bixby coming in fresh, smiling, to take her place. Breakfast on a little table close to Gar's bed, Doctor Harrington examining his patient, looking with him, teasing Kitty for her pale face. And then alone with Gar, precious sweet moments, too sweet to let in any apprehension— "Am I better, Kitty?" Gar was like a boy, wanting her assurance over the doctor's.

"Oh, much."

"Kit, if I'm better I can talk. There's something I want to get off my mind—"

She stroked his hair. "Not now, sweetheart. We'll have hours and hours to talk."

"Do you love me?"

"Oh, Gar! Yes, yes."

"Well, I don't know why you should—"

He was frowning. She had to kiss it away quickly.

He did not ask why his mother did not come. She exulted at that even though she knew well she had soon to reckon with her. She had Gar to herself for a few days, at least.

Miss Bixby came in and touched Kitty on the shoulder. "There's some one outside who wants to speak to you."

David, Kitty thought. She must thank him for meeting her though she burred the moments away from Gar. But it was Carol, waiting outside, her eyes strangely gleaming, a little smile twisting her lips.

"Kitty, I need you." She spoke

ABOUT TOWN

Farmers should take advantage of the visit of the two farm experts here Friday to advise them as to best methods of combating the Blue Mold, tobacco plant disease, spreading over this part of the state with such devastating effect.

Realizing the enormous loss being sustained by the growers, State College will send expert tobacco men to all sections of the state to try to help the farmer avoid further staggering loss from the disease.

Speakers will be here Friday morning at 10 o'clock and at Farmville in the afternoon.

While it has been definitely established that bluestone and hydrated lime is the best preventative against spread of the disease, it is quite probable the long experiment conducted by the state specialists will enable them to present other methods of attack.

It is to be hoped the court house will be packed to capacity and that growers will take advantage of every suggestion advanced for their benefit.

Nearly two thousand people in this county are in favor of the government paying the soldiers' compensation.

This was ascertained when that number signed resolutions recently adopted by the Legion post calling on members of Congress to do their best towards passage of the Patman bill, providing over two billions of dollars for the purpose.

The action was similar to that adopted by Legion posts and other veterans' organizations throughout the country and it will have a tremendous effect upon members of Congress.

It is intended to counteract sentiment created by the declaration of Henry Stevens, national Legion commander, that only 23 posts of the nation had voted in favor of payment of the bonus.

It not only shows that Stevens was wrong, but also indicates that the veterans want their money and have the support of the majority of people behind them.

Persons who want schools to run the full term school not busy and pay their taxes at once.

A plea in this connection was made by members of the Board of Aldermen and County Commissioners sometime ago when it was doubtful whether the schools would be operated the full term.

The officials decided to try and run the full session providing taxes were settled. This put the alternative squarely up to the taxpayers, and if they want to see the ambition realized they should help the city and county out in a financial way.

The test will come during the next two months, and if the schools fail to make the grade it is nobody's fault but the taxpayers'.

Dr. Frank Graham will address University Alumni here tonight. The city is glad to extend a welcome to the distinguished educator. It is not his first visit here because it was he who delivered the address about two years ago dedicating Sheppard Memorial Library, one of the finest institutions of its kind in this part of the state.

Mr. Graham, by reason of his important post at the head of one of the state's greatest institutions of learning, holds an enviable position in the field of national education, and his address to alumni tonight should be an inspiration, raising each to attempt to find that higher plane in life which students of all schools of the nation are seeking to climb to.

When Rotarians visit Greenville tomorrow they will not only be given a cordial reception but will have the opportunity to look over the world's largest bright leaf tobacco market.

This is a distinction of which Greenville and Pitt county people are justly proud because they have been long years in realizing it.

Rotarians, and especially those who are members of the tobacco industry, can well appreciate what the city has accomplished and will quickly. She caught Kitty's arm and drew her toward the opposite door. "If won't take a minute. There's a minister in there—he's going to marry Paul and me." She felt Kitty's shocked withdrawal. "I wouldn't have it any other way!" she said, low, fiercely, tightening her hold on Kitty's arm. "Paul wants it—!" A curious exultation shone on her face. "Even if he dies—he's mine!"

Kitty had no argument against that. She followed Carol into the room behind the closed door. Her glance went slowly from the nurse to a tall, slightly shabby man in a clergyman's robes standing near the window holding a prayer-book in his hand, to an interne, grinning over his part in this strange ceremony, and last, reluctantly, to the figure on the bed. But Paul Somerset's eyes did not meet hers. They were fixed on Carol. A faint smile lit the corners of his lips. His hand moved a little and Carol took it.

"—Until death do us part."

The words took on strange significance, sounding here in these walls that so often housed death. Kitty shivered. But in Carol's firm voice, there was no faltering, no note of fear.

The nurse turned them all out a little brusquely. Out in the hall the clergyman put a book into Kitty's hand, bidding her sign her name as a witness of the marriage. The interne, still grinning, signed his. Carol put a bill into the clergyman's hand, muttered a quick thank you and slipped back into the room.

Kitty went back to Gar, shaken, troubled, close to tears.

"Do you think Paul Somerset—the other man—has any chance?" she asked Miss Bixby at her first opportunity.

SEN. ROBINSON GIVES DEMOCRATS SIX POINT PROGRAM FOR RELIEF

Taking up his six recommendations one by one, Robinson said: "Loans to foreign governments, or to their nationals of which repayment is promised only on the theory that the United States will, in some mysterious way, build up the ability of the borrowers to pay, should not be sought or accepted. It is better to use American capital at home and escape the risks of loss and of political entanglements and complications which must result from such a stupid policy.

"Second, this government should announce a firm purpose not to cancel or readjust obligations due from foreign countries, except upon conditions manifestly to the interest of our own people.

"Third, it must be made to appear that the policy of isolation reflection in prohibitive tariffs is to be abandoned, and fair reciprocal tariff arrangements entered into with a view to breaking down and preventing retaliatory measures by other peoples.

"Fourth, laws for the prevention and regulation of monopolies must be enforced. The administrations of Presidents Harding, Coolidge and Hoover have been marked by such feebleness in the enforcement of the anti-trust laws as to justify the belief that the statutes are regarded as obsolete and unnecessary.

"Fifth, reduction of the high cost of government is among the most difficult tasks which the Democratic party will inherit when the administration of President Hoover dies on March 4, 1933. The current annual deficit is approximately $2,000,000,000. The marked divergence between revenues and expenditures threatens the national credit. That credit must be maintained!

Kentucky pledged its entire Democratic delegation of 26 to Gov. Roosevelt.

Missouri's slate of 41 Republican delegates was instructed by the state G. O. P. meeting for President Hoover.

And to the president went 13 of Florida's Republican delegates with the state G. O. P. meeting for President Hoover.

Gov. Roosevelt set the pace in Nebraska and widened the margin he set early over Speaker John N. Garner of Texas and Gov. William H. Murray of Oklahoma.

It was the first test of strength for the three in any one primary and tabulations from 867 precincts of the state's 2,049 gave Roosevelt 38,211; Garner 11,179, and Murray 10,483.

Only the name of former Senator I. France of Maryland appeared on the Republican preference ballots in Nebraska but the voters wrote President Hoover's name in and he polled 3,380 votes against 13,487 for France, in 712 precincts.

Bernard W. Snow, Cook county Republican chairman and sponsor of a slate of 15 delegates pledged against President Hoover and for a "wet" plank in the national Republican platform, was running third in the limited number of precincts reported.

Senator James Hamilton Lewis, the state's favorite son, was unopposed in in the Democratic preference vote and in returns from 1,320 precincts out of 7,229 polled 135,870 votes.

Former Senator France was also the only candidate seeking the Illinois Republican expression of preference. He received 20,900 votes from 592 precincts.

Dr. Condon kept the appointment, but the woman merely told him he would receive another message. Other messages came and on April 2 Col. Lindbergh and Dr. Condon drove to St. Raymond's cemetery in the Bronx, where the doctor turned over a box containing $50,000 to a man behind a hedge. The man talked with a foreign accent, it was learned.

At Norfolk, the Rev. H. Dobson-Peacock, one of three intermediaries of that city, was still hopeful they could restore the baby. The Virginian-Pilot said John Hughes Curtis, another of the Norfolk men, conferred with Col. Lindbergh again yesterday.

Washington, April 13.—(AP)—One of the twenty dollar notes paid to the Lindbergh kidnapers was reported here today to have been passed in New York City and turned over to the New York police department by the secret service.

St. Thomas, Ontario, April 13.—(AP)—A man claiming to be D. D. Dickerson, of New York City, was arrested here today in connection with the Lindbergh kidnaping. Police said he carried letters addressed to Colonel Lindbergh and Mrs. Dwight Morrow, mother of Mrs. Lindbergh, together with carbon copies of telegrams believed to have been sent to Colonel Lindbergh.

Maryland was the first state to report the raising of its quota of $55,000. Its representative said the state's total would run over $37,000 and that this indicated the Democratic party in Maryland "means business."

Alabama reported the raising of $2,000 to date; Arizona, $2,459; Arkansas and California no reports; Colorado $3,361; Connecticut $1,195; Delaware $4,025; Florida $3,177; Georgia $5,000; Idaho $1,403; Illinois $44,848; Indiana $14,000; Iowa $455; Kansas $1,000; Kentucky $593; Louisiana $8,906; Main $349; Massachusetts $10,020; Michigan $229; Minnesota $3,625.

The Minnesota worker said there was "a gorgeous family row among the Democrats in Minnesota" that delayed collections.

Mississippi has raised $178; Missouri $14,740; Montana $3,870; and Nebraska $2,000.

how they could have got there. The money was paid out about 7 p. m., April 2. The liner Scythia sailed from New York about 11 a. m., that day, touching at Boston, from which it departed April 3 for England. Investigators thought it conceivable that the money might have been speeded from New York to Boston, and taken aboard the boat.

State police, taking cognizance again today of reports about Mrs. Lindbergh, said there had been no "perceptible change" in her condition in the last few weeks. Earlier they denied a report she had collapsed. Mrs. Lindbergh is expecting another child, and the reports had said New York physicians had been called.

Dr. Condon's departure last night with a suitcase came after he had spent a long time conferring with Col. Henry Breckinridge, who is Lindbergh's closest adviser.

The Bronx Home News, community paper in which Dr. Condon first appealed to the kidnapers, published more details describing the payment of ransom. Before it was paid, the paper said, a mysterious woman approached Dr. Condon in a rummage shop and said: "Meet me in the depot at Tuckahoe, N. J., on Wednesday at 5 p. m."

RUTH GRABS SPOTLIGHT AS LEAGUE OPENS

By HERBERT W. BARKER (Associated Press Sports Writer)

For these many years Babe Ruth has been doing the unexpected, clouting home runs or striking out in his own inimitable fashion, but never before has he so completely dominated the major leagues' opening day ceremonies.

There was excellent pitching by Ed Brandt of the Boston Braves, Sam Jones of the Chicago White Sox and Flint Rhem of the world champion St. Louis Cardinals as the National and American Leagues opened the drive that leads to the 1932 pennants yesterday; there was a rousing ninth-inning rally by the re-built Cincinnati Reds and a striking demonstration of batting power by the long-suffering Phillies but over and above all these feats was the Babe's spectacular seasonal debut at Philadelphia.

The king-pin of the New York Yankees' devastating attack clouted two home runs and a single against Big George Earnshaw and Jimmy DeShong of the Philadelphia Athletics and thus contributing five runs to the common cause.

A shivering crowd of 18,000 saw little to cheer about as the Yankees, with praise-worthy economy, made 12 hits good for as many runs and beat the A's 12-6.

Ruth, who never before had hit two home runs in an opening day game, needed some assistance and got it from Sammy Byrd and Lou Gehrig. Among them this trio collected nine hits and accounted for 11 runs. Byrd matched Ruth's feat with two homers and a single; Gehrig, co-champion with Ruth of last year's home-run hitters, drove one ball out of the park and kicked in with a triple and single as well.

The only other American League game the weather man permitted saw the Chicago White Sox pin a 9-2 beating on the St. Louis Browns. Sam Jones held the Browns to eight hits and won without trouble in back of a 13-hit assault by the Sox. Carey Selph, rookies third-sacker, drove in three runs with three doubles.

Over in the National League, the champion Cardinals turned in an easy victory. Their two chief rivals the New York Giants and Chicago Cubs were beaten.

Flint Rhem, who pitched the Cardinals to victory in the pennant-winning years of 1928-29-30-31, held the Pittsburgh Pirates to seven hits and won 16-2. The Cardinals man-handled Larry French for 10 hits and eight runs in six innings with Sparky Adams and Ray Blades getting three hits apiece.

The Giants fell victim to the effective pitching of "Fidgety" Phil Collins and a terrific hitting drive by the Phillies. But Shotton's men pounded Bill Walker out of the box with none out in the second inning and pilled up a total of 17 hits for the game. Collins himself got four hits and Chuck Klein contributed three, including a triple.

The Cubs led Cincinnati 4-1 going into the last half of the ninth but Charley Root weakened and filled the bases with none out. Guy Bush came in to stop the attack but Red Lucas, a pinch batsman, doubled to drive in two runs and D'uhit later singled to score two more and win the duel, 5-4.

COLLEGIANS TO TACKLE HIGH SCHOOL HERE TOMORROW AS ROTARY DAY FEATURE

Red Headed Queen

Margaret Faye Hayes of Louisville, Ky., has been chosen May queen at Mount Union college, Alliance, O. She is the first red-haired girl to win that honor.

What is believed will be one of the most spectacular clashes of the season will take place at the Third street, school grounds tomorrow afternoon at 3:45 when Greenville high school baseball club tackles East Carolina Teachers College.

The game will be one of a series of entertainments provided for five hundred Rotarians gathered here in district meeting and was expected to be witnessed by probably the largest crowd attending a game here in years.

Boasting an unbeaten record so far this season, Greenville High will depend mainly on her prowess with the stick and the baffling curves of Berry Dail, youthful hurler who has displayed marked ability against other able foes this season.

Greenville High has the distinction of winning from Tarboro, Washington and Snow Hill. The Snow Hill game had no bearing on the conference race, but the fact that the locals were able to add another victory to their credit did much to bolster hope for conference leadership.

The college aggregation, coached by the inimitable Ralph Deal, head of the Department of French at the college, is made up largely of former high school boys who only a few years ago employed their skill to put High in a class by herself. In the first and only clash of the season, the Collegians lost to Atlantic Christian College by a narrow margin last Saturday. It was one of these unlucky breaks that caused the downfall of the club, but it has made them more determined than ever to beat the jinx during the remainder of the season.

Former high school players who will be seen in action for the college are Hearne, King, Tucker, Hodges, Eason and Billy Brown.

Hearne, former High first baseman, will do the mound work for the Collegians and his mighty speed ball is expected to be one of the main things the High school lads will have to deal with in their effort to prevent the breaking of their string of victories.

Market Report Cotton--Stocks--Grain

N. Y. COTTON

New York, April 13.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady today at an advance of 2 to 5 points on overnight buying orders and covering, prompted by the steadiness in Liverpool cables. May sold at 6.24.

Houses with Liverpool and continental connections were among the buyers here, while Liverpool showed further gains after the local opening, and with offerings light, active months worked up another few points during the early trading. May advanced to 6.27 and October to 6.70, with the market showing net gains of about 6 to 9 points at the end of the first half hour.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, April 13.—(AP)—A low barometer in Texas which many traders took to indicate possible breakup of the drought gave an irregular downward slant to grain values today.

Exporters were represented as buying wheat futures at Winnipeg, however, and there were estimates that 750,000 bushels of Canadian wheat had been purchased for shipment overseas. On the other hand, profit taking by recent speculative buyers was a feature of wheat trading here.

STOCK MARKET

New York, April 13.—(AP)—The stream of selling which has been flowing into the stock market almost steadily for more than five weeks was all but stemmed today.

The list was unable to make consistent recovery. An early upturn of 1 to 3 points was more than lost as the session wore on, but trading dwindled sharply, and the list developed a fairly firm undertone in the early afternoon.

The early upturn, ranging from 1 to 3 points in such issues as American Telephone, Consolidated Gas, Allied Chemical, National Biscuit, Sears Roebuck, Santa Fe, American Can and Eastman, was short-lived. The list was momentarily unsettled by uncovering of a few soft spots. Peoples Gas dropped 10 points, and Lambert and Drug tumbled 3 to new lows. Standard of N. J. was offered in considerable volume, losing more than a point. Most of the leaders, however, failed to go more than fractionally under yesterday's close.

The improved tone in the market was evidently in response to reports that the governors of the Federal Reserve Banks meeting in Washington yesterday had agreed upon a program of more aggressive credit expansion. An immediate reflection appeared in the money market, where rates on bankers acceptance were cut 1-2 of one per cent to 11-4 per cent bid for the short maturities.

NEIGHBOR TO GIVE EVIDENCE

Three of the eleven remaining prosecution witnesses were called to tell what they saw and heard at the Fortescue home January 8, the day Kahahawai was abducted and slain. By a procession of witnesses, most of them police officers, the prosecution yesterday carried its story from the point where the body was found to the darkened home of the accused woman, where the killing allegedly took place.

Mrs. Fortescue sat through the session apparently unmoved, even when the blood-stained sheets that had shrouded Kahahawai's body were unfolded and waved before the jurors of widely varied racial origin. Occasionally she glanced at Clarence Darrow, leader of the defense, but most of the time she kept her gaze on the back of a chair immediately in front of her.

On today's list of prosecution witnesses was Mrs. Shizuko Yamamoto, who lived next door to the Fortescue home. The prosecution expected her to tell how, while sitting alone, she saw Mrs. Fortescue pull down a window shade in the rear of the Fortescue home about 9:30 a. m.

Mrs. Helen Stickey, who was visiting her sister, Mrs. Anne Tarleton, next door to the Fortescue home, was called to repeat her story previously told to Prosecutor John C. Kelley that she heard what sounded like a muffled pistol shot.

police station, was summoned to testify this time took from Mrs. Fortescue's person after the latter's arrest a strip of cloth apparently torn from a sheet. This strip fits the missing part of one of the sheets which was wrapped about Kahahawai's body.

A Japanese servant girl also was on the witness stand. She previously testified that on the day before Kahahawai was killed, Mrs. Fortescue paid her wages and instructed her not to return until Saturday, the day after the lynching.

Officers told yesterday of the recovery of the lynching victim's body from an automobile containing three of the defendants, Mrs. Fortescue, Lieutenant Thomas H. Massie and Edward J. Lord.

A policeman testified that the sheets on a bed in the Fortescue home were missing. Another witness identified a coil of rope found in the house as identical with that wound around the sheet wrapped body. Still another testified that he found a photograph of Kahahawai in a purse belonging to Mrs. Fortescue.

APPROVE BILL TO AID BANKS

Not only federal reserve members would be included but such state banks as wished to participate. The fund would be collected and administered by a special government board, empowered to liquidate closed institutions.

Up to a half a billion dollars would be drawn in loans from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, the remainder would be obtained from the federal reserve banks' surplus, $150,000,000; the franchise tax paid the treasury by reserve banks, $167,000,000; assessment on reserve members, $100,000,000; double assessments on state banks participating $100,000,000. Authority for an annual assessment of $100,000,000 on participating institutions also would be given the board.

Opposition of John W. Pole, comptroller of the currency, was announced by Chairman Steagall (D. Ala.) author of the measure who said Pole wanted a system of branch banking instituted instead. Under this legislation a minimum requirement would be established for obtaining national bank charters at $50,000 capital and a paid in surplus of ten per cent. At the same time stockholders of national banks created in future would be relieved of double liability.

Sheiman Heath, colored, was given sixty days on the roads for transporting whiskey.

McKinley Tait, colored, was released on payment of cost on a charge of assault. Judgment was suspended in the case of Annie Williams, colored, with assault with deadly weapon.

Charged with carrying a concealed weapon, John Brown, colored was given a sixty day suspended sentence.

T. N. Manning was allowed to pay cost on a charge of possession of whiskey.

SAYS BULK OF VETERANS IN FAVOR OF BONUS

(Continued from Page One) to call, to sponsor the two million dollar cash payment, said "Conditions are serious and the veterans need the money."

"General Hines, veterans' administrator, estimated that last year's loan advances were spent 65 per cent on the necessities of life; 30 per cent on investments; 8 per cent on automobiles and only 1 per cent on purposes for which no benefit was received," Deane said.

He was introduced by Representative Patrick (D. Tex.) who told newspapermen just before the third day's hearing began that he believed Tuesday's meeting of the Federal Reserve Board with the governors of the 12 reserve banks had dealt with the bonus question.

Deane spent only about five minutes on the stand and was not questioned by committee members. He concluded with the statement: "I feel the bonus payment would be the biggest and best payday this country has received for many months."

the prohibition, or prohibition," he said. "The only issue is whether we shall have beer, with or without revenue."

"We urge the permissible manufacture of a palatable non-intoxicant, competing with an illicit beverage to produce revenue in a national emergency."

Emery appeared after Senator Harrison (D. Miss.) had accused Secretary Mills of not playing fair with the finance committee in referring it to the original treasury revenue plan rather than submitting new proposals.

ROTES TO VISIT CITY THURS.

The first and only session will be held in the dining hall of the college at 6:30 o'clock. Group leader, Edgar Bundy of Hartford, will be toastmaster, and a program of music and stunts will be put on under the direction of Edmund Harding of Washington. This will be followed by presentation of prizes and addresses.

Automobiles placarded, "Rotarians, this car is at your disposal," will be found along the principal streets of the city to give the visitors an opportunity to take advantage of the city's slogan, "Our Greenville, yours if you come," and hope has been expressed that everybody will take advantage of it.

Plans for the meeting have been under way for the last two weeks, and Howard McGinnis and K. W. Cobb of Greenville, and Maynard Fletcher of Washington, members of the program committee, believe they have provided a series of entertainments that will make the gathering one of the outstanding of years.
