DARROW GETS NEW SUPPORT FOR DEFENSE

Double Prop to be Brought Forth Today in Murder Hearing at Honolulu.

Honolulu, April 19.—(AP)—A double prop for the defense contention that Lieut. Thomas H. Massie was insane when he allegedly held the pistol that took the life of Joseph Kahahawai was brought forth today by Clarence Darrow.

The aged attorney for the four persons accused of the lynching called four witnesses for this effort. Two Los Angeles alienists, Sherman Miles, former army colonel with whom Lieutenant and Mrs. Massie lived for a time after the attack on the latter the night of September 12, 1931, and Beatrice Nakamura, Mrs. Massie's maid, were summoned to testify.

Despite prosecution avowals of disbelief that Lieutenant Massie held the gun which killed the young native suspected of having participated in the attack on Mrs. Massie, the accused naval officer came through a searing cross-examination and finished his story yesterday without being shaken from it in any major detail.

Massie's repeated reference to his mental unrest after the attack and to his lapse of memory which began with the firing of the fatal shot in the home of his mother-in-law and co-defendant, Mrs. Granville Fortescue, was expected to get some support from the alienists, Dr. James Orblison and Dr. Edward Huntington Williams, who came here just before the trial opened.

Miles and Miss Nakamura were expected to testify that Massie was in a highly nervous state after the attack.

Near the finale of his story Massie gave a vivid account of the death of Kahahawai which he said he had obtained from the other defendants, Mrs. Fortescue, E. J. Lord and Albert O. Jones. Massie previously had testified that he had no direct remembrance of the tragedy.

The witness said he had stood dazedly holding the smoking pistol which made the fatal wound after the native had confessed participating in the attack upon Mrs. Massie.

The other defendants, Massie said, ran about the house shouting. Mrs. Fortescue looked on as Lord and Jones tried vainly to wash the blood stains from Kahahawai's clothing, he testified.

Massie said Mrs. Fortescue took the leadership in the move to dispose of the body by dashing toward the sea, and had tried to get him to take a drink of okoleohao, a native liquor, to bring him out of his "spell." Massie said he could get some fresh air and had left Jones behind to clean up the house.

STATE LEGION FAVORS BONUS

Majority of Posts Oppose Action Taken by Henry L. Stevens On Compensation.

Raleigh, April 19.—(AP)—If early returns can be considered a cross-section, members of the American Legion in North Carolina are decidedly antagonistic toward Henry L. Stevens, fellow Tar Heel and national commander, as regards his stand against immediate payment of adjusted compensation.

At meetings throughout the state last night Legionnaires voted overwhelmingly, in those posts which have reported, in favor of immediate cash payment of the bonus.

Of posts which have reported—only two—Smithfield and Burlington—opposed immediate payment. In the other case, the vote was overwhelming. The list of posts voting for the bonus, and the vote, where available, follows:

Tarboro, 65 to 6; Statesville, 111 to 4; Salisbury, Gastonia, Chapel Hill 45 to 19; Wilmington, 250 (approximately) to 2; Oxford, 42 to 17; Southport, 90 to 0; Beaufort; Waxhaw; Asheville; Wake Forest, 23 to 3; Morehead City, 107 to 0; Durham and Enfield, New Bern post met, but decided to take the vote by mail because of the large number of absentees.

SEC. STIMSON TAKES SEAT AT ARMS CONFAB

Geneva, April 19.—(AP)—Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson appeared at the session of the world disarmament conference today and took his seat with the American delegation. His arrival caused a lively hum of excitement among the delegates and spectators and a general craning of necks.

HIGH UNIFORM FUND SWELLS

Approximately $75.00 of $100 Fund Wanted For Clothing Contributed Today.

Ragged baseball players of Greenville high school will not be ragged much longer. In a few days, if all signs prove true, they will appear on the diamond in brand new uniforms and show the rest of the conference how a team can play when it is "all dolled up."

The campaign to raise $100 with which to buy uniforms for the club met with pronounced success today and at the noon hour public-spirited citizens who canvassed the business district during the morning hours reported that around $75.00 had been raised.

Canvassers were continuing their work during the afternoon and it was believed the entire amount would be subscribed before nightfall.

The fund drive was started with a $100 contribution from a club supporter last Saturday. It looked as if the plan was going to get poor response when yesterday ended without additional subscriptions being reported. This prompted more wide-spread action, and supporters got together, organized a

LEGION SOLID FOR BONUS

Local Post Votes Unanimously For Compensation Payment at Meeting.

Fitt County Post of the American Legion last night voted unanimously for cash payment of veterans' compensation certificates as provided for in the bill of Rep. Wright Patman now before Congress.

The vote was taken at a special session of the organization at the courthouse in response to a request from the State Legion that each post sound out the sentiment of its members regarding the bonus question.

It was the third time the post here had voted on the question during the last two months, and each time the vote was unanimous for payment.

In addition, new resolutions were drafted clearly defining the position of the post and calling on members of Congress to use their influence for discharging the debt which the government owes thousands of former soldiers for war duty.

Previous resolutions expressed belief that payment of the compensation would aid in the nation's recovery from the economic depression and enable thousands of (Continued on Page Six)

Japanese Rush Reinforcements South of Mukden in Face of New Disorders

Mukden, Manchuria, April 19.—(AP)—Fresh outbreaks of insurgent activity in the districts around Chingchiatao, Taonan and Tungliao caused Japanese military officials to rush reinforcements northward today from the territory south of Mukden to strengthen the northern garrisons.

Officials said that these redistributions of troops were due entirely to activities of the Chinese insurgents and were in no way connected with the reported tension between Japan and Soviet Russia over questions concerning the Chinese Eastern Railway.

A dispatch to the Rengo news agency from Chientao said the Japanese expedition clashed with 200 insurgents near Paitsoakow yesterday and after two hour battle the Chinese fled, leaving 30 (Continued on Page Six)

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of my beloved "Bud," Clifton Waddell, who departed from me not so very long ago.

A precious one from me is gone. A voice I loved to hear; A place is vacant in our home Which no one never can fill.

How I miss my darling "Bud." No one but God can tell; I miss his precious footsteps, His smiling face as well.

We'll no more hear his footsteps. Nor meet him at the door; He has gone away and left me, Never to return anymore.

Why was he taken away from me? It is hard to understand; But God needed a shining angel. To complete His holy land.

Softly at night the stars are gleaming, Upon his lonely grave; Where sleeping without dreaming, Lies the one I could not save.

In my heart your memory lingers. Loving, kind, and true; There is not a day, dear dear "Bud," That I do not think of you.

They tell me you are gone, But, oh, it seems untrue; For one long year my heart has ached.

Dear "Bud," just for YOU . . . Gone, but not forgotten. Your loving sister, LILYAN McLAWHORN.

Duke Chemist Makes Discovery

Durham, April 19.—(AP)—Investigating new kinds of voltaic cells a Duke University chemist has come upon an interesting discovery.

He finds that lead acetate, "sugar of lead," does something quite unexpected when it is placed in acetic acid.

In these experiments W. C. Vosburgh, Ph. D., assistant professor of chemistry, substituted acetic acid for water in the cells. The acid proved to be as good as water, except that it gave high resistance to flow of electrical current.

But two new compounds of sugar of lead resulted. In its usual form this crystalline, sugar-white substance contains three molecules of water attached to its components of lead, carbon, hydrogen and oxygen.

FIVE ESCAPE FROM PRISON

Men Saw Bars From Hospital Windows And Escape Early This Morning.

Raleigh, April 19.—(AP)—Five white prisoners sawed two bars from a fourth floor window of the hospital at State's prison here early today, climbed down a blanket rope and escaped.

This morning the hospital guard found that five men, including one who had been in the prison only four days on a seven and a half to ten years sentence, were gone. Another prisoner said they had just climbed out of the window but they had made good their getaway.

Tracks indicated that the men stayed close to the main prison building as they went around the front of the prison property until they got to the building's closest point to the outside wall. They left the prison grounds by climbing the low front wall at this place. No further trace of them had been found today.

Prison authorities said the men evidently had smuggled hacksaws into the hospital but they were not found.

Those escaping were: Hubert Minshaw, sent to prison from Wayne county in June 1929 to serve 10 to 12 years for assault and battery with intent to kill; Robert Galloway, sent to prison in Buncombe county in September 1931 to serve 18 months for breaking and entering; Raymond White, received in the prison Thursday from Lenoir county to serve 7-1-2 to 10 years for breaking, entering and larceny; J. White sentenced in Rutherford county in November 1931 to 2 to 5 years for breaking and entering; and Benjie Williams, sent to prison in Cumberland county in November 1931 to serve 3 to 5 years for breaking and entering.

New York Man Opposes Cash Bonus Payment

Washington, April 19.—(AP)—National unemployment insurance was offered today by Representative LaGuardia (R. N. Y.) as a counter proposal to cash payment of the $2,000,000,000 soldiers bonus. LaGuardia, himself a veteran, made known his views as he took the witness stand as the first to put his opposition to full payment of the bonus before the House Ways and Means committee.

Advocates of the payment thru a two billion dollar currency inflation concluded the presentation of their case yesterday.

Under LaGuardia's unemployment insurance proposal, an unemployment commission would be created to maintain an unemployment insurance fund by a welfare tax on employes and employers, including a special tax on all incomes.

Shortly before the day's hearings opened, Rep. Mages (R. Mich.) announced his opposition to full payment of the bonus on the ground that the Treasury was in no shape to pay it now and the money inflation plan was unsound.

LaGuardia said the committee should consider "whether the American people through Congress have properly provided for the veterans."

"On the whole, I believe that Congress has responded since 1919 to every demand and every request of the world war veterans," he said.

The room was crowded with ex-service men when LaGuardia began. Representative Patman (D. Tex.), the leading bonus sponsor, listened from the first row.

LaGuardia said the number of veterans who took advantage of the 50 per cent loan value authorized last year "far exceeded all estimates."

"As I read the history of the treatment of veterans by this Congress," he said, "I am just as certain as I am standing here this morning that legislation will be passed refunding interest charges on these loans.

"Sponsors of this plan frankly admit the object is inflation. I submit . . . it is really fair to use the veterans for the purpose of inflating the currency. That is, deflate the dollar. We promised to pay them in good, wholesome, American dollars and we should pay them in that."

ABOUT TOWN

Only $100 is being sought and promoters are asking that contributions be sent in immediately so they can provide the club with the kind of uniforms of which they are so deserving.
 Bartorially, the boys make a poor showing compared with other clubs of the conference, but athletically, they are eclipsing anything they have so far come in contact with.
 In fact, it is the expectation of Coach Porter that they will be able to win the championship and this fact alone should cause supporters to get busy and raise enough money to provide the required uniforms.

Pronounced development has been made in the field of music by Greenville high school pupils and this was displayed in no uncertain terms in the district music contest here last Saturday when the school walked off with a major part of honors.
 The success which enabled the school to participate for state honors at Greensboro in the near future, and it would not be surprising to see them come out with a better record than that established last year.

Under direction of Miss Ona Shinder and Prof. Eugene Robertson high school students have made wonderful progress the last several years, but nobody but those intimately acquainted with the situation were able to appreciate the development until the district contest showed them how Greenville compared with other towns of a similar size.
 The school has not only received attention in this field of activity, however, but is considered one of the best scholastically in the entire state and this is something the citizenship should be proud of.
 It is sufficient to insure everybody to rally to the cause of education and attempt to prevent impairment of the excellent work here.

Hope for recovery of the Lindbergh baby has just about been dissipated in spite of the claims of those assisting in the search that the child will be returned in the near future.
 If there has been any contact with the kidnapers it has come through such an indirect source that it has been difficult to believe all we hear, and further reports of the kind will receive little credence.
 In fact, the public will not believe anything else until it has been convinced the baby has been returned and then it will have to have a direct statement from the Lindberghs before being convinced.
 Abduction of the baby has furnished the world with the most inexplicable mystery of the generation, and its solution will be received with profound satisfaction throughout the nation and world generally.

The proposal for reduction of armaments by successive stages has aroused much interest at the Geneva conference, and promises to receive more consideration than anything so far advanced.
 The public is profoundly interested in anything tending to relieve the world of such staggering expense, and nobody cares how the arms are cut just so some definite plan is decided upon.
 Enough money was spent for one day's prosecution of the World War to run the public school system of the country for years, and at there are those who advocate keeping the armies and navies of the world up to maximum strength. What the world needs is not war, but peace—freedom from strife and bloodshed and the enormous waste of life and property resulting from it.
 When the day comes that the action may not be required to spend billions annually in preparation for war then we will witness the greatest era of prosperity since the beginning of civilization.
 Legion posts of North Carolina are last night given a chance to more completely sound out sentiment.

SYNOPSIS: Georgie Revell is in love with Eddie Townsend, but can't decide to accept him because her employer, Matching, has an unbreakable rule of firing any woman working for him who marries. She hates to tell him, she says to her cousin Jenny whom she is supporting. Jenny appreciates Georgie's kindness, but is indignant because Georgie treats her like a child. Georgie gives her a silver dress on her twenty-fourth birthday, but con tinues to dominate her. The two girls are going out to dinner with Ryder Vale and a friend of his, and Georgie sends Jenny on ahead to find the strange man. Jenny dislikes Vale's friends, and has no hope of approving this one. She is met, however, by a man who instantly holds her attention. His intentness leaves her confused. She is not the Miss Revell, she explains. "She's just behind me," she says. "I'm only Jenny."

Chapter 2 HIDDEN LAUGHTER
 Jenny felt color creeping into her face and added, goaded by shyness: "My name is Jenny Revell."
 "Jenny Revell?"
 He repeated it softly. He was perfectly grave, not even in his voice was there any tremor of amusement. But when he moved to meet Georgie and Ryder Vale, now within a few paces of them, Jenny was left with the echo of laughter, all about her—and with the sound of her own name spoken softly, as though it were a song.
 "Always prefer a party when the host is unpunctual," Georgie was announcing. "Gives the guests at least a few minutes to enjoy themselves." She laughed at the tall man, who laughed back at her.
 "Garth Aveney," said Vale, introducing him. And the four of them moved into the restaurant.
 Whenever Jenny went out with Georgie and one or more of her "stalwarts" as she called them, she felt like a little girl included in a grown-up outing. Tonight she was not actually at the tail of the procession, for Ryder was at her shoulder, but she had the sensation of lagging slowly behind it. Over her head Vale was teasing Georgie about her lateness and she, unheeding, was listening to something Garth Aveney was telling her. Jenny sat rather bleakly down at the glittering little table that had Ryder's name on it. While he became occupied with the waiter, she looked at the man on her left.
 He was tall and slim and he sat in the easy pose of tall, slim men, with a hand on his hip and his long legs carelessly disposed. He was not tanned, but he had on out-of-door look and there was a tinge of blue in his very smooth black hair. Jenny thought his eyes were blue, too, until he glanced her way and then she thought they were gray. She could see that Georgie was rather liking the look of him.

And he, of course, was liking the look of Georgie; that rich, generous splendor, that suggestion of the peony in flower. Wonderful Georgie, of course he wanted to monopolize her. Many men did—it was natural.
 "I beg your pardon," stammered Jenny.
 "I asked you, Miss Cinderella," grinned Ryder, "whether your fairy godmother will let you stay later than twelve tonight?"
 "You must ask Georgie," she said shyly. "She gave me this frock."
 "People don't have a birthday every day of their lives," cried Georgie, breaking off her vivacious chatter. "Twenty-four today is that infant, Ryder, and don't dare to treat her like a little girl."
 Jenny's cheeks became warmer. She wished to heaven Georgie hadn't thought it necessary to say that! Some men at the next table, who had already given her quick, appraising stares stared again and harder. Garth Aveney's long body swayed around on his chair and he met her unhappy gaze.
 "Many happy returns," he said negligently. Again she had the sense of his hidden laughter. The lights, dimmed to a soft rose, shone upon his eyes and she saw that they were not gray or blue, but hazel. They held hers, searched them; let them go. She sat back with a pulse pounding in her throat and watched him turn back to Georgie. But Georgie was gaily haranguing Ryder. And, as though he snatched an opportunity, the stranger leaned again to Jenny.
 "Do you like this kind of birthday party?" he asked.
 "No," said Jenny.
 It had been jolted out of her and when he nodded and once more deserted her for Georgie she sat abashed, desperately afraid that Ryder Vale had heard her. But he had not. He looked, as always, self-satisfied; the prosperous, rather sadistic City man.
 Either because of the silver dress or because it suited him to let his other two guests entertain each other, he devoted himself to Jenny. This he insisted, was her party. Presently, when he had coaxed the orchestra into playing one of her favorites, she found herself dancing with him.
 "Looks like a stretcher-case," he remarked, jerking his head toward Garth Aveney's dark head, still near the reddish gleam of Georgie's. "Time that Townsend chap turned up again, what?"
 "I don't think Georgie is specially interested in Eddie Townsend," said Jenny mechanically. Georgie had told her long ago to stave off enquiries with this kind of thing. An acknowledged engagement to Eddie was the last thing Georgie wanted.
 "Seems not," admitted Ryder. He puckered up his rather fat face into the grin that always made Jenny think he was going to cry! "Odd chap, Aveney—evidently seen Georgie before somewhere, though he says not. Asked me two or three times to arrange a party like this so that he could meet her."
 Jenny, telling herself that she was not interested, let her eyes wander to the table where the others sat. There was a big mirror behind it and for a second she believed that while he talked and listened to Georgie, his eyes were upon the reflected dancers, upon one dancing silver figure moving in the mirror. She frowned the fancy out of her mind. At that distance it could only be her fancy. She said casually:
 "Is he a great friend of yours?"
 "Who, Aveney? No. Know nothing about him, really, though I've a notion I ought to. Met him—forget where. He seemed keen to have a drink with me, but that's explained now." Again his head and his grin indicated the table in the recess.
 "Yes," said Jenny firmly. She thought it time to be firm with her self. That softly spoken "Jenny Revell"—she closed her ears and tried to forget it.

CARDS MAKE POOR START THIS SEASON

By GAYLE TALBOT
Associated Press Sports Writer

With the big league ball season one frigid week old, it begins to look as if the Champion St. Louis Cardinals will receive a run for their money in the National League.

In losing their fourth straight home game yesterday the Champions set a new low for the last two seasons, dropping into seventh place. Their longest losing streak at Sportsman's park last season was three straight, and only once did they drop four in a row on the road.

Where they started last season with a succession of triumphs, winning eight of their first eleven games and taking a lead they never relinquished, they found themselves today with only two wins in six starts and a long, uphill climb before them.

It is probable Sergeant Street's boys will collect themselves soon and move around the top, but the odds are long against their making another such runaway as that of last year. Charlie Root of the Cubs set them down with four hits yesterday and would have scored a shutout but for an error by Rockie Bill Herman in the ninth. The score was 3 to 1.

The one cheering note for the Cardinals is that the New York Giants, generally regarded as their most dangerous rivals, have an even worse start. Walter (Huck) Bennett of the Boston Braves handed the McGrawmen a 7 to 1 beating yesterday, sending them definitely into the basement.

Led by Babe Herman and Ray Kulp, the Cincinnati Reds further aroused their constituency with a 5 to 0 win over Pittsburgh. Kulp held the Braves to five hits while Herman drove in four of the Reds' runs with a double and a home-run.

Babe Phelps, a sensation for Brooklyn in 1930 and a flop in 1931, made his 1932 debut by blanking the Phillies, 8 to 0, on six hits. Glenn Wright's Dodger short stop, hit a homerun and two singles.

The Washington Senators supplied the fireworks in the American league with a crushing 15 to 7 triumph over the Athletics. Walt Johnson's pre-ages topped things off with a six run rally in the ninth, to which Sam West and Joe Judge contributed homers.

Wes Farrell rang up his second victory as Cleveland stopped the Chicago Whitesox, 2 to 1. Vic Frazier pitched sterling ball for the losers, permitting five hits in eight innings, but the Sox made six errors behind him.

Whitlow Wyatt of Detroit likewise scored victory No. 2 as the Tigers took a loose one from the St. Louis Browns, 14 to 7. The Tigers knocked Sam Gray from the hill in the fourth.

The Yanks and Red Sox were not scheduled.

Earle Sande On Way Back to Top

By ORLO ROBINSON
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

New York, April 19.—(AP)—Earle Sande is on his way back to the top again, with designs on the Kentucky derby.

Winner of three derbies, a feat equaled only by the Great Isaac Murphy, Sande again has answered the call of the turf with hopes of being the first to boot none four winners in the $50,000 Blue Grass classic, which will be renewed at Churchill Downs May 7.

Sande hasn't got a mount yet but he has several prospects, Maxie Hirsch, trainer of Mrs. Louise G. Kaufmann's Tick On and On post, has promised him one of the colts if both are sent to the post. Pete Walls, contract rider for the stable, will get his choice but even Hirsch can't decide which is the better of the two.

Two years ago Sande returned to the saddle, after a disastrous experience as trainer and owner, to ride to fame and fortune aboard Gallant Fox. He previously had won the derby with Flying Ebony and Zev.

The task of making weight told on America's turf idol, however, and he turned to the movies and radio to keep his mind off the job. But the lure was too great. On a honeymoon in Florida with the widow of the late Clarence Kummer, once a rival for public acclaim, Sande just couldn't resist the thoroughbreds. He started working out and in a few days found he could take off weight almost as easily as in the days when he starred for Harry Sinclair's Rancocas stable.

That was a relief. When riding Gallant Fox, he had difficulty making even 126 pounds and the task of shedding poundage told on his health. Yesterday he rode at 113 pounds.

Earl's comeback campaign was given a temporary setback yesterday when he was suspended for three days for misbehavior at the post.

"It was my fault," Earl said. "I was too anxious to get away on top."

AMAZING, isn't it? Yet these are typical ingredients of "chemical imitation" flavors—concoctions mixed and fused today in millions of bottles of cheap "pops"!

For years the bottling of fresh fruit juice drinks baffled scientists. Fresh juice spoils easily. Cooking destroys the flavor and the vitamins. So—the common practice in making "pops" is not to use fruit juice at all! Chemical imitations of fruit—mixtures of ingredients similar to those shown here—are the only flavors used in millions of bottles of so-called "fruit pops"!

N. Y. COTTON
New York, April 19.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady today at an advance of 2 to 3 points on moderate trade buying and covering. May sold at 6.08.
Business appeared to be centered largely in further liquidation of the May contract and in exchanges from that month to later deliveries prior to first notice day a week from today. Further buying was checked by early declines in the stock market, but the market held relatively steady with prices showing little or no change from opening levels at the end of the first half hour. Liverpool cables reported covering and calling with less pressure to sell and reported small cloth sales to India and China.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, April 19.—(AP)—Brisks rallies in grain prices took place in the last hour today, the market giving evidence of having worked itself into an oversold condition.

Preceding the late rally, wheat was down 5 cents a bushel from the recent high. A stimulating factor was word that Texas mills had paid 33-4 cents over Chicago May price for No. 1 hard wheat as compared with 1 cent over May about three weeks ago.

Wheat closed firm, 1-8-1-2 above yesterday's finish, corn unchanged to 1-4 off, oats 1-8-1-4 up, and provisions 5 to 25 cents down.

STOCK MARKET

New York, April 19.—(AP)—The stock market again floundered about feebly today, unable to find a firm footing.

Selling was almost inconspicuous in volume, but the drift of prices was still downward, save for a temporary upturn in the rails in the late morning. Most issues moved narrowly, but isolated weak spots continued to crop out.

The market was somewhat unsettled after midday by conspicuous weakness in Allied Chemical, which slid off 4 points to a new low. American Telephone declined 2, and U S Steel sagged more than a point, to new bottom prices for the cycle. Telephone slipped under par for the first time since 1921. American Can sagged 2 points, and Continental was also heavy. Coca-Cola broke 2 points to another new low. General Electric slid back nearly a point.

During the late morning upturn, Chesapeake and Ohio Sante Fe and Southern Pacific each sold up a point, and short covering appeared in Auburn, Peoples Gas and Eastman, which got up around 2 each. Pan American B rose a point.

Weakness in Allied Chemical had no accompanying developments in the news regarding the company's situation. It was pointed out in some quarters that there had presumably been considerable shrinkage in the value of securities which it holds. The ca stocks have been reactionary in response to indications that the pack of canned goods would be smaller this year.

Coca-Cola has been under rather persistent pressure of late. Some quarters have attributed selling to the agitation for legalization of beer, and there have been some rumors of foreign selling.

Judge Arrested For Being Drunk

Winston-Salem, April 19.—(AP)—The Journal said Judge Harry H. Barker, of the Elkin Recorder's court, was arrested on charges of being drunk and disorderly at Jonesville, and is to be tried May 2.

The paper said the arrest, the latest development in a war between the judge and the Elkin Civil Betterment League, which demanded his resignation, was made by Postman Crawford, of Jonesville, and that trial will be held at a magistrate there.

Chadwick Faces Bribery Charge

Richmond, Va., April 19.—(AP)—David N. Chadwick, former Wilmington, N. C., city commissioner, today faced a charge of attempted bribery while he awaited trial next Monday on a charge of possessing $20,000 in liberty bonds stolen from a Philadelphia bank.

Two other men, Jack Seeman and Charles L. Green, arrested with Chadwick on the bribery charge, were also booked for violation of the federal narcotic laws when opium smoking equipment was found in Greene's trunk and a five ounce package of the drug addressed to him was intercepted in the mails.

J. Ward Erb, local private detective, caused the bribery arrest when he told Commonwealth's Attorney David Satterfield the men had offered him money to drop his investigation of the larceny case against Chadwick. The Wilmington man was lodged in jail without privilege of bail, and Seeman and Greene, on whom was found approximately $6,000 in cash, were ordered held pending posting of $10,000 bail each.

Satterfield said Erb accepted $200 from the trio and brought it directly to him.

of the conference two hours after the session opened. His arrival at the conference hall attracted a throng in the corridors.

He was escorted to his place at the table beside Ambassador Hugh Gibson by members of the American delegation.

The conference today approved, as a general principle, a proposal that disarmament reduction shall be by stages, with successive revisions, "after this conference has taken a first decisive step of general reduction to the lowest possible level."

This proposal is a combination of a joint proposal made by several nations yesterday and objections offered by France and Poland.

After listening to Joseph Paulson, member of the French delegation, advocate limitation and reduction according to each state's special situation, Secretary Stimson left the conference.

Cannon Not In Favor of Vote On Prohibition

Washington, April 19.—(AP)—The idea that Bishop James Cannon, Jr., now favors resubmission of the prohibition question to the people, was squelched by the cleric yesterday in an address before the Women's National Committee for law enforcement.

Because a few days ago in Richmond Bishop Cannon said he approved the basal elements of former Governor Byrd's plan for making possible a direct popular vote on repeal, modification or resubmission of the 18th amendment, the noted dry leader has been interpreted widely as favoring an early popular vote on the question.

But at the gathering of dry women he went over the previous address in detail to show he was still "positively opposed to the resubmission of the prohibition amendment until the people have indicated clearly in congressional and senatorial elections that the people themselves, not the wet press, not the associations opposed to prohibition, not even the wet women, want the amendment resubmitted."

The women today met for a "Valley Forge Breakfast," a simple repast honoring the memory of George Washington and his troops in the fight for American liberty. Later, in a forum session, they planned to analyze the stand of candidates for the Presidency on prohibition.

Besides the Cannon address yesterday they heard talks by Senator Robinson (R., Ind.), Mrs. Thomas A. Edison, widow of the great inventor, and others. Mrs. Edison particularly pleaded for greater reverence and respect for all law.

Statesville, —(AP)—Lawson R. R. Pierce, 47, Statesville attorney who died in a Baltimore hospital following an operation for a brain tumor, will be buried here tomorrow.

SIX CASES ARE FINISHED HERE

be disposed of in view of the fact that none of them are of an outstanding nature. For the first time in years, there are no murder cases to be heard.

Sentence was suspended on payment of cost in the case of Robert Owen, Fountain youth, charged with entering the Fountain post-office. He was placed under supervision of the Mayor of Fountain and ordered to stay home at night.

While the young man was charged with entering the office, nothing was taken, and according to his own testimony, he didn't have any trouble entering the building because it was not locked.

Leroy Smith, colored, was sentenced to the roads for six months on a charge of larceny.

J. B. Boyd, charged with driving drunk, was adjudged not guilty.

L. M. Upchurch was found guilty of not stopping at a stop sign and thereby causing an automobile wreck but sentence was withheld. He was charged with assault with a deadly weapon in connection with the wreck, but this charge could not be established.

Judgment was reserved in the case of Orange Sermons, colored, charged with breaking and entering.

Roy Mills, young white man, who disappeared while awaiting sentence on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon, at the last term of court, appeared yesterday and was given a 12 months' suspended sentence to the roads and ordered not to drive again in six months. He was also required to pay $99 for damages to a motorcycle of the division highway patrol.

Mills was alleged to have pulled over to the wrong side of the road while being chased by a highway patrolman, causing the officer's motorcycle to wreck.

The following true bills were returned by the grand jury:

Edward Gibbs and Emma Parker, colored, forgery.

Arthur Tucker, entering Lautner's store.

David Hyman and Lee Bell, larceny.

unemployed former service men to get on their feet and carry on until conditions improve.

T. A. Wilson, of Raleigh, member of the State Industrial Commission, addressed the post last night on the subject of the bonus. He told of the benefits that should derive from payment of the fund and urged his hearers to keep up the fight until their object had been accomplished.

He also referred to the membership drive initiated sometime ago by the national organization, and urged his hearers to realize the importance of keeping membership as near normal as possible.

Although no new members were added to the post during the campaign, it was indicated that considerable attention would be given to the matter during the summer months.

The headquarters and one brigade of the Tenth Division arrived at Harbin and was joined there by another brigade of the Tenth Division. The reunited divisions under Lieut.
