HINES OFFERS OPPOSITION TO PAYING BONUS

Veterans Administrator Second Witness Sent by Government to Oppose Plan.

Washington, April 26.—(AP)—The administration today sent its second opposition witness, Veterans Administrator Frank T. Hines, before the House ways and means committee to oppose full cash payment of the soldier's bonus.

Like Charles G. Dawes, head of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and first official opponent of the $2,000,000,000 new money plan to come before the committee, Hines saw service during the world war.

Hines littered a large table with papers and documents in preparation for the hearing. "I want to start by saying that we are all sympathetic with the veteran and want to do what we can to help him," Hines said. "I need only point, in this connection, to the fact that Veterans Bureau expenditures in the month of February were $70,000,000."

Hines distributed a table of estimates showing that the face value of all certificates issued was $3,641,000,000 of which $127,000,000 worth have matured, leaving $3,513,000,000 of certificate now in force. Outstanding certificates had on March 31, a loan value of $1,704,000,000.

Hines reviewed the enactment of the bonus law, which he said was often misunderstood by the country. "When it was finally agreed on that we would allow these men $1 a day for each day's service in the United States, and $1.25 a day for each day's service overseas, plus 25 per cent for the third payment, when printed on the certificate the face value 20 years hence," Hines said. "I think the veterans thus gained the belief that this sum printed on the face of the certificate was the amount of the bonus due him."

"If we pay these certificates off now it is equivalent to paying the original bonus plus 25 per cent plus $1,600,000,000." (Continued on page six)

Expect Solution in Mystery Killing

Charlotte, April 26.—(AP)—With the knowledge that three persons were with Albert Rudisill, 24, about the time he met death last Friday, city detectives today predicted an early explanation of what they called the most mysterious case in police annals here.

Officers were reticent in discussing their progress, lest revelations make their quarry hard to find, but revealed that the name of one man definitely connected with the case is known to them, and that his arrest is merely a matter of time.

Rudisill's body, dressed in a woman's clothes, with carbide and lipstick on, Goggles over the eyes and a large piece of female underclothing wadded down the throat, was found hanging from a beam in the warehouse where he worked, Saturday morning.

Coroner Fran Khorvick at first classed it a case of suicide, but the strange clothing caused a more intensive investigation which led to adoption of a murder theory instead.

Police learned of Rudisill's companions on the fatal day from an itinerant salesman whose name they did not reveal.

Judge Watson Raps Truckmen

Winston-Salem, April 26.—(AP)—Judge Thomas Watson in Municipal court here today struck at truckmen who he said are "monopolizing highways paid for by the public."

He imposed the maximum penalty for a misdemeanor, $500 and costs, on Conrad Stoffel, of Highland, Ill., who was arrested Monday on charges that his truck was "too high and overloaded."

Stoffel was hauling automobile tires out of Akron, O., and arresting officers charged his truck exceeded height and load regulations provided by North Carolina law.

BANK CASHIER KILLS HIMSELF

S. R. Rhodes Found Shot to Death in the Bank of Fletcher Today

Fletcher, April 26.—(AP)—S. G. Rhodes, cashier of the Bank of Fletcher, was found shot to death in the bank today.

W. H. Sumner, president of the bank, and G. N. Henson, liquidating agent for the state banking department, discovered the body in the vault about 9 a. m. Rhodes had been dead less than an hour.

Coroner J. S. Brooks who examined the body decided Rhodes had killed himself and that no inquest was necessary. "The cashier apparently came to the bank about 8 a. m. and opened the vault. Some time within the next hour he went into the vault, put a pistol to his head and killed himself. The shot entered his head near the right ear and came out on the left hand side."

When Sumner and Henson came to the bank, they noticed the vault was unlocked although the door was pulled to. Opening it, they discovered the body.

Bank officials said there was no shortage in Rhodes' accounts and that so far as they knew there was no reason for him to kill himself.

Henson has been here in connection with the liquidation of certain old accounts of the bank dated (Continued on page six)

Geneva, April 26.—(AP)—A joint plan of Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson and Prime Minister Ramsay Mac Donald of Great Britain to bring together, in their presence, Premier Andre Tardieu of France and Chancellor Heinrich Brüning of Germany for an effort at Franco-German reconciliation went astray this morning when Premier Tardieu failed to show up.

Mac Donald and Stimson thought they had the French premier's promise to meet them and Chancellor Brüning at Secretary Stimson's villa at Bessinge but M. Tardieu remained in Paris.

Chancellor Brüning was present, however, and conferred with Stimson and Mac Donald all morning.

CONFERENCE TALKS TAXES

Dr. Fred Morrison Says Property in North Carolina Not Excessively Taxed

Durham, April 26.—(AP)—North Carolina's tax problems occupied the state conference for social service here today.

The contention that property in North Carolina is not excessively taxed was made by Dr. Fred W. Morrison, executive secretary of the state tax commission.

He presented figures which he said showed real estate and land in this state bears only about 35 per cent of the total tax load while in many states 70 to 85 per cent of taxes are collected from property.

"In North Carolina," he said, "property pays the lowest percentage of the total cost of government that it pays in any other states in the Union with the possible exception of Delaware."

S. H. Hobbs, Jr., of the University of North Carolina, asserted North Carolina is not excessively taxed.

"Our rank in per capita taxes," he said, "is exactly our rank in per capita income and in per capita wealth. In other words, our tax burden in terms of our wealth and income is exactly the average for all states. It is high in some parts of the state, lower in other parts."

Charles M. Johnson, director of the local government commission, predicted great improvement in the financial condition of all local government units will be shown by the end of the present fiscal year.

The question of diverting highway funds to other state purposes was raised by A. S. Keister, of N. C. W. He predicted it would be an issue in the next General Assembly.

INSANE MAN KILLS FATHER

World War Veteran Also Injures Officer as He Goes on Rampage in Georgia.

Milled, Ga., April 26.—(AP)—A World War veteran evading arrest for intoxication barricaded himself in a hotel room here today and killed his father as a crowd sought to entice him to surrender.

The veteran, Dave Humphrey, 38, was arrested about dawn by Police Officer Carey Averett but he wounded the officer in a fight and fled to the hotel.

"I'll come out if you'll go get my father," he shouted to Sheriff Marbach from the room which he guarded with a shotgun.

The sheriff drove five miles into the country to the home of the father, R. B. Humphrey, and brought him to the hotel.

"That's not my father. You're trying to trick me," the soldier said. "This is daddy. Don't you know me, Dave?" replied the father as he climbed to a balcony so his son could get a better view of him.

Dave Humphrey deliberately raised his gun and fired, blowing off his father's head.

He refused to let officers approach the body. Finally, a squad of policemen from Augusta with tear gas bombs, tossed them into the room and subdued him.

FILING TIME UP TONIGHT

Candidates for City Election Required to Register Before Midnight Tonight

Filing time for candidates in the aldermanic election to be held here next Monday will expire tonight at midnight, and the office of the city clerk will be open tonight after supper to give belated candidates an opportunity to register.

J. O. Duvall, city clerk, said he would hold his office open tonight to receive registration of candidates who have delayed filing notice of their candidacy, and prospective candidates were urged to make a final decision today and act before the time limit expires.

Registration books for voters desiring to participate in the election will close Saturday. The books will be at the Water and Light Commission offices Friday and Saturday, and people who have changed wards or moved to the city since the last election will be required to register if they expect to vote.

The election will be held at the court house and votes will be cast under the Australian ballot system. Booths will be provided in the corridors of the court house to give everybody a chance of preparing their vote in complete privacy.

Five members of the board are to be elected for a term of one year. Three other members of the board and the mayor will not come up for election until next year. They serve for a term of two years.

Contest has developed in the majority of wards and one of the liveliest elections in years is promised in spite of the fact that major interest at this time is confined in the June primary.

Washington, April 26.—(AP)—Well aware of the importance of the farm vote, the Republican and Democratic leadership attempted at a conference between farm leaders and the Senate Agricultural Committee today to sense the farmers' viewpoint and cull fruitful ideas for party campaign platforms.

Rep. LaGuardia of N. Y. Says Publicity Drives Used to Raise Prices

Washington, April 26.—(AP)—The use of publicity to misrepresent stocks in drives by brokerage pools to inflate their values was charged before the Senate Banking committee today by Representative LaGuardia of New York.

The fiery little Republican produced from two trunks numerous checks he said had been paid to some writers of financial topics for New York and other newspapers to "ballyhoo" certain stocks. He also brought literature he said had been circulated forecasting bull markets. LaGuardia said Richard Whitney, president of the stock exchange, knew of market irregularities. In referring to one story, Kueger—which he said was handled by Lee Higginson and Company, LaGuardia said:

"Why senators, if Whitney had been president of a grocery exchange and Higginson was selling canned beans and conspired to represent as they have in the present occupation, both would be under indictment at this time."

The New York representative said A. Newton Plumber, a publicist, had paid out $286,000 to financial writers for publicity. LaGuardia said he had checked to show where $171,000 was paid, but that Plumber would not reveal the others because some are dead and others are out of a job.

"Not only do brokers rig the market," LaGuardia said, but they speculate in stocks in which the members are directors.

"I shall deliver proof that with the stocks are selected to be rigged, high pressure publicity men are hired to write the stuff."

He held up before the committee a series of checks bearing 121 dates and signed, he said, by A. S. Plumber.

Two for $50 each he said, were made out to J. F. Lawler who he asserted was "then on the N. Y. Herald-Tribune."

Another for $140.02 he said, was made out to W. J. Jomper, then on the Financial American.

Numerous other checks, he said were "given to the pay off men" (Continued on page six)

Six Killed and Score Injured in Tennessee Storm

Memphis, Tenn., April 26.—(AP)—Wind and thunder storms flurried across the south yesterday leaving behind them at least six dead, more than a score injured, damaged property and tangled power and communication lines.

All the fatalities were in farming communities near Memphis.

A white woman and child and four negroes were known dead and there were reports of two other deaths that could not be verified because of lack of communication lines.

Tornadoes that did heavy damage to cotton gins, homes and farm buildings were responsible for the deaths.

The twisters apparently swept into Tennessee from Arkansas, where property damage and injuries were reported. There were hail and lightning across the Mississippi river. Half a dozen southern Kentucky counties reported damage and injuries from storms and one man was shocked by lightning.

Hail, winds and rain damaged homes and crops in northern Alabama and heavy rains, accompanied by thunder and lightning, beat down over sections of Georgia. The lightning and rain damaged power and communication lines in the vicinity of Atlanta.

Trombone Solo—"Scenes That Brightest"—by Rond—Ben Herring.

Much credit is due Miss Ona Shindler, teacher of music for her wonderful work in the trio, quartet, choruses and glee club, and to Mr. Robeson, instructor, who means so much to the youth of the school. The band and orchestra under his excellent training are indispensable to the school and to the town.

Locusts to Make Emergence Soon

Raleigh, April 26.—(AP)—North Carolinians in May and June will be able to observe one of the most phenomenal happenings in the insect world when the 17-year locust makes its periodical appearance. Dr. Z. P. Metcalf of N. C. State College said today.

The sound of unusually loud, gusty and insistent singing of thousands of insects in the woods will herald the emergence of the insects.

Next month, Dr. Metcalf said, locusts or cicadas will appear in the trees of this state from eggs which were laid in the limbs of forest trees in 1915. In 1915 the eggs hatched into very tiny grubs which crawled into the soil and attached themselves to the roots of trees where they have been living since. Fully grown, the locusts will emerge from the ground in countless thousands within the next two months.

Careful records kept since the earliest days of North Carolina history record the regular visitation of the 17-year locusts. There is also a species of 13-year cicada and there are nine broods of the 17-year variety appearing in this state in different years. The brood due to emerge this year, however, is the most regular and the largest listed.

To the Voters of the First Ward

When I entered the race for Alderman from the First Ward—I did so on the following platform:

A General clean-up of the Ward—BOTH MORALLY AND CIVICALLY—AND KEEP IT THAT WAY!

That was my only basis for running. Several times during the campaign attempts were made to "draw me out"—in other words—take a side in a so-called "Factional" campaign. I have stated it repeatedly to the voters that I was not interested in the slightest sense in such a campaign—BUT A FEW POLITICIANS ARE TRYING TO MAKE IT APPEAR OTHERWISE.

This is NOT an appeal to the voters of the First Ward. My appeal has already been made. I say this simply as a matter of record.

The matter now rests with the voters of my ward.

If elected, I shall apply all efforts as stated—without fear or favor of any man or group—and win or lose, will not alter my attitude in any sense of the word! I am under no obligation to anyone—I am independent in the race—and the best part of it is I FULLY INTEND REMAINING THIS WAY!

Let the voters of the First Ward decide—NOT A FEW POLITICIANS!

Tucker Enters Race for Sheriff

L. W. Tucker, prominent Greenville business man, today announced his candidacy for sheriff of Pitt County, subject to action of the Democratic primary in June.

Mr. Tucker held the office of sheriff from 1904 to 1910 and was declared the youngest man ever to hold a similar office. He was 24 years of age when elected and the youngest sheriff known in the world at the time was 23 years of age.

If elected in the forthcoming election, Mr. Tucker promised to give his best service to the office and to represent the people in an efficient and capable manner at all times.

He has taken a prominent part in the business life of the county over many years, and has served as a member of the local Water & Light Commission since its infancy. He is a native of Chicago township but has spent the major part of his life in Greenville.

College Stages Mock Convention

Lexington, Va., April 26.—(AP)—The names of Roosevelt, Smith and Ritchie, Speaker Garner and former Governor Byrd of Virginia, were on the tongues of every student today as Washington and Lee University played host to a mock Democratic convention.

Preferring to do their second guessing first, and disdaining post mortem surveys of the situation, the student body in convention tonight, and probably tomorrow, will attempt to forecast the next Democratic standard bearer.

In view of the record for accuracy established at other mock conventions at Washington and Lee, the result this year will be watched with interest.

On only one occasion has the mock convention, a traditional affair at the university, failed to name the winning candidate.

The convention will proceed with due attention to formalities, with delegates representing each state voting their ballots in accordance with what they believe the wishes of the states they represent.

Tyre Taylor, executive secretary to the governor of North Carolina and president of the national young Democratic clubs of America, was here to preside as temporary chairman and to make the keynote speech. Claud G. Bowers, keynote speaker at the last Democratic national convention arrived to make the principal address.

ABOUT TOWN

After listening to a great array of testimony concerning short-selling on the New York Stock Exchange, members of the Senate investigating committee have ordered a complete investigation of activities.

Representatives, we are told, will be sent to New York City to gain first hand information as to the market operation and if somebody doesn't watch his step some incriminating evidence will be uncovered.

If as Richard Whitley, president of the exchange, said sometime ago, short-selling is necessary to operation of the market, it may be said with certainty that a majority of members have resorted to it in times of stress.

Just what the investigators will uncover is problematical, but the boys who have been darning may be asked to pay the fiddler.

Now that planting season has come again farmers should not forget the importance of planting the things which they consume at home all the year around.

Attention to this plan resulted in the production of a bountiful food crop the past year and this prevented much suffering among the jobless who were given food stuffs in exchange for their labor.

It would be impossible to estimate the extent of human want in this part of the country the past year had it not been for the vision and foresight of growers, and if they will adopt the same plan this year they are bound to come out better the next year.

Nobody can forecast prices for the main money crops the next season, but whether they are high or low, the grower that produces food crops will be able to live and contribute to the relief work of his neighborhood another year.

Everybody should know by now that it doesn't pay to put all eggs in the same basket and the farmer that adheres to this homely philosophy should certainly find his condition improved in the next few years.

Recognition of Soviet, Russia by the United States as a means of stimulating business has been recommended to Congress by Representative Rainey.

Few will oppose such action unless it required the loaning of more money for foreign developments. Recognition of foreign powers has already cost the nation billions of dollars in unpaid debts, and this is largely responsible for the depression sweeping over the nation at this time.

If recognition of the Soviets will stimulate business, then the majority of people will be in favor of the plan, but if it is going to cost us anything, it might be best to defer action at least until we are able to balance the budget and do away with some of the deficit which has caused the President so much worry of late.

Members of Congress and other important individuals, including plenipotentiaries of industry and finance, continue to rap the proposed payment of the soldiers' compensation certificates as suggested in the Patman bill now before Congress.

They claim that payment of the compensation would irretrievably impair the financial status of the nation and produce a situation from which finance would be long recovering.

Here is another side of the argument. Proponents of the plan believe implicitly that cash payment of the bonus would relieve much of the depression existing at this time and enable thousands of men affected by the unemployment situation to carry over until this condition improves.

They believe that if the government has been able to pay adjusted compensation to every other organization and individual taking part in the world war it should also find it convenient to pay the men who risked their lives for the nation.

The argument sounds mighty good and undoubtedly will be hard

YOU CAN'T MARRY

By Julia Cleft-Addams

SYNOPSIS: Jenny Revell overhears a conversation between her cousin George and Garth Aveney which she believes refers to George's secret engagement to Eddie Townsend. She is unhappy because she liked Aveney when she first met him that evening, and she seems to prefer George. Unknown to Jenny, Aveney has been testing out George's loyalty to her cousin Grattan Matching. She has an unusual job, complicated by Matching's eccentric regulations, such as his threat of discharging any woman in his employ who marries. George has promised to marry Eddie tomorrow, since he agrees to keep the marriage secret so that she can go on with her work, which pays very well. She has made plans for the marriage, which call for Jenny's cooperation. Undiscovered in the next room, Jenny hears Aveney say to George, "I'm going to justify myself." And then, "Good night, Miss Loyalty. I'm forgiven then?"

DEAD SECRET
 "I s'pose so. I'm glad you feel ashamed of yourself, though," George was saying to Aveney.

"I don't know that I feel ashamed exactly. After all, you agree that I wasn't given any choice. But you've been magnificent. He ought to thank his stars for you," Jenny heard Aveney answer.

"He won't. Takes me for granted. Goodnight!" Jenny burrowed down into her pillows. "He," she had no doubt, was Eddie. And Garth Aveney was quite right, Eddie ought to thank his stars for his splendid George. He probably did. Jenny really couldn't agree that he took George one scrap for granted. And now Garth Aveney, dismissed, empty-handed, was driving alone through the gleaming streets. He would not carry even the shadow of laughter now.

The cool linen comforted Jenny's aching eyes. It was not that she was crying—oh, no, not that; only it was bitter hard to care so much for someone who, whether she wanted him or not, was George's.

"Jenny!" George had clicked on the light and stood amazed in the doorway. Jenny struggled up.

"I had a headache, George, and I felt I couldn't face the Crescendo, so I came straight home. Mr. Vale didn't mind a bit; some friend of his, stage-people, were going on there and he joined them. Anyway, it was no fun for him once you and Mr. Aveney couldn't stay."

George laughed. She sounded pleased, discomfited, amused all in one. She came and sat on the edge of the bed.

"Garth Aveney brought me back from Rochester Gate—I didn't feel like the Crescendo, either."

"Mr. Aveney is awfully interested in you, isn't he?" It was what Jenny had determined not to say, and she had said it.

"Oh—Aveney!" repeated George. "He's—a queer fish. But he's a good sport. I'll tell you all about him one day." With that she brushed him out of the conversation.

"I've something far more thrilling to talk about now. Ed and I are getting married, Jen, to-morrow. At mid-day. Ed's flying tonight, but he seems to think he can be back in time. The ceremony is to be kept a dead secret but you must come."

"Oh, George! Oh, I am so glad you're marrying Ed. After all!" "But, you dear little fool, whom else did I ever thank of marrying?" "As long as no one actually spies on me during the next week, the risk isn't too terrible," Gorgie continued, and lit a cigarette. "After that, with Ed away, I can always spin some yarn—any yarn. Even—" she giggled suddenly—"that it was you Eddie married, not me!"

She sobered suddenly and sat staring at her cousin.

"Infant, that's rather an idea! The Old Man knows we share the same names. At a pinch I could tell him—but, of course, the pinch is not remotely likely to come. Only if it did, well—Eddie would you? It wouldn't make the faintest difference to you? Would it?"

"Well, would it?" "No-no," stammered Jenny. "No, I suppose I shouldn't mind."

She was taken aback, tingling with that sense of affront that George could so suddenly raise in her. How—how dared George—course-strained, reckless, successful—how dared she?

Then, on to the dark screen of her anger slid the outline of a tall man walking away from her without farewell; threading his path eagerly round a crowded room to pass out at a door through which George had gone.

"No," she said heavily, "it would never make the faintest difference to me."

Old Grattan Matching took up his bedside telephone, gave the number of his general manager, to refute by those who have already been paid and would deny the soldiers what is due them because of selfish motives.

FORMER WIFE QUIZZED IN LONG ISLAND SLAYINGS

The body of Edward B. Brinker (right), a sign painter, who had been beaten and stabbed to death, was found in a deserted field on Long Island, N. Y. Nearby was Rose J. Welk, a private secretary, fatally wounded. Police believed jealousy the motive for the killings. Mrs. Ruth Brinker, who was divorced from Brinker in 1926, was questioned. She is shown at the left accompanied by detectives.

Discover Story Of Romance In Life of Kruger

Stockholm, April 25.—(AP)—A tale of romance of 20 years standing turned up today in the tangled affairs of Ivar Kruger, Swedish match king, who committed suicide in Paris last month. It was disclosed he bequeathed about $93,000 to Mrs. Ingeborg Eberth, Stockholm society woman.

Asked if she were "the woman" in Kruger's life, Mrs. Eberth said: "If I answer that question it will be telegraphed all over the world. I will only say that he willed me the most."

The money probably will not be available, for investigation showed no cash among Kruger's assets. Mrs. Eberth said, however, he made a last promise to her which leads her to believe the money is deposited for her somewhere. He was a "fine, noble man," she said.

His death, she told a correspondent for the newspaper Politiken at Copenhagen, was still a mystery, with unanswered questions in every direction.

"Why was his coffin not opened in Stockholm?" she asked. "What was all that talk about a glass window in the coffin? Such things are not done in Sweden. What was the rumor about the body being embalmed?"

She was convinced, she said, there was some secret in connection with the financier's death. "Why did his brother and sister, Torsten and Greta, announce they were going to Paris and then not do so?" she queried.

She said he gave her about $37,200 before he left for the United States early this year in case she should need money, but that it was in the form of debentures which she did not cash and which are now worthless.

Two Aldermen Seek Re-election

Two members of the Board of Aldermen today filed notice of candidacy for re-election in the aldermanic contest to be held here next Monday.

They were: A. E. Hobgood, of the Fifth Ward, and J. L. Hassell, of the Second Ward.

Mr. Hobgood was appointed to the board two years ago to fill the unexpired term of Ralph Garrett, resigned. He was later elected for the usual term of one year. He is chairman of the Fire Department committee and has been instrumental in keeping the department in a high state of efficiency while supporting the economy program adopted by the board over a year ago.

Mr. Hassell is one of the veteran members of the board. He served eight years during an earlier administration. After four years of retirement from politics he was again elected, serving two terms since that time.

He has also taken an active part in the economy program of the board and has supported the far-reaching drive for reduction of expenses without impairing governmental efficiency.

Phillies Rout Braves 4 to 3

CARDS TRIM RED OUTFIT

By GAYLE TALBOT
(Associated Press Sports Writer)
The Boston Braves shared first place in the National League with Chicago today because one of Bill McKechnie's men failed to duck.

Trailing the Phillies by one run in the last of the twelfth yesterday, the Braves got men on first and second with only one out. The next batter, Wes Schulmerich, belted a line single to right. It looked like the tying wallop, at least.

But Wally Berger, tearing down to second, was hit by the ball and was out automatically under an old major league rule. Robert (Red) Worthington was held at second. There went the rally and with it the ball game, 4 to 3.

The Phils had scored what proved the winning run in the first of the twelfth when relief pitcher Ben Cantwell gave them three passes, the third with the corners crammed. Pinky Whitney led the wimpers' attack with a double and three singles, while Worthington kept the Braves in the game with a pair of home runs and a double.

The defeat, their first in seven starts, dropped the Braves into a tie for first with the idle Chicago Cubs, each with eight victories and three losses.

In the only other National League tilt that survived a day of widespread cold and rain, the St. Louis Cardinals received tight pitching from Bill Hallahan in the pinches to make it two straight from Cincinnati, 4-2.

Playing without Pepper Martin, who will be out several weeks with a shoulder injury, the champions jumped on Red Lucas for four hits and three runs in the sixth inning. Jim Collins' double knocked a pair across, the veteran Harry Heilmann returned to the Reds' line-up after being out all last season and delivered a single.

The lone American League contest saw the Cleveland Indians take another from St. Louis, 10-5. Clint Brown held the Browns to six hits, one a homer by Rick Ferrell. The Indians collected 12 off three home pitchers, including Sam Gray, and were helped along by four St. Louis errors. Jenkins' miff of Brown's po ppy let three runs across in the ninth.

PIEDMONT ON PARADE

Charlotte, N. C.—(AP)—Cutting loose Molly Cox, Henry Kistler and Hubert Aiken, infielders, and catcher Ike Farmer, and adding Jim Lyle, one of the 1931 league lead-off pitchers, the Hornets settled down today to a little last minute warming up in preparation for the opening game Wednesday.

Durham, N. C.—(AP)—The Bulls unlimbering their full force, ran against a tough nut in Alpert, a Duke hurler, but nicked the Blue Devils' r five doubles and a 2 to 0 victory over the Collegians yesterday.

Durham, N. C.—(AP)—Opening day umpire assignments are White and Mitchell at Raleigh; Kearney and Michael at Durham; Kopshaw and Brandon at High Point; Hobbittzel and Connally at Charlotte.

Raleigh, N. C.—(AP)—The Caps began tapering off as opening day neared, and Odie Strain said his boys would go to bed early tonight after a light workout.

Asheville, N. C.—(AP)—Cheated out of their last workout by rain, the Asheville Tourists started for Charlotte today to be all rested before the season opener with the Hornets.

Greensboro, N. C.—(AP)—Manager Myers sent Claude Capps, first baseman, to Monroe, in the Cotton States League, Coy Clapp to Danville and Fred Robinson to Kerkuk as he began to throw out ballast and open the season. Bill Josephs, Elmira infielder, has been put in the Pat outfield.

Winston-Salem, N. C.—(AP)—A short workout was the day's order for the Twins, who open the season in High Point tomorrow.

NEW RED SLUGGERS GET TOGETHER

PREPARE FOR OPENING DAY IN PIEDMONT

Charlotte, April 25.—(AP)—Signals were polished up today as the Piedmont League clubs made final preparations for the opening games next Wednesday.

For most of the clubs, light drills featuring team work were scheduled, but the Durham Bulls took on the tough Duke University team in an exhibition game.

One of the final questions facing the managers was that of cutting their squads down to 20 men, the maximum the league rules allow a club to have on opening day. On every squad there were two or three men scheduled to get released, but which ones was a question bothering both the doubtful players and the managers.

All around the circuit, the sports writers got the same kind of talk from the managers. If it is all true, the eight clubs will finish the season in a tie, for none are ready to admit they will be beaten.

Durham, Raleigh, High Point and Charlotte get the opening games. Greensboro will be at Durham, Wilmington at Raleigh, Winston-Salem at High Point and Asheville at Charlotte.

For the first time in the league history, Wilmington will have an entry in it. The Pirates took over the Henderson franchise.

This season also marks a new peak in "farms." Greensboro is controlled by the St. Louis Cardinals, Asheville by Louisville of the American Association and Winston-Salem by the New York Giants. Durham has a working agreement with the Philadelphia Nationals, Raleigh with Hollywood of the Pacific Coast League, Wilmington with the Boston Braves and High Point is getting help from Fort Worth of the Texas League.

Now that Tony Cuccinello is holding down second base for Brooklyn, the Dodgers' infield has been measurably strengthened. Tony went to Brooklyn in the three-player trade involving Babe Herman.

DUKE LOSES TO LEAGUERS

Charlotte, April 26.—(AP)—Held to one hit by Lefty Woodington, sent to Durham by the "Phillies," Duke University, only collegiate varsity baseball team in action Monday, took a 2-0 beating.

Roy Alpert, Duke hurler, was not out of the running, himself. He held the Piedmont leaguers to five hits—but all of them were doubles. Scholly got Duke's only hit—a single, in the sixth.

In the other varsity contest of the day, the University of North Carolina tennis team defeated Davidson, 7-0, in straight sets, to continue its two-year string of victories.

Playing for the State freshman tennis title, Harvey Harris, of Raleigh, Carolina first year star, defeated his team mate, Walter Levittan, 6-2, 6-4, 3-6, 6-0. Their match had been postponed from Saturday's final events in the state tennis tournament.

N. C. State's freshman baseball team defeated Campbell College 11 to 4.

Seeking revenge for an 8 to 7 defeat in the early part of the season, the Davidson Wildcats invaded Chapel Hill today for a second try at the Carolina Tar Heel baseball team.

MEMPHIS WINS 8-7 THRILLER

Atlanta, Ga., April 26.—(AP)—Memphis scored four hits in a story book ninth inning rally at the home park yesterday to defeat Nashville 8 to 7 and hold its place at the heels of the league leading Chattanooga Lookouts.

The Lookouts also were successful in the day's campaign and won 10 to 6 from Little Rock to hold their position at the top of the Southern Association.

Birmingham and Atlanta and New Orleans and Knoxville were rained out.

Burns to Death as Car Overturns

Smithfield, April 26.—(AP)—Dallas Capps, 31-year-old Johnson county farmer of the Dean's Old Mill section, was burned to death late yesterday afternoon when his automobile overturned and he was covered with flaming gasoline as the gas tank exploded.

Capps and Vernon House were on their way to a baseball game in Capps' car when a part of the steering apparatus of the machine broke, causing it to run into a ditch. When the gas tank burst Capps was covered with the blazing fluid while House was only slightly burned.

Cotton--Stocks--Grain

N. Y. COTTON

New York, April 26.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady today at an advance of 1 to 3 points on trade buying and covering. July sold at 62.

According to early estimates, notices representing about 38,500 bales were issued for delivery on May but trade interests were buyers on the near months, and there were rumors that some of the cotton taken up on May tenders would be shipped to Germany. Trading was quiet.

In addition to some further near month liquidation there was a little selling here which appeared to come from Liverpool and the south but it was readily absorbed with the market holding around 6.03 for May and 6.46 for October or about 1 to 2 points net higher at the end of the first half hour. Liverpool cables said that some covering and Bombay buying in that market had been supplied by realizing or hedging and reported an improved demand for cotton cloths from India.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, April 26.—(AP)—Forecasts of heavy frost and freezing temperatures tonight in western Nebraska and Kansas led to generally higher prices today on wheat.

A leading unofficial crop expert sent extremely bullish crop reports as to wheat in Edwards, Pawnee, and Barton counties, Kansas, and in sections of Texas and Oklahoma. A government crop observer after a 1,300 mile trip in western Nebraska reported rains came too late to be of material benefit and that big abandonment of acreage was probable.

STOCK MARKET

New York, April 26.—(AP)—The stock market worked uncertainly higher during the earlier hours of trading today, but went into the afternoon with a softening tendency.

Trading remained extremely sluggish. The list apparently was helped a little by a sharp increase shown in the weekly report of freight car loadings, and the weekly condition statement of reporting member banks, showing a gain of $61,000,000 in loans and investments. But buying power was scarcely impressive.

Recessions of from fractions to a point appeared after a number of shares had moved up 1 to more than 2 points including U. S. Steel, American Telephone, American Water Works, Santa Fe, Union Pacific, Woolworth, Lambert, Allied Chemical, Standard of N. J., National Biscuit, American Can, Woolworth, Auburn, National Biscuit and others. Norfolk and Western had one of its wide movements, advancing 7 points. Alaska Juneau which has been rather soft since the pool in this issue has been brought out in the Washington investigation, declined about 1 1/2 points.

The subsidence of pressure against Standard Oil of N. J., was accompanied by a report in brokerage quarters that a large bid had been placed for the issue at 21, or just under the market, this could not be confirmed, but recalled the report in the autumn of 1929 that Rockefeller interests had placed a bid for 1,000,000 shares, which checked the decline at that time.

CHARGES BROKERS WITH INFLATING STOCK VALUE

(Continued from page one) who stated he paid them to other financial writers who were ticklish about taking checks. He told the committee he "did not wish to disclose the name of the payoff man at this time." Describing what he referred to as ballyhoo, LaGuardia said 605 stories calculated to induce the public to buy stocks were circulated in 208 newspapers, with 11,000,000 circulation in 157 cities with population of 32,000,000.

HINES OFFERS OPPOSITION TO PAYING BONUS

(Continued from Page One) Hines estimated present veteran unemployment at 600,000, or approximately the same number as when the bonus plan became law in 1924. "I say this though the American Legion says its government campaign has placed 610,000 veterans," he said. "Then in addition, there are probably 500,000 to 700,000 veterans on part time employment."

BANK CASHIER KILLS HIMSELF

(Continued from page one) ing prior to its reopening last year. The bank was forced to close during the financial panic in Western North Carolina after the failure of several large Asheville banks in the fall of 1930. Rhodes who was 58 years old, was a widower. A son, Morris Rhodes, 18, survives. Funeral arrangements had not been made this forenoon.

HEFLIN ASKS FOR OLD SEAT

BEGIN PLEAS AT HONOLULU

(Continued from page one) lynchings of Joseph Kahahawai, John C. Kelley, public prosecutor, seeks to convince the 12 men that Lieutenant Thomas H. Massie U. S. N., was rational when he shot the native and that the other three defendants—Mrs. Granville Porteusue, Albert O. Jones and E. J. Lerd—likewise are responsible to the law. Mrs. Porteusue, society matron, is Massie's mother-in-law. Lord and James are navy enlisted men. Kahawai allegedly confessed to participation in a criminal attack on Mrs. Thalia Massie, wife of the lieutenant.

Clarence Darrow, veteran Chicago criminal attorney, who heads the defense counsel, will follow Kelley with a double appeal of honor and insanity—an appeal which may be the last great plea of his long career. Darrow came out of retirement in the hope of clearing the four accused persons charged with second degree murder, the penalty for which is 20 years to life imprisonment.

Kelley said his argument would not take long. Darrow announced he would speak for several hours. Barry S. Ulrich, associate prosecutor, was chosen to make the closing statement for the territory. Darrow said he would do all the pleading for the defense. His three colleagues are George S. Leisure, H. C. Johnson and Montgomery Winn.

The keynote of Darrow's approach to the jury was the defense contention the killing was legally justified because of momentary insanity on the part of Massie at the time he faced Kahahawai with drawn pistol and heard the native allegedly confess taking part in the attack. Behind this, however, was the plea of the unwritten law—that the naval officer was justified in slaying the attacker of his wife. Kelley rested his case yesterday with the testimony of Dr. Joseph Catton, San Francisco alienist, and a brief return to the stand by Dr. Robert Faus, city and county physician. Catton was the third alienist to express the belief that Massie was competent at the moment of the tragedy.

RAWLS AGAIN FOUND GUILTY

(Continued from Page One) the defendant in the same case. He appealed to Supreme court in the first case and was granted a new trial. Attorneys made a motion for dismissal of the charge here last week but this was denied by Judge Cranmer. Attorneys filed notice of appeal to Supreme court after sentence was pronounced yesterday. Rawls, who was in co-partnership in the operation of the wholesale house here, was alleged to have taken over $700 from collections made for the firm from time to time. He contended that all collections went into the regular operation of the business and that no money was applied to his individual use. Two other cases were disposed of in the first day's session of the second week term of court yesterday. Night sessions were inaugurated by Judge Cranmer last night in order to expedite disposition of the congested docket. About 140 cases were scheduled for hearing when court opened last week and about 30 had been disposed of when court ended the first week.

Layton McCugan of Red Springs, former bookkeeper of Home Furniture Company of this city, admitted taking $2,600 from the firm's funds, and was sentenced to 18 months on State prison farm. He was employed by the firm for several years, and defalcations dated over a long period. Roy Robinson, of Chicod, was found not guilty of a charge of seduction resulting out of relations with Miss Fronie Haddock, comely young woman of the same community.

The case was started late yesterday afternoon and was completed last night. Robinson was indicted by parents of the young woman who charged that he had seduced her on a promise of marriage and then had refused to marry her. Considerable testimony was introduced by the defense showing that the young woman had had relations with other men and character witnesses were presented in support of the testimony. Judge Cranmer ordered the courtrooms cleared of all but court officials and the jury while the young woman was on the stand.

FUND DRIVE CLOSES HERE

(Continued from Page One) sible to bring to the city the greatest hope for achievement in the realm of baseball. The club opened the season with ragged uniforms and inadequate equipment, and realizing they would be unable to make a favorable showing under this condition, the business men organized a canvassing committee to raise sufficient money to provide required clothes and equipment. Contributions received up to the noon hour today follow: J. E. Winslow, $5.00; S. H. theatre, $10.00; Miss Jennie Whitehead, 50 cents; W. T. Lipscomb, 50 cents.

PLAN O. C. CUT AID FOR VETS

(Continued from Page One) opposition against them, and as the Alabamian said, "to give the break to every deserving veteran." Previously it had reduced President Hoover's suggestion for $200,000,000 through changes in veterans legislation to $58,000,000. Yesterday it cut that amount to $46,000,000. Although the disputed section does not call for a pauper's estate, it requires a certificate from the veteran containing information as to his income. Before he is entitled to benefits unless he comes in one of the numerous classes excepted.

Larocca's companion opened fire and in the exchange, Allegretti was killed and Manteller was wounded. Despite his wounds, Manteller fled with the third man in an automobile and state police were summoned and gave chase. They punctured the tires of the fleeing car after a 40-mile race and forced

SICK HEADACHE From Constipation

HERE is a purely vegetable medicine which has benefited thousands of men, women and children, and which you should try when troubled with constipation, or biliousness. Mr. H. H. Rogillo, of Lake Charles, La., writes: "When I let myself get constipated, I feel dull and sluggish and all out of sorts, not equal to my work. When one has this feeling it is time to take something before he feels worse. I certainly have found Black-Draught quick to relieve. I used to have severe headaches and suffer a great deal. I found this came from constipation, and that Black-Draught would correct it. That is why I began using Theodor's

The police expressed belief the three men were the professional extortionists who killed Mr. and Mrs. Dominic Severi neighbors of Larocca, two months ago. Cioni said Larocca and the others had visited his home previously with demands for money, and warned him to have it ready last night.

SMITH CHALLENGE TESTED IN TWO STATE PRIMARIES

(Continued from Page One) paign which, many observers believed, held the fortunes of the entire movement summed up by the words: "Stop Roosevelt." The many influential Democratic leaders who still are uncommitted waited for the result from the two states to chart their course. The double engagement overshadowed a great volume of delegate choosing during the day in Republican ranks, and the one other Democratic selection of six delegates in Alaska. The Roosevelt forces count on these to swell the 207 votes which now put him out in front alone.

Sentiment of political observers has discounted the Bay State and Keystone State results to a partial extent, opinion estimating that Smith would carry the bulk of Massachusetts' 36 delegates contest and that a majority of Pennsylvania's 76 would go to Roosevelt. But assaying the final significance of the double test was left until after a count of the votes.

Republican primaries and state organizations undertook today the election of 119 delegates: Massachusetts 34; Pennsylvania 75; Alaska 2; Arkansas and South Carolina 4 each. Pledged or not, they were counted in advance for President Hoover. Pennsylvania Republicans dealt with prohibition issue and the influence of the Philadelphia organization in the senatorial contest between James J. Davis and the vigorously dry retired marine general, Smedley D. Butler.

FORD ANNOUNCES PLAN FOR ECONOMIC RELIEF

(Continued from Page One) surrounded by newspapermen in the White House lobby, said he had been working for three months to smooth out details of such a plan. He added, however, he was not yet ready to announce its details in full.

Ford intimated that the idea he had been experimenting with on his Dearborn farm, with Ford factory hands, waste have men working in the plants spend part of their time in small scale scientific farming. He indicated his idea would involve large factories distributing their workers over farm lands, providing land within reach of their homes, during a comparatively small part of the year, they could raise much of the foodstuffs needed for their family tables.

Ford appeared surprised and somewhat startled when suddenly surrounded by a score of news-pomen as he left the president's office. Asked what had brought him to the capital, he replied, smilingly, that he was "just going around Virginia looking over some flower gardens."

He said that Mrs. Ford, a garden

"I told the president," he said, "that we're selling all the motor cars we can make, and we're getting lots of cash—much of it in big bills. I mean by that old-style, large size bills that might have been hidden for some time." Replying to inquiries whether he had talked over any phases of the economic situation with the Chief Executive, Ford said he had voiced views already familiar to the president.

"If the people who quit business to go into gambling several years ago would quit that and go back to work at producing something, they could sell all they produce," he said.
