HOUSE PASSES LARGE NAVAL SUPPLY BILL

Economy Measure is Temporarily Laid Aside as Other Bill is Considered

Washington, April 28.—(AP)—The House today passed the $326,000,000 naval appropriation bill after defeating a motion to send it back to committee for a ten per cent cut.

Washington, April 28.—(AP)—The House today temporarily laid aside the economy bill to dispose of the $327,000,000 naval supply bill and the Democratic tariff bill.

Speaker Garner said, however, the House would meet again tonight to expedite action on the economy measure.

Acting Chairman Crisp of the ways and means committee will ask the House to agree to the Senate amendments to the tariff bill depriving the president of his power to change import duties under the flexible provision of the Smoot-Hawley act and restoring it to Congress.

On the navy supply bill, a separate record vote is to be had on the $1,000,000 appropriation for the Naval Hospital at Philadelphia.

Stupid Bandit Almost Stalls Holdup of Bank

Lansing, Ill., April 28.—(AP)—The bandit who robbed the Oak Glen Trust and Savings Bank yesterday was disgusted.

He was conducting a one-man school in practical bank robbery but his pupil was so dumb and nervous he all but spoiled the holdup.

The robber, a swarthy fellow, carried a machine gun, and his pupil and companion, a well-dressed blond, had a pistol.

"Where's the money?" demanded the blond of William Maurer, the cashier.

"In the drawer there," Maurer replied, but instead of getting the money the blond fiddled nervously about.

"Open the drawer, you lug," shouted the machine gunner as he joined his companion in the cashier's cage. "We can't stay here all day."

Together the pair managed to sweep the cash, about $50,000, into a brief case, but as they stepped out of the cage toward the bank's vault the pupil's pistol arm was shaking so violently he accidentally discharged the weapon, the bullet going harmlessly into the floor.

"You heat head," shouted his companion. "Put that gun away before you shoot yourself."

"Quit picking on me," complained the blond. "I'm doing the best I can."

"Shut up," yelled the machine gunner, "and let's get out of here."

They were still arguing about the pupil's inability as they drove away in an automobile, Nicholas Dykstra and one customer, witnessed the "schooling."

TWO KILLED IN TRAIN WRECK

Two Others Also Injured as Passenger Train is Derailed in Indiana

South Bend, Ind., April 28.—(AP)—Engineer James Groves and Fireman Shinning, both of Battle Creek, Mich., were scalded to death and two other persons were injured when the Maple Leaf passenger train of the Grand Trunk railroad, en route from Montreal to Chicago, was derailed here today and one of its baggage cars plunged off a high elevation embankment into a house.

Apparently none of the train's passengers were injured and none of the coaches were overturned. Police and volunteer workers however searched the ruins of the house for other possible victims. The two injured, neither seriously, were five-year-old Marshall Bradburn and his father, who were asleep in the house.

The boy escaped death. He was in bed in the rear of the house while his parents slept in front. The heavy baggage car, almost completely demolished the rear part and workers were compelled to fight their way through the wreckage to reach Marshall. Mrs. Bradburn was not injured.

The bodies of both the engineer and fireman were found in the cab of the locomotive. Both had been scalded to death by escaping steam.

The cause of the derailment was being investigated by railroad officials.

Bankers May Be Called In Stock Market Probe

Washington, April 28.—(AP)—Strong indications presented themselves today that leading bankers may be called in the Senate's stock exchange inquiry to answer charges that they are largely responsible for the recent tremendous liquidation of the securities.

After the new steering committee which has assumed control of the investigation made secret plans yesterday for its future conduct, Chairman Norbeck the Republican independent from South Dakota, issued a vigorous statement assailing the big commercial banks for failing to pass on the newly expanded credit with which the Federal Reserve System is seeking to infuse new life into the country's business.

Norbeck charged the banks with thwarting the will of President Hoover and Congress, and with extensive hearing. He based the accusation largely on the great shrinkage in the total of loans on securities made by Federal Reserve member banks during recent weeks. From March 9 to April 20, they show a continuous decline amounting in all to $309,000,000. In contrast during the past three weeks, he said, the Reserve System has "manufactured credit wholesale." A coroner's jury held that Fletcher struck Mitchell with his own axe, and then hid it in the woodpile where it was found later. Sheriff Kimball said the affair was "so mixed up" that the cause of the slaying had not been determined.

He said he thought Matson Mitchell, son of the aged man, who was reported en route here from his home in Wilkes county, might be able to throw some light on the cause of the trouble.

Secretary Stimson Postpones Leaving Geneva Until Saturday or Later

Geneva, Switzerland, April 28.—(AP)—Henry L. Stimson, American secretary of state, decided today to postpone his departure from Geneva until Saturday "or later."

Mr. Stimson conferred with Ramsay MacDonald, prime minister of Great Britain, and Dr. Heinrich Brüning, chancellor of Germany, and later lunched with the American delegation to the world disarmament conference.

It was not immediately apparent why Mr. Stimson decided to delay his leave-taking at Geneva, nor was it revealed whether or not he had also postponed his sailing for the United States, which was arranged yesterday for Wednesday, May 4, from Cannes, France, on the liner Vulcania.

It was assumed, however, that he would adhere to his sailing schedule merely holding off on his departure from Geneva for Cannes.

The new impost on hitherto exempt government officials was voted late yesterday after a dramatic upward revision of the income tax schedules, from top to bottom. President Hoover is not affected, nor are judges now serving, but all who hereafter step into these offices will, if the clause is approved by the whole congress, bear a share of the cost of government.

ABOUT TOWN

If President Hoover continues making speeches he may eventually convince the people that reduction of expenses is necessary to prevent a more serious economic situation in this country.

Speaking before the conference of governors at Richmond yesterday, the president reiterated former statements along the economy line of thought, and called on the public to aid in every way possible.

The president is right as far as he goes but he doesn't go far enough. We should not only reduce expenses, but should also stop loaning money to big corporations in an effort to temporarily tide them over until better times come.

Other organizations have to look out for the moulding of their own destinies and if the railroads and other large industries are not able to take care of themselves, they should not expect anybody else to do it for them.

America not only needs economy in government, but it needs men at the helm able to say "no" to the big interests and thereby protect the masses from increased taxes resulting from the inability of statesmen to turn a deaf ear to pleas for loans.

Citizens who contributed to the high school baseball fund probably are glad they did so after the club turned in such a remarkable performance against Farmville.

High not only won, but Taylor, pitching ace, established a mound record pitchers will have to shoot at a long time before finally equalling. Striking out twenty-one men in a single game is no small achievement and Roger Taylor, who has long held the hurling record in this conference, is to be congratulated upon his feat.

The next game will find the club attired in new uniforms and with new equipment, and it would not be surprising to see them make a far better showing against Roanoke Rapids, considered the strongest team in this part of the state.

It pays to be honest even though we may have to defer payment of pressing obligations.

This fact was convincingly established here this week in the conviction of two persons on charges of embezzlement.

One of the defendants admitted his guilt, declaring he appropriated funds belonging to the firm where he was employed because he had to fill up some holes behind him.

That man should have left the holes open through eternity rather than to have taken money belonging to somebody else. The debts were his, but the money was not. He committed a crime in an effort to protect his credit and will have to atone by long months behind prison bars.

Too many people of the present generation fail to differentiate between their own property and that belonging to somebody else, especially in times of stress, but they have been taught a severe lesson in the numbers of cases coming before the courts in recent years, and when tempted in the future, should consider the extent of the crime and not increase his enmity or corrupt practice.

The election of Rev. A. W. Fleischman to the presidency of Greenville Rotary club will be received with interest by members of the club and the public generally.

During his three years' ministry as pastor of Memorial Baptist church Mr. Fleischman has endeavored himself to the people of all denominations through his wholehearted effort to improve the spiritual and moral life of the community.

As secretary of the Ministerial Association he contributed greatly to the uplift of the city, and his record of service has enabled the association to accomplish much more than it would have under ordinary conditions.

It was his high regard for the principles that go into making Rotary a vital force in community life that led to his elevation to the high office to which he has been chosen, and that he will serve with

YOU CAN'T MARRY

By Julia Cleft-Addams

SYNOPSIS: To pretend to be married to Eddie Townsend—Jenny Revell hates the idea, and yet she is willing to permit the deception if it will help her cousin George who has been taking care of her. George is going to marry Eddie Townsend herself today. If her employer, Gratton Matching, hears about it he will fire her, since he refuses to have married women working for him. George loves her job, her large salary, and Eddie, and she intends to keep them all. Since she and Jenny have the same name she can tell Matching that Jenny is the bride. Jenny is more willing to agree to George's plan, because she is disappointed and unhappy. She is deeply interested in Garth Aveney, whom the girls met the night before, but she believes he likes George. Shortly before George's secret wedding, George meets Aveney and wonders how to escape from him.

Chapter 10

SPLINTERED GLASS Jenny drew a long breath and Aveney repeated softly, "George found you." He was staring at the snap-dragons as though they mesmerized him! as though they helped him create the vision of George—strong, compassionate, generous George—finding her.

"And she's taken care of you ever since," he asked presently. "How black his hair was! Raven-black."

"Ever since. She heard of me through the lawyers, you see, and she spent heaps of time and money tracking me down. She's done absolutely everything for me—she can't imagine how royally kind George can be. She says she doesn't want me to go away ever."

"Are you thinking of going away?" Jenny hesitated. She had accidentally let Vale infer that George insisted on playing Lady Bountiful. She mustn't do that with Aveney. At the same time, it sure wasn't necessary to let him consider George's cousin a helpless burden, strapped to George's back for ever and evermore.

"Yes," she finally said. "I am going away soon."

"His sudden, intent, half-amused look was turned upon her. She couldn't meet it fully. Her head began sharply to ache and then her heart was aching, too, and she had an appalling fear that she was going to cry. . . . She consulted her wrist watch. George's gift!

"I think I ought to go. It's ten minutes to twelve." She rose, and as he rose with her, she realized how awkward it would be if he suggested—

The next moment he had suggested it. "May I come with you? Perhaps you and Miss Revell would lunch with me. There's a very decent little place near here."

"I'm afraid I can't."

"Jenny bit her lip. It was loathsome, having to evade him. She determined that she wouldn't lie—at the most she would leave gaps. "George and I are lunching with a friend of ours," she said. "We're meeting him in a few minutes." Then she envisaged a chance encounter. "It's Mr. Townsend, the airman," she added.

"Oh, Townsend! That's the chap I just met. He took those—his just got back from his trip. She nodded. His manner was amused, and almost mischievous, she had the impression that he expected her to say—what something about Eddie's flight. Whatever it was, she had no clue to it. . . . She began to walk toward the street.

Far above them, graceful as gulls at sea, two biplanes swept out upon the uncharted ways of the air. They watched their passage across the nearer sky.

"You want me to clear out, don't you, honestly?" demanded Garth Aveney. Startled, she said "Yes."

"I mean, she amended confusedly, "George will be awfully sorry we can't lunch. Perhaps some other day—only I'm afraid she's so often booked up."

A clock chimed twelve. As she took her heels and ran, she distinctly heard him laugh; but he did not follow.

"Get in, girls!" urged Eddie. credit and distinction goes without saying.

The club is to be congratulated upon its choice and continued progress may be predicted with safety despite economic conditions which have handicapped every branch of endeavor in recent years.

ANNOUNCEMENT!

I wish to announce to my friends of the Fifth Ward that I am a candidate for Alderman in coming election, Monday, May 2nd, 1932. Your support is solicited.

If elected, I pledge to work to the following:

REDUCTION OF EXPENSES IN BOTH THE GOVERNMENTAL AND WATER & LIGHT DEPARTMENTS AND THAT PROFITS FROM WATER & LIGHT DEPARTMENT TO BE USED TO REDUCE THE TAX RATE AND TO PROMOTE A MORE EFFICIENT FORM OF CITY GOVERNMENT. THUS HELPING THE PEOPLE OF GREENVILLE.

Respectfully yours, DAL COX going?" gasped Jenny, clutching her hat. "Out of town for a late lunch and then back to the apartment for an even later tea. . . . He's going too fast!"

The long street was flashing by. Jenny grasped again, tore off her hat, and clung to the car-side instead.

"He's going too fast," repeated George and through the rush of their speed Jenny heard alarm and anger in her voice. "Eddie, you fool, ease up!"

Jenny felt quite sure that there was an important crossing at the bottom of this street. She had keen, long sight, and she had very distinctly seen a bus cross the end of the vista. . . . Now surely Eddie should be braking down for the corner? But Eddie was not braking—apparently he couldn't find or couldn't manage the brake—

George's scream and the splinter of glass and the thunder of the second bus as they went backing and splintering into it—all came together in Jenny's ears. They made a greater blare than was followed by a greater silence. After that, the whole world seemed full of people running. Running towards her.

"That's done it, absolutely," said George's voice, coming apparently from nowhere. "There won't be an evening paper that won't tell the Old Man all about us. Good-bye to my job!"

Very slowly Jenny moved and, as it were, woke up. She was still clutching the side of the car, still sitting on the back seat in the left-hand corner, by a miracle quite unhurt. Now that the impact was over, she felt almost—ordinary. The extraordinary things were happening; but not to her.

For instance, George was dragging herself off the floor, a red mark over one eye and her hat torn from her head. And Eddie—she took a full minute to understand that all those people on the further side of the road must be kneeling and standing around Eddie. Eddie, she supposed, had gone clean thru the wind-shield. Not so very clean. The few remaining bits of glass were scattered with red.

The slight paralyzed Jenny. She clambered over George and out of what had been the rear of the car; and dived at the group on the pavement. She pushed and pulled them aside—and there was Eddie. Flat on his back; a man bending over him; a great deal of blood.

(Copyright, Julia Cleft-Addams)

"Is he dead?" is the first question heard, tomorrow.

"He's tired," said George apologetically. "A long flight and a wedding, all in about 14 hours, is no joke. . . . I wish he hadn't borrowed this car—he isn't used to her."

Jenny had been coming to the same conclusion. Eddie had stalled his engine, started her up again, braked sharply to avoid a boy and was now wrestling with the gears. Jenny noticed with secret amusement that the clerk, on foot and still staring, had drawn abreast of them on the pavement. . . . At last! Challenging all the known laws of time and space, Eddie hurried the car round a corner into a wider street. He yelled a war-cry and stepped on the gas. It crossed Jenny's mind that Eddie had fortified himself against his fatigue in Eddie's approved fashion.

"Sure this is the way?" shrieked George. Eddie only drove faster. "Where are we supposed to be?"

SAYS IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

Gilbert Hodges of N. Y., Produces Facts Showing Ads Pay in Depression

Schenectady, April 23.—(AP)—Gilbert T. Hodges has facts and figures to prove that it pays to advertise even in times of economic distress.

Hodges in president of the Advertising Federation of America which has completed a study of the 17-year records of 120 corporations. Sixty of these corporations annually increased their advertising expenditures in spite of depression at an average rate of 16 per cent over the previous year.

Hodges first took up the cases of the 60 concerns which enlarged their advertising: "Seventeen years ago many of these 60 companies were small. Today every one of them is numbered among the foremost business houses of America. They have multiplied their net assets to four times what they were 17 years ago."

"Last year their combined net profits were three times greater than in the comparatively good year of 1915. This dramatic testimony to the value of unbroken advertising policy should bring confidence and inspiration to executives who want tangible proof that a courageous program, even in these difficult times, will pay."

"Now let us look at the other side of the picture—the dark side. Let us see what happened to the other sixty companies, the ones that pursued an erratic and uncharted course."

"Whentimes were good they plunged heavily. When the going

Cubs Victorious in Attack on The Pittsburgh Pirates

MOVE AHEAD OF BRAVES

By GAYLE TALBOT (Associated Press Sports Writer) For a team shot with injury and illness, the Chicago Cubs have managed thus far to get around surprisingly well in the National League.

They were a half game ahead of the Boston Braves today and they have made their upward surge with three of their greatest stars, Hazen Cuyler, Elwood English and Burleigh Grimes out of the lineup. Even with Grimes, world series hero, too ill to start in the opening week, the Cubs have received the steadiest pitching in the league. Eight of twelve pitchers have gone the route.

Lance Richbourg, obtained from Boston, has been filling Cuyler's outfield spot in fine style, and Bill Jurges has done so well at short-stop English will have a hard time jarring him loose.

Each knocked across two runs yesterday as the Hornsbymen rang up their fifth straight win at Pittsburgh's expense, 8 to 4. Pat Malone had a bad first inning, in which the Pirates banged him for four hits and as many runs, but he settled down to allow them only one blow the last eight frames. He and Richbourg each hit a home run.

As the Boston Braves were held indoors by cold weather, the victory put the Cubs in front.

The one other National League tilt saw the Cincinnati Reds, battling to keep away from their old basement berth, slug out a 6 to 4 win over the Cardinals. George Grantham hit four singles and James A. Bausch of the Kansas City Athletic club, national pentathlon champion and decathlon star, became a contender for a berth on the U. S. Olympic team with his sparkling decathlon victory in the Kansas relays. He amassed a point total of 8,022.4205—a new meet record.

WAKE FOREST TRIMS DUKE

Charlotte, April 28.—(AP)—Taking an arm-lock of first place in the big five baseball race, Wake Forest handed Duke a 6 to 5 defeat on the Deacons home grounds yesterday, Junie Barnes, Deacon southpaw, turning the Blue Devils back with but five safeties.

Barnes let down only in the fourth, when two hits combined with two errors to give Duke four runs. McKeithan let the Deacons have eight hits, and contributed four errors in bad moments.

In the other big five game of the day, N. C. State romped on Croker and Baily for 13 hits, made good use of four errors, and defeated Davidson 16 to 2. The Techmen got 10 hits and 9 runs from Croker in four innings, and 3 hits and 7 runs off Baily in four more.

The University of North Carolina track team, continued its 10-year record of southern victories, defeating Duke 71-6 to 48-6, and set three new state records, while Henry Fulmer, of Duke, set a new mark of 50 seconds flat in the 440-yard run.

Charlie Farmer, Carolina, set the new 220-yard dash mark at 21.7; Mullis put the shot to a new mark of 45 ft. 81-2 inches and LeGore threw the javelin 1919 feet 8 inches, 6 ft. 5 inches better than the old mark.

The most crushing defeat of all was handed to Wake Forest's track teams by Davidson. The Wildcat varsity took every first place, and whitewashed the Deacons in some events, to win a dual meet, 117-3 to 82-3. The Wildkittens defeated the Wake Forest freshmen 96 to 30.

On the tennis courts, Carolina continued its triumphant stride, defeating Duke 9 to 0. College netmen went to Boone and Defeated Appalachian, 6 to 1.

Although the under dog in two branches of sport for the day, Duke clinched its claim to the state golfing title by defeating the Carolina team 14 to 4, at Sedgfield.

SICK HEADACHE From Constipation

HERE is a purely vegetable medicine which has benefited thousands of men, women and children, and which you should try when troubled with constipation, or biliousness. Mr. H. H. When one has this feeling it is time to take something before he feels worse, I certainly have found Black-Draught quick to relieve. I used to have severe headaches and suffer a great deal. I found this came from constipation, and that Black-Draught would correct it. That is why I began using Theodor's

Small Crowds Attend Opening of Piedmont

Charlotte, April 28.—(AP)—Fattened batting averages at the expense of pitchers, cold winds at the expense of club marked the opening of the 1932 Piedmont League pennant race.

With Greensboro, Winston-Salem Asheville and Wilmington still to have their opening days, Charlotte, on the basis of unofficial returns had the edge on President Brannham's attendance loving cup.

Except at Charlotte, where Bud Shaney allowed the Tourists eight hits, all scattered after a first inning which cost two runs, and sharp let the Hornets down with five, it was a great day for the bat wielders.

Winston-Salem got 12 hits and the Pointers 11 in their game, each side counting three home runs. Durham got 10 hits off O'Brien while losing, 10 to 5, to Greensboro, which nicked Lefty Wilson for 12 safeties.

The real big slugfest, however, came when Wilmington counted 16 hits and 12 runs off Harris and Perry, while the Raleigh Capitals were finding Ike Kamp, southpaw, for 10 hits, but only 7 runs. Perry, High Point left fielder, led the sluggers with two home runs. Galvin, Wilmington catcher, singled, doubled in five trips, O'Brien, Greensboro also rated among the home run hitters, and also got a single. Sigman, Durham left fielder, Brummitt, High Point right fielder, and Malloy, Winston-Salem center fielder, did likewise, while Leiber, Winston-Salem right fielder, got a homer and a double.

Friday, the other cities will get their cracks at the attendance cup. Durham goes to Wilmington, Raleigh to Greensboro, Charlotte to Winston-Salem and High Point to Asheville.

Greensboro, with a night opening, was given the odds in the contest today, although Asheville was also reported preparing to initiate the home season under the aegis. A change for the warmer in weather was expected to provide an eclipse of Charlotte's mark.

Tiger batters with bases loaded. Wes Ferrell, Indians—Held the Browns to five hits and hung up his fourth straight victory. Pat Malone, Cubs—Gave up only one hit after Wobblly first inning and hit a homerun in beating the Pirates, 8 to 4. George Grantham, Reds—Hit four singles and scored twice to help capsize the Cardinals, 6 to 4.

Babe Herman came through with two singles and a double to lead the assault on Sylvester Johnson. The American League leadership also changed hands, the Yankees squeezing ahead by the process of remaining idle while the Detroit Tigers dropped a 4 to 3 decision to Chicago. The White Sox committed six errors, three of which figured in the Detroit scoring, but Sam Jones managed to keep ahead until the ninth inning. Then, when the Tigers threatened, his old Washington mate, "Bump" Hadley, went to the rescue and struck out two men to end the game with the bases loaded.

Wes Ferrell limited St. Louis to five hits in registering his fourth straight victory, 7 to 1. Earl Averill led the Cleveland assault on Stewart with a home run and a double.

Market Report Cotton--Stocks--Grain

N. Y. COTTON

New York, April 28.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady today, 1 point up to 1 point off. There was some southern selling which was absorbed by some buying orders. Trading was comparatively quiet with July selling at 6.24.

According to early reports, eight may notices were issued, and there was some further switching from May to later deliveries. Otherwise there was no special trading feature and the market seemed to be awaiting further developments as prices fluctuated within a range of 2 or 3 points during the first half hour.

Reports of rains in Texas were considered favorable but there was some comment on low temperatures in the northwest. Liverpool cables reported liquidation and hedge selling with a limited offset in that market and complained of a poor demand for cotton cloths and yarns in Manchester.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, April 28.—(AP)—Successive rushes of stop loss selling swept wheat and corn prices rapidly downward today, wheat about 3 cents and corn to the lowest level since 1898.

Wheat plunged to almost the quotations of April 8 before the government issued its sensational domestic winter crop estimate of 458,000,000 bushels for 1932. Some authorities today said that as a result of rains the yield would be 100,000,000 bushels or more in excess of the government's April figures.

Wheat closed unstable at the day's low 25-8 to 31-4 under yesterday's finish; corn 11-2 to 17-8 down; oats 5-8 to 7-8 off and provisions showing 10 to 20 decline.

STOCK MARKET

New York, April 28.—(AP)—The stock market showed decided signs of fatigue today, after laboring slowly higher for four successive sessions, a record of sustained firmness not duplicated since the first week of March.

After a slight upturn in the early dealings, the market drifted into a slow sag that carried several issues off 1 to 2 points by early afternoon. A few issues registered wider losses. There was a notable absence of important liquidation, however.

Alaska Juneau was again a soft spot, dipping 2 points to below 9. Auburn was also a soft spot, breaking 4 points to 35. U. S. Steel common eased only a fraction, but losses of a point or more appeared in such shares as American Can, American Telephone, North American, Allied Chemical, DuPont, Union Carbide, Union Pacific, Santa Fe, N. Y. Central, National Biscuit, Coca Cola, Corn Products, Eastman, Case and others. The Bethlehem Steel issues were about steady, in advance of the directors meeting after the close.

The money market continued to reflect the pumping out of credit by the Federal Reserve System, and there was again some expectation that the directors of the New York Federal Reserve Bank might pick this week for cutting the rediscount rate further. In some banking quarters, the opinion was expressed that the charge made by Senator Norbeck that banks were pursuing a deflationary policy by refusing to extend credit, might have a good moral effect and aid in the credit expansion program of the Reserve System.

today in the trial of Lieut. Thomas H. Massie and three others charged with slaying of Joseph Kahawai for vengeance.

Judge Charles S. Davis ordered the jurors to retire for the night at 10 p. m. (3:30 a. m. E. S. T.) and to resume consideration of evidence at 9 a. m. today (2:30 p. m. E. S. T.) They received the case yesterday afternoon.

Massie, an officer of the United States navy; his mother-in-law, Mrs. Granville Fortescue, society matron and Albert O. Jones and E. J. Lord, enlisted men, are charged with slaying a native who allegedly had confessed participation in a criminal attack on Mrs. Thalia Massie, wife of the officer.

After three weeks of maneuvering, challenging, arguing and pleading the case went to the jury charged with a somewhat complicated set of instructions from Judge Davis.

The court ruled the jury could find the defendants, with the exception of Massie, guilty of second degree murder, guilty of manslaughter, or not guilty. For Massie, Judge Davis said the jury must make any one of these findings, plus a possible verdict of not guilty by reason of insanity.

A separate verdict for each of the defendants was ordered. Judge Davis also ruled that evidence regarding the assault upon the accused naval officer's wife could be considered only as it related to Massie's mental state.

The jury warned the 12 men that "no man may take the law into his own hands, and the alleged fact that the deceased ravaged the wife of one of the defendants cannot be considered."

The penalty for second degree murder, the charge upon which the four were brought to trial, is 20 years to life imprisonment. Manslaughter calls for a maximum of 10 years in prison.

An intense plea in support of the insanity defense of Lieutenant Massie and in behalf of the unwritten law, made by Clarence Darrow, and a fiery demand by Prosecutor John C. Kelley for conviction of the quartet, preceded the instructions.

His statement carried the definite threat that if "these banks keep on forcing liquidation and refuse credit made available to them" he would recommend that the banking committee, making the stock investigation, go into this angle fully.

Saturday, June 11, at 12 o'clock, for the purpose of electing delegates to the State convention in Raleigh, Thursday, June 16, and for the transaction of such other business as may properly come before the convention.

These meetings are of the utmost importance to the party, and Chairman Hooks urged that they be largely attended.

Mr. Hooks declared the prospects for success of the Democratic party were brighter today than they had been in years, and expressed belief that the party would back into office by an overwhelming majority.

Extensive preparations will be made for the campaign at a later date, and people in all sections of the county will have the opportunity to hear some of the principal exponents of the party explain their cause.

opposition to cashing the soldiers' bonus.

As yesterday, when Mrs. Ogden Mills came to hear her husband, the secretary of the treasury, testify against the bonus, Mrs. Meyer was present today to hear the head of the Reserve Board.

Representative McCormack (D. Mass.) asked Meyer about banking practices.

"I believe our banking structure should be unified under one charting and regulatory and supervisory power," Meyer said.

"Would that eliminate state control?" asked McCormack.

"Yes."

Meyer recalled that in 1923, he told the House banking committee that "nothing could be more disastrous than a competition between the state and national banking system based 'on a competition of laxity.'"

"That is what has happened since," Meyer said.

"I am entirely in favor of maintaining states' rights to the extent that they can be maintained. But with the growth in financial and economic conditions you need flexibility of decentralization."

"This banking function is one of them. The use of checks today adds to this argument for federalization of banks."

"Speaking frankly, the bankers have not been much interested. They have favored maintenance of the dual system in order to play one against the other."

"Do you think the country could stand a reasonable inflation of the currency?" McCormack asked.

"I think currency is secondary to back word from another secret mission that a number of obstacles had been overcome in their negotiations, was believed to be making another effort towards the conclusion of his work. It was not learned what time the Norfolk boat builder left the city, or what mode of travel he used.

The yacht Marcon, used by Mr. Curtis on his two latest trips, was docked at the naval base. Lieut. George L. Richard, who has piloted the intermediaries on their various trips by air had not left the naval station.

Hopewell, N. J., April 28.—(AP)—The Lindbergh kidnaping mystery stretched toward the end of its second month without a solution today, although Norfolk intermediaries trying to get the baby back indicated fresh ground for hope.

Meanwhile Salvatore Spitalo and Irving Blitz, two New York "go-betweens" named weeks ago by Col. Charles A. Lindbergh to deal with the kidnapers, withdrew from the case. Their lawyer, Abraham Kesselman, said in New York that the futile $50,000 ransom payment made by Colonel Lindbergh prompted their withdrawal. He added that neither man had any idea who the kidnapers are.

Spitalo pleaded with Colonel Lindbergh not to pay this $50,000 through Dr. Condon, the lawyer said. The payment was made April 2 in a Bronx cemetery by Dr. John F. Condon, acting for Lindbergh.

John Hughes Curtis, Norfolk boat builder, returned home yesterday from a secret mission, the object of which was believed to be a contact with the kidnapers. Later Dean H. Dobson-Peacock, spokesman for the Norfolk men, said:

"We have overcome a number of obstacles that have stood between us and our objective."

Curtis had been gone since Sunday. He is believed to have traveled aboard the yacht Marcon.

Paris next month, came here yesterday from that city in two hours and four minutes.

The plane, capable of 295 miles an hour cruising speed and owned by Bernar Macfadden, publisher, was all checked and fuelled, and Reichers hoped to get off between 9 and 10 a. m. He believed he would be in Havana in 8 hours.

He expected to fly by way of Albany, Newark, Washington, Raleigh, Florence, Savanna, Jacksonville, Miami, Key West and across a water gap of 112 miles to Havana.

and will be greeted by President Hoover who yesterday in Richmond urged a redistribution of taxation and a reduction in federal, state and local expenditures.

Seated at the table will be the President, outstanding candidates for Republican nomination, and Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt, of New York, foremost among the Democratic contenders.

They met yesterday after the President's speech and the New York governor congratulated the man whose job he hopes to take next March. "Very good speech, Mr. President," he said as he came forward to greet Mr. Hoover.

Last night, however, during a speech in which he said that "agriculture is of primary importance" in the nation's welfare, Governor Roosevelt asserted:

"What a pity that recent national leadership and, therefore, recent national thought has so little heeded that concept."
