URGES HOOVER TO CUT PAY TO DISABLED VETS

Archibald Roosevelt Would Cut off Men Not Injured in the World War

Washington, May 5.—(AP)—Archibald B. Roosevelt, son of the former president, today presented to President Hoover a letter asking him to take "open and determined action" to cut off compensation paid to veterans for disabilities not resulting from war service.

Roosevelt declared in a statement left with the president that "a vast legalized racket" has been fostered on the people, whereby one quarter of all the revenue received from the whole nation is being expended for the benefit of less than one per cent of the people.

He also presented the President a petition backed by the National Economy committee. Roosevelt said Mr. Hoover "seemed interested" in it.

Roosevelt is secretary of the economy committee. He contended to the president that at least $450,000,000 could be saved from veterans payments "without injustice."

Roosevelt, himself a veteran, plans to present similar petitions and statements to Vice-President Curtis and Speaker Garner of the House.

At about the same time members of the House ways and means committee went behind closed doors to decide what to do about cashing the soldiers' bonus.

Before the group were proposals for redeeming the veterans' certificates in $2,400,000,000 of new money. This currency expansion plan was urged during three weeks of hearings by a group led by Representative Patman (D. Tex.) and Robert L. Owen of Oklahoma, once chairman of the senate banking committee.

Representative Crisp (D. Ga.) acting chairman of the group, and Representative Rainey, the Democratic leader, headed the strong opposition to a new money issue which also has been denounced by President Hoover and leading financial spokesmen of the administration.

The letter presented the president by Roosevelt said his organization had watched with growing concern "the failure of the government to face the issue of economy, and especially the failure to grapple with the question of drastic reductions in the approximately $1,000,000,000 which is being expended for veterans benefits."

Killed Husband Because of Fear of Own Safety

Concord, May 5.—(AP)—Sticking to her original story that she killed her husband because she feared for herself, Mrs. Mary Bennett Widenhouse continued on the witness stand today as trial of a murder charge against her was continued in Cabarrus Superior court.

She took the stand late yesterday after the state had completed introduction of direct evidence, which consisted mostly of testimony by relatives of Donald Widenhouse and others that his wife had frequently threatened to take his life because of his drinking and attentions to other women.

Dr. J. O. Sosoman, first defense witness, testified he treated Mrs. Widenhouse for abrasions and bruises on March 5, the day of the killing, which had just been inflicted.

Held for Killing at Liquor Still

Durham, May 5.—(AP)—R. L. Adkins, Raleigh garage man, was under $500 bond today awaiting grand jury action after he killed Will Warren, 23, in a raid on a still near here.

Adkins testified before the coroner's jury which ordered him held that he accompanied three federal agents in the still raid at their invitation. Warren ran from the plant, and Adkins pursued; Warren knocked him down, he drew his pistol on arising, and it was taken away from him, he said, and Smith, who operate out of Federal Agents Langston, Morton Wilson, and who were with Adkins, face no charges as a result of the slaying.

Judd following their conviction of the slaying of Joseph Kahahawai, native Hawaiian, alleged to have criminally attacked Mrs. Massie, shown with her husband, Albert Jones and E. J. Four Americans Are Set Free in Hawaii Slaying

Washington, May 5.—(AP)—The Navy Department, on the recommendation of Rear Admiral Yates Sterling, commandant of the Hawaiian naval district, today ordered Lieutenant Thomas H. Massie to duty in the San Francisco, naval district.

PLAN ANOTHER TRIP FOR BABY

Norfolk, Va., May 5.—(AP)—Another cruise was planned today by John Hughes Curtis, principal of three Norfolk intermediaries, in his effort to recover the kidnapped Lindbergh baby.

Curtis returned last night from a trip aboard the yacht Maroon and early this morning Lieutenant George I. Richard, naval officer working with the Norfolk boat builder, conferred with the very Rev. H. Dobson-Peacock, another intermediary. (Continued on page three)

TWO HELD IN S. C. GUNFIGHT

Sylva, May 5.—(AP)—Two men were arrested here today and charged with participating in the gun battle at Greenville, S. C., Sunday night in which motorcycle officer A. B. Hunt, of Greenville, was killed.

They were W. O. Briggs, 28 and Vernon Bailey, 28, of Yancey county. The two men were placed under arrest at the Sylva hospital when they called to see Ray Bailey, brother of Vernon, who was admitted to the hospital yesterday. (Continued on page three)

Garner Counted Back in Race For the Presidency

By the Associated Press With clear cut victory in California's Presidential primary perched on his standard, Speaker John N. Garner of Texas, today was counted back among the Democratic nomination possibilities.

His own state's assured 46 convention votes, plus the California 44 gave him second place in the running, behind Franklin D. Roosevelt's 313. Behind him come J. Hamilton Lewis, 53; Alfred E. Smith, 46; James A. Reed, 36; William H. Murray, 23. Smith may pass the Garner mark, however. Every prospect is for the nomination to depend upon a contest in the national convention at Chicago, though Roosevelt supporters, ang-

TO FREE FALL NEXT SUNDAY

Department of Justice to Order Release of Former Secretary of Interior Washington, May 5.—(AP)—Department of Justice authorities will see to it that Albert B. Fall goes free next Sunday.

If Warden E. B. Swope of the New Mexico penitentiary sticks to his announced plan of not releasing his prisoner when his term ends unless instructed from Washington, the order will be sent. The question hinges on Fall's $100,000 fine, added to the year and a day sentence imposed upon conviction in a federal court for accepting a bribe while secretary of the interior in the Harding administration. Normally fines must be paid before release, or a pauper's oath must be taken, followed by brief confinement to work out the fine. But, the justice officials explained, Fall's sentence was worded differently, and does not exact payment of the fine as price of freedom. If the fine remains unpaid he can obtain a judgment against him, although they did not say this would be done. The one-time cabinet member, now in prison as a result of the naval oil lease scandal, began his term on May 1. With time off for good behavior, it expires on Sunday, May 8. Swope said he would require the payment of the $100,000, or that Fall take the pauper's oath, unless Washington orders were forthcoming.

BANKERS SEE IMPROVEMENT IN CONDITIONS

Speakers at State Convention Impressed With Upward Turn in Business

Pinehurst, May 5.—(AP)—A brighter economic outlook for North Carolina and this nation was seen by speakers at the North Carolina Bankers Association's convention here today.

Discussing the number of bank closings brought about by the depression, Robert O. Bonnell, president of the Morris Plan Bank, of Baltimore, said it was "encouraging to note the improvement as reflected by the records since February 1, 1932, for February failures were nearly 50 per cent less than those of January while March failures were about 10 per cent of January. "A definite up-turn in bank deposits is another healthy sign."

WILL TRY TO LOWER RECORD

Lou Reichers to Attempt to Beat Lindbergh Time on Trip Over Ocean

Havana, May 5.—(AP)—Lou Reichers, pilot of the blunt nosed, low-winged Lockheed altair monoplane "Golden Eagle," hopes to cut in half Col. Charles A. Lindbergh's flying time from New York to Paris when he hops off from Newark airport about May 10 for his scheduled two-stop flight to the French capital.

Before leaving here this week after a test flight from Montreal, Reichers told of his hopes to fly the route in half of Lindbergh's 33 hours, 24 minutes time. The Montreal-Havana non-stop jump Reichers made Thursday satisfied him the 655 horsepower "Golden Eagle," one of the world's fastest commercial aircraft, is ship shape for the trans-Atlantic crossing, which promises to be the season's first. His Montreal-Havana time was nine hours—an average of better than 196 miles an hour for the 1,768 miles—and two hours supply of gasoline remained.

NEGRO DRAWS TERM ON ROAD

DeWitt Joyner Given Sixty Days for Violation of the Prohibition Law

DeWitt Joyner, colored, charged with possession of whiskey, was sentenced to sixty days on the roads by Judge W. L. Wheelbee in the second day session of County court yesterday.

James Spruill, appearing on a similar charge, had judgment suspended. After disposing of the two actions court adjourned until the regular session next week.

About fifteen cases were disposed of during the sitting, the first in two weeks because of the term of (Continued on Page Six)

NEW ATTACK ON SUBMARINE

Senator Swanson Renews Assault on Undersea Craft at the Arms Conference Geneva, Switzerland, May 4.—(AP)—United States Senator Claude A. Swanson, branding the submarine as "the assassin of the sea," renewed his attack on these craft as aggressive weapons of warfare in today's meeting of the disarmament conference naval commission.

Senator Swanson would abolish the submarine, but his thesis was opposed again today by the Japanese representative. In the course of the morning the commission completed its discussion of offensive arms and the conflicting viewpoints were referred to the secretary who will attempt to conciliate them before filing their report with the commission. Strings, Nothing But Strings! Portland, Ore.—Two youths went into thievery on a shore string so to speak, and the results were dire. Charles Sutton and Stanley B. Scherber got 90 days for the theft of 149 pairs of shoe laces.

Revenue Bill Declared Hundred Million Short; Committee Called Back

Washington, May 5.—(AP)—The revised revenue bill was declared $100,000,000 short of the goal of balancing the budget by Chairman Smoot of the senate finance committee and the committee was called back to look for new taxes. Smoot made his estimate after the committee had applied the brakes to further reversals in rates and had settled back to learn from the treasury just what the bill did. He pointed to even higher increases in the income taxes as one way of finding the additional $100,000,000 which appeared to be necessary after the first survey of the (Continued on page six)

'Accused'

Capt. W. N. Lancaster (above), British flier, was charged with murder in Miami, Fla., in the shooting of Haden Clarke, fiance of Lancaster's flying partner, Mrs. J. M. Keith-Miller. The state charges "suicide notes" found with Clarke's body were forged by Lancaster.

LIQUOR BOAT IS CAPTURED

New London, Conn., May 5.—(AP)—The 60-foot speed boat Scipio of Bridgeport, an alleged rum runner, was captured off Fisher's island early today after one of her crew had been wounded severely by a machine gun bullet from a coast guard boat.

The wounded man, known to his shipmates only as Charlie, was shot in the head, the bullet fracturing his skull. Hospital officials said he would probably die.

Coast guardsmen, who brought the Scipio to New London said she carried 400 cases of liquor. Besides the wounded man, who was the boat's engineer, the crew consisted of Captain Joseph Knowles of New Bedford, Mass.; Thomas A. Stone, of Fairfield, Conn., and John White of Bridgeport.

Officials said the service vessel resorted to machine gun fire after the Scipio had ignored several warning shots from a one pounder.

Railway Will Run Truck Line

Raleigh, May 5.—(AP)—The Seaboard Air Line railway will be permitted, under an order of the State Corporation Commission, to operate a truck line between Hamlet and Monroe.

However, free competition with an already established truck line will not be permitted, as the railroad will be allowed to truck only freight received at its own warehouses.

Senator Swanson Renews Assault on Undersea Craft at the Arms Conference

Gets Atmosphere

The Hon. Nancy Cunard, daughter of Lady Cunard of the wealthy British steamship family, is living as the only white guest in a New York hotel for Negroes to obtain material for a book. Her fondness for the Negro race is said to have strained family ties.

EXTORTIONISTS THREATEN MAN

Cleveland, May 5.—(AP)—An attempt to extort $25,000 from Ellsworth H. Augustus, wealthy real estate man and nationally known golf star, under penalty of death was revealed today. The 80-acre Augustus estate has been placed under a heavy guard.

A letter demanding the money and threatening death unless terms were complied with was received last Monday by Augustus, he said today. He was instructed to put the money on a fence post by a gate at his estate in Waite Heights village home of many Cleveland millionaires.

Augustus said he turned the note over to private detectives. Police Chief Theodore A. Myers of Wilberly also was notified.

Since then detectives have trailed Augustus in his daily trips to his office and seven men were found patrolling his estate today, refusing admittance to all strangers. His wife and children—Daneen 9, a pupil at Hathaway-Brown girl's school; Albert Anthony II 7, who attends University school here, and Elizabeth, 4, also were being guarded.

The final link is about 14 miles north of Wrightsville Sound. This leaves but one section of the waterway—Cape Fear to Little River, S. C.—to be finished under jurisdiction of the Wilmington office and engineers said operations on the South Carolina unit probably would be started next year.

Formal opening of the Beaufort-Wilmington section will be held June 3 when the rail-water co-ordination celebration is staged here.

Apple Blossom Queen Crowned

Winchester, Va., May 5.—(AP)—Twelve million trees and 25,000 persons were principals today in the annual apple blossom festival.

Over all reigned Miss Helen A. Washington, blonde Philadelphia native and collateral descendant of George Washington. On her head was the crown of apple blossoms, bestowed by Paul Claudel, French ambassador to the United States.

The queen, enthroned above an admiring throng, witnessed the poignant denoting scenes in the life of her illustrious ancestor whose two hundredth birth anniversary is being celebrated throughout the nation. Today entrants from more than 100 organizations assembled for the parade bringing to a close the ninth festival.

TWO MILLION COUNTERFEIT STOCK SEIZED

New York, May 5.—(AP)—After seizing counterfeit copies of $2,000,000 worth of E. I. DuPont De Nemours stock in a surprise raid, police announced today they had nipped a plot to flood the financial markets of the nation with the bogus securities.

Five men were taken into custody and after a night of questioning four of them were booked at the Elizabeth street station on charges of forgery. John Fitzgerald, 40, an engraver of New York, was held for further questioning while the other four were freed on bonds.

Two special type printing presses, a quantity of colored inks, five plates and other printing apparatus were seized in the loot. The counterfeit stock certificates included 50 completed 100-share certificates and 600 partly finished certificates. Police Commissioner Mulrooney said the finished certificates were identical with genuine ones in design, lettering and paper texture, the only noticeable difference being the warty mark. Of the counterfeits this mark was printed faintly.

An authentic 100 share certificate apparently bought in the open market for use as a model, was found in the plant.

Order Adjusted Tobacco Rates

Washington, May 5.—(AP)—The Interstate Commerce Commission today authorized railroads serving Durham, Reidsville, Statesville and Winston-Salem, North Carolina, to make rates on tobacco to points in the middle west the same as rates from those points by way of Virginia city gateways.

The Southern Railway, the Cincinnati, New Orleans and Texas Pacific Railway, the Louisville and Nashville Railroad, the Norfolk and Western Railway and the Norfolk Southern Railway were granted permission to disregard the long and short haul provision of the interstate commerce act on less than road shipments of tobacco.

The roads had argued that unless they were permitted to do this large quantities of tobacco and tobacco products now hauled to Ohio through the Virginia gateways and they would lose the income.

To Open Section of Coastal Hiway

Wilmington, May 5.—(AP)—The U. S. District engineer office here reported the Beaufort-Wilmington section of the intra-coastal waterway would be completed today thus opening a through route from Philadelphia to this city.

The final link is about 14 miles north of Wrightsville Sound. This leaves but one section of the waterway—Cape Fear to Little River, S. C.—to be finished under jurisdiction of the Wilmington office and engineers said operations on the South Carolina unit probably would be started next year.

Borah Outlines Proposal For Economy Recovery

Washington, May 5.—(AP)—A three-fold program for world economic recovery, disarmament, settlement of reparations and restoration of silver, was presented to the Senate today by Senator Borah (R., Idaho).

Addressing a crowded Senate chamber, Borah discussed world affairs, stressing particularly the "gold mentality" which he said had been in force since 1925. "I venture this opinion," he said, "that unless armaments are reduced so that burden is lifted unless reparations are settled so that Eu-

CAPONE BEGINS PRISON TERM

Gangster Entered at Atlanta as Convict No. 40886 for 11 Years

Atlanta, May 5.—(AP)—"Scarface" Al Capone began a new life today as convict No. 40886 in the Atlanta federal penitentiary.

The big Chicago gang leader was just another prisoner, one of 3100, as he was put through examinations to see where he would fit in as a cog in the prison machinery.

Capone stopped into the prison office last night and as far as the public was concerned he might have been stepping temporarily from the face of the earth. The Atlanta penitentiary has the reputation of being the hardest news nut to crack of any prison in the country.

Warden A. C. Aderhold was an answer to every query about the convicts in his care and invariably the answer is this: "I am not allowed to give out information concerning individual prisoners."

Such lack of information for a period of about seven and a half years was expected to defate even the notoriety Capone has achieved in his years of rule over Chicago's gangland.

Capone checked in his flashy and expensive clothing for a period he is sure to make it out of style when he gets it back. He was given a uniform of cotton shirt, trousers and jacket, all grayish blue. He must submit to a prison haircut and remain in a detention ward for three or four weeks to see whether he has any contagious diseases.

He can expect an assignment at the end of that period to either the laundry or tailor shop. If he behaves himself and shows ability, he can anticipate later a clerical job or work in the library with opportunities for study and extensive reading.

hospital where they are recovering from wounds inflicted by an assassin last week. The Chinese spokesman signed at his home and the representatives of the neutral powers affixed their signatures at the British embassy.

Shanghai, China, May 5.—(AP)—Four months of open warfare between China and Japan in the area about this city ended today when representatives of both sides signed an armistice.

The manner of it was as unusual as the fighting itself. Although thousands of lives were sacrificed and millions of dollars worth of property was destroyed, the conflict about Shanghai never was officially a war, because neither side declared war.

So today there was no ceremonial gathering of statesmen to sign the truce. Instead, the signatures of neutral representatives were affixed at the British consulate and then the document was taken to the hospital where Japan's representatives are recovering from wounds inflicted last week by an assassin. The Chinese spokesman signed at his home.

The terms of the peace were not immediately made public, but an official version indicated that it was a compromise bridging the differences which deadlocked the peace parley for a month or more.

After her visit, which Dean Dobson-Peacock said was made to give him a report of the work, the clergy man said another cruise would probably be made today.

Lieut. Richard was accompanied to the home of Edwin B. Bruce of Elmira, N. Y., who has been a member of the party making the various cruises aboard the Marcon.

It is reported that Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh is here aiding in the negotiations.

Lieutenant Richard and Bruce went to the Peacock home in an automobile driven by an unidentified driver. The license on the car was found to have been issued to Mrs. Helen Rogers Reid, wife of Rogers Reid, of New York, who owns a shooting lodge at flyway, N. C., on the Currituck Sound. Roland Ralstead is caretaker of the lodge, but it could not be learned if he were the driver.

Preparations were made this morning for another cruise. Captain F. H. Lackmann, skipper of the yacht, left his hotel room early this morning to return to the naval base, while Mr. Curtis and others of the party were believed to have remained at the naval base overnight.

suffering from five bullet wounds. Ray Bailey is also charged with the shooting and is under guard in the hospital.

Briggs, a brother-in-law of Ray Bailey, drove up to the hospital in his automobile this morning and was immediately arrested.

Detectives John Corea and Cliff Singleton, of Greenville, who came here yesterday to see Ray Bailey, were not at the hospital at the time, but returned later and identified Briggs as one of the gunmen.

While Briggs was being locked up, Vernon Bailey arrived at the hospital. When officers approached him and began to question him, he attempted to break away from them and run, but was subdued after a struggle.

He was carrying a .38 calibre automatic pistol of the same type as one that was found at the scene of the battle in Greenville. A rifle was found in his automobile.

Briggs and Vernon Bailey were lodged in the Jackson county jail and will be returned to Greenville today or tomorrow unless they resist extradition.

Ray Bailey was in a serious condition today and his physician said he "hardly had an even chance to live." Complications have developed from his wounds.

Hunt was killed when he approached a taxi to question its occupants. Corea and Singleton fired into the taxi and arrested two men who were in it, but their prisoners were taken from them a moment later by three other men who appeared at the scene and began shooting at the officers. The five gunmen fled in an automobile.

NATIONAL ADVERTISING REPRESENTATIVES The F. Clark Co. Inc. New York, Chicago, Indianapolis, Philadelphia, Kansas City.

ABOUT TOWN

Garner's overwhelming victory in California has thrown a scare into the Roosevelt camp and from now on there will be some real contest for the votes of delegates to the national convention.

The upset of the Roosevelt appointment came at a time when it appeared as if the New Yorker was going to virtually sweep the remainder of aspirants off their feet by the momentum of his campaign, and consequently arouses much speculation as to the outcome of the battle of ballots at the national convention.

The Roosevelt boom, which spread like wild fire several weeks ago, apparently has been succeeded by a similar outburst of enthusiasm for the Speaker of the House and its outcome is hard to forecast. In fact, not many would like to venture a guess, although all would give much to know.

All candidates for Governor of North Carolina are mutually agreed that taxes should be lifted from real estate, and if they live up to what they have led the public to believe taxpayers will receive some genuine relief from the next General Assembly.

Reduction of governmental expenses and tax relief is what the people want and the man that goes to the governor's mansion determined to carry out this ambition will receive the genuine appreciation of the people he is elected to serve.

In addition to these two important features, spending should be curtailed to include only the things absolutely necessary to the economical operation of government. Here is where the governor and the legislators, too, can do some mighty fine work and if they will he will to the mark and see that the administration is operated frugally in the next several years it will not be long before North Carolina will again be able to find her right place in the realm of the prosperous.

It is impossible to determine the far-reaching effect the statement will have on gangland, but it is confidently thought it will tend to discourage others who have also found the practice unprofitable and will retire in the face of the serious threat of the law.

Capone, his spirit almost completely broken by the closing of the last avenue of escape from the penitentiary sentence imposed upon him by the government, at last has realized the law is supreme and that all of those who violate it must eventually pay the price.

Gangland generally must realize this fact eventually. The law represents the preponderance of opinion of the majority of people, and when the millions of people who constitute the population of this great nation say through their courts that this kind of crime must stop, a barrier has been erected that makes escape and punishment for the criminal practically inevitable.

Capone is paying the price of his crime behind the grim walls of the federal penitentiary and the memory of that long period of incarceration undoubtedly will keep him on the high ground when he completes his 11-year sentence.

Reckless spending—and loaning continues just like the government had access to all the gold mines of the world, and the deficit will never be removed until this condition is improved.

The budget for the next biennium should be arranged in keeping with conditions and when this is done the nation may see some hope of recovering from the staggering debt. England, which has weathered many a financial storm, has gone down to the bottom of her troubles and bids fair to recover more quickly than any other nation of the world. The budget has been arranged in keeping with the power of the nation to pay, and when others realize this fact and adopt similar action, we may expect to see a general improvement in national life.

Flagrant disregard for the laws of economy can no longer be tolerated and when American people make their demands for reductions heard more plainly in the halls of Congress, then and not until then

YOU CAN'T MARRY

By Julia Cleft-Addams

SYNOPSIS: Though an iron-nerved flier, Eddie Townsend has lost his nerve in an automobile crash and his new wife Georgie fears the publicity may make their secret marriage known to her employer, who discharges all women who marry. Georgie's cousin Jenny promises to pretend she married Eddie, after one day's freedom.

IN THE COPPER URN

With the thought came all the weariness of the last twelve hours, all the memories, all the fears. As Georgie dragged herself back into the apartment, the bruise on her temple throbbed violently.

How in the world had she ever thought she could do those things before she slept? She was too utterly spent even to try on her trousseau.

She dropped into the new chair that smelt so richly of leather and let her head fall back. Now, for the first time, she thought about Eddie—really thought about him. Eddie who had always matched her strength for strength, whose laughter had climbed with hers, who had split money and youth and success all along their reckless pathway—Eddie cried and fainted and shook with nervous agonies which one couldn't hope to prevent.

Poor Eddie, mourned her pity—poor old Eddie-boy, I'll take care of you somehow until you're well again!

But her heart was saying nothing at all; was stonily quiet; held no stir of that thudding pulse that had answered his. There was only terror and sense of loss. Exactly as though he were dead.

Jenny had that useful gift of being able to waken herself at any hour of the morning she chose. She went to bed saying firmly "Six o'clock, please" and at six exactly her eyes would fly open.

On this Sunday morning she had said "Eight" and at eight she woke. There was a pool of sunlight on the floor and a faint breeze was busy with the curtains. A fine day today she would not be against that eternal background of Georgie; she would stand quite separate and free.

In a corner was the Record, tossed away with the other papers of last night; Jenny turned her eyes resolutely from them and went to her bath.

The water was tepid and she missed Georgie's scented Crystals but she hummed to herself in a small, tuneless voice. Back in her room she took out a slender dark silk suit that Georgie had given her. Then she laid it aside—it wasn't she felt, hers; not as the volle frock of gray patterned faintly with blue was hers—simple and cool and made by her own hands.

And to wear it she had contrived—for she was clever at such as this—a big gray linen hat with a blue flower under the brim.

She went very quietly out of her room and down the stairs. The hands of the clock crept glitteringly towards the hour of nine.

Georgie had said that she would come to the hotel between nine and half-past. Jenny turned away from the corner which led to Eyle Street and crossed the road. A few paces along this pavement was a little shop. Jenny had long ago made friends with the women who owned it and now she pushed open the door and went in.

"Will you sell me a glass of milk, Mrs. Bigger?"

Mrs. Bigger, behind the counter, smiled and nodded. She was extraordinarily plain, squint-eyed and swarthy; but Jenny liked her.

"You ain't goin' to spend this fine Sunday all by yourself, don't tell me!" she said, whipping the lid from the great copper urn. "Have a biscuit with yer milk, dear."

Jenny accepted the biscuit and sat by the counter, contentedly nibbling and sipping. In the side of the urn, Mrs. Bigger and her shop were reflected and behind the houses opposite the portico of the hotel and, dwindling into miniature, the whole length of the street. Jenny was amused to see how the copper distorted the lines of Mrs. Bigger's face and made her, on the whole, better looking. She chuckled and the face in the gleaming copper grinned in vague sympathy.

"Have yer joke while ye can, I always say," encouraged Mrs. Bigger.

But Jenny had sobered. In the tiny reflection of the street she could see the steps of the hotel and the form of someone running up them. She knew without the slightest doubt that it was Georgie.

She sat breathless, unable—unwilling—to look out of the window and down the street to where the real Georgie ran up real steps. Here in the urn, life was only a red-gold picture. A little figure of a girl went glimmering up towards a shadowy door and if she were told there that a trick had been played upon her, it didn't matter. But in the real world outside it mattered terribly. It was a terrible thing to play a trick upon Georgie, to let her down when she had done everything—

"You haven't drunk half yer milk."

Jenny sat down again. She had kept her eyes on the picture in the copper and now she saw that the girl's figure had returned to the street. A moment's hesitation and a taxi was hailed. Faintly, with the hum of an engine and the grinding of gears, the tiny square thing fled out of the picture.

Georgie had gone alone to Rochester Gate.

"Have another biscuit," said Mrs. Bigger.

Jenny took it mechanically. She did not feel as she thought she would feel, guilty and miserable and mean; she just felt very sorry for Georgie, in a detached way, and she wished that it were possible to tell her that it was only for one day she would be left in the lurch.

At the end of this heavenly Sunday, life would swing back, out of the gleam of gold and the shadows of dreams, into the plain pathway of facts.

"Hello!" remarked Mrs. Bigger. Jenny turned. The door had opened and there entered, ponderously, Gill. Jenny had just come to the conclusion that he had not recognized her under the big brim of her hat when she slowly turned.

"Is that all right, Miss," he asked—"my saying what Miss Revell told me about you know what?" Jenny gazed helplessly back at Gill.

"Might be a bit awkward for Miss Revell if I was to say otherwise."

he went on. "I see that. On the other hand, might be a bit awkward for you if I was to do what she wants and say it was you. Thought I'd ask you what you thought."

Mrs. Bigger had listened without any great curiosity to this cryptic speech. She went off to the rear premises.

Jenny's "one day" does not turn out as she expects. The spy returns, in the next installment.

Do you inhale?

"Why bring that up?" -the cigarette trade asks!

FOR years there has been generally a striking avoidance of the word "inhale" in cigarette advertising. Why? Goodness only knows! For everybody inhales—knowingly or unknowingly! Every smoker breathes in some part of the smoke he or she draws out of a cigarette. That's why it's all-important to be certain that your cigarette smoke is pure and clean—to be sure that you don't inhale certain impurities. Lucky Strike has dared to raise this vital question—for it has solved the problem! It gives you the protection you want...because certain impurities concealed in even the finest, mildest tobacco leaves are removed by Luckies' famous purifying process. Luckies created that process. Only Luckies have it! "Fifty million smokers can't be wrong!" So whether you inhale knowingly or unknowingly—safeguard your delicate membranes! Braves Invade West After Flattening Phillies 3 To 0

CARDINALS AGAIN BEAT CINCINNATI

By GAYLE TALBOT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Having won their spurs in the East, Bill McKechnie's Boston Braves invaded the Western strongholds of the National League today for a whirlwind two-weeks campaign that will prove pretty definitely whether they can "take it."

In that time the current leaders will meet all four western members, including their closest rivals, the Chicago Cubs, and the Champion St. Louis Cardinals. If the Braves hold their own somebody will have to take them very seriously.

They open their fight or vindication today against the Cincinnati Reds, while the Phillies engage Pittsburgh, the Giants move into St. Louis and the Brooklyn Dodgers hope for the best at Chicago.

In their parting shot at sectional neighbors yesterday, the Braves flattened the Phillies, 3 to 0. Huck Betts, the veteran "rookie," turned in his third consecutive victory as he held the slugging Phils to four hits.

The Cardinals shoved up into the first division with their second straight shut-out over Cincinnati, 7 to 0. Flint Rhem became the fourth Card hurler to pitch brilliant ball in as many days when he limited the Red Sox to six hits, three of them by George Grantham.

The youngsters Lonnie Warnecke, recorded his fourth victory as the Chicago Cubs defeated Pittsburgh, 4 to 1. He scattered six hits and received noble support, while the Pirate defense cracked at crucial moments behind Larry French.

Brooklyn and New York spent the day traveling west.

The Cleveland Indians, sharing second place and the leadership of the American league's western division with the Detroit Tigers, defeated the Browns, 8 to 3, on the eve of their first visit to the seaboard. It was their tenth victory in their last eleven starts. They make their first stand against the Athletics today.

John Stone's homerun in the seventh inning with two aboard enabled the Detroit Tigers to come from behind and take their final from the White Sox, 8 to 7. Stanley Harris' troupe opens against the Yankees tomorrow.

The four eastern clubs were unscheduled, but the Yanks sharpened up their batting eyes in a 5-to-0 exhibition victory over Bridgeport of the Eastern league.

Big Five Meets Various Teams

Charlotte, May 5.—(AP)—Members of North Carolina's Big Five, playing away from home, Wednesday met varying fates.

Wake Forest's baseball team staged a ninth inning rally to defeat Delaware, 7 to 6, but Duke, contributing 6 errors to the 12 hits allowed by Flohr and McKeithan, was humiliated, 13 to 5, by Fordham at New York.

The University of North Carolina tennis team continued triumphant, winning its 43rd straight victory from Army, but Duke, meeting the other branch of the service, was less fortunate at Annapolis, and lost, 61-2 to 21-2. One match was declared a draw when darkness intervened with the match score, even.

In the only collegiate tilt on home soil, Elon defeated Lenoir Rhyne's baseball team, 7 to 4.

Yesterday's Stars

John Stone, Tigers—His seventh inning homerun with two aboard beat Chicago, 8 to 7.

Flint Rhem and Gus Mancuso, Cardinals—Their pitching and hitting featured shutout victory over the Reds.

Huck Betts, Braves—Pitched his third straight win, shutting out the Phillies with four hits.

Worthington, Braves—Hit a homerun and two singles to drive in all three Boston runs.

Lonnie Warnecke, Cubs—Let the Pirates down with six scattered hits to win, 4 to 1.

BAT AVERAGES ARE FATTENED IN PIEDMONT

Charlotte, May 5.—(AP)—Piedmont League batting averages were fattened on three fronts as Winston-Salem took a two-game lead over its nearest competitors in a revival of opening week batting form.

Only in Charlotte, where the Wilmington Pirates won, 4 to 2, were base hits in any way a rarity. A. Smith pitched a three-hit game, while Lyle was being touched for seven safeties.

Winston-Salem started its comeback, after two straight defeats by Raleigh, by rapping Tryon, Takach and Benson, High Point hurlers, 14 times for a 7 to 1 decision.

Mapp gave the Pointers seven hits, but kept them scattered in all save the fifth.

It was at Durham however, that pitchers were most kind to the 300 hopes of opposing players. Scott, Winston and Taylor yielded 21 hits to the Bulls as Raleigh went down, 18 to 12. The Caps also were hitting every now and then; however, nicking Meadows, Wilson and Dudley 10 times. Raleigh had eight men left on base, and Durham 10.

The arc lights at Greensboro also proved conducive to good batting, a total of 22 hits figuring in the "Fouries" 8 to 6 victory. Mitchell and McLean, Patriot moundmen, yielding 12 while Averett gave up 10.

The 292 times at bat and 84 hits gave the league batting average of .287 for the day. Several individuals did far better.

Signan, Durham's crack left fielder, went to the plate six times, got five hits, two of which were home runs, and scored five times. Long, Durham right fielder, got four hits out of six trips, one of which was a homer.

Fae Schlander, South Dakota State college co-ed, scored 899 out of a possible 900 in a 90-shot rifle test, getting 89 bulls-eyes and one "nine."

At the same time league officials decided to reduce general admission rates for men from 50 to 35 cents, and this seemed to please the Charlotte moguls.

Just what caused Judge Bramham's flying trip to Charlotte Tuesday, when the imminence of Charlotte's throwing up the franchise was revealed, was not disclosed at the meeting here, although it was indicated something between the two owners, and not finances or dissatisfaction with a losing club, was the trouble.

Hyman and Moore attended the meeting here, after an original announcement by Hyman in Charlotte he could not be present, but they came in separate automobiles.

Kinston Golfers Play Here Friday

Kinston golfers will invade Greenville tomorrow for play in the tournament of the East Carolina Golf Association.

The match was being anticipated with much interest by Greenville golfers today and a stiff fight was expected.

Greenville has played twice in the tournament this season, losing to Wilson by four points at Wilson, and winning a return match here.

The match will be staged on the Country Club course during the afternoon hours and the visitors will be entertained at luncheon at noon.

Hornets to Stay in the Piedmont

Durham, May 5.—(AP)—Shadows of doom cast over the future of the Piedmont league by threats of Charlotte's withdrawal were dissipated at a meeting of directors here when Felix Hayman and Bud Moore agreed to keep the Hornets in the race without revealing what had brought about the situation which threatened their retirement from baseball.

BUILD UP HEALTH and pains go away

WOMEN who find themselves in a painful condition due to a run-down state of health should give Cardui a fair trial, for a reasonable length of time, as did Mrs. E. G. Hodnett, 1101 Hazel St., Texarkana, Texas, who writes: "I was anxious to build myself up so I could enjoy and take interest in my home. I had suffered with soreness and a constant pain in my side. My mother told me she thought I should try Cardui. Soon after I began taking it I noticed an improvement, so I kept on until I had taken three bottles. By this time I was feeling so much better, the pain and soreness were gone."

Sold at drug stores.

Market Report Cotton--Stocks--Grain

New York Cotton

New York, May 5.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady today at a decline of 4 to 5 points on scattered and local selling. July sold at 5.68.

Trading continued very quiet after the call and prices held within a range of 3 or 4 points during the first half hour with the market evidently awaiting developments in Washington or fresh incentives in other directions. A little southern selling was reported here during the early trading and the weather in the south was considered favorable for farm and crop progress in most sections but the early offering were absorbed by trade buying and covering. Liverpool cables said that trade calling had been supplied by continental selling and local liquidation in that market and reported an unsettled market for cotton goods in Manchester with the instability of prices tending to check business.

Grain Market

Chicago, May 5.—(AP)—Corn rallied and scored advances today after tumbling to the lowest price level in a generation.

Leading specialists said in connection with the rally that corn was beginning to attract speculative attention and was now displaying stubbornness. The falling off in corn receipts and constantly improving cash demand gave the corn market a better foundation than had been seen for months.

Stock Market

New York, May 5.—(AP)—Financial markets steadied somewhat today as Wall Street was buzzing with vague rumors of constructive developments impending in Washington.

Stocks slumped rather sharply in the first hour, only to recover thereafter. By early afternoon, extreme losses of 1 to 3 points were largely recovered. Bonds were still under pressure here and there, but U. S. Government bonds came back strong after yesterday's setback. There was still considerable pressure on the dollar in the foreign exchange markets, but it showed some further signs of lifting.

The stock market met support at approximately the low levels of the previous session. After sagging about 1 to 3 points in the first hour, the following stocks recovered from large fractions to 2 points, American Telephone, American Can, American Tobacco, B. Allied Chemical, Coca Cola, Auburn, Woolworth, Eastman, Union Pacific, and Santa Fe. General Motors sagged 1-2 point to a new low at 97-8, on reduction of the quarterly dividend to 25 from 50 cents. U. S. Steel sagged a point, then recovered partially. International Shoe, in which a short squeeze seemed to be developing yesterday, sagged more than a point. Oils were steady.

Rumors regarding constructive developments afoot in Washington were highly nebulous, and largely concerned with efforts to solve the problems of taxation, economy, and budget-balancing. Important banking quarters have felt that the only way out of the federal fiscal snarl was the imposition of a general, non-discriminatory sales tax, and some of the rumors involved revival of this scheme.

BANKERS SEE IMPROVEMENT

Limiting himself to a purely banking problem, Junius G. Adams, president of the First National Bank and Trust Company of Asheville, discussed the question of service charges for demand deposits in bank.

Discussing the uneven spread of wealth in the nation, Miller said, while it was indeed a perilous field in which to play with one's views, the country need not sanction tearing down from the top while seeking to build up from the bottom.

The figures to which he referred were those saying three per cent of the people own 90 per cent of the wealth of the United States, with 10 per cent of the people owning the other 10 per cent. Leaving 87 per cent owning no part of the aggregate.

Another step which must be taken, besides a new order in economic democracy, if the nation is to emerge from the present day wilderness, he said, is freedom from ascendancy of the criminal element.

"The incident of the theft of the child of our most adored American some weeks ago," he said, "does much more than merely set our sentiments on edge, once we have thought clearly and thoroughly through all of its implications. A London journalist states it almost brutally when he remarks that if the kidnapping of the Lindbergh baby does not arouse the manhood of America to an unrelenting determination to bring organized crime to the seat of judgment, then, indeed, have the roots of Americanism rooted at their basis firm."

The Charlotte editor urged on his hearers a sane optimism which, while not overlooking the necessity for meeting present problems, is opposed to what he termed present widespread defeatism.

A third sentiment in coming out of the wilderness and "looking toward the sunrise," he said, is that personal quality, the one thing in life that is enduring, be given a higher place.

NEGRO DRAWS TERM ON ROAD

(Continued from page one) criminal court which ended last Friday. The majority of cases involved charges of larceny, violation of prohibition and traffic laws, and were disposed of in quick order. Several of the defendants found their way to the roads and several others had judgment suspended or were found not guilty.

It was at first thought the session would last through the second day, but the speedy disposition of cases Tuesday, enabled the court to complete the docket during the morning hours.

This sale is made by reason of the failure of Samuel Hardy, unmarried, Frances Hardy, widow, to pay off and discharge the indebtedness secured by said deed of trust.

A deposit of 10 per cent will be required from the purchaser at the sale.

This the 15th day of April, 1932, W. C. Dresbach and T. L. Bly, trustees for First National Company of Durham, Inc., Trustee, formerly First Nat'l Trust Co., Trustee, Durham, N. C. ADE. 16-16w-1k.

FOUR AMERICANS ARE SET FREE IN HAWAII SLAYING

(Continued from page one) men today the navy would not institute disciplinary action against the naval personnel involved in the case and that in view of the absence of any action by the navy, President Hoover would not be called upon to consider whether Lieut. Massie should be dismissed from the service.

Meanwhile, the House judiciary committee indefinitely postponed action on bills to grant pardons to those convicted in the slaying. The committee also took no action on the Bingham bill to prevent two hung juries in Hawaii from operating to acquit defendants.

Honolulu, May 2.—(AP)—A move for an outright pardon for Mrs. Granville Fortescue and three naval men convicted of lynching Joseph Kahaehala was pressed today after the quartet had fully satisfied the law by spending one hour in custody of the Territorial high sheriff.

Sentenced yesterday in a surprise court session to ten years in prison for manslaughter, they were immediately granted a commutation of sentence to one hour by Governor Lawrence M. Judd.

With the case closed, the New York society woman was expected to leave Hawaii soon to join her author husband in the East. Her son-in-law, Lieut. Thomas H. Massie, and two enlisted men, Albert O. Jones and E. J. Lord, will probably be transferred to other posts.

The governor's order also apparently paved the way to dropping re-trial of the four surviving men accused of assaulting Mrs. Thalia Massie last September. Honolulu, May 5.—(AP)—Mrs. Granville Fortescue and three naval men convicted of manslaughter in the lynching of Joseph Kahaehala were here yesterday after being sentenced to 10 years' imprisonment each and having their terms commuted to one hour by Governor Lawrence M. Judd.

By spending 60 minutes in the custody of territorial high sheriff, the society woman, her son-in-law, Lieutenant Thomas H. Massie, and the two enlisted men, A. O. Jones, and E. J. Lord, satisfied the law and brought an end to the case which had shaken Hawaii politically and socially.

Kahaehala allegedly had confessed participation in a criminal attack on Mrs. Thalia Massie, wife of the lieutenant. The native was "beaten and slain" early in January.

The commutation also saved the navy men from having their service records marred by imprisonment. Captain Ward Wortman, Massie's commander, said today a "fine" could have been necessary to clear their records had they actually been committed to prison, even for an hour.

Harry Hewitt, attorney special in the commutation did not request a pardon and did not restore to the four their civil rights. Clarence Darrow, veteran chief of defense counsel said he thought "federal action might be taken to restore them; we are satisfied."

Hewitt said he had not determined whether they could be pardoned by the president but added that such action would be an extraordinary procedure. A move for an outright pardon was begun by a group of citizens.

In commuting the sentence, Governor Judd announced he had acted upon the petition of the four defendants and their counsel asking executive clemency. The governor also made public a petition bearing the names of 104 members of Congress asking an unconditional pardon for the four. The name of Representative Thatcher of Kentucky, Massie's native state, headed the signatures.

The four were convicted last Friday after a long trial climaxed by Massie's testimony he shot the native last January 8 upon hearing him confess participating with four other men in a criminal assault upon his wife.

Mrs. Fortescue, mother of the attack victim, and the three navy men will probably leave Hawaii and the four men awaiting retrial on Mrs. Massie's charges probably will not be retried as a result of the commutation.

Darrow announced he would advise Mrs. Massie not to proceed in the retrial and an authoritative source disclosed that the territory probably would not bring up the case again. Without Mrs. Massie, the complaining witness, the prosecution could not proceed.

There is some heavy politics going on now," he said. "No one wants to be blamed for the tax increasing legislation. Every one wants to see it enacted."

The bill was in such shape as it neared a final vote that no one apparently sponsored or favored it. Senator Walsh (D. Mass.) summed up the situation in a statement in which he said yesterday "action forced the tariff coalition to assume responsibility for the measure."

Weevils can't ruin AN EARLY CROP

It is not surprising that we have one of the heaviest of all weevil infestations this year. A remarkably mild winter, a late, damp spring, the possibility of a wet summer—this combination of conditions is ideal for the weevil.

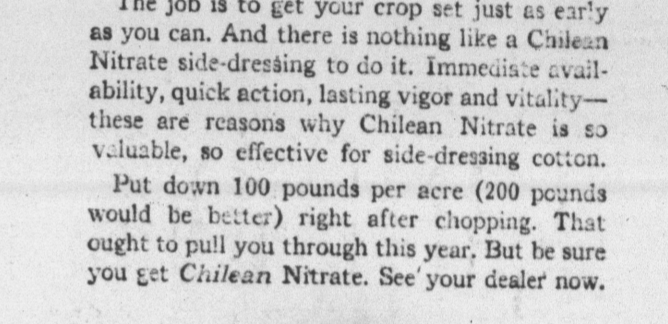

What he does to the crop however, depends pretty much on what he finds when he begins to get around in large numbers. If he finds squares, it will be just too bad. But if he finds the crop already set, he'll have plenty to worry about.

The job is to get your crop set just as early as you can. And there is nothing like a Chilean Nitrate side-dressing to do it. Immediate availability, quick action, lasting vigor and vitality—these are reasons why Chilean Nitrate is so valuable, so effective for side-dressing cotton.

Put down 100 pounds per acre (200 pounds would be better) right after chopping. That ought to pull you through this year. But be sure you get Chilean Nitrate. See your dealer now.

Two kinds: Both are natural. 100 LB. BAGS AND 200 LB. BAGS.
