N. J. OFFERS $25,000 REWARD FOR BABY SLAYERS

PRESS DEMAND FOR RELIEF OF UNEMPLOYED

House Independents to Stress Plans for Public Works at Meeting Thursday

Washington, May 24.—(AP)—In the three weeks left before the House adjournment of Congress, leaders confront the entangling task of prying a compromise from Democratic proposals to issue bonds for unemployment relief and the opposing plan of President Hoover.

Upon this bulging mass of tentative legislation, added to yesterday by Senator Cutting (R., N. M.), House Independents plan Thursday night to lay their demands that help be given immediately "in the form of public works and direct relief to the homeless and starving."

The House membership was invited to the meeting of independents by Representative Mad (D., N. Y.), Kelly (R., Pa.) and La Guardi (R., N. Y.). Their notice said congress should not adjourn until action on the relief question has been taken.

In presenting a bill calling for a $5,000,000 public works program, Senator Cutting asserted President Hoover, in opposing bond issues, had left the unemployed "no alternative except starvation and revolt." He charged the Chief Executive's stand was reversal of his former views over a 15-year period.

While the New Mexico senator and Democrats were vigorously condemning Mr. Hoover's outspoken attack on "non-productive" public works construction, the president found support for his views in a bill introduced by Senator Borah (R., N. J.) to increase the capitalization of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation by $1,500,000 for self-liquidating loans.

Within a day or two members of the special relief committee appointed by the Senate expect to have ready their $2,300,000,000 bill. In the House the plan Speaker Garner, also involving a bond issue, is being whipped into shape.

Attempt to Halt Murder at Natchez

Natchez, Miss., May 24.—(AP)—Business men here have banded together to halt activities of "murder squads" as a result of the slaying of Will Harvey, the fifth negro fireman of the Yazoo and Mississippi Valley railroad, to be killed within the past few months.

The negro was shot down in a street by occupants of a mysterious automobile Sunday. Natchez business leaders, conferring on the slaying last night, declared "murder squads" would not be tolerated and prepared to give what aid they could to officers investigating the strange series of slayings.

City and county officials, studying the latest killing, said they believed the slayers were from outside Natchez. Negro firemen after negro firemen has been shot down in this section within recent months in a one-sided war that still lacks official explanation.

Adkins Indicted for Warren Death

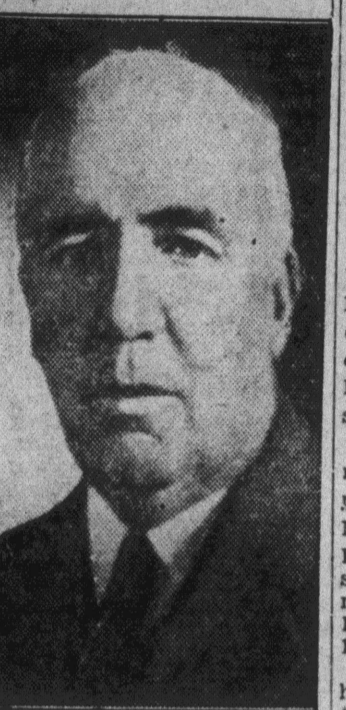

Durham, May 23.—(AP)—R. L. Adkins, of Raleigh, automobile salesman who shot Will Warren to death during a raid on a still in Durham county on May 4, was indicted today for murder.

A Durham county grand jury indicted Adkins for second degree murder for the shooting which took place in Patterson township while Adkins was an unofficial member of a raiding party.

He pleaded the shooting was accidental. It is improbable, court attaches belief, that Adkins will be called to trial during this term of court which ends this week.

Court officials said the salesman, although at liberty under $500 bond probably would be called into court to have bond fixed, at another amount by Judge Garland E. Midyette.

NEWTON BAKER PRAISES SMITH

Says New Yorker Fifty Times as Big as Platform of Party Last Time

Cleveland, May 24.—(AP)—Political leaders here discussed today the possible significance of the given Al Smith, former Democratic presidential candidate, in a speech by Newton D. Baker, considered a possible 1932 choice for the party's nomination.

"Al Smith was fifty times as big as the platform they stood him on" Baker said last night as he addressed a meeting of the party's county central committee, which re-elected the former secretary of war as chairman.

Although Baker has repeatedly declared he is not a candidate for the presidential nomination, many prominent Democrats have said he is either their first or compromise choice for the honor.

Seizing upon Baker's reference to Smith, various political observers held that the words were likely to favor friends of the former New York governor, without drawing any enmity for the present New York executive, Franklin D. Roosevelt, now leading Smith by a wide margin in the contests for delegates.

Such a result of his praise for Smith would do Baker no harm, the observers pointed out, should he be offered as a compromise candidate at the convention.

Most of Baker's speech before the committee dealt with the party's next national platform. The most important requisite, he said, is that the platform should be "short enough to be memorized by a man with a poor memory," and that it be "bold, truthful, constructive and addressed to the evils from which the country is now suffering."

"When that sort of a platform is written you won't need to bother much about the candidate who is to carry the banner," Baker said. "We'll all be carrying banners."

Charges Mail by Airship To Orient Too Expensive

Washington, May 24.—(AP)—Contentions that the crosser bill to authorize transportation of mail by dirigibles to the orient and South America would cost the government $10,920,000 a year, were made before the House rules committee today by Representative Bulwinkle (D., N. C.).

Bulwinkle joined Representative Huddleston of Alabama and Shallenberger of Nebraska, Democrats in a minority report of the interstate commerce committee on the measure, sponsored by Representative Crosser (D., Ohio).

Chairman Rayburn of the committee has asked privileged status for the bill. It failed of action in the last congress.

"This is an attempt to legislate by preference," Bulwinkle said. "It is an attempt to permit lighter-than-air craft to have the same rates as ocean going steamers for carrying mail under government contracts. It will cost this government $35 a mile on a round trip to the orient to subsidize this aircraft."

Bulwinkle said through "direct subsidies, the postoffice department lost $17,167,000 to the air mail and $18,000,000 to ocean mail during the present year."

Smith Endorsed for Presidency in N. J.

Trenton, N. J., May 24.—(AP)—Without a dissenting voice the New Jersey delegation to the Democratic national convention today endorsed the candidacy of Alfred E. Smith for president. New Jersey has 32 votes in the convention.

Today's vote came during a "pet meeting" of the Jersey delegation preceding the state convention. Mayor Frank Hague, of Jersey City, Democratic state leader, advocated support for Smith, former governor of New York state and the Democratic standard bearer in the 1928 presidential race.

Prior to today's action there had been widespread belief that the delegation would cast its first ballot for Gov. A. Harry Moore.

Before the meeting Mayor Hague indicated his belief that Gov. Moore has chances as a possible vice-presidential candidate as good as any one else's.

GANG GUNNERS GET ANOTHER

One Man Killed, Another Dangerously Injured in Harlem, New York

Police found a sedan parked at a curb with a dead man against the steering wheel. He was John Repetti, 25, a single shot through the head killed him.

Seated on the running board of the car, blood streaming from a bullet wound in the mouth, was Louis (Cheese Cake) Mileto. At the hospital they said it was unlikely he would survive. He told detectives he did not know who shot him or Repetti, and that he would not tell them even if he did.

A brother of Mileto, Salvatore, who also was known as "Cheese Cake," is serving a prison sentence for murder.

Mileto said the shooting was at Park Avenue and 119th street. The parked car was found several blocks from that place. The two front tires were missing, and there was blood on the windshield and a trail of blood on the sidewalk.

DEFER ACTION ON DOLLAR BILL

Norbeck Says He Believes Something Will Be Reported in Next Few Days

Washington, May 24.—(AP)—The Senate banking committee today postponed action on the Goldsborough bill to stabilize the dollar but Chairman Norbeck (R., S. D.) said he believed "something along this line will be reported favorably next Tuesday."

The committee voted 7 to 5 against action on the measure today. Later it was agreed unanimously to take it up next Tuesday with a view to action.

While he observed that the Senate's docket is "awfully congested" as the end of the session approached, he added that he favors inflation and will work to bring about enactment of the Goldsborough bill "either with or without amendments."

NON SUIT MANY CIVIL ACTIONS

Hundred and Seventy-Nine Cases Removed From Calendar Here Yesterday

Completion of a hundred and seventy-nine cases, the largest number disposed of in a single day probably in the memory of the oldest lawyer, marked the opening day of a two-week term of Pitt County Superior court, for the trial of civil cases, which convened here yesterday morning with Judge E. H. Cranmer, of Southport, presiding.

Two hundred cases had been set for consideration during the first day and twenty-one of them escaped the paring knife of the court when plaintiffs showed a disposition to push them for trial.

Non-suit was taken in the majority of the cases. Some had been settled by agreement between plaintiffs and defendants and were stricken from the calendar like the rest.

The bulk of the cases had been hanging fire for months, many for years, and it was the hope of the

DISORDER IN COAL FIELDS

Guards and Snipers Clash at Woford Coal Mine Near Uhrichsville, Ohio

Uhrichsville, Ohio, May 24.—(AP)—Hundreds of rifle and machine gun bullets were fired early today in a fight between guards at the Woford coal mine near here, and snipers hidden on the surrounding hillsides.

Bullets rained around the mine tippie for nearly 45 minutes while the guards responded with machine gun fire, but apparently no one was wounded.

Ivan and J. N. Wolford, owners of the mine, said the sniping was an outbreak of the wage strike of many former employees.

The shaft was closed by the strike several weeks ago, but recently resumed operations on an open-shop basis.

The first shots, were fired by the snipers, J. N. Wolford said. Several guards employed by the mine, and armed with four machine guns, sent a hail of bullets in return.

GIVE REPORTS ON CONVENTION

Summary of High Point Gathering Presented by Speakers at Rotary Club

Reports on the district convention recently held in High Point marked the regular meeting of the Rotary Club last night.

Intimate glimpses of the annual gathering were presented by Tom Clifton, Jonathan Overton and J. B. Kittrell.

In addition to addresses dealing with conditions vitally affecting club life at this time, the visiting hosts were treated to a splendid program of entertainment, the delegates stated, and not a thing was left undone to make their stay both pleasurable and profitable.

Attendance was good in spite of the widely-complained period of depression. It was stated, and if any of the Roters were suffering from a pronounced shortage of money they displayed a disinclination to admit it and went their way, taking part in the festivities as if they had untold resources

PROBE WALKER INCOME TAX

Federal Government Takes Hand as New York Mayor Prepares for Quiz

New York, May 24.—(AP)—Uncle Sam stepped on the stage in the Walker-Seabury drama today as New York's spick and span mayor got ready for his question and answer duel with Samuel Seabury.

Federal officials, it was disclosed, are investigating Mayor James J. Walker's income tax returns as the result of information dug up by Seabury, who has been burrowing into the city administration's record for months.

The federal men, headed by U. S. Attorney George Z. Medale, began their inquiry after Seabury, counsel for a legislative committee of inquiry, unearthen testimony that J. A. Sisto, taxicab financier, had given the mayor $26,500 in bonds.

Seabury placing Walker on the stand tomorrow in the climactic drive of the long investigation, is expected to ask him the reason for this alleged gift from a casual acquaintance.

Other questions to be shot at the mayor were provided in a public session of the inquiry yesterday.

TEXAS VOTE TO BOOST GARNER

Political Attention Centered on Lone Star as Delegates Are Selected

(By The Associated Press)—Speaker John M. Garner steps more forcefully into the race for the Democratic presidential nomination today as the Texas state convention formally pledges its 46 convention votes to him.

While this action has long been taken for granted, the neck-and-neck drive of wets and dries for control of the convention drew interest sharply to the southwest.

Selection of this delegate club runs Garner's total to 90 and pushes him from fifth to third place in pre-convention strength. Alfred E. Smith has 94, not counting his unknown strength in New York and Pennsylvania, while Franklin D. Roosevelt holds the dominant total of 468 delegates, excluding 105 claimed in those two eastern states.

Roosevelt's campaign managers are adding Delaware's 6 votes to his column today despite the precedents for the state sending unstructured delegations.

Sentiment in the state has increased that pledged or uplegged the unit vote of the group in Chicago

LEGISLATURE TAKES ACTION IN NOTED CASE

"Jasfie" Writes New Note to Mysterious "John" Who Received $50,000 Ransom

Trenton, N. J., May 24.—(AP)—Governor A. Harry Moore today issued a proclamation offering a reward of $25,000 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the kidnapers of the Lindbergh baby.

The proclamation was issued shortly after the governor signed the bill passed by the legislature last night authorizing the governor to offer the reward. The $25,000 fixed in the governor's proclamation was the full amount authorized by the legislature, which provided for a reward of "not exceeding $25,000."

Col. H. Norman Schwarzkopf, superintendent of state police, was instructed by the governor to send circulars telling of the reward to police throughout the country.

Beckett, Mass., May 24.—(AP)—Dr. John F. (Jasfie) Condon, Lindbergh ransom negotiator, who came here yesterday with Walter Goodwin of the Bronx, N. Y., to the summer shack of the latter, today through the representative of a Springfield newspaper dictated a message to the mysterious "John" to whom the aged doctor tossed $50,000 of Colonel Lindbergh's money in a Bronx cemetery.

The message was dictated after Dr. Condon had been informed that the New Jersey legislature had voted to offer a reward of $25,000 for information leading to the identity of the abductors and killers of the Lindbergh baby.

The message was as follows: "John: money I gave you is useless. You can't get rid of it. Return to Colonel Lindbergh in time. Get your $25,000 reward. (Signed) Jasfie."

Dr. Condon said in his opinion the offering of the reward was one of the most excellent actions since the child's body was found.

He was convinced that "John" will accede to his personal request if he should see it and return the $50,000 in some manner to Col. Lindbergh.

Trenton, N. J., May 24.—(AP)—Col. H. Norman Schwarzkopf, superintendent of state police, said today he had received no report from Philadelphia about the discovery of similarity between the handwriting of a rum runner and that of a person who wrote Dr. John F. Condon about ransom for the Lindbergh baby.

C. J. Simon, deputy prohibition administrator for Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Delaware, called attention of Philadelphia police to the similarity. The rum runner's handwriting was his signature on a several months old ball bond. The name was not made public.

Schwarzkopf was told of dispatches recounting the discovery and asked what he had heard about it.

"Simon has not made any report to these headquarters," he replied, "in reference to the signature on the ransom note checkin' with the signature of a rum runner indicated in Philadelphia."

Arrest Edenton Man for Attack

Watson was the object of a wide search yesterday and last night after another brother, John White, and Dave Bond, a negro had been arrested for aiding in his escape.

ABOUT TOWN

Saturday will be Poppy Day in Greenville and the people will be called on by members of the Auxiliary of the Pitt County Post of the American Legion to buy liberally of the little flowers to aid the disabled veterans, child welfare and rehabilitation work.

The flowers will be sold in every part of the country, and will bring back a keen reminder of those who risked their all against foreign foes with many of them returning home maimed and injured forever.

The flowers are made by disabled veterans, their wives and members of their families and money derived from the sales serves a twofold purpose in addition to making existence just a little easier for those who know little of the joys and happiness of life because of their injuries.

Pitt county people have always responded liberally to the call for aid through poppy sales and it is hoped everybody will buy and pay to the best of their ability in behalf of a cause as glorious as life itself—the cause of humanity.

The House sounded the death knell for legalized beer yesterday when the bill providing for the sale and taxation of legalized 2.75 per cent beer was defeated on a record vote.

In spite of the fact that the bill finally developed a large following, there was sufficient strength in the House to defeat it and remove it from further consideration.

Proponents of legalized sale of beer and whiskey have met defeat at every turn of the road since the question has been so much in the foreground, and it is believed they will continue to meet discouragement in view of the support behind the Eighteenth Amendment.

Mrs. Amelia Earhart Putnam has gained recognition as "the second Lindbergh" by reason of her ability to span the Atlantic Ocean alone.

Her feat has been praised by the people of all nations because it is not only the first time a woman has ever flown the ocean alone but because she is the first person ever to have crossed the Atlantic twice.

Doubtless she will never attempt to fly the dangerous wastes of water again but one thing is sure and that is she has gained a reputation that will give her an enviable niche in the ranks of aviation and that is what all great fliers are striving for.

The Pitt County Department of Agriculture and the Mutual Exchange have done much for improvement of farm life of the community during the past year. It was revealed yesterday in the report of E. F. Arnold, director of the department.

By keeping in constant touch with growers, the farm department has been able to render invaluable assistance, especially when the growers were confronted with some problem having a vital effect on their particular industry.

This was so in the recent Blue Mold epidemic. The department obtained best information on the subject possible during the first days the disease was discovered and by advising the farmers as to the best method of treatment it is probable thousands of plants were saved.

Other information having similar bearing on the industry has been disseminated from time to time and as a result it is probable Pitt county farmers are operating along the most progressive lines advanced by experts of the present day.

Senator Barbour, Republican, of New York, says he will ask that congress provide the Reconstruction Finance Corporation with $1,500,000,000 for further use in aiding industry to recover from the effects of depression.

After all that has been said in the interest of economy at Washington, here comes another member of the party of privilege attempting to put the treasury just that much further in the hole.

YOU CAN'T MARRY

By Julia Cleft-Addams

SYNOPSIS: "I'm going away for a year," Eddie Townsend tells his wife, Georgia. She insists upon keeping her position although she must pretend she is not married, and that her cousin Jenny is Mrs. Townsend. Jenny makes friends with Gratton Matching, George's eccentric old employer.

Chapter 32 A SOUND INVESTMENT "Because—" Eddie's voice was gruff as he answered Jenny's question—"she only wants what she wants."

"But I expect she is thinking just that of you," ventured Jenny. "And I'm much the same, Eddie—everybody wants their own kind of happiness, really. Oh, I can't bear you and George to be unhappy."

She looked up at him, troubled by the trouble in his eyes. To her surprise he stooped and kissed her. "Good kid!" he said. "You didn't mind my doing that, did you? I sometimes wish—"

He checked himself, and for the second time ordered her to run home. "You time ordered her to run home. 'You look like an ornament of a Christmas tree in that silver frock. Pretty enough to make anyone want to kiss you.'"

She turned obediently away. The car had disappeared but she had only a little way to walk. "This was the hour she loved, the very edge of the night. Flitting through the heavy shadows, being lit through the lights, her pale skirts gathered out of the dust and the jade and silver of shawl and shoes gleaming and dulling by turns, she knew that men's heads turned to watch her go. Even old Gratton Matching had said it—"

"A pretty thing in all that silver." And in Garth Aveney's eyes she had seen that she was lovely, even though for her loveliness he had nothing but a sneer.

She forgot Eddie and the wonder why he should be going back to Mrs. Bigger's alone and with such troubled eyes. Tomorrow she would think about him again and if he and George would let her, she would go on curing him. She felt absolutely certain that she would cure him in the end. But tonight she must speak to George and George must answer her—and for once they would be talking about Jenny Revel, a grown and lovely woman, and not George's pretty doll.

She passed Gill on the doorway almost without seeing him, and she arrived at the door of the apartment without any recollection of climbing the stairs. It was like going in a dream. And the quiet of the apartment was dream-like too. "George!" she called.

"Here!" The dream-feeling broke and vanished. George's voice, coming from the living room, was brisk and clear, and George, strolling out into the hall, was perfectly groomed and frocked and waved a cigarette.

"I was just going on the tangle—can't stand this place when I'm alone in it," she smiled. "Come and tell me about it, honey. Heavens to think of your having dinner with the Old Man. Life is, isn't it?"

She propelled Jenny into the living room and immediately turned on the radio. A flood of dance music welled into the room and George moved in rhythm to it until she cannoned into Jenny and began to jiggle.

Jenny quietly turned the set off. "I think you're afraid, George," she said. She had not meant to say it, but she would stand by it. "You are afraid of being alone because you've sent Eddie away."

"I suppose you met him," shrugged George. "He would only tell you his side of the business, of course. Not that—"

Jenny went to her and took away the cigarette she was trying to light.

"I want you to tell me something," she said. "Not about you or about George, but about the business." "That's easy. One is for the big boys of industry, and the other, the bonus, is for defeat of the men who went to foreign wars to sacrifice themselves on the altar of war. Congress has cut loose enough money for one session, and any other bills seeking the outlay of tremendous sums should receive the deaf ear of the members who have talked economy all the way through but who have spent more money than any other body on record."

Police guards were thrown about the Supreme court building at Washington yesterday to prevent a demonstration by Communists. The last place in the world for Communists or anybody else to start a demonstration is the highest court in the country, and should anybody, regardless of who they are or where they come from, attempt such an act of insubordination, they should be dealt with to the fullest extent of the law.

This nation cannot afford to let its courts be imperiled by demonstrators of this type and every protection should be thrown about them to see that they are kept intact and are not exposed to the warped perspective of those who know only one doctrine and are not capable of looking at life from a normal viewpoint.

SEEK REPEAL OF DRY LAW (Continued from Page One) opportunity. Bingham in a statement off the floor said he took this action because of the "delay of the judiciary committee in reporting out any resolution of the many before it proposing repeal and modification."

"I will ask to have this repeal resolution taken from the table at the first opportunity," he added, "and on that vote we will get a test of resubmission of prohibition to the States."

The Bingham resolution would return to the states the power to regulate liquor, giving congress portability to regulate the sale or transportation interstate and foreign commerce.

DEFER ACTION ON DOLLAR BILL (Continued from Page One) has passed the House. It provides that the Federal Reserve Board shall seek to stabilize the dollar at the 1921-1929 level by its open market operations.

A substitute measure was proposed tentatively by Senator Glass of Virginia. A majority of the committee, Norbeck said, felt they should have time to study the measure further before voting.

NON SUIT MANY CIVIL ACTIONS (Continued from Page One) court to dispose of as many of them as possible the opening day or arrange a definite date for hearing.

The action did more to clear up the calendar than anything attempted in years, and only a hundred other cases remained to be heard during the remainder of the two week's term.

Judge Cranmer and members of the bar, the majority who were in attendance during the paring process, expressed themselves as highly pleased with the results of their labors and looked forward to the remainder of the term with hope of pronounced progress.

Court this morning started hearing in the case of B. M. Lewis against W. D. Hobbgood, involving a dispute over a sow and litter of pigs. The case was expected to consume the major part of the morning session and a decision was anticipated during the afternoon.

The reports of the delegates consumed the major part of the time confined to relieving the time of Rotarians carry around with all the time, and which, according to Tom Clifton, is painfully conspicuous at convention time.

Howard McGinnis presided and the usual song program was directed by Jonathan Overton.

TEXAS VOTE TO BOOS GARNER (Continued from Page One) will go to the New York governor. The scaring delegate total of President Hoover also has surplus strength coming from Texas today. Naming by the state convention of its 49 votes for the chief executive runs his total to 621, or 53 more than the majority required to nominate.

PROBE WALKER INCOME TAX (Continued from Page One) Seabury produced testimony to show a definite link between Walker and Russell T. Sherwood, obscure accountant who leaped into the prominence when he went on a honeymoon during the earlier stages of the inquiry and never turned up again.

Seabury contends Sherwood, whom he has sought internationally without success, was Walker's financial agent. Abraham H. Schwartz, theatre chain manager who called the mayor "Jimmy" testified yesterday he paid Sherwood $13,000 due to Mayor Walker for "legal services of a special nature."

He declined to describe the services. Schwartz, declaring the services were performed before the mayor took office, said he visited Walker after he became mayor to settle up and was told:

"I am a mayor of New York now and all transactions of business—take it up with Sherwood." Seabury also produced testimony that Sherwood was able to sell a block of stock for $20,000 above the market price to a brokerage firm whose head was interested in the taxicab situation.

She arrived at the royal residence at 3:15 o'clock and was ushered immediately into the presence of the heir to the throne. After the audience was over she went back to the American embassy, where she is staying, and had tea with a number of British women who know how to run an airplane.

Previously Mrs. Putnam had had luncheon at the embassy with numerous notables assembled by Mrs. David K. E. Bruce, daughter of Ambassador Andrew W. Mellon, who serves as his hostess.

For her visit to the prince the flier wore a brown tweed suit with a cross fox fur collar. It was a new outfit, naturally, as when she crossed the ocean all she had with her in the way of clothes was her flying suit.

An embassy motor car took Mrs. Putnam to St. James. She was unaccompanied when she talked with the prince.

London, May 24.—(AP)—Mrs. Amelia Earhart Putnam won an audience with the Prince of Wales by becoming the first woman to fly the Atlantic alone.

Mrs. Putnam will see the Prince some time before she leaves tomorrow to attend the convention of trans-oceanic fliers now being held in Rome.

The exact time of the meeting was uncertain, but an attempt was being made to arrange it for today. It was the prince who sought the interview. He asked that she come to York house.

Other items on the day's program included a luncheon at the American embassy to which Mrs. David K. E. Bruce, daughter of Ambassador Andrew W. Mellon, had invited numerous distinguished guests, and a tea where Mrs. Putnam was to be presented to a group of British women fliers.

It is Mrs. Putnam's belief that a woman "really is capable of standing strain better and longer than a man."

"Give her time to work up to a problem before her and she will stand the gas as well as and better than any man," she said.

"What I did was not a great feat on my strength. I have danced all night lots of time and flying all night isn't very much. In fact I wasn't very tired when I reached Londonderry and only went to bed because I knew I ought to be tired."

Mrs. Putnam talked about her flight over the radio last night for the benefit of British listeners.

Washington, May 23.—(AP)—The senate today passed a bill to authorize President Hoover to award the Distinguished Flying Cross to Amelia Earhart Putnam for her trans-Atlantic solo flight.

The legislation was offered by Senator Walcott (R., Conn.) who said the flier was "modest, retiring, courageous and resourceful."

It was approved by the senate unanimously without debate.

Prominent members made short speeches concerning the future outlook of the country, and expressed appreciation of the splendid service which rural letter carriers were rendering to the various communities which they serve with unfailing regularity.

O. H. Jackson of Winterville, retiring president, presided over the session, and complimented members upon the showing from the standpoint of attendance and the important part they played in carrying on their work the past year.

The gathering was considered one of the best in years and members returned home highly gratified over the evidence of optimism displayed on all sides.

"But," he added, "that condition may not prevail ten years from now."

Responding to a question by delegate Houston of Hawaii, Britten said he had been in the islands "twice for a couple of days 15 years ago" but that he had heard "many of the best minds in the government discuss the situation hour after hour and day after day" in House hearings.

At the outset of the session Chairman Williams announced that no witnesses other than government officials would be heard.

"This is a judiciary committee," he said, "and this is no time for legislation to be influenced by publicity."

Floyd Gibbons, war correspondent, who had come to Washington at Britten's suggestion to testify, was in the room when Williams made his statement.

Major Granville Fortescue and Mrs. Fortescue, parents of Mrs. Thalia Massie whose assault in Hawaii precipitated a celebrated trial recently, had been expected to appear but were prevented by illness of the major.

BANK ROBBERIES TERRORIZE SMALL TOWNS IN ILLINOIS (Continued from Page One) him into their automobile and drove away. They stopped two miles out of town and, exhibiting three machine guns to Redding, told him they would use them unless he did as instructed.

Forced to direct them to the home of zimmer White, bank cashier, Redding aroused White and the robbers grabbed him. They forced their way into the house and aroused Mrs. White, tying the woman they left a five-year-old child of the Whites sleeping, and forced White and his wife into the car.

Their next step was at the telephone company, where they aroused the operator, wrecked the switchboard and tied up the operator, and put her in the car. Both women were dragged into the court house where Boone Dawson, night watchman, was tied up.

Stopping at a garage, they stole tools, and proceeded to the bank. White was forced to open two safes and hand over the money. To make sure he was not holding back funds,

SOX DEFEAT CLEVELAND

By GAYLE TALBOT (Associated Press Sports Writer)

The St. Louis Browns, winners of seven of their last eight engagements and a brand new American League menace, are having a jolly time disproving one of baseball's oldest maxims—that a club's batting strength must be concentrated midway of the line-up, and let the bottom end take care of itself.

Bill Killefer, who has ideas of his own, has upset the best traditions by keeping Jim Ley, the club's one and only 341 hitter, in eighth position, just one step above the pitcher. As a result, the Browns present a sort of "double-barreled" threat to opposing hurlers, something novel and apparently effective.

There are two separate and distinct "clean-up" batlers, Goose Goslin, the club's second best hitter, in fourth place and Levey in eighth each with his own supporting cast. The scene, designed to sustain a rally once started, has worked like a charm since the Browns caught fire on their recent visit to Washington.

Yesterday they burst loose with five runs in the seventh to come from behind and down Detroit, 7 to 6. Levey made three hits, knocked in a run and scored twice. Goslin's only hit drove in two more. The victory placed the Browns on an even keel for the first time this season, with 18 won and 18 lost, and only a game behind the Tigers and Cleveland who are in a virtual tie for fourth place.

The day's other best feature in the American League also were witnessed in the west, where Milt Gaston of the Chicago White Sox beat Cleveland, 4 to 0, on two scattered singles. Further monopolizing the honors, Gaston singled in the winning run in the fourth.

Red Ruffing's tight relief pitching in the ninth, when he replaced Pigras with one out and the tying run on third and retired the last two batters, enabled the Yankees to pull out with a 6 to 5 win over the Athletics, breaking the A's winning streak at seven straight. Washington's skidding Senators took a 6 to 2 beating from the Boston Red Sox.

Stubbornly refusing to "crack" despite the exhortations of all and Sunday critics, the Boston Braves fought 10 innings to shade Brooklyn, 5 to 4, and climbed back to the National League top. Rabbit Marvelli's line single over first scored Worthington with the winning run after two were out in the tenth.

The Giants kept hammering away and finally captured a messy affair from the Phillies, 9 to 7. Three pitchers worked for each side during the see-saw struggle. The Giants collected 19 hits and the Phils 12. Also, there were four Giant errors. Bill Walker, the league's most effective pitcher last year, received credit for his first 1932 victory.

With only two games scheduled, the Chicago Cubs slipped back to second place without a chance to defend themselves.

Yesterday's Stars

Hughie Critz and Frank Hogan, Giants—Divided eight hits between them as Giants sank Phils, 9-7. Rabbit Marvelli, Braves—His fourth hit, a single in the tenth, drove in winning run against the Dodgers.

Al Van Camp, Red Sox—Clouted Washington pitching for triple, double and two singles. Joe Sewell, Yankees—His two hits drove in three runs against Athletics.

They examined the cash book, and then departed without waiting for the time lock on the big vault.

Troop 33, sponsored by the Christian Church, inaugurated a new type of meeting to be followed during the summer months last night. Permission was obtained to build a fire on the lot behind the Rotary Club and the meeting was held around the campfire.

The feature of the evening was an excellent talk by Mr. W. A. Ryan, father of the local troop, based principally upon "the impression you make as a Scout," and "Living the Scout Oath." The talk was told in a manner which carried home the idea to all Scouts present and this, combined with songs and hilarious games, made the campfire one of the best this month.

Bitten By Mad Dog

Ayden, May 24.—M. B. Prescott, local attorney, was bitten on the hand, and Lester Garris, a tenant on his farm, scratched, a few days ago by a mad dog and both are taking the Pasteur treatment. Mr. Prescott, owner of the fox hound was going hunting and had the dog in the car with him. The dog at-tempted to hold him, the attorney was tempted to jump out and while trying to get out he was bitten on the hand. Later in the afternoon the dog was seen chasing animals and birds on the farm and was shot and buried. Little attention was paid to the incident until next morning it was decided it might be wise to have the dog's head examined. He was dug up at the head taken to Raleigh for examination, where it revealed rabies.

Dr. E. G. Hargett, veterinarian here, in the interest of local safety, generously has offered to vaccinate all dogs in the community without other cost than price of the serum.

Bonus Expedition Assured Way to Reach Capital

East St. Louis, Ill., May 24.—(AP)—"The Battle of Caseyville" had ended peacefully today.

While Illinois national guardsmen converged on the little village eight miles east of here, to prevent disorders after more than 300 world war veterans of the "bonus expedition" had held thirty freight cars of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad for nearly twelve hours, the veterans themselves had removed the cause for the mobilization.

They released the freight cars late last night, but the mobilization order already had been sent out from the national guard headquarters in Springfield. The guardsmen arrived only to find the "expedition" camped peacefully, waiting the arrival of automobiles and motor trucks which they had been promised would be provided to resume their trip toward Washington.

Sheriff Jerome Munie of St. Clair county ended the "box car blockade" by promising the veterans that they would be provided with transportation by automobile and motor trucks to Washington, Ind. Once here, leaders of the group hope to obtain free boxcar transportation to the capital, where they will undertake to present to Congress their plea for passage of a cash bonus bill.

Mad Dog Bite Fatal to Youth

Lakeland, Fla., May 24.—(AP)—A mad dog's bite caused the death of Allen Spivey, 7-year-old son of President and Mrs. Ludd M. Spivey of Southern College last night.

The child was bitten in the face by the rabid dog 29 days ago and his condition became critical Saturday. Specialists were unable to help him. Commencement exercises at the college, scheduled for today, were postponed.

Narrow Escape Walking in Sleep

He says he's leaped from windows which fortunately were only a few feet from the ground and that once he found himself climbing a rose vine near his home.

Then, while he was visiting here he decided to take his host's automobile and do some somnambulist driving. Hunt says he woke up two miles from the garage headed toward Kinston.

"Worst of all," he said, "I had to wake up the folks in the house to let me in. Thank the Lord, I don't wear a nightgown."

Bank Robbery at Biscoe Cleared Up

Troy, N. C., May 24.—(AP)—With two confessed bank robbers in jail here and their two alleged confederates under arrest in Asheville, authorities expressed the belief today that the $6,000 Bank of Biscoe daylight robbery Friday had been cleared up.

After a three-day tralling which led Buncombe county officers from Asheville to Greenville, S. C., Atlanta, Ga., and back, Glenn Lowdermilk and Bill King were lodged in the Buncombe county jail.

They were captured in the outskirts of Asheville in a new car, which officers reported was purchased with part of the bank loot, $600 in $1 bills, $85 in gold and a gun. They made no statement.

Perry Foster and E. V. Nelson, of Asheville, were captured in Rowan county a few hours after they had helped hold up two bank officials and a customer, and confessed, yielding up $1,500 of the loot and naming Lowdermilk and King as their confederates.

Increased Jap Tariff Expected To Go Through

Tokyo, May 24.—(AP)—Government officials said today they expected the tariff increase bill which was prepared for presentation to the diet by the government of the late Premier Inukai probably would be introduced without change by the new cabinet when the parliament reconvenes within a few days.

The bill was not presented yesterday because the diet adjourned to await the completion of the new cabinet which Admiral Eato was commissioned to form by Emperor Hirohito last Sunday.

Officials said Koreyko Takahashi, finance minister of the Inukai cabinet, probably would hold over into the new government and the bill would go forward as if nothing had happened. Its passage, they said, was considered assured.

The bill provides for a 35 per cent increase in all specific duties to offset the loss of revenue due to the depreciation of the yen. It also provides for various other raises, extended over 40 categories of articles.

The American interests chiefly affected are the automobile assembly plants of the Ford Motor Company at Yokohama and the General Motors Company at Osaka because of higher duties on motors and other parts.

How CARDUI Helps Women

"I WAS passing through a critical time in my life, and I suffered a great deal," says Mrs. Mat Howard, of Quilan, Texas. "I improved very much after I had taken Cardui for a while. Since then, I have given Cardui to my five daughters. As each one of them arrived at womanhood, I gave her Cardui for several months. I found they were less nervous and felt stronger. All of them have continued the use of Cardui in their homes. In my home we have all been better for having taken it."

Brant Lake, N. Y.—Curiosity, that characteristic frequently mentioned as having caused the demise of a cat, is also proving fatal to members of New York's deer population. They told him they would not mind so much if the early risers didn't insist on telling the world they were awake. The sheriff promised to get rid of the early risers as soon as the case in which they are held is heard. They are a flock of game-cocks, taken in a raid, who greet the dawn each day with lusty crowing.

After careful consideration, I have decided to support Mr. Ehringhaus for Governor in the approaching primary. This decision was based on the following considerations:

Second, his many years of conspicuous service to his State, through his Party and otherwise—much of it at his own charge.

Third, his announced policy, among others, to maintain the public schools remove, the remaining 15 per cent ad valorem tax from land and other real property and assess the bulk of taxes needed for economically administered government upon those able to pay them.

And finally, his freedom from entangling alliances with any political faction or financial interests.

Sincerely,
(Signed) R. T. VANN.

Market Report Cotton--Stocks--Grain

New York Cotton

New York, May 24.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady today, 3 points off on southern selling and trade buying influenced by steady cables. July sold at 5.62.

Trading in the current May contracts will end at noon today and according to early reports, notices representing about 4,300 bales were issued. This led to some liquidation and switching from May to later deliveries, while there was some trade buying and covering with very little southern selling reported in the later months. May sold at 5.72, before the end of the first half hour, making net decline of 6 points while later deliveries sagged back to about yesterday's closing quotations after the initial demand had been supplied.

Liverpool cables reported local and Japanese buying in that market with some covering on yesterday's rain reports from the south, and said there were improved sales of cotton cloths to India.

Grain Market

Chicago, May 24.—(AP)—Wheat priced dipped today, largely on account of augmented selling incident to more than six cents a bushel advance from last week's low.

Some stop loss orders were disclosed as a result of the downswing of the wheat market and numerous eleventh hour buyers let go of their holdings. World's available supplies of wheat showed 6,388,000 bushels decrease for the week, and now totaled 403,904,000 bushels, against 417,069,000 a year ago.

Stock Market

New York, May 24.—(AP)—The stock market finally nosed out into the downward current again today, after drifting idly in an eddy of uncertainty for the last four sessions.

The decline was moderate, but selling was substantially larger volume. The selling was again of a selective nature, converging principally upon some of the food shares, public utilities and tobacco, while many of the industrials and rails held up well. A reaction in the wheat market and lack of encouraging news from business or from Washington evidently kept buyers on the sidelines.

General Foods, Public Service of N. J., Corn Products, American Tobacco B, and Liggett and Myers B declined about 2 points to new lows while issues off a point or so included American Telephone, American Can, Borden, Consolidated Gas, DuPont, Electric Power and Light, Procter and Gamble, National Power and Light New Haven Union Pacific, Sears, Woolworth and others. Loose-Wiles and National Biscuit which dropped 3 and 2 points yesterday, recovered more than a point, but the latter again softened. Selling first appeared in volume in Reynolds B, but that issue was supported only a fraction lower. U. S. Steel lost only a fraction. General Motors eased slightly to register a new low.

The selling of utilities and tobacco may in part reflect some disappointment that these lines have not been as "depression proof" as they appeared to be some months ago.

DO YOU INHALE?

A frank discussion at last on a subject that has long been "taboo"

"LET sleeping dogs lie!" So said the cigarette trade when first we raised the subject of inhaling. But dodging an important issue is not Lucky Strike's policy!

Do you inhale? That question is vitally important... for every smoker inhales—knowingly or unknowingly. Every smoker breathes in some part of the smoke he or she draws out of a cigarette! And the delicate membranes of your throat demand that your smoke be pure, clean—free of certain impurities.

No wonder Lucky Strike dares to raise this vital question! For Luckies bring you the protection you want... because Luckies' famous purifying process removes certain impurities concealed in every tobacco leaf. Luckies created that process. Only Luckies have it!

So, whether you inhale knowingly or unknowingly, safeguard those delicate membranes!
