CHEERS AND KISSES MINGLE AT WALKER INQUIRY

Mayor Of New York City Defends Administration Against Seabury Attack

VERBAL TILT MARKS QUIZ

Walker Causes Storm of Laughter in Answering Questions Regarding His Connection with Equitable Franchise; Committee Members Say Seabury is Admitting Reds and Communists to Hearing.

New York, May 25.—(AP)—Cheers and hisses mingled in the crowded hearing room of the Hofstadter legislative committee today as Mayor James J. Walker vigorously defended his administration of the City of New York.

Samuel Seabury, chief counsel of the legislative committee, launched into questions about the city franchise to the Equitable Bus Company, which the mayor signed and which has been the subject of much testimony in previous hearings.

The questions began with matters of some years ago and in several instances the mayor replied that he could not remember the details.

The hearing had not gone far before a brief verbal tilt occurred between the mayor and the gray-haired former judge. Seabury was still asking about the Equitable franchise and questioned the mayor as to why he voted for it.

Mayor Walker, sitting quietly in the witness chair and twisting a pair of horn rimmed glasses in his hands, leaned forward to address his examiner.

"I don't think you have any more right to question an executive and cross-examine him on the official workings of his mind," the mayor asserted, "than you have to question the governor on an appointment or the President of the United States. . . . However . . ."

Applause drowned out what he was going to say.

A few minutes later Seabury engaged in a brief argument with one of the members of the committee as to the purport of recent testimony.

"And you ask me," the mayor exclaimed to Seabury, "to remember things that happened five or six years ago, when you can't remember what happened here last week."

A burst of laughter resounded through the packed courtroom and for the second time since the mayor arrived the committee chairman threatened to clear the room.

Continuing ripples of subdued applause and laughter led Seabury at one point to remark to the mayor that he seemed to have "an appreciative audience."

"I don't have to come here to get an appreciative audience," Walker replied, and there was more laughter.

Senator John J. McNaboe and Assemblyman Irwin Steingut, Democratic members of the committee, made many objections to the line of questioning being followed.

When the remarks were made about the mayor's "appreciative audience" McNaboe shouted that Seabury had had an appreciative audience all through the hearing. He added that Seabury had admitted "Communists and Reds" to the hearing room.

Stage Livestock Day in Mountains

Waynesville, May 25.—(AP)—Several hundred Western North Carolina farmers gathered at Lenoir Gwyn farm, near here, today to witness a field day livestock demonstration.

Animals of all types are to be used to illustrate points made by experts in connection with livestock promotion work.

Animals suitable for sale to the packing industry were exhibited along with types which experts said were unsuitable for marketing.

Virtually every farm demonstration agent in Western North Carolina and representatives of several large packing concerns witnessed the demonstration.

H. M. BLACKMER PAYS HIS TAXES

Oil Croesus Denies He is Preparing To Return to United States However.

Washington, May 25.—(AP)—Despite settlement of income tax claims totalling approximately $4,000,000 and payment of a $60,000 contempt of court fine, Henry M. Blackmer, missing witness in the naval oil trials, does not plan to return to the United States. This was made known today by George Gordon Battle, attorney for the Denver oil man, after he had paid the fine for refusing to testify for the government in the Teapot Dome trials of Harry F. Sinclair and Albert B. Fall.

Washington, May 25.—(AP)—The difficulties Harry M. Blackmer faced today.

HOUSE HONORS DEAD SOLONS

Legislative Duties are Abandoned as Members Pay Tribute To Deceased Solons.

Washington, May 25.—(AP)—In honor of its own dead, the House of Representatives today placed aside legislative duties for a solemn ceremony.

The same tribute of comradeship that the playing of tap gives to the soldier, was extended to the legislators who have died since the last session in the reading of a final roll call.

It is an annual custom, made poignant this year, however, by presence on the roll of noteworthy names and by the feeling that many on the list actually had succumbed in extraordinary service to the country under the terrific pressure of this session's reconstruction program.

BUNDY HEADS THE RED CROSS

Greenville Attorney Named Chairman Of the Pitt County Organization.

W. J. Bundy, Greenville lawyer, has been appointed chairman of the Pitt County Chapter of the American Red Cross, it was announced through national headquarters of the organization this week.

He succeeds Mrs. J. L. Hassell, who served for many years, and under whose administration the organization made marked progress in its various fields of endeavor.

Dr. J. M. Barrett was also named chairman of the Home Service committee; K. T. Putrell, chairman of the Disaster Preparedness committee, and Mrs. Selma Carson Moore, chairman of the Junior Red Cross. Mrs. George F. Hadley is secretary of the chapter.

With development of the various committees, it was expected that the long arm of mercy would be able to continue the splendid service in the community, and at the same time do its part toward national relief work.

Mr. Bundy said he would do everything to continue the high type of service established by the local organization under direction of Mrs. Hassell and urged the public to co-operate in plans to extend activities.

Defends His Administration

James J. Walker, dapper mayor of New York City, vigorously defended himself in the investigation which opened under direction of Samuel Seabury today.

Jafsie Clue Collapses In Search For Slayers

Hopewell, N. J., May 25.—(AP)—The one clue which Dr. John F. Condon, Bronx mediator in the Lindbergh kidnaping case, has been able thus far to pick in his search of thousands of rogues gallery pictures collapsed today.

Col. H. Norman Schwarzkopf announced in his morning bulletin that Dr. Condon, the Jafsie who paid $50,000 ransom in a futile attempt to obtain return of the baby, had picked out one picture in his search for a likeness of the 'John' to whom he handed the ransom money.

The picture that Jafsie said resembled himself in the investigation which opened under direction of Samuel Seabury today.

HOOVER GAINS LEAD IN VOTES

President Now Has Enough Ballots To Assure Nomination At Convention.

(By The Associated Press) Indefinitely pledged votes to be cast three weeks hence at the Republican national convention, President Hoover held today the strength needed for his re-nomination.

The mark—578—was passed when Texas yesterday instructed its delegation of 49 for him, bringing the assured Hoover vote to 621, and the total claimed for him but disputed by Joseph I. France, rival candidate to 1,044. There are only 1,154 votes in the convention.

The nominating total was reached as the President and party officials conferred on the platform which the convention is to adopt. Prohibition was one of the subjects touched on, the conferees said, but no decisions were given.

In the Democratic fold Speaker Garner yesterday drew the 46 convention votes of his home state, Texas, to take rank as third among the presidential candidates with a total of 90. Franklin D. Roosevelt (Continued on page three)

State Candidates File Campaign Expenditures

Raleigh, May 25.—(AP)—Cameron Morrison, seeking re-nomination to the United States Senate in the June 4 primary, reported today that he had spent $9,582.86 thus far in his campaign and one of his opponents, Tam C. Bowie, listed expenditures of $5,040.95.

With the time limit for filing preliminary expense accounts expiring at midnight tonight, James A. Hartness, secretary of state, received 24 reports today.

Neither of the three gubernatorial candidates has filed a report. Morrison showed no contributions and his expenditures included $1,490 to Wade H. Renfrow of High Point, $627.53 to K. A. Kirby of Marion and $468.67 to C. J. Moore of Washington. Costs of radio addresses were listed as: Charlotte $230; Raleigh $280; Winston-Salem $45 and Wilmington $65. Contributions to men for "county organizations" aggregated $919 and one item of stamps was $1,020.

Bowie's expense sheet covered six pages of ordinary typewriter paper and was practically all for distribution or preparation of literature and for traveling expenses.

Clarence E. Mitchell, running for commissioner of labor, listed expenses of $1,575.57 and two congressional candidates in the new district ran over $1,000 each. C. L. Van Noppen reported $1,153.12 and Norman A. Boren $1,526.75. Boren listed contributions of $2,130 including a "loan" of $2,000 from R. B. Boren.

TEXAS SOLID FOR GARNER

State Convention Also Votes for Resubmission of Eighteenth Amendment.

Houston, Tex., May 25.—(AP)—Texas Democrats favor John N. Garner for President and repeal of the 18th amendment.

After assuring the Texan, now Speaker of the House, 46 votes in the Democratic national convention, the state convention last night declared for submission of the question of repeal of the 18th amendment to the states. It was a disorderly ending of an otherwise harmonious Garner meeting.

PREACHER IS VICTIM OF MOB

Rev. A. A. Haggard Missing After an Assault by Masked Men at Gastonia.

Gastonia, N. C., May 25.—(AP)—Police today sought members of a masked band of men who the Rev. A. A. Haggard, 55-year-old Baptist evangelist, said kidnapped and flogged him last night.

Deputy Wilkie McGinnas said no formal complaint had been lodged with officers by the minister who disappeared after the flogging, only to turn up at his rooming house early this afternoon.

Since Sunday the evangelist has been conducting a revival at the Free Will Baptist church in East Gastonia and his visit here is his first since several years ago when he was asked to leave his congregation after difficulties between himself and members of the church.

When he returned here Sunday, he took a room in an East Gastonia rooming house and members of the household today related last night's affair as Haggard told it to them just before he disappeared.

They told Deputy McGinnas Hazard was taken out by a masked band of men riding in two automobiles shortly after last evening's service. Haggard returned, (Continued on page three)

LEWIS WINS IN PIG SUIT

Plaintiff Recovers $35 on Hog and Litter Of Pigs Given as Security.

Suit over a hog and a litter of pigs held the spotlight in the second day's session of civil court here yesterday, and the plaintiff, B. M. Lewis, was awarded judgment for $35.00 by a jury which remained out about 10 minutes.

W. D. Hobgood, defendant in the action, needed credit and gave the hog and prospective litter of pigs to a merchant as security. The merchant transferred the security to B. M. Lewis. When time came to collect, Lewis claimed the pigs, but Hobgood asserted the litter came before the transaction was made.

Lewis, on the other hand, claimed that the pigs came after the security was furnished, and established his claim by considerable evidence which he brought to play in the case.

One other case was disposed of during the afternoon hours. It was that of L. W. Godwin against the Bank of Aurora and W. A. Thompson. The plaintiff was suing for $250 which he claimed was due him (Continued on page three)

Democrats Approve Bill For Aiding Unemployed

Washington, May 25.—(AP)—A $2,300,000,000 Democratic bill for unemployment relief and revival of industry was laid today before the Senate with the approval of the combined Democratic steering and policy committees.

The bill was introduced by Senator Wagner (D., N. Y.) on behalf of the five Democratic senators who drafted it. He took issue with President Hoover's objections to a bond issue for public works, telling the Senate "There is no merit in the President's criticism that public works provide but transitory employment, surely transitory employment is better than none."

"Furthermore, federal public works do not differ in that respect from local toll bridges and tunnels which are agreed to by the President."

Other members of the subcommittee that drafted it were Senators Robinson, of Arkansas; Walsh, of Montana; Pittman, of Nevada; and Bulkeley of Ohio.

Wagner said the bill offered "a conservative program of legislation as the severity of the present (Continued on Page Four)

New Dispute Over Tariff Stalls Work On Tax Bill

Washington, May 25.—(AP)—New tariff disputes engaged the Senate today in the resumption of debate on the billion dollar revenue bill.

At the outset, Senator Hawes (D. Mo.) sought to have Philippine products exempted from the import tax that has been proposed for vegetable and fish oils and oil bearing seeds.

A little earlier, the Senate finance committee had changed its mind again on another item. It reduced the ten per cent sales tax on tires and four cents on tubes. The committee restored the bill for ten per cent sales tax on cosmetics and toilet preparations.

PREPARE FOR POPPY SALES

Legion Auxiliary Selects Committees for Distributing Flowers Saturday.

Plans had been completed today for the sale of poppies by the Auxiliary of the Pitt County Post of the American Legion here Saturday.

Mrs. D. M. Clark, chairman of the poppy committee, appointed a group of eleven committees here and in other parts of the county to conduct the sale of the flowers created by the hands of wounded veterans and their families.

Headquarters of the poppy committee will be in the Speight & Company building on Evans street Saturday, and all activities in connection with the sale of the flowers will take place from that point.

Mrs. Clark expressed the hope that the public would buy thousands of the flowers and aid in the attempt to carry relief to those who suffered so severely in the World War.

AFTER PLANK FOR PLATFORM

High Council of Organized Dry Leaders Summoned to Washington for Conference Next Week.

Washington, May 25.—(AP)—President Hoover will hold another conference soon with party leaders in continuation of efforts to arrive at an understanding between wet and drys on the prohibition plank to be included in next month's convention platform.

This became known today as a high council of organized dry leaders was summoned to meet here next week to consider, among other things, how to grow a list of prominent prohibitionists in both parties coming out for a change or an opportunity for the people to express themselves again on the 18th amendment.

Mr. Hoover discussed prohibition and other convention matters for nearly three hours at the White House late yesterday with Postmaster General Brown, his pre-convention campaign manager; James Francis Burke, general counsel of the Republican National Committee; and Charles D. Hilles, Republican national committeeman for New York.

The conferees said afterward no decisions had been reached, but that another conference would be held, probably next week.

While Mr. Hoover is expected to remain publicly silent himself on the subject, some of his advisers are representing him as standing firm for enforcement of prohibition but as studying an expression by the party recognizing the referendum principle.

After a regular session next week by the national prohibition board of strategy, the national conference of organizations supporting the 18th amendment will convene to discuss the individual opinions of prominent drys that some proposal for prohibition change may be inevitable this year.

The board will organize strategy for the period from now through the June conclaves in Chicago. Dr. Edwin C. Dinwiddie, secretary of the board, said today it would go to work "on the theory that both Republicans and Democrats, sober second thought, will refuse to take a position that would drive away dry support."

Stevens Charges Government Is Profiting on Vets

Chicago, May 25.—(AP)—Henry L. Stevens, Jr., national commander of the American Legion, last night charged the government with "profiteering at the expense of World War veterans."

Expressing himself before a meeting of Legionnaires here last night, Stevens, N. C. lawyer, asserted the government should charge the veterans no more than 2 per cent on bonus certificate loans.

By charging 4 1/2 per cent and borrowing funds itself at 1 to 2 1/2 per cent interest, he declared, the Treasury is making a profit of about 2 1/2 per cent on each loan to a veteran.

"Profiteering by the government at the expense of the veterans must stop," he said, "and this period of depression is the time to stop it."

He urged that congress pass a bill in the present session to give the veterans an additional five years to convert their war risk insurance lest some of them lose the insurance due to inability to pay the higher premium effective July 2.

Geneva, N. Y.—The trout in Seneca Lake may be smart but they don't know apple blossom petals from confetti. Tradition has it that they do not bite until June breezes waft petals from trees along the shore out over the water.

Michael Toole and Martin Bruck took a bag of confetti with them on a fishing trip, scattered it on the water and caught a lot of fish.

LEWIS WINS IN FIG SUIT

(Continued from Page One) from an estate of which Thompson was administrator. He contended the money had been paid to somebody else and not to himself.

He failed to produce sufficient evidence to convince the jury of his claim and consequently did not recover.

Court continued working on a calendar of over one hundred cases today and it was believed the bulk of the actions would be disposed of during the two weeks' sitting.

One hundred and seventy-nine cases were either non-suited or settled outside of court during the first day's session, setting something of a record for volume of cases cleared from the calendar in a single day.

(Continued from Page One) they said, and related he was taken six miles in the country, beaten and then brought back within two miles of town where he was released.

He said he had been beaten about the hips and that he knew of no reason for the assault. He said the men told him "to leave town."

Haggard came back to his room early today and spent the remainder of the night. This morning he left the house, saying he was "going up town." Since then, police have been unable to locate him.

He told acquaintances at the rooming house six men were in the machine that carried him to the country, but that he did not know how many were in the machine that followed. He said he would recognize one of the men "by his voice."

Deputy McGinnas today said Haggard was reported seen near some railway tracks at the edge of the city last night just before he returned to his room.

Haggard several years ago was pastor of the Flint-Grove Baptist Church in East Gastonia but left here under a cloud of various charges lodged by his congregation.

Deputy McGinnas said the evangelist had not been in court as a result of the charges but that the differences were between him and the church.

It was reported Haggard conducted revivals in Tennessee after he left here.

Fire Damages Colored Home

Fire originating in a pile of rubbish in the kitchen, did estimated damage of $700 to the home of James Parker, colored, in Riverdale last night about 11 o'clock.

The kitchen was badly damaged by the blaze which was believed to have been caused by a spark from a stove dropping in a pile of refuse.

PREPARE FOR PAYING U. S.

British Government Takes Steps to Settle Delayed War Debt Annuities.

London, May 25.—(AP)—The text of an agreement for the repayment to the United States of the British war debts annuity which was not paid during the past year because of the Hoover moratorium has been mailed to Sir Ronald Lindsay, British ambassador at Washington and will be signed when it arrives there in a day or two, it was learned today.

The agreement was drawn up here with Ambassador Andrew W. Mellon and it marked the first post-moratorium step in British war debt payments.

In official quarters today it was emphasized that it was merely a routine matter in answer to a request from Washington to the governments affected by the moratorium to make provision for the payment of the annuity which was suspended last June.

Inasmuch, however, as it was made by Great Britain without reference to the debts owed her by other countries it was said in authoritative quarters that it could be regarded as a continuation of British recognition of American contention that war debts and reparations are separate problems.

Officials here said the terms of the agreement could not be made public until it was signed.

Quinn, Mrs. Albert H. Vestal, and Mrs. Edward M. Beers.

ABOUT TOWN

The $25,000 reward offered by the state of New Jersey for apprehension and conviction of slayers of Lindbergh baby probably may be renewed vigilance among hundreds of policemen who have been working on the case.

The state offered "the reward"
beginning it is probable Col-Lindbergh would still have the $100 he paid to extortionists in attempts to recover the baby.

The state would have done more before turning over the baby to the supposed kidnappers.
Probably might have been able to make more drastic effort to effect
recovery of the kidnaping.

The crime is the most heinous committed in the history of this state, and the majority of people would be glad to furnish information for apprehension of the criminals without expecting any reward.

That the American people want justice as near as it can be obtained, and while the reward may be officers to renewed efforts, it has little effect on the minds of those who want to see society
protected from assaults of an element that is gradually eating its way into the life of every community.

Greenville golfers left today for Mound to continue play in tournament of the East Carolina Golf Association.

Expecting a good chance of emerging with association honors, the club will put up the best fight of contest in the hope of adding a laurel to their string.

Interest in golf is gradually declining in this community and the club is going to Rocky Mount to represent the best in the community. If they lose it means the club shots we have been unable to add to the pace set by the railroad club, and if they win it means
a laurel to their string.

Greenville's links are ranked among the best in this part of the state, and this fact in itself should be of more interest in the sport
club is destined to find even more glory in the years to come.

Members of Congress may be suffering from an aching nostalgia for

YOU CAN'T MARRY

By Julia Cleft-Addams

SYNOPSIS: "You can't take my job away from me, it's kept
you from starting," George Townsend says to her cousin Jenny. She has persuaded Jenny to say she
and not George is married to Eddie Townsend, so George can hold her job. But this causes misunderstanding between Jenny and Garth Aveney.

Chapter 33
BLAZING LUNACY
Jenny tried to explain Garth Matching's friendliness to George
when she had carried in the chocolate and was perched on George's bed, drinking it.

"So I think I had better go and see him every day until he says he is tired of me, don't you?" she concluded.

George had collapsed into her pillows in amazed merriment.
"I suppose so, but really, it's not much good asking me—you seem to know exactly how to manage him! I can't hope to improve your technique!"

Jenny stirred her chocolate, still flung a sigh. George was not being catty, she was genuinely of the opinion that Jenny was maneuvering herself into a millionaire's favor so that she might get some benefit or other.

"He may leave you every last cent
he owns, Jenny-wren," George was babbling. "When he does,
don't forget old friends, will you?"
"It's not remotely likely that he will leave me anything," Jenny mashed her distaste. "He has his newspaper. You say yourself, Mr.
Aveney is taking over the high command."

George's eyes were full of amber gleams under the soft lights.
While her cousin had been in the kitchen, she had undressed and put on pajamas of coral satin. She sat hugging her knees, her bare feet pushed under the elderdown, her silk pillows heaped up behind her.
All around her, her room spilled its luxuries. Jenny's gaze traveled ed from one colorful heap of clothes to another, from dressing
table to wardrobe.

"There wouldn't be room for my little camp-bed here now," she said
involuntarily.
"You're more comfortable in—in the other room, the new room,
surely?" defended George.
"Oh, yes, I'm very comfortable.
It has turned into a pretty room,
hasn't it?—I made the curtains and put them up; I suppose you saw.
At least, I cut them into the proper lengths and Eddie sewed them on the machine. It amused him a lot. He's very domestic, isn't he?"

George tossed her head back, and the bright, short locks that had screened her eyes, fell away. It was as though she said—"Oh, let's get it into words, all this that hasn't yet been spoken!" She stared straight in front of her.
"Eddie and I have separated for a year, Jen. We're pretending that everything went according to our original plan and that he is off to Mexico for a year leaving our marriage secret and me at Matching's. The only difference is that—that instead of our weekend honeymoon here, we are to have none at all."

"Oh, George! But—"
"He doesn't want one."
Jenny was silent.
"No, I'll be honest," George frowned, still staring ahead. He doesn't want our honeymoon to be furtive and short. . . . A part of me acres with him, the part that's proud to be his wife, the part that puts him before my job."

"The best part of you."
The coral satin shoulders shrugged.
"Best or worst—I don't know!
Anyway, another part of me, which may equally be best or worst, says that it would be sheer blinding impudence to throw up five thousand a year and go traipsing off to the outer-most suburban darkness and live on bread and—"
"And kisses."

"You're sentimental, honey. You always were. So is Eddie. It's you he ought to have fallen in love with, not me." She leaned a little towards Jenny. "I swear I won't let myself be jealous of you, lambie,
but you must see that it will be a heck of a deal. You're so absolutely quicker they may relieve that nostalgic longing."

Several candidates for the various offices of Pitt county tend to afford a wide field for discriminating voters in the forthcoming primary.

The influx to the political arena
is the most pronounced in the memory of the oldest inhabitants and is going to afford unprecedented opposition for those who have been in the light for years.

Voters should scan the list carefully, determine the qualifications of the candidates, and then vote for those they believe to be best fitted for the offices to which they aspire.

Sentiment alone must not determine evaluation of the candidates.
The voter must judge from the standpoint of character, training and mental and physical qualifications and then go to the polls and express his preference.

The time has come for greater discrimination at the polls, and it is to be hoped this will be reflected by the large vote which most assuredly will be registered in this county.

Jenny learns the secret of Aveney's testing George's loyalty to her employer, tomorrow, and realizes she has misunderstood his attitude.

JAFSIE CLUE COLLAPSES IN SEARCH OF SLAYERS

sembled "John" was that of John Swenson. An investigation by police of Swenson's activities, however, Colonel Schwarzkopf said,
disclosed that Swenson had "no possible connection with this case."

Police, however, appeared undismayed by this development and permitted that Dr. Condon, now on a fishing trip in Massachusetts,
"will be scheduled to search rogues
galleries in the large cities of New Jersey before concluding this phase of his search for "John."

New possible clues were injected into the case today with the taking to Trenton of two notes, roughly written on white paper and found in the pocket of an overcoat hanging on a fence around a children's home at Camden. A baby's blanket was found nearby.
The notes read, "How is the baby?" and "See you tomorrow."

Colonel Schwarzkopf also announced today that a Gilbert Mc-Cann, of Mt. Rose, N. J., who was picked up for questioning yesterday, had been turned over to the Federal Narcotic bureau, as he had admitted he was wanted on a charge of selling narcotics.

Norfolk, Va., May 25.—(AP)—W.
C. Pender, Norfolk attorney, said today there was little about that his client, John Hughes Curtis,
would be indicted in New Jersey
for obstruction of justice through statements in connection with his faked Lindbergh kidnaping "negotiations."

Mr. Pender, who said he was shown the state's evidence and exhibits which are to be presented to the grand jury, said he had been assured ample opportunity would be given to prepare the defense. He added that should a true bill be returned, there was doubt that the case would come to trial on its merits if his interpretation of New Jersey law was correct.

H. M. BLACKMER PAYS TAXES

mer, missing witness in the naval oil trials, has had with the government over income taxes have been settled.

The Internal Revenue Bureau
said today the Denver oil man, who has been living in Paris, had paid
the government part of his deficiency tax and compromised other portions. The total was understood to be approximately $4,000,000.

Assistant Secretary Douglas of the Treasury said today, however,
this payment would not relieve Blackmer of criminal charges filed against him in the Colorado Federal court. The indictment alleges attempts to evade income taxes.

Denver, Colo., May 25.—(AP)—
The home town that Harry M.
Blackmer has not seen for five years speculated today as to whether the oil croesus would divest himself on a "Man Without a Country"
tag at a cost of millions.

Word was received by the Rocky Mountain News that Blackmer, who refused to come back from Paris
during the Teapot Dome scandals and thereby started a string of trouble for himself, has settled his tax difficulties with the federal government for $4,669,784.

A Washington dispatch to the newspaper said Blackmer adjusted
his civil liabilities with the government last Wednesday and that the U. S. Treasury has the cash it demanded. Through his attorneys at Washington, he was scheduled to pay today fines totaling $60,000 for failure to appear as a witness in two cases brought in federal court

here in connection with the oil scandals.
This led to belief in some quarters that Blackmer, tired of life in Paris and on the Riviera, was planning to come home. But the news said the payment of the millions did not purchase immunity from criminal prosecution, and that Blackmer must still face a fraud indictment in Colorado federal court. The indictment is connected with alleged attempts to evade income tax.

After the Teapot Dome scandals broke, Blackmer's presence was sought as a witness in the trials of Harry F. Sinclair and Albert B.
Fall, former secretary of the interior. He stuck to his refusal to return from Paris.

Following the revelation of the circumstances surrounding the leases of Teapot Dome and Elk Hills naval oil reserves a law was passed giving the government power to punish witnesses who refused to come from foreign countries to testify.

A summons was served on Blackmer, who was supposed to know much of the transactions of the Continental Trading Company,
which bought some of the Teapot Dome oil after the reserve passed to a Sinclair company. He paid no attention.

The government seized $100,000 in Liberty bonds he owned and he was fined $60,000.
Now, the dispatch to the News
said, his attorneys have signed a stipulation which confessed judgment for the full amount of taxes, penalties and interest on his income for the years, 1920-23 which the government, in final computations, held to be due the treasury.

Paris, May 25.—(AP)—Harry M.
Blackmer, American oil millionaire expatriate, said through his attorney here today his affairs in the United States are in the hands of his American attorney, George Gordon Battle. Discussing reports that Blackmer might be planning to go back to the United States if his affairs with the government were brought to a satisfactory conclusion, his attorney said he knew of no such plans.

Aged work of the mound, lasting variety comes high, but the Yankees stand ready to purchase another $1,200 worth of dental engineering any time they can be assured another pitcher like the canny Castilian, Vernon Gomez.

The slim southpaw, who blossomed into one of the game's greatest hurlers last season after the Yankee treasury had staked him to the expensive reinforcements, as paying Col. Jake Ruppert plenty of dividends.

Gomez gave his latest brilliant exhibition yesterday when he struck out thirteen batters, a new record for the season, and allowed only three hits in beating the Athletics, 3-1.

But for Chapman's muff of Simmons' fly in the seventh, Gomez's seventh triumph of the year would have been a shutout. Babe Ruth's 11th homerun in the first inning gave the league leaders an advantage they never relinquished.

Wes Ferrell couldn't protect a 6 to 1 lead, and the Chicago White Sox came from the rear to score 9 runs in the fifth and seventh frames and defeat Cleveland 11-7.

Edgy Goldstein, Detroit rookie, rang up 6 to 5 victory over the St. Louis Browns, even though he wobbled in the eighth and had to be relieved. Washington and Boston were not scheduled.

The Boston Braves dropped a 6-3 victory to Brooklyn but clung to their narrow hold on the National league top when the runner-up Chicago Cubs bowed to St. Louis 9-6.

Tight pitching by Van Mungo, Dodger recruit, and Hank Wilson's homerun in the first inning with two on caused the Braves' downfall. The Cubs lost largely because four of their pitchers could not check Jimmy Collins, who smacked two homeruns at da single.

The last place Pittsburgh nine took a scorcher from Cincinnati 5-3 when Pie Traynor, Pirate captain, tripled in the 12th inning with two on base.

Five Giants hurlers were plastered for 21 hits as the Phillies squared their series 11-8. Mel Ott belted two homeruns and a single for the losers.

Announce Parings For Local Golf Tournament

Qualifying rounds for the local golf tournament were completed yesterday afternoon and all eyes were turned today to the match which will bring into action the crack players of the community.

Dr. M. B. Massey emerged as low qualifier in the 36 hole preparatory contest with a low score of 153.

Mrs. W. L. Whichard and Mrs. Luther Herring tied for low medal score with 192 points each.

Due to the tournament schedule of the Eastern Carolina Golf Association and unfavorable weather conditions prevailing the last several days, the local tournament has been delayed and the final match must be played by June 4.

Here's the way they qualified:
Dr. M. B. Massey, 153; T. A. Smoot, Jr., 159; Luther Herring, 161; K. C. Carnahan, 165; J. M. Henderson, 166; W. L. Whichard, 168; L. H. Bowling, 172; Carey Mayo, 172; S. D. Hooker, 173; Earl Forbes, 175; Dr. W. M. B. Brown, 176; H. H. McCormick, 177; F. C. Bowles, 178; B. O. Taylor, 179; W. T.

RACE DRAW MUCH CLOSER IN PIEDMONT

Charlotte, May 25.—(AP)—Nearing the end of its first month, the Piedmont League race grew tighter and tighter as the tall ends turned on their more fortunate brethren with a vengeance.

After winning five straight, the fast climbing Durham Bulls met a tartar in Martin, Charlotte hurler, and were snowed under 15 to 4 by the seventh place Bees.

The Bulls won, they would have gone into second place over the Greensboro Patriots who lost to the High Point Greenies 7-6.

The Greensboro and Durham defeats put the Winston-Salem Twins a game and a half ahead of the pack when they held their own against Wilmington 4-3, after the Pirates a few days before had seriously threatened the season-long hold of the Twins on first place.

Dropping back into early season form, when every day produced at least one track meet for the outfielders, Raleigh fell on three Asheville pitchers to put a big bulge in the capital batting averages with 29 hits for an 18-5 victory. The Caps got six doubles and a triple, with H. Smith and Martin contributing a pair of doubles each. Asheville found Taylor for 12 safeties—a total of 41 hits in the nine innings. Raleigh batted .537 as a team, and bringing its season batting average above the 300 mark.

The last series of the first month of play opens today, with only four and a half games separating top and bottom clubs, with Greensboro and Durham virtually tied for second and Raleigh and Wilmington tied for fourth.
