

Now Is The Time For Democrats To Stand By Party

Pitt County is Democratic and we urge all good Democrats to bear this fact in mind when they go to the polls tomorrow lest they cast a vote for candidates sponsored by an organization that within less than two years time, has openly urged the Democrats of this county to bolt the party lines and vote for Republicans to serve on our Board of County Commissioners. We refer to the Pitt County Tax Relief Association and we urge our people to vote for candidates for the Board of Commissioners who are not affiliated with the association, and over whom the association will have no control. When we say the Pitt County Tax Payers Associations we are making no charge against those individuals who have allied themselves with this organization sincerely believing that the organization was sponsored for the benefit of the people of our county. NORTH CAROLINA TO GO TO POLLS TOMORROW

Candidates Make Final Rally In Pitt

VOTERS READY TO GO TO THE BALLOT BOXES

Seventy-Five Men To Make Bid for Various County Offices in the State-wide Primary Saturday.

Pitt county people will go to the polls tomorrow to cast their vote in one of the most colorful primaries in the memory of the oldest inhabitants.

The election will not only be featured by a record crop of candidates but is expected to bring out the largest number of voters in years, or probably in history of the county.

Election officials yesterday appealed to voters to vote as early as possible to relieve congestion at the polls, especially in Greenville, where poll holders are forced to work at top speed to take care of the situation.

Early voting by city residents will enable people from other parts of the township to vote more rapidly than under ordinary circumstances, and eliminate much of the congestion occurring at the last minute in recent years.

The primary will be conducted at the courthouse under the Australian Ballot system. The polls will open at 4:58 and close at 7:26. The same time will be observed in each precinct of the county.

Candidates went in to the byways and hedges today to make last-minute appeals to their constituents. The campaign has been waged in a vigorous fashion for the last month, and the pot has been boiling furiously the last several days.

The bid for the various offices is being made by seventy-five candidates. While the contest for virtually all offices is stiff, it is probably the greatest fight is centered around the office of sheriff, legislative seats, the board of county commissioners and county court.

Sheriff Whitehurst is faced by three contestants, two of whom are former holders of the office and the other a former deputy sheriff.

Six candidates are seeking seats in the House of Representatives. Two of them are E. G. Flanagan and J. W. Holmes, incumbents. In the Senate race A. B. Corey is opposed by F. M. Wooten.

The race for county commissioner is furnishing more interest than any similar contest in several years. Ten men are seeking five seats on the board, and only two of the number T. E. Joyner and S. I. Dudley, are members of the present board.

Jack Spain and Harry Brown are opposing W. J. Bundy for the solicitorship of county court, and W. C. Harris and Dink James are after the judgeship.

Dr. Robert H. Wright Jr. is opposing A. A. Ellwanger for county coroner.

Gus Stokes, Greenville township constable, is faced by more opposition than any other incumbent seeking reelection. Seven others are seeking this office and the race has developed into one of the most spectacular in the memory of the oldest political leaders.

Following is the ballot to be voted tomorrow. Voters are requested to be careful in the marking of the ballots and to place a cross mark in the square () at the left of the name of the candidate they desire to vote for.

DEMOCRATIC PRIMARY BALLOT

United States Senator and State Officers

1. To vote for a candidate on the ballot make a cross (X) mark in the square at the left of his name.

2. If you tear or deface or wrongfully mark this ballot, return it to the registrar and get another.

Roosevelt Says Seabury One To File Walker Case

Albany, N. Y., June 3.—(AP)—Governor Roosevelt said today that it was the duty of the legislative committee and Samuel Seabury to make charges against Mayor Walker, "if they believe they have sufficient cause," without waiting to make formal report to the next legislature.

The governor's statement was an answer to published reports that Seabury, the committee's counsel, intended to hold up formal charges against the mayor of New York to give time for Governor Roosevelt to act on his own initiative. The statement by Governor (Continued on page six)

FLANAGAN CO. WINS SUIT

The John Flanagan Buggy Company of Greenville was awarded judgment for $207 against J. L. and F. E. Baum in the civil term of Pitt County Superior court here yesterday.

The suit grew out of a note which the Baums gave the local concern in the purchase of an automobile truck. The entire amount involved was recovered.

SPITALE HELD IN RUM CASE

New York, June 3.—(AP)—Salvatore Spitalo, one of the "mystery men" in the Lindbergh kidnaping case, was swept up in a police net flung into the Playtime club in Broadway's bright light district today.

The raid, in which liquor was seized, bore no apparent connection to the Lindbergh case. Police found a gun on Spitalo, but he produced a permit signed by Judge William E. Thorpe of Greene county.

Saturday's Paper To be Issued Early Sunday Morning

Carrying out the regular policy of the paper, Saturday's edition of The Daily Reflector will not be issued until complete reports have been received from the state-wide primary early Sunday morning. The paper will maintain regular bulletin service Saturday night and readers are invited to visit the office and take advantage of the full leased wire Associated Press reports covering both the county and state tabulations.

Election officials in the various townships are requested to co-operate with the paper in this effort to compile reports as quickly as possible by telephoning returns as soon as the count has been completed.

REVENUE BILL REACHES GOAL

Entire Amount Desired Carried in Revised Legislation

Washington, June 3.—(AP)—The revised revenue bill agreed upon by congressional conferees in last night's record breaking session provides approximately $1,115,000,000—the goal set by the administration.

Clerks worked furiously today in an effort to get the compromise legislation in form to submit to the House, where leaders plan action by tomorrow.

Forced to reach out for every available source of revenue to meet the new demands of the government the conferees accepted the higher individual and corporation income tax rates provided by the Senate.

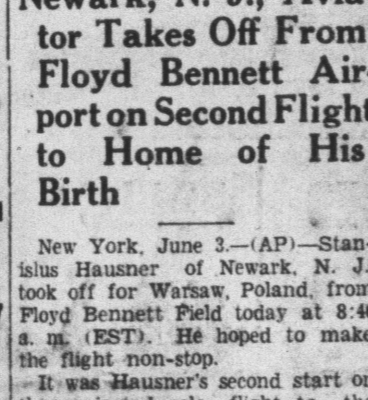

All four import taxes—on lumber and copper as well as oil and coal—were kept in the bill.

The new income tax schedule is up to the 1921 level. Normal rates are four per cent on the first $4,000 and eight per cent on income over $4,000 with a surtax schedule graduating to a minimum of 55 per cent income in excess of $1,000,000.

The corporation tax voted by the Senate is 14 per cent.

BABES IN WASHINGTON TO HELP DAD

Tired and a bit bewildered after a bus journey from Detroit, these three children of Charles R. Feagan are shown as they arrived in Washington to seek help from President Hoover in behalf of their father, accused of transporting a stolen auto across a state line. Friends and a bus line provided them with funds and transportation for the journey. Left to right: Bernice, 13; Irene, 11, and Clifford, 10.

The activities of the commencement season at East Carolina Teachers College, in which large groups of students participate, class day exercises, and Y. W. C. A. vespers, are scheduled for late afternoon and early evening on Saturday and Sunday, June 4 and 5.

DEFER ACTION AGAINST TAXES

Board of Aldermen Again Postpone Advertising of Delinquent Taxes 30 Days

The advertising of delinquent 1931 city taxes was postponed for 30 days by the Board of Aldermen meeting in regular session at the City Hall last night.

It was the second time that advertising had been postponed and the action came after considerable discussion of the subject.

Several other matters were considered in one of the shortest sessions in months in addition to the handling of regular routine business.

Alfred Barnhill, representing the colored fire department, asked for permission to conduct a warehouse dance July 4, and received it. The proceeds will go to the entertainment of colored firemen of the state who will meet here in August.

The board turned down a request of L. G. Curry that he be permitted to move his pool room for colored people from the cotton mill district to Dickinson avenue.

Primary To Be Marked By Heaviest Ticket Ever Put Before The People

Length of Ticket and Heavy Voting Will Slow Down Compilation of Ballots in Various Parts of the State; Reports of Campaign Managers Conflict Sharply on Eve of Balloting

Raleigh, June 3.—(AP)—North Carolinians tomorrow will ballot on the heaviest state ticket ever placed before Democratic voters and the largest primary vote ever recorded is anticipated.

There are 32 names listed on the Democratic ballot which will be voted on in each of the 100 counties and there are two Republican names on the ticket of that party, as only one office is being contested. In addition there are contests for congress in the Third, Sixth and Eleventh districts and for solicitor in the 12 Judicial district.

There will be 141-2 voting hours, the polls opening in the various sections of the state at sunrise, closing at sunset.

Due to the extremely heavy ticket being voted on for local offices in practically every county, as well as the long state list, managers of the campaigns of the three gubernatorial candidates said today they anticipated that the count would be very slow as compared with recent years. Minimum predictions are that 250,000 votes will be cast, about 20,000 more than in any previous primary.

All returns tomorrow night and Sunday will be unofficial.

At 11 o'clock Monday morning, under the primary law, all county boards of election must meet at the county court houses and canvass the returns, declare the local election results and forward the vote for all state and district candidates.

As is customary, reports of the campaign managers of various candidates conflicted sharply today. From the camps of each of the three gubernatorial candidates, Alvin J. Maxwell, J. C. B. Ehringhaus and R. T. Fountain, came assertions each would be in the second primary, which is generally anticipated.

South Honors Jefferson Davis

Beauvoir, Miss., June 3.—(AP)—The south told of its love for a vanquished leader today with kind words and ceremonies as the people he led through a war observed the 324th birthday anniversary of Jefferson Davis.

The tribute to the Confederacy's only president was simple with no trace of bitterness over his fate. Southern speakers who always will accept him as an idealist who lost a fight extolled his accomplishments and great grandchildren of men he called to arms left their studies to drop flowers on graves of his soldiers.

Banks in most southern cities closed today. A salute was fired in his honor at Memphis and general commander of the United Confederate Veterans, C. A. Desauress had charge of a Jefferson Day program there.

New Orleans' schools had exercises and there was a parade to monuments and cemeteries. Nashville closed its municipal offices and had services at the Confederate Soldiers Home, and there were services at Chattanooga, Atlanta, and Montgomery, where he took the oath of office to support a new flag.

The state of Mississippi maintains a home for his soldiers here where he once lived.

Red Men Stage Washington Bicentennial Celebration at High School

Several hundred people from various towns in this part of the state attended the Washington Bicentennial celebration staged in the high school auditorium last night by the local order of Red Men and Poochentas assisted by several Greenville people.

The celebration was marked by the presentation of a colorful pageant "Twilight on Mount Vernon," written by D. A. Windham, Greenville minister. It was the first time the play had been rendered in its entirety and several historical points which had faded from the pages of history were vividly reproduced.

The spacious auditorium was packed to overflowing by members of the order in addition to scores of people desiring to witness the first rendition of the play.

Tammany - Prohibition Hold Political Spotlight

Washington, June 3.—(AP)—Two familiar headlines of many a past campaign—Tammany and prohibition—come very near to monopolizing political speculation as the two parties pack up their troubles and prepare to fight it out.

For the Democrats, the big convention question is who will be the presidential nominee; and at the bottom of that, for the moment at least, is the problem of what Governor Roosevelt will do to Tammany, and what Tammany will do to him, and what the convention will think about it all.

Among the Republicans, the only great uncertainty is over the platform; the nine-tenths of that uncertainty is clustered under the single heading of what to say about the dry laws.

Definite developments on both of these subjects have been provided during the present week, while delegate-choosing was at a standstill and other determining events were almost entirely lacking.

From a political standpoint, not even the rumpus in Washington over taxes and economy attracted anything like the attention which centered about the Seabury investigation in New York. It is hard to figure out where the congressional tangle has produced any new issues, but it is easy to see that far-sweeping consequences may possibly bow from the expected demand that Governor Roosevelt remove Mayor Walker from office.

Although there is the widest difference of opinion among practical politicians as to the direction (Continued on page six)

Banquet Outstanding Success
The long-anticipated Junior-Senior banquet took place on the evening of Friday, May 13, in the high school gymnasium; and was by all means a decided success—perhaps the best ever given in the Greenville high school.

The decorations were particularly attractive. The color scheme was red and white, and carried out in the improvised roof and in the table decorations. Red candles furnished the light during the banquet, and roses were used on the table.

A delicious four-course menu was prepared by Mrs. Reeves; and served by girls from the Sophomore class.

The toasts and responses added much to the banquet. Bancroft moseley acted as toastmaster. Jim Slay, president of the Junior class, welcomed the seniors; and Louis Skinner, president of the senior class, responded. Mrs. Waldrop gave two beautiful vocal numbers. Isabel Whitehurst, welcomed the faculty, and V. M. Mulholland responded. The brevity of these speeches, and the unusual ability of the toastmaster was an attractive feature of this program.

After the banquet, dancing was enjoyed in the gymnasium until 12 o'clock. An orchestra from Goldsboro furnished the music.

Seniors Offered Scholarships
During the past week several letters have been received by Superintendent Rose from various colleges offering scholarships to worthy seniors.

One of the most attractive offers was made by H. W. Providence, President of Greenville Woman's College, Greenville, S. C. This college is now affiliated with Furman University, and is an unusually inviting place. The scholarship offered by the school to some worthy senior is worth $125.

High Point College, according to N. M. Harrison, is offering to some Greenville senior a scholarship valued at $100. Preference to some student of limited means and music ability is suggested. This award is to be made on the basis of character, scholarship, and leadership. Other colleges are expected to announce their scholarships soon.

High School Lingo
Here's hoping:
That the freshmen will be better sophomores.
That the sophomores will sponsor a good junior-senior banquet.
That the juniors may competently fill the places vacated by seniors.
That the seniors will be a happy, loyal, prosperous group wherever they go.

Wednesday morning Miss Schindler took pictures of the Glee club groups (even the Boys' Glee club) which represented the high school in the music contest. A frowning success may be the outcome.

It pays to be a mover for Mr. Rose.
It certainly is pathetic to see groups of seniors standing around detention hall crying because they can't go to school another month.
Even if "Mac" did pick on Bancroft, I've always said he was "Physically a genius. Bancroft received the highest exam grade in Physics. Hats off to Bancroft!

"Last Will and Testament" (33)
We, the class of 1932, being of unsound minds and broken bodies and spirits, and realizing that we are soon to be numbered with the dead, do arouse ourselves from our dying condition in sufficient manner to hereby, in the presence of these witnesses, declare this to be our last will and testament, and also to declare any other heretofore or hereafter written to be null and void.

Art. 1.—To our full worthy superintendent, it is our pleasure to express our deepest gratitude for the timely aid and fatherly advice he has given us on every occasion. Also we leave him for next year the three remaining classes plus the incoming freshmen, who together will form a creditable audience upon whom he may practice "making a speech."

Art. 2.—With breaking hearts we nominate Willie Warren for "hero" and president of the future freshmen classes.

Art. 3.—To the seniors of '33 we leave undaunted hope and tenacious courage by which they may be blessed with their full and generous share of "privileges" together with our sincerest wishes that they enjoy the fruit of their efforts to the utmost.

Art. 4.—We wish to thank the faculty from the bottom our hearts for their kind and patient services and efforts of advancement during these four long years. In doing this, however, we wish to bring to mind the fact that the same work with an ordinary class would long before now have rendered them old, wrinkled, and gray. If they wish to preserve youth and sweet dispositions, we would advise that they always seek to deal with classes as nearly our equals as they can find.

Art. 5.—To the aspiring junior class we leave our class-rooms. We'll have them held out against onslaughts of chalk and erasers. To the worthy class also we leave our friend, "Cupid," who has played such an important role in our school work.

Art. 6.—It is also our desire and intention that the following articles and talents be transferred to the hereinafter named person or persons:

Sec. 1.—To Mattie Moye Gavilord we bestow the quietness of Rosa Lee Briley.

Sec. 2.—To Lynette Dixon, Maria Garrett has condescended to submit her cherished book of "Beauty Secrets."

Sec. 3.—To George Willard we leave the hope that Stanley Seago will soon stop charging him for his lessons in "How to be Attractive."

Sec. 4.—To Martha Scoville we bequeath the happy anticipation of being the life of the party with Laura Fleming's astounding wit.

Sec. 5.—To Mildred Herring we bestow Augusta William's athletic ability.

Sec. 6.—To Virginia Pierce we bequeath the inferiority complex of Janice McGowan.

Sec. 7.—To Jim Slay we leave "some" of Ed and Louis Skinner's ability to charm.

Sec. 8.—To Lorraine Skinner and Gladys Gaston we leave the concentrated and undivided attention in class of Ruth and Frances Willard in the hope that they will profit accordingly.

Sec. 9.—To Mrs. Herring we leave all the future tardies of the school, being satisfied that they will be safe and receive just treatment.

Sec. 10.—To Miss Shindler we leave a fish so that her pupils will be sure to get their scales right.

Sec. 11.—To David Hardee we leave a ham. We hope that he likes this as well as he does Hugh W. In return, Hugh leaves the back seat of his car to David and his next girl.

Sec. 12.—To Billy Staton. Grit leaves "Froggie" her car so that he can take his paper route more quickly.

Sec. 13.—To Miss Rogers we leave ten packages of gum, so that she can serve it, and encourage her bookkeepers in third period class to chew all period.

Sec. 14.—To Miss McArthur, Louis Clark leaves his success in leading his chosen one to altar, in hopes that this may have some marked effect on one particular member of our austere faculty.

Sec. 15.—To Mr. Porter, we leave a wheelbarrow in hopes that it will be of lasting benefit to him in moving chairs in and out of chapel.

Sec. 16.—To Miss Scarborough, a chronological table of dates in American history so that she can always refer to it and never be forced into the embarrassing predicament of having to ask a senior for a date. Incidentally, we feel that this would be a decided relief for the seniors, and save them from clogging up their minds with a great deal of excess baggage.

Sec. 17.—To Miss Powell, we leave a book on salesmanship so that she can help a particular friend in the pursuing of his life work.

Sec. 18.—To Miss Tyson, Lib Ferguson leaves a meal ticket to her mother's dining room, for we hear she is interested in one of the boarders at her most respective home.

Sec. 19.—To Mrs. Bowen, we leave R. E. Pittman as a compensation for losing John Blanchard in History.

Sec. 20.—To Mr. Mulholland, we leave a dictaphone in hopes that this will provide an outlet for his loquacity and thus relieve the economic Senior class.

Sec. 21.—To Miss Maddus, the senior girls leave a white dress. We hope she packs it in white tissue paper and shows it to the next year senior girls.

Sec. 22.—To our oncoming senior class, we leave our deepest sympathy in regard to History II.

Sec. 23.—To Miss Horne, we suggest that she nominate Frank Wooten to take Joe Hatem's place in second period French class.

Sec. 24.—To Mrs. Pickelsimer, Nellie Bixton leaves her sarsaparilla.

Sec. 25.—To Miss Smith we leave a 193 basket-knobby decorated with 12 tear-proof handkerchiefs. We hope she will not need this with her next year's basketball team.

Sec. 26.—The senior boys donate to the girls' basketball team long trousers so they may see them practice next year every afternoon after school.

Sec. 27.—Dan Wright leaves his "Callaway" style to Bancroft Moseley.

Sec. 28.—We suggest to the teachers that they pay Miss Bridges' car fare next year before she is forced to use Mr. Udeley's Ford.

Sec. 29.—Margaret Bostic leaves her suturing to Charles Snun.

Sec. 30.—Catherine Tyson and Elizabeth Ferguson leave their debating ability to Isabel Whitehurst and Carolyn Hamric.

Sec. 31.—To Miss Thomas, the good friends of Jim Moye wish her the best of luck in her useful advice to the love-lover.

Sec. 32.—Of course we have an unlimited supply of talents in store. We have bestowed where we saw the greatest need, but if anyone, feeling the need, will come to us, we will no doubt have just what he shall ask for.

This Will and Testament has been duly and properly drawn up by the class lawyers, and the hands and heels of the class of 1932 are placed thereunto.

WANT ADS PAY

To The Voters of Pitt County

I am a candidate for Solicitor of the Recorder's Court. The duties of Solicitor, the prosecution of the criminal court docket, require a lawyer of some experience in the trial of cases and the general practice of law. I have had almost six years of experience in the practice of law.

Upon the resignation of Wm. S. Tyson as Solicitor, on February 1 of this year, out of seven applicants before the Board of Commissioners, I was unanimously appointed to fill out his unexpired term. I stand upon the record during the four months I have been Solicitor. If my conduct of the office during the four months I have served has been satisfactory, I earnestly solicit nomination and election for a full term.

If nominated and elected, I promise to continue to vigorously prosecute all cases on the docket, with fairness to all and partiality to none, and to so conduct the office as to merit the confidence thus placed in me.

I shall greatly appreciate your vote and your support.

- Putting into effect the MacLean Law, taking off all property tax for school purposes;
- All the economy in Government possible;
- The abolition of all needless and unnecessary offices and commissions of the State Government;
- Efficient schools and health department;
- A State Government that is not dominated by any powerful interest;
- A return to Jeffersonian Democracy instead of continuing the Hamiltonian tendencies.
- Balancing the State Budget and maintaining the credit of the State of North Carolina;
- Making it unlawful for any man to be appointed to any office which he helped to create.
- Mr. Fountain stands against the short ballot and wants every voter to have the freedom to select State officers.
- We are going to vote for him because he stood by us in the last Legislature and helped to reduce property taxes, while some candidates refused to turn a hand to help us.

TEMPLE-JONES

Noon Wedding in Memorial Baptist Church

The Memorial Baptist Church was the scene of a beautiful wedding today at high noon, when Miss Elizabeth Winn Jones became the bride of Burwell Temple of Kinston. The church was appropriately decorated in keeping with the occasion and a green and white color note was emphasized in white cut flowers and ferns. The choir loft and rostrum were covered in white and banked with ferns. Tall wicker baskets of peonies, Madonna lilies, phlox, gladioli and dahlias interspersed the green. The only light used was from cathedral candles arranged in tiers on either side of the rostrum. Numerous maline bows added an airiness to the scene.

Just before the entrance of the bridal party an enjoyable musical program was furnished by Mrs. J. L. Fleming, organist, Mrs. Charles A. White, soprano, and W. W. Lee, tenor. Mrs. Fleming wore a gown of white crepe and white hat and a shoulderette of white roses and sweet peas. She used "Lohengrin's Wedding March" by Wagner, as a processional, and the Wedding March from "Mid Summer Night's Dream," by Mendelssohn, as a recessional. She softly played the "Sweetest Story Ever Told" and "Oh Promise Me" during the ceremony.

Mrs. White wore a flesh lace gown with pink hat and her shoulderette was sweetheart roses and pink sweet peas. She sang "Because" by DeHardenlot. Mr. Lee sang "Until" by Sanderson.

The ushers were first to enter the church. They were Thomas Mewborn of Kinston, Dempsey Hodges of Winston-Salem, John Hood of Kinston, and Henry Temple of Kinston, brother of the bridegroom.

Miss Helen Gray Jones of Baltimore elder sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She entered alone. She wore a frock of peach romaine crepe made on long lines with cow neck with blue hat, gloves and slippers, and carried an arm bouquet of pernet roses, showered with sweet peas and delphinium.

The bride entered with her younger brother, J. Frasia Jones of Baltimore. She was lovely in a suit of French blue Jacques crepe worn with a blouse of French organdy. All her accessories were a darker shade of blue. She carried a bouquet of bride's roses with a shower of valley lilies. She was met at the altar by the groom with his brother, Herbert Temple of Kinston. Rev. H. Frederick Jones of Baltimore, the bride's father, performed the beautiful ceremony.

The bride is the second daughter of the Reverend and Mrs. H. Frederick Jones of Baltimore. She comes of prominent Carolina and Virginia families. During her father's pastorate of Memorial Baptist Church here, she made her home in this city and later graduated from East Carolina Teachers College here. Since graduation, she has been a member of the faculty of the Kinston city school, and during her residence in Eastern Carolina has made scores of warm friends. She is a young woman of unusual charm and beauty.

The groom is the son of Mrs. Nannie N. Temple and the late Dr. R. H. Temple, distinguished pharmacist of Kinston. He is a graduate of the Atlanta School of Pharmacy and a member of the firm Temple Drug Co., in Kinston. Both the bride and groom are popular among a wide circle of friends throughout the Eastern part of the state.

The bride's mother wore a gown of blue crepe with shoulderette of pink roses. The groom's mother wore white with a shoulderette of white roses.

After a wedding trip to New York and Atlantic City, Mr. and Mrs. Temple will make their home in Kinston.

Mrs. Ryan Honored.

Farmville, June 1.—Charming in every detail and the most beautiful of recent socials was the party given by Mrs. S. M. Whitehurst Jr. at her home on Monday evening honoring Mrs. W. D. Bryan of Charlotte, a former resident and a guest of Mrs. M. V. Jones.

The color motif of pink and green was effectively carried in the cut flowers, punch table decorations, tallies, ices and the table prizes of tinted glass flower bowls and bon bon dishes won by Mrs. J. Y. Monk Miss Chrystelle Lucas, Miss Add Bynum, Mrs. S. A. Roebuck, Mrs. M. V. Horton Mrs. W. M. Willis, Mrs. B. Streeter Sheppard and Mrs. J. L. Shackelford. The honoree received a vial of jade perfume.

Contract Club.

Farmville, June 2.—Mrs. Wesley Willis delightfully entertained the Contract Club on Tuesday afternoon at her home on Walnut street which was lovely with decorations of roses, larkspur and sweetpeas. Colonial tallies were used by guests in finding places and the prize for high score, won by Mrs. M. V. Horton, were colonial plaques. A delectable salad course was served after several progressions.

PITT COUNTY SHORT COURSE AT COLLEGE

The sixth annual Pitt County Short Course for women will open at East Carolina Teachers College June 7 at 10.00 a. m.

A three-day program has been arranged, including three classes and a general program each day.

Miss Mary E. Thomas, state extension nutritionist, will give the food work. On Tuesday her morning period will be devoted to demonstrations and lecture on "Simple Desserts." In the afternoon she will give "Child Feeding." Wednesday the demonstrations will be "Invalid Cookery" and "Light Refreshments and How to Serve Them." Miss Thomas is very popular with the food leaders in the county and you will enjoy her classes. You will find her in the foods laboratory in the science building.

Those women and girls who like to do needlework will find a treat in room 204 of the Austin building. Misses Alma Stokes, Ethel Little and Bertha Hart will be there with a miscellaneous assortment of handkerchiefs. For the first day bring scraps of English print, unbleached domestic, colored threads, burlap, colored woolen, yarn needles, thimble, scissors, etc.

Misses Florence Overton and Sarah Brown Braxton will teach music appreciation and organize a two-part chorus in room 123 of the Austin building. If you like music meet them there Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock.

All morning classes will meet from 10 to 11:45 and afternoon classes from 2 to 3:45.

CATHOLICS RESPOND TO POPE'S APPEAL FOR PRAYER

The congregation of St. Peter's Catholic Church began this morning "an act of prayer and reparation to Almighty God" in response to the recent Encyclical of His Holiness Pius XI. The Holy Father in the course of his message called upon all Christians—Catholics and non-Catholics alike—to offer their prayers for eight days in the present period of distress of the human race. A part of the message is as follows:

"May this be indeed for the whole Christian people an octave of reparation and of holy sadness; let these be days of mortification and of prayer. Let the faithful abstain at least from entertainment and amusements however lawful; let those who are in easier circumstances deduct also something voluntarily, in the spirit of Christian austerity, from the moderate measure of their usual manner of life, bestowing rather on the poor the proceeds of this retrenchment, since almsgiving is also an excellent means of satisfying divine justice and drawing down divine mercies."

"And let this time be facing the hard trial of want of work and scarcity of food, let them in a like spirit of penance offer with greater resignation the privations imposed on them by those hard times; as Providence in an inscrutable but ever loving plan has assigned them let them accept with an humble and trustful heart from the hand of God and effects of poverty, rendered harder by the distress in which mankind is now struggling; let them rise more generously even to the divine sublimity of the Cross of Christ, reflecting on the fact that if work is among the greatest values of life, it was never the less love of a suffering God that saved the world; let them take comfort in the certainty that their sacrifices and their troubles borne in a Christian spirit will concur efficaciously to hasten the hour of mercy and peace."

The local observance began this morning with the offering of the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass at the Chapel of Christ Our King. A large crowd was present, and all received Holy Communion.

This evening services will be held at 8 o'clock at St. Peter's chapel on Second street. Special decorations and music have been arranged for the occasion. This order of services will be followed during the novena. A special invitation is extended to all to join in this time of prayer.

Bost Discovered Orange Crush

Lovers of Orange-Crush, the popular drink that's made with fresh orange juice, will be interested in learning that this delicious beverage was made possible by the genius of the same man who made canned ripe olives safe to eat. Ten years ago, Dr. W. Dale Bost, having solved the problem that was baffling the olive canners, turned his attention to the development of a process for making a bottle drink with fresh, uncooked orange juice. After years of research this great food expert solved this problem too.

Until Dr. Bost developed his process, the problem of bottling fresh fruit juices baffled everyone. Fresh juice spoils easily and cooking destroys its flavor. Dr. Bost's exclusive process preserves the fresh juice without cooking. It makes possible the manufacture of a bottled drink with all the health-giving vitamins, as well as delicious flavor and the zestful tang of fresh orange juice.

Orange-Crush is the only beverage permitted to use Dr. Bost's exclusive process. This popular five cents drink is made in the heart of the orange country with the luscious juice of tree-ripened, oranges picked just as they reach the peak of flavor and sweetness.

Scientists in a leading university recently completed exhaustive tests of "Orange-Crush" for vitamin strength. They were amazed at the results. For the tests showed beyond any doubt that Orange-Crush, prepared and handled by the standard method, retains full strength the precious vitamin C found in the fresh juice.

Orange-Crush is bottled in this city by Orange Crush Bottling Co.

Mrs. Putnam was greeted here at the Maritime Station by the mayor. She wore a brown ensemble. "I flew the Atlantic because I thought it was time some woman should do it," she told the mayor when he greeted her.

The first thing she plans to do when she returns to the United States, she said, is to fly her husband to California on a business trip.

Mr. Putnam arrived aboard the yacht on a tug from the Olympic. He dashed to his wife's cabin to greet her and remained there ten minutes.

Later he said: "I'm terribly proud of her, but I hope trans-Atlantic flying won't become a habit with her."

the association, we are unable to say, for if there is a roster of membership we have never seen it, but we do know that Mr. Seth T. Hooker is president of the association and that Judge F. M. Wooten is spokesman for the association and apparently the power behind the throne of all its workings.

Four years ago Judge Wooten ran for the office of County Commissioner and was elected, but when it came time to take the oath of office Judge Wooten was not qualified to serve under the laws of our state because he was a practicing attorney and therefore he could not serve and since that time he has been most active, not in seeking the office for himself but evidently seeking it for men over whom he could exercise control.

In the campaign of 1930 he was most active in the Democratic Primary in behalf of such a group of candidates for the office of commissioner but the primary resulted in the nomination of only one of the candidates sponsored by Wooten and his associates and all hope for control of the board vanished unless in some way two more men could be squeezed on the ticket before the voters again went to the polls in November of that year. Very shortly after the Democrats had nominated their ticket with only one Wooten candidate on it the Republicans held their convention, at which time their county ticket was nominated. In his frantic efforts at control, Judge Wooten and his associates immediately endorsed two of the Republican candidates for the Board of Commissioners and openly by oral solicitation and printed circulars urged the voters of this county, both Democrats and Republicans, to vote a Commissioners' ticket composed of Dudley (Democrat) and Johnson and Smith (Republicans) in order that the board might have a majority acceptable to the Tax Relief Association. The good Democrats in our county did not fall for this political effort and only the Democrat sponsored by the Wooten-Hooker organization was successful in the election and with but one representative on the board control by Wooten was impossible. Since that day there has been a redoubled effort on the part of Judge Wooten's organization to gain control of the county's affairs this year and now he and his associates are wholeheartedly in the Democratic Primary fight seeking to get our good Democrats to nominate their handpicked ticket. It is our opinion that the Democrats of our county will again turn thumbs down on most of, if not all, the Wooten sponsored candidates and if so there is little doubt that before the coming November election Judge Wooten and his organization will again be lined up in support of Republicans in his efforts to get control of the county board.

Tomorrow the Democrats of our county will go to the polls to nominate their candidates for the coming election and we urge them to cast their votes for men free from the least suspicion of control by any group or organization that has within less than two years attempted to trade off the Democratic party in the county to the Republicans.

Mill Workers Out on Strike

Spartanburg, June 3.—(AP)—Approximately 200 employes of the Arcadia Mills plants here struck today in protest against what they said was a wage reduction and a policy of discrimination against union labor.

No disorder occurred but several county constables were distributed around the two plants to guard against any possible outbreak.

Gates leading to the plants were under guard and none of the striking workmen was allowed to enter the mill grounds.

Mill officials made no statement and beyond giving a bare summary of their reasons for striking, the workers maintained silence.

While both plants were in operation today, only a small number of operatives who refused to walk out continued at their places.

Large crowds gathered in the vicinity of the plants and remained there throughout the morning.

At 6 o'clock the scene will shift to the borders of the lake on East Campus, where the four year seniors will present a pageant, "The Fountain of All the Muses."

The theme of this pageant was suggested by the plan of the graduating classes of 1932 to share in presentation of an ornamental fountain for the center of Wright circle. Their gift is the pool to which the fountain will be added in the future.

The pageant attempts to interpret the fountain as a symbol of the spirit of learning through all time and he inspiration of East Carolina Teachers College for world-wide service.

The pageant was arranged by a member of the graduating class, Lelia Ellen Belk. The costumes were designed by Myra Scull, a graduate in home economics. Mr. R. C. Deal, class adviser, has charge of this part of the program. Mrs. P. W. Picklesimer is directing the dances.

At 6:30 Sunday evening on the woodland stage on West Campus, the Vesper service of the Y. W. C. A., a beautiful "Litany of Comradeship," will be held. The retiring president, Cullie Stafford, will represent the Spirit of the Y. W. C. A.; and the new president, Ethel Parker, the Spirit of Love. The girls who take the parts of Friendliness, Co-operation, Service, Sincerity, Loyalty, Courage, Joy, Sympathy, Understanding, and Helpfulness, are elected by secret ballot by the students and are not known until they appear in their parts.

On Friday evening at 8:30 the Music Department of the College will present its piano students in a recital. The E. C. T. C. Ensemble, violins, flute, and piano, also will appear on the program. The Glee Club will also sing.

N. C. MAN FACES FORGER PLOT

He was being held in jail here in lieu of $50,000 bond by request of Jacksonville, Fla., officers, who said they wished to question him in connection with a $115,000 check forgery plot there against the Al-mours Securities, Inc., owned by Alfred I. Dupont, president of the Florida National Bank of Jacksonville.

Advices from Jacksonville said Chadwick was believed to have operated as a member of the swindle ring under the name of John Dickson. One man, Richard Gillman, was reported in jail in the Florida city in connection with the case, and authorities were searching for six others.

Chadwick, until arrested here shortly after midnight today, had been free under $30,000 bond in the Richmond bank loot case, in which he is charged with receiving and attempting to dispose of stolen goods. He also faces a charge in Richmond of attempting to bribe a detective who was investigating the bond case, and another in Washington of transporting stolen goods into the District of Columbia.

Chadwick was for many years widely known in real estate and business circles here, and had been intimately connected with organization and operation of numerous business concerns.

He has denied throughout that he knew the Philadelphia bonds were stolen, claiming he was merely acting as agent for a friend when he sought to have them cashed at the Federal Reserve Bank in Richmond.

Gambler's Throw

By EUSTACE L. ADAMS

SYNOPSIS: Racing along in an airplane Jerry Calhoun and his friend, Emory Battles, search for the kidnapers of Nancy Wentworth and two well-known millionaires. In letters demanding ransom the kidnapers have given instructions to leave the money in a rowboat moored ten miles southeast of the Montauk point lighthouse. No boats may remain within eight miles of the rowboat. But Jerry and Emory hope to trick the gang by using an airplane for pursuit. Jerry is particularly concerned with catching the men, because he was with Nancy when she was abducted, and although he was hurt in an attempt to help her, he feels responsible for her capture. That the captors are of superior intelligence is plainly seen from the letters. No promise has been made as to the return of the prisoners, but there are veiled threats about the results if instructions are not carried out.

Jerry's eyes followed the line of Emory's pointing arm. There, perhaps eight miles from shore, were three child-size destroyers, steaming eastward in a fan-shaped formation. Four or five minutes later, off Southampton, another could be seen, idling along a mile or two off the beach. Between East Hampton and Amagansett they flew over a half-dozen coast guard boats. The plane was flying at its ceiling, sixteen thousand feet, when its crew saw the lighthouse at Montauk point slide beneath their low-lying wings. They gaped down in astonishment. Hidden on the Gardiner's bay side of the point were four more racket boats and another destroyer. Between the point and Block Island could be seen several of the larger rum-chasing patrol craft, which were drifting about, apparently in designated position, awaiting the call to action.

Jerry turned sharply over the lighthouse and headed on a southerly course bearing straight out to sea. As he had anticipated, he soon saw an almost invisible white speck on the water which represented, presumably, the rowboat in which a fortune in hundred dollar bills awaited the kidnapers.

From their lofty seats Jerry and Emory could see that the authorities, acting in cooperation with the coast guard, had drawn a network of ships about the boat from which it would be almost impossible to escape. Yet each of the guard ships was so far away from the rowboat as to be invisible at sea level. Jerry understood the strategy that was so evident from above. The kidnapers' speedboat would undoubtedly be permitted to approach the rowboat unhindered. Having grabbed the satchel containing the money, the criminals would turn to race for safety. But the chances of successfully eluding the cordon of vigilant ships seemed, from the air, to be slight indeed.

Jerry hoped that he was flying sufficiently high to be unobserved. Emory studied the outlying ring of ships, rejoicing in the tense excitement of the moment. What a big thing this might turn out to be! He was content with life again for the first time in months. Surfeited with the hothouse atmosphere of New York night club life, he had turned the key on his Gramercy park apartment. For a while, he had enjoyed the quiet calm of the mid-Victorian house on Beacon street, Boston. But as usual, six weeks of peace had whetted his appetite for adventure.

He had picked up a two-day-old newspaper with the vague idea of reading the advertisements of round-the-world cruises when his eye had fallen upon the first-page story of the spectacular kidnappings in New York. The affair had appealed to his imagination and he had read the article with interest. Mid-way to the bottom of the first column he had come upon Jerry's name. Forty-five minutes later his roadster was roaring toward the scene of action. Had the dispatch told of Jerry's injury in a Paris brawl he would have sailed on the next steamer. Jerry, the gay-hearted war buddy of the 199th Pursuit

Wing, the never-failing friend, was the one man in the world whom Emory never tired of seeing.

The friendship between these two men who had flown fought and played together lay too deep for speech. It was something that each took as much for granted as the rising and setting of the sun. Emory stiffened in his seat, bent far over the cockpit wall and thumbed the focussing wheel of his binoculars. There, far to the southwest, was another airplane, winging its way straight toward the center of the encircled area. It was well below his slowly-flying plane, forging along at an altitude of about five thousand feet. Emory stared at it, trying to distinguish its type and its markings.

With ten or twelve thousand feet of space separating the two ships, it was to be hoped that the other pilot would not notice the plane which was spying upon him.

At last Emory's practiced eyes discerned the curious hook-nosed underbody of an amphibian, a type of ship equally at home on or over land and sea.

Jerry, obeying an instinct acquired during the war, worked the biplane into a position between the sun and the lower amphibian, while he was able to keep that strategic place he would be almost invisible to the flyers below.

The strange pilot betrayed no uncertainty of purpose. Straight as a bullet, he flew toward the little row boat anchored within the far-flung circle of waiting vessels. The amphibian suddenly nosed and began a steep dive toward the surface. Jerry closed his throttle and put the biplane in a thin glide.

"They're after the money!" he roared above the popping of the motor and the whistle of the wind through wires and struts. Emory nodded briefly, his blue eyes glittering with excitement. He focussed his glasses again upon the amphibian, which was now leveling out for a landing not thirty feet from the tossing boat.

beneath them, Emory could see a tiny black figure standing upon its lower wing as its pilot steered for the rowboat. The man leaped into the boat, remained there a moment then, as the amphibian turned slowly into the wind, he returned to the wing. Presently he was seated again in the rear cockpit. The amphibian began to move through the water leaving behind a spear-shaped wake which contrasted whitely against the blue background of the sea. The wake ceased abruptly. The swift-moving plane, now in its natural element banked in a wide, swinging arc toward the southwest and pursued a ruler-straight course in the direction whence it had appeared. Jerry whirled his plane around and headed after the amphibian, still keeping within the blinding rays of the sun. (Copyright, Dial Press)

The boys chase the plane down the coast, tomorrow, boats following below. But the kidnapers' power is proved by new "outrages."

Bobby Brown Hurls Boston to 5-1 Victory Over Dodgers

CUBS BEAT PITTSBURGH NINE TO FIVE

By GAYLE TALBOT
(Associated Press Sports Writer)
Bobby Brown and Huck Betts of the bouncing Boston Braves, a youngster of 20 and a veteran of 33, are putting on one of the best pitching acts seen in the National or any other league in recent years.

A club that can pick up one winning rookie in this day of keen competition is doing pretty well, but here Manager Bill McKechnie has found a pair who look like world beaters. Each has contributed five victories to the Braves' pennant fight, neither has met defeat, and they are tied for the pitching leadership of the National League.

What makes their work even more impressive is the fact they have burst on the scene with little or no fanfare. Pre-season dope scarcely mentioned either Brown, the husky kid from Binghampton, or Betts, who years before had been a failure previously with the Phillies.

Brown has been particularly poisonous to Brooklyn, beating the Dodgers four times. Twice he has limited Max Carey's pupils to four hits and again to five. His second four-hitter was achieved yesterday when he clipped the Dodgers, 5-1, in the second game of a double-header after Brooklyn had beaten Socks Seibold, 6 to 1, in the first. Hack Wilson's seventh home run after two were out in the ninth deprived him of a shutout.

The Braves, however, lost ground to the leading Chicago Cubs, who beat Pittsburgh, 9 to 5. The only other game scheduled, the Phillies at New York was rained out. Lefty Gomez rang up his ninth victory against one defeat as the Yankees trimmed the Athletics, 5 to 1. The Castilian, beat the A's for the fourth straight time, kept hits widely spaced and struck out 10 batters.

Washington strengthened its hold on second place in the American with a double win over the floundering Boston Red Sox, 6 to 4 and 8 to 1. Monte Weaver won his eighth victory in the opener and lefty Bob Burke pitched some nice ball in the nightcap.

The St. Louis Browns bunched two doubles and three singles with a base on balls in the third inning to score four runs off Al Thomas and beat the Chicago White Sox, 4 to 2. Cleveland's scheduled doubleheader at Detroit was rained out.

Yesterday's Stars

Elwood English, Cubs—Found Pirate pitching easy and collected four hits, including pair of doubles.
Dizzy Vance, Dodgers, and Bob Brown, Braves—Former allowed five hits, latter four as Dodgers and Braves split doubleheader.
Vernon Gomez, Yankees—Beat A's for ninth victory of season, six in succession.
Dick Coffman, Browns—His effective pitching with men on base beat Whitesox.
Monte Weaver and Bob Burke, Senators—Pitched Senators to two verdicts over Redsox.

TWINS AGAIN BACK ON TOP IN PIEDMONT

Charlotte, June 3.—(AP)—Back on top after Asheville had knocked them into second place for one day—the only one in which they have not led the Piedmont League since the season opened, the Winston-Salem Twins today opened a four-game series with the "up and down" Durham Bulls.

Seeking vengeance for the ignominy heaped on them by Asheville's victory of Wednesday, the Twins nipped the Bulls for 16 hits, the Tourists got 10, but Andrews and Hart kept them better spaced. The score was 7 to 5.

Meanwhile, the Charlotte Hornets continued the climb which has carried them from seventh to third place within a week. They pounded on Everett and Crumble for 19 safeties, including three doubles, two triples and a home run, and beat Greensboro 13 to 5. Neola, Hornet mound ace, pitched one-hit baseball for five innings, but strained his arm and had to yield to Martin, who allowed but three more.

It was the eighth Hornet victory in 10 starts. Giggling in the scoring was Harry Spyder, former Raleigh and Sally League star, who got a triple with one on to count one of Charlotte's runs. It was his debut in the Bee uniform, he having replaced Holt, who was released, at second base.

Led by Chervinko, who got two doubles and a triple in his three trips, the High Pointers swept their series with Raleigh, taking the final game 6 to 5. They entertain the Tourists today, while Raleigh goes home to meet Greensboro.

Wilmington, which beat Durham 18 to 10 in a game which saw 35 hits, comes to Charlotte for the four-game week-end series, and the Bulls take on the league-leading Twins.

Big Tom Wolfe, Durham outfielder, made it 30 consecutive hitting games, bettering his own league record, with two doubles and a single in his six times at bat.

The Triumph of Beverage Perfection

The New NuGrape

MADE WITH WELCH'S GRAPE JUICE

From Maine to California millions are enjoying today the supreme achievement of the makers of NuGrape. Truly this is a gala day in the history of beverage making. It marks the final victory of science over the ancient King of all Fruit Juices—King Grape Juice!

After years of expensive research our labors are rewarded. Our laboratory working in conjunction with the Welch Grape Juice Company, has produced a New NuGrape . . . A delicious, carbonated beverage deriving its entire flavor and color from Welch's Grape Juice.

Never before has there been a drink like this introduced to the American public. The New NuGrape has a smooth, fresh piquancy of flavor—a delightful, bracing tartness about it that only the flavor of grape juice can give.

Try your first bottle today and if you don't think it's better than any artificial grape drink you ever tasted—write us, enclosing crown and we'll gladly refund you the small purchase price. Make sure though you get the genuine. The New NuGrape is now on sale everywhere for 5¢.

Market Report

Cotton--Stocks--Grain

New York Cotton

New York, June 3.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady today at a decline of 2 to 3 points on commission house selling, July sold at 5.19.

Favorable overnight crop advice also contributed to the early decline but subsequently the market showed a disposition to rally in sympathy with a firmer tone in the stock market. The observance of southern Memorial Day checked business to some extent as most of the southern markets were closed and trading operations were comparatively small.

Reports of excessively heavy rains in Oklahoma attracted attention and seemed to cause a little uneasiness relative to the crop developments in that state but an absence of improvement in trade conditions left the market without strong buying incentive. The July position sold down to 5.16 and rallied to 5.21. Liverpool cables that the market there had been influenced by covering, reactionary buying and liquidation and that the cloth market lacked confidence.

Grain Market

Chicago, June 3.—(AP)—Wheat prices suffered a sudden sharp break late today as a result of stop loss selling which swept over the market.

The selling wave came after news that the $2,200,000 Garner relief bill had been reported by the House ways and means committee at Washington. July wheat contracts tumbled to the lowest price level touched in almost a month.

Stock Market

New York, June 3.—(AP)—Securities markets pushed forward in one of the most determined rallies of the year today. The upturn in shares showed some signs of having spent its force by early afternoon, but advances were well maintained.

Expectations of an early announcement of formation of a banking syndicate to stabilize the bond market, together with the quick agreement on taxation by Senate and House conferees in Washington, were remarkably effective in buoying Wall Street's spirits. Stocks apparently gained much of their strength from the impressive upswing in bonds.

Outstanding groups in the share market were the rails and such recently depressed issues as the Utilities, tobacco, foods and chemicals, issues getting up about 2 to 3 points included American Telephone, North American, Consolidated Gas, Pacific Gas, United Gas Improvement, American Tobacco B, Allied Chemical, Drug, National Biscuit, Loose Wiles, Corg Products, American Can, U. S. Steel, and Union Pacific. Five-point advances appeared in Liggett and Myers "B" and Peoples Gas. Gains of a point or so were numerous, particularly in the rails. By early afternoon, the market quieted down somewhat, and U. S. Steel sagged 1 and American Telephone 2 from their best levels.

The appearance of impressive bids in the recently demoralized bond market was probably the most cheering development of the day. Important banking quarters have maintained for some time that there could be no basic improvement in stocks until a fresh glow of health could be infused into bonds.

Tomorrow, Saturday, will be the day given to Alumnae and Class activities.

Sunday morning at eleven o'clock Dr. J. Clyde Turner, pastor of the First Baptist church of Greensboro, will preach the baccalaureate sermon.

The Y. W. C. A. service will be held at the twilight hour, 6:30 on Sunday evening in the woods on the west campus.

The graduating exercises and address will be on Monday morning beginning at 10:30 o'clock, and will be held in the auditorium of the Social-Religious building.

There are about 80 in the group that will receive the A. B. Degree. Ten years ago the first degrees were granted to four-year graduates and then there were only two in the class. This is the year that class, 1922, holds its reunion and this is the honored class of the year. They have charge of the program and are guests of the college throughout commencement.

There are 138 in the two-year normal class that will receive diplomas.

At conclusion of the pageant, Mrs. Herman Nobles delivered a patriotic address on "The Life of Washington from the Indian Viewpoint." She stressed the important part which Washington played in bringing the Indians in closer personal touch with the whites, and of the love of tribes for this great American statesman.

Leading roles were played by the Withlacoochee degree team assisted by the Withla team.

Parts were taken by Mayor R. C. Flanagan, C. B. Rowlett, J. P. Harrington, J. C. Gaskins and E. F.

HAUSNER STARTS LONG SOLO HOOP TO POLAND

forced back after several hours by unfavorable weather.

He was followed into the air today by another plane in which his pretty young wife rode as passenger. This plane merely intended to escort Hausner on the first few miles of his journey.

In the second plane was also the Rev. Paul Knappke, a Newark priest. Hausner's plane is the old rebuilt Bellanca monoplane Santa Rosa Maria which was originally built for a Chicago syndicate which planned an ocean flight that never materialized.

Although Hausner's destination was Warsaw he said before leaving that if conditions necessitated he might make a stop at London or Paris. He planned to follow a course slightly to the south of the steamer lanes.

Hausner lifted his plane into the air after running 3,500 feet down the concrete runway.

He carried fifty letters, some of which he planned to drop over the Crocydon Airport near London, and over Le Bourget, Paris.

His plane carried 525 gallons of gasoline, and he took along four chicken sandwiches, two ham sandwiches, two ham sandwiches, a gallon of coffee and a gallon of water.

The flier estimated he would fly approximately 4,375 miles to reach Warsaw. The plane, equipped with a whirlwind motor similar to that used by Col. Charles A. Lindbergh and Clarence Chamberlain in their flights across the Atlantic, has a cruising speed of 100 miles. Hausner said he hoped to reach his destination in 44 hours.

Hausner's ship was not equipped with a wireless set.

ROOSEVELT SAYS SEABURY ONE TO FILE WALKER CASE

Roosevelt follows:
"The only information before the governor is in the form of very incomplete newspaper stories. It is not even clear from Judge Seabury's statement to Chairman Hofstadter whether he has fully completed the investigation. I act in each case definitely, positively and with due promptness.

"Get the law straight. It is the duty of the legislative committee and its counsel, if they believe they have sufficient cause, to present evidence to the proper authorities without waiting to make formal report to the next legislature. You cannot get away from that obvious public duty.

"In the case of Sheriff Farley, Judge Seabury asked the legislative committee to present the evidence to the governor. The committee himself, I acted. If the evidence in any case now before the legislative committee in their judgment or that of their counsel, warrants, it is time for the legislative committee and their counsel to stop talking and do something.

TAMMANY AND PROHIBITION HOLD POLITICAL SPOTLIGHT

of those consequences, they are in substantial accord on certain features of the case. No one questions Tammany's support of Walker, nor doubts that his removal by Roosevelt would impress the probability of unremitting Tammany opposition to Roosevelt's nomination. No one disputes that in a large section of the country Tammany is unpopular, or that in those sections a definite Tammany-Roosevelt break would help the governor.

There is agreement that the necessity of a decision on the eve of the convention would put Roosevelt on trial just at the most critical moment of his drive for the nomination. He would be faced with a great hazard and a great opportunity. He would have to show the party how effectively he could handle a difficult situation, and in that sense his action, one way or the other, might have a very marked influence on his bid for leadership.

and other city property came up for consideration again last night, and as protection carried on the library was not as much as expected, the board decided to let it remain as it is. Insurance carried on the structure at this time was given as $39,000. J. A. Collins presented a detailed report of city insurance furnished through the courtesy of H. A. White & Sons and this was referred to the insurance committee with power to make recommended reductions at date of expiration.

The board expressed appreciation of the report made by H. A. White & Sons, it being declared one of the most complete and informative of its kind ever made before.

The matter of compensation insurance was referred to committee for report at the next meeting.

The board ruled that the ordinance applying to the sale of fruits did not affect peelable fruits. The question was brought before the board by C. O. H. Home who stated he had been notified that it would be necessary to screen his fruit platform in the western part of the city. He said it would work a great hardship to have to take such action in view of the fact inasmuch as he sold peelable fruits without screen protection. The board decided to amend the ordinance pertaining to all peelable fruits.

The question of the sanitation of the Parkerson chicken coop claimed to be too near the street was referred to the sanitation committee.

Mayor Flanagan read notice of suit brought against the town by J. T. Bland for services he claimed to have rendered during the transfer of the gas plant to the city. Bland claims $250 compensation. Mayor Flanagan was instructed to defend the city against the action in view of the fact that the city has no information regarding a contract with Mr. Bland. Mayor Flanagan stated that he had also arranged with J. C. Lanier to carry the Moye case to Supreme court.

In the tax exemption claimed by J. B. James, the board decided that Mr. James would have to show record of securities on which he claims exemption before he will be relieved.

The property recently transferred by the Skinners to the Catholic church was ordered exempted under transfer as provided by law. The mayor was authorized to buy a volume of the Statutes of N. C. to facilitate him, in the handling of various legal questions brought up for consideration from time to time.

The mayor congratulated members of the board upon their economy and thrift during the past year, saying they were running considerably under the budget estimate. He predicted a substantial saving for the city.

QUALITY and SERVICE at HONEST PRICES

Modern Folks Are

"WAKING UP" and DEMANDING BETTER MERCHANDISE and BETTER SERVICE"

The fond ladies of 1850 waited for a "Disasterous Fire," a "Fearful Bankruptcy" or a "Dreadful Failure" to buy their wearing apparel—rather than to visit houses where Honest prices prevented claptrap trickery.

But, You, the Ladies of 1932, are wise and sophisticated—you have awakened—you are demanding QUALITY, SERVICE and HONEST PRICES. McKay's, too, are wide awake and anxious to serve you in a MODERN WAY with QUALITY merchandise—prompt, and polite SERVICE at HONEST PRICES.

had been hanging fire for months without plaintiffs making proper effort for their disposition.

The calendars contained a hundred cases in addition to those set for consideration the first day, and when court adjourns either this afternoon or tomorrow the majority will have been completed. Judge E. H. Cramer, of Southport, is presiding over the term.

PRIMARIES SET FOR SATURDAY

Mr. Hooks asked that the people not confuse these primaries with the state-wide primary to be held the same day. The purpose of the precinct primaries is to elect delegates to the county convention

The Democratic party is on the eve of one of the greatest victories of years, Mr. Hooks said, and it is incumbent upon party members to rally to their conventions and assist in putting the campaign across in real style.

The Greenville meeting will be held in the court house at 3 o'clock and all Democrats were urged to be present and take part in the transaction of business.

These primaries are of the utmost importance to the success of the party in the forthcoming presidential election, Mr. Hooks declared, and he urged that each township name representative men as their delegates.
