GIRL'S SUICIDE TAKES ON INTERNATIONAL ASPECT

House Votes To Take Up Bonus Question

ACTION MEANS STEP TOWARD GOAL OF VETS

If House Approves Patman Bill It Will Then Go To Senate For Consideration.

Washington, June 13.—(AP)—The House voted to call up the $2,400,000,000 cash bonus payment legislation for formal consideration.

This action represented a step toward victory for the 20,000 war veterans who have poured into Washington to demand immediate payment of the bonus certificates.

While the vote was being taken, and long before, the House galleries were packed with former service men who watched tensely all proceedings. Outside long lines of veterans stood, hoping to gain admittance.

If the House approves the bonus payment on the final vote, the legislation still must run the gauntlet of the Senate and the White House. What action the Senate will take is problematical.

But President Hoover has promised a veto. Action today came on a motion to bring the resolution by Representative Patman (D., Texas) up for consideration.

The vote was obtained through a petition signed by 145 House members. The vote for consideration was 226 to 175.

Sent To Prison For Oil Theft

Elizabeth City, June 13.—(AP)—Cecil Maston's fish story was all right in theory but it failed to provide the proverbial oil for troubled waters when he was brought into court.

Maston claimed he was fishing with his nets and that the nets caught three drums of automobile oil. He was brought before a trial justice who bound Maston and a companion, Cecil Sawyer, to Superior court.

In the higher court, Judge F. A. Daniels also felt Maston's fortune was more than fisherman's luck and that his imagination was too good after hearing an oil company contend the oil was stolen from their wharf.

Daniels gave Maston 60 days on the roads but Sawyer, pleading guilty at the last minute, got a 90-day suspended sentence.

Telegraph Clerk Beaten, Robbed

Charlotte, June 13.—(AP)—Unconscious from blows on the head, Leonard Austin, 23 year old telegraph company clerk who has been missing since Saturday morning, was found 90 miles from here in Rutherford county authorities told relatives here.

Early today the youth, who was said to have about $200 on his person when last seen by friends here about noon Saturday was reported still unconscious but was not thought critically injured.

Rutherford authorities identified him by his automobile registration card, and found $17 in his pocket. The $200 had been in a wallet separate from the $17.

F. B. Markey, postal telegraph manager here, said it was customary for Austin to carry about $100 of the company's money.

Husband of N. C. Woman is Killed

New York, June 13.—(AP)—Daingerfield Dillingham, 32, Virginian native and husband of the former Mary Hatt, of High Point, N. C., was killed here when he jumped or fell in front of a subway train at 51st street station.

Mrs. Mary McManus said she saw him jump in front of the train, but Col. Albert R. Dillingham, U. S. A. retired, said there was no known reason for his son to commit suicide.

Young Dillingham was a grandson of the late Admiral Albert Caldwell, U. S. N. He graduated from Woodbery Forest academy in Virginia and from the University of Alabama in 1921.

G. O. P. IS SPLIT OVER DRY LAW

State Delegation To Chicago Convention Harassed by Difference of Opinion.

Indianapolis, Ind., June 13.—(AP)—A difference of opinion on the question of a dry law referendum stood out today as the North Carolina Republican delegation neared Chicago and the national convention.

Unless party leaders are able to reach an agreement on how the unstructured district delegates shall line up it looks now like part of the delegation will back up the (Continued on page four)

HAUSNER ON BOARD SHIP

Rescued Trans-Atlantic Flier is Too Tired to Tell Story of His Trip.

S. S. Circle Shell, June 13.—(AP)—Stanislaus Felix Hausner, New Jersey movie operator whose attempt at a transatlantic flight to his native Poland ended in the sea, was too exhausted today to tell the story.

He was resting aboard this ship and under treatment, but promising to be completely restored to health before he arrives at New Orleans, which probably will be in two weeks.

It was decided last night to abandon Hausner's red monoplane, in which he drifted for a week after (Continued on page four)

Recovers Bodies From Fuming Volcano Crater

Hilo, Hawaii, June 13.—(AP)—Man descended into the fuming crater of Halemaumau—"House of Everlasting Fire"—and reclaimed from Pele, dreaded Hawaiian fire goddess, the bodies of a despairing lover who killed his sweetheart before leaping into the volcano clasp.

A daring Japanese contractor, Rikan Kunishi, gambled with death yesterday as he was lowered into the frepit of Kilauea volcano, returning eight hours later with the bodies of Sylvester Nunes, 20, and Margaret Enos, 17.

The descent was made in a tiny cage suspended perilously from a cable stretched across the pit into which Kunishi would have plunged (Continued on page four)

PREPARE FOR SECOND VOTE FIGHT IN N. C.

Morrison and Reynolds Map Out Campaign Strategy For July 2 Primary.

Charlotte, June 13.—(AP)—Organization activities occupied the Morrison and Reynolds forces today as campaign strategy was mapped out in the rival camps for the final big push toward the Democratic senatorial nomination, to be decided July 2.

BINGHAM TO SEEK REPEAL

Senator from Connecticut Is Dissatisfied with N. Y. Delegation's Proposal.

Chicago, June 13.—(AP)—Senator Bingham, of Connecticut, an anti-prohibition leader today declared himself dissatisfied with the prohibition repeal proposal agreed upon by the New York delegation and said he would insist that the Republican convention declare itself in favor of repeal as well as for submission of (Continued on page four)

BONUS ARMY STILL GROWS

One Group Decides to Go Home as Thousands of Others Arrive at Capital.

Washington, June 13.—(AP)—As new thousands poured today into the capital to add their voices to the war veterans' demand for bonus payment, the police sought recruits for a departing force that appeared to be forming.

Many of those who trudged into the city through a downpour of rain stopped on Capitol Hill to join comrades in lobbying for a favorable House vote today on the bonus issue.

All were hopeful, but the spirit of a few became as dampened as their tattered clothing in the rain which made their encampments soggy mudholes.

So despondent was one group of 17 that they sent an emissary to appeal to Pelham D. Glassford, superintendent, to take them by truck toward their home. In dry weather last week, the veterans scorned transportation offered by police.

ROOSEVELT IN LEAD IN N. C.

New Yorker Has All Instructed Delegates Trucked Away in His Column.

Raleigh, June 13.—(AP)—With all instructed delegations so far as reports have been received, safely tucked away in the Roosevelt column, the New York Governor appeared to have a strong chance of securing delegates at large from North Carolina as reports straggled in from county conventions held Saturday.

And with three delegations to Thursday's state convention instructed to fight for resubmission of the prohibition question and none instructed, so far as was known, to oppose such action, liquor loomed as the big convention issue.

The Reynolds-Morrison second Senate primary also appeared likely to attract considerable attention, with most of the counties which took up the matter in their conventions leaning toward the Asheville wet.

However, reports were received of a strong movement underway by powerful friends of the present Senator to have the state convention adopt a bone dry platform, thereby placing the Asheville man in the position of running counter to his party.

Eighteen counties instructed for Roosevelt, three for resubmission, and the balance of 52 conventions heard from left state convention issues to their delegates, with the exception of pleas on economic issues of a varied nature.

Possibility of a fight between friends of Governor Gardner and anti-administration forces also loomed in resolutions passed in Granville county, at the behest of Attorney General Brummitt, condemning the short ballot and the practice of appointing general assembly members to state offices.

G. O. P. Leaders Ready For Convention Opening

With the Hoover nomination virtually assured, the country's republican party leaders gathered in Chicago to determine a course on the wet and dry question—"I am personally dry," said Senator Fess as he quaffed a drink of water—but there are Hoover opponents. Below is former Senator Joseph I. France of Maryland, a candidate who won't give up until the votes are counted—Mrs. Bertha Baur of Illinois waits while Mrs. Alvin T. Hert of Louisville gives some instructions to women delegates over the telephone.

S. H. Brickell Drowned Three Miles From City

Sterling H. Brickell, linotype machinist on the Daily Reflector, was drowned while swimming with three youths in Old River, about three miles north of Greenville, shortly after one o'clock today.

James Smith, 10-year-old son of Dr. and Mrs. Joseph Smith, who was being carried across the river on Brickell's back, was rescued by John Clark Jr., before the youngster suffered any injury from the trying ordeal.

SMITH STILL GETS CROWDS

Evangelist Delivers Most Powerful Sermon of His Series at Farmville.

Farmville, June 12.—Taking his text from Jeremiah 18, verse 4, "Marred, so he made it again," Gypsy Smith Jr., is said by many of his friends, who have been in constant attendance since his meeting started twelve days ago, to have reached the climax of his message to Farmville this morning. At any rate it was the first time Mr. Smith had called for what he termed "A verdict" from the people, scores of whom, among the church members, responded to his request to go forward and re-dedicate their lives to Jesus, and a number of non-members thereby witnessed for him and expressed a desire to live a spiritual life.

In his sermon, Gypsy Smith took his congregation to the house of an old time potter of the East, designating him as God, his wheel as circumstances or conditions, and the clay, lacking shape or beauty, as the soul of his hearers. Relating the method used by the potter which is the transferring of his fingers and the clay, he described the formation of a vase rising beautiful and fair, but which suddenly crashed to the wheel, marred. Mr. Smith gave as the reason for this, the unwieldy condition of the clay, which would not lend itself to form and compared it to the human will, free to choose its own way, bringing Peter, Matthew, Luke and Magdalen as examples.

The second vessel took its shape easily but was unable to retain it, lacking consistency, the third containing a bit of foreign grit, which marred its beauty and usefulness, "I would take you back," the evangelist said, "back to the day of your conversion when you promised to be an honest follower of the Master. You attended church regularly, you testified, you bore witness of Him in many ways, but one day an ugly damning thing came and knocked at the door of your heart, you would not open, one day you talked it through the crack (Continued on page four)

Resignation Regarded as New Threat to American Nitrate Combine.

Santiago, Chil., June 13.—(AP)—A renewed threat of confiscation of the $75,000,000 investment in the American-controlled Cosach Nitrate combine was seen today in the resignation of Carlos Davila, former ambassador to Washington, from the Socialist junta which controls the government.

W. C. REDFIELD DIES IN N. Y.

Member of Cabinet in Wilson Administration Passes at Age of 73.

New York, June 13.—(AP)—William C. Redfield, secretary of commerce during the Wilson administration, died at his Brooklyn home today. He was 73 years old.

Mr. Redfield was known as a "business man's legislator" because he advocated the application to government of same principles which he championed in business. He entered Congress in 1911 with the tariff a dominant issue and he came to be regarded as one of the (Continued on page four)

Three Townships To See Second Constable Race

Second primaries will be held in three townships of Pitt county to settle races for constable, it was revealed in latest reports from F. C. Harding, chairman of the Pitt County Board of Elections.

Two of the candidates filed the first of last week and the third, Gus Stokes, of Greenville township, runner up to Richard King, filed Saturday afternoon.

The other contestants are J. R. Hemy, runner-up to L. B. Allen, in Beaver Dam township, and Heber Summerell, runner-up to R. O. Davis in Ayden township.

The battle in each township promises to be colorful in every sense of the word, and especially in Greenville where King led Stokes, present incumbent. Ten candidates were entered in the (Continued on page four)

British Government May Make Representation To America In Sharpe Case

NEW KIDNAP PROBE FLOPS

New Jersey Police admit Collapse of Theory that "Guilty Knowledge" Cause Suicide of Violet Sharpe in Morrow Home; Ernest Brinkert Preparing Written Statement for the Police.

Alpine, N. J., June 13.—(AP)—The case of Violet Sharpe, English domestic waitress, wore an international aspect today as police denied accusations that they hurried her to death.

The charge voiced indignantly in the English press, was followed by news that Labor members of Parliament were expected to ask the British government today to make representations to the United States about the girl.

The morning news bulletin issued by state police indicated that the investigation of the kidnaping and murder of the Lindbergh baby had again reached a dead end after collapse of the police theory that "guilty knowledge" had caused the suicide of Violet Sharpe.

Ernest Brinkert, New Jersey ex-convict, named by Miss Sharpe before she took poison, as her partner on the night of the kidnaping, continued work on his written statement at the police barracks at Alpine. His alibi has been corroborated.

"He will conclude his written statement today," Col. H. Norman Schwarzkopf, superintendent of state police, announced, and he volunteered to stay at Alpine until it is completely verified.

Schwarzkopf said the police knew of no funeral arrangements having been made for Miss Sharpe. Telegrams from Detroit, he said, indicated that no results had been obtained by questioning Hans Fleisher, former purple gangster who recently surrendered after a long search for him. No report had been received concerning the examination of Robert Byrns, who also is held in Detroit.

"There was never undue pressure brought to bear during her questioning by the police," Colonel Schwarzkopf said. "On each of the four occasions members of the Morrow or Lindbergh households were present."

"In view of Ernest Miller's statement and Brinkert's alibi, do you still believe Violet Sharpe has guilty knowledge of the crime? Will you publicly exonerate her?" Schwarzkopf was asked.

"This is a matter of opinion," he answered.

London, June 13.—(AP)—The suicide of Violet Sharpe, English waitress in the home of Mrs. U. W. Morrow at Englewood, N. J. may become an international affair.

Labor members of Parliament have signified their intention of asking the British government to make representations to the government of the United States over the suicide. They planned to make the request during a general questioning on the matter in the course of today's session.

London newspapers expressed indignation against the New Jersey police. Some accused the officers of having driven the girl to suicide by their questioning in connection with the Lindbergh case. The Daily Herald, Labor organ, accused them of "venting their chargin at their failure in the Lindbergh case on a poor English servant girl."

The Telegraph, under the caption "Disgrace to American Justice," charged the police with torturing her, thereby darkening the record of the Lindbergh case and making it more horrible.

Scotland Yard officials again questioned Emily Sharpe, sister of the dead girl, at Beenharn, England, yesterday. After the questioning Inspector Horwell said the case (Continued on page four)

TAKES CRACK AT PRESIDENT

Howard Coffin Sharply Criticizes Hoover on Question of National Defense.

Washington, June 13.—(AP)—Friendly but sharp criticism was heaped upon President Hoover yesterday by Howard E. Coffin, nationally known Detroit engineer, for refusing to set up once more the council of national defense as a means to restore confidence.

Coffin, a member of the original council's advisory commission and one of those who framed the law creating the council in 1916, wrote Mr. Hoover that he was in error regarding that organization as a war measure only. He maintained it was intended for non-partisan economic planning for the country's (Continued on page four)

BYRNS FAVORS PAYING BONUS

House Appropriations Chairman Says He Will Support Bill To Pay Veterans.

Washington, June 13.—(AP)—Bonus advocates gained a powerful ally today in an announcement by Chairman Byrns of the House appropriations committee that he will support the full payment bill.

With only a few hours before a House vote on the bonus issue and crowds of veterans already filling the capitol corridors, Byrns said he would vote for the $2,000,000,000 new money outlay.

Asked whether a member should vote to pay the veterans now, Byrns replied affirmatively. "I think you would, especially if you were assured that it would (Continued on page four)

ABOUT TOWN

The re-election of W. E. Hooks of Ayden, as chairman of the Pitt County Democratic Executive committee will be received with general interest throughout the county.

Mr. Hooks has served the party in this capacity for four consecutive terms and has rendered invaluable service in arousing the people to the responsibility resting upon them as public-spirited citizens.

His activity preceding presidential campaigns has been mainly responsible for the overwhelming majority which voters piled up in this community. Had other sections of the county had leaders as active as Pitt it is impossible to say what the outcome of recent elections would have been.

Mr. Hooks is one of those wholesome fellows who puts every atom of power into the job, and it is to be hoped Democrats high and low, will rally to his support in the forthcoming election when Democrats, in the words of the chairman himself, stands a better chance of success than any other period in years.

Nearly one hundred small schools will be cut out in North Carolina next session, it has been revealed by Levoy Martin of the State Board of Equalization.

The announcement will not be received with regret in any section of the state because it means the students who once attended these schools will be transferred to the large consolidated institutions, giving them a greater opportunity for self-development than they ever had before.

The one and two room schools are gradually giving away before the advance of education in all parts of the state, and this has produced a situation far more favorable to both teacher and student.

Pitt county school houses stuck about every few miles. They have been succeeded in many instances by consolidated buildings providing far greater advantage than the small school ever would be able to offer by reason of the limited capacity.

The Lindbergh case has forged into the limelight again as result of the suicide of a servant at the Morrow home in New Jersey.

Just what the rash action of the young woman will bring to the surface remains to be seen, but it has given police and newspapers new work to do and the public will be kept busy with speculation until something definite has been established.

It is only one of the thousand and one which the case has taken. The inquiry may be fruitless, yet it may result in a solution of one of the most baffling crimes in the annals of America.

The public will watch developments with interest, and gratification will be felt everywhere should the killers be captured and duly prosecuted.

Governor Gardner visited President Hoover at the capital the other day. The governor told the President that the textile industry in North Carolina was in a state of "stagnation" and needed aid.

He didn't receive any assurance that the President would attempt to provide the aid, and he will make many trips to Washington before he receives such encouragement.

The textile industry, however, is not by itself from the stagnation standpoint. The governor might have mentioned the conditions of the unnumbered thousands of farmers who have gone through the past four years with hardly enough to keep the shirts on their back, and in many instances, not even doing that.

Earning, the backbone of all industry, should have been remembered by the governor, but it would have been breath spent

Gambler's Throw

By EUSTACE L. ADAMS

SYNOPSIS: A new brand of kidnapping is introduced by a mysterious gang, who abduct Nancy Wentworth, a popular musical comedy star, Lucci, a notorious gangster, and four wealthy business men. Jerry Calhoun, airplane pilot, who was with Nancy when she was carried away, his friend Emory Battles and Stevens, a detective, pick up the trail of the gang when the money is collected and follow the kidnappers' hydroplane in their own airplane. The captives find themselves in some tropical place, where the uncertainty and heat undermine their nerves. The leader of the gang, Ashwood, a cultured man who is very lame, watches their strained emotions. Lucci and Mallory, a millionaire stockbroker, in rivalry over Nancy begin to quarrel. Incited by Ashwood they start fighting what Nancy believes to be a "battle to the death."

A FIGURE IN GANGDOM

Lucci and Mallory went down in a reverberating crash, the gangster clinging to his adversary's throat like a bull terrier to a bone.

Mallory's knees came up in a spasm of pain. His face became mottled, his jade green eyes protruded like those of a gargoyle. His hands beat ineffectually against Lucci's rigid arms as the latter's thumbs pressed down into his wind pipe. His arms and legs began to flutter, rapidly losing strength as the life-giving air was denied his labored lungs.

Then, suddenly, he became limp. Lucci held on, oblivious to all the world except that inhuman face before his eyes.

"That's enough!" Ashwood's voice snapped through the silent held on. The cripple hobbled across the floor with amazing speed. His face still bore an expression of disinterested enjoyment. A blue-black streak cut a half circle through the air as the butt of his heavy automatic crashed down on Lucci's head. Without a sign or groan, the intent, rigid figure slipped down like a bundle of old clothes tossed across the insensible form of his enemy.

Ashwood turned away negligently, whistled a shrill, birdlike note and said:

"Put them to bed." Four burly guards who had materialized out of nowhere at all picked up the two unconscious men and bore them from the room. Then, for the first time in her life, Nancy Wentworth fainted.

The long porch, under the caress of a faint morning trade wind, was almost endurable.

Ashwood lounged in a deck chair, smoking a cigarette and idly gazing over the turquoise water toward the tiny segment of horizon between two islands to the westward. A copy of "Soldiers of Fortune" lay open but forgotten on his knees. If he noticed the quiet man on the beach who lounged near a machine-gun tripod, he was not interested.

Nancy, very alluring in a simple dress of brown organdy, appeared at the door. Her golden hair seemed to catch all the light in that shady corner of the porch. She saw Ashwood and hesitated. The cripple strapped out of his abstraction, rose with surprising grace and bowed.

"Good morning, Miss Wentworth. There's a delightful breeze. Won't you join me?" She looked at him in frank curiosity, then took the chair he had indicated.

"I am simply bursting with content," he said, easing himself into his chair. "That organdy dress is perfect. The arrogant saleslady tried to tell me I should have chosen green. She was wrong. I knew then, didn't I? I'm positive of it now. You are very beautiful, Miss Wentworth."

"Do you mean to tell me," she demanded, "that you picked out the wardrobe I found in my

in vain. The President has his eyes set on rescuing big business from the "bottoms" and when he has done that it is probable he may look sympathetically in the direction of the farmer and offer his condolences.

The opening of the canning plant here in the near future should arouse public interest in the canning of vegetables and fruits produced in this section for home consumption during the fall and winter months.

Then, also, it should attract attention of thrifty merchants desiring to help a home industry and to keep the freshest kind of canned goods on their shelves at all times.

The community has needed a plant of this kind for years, and if it is properly patronized it is impossible to estimate its influence in the life of industry in the years to come.

Preservation of home-grown products played a tremendous part in the campaign to keep the wolf away from the door of the poor in the past several years, and people should do everything in their power to see that the movement increases in scope.

POINTERS HIT BALL BUT ARE STILL LOSING

Charlotte, June 13.—Uncle Dan Boone is at High Point no longer, but if the former Pointer skipper could have been with the team last week it is likely he would have been satisfied, for once.

The Pointers lost five of their nine games, but they got their base hits.

Uncle Dan was always an exponent of the base hit, but had little regard for fielding. When he grazed in Piedmont pastures he was famous for his love of hits and infamous for his fielding.

Last week the Pointers got 108 base hits—breaking their own season record set the week before.

Raleigh led the league in winning four out of five, but trailed it in fielding, with 15 errors. The Caps batted 355, second to High Point.

Four other clubs made it hard for opposing pitchers last week. Asheville and Greensboro, winning four out of six each, batted 330 and 308.

And Charlotte and Durham, the week's worst winners, who won but one each out of four starts, batted 313 and 301.

As a whole, the 1932 Piedmont is a batter's league. High Point is batting .323 for the season, although only in seventh place, Asheville, in second place, has .315.

The Durham Bulls, in the cellar, stand at .303, Raleigh's Capitals, tied with Greensboro for first place, are batting .299.

The league leading Twins stand at .286, the fifth place Charlotte Hornets at .284, the Patriots at .276 and Wilmington at .263.

Lots of individuals would be glad to have most of those figures.

SOLONS DROP DOUBLE TILT TO ST. LOUIS

By HERBERT W. BARKEB. Associated Press Sports Writer. For the information of American league pitchers, the one sure way of stopping the Washington Senators is to put on a St. Louis uniform.

The Senators can hold their own with the rest of the league but as soon as they soon one of Bill Killefer's elbows take the mound they roll over and play dead. So far they've played the Browns 7 times and the Browns have won six games, three of them by shut-outs.

Killefer's outfit won both games of a double-header yesterday, 6-3, and 4-0, and boosted their average above the 500 mark for the first time this season. The first game was a disconcerting affair, what with Carl Fischer, former Senator, in a Brown uniform, and Dick Coffman, former Brown pitching for the Senators. Fischer had all the better of the argument as he held Washington to seven hits. Coffman gave way to a pinch hitter in the fifth after allowing six hits and five runs. Walter Stewart pitched his second shutout over the Senators in the nightcap, allowing only three hits.

George Herman Ruth personally conducted the New York Yankees to a 13-5 victory over Cleveland, hitting his 19th and 20th homers and a double to drive in six runs. The Detroit Tigers did some high-powered batting in the fifth and seventh frames to tumble the Philadelphia Athletics, 6-5.

Pete Jablonowski, former Cleveland hurler, made his first start for the Boston Red Sox and was the victim of his teammates' errors, bowing 4-1 to the Chicago Whitesox.

In the National league, the Chicago Cubs stretched their lead to a game and a half by winning a wild 13-inning battle from the Braves, 5-3. The Cubs won out on doubles by Jorges and Herman and a single by Moore. Art Shires' homer in the seventh sent the game into extra innings.

One of a large group of St. Louis graduates, Flint Rhem, pitched the Phillies to an easy 6-1 victory over the Cincinnati Reds.

WANT ADS PAY WANT ADS PAY. Governor Gardner visited President Hoover at the capital the other day. The governor told the President that the textile industry in North Carolina was in a state of "stagnation" and needed aid. He didn't receive any assurance that the President would attempt to provide the aid, and he will make many trips to Washington before he receives such encouragement. The textile industry, however, is not by itself from the stagnation standpoint. The governor might have mentioned the conditions of the unnumbered thousands of farmers who have gone through the past four years with hardly enough to keep the shirts on their back, and in many instances, not even doing that. Earning, the backbone of all industry, should have been remembered by the governor, but it would have been breath spent

Atlantic Beach Casino to Open Tuesday Night
Atlantic Beach, June 13—The casino at Atlantic beach will be opened with a big dance Wednesday night, a large throng of visitors being expected from all parts of the region, it has been announced by Robert W. Gordon, beach manager, who is predicting a successful summer for the beach, based on the popular patronage already being enjoyed by the handsome new hotel at the resort.

Al King and his Hotel New York orchestra will furnish music for the opening ball, as well as afternoon concerts, dinner music and night dances at the beach throughout the summer. King was at the beach here a few years ago but since then has risen far higher in his profession now being recognized as one of the best orchestra leaders in the country.

Recently the orchestra has played for commencement dances at Yale, Princeton, Westminster, New York University, Lafayette, and other well known colleges. The drummer is the composer of "Tiger Rag", "Jazz Me Blues" and many other popular tunes. Good music is thus assured for the beach this summer.

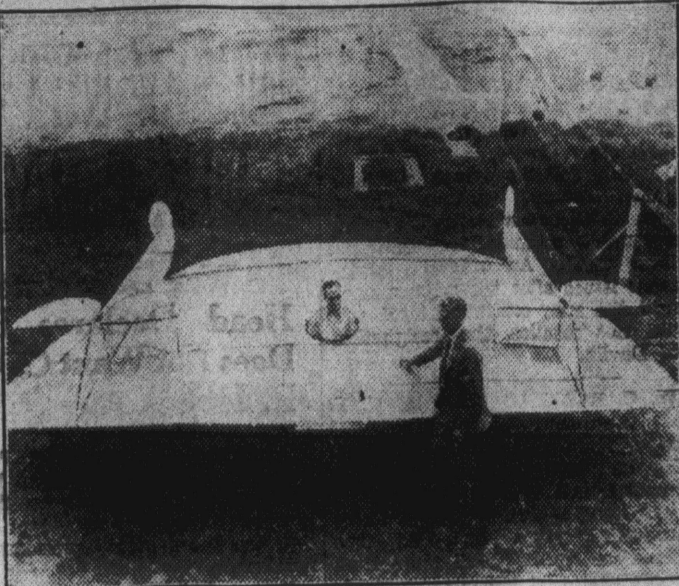

For the opening ball more than 3,000 gladioli have been ordered for floral decorations from the gladioli farm near Beaufort. This will add exceedingly to the already attractive appearance of the large beach casino.

As special entertainers for the opening ball, as well as for the three Shrine dances Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights at the casino, there will be Barring and Lazur, York who made such hits on the beach last year. They have just returned from an engagement in Vienna, Austria, and declined an insistent invitation for public appearances this week in Montreal, Canada, in order to come again to East Carolina.

Howie Fisher, Metropolitan opera company star male dancer, can not be here for the opening dance, but will be the headliner at the Sunday night concert June 19. He and his partner, Miss Mosby, are classical dancers, and are said to be exceptionally good.

DIRIGIBLE PLANE MAKES DEBUT

A new type of airship, the dirigible, is being tested by its inventor, Dr. C. L. Snyder of South Bend, Ind. The ship has neither wings nor tail and consists of what is known as a monofoil or body. Inside the body it is planned to install helium tanks. Three motors will supply the power. A motorless model of the invention is shown here.

(By ETHEL NICE, H. D. A.)
Sixth Annual Short Course

Club women and girls and their friends assembled at East Carolina Teachers College last week for the sixth annual short course, general assemblies, tours and lunchees were enjoyed Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

Food: Miss Mary E. Thomas, extension nutritionist from State College, gave the following lecture demonstrations Tuesday and Wednesday: "Simple Desserts," "Child Feeding," "Invalid Cooking" and "Light Refreshments and How to Serve Them." Miss Thomas' program was very practical and very timely in keeping with the times. On Thursday, Miss Violet Alexander, home demonstration agent of Beaufort county, gave demonstrations in canning fruits and vegetables. She used the water bath method of canning, also the pressure cooker. Bringing pickles, making sauer kraut and fruit juices were included in her demonstrations.

Handicraft: Much credit is due Misses Alma Stokes, Ethel Little and Bertha Hart, who gave the work in handicraft. Both women and children worked in this room. Some of the articles made were: stuffed animals, book ends, wooden toys, pine needle baskets and reed baskets. The exhibits included dresses for women and children, curtains, rugs and baskets.

Music: Misses Florence Overton and Sarah Brown Braxton rendered excellent service in the music room this year. A chorus ranging from 25 to 50 women sang in a two-part chorus. You would have to hear it to know how pretty it was.

General Program
The general programs were given at 12 o'clock each day. The theme for the first day was "Health." The 4-H Club girls who had tied in the earlier contest came for the final county elimination Tuesday morning. Edwina Baker of Farmville, was unable to come for this contest. Those reporting were Melba Nobles of Stokes, Arlene Harris of Fountain, and Doris Nichols of Bell Arthur. The four girls are such healthy specimens that it was a difficult task to determine the county winner. But a decision had to be made and after making all deductions, Arlene Harris was pronounced Pitt county's healthiest 4-H girl.

Wednesday, Miss Ruth Hillhouse director of religious education of the Presbyterian Church, gave what the club women called "the best sermon they had ever heard." Her theme was "The Christian Home."

Thursday, Carl Goerch delighted his audience with a talk on "What Is Expected of Club women."

Furniture Tour.
About thirty women went on the tour Thursday afternoon. Mrs. J. L. Fleming of the Greenville Woman's Club, escorted them to the homes of Mrs. R. S. McGeachy, Mrs. H. A. Thorson, Mrs. M. L. Wright and Mrs. R. L. Smith. A number of pieces of interesting furniture were on exhibit, also the beautiful back yard of Mrs. Wright. The Greenville Woman's Club served punch in the garden of Mrs. Smith.

Lunch
Those lunches of short course days are long to be remembered. The Greenville Woman's Club served again this year. Mrs. W. H. Woolard, Mrs. Key Brown and Mrs. E. B. Ailsbrook made everyone feel very much at home.

It is through the kindness of Dr. R. H. Wright and his co-workers that we have the privilege of the short course each year. We extend our appreciation to Dr. Wright, Mr. Henderson, Mrs. Jeter and to the college girls who helped with the serving. We are not forgetting Alfred Barnhill, the cook; Joe, the janitor in charge of the Austin building, and Will, janitor in charge of Science Hall.

County Sing
Those who did not go on the trip around the world with music Friday night missed a real treat. The tour was conducted by Mrs. Louella Stancil of Falkland. We saw America first through the entertainment given by Stokes, Hollywood and Winterville. Stokes represented the colored folks of America and gave four selections. Hollywood gave three Indian songs around their wigwam. Several 4-H girls of Winterville represented the earlier American settlers with the minut. Their costumes made the dance very effective. Red Banks took us to Scotland. Mrs. Ola Tucker sang "Annie Laurie" and Janie Gold Hardee gave "The Highland Fling." From there we went to Ireland with the Simpson club who sang "My Wild Irish Rose." Our last stop was in a Danish settlement. The women and girls of Falkland danced "The Danish Dance of Greeting." Very happy we came back to America where everybody rose to salute America while the "Star Spangled Banner" was played.

Canning Equipment.

Nine more pieces of canning equipment have been received this week. The Greenville merchants are making it possible for canning equipment to be used during the canning season and paid for this fall. Other orders are being placed at an early date.

Clubs To Meet.

Fountain 4-H girls will meet at the home of Mrs. Yelverton this afternoon. Simpson Home Demonstration Club will meet with Mrs. J. Brooks Tucker Wednesday afternoon. Pierce club will meet in their club rooms Thursday afternoon and Hopewell will meet Friday afternoon. Their meeting place will be announced.

Health Contest.

Arlene Harris will compete in the district health contest in Washington, N. C., Tuesday, June 14.

Hostess To Merry Matrons.

Farmville, June 10.—Mrs. W. M. Willis delightfully entertained the Merry Matrons and a large number of special guests Tuesday afternoon at her home on Wilson street. Early summer flowers in pastel shades added an attractive note to the spacious living and sun rooms. Mrs. J. W. Parker presided over a business session during which the club voted to furnish meals for a charity patient.

A splendid program was presented by Mrs. H. L. Hendricks, who gave a talk on "Art in the Home" and by Mrs. Sterling Gates, Mrs. M. V. Jones and Miss Lewis of Four Oaks, guest of Mrs. Gates, who rendered lovely musical selections, vocal and instrumental.

A delectable salad course with iced tea was served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Arthur F. Joyner, Mrs. M. V. Horton, Mrs. R. A. Fields and Mrs. J. Loyd Horton.

Garden Party.

Farmville, June 10.—One of the loveliest social events of the early summer season was the garden party given by Mrs. Roy Lyle on Thursday afternoon, who entertained a number of her friends here with Mrs. Gypsy Smith Jr., as an honor guest. Upon arrival of the guests they were presented nose-gays by Mrs. Harold Suggs. Askevew and Miss Mae Joyner, delicious fruit punch being served by Mrs. G. S. Vought and Mrs. G. M. Holden from an artistically decorated table which also bore dainty sandwiches and cakes.

PUTNAM-HOOGOOD.

Farmville, June 10.—Miss Inez Hoogood, attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Hoogood, was married to Mr. Carl Putnam of Rocky Mount, on Friday, June 3, at Emporia, Va., the marriage coming as a surprise to her friends here.

Mrs. Putnam, an interior decorator, is associated with the firm of Brewer Paint and Wall Paper Co., of Rocky Mount, where the young couple will make their home after returning from Augusta Ga. where Mr. Putnam is at present engaged on a government job.

O. E. S.

Farmville, June 10.—The local Order of the Eastern Star met on Thursday evening with the Worthy Matron in the East, Mrs. J. W. Bundy reported that more than the quota of soup coupons assigned this organization had been sent in to the Home.

A recent contribution to the Education Loan Fund, which enables children of Masons and Eastern Stars to secure a college education, was reported by the treasurer and Mrs. G. M. Holden reported that Miss Doris Flowers had been chosen to represent Farmville in the beauty contest sponsored by the Shriners, the local contest being conducted by this group with Mrs. Holden heading the committee. Miss Sue Joyner was awarded a proficiency certificate for having passed a recent test of 100 questions on the Laws of the Order, by

Mrs. Anthony Holds Perfect Bridge Hand

What would you do if you drew all the "honors" in the deck except three Jacks while playing bridge with your club?

Mrs. P. T. Anthony bid a "grand slam" in no trumps and made it hands down. She was playing at the home of Mrs. Fred Forbes during a session of the Friday Afternoon Bridge Club last week when she found herself in possession of four aces, four kings, four queens and a lone jack.

She was so startled by the dazzling picture made by the honors that she inquired if the cards had been properly shuffled and cut.

Informed that the cards had been handled according to the rules prescribed by the highest authority, she smilingly bid a grand slam, but one or two called for smelling salts as Mrs. Anthony proudly displayed a hand that would have brought ecstatic delight to any follower of the popular card games, especially those who are confining their attention to contract bridge.

Mrs. Anthony, who was second in hand when she made the bid that will give her a place in the bridge hall of fame, said her only regret is that she was not vulnerable, a condition that would have boosted her score by several hundred points.

Mrs. J. W. Parker, a member of the state examining committee.

Mrs. C. T. Munford of Greenville, district deputy, was introduced and installed J. H. Paylor as Worthy Patron and Mrs. Haywood Smith as organist. Mrs. Munford then made a talk relative to the approaching Grand Chapter meet at Rocky Mount, after which she was presented with a gift from the chapter by the Worthy Patron. Other visitors from the Greenville chapter, all of whom made brief talks, were: Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Brown, Past Patron and Past Matron; Mrs. Josephine Little Rawl, Worthy Matron; Mrs. R. E. House and Mrs. Robt. Darden.

Refreshments consisting of ice cream and cakes carrying the five colors of the Order were served after the meeting adjourned.

Little Miss Harris Ill.

Friends of little Miss Dorothy Harris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Harris, will regret to learn that she is ill.

At Camp Leach.
Among those from Greenville who are at Camp Leach are Rev. W. A. Lillycrop, Mrs. Jennie Howard, Mrs. Emerson Hinds, Misses Bessie Brown, Mary Frances Whitehurst, Eleanor Barr, Pearl Lautares, Florence Phelps, Agnes Gaskins, Morris Howard of New York and John Buck of Tuscaloosa, Ala.

Market Report

Cotton--Stocks--Grain

New York Cotton

New York, June 13.—(AP)—Cotton futures opened steady, 1-2 higher in response to steady Liverpool cables but encountered considerable July liquidation which held prices to small gains.

There was also some local and southern selling which sent prices off a point or two right after the call, but trade buying was in evidence and the demand seemed to increase following a rally from opening declines in the stock market. Reports of wet weather in the eastern belt leading to increased apprehensions of weevil damage were also a factor and prices worked up from 5.29 to 5.32 for July and from 5.29 to 5.42 for December during the early trading making net advances of 5 to 8 points on the more active positions.

Liverpool cables reported continental buying on the firmness in Egyptian cotton but said Bombay had been a seller in that market. Egyptian cotton futures in Alexandria were 23 to 40 points higher than last Friday.

Grain Market

Chicago, June 13.—(AP)—Wheat prices hovered today around their season's bottom most figures, with July contracts dropping to below 50 cents a bushel.

Death of buying demand rather than aggressive selling appeared to be chiefly responsible. Widening of the price spread between Chicago and Kansas City had a bearish influence here, and so likewise did evidence of persistent lack of export business in wheat from the United States.

Stock Market

New York, June 13.—(AP)—The securities markets started the new week in a waiting mood today.

Stocks had a momentary upturn in the morning, coincident with further fireworks in Auburn and an upturn in New York tractions, but a heavy tone soon developed. What with an administration request for further economies, and the bonus and relief problems still to be dealt with, Wall street was less optimistic over an adjournment of Congress this week. There was also a tendency to await developments at Chicago and Lausanne.

Auburn dropped 5 points at the start, rebounded about 12, then fell back to the vicinity of Saturday's close. Brooklyn-Manhattan Transit common and preferred rose about 3 and 5 points, then gave up part of their gains. An extreme gain of 25-8 in American Tobacco B was sharply reduced, and several other advances of a point or so were more than lost. By early afternoon net declines of 1 to 2 points appeared in such issues as U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, National Biscuit, Coca Cola, Wrigley, Macy, Borden International Shoe and Western Union, the last two registering new lows.

The New York tractions generally turned upward, in response to the new unification proposal advanced by Samuel Untermyer, proposing an exchange of shares of the present companies for those of a new company on a basis considerably above current market prices.

mand a second primary. It was pointed out in his behalf that the law allows him until Wednesday to make a decision.

After first expressing gratification over New York's prohibition declaration, Bingham said it was "a very cleverly worded proposition amounting only to submission."

"I want the convention to declare itself in favor of repeal as well as for submission of repeal to the states," said Bingham, who will be a member of the resolutions committee.

RAINEY RAPS U. S. TREASURY (Continued from page one) nols House Democratic leader, told newspapermen the treasury's "gross incompetence has been shown by the estimate that $150,000,000 to $200,000,000 more is needed to balance the budget."

He added that it was his opinion this new estimated deficit could be met only by additional taxes. But Representative Crisp of Georgia, acting chairman of the House Ways and Means committee, when it handled the new tax law, said in an interview that he saw "no need for more taxes."

Further, Coffin criticized the past and present policy of the government in meeting the "destructive tide which threatens to overwhelm us" as "delayed defensive" tactics instead of "aggressive offensive" and said there seemed to be an obsession that "dollars—and dollars alone—can be used as ammunition by our defending forces."

BYRNS FAVORS PAYING BONUS

The Tennesseean said he did not subscribe "to the theory of those who oppose payment of these certificates."

"This is not creating a new government obligation but merely converting an existing government obligation and will not result in hurtful inflation," he said. "On the contrary it will increase currency expansion and circulation equally in all parts of the United States, bring a halt to the deflation and a quick rise in prices of all kinds."

"It will cost the government nothing additional in this instance. On the contrary it will actually save $112,000,000 every year until 1945, for that sum is put each year in our national budget to create the sinking fund to take up these certificates when they fall due in 1945."

G. O. P. SPLIT OVER DRY LAW

(Continued from page one) state convention's dry law stand and the other will do what it can to bring about a wet plank of some sort.

The state convention endorsed prohibition and hooted down a speaker who suggested modification. This binds the seven delegates at large to oppose any attempt to insert a moist, damp or wet plank in the national platform.

Many of the district delegates, however, particularly those from down east, are unimpressed and, apparently, may vote as they choose.

Some of them have come right out in meeting and said they will vote for a referendum.

With such leaders as State Chairman James S. Duncan, State Secretary W. D. Foster, National Committeeman Charles A. Jonas and Judge W. G. Bramham of Durham, already in Chicago, spokesmen traveling with the main body of delegates are disgraced as to the way the district delegates should jump.

Arrival in Chicago is slated for mid-afternoon and Chairman Duncan and the other wheelhorses will be called into council to help decide the point.

S. H. BRICKELL DROWNED THREE MILES FROM CITY

(Continued from Page One) to swim across the river when the accident occurred. The river at that point is about twenty feet deep, and Brickell, with young Smith on his back, had gotten half way across the stream when he turned red in the face and started going down. Noting that Brickell apparently was distressed, young Clark rescued Smith and carried him to the opposite side of the river with Joe Smith assisting.

When they reached safety, they discovered that Brickell had disappeared entirely. They immediately rushed to town and scores of citizens hurried to the scene in an attempt to recover the body which had not been accomplished at three o'clock.

Brickell was believed to have suffered a heart attack resulting from permanent injuries which he received in France during the World War.

He was a native of Halifax county and had been employed on the Daily Reflector for the last three years as linotype machinist. He held similar positions on several of the nation's large daily papers before coming to Greenville.

Brickell was prominently connected in Halifax, being a member of an old and prominent family of that community.

Funeral arrangements had not been made this afternoon but it was presumed the body would be carried to Halifax for burial.

HAUSNER ON BOARD SHIP

The plane was left drifting in approximately 42.118 north latitude and 20.04 longitude west. The darkness which fell shortly after Hausner was rescued made it impossible to pick up the plane.

As it faded from view it was drifting southward at a speed of about one knot an hour.

Hausner asked any vessel whose position made it convenient to salvage the plane. The position in which it was left is about 500 miles off Portugal.

SMITH STILL DRAWS CROWDS

(Cont'd from Page 1) and entertained it, and on another day you invited it to come in, the grit spoiled the clay."

Speaking comforting words to anxious heart but unwilling to compromise with sin, the preacher pointed out in a calm, quiet but effective way that the vessel could be remade, the life remolded by yielding the will, being consistent and removing the foreign substance.

Large number of visitors from nearby towns were present this morning, swelling the congregation to almost capacity of the large auditorium. The series of meetings will continue throughout Thursday June 16.

DAVILA QUILTS CHILEAN JUNTA

(Continued from page one) from the week-old Socialist regime which ousted President Esterban Montero on June 4. His resignation was believed to have been forced by the other members of the Junta because his policy toward foreign interests, particularly Cosach, was considered too moderate.

The War Department Head Declares He Does Not Want G. O. P. Job.

Washington, June 13.—(AP)—Secretary Hurley of the War Department told newspapermen flatly today he is not a candidate for the Republican vice-presidential nomination.

Commenting on reports from Chicago mentioning him as a possible nominee for that post, Hurley said:

"I am not and will not be a candidate for the vice-presidency."

The secretary conferred during the morning with President Hoover, and together they received later reports upon the developing affairs of the Republican national convention by long distance telephone.

Later in the day he had not yet decided whether he would attend the convention, adding he might possibly remain in the capital.

"If I do go," he asserted, "I will make it perfectly plain to the delegates at Chicago that they can't shoot a my old friend Charles Curtis with me."
