DEMOCRATIC BODY FOR REPEAL OF PROHIBITION

Roosevelt Forces Charged With Effort To 'Buy' Candidate

New York's Campaign Manager Denies Charge At Chicago Convention

SCHOFIELD STARTS ROW

Chicago, June 29.—(AP)—Campaign manager for Melvin Traylor declares member of Roosevelt faction offered to pay him $10,000 to withdraw candidacy of Illinois man; Governor's personal representative says no foundation to statement.

Schofield had said that a man whom he had described himself as a Roosevelt supporter, had offered him $10,000 to withdraw the candidacy of the Illinois man.

Immediately after Schofield had dictated his statement to newspaper men, I. B. Dunlap, Governor Roosevelt's personal representative, issued the following statement:

"No one has any authority in any manner, shape or form to make any such un-Rooseveltian suggestion. That is not the Roosevelt way of doing business. Mr. Melvin Traylor would not accept an insult such as suggested."

James A. Farley, Roosevelt campaign manager, called it a "ridiculous story." He said no one doing publicity work for the governor had any authority "to do anything like this" and no one connected with the Roosevelt staff has done any such thing.

Schofield called a group of newspapermen into his office and dictated the following:

"Last night about midnight a man I never saw before approached me and said 'are you Schofield?' I told him I was and he said, 'can I have a private conference with you?' We went into a corner of my office. He held up a statement for me to sign. When I asked him to let me take it he said 'No. Just read it.' The statement bore my name as manager of the Traylor campaign, and read as follows:

"I have just received a wire from Melvin A. Traylor—thanking me for my activities in his behalf and requesting me to withdraw his name from the race."

"I denied that the statement was true and refused to sign it. He replied, 'Don't be foolish. The anti-Roosevelt machine is going to crack. You might as well be the beneficiary.'"

"I told him I had nothing to do with the Illinois delegation and could not release them if I wanted to. He said, 'Listen, I'm serious. This means $10,000 to you and a million votes for Roosevelt if he goes over on the first ballot and this statement from you will do the job.'"

"I promptly told him I would not be a party to any such transaction. He said he was sorry if he had offended me. I told him to take it anyway he wanted to. He got up and said, 'Think it over. I'll be back.' I told him in forceful language not to come back because I would not see him. He said he was doing publicity work for the Roosevelt organization, I had never seen him anywhere before."

Schofield said he did not ask the man his name.

TEXANS WHOOP, IT UP, FOR JACK GARNER

When the Texas delegation to the democratic national convention arrived in Chicago, there was much cheering for Speaker John Garner as a presidential candidate. And a Californian, William Gibbs McAdoo (center), a Garner booster, likewise did his share of the cheering.

WOULD DEFER WORLD CONFAB

Sen. Borah Says It Would Be Useless to Hold Economic Conference this Year.

Washington, June 29.—(AP)—Chairman Borah of the Foreign Relations committee told the Senate today that since efforts to the Lausanne conference to settle Franco-German reparations question appear to have broken down it would be useless to hold the World Economic conference planned for this year.

The Idahoan said the world "get nowhere" in solving its economic problems "until the reparations question is settled."

He pointed to published reports of disagreement between French and German delegates at Lausanne and added that the American government has indicated it would not discuss reparations and war debts.

"No economic conference can hope to succeed in stabilizing conditions and restoring prices without considering the question of debts and reparations," he said.

TO MUSTER IN FOREIGN VETS

Greenville Post Foreign War Soldiers to be Organized Here Tomorrow Night.

Greenville Post, No. 2615. Veterans of Foreign Wars, composed of men who have seen honorable service in the armed forces of the United States in foreign countries during time of war, will be mustered in at the Pitt County court house tomorrow night at 8 p. m., according to a statement issued today by William B. Dupree organization officer in charge.

The V. F. W. is not only the oldest veterans' organization in the United States, having been founded in 1899, but it is the only organization of its kind which maintains a National Home for Widows and Orphans, having a large and modern home at Eaton Rapids, Mich.

Dupree said he was anxious for all overseas men to attend the meeting tomorrow night whether they are ready to come in now or not as they will get some very valuable information about the V. F. W. which will do them lots of good.

He stated the charter would be held open for the next 60 days and anyone will become a charter member who makes application for membership during that time.

The V. F. W. differs considerably from all other veterans' organizations, in that it has ritualistic work, degree team, password, handshake, etc., just as a secret order or lodge in addition to being a veterans' organization, and which the members derive much pleasure.

Platform Committee Closes Long Struggle

Germany Seeks Revision Of The Versailles Pact

Lausanne, Switzerland, June 29.—(AP)—Franz Von Papen, German chancellor, laid before the powers at the war debts and reparations conference today a demand for revision of the Versailles treaty as a necessary preliminary for German participation in the economic reconstruction of the world.

In a statement to the press, Chancellor Von Papen demanded that all discrimination against Germany be removed.

TWO TESTIFY IN CURTIS TRIAL

Flemington, N. J., June 29.—(AP)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh was described in testimony today as having at one time tried to leap into a stormy sea to swim to a boat on which he believed his kidnapped baby was held for ransom.

W. E. Haskell, a newspaper executive, was on the stand at the third day session of the trial of John Hughes Curtis for hindering capture of the kidnapers when this testimony came out.

ROOSEVELT TO FLY CHICAGO

Albany, June 29.—(AP)—A large plane was reported to have been chartered and held in the vicinity of Albany today to fly Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt to the Chicago Democratic convention in the event he is nominated for the presidency.

The ship was described as a 13-passenger plane, with a cruising speed of 150 miles an hour.

EHRINGHAUS SPEAKS HERE

Concluding his speaking campaign in the eastern part of the state, J. C. B. Ehringhaus of Elizabeth City, spoke at the court house here last night in behalf of his candidacy for governor in the second state-wide primary to be held Saturday.

It was the second appearance of the Elizabeth City man here during his double-barreled campaign for the high office to which he aspires. A fairly large crowd was in attendance in spite of threatening clouds which failed to give forth rain until the speaking engagement was about over.

The speaker arrived in Greenville yesterday afternoon and conferred with J. C. Lanier, county campaign manager, regarding prospects for polling a 100,000 majority in the forthcoming battle of ballots.

He was introduced by Hon. F. C. Harding as "a man fully worthy of the high office to which he aspires" and deserving of the confidence of the rules committee.

North Carolina voted 201-2 to 51-2 against Long which so surprised the fiery Louisiana boss that he paid a personal visit to the Tar Heel section to find out what the trouble was.

The North Carolinians were much in the limelight here for their stand on the two-thirds rule. The leaders say no doubt but what failure of the state to line up with the rest of the south caused Roosevelt to order the fight abandoned.

Senator Bailey and C. L. Shuping conferred with Roosevelt leaders until early yesterday on the compromise proposal on the rule.

However, the Tar Heel chiefs refused to budge from their original stand and short time later reports were around that no minority report would accompany the report of the rules committee.

Chicago, June 29.—(AP)—The North Carolina Democratic delegation is almost solid for Roosevelt, but it's not a bandwagon crowd.

The Tar Heels demonstrated this most convincingly by handing Roosevelt leaders two big jolts in as many days.

First they voted almost five to one against abrogation of the two-thirds rule and talk here today was that the failure of North Carolina to go along with the New York governor in this respect made him wire his field generals here to drop the fight against the old rule.

Yesterday the Tar Heels again showed they are not getting their voting orders from outside by bolting the Roosevelt machine and voting to unseat the Louisiana delegation headed by Huey Long.

Robert R. Reynolds, of Asheville, anti-prohibition senatorial candidate, who led Cameron Morrison, prohibitionist, in the first primary, asserted he would win by 35,000 to 40,000 votes.

Washington, June 29.—(AP)—Congressional conferees neared an agreement today on the controversial public works program of the $2,300,000,000 unemployment relief bill.

No formal agreement was reached but conferees said discussion centered about the $500,000,000 public works program of the Senate bill and that understanding was not far off.

President Hoover has denounced this section of the bill in terms so harsh that they were interpreted by some as foreshadowing a veto.

Washington, June 29.—(AP)—The $150,000,000 economy bill was out of the way and relief slowly being moulded into its final form today as Congress plugged along its legislative path.

A 35 to 11 vote in the Senate yesterday ended the dispute over the measure to cut Federal expenses $150,000,000 next year. This was a reversal of the Senate's previous position, marked a concession to the (Continued on Page Six)"

'WILD BILL' HANDS REDS WALLOPING

By GAYLE TALBOT (Associated Press Sports Writer) Probably the most cogent commentary on the tense character of the National League race lies in the fact that the Cincinnati Reds with the best defensive record of any team in the circuit, cannot get out of eighth place to save their lives.

The figures prove that Dan Howley's troupe has allowed opponents fewer runs per game than any team in either league, that is starting pitchers have more complete contests to their credit than any mound staff extant, yet they consistently come up with the wrong end of the score.

Out of 47 games played, Cincinnati's pitchers have gone the route 43 times and held opponents to an average of 4.3 runs. The Chicago Cubs with 35 complete games pitched and an opponents' average of 4.4 runs per contest, stand second. The Phillies, who are several notches higher in the league standing than the Reds, have allowed their rivals 5.8 runs per game and have seen their starting pitcher go the limit only 23 times.

The secret of Cincinnati's misfortune lies in its inability to win the close ones. Eighteen times the Reds have been beaten by a single run, most of them well pitched, tightly fought affairs. In other words, if they had gotten perhaps a dozen hits scattered out where they needed them most, they could very well have been in first place today instead of last.

No explanation is necessary of the Reds' latest loss. They ran into Bill Hallahan yesterday when the southpaw felt like pitching himself a ball game. They got only four hits and the score was St. Louis 6, Cincinnati 2.

Young Bobby Brown, turned in another fine game as the Boston Braves defeated the Phillies 5-3 and went into a virtual tie with Chicago for second place.

New York and Brooklyn divided a pair, the Giants winning the first 7-3 and the Dodgers the second 5-3.

The Yankees demonstrated why they are kingly of the American League in trimming Washington 5-2. They made only four hits off Al Thomas, but two of them were homers by Lazzeri and Sewell and another was a single by Earle Combs with the bases laden.

The 18-year-old Lewis Krause made his first start of the season for the Athletics and granted seven hits in beating Boston 5-4.

Two games were scheduled in the league.

This the 10th day of June, 1932. J. B. James, Trustee. June 11-1w-4wk.

Good Housekeeping Demands It . . . Conditions Make It Imperative . . . Our Customers Are Waiting For It . . . We Announce It With Pleasure, Pride and Promise OUR FIRST SALE

NEVER before have we had a general sale in Miller-Jones stores. Our policy is against sales—except when they are absolutely necessary and based upon actual merchandising truths. Conditions have caused many well-laid plans to go astray this year. Retarded buying has failed to clear shelves fast enough—Distress merchandise of unknown quality at ridiculous prices has blocked the ordinary "outlet" channels of all large operators. So temporarily we shall be our own "outlet" for surplus stocks, which virtually means wholesale clearance prices for retail buyers.

Sale Starts Tomorrow and Closes July 9

Celebrates Birthday.

On June 26, the children and grandchildren of Mr. Nelson Warren celebrated his fifty-ninth birthday at his home near Stokes, where dinner was served. The long refreshment table was placed in the dining room, and decorated with lovely cut flowers of many colors. In the center of a beautiful silver plate bearing a birthday cake with fifty-nine pink candles lighted, the little flames waving backwards and forwards, helped to carry out the color scheme.

After the crowd gathered Mr. and Mrs. Warren came marching down beside the table, their six children and nine grandchildren following on behind them, next nearest kindred and friends, after which Mr. Charlie James gave thanks.

Mrs. Mary Curry of Tarboro, had a very important part in the celebration—helping to show the children's love for father. After they enjoyed the nice dinner they gathered into his room where he found many nice and useful gifts. Those were as tokens of their love and respect for their father.

The rest of the afternoon was spent in interesting conversations. The crowd left declaring they had spent a most enjoyable day, wishing him many more happy days.

Concert At College.

Ethel Wright and Tom Fuson, well known duet singers, will appear in a concert at East Carolina Teachers College Thursday evening, June 30.

Miss Wright has a velvety contralto voice and Mr. Fuson's lyric tenor is expressive either in classic air or rollicking Irish tune. They have made many concert tours and large numbers of return engagements have caused them to develop an extensive repertoire of the world's finest two-part songs. Original two-voice compositions of the old masters, Schubert, Schumann, Brahms, Dvorak, Mendelssohn and others are sung with delicacy and understanding. There are also selections from operatic repertory, together with folk songs from many nations and last but not least, are numerous fine arrangements of the old songs which are dear to the hearts of Americans. The concert will be held in the Austin auditorium at eight o'clock Thursday evening.

Hostess To Merry Matrons.

Ayden, June 28.—Members of the Merry Matrons club and special guests were delightfully entertained at six tables of Boston Rook at the home of Mrs. P. R. Taylor, second floor, on Tuesday afternoon. The lower floor was thrown en suite and the many lovely summer flowers used for decorations added much to the beauty of her luxurious home.

After several progressions Mrs. Jack Quinerly was given hand-made handkerchiefs for high score prize for the club members and Mrs. Theibert Worthington for second high received a set of tea glasses. For guests, Mrs. J. B. Eure won handkerchiefs for high score and Mrs. Joe Whitaker tea glasses for low. Mrs. Harry Goode of Charlotte was presented hand-made handkerchiefs.

The hostess was assisted in serving a fruit salad and iced tea, by Mrs. Allan Johnson, Mrs. Radford Holton and Mrs. Theibert Worthington.

RECORD CROWDS EXPECTED AT ATLANTIC BEACH

Atlantic Beach, June 28.—The Washington Bicentennial is to be celebrated elaborately here Monday night in observance of Independence Day with the greatest display of patriotic fireworks ever seen in North Carolina. It has been announced by Manager R. W. Gordon, who will be assisted by a special representative from the Rozzi Fireworks Company of Newcastle, Pa.

Record crowds are expected for the week-end, the new Atlantic Beach Hotel already being booked almost solid for the holiday period, including not only many East Carolinians but also a number of visitors from Western Carolina and Northern visitors.

Three big days are being planned for the beach. There is to be a big dance, with patriotic souvenirs Saturday.

Quinn & Miller
In New Home
on 5th Street

Quinn, Miller & Company, having practically completed moving all of their new furniture from the various stores on Dickinson avenue and Grand avenue, announced today they were ready to begin serving their patrons in their new home on Fifth street, formerly occupied by Montgomery, Ward & Co.

"It is true we have not yet completed arranging all the stock," said L. A. Stroud, manager, "yet we are in position to serve all our customers and friends and the general public."

The used furniture department will continue in the old location opposite the A. C. L. depot. Mr. Stroud said, and they will have at all times a very complete stock of used furniture and a sufficient force of salesmen to take care of the business there.

Official announcement of the concern will be made in the next few days, the manager stated, at which time it is intended also to announce a number of useful articles to be given away.

The new store phone will be 366, the same number the store has had for twenty years. The phone of the used furniture department will be 306-J.

LOCAL STORE ANNOUNCES ITS FIRST SALE

N. R. Joyner manager, the Miller-Jones Family Shoe Store at 408 Evans street, announced elsewhere in this paper the first general sale in the history of the company, with special prices on hosiery and footwear for everyone.

This company, which owns and operates its own modern factories, has built an enviable reputation in this community with its high quality merchandise, square dealing and consistently low prices. The low prices are made possible by efficient control of manufacturing, merchandising and distribution methods—the elimination of jobber and wholesaler with this saving passed on to the buying public.

The Miller-Jones policy is against sales except when they are absolutely necessary and based upon actual merchandising truths. Conditions this year have caused many well-laid plans to go astray. Retarded buying has failed to clear shelves fast enough—new stocks are already made up and will be in shortly—distress merchandise of unknown quality has blocked the ordinary "cutlet" channels of all large operators so the Miller-Jones stores will be their own "outlet" for turning stocks which virtually means wholesale prices for retail buyers, according to Manager N. R. Joyner.

Tomorrow, on the opening day of this sale, the first 100 women to enter the store will be given absolutely free and without obligation an attractive and useful Dutch Oven. These ovens are full 10-inch steel, self-basting and just the thing for hot weather cooking.

Look for the big ad in today's Reflector and for the ads in editions to follow, for the ridiculously low prices on shoes and hosiery for the entire family during this big 10-day sale.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Razin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks blank, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine. For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels, thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely. But don't take for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Request a substitute. 25c at all stores. ©1931 C. M. Co.

CONFIDENCE and RELIABILITY

Now, that a great many people have to stand on their own two feet, the simple truths have become immensely important.

The value of confidence and sound business methods have never been more appreciated, or demanded, than at present.

In the end, we always come back to human reliability in this old world.

NATIONAL ADVERTISING REPRESENTATIVES Theo. F. Clark, Co. Inc. New York, Chicago, Indianapolis, Philadelphia, Kansas City.

ABOUT TOWN

The fight on the two thirds rule has been abandoned by the Democrats at Chicago, much to the relief of people throughout the country.

The voters, the people who actually constitute the strength of the nation, do not give a rap how they nominate a presidential candidate just so they do it fairly. If it is better to do it by the two-thirds rule, hoary with age, then let them do it that way. If on the other hand, the majority rule is more advisable, let the majority do it.

However, the matter has been shifted to the bottom and the boys are going to cling to the old two-thirds rule. The fight for abrogation was started by Roosevelt forces who soon abandoned their plans when it was evident further effort would precipitate bitter party dissension, exactly what is not needed at this time.

It may be said for the benefit of Roosevelt that he recognized the danger of continuing the fight, and called off his war dogs in time to prevent the impending break. What the convention needs and what the people generally want is harmony and if the Democrats succeed in injecting that into the convention they will stand far better chances of coming out with colors flying when the votes have been counted in November.

President Hoover's plan for disarmament does not meet with the approval of the British government according to the last information received from the arms conference. The British cabinet is of the opinion that the proposal does not provide sufficient vessels to meet the demands of the empire, and consequently cannot be accepted without reservations.

Other countries have voiced similar disapproval and it begins to appear as if the President's proposal made in the best of faith is doomed to defeat.

The impossibility of the various nations settling upon some uniform basis of disarmament is immediately apparent when we consider that the requirements of some nations will be greater than others. Certainly Britain with her great possessions will require more ships for protection than the remainder of the nations, even France and the United States.

Setting some definite plan of reduction agreeable to all nations would mean that the big powers would arm to the limit with the smaller powers attempting to do the same.

The proposal is one of great magnitude but one which must be met eventually and the representatives at the conference might as well get down to business, reduce and help their countries recover from the economic depression caused to a great extent by uninterupted improvement of navies and armies.

The fight for cash payment of soldiers' compensation certificates isn't over by any means and veterans even at this time are carrying their battle to the convention floor of the Democrats assembled in Chicago.

If the party will agree to add to its platform a plank calling for immediate payment of the bonus, the bulk of veterans throughout the nation undoubtedly will rally to the support of its nominees in the forthcoming election.

The Republican element of Congress may have thought it was through with the veterans when they caused defeat of the bonus bill, but in that they are mistaken. The veterans have formed an organization which they believe will be of value in the long fight ahead and if they fail to gain assurance of support from either of the dominant parties they will continue their fight undismayed, believing that they will eventually convince

Gambler's Throw

By EUSTACE L. ADAMS

SYNOPSIS: Ashwood, the "gentleman gangster" who is entertaining five "guests" on an island while he collects ransom, sent for a minister to marry him to Nancy Wentworth, one of his prisoners. But Jerry Calhoun, who with Stevens and Emory Bates is trying to outwit Ashwood, intends to marry Nancy himself.

Chapter 27 SECRET MARRIAGE

Ashwood rose abruptly. "Unless I am too optimistic," he chuckled, "another guest is arriving, one who will be glad to give spiritual comfort to those who desire it."

He looked point blank at Lucci, who cursed him.

Ten minutes later, the affable host presented the Rev. Dr. Llewellyn Titherington to his guests. The minister was a short, thin man with a bass voice which, being out of proportion to his stature, startled those who heard it for the first time.

Ashwood regarded him with ill-restrained delight. It was evident that Dr. Titherington had read the fulsome account of the spectacular kidnappings and recognized the victims as they were introduced. By the time the smiling cripple presented "One-shot Lucci, Flower of Chicago Gangdom," the minister trembled, naturally.

"And now," suggested Ashwood suavely, "I must insist that you rest. Your journey has, no doubt, been fatiguing. Alfred, show Dr. Titherington to his room."

The minister turned and followed the steward. "Sort of too bad" ventured the detective mildly, "to make sport of the little feller like that. I'm going in to see if I can make him feel at little easier in his mind. It's probably all upset."

Ashwood bowed sardonically. "Peace be with you, brother," he pronounced blandly the drawn-down gravity of his mouth belied by the scoffing in his eyes.

Stevens turned abruptly and left the room. Walking through the long hall of the guests' wing he knocked at the door, which he guessed would be the minister's. There was no answer, so he entered without invitation. Dr. Titherington was seated on a straight-backed chair, anxiously looking out of the window into the fast darkening twilight. His face was pale, his eyes large and round, but he was in full control of his emotions.

"Well Reverend, how goes it?" Stevens seated himself on the edge of the bed and studied the other for a moment before broaching his subject. "See here, Reverend, you may have forgotten who I am, amongst all the introductions of a few minutes ago. I'm Stevens, an operative of the United States Treasury Department."

The little man looked at him dully.

"What are you doing in this den of thieves, then?" he inquired.

"Trying to get away and put the leader of the crooks in prison. There hasn't been a break I could take advantage of yet, so I've had to bide my time." He stopped to marshal his thoughts. Then, abruptly, "You came to marry Ashwood to Miss Wentworth, didn't you?"

Dr. Titherington's long fingers wound and unwound the long black ribbon which hung from his nose glasses.

"Yes," he replied at length. "But I am not sure that I shall conduct the ceremony, now."

"I know you won't."

The minister stared curiously at the detective. He was gradually emerging from the fog of depression which had engulfed him.

"What do you mean by that?" he demanded.

"Just that. The cripple is going to abduct that girl against her will. In a moment of whole-hearted generosity, he offered to marry her, the way a feller tosses a bone to a dog. But whether you marry them or not, he's going to take her away unless we can find some way to stop it."

"Perhaps then," decided the other, "it would be better to marry them."

"It would, if the whole affair couldn't be stopped. But you can. There is a fine young feller here who got into this jam just to rescue her. He has offered to marry her before Linny gets around to it, hoping that will stop him from carrying her off."

"I shall have nothing to do with it. The whole thing is entirely too fantastic." The black ribbon was hopelessly snarled.

"Well," snarled the old man, quietly, "from where I sit, a live layman, if you'd have to give up your church, would look better to me than a dead minister."

"Dead?" Dr. Titherington gasped audibly.

"Deader'n hell, begging your pardon. You don't meet guys like Ashwood at Wednesday afternoon guild meetings, you know. He'd worry himself over killing you as much as he did over bumping off those two gorillas of One-shot's. Maybe less. I take it he doesn't care much about ministers I might mention, in passink, that two men got their throats cut last night. One of 'em is just the other side of that partition. If you are alive tomorrow you will probably read a burial service or two."

"And you—a government detective—stand for these outrages?" The minister blinked rapidly in his indignation and rolled his eyes toward the partition.

"Just now, yes," admitted Steve patiently. "No use committing suicide. Like you're going to, because I don't like what I can't help. Now listen, you can do the girl a good turn by marrying her to the nice young feller who'll be running much more risk of getting knocked off than you will. If your conscience will allow you, though, to hitch her up to Ashwood, go to it! He, I'd hate to live to old age remembering it, if I was to do a thing like that."

He rose wearily and turned toward the door. A sudden gesture from the deflated little clergyman stopped him.

"What about the license?" ventured the clergyman weakly.

"I'll take the responsibility for that," the other assured him. "If you're going to stall the whole thing, don't gas at the details."

"Bring the couple to me," he agreed finally. "I prefer to meet the wrath of a criminal rather than the sorrow of my Maker."

Stevens, in his delight smote the other on the back with so lusty a whack that the little man coughed painfully. Then he went for the bridegroom and Emory, whom he had decided should be best man.

Ashwood looked up from his book as Mr. Titherington, Jerry, and Nancy, Emory and Stevens trooped into the living-room. For the first time since Jerry had known him the cripple seemed, for a moment, to have been caught off guard. In intuitive suspicion of the unexpected, his eyes flashed from one to the other of the entering group, as though to read in their minds the riddle of the unusual appearance.

"Is this a committee waiting upon me with a petition?" he bowed, at last. "You all have the gully expressions of conspirators on your faces." A note of impatience crept into his voice. "Come, unveil the mystery."

Jerry stepped forward and found that Stevens had unobtrusively shouldered his way to his side. Hanging regarding them with idle curiosity, Malloy, a highball half-way to his lips, stood by the center table gazing at them in astonishment. Martin's white face, dim in a corner, was turned their way. Lucci, in an easy chair, made the pilot think of a crouching panther. What was it that had warned them of a crisis?

"Gentlemen," Jerry's voice was clear and crisp. "May I present my wife, Mrs. Calhoun?"

Ashwood quivered as though he had been slapped. The blood slowly drained from his face until his cheeks were as colorless as his hair. He looked nearer fifty than thirty, except for his eyes. They seethed to contract, somehow, until they were mere slits in the parchment of his dead-white face.

Lucci rose from his chair, and hot little eyes as venomous as a copper-head's He took three steps forward and then, as though impatient to get his hands upon the man who had robbed him of Nancy, he catapulted forward, his speed increasing with every step he took.

Jerry whirled and braced himself to meet the attack. His gray eyes were as hard as polished steel. His mouth was set in a crooked half-smile. He long anticipated conflict, was at hand and he was content to have it so.

Jerry gets the fight he wants, tomorrow, and Ashwood inquires how Nancy will like leaving her new husband.

"Light One for ME"

It's pretty hard to be around a Chesterfield and not want one. That tempting aroma tells you the truth. It says... "Here's a milder cigarette. Here's one that tastes better." Sure... there's a good reason. Several, in fact. Chesterfields contain the finest tobaccos grown. These tobaccos are not only blended, they're cross-blended in Chesterfield's own special way.

They are rolled in the purest paper that money can buy. Grown right. Cured right. Blended right. Made right. Packed right. That's Chesterfield. In fact, there isn't any way for a cigarette to be purer, milder or better tasting. No wonder so many millions of smokers say "THEY SATISFY."

Market Report

Cotton--Stocks--Grain

New York Cotton

Cotton futures opened steady 3-5 higher on relatively steady Liverpool cables and spot house buying. Reports of further showers in the eastern belt, absence of further July notices and some buying of that position by the trade, helped the tone of the early market. Buying was only moderately active but prices worked up to 5.34 for July and 5.60 for December, making net advances of about 7 to 12 points on the more active months. Houses with Japanese and Liverpool connections were said to be among the early buyers while the selling came chiefly from southern, local and Wall Street sources.

The market at the end of the first half hour was steady, within a point or two of the best. It was rumored that about 15,000 to 20,000 bales taken up on yesterday's July notices was intended for export to Germany.

Grain Market

Chicago, June 29.—(AP)—Stop loss-selling on the part of scattered holders had about an effect on grain today, with aggressive buying support absent most of the time.

Export demand for wheat was confined almost entirely to Canadian grain. July calls fell to a new low price record for the season, and the equalled former lows.

Wheat closed nervous 1-2 to 7-8 under yesterday's finish; corn 3-4 to 5-8 down; oats 1-4 to 1-2 off and provisions unchanged to 12 decline.

Stock Market

New York, June 29.—(AP)—The stock market remained a rather spineless affair today, but with prices bumping along the old lows, shorts were cautious and did enough covering to give the list an irregularly higher tendency.

Prices held in an extremely narrow trading area for the most part, and had a monetary setback coincident with Westinghouse's dividend omission. Nevertheless, traders felt that with the market so dull, and the possibility of developments in Washington, Chicago or Louisiana susceptible of bullish interpretation, the short side was rather dangerous.

The list firmed in the first hour, and after a temporary sag, stiffened again after midday. Gains of a point or more appeared in American Can, Consolidated Gas, New York Central, Santa Fe, Union Pacific, Case, Air Reduction, Coca Cola, American Tobacco B, and Allied Chemical, while U. S. Steel, American Telephone, Standard of New Jersey, and McIntire Porcupine were up fractionally. Westinghouse sagged more than a point to a new low, Wrigley, National Biscuit, Central Airline, South Puerto Rico Sugar, and Hershey lost as much, while Proctor and Gamble declined 2. Some of the preferreds were weak, Johns Manville and American Radiator breaking 5 in a thin market.

Dividend news was again an important factor.

SEEK SUPPORT OF ROOSEVELT at this convention. They are a good many more than twice the number needed to make the New York governor democracy's choice to take Herbert Hoover's place in the White House.

There were indications also that some of the delegates call from the Rooseveltians had already sounded like music.

Despite the plea from "Jim" Reed, the man they are pledged to for the presidency, 191-2 of Missouri's 36 votes broke loose yesterday and went to Senator Walsh, Roosevelt choice for the permanent chairmanship.

The Missouri men have indicated they will follow instructions and give Reed their 36 intact on the first vote for the presidency. After that, a rush toward the Roosevelt standard is quite likely. How many would join in it was a question being asked by both sides.

Indiana threw its strength solidly against Roosevelt today but Thursday will probably tell a different story. Some members of the delegation have estimated that the New Yorker will get at least 20 votes.

VETS SEEKING NEW LEADER (Continued From Page One) olution sent to the House under which the former service men would receive federal loans for transportation home. Hardly had the police, prompted by nearly depleted provisions, passed word to the veterans it was time for them to leave Washington, than new strife began to brew over the "army's" organization.

"Confirmation election" was called at all camps today to decide if Walter W. Waters, of Portland, Oregon, should be chosen permanent commander-in-chief after the re-election to that post by the claim of some 7,000 men last night. Waters' re-election came a few hours after Thomas Kelly of Camden, N. J., who has been acting chief, was succeeded by Geo. Kleinholz, also of Portland.

If the Senate-approved proposal of Howell (R., Neb.), were enacted, transportation would be provided up to July 15, with travel subsistence of 75 cents a day. The money would be advanced as loans without interest, but if not repaid would be deducted from adjusted compensation certificates.

GERMANY SEEKS REVISION OF THE VERSAILLES PACT (Continued From Page One) may be revised out of the party. His statement was a reply to a question proposed by Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald of Great Britain yesterday asking what concessions Germany was ready to make in order to facilitate a definite settlement of the reparations problem.

"World confidence cannot be re-established," the chancellor said "if the powers which emerged victors from the world war do not decide to eliminate the discrimination created by the treaty of Versailles.

"If, by revision of the treaty, German equality and security is re-established, then will the chancellor esteem it possible for Germany, in a common effort to reconstruct world economy, to pay her share in the form of a contribution which would have the natural result of re-establishing German economic and business equilibrium as well as that of the entire world."

POLITICAL BATTLE IS ON 'HOME STRETCH' IN N. C. (Continued From Page One) tide definitely has turned" and said he would be nominated to succeed himself. He was appointed to office by Governor O. Max Gardner.

Headquarters of John C. B. Ehringhaus, of Elizabeth City, basing estimates on an expected vote of 32,000, predicted he would defeat R. T. Fountain, of Rocky Mount, in the gubernatorial race by 100,000 votes. Ehringhaus led Fountain in the first primary by 47,000.

J. N. Delaney, Fountain's manager, issued the following statement: "With Fountain forces aroused and working as they have never worked before, and with a veritable groundswell of public sentiment for Fountain sweeping the State, I am confident that he will receive the nomination for Governor from the Democratic voters Saturday."

Delaney added that Fountain's headquarters have spent the last two weeks in "successfully organizing" the piedmont and western sections of the State and have "said little," while Ehringhaus headquarters has been frightened into making baseless and ridiculous claims.

A. L. Fletcher and Clarence E. Mitchell, both of Raleigh, each claimed victory in the race for State Commissioner of Labor.

As the vote on the senatorial candidate is for the unexpired term of the late Senator Lee S. Overman as well as for the regular term starting next March, voters will be required to vote in four contests Saturday. They will vote for Senator twice and for Governor and Labor Commissioner.

Party leaders generally anticipate an unusually heavy vote, though there is only one precedent for a second gubernatorial primary in the State. In 1920, when Morrison defeated Gardner in a run-off for the governorship, 3,000 more votes were cast in the second primary than in the first. Only 131,000 votes were cast, however, compared with more than 370,000 in this year's first primary.

A leading sponsor of Reed today said: "The Missouri delegation is anxious to break after it fulfills its obligation to Senator Reed. There is a threat of possibly four breaking away even on the first ballot."

It was pointed out that the vote of a part of the delegation yesterday to support Senator Walsh for the permanent chairmanship over J. Bennett Shouse, executive director of the Democratic party supported by Alfred E. Smith, was a direct slap at Reed.

At the same time conferees on the $2,300,000,000 Garner-Wagner relief bill attacked the remaining and important differences between House and Senate measures. They had behind them an agreement that $200,000,000 should be loaned to states by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation on the basis of population and $100,000,000 distributed by President Hoover as he sees fit.

This latter provision had the approval of the administration and was included in the measure introduced by Speaker Garner and passed by the House. The Senate, however, had proposed simply that $300,000,000 be loaned to states on the population basis.

Additional progress was made in the drive to get essential appropriations bills on the law books by midnight tomorrow, although Senate leaders doubted that all would be there when the new fiscal year begins. Consequently, some of them believe Congress could not adjourn until about next Wednesday.

"He said they sighted a boat but high seas prevented getting close," Haskell replied. "He said they had to restrain Col. Lindbergh from jumping overboard to swim to the other ship."

Haskell told of Curtis' offer to sell his story of alleged negotiations with the kidnapers and said he was with him in New Jersey the day the baby's body was found. After this news was received Curtis asked him to telephone Mrs. Curtis at their home in Norfolk, Va.

"Tell her no matter what she reads in the next few days, I am all right," Haskell quoted him as saying.

Under cross-examination by Lloyd Fisher, chief defense counsel, Haskell said he had visited Curtis in jail after he had confessed that all his negotiations were a hoax and Curtis at that time emphatically reaffirmed that he had been in touch with the actual kidnapers.

"I was puzzled," Haskell testified, "so I asked him 'now that it is all over, tell me, were you ever in touch with the kidnapers?'"

"He most indignantly said 'Yes, the story is still to be told. It's in Norfolk.'"

Haskell said that Curtis told him he had confessed that all his stories of negotiations with the kidnapers were a hoax in order "to get some sleep."

Curtis has since repudiated his confession and even the prosecution is disregarding it, attempting to prove instead that Curtis really was in touch with the kidnapers and by false confession hindered their capture. Col. Lindbergh, however, testified yesterday that he did not think Curtis had ever been in contact either with the kidnapers or their representatives.

After Haskell was excused Frank J. Wilson, of Baltimore, a special agent of the Revenue department, was called as the fourth prosecution witness.

Wilson testified that at the Lindbergh home in Hopewell on the night the baby's body was found Curtis described to him in detail the members of the gang he said he had been dealing with.

He said Curtis named the band as John, Dynamite, Eric and Goldberg, "a great big Norwegian Jew."

Curtis also described a woman called Hilda, who he said was Dynamite's wife, and gave details of the alleged kidnap schooner. He gave Hilda's telephone number as Freeport 5630, which he said was at her Long Island home.

Veterinarians At Henderson

Henderson, June 29.—(AP)—Veterinarians of two states gathered here today in annual convention for two days of discussion and instruction regarding the work of veterinarians.

With the auxiliary present, the State Veterinary Medical Association of North Carolina and Virginia held opening sessions today. Dr. P. C. McLain, of Gastonia, president of the North Carolina group, was on the program as presiding officer.

After opening addresses, groups prepared to hear presidents' addresses from McLain and Dr. W. H. Grubb of Purcellville, Va., president of the Virginia group.

Other parts of today's program included clinics and an address by Dr. R. R. Dykstra, president of the American Veterinary Medical Association and dean of the Veterinary School of Kansas State College.

This afternoon another clinic was to be followed by a banquet and more addresses after which the two associations were to hold separate business sessions.

Student Drowned In College Lake

Wake Forest, June 29.—(AP)—Edward William McManus, 28-year-old senior enrolled at the Wake Forest College summer school here, drowned late yesterday in the college lake and after an all night search his body was recovered at 5 o'clock this morning. McManus, a son of W. A. McManus of Cabarrus, was swimming in the lake late yesterday afternoon. Other persons in the water saw him dive but, as he was not a member of their party, paid no heed to whether he left the water.

When he failed to show up for supper a search was organized and students dived and swam in the lake most of the night seeking his body. It was found in eight feet of water this morning.

Copper L. M. Waring of Wake county said McManus died of strangulation following exhaustion and he and examining physicians said they found no evidence of foul play. Memorial services were held at the college today and the body was then taken to Cabarrus for burial.

Relatives Plan To Probe Death S. A. Martinez

Asheville, June 29.—(AP)—Relatives of Sabino Albert Martinez, whose body was found in the driveway of a residence here Friday last, plan to investigate his death.

The clerk of Superior Court received from a magistrate in Key West, Fla., yesterday, a request for details of the death.

ANNOUNCEMENT!

I hereby announce my candidacy for membership in the House of Representatives from Pitt County, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary to be held July 2nd.

I believe the first and most important function of Democratic Government is the education of its youth.

The state should pay the entire expense of the six month's school term WITHOUT ANY TAX ON LAND.

I am opposed to spending more for any kind of Governmental service than the people are able to pay and then issuing bonds to pay deficits, as we have sometimes done in the past.

There should be no bond issue without a vote of the people, except for refunding bonds already outstanding.

I favor re-valuation of land and all real estate at its true value.

I stand for strict, though round economy in all departments of our Government.

Your vote and support will be greatly appreciated.
