

HOUSE PUTS OKAY ON HOOVER RELIEF MEASURE

Bill Will Provide Over Two Billion Dollars For Relief of Unemployment

ACTION ENDS LONG FIGHT

Speaker Garner casts the deciding vote and broke a tie on the Rainey Finance Corporation to file monthly reports on all loans under new bill; Snell demands recapitulation of the vote.

Washington, July 13.—(AP)—The House today passed the 2,122,000,000 relief bill, drafted along lines approved by President Hoover.

Just a few minutes before passage Speaker Garner cast the deciding vote and broke a tie on the Rainey Finance Corporation to file monthly reports on all loans under the new relief bill. He voted for the amendment.

The roll call vote on the Rainey amendment before the Speaker cast his ballot was 169 to 169.

Representative Snell, of New York minority leader, demanded a recapitulation of the vote. It was found to be the same.

In passing its own relief measure, the House thrust aside the Senate's relief bill, passed last night, because of President Hoover's objection to some phases.

This course was taken to expedite action. The Senate is expected to immediately consider the House measure. If it does not agree, the bill will be sent to conference where the difficulties are to be ironed out. Final action is expected by late today or tonight.

Washington, July 13.—(AP)—The Senate today rejected a motion to reconsider the vote by which it passed the modified $2,122,000,000 unemployment relief bill.

The action came a short time after Senator Glass (Democrat, Virginia) said that Secretary Mills and Governor Meyer, of the Federal Reserve Board, had informed him they favored the provision in the measure allowing direct loans from Reserve Banks to individuals.

Washington, July 13.—(AP)—Immediately upon convening today, the House plunged into consideration of $2,122,000,000 relief bill designed to get approval from President Hoover. Passage was expected without delay.

In the Senate, meanwhile, an effort was made to get reconsideration of the vote there yesterday by which a bill differing from the one in the House was passed.

Senator Bingham (R. Conn.) said the Democrats by "jamming through their so-called relief bill" had unduly all the work Congress had accomplished to balance the budget.

He said this made a "myth" of their pledge in the party platform to cut government expenditures 25 per cent.

Secretary Mills said after a conference with the chief executive he had discussed the situation at length, but declined to comment upon the bill passed by the Senate other than to say the amendment allowing the Federal Reserve System to make loans on certain types of paper met with his general approval.

Washington, July 13.—(AP)—Congressional leaders today renewed their drive for adjournment by tomorrow night.

Speaker Garner told newspapermen efforts would be made to reach final legislative action today on the $2,122,000,000 relief bill and the $355,000,000 War Department supply bill.

Glass Seeks To Modify Eighteenth Amendment

Washington, July 13.—(AP)—Senator Glass (Democrat, Virginia) in the Senate today proposed a new amendment to the Constitution to repeal the Eighteenth Amendment, but to prohibit sale of liquor in saloons or transportation into any states where it was unlawful.

Long a supporter of the present amendment, the Virginian sought immediate consideration for his proposed substitute.

This was blocked, however, Senator Norris (Republican, Nebraska) objecting.

The proposed Glass amendment would be inoperative unless ratified

LIBBY HOLMAN REACHES HOME

Utmost Secrecy Surrounds Movements of Reynolds' Widow at Cincinnati.

Cincinnati, Ohio, July 13.—(AP)—Libby Holman came back home by the back door today, scurrying from her train at a way station twelve miles out of the city to avoid a small crowd of curious gathered down town to see her.

The young widow of Smith Reynolds, tobacco heir, dead of a bullet wound at Winston-Salem, N. C., was accompanied by relatives.

She and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Tolman of Cincinnati, hurried from the train at Clare, on the outskirts of the city. No stop had been scheduled there, railroad men insisting there had been no orders given to make the halt there or anywhere else.

The arrival was described as a frenzied dash from their sleeping car in an automobile. Miss Holman was so closely bundled her face was scarcely discernible.

Her father half pushed and carried her from the train to the waiting car.

REBELS CLAIM GAIN IN BRAZIL

Rebellion Reported to be Assuming Nationwide Proportions Today.

Sao Paulo, Brazil, July 13.—(AP)—There were indications today that the rebellion against the Brazilian government which for four days has centered around this wealthiest of the southern cities was spreading into a nation-wide uprising.

Among these was a declaration from Pedro de Toledo, who became head of the revolutionary government in Sao Paulo province yesterday, following his resignation as federal governor, that the states of Rio Grande Do Sul and Minas Geraes also had announced their adhesion to the movement.

The rebel forces claimed success in the field. Their headquarters announced that the vanguard of their forces captured a munitions factory at Piqueite, 120 miles northeast of here and half way to Rio de Janeiro.

Thirty thousand men are now ready to fight, another communique said, and six states are behind the revolt. They are, besides Sao Paulo, Rio Grande Do Sul and Minas Geraes, Mato Grosso, Parana and Santa Catarina.

Rio de Janeiro, July 13.—(AP)—The fourth day of the southern Brazilian revolt found the situation relatively unchanged, judging from information available here.

The rebels had no attempted to extend their rule outside Sao Paulo, it said.

DEBT ACCORD AWAITS U. S.

It is the unpublished accord whereby Germany's creditors undertook to relay the effectiveness of the treaty of Lausanne until Uncle Sam had done something about scaling down the debts they owe him.

TESTIMONY CONSIDERED

Chief Investigating Officer Sifting Testimony of Witnesses Regarding Death Of Heir to Reynolds' Millions; Evidence Regarding Foreign-Made Pistol Receiving Close Attention.

Winston-Salem, N. C., July 13.—(AP)—The mystery of Smith Reynolds' death by a gunshot wound one week ago, deepened rather than cleared by a coroner's inquest today wrapped itself closely about the efforts to Forsyth county authorities to solve the most sensational problem they have ever faced.

Sheriff Transou Scott, the chief investigating officer, let it be known he was seeking to ascertain the truth in regard to various points about which there was conflict of testimony in the hearing by the coroner's jury. The jury attributed the young tobacco heir's death to "a person or persons unknown to the jury."

From a member of the jury, W. T. Albaugh, came information that a major factor in the returning of the so-called "open verdict" was testimony that the foreign-made pistol with which the 20-year-old heir was shot was not found until four hours after the shooting, although the Reynolds estate night watchman had made a thorough search of the scene in the meantime.

The pistol was found near the door between the bedroom of Mrs. Libby Holman Reynolds, former Broadway blues singer, and the sleeping porch on the second floor of Reynolds, the palatial Reynolds' family home. It was on this porch that Smith dropped with a pistol bullet through his brain at 1 a. m. last Wednesday, a few minutes after the breaking up of a gay birthday party at which, witnesses testified there was considerable drinking of corn whiskey and home brew.

Officers were reticent in discussing the case, but they said only two explanations were possible: The night watchman overlooked the gun, although its location was not hidden or the weapon was placed there later by some person yet unidentified.

The reported discovery of a hole in the porch screen, apparently made by a bullet, six feet, six inches above the floor, mystified officers who minutely scrutinized the testimony.

Physicians who made an autopsy said the fatal bullet entered through the head and came out to the rear and below the left ear.

The question was asked how the bullet could follow a downward course through Reynolds' head and then apparently suddenly make a single upward in its flight. It was unanswered except on the theory that the youth was lying on the bed, face downward, with his left side to the screen at the time the shot was fired.

An early official theory of suicide advanced by Coroner W. N. Dalton was discarded after Sheriff Scott's force had made the discovery of the hole in the screen, had learned the period before the pistol was found and of other discrepancies in the testimony.

Some attention was given to the testimony of C. Raymond Kramer, Flushing, L. I., tutor of the young heir, that Reynolds met him when he drove up to the estate about 10:30 p. m. and asked about another mysterious automobile he said he just entered the grounds. Kramer knew nothing or another car, or other witnesses failed to mention (Continued on page six)

Winston-Salem, N. C., July 13.—(AP)—The Twin-City Sentinel today says it has learned authoritative grand jury will be discharged this afternoon without making an announcement in the case of Smith Reynolds, tobacco heir, who was shot to death a week ago.

The paper also says the grand jury has completed its report and will return with "no reference to Reynolds' death."

Says G. O. P. Financed Out Of U. S. Treasury

Washington, July 13.—(AP)—House Democrats have deferred their try for a congressional investigation of federal money activities but one of their number thinks that "the Republican campaign is financed out of the treasury of the United States."

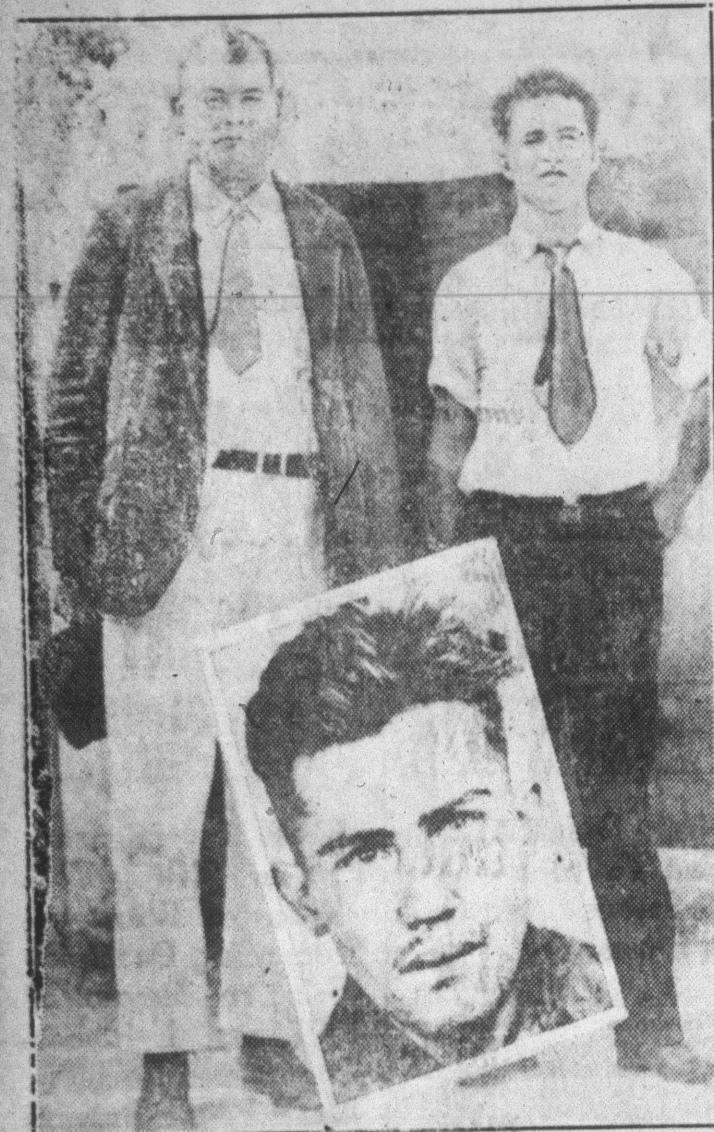

Rep. O'Connor (D., N. Y.) made this statement on the House floor when explaining that he differed with Chairman Poy (D., N. C.) of the rules committee on the advisability of dropping the investigation.

"Watch the tax refunds and the campaign contributions between now and November if you want proof of what I say," O'Connor shouted. "I make this statement advisedly."

You explained the rules committee action had delayed the study but that "these great returns to corporations of taxes paid should be analyzed and examined by a committee of both houses." Speaker Garner, he continued, had shown a willingness to postpone the study "for the public interest."

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE — WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rain' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul. Skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes these good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resist a substitute. See at all stores. © 1961 C. M. Co.

Pythians Off for Trip on Revenue Cutter 'Pamlico'

About sixty members of the Greenville order of Knights of Pythias left this morning for New Bern where they were to board the government revenue cutter Pamlico for a picnic cruise down the river. The boat will return to the Craven capital during the late afternoon where the picnicers will disembark and return home.

The trip was being looked forward to with interest by members of the organization as well as the few visitors who enjoyed their hospitality, and the day promised to be one of the most enjoyable in years.

Text Of Will Of Smith Reynolds

Winston-Salem, N. C., July 13.—(AP)—Here is the text of a "will" written by Smith Reynolds which was introduced by his widow, Libby Holman, at the inquest into his death. It was not dated, but it is believed to have been written about five years ago while he was a student at Woodberry Forest School.

"I will my car to Ab, if he finishes it; my house to Nancy; my money to Dick; my reputation to Virginia; my good looks to Mary (she needs it). Hope you don't feel hurt hurt about this will. You think I am little but I am not."

Ab is believed to be Albert Walker, a chum; Nancy, his sister, and Dick, his elder brother. R. J. Reynolds, Jr.

$100,000 Blaze at Greensboro

Greensboro, N. C., July 13.—(AP)—Fire that did a probable damage of $100,000 broke out in the business section here last night and spread through three buildings occupied by half a dozen firms.

R. C. Fortune, a fireman, was burned on one arm but remained on duty until the flames were brought under control near midnight, two hours after they were discovered.

Firemen believed the blaze started in a studio-paintshop, but they were unable to assign a cause.

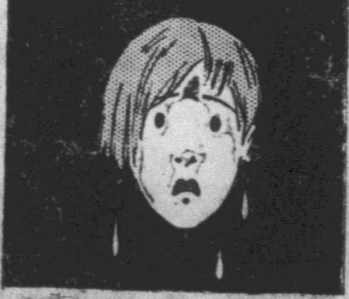

The fire spread north and south into several physicians' and dentists' offices, a drug store, a cafe and several clothing establishments.

Harry Bannister Engaged, Stated

Hollywood, July 13.—(AP)—On the eve of his scheduled departure for England, Harry Bannister, from her husband of Ann Harding, was a bit indefinite in making his position clear in Hollywood's latest reported love match—his supposed engagement to Miss Nancy Lyon, 18-year-old daughter of a Los Angeles attorney.

"Miss Lyon is a splendid girl and certainly we are good friends," said Bannister.

Miss Lyon ferred the following:

Aspermarle, July 13.—(AP)—No trace has been found of Eph Burris, Jim Hinson, Arthur Furr and Raymond Herrin who sawed bars of their cell in Stanly county jail Sunday night and escaped.

Roosevelt Still in Smith Waters

Stonington, Conn., July 13.—(AP)—Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt, bearing an olive branch, got his good ship Myth II ready today for a further cruise into Al Smith waters.

It's goal today on his weeks vacation sail aboard the 40-foot yawl is Wood's Hole, Mass., the state where Smith strength is notable.

Gone almost entirely is the long bob inspired by stars of the silver screen. The longest bob is now just an inch below the natural hairline, but most women prefer an even closer cut, with the hair deftly thinned out to shape the head, but not shingled as in the old days.

New York—The up-to-date minute collegiate dancer (so they say at the Dancing Teachers' Congress) presses his nose against his partner's nose. The man's hand would drape over the nape of the girl's neck. He girl should swing away from her partner like a scurf in a strong wind.

Uniontown, Pa.—Arthur Whipkey, accused of wrecking one locomotive and trying to remove two others from a round-house, pleaded he had a "date" with his girl. He promised in the future to use some other means of "locomotion."

Evanston, Ill.—Young Thomas Getman's sense of humor brought woe. Stopped for having no auto license, he pointed serenely to a cardboard sign: "License applied for." The cop turned it over. The other side read: "Nuts to all policemen." You can guess the rest.

ABOUT TOWN

Contributions to Westbrook swimming pool have been moving sluggishly this week and only donations of $45 reported the first day of the campaign have been received. The total sum needed for operation of the pool this summer is $200 and unless public-spirited citizens give liberally it is going to be impossible to meet expenses. The pool has rendered splendid service to the city and community the last two years by throwing a safeguard around the lives of the swimmers, and this has resulted in the saving of human life. The value of the recreation center can't be figured from the monetary standpoint because all of the money placed in its operation the last two years would not pay for the loss of one of the lives which have been sacrificed in unprotected rivers and creeks. Greenville people should be thankful for the spirit behind the movement and do their bit with contributions to make operation the remainder of the summer an actuality.

Interest in the canning of farm products for home consumption has received renewed impetus this summer and Pitt county people will have more to eat during the coming winter than they ever had before.

The canning of home grown products was conducted upon an extensive scale last year. It resulted in decreased cost of living and food for hundreds of people who would have gone hungry had it not been for the foresight of their thrifty neighbors.

With more home canneries in operation this summer it is natural to assume that more foods have been canned and that people will be in far better condition to meet the demands of the community during the long winter months.

This industry cannot be too heartily commended and the merchants who made it possible for many people to obtain the canning plants are to be congratulated upon their action. It is the first stroke in behalf of the return of prosperity to this part of the country, and if continued over a period of many years, will make many of the farmers virtually independent and self-sustaining.

Persons who have not cut weeds about their premises should find it to their advantage to do so in the face of increased chills and malarial fever reported in the community.

The cause of the illness was attributed largely to the unusual mosquito emergence in this city this year, and the condition is not expected to improve until breeding places of the mosquitoes have been obliterated. Weeds form the best breeding places for the pests, and this brings the citizenship face to face with the importance of cleaning up their premises and preserving health conditions.

Health experts have issued warning in this connection and those who abide by it should pass through the summer with less mosquitoes and without the forms of illness which have proven costly to scores of people.

The value of attractive display windows is being realized by merchants in virtually all cities and towns of the country, and especially at this time when business is not what it used to be and merchants are forced to do their best to attract attention of shoppers. Greenville merchants have provided themselves with excellent window displays and these have been largely responsible for the interest which the public shows in various materials displayed from time to time.

Merchandise properly presented in windows at once catches the eye of the discriminating buyers, and hundreds of sales are made here as result of this business on displayed stocks.

SYNOPSIS: Sondra Kent, at the theater with her sister and brother-in-law, watches the two men who figure most importantly in her life. She is in love with Mark Merriman, but is determined not to marry him since he has neither money nor hopeful future. Mark loves her, as does John Anderson. But Anderson is bound to an unhappy marriage and has never admitted that he feels more than friendship for Sondra. Sondra's attitude toward marriage is strongly influenced by the advice her father gave her long ago, to marry for money and not for love. His further statement, that Sondra and her sister Flora were good looking but could not make themselves useful, Condra knows is true. Flora has married a rich man, Lomax, who bores and annoys Flora. As the three go out of the theater, Sondra finds that John Anderson is beside her.

Sondra only half listened. Her thoughts were far enough away. She sat looking out of the windows of the big car, her heart following Mark Harriman through the wet night. She knew where he lived—in rooms, in an unfashionable part of the city. She had never been there, for Mark was not the kind of man who would suggest that a girl should visit him in his rooms even supposing they had been the last word in luxury. He was very conventional, Sondra thought.

"It's such a pity John Anderson can't get rid of Evelyn," Flora said suddenly. "He'd make such a splendid husband for you. I hate these dog-in-the-manger women who don't want a man themselves and yet won't let them go."

"I don't think he minds," Sondra said absently. "He seems to enjoy being semidetached quite well, and I certainly don't want him for a husband, thank you."
"Decent fellow, Anderson," Ben Lomax put in apologetically. He was always trying to join in his wife's conversation in spite of the dozens of times he had snubbed him for the attempt; he always reminded Sondra of an outcast dog, hanging tenaciously to someone's heels hoping for a kind word.

"I always liked him," he added. "I should think he'll be delighted to hear that," his wife said, with sarcasm.
"The little man wined and drank further into the upturned collar of his coat. He had been married to Flora for five years, but he had never yet grown acclimated to her unkindness.

The big car stopped noisily outside of a gloomy lookinghouse with an awning and a red carpet reaching down to the curb.

"And now for purgatory," Flora said. "Ben, I do wish you would be less clumsy; you've got your feet on my gown."

Sondra stood waiting while her sister shook some imaginary dust from her skirt, she was so used to it all—the daily bickerings and one sided vituperation—that as a rule she hardly heard or heeded, but tonight it all added to her soul weariness.

If only she could get away from it all. She was just as anxious to leave her sister's home as Flora was for her to leave it, and yet—how? She had no money and nowhere else to go, and as their father had once said—if ever either of them tried to be useful, heaven help them! As if they were to blame! They had never been taught to be useful—only how to dress and to make themselves attractive.

Flora swept up the steps to the house, and her husband and Sondra followed.

This was her life, Sondra thought; this eternal sweeping in and out of other people's houses. Going to bed worn out and bored, getting up again to face another day just as monotonous and uninteresting.

Was it all she was ever to know? (Copyright, 1932, by Ruby M. Ayres)
Sondra learns, in the next installment, the true facts about Anderson's wife.

It's the Cigarette that's Milder and Tastes Better!

That's why more and more Smokers are changing to Chesterfield every day

WHEN you are smoking a lot of cigarettes every day, you naturally want a mild cigarette, and smokers try Chesterfields and find out that they are milder and taste better.

Then smokers tell other smokers—"one smoker telling another"—that they find that although they smoke a great many Chesterfields during the day, they never tire of them; and that they have found out that Chesterfield is a milder cigarette, that it is a cigarette that tastes better, that it is a cigarette with a most pleasing aroma.

Some time ago, in a Chesterfield advertisement, there was a statement, "A $90,000,000 Reason," and this means that the larger part of $90,000,000 is invested in the right kind of ripe, mild Domestic and Turkish tobaccos to make sure that Chesterfields are milder and taste better.

May we ask you to try them?

should not be forgotten because the volume of business is not as great as it used to be. Efforts to catch the eye of the shopper should be redoubled and at the end of the year the merchants will find their sales showing greater gain than at first anticipated.

Stanley Baldwin of England, says nobody can blame America for her action on the debt question.

The same view would be taken by other nations were they not so blinded by the importance of relieving themselves of as much war debt as possible at the expense of this country.

This country has been mighty liberal with Europe in settlement of debts growing out of the war and cannot be expected to cancel all obligations.

Inability of our financiers to realize on investments made in foreign countries is largely responsible for the economic situation confronting this nation and we will be much longer finding our way back to prosperity if debts are reduced to much.

England should be able to appreciate the situation more than all other countries by reason of the trouble she has had with the problem of collections also. It is a big issue and one that cannot be settled too hastily.

GROVE LOSES 7 TO 5 GAME TO INDIANS

By GAYLE TALBOT
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

The Cleveland Indians, tearing through the east with a speed and spirit that stamps them a vastly improved club in the last month, promises to instill some life in an American League race that had about died on its feet.

Featuring a boisterous batting attack, the Indians have captured nine of their last twelve games, including four out of five over Washington and three or four from the Athletics, and within a week have fought their way up from the second division into a tie for third place. Another victory over the A's today would plant them in a tie for the second rung.

Their spurt has enabled the Indians to pick up better than two games on the Yankees, and they will have a grand opportunity to make further inroads when they open a series at Yankee Stadium tomorrow.

The Indians gave one of their most impressive performances of the year yesterday in hammering the great Lefty Grove for 18 hits and a 7-5 victory. It was the second straight defeat for Grove and the first complete game he had pitched since he turned an ankle a month ago.

The combination of Charley Ruffing's gilt-edged pitching and Ben Chapman's home run with one on gave the Yanks 4-2 decision over St. Louis. Babe Ruth walked four times and scored twice.

He took Washington 10 innings to subdue the White Sox 13-12.

The Boston Red Sox, who have puffed themselves to win six games in the last fortnight, whereas they had required two and a half months to capture their first twelve, nosed out Detroit 3-2. Successive drives by Dave Barbee and Gus Dugas gave the Pittsburgh Pirates an 8-7 verdict over Brooklyn in 12 innings.

The second place Chicago Cubs kept pace with a 4-3 win over the Braves and George Watkins gave the Cardinals their third straight over the Phillies by a score of 7-6 when he knocked one from the premises after two were out and one on in the ninth. Thanks to an error by Joe Morrissey in the last inning, the Giants broke a four-game losing streak with a 4-3 win over Cincinnati.

ROOKIES HELP PUT TIGERS IN PENNANT CHASE

For the first time in several seasons the Detroit Tigers are close to the top in the American league pennant chase, and these four rookies have played a big part in raising the team's standing. Left to right: Izzy Goldstein, pitcher; Harry Davis, first base; Gerald Walker, catcher; Heinie Schuble, third base.

HORNETS ON TOP OF HEAP IN PIEDMONT

Charlotte, July 13.—(AP)—The Piedmont pendulum has swung again, this time halting its stroke long enough to leave the Charlotte Hornets perched atop the heap, but not by a margin to get excited about.

It was the second time the leadership had changed hands in as many days, Greensboro having captured it by winning Monday's game here, and relinquished it last night when the Hornets turned 9 hits and three strict errors into an 8-1 victory. The two teams have been but a half game apart for several days.

But even bigger news was the fact that Winston-Salem won a ball game—for the second time since the last half of the season opened.

Raleigh, known throughout the long first half period when the Twins rode atop the standings, as the giant killer, was the victim. The Caps just couldn't put their 13 hits together, and the score was 6-4.

Durham, with a 7-1 victory over the stumbling Wilmington Pirates, went into a tie with Raleigh for third place.

Market Report

Cotton--Stocks--Grain

New York Cotton

New York, July 13.—(AP)—Cotton futures opened steady, 4 to 7 lower on continued favorable weather in the south and unless local liquidation and foreign selling.

Offerings were comparatively light following the reaction of over half a cent from the high prices of last week and there was enough trade buying or covering to steady prices during the early trading. October sold up from 5.50 to 5.56, or within a point of yesterday's close, and the general market was quiet and steady within a point or two of Tuesday's final prices at the end of the first half hour.

There appeared to be some uncertainty as to the weekly weather report which led to scattered covering. Houses with Liverpool and continental connections were early sellers here; there was also some selling through brokers with Japanese connections. Liverpool cables reported hedging and liquidation on the favorable weather news but said there was an improved demand for cotton cloth from India and a fair business in yarns.

Grain Market

By JOHN P. BOUGHAN
(Associated Press Market Editor)

Chicago, July 13.—(AP)—Reported maximum temperatures of 100 degrees in the spring wheat belt had a bullish effect on grain values today.

Fears of crop damage as a result of excessive heat were persistently voiced. European demand for wheat from North America was disappointing, with shipments overseas this week totaling only 382,000 bushels, against 2,158,000 the week previous and 2,863,000 a year ago.

Stock Market

New York, July 13.—(AP)—The stock market showed signs of working out of its narrow trading range of the past fortnight on the upside today.

The list was hesitant in the early dealings, but managed to make headway in the middle of the day, with trading quickening a little on the advance. Continued firmness of bonds and a better tone in the principal commodities, tended to help the movement in shares.

Some of the sugar and packing shares continued to forge ahead, but utilities came forward to provide leadership. Buying started in the American and Foreign Power preferred shares, which got up a point or more, and soon gave of 1 to 2 appeared in such issues as Public Service of N. J., Consolidated Gas, Peoples Gas, Pacific Lighting, American Telephone, American Tobacco B. U. S. Steel preferred, Corn Products, American Can, Continental Can, Corn Products, Case, Union Pacific, Woolworth, Santa Fe, Safeway, Kroger, McKeesport, Procter and Gamble, National Biscuit and others. Some of the thinly traded preferred stocks made wider gains. In the early sag, Auburn dropped more than 4 but recovered later.

The upturn appeared to reflect a lifting of selling pressures much as anything else, although some observers have been insisting of late that signs of good accumulation have appeared in spots. Furthermore, there was an inclination on the part of some professionals to take the long side of the market, in anticipation of an early adjournment of Congress, in view of the apparent determination of the legislators to expedite a relief measure acceptable to the President.

intoxicating liquors are prohibited by law, are hereby prohibited. The Congress and the several states, territories and possessions shall have concurrent power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation.

Washington, July 13.—(AP)—Senator Glass (Democrat, Virginia), long identified as a prohibitionist, said today he planned to introduce today a resolution calling for modification of the Eighteenth Amendment.

Glass said the measure would give the government authority to prevent the return of the saloon and to regulate the interstate liquor traffic.

Otherwise, it would repeal the amendment and return to the states powers previously exercised by them before its adoption.

In debate on the Senate floor since the adoption of the Democratic plank calling for repeal of the 18th Amendment and immediate modification of the Volstead Act, Glass said that he did not consider himself bound by the party platform on this issue.

In effect, the Glass resolution, if adopted, would be an amendment to the Constitution.

Several days ago, Glass said in the Senate floor he was ready "without a moment's delay" to vote to submit the question of repeal or modification of the Eighteenth Amendment, preferring to reserve authority to prevent both the Federal government or the states from licensing a return of the saloon or permitting shipment of liquor to dry territory.

Glass declined to give out the text of his resolution until its introduction, but it was understood it would follow generally the plan he outlined in that recent speech.

It was at that time that Glass expressed his view that the Democratic convention repeal plank binds only those who voted for it. Glass, as a Virginia delegate, voted for the minority plank, which he helped draft. "I utterly deny," he said, "that that convention had a right to speak for any Congressman then elected or any Senator here under oath and obligation to discharge his duty according to his judgment and his conscience."

"If for anybody at all, it had the right to speak only for those candidates for the United States Senate and those candidates for the House of Representatives to be chosen at the ensuing election."

time.

Mrs. Putnam intended, when she took off from Los Angeles yesterday to make the first non-stop flight by a woman from coast to coast and to try to beat the non-stop record established by Frank Hawks five years ago. This record was 17 hours, 38 minutes and 59 seconds.

A forced landing at Columbus, O., caused by fuel feed trouble, however, put her out of the running for the record and left her with only the Nichols' time to beat. Miss Nichols did not attempt to push along after she landed at Wichita, but spent the night there. Mrs. Putnam stayed in Columbus only an hour and a quarter.

Miss Nichols' flying time for the crossing is still the best made by a woman, she having only been in the air 13 hours, 21 minutes and 43 seconds, but it is the elapsed time that counts in record-making.

Mrs. Putnam was in the air just over eighteen hours.

LIBBY HOLMAN IS AT HOME

Mrs. Kahn lives in Wyoming, a Cincinnati suburb. Reached there, she said firmly she knew nothing of her sister's movements, adding, with emphasis, "and please leave us alone."

Blantly at first, then more heatedly her sister and brother denied knowledge of her whereabouts. Finally it was admitted that the widow of Reynolds was at her sister's little home.

"Boys," said Alfred Holman Jr., 21, her brother, "it's no use. There'll be no pictures or statements."

"Though there was no suggestion as to the plans of the Holman family, the supposition prevailed that Libby would remain in Wyoming a few days, then go elsewhere, perhaps to the mountains, to seek recovery from the shock and strain of her husband's death from a bullet wound a week ago, and the long, close interrogation that followed.

It was a crushed and fearful Libby that reached home today. There was no smiling and bowing to those who had seen her grow in professional debut on the stage.

Instead, there was a just a glimpse of a heavily cloaked girl, face covered, head lowered, as her lawyer-father half pushed, half carried her from the steps of the railway car to an automobile across the rural station platform, and then a quick succession of elatives—mother, brother, sister—scurrying to the train car.

Pullman attendants said the Holman family had spent a quiet night, and there were no incidents out of the ordinary.

the authorities unless and emergency arose.

The war veterans swung into their five mile march under a sun already hot to join hundreds of other former soldiers who had spent the night on the capitol grounds.

The group at the capitol was assured by Rep. Patman (D., Texas) an advocate of immediate payment that today he would introduce a measure calling for payment of the bonus to veterans certified to be destitute. With many of the veterans, however, he despaired of full payment now to all veterans.

The men arrived in straggling lines. For the most part they came in straggling groups of a dozen and half dozen.

Most of them said they came only "to see what's going on."

There was no indication that the veterans planned an organized effort to enter the capitol itself.

If operation of the pool is to continue throughout the summer it is being to be necessary for the public to donate $200 to help defray expenses of operation, promoters said, and before the next few days.

Every safeguard is thrown about people while swimming at Westbrook's. Two experienced life guards are on duty all the time and analysis of the water shows it to have probably the highest rating of any pool in this part of the state.

The sanitary conditions of the pool are under direct supervision of Dr. R. S. McGeachy, director of Pitt County Department of Health, and this assures swimmers of full protection from the health standpoint in addition to the safeguard of life savers.

PLAN TO SOLVE BIG POLITICAL ISSUES ABROAD

regiment has nothing whatever to do with the United States, but is concerned only with European issues.

The idea of the new agreement was born at Lausanne, where Premier Herriot and Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald talked it over, but it took form only today.

In an official quarter it was interpreted as a means of obtaining co-operation in the settlement of outstanding political matters.

Specifically, it was understood, the French government has in mind a possible move for evision of the treaty of Versailles which may be instituted at some time in the future, presumably by Germany.

By the terms of this new pact France can be certain that Germany and Great Britain, or any other European nation, cannot get together in a common cause for evision of the treaty without consulting Paris.

SAYS HOOVER FAVORS BEER

him, but Britten insisted that if Congress would pass a bill to legalize beer of higher alcohol content the President would sign it. He used as basis for his forecast a statement by Mr. Hoover in 1918 when he was food administrator.

"I challenge the Speaker of this House, John Garner, Vice-Presidential candidate of the Democratic party, that if he believes in the Democratic platform to pass a beer bill right now," Britten yelled.

Garner, standing in the rear of the House, smiled.

Representative Sabath (D., Ill.) reported that Britten knew "that the Anti-Saloon League would not permit President Hoover to sign a bill repealing the Volstead Act." He said a change could be expected only after there is a Democratic House, a Democratic Senate, and a Democratic President," and added: "You all know that very shortly we will have a Democratic House, a Democratic Senate and a Democratic President."

There also was under way today a new plan to force a Senate vote on repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment. After withdrawing his resolution to that effect yesterday, because Republican and Democratic leaders objected, Senator Bingham (R., Connecticut) told newspapermen he would offer it when the proper time was reached in discussion of the Norbeck farm relief bill before the Senate.

Asheville, July 13.—(AP)—Baron Agnew, 22, of Charlotte, was killed instantly today when an automobile in which he and Furlan Ferguson, 32, of Charlotte, were riding, overturned.

Ferguson suffered a broken finger and shock. Officers quoted him as saying Agnew was driving the car.

Deputy Sheriffs John Garrison and J. G. Colvin investigated the accident. Agnew was pinned under the car and was dead when the officers reached the wreck. They removed Ferguson from the wreckage and brought him to Mission Hospital here.

The car went off Beaverdam highway four miles from Asheville and overturned. Agnew died of a broken neck and crushed chest. He was a salesman for a wholesale drug concern.

An inquest into Agnew's death was begun here today.
