HIGH POINT STRIKERS BEGIN RETURNING TO WORK

Bonus Army Ordered To Quit Government Houses

U. S. TREASURY GIVES ORDER

All Govt. Buildings Along Pennsylvania Avenue and Adjoining Lots Must Be Evacuated During Today; Former Soldiers Continue Seek Transportation To Their Homes.

Washington, July 21.—(AP)—The Treasury Department today issued orders for the evacuation of all government buildings along Pennsylvania Avenue, now occupied by members of the bonus army.

The order also instructed the police to clear out adjoining vacant lots where the men have built crude shelters of various sorts.

Pelham D. Glassford, superintendent of Washington police, made plans for the evacuation later today.

At the veterans' administration office members of the bonus army continued to seek transportation home. At 9 o'clock this morning railroad tickets or oil and gas had been furnished to slightly over four thousand.

Roy W. Robertson, leader of the California contingent, indicated today he would lead his men out of Washington within the next forty-eight hours.

He said he did not intend to take advantage of the transportation offered through the veterans' administration, but "would leave the way we came—on freight trains."

Ayden Man Fires on Dogs and Hits Four Neighbors

Ayden, July 21.—(AP)—Ed Harrington, prominent farmer and extensive land owner here, accidentally shot four of his neighbors last night about 7:30 o'clock, while shooting at some stray dogs with a shotgun. The wounded are J. J. Lyons and his three children, J. J. Jr., age 16 years; Garland, 7, and Peggy 3. Mr. Lyons was hit in the forehead and corner of eye; his elder son in the chest and knee, and Peggy on the heel. None were severely injured but were taken to the hospital this morning for an X-ray examination and tetanus treatment.

Edenton, N. C., July 21.—(AP)—Dr. Frank Porter Graham, president of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, and Miss Marian Drane, of Edenton, will be married in a quiet ceremony at the bride's home late today.

Miss Drane, who is 32 years old, is a daughter of the Rev. Robert Brent Drane, venerable Episcopal minister and rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church here. Her father will perform the ceremony.

President Graham is 46 years of age and has been president of the University since 1930.

Miss Drane attended St. Mary's school in Raleigh while Dr. Graham was an alumnus of the institution here.

For several years Miss Drane has been living here with her father, who has not been in good health.

NEW DEATHS RESULT HEAT

Thirty-Eight Additional Lives Claimed by Heat Wave Now Sweeping Nation.

(By The Associated Press)

Torch-like temperatures subsided today throughout the upper Mississippi basin as the nation credited 38 more deaths to extreme summer heat.

Showers swept mercifully across the northern brow of the land, from the Rockies to the Great Lakes and on into the North Atlantic States, but southern areas still gasped in anticipation of relief promised by Friday.

Minneapolis produced an official record for Wednesday with 102 degrees but last night its citizens slept at 76 degrees. Arizona and Nebraska also cooled off considerably, while showers and breezes brought much-needed relief to Texas, Missouri, Kansas and Oklahoma, seat of the worst current heat wave. The drop averaged ten degrees, but El Paso still suffered from 100-degree heat.

Twenty-eight heat deaths were distributed widely, St. Louis reporting six, Minnesota and Illinois four each, and Pittsburgh three. Ten others died of drowning or electrocution during thunderstorms.

The weather man unflinchingly promised temperatures "not so warm" today to most of Wisconsin, Iowa, Minnesota, the Dakotas, Kansas and Nebraska, while showers were predicted for the lower lake region.

Wife Saves Carl Reynolds

Washington, July 21.—(AP)—Carl Reynolds, outfielder for the Washington Nationals, has his wife to thank for saving him from an embarrassing and threatening situation.

Since July 4 Reynolds' upper and lower teeth have been wired together to hasten the knitting of his jawbone, cracked when he was slugged by Bill Dickey, New York Yankee catcher, in a now historic encounter.

Riding in a cab with his wife, Reynolds became ill and choked. Stopping the cab under a street light, Mrs. Reynolds quickly cut the restricting wires with a pair of manicure scissors—and Carl could breathe again.

Heat Causes Death And Prostrations In State

Charlotte, N. S., July 21.—(AP)—With a forecast of "fair and continued warm," North Carolina had little prospect of escape today from the sizzling heat that set new records yesterday, caused a number of prostrations and contributed to at least one death.

The death was that of Ralph P. McKinney, 37-year-old hosiery mill worker at Marion, who suffered an attack of acute indigestion, which, aggravated by the high temperature, resulted fatally within a short time.

Three prostrations were reported from Durham, where the thermometer touched a top of 102 degrees. An all-time record was established with a mark of 97 degrees in (Continued on Page Three)

WILL ATTACK SEAWAY PACT

Controversy Over St. Lawrence Waterway Pact May be Main Point of Roosevelt.

Albany, N. Y., July 21.—(AP)—The controversy originating in New York over the St. Lawrence waterway treaty flamed brightly today as likely to be the first major point of attack in Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt's campaign for the presidency.

In a lengthy and strongly worded communication to the governor, the Roosevelt-appointed power authority of New York State last night took the federal administration to task on the ground that it had been guilty of bad faith and had violated New York's "state rights."

The power body, whose chairman is Frank P. Walsh of New York, assailed President Hoover's telegram to Mr. Roosevelt on July 10 as containing a statement which it said "cannot be reconciled with the repeated declarations of the State Department" indicating that the St. Lawrence treaty negotiations had only recently begun.

ONE MAN CLUB IN LAST MEET

Capt. Charles Lockwood to Call Final Roll of departed Civil War Veterans.

Stillwater, Minn., July 21.—(AP)—Keeping faith with its tradition, the Last Man's Club, reduced by deaths to one survivor, rallied today for probably the last time.

Tonight in the presence of 33 chairs draped in black set about a table whose centerpiece will be a bottle of rare old Burgundy wine, Captain Charles Lockwood of Chamberlain, S. D., the survivor, will call the roll of the 34 members of the club.

Though Lockwood expects to live many more years, he admits the annual visit without the cheering presence of his civil war comrades of Company B, First Minnesota Infantry, is becoming more of a task each July 21st. Last winter he was ill for several months. He intends to be more careful of his health.

So, after he carries out the club ritual tonight, he may close up the records forever.

Following a roll call Lockwood will drink a toast to his departed companions of the first battle of Bull Run, fought July 21, 1861—in water. The wine, set aside at the first reunion of the veterans in 1885 fulfilled its destiny in 1930 when for the first time Lockwood met alone. That was soon after the funeral of his old comrade, Peter Hall of Atwater, Minn., "the next to the last man." The beverage was designated in 1885 as the toast drink for the last survivor.

The wine is being preserved partly because Lockwood has no fondness for it and partly because he wants the historical society to which he gave the bottle to preserve the liquor.

MOVE TO CUT UTILITY RATES

The N. C. Corporation Commission Takes Steps to Save Money for Consumers.

Raleigh, N. C., July 21.—(AP)—The North Carolina Corporation Commission has launched a movement designed to lower the rates charged consumers for public utility services.

A formal order was issued yesterday directing every utility concern in the State to prepare to have an accredited representative confer with the Commission "with a view to effecting such immediate reductions in rates as may be legitimately possible under existing conditions."

No date for the conference has yet been fixed. The Commission set forth in its order that the public is not able under existing conditions to "pay almost any rate," but at the same time recognition was given the fact that the companies themselves have been hard hit by the depression.

It was explained that the Commission has a double duty—to protect the interests of the consumers and at the same time to fix such rates as will yield to the companies a fair return on their invested capital.

Issuance of the order, it was stated, came after an investigation made by the Commission on its own initiative, with a view to saving the (Continued on Page Three)

CAPONE MAKES GOOD IN PRISON

Former "Big Shot" Gangster Gives His Time to Pegging Shoes, Playing Ball.

Atlanta, Ga., July 21.—(AP)—Alphonse Capone, the swarthy gangster who made bad as a beer baron in Chicago, is making good as a shoemaker in the Atlanta Federal Prison.

The little Ciesar of the racketeers whose swashbuckling career stirred the imagination of the novelists and playwrights has swapped his romantic personation of criminal deluge for the dreary role of cobbler in the prison shoe shop.

And the one-time "Big Shot" who controlled outlawed legions of bootleggers now is merely No 1 man on an indoor baseball team.

First-hand information as to how the former rum king is wearily pegging away his ten-year sentence for Federal income tax evasion came from H. W. Bradshaw, who said he was a Memphis, Tenn., physician and was released yesterday after serving thirty-three months.

Bradshaw says Capone has fallen equitably into prison routine, is making the best of his sentence and wants it understood he is through with liquor running, rackets and the activities of the underworld. He accepts correction for mistakes from the guards without apparent resentment, and is captain and first baseman of an indoor baseball team that he organized and coaches.

Capone gets routine prison food and routine prison treatment, Bradshaw says.

Farley Makes Plea For Party Harmony In N. Y.

Spring Lake, N. J., July 21.—(AP)—James A. Farley, Chairman of the Democratic National Committee, made his first speech of the 1932 Presidential campaign today, pleaded for party harmony and attacked the Republican platform as an instrument of meaningless platitudes and jug-handled paragraphs.

Addressing the New Jersey Democratic State Committee, the new chairman mentioned the fight of Alfred E. Smith against the candidacy of Franklin D. Roosevelt and added that the one hope of the opposition was that "our sturdy warriors . . . would nurse their disappointment and sulk in their tents during the campaign." (Continued on Page Three)

GOVERNOR'S SON WEDDED

James Gardner and Miss Iris Rollins Of Mooresboro Elope After Courtship.

York, S. C., July 21.—(AP)—James Webb Gardner, 24-year-old son of the Governor of North Carolina, and Miss Iris Rollins, 21, Mooresboro society girl, wound up a whirlwind courtship by eloping here and marrying last night.

Judge E. Getty's Nunn, who has married couples from every point of the compass at this Great Green performed the ceremony at his home on the outskirts of York.

Young Gardner and Miss Rollins rolled up to Judge Nunn's house shortly before 10 o'clock and asked that a marriage license be issued.

They were accompanied by Carl Ray Webb, Miss Louise Cox and a man whose name Judge Nunn said was Newman.

Webb and Miss Cox were witnesses to the ceremony which the couple requested be kept secret.

Newman, Judge Nunn said, was chaffering the couple which headed south after the ceremony.

Miss Rollins received her education at North Carolina College at Greensboro, and since her graduation has been living at home at Mooresboro.

Young Gardner attended the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill and North Carolina State at Raleigh.

HOT WEATHER RENEWS SEIGE

Hundred Degrees Registered Here Yesterday with Similar Temperature Today

Although its backbone was temporarily smashed by rain last Saturday and Sunday, the heat wave continued its assault on this part of the state today.

At 11 o'clock this morning, B. T. Clark, local weather observer, said the mercury registered 97 degrees and he expected it to reach 100 during the afternoon.

The temperature mounted to 100 yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock in spite of a slight breeze, the observer said, but the mercury declined a bit during the evening under the pressure of increased breezes.

Although cloudy weather was predicted for this section today little relief was promised until tomorrow when thunderstorms will be the order of the day.

The new hot wave has affected the crops very little, agriculturists said today. Precipitation over the week-end was sufficient to impart new life to vegetation which had dropped perceptibly under the scorching temperatures last week.

The highest temperature reported during the summer was recorded last Thursday when the mercury reached 101 degrees. It was the hottest weather since August, 1930, when a similar temperature was recorded here.

OTHER MILLS STILL CLOSED

Operatives of 24 Textile Plants and other Smaller concerns expect to Iron Out Difficulties at Meeting Tonight; Mills Running at Normal Now in Thomasville, Lexington, Jamestown and Kernersville.

High Point, N. C., July 21.—(AP)—Today's developments in the High Point strike situation were:

(1) Three thousand workers, forced into idleness by activities of Tuesday's wrecking crews, return to work unmolested.

(2) Striking hosiery workers, 6,000 strong, reject peace offer of mill owners and submit counter-proposal.

(3) Twenty leaders of "wrecking crews" arrested on warrants charging inciting to riot and rushed to jail in Greensboro and Winston-Salem.

(4) Normal conditions prevail in Thomasville, Jamestown, Kernersville and Lexington. Other towns affected by Tuesday's shut-down.

While three thousand workers were returning to work, 6,000 hosiery strikers were holding group meetings at which the peace offer of the mill owners was overwhelmingly rejected, while officers, armed with warrants charging inciting to riot, were combing the mill districts for other leaders of the hoodlums.

The hoodlum chiefs were rushed to jails in nearby towns as fast as they were arrested. It is reported they will be released as soon as danger of disorder is past.

High Point, N. C., July 21.—(AP)—Approximately 3,000 industrial employees went quietly back to work here today. Leaving only operatives of twenty-four textile mills and several other smaller concerns on strike.

There were no disturbances as the employees took up their work where they left off Tuesday when a general walkout here paralyzed industrial High Point.

Four other manufacturing areas where plants closed when roving bands of strikers and unemployed turned off the power, operations were normal.

Thomasville, where all plants were closed Tuesday, was quiet and all mills were in operation.

In Lexington, Jamestown and Kernersville, the three other centers, mills were running on normal schedules.

Today's resumption of activities here left only about 6,000 employees on strike for a wage adjustment where approximately 15,000 had quit their places at their machines Tuesday.

Those on strike today were workers at twenty-three hosiery mill and one textile mill. They are seeking a wage scale of approximately $2.25 for boarding one hundred dozen pairs of hose.

Mill officials said the operatives could go back to work on a scale paying approximately $2, and today a vote was being taken to determine the employees' action.

At a majority vote by the employees shows a desire to return to work under the scale proposed by the mill owners, strike leaders said that would decide the issue and that the workers would resume work where it was left off the first of the week.

The final decision of the others will be determined tonight as a mass meeting. But the leaders of the strikers said today the manufacturer's proposal was turned down by various group meetings.

Only a few of High Point's industries failed to open today, except the hosiery mills where workers are on strike, and officials of those indicated the doors would be thrown open in a few days. Workers here were not on strike for a wage readjustment, but delayed returning to work for a few days while general conditions became more settled.

Among mills opening this morning was the Stebbins Silk Mill, the Hillcrest Silk Mills, the Huntley-Jackson Hosiery Mill, the Thomas Hosiery Mill, the High Point Overall Company, (Continued on Page Three)

SAYS AMERICA NOW ON 'DOLE'

Roger Babson Declares Politicians Alone Benefiting from Relief Racket.

Silver Bay, N. Y., July 21.—(AP)—Describing "all politicians high and low" as the chief beneficiaries of the "relief racket," Roger W. Babson, economist, today told the members of the Silver Bay Institute that the United States today is as much on a dole as England and asserted that until public attention is focused on men instead of money "the world will continue to suffer."

"Money," said Mr. Babson, "will no more succeed in getting us out of the depression than it succeeded in keeping us out. Nor does the solution lie in building more non-productive public works, but in getting the unemployed back to their old productive job."

"Organized relief," he said, "is benefiting the politician more than the distressed unemployed. It is the biggest racket in the country and all politicians high and low are its chief beneficiaries."

Mr. Babson urged a "quota plan" for bringing business back to normal and pointed out "the real task" was to balance production and consumption so as to get everyone back to work. He said a simple remedy would be to quota the unemployed against employers and those already employed.

"This could be done," he said, "by having each community budget the number of its unemployed and quota them among corporations, partnerships, families and individuals at a wage to be fair to all parties concerned. This would be only the reverse of wartime practice—drafting men into industry instead of out of it."

Thomasville, where all plants were closed Tuesday, was quiet and all mills were in operation.

In Lexington, Jamestown and Kernersville, the three other centers, mills were running on normal schedules.

Telephone Call Puzzles Sheriff In Reynolds Case

Winston-Salem, N. C., July 21.—(AP)—An offer of assistance in solving the death mystery of Smith Reynolds, which came by long distance telephone from New York, today puzzled Sheriff Transou Scott, chief investigating officer.

Scott revealed his distant informant, who called himself "Captain Gene Masie," professed to know that New York gangsters a year ago planned to come to Winston-Salem and put the young tobacco millionaire behind the spot.

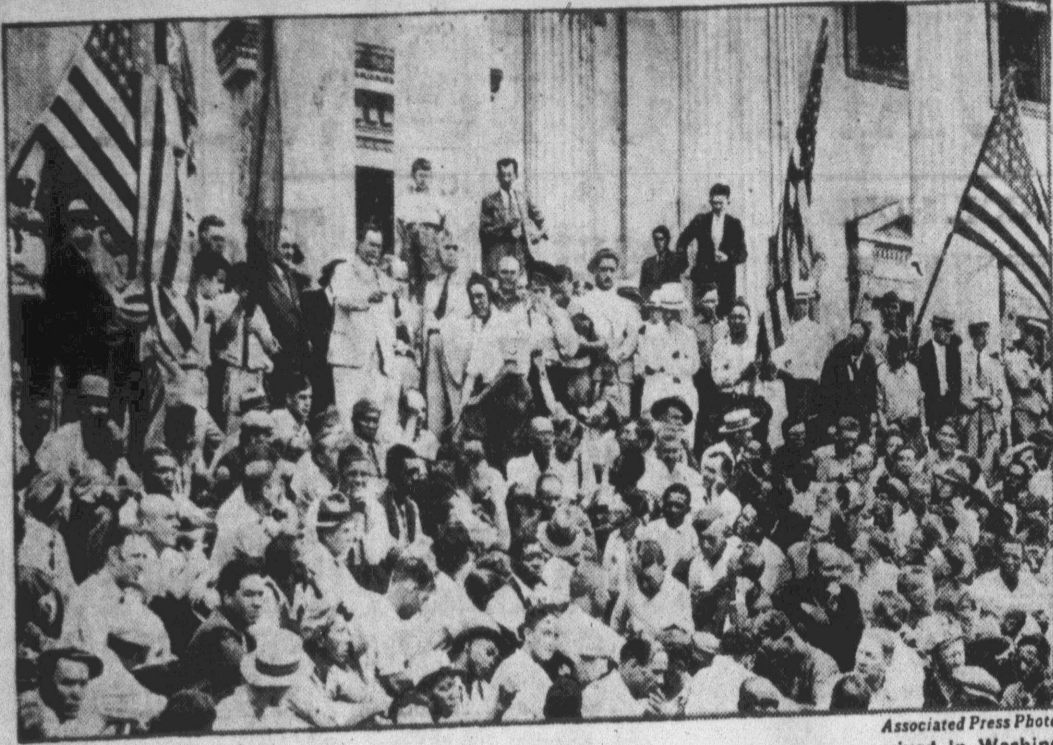

"Captain Masie" left a number over which he said he could be reached, but efforts to telephone him have failed and New York police were unable to locate him.

The sheriff refused to say what importance he attached to the communication. He had previously stated he did not believe Reynolds committed suicide.

Reynolds, who had married Libby Holman, the actress, a few months ago, was found dying with a bullet wound in his head early on the morning of July 6. A coroner's jury laid the death to a person of persons unknown.

Spinning spindles in place June 30 totaled 13,705,038, of which 20,561,914 were active at some time during the month, with the average, on a single basis, being 18,293,991 as compared with 13,737,174; 21,639,352 and 20,101,816 for May this year, and 32,681,468; 25,798,910 and 28,619,719 for June last year.

Enjoy Outing at Atlantic Beach. Employees of the courthouse observed the half-holiday closing hours here yesterday by staging their annual picnic and outing at Morehead City. They returned last night after an afternoon spent in boating, bathing, fishing, and last but not least, eating.

As result of the swimming exhibition staged by Frank Harrington, bathing, fishing, and last, but not of Gaskins, Register of Deeds, the Atlantic was much shorter of water than it was when these two aquatic stars invaded the seaside.

Both officials are conspicuous for their avoirdupois, and when they carelessly tossed their figures among the waves of the Atlantic the rode so precariously that inexperienced swimmers were forced to flee to higher ground. However, no casualties were reported, and the two returned home last night happy in the fact that they had had their "annual" and might get the opportunity of another plunge before the season closes at the seashore.

The remainder of the crowd reported plenty of entertainment and were proud of the swimming record established by their associates of "avoirdupois."

Auto Mishaps Claim 49 Lives in This State. Raleigh, N. C., July 21.—(AP)—Automobile accidents claimed forty-nine lives in North Carolina in June and raised the six months' death toll to 280. L. S. Harris, Director of the State Motor Vehicle Bureau, announced today.

During June there were forty-nine killed and 416 injured in 290 accidents. In May there were fifty killed and 329 injured in 207 accidents.

The hour between 7 and 8 p. m. was the most dangerous in June, twenty-seven accidents being reported for the period, including five in which persons were killed. Sunday was most dangerous day with fifty-nine accidents.

The mammal was brought back to Greenville and placed on exhibition in the Greenville Cafe. Mercury Sets New Record at Wayne Capital

Goldsboro, July 21.—(AP)—Goldsboro citizens today demanded that the weather bureau here do something about its thermometer—they said it's been going too high.

Citizens were convinced the official 107 degrees registered here yesterday was wrong even though they sweated. They said several other thermometers were several degrees lower than the figure which broke a 20-year record.

They even complained about the 88 degree reading at sunset, another record, which they said looked like too much for one day.

Nevertheless, the citizens did not deny they were quite warm.

"Sweet" Williams Enables Locals to Defeat Simpson. A slashing drive to right field in the ninth inning by Jesse "Sweet" Williams, first baseman, enabled East Greenville to emerge with 4 to 3 victory over Simpson yesterday afternoon.

Coming to the bat in the final frame with the count standing 3 or 2 in favor of the visitors, Williams cracked the old sphere into right field. The wallop under ordinary circumstances would have been good for the entire circuit, but Williams, suffering from a sprained ankle, was able only to make the first sack. He later stole second and third and slid safely home on an infield grounder by Gleason.

While Simpson was attempting to catch Williams at the home station, Gleason made his way around to the third corner and then made home on a wild throw by Elks.

McGowan pitched for Greenville and Elks for Simpson. Both found themselves in hot water from time to time, but were able to pull out in the majority of instances by fast work of their teammates.

Gardner, son of the North Carolina governor, were both absent from home today, but close friends of the parents said they "were certain" they had been advised of the marriage.

Rollins is a Mooresboro business man. Friends of the family said that young Gardner paid a visit to Miss Rollins last night and that during the early part of the evening, the couple suddenly got into Gardner's automobile and left the Rollins home.

They apparently went straight to York where the two were married by Judge E. Gettys Nunn last night.

ABOUT TOWN

Grain farmers of North Dakota have started a movement looking to higher prices for their products. They plan to hold their crop until they are assured of a dollar a bushel, considered a reasonably fair price in the face of existing conditions. If the plan meets with success in that state it will be introduced in other sections where growers have been on the verge of financial collapse as result of low prices in recent years.

If it is possible for them to hold the grain until demand becomes more pronounced, supporters of the "dollar a bushel plan" may get good results, but if they are lacking in finances, they stand little chance of success. Were it possible for farmers of all sections of the country to hold their crops until prices improve, agricultural conditions in America would be far above what they are at this time. But their inability to do this combined with the greediness of moneyed interests has provided a grave economic situation, one that must undergo a radical change in the next year if the growers survive the dilemma.

While money has eased up very little in recent months, one encouraging sign has appeared upon the horizon and that is the resumption of operation reported among many manufacturing enterprises of the nation. This means the furnishing of employment for thousands of men thrown out of work when the economy closed down months ago, and along with it the releasing of tremendous sums of money each week in the various communities where plants are located.

The trouble with this country is not a lack of money, but the shortage of employment. Let the unemployed millions find work this year and in a month's time every section would undergo the most pronounced change witnessed since the end of the World War.

Working men spend liberally of their earnings in every field of trade and when they fail to spend everybody experiences financial difficulty sooner or later. This has been the trouble with America and the world generally the last two years and hope of recovery is futile until the millions of men tramping the streets in an effort to find work again get on the payroll and help keep the dollar on the jump.

Forty-nine lives were claimed by automobile accidents in North Carolina during the months of June, bringing the total to 280 for the six-month period. Four hundred and sixteen persons were also injured in a total of 519 accidents for the month.

While the death toll is one less than the month of May it is sufficiently large to cause motorists to give more serious consideration to the dangers of highway traffic and produce a desire to do their part toward decreasing the appalling loss of life.

The most dangerous time of the day is given as between seven and eight o'clock in the evening. This is during the twilight period when visibility is more uncertain than at any time of the day. It is an hour in which the majority of accidents have occurred for many months, and one during which motorists should give more attention to the future.

Authorities on transportation generally agree that the majority of accidents are caused by expert drivers instead of the inexperienced, as some seem to think. The experienced driver takes chances the inexperienced man would not think of taking and there comes a time when he finds himself faced by an emergency it is impossible for him to handle.

The same thing to do is to drive with utmost care all the time and be prepared to meet the greatest emergency with every chance in the driver's favor. This may be done by close attention to traffic regula-

The Faithful
 Cheat
 By Ruby M. Ayres

SYNOPSIS: A secret marriage to Mark Merriman leaves Sondra Kent bound to five years of loneliness, when he sails next day for the position in the Congo which he hopes will make his fortune. She can not tell anyone that she is married, for her sister Flora would no longer let her live with her, and Sondra has been brought up to expect to be cared for expensively. She has married Mark while caught in the realization of a coming separation, although she formerly refused to consider marrying a poor man. Sondra wonders whether her friend John Anderson suspects that anything unusual has happened. Motoring away from the pier with him, she tries to adjust herself to her new role of living with a secret. Anderson loves her, she is sure, although his unhappy marriage puts a barrier before his telling her. He knows that something is troubling her.

Chapter 10
 AN "UNCANNY" CONVERSATION
 Sondra looked at Anderson beneath her lashes.

Her handsome face was a little grave—almost stern, and he gave no answering smile as he met her eyes.

"Where would you like to lunch, Sondra?"

"Anywhere—you choose."

He mentioned a restaurant, and she said swiftly:

"Oh, no, not there—it was the one where she and Mark had dined the night before they were married. And then realizing the emotion in her voice she added with a slight laugh: "Let's go somewhere gay—where there's a band."

"Where the noise will successfully put a stop to any attempt at conversation—is that what you mean?" he asked.

She flushed a little at the tone of his voice.

"Aren't you rather cross this morning, John?"

"Am I? I didn't sleep very well."

"A guilty conscience?" she asked lightly.

"Hardly that—I was thinking about you."

"About me?"

"Yes."

"What about me?" Sondra asked slowly.

"Thinking is not the correct word. I had you on my mind somehow."

She said mockingly: "How very unpleasant it must have been."

She felt a little uneasy; John had never allowed quite this personal element to steal into their conversation before.

"It was—" he agreed quietly. "I was wishing I had it in my power to do something to make you happier."

She turned her head sharply.

"Have I ever said that I am not happy?"

"You have very expressive eyes, Sondra."

She said after a moment, "I don't believe anyone is ever really happy. I suppose we're not meant to be."

"I don't agree, but I think we all spoil our happiness by making mistakes which if we stopped to think, we should not make."

"That sounds very involved; have you ever made a mistake of that kind?"

Once—years ago—when I married Evelyn."

"But... you were in love with her?"

"I thought I was, you mean—I found out the mistake the day she arrived in Africa to marry me."

"And then—I suppose it was too late?"

"I suppose so—or I was too cowardly to tell her the truth. At any rate, we married in haste and repented at leisure."

"That isn't always true," Sondra said quickly.

"What isn't always true?"

"That people who marry in haste repent at leisure."

"Perhaps not. I am speaking of my own case."

She was silent for a moment, then she said almost resentfully:

"But that doesn't explain why you had me on your mind—last night."

"Like Cass, I cannot explain, but the feeling about you was so vivid, it would not have surprised me to be told this morning that something tragic had happened."

"To me?"

"To you."

Sondra laughed rather bitterly.

"And supposing it had?" she hazarded.

"We won't suppose anything so devastating. Will this do for lunch?"

"Yes."

She was glad to escape from him for a moment; there was something a little uncanny in their conversation when one remembered that parting an hour ago at the ship.

Was it wise to have kept their marriage a secret? And yet what else could they have done?

It would have made a great deal of difference to her life if she had gone back home and said to Flora, "I am married to Mark."

Flora would have been furious; would probably have seized upon it as an excuse to get rid of her.

"You've got a husband—let him keep you," she would have said something like that, "Sondra knew, and then what would she have done?"

In an aching imagination she saw again their bedroom in the quiet little hotel; Mark's watch on the dressing table—his hair brushes and her own side by side—her clothes and his, and perhaps it would never come again—perhaps that was all they were ever to know of happiness.

Anderson joined her and they went in to lunch.

"Will you choose?" he asked.

Sondra shook her head.

"No, you please—I'm not very hungry—," then she tried to laugh and cover the words, remembering what she had said a few moments ago, but Anderson made no comment.

It was early for lunch and the big room was almost empty.

Sondra looked around listlessly.

"This is the place where I usually meet all the people I know and want to avoid," she said.

Anderson laughed.

"Well—Beatrice Taylor has just come in," he said.

"Oh, has she?" Sondra's heart missed a beat, and she sat up with sudden attention.

She had not seen Beatrice for a week, and yet—she was supposed to have spent last night with her.

She half rose. "That's lucky—I want to speak to her—"

"She's coming across to us now," Anderson said.

Sondra sat down again irresolutely; it would have been so easy to go on, and say a few rapid words to Beatrice—to put her on her guard. She felt that she hated Anderson because something in his eyes seemed to have compelled her to stay where she was.

Beatrice begins to talk tomorrow as though she has not seen Sondra for some time. What can Sondra do?

Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt has launched his campaign for the presidency and from now until the general election in November the millions of people of this great nation are going to hear more about the cause of the Democratic party than they ever heard before.

Mr. Roosevelt realizes, as do millions of his supporters, that his party stands the best chance of success of years and nothing will be left undone to realize the ambition.

Republicans are attempting to emphasize the liquor question because they did not have the backbone to go quite as far as the Democrats in the construction of the platform plank, but they can't escape the severe indictment of the distressing economic situation confronting the nation and for which they are directly responsible.

The impending change in the political life of the nation is felt in all communities and when the voters go to the polls in November economic issues and not prohibition will be the determining factor.

S. Moye land; 1-4 acre School House property; 40 acres Brown land; 1 acre Mumford land; 75 acres Home and Whitehurst; 14 acres Perkins land; 61-4 acres C. M. Ross land; 42 acres M. J. Laprade & Bros. reference also made to Book W-16, page 129; also the Coburn and Luke Grimes property, reference being made to Book M-13, page 448.

Market Report

Cotton--Stocks--Grain

New York Cotton

New York, July 21.—(AP)—Cotton futures opened steady, 2 to 5 points lower under liquidation due to generally favorable weather and indigent Liverpool cables.

There was some Southern and commission house selling at the opening, but early offerings were absorbed by covering and trade buying which included a little buying for Liverpool and for New Orleans account, and the market held fairly steady around the initial prices. At the end of the first half hour October was selling at 6.75 and the general market was about 1 to 3 points net lower, with the tone fairly steady. Liverpool cables said hedging and liquidation had been absorbed by trade calling and reporting fair cloth sales to South America and Africa.

Grain Market

Chicago, July 21.—(AP)—Wheat values sagged in the late dealings today, owing largely to absence of sustained buying force.

Export demand for United States wheat was lacking, although 1,000,000 bushels of Canadian was taken today and an equal amount yesterday. Price declines were in the fact of the fact that predictions of rain had been unfulfilled.

Stock Market

New York, July 21.—(AP)—The stock market faced forward today, but faltered at the hurdle of the upper resistance level of the July trading range.

The list was extremely quiet and seemed more inclined to work higher than otherwise. Traders generally, however, were inclined to mark time, pending indications as to whether the list was turned back at the level at which last week's rally broke.

Most of the leading industrials fluctuated in a narrow fractional range, but some of the food shares, rails and specialties worked higher. Issues advancing 1 to 2 points included Santa Fe, Union Pacific, Norfolk and Western, Delaware and Hudson, Loos, Wiles, Beechnut, Loew's, Grand Union, McIntyre Porcupine, Brooklyn Union Gas and Freeport Texas. The list eased off for a time in the morning, but fractional recessions in such issues as American Can, American Telephone and Air Reduction were recovered.

Greta Garbo Off to Swedish Home

Hollywood, Calif., July 21.—(AP)—The elusive Greta Garbo supposedly was en route to Sweden today for a vacation from motion pictures. When, where and how she made her departure were secret, if she made it.

Miss Garbo's contract with Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios recently expired, but it has been rumored she will sign a new one with the studios on her return from Europe—if she went.

Says Higher-Ups Being Protected in Mineola Death

Mineola, N. Y., July 21.—(AP)—A charge that "higher-ups" were being protected in the Long Island's third degree killing today as the investigation of the death of Hyman Stark, 20, in police headquarters reached the grand jury stage.

George J. Mulry, attorney for 12 of the 13 policemen arrested yesterday as the aftermath of the beating to death of Stark, insisted that some one was being made the goat to shield "higher-ups."

After hastily telegraphing the grand jury to meet today, District Attorney Elvin N. Edwards prepared to push the case along by asking indictments ranging from second degree murder down to conspiracy to obstruct justice.

RED LEGS TOP BOSTON SOX BY 8-1 SCORE

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, Jr. (Associated Press Sports Writer)
It is rather late in the season for the Cleveland Indians to start going somewhere in the American League—what with their being nine and one-half games out of first place and a full game behind the second place Philadelphia Athletics, but the results of their recent tour of the Eastern series indicate that they still may make some progress.

The Indians, playing the road, outshone all rivals in both circuits in the inter-sectional series which winds up today, and with a few good breaks at home in the net week or two they stand a good chance of getting into the fight.

Three inter-sectional games today remain before the final records for the series can be compiled, but Cleveland's record of fourteen victories to four defeats can't be beaten. The best other records so far are the New York Yankees' twelve victories and five defeats. The 12-7 records of the Philadelphia Athletics and the Chicago Cubs' 11-7 mark; and all these teams played on their home grounds.

The Red Men topped their tour yesterday by beating the Boston Red Sox 8 to 1 as Mel Harder gave only seven hits for his fourth triumph of the trip.

The two team still ahead of Cleveland, the New York Yankees and the Athletics, didn't yield an inch yesterday. Johnny Allen gave the Yanks some more first-class flings and they made it five straight over the Chicago White Sox, 7 to 2.

The Athletics pounded out an 8 to 5 victory over the St. Louis Browns for their sixth consecutive victory and the Browns' eleventh defeat, collecting sixteen hits, including Mickey Cochrane's fourteenth homer and a double and two singles by Jimmie Fox Washington salvaged a game out of the Detroit series after losing three and going into the second division. The Senators bunched three of their nine hits with a couple of walks and a useful fly in the sixth inning to score aial their run in a 4 to 1 triumph.

Chuck Klein was the leading figure in the National League program. His bat led the way to a 6 to 2 victory.

Eddie Holley ached considerably with his fifth pitched.

The Boston Braves, who had a day off bracketed with Cincinnati, were the only one to profit much by Pittsburgh's defeat. The second-place Chicago Cubs took a 9 to 1 beating from the New York Giants and remained two games behind and as far ahead of Boston.

Burleigh Grimes failed to survive the fourth inning while Southpaw Carl Hubbell, pitched a seven-hit game, made three safeties himself and allowed only one man to reach third after Woody English hit for the circuit in the first inning.

The Brooklyn Dodgers tried five pitchers and didn't find one who could throw past the St. Louis bats with any regularity. The Cards re-pounded all five impartially for 27 hits and a 15 to 5 victory that gave them an even break for sixteen games against the East.

Kansas City, Kas.—H. L. McJunkin, Republican, mourns the fact that a Democrat had the last word. A customer entered his drugstore and said: "A Democratic landslide is coming. What have the Republicans done anyway?" McJunkin emitted a roar, something snapped—and they took him to a hospital with a dislocated jaw.

HORNETS WIN DEFINITE LEAD OVER PIRATES

Charlotte, July 21.—(AP)—By virtue of their eighth consecutive victory, a hard fought 2 and 1 decision over the Wilmington Pirates the Charlotte Hornets today held a three and a half game margin over their closest competitor in the Piedmont League.

While Bud Shaney and Goldie Holt were playing stellar roles and enabling the Bees to continue their high flying career, the Pats went down to a 5-0 defeat at the hands of the tall-end Winston-Salem Twins.

Another first division club, Raleigh, took a drubbing from a second division outfit, when the Durham Bulls nosed out the Caps 4 to 3 in a battle enlivened by a fist fight between Shires of Durham, and Flynn, Raleigh pitcher.

Goldie Holt poled out the winning blow for the league leaders when he rapped a double to right field to score Culbreth in the ninth inning after one man was out. Bud Shaney did his part by holding the Bucs to six scattered hits.

A 16-year-old scutpaw started out to be the hero of the Pats-Twin battle, but he couldn't hold the bait. Lefty Moore hurled hitless balls for the Patriots until the sixth inning, when four safeties gave the Twins three runs. The winners had little difficulty in whitewashing the Greensboro club, since Jimmy Ryan pitched a four hit game. Moore allowed only six hits in the seven innings he worked and struck out four batters.

The Flynn-Shires embroglio was touched off when the Cap pitcher named the Durham third sacker. Shires immediately charged into the box and both players were basing from the game. They re-pounded their set-to in the dressing room, but no serious damage was done to either combatant.

Tom Wolfe won the game for the Bulls with a homer over the light fence in the seventh. The bases were empty. John Holt, Shires' efficient pitching also had much to do with the defeat, administered the Capitals. He allowed 10 men and allowed only 7 hits, but was charged with wild leave that permitted only one tally for Raleigh.
