German Aviator Takes Off On Perilous Flight Over Atlantic To U. S.

TO COME OVER NORTH ROUTE

Wolfgang Von Gronau Leaves Island of Sylt on His Second Attempt to Make the Dangerous Westward Crossing; His Flight Being Made by Way of Iceland, Greenland and Labrador.

1st. Island of Sylt, Germany, July 22.—(AP)—Wolfgang Von Gronau, German aviator, took off from here this morning on a flight to the United States by way of Iceland, Greenland and Labrador.

It is his second westward flight across the Atlantic. On August 26, 1930, he became the first German to reach the port of New York by air.

He is convinced that the northern route offers the best possibilities for a regular airplane service between North America and Europe.

He gave that as his opinion after completing his first ocean flight two years ago and has been making plans for the second flight ever since.

Captain Von Gronau took off at 11 a. m. His first scheduled stop is Iceland.

Captain Von Gronau was accompanied by a crew of three, including a second pilot, a mechanic and a radio operator.

The sea was so calm at the take-off that he was obliged to launch another plane to churn the water.

His heavily laden machine would lift from the surface.

Franz Hack, the mechanic, and Fritz Albrecht, the radio operator, participated in Captain Von Gronau's two previous flights.

The second pilot on this trip is Gert Von Roth.

POLITICS NOW GRIPS NATION

Torrid Weather Conditions Unable to Stop Gossip About North Carolina Politics.

Raleigh, N. C., July 22.—(AP)—Torrid weather which gripped North Carolina today could not force political chatter completely out of the picture, try as hard as it might.

Both within and without the State political talk concerning conditions in the Tar Heel dominion could be heard.

In New York, Robert R. Reynolds, of Asheville, who ran up a record-breaking primary majority in his wet campaign against Senator Cameron Morrison, pledged North Carolina's vote to Franklin D. Roosevelt and predicted the State was ready for prohibition repeal.

Reynolds was quoted as saying he believed and the prohibition question presented properly, will ratify and amendment repealing the Eighteenth Amendment.

He said it was important in his opinion for the Democratic party to make it clear it stands for temperance and sobriety in its repeal fight. He made it clear that he himself desired to see control of liquor returned to the individual states.

The Senator-nominate was in New York conferring with James A. Farley, Democratic National Chairman, and Governor Roosevelt about plans for the campaign this fall.

The conference took on added importance following the announcement that the national campaign would be decentralized and conducted on a co-operative plan with State organizations.

It was learned here that Tyre Taylor, president of the National Young Democrats' organization, and Governor O. Max Gardner are expected to go to New York soon to also confer about the campaign this fall.

The naming of a State Chairman, to direct the Democratic organization in North Carolina, is expected to be made here August 10 at a meeting of the State Executive Committee with Reynolds and C. M. (Continued on Page Six)

SEEK RIGHTS OF EQUALITY FOR GERMANY

Germany Threatens to Pull Out of Arms Conference if Right Not Granted.

Geneva, Switz., July 22.—(AP)—Count Rudolph Nadowi, Germany's delegate, informed the World Disarmament conference today that his country will not participate in further deliberations after this summer's recess unless the conference clearly recognizes Germany's right to a position of equality among the other nations of the world.

"The right of equality," he said, "is a fundamental principle on which the League of Nations rests."

"If this conference wants to establish the rules and principles of (Continued on Page Six)

MINERS BEGIN QUITTING CAMP

Truce Declared At Hoosier Mine in Indiana; Guardsmen Still on Duty.

Dugger Ind., July 22.—(AP)—More than a thousand union sympathizers whose presence about the Hoosier coal mine held twenty-seven unorganized workmen in the shaft for two days slowly broke camp early today as officials supervised removal of the besieged diggers.

Under terms of an agreement reached at a conference last night between Governor Harry G. Leslie and representatives of the two labor groups, the mine will be maintained, but will not be worked temporarily. It has been running on a co-operative basis, to which unionized groups objected.

A detachment of national guardsmen will be brought from Shaksamak State Park, ten miles from here, where three companies have been held in readiness, to maintain order. (Continued on Page Six)

SEES NEED OF PUBLIC NURSE

Dr. McGeachy Urges Civic Bodies to Employ Visiting Nurse for Indigent Sick.

The employment of a "visiting nurse" to deal with the deplorable situation existing among the poor families of the county was suggested today by Dr. R. S. McGeachy, director of the Pitt County Department of Health, as one of the most direct steps toward improving the health of the populace and increasing longevity.

The need of a nurse to visit families unable to obtain medical assistance is more pronounced today than it ever has been before, the director of public health said, and he expressed hope that civic organizations, assisted by the churches, would start a movement to meet the urgent demand.

While the public health service is doing everything possible to care for individual cases, Dr. McGeachy said, it is impossible for its workers to give desired attention to such patients because of the fact that their time is consumed entirely by clinic work dealing with the prevention of (Continued on Page Six)

New Relief Bill Ready Aid Jobless of America

Washington, July 22.—(AP)—A mighty federal hand holding food for the hungry; work for the jobless and new energy for bus lines extends today into every corner of the land—the new relief bill is law.

It was signed yesterday by President Hoover, without comment so the Reconstruction Finance Corporation immediately could begin placing its $1,500,000,000 in new funds where the money would do the most good.

Mr. Hoover delayed final approval of the bill several days after he published it last Saturday. (Continued on Page Six)

TEN DROWN IN LAKE STORM

Placid Body of Water in Michigan Converted into Death Trap by High Winds.

Pontiac, Mich., July 22.—(AP)—A placid lake transformed suddenly by high winds into a death trap was being dragged today for the bodies of at least ten persons believed to have perished as they sought relief from sultry summer heat.

One body was recovered last night before darkness, which could not be relieved because the storm had disrupted electric lines, routed the searchers.

The body was that of a white man, William Burns, about 23, of Detroit. Nine negroes, two of them (Continued on Page Six)

MRS. WOOLARD LAID TO REST

Final Rites for Beloved Resident of Everetts Conducted Yesterday.

Mrs. R. D. Woolard, 74, mother of W. H. Woolard, vice-president of Greenville Banking & Trust Co., who died at her home in Everetts Wednesday, was buried in the family burying ground a few miles from Everetts yesterday afternoon.

The services were conducted by Rev. R. A. Phillips, Rev. Mr. Perry and Rev. W. A. Ryan, pastor of the Greenville Eighth Street Christian Church. A quartet from the choir of the Greenville Christian Church, rendered selections during the final rites.

The funeral was largely attended and the large floral tribute expressed in a mute way the high esteem in which the deceased was held.

BIG POLITICAL ISSUES COME TO THE FRONT

Rapid Pace of Presidential Campaign Brings Out Wet and Dry Question.

Washington, July 22.—(AP)—The rapid pace of the presidential campaign is forcing toward decision these two highly interesting and possibly dominating questions of party strategy.

How far will the Republicans go toward an affirmative bid for the prohibition vote? And how far will the Democrats go in seeking the support of the west at the sacrifice of certain strength in the east?

For the answer to the first of these questions, the country is looking to President Hoover's acceptance speech August 11. As he be- (Continued on Page Six)

And union labor spokesmen, commenting on the murders, said "the gangsters have been a new war on organized labor."

FARMERS GET EXTRA CASH

Shipments of Hogs and Poultry Bring Pitt County Growers Over $20,000.

The cackle of hens and grunts of hogs sound like jingling dollars to Pitt county farmers who in recent years have devoted considerable time to this form of industry.

Producers have been paid over $20,000 for their chickens and hogs during the present year, it was revealed today by E. P. Arnold, director of Pitt County Farm Department, and it was expected the sum would be greatly increased before the season is over.

In addition, the farmers have received (Continued on Page Six)

Primitive Baptist Minister Slays Himself Rather than go Thru Court Case.

Boone, N. C., July 22.—(AP)—A threat that he would die before going to court had been made good today by Gold Ward, 36, Primitive Baptist minister and Watauga County Republican Election official.

Ward had been summoned among others to appear for questioning in a case charging election fraud in the 1930 primaries. The case is to come up in August.

But the minister made good his vow. He was found dead at his home in the Laurel Creek section, shot through the heart with a shotgun. The weapon and a forked stick lay (Continued on Page Six)

STRIKE HEADS ARE ARRESTED

Score or More Alleged Leaders of Walk-out at High Point are Taken Into Custody by Police; Chairman of the Central Strike Committee Warns Against Radical Activities; Conciliator Denies He Advised acceptance of Terms

High Point, N. C., July 22.—(AP)—Employees of an overall company here who voted last night to strike rescinded their action this morning and returned to work.

The workers, numbering 4000, last night decided to join the strike of the hosiery mill workers here who rejected a proposed agreement for settlement of the strike advanced by management of the mills.

This morning, however, the overall employees gathered in front of the mill and speeches were made, suggesting that last night's action be forgotten and that work be resumed.

There was no definite unity in the movement to strike last night nor in this morning's meeting and, apparently by general accord, the workers fled back to their places and resumed work.

A mass meeting of hosiery workers last night rejected by acclamation the offer of the mill owners to pay them the same wage scale that was in operation on July 11, when a reduction was made that resulted in a walkout Monday morning.

This scale, in most plants, was based on $2 per 100 hundred dozen pairs of hose for boarding room workers. Some mills announced a scale of $1.50 for this work, which precipitated the strike. The employees are demanding $2.25.

Employees of other industries, who joined in a "sympathy strike" or who quit their posts because roving bands of men entered the plants, asked them to leave, and in some instances, cut off the power, had returned to work.

A score or more of their alleged leaders were arrested and confined in the jails of neighboring towns and cities for safekeeping.

Officers described them as "hoodlums."

D. V. Bradley, chairman of the hosiery workers' central strike committee, warned against "radical agitators" in an address to his followers, and called for a course of moderation. He reminded the employees that the mills had a problem of their own to solve in an effort to operate profitably despite depressed conditions.

One hosiery mill sought to continue operations. The Thomas Mill resumed work in some departments. W. B. Tacoma, president, announced that all officials and employees inside were prepared to resist with armed force any attempt to close the plant.

No such attempt was made but strikers predicted the mill would not run today.

Fred Kettley, Federal conciliator who arrived here yesterday, denied today that he had advised strikers to accept terms offered by the manufacturers; explained he merely had cited to them general troublesome conditions in industry throughout the country and urged them to give any proposal careful consideration.

Kettley was holding conferences today with interested parties on both sides of the question.

High Point, July 22.—(AP)—The first definite casualty reported during the general walkout of textile workers here came today when V. E. Young, loom fixer at the Stehli Silk Mills, was accidentally shot in the leg.

Young was dressing in the mill and a pool lay near his clothes. As he pulled a garment from his dressing table, the pistol fell to the floor, discharging and sending a bullet into his leg.

He was taken to a hospital where his condition was said to be good.

DRY WEATHER DAMAGES WATERMELON CROP

Edenton, N. C., July 22.—(AP)—Chowan County, which produces much of the watermelons used in the Albemarle section, is suffering from dry weather and the crop is expected to be affected badly.

Farmers say many of the melons already are yellowed by the hot sun.

ABOUT TOWN

As A. Farley, chairman of the National Democratic Executive committee, officially opened his campaign yesterday with an address on the Republican party.
 His address was one of a thousand which will be delivered by heads between now and the election, and the voters are given a variety of facts for their consideration.

Democrats are emphasizing economic situation while the Republicans are calling attention to the public to the Democratic platform on the prohibition question, forgetting that their resolution plank is almost equivalent to prohibition.

One thing troubling this city now is not prohibition especially, but provisions for the millions of unemployed men and women who are walking the streets in quest of employment. When this condition is provided for, prohibition will receive attention but it is now overshadowed by economic problems at this time.

Republicans have exhibited inability to deal with the situation for the last four years, and up to the Democrats to lead
 the nation out of the wilderness.
 They believe the voters will give this opportunity when they vote in the November to register their preference.

People's lives have been claimed by treacherous currents of Tar during the present summer, and those who have been going swimming in the stream from day to day are urged not to take further chances.

There is no use to jeopardize life in a place when there is a swimming pool here surrounded by protection it is possible to obtain a place of the kind.
 The intention of promoting a safe place for children to swim when the swimming pool is opened, and parents should upon their children taking chances of jeopardizing their life
 in a river.

In addition to the danger of loss of life, there is also the threat of disease from river water. Many children have been handicapped for life through rough infections from streams of this kind, and if the practice is stopped, authorities should put a stop to river swimming.

Every swimmer has already claimed victims this season and it is the entire citizenship will unite in the effort to reduce river swimming in this stream.

The demonstration workers of this county, we are told in news dispatches, have agreed to one thousand cans of vegetables for distribution in the relief
 next winter.

The plan should hold out great possibilities to other communities of the widespread suffering which has existed the last two years as result of unemployment.
 There are enough surplus fruits and vegetables thrown away in North Carolina each season to meet the entire demand of the county during the winter and if it were possible to conserve these surplus, it is impossible to foresee any reaching results which it has on the life of the various communities.

The plan would cut sharply into the annual funds raised for this purpose and would place the committees in a position to adequately take care of the demand made upon them
 during the winter, but without the year.
 The organizations should find considerable inspiration in the demonstration county movement and a

SYNOPSIS: The secret of Sondra
 Kent's sudden marriage to Mark Merriman, before he sailed for the Congo, is threatened by Beatrice Taylor. Sondra is lurching with John Anderson, who thinks she has been visiting Beatrice, whereas really she was being married to Mark.
 Sondra has planned not to tell anyone of her marriage, because she knows that her sister Flora would no longer support her if she knew.
 And Sondra is not prepared by training to support herself, but must wait and live with Flora in the hope that Mark will make a success of the position that Anderson has given him. Anderson loves Sondra, although he has not told her so, since he is married and his wife will not release him. He has held the attitude of a guardian toward Sondra for many years, and has solved her problems and financial difficulties.

Chapter II
 LOOKING INTO THE FUTURE
 Beatrice came rushing across to Sondra and John like a small whirlwind.

She was a little creature, fair and fluffy with a passion for frilly clothes.
 "Darling—how lovely to see you,"
 she kissed Sondra's cheek. "And Mr. Anderson's, too." She had what she called an "incurable passion" for John Anderson.

Anderson rose to his feet, bowing rather formally.
 Beatrice irritated him; she reminded him of a tiresome insect which always returned to the attack
 no matter how often and determinedly one brushed it away.
 "Too lovely to see you," she said
 again to Sondra. "But you're so pale—Isn't she, Mr. Anderson?
 Haven't you been well, and is that why you—"

Sondra interrupted calmly.
 "Don't pretend, Bea dear. Mr. Anderson knows all about our little escape—I told him that you and I had a disgraceful late night out together. I suppose that explains why I look such a rag this morning."

Beatrice looked blank, then suddenly she giggled—it always took her some time to see the point of anything.
 "So you told him! Was he very shocked?" She looked archly up at Anderson's immovable face. "My poor little mother will hardly speak to me this morning," she gushed.
 "What time did we arrive home, Sondra. It must have been quite 5 o'clock."

"I understood that Sondra was out all night," Anderson said calmly. "And let me assure you that I am not in the least shocked. My education has been liberal."
 Beatrice giggled once more, and made a few rapid remarks before she rushed away again. "Mr. Anderson always makes me feel so small and young," she explained afterwards to Sondra. "A mere child!"
 There was a little silence when she had departed.

"I cannot tolerate that girl," Anderson said presently.
 Sondra laughed. "Why not? She's quite harmless. I like her."
 "She's such a shocking liar," Anderson answered calmly. "I don't object to people telling lies if they are forced to, but I do wish they'd do it in a convincing manner." Sondra's eyes fell. She felt it was impossible to ask him to explain what he meant.

The air seemed fraught with an intangible "something" which she could not understand; or was it her own state of mind that conjured it? Perhaps she was just imagining that there was an underlying knowledge in everything Anderson said.
 Did he guess the truth? Ad if not, what would he say if she suddenly told him "Mark and I were married yesterday."

Anderson spoke suddenly, as if reading her thoughts.
 "I must send young Merriman a wire to the boat, to wish him luck.
 I darsesay he feels a bit hipped."
 "Oh, I don't think so."
 What a hypocrite she was! Sondra felt as if she stood aside and stared at herself in shocked dismay.
 "It's a good thing he's a single man," John said casually. "I always way of converting waste into a means of direct service to humanity.

Food crops are more plentiful in this county this year than they have been in a decade and growers as a result are doing more living at home than ever before.
 Turning of attention to the cultivation of gardens resulted from the low prices for the principal money crops and the practice has increased in scope with the last several years.

The production of more of the things consumed at home has brought about more liberal offerings of such things on the various markets. Years ago it was almost impossible to obtain sufficient quantities of home-grown vegetables on local markets, but today they may be obtained in unlimited amounts.
 The growers to some extent have been able to make up for the shortage of revenue growing out of low prices for their principal crops, and while they are still suffering from shortage of funds, the situation is far better than it would have been had they not turned their attention to the food crops.

only a few short hours; she would still be his wife in five years' time—
 even if he came back stout and bald.
 But Mark would come back as he had gone away—keen, upright, alert.
 "Sudden tears dimmed her eyes as she recalled his face; how horrible
 the distance between her and Mark Merriman was increasing by hopeless miles. She took up the little handbag.
 The letter was still there, carelessly doubled up as if it was something of no importance.
 Sondra tore the flap open without much interest.
 "What did it matter whether she wore pretty gowns or not? There was no longer anybody in town whom she cared to please.
 She flushed a little as she mechanically counted the crisp bank-notes.
 One thousand dollars! She let the money slip from her fingers to the dressing-table.
 Nobody would ever believe her if she told them that in return for such a gift she had given nothing—would never give anything; people would laugh if she knew that morrow Anderson had never asked anything of her—probably never would ask.
 It seemed an unusual sort of friendship—affection.
 It was so seldom that even a very rich man gave generously without hope of return.
 Mark would be horrified; he would never understand. She could imagine his indignation.
 Some day he would come back and what then?
 For the first time Sondra looked honestly into the future and tried to realize what life would be then—if ever—Mark came home.
 She knew that if he made money all would probably be well, but if not—if he came back as he went away—poor, without prospects—
 what would become of them?
 Could she face life in a suburban house—even with his love? She knew that she could not.
 There was always John; John would do anything for her—and he would see to Mark's future. Influence meant so much nowadays; the thought comforted her.
 Of course Mark would get on—he would make a position in the world, and they would find happiness together.
 And in the meantime—
 It was not yet twenty-four hours since they had said good-bye, and already it seemed as if it was years ago that she had stood on the pier trying to hide from the world that Mark meant anything more to her than just an ordinary friend who was going abroad.
 Not yet twenty-four hours! and it might be five years before they met again.
 Was it possible to still love a man passionately whom one had not seen for five years? People changed so Mark might grow stout or bald...
 she smiled involuntarily at the thought.
 Five years! Five summers, five winters—five glorious springs, and all without Mark. She was his wife, though they had lived together for no comment.

 "Will John Anderson be over tonight?" she asked.
 "I believe so."
 "You believe so? Don't you know?
 But I suppose it's stupid to ask. He's always to be found where you are.
 Why in God's name doesn't he get rid of his wife?" she demanded.
 "You'd better ask him," Sondra
 said.
 "Would you marry him—if he was free?" Flora asked.
 "No."
 "Why not?" Flora asked.

HEAT MOVES UP IN STATE

Thermometers Bend Upward in Carolinas as Residents Watch for Rain.

(By The Associated Press)
Thermometers in the Carolinas climbed upward today while residents watched clouding skies for promised thundershowers and relief. Rains promised last night failed to arrive, but weather forecasters said showers would come with the sinking of the sun today.

A smart breeze, however, helped citizens keep a cool brow while they watched the mercury climb slowly after near midday readings were taken.

Raleigh and Columbia led off the list with 95° after sweltering thru heat during the morning. Charlotte and Elizabeth City came next with 94 each while Wilmington recorded an 89.5. Asheville's official thermometer stood at 86.

Fayetteville recorded an official 103. The thermometer rose steadily at Greenville, S. C., until a high of 95 was reached at 11 a. m. At noon, however, it had dropped back two points and stood at 93.

New York, July 22.—(AP)—The bodies of two men, both of whom had been shot in the head and their lips sealed with tape, were found today a few feet apart under a pear tree at the side of a lonely drive in Bayside, Queens.

One man had been shot behind the left ear and the other behind the right ear. Their neatly manicured hands were tied behind them with sashweight cord.

Police were of the opinion the men had been shot some hours before and their bodies taken to the lane and abandoned. A preliminary examination failed to disclose any identification.

Judge Henry A. Grady sentenced Wallace to be electrocuted at the State Prison at Raleigh on Friday, September 23.

Wallace showed no emotion when he heard the verdict.

Charley Myers, who is under indictment in the same case, will not be tried at this term of court.

Attorneys for Wallace gave notice of appeal.

Perry was shot to death and Thomas Beal was fatally wounded as three negroes attempted to rob Perry as he opened his safe in his store at Cumcock.

Probe Mystery Death of Two Young Women

Lake City, Minn., July 22.—(AP)—Aid of clinic specialists at Rochester was enlisted today by authorities seeking the cause of the mysterious deaths of Louise Prigge and Frances Plikowski, both 24.

The scantily clad bodies of the young women were found 22 miles from here—that of Miss Prigge in the Zumbro river and that of her chum, who had been visiting at the Prigge farm, on the river bank a half mile away.

They were last seen alive Tuesday night when two men called at the Prigge home near Rochester, to take them for an automobile ride. Only the first name of one of the men was known although Louise was said to have gone out several times with him.

The internal organs were sent to Rochester for examination, and the findings will be presented at a coroner's inquest, scheduled for today at Millville.

Escaped Prisoner Taken at Hickory

Hickory, July 22.—(AP)—William Burns, 23, one of ten prisoners who escaped from a state prison camp at Mocksville last week, surrendered to police here last night, it was announced today.

Burns said his mother and sister asked him to give himself up and that he was complying with their wishes.

The escaped convict called Chief of Police Eugene Lenz on the telephone saying he wished to give himself up. Burns was taken to state's prison at Raleigh today.

Burns was seen with three other convicts here Tuesday and police attempted to apprehend them but they escaped. He said he parted company with the trio at Salisbury Wednesday and that he knew neither where they went nor their names.

He said one was called "Thirty" because he was serving a 30-year sentence.

Burns said the ten escaped from the prison camp through a hole in the floor, made by one man using a brace and bit while the others were grouped about him playing cards.

Prisoner Shot in Attempt Escape

Raleigh, July 22.—(AP)—E. R. Cole, 25-year-old white man, was shot and killed and Oscar Helton, 23, was critically wounded by a guard at Caledonia prison farm in Halifax county, when the two convicts made a break for liberty late yesterday afternoon, it was announced at state's prison here today.

The name of the guard who fired the shots could not be learned here.

Prison authorities stated that the two men, both serving long terms for highway robbery, broke and ran from the guard, who fired a load of buckshot into them when they refused to obey his command to halt. Helton, who is in the prison hospital at Caledonia, is in a serious condition and may die.

Cole was convicted of highway robbery in Mecklenburg county and was admitted to state's prison in January, 1932, to serve a term of 15 years.

Helton was sent up from Catawba county in February, 1931, to serve a prison term of from 10 to 12 years for highway robbery.

Will Encourage Oyster Industry In This State

Raleigh, July 22.—(AP)—A oyster "farmers" leasing publicly owned sound bottoms in North Carolina for the next three years will be given free rental in an effort to encourage the development of the shellfish industry, according to action taken by the State Board of Conservation and Development, which was announced today by the department.

The rent free period, it was explained, applies to those leases entered into with the beginning of the current rental period on April 1st.

Growing of oysters on leased bottoms has been encouraged for years by the conservation officials as a means of increasing the returns from this industry on the North Carolina coast. A series of investigations and studies is now being carried out in various waters of the state by the U. S. Bureau of Fisheries, in co-operation with the Department of Conservation and Development, to determine the most effective practices in oyster culture.

Locusts Visit Five Counties

Raleigh, N. C., July 22.—(AP)—Five counties, according to reports received thus far by the State Department of Agriculture, are being visited at this time by the seven-year locust.

Dr. R. W. Leiby, entomologist, has received word that Jackson, Buncombe, Macon, Henderson and Burke counties have been infested by the insects.

"It is interesting to note," the specialist said, "that reports say the locusts, or cicadas, are damaging twigs and small limbs of forest trees in some localities. Sometime ago we heard that a young apple orchard in Buncombe County, next to some woods, was literally stripped of foliage and small branches by the locusts."

The locusts have been living in the ground, off roots of trees, for seventeen years, but they have emerged according to schedule as reports of their presence show, he said.

RED SOX PICK UP STEAM AND WIN ANOTHER

By GAYLE TALBOT
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

The Boston Red Sox, up a few weeks ago a demoralized, beaten team that threatened to break all existing records for games lost, are showing distinct signs of improvement under the guidance of Mary McManus.

With Smead Jolley and Roy Johnson hitting far better than they did for the white Sox and Tigers, respectively, and the young pitchers coming through with a striking performance every few days, the Sox are winning a fair percentage of their games. They have won ten of their last twenty-two contests and have been shut out but once in the last month.

Larry Boerner, Boston rookie, yesterday held the Yankees to two hits in seven innings. It was only the second start for Boerner, who formerly was the property of the St. Louis Cardinals.

As well as he hurled yesterday, Boerner has yet to receive credit for a big league victory. Old Wiley Moore went the last two frames, in which the Sox came from behind to win.

The Washington Senators regained fourth place in the American League by beating Detroit, 5 to 4, in their final.

The St. Louis Browns broke their losing streak of eleven straight when Walter Stewart pitched himself a four-hit game and defeated the Athletics, 5 to 3. Goose Goslin smacked two doubles and two singles.

In the National League's only engagement, the pace-setting Pittsburgh Pirates scored in the last of the ninth to beat the Phillies, 3 to 2 and increase their lead to two and a half games.

HORNET CREW WINS FROM PIRATES, 7-6

Charlotte, N. C., June 22.—(AP)—Winning ball games has become so regular with the Charlotte Hornets that it bids fair to become a habit. They made it nine in a row last night by defeating the Wilmington Pirates, but it took a bitter ten-inning battle to turn the trick by a 7 to 6 count.

The Lacy's victory increased their lead off the Piedmont League's second half to a margin of five and a half games, as the second place Greensboro Patriots ran afoul of Paul Folliard when the hurler for the Twins had his winning clothes on, and came out on the short end of a 2 to 1 score.

The other first division club, Raleigh's Capitals, took its second drubbing in a row from the Durham Bulls in a game marked by spectacular fielding. The Bulls won 2 to 0. Greensboro, coupled with Charlotte's sweep of the two-game series over Wilmington, resulted in the Twins sharing their cellar position, monopolized for some time, with the lads from the seashore. Each club has a record of six wins and eleven defeats for the second half.

Folliard won his own ball game. He allowed three more hits than Averette in a pitcher's duel, but he personally scored the first run for the Twins, and in the ninth inning, who two men were out, hit safely to score Bryan with the winning tally. Folliard yielded eight hits, which were well scattered, while Averette struck out two.

It was a thrilling finish that enabled the Hornets to keep their string of victories unbroken. The Pirates held a 6 to 3 advantage when the ninth inning opened. Manager Guy Lacy rose to the occasion when after one run had been walked in and the bases were full, he cracked out a single to drive in two runs and tie the score. In the tenth, Holt walked, was sacrificed to second, and brought home the bacon on a single by Art Pond.

In the Raleigh-Durham melee, Tiny Butler held an edge over Specs Taylor, although both pitchers allowed the same number of hits, seven. Timely hitting by Willingham and Cotter was responsible for the Bulls' two runs. Sensational fielding stunts were performed by members of both clubs.

Market Report Cotton--Stocks--Grain

New York Cotton

New York, July 22.—(AP)—Cotton futures opened steady 1-3 higher on steady Liverpool cables and a fairly active movement in absence of selling.

Some buying was reported by brokers with Japanese connections but Liverpool and the continent were credited with selling during the early trading and orders on the whole appeared to be evenly divided.

The tone held steady with October working up to 5.77 and January to 6.00 or about 3 to 4 points net higher by the end of the first half hour. According to early estimates notices representing about 2,000 bales were issued against July contracts, without apparent effect on the market. Trading in the current July position ends at noon today.

Grain Market

Chicago, July 22.—(AP)—Enlarged buying on the part of commission houses and speculators gave a twist to grain values today, especially in the late dealings.

Purchases broadened owing largely to recent advances in securities, sugar and livestock. Several brokerage firms issued statements suggesting that government financed holdings of domestic wheat were commencing to lose effect as a market guide.

Stock Market

New York, July 22.—(AP)—With rails providing the motive power, and oils the fuel, the stock market negotiated another modest grade today, getting up close to the peak levels of June.

The announcement of the Interstate Commerce commission's approval of the four-party Eastern trunklines merger, with only minor modifications of the executives' plan, had a beneficial effect upon the carrier securities generally, and oils improved in response to first samples of first half earnings.

Of the Eastern trunklines, stocks of Baltimore & Ohio and Chesapeake & Ohio made relatively the best progress, getting up a point or more. Delaware & Hudson, normally a wide mover, advanced more than 2. New York Central and Pennsylvania rose about 1-2 point.

Among other rails, Union Pacific and Santa Fe gained a point or so. In the oil, Standard of California and New Jersey, Seaboard Oil, and Atlantic Refining gained a point or so. Miscellaneous shares rising from one to nearly 2 points included the American Telephone, American Can, Case, Proctor & Gamble, National Biscuit, Air Reduction, Eastman, Homestake, General Railway Signal, National Distillers and U. S. Steel preferred. The list sagged a little after a firm opening, but soon resumed its climb.

The way the market was able to push up through its previous upper resistance levels of July was regarded as encouraging. The upturn took the general level, as measured by averages, up close to the peak of the early June rally, which greeted the formation of the Morgan-sponsored Bond Investing corporation.

RAILROADS CONSIDER NEW PLAN FOR CONSOLIDATING

When the roads in October presented their four-party suggestion, they said if it were not approved without change the plan would fail. What effect business conditions have had since remains to be seen.

The new schedule would break up the proposed Washash-Seaboard system; abrogate two anti-trust decisions by authorizing the Pennsylvania to absorb the Washash and the Baltimore & Ohio to take in the Western Maryland.

Likewise, it would leave with the Louisville & Nashville and the Southern ownership of the Chicago, Indianapolis & Louisville (The Monon) instead of allocating one-half interest in it to the Baltimore & Ohio.

The commission decision was not unanimous. Commissioners Eastman and McAnany dissented from the entire plan, while Brainerd, Lee and Mahaffie would not accept minor features.

SEEKS RIGHTS OF EQUALITY

(Continued from Page One) general disarmament and at the same time excludes Germany or other states from these rules and principles, subjecting any state to discrimination, such an attitude would be incompatible with sentiments of national honor and international justice.

The draft resolution with which the conference proposes to terminate the first phase of its work takes no account of the German position, he said.

In order to make certain that the German demands shall be understood, the German government is ready to begin immediate negotiations with any interested states.

"My government," said the spokesman, "must make it clear that from today on it cannot pledge itself to continue collaboration here unless a point is found before the conference resumes its activity."

NEW RELIEF BILL READY AID JOBS OF AMERICA

(Continued from Page One) lily called it a "step toward recovery." One reason for the postponement was to let the corporation prepare for a flood of loan applications already on the way to the capital, promising that before long money would begin to be spent on the things that the President and Congress alike thought would be beneficial.

The corporation was ready today for its new work, and it was indicated the Chief Executive might be ready soon to announce successors to Governor Eugene Meyer of the Federal Reserve Board and Paul Bestor, Farm Loan Commissioner, whose retirements from the corporation directorate were ordered by the new law at the President's request. He said they had too many other things to do.

The new law makes $300,000,000 available for loans to states to relieve unemployment distress; increases funds of the corporation from $2,000,000,000 to $3,500,000,000; allocates $1,500,000,000 for public construction and self-liquidating private loans, the financing of agricultural through credit corporations; allows $120,000,000 for Federal highway aid advances of states; permits expenditure of $16,000,000 on national parks and forest roads and trails; makes possible the use of $186,224,000 for public buildings and waterway improvement when the Treasury condition permits.

Likewise, it lets the Federal Reserve Banks, subject to approval of the Reserve Board, discount eligible paper for individuals and corporations.

When the measure was signed, the President had not yet settled his difference with Democrats over whether it would be necessary to make public the corporation loans or simply send them to the House and Senate each month.

FARMERS GET EXTRA CASH

(Continued from Page One) ceived $2,760.40 for five car lots of potatoes shipped to northern markets during the season and have been paid $4,358.38 for products disposed of on the curb market here.

The farm department director said approximately five cars of hogs were on feed at this time and would be shipped to distributing centers within the next several months.

For the twenty-two cars of hogs shipped from the county this season, the growers have been paid a total sum of $10,744.21. The sale of 74,399 pounds of poultry culped hogs sales somewhat, bringing $10,860.40.

The greatest problem affecting growers at this time is the finding of proper distribution centers. So far, through the co-operation of the Mutual Exchange and the Farm Department they have been quite fortunate and have been able to obtain a market for all their products at prices comparing favorably with the best to be had.

The curb market has also afforded a splendid source of distribution for the growers, and business has shown a pronounced increase over recent years, especially since the market moved into new quarters in the old Model School building on Cotanche street.

Money received from these extra sources has played an important part with growers who have suffered indescribably from low prices for principal crops in recent years, and it was expected it would tend to increase the scope of the industry in years to come as farmers become convinced of the fact that the old plan of putting "all of their eggs in the same old basket" is no longer wise or profitable.

DIES FACING COURT CHARGE

A note found in Ward's purse read: "Dear folks, I must go. You can make a living. I'm no account and not fit for nothing any more. When I'm gone please can talk about me all they please. Dear wife and children, I hope to meet you in heaven sometime. Farewell to all. With love, Gold Ward."

Relatives said a dispute among members of his church also had caused him considerable worry.

GANGS START WAR ON LABOR

(Continued from Page One) day after long litigation. They were convinced the double slaying at Shawano, Wisconsin, was reprisal for the month-old killings of George "Red" Barker, pal of Sammons, who through guns and hoodlums had usurped domination of a large group of labor organizations.

Berrell, vice-president of the International Brotherhood of Stabblers, Helpers and Teamsters was shot to death as he stepped outside the Shawano roadhouse early yesterday. Marks was a relative of the notorious George "Bugs" Moran. He mistimed death by five minutes in the St. Valentine's Day extermination of the Moran mob in 1929. He was killed yesterday as he ran to Berrell's aid. The killers fled in an automobile.

NATION BOILS UNDER HEAT

Deaths due to the heat totalled thirty-six throughout the land. Lightning and drownings claimed at least twenty-seven others, while rescue workers at Pontiac Lack, Mich., feared they could never find ten of fourteen persons missing from boats overturned during a squall.

The upper Mississippi Valley and Great Lakes region, assailed by thundershowers yesterday, suffered and immediate renewal of the heat wave. Readings there, like those in most states, were above normal last night, but Federal observers promised temperatures "not so warm" in the midst of the Mid-West today. The Missouri Valley was slated to be an exception. A hot week-end was its prospect.

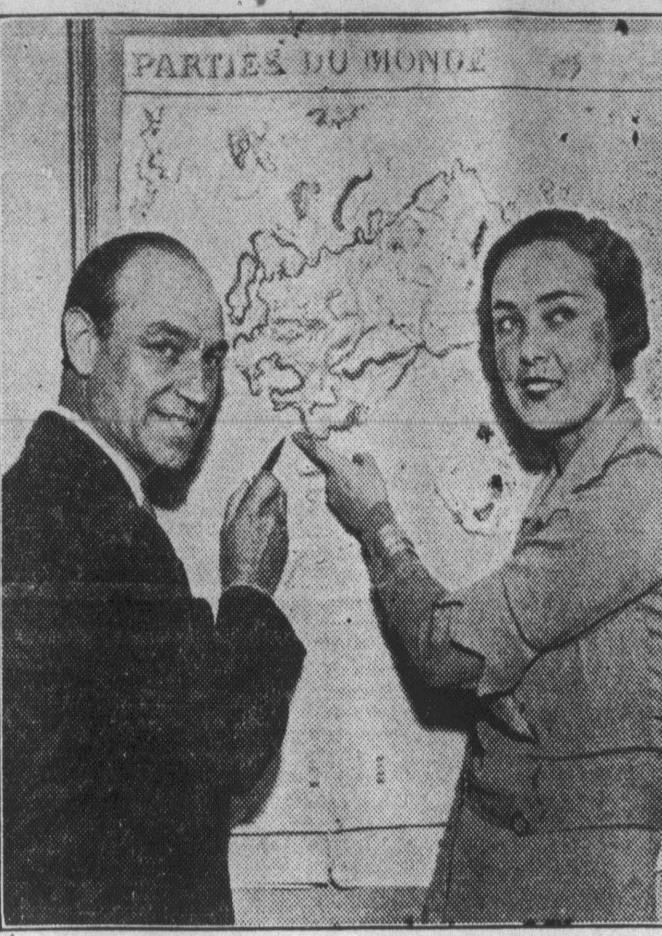

Unlike Pittsburgh, no other cities reported new highs for the season. St. Louis, customarily hot, said it was 97, Louisville 96, Milwaukee 90, and Des Moines 96. Showers brought readings in Chicago down from 95 to 77, and in Lincoln, Neb., from 99 to 78, and in St. Louis from 88 to 76.

ELY AGREES SEE ROOSEVELT

In a statement issued at the close of the conference, Parley said: "Governor Ely and I have gone over the situation very carefully and I have arranged for Governor Ely to meet Governor Roosevelt in Albany to meet day next week, and after that visit Governor Ely will issue a statement."

BIG POLITICAL ISSUES COME TO THE FRONT

(Continued from page one) gins its preparation, he is besieged on the one hand by pleas that he show a definite personal inclination to the dry issue, at the same time that he accepts the submission plank adopted at Chicago; and on the other hand by advisers who think the party ought to cut loose entirely from the organized dries, and stand for submission and nothing else.

It probably is true that not one of the president's intimates knows today what he will decide to say. He is listening to both sides, and keeping his own thoughts to himself. All that can be said with certainty is that he has no intention of declaring for repeal, or even by inference putting himself definitely on the extreme anti-prohibition side of the case.

Similarly, many politicians expect Governor Roosevelt to indicate whether he intends to follow the strategy adopted by his running-mate, Speaker Garner, in the closing days of the session of Congress and in the home-coming speeches in Texas.

Garner's thrusts at "Wall Street" and his denunciation of President Hoover as the special friend of big business, have aroused questionings among many eastern Democrats.

MRS. WOOLARD LAID TO REST

(Continued from Page One) She was a member of the Christian Church of her community for fifty years and exhibited active interest in denominational work up to the time of her illness. She was a native of the Everetts section and spent all of her life there.

Of a cheerful and lovable nature, Mrs. Woolard endeared herself to a wide circle of friends who received news of her death with profound sorrow.

She is survived by five children, Mrs. J. S. Peel, Mrs. J. F. Wynne and Mrs. L. A. Clark of Everetts; J. D. Woolard of Goldboro, and W. H. Woolard of Greenville. Pure-ton grand-children also survive.

Active pall bearers were: D. C. Peel, Woolard Peel, James R. Wynne, J. H. Harrison, grandsons of the deceased, and Gordon Bailey, C. B. Clark and Herman Williams.

POLITICS NOW GRIPS NATION

(Continued from Page One) Ehringhaus, gubernatorial nominee, in agreement on the man before his name is presented. Gossip as to who is the chairma will be lagging.

MINERS BEGIN QUITTING CAMP

Had peaceable methods failed, the governor said, it would have been necessary for the state to declare martial law.

The Hoosier mine, one of several co-operatives in the southern Indiana field, is under protection of a federal injunction issue to prevent interference with its operation. No attempt was made, however, to arrest the pickets, who were orderly.

MANHUNT ON FOR ROBBERS

(Continued from Page One) C., yesterday. Sheriff Patton said the robbers, who fled with $26,000 of the bank's sedan, passed through this section yesterday and obtained food at the home of Buck Hendricks, fifteen miles from here.

The sheriff said the men abandoned a sedan they were driving and continued their way in another sedan, painted yellow. The abandoned car, he said, had no license, and part of the motor's serial number had been cut off.

After obtaining food at Hendrick's place, the men continued their way along Highway 28 toward Highlanis. Police were requested from Greenville today and they expected to join others here in the search for the men.
