STRIKERS RETURN TO WORK IN HIGH POINT MILLS

BONUS SEEKERS PROMISED NOT TO BE MOLESTED IF THEY WILL STAY ORDERLY

GOV. PINCHOT PRAISES VETS

Pennsylvania Executive Charges Treatment of Veterans At Washington "Brutal, Stupid and Altogether Unnecessary;" the Army Acquires Site for Permanent Colony in Maryland.

By The Associated Press. Bonus-seeking veterans encamped at Johnstown, Pa., were promised today that they would not be molested as long as they are orderly. They also were told that Governor Clifford Pinchot would go to Johnstown to address them, but the time was not announced.

Governor Pinchot, in Harrisburg, issued a formal statement charging treatment of the veterans in Washington was "brutal, stupid and altogether unnecessary;" and stating the veterans had shown far more restraint than the Washington authorities.

National Red Cross officials in Washington decided to take no part in aiding the veterans encamped near Johnstown, Pa.

Waterbury, Md., Aug. 1.—(AP)—A small advance detail of the bonus expeditionary army today began its work of clearing a road through the forest of Anne Arundel County for the building of a permanent colony for the veterans and their families driven from Washington last week.

Nineteen men and one woman arrived yesterday, soon after Walter W. Waters, commander of the bonus army, had purchased twenty-five acres of wooded lands near here from Mrs. Maude Edgell, of Catonsville, Md., for one dollar. She offered another twenty-five if the colonists needed it.

The early arrivals, under the direction of Major E. W. Lambert, of Central Lake, Michigan, started cutting away the trees and brush along a woodland trail for a road and improving a small pond to provide drinking water.

The establishment of a permanent colony by the veterans drew protests from neighboring land owners, one of whom said the bonus army should be stopped "unless they are taxpayers or have visible means of support."

Washington, Aug. 1.—(AP)—A hand-off policy toward the bonus-seekers encamped near Johnstown, Pa., was decided upon today by the National Red Cross while the District of Columbia grand jury began an investigation to fix responsibility for the riots last Thursday in which one war veteran was killed.

James L. Messer, vice-chairman of the Red Cross, after a conference with officials, said no aid would be given the veterans who thronged to the Pennsylvania city after being evicted from the capital by Federal troops.

At the direction of President Hoover, the grand jury began receiving testimony concerning the riots precipitated by the bonus marchers. Pelham D. Glassford, superintendent of police, was the first witness.

Poison Whiskey Causes Eighteen Deaths In N. Y.

New York, Aug. 1.—(AP)—"Smoke," the cheap, poisonous drink of the East Side waterfront in which many down-and-outers seek forgetfulness, was held responsible by police today for 18 week-end deaths. Feelings of genuine fear was apparent among the loiterers who have been in the habit of spending penniless dimes for "smoke" in squalid dives.

Detectives seeking the source of the poison alcohol said they found (Continued on Page Four)

Charlie Keel, colored, was killed instantly in the Bethel community yesterday by Walter Page, also colored, while Page was shooting at another negro named Allen Smith. Page escaped and was at liberty today.

The shooting was said to have occurred while the negroes were gathered at the church during services. Page and Smith engaged in an argument. Smith fired at Page and missed. Page grappled with his assailant and succeeded in wresting the gun from him. He fired three times as Smith broke away and ran, one of the bullets striking Keel in the head, producing instant death.

President Hopes to Join White House Confab on Five Day Week and Loan Plan

Washington, Aug. 1.—(AP)—Rapidly expanding relief plans centered today about a meeting to find means of spreading the five day week and the Federal Reserve board's decision to let system banks make loans to individuals.

President Hoover, hoping to join the White House conference late in the day or early tomorrow, designated Secretaries Doak and Lamont to represent him in a discussion of the five day week with a group of New Englanders.

Calvin Coolidge Says American People Must Combine Meet Economic Situation.

Boston, Aug. 1.—(AP)—An expressed opinion by Calvin Coolidge that wage-earners and business men, for their mutual protection, must combine in the present economic situation, "as in war," was made public today by Admiral Richard E. Byrd, chairman of the National Economy League.

The opinion was expressed in a letter to Admiral Byrd from the former President, who is chairman of the advisory committee of the league. It reads: "In accordance with a suggestion I have already made that there can be at this time no greater public service than leadership in arousing public opinion in favor of constructive economy in government, and that wage-earners and business men must combine on a non-partisan basis for their mutual protection, and must be organized, alert, vocal and willing to volunteer their time (Continued on Page Four)

HITLER LOSES IN GERMANY

Falls Far Short of Obtaining Majority Necessary For Control of Government.

Berlin, Aug. 1.—(AP)—Adolf Hitler's push for complete power in Germany was stopped today.

The question, following yesterday's elections, was whether the present government under the Junker-Soldier General Von Schleicher would continue, or whether Hitler could negotiate an alliance with former Chancellor Heinrich Brüning.

Hitler and his Nazi followers doubled their strength in the Reichstag over four years ago, but fell far short of achieving the clear majority they sought, receiving little more than one-third of the total vote.

The official apportionment of seats indicated the new Reichstag will have 607 members, distributed among the parties as follows: Nazis, 229; Socialists, 133; Centerists and Bavarian People's Party, 96; Communists, 89; Nationalists, 37; Populists, 7; Christian Socialists, 4; Economic Party, 2; Agricultural Alliance, 2; Farmers' Federation, 2; State's Party, 2; Farmers' Party, 1.

At Munich, however, Hitler issued a statement to his followers in which he called the election "our greatest success," and pledged them to "carry on the fight with unabated vigor."

"The National Socialist Party is now the strongest in the Reichstag," he said. "Our movement, unmatched (Continued on Page Four)

Ehringhaus Prepares To Take Over Government

Raleigh, N. C., Aug. 1.—(AP)—J. C. B. Ehringhaus, Democratic gubernatorial nominee here today said he intended to spend as much time as possible in Raleigh between now and January to familiarize himself "with every phase of the State's government" which he expects to head at that time.

The Elizabeth City man who came here after "resting in the country" for the past few days, said he would await the meeting of the Democratic State Executive Committee in Raleigh, August 9, before launching his campaign against Clifford Frazier, the Republican nominee.

Ehringhaus would not commit himself on the State Chairmanship which will be filled by the Executive Committee. He repeated, however, he anticipated no trouble in reaching an agreement with Robert R. Reynolds, the Democratic senatorial nominee.

"R. R. Reynolds and I are in contact," he said declining to elaborate that remark. Ehringhaus said Reynolds was on a vacation and he would break a confidence to reveal the senatorial nominee's whereabouts (Continued on Page Four)

SIN CAUSES HARD TIMES

Rev. W. S. Harden Sees Need of National Day of Fasting and Prayer.

A national day of fasting and prayer as a means of improving the world-wide depression was advocated last night by Rev. W. S. Harden, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, speaking before the largest crowd to attend a Sunday evening union service at the courthouse. Mr. Harden vigorously asserted that sin in the lives of public officials and other people prominent in national life was the reason for the depression, and not the causes which have been held up so frequently and consistently in recent months.

Rev. E. L. Hillman, pastor of Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church, was in charge of the service and led the congregational singing which was the most inspirational of the entire series. Rev. Mr. Wooten, pastor of the Free Will Baptist Church, made the opening prayer.

NO DISORDER IS REPORTED

Every Mill Operating at Full Blast Today with Exception of One; No Officers On Duty as Operation Is Resumed; Operatives Appear Glad Hostilities were Ended with Conference of the Governor and Strike Leader.

High Point, N. C., Aug. 1.—(AP)—Approximately 6,000 hosiery workers, on strike for almost two weeks, returned to their posts today. Every High Point mill was operating except one.

No disorder marked the end of the strike, settled Saturday with Governor Gardner in the role of peace-maker.

The gates of the mills were opened, whistles shrilled their summons and the workers filed in. Soon machinery was whirling and the manufacturing life of the city was normal again.

No special officers were on the job as activity was resumed in the hosiery district.

Most of the operatives appeared glad hostilities are at an end. Governor O. Max Gardner brought the more than 5,000 strikers in 33 plants and the manufacturers together Saturday to end the labor battle through a board of arbitration.

By terms of an agreement, boarding room workers in the seamless mills were promised a wage scale of $2.10 per hundred dozen pairs of hose. The strikers first had demanded $2.25, and later reduced their demand to $2.12 1-2 while the manufacturer offered $2.00.

At the time of the strike some of the workers received $1.50.

Under the agreement no change was made in the wage scale for employees of other departments, but the manufacturers promised to raise their wage scale if an investigation of the prevailing wages in other hosiery centers disclosed the wages here were below the average.

The one group of strikers not brought to an agreement with the manufacturers by the governor's arbitration board was composed of strikers from the full fashioned hosiery plant of the Adams Mills Company.

They struck in protest against a wage cut of 10 per cent which brought their earnings from 40 cents per dozen hose to 36 cents.

At a meeting yesterday the full fashioned workers voted to continue the strike and picket the mill.

Governor Gardner gave much of the credit for the successful arbitration of the labor dispute to Capt. W. Wayne, editor of the High Point Enterprise, who since the beginning of the strike had worked ceaselessly to bring the strikers and manufacturers to an agreement.

Drunken Negro Stalls Traffic Riding on Mule

Charlotte, N. C., Aug. 1.—(AP)—Gasoline played no part in this particular case of drunken driving. Traffic was congested for blocks when Dave Kennedy, elderly negro, went for a ride about the city on his old gray mule. Police said Dave swayed dangerously in the saddle while shouting greetings to the general public. Then he jubilantly halted his mount in the middle of Fourth Street, disregarding the honks of irate motorists. Protesters brought the police.

"It is not drunk," Dave said. "I'm merely enjoying my afternoon ride." Dave, however, was unable to walk to the officer's satisfaction—in fact, tumbled from his saddle to the ground. He was taken to a cell. The mule was hitched in a garage to await its master.

THE WASHINGTON OUTRAGE

There is a lot of talk pro and con regarding the driving of the ex-service men from Washington at the point of bayonets but as we view the situation, the action taken by the administration was not only unnecessary but outrageous. These men not only have a just cause but they had as much right in Washington to press their claims as any other person who has ever visited Washington seeking legislation favorable to any cause. The fact that these men were hungry and penniless made it necessary for them to live in camps and on charity but this would have been necessary no matter if they had remained in their own communities and gone to Washington and they might just as well have been in Washington. From all reports, certainly there has never been a large group of persons gathered together under such circumstances, who were better behaved than this gathering of men, who in 1917-1918 were willing to give their all for their nation and upon whom, at that time, our nation could not heap much praise. It does not take long to forget, however, and now in the stress of strained economic conditions our country has no immediate need for these men and apparently no time nor money to take care of their needs in the way of necessities of life.

There are some of our people who express the opinion that the adjusted compensation certificates to the ex-service men was a generous gift by the nation and that to ask for payment of same now is ungrateful on the part of these ex-service men but when we take into consideration the fact that everybody who had anything to do with the operation of the World War but the soldiers have been paid in full, adjusted compensation, bonuses and the like, there is no reason why the soldiers should not have received just as good treatment.

At the close of the war our country in the way of cancellations paid the foreign powers over ten billion dollars, adjusted compensation of two billions was paid to the railroads, adjusted compensation of seven hundred millions was paid to the steel corporations and munition manufacturers, an additional two billions was paid to other war contractors and then the pay of the foreign born soldiers who were not forced to bear arms but did manual labor in this country had their pay raised to the equivalent of those in civil life who were doing the same kind of labor, about $7 per day. All of this was bonus or adjusted compensation not withstanding the fact that the railroads were in better shape when the government turned them back to the owners than when the government took them over; notwithstanding the fact that the munition manufacturers and others handling war contracts had already been paid in full all their accounts netting them millions and millions in profits.

Now the government can see fit to lend billions to these same railroad and big corporations but declares that to pay the soldiers would mean bankruptcy for the nation. The official records will bear out these transactions and we mention them to verify our statement that everybody who touched the war with exception of the soldiers, not only made money out of the war but received gifts from the government as well as in the way of adjusted compensation. Under these circumstances are not the ex-service men entitled to their pay and can they be blamed for using every legitimate means to get their pay at a time like this when many of them and their families are facing starvation unless they can get help?

HIGHWAY 11 SHOULD BE PAVED

The effort being made by interested citizens to get the State Highway Commission to pave the link on highway number 11 between Bethel and Oak City is certainly important enough to receive consideration on the part of the highway body. The paving of this road, about fifteen miles, will shorten the route from this section to the north by more than ten miles and in addition will afford an easy outlet for the people of the section through which the road passes. Some time ago this piece of road was taken over by the state and designated as a state highway and now that the funds for new paving projects are available it is to be hoped that this short link will be included in the lettings by the commission.

ABOUT TOWN

The advisory board of the Salvation Army has joined the movement looking to the canning of five thousand cans of food and fruits for relief work during the winter.

Members of the board agreed to underwrite eight hundred cans at a meeting here last week and as several other organizations have assigned similar intention it is to be supposed the movement will be a success.

The canning of surplus products should be one of the most effective means of combating hunger resulting during the cold months, and it is hoped those who have surpluses on hand will contribute them to the cause.

The Salvation Army asked for donations of the kind last week, and it was believed contributions would be liberal.

Announcement of a reduction of rates for domestic lighting was received with interest by patrons of the local Water and Light Commission.

The cut was especially welcome in view of the unusual financial situation which has existed in this part of the country the last two years, and probably gives Greenville the lowest rate of any city in this part of the state.

The commission has slashed its rates repeatedly the last several years and the extent of these reductions is shown by cuts of from $11.40 since 1921 to $5.25 for 1932 for home lighting.

The municipally-owned water and light plant has been a source of pride to the citizenship and its effort to give the best of service at the lowest rate is to be highly commended.

Industries of this kind are to be appreciated in view of the grip which public utility companies have gained in all sections of the state and should inspire the people more than ever to cling tenaciously to their revenue-producing enterprise.

New policies were adopted by Westbrook swimming pool last week which included reduced rates for adult swimmers who have made a habit of patronizing the recreation center during the summer.

The Faithful .:. Cheat .:. By Ruby M. Ayres

SYNOPSIS: Sondra Merriman's brother-in-law, Ben, tells her she must leave his home when her sister Flora runs away from Ben. Sondra has no future plans. She hopes that Mark Merriman, to whom she is secretly married, will make his fortune in the Congo. Her friend, John Anderson, has recently seemed distant.

Chapter 19 FIGHTING GOSSIP
 "Your sister is to blame for this," Lomax told Sondra. "She's chosen to leave me, and make me a laughing-stock. Well, now I wash my hands of the pair of you."

Sondra found her voice with an effort. "Where am I to go? Who do you think will want me when—when—"

"When you're no longer living with a rich brother-in-law!" he finished for her. "Well, that's your business. You've been lucky to live here so long. I never wanted you—it was Flora who insisted that you stay. Please sign this acknowledgment."

Something cold seemed to be creeping around Sondra's heart. She wanted to laugh and push the check away; she wanted to tell this man that she could do without him and his charity, but she knew the folly of such an action.

She had no money—nowhere to go. Lomax was probably right when he suggested that few people would want her when the truth was known.

Of course there was the story-book solution of going out and finding a job—but what sort of job? What could she do?

She felt as if she had come to the world's end, as she stood there staring blankly at her brother-in-law's grim face.

No wonder Flora had hated him. Lomax said again, "I'm in a hurry—there's a lot to see. Kindly sign this."

Sondra signed it; she felt as if she stood by looking coldly on at her other self slowly writing her name at the foot of the formal receipt which Lomax had drawn up.

"Twenty-five hundred dollars! She suddenly thought she owed John Anderson more than that amount."

Once or twice lately her conscience had stirred uneasily at the memory, but she had always soothed it with the vague belief that some day she would be able to repay him.

Some day! . . . some day in another existence then—certainly not in this.

The pool is the only place of the kind in this immediate section that throws a safeguard around men, women and children while enjoying this form of diversion and the public should show their appreciation by liberal patronage.

With one more month to go the summer will be over, fall will be in the air and swimming will be virtually abandoned until another summer season rolls around. The group of business men sponsoring the pool as a public recreation project hope to make the closing days of the season a banner one for Westbrook and enable the place to defray expenses.

The pool water has been classed as the purest in this part of the state by members of the local health department who inspects the pool from time to time and this condition will be retained all the time, officials said.

It guarantees freedom from infections usually contracted at public swimming places where the water is not properly protected, and persons in all walks of life should take advantage of it.

So far as the baseball was concerned, some of it was good and some was bad.

At Wilmington the fans saw a neat contest as the Pirates downed Raleigh 2 to 1 behind the three-hit pitching of Harry Burns. Shortstop Allen's error in the ninth inning was responsible for Raleigh's only score. The victory, incidentally, let the Pirates move into fourth place in the club standings as Durham lost.

A ninth inning rally by Greensboro defeated the Bulls, 3 to 1. Freddy Myers doubled with the bases loaded to drive in two markers and Kleinhaus squeezed in the other. Durham's lone run came in the fourth when Aolfe followed Mellana's single with a double.

Paul Fillard's four-hit pitching and the batting of Veltman, catcher from the late Eastern league, featured as the Twins crushed the Hornets 16 to 0. Veltman got five hits in six appearances at the plate.

The big fellow, up from a bed of pain, has been back in the lineup only four days, and he has transformed the leaders from a sickly, badly scared club to the old confident, all conquering team.

The Bambino, still limping slightly, was rushed back into the pennant fight last Thursday after the Yankees had dropped three straight. Since then he has been to the plate 13 times, collected 10 hits, driven in 14 runs and scored five times. The Yankees won three of the four games.

Included in the Babe's four-day collection were four home runs, running his total to 30, leaving him 11 behind Jimmie Foxx of the Athletics, the pace setter. He smacked No. 30 yesterday along with a pair of singles to drive in five runs to help squelch Detroit, 12 to 8.

The Cleveland Indians, making their debut in their new stadium before 80,284 fans, found the Athletics ungracious guests. Lefty Grove limited the Indians to four hits and in the eighth inning Cochran clicked a single that won the game, 1 to 0.

SUNDAY BALL DRAWS CROWDS IN PIEDMONT

Charlotte, Aug. 1.—(AP)—Whatever the attitude of some citizens, Sunday Piedmont league baseball apparently has come to stay.

Three games were run off yesterday in as many cities without interference.

With the novelty worn off, none of the games drew as great crowds as the first Sunday games for the state, but the paid admissions were still far above the week-day average and made the moguls smile. Approximately 1,000 turned out at Wilmington, about the same number at Charlotte and around 2,000 at Durham.

CONSTIPATION

The Curse of the Ages Has Science at Last Solved This Great Problem of the Human Race? NEW DISCOVERY BRINGS LASTING RELIEF TO THOUSANDS Medical Authorities Agree That Old Fashioned Purgatives, Salts, Oils, Cathartics and Laxatives Have Never Cured Constipation and Never Will. Remarkable Treatment Discovered

The commonest and greatest curse of mankind is constipation. It is man's greatest enemy. It poisons him, slows him down mentally and physically, breaks down youthful strength and vigor, ages him prematurely and leaves him an easy victim to the attack of almost countless diseases. Millions are virtual slaves to the laxative habit, without obtaining real or permanent relief.

Cathartics do relieve constipation for the time being, but their effect is only temporary at best and the more we resort to such artificial aids, the more we require, because their continued use weakens the natural action of the bowels.

AN AMAZING DISCOVERY
 Medical Science has discovered that bile, prepared by the liver, is a natural laxative and that people with a normal flow of bile are practically immune to constipation. Furthermore, we now know that bile is an antiseptic and anti-acid and combats putrefaction and the formation of gas in the bowels. It's also a digestant without which proper digestion and assimilation is impossible.

A QUART A DAY
 But when our livers become inactive or sluggish and fail to pour into the intestinal tract the necessary quart of bile each day, we suffer from constipation, indigestion, headaches, biliousness, sour stomach and many other common ailments. Recent reports indicate that probably seven out of every ten persons past thirty years old suffer frequently from lack of bile due to a sluggish liver.

OLD THEORIES OVERTURNED
 Until the discovery of Sargon Soft Mass Pills it has been the common practice to blast out the intestines with calomel and other drastic cathartics and purges, believing that they stimulated the liver. But Modern Medical Science has now learned that calomel, salts, oils and other laxative drugs have no effect whatever on the liver or its production of bile.

THE PROBLEM SOLVED
 A world wide search has been carried on for a harmless substance which would actually invigorate a sluggish liver to normal production of bile—Nature's Great Weapon Against Constipation. This has been accomplished.

Sargon Soft Mass Pills
 The principal ingredient in Sargon Soft Mass Pills is an amazing substance which the highest medical authorities agree is the most effective stimulant to the bile producing activity of the liver known to Materia Medica. Unlike calomel or other cathartics, this substance does not shock or upset the system, cause nausea or other ill effects. It does its work by gently but steadily stimulating the liver to cleanse itself through increasing its production of bile, which is a more natural and thorough laxative than can ever be devised by man. Sargon Soft Mass Pills are not like any laxative you have ever taken. They are so gentle and thorough in their action that there is nothing about them to remind you that you have ever taken a medicine, and most remarkable of all, their directions call for a gradual reduction of the dose until the point is reached where you no longer require a laxative of any kind. So remarkable are the results from Sargon Soft Mass Pills that they are sweeping the Nation; over 135 Million have been sold in the past four years. The great Sargon Laboratories at Dayton, Ohio, have been obliged to steadily increase production to meet the rapidly growing demand.

Winterville Man Has Freak Tomato

The growing of twin tomatoes is a very frequent occurrence in this community, but when one is produced with an arm, it is another matter. Alfred Ross, of the Winterville community, claims the distinction of growing the new freak of the tomato kingdom. It is just an ordinary looking tomato, but reaching out from the side near the top is an arm, or handle, whatever it might be called, about an inch long. It will remain on display in the Reflector office and persons interested in freaks of this kind are invited to inspect it.

Local Kiwanians To Play Wilson

Members of the Greenville Kiwanis club have accepted a challenge to play the Wilson Kiwanis club at Wilson next Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Joe Taft, captain of the local club, stated today his men were in fine fettle for the engagement and expected to return home with the bacon. Conley and Barrett will do the hurdling for Greenville, Conley probably starting and being relieved by Barrett during latter stages of the game.

The Wilson club is reputed to be one of the strongest amateur organizations in this part of the state, and the locals are expecting a hard battle.

Although the club here has been out only for a few practices, Taft said he felt confident his boys would be able to compete with any club in this district.

All members of the Kiwanis club desiring to attend were urged to get in touch with Captain Taft between now and Wednesday and arrangements will be made for their transportation.

DONOVAN WILL ASSIST TRUSTS

Governmental contentions were outlined by John Lord O'Brien, assistant to the U. S. Attorney General, Col. William J. Donovan of New York, chief defense counsel and known as "the trust buster," recited the defendants' answer.

Donovan, who gained his nickname after many successful court battles with big business while assistant to the Attorney General several years ago, led the defense in its contentions after listening to O'Brien say that "the principal purpose of these defendant producers in contracting to sell exclusively through Appalachian Coals, Inc., is to obtain a higher average price for their output than would be possible under conditions of free competition."

Asheville, N. C., Aug. 1.—(AP)—Col. William J. Donovan of New York, who gained the nickname, "The Trust Buster," through many successful court battles with big business while assistant to the Attorney General several years ago, was cast in another role today—that of leader of the defense in the government's anti-trust suit against Appalachian Coals, Inc.

The suit, up for hearing before a special three-judge court, involves a test for the first time of how far the Sherman law goes in controlling formation of co-operative selling agencies for lumber, copper and other natural resources.

Appalachian Coals, Inc. is an organization of 136 coal mine operators in West Virginia, Virginia, Eastern Kentucky and Eastern Tennessee for a co-operative selling agency.

The government in a suit seeking to dissolve it contends it is a combination in restraint of trade while the defense contends the contracts between members and Appalachian Coals, Inc. are purely agency contracts involving no agreement for the regulation of production or price.

John Lord O'Brien, assistant to the U. S. Attorney General, heads counsels for the government.

The nations of the world, he declared, will never be able to improve their condition save through confession and repentance of sin.

He said it was a foolish idea to think that repeal of prohibition would improve the economic life of the nation. This cannot be accomplished until the people go back to God and repent and confess their sins. He expressed belief that a national day of fasting and prayer should be called and that this would accomplish more good than all other things he imagined.

God will not bless any nation until its people have recognized His supremacy, repented and confessed of their sins, and not until this has been done can America hope to get back to the high ground of peace and plenty, he asserted.

Referring to the widespread craze over card playing, the spending of the Sabbath at resorts and mountains and ball games, the minister said many people were trying to forget their trouble in this way, but they could not. The trouble is they are putting too much of their time in such things and not giving the power of God proper thought.

He urged a return to the churches, the abandonment of sinful ways, and expressed confidence the world would experience a return to better times.

WOMAN KILLER JAILED AGAIN

Warden R. E. Thomas, of the state prison at Boise, is en route to Topeka. It was not known if Mrs. Southard would waive extradition.

Meanwhile from Denver, where the woman's sixth husband, Harry Whitlock lives, came word that District Attorney Earl Wetengel planned to investigate the death of Theodora Whitlock, Whitlock's mother.

Mrs. Southard married the Denver man last year, almost a year after her escape from the Idaho institution by scaling a 16-foot wall.

She was arrested here when she called for mail from Whitlock, whom she left hurriedly after explaining her "mother was ill in Akron, Ohio."

She was identified in Denver, following her flight, after the arrest of David Minton, 45, who confessed he aided in her prison escape.

Mrs. Southard, whose martial ventures were launched in 1912, was convicted of the death of her fourth husband, Meyer, in 1920. He lived only 28 days after their marriage in Twin Falls, Idaho.

At her trial, reports of poison found in the bodies of her first husband, a brother-in-law and a three-year-old child by her first husband, were read into the record. Insurance benefits received in the deaths, and the alleged motives for the poisonings, were estimated by officers at less than $10,000.

FIVE DIE IN HOTEL BLAST

The painshop and dozens of windows were blown in.

Rescue squads and ambulances were hurried to the scene and fire lines were thrown around the area as the dead and injured were brought to the street as firemen continued to fight the flames.

Rescue work was hindered by dense smoke pouring from basement windows and the shattered paint shop entrance. An emergency hospital was established in the street and pedestrians joined police and fire rescuers in carrying the injured to the cleared space where ambulance surgeons were at work.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas blows up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resist a substitute. 25¢ at all stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

Five ambulances were quickly on the scene and began taking away the injured as soon as they had received first aid treatment.

An inspector and 150 patrolmen were rushed to the fire to handle the crowd which gathered and to prevent possible looting.

Besides breaking windows in the hotel the explosion brought down several ceilings and demolished the front of a jewelry store in the 57th Street side of the hotel. Silver and jewels on display in the show window were scattered in the street and two clerks, bleeding from cuts, ran about gathering up what they could find.

Early in the rescue operations firemen announced that there were four known dead and roughly estimated the injured at 21. The dead and most of the injured were understood to be firemen. There was much confusion and it was for a long time impossible to check the accuracy of these figures.

Most of the officials in any position to know the true state of affairs seemed inclined to believe that the final death list would probably be well in excess of the four originally reported.

ELY RALLIES TO ROOSEVELT

That talk for flaws, but few commented on the statement by Joseph B. Ely, Democratic Massachusetts governor, pledging loyalty to Roosevelt. Ely's decision was not unexpected.

Democrats went ahead with their planning, a close friend of the New York governor—Frank C. Walker—being chosen to take over the drive for money.

Walker's appointment as treasurer of the Democratic national committee was announced by J. A. Farley.

Republicans also pushed their campaign plans, Chairman Everett Sanders of the national committee saying in Rutland, Vermont, that Calvin Coolidge would take part in the effort to re-elect President Hoover. Just what the former President would do had not been decided, Sanders added.

The G. O. P. assault on Roosevelt's Saturday night speech brought Secretary Mills of the treasury, asserting in Washington that when the Democratic presidential candidate talked about fiscal affairs of the federal government, and credit expansion he knew not where? he spoke.

Senator L. J. Dickinson telling

Roosevelt by telegram from Algona, Iowa, that he believed the New York governor had "committed an amazing deceit upon the American people" by saying the St. Lawrence waterway was included in the Democratic unemployment plank.

Watson of Indiana, Senate Republican leader, insisting at Chicago that Roosevelt's program was "part friendly to protection, part friendly to free trade, while another part demands an international conference to determine all tariff rates" and that "it is quite manifest he (Roosevelt) cannot defend them all."

Senator Smoot of Utah, charging in Washington that the governor's use of "tariffs high enough to maintain living standards which we set for ourselves" and "trade barriers of all kinds ought to be lowered" constitutes "cunningly devised phrases and 'weasel words'."

Representative Andrew of Massachusetts, saying up in Boston that "Dr. Jekyll Roosevelt condemns the administration for resorting to inflation while Mr. Hyde Garner guides the Democratic controlled House to passage of the wildly inflationary Goldsborough bill and the green back bonus measure."

Democrats provided some news of their own. Gene Tunney, boxer, insisted in a Stamford, Conn. speech that the Republican party is "using every trick of a magician in a desperate effort to pretend that things are better."

FIRE DESTROYS LEAF STORAGE

The sheds contained approximately estimated the damage done at "over 1,500,000 pounds of tobacco in storage and two large auto trucks.

Two small dwellings nearby also were destroyed by the flames which sprang from an undetermined origin.

A small amount of insurance was carried on the tobacco sheds.

Probe Death Of Man's First Wife

While George Lane, a farmer, was in jail here today charged with the murder of his son, officers moved to investigate the death of Lane's first wife in February.

Mrs. Lane died suddenly. Lane remarried a few weeks later. Lane's son, Woodrow, died last Thursday from a blow on his head. His father said a tree the boy was chopping down fell on him.

Officers said life insurance was carried on both Mrs. Lane and Woodrow.

Farmer Killed From Ambush; Wife Injured

Elizabeth City, N. C., Aug. 1.—(AP)—Shot from ambush, a Perquimans County farmer was dead today and his wife was near death.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Elliott were fired on Saturday while riding in an automobile with four of their children toward Hertford. None of the children was injured.

Elliott died yesterday and Mrs. Elliott's condition is critical. Officers used bloodhounds in an effort to catch the unidentified assailant, but no arrests have been made.

Mrs. French To Seek New Trial

Motion for a new trial for Mrs. W. E. French, convicted here with Bert Owens, an insurance salesman, of trying to kill her husband, will be argued August 8.

Pending argument of the motion and a ruling, she has not been sentenced. Owens was sentenced by Judge Thomas J. Shaw to fifteen to twenty years in State's Prison shortly after the jury brought in its verdict last Saturday night.

Commitment of Owens was deferred pending disposition of a highway robbery case against him.

French was mysteriously shot on a lonely road near here last February. The State charged during the three-day trial that Mrs. French lured him into the spot and Owens shot him.

Market Report Cotton--Stocks--Grain

New York Cotton

New York, Aug. 1.—(AP)—Cotton futures opened steady, 2 to 4 points higher on some fairly active trade buying, reports of showers in the Eastern belt over Sunday and continued hot weather in Texas.

Brokers who act to rotation co-operative interests were credited with selling October and buying March. There also seemed to be a little selling from the Southwest. Offerings were small, however, and the market was quiet and steady during the early trading, with October working up to 6.87 and March to 6.45, or about 2 to 7 points net higher. There was some comment on the reports of larger business in the domestic goods markets last week, when in connection with unfavorable features in the weather news helped the tone. Liverpool was closed again today, but will reopen tomorrow.

Grain Market

Chicago, Aug. 1.—(AP)—Selling from eastern sources put the wheat market under pressure much of the time today, and tended to make prices average lower.

Harvesting of domestic spring wheat was reported to be achieving good progress, and the movement to Minneapolis was materially augmented, 233 cars being received there today. Export demand was slow, and the United States visible supply increased 1,535,000 bushels for the week.

Stock Market

New York, Aug. 1.—(AP)—Traders found that the bull market in stocks still had some energy left at the start of the new month today, despite its extraordinary exertions of July.

Both stocks and bonds were somewhat hesitant for a time during the morning, but as nothing in the way of a technical reaction developed, speculators for the rise resumed their operations.

Trading in securities was in somewhat smaller volume.

Advances of 1 to 2 points appeared in a wide assortment of prominent issues, and some preferred shares pushed up more sharply. Rails, however, were given a breathing spell after their sharp gains of late last week. Gains of 1 to 2 points or so appeared in such issues as U. S. Steel, McKeesport, American Can, Johns Manville, Case, Westinghouse Electric, Allied Chemical American Tobacco "B," American Telephone, Pacific Telephone, North American, Consolidated Gas, Radio Common, National Biscuit, Loose Wines, Coca-Cola, Penny, Safeway, Woolworth, American Smelting and Santa Fe. Oils were firm but failed to make important headway, and there was little doing in the motors.

While disagreement was still evident in the contradictory weekly advice of leading investment services, the inclination in brokerage quarters to guess that the depression was scraping bottom was still manifest. News over the week-end brought little of a tangible character to affect the market, and further buying appeared to be eased largely on this more cheerful attitude in Wall Street.

CORN SHORTAGE FACES PERQUIMANS Hertford, N. C., Aug. 1.—(AP)—Perquimans County, which last year had a bumper crop of corn, is faced with a corn shortage this year due to dry weather.

HITLER LOSES IN GERMANY (Continued from Page One) ed in the history of the nation, is the result of tremendous labor and cool deliberation."

Besides the Rights parties' failure to get a majority, the greatest surprise was the rise of the Communists, who increased their strength from seventy-seven seats to eighty-nine.

This was taken as evidence that the radicalization of Germany was continuing and the crushing of the moderate parties of the Right, even including Alfred Hugenberg's Nationalists, who for a brief period in 1924 were the chief party in the Reich, was accepted as indicating that the middle-of-the-road course to longer appeals to the German voter.

In a vote which was split nearly equally three ways, the Communists, 754,668; Communists, 721,252; Socialists, 721,097. With a combined vote of 1,442,249 to the Socialists and Communists, the capital remained overwhelmingly Marxist.

The day itself was peaceful, after the bloody riots which preceded it for a month, costing the lives of about 125 people.

The possibility of an alliance between Hitler's Nazis and the Centrist Party of former Chancellor Heinrich Bruening was widely discussed today as an alternative to the continuation of the present government under General Von Schleicher and Chancellor Franz von Papen.

They were on duty as long as thirty-six hours at a time, he said, and while they enjoyed the trip away from home, it was not a vacation by any means. He expressed belief the negotiations between the governor and strike leaders had brought the strike to a definite conclusion and that further trouble would be avoided.

LONG BOOSTS MRS. CARAWAY (Continued from Page One) The Kingfish of Louisiana has his peculiar way of "reaching the people." That is through the handbill literature route. Nearly two tons of his dodgers were trucked into Arkansas for distribution to the jazzy tunes of his several motor sound trucks as the razing motor cars skim the country roads.

The political dictator of Louisiana is going to ask the people at the cross roads of Arkansas to return Mrs. Caraway to the United States Senate for the full six year term ensuing on the claim that she represents an "unbossed vote." She is now serving the unexpired term of her late husband, Thaddeus Caraway.

Critics of Long in Arkansas censured him for trying out his stump showmanship in that state and judged that he would level a home attack against Senator Joe T. Robinson, whose Democratic leadership Long challenged in Washington.

"Powerful outside influences are attempting to stop this woman's candidacy," Long said last night while stopping here en route, "and that's why I'm going up there to help her."

Mrs. Caraway will take the stump with Long.

SAYS ROOSEVELT NOT AS RADICAL AS PRES. HOOVER (Continued from Page One) to the Republican charges of radicalism. Governor Roosevelt's friends say the answer will be made during an extensive speaking tour in which he will discuss what he will call the "unsound governmental acts and policies of President Hoover."

This was revealed yesterday while Mr. Roosevelt was at Peekskill reviewing National Guardsmen. He returned to Albany late in the evening obviously happy over the pledge of support by Governor Joseph B. Ely of Massachusetts fighting anti-Roosevelt leader during the convention and since then silent about the party ticket until his announcement at Boston yesterday.

However the governor had nothing to say about the turn of events in Massachusetts. Nor was there any word in answer to the charge of Senator L. J. Dickson of Iowa last night that the governor was trying to deceive the nation when he discussed the St. Lawrence waterway in his radio address opening his campaign Saturday night. It was indicated the governor had not seen the Dickinson charge. The Iowa Republican said Mr. Roosevelt inserted the phrase "including the St. Lawrence-Great Lakes deep waterways—in the Democratic platform plank on unemployment so that he might join in the 'me-too-chorus' over the St. Lawrence treaty concluded by the Federal administration.

The power for the Federal Reserve board to make these loans possible was included in the new relief law after President Hoover vetoed a bill sponsored by Speaker

Doak of the labor department, and Lamont of the commerce department, had been gathering specific data for days on the five day week to present to representatives from the recent New England economic conference. The President, at the request of Governor Winant of New Hampshire, agreed to meet the New Englanders and became so enthusiastic about spreading employment through the shorter week that he included the idea in his nine point economic program.

The bank likewise must determine that the miney could not be obtained elsewhere, that there are "unusual and exigent circumstances."

The board reserved the right to approve interest rates fixed by the banks and set out regulations, elaborating legal specifications.
