Three Perish as Liner Collides With Schooner Near Mouth of Potomac

TWO OF CREW ARE RESCUED

Schooner Milton S. Langford, Carrying Load of Watermelons, Smashes to Bits as It Is Rolled Under Old Bay Liner State of Maryland Last Night; Steamer Only Slightly Damaged.

Norfolk, Va., Aug. 3.—(AP)—Three members of the crew of the little schooner Milton S. Langford of Elizabeth City, N. C., are believed to have drowned following a collision last night with the Old Bay Liner State of Maryland.

Reports received here today following arrival of the steamer indicated that the schooner was run down around midnight about four miles off the mouth of the Potomac river, the little craft being rolled under the larger vessel's keel and smashed into shapeless wreckage. The State of Maryland was only slightly damaged.

Two of the crew of the little schooner, a bigeye, loaded with 3,500 watermelons, were picked up by the State of Maryland and two more by the Chesapeake Bay Liner City of Baltimore. Captain Charles O. Brooks, which came up after the wreck and also arrived in Norfolk today.

The three men missing are Captain R. N. Midgett, 60 years old, father of the skipper of the little schooner; R. N. Midgett Jr., of Pantego, N. C.; and Bill Gregory of Cecil, N. C.

The men picked up by the State of Maryland are Guy Shavender of Pantego, N. C., and Captain E. W. Midgett, who was in command of the schooner.

Captain Brooks said it was raining at the time and that there was a high sea running but that the weather was not particularly foggy.

"We got our searchlight on a piece of wreckage," said Captain Brooks. "We could see the heads of two men. Our boat was launched as speedily as possible and we picked up two men. We hailed the boat of the State of Maryland and we understood them to say they had picked up three.

The men we picked up gave their names as H. G. Shavender of Belhaven, N. C., and G. W. Aycock of Pantego, N. C. Shavender appeared to be badly hurt. Blood was flowing from his mouth and he seemed injured internally. We found that two or three ribs were fractured.

"At Hampton we telephoned the Marine Hospital to have an ambulance ready and he was taken to the hospital upon our arrival there.

"Young Aycock, who was a passenger just making the trip for the fun of it, as I understand, left the ship as soon as we had docked. "He told me that there were seven aboard the schooner, when she was struck.

"He, with Shavender and Nell Midgett, father of the captain of the schooner were in the cabin seated on a locker, he said, just before the crash came. He said he had just got on deck when the schooner was cut down. The schooner, he said, seemed to be cut in two, divided in the middle, and it seemed as if they were rolled under the keel and that the liner passed over them.

The three were rammed together in the wreck of the cabin. My first officer said that he threw a life belt to one who is supposed to be Nell Midgett and that he saw him grab it. If so, he may be saved, for a life buoy will keep a man up for hours."

Renders Suicide Verdict, Asheville, Aug. 3.—(AP)—A coroner's jury decided the death of M. E. Dickinson, dental technician at the government hospital at Oteen, was suicide. He shot himself with a rifle after trouble with his wife.

BUSINESS IS 'LOOKING UP'

Commerce Department Reports Improvement of Conditions Thruout U. S.

Washington, Aug. 3.—(AP)—Business, says the Commerce Department, is looking up.

Thus does it summarize improved bond prices, increases in what a number of important commodities being, an ending of foreign gold withdrawals and a stop in stock market liquidations.

In July, the department says, these things among others "contributed to an improvement in sentiment." The favorable factors were (Continued on Page Six)

PROBE DEATHS IN PERQUAMINS

Arrests Expected Momentarily in What Officers Describe As Gang Warfare.

Elizabeth City, Aug. 3.—(AP)—Arrests were expected momentarily today as Sheriff Writ Wright continued his investigation of what officers described as gang warfare in Perquamins county which cost the lives of three persons in three days.

Working on the theory that Linford Chappell was killed to prevent him from divulging knowledge of the slaying of Clyde Elliott and his wife Saturday, the sheriff questioned Benny Lamb, Perquamins farmer who was reported to have been seen riding with Chappell on Sunday, the day before the latter's body was found near the spot (Continued on Page Six)

BONUS ARMY TO EVACUATE JOHNSTOWN CAMP

TESTIFIES IN FLIER'S TRIAL

Huston Says Captain Lancaster Tried To Get Him to Claim Pistol in Murder.

Miami, Fla., Aug. 3.—(AP)—Mrs. J. M. Keith-Miller, Australian flier and former aviation partner of Captain W. N. Lancaster, testified at the former British army aviator's murder trial today that he contemplated suicide in order that she and Haden Clarke, her fiancé, might receive $1,000 from his insurance policy on their wedding day.

Called as a witness for the prosecution in its effort to prove Lancaster killed Clarke, a young writer, in a love triangle, the aviator said the men quarrelled over her affections at dinner the night before Clarke was shot at her home. They settled their differences, however, she said, after Clarke admitted Lancaster's accusation that he had been unfaithful to the former army flier in making love to her.

Her voice broke as she spoke of locking the door of her room upon retiring that night. "Why did you lock the door?" State Attorney N. Vernon Hawthorne asked. "Because Haden told me he did not want that—(Lancaster) to come to my room and talk me out of our marriage plans," she replied. (Continued on Page Six)

COUNTY COURT ON VACATION

Next Session Deferred Until Aug. 19 after Completion of Docket Yesterday.

After disposing of several cases yesterday Judge W. L. Wheeler ordered that county court take a vacation until August 19th. All cases which were not reached yesterday were continued until after the vacation season is over.

The decision to adjourn hearing until the latter part of the month resulted from the annual activity in the farming districts of the county, this making it almost impossible for defendants and witnesses to attend court here without damage to their crops. The same condition prevails annually and practically every year court is forced to take a vacation season until work on the farm slows down and court attendance becomes more favorable.

Six cases were given hearing yesterday. The majority considered charges of assault with a deadly weapon, with most of the defendants being confined to the colored race.

John Jackson was sentenced to 30 days in jail on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon. John Wilson, colored, appearing on a charge of possession of whiskey, had judgment suspended upon payment of cost. Judgment was suspended upon payment of one half cost in the case of Les Atkinson, charged with transporting liquor. (Continued on Page Six)

Women Demand Right to Go To War In Paraguay

Asuncion, Paraguay, Aug. 3.—(AP)—Five hundred Paraguayan soldiers, the first to leave here for the front to engage in the undeclared war against Bolivia, started up the river today toward the Chaco.

There was considerable confusion and a near disaster at the very start, for so eager are the young men to join up that 300 volunteers stormed the vessel just before she shoved off and nearly capsized her. The departure was delayed while they were ejected.

F. V. JOHNSTON CITY SET FOR DOLLAR DAY

Funeral for Prominent Business Man Held This Afternoon from His Home.

Final rites were held this afternoon for F. V. Johnston, 62, prominent business man and tobaccoist, who died at his home here yesterday morning at 4:45 o'clock after illness of two years.

Funeral services were conducted from his late home at the corner of Johnston street and Rotary avenue at 3:30 o'clock by Rev. E. L. Hillman, pastor of Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church, assisted by Rev. W. S. Harden, pastor of the Presbyterian Church. Interment followed at Greenwood cemetery.

Attending the funeral was a large crowd of friends from this and other sections of the state, including many members of the tobacco industry which he served from 1913 until about two years ago when ill health forced him to retire. The floral tribute was extensive and expressed in a mute way the high esteem in which the deceased was held.

During the service the ministers extolled the life of service which Mr. Johnston spent in this community and paid tribute to his courageous spirit during the long fight against the illness of the last two years.

He was a member of Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church, and served on the board of deacons. He was also a member of the local order of Odd Fellows and was active in the work of the organization.

Mr. Johnston was born in Greenville and spent all of his life here. (Continued on Page Six)

ONE SLAIN IN MINE DISORDER

Several Also Injured as Union Miners Besiege Sixty Men In Indiana Mine.

Terre Haute, Ind., Aug. 3.—(AP)—The siege of the Dixie Bee mine in southern Vigo county was continued today with desultory firing.

Sixty non-union workmen hemmed in by a ring of union pickets exchanged bursts of fire at daybreak and then the attackers and defenders settled down to cautious sniping tactics.

The siege began late yesterday. One picket was killed and four wounded. Four defenders of the mine have been wounded. The latest (Continued on Page Six)

DRYS WIN IN KANSAS VOTE

Wets Meet Decisive Defeat in Yesterday's Battle of Ballots.

Topeka, Kas., Aug. 3.—(AP)—It's still dry Kansas after yesterday's primary—in which wet candidates sought the favor of voters of the pioneer prohibition state for the first time in two decades.

While prohibition was not the major issue, taking a supporting role to the more lively questions of taxation, economy in government and other matters that affect the pocketbook, it was clearly demonstrated that Kansas voters haven't changed their views on liquor.

Returns today revealed the re-nomination of Senator George McGill and Governor Harry H. Woodring by the Democrats.

Ben S. Paulen, Independence banker and former governor, took a 10,000-vote lead early in his race with Joe H. Mercer, for the Republican senatorial nomination.

NEW TAX BILL GETS RESULTS

Government Collections for August 1st Nearly Double Same Period Last Year.

Washington, Aug. 3.—(AP)—The effect of the new billion dollar tax bill was reflected for the first time today in the treasury statement for August 1 which showed miscellaneous internal revenue reported that day amounted to $2,631,125 as compared with $1,139,500 for the same period last year.

Miscellaneous internal revenue, under which the new taxes will be listed, declined steadily in July as compared with last year. This was brought about because the first payment of tax under the new revenue act, that for the last nine days of June, was not due to be paid over to collectors of internal revenue until the end of July.

APPEALS FOR HEALTH DRIVE

Dr. McGeachy Asks Parents to Aid Him in Clearing Whooping Cough in County.

An appeal that parents assist in the campaign to clear up as much whooping cough as possible before public schools open was made today by Dr. R. S. McGeachy, director of the Pitt County Department of Health.

Commenting on the situation existing throughout the county, the health director said all cases of whooping cough should be reported immediately so that health authorities could take steps to prevent further spread in the community affected. He stated many cases had not been reported and that this had probably resulted in needless exposure to the illness.

ORDER VETS TO LEAVE MD. SITE

Mayor McClosky Calls for "Showdown" At Meeting with Doak Carter, Chief of Staff of the Expeditionary Forces; Wants Soldiers "to Leave as Peaceably as They Came."

Johnstown, Pa., Aug. 3.—(AP)—The mayor of Johnstown and leaders of the bonus expedition visited the bonus seekers veterans camp today to tell them they must move on.

Doak Carter, the veterans' chief of staff, told the veterans he had resigned.

It was a sorry parting of men encamped here who heard Mayor Eddie McClosky and their leaders say they no longer can expect shelter on the ground that the mayor provided for them after their flight from Washington.

Their commander, Walter W. Waters, was represented by Eddie Atwell, who came here this morning from Washington.

Johnstown, Pa., Aug. 3.—(AP)—Doak Carter announced today that the bonus expeditionary force will move from Johnstown as soon as possible, probably to some other Pennsylvania site.

Carter is chief of staff of the B. E. F.

The announcement was made following a conference called by Mayor Eddie McClosky for a "showdown." The mayor previously had announced he would wire Commander Walter W. Waters asking him to "clarify" his plans for the immediate future of the veterans.

The mayor asked the field staff to tell him whether Commander Waters wants the expedition disbanded.

He referred to conflicting statements attributed to the commander last night.

Summoning Carter and other members of the field staff to his office, McClosky said:

"I'm getting sick and tired of this monkey business. First I hear reports that Waters says to disband the army, then you say he says 'stick.'"

"Why doesn't he communicate with me? I am the mayor and I was good enough to invite you here."

While the conference was in session, a telephone call from Washington advised Carter that Eddie Atwell, commander of Camp Marks, will come to Johnstown at once.

McClosky said he will obtain trucks from Governor Pinchot if the expedition leaders decide to disband or move.

"The governor will let me have all the trucks I want and you can leave the city as peacefully as you came," McClosky said. "I want you to get out, when you do, without leaving a bad taste in the mouth of Johnstown."

"If anything happens out there we will be blamed. If deaths occur out there we will be blamed. I want you to be fair with me as I'm trying to be with you."

"If you are moving out, let me know. That's what Waters ought to do. He's a great leader and your commander, but I am mayor of this city and want him to come to me and tell me or let me know something."

The mayor asked that a telephone call be made to Washington for Waters, but Waters was not at the office in the capital.

Some officers viewed the mayor's speech as a polite invitation to leave town.

Carter then announced he would move the veterans.

"We have no particular spot in view," he said, "but we have been invited to several places in the state and Pennsylvania is as good as any other place to stay. So we probably will select some other spot in Pennsylvania."

McClosky impressed on the field staff that camp conditions as they exist are injuring the health of men, women and children.

VETS OUSTED FROM SHANTY TOWN

These bonus seeking war veterans in Washington had to make way for the march of progress as the government set up its equipment to tear down their temporary shanty town homes along lower Pennsylvania avenue. When eviction orders were carried out some of the groups were not as peaceable as these fellows and showed their ire by hurling bricks at the officers. (Associated Press Photo)

GAS ATTACK ROUTS VETERANS

The trappings of war were brought into play as federal soldiers moved through the shambles of shanty town and drove the bonus army before them. Bayonets flashed and the former soldiers fell back before a tear gas attack. After the area around the nation's capitol had been cleared the infantry and cavalry advanced on the bonus army's Anacostia camp, destroyed it and scattered its tattered inhabitants. ### Return From Wilson

Mrs. J. T. Jordan and Mrs. W. M. Gray have returned from Wilson, where they were called on account of the sudden death of their father, L. H. Winstead. They were accompanied by their mother, Mrs. L. H. Winstead, and sister, Mrs. C. O. Rackley.

Sunday School Council To Meet

The monthly meeting of the council of the Presbyterian Church will be held immediately after the prayer meeting this evening. All teachers and officers are urged to be present.

Return From Wedding Trip

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Ruffin have returned from their wedding trip and are making their home with Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Smith on Evans street.

Patronize The Farmers' Market

When there's a steady increase in business now, the reason is worthwhile. The growth of the market has been a result of maintaining a standardized, modern market, which offers the highest quality of farm products to the public three times a week. This produce is fresh, home-grown and guaranteed.

The Farmers' Market House is in the annex of the old Model school on Cotanche street.

Annual Masonic Meeting

The annual meeting of the fifth Masonic district will be held tomorrow (Thursday) morning at ten o'clock in the high school auditorium.

PRAYER SERVICE AT METHODIST CHURCH

There will be regular mid-week prayer service in Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church this evening at eight o'clock.

JUDGE COWPER TO SPEAK HERE FRIDAY

Judge G. V. Cowper of Kinston will be the principal speaker at the regular meeting of the Kiwanis Club here Friday evening at 6:45 o'clock. He will speak on the subject: "The American Citizen and Law Enforcement." Dink James will be in charge of the program and President Guy Smith will preside.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH PRAYER MEETING

Don't forget the regular prayer services in the churches of Greenville this evening at 8 o'clock. At the Presbyterian Church the Bible study will be Luke 18:1-8 which you will please read. Let us make this a great service of earnest prayer and praise. Bring some one with you.

"Merchant Of Venice" At College

POPULAR ORCHESTRA TO PLAY AT ATLANTIC BEACH

Atlantic Beach, Aug. 3.—News that Manager Robert W. Cordon of Atlantic Beach has been able to obtain the famous Coon-Sanders orchestra for a dance program Saturday night at the beach casino has been received with much interest in this section, where Joe Sanders and his original Nighthawks are already popularly known through their radio broadcasts, phonograph records and night club programs.

Mr. Cordon states that he feels especially fortunate in having at last procured this leading orchestra for its first engagement in East Carolina, arrangements having been completed through the Music Corporation of America. Thousands of persons are expected to be on hand for the special dance Saturday night at the beach, for the orchestra is probably the most popular in the country.

Acclaimed as the best orchestra in Chicago, the group went last year to New York, where they signed a contract for programs at the Hotel New Yorker. Their Broadway debut was another triumph, Manhattan going mad over their rhythm. The players and their tunes are said to be even better in person than over the radio, and it is likely that thousands of East Carolinians will motor to hear them at Atlantic Beach.

PRAYER SERVICE MEMORIAL BAPTIST CHURCH

There will be prayer service in Memorial Baptist Church this evening at eight o'clock. N. C. Brooks Jr., will conduct services.

CORRECTION IN AD OF BLOUNT-HARVEY COMPANY

In the advertisement of Blount-Harvey Company appearing in the columns of this paper yesterday, it was announced that "Men's Stadium pajamas in novelty styles would be offered three pairs for a dollar on Dollar Day." This was a mistake which is corrected with pleasure. It should have read "Three pairs for $2."

Midgels Leave Camp Leach

Camp Leach, Aug. 2.—Parents and friends gathered with the midgels for the closing service of their camp held here, at the assembly ground of the Episcopalians of East Carolina, in the outdoor cathedral on Sunday morning and Rev. Walter R. Noe of Wilmington, executive secretary of the Diocese, talked on the text, "The Lord is on thy right hand and on thy left," suggested to him, he said by the sacred pageant of the evening before.

Illustrating his sermon with examples of Biblical characters who had attempted great things for God and received great blessings from Him, the speaker urged the young campers to continue to aim high, to cultivate the camp spirit, and to attempt great things for God, closing with the thought that the church camps mean more than recreation. "They mean inspiration in the highest sense of the word, inspiration to live better and nobler lives."

Honor certificates were presented at this service by the director of the camp to Jim Beckwith of Lumberton; Miss Ida Hassell Jeffress of Kinston, and to Ras Jones of Farmville, as the best all round campers and to the following boys and girls judged as outstanding in athletics, camp spirit, etc.: Ruth and Clara Crumpler and Anthony Capehart of Washington; Barbara Ruffin of Wilson; Virginia F. Hardin of Wilmington; Jack Anderson of Hertford; Harvey Carrow, Fleming Jeffress of Kinston; Herbert Horton Rountee of Farmville; John Lautares of Greenville.

Bringing the entertainment feature of the camp to a happy and fitting climax was the sacred pageant held early Saturday evening depicting the scenes of "Moses in the Bulrushes" and "The Battle Between David and Goliath." The amphitheatre at the edge of the camp offered an ideal setting for both, rendering them most realistic and inspiring.

An old fashioned party with games and ice cream preceded a marshmallow roast given as a surprise by Mrs. George Thomas of Wilmington, known to the campers as "Ma" Thomas, being the official mother of the midgel camp.

Visitors at the closing campfire witnessed one of the most impressive occasions of the week's programs, when each of the eight groups marched in turn from the barracks singing its favorite song and found places about the roaring fire. An expression of appreciation and of what the camp had meant to its members was heard from the respective groups and the campfire service closed with a circle of prayers and the singing of taps.

Kiwanians Will Play at Wilson This Afternoon

Members of the Greenville Kiwanis Club baseball team left this afternoon for Wilson where they will play the Kiwanis Club of that place this afternoon at 4 o'clock.

The game was being anticipated with interest by club members here and it was indicated quite a number would attend.

"Jimmy" Barrett, who follows the medical profession as a vocation and plays baseball an avocation will be on the firing line for the local club, if plans of Captain Joe Taft carry.

Wilson is reputed to have one of the strongest amateur aggregations in this part of the state and the locals were looking forward to a battle royal in their effort to capture the first out-of-town game this season.

Two Men Jailed After Gun Fight

Southport, N. C., Aug. 3.—(AP)—L. W. Shiver and Austin Garrison were in jail here today following an early morning gun battle with R. M. Powell in Powell's general store at Phenix.

About 29 shots were fired but no one was hit during the battle which followed Powell's discovery that some one was attempting to break in his store. Powell said he engaged the pair in the gun battle when he found them trying to force a door. Garrison and Shiver were arrested.

Sum Covered All Deputy Services

In the story relating to the meeting of the County Commissioners here Monday which was carried in the columns of this paper yesterday it was stated that further reductions were obtained by slicing the pay of deputy sheriff service from $300 to $250 a month.

Sheriff Whitehurst said today that several persons had construed this to mean that one deputy had been receiving $300 a month. This is not the case, however, he stated, as the sum covered three deputies and an office clerk, which was attempted to be conveyed by deputy sheriff service in the original writeup.

Two Youths Held For Attempt To Rob With Pistol

Richmond, Va., Aug. 3.—(AP)—Two youthful participants in a swiftly moving kidnap thriller that ended in a Richmond bank where they sought to force one of their two victims to withdraw $7,500 from his account, faced charges today of attempted robbery with a pistol.

George N. Davis, 65-year-old Richmond capitalist, and R. K. Robertson, superintendent of the Davis-Stuart Orphanage near Lewisburg, W. Va., who were kidnaped and carried by automobile from Lewisburg to Richmond yesterday, were rescued by police who trapped the kidnapers as they sought collection of the ransom money.

Chief of Police Jordan announced he had obtained a signed confession from the two men, who gave their names as Jack Liggett, 25, Charleston, W. Va.; and William

Floods Cause Heavy Losses in Manchuria

Harbin, Manchuria, Aug. 3.—(AP)—Twenty one days of uninterrupted rains have converted north central Manchuria into a vast lake and brought about a national disaster.

Tens of thousands of square miles of rich harvests have been destroyed and enormous stocks of grain and soy beans lost. Thousands of farmers and other residents have lost their home and are flocking to the cities from the terrible inundation.

The material damage is estimated at several hundred million Mexican dollars (a Mexican dollar is worth approximately 21 cents.).

Harbin is isolated from the rest of the world by rail and mail.

Considerable loss of human life and livestock has been reported from many districts.

The Faithful :: Cheat :: By Ruby M. Ayres

SYNOPSIS: Having married Mark Merriman secretly before he left for the Congo, Sondra is surprised to find herself worrying because John Anderson no longer seems a firm friend. She is suddenly thrown upon her own resources when her sister, Flora, leaves her husband Ben, and Ben refuses to look after Sondra.

Chapter 21
 A MESSAGE FROM MARK
 There was nobody she wanted to talk to, Sondra decided, except Anderson and he seemed to be engaged with other people.

It was queer how upside down everything had turned. A short while ago it had bored Sondra because as a matter of course she had always been left to Anderson; it had irritated her because people seemed to take it for granted that she mora or less belonged to him, and yet now — when for the first time things utterly reversed, she was restless and unhappy.

It seemed strange that she should ever feel afraid to approach him. Flora's car was no longer at her disposal, and she had arrived at the house that evening in an unromantic taxicab which was draughty and smelt of straw.

She felt that she almost hated Anderson as she watched him across the room talking to the red haired Nathalie.

Why had he changed so towards her? She had been so sure of his love—so sure that she had not really valued it.

He was the most distinguished looking man in the room, and once again Sondra felt like a poor relation—a Cinderella whose catin gown has turned to rags.

If only Lomax had indeed been generous; if only she could repay Anderson the money he had given her. It would be wonderful to write a little note and enclose a check.

She asked one of the servants to get a taxi for her, and she slipped away, only bidding her hostess "good-night."

She hid her face in her hand and cried as the taxi carried her home. It was not often that Sondra allowed herself the luxury of tears—she had not wept for longer than she could remember until the night Mark went away.

She thought of him again, trying to recapture her love for him, and yet deep down in her heart she knew it was not so much the man himself she wanted, as just someone to love her and give her back her lost self-confidence.

She and Flora had so often sneered at people whom they called "poor relations"—well, now she was one of them; it was a nightmare thought.

"I suppose it serves me right," she told herself with new humility. "I suppose life is trying to teach me a lesson."

But what lesson? Was it her fault that she had been brought up a prodigal spendthrift, was it her fault if life had given her everything she wanted without payment, and that now all at once the bill was being presented?

When she got home she found Flora's maid in her room. The girl looked scared and apologetic. "The housekeeper had told her to pack, she said nervously, but she had not liked to touch anything without permission."

She saw Sondra's tear-stained face, and she broke out with real feeling. "Oh, Miss, I'm so sorry—"

Sondra tried to smile. "It's all right, yes, please pack my things. I am going away in the morning."

"If you would take me with you, Miss, I would serve you well," Sondra laughed.

"I'm afraid I shan't be able to afford a maid," she said. In the morning she took rooms in an hotel which was far more expensive than she could really afford, and before lunch she drove away from Lomax's house for ever, with nobody to see her off, nobody to regret her going.

She looked back once before the taxi turned out of the big, dignified street. A maid was already pulling down the drawing room blinds—"As if someone had died," Sondra thought.

At first Sondra found her new freedom amusing. People came to see her—more out of curiosity than real friendship, and she received the usual invitations to dine and dance.

Then quite suddenly things began to change.

For a time Sondra clung to the thought that it was an over-sensitization from now on.

Thursday will be "Dollar Day" in Greenville and thousands of people are expected to come here and inspect the many bargains which participating merchants will have to offer them.

This semi-annual bargain day event has attracted attention of people from many sections in recent years and this season is not expected to be an exception.

Merchants have made elaborate preparations for the occasion and those who fail to attend the city tomorrow will miss the opportunity of the season to obtain unexcelled values for the price of a dollar.

ive imagination that warned her she was being left out of things—loneliness that made her restless and resentful if for a day she was left to herself.

Then quite by chance she heard that Beatrice Taylor and her family had left New York for Massachusetts.

She had telephoned Beatrice to enquire why she had not been to see her lately, and was informed by a maid that the entire family was away.

She heard her own voice ask faintly—

"They've gone — to Massachusetts?"

"Yes, Miss."

"Thank you."

Sondra turned away from the telephone feeling as if someone had struck her.

There were letters lying on the table which she had not yet troubled to open, and she found herself mechanically sorting them through. There was one with a foreign stamp, and addressed in a strange handwrit: she broke it open without inter, glancing first at the signature—"William L. Roy!"

"Dear Miss Kent,
 "I am writing a line for Mark Merriman who is laid up with a mild attack of fever. He just wishes me to say that he is getting along famously and hopes to be about again in a few days, but at the moment he is unable to write himself. He also asked me to say he sends the usual messages. Yours sincerely,"

Sondra laid it aside and opened the other envelopes one by one—they were mostly bills, long overdue, and there were also a couple of invitations to dull parties, offered by kindly, uninteresting people who felt sorry for her loneliness.

There was also the weekly hotel bill, the amount of which made her catch her breath.

She had certainly entertained friends rather lavishly during the two weeks of her stay, but $300 for one week seemed a colossal sum.

Peric seized Sondra's heart. The money which Ben had given to her was too rapidly diminishing. (Copyright, 1932, Ruby M. Ayres)

News of a death, tomorrow, brings Sondra both shock and a changed attitude.

CHIEF OF STAFF DE CLAIR'S ARMY WILL MOVE TO SOME LOCATION IN PENNSYLVANIA

 veterans are ill and that if conditions continue as they are, sickness may become a calamity." If the camp is not to be moved, he said, better management of it is necessary.

Unit leaders at the camp, chafing at uncertainty at field headquarters, pressed for establishing a regular military organization.

Several hundred veterans arrived today and registration showed there were close to 8,000 now in the camp.

Waterbury, Md., Aug. 3.—(AP)—Maryland state police today informed members of the bonus expeditionary force at "Camp Waters" near here they would have to evacuate the camp before 6 p. m. today.

Led by Capt. Edward McK. Johnson, a detail of state police acting under instructions from the office of commissioner of vehicles visited the camp early this afternoon, and issued the orders.

In a heavy rain, veterans and their wives began packing scant belongings and taking down tents, the first of which had only been put up Sunday.

Action of the state police followed a conference between Governor Ritchie and Walter W. Waters, bonus army commander, yesterday, when the governor told Waters he would not be permitted to carry out his plan for colonizing the veterans in the state.

Mrs. Maude Edgell of Cantonsville, Md., who deeded the land to Commander Waters, said she expected to see him today and ascertain if he did not wish to establish a colony for Maryland veterans at Waterbury. He said last night he would return the land, purchased for $1, to Mrs. Edgell.

Washington, Aug. 3.—(AP)—Plans for a sweeping investigation of the bonus army riots were pushed forward today with Attorney General Mitchell receiving a mass of data intended for presentation to the grand jury.

The information was given the attorney general a short while after a continuance until tomorrow had been ordered in the investigation by the District of Columbia jury. A number of subpoenas were served on witnesses to testify.

Meanwhile, the last of the 15 men arrested as radicals in the general roundup was released and the police court trial was begun of eight persons apprehended in an attempt to picket the White House ten days ago.

Held For Death of Alleged Thief

Durham, Aug. 3.—(AP)—Ray Parr, filling station operator near here, was charged with manslaughter today and was free under $100 bond pending a hearing tomorrow in the death of Ernest Perry, alleged thief.

Perry was fatally wounded Monday when Farr shot through the door of his filling station. He said he heard someone attempting to break in, investigating, Farr found Perry wounded and a companion of Perry in flight.

Police later arrested Melvin Perry, brother of Ernest, and charged him with participation in the attempted robbery. W. B. Gaynes of Oak Grove also was arrested.

Officers said the Perry brothers were driving Gaynes' automobile and that it was left at the filling station with a few empty five-gallon cans and a set of burglar tools.

Walter E. Moore announced he would await an affidavit by Judge H. Hoyle Sink, who presided at the trial, before rendering a decision on the application for a new trial of four men convicted here last summer of perverting the assets of of Transylvania county to the use of the now defunct Brevard Banking Company.

The full fashioned workers are demanding return to the April 1 wage scale, which had been cut 10 per cent prior to July 1.

The proposal of the mill management was voted down 463 to 26 at a meeting last night presided over by Mayor C. S. Grayson and attended by J. Ed Mills, secretary of the corporation, and G. C. Furr, superintendent.

ABOUT TOWN

The truck load of food and clothing which Pitt county people donated to the bonus army was all the veterans had to keep the wolf away from the door when they were evicted from Washington at the point of bayonets last week, according to the contingent which returned here yesterday.

So drastic was the government's eviction orders, the veterans were not permitted to salvage what little food and clothing they had on hand, the men here stated. They were able, however, to obtain half a truck load of supplies from one of the burned structures, and this added to the Pitt county contingent was all the thousands of men, women and children had to live on until they reached new camping grounds.

The suffering the veterans here stated, was indescribable at times, and was more than some could bear, especially the women and children.

The situation was one of the most unusual this country has been confronted with in history, and may have parallels before the bonus seekers give up their cause and return home.

The health department is observing certain hours of the mornings this week for the giving of vaccinations for typhoid fever and the public is urgently requested to take advantage of the service.

The office will be open all day Saturday for the same purpose. This is in addition to clinics being held through the county, and there is absolutely no reason for people to have the fever if they will take advantage of the inoculations.

The health department has made a concerted drive against fever in recent years, and it is probable this year will see the campaign reach its zenith. At the rate, vaccinations are being given at this time it is believed Pitt county will surpass all other counties in the state from the standpoint of the number inoculated.

This service is given free of charge, and people who fail to take it not only imperil their own lives but those of other people.

Congress will investigate the riot at Washington in which two members of the bonus expeditionary forces lost their lives, if Senator McKellar has his way about it.

A demand for a thorough probe of the unpardonable bayonet-charge, evicting of the bonus army from the capital has been made by the vetative member of the Senate and it is believed his request will be granted.

The ordering out of troops to attack men who offered their lives a living sacrifice during the world war was unwarranted, in the opinion of McKellar and other government leaders, and it is their intention to see that it is sifted to the bottom and blame placed where it rightfully belongs. The shooting down of American citizens because they desired to remain upon property which they pay taxes on is a serious offense, and the country will not be satisfied until the cause has been determined and the responsible parties duly punished.

Warnings that considerable damage may be done by the boll weevil as issued today by C. H. Brandon, state entomologist at N. C. State College.

While the dry, hot weather did much to check the weevil it did not eradicate it.

The insect depends largely upon cloudy, damp weather, Brannon said, and if such conditions exist between now and frost propagation is expected to be fast.

Farmers would do well to consider this advice and take whatever precaution possible to prevent further loss.

The weevil has done much damage to this part of the state in recent years and while the loss has not been great as far as the weevil is concerned, it is impossible to say what the toll will be should weather conditions become favor-

DODGERS WIN 4-2 VERDICT OVER BRUINS

By HERBERT W. BARKER
(Associated Press Sports Writer)
Playing the ball Brooklyn fans expected of them at the start of the season, Max Carey's Brooklyn Dodgers are soaring toward a first division berth in the National League's pennant fight.

Victors in nine of their last 11 games the Dodgers were in fifth place today, only a game and a half behind the fourth place Boston Braves.

A 4-2 verdict over the Chicago Cubs was gained at the expense of the sensational rookie right hander, Lon Warneke. It was Warneke's fifth defeat against 16 victories. Three of his losses have been credited to Brooklyn.

Warneke held a 2-1 lead going into the last half of the eighth after a great duel with Freddy Heilmann but the Dodgers got to him for three runs and the ball game. Johnny Frederick's pinch double drove in the winning runs.

The Cubs lost no ground in the pennant chase, however, for the league leading Pittsburgh Pirates accepted their fourth straight defeat at Philadelphia 11-6 as Chuck Klein cracked his 31st homer of the year. The Phillies now trail Chicago by only one game and Pittsburgh by six.

Boston rallied for one run in the ninth off Dizzy Dean to turn back the St. Louis Cardinals 4-3, while Waite Hoyt scattered 1-1 to give the New York Giants a 3-2 decision over the Cincinnati Reds.

In the American League, Washington whipped the Chicago White Sox 4-1 behind Alvin Crowder's six hit pitching. Young Bill Chamberlain made his debut for the White Sox and allowed the Senators only five hits but his teammates three errors cost him the game.

The St. Louis Browns made it three in a row from the Boston Red Sox 6-4, bouncing five hits for four runs off Bob Weiland in the second inning. Ed Durham went in and held the Browns to one hit for the rest of the game. The Browns' last brace of tallies were scored off Boener. George Blachford pitched effectively until the ninth when the Red Sox rallied for three runs.

SPORTS SLANTS

Identical twins, Gene and Tom Clark, Philadelphia boys, who belong to the Undine Barge Club, are the featherweight entries of the United States in the Olympic regatta.

For several years these two youngsters, still in their twenties, have won championships in the 145-pound classes of national competition. This is the lightest division in which they can compete for U. S. honors. They have no trouble making the weight, for they scale only about 125 apiece.

They rigged up a boat especially for the Olympic tryouts in the event for pair-oars, without coxswain, and won from heavyweight rivals for the honor of wearing the shield in the big international regatta at Long Beach, California.

When the Clark twins reached Los Angeles their weight had dropped to around 120 pounds. Visitors mistook them for coxswains. Rivals marvelled at them when they first took to the Olympic waters. But they soon picked up a few more pounds and as quickly demonstrated they will not need an ask for handicaps when the racing begins.

California's Own
California's variety crowd, the United States standard-bearer in the eight-oared competition, is an all-California boatload so far as the sweep-swingers, who is registered at the university from Eugene, Oregon.

The crew's line-up has remained the same through its campaign leading up to the Olympics, with a record of five successive victories over the best eights in the country. Its average age is 21, weight 177.9 pounds and height 6 feet 2 1/4 inches.

Graham is the oldest, 26, and Winslow Hall, bow oar, the youngest, 19. Dave Dunlap, No. 5, is the heaviest, weighing 189 pounds and Duncan Gregg, at No. 6, is the tallest, standing 6'4"; although his understudy, Hays McClellan has a three-quarter inch margin in altitude.

Lord of Olympics
Around the Olympic village at Los Angeles they have already nominated and elected Lord David Burghley the British team's captain as the No. 1 sportsman of the Olympic show.

From the moment he arrived "Davey" captivated the crowds of the newspapermen and the athletes he met for the first time besides renewing old acquaintances with the personal charm that has made him internationally popular. Somehow he seems to typify the real spirit of the Olympics.

BEES AND PATS TO SETTLE TILT FOR 'HONORS'

Charlotte, Aug. 3.—(AP)—Charlie Kite and Greensboro, "Giants" of the Piedmont League second half pennant race, open a two-game series here tonight which may go far toward settling the dispute.

Fresh from a double licking by Wilmington, the last time 4-0, the Hornets return home only a half game ahead of the Patriots, first half winners. A double victory either way might mean a pennant if the race continues anything like as close as it has to date.

With the last portion of the season almost half gone, the two leaders had a long lead over the rest of the field, although Wilmington, which held the cellar position for some time, had begun a steady climb which was rapidly eating away the margin which separated the club from the top. The two-game win from Charlotte gave the

HORNSBY IS DEPOSED AS CUB LEADER

Chicago, Aug. 3.—(AP)—Baseball's most famous nomad, Rogers Hornsby, was on his way again today—deposed as manager of the Chicago Cubs.

The announcement of Hornsby's dismissal came last night with a suddenness so startling as to leave the baseball world agog—as much agog as when John McGraw, without warning, quit as manager of the New York Giants last June.

In making his announcement, William L. Veeck, president of the club, said, without elaboration: "It was to the best interests of the club that Hornsby retire at this time."

Not only is the Rajah, probably the stormiest figure in modern National League history, all done as manager of the club—the third to be placed in his charge—but he is no longer a member of the club, having also been released as a player.

Hornsby, manager of the Cubs since the last four days of the 1930 season, when he replaced Joe McCarthy, will be succeeded by Charlie Grimm, first baseman for the club since 1925. He also has been team captain.

Hornsby's only comment before leaving the club at Philadelphia for his home at Robertson, Mo., was that Veeck had wanted to make the move and "it's perfectly all right with me." His salary, said to be $40,000 annually, will be paid to the end of his contract, which expires December 31, 1932.

Almost from the time when he broken in with the St. Louis Cardinals in 1915 Hornsby's major league career was a succession of sensational incidents from start to finish. His boy in major league baseball was unassuming, but in 1920 he started on a six year batting rampage that notched him as one of the game's greatest right handed batsmen.

The Curse of the Ages
Has Science at Last Solved This?
Great Problem of the Human Race?
NEW DISCOVERY BRINGS LASTING RELIEF TO THOUSANDS
Medical Authorities Agree That Old Fashioned Purgatives, Salts, Oils, Cathartics and Laxatives Have Never Cured Constipation and Never Will.

Remarkable Treatment Discovered
The commonest and greatest curse of mankind is constipation. It is man's greatest enemy. It poisons him, slows him down mentally and physically, breaks down youthful strength and vigor, ages him prematurely and leaves him an easy victim to the attack of almost countless diseases. Millions are virtual slaves to the laxative habit, without obtaining real or permanent relief.

Cathartics do relieve constipation for the time being, but their effect is only temporary at best and the more we resort to such artificial aids, the more we require, because their continued use weakens the natural action of the bowels.

AN AMAZING DISCOVERY
Medical Science has discovered that bile, prepared by the liver, is a natural laxative and that people with a normal flow of bile are practically immune to constipation. Furthermore, we now know that bile is an antiseptic and anti-acid and combats putrefaction and the formation of gas in the bowels. It's also a digestant without which proper digestion and assimilation is impossible.

A QUART A DAY
But when our livers become inactive or sluggish and fail to pour into the intestinal tract the necessary quart of bile each day, we suffer from constipation, indigestion, headaches, biliousness, sour stomach and many other common ailments. Recent reports indicate that probably seven out of every ten persons past thirty years old suffer frequently from lack of bile due to a sluggish liver.

OLD THEORIES OVERTURNED
Until the discovery of Sargon Soft Mass Pills it has been the common practice to blast out the intestines with calomel and other drastic cathartics and purges, believing that they stimulated the liver. But Modern Medical Science has now learned that calomel, salts, oils and other laxative drugs have no effect whatever on the liver or its production of bile.

THE PROBLEM SOLVED
A world wide search has been carried on for a harmless substance which would actually invigorate a sluggish liver, to normal production of bile—Nature's Great Weapon Against Constipation. This has been accomplished.

New York Cotton

New York, Aug. 3.—(AP)—Cotton futures opened steady 4-6 lower in response to lower Liverpool cables and under liquidation and selling by houses with southern connections. Oct. 5.85; Dec. 5.98; Jan. 6.07; Mar. 6.21; May 6.35; July unquoted.

The initial selling was absorbed by a moderate trade demand and covering and by a little buying through brokers with Wall Street and Liverpool connections. This steadied the market and after selling off to 5.99 at the start, December was holding around 6.02 at the end of the first half hour, the general list showing net losses of 2 to 7 points. Liverpool cables reported scattered buying supplied by Manchester and hedge selling and said Manchester was taking a less favorable view of the labor situation in Lancashire.

Grain Market

Chicago, Aug. 3.—(AP)—Aggressive buying that came largely from eastern sources gave a brisk hoist to wheat prices late today.

There was talk of strong interest accumulating wheat on scale orders because the market had been on the downgrade for five successive days. Assertions were also current that private crop estimates of 273,000,000 bushels for domestic spring wheat were too high and that harvest returns would turn out around 250,000,000.

Stock Market

New York, Aug. 3.—(AP)—The stock market appeared to have got its second wind today, after yesterday's setback.

Early irregularity in both stocks and bonds was soon superseded by renewed strength, which became pronounced in the stock market after midday. In stocks, the market turned extremely dull during the first half hour and bulls concluded that the wave of profit taking had been completed.

Buying spread to virtually all groups of shares, and by early afternoon gains of 2 to more than 5 points were registered in such issues as American Telephone, Allied Chemical, American Can, U. S. Steel common and preferred, American Tobacco, Case, Corn Products, Consolidated Gas, Coca Cola, DuPont, Johns Manville, International Harvester, Sears Roebuck, Santa Fe, Union Pacific, Northern Pacific Great Northern and others. Issues up a point or more included Bethlehem, General Electric, Westinghouse, American Smelting, Kennecott Standard of N. J., New York Central, Pennsylvania, Chesapeake and Ohio and others.

Brokerage quarters which had been anticipating a technical reaction had widely advocated fresh buying on declines, so that yesterday's setback, the sharpest since the buying movement got under way, provided the opportunity for which buyers had been awaiting. Some additional short selling, however, was reported in some quarters, presumably based upon the theory that the reaction had not been severe enough, but it was readily absorbed on the way up, and shorts began a rapid retreat after midday.

(AP)—Hundreds of excited Paraguayan women, society belles, debutantes and farm wives—besieged the government today, demanding the right to go to war. They came by dozens, hanging on trucks and wagons, crowding out of trains, and rushing for the stadium where recruiting activities looking toward war with Bolivia were centered.

The women demanded active service on the battle front. The government regarded as impossible in the deep Chaco wilderness where even the mildest non-combatant service is considered too severe for women.

The beleaguered officials tried to suggest service in civilian capacities at home, filling positions vacated by the men. But the women scoffed. If Paraguay goes to war, they shouted, their place would be in the Chaco, not the home.

In a proclamation President Guggiar called upon the army to prepare to achieve "deeds of prowess."

"As before," he said, "when Paraguayans gave the world an example of astonishing vigor and valor which commanded the world's admiration, so now we must demonstrate that our race retains these virtues of our fighting forefathers and we must repeat history."

The general staff announced last night it was responsibly informed that 600 Bolivian troops in southern Chaco had deserted, crossing the Pilcomayo river into Paraguayan territory.

ed States could not be bludgeoned into a consideration of debts by any combination of European nations. The state department, of course, took the same position.

But neither officially nor unofficially has a responsible administration leader said so far that the United States would not hold separate talks with European nations on this problem. The question hangs, however, on some concerted plan abroad first to reduce arms. When such an agreement is reached, it is almost a foregone conclusion that America will at least talk about debts.

Alexander Wins at Stock Judging

Raleigh, Aug. 3.—(AP)—Jack Alexander of Lenoir county, today was declared by Fred M. Haig, livestock expert at N. C. State college, as winner of the livestock judging contest at the 4-H short course here.

Haig has just completed tabulating the results of the various judging events in which a large number of club boys competed. Alexander scored a grade of 89 per cent.

Second place was awarded to Shelburne Williams of Tyrrell county; third place to Donald Scott of Wilson; fourth place to James Minze of Davidson, and fifth place to James Gilliam, Jr., of Alamance.

considered especially interesting since they followed further recessions in June.

In the latter month, for instance, factory payrolls were off another 7.8 per cent exports declined; 296 commodity prices changed.

But in July, after allowances for several changes, several industries showed increased activity. Among these were automobile, textile, cement and tobacco.

The department did not say so, but experts in Washington recalled that the end of previous deflations had been chronicled in similar fashion. Gradual upward movements, beginning in summer months, prefaced continued increases in commodity prices in the winter.

In many instances, past improvement was not noticed until six or seven months after the actual change.

been misled by wet propaganda," the statement said, adding:

"We cannot say as much for a heavily financed political wet leadership which is directed from the dark shadows of Wall street. . . . It is the deliberate strategy of the Wall street-Raskob-Bingham and company crowd to seek to destroy prohibition and thus to remove it from their shoulders what they regard as an unfair tax burden and place it on the shoulders of the average citizen, especially the wage earner, who would drink the liquor and pay the tax if by any hook or crook the liquor traffic could be restored."

coal field dealers, contended the agency is necessary to save the industry from present chaotic conditions and that it does not restrain trades as the government contends.

A three-judge Federal court, presided over by Senior Circuit Judge John J. Parker of Charlotte, is hearing the suit.

Defense counsel announced their case would be rested on their claim that the selling agency combination is justified by economic conditions in the coal industry.

Judge Parker then said it was doubtful whether an immediate decision would be given upon conclusion of the hearing and added he expects the court will study the records and arguments several weeks.

bond.

The warrant against the man was sworn out by Mrs. Fornes, mother of several children, whose husband has been in bed for several days suffering from injuries received in an automobile wreck, and who was asleep in the home at the time the attack was alleged to have taken place.

Mrs. Fornes was said to have told officers that Haddock spent the night in their home and went to her room about four o'clock yesterday morning and attacked her while she was sleeping. She awoke and after offering resistance forced the man to leave the house.

Haddock was taken into custody by Black Jack authorities immediately after the crime was said to have occurred but he denied that he had assaulted the woman.

Criminal assault is a capital crime and if the grand jury should find a true bill against the defendant he would go on trial for his life in the term of court convening here the latter part of the month.

Haddock was said to be about 34 years of age, married and the father of several children.

PROBE DEATHS IN PERQUAMIN

where the couple was shot Saturday as they rode past an ambush in their automobile.

Lamb said he carried Chappell to a spot near the Elliott shooting scene Saturday and left him.

Meanwhile, officers continued their investigation of the deaths of Woodrow Lane, 17, whose father is charged with his murder, and Mrs. George Lane, his mother. The latter occurred some time ago.

However, an original theory linking the five deaths was abandoned, officers spending their time working on evidence connecting insurance policies carried by George Lane on his wife and son with their deaths. Officers said he carried an insurance agent to the scene before removing his son's body from beneath a fallen tree which had not crushed him. Woodrow died from a fractured skull, and an axe was found some feet away.

Lane remarried within a few weeks of his wife's death, mysterious events in the boy's death causing her case to be investigated.

Nator West and Mary Gaynor, colored, charged with disorderly conduct, were ordered to leave town within 24 hours, or serve 90 days in jail.

Several other actions were set for hearing, but they were deferred until the session August 19 on account of the inability of defendants and witnesses to be present.

TESTIFIES IN FLIER'S TRIAL

sponded.

Miami, Fla., Aug. 3.—(AP)—E. H. Huston, Miami attorney, testified today at the murder trial of Capt. W. N. Lancaster that the British aviator tried to persuade him to say he owned a revolver found under the body of Haden Clarke, young American writer and fiancée of Mrs. J. M. Keith-Miller, who was shot at her home last April 21.

The witness said Lancaster called him to Mrs. Keith-Miller's home about 3 a. m. April 21, advising him of the shooting. He said Lancaster gave him two notes with the explanation Clarke wrote them because he was found fatally wounded in a room he shared with the flier. They were couched in terms of despondency and mentioned contemplation of suicide. Huston said Lancaster and Mrs. Keith-Miller suggested destroying them but he dissuaded them.

"These were the notes Lancaster admitted he forged with hopes of removing a suspicion that might be cast at Mrs. Keith-Miller.

After he refused to claim ownership of the pistol, Huston said Lancaster begged him to say it belonged to the Latin-American Airways, a company in which Huston was interested and with which Lancaster had dealt in regard to a proposal for commercial flying between Mexico and the United States.

Again he refused, Huston said. Under cross-examination by James Carson, chief of defense counsel, Huston testified Lancaster and Mrs. Keith-Miller talked to him at various times about the captain's desire to divorce his wife.

He was engaged in the wholesale grocery business before becoming affiliated with the tobacco industry in 1913, operating a warehouse which still bears his name.

He was also a large property holder and was instrumental in the development of Highland Pines, real estate sub-division in the eastern section of the city.

He is survived by his wife, seven children, two brothers, J. B. and Willis Johnston, and a sister Miss Addie Johnston, all of this city.

ter are still at the shaft without medical attention. Pickets last night turned back ambulances sent to bring out the wounded.

Terre Haute, Ind., Aug. 3.—(AP)—A union picket line bristling with rifles held prisoners in the Dixie Bee coal mine today sixty workmen four of them wounded by gunfire yesterday in which one picket was killed and four injured.

National guard troops and airplane equipped to scatter the attackers by Harry G. Leslie by Sheriff Joe Dreher, whose deputies were helpless to raise the siege in the face of a picket strength estimated at 3,000.

The union men blocked all roads in a square mile surrounding the non-approach within half a mile of the mine, and turned back two ambulances sent last night to remove the injured workmen.

Grimly holding their lines, they were reported by observers last night to be "closing in on the mine." The men in the mine were said to be conserving their ammunition and preparing for a possible battle at close quarters.

Governor Leslie at Indianapolis kept in touch with the situation but ### said he would order troops into the region "when and if the time comes."

The nine casualties resulted from more than six hours of almost continuous firing after the first violence broke out late in the afternoon. Taylor Keller, 24, of Linton, Ind., shot in the head died in an ambulance enroute to a Sullivan, Ind., hospital.

Unconfirmed reports about the picket line were that three mine guards had been killed, but none would say he had seen the bodies. Some of the pickets, however, said they were picked off the tippie by sharpshooters.

McGill led Little nearly two to one.

Joseph H. Brady, Kansas City lawyer who entered the Republican gubernatorial race on a "vote as you drink" platform, received less than one-fifth the total of Landon's votes.

Rattler Fails to Harm Child

Black Mountain, Aug. 3.—(AP)—Because they allowed themselves to be onded instead of biting her 2-year-old son, Mrs. Lillian Michael Ledbetter is going to keep two large rattlesnakes she found playing with the child.

Returning from a brief trip away from the house, she was almost paralyzed with fear when she found the child seated on the ground with one rattler in his lap and another allowing itself to be fondled by one hand as it lay on the ground beside him.

Her brother, John, captured both reptiles. One had 15 rattles, the other 18. The main said neither showed any inclination to harm the baby.
