

WEATHER REPORT

Probably showers tonight and Saturday.

THE DAILY REFLECTOR

"TRUTH IN PREFERENCE TO FICTION"

MORE THAN A NEWSPAPER—AN INSTITUTION. NEWS FOR THE READER. RESULTS FOR ADVERTISERS.

VOL. 92. NO. 47.

Full Leased Wire

GREENVILLE, N. C., FRIDAY AFTERNOON, AUGUST 5, 1932

Associated Press

Price 5 Cents

BAIL FOR LIBBY HOLMAN REYNOLDS IN DOUBT

STOCK MARKET CONTINUES TO MOVE UPWARD

Advance Resumed at Midday After Period of Profit Taking During Morning

New York, Aug. 5.—(AP)—The stock market was given another upward whirl today, and after a period of profit taking around midday, resumed the advance.

Trading slowed down somewhat whenever the list showed an inclination to settle back. In the first three hours total transactions approximated 2,000,000 shares, or well under yesterday's.

Farm implements led the uprush, reflecting rumor of the formation of a $30,000,000 bull pool in wheat and in keeping with the advance in Chicago wheat prices. International Harvester advanced $5.75 to $23.75 a share. J. I. Case was up $7 to $42.25.

Moderate strength of a number of commodities helped the movement in shares, but bonds again moved somewhat indecisively. Wheat rose more than a cent, and cotton, corn and other staples were somewhat higher. In the non-ferrous metals, copper, zinc and lead showed firm tendencies.

McAlister Leads For Governor in Tennessee Race

Nashville, Tenn., Aug. 5.—(AP)—State Treasurer Hill McAlister of Nashville today held a lead of approximately 6,000 votes over his fellow townsman Lewis S. Pope, in the bitter fight for the Democratic nomination for governor of Tennessee.

Returns from 1,948 of the 2,257 precincts gave McAlister 99,925; Pope 93,567; Judge Malcolm R. Patterson of Memphis 53,138 and Rufus Campbell of Ripley, newcomer to state politics, trailed far behind the three leaders.

In the Republican race for the governor's nomination, John R. McCall of Memphis was well in the lead over Hal Clements of Knoxville.

Mrs. E. E. Eslick appeared victor in the special election to serve out her late husband's term in Congress from the sixth district. She led her nearest opponent, Job Garner, by nearly 2,000 votes in 179 of 252 precincts.

Order Exhumation Of Body in Probe

Hertford, N. C., Aug. 5.—(AP)—The body of Woodrow Lane, killed last Thursday by a blow on the back of the head, will be exhumed today, and an inquest held to determine responsibility for his death.

George Lane, Woodrow's father, is in jail here charged with murdering his son, but he denies the charge.

The elder Lane said he and Woodrow were chopping trees near here and that one fell, crushing the boy to the earth. Police said, however, there was every indication no tree had fallen on young Lane and more indications that he had met death by violence.

George Lane left his son's body until an insurance agent could view it, and Sheriff Whit Wright worked on a theory the boy might have been killed for insurance money.

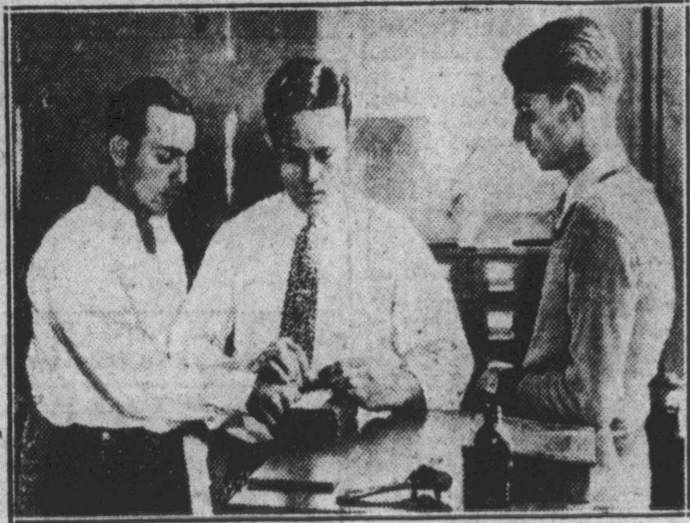

Protest Increase of Compensation Insurance Rates

Raleigh, N. C., Aug. 5.—(AP)—North Carolina's Industrial Commission is protesting a proposed increase in workmen's compensation insurance rates.

A demand for the higher rates has been made by the insurance companies on this particular type. Some 30,000 business firms of the State will be affected by his decision.

A public hearing on the question is scheduled before Dan C. Boney, State Insurance Commissioner, today, at which the Industrial Commission will appear. Before that, the board of governors of the Compensation Rating and Insurance Bureau, composed of stock and mutual insurance companies, will meet to decide on recommendations to the Insurance Commissioner.

YOUTH IN DARING KIDNAP PLOT,

A daring kidnaping plot was broken up in Richmond, Va., where two youths were arrested when they attempted to force their victims (below) R. K. Robertson (left) and George N. Davis, 65, Richmond and Lewisburg, W. Va., capitalist, to draw $10,000 ransom from a bank. The boys, who gave their names as Jack Liggett (left) of Charleston, W. Va., and William Craft (right), Wheeling, W. Va., are shown in upper picture being fingerprinted by a detective. (Associated Press Photos)

Lower Tax Rate Is In Offing For Greenville

Reduction of the city tax rate for the new year was virtually assured at the regular meeting of the Board of Aldermen last night at which the tentative budget was given considerable attention.

Although the budget was not completed, reductions of appropriations to the various departments indicated that a substantial reduction of the tax rate would be enjoyed by the citizenship this year.

The aldermen will meet with members of the school board at the high school tonight at 8 o'clock to (Continued on Page Three)

DEFENDS WORK OFF FARM BOARD PEACE REIGNS IN STRIKE ZONE

Durham, N. H., Aug. 5.—(AP)—Carl Williams, vice-chairman of the Federal Farm Board, told the American Institute of Co-operation today he was confident interest collected on more than $400,000 lent to co-operative organizations would more than offset any losses.

Williams, answering criticism of Farm Board policies, denied the board had any desire to dominate cooperative organizations, as has been charged by speakers during the session of the past two days.

Citing cases which Williams said, disclosed evidence of inefficiency in state organizations, he asserted that it was sometimes necessary for the board to interfere for the protection of the producer. He mentioned two cotton producing states.

"In one state," he said "the final return to the grower per bale was $3.20. In another state it was $6.40. The grower who got $3.20 had his difference taken up in inefficiencies and higher costs in his state association. Here is a case where the Federal Farm Board had to step in. The gross return in the two states was the same.

Reduce Taxes. Rockingham, Aug. 5.—(AP)—Tax rates for Richmond county and Rockingham have been set at $2.02. In 1929 the combined rate was $4.13.

Personalities And Issues To Mark Political Drive

(By BYRON PRICE) Washington, Aug. 5.—(AP)—Which ever may predominate in the end, personalities and issues now seem certain to mix freely in the coming presidential campaign as the qualifications of Franklin D. Roosevelt are weighed against those of Herbert Hoover.

Although the electioneering has only begun, the capabilities of both nominees already have been called into question by ranking opposition spokesmen. During the past week

REPORT BIG WHEAT POOL AT NEW YORK

Times Says $30,000,000 Organization Formed to Operate in Grain

New York, Aug. 5.—(AP)—The New York Times says the formation of a $30,000,000 pool to operate in wheat is reported to have been virtually accomplished.

The pool, the paper says, probably will be managed by Arthur W. Cutten of Chicago, a prominent operator in the grain markets of this country and Canada for years.

Conditions in wheat, the Times continues, are believed such that a substantial betterment in price can be brought about, especially after hedging operations are over, which usually is around Sept. 1.

This shared interest with belief in many quarters of Wall street that a widespread program for industrial revival is being formulated (Continued on Page Four)

SEEK TWO MEN FOR SLAYING

Granville County Officers Seek Slayers of Otho Lyon, Prominent Grower

Oxford, N. C., Aug. 5.—(AP)—Authorities today sought two men who late last night shot and killed Otho Lyon, prominent Granville County farmer and filling station operator.

Mrs. Lyon, who witnessed the shooting, said the men got her husband out of bed under the pretense they wanted to buy gasoline. She was unable to identify them as white or negro men.

She said the men came to their home on the Durham-Oxford highway about 10:30 p. m. and told Lyon their automobile had run out of gasoline, asking him to open his station located a few yards from the house.

Mrs. Lyon from a window watched her husband fumbled at the door of the filling station one of the men drew a pistol and shot him down.

A coroner's jury, originally scheduled for this morning, was postponed until next Thursday pending developments. Sheriff Davis, of Granville County, was in Durham checking the theory that the automobile bore a Durham city license.

Two negro suspects were taken into custody, but police said they probably would be released as nothing definite connecting them with the shooting had been established.

COSTLY FIRE AT CHICAGO

Grain Elevator Destroyed by Fire Late Yesterday at Loss of $6,000,000

Chicago, Aug. 5.—(AP)—Loss estimated at more than $6,000,000 was caused by fire which started late yesterday afternoon in the Quincy grain elevator and spread to the Omaha Packing Company where it destroyed four buildings.

Fanned by a brisk wind, the flames were still raging early today as 700 firemen, comprising 60 companies and the crews of three fire boats, battled to check them.

Three firemen were injured and 30 firemen and employees of the two companies were overcome by smoke.

Perishing in the flames were 800 hogs, 60 had of cattle, and 200 sheep. Destroyed also were 985,000 bushels of grain, 2,500,000 pounds of hams and bacon, 300 tons of fertilizers, and 2,500 hog carcasses. Three boats, tied up in the Chicago River nearby, were burned at a loss of $75,000.

The flames and dense clouds of smoke attracted thousands of spectators to "the yards." Police estimated more than 30,000 persons were packed into nearby streets.

As the wind quickened later in the evening the fire spread to a neighboring coal and lumber yard but firemen, fighting desperately, overcame the new menace and (Continued on Page Four)

Attorney For Ab Walker Will Not Seek His Release Form Forsyth Jail; Officers Silent On Frame Up Charge

School Board On Record For 9 Months' School; Teachers' Salaries Cut

Meeting last night to consider a budget for the new school year, members of the board of trustees of city schools went on record for a nine months' school term and reduced teachers' salaries to the State basis to accomplish this purpose.

Through reductions of salaries and economies in other departments the board proposes to operate the nine months' term on the same amount of money spent for the eight and one-half months' term last year.

The question of obtaining sufficient revenue to operate during the new (Continued on Page Four)

Reynolds' Chum Held For Slaying

Associated Press Photo Albert (Ab) Walker, chum of Smith Reynolds, who was mysteriously slain at his home, Reynolds, at Winston-Salem several weeks ago. Reynolds was jailed in connection with the murder of the young tobacco heir after indictment of the Forsyth Grand Jury.

GUN WOUNDS PROVE FATAL

Officers Seek Man for Killing Brother - in Law in Macon County

Franklin, Aug. 5.—(AP)—Willie Passmore, 25, of the Cartoogechaye section of Macon county died in a hospital here today of gunshot wounds in the abdomen a few hours after officers began a search for Tom Payne, his brother-in-law.

HOLD CONVICT FOR SLAYING

Arkansas Trusty to Go Before the Grand Jury in Death of Four Men in 'Break'

Tucker Prison Farm, Ark., Aug. 5.—(AP)—Archie Jones, short term trusty who organized the break for freedom that cost four convicts their lives yesterday, has been ordered held for the grand jury by the coroner on a murder charge.

The convict, serving a seven-year term for bank robbery, was charged with slaying a fellow convict-guard Elsie Howell, when he made a gesture to halt the escape. Jones was a trusty guard for fifteen months with a perfect record until his betrayal yesterday.

HOLMAN IS ON WAY TO SALEM

Libby Holman Reynolds, "torch" singer, was indicted last yesterday by the Forsyth County grand jury for the slaying of her husband, Smith Reynolds, heir to the Reynolds tobacco millions. Her father will seek to obtain her release on bond.

TRACK SLAYER OF RICH WOMAN

Natchez, Miss., Aug. 5.—(AP)—With an old army coat for their only clue, Adams County officers today were attempting to track down the slayer of Miss Jane Merrill, aged recluse, whose bullet-riddled body was found (Continued on Page Three)

FINE RECORD SET AT POOL

Baltimore, Aug. 5.—(AP)—Climbing consistently since April, construction contracts in 16 southern states reached $213,569,000 for the first seven months of the year with nearly $46,000,000 in new contracts added during July, the Manufacturers Record says in its current issue published today.

The $46,000,000 figure exceeds the April figure by 76 per cent, the May total by more than 30 per cent, and the June total by more than 5 per cent the Record says.

By including numerous small projects for which contracts were awarded but which were not reported separately, the seven month total is conservatively estimated at $290,000,000.

Public construction and building work features the contracts awarded. Among more recent large projects are the Department of Justice building in Washington to cost more than $8,000,000 and $600,000 (Continued on page three)

Confusion Grips Bonus Forces At Johnstown

Johnstown, Pa., Aug. 5.—(AP)—Evacuation of the stranded bonus army from its squalid suburban camp progressed slowly today but Mayor Eddie McCloskey said the billets will be cleared by nightfall.

Accused of Death of Wealthy Husband

Reports From Cincinnati Say Father of Libby Refuses to Surrender Her to Officers Following Indictment for Murder of Her Husband Returned by Forsyth Grand Jury; N. C. Officers Plan No Further Action Until Young Wife of Slain Millionaire is Located and Arrested

Winston-Salem, Aug. 5.—(AP)—Alfred Holman, father of Libby Holman, arrived here today to attempt to procure bail for the indicted widow of Smith Reynolds, tobacco heir, for whose death she is being sought.

Holman was alone as he stepped from a sleeping car after an all-night ride from his home in Cincinnati.

He told newspapermen he would go immediately to the Forsyth county court house to appear before Judge A. M. Stack, presumably to ask that bail be fixed for Mrs. Reynolds, indicted yesterday along with Ab Walker, life-long friend and chum of the dead millionaire.

Walker has been in jail since his arrest a short time after the indictments were returned.

By A. F. LITTLEJOHN (Associated Press Staff Writer) Winston-Salem, N. C., Aug. 5.—(AP)—Solicitor Carlisle Higgins, chief prosecuting officer of this district, refused to say today whether he will consent to bail for Libby Holman Reynolds, former Broadway theatrical favorite who was indicted with Ab Walker yesterday for the murder of her husband, Smith Reynolds.

Higgins said Mrs. Reynolds can obtain her freedom pending trial only by habeas corpus proceedings before a Superior Court judge. Ordinarily, first degree murder is not a bailable offense in North Carolina.

Both Higgins and his assistant, J. Eric McMichael, were non-communitive about the case, but the latter said it would be impossible for bond to be arranged for the 26-year-old widow whose husband was fatally shot July 6 after a birthday party at Reynolds, the family estate, without her presence in court here.

Cincinnati dispatches related that Alfred Holman, father of Libby, refused to surrender his daughter to authorities of the Ohio city who had been requested by Sheriff Transou Scott, of Forsyth County, to arrest her.

Holman is on his way to Winston-Salem, and it is believed here he will attempt to make some arrangements whereby his daughter can escape going to jail.

Bailey Lipfert, attorney for young Walker, who was jailed soon after the grand jury returned the indictment yesterday, said today he will not seek the release of his client, 19-year-old chum of young Reynolds, at the present time.

Solicitor Higgins, under the law, is empowered to decide whether first degree charges or a lesser offense will be pressed when the case comes to trial, but on this also he declined to comment, saying he is not sufficiently acquainted with the evidence.

The Daily Reflector
Every Afternoon Except Sunday.
Established 1882

DAVID J. WHICHARD, Jr.,
Owner and Publisher

Telephone 56

Entered at the Post Office at Greenville, N. C., at second class mail matter.

MEMBER ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to use for publication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper and also the local news published herein. All rights of republication of special dispatches herein are also reserved.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES
(Payable in Advance)

One year.....$5.00
Six months..... 2.50
Three months..... 1.25
One month..... .50

Subscription will be discontinued at expiration of time paid.

NATIONAL ADVERTISING REPRESENTATIVES
Thos. F. Clark Co., Inc., New York, Chicago, Indianapolis, Philadelphia, Kansas City.

ABOUT TOWN

One of the most encouraging things about the campaign to can fruits and vegetables for the relief movement here next winter is the fact that numbers of prominent growers are contributing to the cause as well as clubs and other organizations of the city.

A well known planter of the Bethel section yesterday gave fifty cans of vegetables to the Salvation Army. If everybody having surplus crops would do likewise the relief situation would be met without any trouble during the cold season and nobody would go hungry.

The time to prepare for relief is here and if surplus crops are not conserved they will go to waste and do nobody any good.

The people are urged to contribute liberally to this cause and in that way do their bit toward relieving human suffering.

The best unit in the regiment. This is the rating which federal army officers have conferred on the local military company.

That the artillerymen are proud of the record goes without saying, but they are not alone. The public appreciate this distinction. It will cause Greenville to be the cynosure of all eyes at the annual encampment at Fort Bragg this month.

The unit is one of the youngest in the state, and the fact that it has been able to attain such distinction will give its members an enviable position in future activities of the division.

Officers of the organization are to be congratulated upon what they have been able to accomplish and it is hoped they will be able to hold the honor for many years.

The spectacular advance in the stock market has caused many a man to dig around in his sock and draw forth his last hard earned dollar to try his luck on the street of "easy money."

Many of them will make money, but the majority will go back to their sock with nothing at all and will be forced to exploit other fields of endeavor to make up for what they lost.

Making money easily and quickly is a passion of the American people and there is no better way to do it than on the stock market when things are running right. But on the other hand, if Lady Luck fails to smile, loss is inevitable.

The sagging market the past year brought scrow to many a man. It made beggars out of men and women who years ago occupied positions of affluence and prominence. It will continue to make beggars of those who stick to it and to enrich the chosen few who are fortunate enough to be able to ride with the tide when it is coming in.

The new Secretary of Commerce recently appointed by Mr. Hoover believes the depression has spent itself.

He is an optimist. The newspapers have said it and they have been dealing with him long enough to know what they are talking about.

The statement about the depression was issued just after he had a conference with President Hoover and had been informed that he would be chosen as Lamont's successor.

It is to be hoped his prediction is not Hoover prosperity prophecies. We have evidence enough of Hoover optimism in this community in the lowly jackass which has taken the place of hundreds, nay thousands, of automobiles that used to ply the highways of this section bringing inexpressible joy to the populace.

While the assertion of the new commerce head will be taken with the proverbial "grain of salt" that great mass of people who have suffered unthinkably from the effects of Hoover prosperity are hoping he is basing his views on actual observation and is not influenced by the White House perspective.

The Faithful

.. Cheat ..

By Ruby M. Ayres

SYNOPSIS: John Anderson's wife is dead. Sondra Kent learns suddenly from Stephen Cassidy. His marriage has kept Anderson from telling Sondra he loves her. Sondra marries herself regretting her secret marriage to Mark Merriman, now in the Congo. No longer living with her sister, in luxury, she looks for work.

Chapter 23
"THE USELESS ONES"
Sondra left the hotel sooner than she had intended, and moved into rooms which she had hunted out in a quiet street.

After her chance encounter with Cass she was seized with a sense of panic.

"At all costs she must avoid meeting John Anderson."
If Cass was right in what he had said she felt that she could never face him. It would mean telling him about Mark, and admitting that in a moment of excitement she had made the greatest mistake of her life.

And if Cass was wrong—well, it would be more painful to meet John again, knowing that he was free and that he no longer wanted her.

So she slipped away without leaving an address, telling herself that the old life was over and done with, and that she must start afresh and try to find work.

But anyone who is incapable and unused to work knows what an almost impossible proposition it is, and at the end of three days Sondra realized bitterly that her marketable value was something in which only she herself had believed.

The woman in whose house she had found rooms was a kindly sympathetic soul in spite of the fact that she declared she had no belief in anything.

Sometimes when she brought Sondra's meals she would stay and talk to her, always standing in the open doorway as if she had not a moment to spare, and yet delaying her departure sometimes for nearly half an hour.

She had been married she told Sondra, and her husband had left her after two years.

"I don't believe in men," she said calmly.

"But you must have loved him to have married him," Sondra said. "I don't believe in love," Mrs. Sears replied.

"What do you believe in?" Sondra asked one day, half amused, half depressed by her pessimism.

"I don't know that I believe in anything, except that we all have to stand on our own feet and look after ourselves," was the retort she received. "It would have been a poor look-out for me if I hadn't been able to work. What becomes of the useless ones beats me, but I suppose things are always managed so that someone comes along and looks out after them."

"I am one of the useless ones," Sondra thought with a pang. "I wonder what will become of me?" She had begun to be nervously afraid of going out for fear she should meet anyone who had known her in the old days, and Cass was almost the only soul she ever met or spoke to.

Sometimes she had tea with him in the corner tea rooms. She was quite frank with him, feeling that she could trust him.

"I've disappeared so to speak for the moment," she said. "I'm not so well-off as I used to be, so I'm lying low till I can look round and make plans. You won't give me away will you?"

"You won't tell me where you're living?"
"No, and I hope you won't try to find out," she said with pleading eyes.

Cass shook his head reproachfully. "You know your own business best," he said. "But it's a pity—it's a thousand pities."

Sondra had arranged to have any letters sent on through the bank, but she received surprisingly few. She wrote at length to Mark, telling him of the sudden upheaval in her life and making a joke of it.

"I am now that fashionable thing, a bachelor woman," she wrote, "but don't worry about me. I am very well able to look after myself."

If he guessed the truth she knew he would either cable for her to join him, or throw up his job and come home by the next boat.

And then—then what? Life on a small income, in some suburban town, with no hope of anything better.

"I can't, I can't," Sondra told herself despairingly, and yet what else was there for her to look forward to? What would she do when her money had all gone?

offended, but why a young lady like you wants to come and live in a place like this beats me!"
Sondra laughed. "I'm not hiding from the police, if you're afraid of that," she said.

But she knew how strange it must seem. Even her clothes looked out of place and unhappy in the plain little wardrobe.

Then one morning she woke with a sore throat and a splitting headache. She tried to get up, but she felt so weak and giddy that she was glad to creep back into bed again, and there Mrs. Sears found her.

"I'm afraid I've got a chill," Sondra apologized. "Do you mind if I stay in bed for a little while?"
Mrs. Sears laid a practical hand on the girl's forehead.

"You've got a temperature, too," she said. "You stay where you are." (Copyright, 1932, Ruby M. Ayres.)
Anderson finds Sondra, tomorrow, and asks her a surprising question.

PIRATES DROP DOUBLE BILL TO DODEGRS

By HERBERT W. BARKER
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

The first serious slump the Pittsburgh Pirates have experienced since the middle of May had turned the National League pennant race into a dog-fight today with four clubs close enough to the Corcorans to be dangerous.

Beaten in both ends of a double header by the Brooklyn Dodgers yesterday, the Pirates' lead over the Chicago Cubs had shrunk to three and a half games. The Phillies, Boston Braves and Dodgers followed at distances ranging from 5 1/2 to 7 games.

Three home runs by Frank (Lefty) O'Doul beat the Pirates and stretched their losing streak to six games. The first, with two on, decided the first game in Brooklyn's favor 7-4. His second in the eighth inning of the second game, tied the score and his third won the game in the tenth 6-5.

The Cubs, playing their first game under their new manager, Charley Grimm, trounced the Phillies 12-1, scoring eight runs in the second inning. Pat Malone stopped the hard-hitting Phils with eight scattered safeties.

The Braves bunched three of their five hits off St. Johnson in the third inning to score three runs and beat Cincinnati 3-2. Mel Ott's triple climaxed a three-run eighth-inning rally and gave the New York Giants a 4-1 decision over the St. Louis Cardinals.

In the American League Bill Dickey celebrated his return to the New York Yankees lineup after a 30-day suspension by walloping a home run and three singles and driving in five runs as the league leaders crushed Chicago 15-3.

Big George Earnshaw made it 16 for the season as he held the St. Louis Browns to eight hits and led the Philadelphia Athletics to a 6-2 victory. Cleveland's Indians picked up half a game on the two leaders by outpointing the Boston Red Sox in both ends of a double header 8-2 and 8-7 in 13 innings. Two triples, two doubles and a single gave Washington five runs in the tenth frame and a 14-11 decision over Detroit.

Members of the Raleigh and Winston-Salem teams were to appear in court at Raleigh today on charges resulting from playing a Sunday game there July 24.

Wilmington, Del.—Charley Curran had decided jail is better than a dance marathon. As long as he is footed along in the marathon—he was shuffling through for more than 800 hours—he could keep out of jail where his wife decided he should go for alimony inconsistencies. The marathon promoters paid the alimony as long as he danced. But Charley got tired, the payments stopped and the jail has Charley now.

Results Yesterday
PIEDMONT LEAGUE
Raleigh 5; Winston-Salem 4.
Greensboro 9; Charlotte 6.
Wilmington 6; Durham 4.

NATIONAL LEAGUE
Brooklyn 7-6; Pittsburgh 4-5.
Boston 3; Cincinnati 2.
Chicago 12; Philadelphia 1.
New York 4; St. Louis 1.

AMERICAN LEAGUE
Cleveland 8-8; Boston 2-7.
New York 15; Chicago 3.
Philadelphia 6; St. Louis 2.
Washington 14; Detroit 11.

PACIFIC COAST
Seattle 23; Missoula 3.

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION
St. Paul 4; Columbus 9.
Minneapolis 6; Toledo 7.

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE
Buffalo 5; Baltimore 4.
Oronto 6-0; Newark 4-3.
Rochester 9-12; Jersey City 5-5.

SOUTHERN ASSOCIATION
Birmingham 3-3; Knoxville 1-2.
Little Rock 2; Chattanooga 7.

Yesterday's Stars
Ossie Bluege, Senators — Drove in four runs against Tigers with home run and single.
Bill Dickey and Lou Gehrig, Yankees—Drove in five runs apiece against White Sox.
Charley Grimm, Cubs—Led team to victory over Phillies with two doubles and single.
Lefty O'Doul, Dodgers — Clouted three home runs to whip Pirates and

Standing of Clubs

PIEDMONT LEAGUE
Thursday night games not included

Club	W.	L.	Pct.
Charlotte	20	19	.510
Greensboro	20	10	.667
Wilmington	14	15	.488
Durham	14	16	.467
Raleigh	13	17	.443
Winston-Salem	10	19	.345

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Club	W.	L.	Pct.
New York	70	34	.673
Philadelphia	63	42	.600
Cleveland	60	43	.588
Washington	58	46	.558
Detroit	52	48	.520
St. Louis	47	55	.461
Chicago	34	66	.340
Boston	26	76	.255

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Club	W.	L.	Pct.
Pittsburgh	59	44	.573
Chicago	54	46	.540
Philadelphia	55	51	.519
Boston	53	50	.515
Brooklyn	53	52	.505
St. Louis	48	54	.471
New York	47	53	.470
Cincinnati	44	63	.411

HORNETS AND PATS DIVIDE TWO GAMES

Charlotte, N. C., Aug. 5.—(AP)—If a big shower of rain had fallen on Weavertown field here around 10:30 last night Greensboro's Patriots today would be in first place in the Piedmont League instead of Charlotte—but it didn't.

For a little more than an hour the Hornets languished in second place, after taking a 9 to 6 lacing in the first encounter. Second field not being in their choosing, the Charlotte club spanked the visitors, 6 to 0, in the nightcap and the crucial series was over.

Today the Patriots met Wilmington trailing Charlotte half a game. The league leaders engaged Raleigh.

Attempting to strengthen the club for the final month's heated drive, the Hornets have released George Rhinehardt, veteran outfielder, and signed Glenn (Pick) Biggerstaff.

He was with Asheville, Raleigh and High Point last season.

Raleigh sank Winston-Salem deeper in the cellar by taking a double-header last night. In the second game, which went but five innings, "Chub" Perry gave out but one hit. A two-run rally in the ninth won the first for the Caps. Scores were 5 to 4 and 1 to 0.

Fourteen bases on balls were issued by liberal pitchers in the Durham-Wilmington encounter, which the sea coast boys won, six runs to four. A fight resulted in ejection from the park of Red O'Malley, Durham catcher, and Parks, Wilmington outfielder.

Members of the Raleigh and Winston-Salem teams were to appear in court at Raleigh today on charges resulting from playing a Sunday game there July 24.

Wilmington, Del.—Charley Curran had decided jail is better than a dance marathon. As long as he is footed along in the marathon—he was shuffling through for more than 800 hours—he could keep out of jail where his wife decided he should go for alimony inconsistencies. The marathon promoters paid the alimony as long as he danced. But Charley got tired, the payments stopped and the jail has Charley now.

Results Yesterday
PIEDMONT LEAGUE
Raleigh 5; Winston-Salem 4.
Greensboro 9; Charlotte 6.
Wilmington 6; Durham 4.

NATIONAL LEAGUE
Brooklyn 7-6; Pittsburgh 4-5.
Boston 3; Cincinnati 2.
Chicago 12; Philadelphia 1.
New York 4; St. Louis 1.

AMERICAN LEAGUE
Cleveland 8-8; Boston 2-7.
New York 15; Chicago 3.
Philadelphia 6; St. Louis 2.
Washington 14; Detroit 11.

PACIFIC COAST
Seattle 23; Missoula 3.

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION
St. Paul 4; Columbus 9.
Minneapolis 6; Toledo 7.

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE
Buffalo 5; Baltimore 4.
Oronto 6-0; Newark 4-3.
Rochester 9-12; Jersey City 5-5.

SOUTHERN ASSOCIATION
Birmingham 3-3; Knoxville 1-2.
Little Rock 2; Chattanooga 7.

Yesterday's Stars
Ossie Bluege, Senators — Drove in four runs against Tigers with home run and single.
Bill Dickey and Lou Gehrig, Yankees—Drove in five runs apiece against White Sox.
Charley Grimm, Cubs—Led team to victory over Phillies with two doubles and single.
Lefty O'Doul, Dodgers — Clouted three home runs to whip Pirates and Phills, 103.

Doubles—P. Waner, Pirates, 42; Stephenson, Cubs, 36.
Triples—Herman, Reds, 15; Klein, Phillies, 14.
Home Runs—Klein, Phillies, 31; Ott, Giants, 21.
Stolen Bases—Klein, Phillies, and Frisch, Cardinals, 14.
Pitching—Sweeton, Pirates, 11-3; Warneke, Cubs, 16-5.

FINLAND TO TRY TO SAVE RACE HONOR

By ALAN GOULD
(Associated Press Sports Editor)

Los Angeles, Aug. 5.—(AP)—Finland's last-ditch fight to save at least one bright jewel out of the wreckage of its foot-racing crown today shared the Olympic spotlight with the third episode of the rivalry between Bill Carr and Ben Eastman, American 400-meter ace.

No slackening of the track and field record-breaking carnival was in sight.

For five days the "build-up" for today's two track climaxes has sounded just like the old family phonograph—one record after another. Thousands who have been watching the astounding Olympic spectacle from the outset now mingle laughter with their cheers to greet announcer's old refrain: "Greeting a new Olympic and world record."

Anyone who has had fortitude to keep track of it all can emerge with the statistical gem that 45 record performances have been announced in 17 tracks and field events for men and women.

The response yesterday could have been heard in four different languages. Luigi Beccali won the classic Olympic 1,500 meters in the Olympic record time of 3:51.2, for Italy's first Olympic foot-racing victory of all time.

Matti Jarvinen led the first successful finish thrust with an Olympic record javelin throw of 238 feet 7 inches.

Chushei Nambu of Japan, the world record broad jumper, added the hop, step and jump championship and world crown to his credit with a mark of 51 feet 7 inches.

Finally, America's own Mildred Babe Didrikson samped to her second world victory in the 80-meter hurdles in 1:17 seconds.

Finland's first championship, however, in an event which was hers simply for going through the motions of spear-throwing, won't be enough to offset her cup of bitterness, if youthful Lauri Lehtinen fails today to take the 5,000 meters, the last flat race title that the Finns have a chance to salvage.

New York—Mrs. Franklin Roosevelt who, by the grace of goodness

votes for her husband, may become First Lady of the land has eaten a two-cent luncheon—and liked it. She sat down yesterday to a bowl of soup (one cent) and topped it off with a piece of pie (one cent). It was at the new "Penny" lunch on Broadway. Had she felt up to it, Mrs. Roosevelt could have had a five-course dinner for ten cents.

American League
Batting—Foxy, Athletics, 358; Manush, Senators, 348.
Runs—Cimmons, Athletics, 109; Foxy, Athletics, 144.
Runs Batted In—Foxy, Athletics, 123; Gehrig, Yankees, 107.
Doubles—Johnson, Red Sox, 32; Porter, Indians, 31.
Triples—Meyer, Senators, 15; Cronin, Senators, 12.
Home Runs—Foxy, Athletics, 41; Ruth, Yankees, 30.
Stolen Bases—Chapman, Yankees, 28; Walker, Tigers, and Johnson, Red Sox 17.
Pitching—Weaver, Senators, 17-5; Gomez, Yankees, 18-6.

Flashes of Life
(By The Associated Press)

Philadelphia—The good ole melodrama plea of "Fireman Save My Child," came bouncing over the telephone wires in to the ear of Fireman Connor truck company, No. 1, and he and the boys dashed out to do something about it. They found that Mrs. Mary Dove had left her baby playing in the kitchen. The door had blown shut, and she was afraid he might catch fire from the gas stove. The firemen saved the child.

New York—Mrs. Franklin Roosevelt who, by the grace of goodness

votes for her husband, may become First Lady of the land has eaten a two-cent luncheon—and liked it. She sat down yesterday to a bowl of soup (one cent) and topped it off with a piece of pie (one cent). It was at the new "Penny" lunch on Broadway. Had she felt up to it, Mrs. Roosevelt could have had a five-course dinner for ten cents.

votes for her husband, may become First Lady of the land has eaten a two-cent luncheon—and liked it. She sat down yesterday to a bowl of soup (one cent) and topped it off with a piece of pie (one cent). It was at the new "Penny" lunch on Broadway. Had she felt up to it, Mrs. Roosevelt could have had a five-course dinner for ten cents.

votes for her husband, may become First Lady of the land has eaten a two-cent luncheon—and liked it. She sat down yesterday to a bowl of soup (one cent) and topped it off with a piece of pie (one cent). It was at the new "Penny" lunch on Broadway. Had she felt up to it, Mrs. Roosevelt could have had a five-course dinner for ten cents.

votes for her husband, may become First Lady of the land has eaten a two-cent luncheon—and liked it. She sat down yesterday to a bowl of soup (one cent) and topped it off with a piece of pie (one cent). It was at the new "Penny" lunch on Broadway. Had she felt up to it, Mrs. Roosevelt could have had a five-course dinner for ten cents.

votes for her husband, may become First Lady of the land has eaten a two-cent luncheon—and liked it. She sat down yesterday to a bowl of soup (one cent) and topped it off with a piece of pie (one cent). It was at the new "Penny" lunch on Broadway. Had she felt up to it, Mrs. Roosevelt could have had a five-course dinner for ten cents.

votes for her husband, may become First Lady of the land has eaten a two-cent luncheon—and liked it. She sat down yesterday to a bowl of soup (one cent) and topped it off with a piece of pie (one cent). It was at the new "Penny" lunch on Broadway. Had she felt up to it, Mrs. Roosevelt could have had a five-course dinner for ten cents.

votes for her husband, may become First Lady of the land has eaten a two-cent luncheon—and liked it. She sat down yesterday to a bowl of soup (one cent) and topped it off with a piece of pie (one cent). It was at the new "Penny" lunch on Broadway. Had she felt up to it, Mrs. Roosevelt could have had a five-course dinner for ten cents.

votes for her husband, may become First Lady of the land has eaten a two-cent luncheon—and liked it. She sat down yesterday to a bowl of soup (one cent) and topped it off with a piece of pie (one cent). It was at the new "Penny" lunch on Broadway. Had she felt up to it, Mrs. Roosevelt could have had a five-course dinner for ten cents.

votes for her husband, may become First Lady of the land has eaten a two-cent luncheon—and liked it. She sat down yesterday to a bowl of soup (one cent) and topped it off with a piece of pie (one cent). It was at the new "Penny" lunch on Broadway. Had she felt up to it, Mrs. Roosevelt could have had a five-course dinner for ten cents.

votes for her husband, may become First Lady of the land has eaten a two-cent luncheon—and liked it. She sat down yesterday to a bowl of soup (one cent) and topped it off with a piece of pie (one cent). It was at the new "Penny" lunch on Broadway. Had she felt up to it, Mrs. Roosevelt could have had a five-course dinner for ten cents.

votes for her husband, may become First Lady of the land has eaten a two-cent luncheon—and liked it. She sat down yesterday to a bowl of soup (one cent) and topped it off with a piece of pie (one cent). It was at the new "Penny" lunch on Broadway. Had she felt up to it, Mrs. Roosevelt could have had a five-course dinner for ten cents.

votes for her husband, may become First Lady of the land has eaten a two-cent luncheon—and liked it. She sat down yesterday to a bowl of soup (one cent) and topped it off with a piece of pie (one cent). It was at the new "Penny" lunch on Broadway. Had she felt up to it, Mrs. Roosevelt could have had a five-course dinner for ten cents.

votes for her husband, may become First Lady of the land has eaten a two-cent luncheon—and liked it. She sat down yesterday to a bowl of soup (one cent) and topped it off with a piece of pie (one cent). It was at the new "Penny" lunch on Broadway. Had she felt up to it, Mrs. Roosevelt could have had a five-course dinner for ten cents.

votes for her husband, may become First Lady of the land has eaten a two-cent luncheon—and liked it. She sat down yesterday to a bowl of soup (one cent) and topped it off with a piece of pie (one cent). It was at the new "Penny" lunch on Broadway. Had she felt up to it, Mrs. Roosevelt could have had a five-course dinner for ten cents.

votes for her husband, may become First Lady of the land has eaten a two-cent luncheon—and liked it. She sat down yesterday to a bowl of soup (one cent) and topped it off with a piece of pie (one cent). It was at the new "Penny" lunch on Broadway. Had she felt up to it, Mrs. Roosevelt could have had a five-course dinner for ten cents.

votes for her husband, may become First Lady of the land has eaten a two-cent luncheon—and liked it. She sat down yesterday to a bowl of soup (one cent) and topped it off with a piece of pie (one cent). It was at the new "Penny" lunch on Broadway. Had she felt up to it, Mrs. Roosevelt could have had a five-course dinner for ten cents.

votes for her husband, may become First Lady of the land has eaten a two-cent luncheon—and liked it. She sat down yesterday to a bowl of soup (one cent) and topped it off with a piece of pie (one cent). It was at the new "Penny" lunch on Broadway. Had she felt up to it, Mrs. Roosevelt could have had a five-course dinner for ten cents.

votes for her husband, may become First Lady of the land has eaten a two-cent luncheon—and liked it. She sat down yesterday to a bowl of soup (one cent) and topped it off with a piece of pie (one cent). It was at the new "Penny" lunch on Broadway. Had she felt up to it, Mrs. Roosevelt could have had a five-course dinner for ten cents.

votes for her husband, may become First Lady of the land has eaten a two-cent luncheon—and liked it. She sat down yesterday to a bowl of soup (one cent) and topped it off with a piece of pie (one cent). It was at the new "Penny" lunch on Broadway. Had she felt up to it, Mrs. Roosevelt could have had a five-course dinner for ten cents.

votes for her husband, may become First Lady of the land has eaten a two-cent luncheon—and liked it. She sat down yesterday to a bowl of soup (one cent) and topped it off with a piece of pie (one cent). It was at the new "Penny" lunch on Broadway. Had she felt up to it, Mrs. Roosevelt could have had a five-course dinner for ten cents.

votes for her husband, may become First Lady of the land has eaten a two-cent luncheon—and liked it. She sat down yesterday to a bowl of soup (one cent) and topped it off with a piece of pie (one cent

Social and Personal

Hoover Taft has returned from his vacation in Chicago and, Munich, Ind.

Rev. Ike Brooks, Episcopal rector of Philadelphia, is visiting his brother, N. C. Brooks.

Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Picklesimer and Miss Dorothy Ann Picklesimer have returned from Atlantic Beach where they have been spending the summer at the Seashore Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Brown, Wyatt Brown and Augustus Schallcock have returned from Stumpy Point.

Mrs. T. C. Campbell, Miss Nancy Campbell and Paul Campbell of Wilmington, who have been guests of Mrs. Campbell's sister, Mrs. M. L. Wright, have returned to Atlantic Beach where they are spending the summer at the Seashore Club.

Alfred Ross of Warrenton is visiting his mother, Mrs. S. R. Ross.

Mrs. J. Preston Corey and Master Jimmie Corey of St. Petersburg, Fla., spent today with Mr. and Mrs. J. Hicks Corey.

S. T. White is spending some time at the Seashore Club, Atlantic Beach.

Miss Pattie Whitehurst has returned from a visit in Newport News, Va. She was accompanied home by Miss Rebecca Williams and Miss Margaret Tillett.

E. G. Flanagan and Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Whichard left this afternoon for Virginia Beach to spend the week-end.

Mrs. S. S. Williams of Newport News, Va., is visiting her mother Mrs. Z. M. Whitehurst.

J. A. Stator of Bethel, was a Greenville visitor today.

Jack Lang of Farmville, was here today.

Tom Ricks of Newport News, Va., is spending some time here with relatives.

Bill Chambers of Elm City, was here today enroute to Bayview to attend a house party.

Miss Dorothy Ann Picklesimer delightfully entertained at two tables of bridge yesterday morning, honoring Miss Nancy Campbell, of Wilmington.

Hydrangeas were effectively used for decorating the home.

For high score, Miss Ethel Gaskins was presented lovely beads, a similar prize was given the honoree and to Miss Marjorie Spivey for low score.

The hostess, assisted by her mother Mrs. P. W. Picklesimer, served a tempting ice course.

Atlantic Beach, Aug. 4.—Expecting the largest crowd of dancers and spectators in the history of the local resort for the Coon-Sanders original Nighthawks orchestra program Saturday night at the beach, Manager R. W. Cordon is making ample preparations to accommodate the throngs on the dance floor and also in the spaces for spectators.

East Carolina will very likely be no exception to the rule that prevails wherever Joe Sanders and his Nighthawks stage programs, and the usual enormous crowd is not only expected to be present but also expected to highly acclaim the visiting band as the best that has ever visited the section.

Already popular through radio, record and night club, the musical group will undoubtedly make a great hit in this region, for East Carolinians like their type of music. Mr. Cordon feels that he was unusually fortunate in having succeeded in getting them for their only engagement in this region this season.

Young Democrats Organized in 40 States of Nation

Raleigh, Aug. 5.—(AP)—Organizations in 40 states with an estimated membership of 400,000 were claimed by the Young Democratic clubs of America today by Tyre C. Taylor of Raleigh, the president and founder.

The movement was launched four months ago to promote political interest among young people. The age limit is fixed from 18 to 35 with honorary membership for older persons.

"Young people," Taylor said, "may become a deciding factor in the national election when it is remembered that some 10,000,000 have reached voting age since 1928."

Citing the growth of the organization, Taylor, who is executive counsel to Governor Gardner, said in New York state more than 600 Young Democratic clubs have been formed and that in Oklahoma more than 7,000 members already have been enrolled.

The national president estimated the goal of a million members will be passed by the middle of December.

Miss Elizabeth Wheeler, daughter of Senator Burton K. Wheeler of Montana, is vice-president of the national organization, and James Roosevelt, son of Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt, the Democratic presidential nominee is national treasurer.

Hen Lays Black Egg

Elkin, N. C., Aug. 5.—(AP)—L. P. Combs, local photographer, wonders if one of his hens has assumed too dark an outlook on life.

Combs exhibited here an inky black egg that one of his select white hens laid.

Francis Ends Coal Story

President of Appalachian Coal Finishes Direct Testimony in Government Case

Asheville, N. C., Aug. 5.—(AP)—J. D. Francis, president of Appalachian Coals, Inc., which the government seeks to dissolve on charges that it restrains trade, completed direct testimony before a three-judge Federal Court here today.

John Lord O'Brien, Assistant Attorney General, subjected him to a stiff cross-examination and heard the witness say there is a possibility that other producing coal districts may consolidate to reduce the number of selling agencies.

Francis admitted that Appalachian Coals is composed of eight separate districts within the Appalachian area, and said the remaining eleven producing districts east of the Mississippi may band together. He said the eight districts combined to secure "necessary tonnage."

The witness said the president of his company at Huntington, W. Va., the Island Creek Company, was chairman of a committee for organizing coal operators in the smokeless and Appalachian areas "is impractical."

Francis said he had no knowledge of any plan to consolidate the coal districts within the Appalachian area, and said the remaining eleven producing districts east of the Mississippi may band together. He said the eight districts combined to secure "necessary tonnage."

The witness said the president of his company at Huntington, W. Va., the Island Creek Company, was chairman of a committee for organizing coal operators in the smokeless and Appalachian areas "is impractical."

Francis said he had no knowledge of any plan to consolidate the coal districts within the Appalachian area, and said the remaining eleven producing districts east of the Mississippi may band together. He said the eight districts combined to secure "necessary tonnage."

The witness said the president of his company at Huntington, W. Va., the Island Creek Company, was chairman of a committee for organizing coal operators in the smokeless and Appalachian areas "is impractical."

Francis said he had no knowledge of any plan to consolidate the coal districts within the Appalachian area, and said the remaining eleven producing districts east of the Mississippi may band together. He said the eight districts combined to secure "necessary tonnage."

The witness said the president of his company at Huntington, W. Va., the Island Creek Company, was chairman of a committee for organizing coal operators in the smokeless and Appalachian areas "is impractical."

Francis said he had no knowledge of any plan to consolidate the coal districts within the Appalachian area, and said the remaining eleven producing districts east of the Mississippi may band together. He said the eight districts combined to secure "necessary tonnage."

The witness said the president of his company at Huntington, W. Va., the Island Creek Company, was chairman of a committee for organizing coal operators in the smokeless and Appalachian areas "is impractical."

Francis said he had no knowledge of any plan to consolidate the coal districts within the Appalachian area, and said the remaining eleven producing districts east of the Mississippi may band together. He said the eight districts combined to secure "necessary tonnage."

The witness said the president of his company at Huntington, W. Va., the Island Creek Company, was chairman of a committee for organizing coal operators in the smokeless and Appalachian areas "is impractical."

Francis said he had no knowledge of any plan to consolidate the coal districts within the Appalachian area, and said the remaining eleven producing districts east of the Mississippi may band together. He said the eight districts combined to secure "necessary tonnage."

The witness said the president of his company at Huntington, W. Va., the Island Creek Company, was chairman of a committee for organizing coal operators in the smokeless and Appalachian areas "is impractical."

Francis said he had no knowledge of any plan to consolidate the coal districts within the Appalachian area, and said the remaining eleven producing districts east of the Mississippi may band together. He said the eight districts combined to secure "necessary tonnage."

The witness said the president of his company at Huntington, W. Va., the Island Creek Company, was chairman of a committee for organizing coal operators in the smokeless and Appalachian areas "is impractical."

Francis said he had no knowledge of any plan to consolidate the coal districts within the Appalachian area, and said the remaining eleven producing districts east of the Mississippi may band together. He said the eight districts combined to secure "necessary tonnage."

The witness said the president of his company at Huntington, W. Va., the Island Creek Company, was chairman of a committee for organizing coal operators in the smokeless and Appalachian areas "is impractical."

Francis said he had no knowledge of any plan to consolidate the coal districts within the Appalachian area, and said the remaining eleven producing districts east of the Mississippi may band together. He said the eight districts combined to secure "necessary tonnage."

The witness said the president of his company at Huntington, W. Va., the Island Creek Company, was chairman of a committee for organizing coal operators in the smokeless and Appalachian areas "is impractical."

Francis said he had no knowledge of any plan to consolidate the coal districts within the Appalachian area, and said the remaining eleven producing districts east of the Mississippi may band together. He said the eight districts combined to secure "necessary tonnage."

The witness said the president of his company at Huntington, W. Va., the Island Creek Company, was chairman of a committee for organizing coal operators in the smokeless and Appalachian areas "is impractical."

Francis said he had no knowledge of any plan to consolidate the coal districts within the Appalachian area, and said the remaining eleven producing districts east of the Mississippi may band together. He said the eight districts combined to secure "necessary tonnage."

The witness said the president of his company at Huntington, W. Va., the Island Creek Company, was chairman of a committee for organizing coal operators in the smokeless and Appalachian areas "is impractical."

Francis said he had no knowledge of any plan to consolidate the coal districts within the Appalachian area, and said the remaining eleven producing districts east of the Mississippi may band together. He said the eight districts combined to secure "necessary tonnage."

The witness said the president of his company at Huntington, W. Va., the Island Creek Company, was chairman of a committee for organizing coal operators in the smokeless and Appalachian areas "is impractical."

Francis said he had no knowledge of any plan to consolidate the coal districts within the Appalachian area, and said the remaining eleven producing districts east of the Mississippi may band together. He said the eight districts combined to secure "necessary tonnage."

The witness said the president of his company at Huntington, W. Va., the Island Creek Company, was chairman of a committee for organizing coal operators in the smokeless and Appalachian areas "is impractical."

Francis said he had no knowledge of any plan to consolidate the coal districts within the Appalachian area, and said the remaining eleven producing districts east of the Mississippi may band together. He said the eight districts combined to secure "necessary tonnage."

The witness said the president of his company at Huntington, W. Va., the Island Creek Company, was chairman of a committee for organizing coal operators in the smokeless and Appalachian areas "is impractical."

Francis said he had no knowledge of any plan to consolidate the coal districts within the Appalachian area, and said the remaining eleven producing districts east of the Mississippi may band together. He said the eight districts combined to secure "necessary tonnage."

The witness said the president of his company at Huntington, W. Va., the Island Creek Company, was chairman of a committee for organizing coal operators in the smokeless and Appalachian areas "is impractical."

Francis said he had no knowledge of any plan to consolidate the coal districts within the Appalachian area, and said the remaining eleven producing districts east of the Mississippi may band together. He said the eight districts combined to secure "necessary tonnage."

The witness said the president of his company at Huntington, W. Va., the Island Creek Company, was chairman of a committee for organizing coal operators in the smokeless and Appalachian areas "is impractical."

Francis said he had no knowledge of any plan to consolidate the coal districts within the Appalachian area, and said the remaining eleven producing districts east of the Mississippi may band together. He said the eight districts combined to secure "necessary tonnage."

The witness said the president of his company at Huntington, W. Va., the Island Creek Company, was chairman of a committee for organizing coal operators in the smokeless and Appalachian areas "is impractical."

Francis said he had no knowledge of any plan to consolidate the coal districts within the Appalachian area, and said the remaining eleven producing districts east of the Mississippi may band together. He said the eight districts combined to secure "necessary tonnage."

The witness said the president of his company at Huntington, W. Va., the Island Creek Company, was chairman of a committee for organizing coal operators in the smokeless and Appalachian areas "is impractical."

Francis said he had no knowledge of any plan to consolidate the coal districts within the Appalachian area, and said the remaining eleven producing districts east of the Mississippi may band together. He said the eight districts combined to secure "necessary tonnage."

The witness said the president of his company at Huntington, W. Va., the Island Creek Company, was chairman of a committee for organizing coal operators in the smokeless and Appalachian areas "is impractical."

Francis said he had no knowledge of any plan to consolidate the coal districts within the Appalachian area, and said the remaining eleven producing districts east of the Mississippi may band together. He said the eight districts combined to secure "necessary tonnage."

The witness said the president of his company at Huntington, W. Va., the Island Creek Company, was chairman of a committee for organizing coal operators in the smokeless and Appalachian areas "is impractical."

Francis said he had no knowledge of any plan to consolidate the coal districts within the Appalachian area, and said the remaining eleven producing districts east of the Mississippi may band together. He said the eight districts combined to secure "necessary tonnage."

The witness said the president of his company at Huntington, W. Va., the Island Creek Company, was chairman of a committee for organizing coal operators in the smokeless and Appalachian areas "is impractical."

Francis said he had no knowledge of any plan to consolidate the coal districts within the Appalachian area, and said the remaining eleven producing districts east of the Mississippi may band together. He said the eight districts combined to secure "necessary tonnage."

The witness said the president of his company at Huntington, W. Va., the Island Creek Company, was chairman of a committee for organizing coal operators in the smokeless and Appalachian areas "is impractical."

Francis said he had no knowledge of any plan to consolidate the coal districts within the Appalachian area, and said the remaining eleven producing districts east of the Mississippi may band together. He said the eight districts combined to secure "necessary tonnage."

The witness said the president of his company at Huntington, W. Va., the Island Creek Company, was chairman of a committee for organizing coal operators in the smokeless and Appalachian areas "is impractical."

Francis said he had no knowledge of any plan to consolidate the coal districts within the Appalachian area, and said the remaining eleven producing districts east of the Mississippi may band together. He said the eight districts combined to secure "necessary tonnage."

The witness said the president of his company at Huntington, W. Va., the Island Creek Company, was chairman of a committee for organizing coal operators in the smokeless and Appalachian areas "is impractical."

Francis said he had no knowledge of any plan to consolidate the coal districts within the Appalachian area, and said the remaining eleven producing districts east of the Mississippi may band together. He said the eight districts combined to secure "necessary tonnage."

The witness said the president of his company at Huntington, W. Va., the Island Creek Company, was chairman of a committee for organizing coal operators in the smokeless and Appalachian areas "is impractical."

Francis said he had no knowledge of any plan to consolidate the coal districts within the Appalachian area, and said the remaining eleven producing districts east of the Mississippi may band together. He said the eight districts combined to secure "necessary tonnage."

The witness said the president of his company at Huntington, W. Va., the Island Creek Company, was chairman of a committee for organizing coal operators in the smokeless and Appalachian areas "is impractical."

Francis said he had no knowledge of any plan to consolidate the coal districts within the Appalachian area, and said the remaining eleven producing districts east of the Mississippi may band together. He said the eight districts combined to secure "necessary tonnage."

TRACK SLAYER OF RICH WOMEN

(Continued from page 1)

at daybreak today in a thicket about 20 yards from miter ante-bellum plantation home about one mile south of there.

Finding of the body followed an all-night search by officers and bloodhounds called out after a friend of the wealthy woman found the furniture in her home bloodstained and tossed about. The walls bore three bullet holes. The body found had two bullet holes in the neck and one in the left side.

Miss Merrill, daughter of Ayres Merrill, one time United States Ambassador to Belgium, had very few acquaintances during her later life and ordered all comers away from her door.

Sheriff C. P. Roberts, of Adams County, expressed the opinion the woman had been murdered by robbers or a mentally deranged person. A coroner's jury empaneled soon after the body was found brought in a verdict of death at the hands of person or persons unknown.

The old army coat was found in the house when the woman was discovered missing, and today officers are attempting to find its owner in an effort to throw light on the slaying.

Lower tax rate is in offing for Greenville

(Continued from page 1)

consider the school budget, and following the meeting the aldermen will assemble to complete the tentative budget.

Only appropriations to the various departments of government were considered but those were gotten in such shape as to permit adoption as soon as the school budget has been fixed.

Several other matters of business were considered and work was not completed until after 11 o'clock.

W. H. Woolard, member of the Library commission, appeared before the board and presented a resume of activities of the library during the past year.

Referring to a request that the library attempt to operate as economically as possible this year, Mr. Woolard said the commission would co-operate with the board in every way possible to effect economy.

The board agreed to appropriate

Deny New Trial

Brevard, Aug. 5.—(AP)—A new trial was denied Thomas H. Shipman, J. H. Picklesimer, G. R. McNeely and Ralph R. Fisher, con-

At Atlantic Beach Saturday Night Only

HEAR AND SEE HIM IN PERSON

W. L. BEST, Opt. D.

Scientific Eye Examination

FITTING OF GLASSES

W. M. B. BROWN, M. D.

Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat Examination For Glasses

319-325 National Bank Bldg.

Office Hours: 9-12:30; 2-4

Wednesday 8-1

Building on Mend in South

(Continued from page 1)

for a structure to house the National Institute of Health.

While awards for public buildings fell off somewhat during July from the figures established in June, miscellaneous awards took up the slack. In July $18,122,000 in this class of contracts were awarded while the June figure was $5,219,000.

AWNINGS RADIO

Majestic Refrigerators

SMITH ELECTRIC CO.

Phone 173

How do they do it?

WHAT GETS ME IS THAT WE'RE FINED FOR SPEEDING THROUGH TOWN THAT WE CAN'T EVEN SEE IT! I'LL GET THERE AIN'T MORE THAN FIVE SHAKES IN THIS THING THEY CALL A CITY!

I RECKON YOU FRESH, CITY FELLERS WILL BE KINDA CAREFUL HOW YOU DRIVE THROUGH OUR TOWN, AFTER THIS!

WHY DON'T YOU STICK UP A SIGN AT THE CITY LIMITS AND TELL US IT'S A TOWN-THERE'S A LIMIT TO OUR IMAGINATION, YOU KNOW!

DUMSBURG IS RIGHT ON THE MAP AS PLAIN AS DAY.

THAT'S A STRANGE—I WAS LOOKING AT THE MAP YESTERDAY BUT DIDN'T SEE IT.

MAYBE A FLY WAS STANDING ON YOUR GREAT METROPOLIS AND HID IT FROM VIEW.

SENT TO PRISON FOR ATTEMPTED 'FAG' THEFT

Winston-Salem, N. C., Aug. 5.—(AP)—If E. A. Brookshire, C. B. Raper and C. G. Wilson owned the cigarettes they were convicted of attempting to steal, they'd probably not have time to smoke them anyway.

The trio received sentences of 18 months to three years in prison for attempting to steal a box car of the smokes valued at $40,000.

Fire on German Boat Extinguished

Wilmington, Aug. 5.—(AP)—The Wilmington fire department, after a three-hour battle, early today extinguished a fire that had blazed for nearly 24 hours in the hold of the German freighter Roland.

The Roland put in here last night after failing to find fire fighting equipment at Southport, 20 miles from here, the local fire boat, and 25 firemen assisted the ship's crew of 35 in putting out the blaze discovered at 3 a. m. yesterday when the freighter was 125 miles off Southport.

Captain Fred Mueller was unable to estimate the damage but the ship suffered only slightly, the blaze being confined to the cargo of cotton and celotex in one hatch.

The Roland is out of New Orleans, bound for Hamburg and Bremen.

Young Democrats To Sell Soap to Carry on Work

Raleigh, N. C., Aug. 5.—(AP)—Soap, not the soft kind, but the genuine article, will be sold by Young Democratic Clubs of America to aid in financing the campaigns.

Each bar will be in a red, white and blue wrapper; on it will be stamped "Democratic soap—let's clean up America." The plan was announced by Tyre C. Taylor, president of the national organization.

Interest Shown In State Gold

Raleigh, N. C., Aug. 5.—(AP)—Reduced incomes resulting from existing conditions have had a decided influence toward stimulating interest in North Carolina's gold deposits, State Geologist H. J. Bryson said today.

There are in operation in the State at this time, Bryson said, six stamp mills, two gold washing plants and one hydraulic mining plant. The value of gold produced in the State last year was the greatest since 1917.

During recent tours of inspection of the gold districts, the State Geologist said he observed considerably above the average activity with a heavy sprinkling of prospectors and miners at work in various sections.

This unusual activity, Bryson added, is verified by the receipt of an increasing number of specimens at his office for identification. The number of samples went for identification during the last year, he said, exceeded those of the previous year by approximately two hundred.

Bryson announced that he recently had had photostatic copies of a geologic map showing the location of gold and copper districts. The publication which originally carried this map has been out of print for years, he said, but recently developments prompted him to reproduce the map.

Officers Seek Bank Bandits In This State

(By The Associated Press)

Officers in two widely separated North Carolina towns, Maiden and Magnolia, today were working, apparently fruitless thus far, on the robbery of banks yesterday.

Robbers carried away a 3,000-pound safe from the Bank at Maiden, Catawba County, rifled it of $4,000 in cash and $10,000 in bonds and abandoned it. A night officer said he said a truck leaving town about 3 a. m. It was presumed to be the truck on which the safe was hauled away.

At Magnolia two robbers entered the bank wearing goggles, pulled pistols on the only employee on duty, secured all the cash they could find and then ran to an automobile where a companion was waiting. The same bank was robbed of $14,000 late winter.

Hen Lays Black Egg

Elkin, N. C., Aug. 5.—(AP)—L. P. Combs, local photographer, wonders if one of his hens has assumed too dark an outlook on life.

Combs exhibited here an inky black egg that one of his select white hens laid.

PERSONALITIES AND ISSUES TO MARK POLITICAL DRIVE

(Continued from page 1)

been hoped for by many political theorists who believe that men, rather than measures, should decide elections, and shunned by others who hold that public questions should be settled by the people at the polls, rather than left to elected officials.

It obviously is a part of the Democratic strategy to link the continuance of the depression directly with the Hoover administration and summon the public to vote "against Hoover." No less it is apparent that Republicans are seeking to present Governor Roosevelt as weak, uninformed and unsafe, and ask for a verdict "against Roosevelt."

Coming events may change the whole course of the discussion. During next week Mr. Hoover will deliver his speech of acceptance, and soon after Mr. Roosevelt will begin dealing with various issues in greater detail. If constructive programs are presented on either side, the case may become entirely different.

Certainly a surge of debate on the one issue of prohibition, without much reference to personalities, will follow what Mr. Hoover says on that subject when he formally accepts the nomination here August 11. Certainly, too, Mr. Roosevelt's decision in the case of Mayor Walker of New York, will start a dispute which may or may not center on the personal equation.

Among these and other developments, the two parties have spent most of the week perfecting their campaign machinery and watching with a suggestion of breathless expectancy the rising tide of security prices in Wall Street and the reaction of the country to the bonus army eviction in Washington.

LOWER TAX RATE IS IN OFFING FOR GREENVILLE

(Continued from page 1)

consider the school budget, and following the meeting the aldermen will assemble to complete the tentative budget.

Only appropriations to the various departments of government were considered but those were gotten in such shape as to permit adoption as soon as the school budget has been fixed.

Several other matters of business were considered and work was not completed until after 11 o'clock.

W. H. Woolard, member of the Library commission, appeared before the board and presented a resume of activities of the library during the past year.

Referring to a request that the library attempt to operate as economically as possible this year, Mr. Woolard said the commission would co-operate with the board in every way possible to effect economy.

The board agreed to appropriate

Deny New Trial

Brevard, Aug. 5.—(AP)—A new trial was denied Thomas H. Shipman, J. H. Picklesimer, G. R. McNeely and Ralph R. Fisher, con-

At Atlantic Beach Saturday Night Only

HEAR AND SEE HIM IN PERSON

W. L. BEST, Opt. D.

Scientific Eye Examination

FITTING OF GLASSES

W. M. B. BROWN, M. D.

Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat Examination For Glasses

319-325 National Bank Bldg.

Office Hours: 9-12:30; 2-4

Wednesday 8-1

Building on Mend in South

(Continued from page 1)

for a structure to house the National Institute of Health.

While awards for public buildings fell off somewhat during July from the figures established in June, miscellaneous awards took up the slack. In July $18,122,000 in this class of contracts were awarded while the June figure was $5,219,000.

AWNINGS RADIO

Market Report

Cotton--Stocks--Grain

New York Cotton

New York, Aug. 5.—(AP)—Cotton futures opened very steady 6-9 higher on overnight buying promoted by steeper Liverpool cables and on an unfavorable view of the weather.

These factors combined with the more optimistic view of the general commodity outlook and the opening advance in the stock market brought in considerable buying and the early advance extended to 8.06 for October and 8.29 for January or about 13 to 15 points net higher. In addition to some realizing and a little southern selling, there was also some further selling through brokers supposed to be acting for co-operative interests and after the initial demand had been supplied, prices reacted 3 or 4 points though the market showed a steady tone at the end of the first half hour.

Two more private crop reports were issued, one placing the indicated crop at 12,596,000 bales while the other reported a condition of 67.3 and an indicated yield of 11,824,000 bales. Liverpool cables reported trade calling supplied by hedge selling and realizing in that market.

Open High Low Close Priv. Cl.

Oct. . . .	5.99	6.06	5.97	5.98	5.92
Dec. . . .	6.16	6.23	6.14	6.16	6.09
Jan. . . .	6.23	6.29	6.22	6.23	6.14
Mar. . . .	6.38	6.44	6.35	6.37	6.29
May	6.53	6.57	6.50	6.50	6.44
July	6.64	6.68	6.62	6.62	6.56

Grain Market

Chicago, Aug. 5.—(AP)—Buzant as a result of eager purchasing largely on the part of the general public, wheat mounted today to the highest prices reached this week.

The rise was in spite of heavy selling from houses with eastern connections, a development opposite to that of late when pressure increased on price upticks. Indications pointed a good export business including some United States hard winter wheat:

	High	Low	Close
WHEAT:
Sept. . . .	523-4	515-8	517-8
Sept. . . .	521-2	515-8	517-8
Dec.	56	547-8	551-8
May	603-8	593-8	593-4
CORN:
Sept.	333-4	313-8	311-2
Dec.	325-8	315-8	313-4
May	395-8	353-4	358-4
OATS:
Sept.	177-8	171-2	171-2
Dec.	201-8	193-4	193-4
May	225-8	223-8	223-8
RYE:
Sept.	331-4	325-8	325-8
Dec.	361-2	353-8	353-4
LARD:
Sept.	4.97	4.92	4.97
Oct.	4.95	4.87	4.95
Jan.	4.42	4.37	4.42
BELLIES:
Sept.	6.50	6.30	6.35
Old. "New."

Stock Market

New York, Aug. 5.—(AP)—With bullish enthusiasm still fired by growing expectations of autumn business recovery, and by efforts to boost commodity prices, further sharp advances were achieved in the stock market today, although on the whole, prices did not get much above yesterday's highs.

While profit taking checked the rise at times and a sprinkle of selling came into the bond market, stock traders were encouraged by the tendency of trading to slacken on downturns. It was notable, however that selling was met on successive advances.

The farm implements were in the lead, with Case making an extreme gain of 7 points, and International Harvester getting up about 6. Miscellaneous issues getting up 2 to 3 points at the best included American, U. S. Steel common and preferred, Santa Fe, Union Pacific, American Water Works Public Service of N. J., DuPont, Drug, Eastman, Standard of N. J. and others.

With rumors of a big bull pool in wheat taking more tangible form speculative attention was turning increasingly to the commodity markets where there were again numerous substantial advances. A definite figure of $30,000,000 has been widely named for the wheat pool, and Arthur W. Cutten was widely believed to be heading the group.

In metals, there was little change in domestic copper prices, but the red metal again advanced in the foreign markets, and at home, lead and zinc were again higher. Bar silver mounted 1-4 of a cent to 271-8 cents an ounce.

N. Y. Stock List

Adams Mills 15	Air Reduct 46	Alaska Jun 11	Alleghany 1 18	Al Chi Dye 63	Am Can 45 3-4	Am Fox 5	Am Hat St Ban 6 3-8	Am Ice Ref 14 3-4	Am T T 101 5-8	Am Tob B 75 3-4	Anacosta 8 5-8	Aichison 37	Auburn 68 3-4	B and O 9	Barnadall 5 1-2	Bendix Av 7 1-2	Beth Steel 3 1-2	Borden 28	Briggs Mfg 4 1-2
----------------	---------------	---------------	----------------	---------------	---------------	----------	---------------------	-------------------	----------------	-----------------	----------------	-------------	---------------	-----------	-----------------	-----------------	------------------	-----------	------------------

WANTS

RATES: 1c per word. (Minimum 25c) per insertion, this size type. Larger type, double price. Persons not having regular account with this office must send or bring cash with copy. No want ads taken over telephone.

DON'T FORGET THE CURB
Market is open on Thursday and sells only fresh, home-grown produce. Opens at 7:45.

FOR SALE -- YOUNG PEKIN ducks, 10 weeks old, 4 to 5 pounds weight—15c per pound. Fat and tender. Jenness Morrill Jr., Falkland. 4-2t

FOR SALE--BUNGALOW NEAR
college. Hardwood floors. Cash payment. Balance can be arranged about $30 per month. You'll like this cozy home. Ready to move in today. Phone us. L. J. Smith—Fiscal Estate Agent.

YOU'LL FIND THE VEGETABLES
you want at the Farmers' Market House on Colancho street tomorrow morning.

NEW CROP -- ABRUZZI SEED
rye just arrived. Turnips, rutabaga and all kinds garden seed. New crop Fulgum seed oats. J. A. Watson, Seed--Provisions--Feed. 3-1f

YOUNG WOMAN, UNENCUMBERED, neat, active and intelligent. Help in tailor shop and home. Good position for right woman. See Wm. Size, Custom Tailor, Proctor Hotel Bldg., Evans St., Greenville. 3-3t

FOR RENT -- TWO STORY
dwelling; good condition; with bath; close in. See A. M. Moseley. 5-1f.

WHITE BEACH NOVA-SCOTIA
Land Plaster. See C. M. Warren. 9-1f

HOUSE FOR RENT ON CHESTnut street. Immediate possession. Very convenient. Call Mrs. James Long, phone 327-J. 29-8t

LET THE REFLECTOR FIGURE with you on your job printing requirements. Satisfactory work at satisfactory prices. Phone 56.

FOR RENT--FOUR ROOM APARTment, private entrance, front and back porch, with use of garage. Miss Mamie Ruth Tunstall, phone 280-W. 5-2t

SPECIAL FOR SATURDAY--CINnamon Buns, 12 cents per dozen. Peoples Bakery.

REPORT BIG WHEAT POOL
(Continued from page 1)
by governmental and financial interests. Eugene Meyer, governor of the Federal Reserve Board, has discussed with bankers the practicability of organizing a corporation to finance raw material purchases for industrial and manufacturing companies.

COSTLY FIRE AT CHICAGO
(Continued from page 1)
again confined the blaze to the packing plant and elevator. An explosion of dust in the stored grain supposedly was the cause of the fire. Dense clouds of red flames and smoke burst from the tall structure, scattering showers of embers down on the wooden pens of the packing plant. These were readily ignited. The wind drove the fire on eastward, leaving in its wake first one building and then another. Four city blocks were occupied by the concerns destroyed. The Quincy grain elevator was owned by the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad but was under lease to the Stratton Grain Company.

GUN WOUNDS PROVE FATAL
(Continued from page 1)
Mrs. Payne told police her husband admitted the shooting to her and then fled into the mountains. Mrs. Payne said she had prepared supper and that the men failed to appear. A short time later, she said, she heard them arguing, that she became frightened and ran out of the house. A number of shots followed, she reported, and her husband fled past her immediately afterward. "I've killed Willie Passmore," she quoted Payne as saying as he disappeared. Police found three large holes torn in the partition in the kitchen. While police combed the mountains for the fugitive, evidence was gathered for an inquest into the death later today.

ATTORNEYS FOR YOUNG
WALKER WILL NOT SEEK HIS RELEASE FROM COUNTY JAIL
(Continued from page 1)
tion that the indictment of his daughter is a "frame up and a terrible injustice to an innocent young woman." Under the North Carolina law, Mrs. Reynolds has today and tomorrow to make application to the clerk of court here for appointment as administrator of her husband's estate. It was announced several days ago, however, she has requested W. N. Reynolds, uncle and co-guardian of the youth, to act as administrator. So far, no application has been filed with the clerk. Reynolds' share of his father's tobacco fortune is estimated at from

Baby Falls From Train Window and Escapes Unhurt
Cordle, Ga., Aug. 5.—(AP)—Two year old James Edward Pitts got off a train all by himself here yesterday—via a window as the train traveled 30 miles an hour—and escaped virtually unhurt. The child crawled from a coach and tumbled to the ground as his mother left in the care of a small sister. The train had traveled two miles before the mother learned of the fall. It was backed up to where James Edward left it. He was found with only minor injuries.

Aged Couple Observe Birthday
St. Petersburg, Fla., Aug. 5.—(AP)—Mr. Charles Eldredge and Mrs. Martha Weeks aren't going to set any tongues wagging with their social activities if they can help it. To be sure, they did dine and attend a moving picture show together yesterday but they took along a chaperone Evelyn Barton Rittenhouse, director of St. Petersburg's three quarter century club. Anyway it was a special occasion. Mrs. Weeks was celebrating her 101st birthday. Her escort was just 101 years old. Mrs. Weeks, who lives at Lithia, Fla., enjoyed her usual after-meals pipe of tobacco and said she felt just fine. A friend called her yesterday to congratulate her on her birthday and she said it was the first time she had used a telephone.

$15,000,000 to $20,000,000, but he would not have come into possession for eight years, under the terms of the elder Reynolds' will. McMichael made public today the text of a telegram received from Holman. It read: "Undergo no expense re Mrs. Reynolds at Winston. I arrive Friday 2:20 p. m. Have court await my arrival." Solicitor Higgins and McMichael agreed in the opinion of the court would be powerless to authorize bond for Libby or any arrangement for keeping her under medical care until after she is in actual custody of North Carolina officers and within the State's boundary. No arrangement was made for Holman to appear in court, but it was believed he would be permitted to submit his petition upon his arrival. Sheriff Scott said he had received no further word from Cincinnati officers regarding Libby. He said he planned no addition steps until she is located and arrested. The possibility was suggested that, in the event Holman's attempt to arrange bonds in advance of Libby's surrender fails, habeas corpus proceedings might be brought in the former torch singinger's behalf in the Ohio courts. Further information from the solicitor with regard to the bailiff of the offense was that any Superior Court judge or member of the State Supreme Court might allow bond on a first degree murder charge if sufficient evidence is produced to convince the jurist bail is proper.

Cincinnati, Aug. 5.—(AP)—The spotlight of law, powered by a charge of husband murder, groped across the Ohio stage today for Libby Holman, hoarse-voiced singer of songs. It was known that Miss Holman, widowed when a bullet left young Smith Reynolds (her husband) dying across a bed in their chamber a month ago, was at a "country retreat"; and that she was ill under the care of doctors and nurses. Whether her illness had any relationship to her tortured cry in a Winston-Salem hospital room a month ago—the anguished cry of "My baby!"—was not known. When her father, Albert Holman, was asked last night if approaching motherhood was a factor in her illness, he said only that that was "a matter of record." When officers showed him a telegram from Winston-Salem asking that the 26-year-old singer of torch songs be arrested for murder of her husband, he refused to recognize it as a legal warrant. At "the proper time," he said, "she would appear to answer the indictment which charges her and Ab Walker, 19-year-old friend of young Reynolds, with murdering the young tobacco friend."

Holman, short and trim, and in affable mood, left for Winston-Salem last night by train. In the southern city, he said, he intends to plead for bond so that his daughter, may be spared the "humiliation" of spending weeks behind bars while awaiting trial. His affability was new - found, however. Earlier in the day he stormed that the indictment of his daughter was a "frame-up." Still later he turned away officers who sought to learn her whereabouts. He puffed his pipe angrily and flipped the pages of his magazine impetuously as he talked of the indictment against his daughter. Again he charged the sheriff of Forsyth County, North Carolina, the solicitor there, and others involved in keeping alive the investigation of Reynolds' death, with "self-seeking," and with striving to make "political capital" of the case. "I am firmly convinced she is innocent," he snapped. "If I had any thought whatsoever that she had anything to do with the slaying of this body, I would, with tears in my eyes, be the first to ask that she be punished."

Again he asserted that the physical facts surrounding Reynolds' death inevitably pointed to suicide. As he sped toward North Carolina today, Holman's attitude had changed much from the afternoon. "We all have our crosses to bear," he said. "This is the greatest I've ever born. And my poor little girl. How this affects her is indescribable." Holman, who says he is Libby's only attorney, said he wasn't surprised by the indictment. "I knew they would fix up some kind of a case," he said.

CONFUSION GRIPS BONUS FORCES AT JOHNSTOWN
(Continued from page 1)
Camp last night and added to the confusion as veterans demanded assurance that they would not meet a similar fate.

Mayor Eddie McCloskey announced the last train will leave with eastern contingents about noon today. Highway trucks will carry the remainder, mostly eastern Pennsylvanians, to their home towns. All afternoon and late last night heavy trucks rumbled over country roads with their bedraggled cargo. Hundreds of men, women and children, waiting in dilapidated automobiles for a supply of gasoline, huddled for hours or tramped to city hall to demand "service." Camp officials said less than 900 were in camp at daybreak and McCloskey said they will be moved if possible before nightfall.

Field leaders said the office here would be abandoned as soon as the troops are moved. No indication was given as to where it would be transferred.

SCHOOL BOARDS ON RECORD FOR NINE MONTHS' SCHOOL
(Continued from page 1)
term will be taken up at a joint session of the School Board and the Board of Aldermen at the high school building tonight at 8 o'clock and the outcome is problematical in the face of insistent demand for economy in government to meet dwindling revenues.

In attempting to provide for the regular school term of nine months, the Board kept in mind resolutions adopted at a joint meeting of parent-teacher organizations here the first of the summer demanding that the city provide the regular term this year. Similar demands have been heard from other sources since the time, and the board decided it is advisable to drop to a purely State rating in order to meet the request of the public and at the same time give due consideration to the economic situation confronting the community and world.

Greenville for the last several years has enjoyed the reputation of having the highest scholastic rating of any school of the State, and this recognition resulted from the employment of the most ardent teachers possible along with progressive standards of conducting the institutions. Just how the drop to State rating will affect the schools in years to come was a matter of considerable speculation today, but the Board, caught between the cross-currents of public opinion for a long term on one hand and reduction of expenses on the other, has attempted to meet the situation in the best way possible, and will lay the question before the Aldermen at the joint meeting tonight.

Just how the drop to State rating will affect the schools in years to come was a matter of considerable speculation today, but the Board, caught between the cross-currents of public opinion for a long term on one hand and reduction of expenses on the other, has attempted to meet the situation in the best way possible, and will lay the question before the Aldermen at the joint meeting tonight.

Just how the drop to State rating will affect the schools in years to come was a matter of considerable speculation today, but the Board, caught between the cross-currents of public opinion for a long term on one hand and reduction of expenses on the other, has attempted to meet the situation in the best way possible, and will lay the question before the Aldermen at the joint meeting tonight.

Just how the drop to State rating will affect the schools in years to come was a matter of considerable speculation today, but the Board, caught between the cross-currents of public opinion for a long term on one hand and reduction of expenses on the other, has attempted to meet the situation in the best way possible, and will lay the question before the Aldermen at the joint meeting tonight.

Just how the drop to State rating will affect the schools in years to come was a matter of considerable speculation today, but the Board, caught between the cross-currents of public opinion for a long term on one hand and reduction of expenses on the other, has attempted to meet the situation in the best way possible, and will lay the question before the Aldermen at the joint meeting tonight.

Just how the drop to State rating will affect the schools in years to come was a matter of considerable speculation today, but the Board, caught between the cross-currents of public opinion for a long term on one hand and reduction of expenses on the other, has attempted to meet the situation in the best way possible, and will lay the question before the Aldermen at the joint meeting tonight.

Just how the drop to State rating will affect the schools in years to come was a matter of considerable speculation today, but the Board, caught between the cross-currents of public opinion for a long term on one hand and reduction of expenses on the other, has attempted to meet the situation in the best way possible, and will lay the question before the Aldermen at the joint meeting tonight.

Just how the drop to State rating will affect the schools in years to come was a matter of considerable speculation today, but the Board, caught between the cross-currents of public opinion for a long term on one hand and reduction of expenses on the other, has attempted to meet the situation in the best way possible, and will lay the question before the Aldermen at the joint meeting tonight.

Just how the drop to State rating will affect the schools in years to come was a matter of considerable speculation today, but the Board, caught between the cross-currents of public opinion for a long term on one hand and reduction of expenses on the other, has attempted to meet the situation in the best way possible, and will lay the question before the Aldermen at the joint meeting tonight.

Just how the drop to State rating will affect the schools in years to come was a matter of considerable speculation today, but the Board, caught between the cross-currents of public opinion for a long term on one hand and reduction of expenses on the other, has attempted to meet the situation in the best way possible, and will lay the question before the Aldermen at the joint meeting tonight.

Just how the drop to State rating will affect the schools in years to come was a matter of considerable speculation today, but the Board, caught between the cross-currents of public opinion for a long term on one hand and reduction of expenses on the other, has attempted to meet the situation in the best way possible, and will lay the question before the Aldermen at the joint meeting tonight.

Just how the drop to State rating will affect the schools in years to come was a matter of considerable speculation today, but the Board, caught between the cross-currents of public opinion for a long term on one hand and reduction of expenses on the other, has attempted to meet the situation in the best way possible, and will lay the question before the Aldermen at the joint meeting tonight.

Just how the drop to State rating will affect the schools in years to come was a matter of considerable speculation today, but the Board, caught between the cross-currents of public opinion for a long term on one hand and reduction of expenses on the other, has attempted to meet the situation in the best way possible, and will lay the question before the Aldermen at the joint meeting tonight.

Just how the drop to State rating will affect the schools in years to come was a matter of considerable speculation today, but the Board, caught between the cross-currents of public opinion for a long term on one hand and reduction of expenses on the other, has attempted to meet the situation in the best way possible, and will lay the question before the Aldermen at the joint meeting tonight.

Just how the drop to State rating will affect the schools in years to come was a matter of considerable speculation today, but the Board, caught between the cross-currents of public opinion for a long term on one hand and reduction of expenses on the other, has attempted to meet the situation in the best way possible, and will lay the question before the Aldermen at the joint meeting tonight.

Just how the drop to State rating will affect the schools in years to come was a matter of considerable speculation today, but the Board, caught between the cross-currents of public opinion for a long term on one hand and reduction of expenses on the other, has attempted to meet the situation in the best way possible, and will lay the question before the Aldermen at the joint meeting tonight.

Just how the drop to State rating will affect the schools in years to come was a matter of considerable speculation today, but the Board, caught between the cross-currents of public opinion for a long term on one hand and reduction of expenses on the other, has attempted to meet the situation in the best way possible, and will lay the question before the Aldermen at the joint meeting tonight.

Just how the drop to State rating will affect the schools in years to come was a matter of considerable speculation today, but the Board, caught between the cross-currents of public opinion for a long term on one hand and reduction of expenses on the other, has attempted to meet the situation in the best way possible, and will lay the question before the Aldermen at the joint meeting tonight.

Just how the drop to State rating will affect the schools in years to come was a matter of considerable speculation today, but the Board, caught between the cross-currents of public opinion for a long term on one hand and reduction of expenses on the other, has attempted to meet the situation in the best way possible, and will lay the question before the Aldermen at the joint meeting tonight.

Just how the drop to State rating will affect the schools in years to come was a matter of considerable speculation today, but the Board, caught between the cross-currents of public opinion for a long term on one hand and reduction of expenses on the other, has attempted to meet the situation in the best way possible, and will lay the question before the Aldermen at the joint meeting tonight.

Just how the drop to State rating will affect the schools in years to come was a matter of considerable speculation today, but the Board, caught between the cross-currents of public opinion for a long term on one hand and reduction of expenses on the other, has attempted to meet the situation in the best way possible, and will lay the question before the Aldermen at the joint meeting tonight.

Just how the drop to State rating will affect the schools in years to come was a matter of considerable speculation today, but the Board, caught between the cross-currents of public opinion for a long term on one hand and reduction of expenses on the other, has attempted to meet the situation in the best way possible, and will lay the question before the Aldermen at the joint meeting tonight.

Just how the drop to State rating will affect the schools in years to come was a matter of considerable speculation today, but the Board, caught between the cross-currents of public opinion for a long term on one hand and reduction of expenses on the other, has attempted to meet the situation in the best way possible, and will lay the question before the Aldermen at the joint meeting tonight.

Just how the drop to State rating will affect the schools in years to come was a matter of considerable speculation today, but the Board, caught between the cross-currents of public opinion for a long term on one hand and reduction of expenses on the other, has attempted to meet the situation in the best way possible, and will lay the question before the Aldermen at the joint meeting tonight.

Just how the drop to State rating will affect the schools in years to come was a matter of considerable speculation today, but the Board, caught between the cross-currents of public opinion for a long term on one hand and reduction of expenses on the other, has attempted to meet the situation in the best way possible, and will lay the question before the Aldermen at the joint meeting tonight.

Just how the drop to State rating will affect the schools in years to come was a matter of considerable speculation today, but the Board, caught between the cross-currents of public opinion for a long term on one hand and reduction of expenses on the other, has attempted to meet the situation in the best way possible, and will lay the question before the Aldermen at the joint meeting tonight.

Just how the drop to State rating will affect the schools in years to come was a matter of considerable speculation today, but the Board, caught between the cross-currents of public opinion for a long term on one hand and reduction of expenses on the other, has attempted to meet the situation in the best way possible, and will lay the question before the Aldermen at the joint meeting tonight.

Just how the drop to State rating will affect the schools in years to come was a matter of considerable speculation today, but the Board, caught between the cross-currents of public opinion for a long term on one hand and reduction of expenses on the other, has attempted to meet the situation in the best way possible, and will lay the question before the Aldermen at the joint meeting tonight.

Just how the drop to State rating will affect the schools in years to come was a matter of considerable speculation today, but the Board, caught between the cross-currents of public opinion for a long term on one hand and reduction of expenses on the other, has attempted to meet the situation in the best way possible, and will lay the question before the Aldermen at the joint meeting tonight.

Just how the drop to State rating will affect the schools in years to come was a matter of considerable speculation today, but the Board, caught between the cross-currents of public opinion for a long term on one hand and reduction of expenses on the other, has attempted to meet the situation in the best way possible, and will lay the question before the Aldermen at the joint meeting tonight.

Just how the drop to State rating will affect the schools in years to come was a matter of considerable speculation today, but the Board, caught between the cross-currents of public opinion for a long term on one hand and reduction of expenses on the other, has attempted to meet the situation in the best way possible, and will lay the question before the Aldermen at the joint meeting tonight.

Just how the drop to State rating will affect the schools in years to come was a matter of considerable speculation today, but the Board, caught between the cross-currents of public opinion for a long term on one hand and reduction of expenses on the other, has attempted to meet the situation in the best way possible, and will lay the question before the Aldermen at the joint meeting tonight.

Just how the drop to State rating will affect the schools in years to come was a matter of considerable speculation today, but the Board, caught between the cross-currents of public opinion for a long term on one hand and reduction of expenses on the other, has attempted to meet the situation in the best way possible, and will lay the question before the Aldermen at the joint meeting tonight.

Just how the drop to State rating will affect the schools in years to come was a matter of considerable speculation today, but the Board, caught between the cross-currents of public opinion for a long term on one hand and reduction of expenses on the other, has attempted to meet the situation in the best way possible, and will lay the question before the Aldermen at the joint meeting tonight.

Just how the drop to State rating will affect the schools in years to come was a matter of considerable speculation today, but the Board, caught between the cross-currents of public opinion for a long term on one hand and reduction of expenses on the other, has attempted to meet the situation in the best way possible, and will lay the question before the Aldermen at the joint meeting tonight.

Just how the drop to State rating will affect the schools in years to come was a matter of considerable speculation today, but the Board, caught between the cross-currents of public opinion for a long term on one hand and reduction of expenses on the other, has attempted to meet the situation in the best way possible, and will lay the question before the Aldermen at the joint meeting tonight.

Just how the drop to State rating will affect the schools in years to come was a matter of considerable speculation today, but the Board, caught between the cross-currents of public opinion for a long term on one hand and reduction of expenses on the other, has attempted to meet the situation in the best way possible, and will lay the question before the Aldermen at the joint meeting tonight.

Just how the drop to State rating will affect the schools in years to come was a matter of considerable speculation today, but the Board, caught between the cross-currents of public opinion for a long term on one hand and reduction of expenses on the other, has attempted to meet the situation in the best way possible, and will lay the question before the Aldermen at the joint meeting tonight.

Just how the drop to State rating will affect the schools in years to come was a matter of considerable speculation today, but the Board, caught between the cross-currents of public opinion for a long term on one hand and reduction of expenses on the other, has attempted to meet the situation in the best way possible, and will lay the question before the Aldermen at the joint meeting tonight.

Just how the drop to State rating will affect the schools in years to come was a matter of considerable speculation today, but the Board, caught between the cross-currents of public opinion for a long term on one hand and reduction of expenses on the other, has attempted to meet the situation in the best way possible, and will lay the question before the Aldermen at the joint meeting tonight.

Just how the drop to State rating will affect the schools in years to come was a matter of considerable speculation today, but the Board, caught between the cross-currents of public opinion for a long term on one hand and reduction of expenses on the other, has attempted to meet the situation in the best way possible, and will lay the question before the Aldermen at the joint meeting tonight.

Just how the drop to State rating will affect the schools in years to come was a matter of considerable speculation today, but the Board, caught between the cross-currents of public opinion for a long term on one hand and reduction of expenses on the other, has attempted to meet the situation in the best way possible, and will lay the question before the Aldermen at the joint meeting tonight.

Just how the drop to State rating will affect the schools in years to come was a matter of considerable speculation today, but the Board, caught between the cross-currents of public opinion for a long term on one hand and reduction of expenses on the other, has attempted to meet the situation in the best way possible, and will lay the question before the Aldermen at the joint meeting tonight.

Just how the drop to State rating will affect the schools in years to come was a matter of considerable speculation today, but the Board, caught between the cross-currents of public opinion for a long term on one hand and reduction of expenses on the other, has attempted to meet the situation in the best way possible, and will lay the question before the Aldermen at the joint meeting tonight.

Just how the drop to State rating will affect the schools in years to come was a matter of considerable speculation today, but the Board, caught between the cross-currents of public opinion for a long term on one hand and reduction of expenses on the other, has attempted to meet the situation in the best way possible, and will lay the question before the Aldermen at the joint meeting tonight.

Just how the drop to State rating will affect the schools in years to come was a matter of considerable speculation today, but the Board, caught between the cross-currents of public opinion for a long term on one hand and reduction of expenses on the other, has attempted to meet the situation in the best way possible, and will lay the question before the Aldermen at the joint meeting tonight.

Just how the drop to State rating will affect the schools in years to come was a matter of considerable speculation today, but the Board, caught between the cross-currents of public opinion for a long term on one hand and reduction of expenses on the other, has attempted to meet the situation in the best way possible, and will lay the question before the Aldermen at the joint meeting tonight.

Just how the drop to State rating will affect the schools in years to come was a matter of considerable speculation today, but the Board, caught between the cross-currents of public opinion for a long term on one hand and reduction of expenses on the other, has attempted to meet the situation in the best way possible, and will lay the question before the Aldermen at the joint meeting tonight.

Just how the drop to State rating will affect the schools in years to come was a matter of considerable speculation today, but the Board, caught between the cross-currents of public opinion for a long term on one hand and reduction of expenses on the other, has attempted to meet the situation in the best way possible, and will lay the question before the Aldermen at the joint meeting tonight.

Just how the drop to State rating will affect the schools in years to come was a matter of considerable speculation today, but the Board, caught between the cross-currents of public opinion for a long term on one hand and reduction of expenses on the other, has attempted to meet the situation in the best way possible, and will lay the question before the Aldermen at the joint meeting tonight.

Just how the drop to State rating will affect the schools in years to come was a matter of considerable speculation today, but the Board, caught between the cross-currents of public opinion for a long term on one hand and reduction of expenses on the other, has attempted to meet the situation in the best way possible, and will lay the question before the Aldermen at the joint meeting tonight.

Just how the drop to State rating will affect the schools in years to come was a matter of considerable speculation today, but the Board, caught between the cross-currents of public opinion for a long term on one hand and reduction of expenses on the other, has attempted to meet the situation in the best