HOOVER SAYS U. S. NOT IN GERMAN ARMS QUARREL

Gov. Roosevelt Delayed By Train Derailment At Small Town In Montana

WILL SPEAK AT SEATTLE

Special Held Up Four Hours by Wreck of Another Train; The Nominee is in Washington for All-Day Layover at Seattle; Crowd Greet Governor at Missoula; He Cancels Engagement at Spokane.

By WALTER T. BROWN (Associated Press Staff Writer) Aboard Roosevelt Special, Sept. 20.—(AP)—Delayed four hours at Bonner, Mont., by the derailment of the Crack North Coast Limited of the Northern Pacific, Franklin D. Roosevelt, the Democratic Presidential nominee, today was in Washington for an all-day lay-over at Seattle.

The Limited, eastbound from Seattle for Chicago, went off the track yesterday when a driving axle of the locomotive broke and the engine and baggage and mail cars left the tracks. None of the crew or passengers on the derailed train was injured.

After hurried repair work, the special crept slowly past the scene of the wreck. The derailed engine and the two cars leaned so far over toward the special as almost to graze the coaches as they passed.

Despite the long delay and drizzling rain a huge crowd swarmed about the station at Missoula. Many umbrellas were in evidence as the crowd showed toward the rear end of the car where Mr. Roosevelt was introduced by J. Bruce Kremer, National Committeeman from Montana.

"It takes more than a mere derailment to stop our train," he said. "I appreciate your gathering here after an earlier disappointment. We just want to say 'Howdy!'"

Several voices in the crowd shouted back "Howdy!"

He added that he wanted to come back to the Bitter Root Valley and learn "how you pack apples."

The nominee wired his regrets to Sopkan that the rail wreck forced him to cancel a several hours' stop in that city.

In Seattle, the New York governor was to confer with Washington party leaders, attend a luncheon in his honor, and motor to the Western Washington Fair at Puyallup, near Tacoma, 25 miles from Seattle.

A night public meeting will be held at the Seattle civic auditorium and Mr. Roosevelt will make a brief speech. His train will leave for Portland, Oregon, at midnight.

At Portland on Wednesday, Mr. Roosevelt will deliver the third of the major addresses of the trip, discussing public utilities.

Moving northward from Salt Lake yesterday, Mr. Roosevelt stopped three hours at Butte, Mont., where he promised, if elected, to call an international money conference "without delay or evasion."

THREE STATES VOTING TODAY

Public Watching Battle in New York, Wisconsin and Massachusetts.

(By The Associated Press) Voters in New York, Massachusetts and Wisconsin today are choosing party candidates for November's election, with the number of ballots cast sharing interest nationally with the issues and personalities involved.

In Wisconsin, the power of the LaFollette brothers and hotly contested economic issues hold the spotlight. In the two eastern states prohibition is a major issue in a number of the congressional primaries.

NO FURTHER REDUCTION IN SUBSCRIPTION PRICE OF THE DAILY REFLECTOR

For the past several weeks we have had several inquiries as to when we would again put on a special reduction in the price of subscriptions to The Daily Reflector, and since the announcement of our subscription campaign, several of the constants have been advised by subscribers that they were waiting for another price reduction before renewing their subscriptions. For the benefit of those who are holding back for a price reduction, we wish to state that there will be no further reduction in the subscription price of The Reflector than the price now in effect. The subscription price during our present campaign are $5.00 for one year; $9.00 for a two years' subscription; and $12.00 for a three years' subscription. These are positively the lowest prices at which The Reflector will be offered this year and we make this statement to correct the erroneous opinion on the part of some that they will get the paper cheaper by waiting. REPORT NEW STORM ON WAY

Second Tropical Disturbance Moving toward Louisiana As First Storm Abates.

New Orleans, Sept. 20.—(AP)—As one tropical storm spent its force last night in 40-mile-an-hour gales along the Louisiana and Mississippi coasts, the Washington Weather Bureau warned of another disturbance.

In an advisory timed at 9 p. m. the Weather Bureau told of a "tropical disturbance approaching windward and leeward islands with indications center some distance east or northeast of Dominica."

Although tides rushed high along the Louisiana-Mississippi coast last night and yesterday in gale and sheets of driving rain, little damage was reported except in Gulfport, Mississippi, where a waterspout struck the city and burst in red spray on the seawall.

At least seven dwellings were wrecked or damaged by the freak disturbance, oaks were uprooted or limbs stripped off and three negroes were reported injured slightly.

The disturbance that swept the coast was discovered last Saturday about 300 miles east of Tampico, (Continued on Page Four)

ALL OFFERED WORK, CASH

Reflector's Entrants Paid Cash Each Day on Renewals and on New Subscriptions.

No use of anybody being without work and a little spare money these days as The Daily Reflector is offering a cash prize or a cash commission to all who undertake to do subscription work in their eight weeks' campaign which opened yesterday.

If you are one of the many who are out of work, or perhaps have at the present time a full or part time position, you should be interested in this cash offer of The Reflector.

The cash offer offers prizes of $600, $300, $150, $100 and one of $50 to the first five men or women who turn in renewals and the highest number of votes or credits. Each renewal or new subscription will issue votes in accordance with the schedule appearing on the front cover of each receipt book. Subscriptions for six months or more will be acceptable and the price range is from $2.50 for six months to $12 for three years. The yearly rate is $5 and the two-year rate $9.

More than two thousand present readers of The Reflector are splendid prospects for renewals while hundreds of others living within Greenville's trading territory and not now taking any daily paper furnish credit to himself and the community he represents. Mr. White said in part: "The last legislature had a good opportunity to see who was who and we should select a man for Speaker who was actively aligned with that large group in the last legislature known as the McLean group. I have heard, so far, only two mentioned for Speaker, R. L. Harris of Person and R. G. Cherry of Gaston county; both of these were lined up against this group and for this reason I believe should not be selected. Since a man of my own ideas has not presented himself yet and perhaps will not of his own accord, I would like to suggest the name of E. G. Flanagan of Pitt county to the electors of the state and to the members of the next legislature for their consideration if they want an eastwardly looking Speaker."

Strike Situation Quiet In N. C.; Four Mills Idle

(By The Associated Press) North Carolina's strike situation today was quieter than for many weeks but while wheels in two mills turned almost in capacity production after being long idle, four more mills were closed with conditions deadlocked.

At Thomasville, the Thomasville Chair Company had 800 of its 900 workers back at their posts and the other 100 were promised work as soon as conditions permit.

Three hundred were again working at the Stehli Silk Mill in High Point and 100 other workers there (Continued on Page Four)

HEAVY LEAF SALES HERE

Largest Offerings of Season Recorded in Greenville Yesterday and Today.

The sale of bright leaf tobacco, which has been light since the opening of the market over two weeks ago, hit its stride in Greenville yesterday and today with the largest offerings of the year recorded.

The official report of sales issued by K. W. Cobb, supervisor of sales, showed the market sold yesterday a total sum of $109,309.46 at an average of $9.64 per hundred pounds.

Although the sale was the largest of any single day of the season, the floors of all warehouses were cleared by 5 o'clock. Sales were again described as heavy today with indications that the market would handle nearly a million pounds.

The quality of the weed and similar to that predominating sales the most of the season. Prices showed usual strength but the enormous offerings of low grades held down the general average.

E. G. Flanagan Boosted As Speaker Of House

E. G. Flanagan, prominent business man of Greenville and member of the North Carolina Legislature from this county, has been proposed as the next Speaker of the House of Representatives. Writing in the September 18 edition of the Greensboro News, J. L. White of Kinston, suggested Mr. Flanagan from the east or V. R. Johnson of Chatham, from the west. Mr. Flanagan has represented this county in the legislature for several terms and will return the next session better equipped than ever to carry out the wishes of his constituents. In addition to being a business man of vision and capability, he is well acquainted with the political life of the state and would fill the Speaker's chair with credit to himself and the community he represents. Mr. White said in part: "The last legislature had a good opportunity to see who was who and we should select a man for Speaker who was actively aligned with that large group in the last legislature known as the McLean group. I have heard, so far, only two mentioned for Speaker, R. L. Harris of Person and R. G. They were taken to the jail shortly after midnight following the arrival of state troopers who dispersed a crowd of 3,000 that had held the private detectives and (Continued on Page Four)

GHANDI BEGINS FAST OF DEATH

Leader of Millions of Indians Protests the British Settlement of Election Problems.

Poona, India, Sept. 20.—(AP)—Mahatma Gandhi, leader of millions of India's people in the civil disobedience campaign against the British government, began at noon today the "fast unto death" which he announced last week as a protest against Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald's settlement of the Indian communal election problem.

As he started his self-imposed starvation regimen, he was technically a free man. The government this morning let down the bars of his prison cell at Yeroda jail, where he has been a prisoner since January, but the Mahatma spurned the proffered freedom.

He said he would not leave his (Continued on Page Four)

Widespread Search Started for Abductors of John Russell in New York.

New York, Sept. 20.—(AP)—A kidnap band which restored eight-year-old John Arthur Russell to his wealthy father when the police hunt became too hot was scouted through New York and many parts of the east today.

Stolen and held for $25,000 ransom, the boy was returned mysteriously late last night to the Brooklyn home of his father, Arthur S. Russell, stock exchange broker. Police announced no ransom was paid and (Continued on Page Four)

CRACK TRAINS ARE TAKEN OFF

Two Southern Railroads Discontinue Best Trains to Save Money.

Memphis, Sept. 20.—(AP)—Two southern railroads have withdrawn their best trains to save money and have brought anguish to hearts of little boys who would rather be engineers than kings or even cowboys. The Illinois Central's Panama Limited and the Frisco's Sunnyland, institutions down here where trains and steamboats still are romantic things, have been driven to early graves by hard times. And since there is an affinity between trains and little boys—the kind with warts and freckles and day dreams—the passing of the limiteds means more than just economic change.

The Sunnyland was what folks in the Ozarks called the "Slow Train Through Arkansas." It came short (Continued on Page Four)

SEEKS GOOD OF ENTIRE WORLD

President, Referring to Press Dispatches from Abroad, Says the Sole Question Concerning this Nation is Reduction of Armaments Whole World, Step by Step; Thinks Limitation of Germany European Question.

Washington, Sept. 20.—(AP)—President Hoover today issued a statement saying that the United States was divorced from what he termed "the German arms question" but said this country was "anxious that Germany shall continue to participate in the arms conference."

The President referred to press dispatches from abroad, and it was assumed by his aides he referred to reports that Senator Reed of Pennsylvania and Ambassador Edge had informed French authorities the American people believed Germany's recent move for armament equality was inopportune.

The President's statement follows: "With reference to press dispatches from Paris on the German arms question, the position of this government is clear. The sole question in which this country is interested is in reducing armaments of the whole world, step by step.

"We are not a party to the Versailles treaty and its limitation on German arms. That is solely a European question. The United States has already declared that it takes no part in that discussion.

"We are anxious that Germany shall continue to participate in the arms conference which has now such promise of progress for the entire world and shall lend her aid in this great purpose."

FLIER TO WED MRS. MILLER

Capt. Lancaster Will Marry Woman In Love Triangle at An Early Date.

Miami, Fla., Sept. 20.—(AP)—James J. Forrester of the Federal Labor Department said today he had learned that Capt. William M. Lancaster, British war flier and third side of the love triangle which collapsed with the death of Haden Clarke, plans to marry Mrs. Jessie M. Keith-Miller—the woman in the case.

"I intend to marry Mrs. Keith-Miller whether she wants to or not," Forrester said the British flier declared. Forrester conducted Labor Department deportations hearings for both, and his reports await adjudication now in Washington. (Continued on Page Four)

UNITE CHURCH IN ENGLAND

Ten Thousand Delegates Attend Uniting of Three Methodist Churches.

London, Sept. 20.—(AP)—The United Methodist Church, largest Protestant organization in the world was created this afternoon at Albert Hall by a ceremony which attracted 10,000 representatives from many nations to witness the union of the three branches of the church.

The Duke of York, representing the king, welcomed the delegates.

The three uniting branches in Great Britain, after having been split for many years, completed the act of union by signatures to a document expected to become historic in the development of Methodism.

No longer are there Primitive Methodists, United Methodists or Wesleyans. They are merged in the United Methodist Church. Three retiring presidents of the branches of the church signed, Dr. Maudwyn Hughes for the Wesleyans; the Rev. William Younger, for the Primitive Methodists, and the Rev. W. C. Jackson for the United Methodists.

In Great Britain the new church embraces 5,000 ministers, 200,000 Sunday school teachers; 1,250,000 Sunday school teachers; 1,250,000 church members. Its total property in Great Britain in colleges, missions, churches and schools is estimated at from $210,000,000 to $250,000,000.

Outside Great Britain the new union will be linked to 15,000,000 Methodists all over the world. (Continued on Page Four)

Charges Party With Diverting Attention from Poverty to Prohibition.

Rutherfordton, Sept. 20.—(AP)—The Republican party is accused by J. C. B. Ehringhaus, Democratic nominee for governor, of attempting to divert the attention of the voters "from their empty stomachs and more empty pockets" to prohibition in its efforts to win the November elections.

The accusation was made in an address here last night as the gubernatorial candidate carried the campaign into the western hills. Asserting that if the prohibition (Continued on Page Four)

ABOUT TOWN

One of the greatest spiritual revivals in history of the world has been predicted by Dr. R. H. Wright, president of East Carolina Teachers College.

Speaking at Memorial Baptist Church Sunday, the distinguished educator said superstitions and disbelief were being dispelled in the spirit of economic situation sweeping over the world...

Main's extremity has always been God's opportunity, and as soon as the world discovers that real life is up to be gained from materialism, the pilgrims back to the cross will be greater than it has ever been before...

The Grand Old Party has been hard pressed in years gone by but it is going through one of the greatest periods of competition at this time than it has ever experienced before.

With the Democrats waging a campaign bringing thousands of votes in all parts of the nation, President Hoover has impressed upon his followers the necessity of intensive campaigning, and the old elephant will be prodded to great activity between now and November.

The Republicans were sitting back complacently and watching the progress of the campaign until Maine—the bedrock of Republicanism—turned Democratic, and talk about pandemonium, it hit party leaders like a cyclone striking a haystack.

It is impossible to say what President Hoover hopes to accomplish through this "intensive drive," but from all indications he has started too late, and will realize the mistake when he goes to the polls in November to find out how the boys are kicking in.

Presbyterians from all over the State were gathered here today to attend the state Synod. Greenville extends the visitors a cordial welcome and will try to make their stay as pleasant and profitable as possible.

Nothing Venture

By PATRICIA WENTWORTH

SYNOPSIS: The dramatic mind of Ferdinand Francis grasps at once Nan's story the possibility that Robert Leonard has made a third attempt on the life of Nan's husband, Jervis Weare, by weakening the bridge that almost plunged Nan and Jervis to death the day before. Ferdinand worms out of Nan the further fact that it was her self-sacrificing attempt to protect Jervis that put her in danger. Ferdinand inspects the bridge.

Chapter 26 F. F. MAKES A POINT They lunched next day with the Tetterleys. Janet rang up and invited them in a casual, inconsequent manner. She said Basher was dying to meet Nan.

She extended her original invitation to include Ferdinand, and finished up by hoping that they would not be poisoned, because she had a new cook and Basher said she had a Lucrezia Borgia sort of look about her.

The heat held. After a time their road lay along the low cliffs. The blue of the sky and the blue of the sea swam together in a trembling haze. The car was an open one. The sun flooded down upon them, and there was no breeze but what they made themselves.

They skimmed down a steep hill and tore up the other side. Nan felt exactly as if she were in an elevator; but there was something exhilarating about it too. She laughed as they raced at the hill, and Jervis looked sideways at her and smiled.

"Nice view here." The road was on the edge of the cliff. The sea was blue beneath them; the water sparkled in the sun. "Bad bit of road on that hill, F. F. Quite like old times! I can't get anyone to do anything about it, and what it'll be like after another winter, Lord knows." He turned to Nan. "That's your friend Leonard's chicken farm."

Nan sat up straight. She saw a green field dotted with hen-houses, and a neglected garden that had grown right up to the walls of an old stone house. The whole place looked uncared for. "What a frightful place!" she said. Jervis laughed. "A bit untidy! It's been empty for ever so long. I must say he doesn't seem in a hurry to get things straight."

"It's a hateful house," said Nan, looking at it. "I'm not surprised it was empty a long time—I shouldn't think anyone would want to live there ever." Jervis slowed down as they went past. "It belonged to a famous smuggler called Old Foxy Fixon. He lived about a hundred years ago, and after his grandson died people said the place was haunted, and nobody would live there. It's still called Old Foxy Fixon's house. It belongs to the Tetterleys, and I expect they were very glad to get it."

A bare quarter of a mile farther on they turned in at the Tetterleys' gate. Basher, alias George Tetterley, of the Bible into the hearts of humankind, and while science admittedly is uncovering great mysteries of the past it will never be able to penetrate the secrets of life and death—a solution held only by the Supreme Creator.

Relief agencies of the county which have not yet mailed in information asked of them by the State Relief department should do so at once. It will be impossible for the community to obtain federal relief funds until the information has been consolidated with the state report and sent to Washington, D. C.

The compilation of this information is very important and it is hoped all relief forces of the county will act immediately and enable the Reconstruction Corporation to determine needs for the coming winter and provide for same.

PUBLIC FORUM

OUR READERS ARE INVITED TO USE THIS COLUMN FOR DISCUSSING PROBLEMS OF INTEREST TO THIS COMMUNITY. IN ALL CASES NAMES MUST ACCOMPANY ANY COMMUNICATION. Please Make Your Discussion As Short As Possible.

Dear Mr. Forum: Some folks are wondering why I don't pay my just debts, so I wish to inform the public and you that the present shattered condition of my bank account makes it impossible for me to send in my check.

My financial condition is due to the effects of federal laws, state laws, county laws, corporation laws, by-laws, brother-in-laws, mother-in-laws, and out-laws that have been foisted upon an unsuspecting public and me.

The government has so governed my business that I do not know who owns it. I am suspected, inspected, examined, re-examined, informed, required, commanded and compelled until all I know is that I am supposed to provide an inexhaustible supply of money for every known and unknown need, desire or hope of the human race, and because I refused to donate to all and then go out to beg, borrow, steal or otherwise get money to give away, I am ousted, cussed, discussed, boycotted, talked to, talked about, held up, held down and robbed until I am just about ruined.

The only reason I am clinging to life at all is to see what the hell is coming next. Yours very truly, J. S. NOBLES.

Newton, N. C.—(AP)—North Carolina State officers of the Grange will visit Catawba County to confer the sixth degree on members at Star-town on September 27.

A most important explanation is suggested, tomorrow, by F. F. ed Janet Tetterley. "Well," said Ferdinand, ignoring her, "this is a very instructive tale—one of the mother's-knee kind, on the text of 'If you do a good turn, it'll come back to roost.' I'd done my good turn eight years before and forgotten all about it. I'm not going to tell you what it was, because I've got a modest disposition, but just when those bright boys were going to get going with their quickshooters, that good turn came home to roost."

"You're not telling us how you got away," said Mrs. Tetterley. "Pardon me, Mrs. Tetterley, that is what I am doing." He paused and looked around the table. George was smiling; Rosamund Carew lighting a cigarette with an air of calm detachment; Jervis—well, just Jervis; Janet Tetterley faintly bored at the digression; Robert Leonard in the act of lifting a tumbler to his lips; and Nan an eager child waiting for the end of the story.

"My 'good turn' was a man called Hermann Eisenthal." Robert Leonard's glass continued its upward way. He drank as if he was thirsty and set it down. Ferdinand was looking at Janet Tetterley. But those glancing eyes of his certainly had the faculty of being able to see two things at once. He had most certainly seen the knuckles whiten on Robert Leonard's broad red hand. Ferdinand judged that the glass it was holding had missed becoming a casualty by a fairly narrow margin. He finished his story.

"Hermann Eisenthal remembered the good turn which F. F. had forgotten. He had the guerilla chief in his pocket. And if you've ever been all trussed up and ready to take the floor as a high-class target see Hermann. I tell you he'd got Pedro Ramirez eating out of his hand. Well, I've often thought it would be interesting to know what the bait was."

Ferdinand's bright brown eyes went past Robert Leonard to Nan. Perhaps they were looking for something as they passed. Perhaps they found what they were looking for. "Your husband wasn't with me that time, Mrs. Jervis," he said, "or I'd have put the whole thing down to his luck. He's the sort that falls on his feet, you know."

Says Rackets Prove Costly to Americans

Washington, Sept. 20.—(AP)—Racketeering by business men, leaders of organized labor, criminals and politicians was charged today by Gordon L. Hostetter, of Chicago, with causing a stupendous economic loss annually to the American public.

Hostetter is executive director of the Employer's Association of Chicago. In an address before the National Conference on Government, he asserted. "Racketeering is an inside job and a native American product, for which business itself is too greatly responsible."

Hostetter said the "true racket is comprised of our elements," and listed them as—

- (1) The business man, business group, or association of business men. (2) The leader or leader of organized labor. (3) The original underworld. (4) The politician.

"The collective purpose and sole intent of this conspiracy, obviously, is exploitation of the public. . . . It is not my intention to indict the whole field of either business or labor unions. There are high ethical standards in both, but there is also a betrayal of the public by both."

Former Sheriff
Goes on Stand
Extortion Trial

Wilmington, Sept. 20.—(AP)—Parker Q. Moore, former Wilmington mayor, denied from the witness stand today that he had anything to do with notes sent to Mrs. Jessie Kenan Wise, Wilmington society leader, from whom he is accused of attempting to extort $20,000.

Taking the stand for the first time, Moore said he had not conspired, written or seen any notes pertaining to the attempted extortion of the philanthropist.

When asked if he knew anything about the affair, he answered: "Absolutely not."

Moore said, however, he did give a dollar bill to Furlong and that he had been in the habit of giving him money at intervals for the past eight years. He did not amplify the statement.

Wilmington, Sept. 20.—(AP)—A story of being innocently deluded into the actions which led to his arrest on a charge of attempted extortion, given by J. J. Furlong in an hour and 40 minutes of testimony from the witness stand, was before the jury today in his trial here.

Furlong blamed P. Q. Moore, former mayor, who is being tried jointly with him, for his part in the attempt to collect a dummy package left at a filling station in answer to notes sent Mrs. Jesse Kenan Wise, wealthy widow, instructing her to leave $25,000 there.

Furlong admitted he sent negro after the package, but said he was told by Moore it contained whiskey and he could have part of it if he got the package.

Furlong, a former police chief, former recorder and former magistrate, was forced to tell of other difficulties with the law as he was cross-examined by Solicitor Woodus Kellum and counsel for Moore.

He admitted he had been indicted for "vote buying," for embezzling appearance bonds when he was a practicing attorney and that he was removed from office as a magistrate after the Superior court decided he had failed to make the proper reports required by law.

Furlong took the stand late yesterday afternoon after Judge W. A. Devin overruled motions for non-suits, lodged when the state rested its case. The defense indicated it would not require a great deal of time to present its evidence and an early end of the trial was looked for.

Trial of Davis

Continues at N.Y.

New York, Sept. 20.—(AP)—Trial of United States Senator James J. Davis on charges of conducting lotteries in violation of Federal law was resumed today with Donald F. Stewart, editor of the Moose Magazine, on the stand for further cross-examination.

The trial, moving swiftly, entered its second day after a jury was chosen yesterday and opening statements made. The government declared that Davis profited financially, while the defense pictured the Senator as an unselfish, able organizer of charities.

The only witness yesterday was Stewart, the editor, who testified all magazine material was submitted to Davis before publication for his approval, and that news of the charity balls was featured, although no mention was made that prizes were to be given.

Harmony, N. C.—(AP)—J. F. Newell, Republican U. S. senatorial candidate, will speak here tonight, Tuesday afternoon at Spruce Pine and that night at Lenoir and either at Salisbury or Spencer Saturday night.

Concord, N. C.—(AP)—The fifth annual rabbit show and banquet of the Carolina Rabbit and Cavy Breeders' Association will be held at Concord October 11 to 15 in connection with the Cabarrus District Fair.

New York Cotton

New York, Sept. 20.—(AP)—Cotton futures opened steady at an advance of 12 to 16 points on steeper Liverpool cables and reports of heavy rain in the central belt.

There was comparatively little Southern selling at the start, but after rising to 7.03 on the initial demand, December eased to 6.96 under realizing, while there also appeared to be more hedging.

Offerings were not heavy, but the market was narrow and prices responded to small orders during the early trading when traders awaited additional details as to the rains in rain in the central belt.

Liverpool cables reported speculative buying on the unfavorable weather, supplied by hedge selling, and said there was an improved business in cotton cloths with South America and that more of the Lanai cashmere mills were restarting.

Grain Market

Chicago, Sept. 20.—(AP)—Wheat prices turned upward today, and difference between Chicago and Liverpool quotations became the widest in months.

Late in the day Greece was reported as having purchased a cargo of United States hard winter wheat at the Gulf of Mexico, paying 51.4 cents over Chicago December, as against 31.2 cents a week ago.

Thrashing of wheat in Canada was reported 25 to 75 per cent completed. Wheat closed firm 1-4 to 7-8 above yesterday's finish; corn unchanged to 1-4 to 3-8 higher; oats a shade to 1-4 up and provisions unchanged to a decline of 2.

Table with columns for High, Low, Close and rows for Wheat, Corn, Oats, and Lard.

Stock Market

New York, Sept. 20.—(AP)—The stock market moved forward in early trading today with railroad, rail order and farm equipment shares leading the way.

Carrier stocks again held the center of the stage. Wall street seemed to view more favorably the prospect of somewhat improved autumn earnings for the roads, and considerable interest was shown in an attempt to forecast the probable nature of August's statements which will soon be appearing in volume. Santa Fe, Lackawanna, New York Central, Southern Pacific, Union Pacific and Missouri-Kansas-Texas gained nearly 2 points, on an average, the last named stock reaching a new high for the year.

Peter grain prices helped the rail order and farm equipments. Case, Harvester, Montgomery Ward and Sears Roebuck were up as much as 2 1/2 points. U. S. Steel did better after its weakness of yesterday when the preferred stock was particularly vulnerable. The latter recovered about half of Monday's 7-point loss and the common gained about a point. American Telephone rose of the tobacco stocks and a wide list of specialties advanced 1 or more.

Railroad news was moderately cheering. Both the eastern anthracite and the western grain roads reported further improvement in traffic.

Congressman Warren stated that an intensive campaign would be launched in the district during the month of October and that he had requested the State Chairman to send to the district Robert R. Former members reinstated: Lebron Spence, Phil Goodson, S. L. Bridgers, and Francis Bowen.

K. T. Futrell, director of the Pitt County Welfare Department, was a guest of the club and told of the effort now under way to obtain definite information regarding relief activities in this county.

Questionnaires were recently mailed out to all relief organizations, he said, with a request that they be filled out and returned as early as possible. These reports, containing information concerning last year's relief work, will be consolidated with the State report and sent to the Reconstruction Corporation. The State will be unable to obtain relief funds for the coming winter until the complete report has been compiled, Mr. Futrell said, and urged that all organizations speed up work in this connection.

Lebron Spence made a short talk in which he expressed his joy over returning to the club to help further its program of community uplift.

The next meeting will be in charge of W. W. Lee, and the program will consist entirely of music.

K. W. Cobb presided over the session and a delightful supper was served.

GOV. ROOSEVELT DELAYED BY TRAIN DERAILMENT

Ahead of him spread the broad Deer Lodge Valley, flanked by the heavy-timbered slopes of Lolo National Forest, the crests hidden by mists. A light rain during the afternoon and evening was the first the nominee has encountered on this trip.

Today is the eighth of his twenty-one-day swing through the West. He has traveled more than 3,500 miles of the 8,900 mile journey through twenty-one States.

STRIKE SITUATION QUIET IN N. C. FOUR MILLS IDLE

(Continued from Page One) expected to return in a month or six weeks, or as soon as orders make possible a night shift.

Some 1,200 were out of work at Rockingham though all were not on strike. Three textile mills were closed.

At Thomasville, the Amazon Cotton Mill was closed indefinitely and the 260 on its payroll when the mill shut down the latter part of August were idle.

The chair company and silk mill, strikes ended over the week-end. Workers returned at High Point yesterday morning as they did at the chair company where additional operatives were taken on late yesterday and today.

At the Amazon mill, officials said the plant would remain closed indefinitely; that they regarded the mill at present as non-existent so far as operations were concerned.

In Rockingham, strikers demanded recognition of their local union and mill officials refused such recognition. The officials said no operations would be resumed if recognition of the union is included in strikers' requests and strikers said they would not return to work unless their union is acknowledged.

ONE KILLED AND SEVERAL HURT IN JERSEY DISORDERS

Arrival of the troops climaxed a long siege between the rival forces. The outbreak began when workers apparently were angered by the presence of the detectives. The plant opened yesterday morning, with the approval of leaders of the workers, after a strike called more than three weeks ago.

The officers said the crowd attacked them with stones and bricks and they fired in the air with blank cartridges to scare the large opposing force.

When word was spread that Rokej was wounded, the crowd showed its anger and pursued the officers until they found refuge in the town hall eight blocks away, shortly after 6 o'clock. The crowd continued to grow and remained until the troopers arrived.

E. G. FLANAGAN BOOSTED AS SPEAKER OF HOUSE

(Continued from Page One) ern man; or if they wish a western man as some think, I should have the name of V. R. Johnson of Chatham. I have not talked with either one but I am sure they would serve if drafted; and now of all times the office should seek the man and not the man the office.

They were both outstanding members of the 1931 session fighting on all occasions for the people's interest and they were both leaders of the McLean group; and they are both well qualified to act as Speaker. Let us select the one we think we can make the best man regardless of section and all line up behind him and put him across. It is hard for the people and not the moneyed interests to organize the legislature but now above everything else I want the people to organize the next legislature.

Supported by the LaFollette faction, Senator John J. Blaine is standing for the Republican senatorial nomination against John B. Chapple, Ashland editor, who has charged Blaine with radicalism.

New York's senatorial and gubernatorial candidates will be selected by October party conventions, but 17 of 45 seats in the next House are at issue today.

Massachusetts is deciding contests in eight congressional districts. The state's Democrats are re-nominating Gov. Joseph B. Ely without opposition, while Lieut. Gov. William S. Youngman has three opponents in his fight for the Republican gubernatorial nomination.

Former Senator James Wadsworth, a repealer, is without opposition for the Republican nomination for the House in the 39th New York district.

Funeral services will be conducted this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock from his late home near Simpson by Rev. I. J. Strawbridge, pastor of Salem Church, and burial will be made in the family burying ground. Rites at the grave will be in charge of the Grimsland Masonic Lodge, of which the deceased was a member.

Mr. Edwards was born and reared near Simpson and spent all of his life there. He was one of the most prominent farmers of the community and an extensive land owner.

He was a member of the Salem Church and the local order of Red Men.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Fannie Edwards; four sons, W. Jasper Edwards of Washington; Leon L. Edwards of Wainsboro, S. C.; James L. and Roy Edwards of Greensboro; three daughters, Mrs. O. E. Songs have been written about it and tales always will be told about its speed in that land where good stories are saved until the family gets together on the front gallery after supper.

The Panama, that sleek, deluxe limited that followed the valley from Chicago to New Orleans, will never be replaced in hearts of thousands of persons to whom it was a timepiece and inspiration.

It was news when the Panama was late. A lavishly equipped train that made the 1,000 mile run in less than 24 hours, it was the pride and joy of the valley just like the City of Natchez and Robert E. Lee were a few years ago when folks did their traveling on steamboats.

The Panama's fame was so great that boys were promised trips on its clubcars as payment for good behavior.

The train left Chicago several hours behind its sister, the Oreole Limited, and hurried through the corn belt to Carbondale, where it grabbed its St. Louis sleepers at dusk and headed for the south.

Folks at Cairo often delayed supper until three long, sonorous blasts told the little city the famous train was crossing the Mason and Dixon line. It crept over the long Ohio river bridge there just as the evening mist rose from the gulf across the span and the engineer would sit on his whistle cord to tell his passengers they were in the south and "a'headin' fo' N'Awleens."

REPORT NEW STORM ON WAY

Tides swelled on the Louisiana coast and all precautions were taken from invasion as coast residents retreated inland.

In New Orleans there were intermittent heavy rains during yesterday while the barometer fell and later rose, but there was little wind in the city.

The waters of Lake Pontchartrain swelled and pitched, and along the Gulf coast seawall the breakers pitched over the senic highways as squall after squall drove through.

Light shipping on the Mississippi coast sought back shelters and strapping craft, which were to be sent out by Biloxi factory interests during the strike of shrimpers, were held up.

The Gulf tide on the Louisiana coast swelled in Terrebonne parish to within seven miles of the town of Montague, which is twenty miles from the coast.

HEAVY LEAF SALES HERE

(Continued from Page One) season because of unfavorable weather, but the coming of rainfall the later part of last week enabled growers to grade the weed and prepare it for marketing.

Sales are expected to be heavy from now on until the Thanksgiving holidays when the bulk of the crop probably will be disposed of. In view of the fifty per cent shortage of the crop the price situation was expected to remain firm the rest of the season, and especially when the offering of improved grades begins.

GHANDI BEGINS DEATH FAST

(Continued from Page One) cell unless he were forcibly removed and the indications were the government would not remove him.

Hundreds of telegrams and letters from friends of the Mahatma, urging him to give over his proposed death fast, were received at the jail and many Indian leaders added their efforts to dissuade him. He began preparing for the fast yesterday by cutting down on the amount of food taken at a meal and spacing the meals farther apart.

Many offers of a comfortable home for him during the fast also were received, including an invitation to live at the mission home for depressed classes, but he refused them.

Gandhi is 62. Most of his life has been spent in turmoil. But in spite of it he has seemed to remain entirely calm.
