SCORES KILLED AS HURRICANE LASHES SAN JUAN

Tropical Storm Causes Great Property Damage In Puerto Rican City

HUNDREDS ARE ALSO INJURED

Thousands Are Left Homeless By Storm Even Greater Than Disastrous Blow In 1928; Residents Of Santo Domingo Panic-Stricken In Face Of Approaching Disturbance; Terrific Gale Moving In Direction Of Haiti

San Juan, Puerto Rico, Sept. 27.—(AP)—Dazed by a terrific hurricane which pounded this island for three hours last night, Puerto Rico counted its dead today at between 30 and 50 and measured its property loss in millions of dollars. A 120-mile wind left hundreds of houses open to the sky and the torrents of rain which poured down after the blow had passed. The work of reconstruction began immediately, but the water service was out of operation and the lighting plant had been crippled. It was feared that the citrus fruit crop, with an estimated value of $7,000,000 would be a complete loss and that the damage to the new coffee crop would be even heavier.

San Juan, P. R., Sept. 27.—(AP)—At least thirty persons are known to have been killed in a terrific hurricane which struck this city last night.

The full force of a 120-mile wind struck before midnight and lashed the city until 2:30 this morning, causing property damage even greater than that left in the wake of the disastrous 1928 blow.

Hundreds were injured and thousands were left homeless. Most of the dead, the first reports indicated, were in smaller outlying towns, such as Barrios, Sabanalana, Catano and Rio Piedras.

Here in the city the loss of life was materially reduced by the police who took the precaution of rounding up hundreds of women and children, removing them from their homes and placing them for safety in the more substantial church and school buildings.

The villages, consisting for the most part of flimsy homes, had no such protection. Even in San Juan homes were unroofed by the score and torrents of rain poured in.

First reports gave the following death toll: Barrios, 14 dead; Sabanalana, 4; Canto, 2; Rio Piedras, 10.

Various reports from the last-named town placed the death toll there as high as forty, with seven members of one family killed in their home. Rio Piedras is about five miles east of San Juan, directly in the path of the storm. The unsubstantial native dwellings stood exposed on the hillside.

Santo Domingo, Republic of Domingo, Sept. 27.—(AP)—Residents of this city were panic-stricken today, fearing that the hurricane which caused heavy loss of life and property damage in Puerto Rico would strike here next.

This morning there was only a slight rain and the barometer was normal, but the wind blew persistently from the direction of Puerto Rico.

Santo Domingo has not yet recovered fully from the disastrous hurricane of September, 1930, when nearly 3,000 persons lost their lives.

Washington, Sept. 27.—(AP)—Reports to the Weather Bureau here indicated this morning that the storm which struck Puerto Rico last night would pass along the north coast of Santo Domingo and Haiti some time today.

The disturbance, the Bureau said, was "continuing to move slightly north or west at a speed of at least twelve miles an hour."

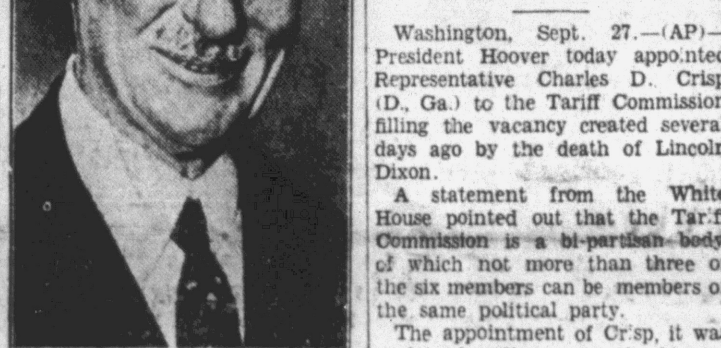

The center of the hurricane, the Bureau said, passed a short distance south of San Juan, Puerto Rico, at 1 a. m. The lowest barometer reading.

Greenville Leads Belt In Sales Of Bright Leaf

Clinging tenaciously to its reputation established last season as the greatest bright leaf tobacco market in the world, Greenville was leading by a comfortable margin today all other markets of the belt.

NAME CRISP TO TARIFF BODY

President Appoints Georgia Man To Commission To Succeed Lincoln Dixon.

Washington, Sept. 27.—(AP)—President Hoover today appointed Representative Charles D. Crisp (D., Ga.) to the Tariff Commission filling the vacancy created several days ago by the death of Lincoln Dixon.

A statement from the White House pointed out that the Tariff Commission is a bi-partisan body, of which not more than three of the six members can be members of the same political party.

The appointment of Crisp, it was explained, will preserve the bi-partisan character of the commission. The late Commissioner Dixon.

DAMAGE SUIT IN COURT HERE

Bossie Mills Suing Coca-Cola Company for $5,000; Divorce Granted

The civil term of Pitt County Superior court, which convened here yesterday with Judge Clayton Moore of Williamston, presiding, was occupied today with the $5,000 damage suit of Bossie Mills of Black Jack, against the Coca Cola Bottling Works of this city.

In the suit which was begun following the disposition of a divorce case yesterday morning, Mills claims to have suffered probably permanent injuries from swallowing a part of a hair pin clasp while drinking a Coca Cola at Sepner's store in Black Jack about a year ago. He contends he was in great pain after swallowing the clasp and had suffered ever since.

The Coca Cola Company claims it is not liable for damage because.

Former Contest Winners Enroll Again For Prize

Two former winners in Reflector subscription campaigns have just enrolled again for a share of the more than $1,500.00 in cash that the paper will award to ambitious workers on the afternoon of Nov. 12th, just six weeks from this coming Saturday.

Mrs. R. C. Abee of Greenville, first place winner of the drive conducted by The Reflector seven years ago, has already entered this affair and made her first subscription to return to the campaign office upstairs in The Reflector Building. Her prize won seven years ago was a Hudson Sedan selling at that time in the neighborhood of around $1,200.00.

RELIEF HOLDS SPOTLIGHT IN STRIKE ZONE

Governor Gardner Indicates He Will Use Relief Funds At Rockingham

(By The Associated Press)—The problem of relief for approximately 1,200 workers and their families left without support by the Rockingham textile strike today overshadowed efforts at reconciliation between the strikers and their employers.

Gov. O. Max Gardner indicated in a statement at Raleigh that the state would step in with federal relief funds to care for the emergency, while there arose a dispute between representatives of the strikers and O. G. Reynolds, Richmond county welfare officer, over distribution of government flour.

Meanwhile, the re-opening of the Amazon cotton mill at Thomasville had marked the end of all strikes which for weeks held more than 1,000 workers off their jobs there, but a small plant at High Point was reported "closed indefinitely" because of a walkout of 40 of its 70 employees.

Athens, Greece, Sept. 27.—(AP)—More than one hundred were killed and at least 150 were injured in an earthquake which struck the Chalcidic region last night.

The village of Stratoniokion was reduced to ruins, and the casualties there were placed this afternoon at fifty dead and one hundred injured. Fifty persons were reported killed in the nearby village of Ierissos where numerous houses collapsed.

State Promised Warmer Weather With Some Rain

(By The Associated Press) North Carolina was promised some relief today from the wintry temperatures which blanketed the State with unseasonable fires and topcoats Monday.

There was no sudden jump of the thermometer, however, as chilly rains continued in scattered sections.

Any relief, however, was noticeable as compared with the damp high of 52 Durham had yesterday, or the low 50's of Charlotte, Asheville, Raleigh and other points throughout the State.

The weather man promised generally rising temperatures today with continued rain.

State Moves To Dismiss 4 Bank Case Appeals

Raleigh, Sept. 27.—(AP)—The state today moved to "docket and dismiss" appeals in four bank cases from Western North Carolina which involve Col. Ike Lea of Tennessee, Wallace B. Davis of Asheville, Mack Rhodes of Hendersonville, and Thomas H. Shipman of Brevard, as well as others facing prison terms for bank law violations.

A. A. F. Seawell, assistant attorney general, appeared before the Supreme Court and served notice that he would appear next Tuesday to ask the court to immediately docket and dismiss the appeals.

Under normal court procedure the cases would come up for argument when the 19th judicial district cases are reached, in about two months. The court would then take the appeals under consideration and hand down its decision at will.

If the court accepts the view of Mr. Seawell and Attorney General Brummitt that all of the appeals, which cover various pleas of irregularity in the lower courts, are "matters not presentable" the cases will be docketed and dismissed at once.

Prices Higher As Middle Belt Markets Begin Work

(By The Associated Press) Light breaks, with prices averaging from $11 to $12.50 a hundred, today greeted the opening of the ten "middle" markets of the North Carolina old bright leaf tobacco belt.

Common grades on practically every warehouse floor were bringing prices two or three times better than opening day last season, while the better grades registered a substantial increase.

Farmers appeared well pleased with the opening and no tags were reported turned.

Garage At Home Of Judge Webster Thayer, Who Presided At Famous Sacco-Vanzetti Trial, Also Wrecked By Blast; Jurist Has Narrow Escape From Death. As His Wife and Maid Are Hurt; City of Worcester Roused by Blast

Worcester, Mass., Sept. 27.—(AP)—The home of Judge Webster Thayer, 74-year-old jurist who presided at the Sacco-Vanzetti trial, was destroyed early today by a dynamite bomb that injured his wife and a maid.

The house was wrecked, a garage at the rear was tipped over on its side and homes for several hundred yards were shaken by the blast.

Police said a neighbor saw an automobile draw up to the front of the Thayer home a few minutes before the explosion. A man got out, walked to the rear of the house, ran back to the automobile a moment later and sped away.

At the rear, beneath a verandah and directly under the judge's bedroom, police found bits of the bomb. Had it blown in an upward direction rather than sideways, the judge would have been killed, police said.

The Thayer family and the maid were literally blown from their beds. Mrs. Thayer was helped through a front door by firemen and taken to the Memorial Hospital, where her condition was not regarded as serious.

She received several cuts about the head. Joan Ashe, the maid, carried down a fire ladder from her second floor room, was taken to the City Hospital with cuts and bruises.

The judge walked from his home unaided and remained on the grounds to offer what aid he might to investigators. He was visibly shaken.

Virtually the entire city was roused by the blast which was heard for miles.

Neither the police nor Judge Thayer were ready to lay the blame at the door of any person or organization.

"I should hate to think," Judge Thayer said, "that because a man does his duty before mankind and God his penalty is this."

A little later, in a slightly more smiling manner, he commented: "They can't kill me that easily."

Judge Thayer's home, at 180 Institute Road, has been under the watchfulness of the police many times since August 23, 1927, when Nicola Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti went to the electric chair at Massachusetts State Prison for the murder of a paymaster and a guard in South Braintree in April, 1920.

Boston, Sept. 27.—(AP)—The Boston Traveler today was told over the long distance telephone by Governor Joseph B. Ely at his home in Westfield that "every resource of the commonwealth will be used to apprehend the culprits responsible for wrecking the home of Judge Webster Thayer in Worcester early today."

The governor said he was leaving immediately for Worcester to get first-hand knowledge of the case.

Senator Borah's Wife Improving

Boise, Idaho, Sept. 27.—(AP)—Hope for the recovery of Mrs. William E. Borah was increased here today by successive physicians' bulletins indicating she was slowly gaining in the struggle against pneumonia, or parrot fever.

Improvement was noted through yesterday and at midnight Dr. Ralph Paik reported she had maintained her gains against the disease though her heart muscles still were weak.

New Chevrolet Dealers Named For Greenville

Brown & White, Inc., have been appointed authorized Chevrolet dealers for Greenville and vicinity. It was announced today. The new firm will be located in the building formerly used by the Pitt Chevrolet Co., and will carry a full line of cars and equipment.

The new concern will formally throw open its doors to the public tomorrow. Several carloads of cars were enroute to Greenville today to be placed on display.

It was stated by a representative of General Motors, Chevrolet distributors, that the local concern would be one of the best equipped in North Carolina. The best mechanics to be obtained will be in charge.

W. S. Brown, who has been connected with Pitt-Hudson Company for a number of years and is well known throughout the community, will be active manager of the new business which will be incorporated under the name of Brown & White, Inc.

Chevrolet sales were reported as increasing steadily throughout the country and the naming of dealers here has been received with interest.

TED METZGER AND HIS RECORDING ORCHESTRA TO PLAY HERE FRIDAY NIGHT

The Greenville Cotillion Club will give a dance on Friday night at Gorman's warehouse. They were very fortunate in securing Ted Metzger and his "Campus Owls" to play. These men are coming direct from Vermillion-on-the-Lake, a large summer resort on Lake Erie. This will be their first engagement in North Carolina on an extensive tour through the south. The Campus Owls are a recording orchestra broadcast over popular network in the west.

This music is secured for the local club by a Raleigh woman who had Cab Calloway, Coon Sanders and Bern Bernie to appear in North Carolina.

Due to the popularity and fine quality of music which is exhibited a large crowd of out-of-town people will be here for this dance. Already considerable interest has been raised in several towns.

Ted Metzger features his "Nut Numbers" in his Night Club Revue and many people are looking forward to seeing this.

School Opens At Grimesland

The Grimesland high school opened on Sept. 19 with a total enrollment of 327 pupils the first day. As several students have registered each day since the opening, plans are already being made to standardize the elementary department this year. The high school was placed on the accredited list during the year 1930-31, and so far has been able to maintain that rating.

Plans for the high school extra curricular activities for the year have been made. Misses Lavinia Howard and Lela Brown Stancil have charge of the boys and girls basketball teams, respectively. A football team is being organized. Miss Nannie Williford will coach the dramatic work. The senior play will be presented before Christmas.

After spending their vacations in various ways, the following teachers have returned to their school work: Misses Alma Marks of Scotland Neck; Margaret Allen of Newport; Ethel Davenport, Conetoe; Lela Brown Stancil, Greenville; Laura Smithwick, Core Point; Elizabeth Forrester, North Wilkesboro; Anne Estes, North Wilkesboro; Lavinia Howard, Statesville, and Nannie Esther Williford, Elm City. Miss Mary Butler, of Lewiston, who for the past several years has had charge of the first grade, is teaching in Enghidale. Miss Elsie Zantinger here. L. J. Worthington, former principal, will be at the head of the Micro school system. R. N. Hinnant, who has been previously associated with the Bath high school, succeeds Mr. Worthington. The splendid progress to the school in the past has been predicted for this year under Mr. Hinnant's supervision.

Snake Exhibit Draws Interest

Hundreds have viewed the reptile display of the Bug House Laboratory in the Wooten building next to the gas office on Evans Street. Over three hundred specimens of snakes from all sections of the world are on display, including virtually every species known to North Carolina. Among the State exhibits is an alligator, and he has come in for a good bit of attention. The Mexican rattler, fiercest of snakes known to humanity, is one of the feature exhibits.

The Bug House Laboratory is a product of Washington, N. C., young men who have been assisted by many state and government agencies in bringing together the greatest collection of reptiles in this part of the country.

Fords Leading Auto Sales

Since June when volume of the new Ford V-8 cars began, Ford has led all competitors by a wide margin in sales of passenger cars, commercial vehicles and trucks, according to official figures reported today by E. G. Flanagan, Jr., of John Flanagan Buggy Company, local Ford dealers.

Ford took the lead in national motor car sales in June, increased his lead in July, as production of the new Fords mounted, and maintained the lead throughout August, according to reports for that month already received from 34 states, Mr. Flanagan declared. In addition to this, the latest reports also reveal that Ford led in sales in the largest cities during the first 10 days of September.

In June, the first month when volume deliveries of the new Ford cars were available, Ford's share of total passenger car sales in the United States reached 35.9 per cent, as compared with 21.9 per cent for its nearest competitor. Ford commercial cars were 50.5 per cent of all such vehicles sold, as compared with 37.6 per cent for its nearest competitor, while Ford trucks represented 35.7 per cent of all truck sales, as compared with 27.6 per cent for the nearest competitor.

Ford sales in July, as revealed by official registrations, mounted over June figures and Ford's share of the business was increased. Ford passenger car sales reached 38.4 per cent of the total business as compared with 34.2 for its nearest competitor. Ford commercial cars were 54.4 per cent of all cars sold, giving Ford a greater percentage of the total business than all other manufacturers combined. The Ford share of national truck sales was 34.4 per cent as compared with 27.1 per cent for its nearest competitor.

The reporting of registrations in August in the various states is not complete but on the basis of reports thus far received from 34 states, Ford sales again led the field. Since volume deliveries of the new Fords began in June, Ford has accounted for 45.2 per cent of its nearest competitor. Mr. Flanagan added, Ford sold 2,093 of the total of 4,626 cars of all makes sold in the State in June, July and August. Ford's total commercial car and truck unit

NEW SHIP IN OCEAN RACE

Italian Vessel Expected To Set New Record on Trip to New York

Genoa, Italy, Sept. 27.—(AP)—Another ocean giant took to the sea this morning as the 60,000 ton "Rex" of the Italia line started on her maiden trip to New York. She will make a brief stop at Nice early this afternoon, then race for New York, which she should reach within six and one-half days, establishing a record for the southern route.

Former Mayor Walker, of New York, and his secretary, George Collins, were among the passengers. The Rex represents the latest word in luxury. In her eleven decks are packed the most modern comforts. She has two swimming pools, four tennis courts, a shooting gallery, libraries, books, and a complete physiotherapeutic baths equipment.

The liner is divided into fifteen watertight compartments. The engines and boilers are divided in such a way that half of them could function even in case of a serious accident. The ship carries twenty-four lifeboats, of which twenty-two are motorboats, and of this number four are equipped with wireless. There is a sprinkler system, automatic alarm system, and fifteen inspectors to ward off fires.

The decoration is divided into two periods—seventeenth century and modern. In the first-class dining hall, about 825 square yards in area, there are eight columns of green marble. The chapel is inspired by the chapels in the aristocratic villas of Italy's 70's. The grand salon is decorated with original tapestries two centuries old. The ballroom is done in baroque style, and is completed by a stage as fully equipped as the average stage on land and containing a talking-film installation.

ALICE MARKS IS KIDNAPED

Princess Of Romany Gypsies Disappears From Her Home At Toledo, Ohio

Toledo, Ohio, Sept. 27.—(AP)—The gypsy world was stirred today over the kidnaping of a 16-year-old romany princess, Alice Marks, apparently an outbreak of ill-feeling between two tribes.

The girl, daughter of King Joseph Marks of the Brazilian gypsies, was stolen last night, her mother said, by four members of the Serbian-Italian tribe who make their headquarters in New York City. Queen Elizabeth Marks said one of the men was Miller Nicholas.

The royal parents, Princes Stephen, and the princess were motoring to a gypsy camp near here last night when another automobile carrying the kidnapers forced them off the highway.

Two of the kidnapers pointed pistols at the victims, took $200 from Queen Elizabeth, and then forced Princess Alice to drive away with them. Joseph Marks was elected king of the gypsies at a rally of the tribes in Detroit, July 12, but not without considerable opposition and illfeeling. He resides in Detroit, but several other members of the family live in Toledo.

After the kidnaping, Joseph notified police as quickly as possible, and expressed belief the theft of his daughter may have been a reprisal for his election as king. The stolen girl was dressed in gypsy costume. She was described as weighing 120 pounds, five feet, three inches tall, and having black hair and medium complexion. Warrants were sworn out for the kidnapers.

PUSH RELIEF DRIVE HERE

(Continued from Page One) A considerable amount of goods has already been distributed, Mr. Bundy said, and the remainder will be received in ample time to take care of the demands of the poor before cold weather comes.

The annual Red Cross Roll Call will be staged during the period of Nov. 11-24 and funds derived from that source will be used in purchasing shoes and stockings for the children of the indigent population. The program is the most ambitious attempted by the local chapter in years, and the chairman urged the people of each community to do everything in their power to aid in the carrying out of the movement.

Scores of children have been unable to attend school in recent years because their parents were too poor to provide them with adequate clothing. It is the desire of the Red Cross workers to eliminate this condition and enable such children to enjoy the advantages offered by the great educational system of the county.

Six carloads of government flour have already been distributed to the poor in this county and this has greatly alleviated a condition growing out of the lack of employment and crop failures.

This evening he said he would endorse "any worthy suggestion for cooperation by the National Congress with the government and the round table conference." When the time comes, he said, he will throw his whole weight in support of such cooperation.

PLAN TO PUSH SUPPLY BILLS

Chairman Byrns Will Attempt Speed And Economy in Government Measures

Washington, Sept. 27.—(AP)—Economy and expedition were goals set today by Chairman Byrns of the House Appropriations Committee in the handling of the big government supply bills during the coming session of Congress.

As head of the powerful group that formulates the appropriation measures, Byrns said every effort would be made to cut government expenditures and thereby reduce the Treasury deficit. In addition, at least three of the bills are to be ready for immediate consideration when Congress convenes for the short session.

"Much important legislation will have to be considered by the coming Congress," the Tennessee Democrat said. "In order to clear the way for the other legislation, the Appropriations Committee will begin hearings about the middle of November on the Treasury and Postoffice $1,000,000,000 bill, the Agriculture and the Interior Department measures."

"If Director J. Clawson Rook of the Budget Bureau has the estimates ready he will be able to go forward expeditiously." Byrns said that while no goal could be slashed for the fiscal year, 1934, the committee will "continue its successful effort for economy by making reductions whenever possible."

"I do not see how it will be possible to restore the salaries to Federal employees that they enjoyed during the past year," Byrns said. "With the government's revenue reduced, the employees' salary cut will be continued for another year in all probability."

Jeanette Beall, al of Kansas City. Miss Grayson, whose sister Miss Virginia Grayson is now living in the North Carolina city, has been in China eleven years. She was graduated from Meredith College at Raleigh, N. C., and later received extensive training as a nurse in New York. Following completion of her courses, she sailed for China as a missionary.

Rutherfordton, N. C., Sept. 27.—(AP)—Miss Virginia Grayson, sister of Miss Alda Grayson who was one of six missionaries escaping bandits in China following a recent raid on their mission at Lailchowfu, said today she received a letter from her sister mailed August 21 and that "all was peaceful" at that time at the mission.

The letter was received several days ago. Miss Grayson said her sister-missionary was due home in about three years as she was home four year ago. The missionaries come home every seven years.

DEMOCRATS IN SENATE LEAD

(Continued from Page One) now are 48 Democrats, 47 Republicans and one Farmer-Labor member. Appointment of Walker by Governor William H. Adams yesterday was not unexpected. But Colorado political circles were still uncertain today whether the recently retired chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee would serve in the lame duck session of Congress, which convenes in December, or whether he will serve only until a successor to Waterman is chosen at the general election November 8.

Waernman's term expires March 4. Colorado election laws make no provision for the nomination of candidates in circumstances of this nature. Governor Adams said he has received widely varying advance on the matter. He declared his appointment was made to fill the vacany as provided by the law and that the term of office is for others to determine. Waterman has long been active in the Democratic party in the State, was a delegate to the last three national conventions and was chairman of the Colorado delegation at the Chicago convention in June.

Bolivia Accepts Terms of Peace

La Paz, Bolivia, Sept. 27.—(AP)—Hope for a truce between Bolivia and Paraguay in the Gran Chaco region was heightened today when the Bolivian government announced it had replied to the representatives of neutral nations at Washington "reiterating" its acceptance of the plan for a suspension of hostilities.

The note added Bolivia was ready to accept the truce if Paraguay also agreed and that, as for neutral supervision, Bolivia already had expressed her opinion in a note of September 18. This note recommended a civil commission of neutrals to pass upon any alleged acts of aggression and to determine the aggressor.

Relieved By Taking Cardui

"I was weak and run-down and suffered quite a bit with pains in my side," writes Mrs. Nick Baranco, of Beaumont, Texas. "I was nervous. I did not rest well at night, and my appetite was poor. My mother had used Cardui with beneficial result, so I decided to take it. I surely am glad I did, for it stopped the pain in my side and built up my general health. I took seven bottles in all."

Cardui is sold at all drug stores.

ABOUT TOWN

A Roosevelt victory in November is in the air, it is stamped so indelibly on everything that even dumb animals know what is all about. This fact was proven to the satisfaction of numbers of people yesterday when a dog by the name of "Brennie," the property of Chief of Police John Taylor of Farmville, and the pride of the police department of that place, used actions instead of words in expressing his opinion that Hoover would be swept out of the White House overwhelmingly in the forthcoming election.

The strike at Rockingham is becoming serious, affecting as it does over a thousand people who should be at work earning their daily bread. While the strikers have shown a disposition to arbitrate their differences the mill owners have curiously declined the help of Governor Gardner in reaching an amicable conclusion.

If disorder and loss of life should occur, responsibility will certainly be placed at the door of the men who held within their hands the power of ending the strike and enabling the strikers to go back to the mills and resume labor which is unprofitable at the best.

The mill owners feel like they know their own business probably as many other people have felt in years gone by, but their disposition not to permit an attempt at arbitration is not to their credit and will most likely work against them in future years.

Incendiarism seems to be running rampant in this county at this time, affecting both life and public property.

Not so long ago two young men fired the home of a neighbor over some disagreement. The neighbor and six other members of his family narrowly escaped death. The youths confessed the crime and were sent to the pen. Now comes the report from Gallows' Cross Roads of the starting of a fire that completely destroyed a school. Forty-five children were temporarily thrown out of the school by the fire but thanks to the uncrowded condition of a nearby institution they can be taken care of the remainder of the session.

Such acts of vandalism prove a menace to the community. People who willfully set fire to homes and public buildings commit a capital crime, and the state has the privilege of asking their lives as atonement for the crime. Jeopardizing human life in this fashion should be more impressively discouraged. The people should know that incendiarism is a capital offense and that when they commit such a crime they come face to face with the electric chair.

John Garner, Speaker of the House of Representatives, has gone to New York to boost the cause of his party in the forthcoming election. He says he doesn't know what the campaign headquarters is going to do with him but he stands ready to do his best to put the Democratic party in power in November and thereby gain for himself the enviable position now held by Vice-president Curtis. Garner is one of the strong talking points of the Democrats. Next to Roosevelt, the Texan is one of the most influential men of the party and his activities are followed with interest by both Democrats and Republicans.

The lining up of prominent Republicans with the Democrats, Garner and other members of his party believe, is going to do much toward cementing public opinion for a change in November. These men who stood solidly behind Hoover in recent years, are tired of his prosperity ballyhoo. They believed in him at first but the prosperity bubble blew into a thousand pieces, and they want a change. Out in the west where Hoover held the big end of the horn in the last election, the desire for a change has also become apparent, and speakers returning from that section say Roosevelt is sure to win.

Nothing Venture

By PATRICIA WENTWORTH

SYNOPSIS: Ferdinand Francis draws a net circumstantial evidence about Robert Leonard, connecting him with the mysterious series of "accidents" which have threatened Jervis' Weare's life. Jervis stubbornly refuses to doubt Leonard, and demands that Ferdinand prove a motive. Ferdinand dramatically asserts that Leonard schemes to secure the Weare estate through Rosamund Carew, Jervis' treacherous former fiancée.

Chapter 32

JERVIS GETS A JOLT

"There you have it," said Ferdinand. He swung round in his chair and addressed Nan: "Haven't I given him Leonard's motive?" he asked her.

Nan slowly got to her feet. She stood with one hand just touching the table and looked across the grapes and oranges at the two men. Her eyes snapped and her voice was vibrant with tension:

Jervis won't listen to either of us. He doesn't want to hear anything against Leonard. Perhaps he really thinks you loosened the wheel so we'd all die together. Or I—do you think I had a wrench in my pocket-book this afternoon, Jervis?"

"Somebody's trying to kill you. If it's not Leonard, then it must be Ferdinand or I. Don't you know there's something between Leonard and Rosamund? I don't know what it is, but I've known it was something since the other night at the hotel."

"Why didn't Rosamund marry you? She wouldn't tell, would she? You should have asked Robert Leonard."

She stopped speaking, bending over the table with her flashing eyes on Jervis. Suddenly he flung out of his chair, strode to the door, and opened it. Then he stood back, holding it conventionally.

Nan went out with her head up, and a burning rose in each of her cheeks. Jervis came back to the table.

"We'd better shift out of here, or Monk will be coming in. Come into the study."

He did not speak until they were shut in together. Then he walked to the window, which was open towards the sunset, frowned at the blue and golden sky without seeing it, turned round, and said:

"What's behind 'it' this?" Ferdinand sat on the arm of a shabby leather chair. "Robert," he replied succinctly. "Damn Robert!"

"Well, that's not my business." "Look here, F. F.—" He broke off. "There are things I can't say, even to you." He walked to the end of the room and back again. "That business ten years ago—you say Leonard was seen coming from the place where I'd fallen?"

"Well, I didn't say fallen. It's my belief he laid you out." "And left me to drown?" "You said it."

"What grounds have you?" "I'm going to tell you, because I think it's about time you knew." "How long have you known?" "For about a week."

"Well, what is it?" "It's a very curious thing. The child who saved your life by holding you up in that pool when you were unconscious—well, she just happened to have seen Robert coming away after he'd laid you out."

"What did she see?" "She saw you go around behind the rocks, and she saw Robert come down the cliff close beside her. He didn't see her. He went after you, and by and by she saw him again walking away. That's why she knew his back view when she saw it again—it's peculiar, you know, the way he walks with that big head of his pushed forward. He went up the next path on to the cliff, and when she got worried about your not coming back, she went behind the rocks and found you lying in the pool with a hole in the back of your head."

"This is very convincing—ten years after," Jervis laughed. "I could make up a better yarn than that if I'd ten years to do it in!" "There's no one making up a yarn."

"Why didn't she say all this at the time?" "She was down at Croyston with some kind of an aunt, and they were leaving that afternoon. She was late for the train and soaked through, and the aunt punished her. And when they got back to where they lived, the poor child was in a fever and sick for weeks."

"And you met her again?" "Last week." Jervis paused. The room filled with silence. Ferdinand did not break it. He kept his bright dancing eyes on Jervis' face and saw the publicans with the Democrats, Garner and other members of his party believe, is going to do much toward cementing public opinion for a change in November. These men who stood solidly behind Hoover in recent years, are tired of his prosperity ballyhoo. They believed in him at first but the prosperity bubble blew into a thousand pieces, and they want a change.

color rise in it to the roots of the black hair.

Jervis said, "Nonsense!" sharply. "Have it your own way." "What are you talking about?" "Nan," said Mr. Francis. "Jervis made a step towards him. 'If you're fooling—' 'I'm not.' 'Nan!' said Jervis. 'You mean it was Nan?'"

"I recognized her at once. When I saw the scar on her arm, that clinched it. I've told you about that before. She'd cut herself pretty well to the bone holding your head off the rocks every time a wave came into that pool. It was her arm or your head. And she made it her arm every time. There was bound to be a scar, and when I saw that scar on your wife's arm at the Luke, I thought I'd stumbled upon a very pretty ruse."

Jervis stood for a moment with a perfectly blank face. Behind it his mind, like a shuttered room, was being violently shaken as if by an earthquake. His thoughts slid together, collided, broke.

With a violent effort he turned about and walked to the window. The sun was gone; a kind of golden haze tinged the dusk. There was no wind at all; each tree and bush stood up dark and solemn without the slightest movement. The whole scene might have been painted on glass. The contrast between its stillness and the turbulent confusion of his thoughts gave him a sense of being in some remote and unfamiliar place.

He did not know how long he stood there. The gold went out of the air and left it yet more gravely still. A very faint green light came from the horizon. This, too, faded. An impalpable stream of darkness flowed between him and all the world.

Suddenly he crossed to the door and switched on the light. The room had been quite dark. As the light came on, the windows seemed to recede. All the shades and degrees of the outside darkness vanished. The straight crimson curtains framed blank, black windows. Ferdinand had not moved. He was sitting on the arm of one of the big chairs with his hands in his pockets.

"You're sure it was Nan?" "Quite," F. F. answered. "She told you so?"

"No, she did not. I recognized her. And then, when we were at dinner, I told the story of the plucky kid who saved your life, and I watched her. I could see she didn't want you to know. I'm an inquisitive man and, though I'd like to get to the bottom of why you didn't know and why she didn't want you to know, I haven't got to the bottom of it yet."

Those bright, yellow-brown eyes of his twinkled with questions. He crossed one leg over the other and leaned sideways against the back of the chair. "Well?" he said. Jervis stood by the jamb of the door. He looked at a bare, blank window and spoke.

"Did she know—when she married me?" Ferdinand twinkled more noticeably.

"What do you think?" Jervis made a gesture. There was no expression on his face. "Why not ask her?" suggested Ferdinand.

"I'm asking you," said Jervis. "You seem to be well behind the scenes. Did she know when she married me—or did she find out afterwards?" "Know? Of course she knew! Why do you suppose she married you?" Jervis set his jaw and was silent.

Better ask her!" said Ferdinand with a short laugh. Jervis turned abruptly, flung open the door, and went out. Ferdinand watched him with a quizzical smile. He went impetuously through the hall and out at the front door, shutting it hard behind him.

NEW YORKERS PREPARE FOR WORLD SERIES

By GAYLE TABOT (Associated Press Sports Writer)

New York, Sept. 27.—(AP)—The big city pulsed with World Series fever today as the Chicago Cubs, glamorous champions of the National League, and the New York Yankees, the boys with thunder in their bats, prepared to fight it out in baseball's greatest spectacle at the Yankee Stadium, hard by the limpid Harlem.

Tomorrow they go at it. Two games here, then three at Chicago, then back here for two more if the series goes the limit. A short fight and a twist one. But today it still was something to anticipate, something to argue over, with every office and street corner an open forum.

The Cubs, slipping in under the Hudson at 11 a. m. this morning, were to be given full possession of the great pile in the Bronx for a last-minute brushing up on fielding and a sharpening up of batting eyes. The Yankees, too, were to snap through just enough work to retain a keen edge for the big series.

Meanwhile the greatest activity was miles removed from the battle site.

Kenesaw Mountain Landis, from a central location, smoothed out the thousand and one details, gave managers and umpires final instructions. And in the back rooms it went like this:

"Yeah, they're offering 8 to 5 on those Yanks, but it don't mean a thing. Not a thing. Didn't they lay the same figures that the Athletics would take the Cardinals a year ago and didn't this Pepper Martin make them all look silly?"

That was how matters stood. The approximate odds 8 to 5 in favor of the slugging Yankees, the prospect that there will be showers tomorrow and Thursday, and the majority of fans frankly skeptical of the hope that has established the American League champions top-heavy favorites.

About the only point upon which all agreed was that the big series is not likely to break any attendance record. There has been a healthy, normal sale, and there probably will be around 50,000 customers in Colonel Jacob Ruppert's big ball yard when play starts at 1:30 p. m. tomorrow, but the record of 63,000 set in 1926 probably will not be endangered.

Most of the falling-off in Yankee sentiment the last several days is traceable directly to the double condition of three of the club's outstanding performers. Babe Ruth, Charley Ruffing and Lefty Gomez.

NEWS BRIEFS

Hickory, N. C.—(AP)—Paul Harris, 21, suffered a brain concussion here when run over by his own automobile as he tried to crank it.

Shelby, N. C.—(AP)—L. V. Rhyme former postmaster at Dallas, in Gaston county, was fined $200 and given a suspended sentence of a year in prison in federal court here as a result of a $1,000 shortage in his accounts which he had repaid.

Seima, N. C.—(AP)—A. T. Lee, Southern Railway section master, received serious knife wounds when attacked by Bud Wilkins after Wilkins had been dismissed from his job by the section master.

Waynesville, N. C.—(AP)—Officers here are searching for Lawson Sutton, alleged to have shot and killed Wiley Freeman in the Big Bend section of Haywood county several days ago.

Charlotte, N. C.—(AP)—Police today still sought to identify the body of a boy found mangled in a gondola of a Southern freight train here yesterday.

WALKER FALLS STATE GRID BEFORE FISTS OF SCHEMELING TEAMS GOING STRONG AGAIN

By EDWARD J. NEIL (Associated Press Sports Writer)

New York, Sept. 27.—(AP)—The fight game, a bit frost-bitten about the ears, gladly bunched up its outdoor season paraphernalia today, left the heavyweight question for Max Schmeling and Jack Sharkey to dispute next summer, and settled down to discussions around the winter cracker barrel of one of the most stirring and unusual heavyweight battles of modern history.

Back to middleweight division, by his own consent, went Mickey Walker, still claiming championship there, with the plaudits of 50,000 of the faithful still ringing in his ears, as game a little fellow as ever stepped out of his class to take crushing defeat manfully until there was not another breath of resistance left in him.

For Max Schmeling, conqueror of the doughy little Irishman in eight rounds in the 1932 closing show at the Madison Square Garden bowl, there was nothing left this year but a jaunt back to Germany, a rest for a few months, and then return to resume his feud with Sharkey.

For a while last night it seemed Walker was to cap a glamorous career with a stunning upset victory, and win the right to challenge Sharkey in Schmeling's place.

But in the eighth round the lightning in the black-browed Teuton struck Walker with full force. A right uppercut closed Mickey's left eye, blinded him. The crushing power in Schmeling's fists blasted Walker from one side of the ring to the other, floored him for counts of six and nine, left him rubber-legged, bleeding, helpless when the bell rang.

Without waiting for Referee Jack Denning's interference, Jack Keans, Walker's manager, leaped into the ring and refused to let Mickey go further.

Charlotte, N. C., Sept. 27.—(AP)—With first-game post mortems out of the way, and the verdicts of the coroner's juries in, North Carolina's football even, none too proud of last Saturday's performances, today began to take heart and cognizance of the future.

Particularly was there activity at Chapel Hill, where a scoreless tie with Wake Forest lent food for thought about the approaching tussle with Vanderbilt.

Ceach Chuck Collins put in considerable time telling the boys about their sins of omission and commission, and then put them through the stiffest Monday workout of the season to date, and the yearlings began learning Dehart plays to be fed to the varsity during the later training period of the week. The varsity inquest into the Duke game was held behind closed doors, and they did not do any heavy work.

Clipper Smith, at N. C. State, shifted Willie Duke and Reid Tull up to the first string as the Wolf pack began sharpening its teeth for the clash with University of Richmond this week-end. Into their places on the second string went Buck Buchanan and John Stanko, who started in the Appalachian game last week.

Another shift of the Wolves saw John Komlos in the number one backfield instead of Gohannon. Komlos was one of the drive-wheels of Saturday's scoring fest.

A their reward for holding the Tar Heels scoreless in the opening game, Wake Forest's Demon Deacons were allowed to tart the week lightly.

Pat Miller tea mifaces no game this Saturday, and they were given a holiday out of the wet.

Apparently dissatisfied with the failure of his running attack against Davidson, when the Blue Devils could chalk up but two touchdowns, Wallace Wade started shifting the Duke backs hither and ym in search of a combination with more drive.

Curky Cornelius and Bob Cox, sophomores, were given shots at backfield positions, while Captain Lowell Mason went from fullback to Nick Laney's half and Ersler re-

Market Report Cotton--Stocks--Grain

New York Cotton

New York, Sept. 27.—(AP)—Cotton futures opened steady 2-6 lower under October liquidation against 518 notices.

There was also some southern and wire house selling, but the October offerings were readily taken by the trade and the selling became less active after call. December contracts which had sold off to 7.41, rallied to 7.48, with active months just about recovering their initial losses but there was further liquidation and scattered selling and the market at the end of the first half hour was about 2 to 5 points net lower.

The earlier cables from Liverpool were relatively steady, but prices there sagged off before the local opening, with buying on the southern rain report offset by hedging and Manchester liquidation.

Grain Market

Chicago, Sept. 27.—(AP)—Buying by a party of easterners who also yesterday were conspicuous in purchasing led to rallies in wheat prices late today.

Recoveries from declines were all the face of announcement that the world's available supply showed 32,000,000 bushels increase this week. The increase was attributed to the heavy rural marketing movement in Canada of late.

Stock Market

New York, Sept. 27.—(AP)—Stocks wavered for a while at the start of trading today but later advanced moderately, under leadership of the rails and motors, in a quiet and largely professional market.

There were some soggy spots, but most of these were cared for when the general list turned upward. Drug dropped 6 points at one time, then steadied. Allied Chemical, Woolworth, Delaware and Hudson and Lehigh Valley were also under pressure at times, although Allied Chemical erased all of its early loss when directors declared the regular $130 quarterly dividend. Union Pacific converted an early loss of one point into a gain of nearly 2. Santa Fe, Northern Pacific, Southern Pacific, Lackawanna, Illinois Central, B. & O. and C. & O. gained 1 or more.

General Motors advanced a point in fairly animated trading and gains of equal scope were made by Chrysler, Nash, Mack Truck and some of the accessory shares. Utilities were firm, but not particularly active.

Wall street was momentarily expecting announcement of the personnel and purposes of a new non-partisan committee which, it was rumored, would presently be set up to investigate financial and operating conditions in the railroad field with a view to recommending helpful legislation. Carrier shares also drew buying support from indications that September car loading gains were being well held.

Educator Dies At Greensboro

Greensboro, Sept. 27.—(AP)—Dr. Samuel B. Laird, 81, retired Michigan educator who has lived here since 1924 died today.

Doctor Laird was connected with the State Normal College of Michigan for 50 years and was head of the psychology department there when he retired.

His widow and one daughter Miss Jessie Laird of the faculty of North Carolina College for Women survive him. Funeral services will be held tomorrow.

PROBE DISAPPEARANCE OF CHARLOTTE BOY

Charlotte, N. C., Sept. 27.—(AP)—The mysterious disappearance of Douglas Martin, age five, from a bed in his grandmother's home here today, launched police on a search for the child's father, E. A. Martin, who is estranged from Mrs. Martin.

Mrs. Martin and the child's grandmother, Mrs. J. K. O'Donohue, reported to police that the lad was last seen asleep with his two-year-old brother in Mrs. O'Donohue's home. That was at 11:30 p. m. last night. A cut screen over a window in the bedroom was the only clue police had.

Mrs. Martin said her husband took the child from her in February, 1931, and went to Dallas, Texas, where she recovered him.

Last July both Martin children were placed in the custody of Mrs. O'Donohue by an order signed by Judge Thomas W. Alexander, of the Court of Domestic Relations.

The child's mother and grandmother said Martin had been at the O'Donohue home for brief periods Sunday and yesterday.

New York—With fall in the air, the Department of Agriculture has been counting turkeys. It reported the number of available for Thanksgiving will be 31 per cent greater than last year. They'll also be cheaper.

New York—David Goldstein charged Aaron Holtz five cents admission to his exhibition of "World Wonders" at Coney Island. Aaron Holtz paid; but later complained the price was too high. He was thrown out. A magistrate held Goldstein in $100 bail on a charge of assault.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, laxative pills, or laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't take liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Beware of substitutes. 25c at all stores. ©1931 C. M. Co.

TROPICAL STORM CAUSES GREAT PROPERTY DAMAGE IN PUERTO RICAN CITY

ing in that city was 1334 inches with an estimated maximum wind velocity of 120 miles an hour.

Meanwhile, the Red Cross chapter in Puerto Rico reported to the Navy Department that severe damage was wrought there.

The message said: "Center of hurricane of great intensity and long duration passed over Puerto Rico last night doing great damage to property and crops. No report of loss of life or injured yet available. Wind velocity of 120 miles registered at San Juan.

"The city and suburbs look very similar to morning after hurricane of September 13, 1928, with majority public and private buildings and homes practically destroyed or seriously damaged.

"Chapter's disaster committee already working. Will submit report as soon as possible.

New York, Sept. 27.—(AP)—A tropical storm, shrieking upon the wings of a 100-mile an hour wind, struck the east coast of Puerto Rico during the night.

Whether there was loss of life or property damage still is undetermined, for communication lines were disrupted.

The last report which was received by the Navy Department at Washington shortly after midnight was from the navy station on the island. It said the hurricane was "coming on" with its centre apparently in the vicinity of San Juan, capital of Puerto Rico. Communication with the station failed shortly afterward.

The Radio Marine Corporation station at West Palm Beach, Fla., heard from San Juan at 11 o'clock last night that a "100-mile wind" was blowing.

Neither wireless report mentioned property damage or loss of life.

The coast guard radio station at New York picked up reports of a severe storm in the vicinity of Puerto Rico, but had no direct word.

The storm centered early last night in the vicinity of the Virgin Islands and appeared to be moving west by northwest slowly. Sixty-mile winds were reported from the Virgin Islands at that time.

Several hundred residents were warned several hours in advance of the approach of the storm, and residents were able to prepare their dwellings to meet it.

Reports received by the Associated Press from its San Juan correspondent last night stated that schools were closed during the afternoon and that most business houses shut their doors. Home owners, warned by the government meteorologist at San Juan that the storm would strike the east coast about midnight, boarded up windows and took every precaution possible to guard against destructiveness of the wind.

The dispatches said the people, warned that a storm of great intensity was centered around St. Croix and St. Thomas in the Virgin Islands at 7 p. m., rushed for tools to prepare as best they could for the hurricanes they have learned by experience to expect in this season.

Warnings were sent throughout the island by order of Governor James R. Beverly. These messages were based upon a report of F. E. Hartwell, meteorologist at San Juan that the storm was heading toward Puerto Rico's east coast.

This is hurricane season in the Caribbean area. The great storms which occasionally result in terrible catastrophes with heavy tolls of death and property damage usually strikes between Sept. 15 and October 1.

PRICES HIGHER AS MIDDLE BELT MARKETS BEGIN WORK

An average of $11 a hundred was reported from Aberdeen where the farmers appeared well pleased at the substantial increase over last season's opening bids.

No estimate of poundage was made at Carthage but the break was far lighter than in other years. The average of $12 to $12 a hundred pleased the farmers. The top price there was $53 a hundred for a pile of extra good leaf.

The Durham market reported an average of $12 for 250,000 pounds. First and second primings constituted the bulk of offerings on the Henderson market with the average ranging between $12 and $13 a hundred. Common grades there were 50 to 100 per cent higher than a year ago. A estimated 100,000 pounds were on the floors.

One Henderson tobacco man expressed the opinion that all tobacco bringing up to as much as $14 a hundred was selling at a much higher price than the same grades a year ago, while grades more than $14 were about the same price as last season.

Approximately 100,000 pounds was offered on the Sanford market at an average of $12. Low grades there were selling three to four cents per pound above last year's average.

GREENVILLE LEADS BELT IN SALES OF BRIGHT LEAF

trict hit their stride in the marketing of the golden weed.

There was approximately 750,000 pounds on the floors of the various warehouses today, and sales were expected to be completed during the mid-afternoon. Although offerings were comparatively light the first of the season because of unfavorable weather conditions, the market has had sales that shot well above the million pound mark, and if tradition holds, heavy sales will continue until the Thanksgiving holidays.

K. W. Cobb, supervisor of sales, stated today that the market sold 409,236 pounds of leaf yesterday for $96,955.72 at an average of $10.77 per hundred pounds. The price situation was described as strong with the same condition reported in evidence today.

Sales for the season were given as 7,740,960, and the market paid out $75,718.06.

One of the most distinctive features in connection with sales this season is the fact that more tobacco is being brought from a long distance than any other year in history, and this has helped to swell sales each day.

Tobaccoists were proud of the interest which the people of remote districts are showing in the market, and were doing everything in their power to make their visits here both pleasant and profitable.

Accommodations of this market enables the handling of 1,750,000 pounds of tobacco daily, completely eliminating the possibility of old-time "block" sales. Five sales operating simultaneously on various warehouse floors speeds up the handling of the golden weed enabling growers from away off to market offerings and return home the same day.

At Albuquerque Governor Arthur Leligan, United States Senator Samuel Bratton and the State's lone Congressman, Dennis Chavez, all Democrats, will board the train and continue on to Lamy where the delegates to the party's State Convention will be gathered.

The convention meeting at Santa Fe will recess to meet the party's standardbearer.

New Mexico, the sixteenth State the candidate has visited on his three-week trip of 8,900 miles, is one of the youngest of the 48 States, although it was settled in 1537 by the Spaniards. It was admitted to the Union in January, 1912, but a month before Arizona, the baby of the States.

Mrs. Roosevelt, who joined the governor at Williams, will continue with him through the remainder of the trip to Albany which will be reached on October 3, the day the New York State convention opens.

Yesterday the governor and his wife spent at the ranch home of Mrs. John C. Greenway, Arizona National Committeewoman. A rodeo attended by several by several thousand persons including the party leaders of Arizona, was the feature of the day's events. The governor, sitting on top of a seat in an open car, watched the races and chatted with hundreds who crowded by his machine.

of the fact that examining physicians have not been able to locate any foreign matter in Mills' stomach and that there was no indication he had suffered ill effects from the drink.

Dr. Latham of New Bern, claimed to have found indications of foreign matter in Mills' stomach through an X-ray picture taken shortly after the clasp was claimed to have been swallowed. Several other X-ray pictures were made by different doctors, the defendant contends, and no indication of any foreign matter in the man's intestines had been discovered.

Reynolds, on the other hand, denied that any Richmond county family had been allowed to lack food, whether they were strikers or not.

By W. JOYNES MacFARLAN (Associated Press Staff Writer)

Rockingham, Sept. 27.—(AP)—Rockingham's first textile strike in the 72-year history of the industry in Richmond county dragged along in its sixth week today with no indications of settlement soon.

Some 1,200 workers in one Entwhistle mill and two Hannah Pickette plants continued in idleness as the mill executives, George P. and William H. Entwhistle, and W. B. Cole continued to decline the offer of Gov. O. Max Gardner to aid in arbitration of the strike.

The strikers on the other hand, through their leader, Garland Kanipe say they have "the utmost confidence in Governor Gardner" and would abide by the decision, regardless of what it might be, "of an impartial disinterested board upon the basis of collective bargaining without discrimination."

Cole refuses to discuss the situation of strikers' demands at all, while the Entwhistles assert that they have nothing to arbitrate as no demands ever have been presented by the strikers in their mill. They said the first they know of any demands on them was when they were read by a striker last week at a conference with Dr. Julian S. Miller, the governor's personal representative.
