Thousands cheered as the ship slid down the ways and landed safely in the water.

Freight Shows A Big Decline

Washington, Oct. 29.—(AP)—The American Railway Association, which is maintained by the carriers of the nation, announced today the car loadings of freight for the week ending October 22, totaled 642,173 cars, a decrease of 8,405 under the preceding week.

Loadings were 127,500 cars under the same week in 1931 and 317,319 under the same week two years ago.

HUNGER THREATENS WHILE CHILE AWAITS NEW FOOD CROPS

Santiago, Chile, Oct. 29.—(AP)—National and provincial authorities are making strenuous efforts to prevent the food situation from becoming worse before new crops relieve the grave scarcity of prime necessities.

In most of the provinces bread is scarce for days at a time, and even in Santiago province the loaves, by government order, are much coarser and darker than formerly.

White bread seemingly is something which may not return for a long time.

Much emphasis is being put upon increased acreage for food crops. The government hopes especially that grains soon will be abundant, though estimates of the yield are still in the uncertain stage.

Prices of most foods have been greatly increased, and there are complaints of profiteering and speculation. Arrests are made as fast as proof against the offenders can be obtained and, in addition, the authorities have wide powers of expropriation of all stocks.

HECKLERS OF DOAK NABBED BY POLICE

New York, Oct. 28.—(AP)—Four men and two women were arrested by Brooklyn police tonight and charged with disorderly conduct after they were alleged to have heckled Secretary of Labor Doak, who was making an address for the Republican ticket.

After the Secretary had been introduced, a man stood up and shouted: "Mr. Secretary, I'm here to protest against illegal deportation of thousands of workers by our department and your high-handed—"

At this point the chairman of the meeting, Postmaster Albert Firmin, of Brooklyn, called to police to "elect the man." Police seized four men.

After the meeting two women hounded at Secretary Doak as he walked to his automobile saying he should "do something for the f---in'-on-unemployed." They also were taken to a police station.

Chuck Klein and Pinkie Whitney, Phillie stars, will devote part of the longer winter holiday to hunting and fishing together in South Texas.

TELL OF TRIP TO THE NORTH

Sky Pilots of Kiwanis Club Entertain With Description of Recent Trip.

The two sky pilots of the Greenville Kiwanis Club had charge of the twice-a-month meeting of the club at the Woman's Club last night.

The pilots, Rev. E. L. Hillman, pastor of Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church, and Rev. W. A. Ryan, pastor of the Christian Church, told of a recent trip which they made to Baltimore, Philadelphia, New York and points in the New England States.

Mr. Ryan briefly described different phases of the trip, and referred especially to the economy which they practiced from the day they left Greenville until their return. Being preachers, they came in for many free meals and beds, but when they got back home they had only a few pennies left.

He said the trip was not only economical, but that it was conducted carefully, sanely, safely and decently.

While in New York they attended a show. The speaker didn't mention the nature of the attraction, but said they attended purely for sociological and not physiological reasons. Not everybody understood what he meant by the term but they thought they did and laughed just like they were there with them.

Mr. Hillman discussed what happened in Boston, the home of higher education and pork and beans.

In addition to taking on as much pork and beans as possible, they attended a religious conference in progress there at the time.

Mr. Hillman discussed what happened in the city of New York, the home of the fearless of the speakers and their ability to drive home some important matter without incurring the animosity of members of their own congregations.

He described them as men trying to bring before the world the great truths of the Bible in a way that will play an important part in the life of present-day civilization. Their utterances, he declared, challenged Christianity, and afforded the entire Christian world an opportunity of reaching greater heights of achievement.

President Guy Smith presided and the singing was in charge of Mrs. Ray Tyson, Jr., club pianist. The next meeting will be confined to election of officers for the coming year in addition to other matters of business directly affecting the life of the organization at this time.

NOBEL FASTENINGS VIE WITH BUTTONS

Paris, Oct. 29.—(AP)—Fashion's fastenings are devious this year. Here are some of the most unusual employed by Parisian designers instead of ordinary buttons and snaps: Schiaparelli uses copper bars and slides laced with shoe-string ties tipped with metal points.

Vera Borea chooses large wooden buttons as coat fastenings and silver safety pins to snug a jacket up to the throat.

Adams fastens the belt of a blue corduroy velvet sports suits in place of an after-dinner-cup saucer.

Chanel keeps the jackets of her corduroy velvet sports suits in place with leather belts studded in bright colored stones.

Efforts Last Two Weeks Will Tell Contest Story

After the close of business today there will remain but two more weeks of The Reflector subscription contest. Two weeks of hard work to decide the five winners of cash prizes in addition to the money that goes to non-winners in the form of commissions.

It looks now as though the work done during the two remaining weeks will go a long way in determining the winners. At the present time the lead seems to be held by contestee Miss Lill Wilson, Mrs. R. C. Abec, Mrs. Richard Williams, Miss Grace Gaston and Miss Mary James Lipscomb, all of Greenville. Today we announce 200,000 votes as being a part of their total accumulations thus far in the eight weeks contest. Yesterday's list gave them 150,000.

The above is by no means the order of their standing. These five workers mentioned simply have the required number of votes to keep up with the list as published while the rest of the candidates do not have enough votes in reserve to number the required 200,000 and so their full standing appears.

CIVIL COURT CLOSES HERE

Criminal Session To Open Next Week; the Barnhill Murder Case to Be Heard.

The first week's session of the two-week term of Superior Court which convened here last Monday morning, was brought to a close yesterday afternoon.

The final session was confined to the hearing of motions and other unimportant matters. No cases were actually given hearing.

About thirty actions were cleared from the fifty-case calendar. These consisted mainly of compromises which were affected outside of the courtroom.

With completion of motions, Judge Harris adjourned court until Monday morning when consideration of criminal cases will get under way.

The criminal calendar completed the first of the week kby Solicitor D. M. Clark contains scores of cases of more or less importance to the community.

Probably the most important action to be heard during the week is the double charge of murder and manufacturing liquor against T. H. Barnhill, aged farmer of the Bethel community. He is charged with the slaying of his ward, Jesse Barnhill, near Bethel early last spring for the alleged purpose of obtaining $10,000. (Continued on Page Four)

PINCH HITTER MAKES SPEECH

Frazier Forced Speak at Marion After Pritchard Fails To Appear.

Marion, Oct. 29.—(AP)—It was a lot of trouble worrying over a speaking engagement Wednesday night, for in the end Clifford Frazier had to pinch-hit for George Pritchard who had been scheduled to pinch-hit for Frazier.

After Frazier, Republican candidate, had been booked to speak here, he sent word he could not meet the engagement, and Pritchard was called on. When the time came to speak Frazier meanwhile found he could not present, so he just "dropped around" to see what was going on. He spoke in Pritchard's place.

BULK OF LEAF CROP IS SOLD

Seventy-Five Per Cent. of Tobacco in This Section Is Already Marketed.

About seventy-five per cent of the short crop of this section has already been sold, it was stated today by members of the tobacco industry who have been in close touch with the situation throughout the season.

Hundreds of farmers, it was said, are selling the last of their crop at this time and this has resulted in unusually large offerings of common grades on the floors of local warehouses during the last several days.

It was expected the bulk of the crop would be sold by the Thanksgiving holidays and that there would be little activity on the various markets of the belt after that time. The markets usually enjoy fairly heavy offerings up until the Christmas holidays, but the 50 per cent reduction by plant shortage and unfavorable weather the first of the season has brought about a big change this season.

The official report of sales of K. W. Cobb, supervisor of sales of the local market, issued this morning, showed the Greenville market yesterday sold 1,070,502 pounds of tobacco for $138,740.86 at an average of $12.96 per hundred pounds.

The closing sale of the week brought season's sales to 26,913,886 pounds for $3,122,314.61.

Although the week closed with prices lower than the first of the week when the highest average of the season was recorded, this was said to have been caused by the marketing of the common grades marking the end of the crop.

With fair weather predicted for next week, sales were expected to be fairly heavy throughout the week and marketmen were today clearing their warehouse floors in preparation for rapid disposition of the offerings.

MISSIONARY IN CHINA PREACHES TO CAPTORS

London, Oct. 29.—(AP)—A zealous missionary in China has taken advantage of his capture by bandits to preach, says Sir John Hope Simpson of the China Famine Relief Commission.

The prisoner is H. S. Ferguson, held captive since April and taken about the country as an exhibit. "Crowds flock to stare at him," said Sir John, "but he sees this as a golden opportunity to preach. He wrote recently that he had never had such wonderful audiences."

STOWAWAYS DISAPPEAR

Officers Search For Two Men Who Disappeared from S. S. Duquesne.

New Orleans, La., Oct. 29.—(AP)—Two manacled stowaways disappeared mysteriously from the steamship Duquesne after it had cleared into the mouth of the Mississippi River today, and officers were searching to see if they had escaped or drowned.

Ship officers said they were George Davis, American, and a man named Garcia, who claimed to be a French subject from Algeria.

They boarded the vessel at Rotterdam and were discovered about seven hours after the ship sailed and put to work.

As the ship neared the mouth of the river the two men were locked in a small room, officers said, and it was believed they must have escaped through a porthole.

TRY TO MARRY PRINCE WALES

All London A-Flutter Over Prince's Attention to Princess Ingrid of Sweden.

Washington, Oct. 29.—(AP)—After eighteen years the struggle to marry off the Prince of Wales was still on today.

London is now in the customary autumn flutter over affairs of the thirty-eight-year-old heir apparent to the British throne, and Princess Ingrid of Greece. The prince and his young brother, Prince George, visited Stockholm sometime ago and were frequently in the company of the princess.

Royal match-makers want to marry Ingrid to the Prince of Wales, or failing there, to Prince George.

Ingrid's mother was a royal sister of England. She is a cousin of the Prince of Wales, and a frequent visitor to the Duke of Connaught and other relatives.

She is also a favorite with Queen Mary, and the British public admire her.

Turks 'Yo Heave' Column

Istanbul, Oct. 29.—(AP)—It took one hundred "hamals," the human delivery trucks of Turkey, to carry to the Istanbul museum an enormous Parthian column discovered in the cellar of the Yeni-Djame mosque. Usually one "hamal" can carry a piano balanced on a small leather saddle strapped to his back.

GARDNER HERE NEXT TUESDAY

Governor to Deliver Principal Speech At Democratic Rally at Court House.

What is generally conceded as the main rally of the Democratic campaign in this county will be held in Greenville next Tuesday night when Governor O. Max Gardner will address the voters of six counties on political issues of the day.

The address, which will deal with the governor's administration and the national Democratic campaign, will be broadcast through a special hook-up with the radio station at Raleigh, it was said by the State Democratic committee the first of the week.

The speaking, according to present plans, will be preceded by a mammoth torch-light parade headed by a brass band, and hundreds of people from this part of the State will take part.

W. E. Hooks, of Ayden, chairman of the Democratic Executive Committee of this county, stated that Wilson, Edgecombe, Greene, Martin and Beaufort counties would be well represented at the rally. He stated he had already been promised large delegations from these counties.

This will be the first visit of Governor Gardner to the county since his elevation to the high office, and it was expected the courthouse will be crowded to capacity by people desiring to hear him give an exposition of his administration.

He will also give considerable attention to the national campaign and attempted to show why Roosevelt is the man of the hour—the man to lead the country from the slough of depression back to the high ground of prosperity.

SEVEN MEN ARE JAILED

Unlicensed Radio Operator Also Nabbed in Raid on House on Coney Island; Station said to have Directed Movement of $7,000,000 Worth of Liquor Annually on the Coast.

POLICE UNCOVER

New York, Oct. 29.—(AP)—A 30-year-old blow to a far-flung rum-running ring was the way Federal agents described a raid here today as they arraigned seven prisoners on a charge of violating national radio laws.

Two months of investigation culminated last night in a raid on a Coney Island house. In the walls of the place, agents said they found one of the most powerful broadcasting outfits discovered in years.

In another building agents said they seized seven men, among them George McDonald, described as an unlicensed radio operator.

For more than a year the agents said, the station had been directing rum row's operations by sending messages to liquor-laden vessels off Coney Island, Long Island and New Jersey.

They said the station virtually controlled the movement of about $7,000,000 worth of liquor each year.

GARBLED REPORTS BLAMED ON JINNS

Washington, Oct. 29.—(AP)—John Thomas Taylor, legislative counsel of the American Legion, told the fourteenth annual convention of the Capital District Kiwanis International, today that "half truths and misinformation" are being circulated by Brigier-General Frank T. Hines and the Veterans' Administration about sums paid to disabled veterans.

"To believe the press and magazines would be to doubt that more than a squad of soldiers got to France instead of the 2,331,000 we sent overseas," he said.

He quoted Hines, veteran administrator, as having said the cost for veterans relief in the coming year would be $1,000,000,000 and the total cost so far $15,000,000,000. The truth is, Taylor said, that only $356,000,000 of the $1,000,000,000 goes to World War veterans—the rest to veterans of all wars.

ABOUT TOWN

As result of the visit of Attorney General Dennis G. Brummitt, Grimesland people are in possession of far more information concerning the Democratic campaign for the presidency.

Speaking to a fairly large crowd Thursday night, the attorney general praised the record of the Democratic party and boosted Franklin D. Roosevelt for the presidency.

He declared the Republicans have proven their inability to provide better conditions for the people of the nation and the time had come for a change of government.

Grimesland people have long been staunch supporters of the Democratic party and when votes have been tallied November 8th it will be found that that section rallied to the cause of the party in old time style.

Franklin D. Roosevelt after conferring with state leaders regarding funds for unemployment relief during the winter, left for a campaign tour of the New England states.

Campaign plans were given up for two days as the chief executive confined his attention to providing for the thousands of destitute people of New York State who will fare badly this winter if the government does not help them.

Roosevelt is a man of the people. He is in close touch with conditions as they prevail throughout the nation, and respecting the condition of the unemployed will do everything in his power to provide for them.

Had he been president of the United States his happy faculty of being able to see ahead would probably have averted much of the suffering which the nation has endured as result of unusual economic conditions.

The situation is improving somewhat, but it would have been practically eliminated by now had it been given attention two years ago instead of at the last session of Congress.

The trouble with the country is lack of vision—lack of sympathy for the common people and when the eleemosynary Democratic nominee enters the White House he will speed up the machinery bringing relief to a scarily pressed nation.

The United States has threatened to arm full strength in case negotiations for reduction of armaments fail. President Hoover told the world this week.

That was a mighty bold statement in the face of the treasury shortage experienced by this country. Mr. Hoover evidently had overlooked the fact when he submitted the statement for publication.

The disarmament question is one vitally concerning every country and if not settled now will be later on. The nations are face to face with the stark reality that they must do something to cut expenses and as preparation for war is the best point for assault, something will certainly be done in the near future.

The other nations of the world are feeling the burden of building battleships and maintaining large standing armies in time of peace and it is not likely they will separate their economic freedom by continuing to increase the debt.

Reduction of armament is not far off and it is hardly likely Mr. Hoover will have to execute his threat, especially in view of the fact that he will retire from the White House next March.

Rev. A. W. Fleischmann, pastor of Memorial Baptist Church will go to Stokes Sunday night to begin a series of revival services in the Baptist Church there.

He will deliver a series of several sermons during the period the revival is in progress and they should prove very helpful to the people of the community.

A better understanding of the teachings of the Bible is needed here than any other thing during this complex age when people are

A PATH TO PARADISE

SYNOPSIS: Although fourteen months before Santa had filled him outrageously. Clive finds her irresistible when he meets her unexpectedly at her parents' home. Santa's marriage with Dicky Dak goes badly; the situation is the echo of an earlier one, in which Clive's mother jilted Santa's father, Eric Dawn, and then left him her son Clive to watch over as guardian. Mrs. Dawn had departed for Europe in a jealous fit and before returning managed to permit Santa to grow into an accomplished flirt. Dinner over, Santa sends her parents to bed in order to talk with Clive undisturbed.

Chapter 12

TRUTH WILL OUT

"You broke up the party, Santa," said Clive. "Congratulations. What's the row?" "Dicky. They've heard something. What I can't guess." "Are you home for long?" "I've not decided."

"I'm ashamed. I've treated you rottenly." "Of course you have." "Weariness overcame her. She placed her hands before her eyes. 'I've got to confess. My marriage is a flop.'"

"What he had heard and what he had conjectured pieced themselves together." "Is there anything I can do?" he whispered huskily. "She shook her head. 'I can't bear that you should think harshly of me.'"

"What have you to tell me?" "About Dicky. Why I took him. I couldn't bear to hurt him. Instead of being jealous at the way we parted, he was sorry. I'll never forget the way he dried my tears. You wouldn't have done that. It seemed such treachery to deceive him. I asked his advice."

"Good heavens! About what?" "Breaking my engagement and following you to Europe." "You precious innocent! Let's get this straight. You asked his advice as to whether you ought to chuck him?"

"Sounds crazy, doesn't it?" "And he said that it was your duty to stick to him?" "He didn't. He pointed out to all his own disadvantages. Argued for you."

"That smooth guy." Clive laughed. "After that," she urged, "I couldn't write you. Could I?" "But why tell me? He was cruelly aware of her proximity. 'I want you to forgive me. He glanced at the clock and rose. 'You're married to a smart man.' 'Sit down.' She seized his hand. 'Dicky isn't smart. He's always at me to lend him money. When I refuse, he tells me I don't trust him.'"

"Don't forget that you're confiding to a man who loves you." "Do you?" Then dodging the answer, Dicky's so dear, for all his badness. He tripped before a married him. Every time we quarrel he drinks harder. What I'm afraid of—"

DEMOCRATIC WOMEN MEET WITH MRS. PITTMAN

One of the most enthusiastic meetings held by the Democratic women of Pitt county this week was one at the home of Mrs. G. H. Pittman of Falkland.

A large group of women met for the purpose of getting the women in their precinct to register and to lay plans to see that they voted on November 8. Mrs. J. B. Spilman opened the meeting with a short talk on the need of women in the political field today.

Mrs. W. L. Hall told the life story of Roosevelt and Mrs. H. S. Ragdale impressed upon them for our vote.

Round table discussion then followed and various questions asked bearing on our present problems.

Among those present were Mrs. Luella L. Stancill, Mrs. A. S. Pierce, Misses Venetta Morrill, Kizie Dunn, Elizabeth Gooding, Emma Cochran, Mesdames R. B. Tye, C. H. Mayo, J. L. Langley, C. F. Wildman, Annie O. Crisp, W. J. Moore, H. C. Smith, Tom Mallette, Lyman Brown and G. H. Pittman.

This group found the political world so full of interest that they were reluctant to leave even after delicious refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. A. B. Pierce.—Reported.

DAVIS HOTEL IS VISITED BY THIEF

Farmville, Oct. 28.—John Barrett negro youth, was bound over to Superior court and placed in the county jail on Wednesday morning, following a trial in the local court, in which he was charged with burglary and assault by Mr. and Mrs. Albert J. Mewborn, proprietors of the Davis Hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. Mewborn were awakened about three o'clock Wednesday morning by a noise in their room and found a man going through the pockets of Mr. Mewborn's trousers. They fought with the thief for several minutes, calling for help before their son, Bennett, was aroused and went to their assistance. The police were notified after the youth was overpowered and he was jailed. Both Mr. and Mrs. Mewborn sustained bruises and the former is suffering from a wrenched back as a result of the fray.

Barrett is considered a criminal by police authorities here, having served the best part of the past five years on the chain gang for various offenses, though this is by far the most serious crime perpetrated by him, burglary being one of the crimes carrying a capital punishment sentence in this state.

FARMVILLE GARDEN CLUB HAS GUESTS FROM GREENVILLE CLUB

Farmville, Oct. 28.—Mrs. J. I. Morgan was hostess on Tuesday afternoon at one of the most enjoyable and delightful meetings held by the Garden Club for some months, the meeting taking the form of a well arranged exhibit of splendid specimen dahlias, roses, marigolds, lantanas and cosmos, displayed by the members and featured by a visit to the garden of the hostess who specializes in the culture of fine dahlias. Members of the Greenville Garden Club were guests at this time.

A clean-up campaign was planned for the second week in November. The program for the year was outlined by Mrs. Haywood Smith, the topic for the November meeting being "Trees and Roadside Planting" at which time holly trees will be reset on the highway approaches to the town.

Mrs. M. M. Veasey was welcomed into the club as a new member by the president, Miss Tabitha DeVisconti, who also announced the program consisting of an article, "Old Time Charm in the Garden," read by Mrs. J. M. Wheelless and the story of Martha Washington's flower garden, which was related by Mrs. J. M. Christman.

A round table discussion of bulbs, shrubbery and lily ponds, together with the main objectives of both clubs, proved highly entertaining and beneficial. Mrs. J. N. Hart, chairman; Mrs. E. B. Allsbrook, Mrs. W. H. Woolard, Mrs. J. H. B. Moore and Mrs. T. E. Hooker of the Greenville club, taking part in this feature.

Following the serving of a salad course by the hostess, a flower contest was enjoyed. Mrs. J. H. B. Moore correctly naming a variety of flowers arranged in a large bowl and winning the prize, a potted geranium.

HIGH LOSSES TO R. RAPIDS

Greenville High School's football team went to Roanoke Rapids yesterday and went down in defeat before a superior team by a 26 to 0 score.

Three of Roanoke Rapids' touchdowns came as a result of the breaks of the game. Early in the first quarter Greenville took the ball on downs on the 25-yard strip and punted on the second down.

Roanoke Rapids end, blocked the kick and recovered on the 7-yard line. Aree carried it over for the first score. A few minutes later a pass from Dickens to Gaylord was good for 25 yards and the second touchdown.

Greenville took the kick at the beginning of the second half and carried the ball to the twenty yard line on a 50-yard run by Taylor.

Some excellent work in carrying the ball and MacAdams and Wilson were a tower of strength on defense these two making at least 75 per cent of the tackles made.

The locals will play the Tarboro outfit here next Friday and will show some new faces in the lineup, among them being C. B. Hodges and Madrin.

THOMAS OUTLINES SOCIALIST PLAN TO AID CITIZENRY

Newark, N. J., Oct. 29.—(AP)—Picturing a nation living in "fear for tomorrow" and a winter "of starvation punctuated by riots," Norman Thomas, Socialist candidate for President, last night declared the "immediate and all-important issue is repeal of unemployment."

In a campaign address prepared for delivery at Central High School, Mr. Thomas said "Governor Roosevelt's idea that beer can be taxed heavily enough to balance the budget is comic." England has beer, he asserted, "but it has not fed the hungry nor kept them from rioting."

"Since it seems to be tradition," Mr. Thomas said, "that candidates of all parties must talk about prohibition when they speak in New Jersey, let's settle it in a few words. I stand on the Socialist platform of repeal of the Volstead Act, operation of the liquor industry under government control which will take out the private profits, with the right of local option for each State within its borders."

He called linking the beer issue with prosperity as "part of the campaign to divert as 'part of the campaign to divert the workers of this country from the real issue, which is the breakdown of capitalism, as shown by 13,000,000 unemployed who seek work in vain."

GET SPEAKER FOR NOV. 11

(Continued from Page One) The Legion is making preparations for one of the greatest observances of Armistice Day in years, and in addition to the speaking, there will be a brilliant parade and other features to enliven the occasion for the men who fought in the great World War and the public generally.

In addition to this is a charge of manufacturing liquor. Both cases are scheduled for hearing Tuesday and the courtroom was expected to be crowded with spectators because of the wide interest received by the case.

Many other cases involving charges of robbery, violation of prohibition laws, forgery and others will come up for hearing during the week.

The grand jury will be faced by nearly two dozen cases, and the week promises to be a busy one for the jurors chosen to serve for six months at the last session of court.

EFFORTS LAST TWO WEEKS WILL ELL CONTEST STORY

(Continued from Page One) Greenville with 37,300 a gain of 3,200 over yesterday's list. Miss Charlotte Tyson of Route 6, owing to a recent illness and death in the family, still holds to her 124,000 total while Miss Virginia Turnage of Ayden, claims 66,800 and Mrs. C. B. Williams of Winterville, 66,900.

Mrs. P. J. Diener of Greenville and Mrs. Guy Sutton of Route 6, bring up on the tail of the list with 5,600 and 2,800 respectively.

In addition to the above several others at various times have made small returns to the campaign department in the way of renewals and new subscriptions but for one reason or the other they have decided to give-up the struggle and be content with the small commission earned.

But next week the line between the competing contestants will be more clearly drawn. It is the intention of the campaign department to cast a large number of each worker's earnings in the way of votes and it behoves all candidates and their friends to work hard and earn the necessary votes to keep their name well toward the top of the list.

According to this latest standings 300,000 votes is the total number published thus far—let's see what the totals for the following week will show and who the leading contenders for the $300-$350-$450 and $50 will be. Votes given on paid subscriptions will determine all this.

Late News Flashes

Fifteen to twenty shots were fired before officers hurried themselves into the fray and arrested two men.

Passersby fled into stores, hid behind automobiles and one or two lay flat on the pavement.

Three of the wounded were bystanders.

Stephen Lee and son, George, were said by officers to have been on one side with Elijah McGeorge and Martin McGeorge, brothers, on the other.

The men fired on each other across the street.

Elijah McGeorge was out on bond charged with killing a member of the Lee family four months ago.

The wounded are: Stephen Lee, bullet wound in left arm; George Lee, shot in lower breast, and believed to be in serious condition; and three bystanders. The Lee and McGeorge families who live in the mountains near Pineville came to town to attend court. Officers said as two Lees and father, carrying rifles, approached the courthouse they were told by witnesses that the elder Lee opened fire on McGeorge brothers. A brief session of court was ended.

Italian Moderns Triumph in Fight for Skyscrapers

Turin, Italy, Oct. 29.—(AP)—Modernistic school of architecture has achieved a noteworthy triumph by inducing the Turin city council to approve construction of a fifteen-story "skyscraper."

Three cities now have acceded to the school's demands. Brescia and Genoa having also consented to such building.

Turin's "skyscraper" will go up in the heart of the city. It will be set in at the tenth floor, the remaining five floors constituting a tower.

Two buildings of similar height are planned for Genoa's main square. Work on a fourteen-story structure at Brescia has been going on for a year.

SUNDOWN STORIES

AN EARLY HALLOWEEN By Mary Graham Bonner

"We just can't seem to keep up with this," said Flotilla Botilla. "Maybe we'd better not put up the sign right away. The chief thing is that it's all ready and can be put up any time."

"Yes, the chief thing is that it is painted," crowed Top Notch, the Rooster. He went outside and found a worm and came in eating it, saying: "I got up so early I only had a chance for half a breakfast, and so this makes a quarter of a breakfast more."

"But you've just had breakfast with us," said Rip, the dog. "Ah, this has been my lunch," said Top Notch.

The others thought this was a little strange, but Willy Nilly was adding his sign so much that they all turned their attention to him.

"What do you mean, Flotilla Botilla when you mean, Flotilla Botilla when you say you can't keep up with time?" he asked. "You may have been a bit late with your birthday celebration, but you've done a great deal for me lately. I'm certainly a lucky, short-bodied, long-legged, sticking-out-ears, side-whiskered man."

"Well, said Flotilla Botilla, "we were late with your birthday celebration and now Halloween is almost here and we haven't given it any thought yet. It's Monday, you know."

"I know what let's do," continued Flotilla Botilla, "let's celebrate Halloween early to make up for being late in giving you a birthday present. We didn't get the sign finished in time to get it painted dry."

So they put the sign at one side of the room and began to prepare for their Halloween fun on Saturday instead of Monday.

Tomorrow—The Upset Bowl

About NEW YORK

By WILLIAM GAINES

New York, Oct. 29.—The other night I bumped into one of those parties where the hostess taxes her guests so much per head for their fun and food.

I guess I was a bit slow in getting my dollar into the till. The charming lady, wife of a magazine and radio writer, came around and gave me a gentle reminder.

"Of course you know," she said, "this just helps a little bit in putting party expenses. We like to entertain, but you know how things are now."

Everybody had much more fun than he would have had at a club for much more money. The practice has grown, and parties where the guest must pay are no longer uncommon.

An illustrator at this party was telling of another hostess who took $5 from her guests. He thought that was a bit of profiteering, considering the flavor of the champagne she served, so he managed to forget to leave his five.

But the hostess must have been keeping a conductor-like eye on everybody. Two days later she sent him a bill through the mail!

Shame On the Camera Lenore Ulric is back on Broadway in another sizzling part, with critics and laymen alike rhapsodizing over her great personal appeal. Her play, as usual, is held lightly, but it's the siren from Minnesota herself who counts.

Again there is the nightly line-up at the abate door, to watch the star take her departure from the theater—a tribute paid to few actresses in these undemonstrative times.

Miss Ulric is an outstanding victim of the caprice of the movie camera, which can't seem to record her beauty and allure. Her personality just hasn't registered. Her charm is not confined to the stage, however. I saw her breeze into a recent club supper. Every one present—and the assemblage largely was made up of members of the profession—turned, gazed and gazed. Miss Ulric's beauty is of just that breath-taking sort, and one wonders how even a cold camera could be indifferent.

into moviedom she was disappointing.

Crowd Picture If you've ever wandered around in the Times Square subway station you may have noticed a row of steel lockers for the use of the public.

One drops in a dime, gets a key, and has the privilege of parking articles for twenty-four hours.

I've often wondered what sort of things people trust to these depositories, and my curiosity has been partially satisfied. Hurrying through the station, I saw a woman, carrying an infant, stop to unlock one of the vaults. She took out a changed baby clothing, dressed the child before the eyes of the hurrying throng, deposited some packages she had shopped for, and then took her infant along for another assault upon the bargain counters.

TA station guard said it was by no means the first time he had seen that performance there.

My Beauty Hint.

ELEANOR HOLM

A healthy tanned skin needs little or no make-up, so the outdoor girl's beauty problem is easily solved. In my own case I use cream only in removing screen make-up at the studio.

Because I use no rouge and only a light dusting of face powder, it is simple to remove this make-up without even using soap.

Washing first in warm water, then in cold and rubbing briskly is sufficient—even to remove the bright, medium heavy lipstick which is my principal make-up accessory.

By COLLEEN MOORE

There is nothing more than a can for summer, and a delicate white skin, or water, girls have a problem. There are many ways of achieving a suntan—tanning, but bleaching the skin in the fall is more difficult.

One good way, I find, is to form a paste of corn meal and milk to use as a facial mask. Half an hour is needed to dry the meal on the face, after which a washing in milk will result in a complexion two shades lighter!

A lovely face needs attractive ankles to complete its appeal even more than pretty ankles need an alluring face to round out their success.

Dancing—aesthetic, ballet and ballroom—helps reduce ankle width. There is also a simple morning and evening exercise which I recommend.

Stand on the bare feet and rise very, very slowly to the toes, hesitate a moment and drop back on the heels very slowly. Do this ten or twelve times twice a day and time will do the rest.
