Cuban Town Devastated By Hurricane Last Week Becomes a Funeral Pyre

DEATH TOLL NOW 2,500

Military Orders Burning of Wreckage In the Interest of Sanitation; Probable that Exact Number Dead Will Never be Determined; Pres. Machado to Tour Stricken Area.

Camaguey, Cuba, Nov. 14.—(AP)—The town of Cruz Del Sur became a gigantic funeral pyre today on the order of military authorities.

The devastation wrought by wind and water that also took the lives of probably 2,500 Cubans last week was completed this morning by the military authorities. Its action made probable that the exact number of lives taken by the hurricane last Wednesday may never be known.

ROLL CALL TO OPEN TUESDAY

Intensive Drive For Membership to Be Made by Red Cross Here this Week.

Four different organizations of the city are helping in the Red Cross Roll Call beginning tomorrow morning, November 15. The Rotary Club through its Community Service Committee will handle the campaign in the business section of the city. The residential sections of Greenville have been divided between the Woman's Club, the American Legion Auxiliary, and the Junior Woman's Club. The Woman's Club will canvass the section west of Evans Street and north of Fifth Street; the American Legion Auxiliary, the section south of Dickinson Avenue and Fifth Street from Five Points east; and the Junior Woman's Club the section north of Dickinson Avenue and west of Evans Street.

The chairman of the Pitt County chapter, W. J. Bundy, urges everyone to co-operate in this great humanitarian work by joining now. The quota of members for Pitt County is 1,600. The other towns are putting on their drive with a bang. The Red Cross sees wherever the roll for help comes. It has been the instrument for the distribution of approximately $14,000 worth of flour, clothing, yeast, etc., in this county this year. Its only source of revenue is through membership. Join now in order that this work may continue, for this is going to be the hardest winter yet.

LEAF SALES STILL HEAVY

Around Six Hundred Thousand Pounds of Leaf Offered for Sale Today.

Tobacco sales continued heavy on the Greenville tobacco market today with growers offering in the neighborhood of six hundred thousand pounds of leaf on the floors of the warehouses.

The offerings were similar to those last week, and especially the latter part of the week, and the prospect of an early closing of markets of this belt caused warehousemen to call on farmers to market the remainder of their crop as rapidly as possible.

The market disposed of over four million pounds last week to take a new grip on the honor of being the largest bright leaf market in the world. With offerings continue to come from a radius of many miles it was expected the lead would continue to increase from now until the market closed.

The prices situation continued more favorable than last week, and were the highest of the season. This condition was anticipated all through this week. Although common grades predominate the end of the crop such as that being offered at this time, the prices average remained favorable all through the week.

Although the definite date for the closing of the markets of this belt has not been decided upon, the matter is in the hands of a committee and was expected to be announced at an early date. It seems certain however, that the closing will be set sooner than in recent years. Moving up of the closing date has been caused by the shortage of the crop this year, estimated at about one-half of that last year.

Boy Scouts to Make Annual Collection of Clothing for City's Poor.

Saturday, November 19 has been designated as Bundle Day by the Boy Scouts. Ensign Willett, of the Salvation Army, will be in charge of Bundle Day. It is hoped that the general public will give every co-operation possible to make this a success. The Boy Scouts are eager and ready to do their part in making it a success.

All goods, clothing and wearing apparel collected on Bundle Day will be given a value which will be applied on community efforts in the general summary for local relief efforts this winter. What we get from the outside to apply on our work projects will depend a great deal on what we do in the community. Therefore it is important that every family make some contribution of value in the way of clothing on Bundle Day. If we could collect two thousand dollars worth of clothing it would be two thousand dollars more to local efforts when we summarize what this community is doing in the way of relief.

There is a great need for all kinds of clothing. (Continued on page six)

FIND NO CLUE IN SLAYING

Mystery Continues to Surround Killing Of John McLawhorn Near Ayden.

No clue concerning the identity of the slayer of John McLawhorn, well-known Ayden township farmer, who was shot to death at his home Friday night, had been obtained by county officers today. It was announced from the office of the sheriff.

Although an investigation was begun shortly after the crime was committed, Sheriff Whitehurst said this morning that mystery continued to surround the identity of the two men believed to have committed the crime.

Funeral services for the victim were held Saturday afternoon and burial was made in the family burial ground near Ayden. He is survived by his wife and two children.

Mrs. McLawhorn, wife of the slain man, told officers two men went to their farm home Friday night and called her husband out, saying they wanted to talk with him.

They went to a barn a short distance from the house and talked. (Continued on page six)

Hoover Asks Roosevelt To Confer With Him On The War Debt Situation

TITAN BLAST ENDS RIVER

Colorado River Sent Through Two Channels for Work on the Hoover Dam.

Boulder City, Nevada, Nov. 14.—(AP)—Driving underground to the tune of 150,000 pounds of exploding dynamite the Colorado river was giving up its dead today for nearly a mile so the Hoover Dam can be built.

The blast yesterday noon was a titan affair. The job of actually ending the river and sending it through two man-made holes in the mile-high canyon wall proved to be a 24-hour task. Completion of the dam which diverts all water into two Arizona channels each fifty feet wide, was a rush job lasting through the night and through noon today.

The dam marks the accomplishment of the first major step in the $155,000,000 plan for electric power and flood control in the Imperial Valley and the reclamation of large areas in California.

REPLY TO BE MADE SOON

Governor Roosevelt Expected to Make Known His Answer to Hoover's Note Tomorrow; Action Is Caused by Request from Britain and France for Extension of War Debts; Other Nations Expected to Follow.

Washington, Nov. 14.—(AP)—Great Britain and France—$4,000,000,000 debtors of the United States—will remain undecided concerning their reply to Hoover's note from payment pending an international conference on war debt problems.

Presentation of their formal requests made to this government and already on record was followed by a telegram from President Hoover to Franklin D. Roosevelt asking the Democratic Presidential-elect to confer with him on the debt question.

The action brought also the prospect of immediate congressional consideration. Senator Walsh, of Montana, said that if it becomes necessary to dispose of the matter at once a special session of Congress should be called. Representative Raron, who drafted a declaration asking further consideration by Congress of the one-year moratorium on inter-governmental debts recommended an immediate meeting of the House Ways and Means Committee to consider the question.

Previously a congressional declaration was asked by President Hoover in his telegram to Governor Roosevelt and dispatched from his train on which he is speeding in the direction of the White House.

"If there is to be any change in the attitude of Congress it will be quickly reflected by the views of those members who recognize you as their leader," the Chief Executive's message said.

"I am loathe to proceed with recommendations to Congress until I can have the opportunity to confer with you personally."

The British and French notes, both asking suspension of December 15th payments of $95,510,100 and $19,261,438, respectively, are the first of similar requests to be made by all war debtors for revision of their obligations.

The December payments are the first due since the expiration of the one-year moratorium.

Albany, Nov. 14.—(AP)—President Hoover's invitation to confer with him on the war debt program has been received by President-Elect Roosevelt. It was announced today at the Executive Mansion.

The announcement of the Hoover invitation for re-opening the debt debt question was made informally and was accompanied by the explanation that the President-elect would make public his reply this afternoon or in newspapers tomorrow.

The course was assumed to have been taken by Mr. Roosevelt to allow preparation of the text of his message and also to allow ample time for the reply to be in the hands of Mr. Hoover before it was made public at Albany.

MILL EMPLOYEES WILL KILL THOUSAND HOGS

Lillington, Nov. 14.—(AP)—More than 1,000 hogs will be killed by employees of the Erwin Cotton Mills in Harnett county this fall and the meat, cured and saved for winter needs. County Agent J. O. Anthony said today.

Practically every worker owns from one to 15 of the animals which weigh anywhere from 50 to 400 pounds. Many think of the hogs as having been vaccinated against cholera and regular inspections have been made of the remaining animals to check any outbreak of this disease.

ACCIDENTS IN PITT MOUNT

Industrial Workers Paid $4,196 Last Year Compared with $17,620 Previously.

Raleigh, Nov. 14.—Pitt County reported 257 industrial accident cases in 1930-1931, as compared with 239 in 1931-1932. The injured workers receiving $4,196 in compensation in 1930-1931, as compared with $17,620 in 1931-1932, while medical costs going to doctors, hospitals and drug stores in 1931-1932 amounted to $1,276 as compared with $4,750 in 1930-1931, the comprehensive biennial report of the N. C. Industrial Commission just issued shows.

Of the total 259 accidents the past fiscal year in this county, 164 were medical only; that is, the worker lost less than one week of time and received no compensation for time lost, having medical bills paid only; three resulted in death, six left the worker with some partial but permanent disability, and sixty-six were disabled, but for a limited period, it report shows.

The Compensation Act is justified it is pointed out, in that the several counties of the State are relieved of many charges here heretofore resulting from industrial accidents—that many civil terms of the courts, with attendant costs paid from county funds it is claimed, have been saved. PUSH PLANS TO OUST THE RAT Poison to be Distributed in Various Sections of County On December 10.

E. F. ARNOLD County Agent.

For the convenience of the farmers of the county ordering rat bait between now and November 22, the bait will be delivered to the following places for distribution on December 10: Bell Arthur, Mack G. Smith's Store; Black Jack, Venter's & Spencer's Store; Bethel, M. O. Blount's Store; Cox Mills Road, Roy Venter's Store; Falkland, K. R. Wooten's Store; Farmville, Carl Turnage's Store; Fountain, T. L. Carr, Fountain High School; Gardner's Cross Roads, Hugh T. Stokes' Store; Grifton, H. O. Cox's Garage; Grimesland, A. F. Fleming's Store; Patactus, J. P. Davenport's Store; Stokes, G. M. Britt, Stokes High School; Winterville, A. W. Ange's Store; Ayden, J. B. Pierce's Store; and Greenville, County Agent's Office.

It is very important that those who desire bait place their order before November 22 in order that we may have time to have same shipped in by December 10. If you fail to receive a card or an order blank, you may secure one from any of the above-named places.

The bait will cost 50 cents per package. Each package contains one-half pound each of meat, fish and grain, prepared for use. The cost of the bait is a very small item in comparison with the amount of damage a very few rats can do.

So far as known, the poison used, which is Red Squill, will not kill human beings, dogs, cats or poultry.

Prompt chilling of pork immediately after slaughter is the only practical means of preventing loss from spoilage and is as essential as chilling fresh milk. The animal heat should be cooled from the pork as soon as possible. Natural air temperatures are frequently not cold enough for chilling freshly killed carcasses in this section where warm weather at butchering time or soon after often results in the spoilage of meat.

Many Southern farmers provide desirable "weather" for chilling their meat by renting space in refrigeration plants. Some plants offer this service on a share basis, but in many localities, cold storage spaces may be rented at a reasonable figure. Other farmers use home-made ice boxes or ice-chilled brine in which portions of carcasses are immersed. The temperature at which pork is held is during the curing process is also important, and for best results should be kept near 38 degrees F. as it requires some time for the salt. Talks to Parents

(Sticks Voc. Agr. Dept.)

A farm without an orchard large enough to supply the family needs is not all that should be. Conditions in the past two years have taught us that producing an abundance of good wholesome food is one of the first requisites of successful farming. And the home orchard certainly fits into this picture. Those of us already having an orchard should know how to give it the proper attention in the way of cleaning up, pruning and spraying. Then let us follow the approved methods of producing fruit that is good throughout the year.

These now having an orchard it is suggested that one be started this winter. First select a good piece of ground that is well drained and sufficiently high to provide air drainage. This does not mean that the place must be a high hill. It could be higher than the surrounding territory to insure the cool air to drain off to the lower places and avoid late spring frosts. Then break it flush or broadcast. During the next few weeks decide on the proper varieties and purchase the trees. The county agent can be of much help in the entire problem. Consult him.

Planting the proper varieties is of the utmost importance. They must not only be suitable to one's own section, but to be of the most value for home use as a list of varieties ripening over a long period of time is needed. For instance instead of planting all Elberta peaches put in some of all the following varieties unless some of these are known not to do well in one's own particular section: Mayflower, Early Rose, Carman Hiley, Belle of Georgia and Elberta. These are named in order of their ripening and will give fruit from early to late.

Apples will do well in the upper two thirds of the south and generally the following varieties are suited to most of the south: Horse, Yellow Transparent, Delicious, Starking, Stayman Winesap, Winesap and Kinnard's Choice.

Grapes cherries figs plums and pears should also be given a place, except where they are known not to do well.

December and January are two of the best months for setting the trees, except in extreme northern and mountainous sections.

Chapters of the Grange are being organized in counties all about us. Way not get some Grange chapters started in Pitt county. We don't want to be behind.

About NEW YORK

By WILLIAM GAINES

New York, Nov. 14.—One of the most exciting of the city pale-faces. To a person from the great, open spaces, these Western shows under a city roof are about as thrilling as a six-day bicycle race between springs. But the native New Yorkers, and the New Yorkers from New England and points east, still seem to relish them.

The professional rodeo artists who play the New York engagement circuit introduction.

One rangy steer teaser strode by ate almost as much furore on the streets as they do in the arena. They strut around Broadway in their tank-size hats and high-heeled boots, and add a wild note to the night with their cowboy yells from hotel windows.

Some of the bronco-bustin' heroes and the cowgirls are invited to appear at night clubs, where they get the floor and the spotlight for a group of vaudevillians "at leisure," holding down the sidewalk in front of a theater.

"Where's your horse?" a wise guy smirked.

"He's back at the garden," the Westerner shot back. "Won't you come ovan and let him have a good laugh!"

Manhattan Memo

The laundries are just about the hottest business competitors in New York. They are always sending solicitors around to stuff the mail boxes with cards, or take up business in person. The latest piece of bait was a cheap top left at the door, with a card saying: "This will keep the children happy. Deal with the laundry and the adults will be happy, too." The toy went to the pup and the shirts still go to the same old stand.

The mix-up of alternating and direct current on Manhattan Island is a matter of considerable inconvenience to apartment nomads who take their radios with them when they move.

If a petson has a direct current set and moves to a new address where there is alternating current, it means shelling out a fair sum of money to have the machine changed over, or buying a new radio.

Some day, perhaps, the whole borough will be on alternating current. When the electric company comes along and changes the current in a house where there are radios, he supplies new machines free of charge. The old fur game still is being worked over time. Two young fellows who cruise the East Fifties in a black delivery van are such outstanding offenders that many people speak of seeing them them time and again in the street.

They drive alongside a woman walking on the sidewalk and call out, "Lady, would you like to buy a nice silver fox right cheap?" They brazenly suggest that the furs are stolen and must be disposed of without much ado. Actually the "bargain" they offer is a cheap imitation and almost any sum they could get away with would mean a profit.

Chesterfields are Milder —
Chesterfields Taste Better

To make tobaccos mild and mellow for Chesterfield cigarettes, just about four miles of warehouses are filled with mild, ripe Domestic leaf, stored away to age for two years. The greater part of 90 million dollars is invested in these tobaccos. Is it surprising that Chesterfields are milder? That they taste better? Everything known to Science is used to make Chesterfields right! They're mild—and yet They Satisfy.

It is true that many people have been hard hit by the depression and are struggling to make both ends meet. We all know it is difficult for them to make many purchases beyond the bare needs of existence.

There are many thousands of men and women, however, who are still receiving a fair income and who could be of tremendous help in aiding the business revival. All you need to do is to buy the things you need and can actually afford.

That doesn't mean that you should buy extravagantly, wastefully, or recklessly. It simply means buying what you need when you need it in a normal, natural way.

Have you been hesitating about buying because of timidity or a fear that you might be criticized? Exactly the reverse should be true.

You are doing a real service to the country, to the unemployed and to yourself when you purchase the things you need and can afford to buy. Every purchase that you make now—large or small—helps create work and wages for those less fortunate than yourself.

When you buy a new dress or a new pair of shoes or a new radio or a new refrigerator or a new car you help to give work and wages to people in many sections of the country.

When you have the house repainted, rooms repapered or the roof fixed you directly assist other deserving workmen—perhaps in your very neighborhood.

Nothing you could possibly do for those who need help could be more helpful or resultful than this. Sincere, honest, deserving people everywhere would rather have work than charity.

That's the big, broad humanitarian side of it. The other side is what it means to you personally to buy the things you need and can afford to purchase now. Never were such bargains available. Never were prices so low.

But price isn't everything. Today, as always, quality is the important thing to look for. It pays to buy standard, trade-marked merchandise from firms you can depend on. You're almost always disappointed when you experiment with some unknown brand just because it is cheap.

From day to day in this newspaper are advertisements featuring many unusual values. Read them and take advantage of the opportunities they offer. Business revival will be speeded up if people will again buy the useful, necessary things they need and can afford to purchase.

DORIS KENYON ARRIVES FOR CONCERT TONIGHT

Doris Kenyon, her sister, who always travels with her, and Mr. Rabnowitch, the pianist, arrived here yesterday afternoon from St. Louis. They will go from here to Bridgeport, Conn., and after several engagements in the north, will return to North Carolina in two weeks, when they will appear at Duke University.

The program for the costume recital this evening at 8:30 o'clock, at East Carolina Teachers College, has on it a rich collection of folk songs from many lands that give a wide range of opportunity for costuming and character representations.

There are songs from the French, Irish, Russian, German, Spanish and Hungarian, with a black and white sketch on Harlequin, Perrot and Columbine in five scenes.

The printed programs have explanatory notes so that the audience can follow the stories and interpretations or read them beforehand so they can enjoy watching and listening intelligently.

Miss Kenyon's voice is a resonant soprano, clear and flexible, peculiarly adapted to the singing of folk songs and is capable of the modulations necessary for the interpretations of dramatic roles. Her ability as an actress has been so fully demonstrated by her work in the movies that it needs no further interpretation for the Greenville audience. Her beauty and charm have also cast their spell over her movie audiences, but these are greatly enhanced by a face to face appearance, where coloring and the natural lights and shades of expression can be caught.

Miss Kenyon has several trunks of costumes and it is said that she make lightning changes—she is before the eye as one character, then in what seems only a flash, there she stands as someone else.

Everyone in Greenville will be unable to stop smiling themselves as they see this scene in the play on December 2nd.

Christian Science Services. "Mortals and Immortals" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all churches and societies of Christ. Scientist, on Sunday, Nov. 13.

The Golden Text was from I Corinthians 15:46: "As is the earthly, such are they also that are earthly; and as is the heavenly, such are they also that are heavenly."

Among the citations which comprised the lesson-sermon was the following from the Bible: "Behold, I show you a mystery; We shall not all sleep, but we shall all be changed" (I Cor. 15:51).

The lesson-sermon also included the following passage from the Christian Science textbook "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "It is only by acknowledging the supremacy of Spirit, which annuls the claims of matter, that mortals can lay of mortality and find the indissoluble spiritual link which establishes man forever in the divine likeness inseparable from his creator."

Washington Daybook

By HERBERT PLUMMER

Washington, Nov. 14.—At a time when most holders of ambassadorships and ministerial positions in Uncle Sam's diplomatic service were wondering what the future had in store for them, Ferdinand Lamotte Belin was just getting his portfolio en voyage to Poland and setting out for Warsaw.

But the possibility that the sartorially elegant, wealthy and extremely "correct" new ambassador might have to tender his resignation next March 4 caused him little worry.

Belin is a career diplomat, and since 1917 has been a familiar figure in many capitals.

Job to His Liking. As American Ambassador to Poland his job should be very much to his liking.

Belin's wealth is sufficient to keep the American embassy in Warsaw on the highest plane.

But perhaps there is a deeper significance in the Belin appointment. Although he is a career diplomat, at the time of his appointment as ambassador, he had retired to private life. Twice he has resigned from the diplomatic service only to be called back again.

His first resignation came after the London naval arms conference in 1930. He was out only for a short while, however, before he was back at the State Department as chief protocol and ceremonial officer.

He quit that post the next year. There are at least two possible reasons why a career man was selected on the eve of a Presidential election for the Warsaw post.

The first is the next few months might see significant developments on the troublesome question of the Polish Corridor.

Then, too, the fact that Poland is on the Russian border makes it a highly strategic position for this country. The United States, although refusing to recognize the Soviets, nevertheless apparently keeps an eye on them. A trained observer, such as Belin, might be of great help at Warsaw.

One On John. My favorite Barrymore story is still that old one of Maurice's about John.

When the youngest Barrymore was caught in the San Francisco earthquake, routed out of bed at six in the morning, and put to work by army guards in the burned district, said Maurice: "It took an earthquake to get him out of bed and the United States Army to put him to work!"

Alexander Leftwich, well-known to the Broadway stage, is coming to Hollywood to direct pictures. It'll give Patricia Ellis, his daughter, who learned about acting from him, an opportunity to return the favor with a few pointers on pictures. She came out first.

NOTICE OF DISSOLUTION. Notice is hereby given that the partnership subsisting between J. A. Page and R. H. Howard of Greenville, N. C. under the firm of Fifth Street Filling Station, expired on 14th day of Nov. 1932, by mutual consent. The business will be operated by J. A. Page. All debts owing to the said partnership are to be received by said J. A. Page, and all demands on the said partnership are to be presented to him for settlement.

By ROBBIN COONS. Hollywood, Calif., Nov. 14.—If you see "Pier 13" and consider some of the sequences purely the imaginative nightmares of Hollywood scenarists the script-writers can show you two newspaper clippings of this year on which those two sequences are based.

One is the escape of Leon Kraemei from Great Meadow prison at Comstock, N. Y., on August 23. He "got out" wired underneath the warden's automobile which was driven by a trusty and both escaped.

The other happened September 5 in Chicago—that gang of bank robbers who held two families prisoner for fourteen hours while they drilled through to a safe deposit vault adjoining.

When things like that happen—what's the use of an imagination? Thick Skinned. Vince Barnett, professional "ribber" and more recently movie comedian, says he doesn't need to fear reprisals from the victims he "insults."

"The best of them have tried to get my goat," he says, "and so far none has reached first base. Except one—my wife's father."

That lone incident happened shortly before his marriage, when the prospective father-in-law framed another suitor for the present Mrs. Barnett—and Vince's face was very red until he learned the "suitor" was only her cousin.

ABOUT TOWN

Chairman James J. Farley, of the Democratic National Committee, has thanked Pitt county for what she did in behalf of Franklin D. Roosevelt in the election last Tuesday.

The Greenville tobacco market continues to lead all other markets of this great bright leaf belt by a greater margin than ever.

In spite of the fact that the crop has been practically sold in this part of the country, at least all but the last quarter, the market last week sold more than four million pounds.

Greenville is situated in the largest bright leaf producing county in the world and there is no reason on earth why she should not continue to hold the distinction as the largest market in the bright leaf world.

By reason of the record vote in the national election in this county 744 county will have a much larger representation in the State Democratic convention next time it meets.

Of all the pests of the world, the common brown rat, or house rat, is the most inimical to the interests and welfare of mankind.

Also from an economic standpoint the rat has been called the most destructive animal in the world, and there is no doubt about that.

A PATH TO PARADISE

SYNOPSIS. Santa at last comes to know how Clive has felt, surrounded by evidences of her generosity. She understands his desire to support her.

Chapter 23

A GREAT SURPRISE

Santa was like a frightened child, the dark room, the moonlit sea rippling as it seemed against the verandah, she and Clive sat up in bed, whispering.

"Then we should worry! We'll remove to Biarritz tomorrow." In the morning when he reminded her of their plans for flight, she astounded him.

"I could save him. Lou-Lou's with him. She's all dolled up like a princess. She's the girl, if you've forgotten, for whom he stole my coat. A bad influence, I'm anxious."

"I wouldn't know her for the same wife." She was all sweetness and consideration. From a thousand angles she worked on him.

"I'm not married to you any longer," she capped her persuasions; "but no one will be prouder than myself to hear that you're succeeding. My husband will be proud, too. Won't you, Clive?"

"If I don't keep near your influence, I shall fly back to temptation." Clive was by no manner of means certain that he wasn't being humbugged.

Clive's imagination at once visualized what lay before him. He would arrive in New York to learn that he was out of employment.

just long enough for them to climb aboard. They had scarcely reached their compartment when the wheels were again turning.

Paradise was fading. There was something heart-breaking about its complete indifference to their departure. They plunged through a cutting; when they emerged St. Jean de Luz, where they had tasted ecstasy, was lost to sight.

"That's that," Clive drew her back. "The air grows chilly." "She plucked at his sleeve.

What will Clive find, tomorrow, when he and Santa return to New York?

U. N. C. - STATE 'NATURAL' SET FOR SATURDAY

Chapel Hill, Nov. 14—The stage is set for the naturalist football natural of them all—Carolina vs. Duke in Kenan Stadium here next Saturday afternoon at 2:30.

The Blue Devils have their strongest team in years and are literally polling for a victory. Fact is making due allowance for the 27-year gap in the rivalry between 1894 and 1922, Duke hasn't beaten Carolina since 1893 and the 0-0 ties of the last two years have just made the Devils the more hungry and diabolical.

And on the other hand the Tar Heels have shown their own measure of power since hitting their stride in mid-season, and they have a victory tradition over Duke that guarantees they will play and fight their greatest game. Duke, for instance, was favored to take Carolina in both 1927 and 1928, but the Tar Heels won 18-0 and 14-7 and not even Coach Wade's coming to Duke kept the Tar Heels from getting a tie.

Putting two and two together, the spectators look at Duke's victories over Wake Forest and Kentucky, and its games against Auburn and Tennessee, and say it's Duke's day.

But they aren't overlooking the way Carolina came back to another powerful State and they can't forget that Coach Wade and Carolina have always come through when Duke was on the other side.

The final disposition of the state football championship is inextricably tied to this game too, but that is a minor thing with Carolina and Duke football mighties. State title or no state title they play their best for the sheer joy of playing their finest and hardest game against a most intense and most respected rival.

PAYS TRIBUTE TO POWERFUL DUKE TACKLE

Durham, Nov. 14—Freddie Crawford, Duke's powerful tackle, has been paid his latest tribute by Everett Strupper, well known Southern Conference official who referred to the Duke-Kentucky game.

Mr. Strupper, writing in the Atlanta Journal about Coach Wallace Wade's jinx over Kentucky (Wade has defeated Kentucky teams annually for the past 12 years) said:

"Freddie Crawford, an end from last year's team, has been made over into a tackle and the job was certainly a success. Until last week I thought Leyendecker of Vandy was the outstanding tackle in the south and as superior to other tackles as Sington was his last year at Alabama when he received the honor of being placed on several All-Americans. But now that I have seen Crawford and have been told by people who have watched him all season, I do not know whether Leyendecker is in a class by himself or not. Certainly his two games in which I saw him play were not superior to that of Crawford last week. Yet when I say Leyendecker's play was not superior to Crawford's I have in no way reflected on the wonderful play of Leyendecker."

Crawford has been highly praised wherever he has been seen in action this fall by coaches, sports writers, scouts and officials among them being Coaches Chet Wynne of Auburn, Bey Neyland of Tennessee and Harry Gammage of Kentucky. He is said to be one of the greatest of all-time tackles in going down under punts and that with his sterling offensive and defensive play, have made him a con to Ten SH SHERID PUPA CMFWP spicuous figure in Duke's great record this season of having lost only to Tennessee and Auburn and having been scored on only by those two teams.

A boomerang is a dangerous weapon as it often curves back to hit its thrower.

Thus liquor or drugs, taken to drown worry, in many cases become a boomerang of destructive addiction. Beware of a fat that smokes easily

Protect your digestion with Crisco—the fat that deep fries without smoking

Do you follow the old rule—"When a fat smokes it's ready to fry in"? Don't! Remember that a smoking fat is burning. And a burnt fat is decomposed fat—indigestible.

Protect your digestion by frying with a fat that does not smoke at correct deep-frying heat. Crisco does not smoke if you follow the bread-cube test (see Hawaiian Fritter Recipe).

Crisco-fried foods are easy to digest. Why? Because Crisco itself is digestible. It is not just a "compound." It is a pure, wholesome fat, made by Crisco's own secret process to keep sweet, fresh and digestible!

Serve Hawaiian Fritters tonight. Your husband will love their fruitiness. And if his digestion tends to be touchy, he'll thank you for frying them in digestible Crisco!

Cheap fats may turn rancid or indigestible. CRISCO [IN VACUUM TIGHT CAN] stays fresh and digestible.

At these 3 danger points, ordinary fats may cause digestive troubles. Crisco digests easily.

In the cooking school conducted last week under the auspices of The Daily Reflector, Miss Louise Dixon used and recommended Crisco, the modern shortening that digests easily.
