HUNGER MARCHERS MOVE ON NATIONAL CAPITAL

Contingents In New York And Cleveland Will Ask For Relief In Washinton

REFUSE HELP IN CLEVELAND

Marchers Decline the Offer of Free Meals and Lodging by City and Accept Better Quarters from Sympathizers; New York Contingent Refuses Individual Inspection.

Cleveland, O., Nov. 30.—(AP)—More than four hundred marchers en route to Washington to seek Federal aid refused free meals of bread, bologna and coffee, offered them last night by the city of Cleveland and then decided not to sleep on the concrete floor of the public hall basement assigned to them.

The decision to abandon the municipal hall was made when local sympathizers offered better quarters in other parts of the city.

Officials refused, saying the usual procedure must be followed and the "marchers" admitted individually. The group left and went out to hire a home.

FINDING OF ZEBRASTONES GIVES TOWN NEW INDUSTRY

Alma Center, Wis., Nov. 30.—(AP)—Discovery of a peculiar and attractive rock formation in a quarry near here has created a new industry here.

"Zebrastones," as they have been named, because of their unusual striped markings, are to be quarried and marketed by a newly-formed company of Madison, Wisconsin, men.

Colors appearing most often are white, black, light and dark brown. Geologists say the coloring was caused by a solution of iron having been deposited in white sand. Demand for the stones has come largely from builders of rock gardens.

Stones that a man can lift have been selling for from 25 cents to a dollar.

ASKS LARGER REGULAR ARMY

Gen. McArthur Sees Need of Increasing Defense Strength of the U. S.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 30.—(AP)—Declaring America's preparatory program for land and sea far from adequate, General Douglas MacArthur, chief of staff, advocated today increasing the regular army to 14,000 officers and 165,000 enlisted men as soon as the government treasury will permit.

In his annual report made public today, General MacArthur sights both the Far Eastern situation and European debt and armament difficulties as argued against further reduction of military forces.

"The untrustworthiness of treaties as a complete safeguard of international peace," he said, "was emphasized again by the Sino-Japanese conflict in Shanghai last winter and gives rise to a feeling of apprehension as to the adequacy of our defense and is reflected in an expression as to the adequacy of our defensive structure."

NEW ITALIAN SHIP SAILS

Second Great Steamer Begins Voyage from Genoa to New York City.

Genoa, Italy, Nov. 30.—(AP)—Italy consigned her second great passenger boat to the ocean highways today when amid tumultuous cheers the 46,000-ton Conte Di Savoia steamed away for New York.

The Conte follows closely on the heels of the 50,000-ton Rex which inaugurated the Italian Marine's new super service to New York in September.

PUSH BUDGET DRIVE HERE

Salvation Army Attempts to Raise $2,000 to Carry on the Work Here.

The Salvation Army's budget campaign got away to a good start yesterday, it was reported today at campaign headquarters, but more progress was expected to be made during the later part of the week after all committees have been in action.

Some of the committees were not able to make their rounds of the city as expected yesterday, but they will be out either today or the latter part of the week.

The organization is seeking $2,000 this year to carry on its work in this community, and the public has been asked to contribute liberally when the canvassers come around. G. V. Smith, prominent Greenville tobacconist, is in charge of the budget drive, and several days ago expressed appreciation of the interest which people are showing in the work.

With the relief situation here this year more pronounced than any other time in years, the work of every agency to help carry comfort to the poor is needed, leaders in the relief movement stated some days ago. The Salvation Army is confining its attention to religious education as well as relief, and this double-battled program was said to make it of additional value to the community.

Five Rollins College students are taking their junior course work this year at the University College of the South West, Exeter, England, under a co-operative arrangement.

Accused Of Homicide

Fayetteville, Nov. 30.—(AP)—A special venire of fifty was drawn today to supplement a regular jury for duty in the trial of J. L. King, 32, mule dealer, charged with murdering Will Riddle, farmer, in an argument over a debt on November 11. King pleaded not guilty when arraigned in court here yesterday before Judge Walter L. Small.

Riddle died a few hours after he had been hit on the head with a mule stick by a man who eye-witnesses said was King. King was arrested and released under bond.

MAY ASK FOR SAMPLES OF BEER AT HEARINGS

Washington, D. C., Nov. 30.—(AP)—If the House Judiciary Committee is asked to rule on a Constitutional alcoholic content for beer, Chairman Sumners has his own idea about how to determine it.

"We'll just end out for samples," he said today. "It seems to me that's a good way to decide what is intoxicating in fact."

But since Sumners is and always has been a personal dry, his remark wasn't taken very seriously.

Plan To Halt Marchers

Washington, Nov. 30.—(AP)—All police leave was ordered cancelled by the District of Columbia Commissioners effective Sunday in preparation for the handling of demonstrators enroute to the capital.

Convinced that they must deal with the marching groups without federal assistance, the commissioners were mapping final plans.

While there was no statement from the commissions or Department of Justice that the federal government had rejected the commissioners' plea that the situation be taken out of their hands the latter indicated they were preparing to deal with the problem.

Only President Hoover, under the law can order the army or national guards for policing the District of Columbia.

PREPARE TO FIGHT MOVE ON DRY LAW

Dry Forces Begin A Concerted Movement to Prevent 18th Amendment Change

Washington, D. C., Nov. 30.—(AP)—Leaders of outstanding organizations favoring retention of prohibition met here today to outline battle strategy against the repeal or modification of the dry law and complete a program not only to combat those favoring a change, but to renew vigorously a national educational campaign against drinking, was ready for consideration.

It was first discussed at the recent informal session of representatives of dry organizations and was formulated through efforts of the Anti-Saloon League, the Association of Catholics favoring prohibition, Women's Christian Temperance Union, Methodist Board of Temperance and Public Morals, and the International Reform Board.

Prohibition leaders have taken the attitude that the Presidential election was not a popular verdict on the question, and that while the Presidential candidates are bound by their party platforms, Congressmen and Senators were not, and in voting must regard the promises made to their constituents.

POLICE FIND STOLEN LOOT

More Goods Taken in Robbery of 2 Store Here Recovered At Pactolus.

The rounding up of goods taken by a band of thieves arrested by city and county officers over the weekend had virtually been completed today with the recovery of two dresses and several shirts in the Pactolus community. It was revealed by George Clark, chief of the Greenville Police Department.

Mr. Clark said a few more pieces of the merchandise taken by eight negroes in the robbery of the stores of John Saied and H. T. Smith on Dickinson avenue, the night before Thanksgiving, still remained to be recovered, but thought this would be accomplished within the next few days.

Seven negro men and a woman were arrested by city and sheriff's officers early Monday morning after tracing the stolen property to the home of Joe Ebron, colored, in the Pactolus area. Ebron, who is being held for aiding and abetting in the sale of stolen goods, told officers the eight members of the band carried the $600 worth of stolen goods to his home immediately after the robbery and attempted to dispose of it at a public sale.

Police hearing of the sale, visited the community and rounded up the (Continued on Page Six)

DISCUSS REPEAL OF DRY LAW

As the nation's law makers returned to Washington for the opening of congress the prohibition subject absorbed much of their attention. Rep. Bertrand Snell (left) of New York and Speaker Garner, republican and democratic leaders in the house of representatives, discussed the prospects of a repeal vote on the day congress convenes. The conference followed a declaration by Snell that repeal should be considered before beer. (Associated Press Photo)

BANKERS WILL BOUND OVER FETE FARMERS IN RUM CASE

Grade 'A' Growers of Pitt and Surrounding Counties to be Honored Dec. 7

Grade "A" farmers of Pitt and surrounding counties will be honored by state and national bankers at a farmer-banker banquet to be given at the Woman's Club here Wednesday evening, December 7, at 6:30 o'clock. It was announced today by W. H. Woolard, vice-president of the Greenville Banking & Trust Company, and member of the agricultural committee of the North Carolina Bankers Association.

The banquet is being sponsored by the State Bankers Association for the purpose of awarding grade "A" certificates to forty-nine farmers of Pitt and surrounding counties who have met requirements of the association in the conduct of their farms. Thirty-two of the growers to receive certificates will come from outside of Pitt county and seventeen will come from the county. Pitt county with 30 farmers who have passed the grade "A" test ranks first among all other counties in the state.

Both were locked up but were released during the afternoon after posting bond of $100 each.

The couple was arrested by police as Baker was said to have been preparing to deliver two half gallon jars of whiskey in the business district. The man was walking along an alley with the whiskey in each hand when Policeman L. B. Tucker, tipped off by telephone, walked up and took him into custody.

Mrs. Baker, who was sitting in an automobile parked in the alley, was also taken into custody when four more gallons of whiskey in half gallon fruit jars were discovered in the car.

BRITISH COAL WARS ON OIL TRYING TO REGAIN TRADE

London, Eng., Nov. 30.—(AP)—"Back to coal" is the war cry of the British coal industry in an attempt to regain coal industry in an attempt to regain some of the business it has lost in recent years, chiefly to oil.

Return of the British navy to coal to help a very sick basic industry is their chief hope. This has been made the subject of considerable agitation, and although the Navy has indicated no enthusiasm for the suggestion, Stanley Baldwin told a deputation that the possibility was "never absent from the minds of the admiralty."

An aggressive campaign against "foreign fuel substitutes" (which means oil) is to be pushed and the most modern coal-consuming apparatus made coal to fuel users.

Lloyd George Writes His Memoirs; Gives Spare Hours To Model Farm

London, Nov. 22.—(AP)—David Lloyd George has something on his mind these days besides his work in the House of Commons.

By the end of the year he hopes to complete the first volume of his memoirs, which are expected to run to three volumes. The first will bring the record to the end of 1913.

This authorship has become perhaps the major interest of the present day life of Britain's wartime premier. But it will be some time before he gets to the point of relating his story of the days at Versailles when he, Woodrow Wilson, Clemenceau of France and Orlando of Italy formed the "big four" of the peace conference.

Another interest pursued chiefly as a recreation hobby is "Brony-Ds," his estate near Churt, Surrey. The place is run as a sort of model farm, with experiments in the latest methods of making England's soil yield food for the home market.

One of the tests this year was on fertilizing potato fields. The result was a fine yield of big, round "spuds" whose soundness and size delighted the veteran statesman.

He took pains to tell other farmers all about it, for addressing meetings of agriculturalists is one of his diversions and he seldom misses a gathering in the Churt neighborhood.

With the fallow season at hand, however, he puts in long hours at his writing. He does much of this work in bed, frequently waking at 5:30 o'clock so as to get a good start on the day's output. On this schedule he has completed more than 130,000 words of his first volume.

While the daily output is restricted in a measure by the time he has available and the ease or difficulty of the particular subject, he has been able on occasion to turn out 4,000 words in a single day.

His method has been to provide a "frame" for the work by writing the first and last chapters—and then to fill in the intervening material.

The work is expected to be especially inclusive since the author is the only European minister who was in office during the whole pe-

David Lloyd George, veteran British statesman, is writing his memoirs of world-war days but finds time to run down to his farm near Churt, Surrey, and inspect an experimental potato crop-riod of the ward.

A good portion of his time is spent in the inspection of documents of which he has a great number. He has employed a small band of assistants to go over and arrange these papers.

Meet THE NEW PRESIDENT!

THE NEW PRESIDENT
By WALTER T. BROWN
(Associated Press Staff Writer Who Accompanied Roosevelt On His Campaign)

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 21.—(AP)—To President-Elect Franklin D. Roosevelt his physical condition was a situation to be met and nothing more.

He seldom refers now to a handicap in his walking, the result of an infantile paralysis attack he suffered some ten years ago. When he does, he speaks in a detached way.

Only once during the campaign did he directly refer to it. That was at Seattle when he stopped to talk with crippled children at a hospital.

Sitting in his automobile and looking down on the invalids on cots and in wheel chairs clustered around him, he said: "I too have known what it is not to be able to walk."

While campaigning, Mr. Roosevelt was greeted at Worcester, Mass., by eight-year-old Kathryn T. Murphy. He already knew Kathryn, because she had suffered from infantile paralysis and Mr. Roosevelt had written her a letter of commendation when she later offered her blood to other patients.

"Hello, Kathryn, how are you?" came the greeting from Mr. Roosevelt. "Keep up your courage. You are going to get well."

President-Elect Franklin D. Roosevelt has shown a fighting spirit in overcoming a physical handicap that resulted from infantile paralysis, and he has inspired others so afflicted. He is shown above with Kathryn T. Murphy, Worcester, Mass., girl who greeted him on his campaign and whom he told of plans to send her to a hospital at Warm Springs, Ga., for treatment.

The President-elect then told Kathryn that he and the mayor of Worcester would arrange to send her to a hospital Mr. Roosevelt had founded in Warm Springs, Ga. So Kathryn is looking eagerly forward to restored health.

On an up-State inspection tour, Mr. Roosevelt stopped at a Watertown hospital to see a state trooper whose back had been broken in a motorcycle accident. The years before he had ridden as an escort to the governor.

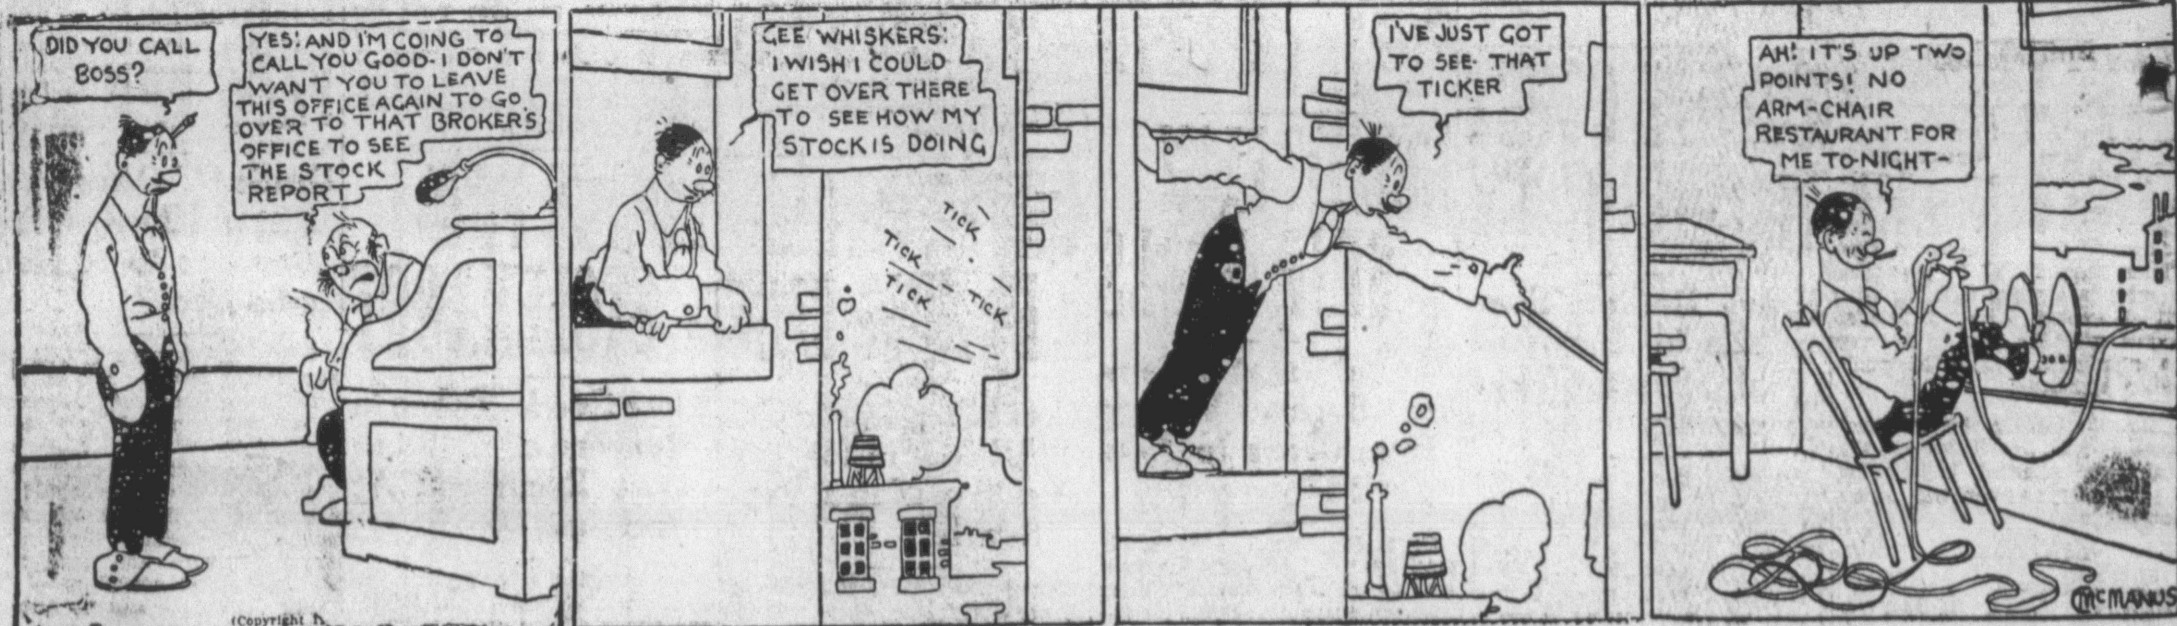

The trooper, in a wheel chair, was rolled out to the Roosevelt car. The governor, leaning far out of his seat, talked in a low tone, but the final words were caught by those near by. They were: "Don't quit fighting. Let me hear from you."

HOLLYWOOD SIGHTS AND SOUNDS

By ROBBIN COONS

Hollywood, Calif., Nov. 30.—A film play ostensibly based on the life of Libby Holman and her tragedy-crowned career has gone by the boards, apparently due to the difficulty of dramatising a front-page personality so fresh in public memory without at least tacitly identifying it.

And Lillian Roth, slender brown-eyed blues singer who was to have played the leading role, probably will be assigned to some other film instead. A tentative choice was "Out On Parole" opposite Lew Ayres, but Ayres was loaned to another studio and the picture postponed. Lillian is just as happy about that, since judging by the title the Ayres film would have at least the flavor of prison, and her first screen work since her return from touring was in Barbara Stanwyck's penitentiary picture, "Ladies They Talk About."

"One tops so easily in Hollywood, perhaps it's for the best, is her comment.

Kept in Musical

She knows that from experience. Four years ago she came out, an 18-year-old girl, and became identified with musical pictures. For two years she sang and danced in pictures, all the while longing for a dramatic opportunity which never came—unless her role in "The Vagabond King," a musical, could be so called.

She left Paramount four months before her contract was to expire, to go on the road in personal appearances which brought more money than films would have.

Since then she has worked almost continuously, and—as she puts it—taken some hefty wallops to the chin. She referred mainly to the death of her fiancé and her subsequent marriage to another—"on the rebound."

A FEW FACTS ABOUT GRANGE DEVELOPMENT

1. At this time last year North Carolina had five seventh degree members.

2. At the national convention which was given from the 16th to the 25th of November at Winston-Salem, 1,412 patrons of husbandry from North Carolina took the seventh degree.

3. For the first time within the past 55 years, the National Grange presented a list of new subordinates larger than the record made a decade ago. The number of subordinate orders at the present are 15,286 compared with 8,000 four months ago.

4. There were 1,600 patrons of husbandry from North Carolina took the sixth degree. Including all states organized, which is 36 over 2,500 members took the seventh degree.

5. Only ten times within the past 58 years has the list of new subordinate granges gone over the 400 mark, and this is one of the years. It was shown in the condensed report that North Carolina is responsible for it. Under the wonderful leadership of W. Kerr Scott, state master, 159 of the 300 subordinates in North Carolina were organized within the last 12 months.

Report of N. C. agricultural officials present, and took the seventh degree; Dean of the school of agriculture, State College; one hundred per cent of the assistant directors of extension work; one hundred per cent of the 83-county farm-agents; sixty home agents; forty district agents; professors and experiment station workers.

Have organized one subordinate Grange in Beaver Dam township, and will start to work in Stokes county shortly. Will appreciate the cooperation and assistance of all farmers, wives and children above 14 years of age.

Clara Gets Her Chance

The new Clara Bow film, "Call Her Savage," contains a few obvious story weaknesses, but affords the "new Bow" what she calls her "first real acting role."

Her performance of it may be a revelation to her fans, but to this department, anyway, the least pleasing phases of it were those reminiscent of her "It" days.

The most useful time for cold cream is when bathing. The heat and steam from the bath aid the cream in penetrating the pores of the skin.

I have learned that the skin can absorb only certain amount of cream at a time. This amount can be applied just before stepping into the bath.

Then, by the time one has finished bathing the skin is nourished and revived. This eliminates the use of cream at night, which at best is very satisfactory.

Bryson City Man Commits Suicide

Bryson City, Nov. 30.—(AP)—Charles Sparks, 50, committed suicide in an outbuilding at the home of his sister, Mrs. Charles Randall here Tuesday.

Sparks' body, with a bullet wound in the head, was found at 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. He apparently ended his life by placing a .32 Smith and Wesson revolver to his right temple. The bullet lodged on the left side of the head between the skull and outer skin. The exact time the shot was fired has not been determined.

Mr. Sparks lived at Epps Springs where he had a farm and engaged in cattle raising. He came to Bryson City Monday. Feeling ill, he summoned a physician, who said there were no symptoms of illness other than mental worry. He appeared to be better Tuesday morning and visited the business section of Bryson City.

When found in the outbuilding, Sparks' head was against the wall and the pistol was in his lap. His left hand was in a pocket which contained an apple and a bottle with an eighth of an ounce of strychnine in it.

Australian wheat growers during the fiscal year 1931-1932 received the largest bounty of the industries of that country.

J. M. Cunningham, of Glenville, N. C., exhibited a cabbage stalk bearing nine heads.

Must Take Oath

Until a man appears before the bar of the Senate, in person, and takes the oath of office he is not officially recognized as a member of that body.

That Walker can't do.

Last September, after the death of Senator Waterman, of Colorado, a Democratic governor appointed Walker to take his place. Doubt arose immediately as to whether he would be eligible to sit in the short term of Congress beginning in December.

The controversy finally simmered down to Walker running for that privilege in the general elections of November 8. He was opposed by a Republican, Carl C. Schuyler Alva B. Adams, the Democratic candidate for the long term, beginning March 3.

Washington Daybook

By HERBERT PLUMMER

Washington, D. C., Nov. 29.—That young man in Grand Junction, Colorado, by the name of Walter Walker probably is wondering these days just when is a man a United States Senator, and if so, how any why.

For, from all appearances, Walker is a Senator, and yet strictly speaking, he is not.

He's drawing a salary. There's an office in the Senate office building awaiting him, fully staffed. He can claim it any day he wishes.

But, there's no seat for him in the Senate chamber.

It's all the result of Senate traditions—traditions and rules that permit a man to draw the salary of a Senator, do the work of a Senator, enjoy the privileges of a Senator, even be called "Senator," yet not be one.

BRONCHIAL TROUBLES Need Creomulsion

Bronchial troubles may lead to something serious. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (Adv.)

While we were lunching the other day, a jewelry salesman paused at our table to show Lillian a bediamonded wrist watch which would have tempted any woman. Lillian looked at it, sighed, and handed it back.

"It was beautiful," she said, after the salesman had moved on to dazzle other cinema ladies, "but I'm buying insurance—insurance against the years after I'm 30. I think I'll be able to earn money until then, but such business is so uncertain. My scheme is to keep on buying policies, paying the map when I buy, and I have thirteen already—the first to mature when I'm thirty, and one a year after that."

Nobody doubts that the debt situation overshadows all other questions in Europe at this time. Debts, whether they be of international interest or of community interest, are shadowing the issues of all lands at this time and will continue to do so until they are paid.

The Salvation Army budget campaign got underway yesterday and will be continued in whirlwind fashion until the budget of $2,000 has been raised with which to carry next year's work.

The canvass probably will receive interest from everybody appreciating what the organization is doing for community development and contributions undoubtedly will be liberal as it is possible to make them at this time.

A Pitt county unit of the North Carolina Institute of Government will be formed at a meeting to be held at the court house December 15th.

Officers elected in the last election will be inducted at the same time and people who are unfamiliar with ceremonies of this kind should attend and become more completely acquainted with the functions of government.

City and county officers are doing their best to hold down crime in this community during one of the most trying times in history. The fact that they are meeting with pronounced success is a matter of gratification to everybody.

A PATH TO PARADISE

by Coningsby DAWSON

A PATH TO PARADISE SYNOPSIS: Unexpectedly Dicky, Santa's former husband, tells her the truth about her instinct to dominate the lives of those around her, and particularly Clive, her second husband. Next morning, after Clive has left for work, Santa persuades herself that Dicky is wrong, and although she knows that Clive would disapprove, telephones Dicky. It is not his voice that answers.

Chapter 39 A DIP INTO TRUTH

"Who are you, since you know me?" asked Santa. "Does that matter?" "Not particularly. What's Mr. Dak doing?" "Busy." "Call him."

"The fluting refinement of the voice at the other end faded. "Dearie, you're no longer his wife. You know how irritable it makes him to be disturbed."

"You bet!" Santa slipped into the vernacular. "Tell him to ring me, He has my number." She fussed about the apartment, not daring to go out or to make any engagement. She was strung to come over. As she was sitting down to lunch, the telephone tinkled. She snatched the receiver only to hear Clive inquiring about her headache.

"Yes, I phoned you." Her anger was evident. "See you presently." "But when? I've wasted my morning—" He had broken the connection. There was nothing gained by having a witness to this crowning folly. Going to the kitchen, she dismissed the maid for the afternoon and retired to prepare for the ordeal.

"What time does Clive return?" "He's due any minute." Dicky rose, casting a furtive glance around the bedroom. At the front door he halted.

"I made a bad husband; I can be a good friend if you would allow me." "Already you've done me good. So?" clasped his hand. "Five minutes later Clive entered. "Headache better?" "It's eased up a trifle."

"Well, you're going to bed, if I have to carry you." When he had helped her to undress and had placed hot-water bottles round her, she asked a naive question: "Do you ever fancy that I deceived you?" "That proves you're sick," he burst out laughing.

"I only asked," she settled back luxuriously, "because— Well, this apartment—always wanting to do things my own way. It isn't loyal." "Simple Simon!" He stooped his lips to her bare shoulder.

Now - your husband can eat Pie safely

Pie? Say, dear, why do you tempt me? Don't worry, dear. This pie crust will agree with you. I made it with Crisco, the digestible fat. Crisco is a digestible shortening - so it makes foods digestible!

Perhaps your husband just dotes on pie. But maybe he feels that pie-crust is indigestible. Has it ever occurred to you that the whole digestion trouble may be due to your shortening? Do compare it with Crisco. See how white and creamy Crisco is. Smell Crisco—it smells inviting! Taste Crisco. It doesn't taste tallowy. You'll find it's as sweet-tasting as new-churned butter! No wonder that Crisco—the pure, sweet-tasting fat—digests easily. Crisco, you see, is not just a "compound." In its sanitary sealed can, Crisco never turns rancid—it keeps sweet and digestible for weeks! Next time you want to surprise your husband with a treat, do try Golden Glow Pie on him! It combines the sweet, tangy flavor of apricots with the sweet crispiness of a flaky Crisco crust—the crust you know is truly digestible, because Crisco is a pure, sweet, digestible shortening.

At these 3 danger points, ordinary fats may cause digestive troubles. Crisco digests easily. Bulk fats may turn rancid or indigestible. CRISCO [IN VACUUM-TIGHT CAN] stays fresh and digestible.

Don't neglect Colds MUSTEROLE Colds in chest or throat may become serious. Ease them in 5 minutes with Musterole, the "counter-irritant." Applied once every hour, it should bring relief. Used by millions for 20 years. Recommended by doctors and nurses.

In the recent cooking school conducted under the auspices of The Daily Reflector, Miss Louise Dixon used and recommended Crisco, the modern shortening that digests easily

CHARLOTTE FAVORED FOR HIGH TITLE

Chapel Hill, N. C., Nov. 30.—Reportedly heavier and in better shape, the powerful Charlotte High team is being favored to defeat Durham in the State championship game here Saturday at 2:30 o'clock, but Durham's Bulls upset a similarly favored Charlotte team last year and are laying plans toward the same end this season.

The game will match two of the best high school teams to come up in North Carolina in recent years and is expected to produce a fine scrap.

Both teams were undefeated in their respective conferences. In addition, Charlotte walloned strong high elevens from Atlanta and Washington. In conference play Charlotte rolled up 111 points in four games and was unscored on, while Durham scored 161 points to all opponents' seven.

Charlotte will have a definite weight advantage. Its line averages 168 to Durham's 160, and its backfield 162 to Durham's 155. The Eastern champion's season record is equally impressive, but Charlotte will also take the field in better shape with regard to injuries.

Baldwin, star tackle, is out of the Durham line-up with a broken collar-bone, so that Carl Surrency has had to shift Brown to tackle and move Southgate to Durham's regular guard post.

Charlotte is reported in top shape on the line and will have a back who were injured so that Saturday's western championship game with Salisbury. These men are Rhyme Shoup, end; Jack Pespeman, guard, and Jennings Connell, center.

Both squads are drilling intensively this week, and every indication is that they will be primed to the limit for Saturday. Durham is also rebuilding and refortifying its line. Charlotte's backfield is said to be one of the best high school backfields ever developed in the State, and the quarterback Gadd is one of the most dangerous triple-threat backs in Southern high school circles.

Good quality beef is cherry red in color, according to R. C. Roth of the Department of Animal Husbandry, Ohio State University.

Investment income and real estate rentals received by Washington University are estimated this year at $200,000 less than formerly.

TROJAN MIXES FOOTBALL WITH HARMONY

Trombone Tooter One Of Coast's Greatest Tackles

By PAUL ZIMMERMAN (Associated Press Sports Writer) Los Angeles, Calif. Nov. 16.—(AP)—One trombone player more or less in the University of Southern California band didn't make much difference until Ernie Smith started honoring into college football.

It made so much difference to the Trojan line that Coach Howard Jones, usually a bit reluctant to recite on the subject of the individual ability of his team members, casually mentioned the fact that Smith is one of the best tackles he ever had.

Anyway, Ernie spent his freshman year at Troy as a siphon artist on the Trojan band, blasting out some timely notes for the grid warriors struggling out on the stadium. Came the sophomore year, however, and Ernie just couldn't confine his activities on the field to a march between halves, so he turned in the white flannel uniform and Sam Browne belt for the moleskins.

His 215 pounds looked good to Jones, who installed Smith as second string tackle forthwith. Last year he graduated to the first eleven and this season, besides retaining his post, has been doing most of the kicking for point after touchdowns.

Smith stands 6 feet 2 inches and is very active for a man his size. On a number of occasions this fall he has booted the ball on the kick-off and then raced down the field to make the tackle. Ernie kicked six conversions after touchdowns and a field goal from the 22-yard line as an evidence of his ability to boot the ball, in the first five games of the season. He admits he got eight for eight conversions in one game in high school. In these years of college football Smith hasn't turned his back on his trombone entirely. In fact, his horn is his means of livelihood. He plays in a dance orchestra on Saturday nights after home games, but believes he could do better if he didn't mix football with harmony.

He had played football for Gardena, Calif., high school and here.

New Michigan Leader

a percentage of what he could draw at the gate. If Rickard made definite guarantees, as he was often obliged to do, he safe-guarded himself by the ballyhoo; as in the Dempsey-Carrier fight of 1921, or he arranged an alternative percentage deal with his principals.

Tough On Titans

Colleges which made football guarantees to visiting teams one or two years ago, based on more prosperous conditions or prospects, have been "holding the bag" this fall, as a result of greatly reduced gate receipts. Moreover, there is the University of Detroit admits, "in having the teams on its schedule kill their drawing power by getting themselves regularly and soundly licked before they played the Titans."

Only two teams came to Detroit with "unblemished records." As a consequence Athletic Director Chas. E. Dorais, Ricketts' old playmate at Notre Dame, suggests that contracts be so drawn that a visiting team's guarantee will be placed on a sliding scale, to keep pace with its drawing power. He believes a certain percentage of the base guarantee should be deducted for a defeat sustained in a prior game that season.

Dorais has not worked out the details. I doubt if he will. The "sliding scale" might result in a guarantee sliding right out of the window. On what basis would reductions be made? Would Army, say, be debited for a defeat such as it met at the hands of Pittsburgh despite out-gaining the Panthers? Or what would Yale deduct from Harvard's guarantee as a consequence of its crushing 46-0 rout by Army?

A straight-out percentage arrangement, agreed to by both parties, is the only suitable method.

Manders Vatable Minnesota's candidate for All-America fullback honors, Jack Manders, has no reputation as a passer but his line-bucking prowess has so occupied the opposition this season that Bernie Bierman's Gophers have been able to capitalize their aerial alternatives.

So writes Jay Vessels from St. Paul, adding: "Minnesota beat Nebraska on a pass; two of their three scores against Iowa were on passes and the winning touchdown against Northwestern was through the air. Big Jack got great jobs of yardage in all these games, averaging more than five yards a try against Northwestern, yet he scored only once on a plunge and that was against Iowa. He made the winning score against Nebraska on a lateral.

"Manders had a hard time getting started because of a knee injury that slowed him up tremendously against Purdue. Jack got so agitated he lost his temper at a memorable practice session and got a hot tongue-lashing from the calm Minnesota coach."

About NEW YORK

By WILLIAM GAINES
New York, Nov. 30.—(AP)—Mr. Earl Carroll observes the tenth anniversary of the birth of the "Vanity Fair."

Two dinosaurian buses at the stage door of the Broadway theater gather up the beauties of the entertainment...

As for the principals they may go in private cars. But the girls look forward to the presence of the democratic Mr. Carroll...

The buses with their pulchritudinous cargo stop before a swanky hotel on Central Park South. Mr. Carroll, an influential lawyer friend...

Mr. Carroll beams as he steps to kiss each pretty lass in the bus, in the paternal manner of a revue producer celebrating a tenth anniversary.

Rolling northward Mr. Carroll is in high good humor and the little girls are in high good humor. Mr. Carroll chants a bit of a song from the show and the girls join in. At last the inn is reached.

It is a thrilling moment for the other customers when Mr. Carroll and his bodyguard of beauties enter the dining room.

There is applause and Mr. Carroll beams. The girls beam. Sooner or later food and things are on the tables.

Mr. Milton Berle, the chief American comic in Mr. Carroll's current show, takes the floor as master of ceremonies. He introduces several of the foreign comics imported by Mr. Carroll for his show.

It is the first party they have attended since their arrival here. That is, why they giggle even more than usual.

Mr. Berle goes on introducing, and by this time the party is quite a snorter, with all the other customers getting their money's worth. In Mr. Carroll's party there are ten girls for every one man, which is awfully nice for the men.

When the proper pace is picked up, Mr. Berle calls for quiet and grows very serious. He makes a pretty, touching speech and introduces Mr. Carroll. This is the signal for joy to go unrestrained, and all the little girls and all others present take any remaining restraint off their joy.

Mr. Carroll says a few words and beams more than ever. Then Mr. Berle says he's just thought up a paraphrase on a popular song, while he was sitting there at his table. He sings it fittingly in words of laudation for Mr. Carroll.

Mr. Carroll comes back to his table and has an idea that amuses him. "Listen, girls," he says, "tell Berle to introduce Mrs. Carroll. Then all of you stand up and take a bow."

The girls beam at Mr. Carroll's little jest and readily call out to Milton Berle to ask for "Mrs. Carroll." They giggle when they think how it will surprise the other customers, when they all stand up. But the nimble witted Berle is onto the prank at once.

"Mrs. Carroll" he kids back at him. "I don't want to make all the Carroll girls stand up."

Lead Poisoning In Industry Said Be Preventable

Washington, D. C., Nov. 30.—(AP)—Industrial workers can be protected from lead poisoning if strict precautions are enforced, says a report to the American Public Health Association by Dr. George H. Gehrmann.

It has been found possible to protect workers, he states, even in the manufacture of tetra-ethyl-lead, one of the most dangerous industrial processes involving lead because workers can be poisoned by it through mouth, nose and skin.

Precautions against poisoning, he explains, include change of clothes and bathing after work, periodic health examinations and maintenance of good health by workmen, elimination of dust and fumes from work rooms.

Women and young people under 21 were found "decidedly" susceptible to lead poisoning and should not be employed on processes where there is danger of lead poisoning, Dr. Gehrmann said. The same applies to men over forty-five.

POLICE FIND STOLEN GOODS (Continued from Page 1) entire load early Monday morning. They were given hearing in police court the same day and bound over to the next session of Superior court under bond of $1,000 each. They were remanded to jail when they were unable to provide bail.

The majority of the prisoners, police said, had long criminal records and their arrest was expected to bring to an end the series of robberies reported in this section the last several months.

Those being held are Willie Beard, Ernest Whitehead, Carey Atkinson, Louis Battle, Tom Moore, Jim Holiday, Otis Suggs and Lizzie Bell.

COUNTY COURT FINISHES JOB

Isaac Gay was ordered to pay half cost and Lloyd Gardner was found not guilty on a charge of possession of whiskey.

J. D. Cahoon and Fred Owens were adjudged not guilty of reckless driving.

Previously he has served as head of the English Department of Boston University for five years. He also served in the same capacity at Grinnell College. He is a fellow of the Medieval Academy of America and has been given credit for an important part in the organization of that institution.

Dr. Coffman is a native of Iowa. He received his doctor's degree at the University of Chicago and, before going to Boston University, had taught at Harvard, Washington University, Chicago, Montana, and Grinnell.

He has received considerable attention as an author, and his "Book on Modern Plays" has been widely adopted. Dr. Coffman also has to his credit a large number of special articles and reviews which have appeared in numerous literary journals and other publications.

The paper which Dr. Hudson presented before the association dealt with the "Bell Witch of Tennessee and Mississippi." It related the Mississippian version of the legend and pointed out the differences in the various versions.

Dr. Russell's paper on "Elizabethan Dramatic Poetry in the Light of Natural and Moral Philosophy," was a discussion of the fifteenth century belief in alchemy and the result it had on the language and thought of the period.

Dr. Holmes spoke on the "Doctrine of Gian-Battista Vico." Dr. Spann's talk concerned the "Problems in Teaching German Literature." And Dr. Barney discussed "Some Recurrent Problems in French Teaching."

Sees Beer Vote Monday Washington, D. C., Nov. 30.—(AP)—Speaker John Garner today at a press conference said "indications were more favorable for the House to adopt the Democratic repeal proposed Monday."

Although he declined to predict adoption of the measure, he said that the action from Representative Milligan, of Missouri, assistants whip, should swing the Democrats for it. Garner said he was "pretty certain we will have a vote Monday."

"The gentlemen who talked about postponing action have about decided that the vote might as well come up Monday because they are going to have to vote sometime," the speaker said, adding that he had some definite information for the resolution.

Schools Ask More Money. Raleigh, Nov. 30.—(AP)—Educational institutions of the state today followed in the footsteps of state departments and institutions asking the Budget Commission to recommend increased appropriations for the next biennium over present allotments.

The University led the list, the division at Chapel Hill asking for an increase of almost $190,000 over its present allotment of $502,000. The school sought $691,924 for the first fiscal year of the next biennium. Salary and wage increases proposed accounted for $187,000 of the increase.

Other divisions of the school followed the central unit in asking increases, also N. C. State, proposing to establish department of industry and the school of engineering and to extend its textile school, sought $311,847, compared with a present allotment of $246,810.

The Woman's College at Greensboro asked $368,000 compared with the present figure of $241,500 and the co-operative extension division of State asked $125,000 compared with this year's estimated cost of $84,600.

BISHOP DARST MAKES ANNUAL VISITATION Ayden, Nov. 30.—(AP)—Rev. Thomas C. Darst of the Diocese of East Carolina made his annual visit Sunday to old St. John's Church near Grifton at 11 a. m.; St. Luke's, Winterville, at 3:30 p. m., and St. James, Ayden, at 7:30 p. m., preaching three powerful sermons and confirming nine persons. Large congregations greeted him in spite of the intense cold weather. The high mark of the day seemed to be reached at the night service when the subject was "The Power of God and How This Might Be Used to Usher in the Kingdom." Some of the illustrations came as a result of his recent trip to England and Scotland.

These parishes form a part of the field served by Rev. A. C. D. Noe of Ayden.

JUDGE STANDS TOO CLOSE TO BALL PLAYERS Windsor, Nov. 30.—Judge F. D. Windsor was able to hold court on Monday, but it was the first time he had been out since on Thursday. The judge was standing in the front row of spectators when two of the players tumbled into him, knocking him down and bruising him considerably. The funny part was that the players mistook him for another of the boys.

In court Monday he granted a divorce to Riddick White, white man of the county, from his wife, Annie White. The action was based on statutory grounds.

TANGLE TRAFFIC IN CAPITAL Santiago, Chile, Nov. 30.—(AP)—Chileans are fast becoming a nation of paraders.

Unrest in the past year and a half is responsible for most of the daily marching which for months has tangled traffic and ruined transportation schedules.

Political and "hunger" parades on the same day generally have the same effect in marching on the chance that some politician will become excited and pass out food or wine.

The mounted carabinieri stoically tag along to keep order and furnish a target for the verbal attacks of agitators without batting an eye.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—WITHOUT CALOMEL And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salt, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul. Skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

Take these good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Renew a substitute, 25c at all stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.
