HOODED MEN ROB THE BANK OF APEX OF $3,000

Cashier Held Prisoner In Bank Vault Two Hours As Robbed Bandits Take Money

CUSTOMERS FREE BANKER

M. Herndon, Cashier, Unable to Give Description of Two Men Who Attacked Him in Bank and Threw Him in Vault; All Money in Sight Taken; Police Begin Investigation

ApeX, Dec. 14.—(AP)—Two hooded and robbed men today robbed the Bank of Apex of some $2,000 to $3,000 and left Cashier T. M. Herndon a prisoner in the bank vault for two hours.

Herndon said two men dressed in checkered-brown robes with the same stuff over their faces were secreted under the counter of the bank when he entered about 8:30 today.

"They threw two guns on me, made me open the vault, got something over $2,000 in currency and left me locked up," Herndon said.

He said his only description of the two men was that they were white and he could see a little flesh and the eye opening in the hoods and that they were both tall.

When customers of the bank tried to get in the institution during the morning and found the door locked, one went to the cashier's home and asked his wife about her husband.

She immediately went down to the bank where no one works regularly except Mr. Herndon and he was heard calling from within the vault. T. M. McNeill, who operates a business adjoining the bank, manipulated the bank combination as Herndon called the numbers from within the vault.

Police said an old model touring car was noticed parked near the bank this morning but no suspicious activity was seen around the building. No one saw the robbers except Herndon, it was reported by police sometime after they started probing.

The cashier said the robbers took all the currency in the vault, leaving the silver alone. He said he fortunately had sent most of his currency to Raleigh yesterday.

ROBBERS GET LOOT AT SCOTLAND NECK STORES

Scotland Neck, Dec. 14.—Robbers entered two stores in the main part of town about 1 o'clock Monday morning, getting away with considerable loot. The store of C. B. Parks was forced open by the rear door but little taken except a few dollars from the cash register and some overalls and shirts. Parber's store likewise was entered from the rear, two heavy locks being broken and removed and iron bars being forced with a crowbar. In an endeavor to obtain money, the thieves literally tore the cash register to pieces, but failed to find the money. Numbers of expensive suits for men and many pairs of shoes were missing when the loss was investigated. Chief Moore arrived on the scene in time to fire a shot at the fleeing figure, making him drop some shoes, but the police force was unable to capture the robber.

Raleigh, N. C., Dec. 14.—(AP)—Faced with the task of framing an appropriations bill designed to aid in balancing a budget which is now running a deficit of millions of dollars annually, the State Advisory Budget Commission met here today in private session.

Over a year ago North Carolina had a surplus of $2,000,000 when the budget group met to consider appropriations for 1929-1931, but today it is estimated the deficit next June will be $10,000,000 or $15,000,000. The Commission's report will be submitted to the 1933 General Assembly as the executive budget act is not revealed until the Legislature meets.

Oral hearings on requests of all agencies seeking State funds were held two weeks ago. At the same time written explanations on appropriation requests were made.

CHAMBER IS FORMED HERE

L. A. Stroud Elected President of New Commerce Organization

A group of men thoroughly acquainted with the needs of the community and with the objectives of a modern Chamber of Commerce met Tuesday afternoon and organized the Greenville Chamber of Commerce.

The Chamber of Commerce is to ascertain what the local problems are, formulate plans for their solution and then proceed to solve them. The problems as ascertained and determined upon form its program of activities, and committees are appointed to make the program effective, to improve conditions found to need improvement and to eliminate evils found to exist.

As the welfare of business, namely, agriculture, industry, commerce and transportation, is closely interwoven with that of the community, most of whose members are engaged in business of one of these sorts, the Chamber of Commerce gives a large part of its efforts to improving business conditions. It endeavors to increase production and purchasing power in the tributary area of the town and to bring trade from outlying districts, improve marketing facilities, increase and improve the means of transportation in the territory, to study and apply improved merchandising methods, expand manufacturing, bring about better industrial relations, better relations between rural business man or farmer and the town business man, extend markets, and many other practical matters of interest to the business welfare of the community.

Cledwell's lower right jaw and the entire lower right side of his face was blown away and he was also wounded in the right shoulder.

DOZEN CASES IN COURT HERE

Docket Disposed of in All Day Session; Minor Cases Considered

A dozen or more cases were disposed of in the regular weekly session of county court in this city yesterday. The session lasted the entire day, work being concluded shortly after six o'clock.

The charges ranged all the way from larceny to violation of the national prohibition laws and the majority of the defendants were released on payment of cost. Some, however, found their way to the county jail and roads. Judge W. L. Whedbee presided.

Kay Stokes young white man of the Stokes community, charged with manufacturing whiskey, was fined $75 and cost of action. He was nabbed by county officers during a raid on a still the night before. Two others were said to have been at the still at the time but they were bound over to the next session of court.

FEW GIFTS TO STOCKING FUND

Salvation Army Reported $10 for Empty Stocking Cause Today

Only about $10 had been donated today to the Salvation Army "empty stocking" fund, it was stated by Ensign Joseph Willett, director of the local organization.

Mr. Willett said he hoped the fund would increase sharply with the placing of Christmas kettles on the sidewalks of the business district. The kettles were to have been put out the first of the week, but the movement was held up by inclement weather.

Persons desiring to give to the fund have been urged to get in touch with the Salvation Army headquarters. Contributions of $1.00 or more are being asked for the cause, while any amount placed in the kettles will be gratefully received, the Ensign said.

Donations of food are also being received at headquarters for the Christmas dinner to be given to the poor Christmas Day. Toys are being provided through the toy repair shop of city firemen, but it was hoped that many would be given through other sources as the Salvation Army attempts to meet demands of the children of the poor.

The organization hopes to make the Yuletide of far greater significance than usual, and every effort is being put forward to obtain as many gifts as possible so that the plan may be carried to a successful termination.

SEEK HEARING IN CONGRESS

Police Go On Duty at Capital As Veterans Threaten To March On Congress

Washington, Dec. 14.—(AP)—Heavy details of city police were sent to the White House and capitol today and reserves held in readiness at precinct stations after the so-called rank and file veterans announced their intention of sending "a committee" to Congress.

Automobile parking was forbidden on the broad plaza in front of the capitol. Kenneth Romney, sergeant-at-arms of the House, said he was without any definite information on the plans of the group, but understood John Pace, who led a radical group of the last spring bonus forces planned to march on the capitol with the intention of presenting a petition.

At the office of Speaker Garner it was said no request had been made for permission to present a petition.

RAIN HALTS SEAL CANVASS

Canvass With Tuberculosis Seals to be Made When Weather Clears

The house to house canvass which was to have been made yesterday by the Christmas tuberculosis seal committee of the Woman's Club was postponed on account of inclement weather, it was stated today, but will be made on the first clear day.

During the interim members of the committee will place seals on store at Blount Harvey & Company's store on Evans Street, and Monday another committee will be at the post-office the first of next week.

It is the plan of the committee to offer seals in every home and business house of the city as soon as the weather becomes more favorable, and the public was asked to make preparations to buy rapidly in view of the loss of time occasioned by inclement weather.

The club is anxious to dispose of the entire consignment this year and with proper co-operation of the public it was believed this could be accomplished in spite of the handicap set up by the weather man.

RAIN SLOWS LEAF SALES

Offerings of Bright Leaf Smallest of Season Yesterday and Today

Rain continuing in this section since last Saturday has cut sharply into sales on the Greenville tobacco market and offerings today and yesterday were among the lightest of the season. The market yesterday disposed of 92,296 pounds of leaf for $9,704.95 at an average of $10.52 per hundred pounds.

The major part of the sales consisted almost entirely of scrap tobacco, but the price situation for this type tobacco remained firm.

Sales today were very light and were finished during the morning hours.

With the market closing December 21, farmers were expected to market rapidly the remainder of their crop as soon as the weather permits. Although the major part of the crop has been disposed of, there yet remains a considerable amount of common grades to be marketed and sales between now and the close of the year are expected to pick up sharply as the growers attempt to dispose of the remainder of the offerings.

BEER PLANS ARE IN FAVOR

Treasury Head Says Beer Section Practicable But Wine Section Impossible; Recommends Continuation One Cent Gas Tax and Passage of Sales Tax Measure

Washington, D. C., Dec. 14.—(AP)—Secretary Mills estimated today that the Collier beer bill if enacted would produce only $125,000,000 to $150,000,000 in revenue in the 1934 fiscal year, and asserted that it alone "will not produce the revenue needed to bring the budget into balance."

Neither approving nor disapproving the proposal, the Treasury head told the House Ways and Means Committee it was faulty in many particulars, but that the Department believed the administration of the beer section "would be practical"—the wine section "impossible."

Citing the need for additional revenue, Mills urged the committee "to take the leadership in promoting a non-partisan program" to balance the budget by "the adoption of a general manufacturers' excise tax."

He also recommended continuation of the one-cent a gallon gas tax. Mills' views before the committee were interpreted as reflecting the attitude of the administration. President Hoover has been reported opposed to modification of the Volstead Act at this time, and the Treasury in its recent annual report urged a sales tax along the line of the proposal defeated in the House last spring.

New City, N. Y., Dec. 14.—(AP)—Sidney H. Homewood, who was convicted last week of seduction under promise to marry was fined $500 today and sentenced to from one and one-half to three years in Sing Sing Prison.

Miss Gibson, who expects the birth of a child next month, had testified that Homewood, a riding master, had consented to marry her on several occasions, "but always the next day he refused."

She had told the jury she never loved anyone but Homewood.

Round Table Club Meets

At the meeting of the Round Table Club Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. E. L. Hillman as hostess the Christmas motif was observed in all the arrangements. The program was of unusual interest.

Miss Nellie Denny gave a study of the life of Russell Sage, which was in keeping with the club's plan of making a special study this year of Foundations. Miss Denny talked on many of Mr. Sage's personal characteristics, noting his avarice. His business life began with trading horses, rising by each new experience to higher financial levels. grower, alderman, congressman, railroad magnate, partner with Jay Gould, to a seat on the New York Stock Exchange.

His life is made interesting today because of his marriage to Miss Margaret Bloom, who when left at his death $100,000,000, unrestricted, gave it away. Ten millions went to the Russell Sage Foundation. Between 35 and 40 millions were given to various institutions and charities. At her death she left $36,000,000 to be distributed to colleges, museums, hospitals, charitable institutions, Bible societies and missions. But for the generosity of Mrs. Sage's spirit the public would never have profited by one cent of the vast accumulation of wealth by Russell Sage.

Two lovely Christmas stories added to the holiday spirit. Miss Elizabeth Hyman read "The Gift of the Magi" by O. Henry, and Mrs. E. L. Hillman told "The Daid Star of Bethlehem."

A charming musical program was as follows:

(a) An Interpretation of "There's a Song in the Air"—Miss Florence Overton.

(b) "Under the Stars"—Mrs. J. E. Kirkpatrick, soprano.

(c) An Interpretation of "Joy To the World"—Miss Overton.

(d) "Away in a Manger," "Silent Night, Holy Night"—Mrs. Kirkpatrick, soprano; Miss Helen Sawyer, contralto.

As a conclusion a salad course was served.—Reported.

Christmas Is Coming!

Christmas comes but once a year—we look forward eagerly to the fast approaching holidays and the happy re-union of our families. But our next thought is of the work to be done and our smile becomes a frown. Cakes must be baked, gifts must be bought and mailed, and we must "carry on" without daily tasks meanwhile. Wrinkling one's brow does no good.

Fruit Cake.

1-2 cups butter or shortening.
2 cups sugar.
4 cups sifted flour.
4 eggs.

1-4 cup brandy, wine or grape juice.
1-2 pound blanched and chopped almonds.

1-2 pound broken English wal. nuts.
1-4 pound broken pecans.
1-2 pound stoned and chopped dates.

1 pound currants.
1 pound raisins.
1 pound candied cherries.
1-2 pound candied pineapple.

1 teaspoon soda.
1-2 cup baking molasses.
1-2 cup black coffee.

2 teaspoons nutmeg.
2 teaspoons cinnamon.
1 teaspoon cloves.

Cream butter, add sugar gradually and beat until light, add beaten eggs and mix thoroughly, then coffee and soda mixed with molasses, brandy and then flour which has been sifted with spices. Add fruit which has been dredged lightly with flour. Pour into a large tube or loaf pans which have been lined with greased brown paper.

For ovens with maintained heat bake at 250 degrees for about four hours.

For ovens with retained or stored heat, preheat to 250 degrees, set adjustable pointer at 250 degrees and turn switch to oven bottom heating unit to low, and close circuit breaker.

Don't disappoint the kiddies—give them a real Fir Christmas tree. Smith Electric Co. Phone 173.—(Adv.)

SANTA and the MAGIC DOLL

SYNOPSIS: Inga and Pinocchio, two dolls from Toyland, are in search of a witch which has ruined Inga's beauty through a gold mirror which ten elps Inga. A woods fairy helps them by disguising them as red foxes.

Chapter VIII THE WITCH'S CAVE

Soon the woodland seemed to disappear and the two dolls, disguised as red foxes, came to the stony mountain that they knew was the location to the cave of the bats where the witch lived.

There wasn't a tree or a shrub to hide them as they started up the hill. There were just great, ugly rocks about them.

"Wait," said Inga, and she sat down and held up the little mirror in front of her.

"Little mirror, where is the witch now?" she asked.

Immediately the face of the mirror showed the door to the cave and then it showed a dark passage inside and finally a dark room lit only by a roaring fire. Next to it sat the old witch. All about her circled hundreds of huge bats.

"At least, she is inside," said Inga. "We must approach the cave without her seeing us."

So they started on again, creeping up the mountain and hiding behind rocks. Soon they were at the door of the cave. Quietly they slipped in and down the long passage. Just before they entered the room they hid the precious mirror and the little bottle of water the woods fairy had given them behind some rocks.

But when they looked into the witch's big room they were frightened. There were so many huge bats that they feared they would have to fight. And a bat has very sharp claws.

So they went back out into the corridor to lay plans.

"Let's spill that little bottle of water," said Pinocchio. "It will flood the whole room and they will be driven out."

"But it will also put out the fire, and a witch can only be killed by burning," said Inga.

"That's right," said Pinocchio, scratching his head. "I'll tell you what I saw the embers of an old fire outside. We'll pile up wood for a huge fire in the passage. Then we'll spill water from our magic bottle into the witch's room. She will come running out this way, and just before she gets to our woodpile we'll set fire to it and she will be caught."

That's just what they did. When the water started flooding the witch's room she and all her bats ran in terror out through the passage which was so dark and narrow they did not see the fire until they ran right into it and burned.

And that was the last of the witch. "Now let's rub the coins the

DOROTHY DARNIT!

Ballard's X Road

There were twenty-one who attended the Sunday school at Ballard's Sunday, even though the weather was cold and rainy.

Miss Blois Crawford was a weekend guest of Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Crawford.

Heber Jackson Jr. and Cecil Worthington of Winterville, were visiting at Mrs. Annie Flanagan's Sunday.

Mrs. R. E. Willoughby of Arthur, was visiting Mrs. G. T. Tyson and Mrs. Annie Flanagan one day last week. They were conferring on the debate scheduled for the P. T. A. meeting Tuesday evening.

It does not seem right: no school at Ballard's. Before the civil war there was a school here. Mr. John Salsbury of Martin County, was teaching here when the war began. He gave up his school and volunteered as a soldier in the Confederate army.

Mrs. Emily Nobles of this community and Mrs. Julia Worthington of Greenville, were pupils in this school.

Mr. Salsbury served through the war and lived years afterward. A list of the many teachers who have helped to train our youth for good citizenship would be interesting to many Reflector readers.

My Beauty Hint.

By DOROTHY MACKAIL (Screen Actress)

It has been remarked that a woman is only as smart as the perfume she uses. The importance of a well-chosen scent is inestimable.

Many women spend much upon perfume, but never attain the results desired because they do not match the scent of bath salts, bath powder, face powder, lipstick, toilet water, and other scented accessories.

No matter how lovely the perfume you spray on handkerchiefs, neck and hair each day, it will die a dismal death when it must vie with the warring odors of perfumed soap, powder, nail-polish and hand lotion.

One Sure Way to End Coughs and Colds

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified crocote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, crocote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to crocote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the crocote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (Adv.)

State College to Push For More One-variety Cotton Communities

Raleigh, Dec. 14.—(AP)—Looking to the establishment of more one-variety cotton communities in North Carolina during the coming year, the agronomy department at State College is undertaking a research problem in which it is making studies of the influence of the source and care of cotton planting seed on the length of staple produced.

The study is a co-operative project in which the North Carolina Experiment Station and the Bureau of Plant and Industry are working with the county farm agents and vocational teachers. The main object of the inquiry is to establish one-variety cotton communities where a uniform cotton staple will be produced in marketable quantities.

Jerry H. Moore, cotton technologist of the experiment station, is in charge of the work.

Mr. Salsbury served through the war and lived years afterward. A list of the many teachers who have helped to train our youth for good citizenship would be interesting to many Reflector readers.

Traveling Salesman Was Almost Ruined

Greenville, Miss.—W. A. Huber, recently said: "Traveling day and night and eating in cafes and hotels had a lot to do with my case I know, but I was in mighty bad shape. Constipation had practically ruined me. I took every kind of laxative I ever heard of, but they only aggravated my trouble. When I started taking Sargon Soft Mass Pills I just had to drag myself out of bed and through the day. The treatment not only relieved me but I have actually gained 35 pounds in weight."

During the past fall, representative cotton growers were interviewed and information secured relative to the history and care of the planting seed of each variety used. At the same time, a representative sample of the seed cotton was secured from each variety observed. About 50 samples are now being studied to determine the length and uniformity of the staple and the purity of the seed.

ABOUT TOWN

The distinguished members in the French House of Deputies don't like the idea of having to pay over nineteen millions of dollars to the United States Thursday but they might as well do so. This government has declared unequivocally that it does not intend to grant an extension of the debt payment and if France doesn't wish to default an obligation she should take immediate action looking to payment.

France should bear in mind the perilous days of the world war when the United States by throwing billions of dollars into the conflict saved her from the ruthless heel of German autocracy. It is one of the war debt installments which France is called upon to pay now and if she doesn't live up to the obligation it would be a long time before she would find this country going to her rescue again.

The rat extermination campaign is under way in the county at this time and people in all communities are co-operating with the farm department in its effort to eliminate as many of the pests as possible. Through proper kinds of poison rats are being killed by the thousands and the farmers and townspeople for that matter will be saved hundreds of dollars because of the action.

The campaign should be made as extensive as possible by reason of the fact that the lack of co-operation of a single farmer in a community will make the extermination campaign of his neighbors futile. This makes it imperative for as many people as possible to take part in the concerted movement to do away with the annual rat loss.

It is gratifying indeed to note that Greenville continues to lead the bright leaf tobacco belt from the standpoint of poundage. At this time the market is nearly two million pounds ahead of its nearest rival and indications are that we will be able to close the season with a greater lead to our credit. The prominent place which the market has been able to take in the tobacco world is a matter of pride to the entire community. It is the result of long years of toil and sacrifice on the part of members of the trade and the loyalty of thousands of growers who sell here year to year.

The holding of the reputation as the largest bright tobacco market in the world is the result of the whole-hearted effort of growers from a great distance, who recognizing the worth of this market and the effort of its leaders to give them the best of service, joined the general pilgrimage here this year to expose their crop. Greenville has drawn tobacco from a greater area this year than any other season in history. Growers from as far as Canada and the extreme western section of the state have sold their tobacco here this year setting an entirely new record for long distance hauling. Situated in the largest bright leaf producing county in the world, there is no reason why Greenville could not always be able to hold its reputation as the largest market which was chalked up last season.

Buying Barbara

By Julia Cleft-Addams Author of "YOU CAN'T MARRY"

SYNOPSIS: The law firm of Quentin, Lodely & Cane is about to crash because it has entrusted the fortune of young Farrell Armitage to a crook, and must make it good. It is Cane, the former office boy, who protested the action; the two "gentlemen" partners who brought it off. Quentin lies dying; Cane has ordered Lodely out of his apartment. Cane takes his little daughter Leila and goes to call upon Mrs. Quentin. Mrs. Lodely is also there.

Chapter 3 A SHOT IS HEARD

Mrs. Quentin rose, circumspectly. "I wonder if it would be very unkind of me to slip into the house by the rose-walk? Then I could be finding out if Lionel is able to see him." "Run along," agreed Mrs. Lodely. "I'll just say a few words to Cane; that'll give you time. And my regards to your husband and I hope— But Mrs. Quentin was gone, fleeing through the beautiful garden.

Cane opened and read the telegram.

ing through the beautiful garden. Mrs. Lodely's relief at not having to frame a suitable message to a dying man made her almost her old boy; serious self as she stepped out into the drive and began to shout conversation. "Afternoon, Mr. Cane! Goin' up to see Mr. Quentin? I'm afraid he's a good bit weaker today. His wife's with him just now. Well, Leila—" as the dark-eyed little thing twisted and spun on her father's hand—"when are you comin' to play with Mark and Babs again?" "She'd like to see little Miss Barbara now, if she's anywhere about. And if Mrs. Quentin agrees, of course."

"Fraid Babs isn't home. As a matter of fact, she's stayin' over at our place for a bit." Mrs. Lodely, embarrassed as always by the man's smirking deference, launched into superfluous explanations. "Seemed the best plan, with things as they are here; though Babs is such a quiet little soul, she wouldn't have been in the way, exactly. But then Mark's taken such a fancy to her, that's a blessing, too; they spend hours together. Leila must come along and play with them one day soon."

"Very kind of you, I'm sure, Mrs. Leila prouetting. "Isn't her face you, Leila?" "There comes our Annie," said Leila prouetting. "Isn't her face red?" Both adults turned and Mr. Cane elaborately excusing himself, retraced a few steps and took a telegram from the hand of the girl who came sheepishly up the drive. Pompous creature! thought Mrs. Lodely, irritably watching the junior partner as he opened and read the telegram. Leila had recaptured his disengaged hand and was hanging upon it in a manner Mrs. Lodely considered "common."

"Oh, daddy, you're squeezing me! Oh!" The child wriggled free, her face puckered between laughter and tears. Little Barbara, Quentin, looking gravely after him, nodded to herself as though she counted over a lesson. The sound of the shot came almost immediately. Mrs. Lodely climbed out of the window and began to run, shouting his name. But even her fumbling and baffled mind expected no answer.

They children of the poor will get little of the joys of the Yuletide season this year if generous-minded men and women who have been blessed abundantly this year do not come to their rescue. It is true that one of the most monumental attempts to relieve the unemployed suffering is under way at this time but this will be inadequate to care of the situation without the help of organizations are doing their bit to improve the condition and people who wish to contribute to the cause are asked to get in touch with relief workers to ascertain what they can do. A gift of a dollar or so may be of great help in carrying joy and gan to run, shouting his name. But even her fumbling and baffled mind expected no answer. Suddenly, affairs take quite a different turn, tomorrow.

By ROBBIN COONS

Hollywood, Calif., Dec. 13.—When a story like George Hackathorne's comes to light—and it's usually only when the forgotten stars get a job of acting again—it inspires speculation as to how many other bright lights of yesterday are going through similar sieges of poverty. We know a lot of actors who are having rough sledding at the moment, people who once knew luxury and now haven't a dime except the one they borrow for today's cup of coffee, but many of these go on pre-arranged and living, to outward appearances, as though they hadn't lost an inch of ground.

Which is one reason Hackathorne's case was different. He pocketed his pride, took a cheap room, and weathered the depression with a philosophical cheerfulness that surprised me. I'm told, many a day that was foodless. Troubles Overtake Him Talking about his troubles now, George fails to give the usual excuses for his fall from prominence. Not very many years ago he basked in the full light of popularity, and enjoyed a big salary and all it afforded him. What happened? A series of coincidental misfortunes that, taken singly, he might have weathered. First there was his health. Naturally frail and nervous, the intense parts he played brought on what he feared a nervous breakdown. A trip to London to make a picture, intended for rest and change, proved arduous and led to more illness.

Came the Talkies Then the talkies; stage actors, competition, less production and more actors out of work, he among them. A big opportunity came in Gloria Swanson's "Queen Kelly," but before his part was reached the film was shelved. He did a few quickies, won several good parts that petered out in story changes. He had a call for "Journey's End," and virtually signed, he was asked if he were British. He is not, and another player took the part. The sequence in which he was to have played in "Grand Hotel" was dropped in the screen adaptation, and he took an insignificant role in "Night Court" instead. Came months of idleness, penniless—and now the comeback, with Tom Mix in "Oh, Promise Me." Not much of a role, but a chance.

Unlike ordinary cathartics Sargon Soft Mass Pills do not shock or upset the system. They do their work by gently stimulating the liver to cleanse itself by increasing its production of bile—a more natural and thorough laxative than can ever be devised by man. Sargon Soft Mass Pills are not like any laxative you have ever taken. They are so gentle and thorough in action that there is nothing about them to remind you that you have ever taken a medicine, and most remarkable of all, their directions call for a gradual reduction of the dose until the point is reached where you no longer require a laxative of any kind. Don't risk your family's digestion—

Say, these Codfish Balls hit the spot. But will they agree with me? Go right on eating, dear, I've changed from a tallowy fat to Crisco. It's a digestible cooking fat. THE DIGESTIVE ORGANS: STOMACH, DUODENUM, SMALL INTESTINE. At these 3 danger points, ordinary fats may cause digestive troubles. Crisco digests easily.

Fry with CRISCO—the pure, sweet, digestible fat!

Fried foods can be delicious and digestible—if you fry with the right fat! How can you guard yourself against the wrong fats? That's easy. Just use this test on your frying fat— If your fat smokes at correct frying heat, be doubtful about it. A fat that smokes is burning. In fact, it is decomposing. Ask yourself—"Do I wish to feed my family with food that's fried in a burnt, decomposed fat?" Test Crisco in deep-frying. Notice the vast difference. Crisco fries at correct heat without a trace of smoke. Then remember that Crisco is a digestible fat itself. No wonder that Crisco-fried foods digest so easily! Test Crisco's digestibility soon with the recipe for Codfish Balls (see recipe). My, how good they are when they come piping hot out of deep hot Crisco. Never greasy and tallowy... but so crispy and golden that your husband will ask for more. And he'll be a happier man, too, for his digestion will give thanks that they're fried in digestible Crisco!

In the cooking school recently conducted under the auspices of the Reflector, Miss Louise Dixon used and recommended Crisco, the Modern shortening that digests easily.

RALEIGH HIGH TO PLAY HERE FRIDAY NIGHT

Raleigh high school basketball team will invade Greenville Friday night for a game with Greenville High in the high school auditorium at eight o'clock. It was announced today by Coach "Soup" Porter.

This will be the first "real" game of the season, the coach said, and lovers of this brand of sport will be treated to one of the greatest exhibitions seen on the local court in years.

The high school quint has played two games so far this season and captured both of them, and this captures Coach Porter to hold out hope of emerging from the game with Raleigh with the big end of the score.

The public was urged to attend the contest in large numbers and lend encouragement to the ambition of the school to make the best showing of years in basketball.

Would Extend Labor Wage Cut Chicago, Ill., Dec. 14.—(AP)—

Extension of the present 10 per cent wage reduction of railway labor for six months beyond the January 31 deadline was proposed to the Brotherhood today by W. F. Thiehoff, chairman of railway executives, at a point wage conference.

The management stipulated that any further change in wages should be taken to the Railway Labor Board and should affect basic rate of pay. Under their proposal labor and employers would agree that no notice would be given of any desire to change the six months' extensions agreement until July 1, thirty days before the expiration. Then there would be no further resort for wage cuts, and no more summoning to conferences between the management and the Brotherhood.

Instead, the problem would be laid before mediation agencies provided by the Railway Labor Act.

TONIGHT 5 STAR THEATRE SOPHIE KERR and dramatization of her story "Relative Value" 7:30 P. M. WPTF Sponsored by Standard Oil Company of New Jersey

Medicine Co. Makes Remarkable Record Atlanta, Ga.—Almost every line of business has suffered more or less on account of the depression. The manufacturers of Sargon Soft Mass Pills have made a record they may well be proud of. Although Sargon Soft Mass Pills were first placed on the market about 4 years ago, over 142,000,000 of these Pills have been sold and their fame has spread to many foreign countries. They not only enjoy a tremendous demand throughout America, but they are also in large demand in Canada, the Philippine Islands, Hawaii, Alaska, Porto Rico, and other foreign countries.

SPORT SLANTS By ALAN GOULD

Two recurrent points of gridiron argument came up as we were on the way back from the last big charge of the Eastern championship campaign.

Andy Kerr, Colgate's great little coach, had answers for them both.

"The average college team would be no match for the average professional team," said Andy, taking up one of the subjects under discussion.

"Where the good college team is lucky to have two or three really outstanding men in key positions, the pro team will have stars in virtually every spot. Professional experience would offset the keener spirit of the collegians.

"However, I think the best of the college teams, the schools like Army, Notre Dame and Southern California, all of which have unusually good man-power, would give a good account of themselves against a star professional team. They are aggressive, they have a will to win, and they have good men, plus a more aggressive spirit, to match the experience of the professionals.

"Quarterbacks like Moller, Shaver or Carideo would make it tough for any professional team in the country, with anything like an even break in man-power.

U. N. C. GIVES LETTERS TO TRACK MEN

Chapel Hill, Dec. 14.—Monograms in varsity and freshmen cross-country to members of this year's teams showing special merit have just been awarded by the Athletic Council of the University of North Carolina.

Winning varsity monograms in cross-country were Tom Cordie, of Greensboro; Captain Bob Hubbard, of High Point; Clarence Jensen, of East Orange, N. J.; W. R. Groover, of Savannah, Ga.; L. G. Sullivan, of Anderson, S. C.; T. H. Curlee, of Ansonville; G. S. Donnell, of Wilmington; G. M. Goldman, of Elizabeth, N. J.; and H. S. Sullivan, of Anderson, S. C. It was the third award for Cordie, Hubbard and Jensen, and the second for Groover and L. G. Sullivan.

Joe Zaglin, of Fayetteville, was awarded a student manager's monogram.

Game Draws $117.50

The University of Montana would like to know who started the cry about big gate receipts and over-emphasis in football.

George Yarnell, Seattle sports writer and Pacific Coast Conference football referee who officiated at the Montana-Oregon State College grid game in Missoula, reported that the gross receipts for the contest were $117.50. A heavy rain was one of the causes for the small crowd.

Montana guaranteed Oregon State $4,500 and incurred $500 additional expenses in putting on the game.

It is not improbable that the gate set a new all-time "low" for Pacific Coast Conference football play.

Like Forward-Laterals

Madison, Wis., Dec. 14.—(AP)—The forward-lateral pass play, a gridiron maneuver of considerable complexity, was a favorite with Doc Spears' successful Wisconsin team this season. They scored with it in four games.

HUNTING EMPLOYMENT. HICKORY MAN IS KILLED

Danville, Va., Dec. 14.—(AP)—Bud Bolton, 32, of Hickory, N. C., today had been added to the list of people killed by Dry Bridge, an overhead structure here so low it does not permit a man to stand on a box-car of a train passing underneath.

Bolton, killed Sunday and identified by a slip of paper in his pocket, was walking down a train on the bridge when he was knocked off and thrown between two cars.

New York Cotton

New York, Dec. 14.—(AP)—Cotton futures opened steady, four to six points lower, under liquidation to the unfavorable view of the war debt situation. Prices showed a slight rally from the lowest.

January after selling off to 5.73 advanced to 5.77, while May worked up from 5.96 to 6.01 within two points of yesterday's close.

The market ruled quiet but steady later in the morning on further trade buying and liquidation.

January unchanged to a point higher at midday.

Agree On Four Principles—Washington, Dec. 14.—(AP)—A unanimous agreement on fundamental farm relief principles clearly approximating the domestic allotment bill prepared by Chairman Jones was submitted to the House agriculture committee today by spokesmen for the national farm and commodity organization.

The agreement, reached at a prolonged conference held here, was outlined to the committee by Fred Lee, attorney for the farm leaders.

Lee named three major principles on which farm groups desire legislation to be founded. They are:

"That the legislation in question should be administered by the Department of Agriculture.

"That it should cover more basic commodities such as wheat, cotton, tobacco and hogs.

"That the legislation should be framed to the end of giving agricultural commodities their pre-war parity with other commodities—that is the same purchasing power enjoyed by agricultural commodities between 1900 and 1914."

About NEW YORK

New York, Dec. 14.—(AP)—Lillian Shade, singer of torch songs, gave me a bit of a surprise when she told me:

"I don't think very much of married life. I don't want anything more to do with it.

"I had my experience—one of those quick things. It was annulled.

"I see so many instances of marriage gone all wrong, and so much unhappiness—if I were proposed to by a prince I don't think I'd take him."

And she's a torch singer! I didn't know that Lillian had once tried matrimony. That isn't generally known about this former bank employee who became one of the over-night sensations of Broadway.

What does she want, then, most of all? Why to get along with her career, of course.

"Right now I want a hit song more than anything else in the world," she said.

But don't get the idea that Lillian and matrimony. Quite the contrary, she grows very serious when she gets into these subject's. It was an afternoon for confessions, and soon Lillian was out with something else that weighs in her heart right heavily:

Right now she is in love!

Yes, sir, in love—and she has schooled herself to believe that she must take no man in matrimony any more.

Isn't that a complication for a singer of those tearful, seething ballads?

What's become of Scott Nearing? Oh, he's still around, making speeches.

Saw Gene Tunney stroll through the lobby of a hot-totly Fifth avenue hotel with such an air of savoring fair! Completely unresponsive to the attention he attracted from a group of Park avenue debbies just coming out from tea.

If all the elevator shafts in the Rockefeller Center were piled end to end, their height would be the equivalent to 2,350 ordinary building stories. What a ride!

The biggest motion picture theatre in the world continues to lose money at an estimated $2,500 a week, we are informed. Yet to keep it closed would cost about $4,000 a week—all of which contributes to the insomnia of the shareholders.

THIRD ARREST IS MADE IN HENDERSON ROBBERY

Henderson, Dec. 14.—A third arrest of individuals suspected of connection with the recent robbery of clearings of the State Grocery Company here was made late yesterday in Portsmouth, Va., it was said today by Sheriff J. E. Hamlett. He announced that authorities there were detaining Johnnie Casper, a white man believed of foreign extraction, he is resisting extradition to this State from Virginia and the necessity of obtaining extradition papers from the governor's office will delay his return here.

Two white men have already been arrested in connection with the theft and the discovery of large quantities of cigarettes on their premises. One is at liberty under $3,000 bond, and another is still in jail here in default of $2,000 bond.

The sheriff said today he expected still another arrest to be made in the case.
