HOUSE BODY FAVORABLY REPORTS BEER-WINE BILL

ORDER 8 DAY BANK HOLIDAY IN MICHIGAN

Governor of Exchange Informs Members They Will Abide by Proclamation Issued By Governor Comstock; Holiday Following Long Conference Between Governor and Prominent Bankers of The State

Detroit, Mich., Feb. 14.—(AP)—With dramatic suddenness, Governor William Comstock proclaimed an eight-day banking holiday in Michigan at the end of an all night conference with bankers from all over the State and with Federal and State officials.

The extraordinary holiday, unprecedented in Michigan, will become effective today to continue through February 21. As a matter of fact, the banks will not reopen until February 23 since the 22nd is Washington's birthday and a legal holiday.

Governor Comstock's proclamation said the holiday was proclaimed in view of the acute financial emergency existing in Detroit and the State of Michigan.

Governor Comstock said he was summoned to Detroit from Lansing yesterday to the conference precipitated by an unforeseen and acute situation which had suddenly arisen in affairs of one of the leading financial institutions, The Union Guardian Trust Company.

He said it was the consensus of opinion after long conference with those present that the difficulties might be ironed out providing time could be had for negotiations.

Detroit, Mich., Feb. 14.—(AP)—The governors of the Detroit Stock Exchange at a special meeting today decided to close the exchange for the period of the bank holiday proclaimed by Governor William Comstock.

The announcement of the governors of the exchange informed members that the exchange members are prohibited from trading in Detroit bank stock or over the country during this period. Violation will be summarily dealt with, it was stated.

BLINDING LIGHTS CAUSE FATAL WRECK

Washington, N. C., Feb. 14.—Blinded by an approaching car, Frank Windley, aged 60, rural letter carrier for about fifteen years and well known Belhaven citizen, was killed Saturday night between 11 and 12 o'clock while on his way to Belhaven from Washington.

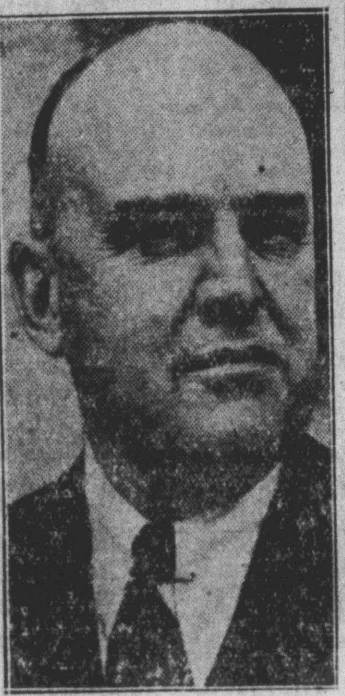

The car, driven by Melvin Lupton, carried Gus Gaylord and Frank Windley, all of Belhaven. Lupton was blinded by an approaching car and ran off a concrete bridge over Broad Creek, which is on Highway 91. The car is said to have been submerged, the top alone being above water. The three men climbed out of the car, Windley and Gaylord getting to the top while Lupton went to Pantego, a short distance away, for help.

Windley was the only one hurt. He was immediately taken to his home, but died before medical aid could be given him. Both his jawbones were broken and serious injuries received in his throat. It is said there were other internal injuries.

SEEK NEGRO FOR SHOOTING

Officers After Leroy Pollard as Jesse Earle Lies at Death's Door

County officers today were seeking Leroy Pollard, colored, charged with shooting Jesse Earle, also colored, in an argument in Ayden last Sunday night.

Earle was rushed to a Wilson hospital for medical aid and attaches said he had little chance of recovering. An entire load of gunshot was fired into his stomach by Pollard as they engaged in an argument, the cause of which officers so far had not been able to determine.

Pollard, who escaped immediately after the shooting, so far had managed to escape the toils of the law, but officers had hope of picking him up in the next few days.

The shooting occurred in the heart of the negro district and caused much excitement among the populace, as violence of this kind never fails to do.

Officers here were advised of the shooting shortly after it happened and joined Ayden officers in their effort to bring Pollard to justice.

Consumption of Cotton Better

Washington, D. C., Feb. 14.—(AP)—Cotton consumed during January was reported today by the Census Bureau to have totaled 471,202 bales of lint and 48,402 bales of linters compared with 440,262 and 44,375 in December last and 434,726 and 51,633 in January last year.

Machine Recovers Gold

Melno Park, Calif.—(AP)—Another gold recovery machine, added to the hundreds developed as a means of beating the depression, is the product of a group of Melo Park mining men. It breaks ore into fine dust with twelve hammers that strike 600 blows a second.

Socialist Books Popular

St. Louis, Mo.—(AP)—Circulation of the works of Karl Marx and other classical Socialists increased between 25 and 50 per cent among borrowers at the St. Louis public library during 1932, a report revealed.

Bears Furnish Sport

Imperia, Italy.—(AP)—Unusual winter sport has been provided for the inhabitants of this district by an invasion of wild bears, driven from the mountain passes by heavy snows. Hunting parties have bagged a large number of the animals.

For the first time in seven or eight years, Georgia Tech will have no intercollegiate football foes on its schedules next fall.

PRES. HOOVER IN LAST PLEA TO AMERICA

Chief Executive Delivers Valedictory Before Republican Club in N. Y.

New York, Feb. 14.—(AP)—The valedictory of President Hoover—a plea for co-operation by the peoples of the world to restore prosperity—lay before the nation today.

Speaking to 1,500 party leaders and adherents at the Lincoln Day dinner given by the National Republican Club, he called for bold and courageous action on a united world front.

He urged general restoration of the gold standard as a step to save civilization from the threat of depressed state affairs.

ROTES HEAR OF FARM LOAN

Club Members Also Told of The Way R. F. C. Money is Being Spent Here

Talks dealing purely with local conditions marked the regular weekly meeting of the Rotary Club here last night.

The program was in charge of Herbert Waldrop, chairman of the committee on entertainment, and Rev. A. W. Fleischmann, presided.

The speakers were E. F. Arnold, R. L. Powell and J. H. Rose.

Mr. Arnold, who is county farm agent, told of the seed loan recently made possible by the government. He said application blanks would be available in the next several days and that growers could then begin applying for loans.

Pitt county, he explained, will be able to obtain $200,000. This will be for growers not able to obtain credit from other sources and who would find it difficult to plant a crop without government assistance.

The farm director said loans would not be available to those who declined to reduce production of money crops and assist the nation in relieving the glutted condition of the world market.

Mr. Powell, secretary of the local Chamber of Commerce, organized sometime ago, told of the objectives of the organization and urged the Rotary Club to co-operate in the chamber's effort to put Greenville in the forefront of activities in this part of the state.

Mr. Rose, superintendent of city schools, spoke of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation money applied to this community and told how it was being used. He stated numbers of public improvements had been made and that more would be finished before the money has been exhausted.

The prime purpose of the fund, he said, is to relieve unemployment through the creation of work of a public nature. Schools, churches and other public buildings of the county have derived benefit from the fund, he stated, and hundreds of men have been able to keep the wolf away from their doors because of work furnished through projects of this kind.

The speaker asserted that each section of the county had been benefited by the money, and that in addition to providing work for the jobless, it had really provided long-felt needs in various fields of activity.

The regular supper and singing of club songs was enjoyed.

LEAF SALES OFF IN JAN.

Department Reports 15,208,082 Pounds Tobacco Sold in State Past Month

Raleigh, N. C., Feb. 14.—(AP)—North Carolina tobacco growers sold 15,208,082 pounds of tobacco in January at an average price of $8.67 per hundred pounds the Federal State Crop Reporting Service announced today.

Sales in January were far below those of January, 1932, but the prices paid was nearly 25 per cent better than a year ago.

In January, 1932, there were 40,022,949 pounds sold for $6.13 per hundredweight. The season's average price for producer's tobacco in all of the State's belts up to February 1 was reported as $12.02 per hundred pounds compared with $8.39 per hundred pounds last year and $13.14 for 1931.

The Asheville burly market showed the way in the State in average for January, 1,039,154 pounds of producer's tobacco, bringing an average of $16.02 per hundred pounds.

The only marketing reported in the new bright belt was Wilson, where 1,424 pounds of weed sold at $5.06 per hundred pounds.

In January, 1932, the same market sold 10,310,302 pounds at $5.89.

RELIEF LABOR USED UPON 23 PROJECTS

Kinston, N. C., Feb. 14.—Relief labor is being employed on twenty-three beautification projects here, with the Community Service League supervising thirteen and city officials ten. Hundreds of trees and much shrubbery have been planted. Other projects will be launched.

Late News Flashes

Today In The Legislature. Raleigh, Feb. 14.—(AP)—Possible modification of North Carolina's stringent prohibition law moved a step nearer today as the General Assembly committee favorably reported the bill to legalize light wines and beer if the federal government does so.

The committee action on the Murphy and Bowie bill overshadowed other business as both divisions of the assembly held routine sessions and many committees worked before and after the formal meeting.

SALES TAX IS OPPOSED HERE

Petition Urges Legislators Not to Impose Additional Burden On People

Opposition to a sales tax was expressed today in a petition being circulated by prominent business men of the city.

The petition will be sent to members of the state legislature in an effort that they may more fully realize the sentiment existing in this immediate territory.

The petition declared that merchants were finding it difficult to keep their doors open at this time, and that a general sales tax would bring ruin to this field of activity.

Active in the circulation of the petition were Judson Blunt, former president of the State Merchants Association, and S. T. White, former chairman of the Board of County Commissioners, and operator of several stores in this part of the state.

The petition is similar to those being circulated by opponents of the sales tax in different sections of the state and is expected to weigh heavily in the final decision of the legislators handling the question at Raleigh.

It is the general impression of the business interests that the tax burden should be placed on sources which have not been bearing their share of taxation and that merchants, who have been sorely pressed should be relieved as much as possible.

It is argued also that the sales tax would not only strike at the merchant but would affect the general run of people who find it difficult to make ends meet at this time with employment more scarce than it has been in the history of the country.

ROBBERS MAKE HAUL AT AYDEN

Considerable Amount Of Jewelry Taken From Spier Store Saturday Night

Robbers entered the Spier Jewelry Store at Ayden last Saturday night and obtained a considerable amount of jewelry, according to information reaching here today.

Police immediately started an investigation, but so far the robbers had made good their escape.

Breaking through a back window, the thieves stole rings and other articles of jewelry valued at between $100 and $200 and escaped through the back door.

All of the jewelry was described as of a cheap character as the most valuable had been stored in the safe when the store closed for business Saturday night.

The robbery was discovered early Sunday morning and police began a search which had been futile up until the noon hour.

CARNERA WILL BE ARRESTED

Giant Fighter Held For Manslaughter in Death of Ernie Schaff

New York, Feb. 14.—Primo Carnera was ordered arrested today on a charge of manslaughter as a result of the death of Ernie Schaff.

Police said the giant heavyweight, whose battle with Schaff ended Friday night when the latter collapsed from brain injury which caused his death today, would be taken into custody shortly at his hotel here.

Meanwhile, Schaff's relatives were preparing funeral arrangements. Friends said the funeral would be held Friday at the little town of Sheldonville, Mass.

The police homicide squad summoned to the Garden immediately after the fight were preparing today to investigate the fatal injuries of Schaff.

New York, Feb. 14.—(AP)—Ernie Schaff, 24, Boston boxer who fell under a crushing blow of the giant, Primo Carnera at Madison Square Friday night, while a great crowd howled "Fate," died today from the beating he took.

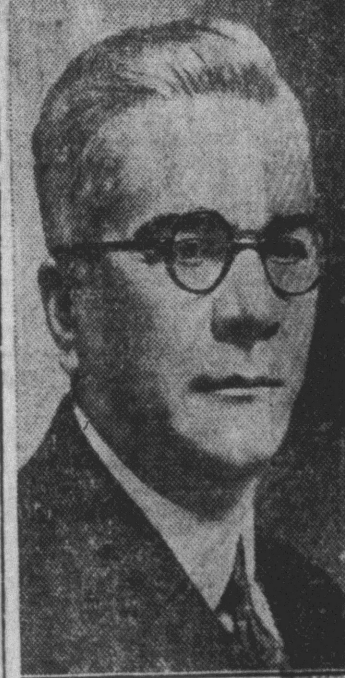

Death which came at 4:10 o'clock this morning, was due to cranial hemorrhage said to have been sustained by the batter before he fell to the canvass. At midnight a priest was called to administer the last rites of the Catholic Church.

With him when he died was his mother and manager and friend, Johnny Buckley, Jimmy Johnston, matchmaker, said when told of Schaff's death: "It is the most terrible thing that ever happened in boxing."

Schaff's death in many respects paralleled that of Frankie Jerome in January, 1924, when Jerome was knocked out in a 12-round fight and died a day later.

Joe Chamberlain, new White Sox rookie, may not be the best shortstop in the business, but he's probably the biggest. He stands 6 feet three and weighs 185—Cargantuan proportions for a short-fielder.

VALENTINE DAY IS OBSERVED

Greenville Like Rest Of World Gives Attention to Things of The Heart

Today is Valentine's Day and people everywhere joined in paying tribute to the spirit of the occasion.

In Greenville, as in thousands of other cities and towns of the world, heart-shaped cards made their rounds among those amorously inclined as older members of the population were reminded of former years when they too thrilled at the approach of the season of love.

Decorations reminiscent of the Valentine season have been in use at parties and club meetings here for the last two weeks or more and they will be used more profusely as decorations for dances to be given here during the latter part of the week.

Anticipating generous giving of candy and flowers, local confectioners and florists provided the public with liberal varieties of appropriate gifts for the season and many a heart was made glad by the thought expressed by members of the opposite sex.

"Will you be my Valentine?" This and many other questions went their rounds among members of the younger generation today and the community was drawn just a bit closer together as the spirit of Valentine took a firm hold on the public heart and caused millions of people to forget temporarily the disturbed financial situation prevailing over the world and the countless other worries accompanying it.

Valentine Day, like other significant occasions in the year's calendar, always leaves the world just a little better than it found it because of the feeling it awakens in the hearts of men and women and causes them to seek a higher plane of existence.

Two Former Speakers Of House Sponsor Measure Which is Given Viva Voce Vote of Committee; Not More Than Three Members of The Body Reported To Have Voted Against Bill

Raleigh, N. C., Feb. 14.—(AP)—A favorable committee report today was voted the bill introduced in the lower House of the North Carolina Assembly to legalize light wines and beers in North Carolina, if the Federal prohibition laws are changed.

The measure is designed to permit the State to tax alcoholic beverages declared legal by the Federal government. It was favorably voted after considerable discussion of the House Judiciary Committee No. 1.

The measure was sponsored by two former Speakers of the House of Representatives, Murphy, of Rowan, and Bowie, of Ashe. The bill also bears the signature of eleven other members of the House.

The vote to approve the measure was viva voce after Representative Lumpkin, of Franklin, moved that the committee be given favorable approval. It appeared that not more than three members voted against the report.

FINE VALUES ON DOLLAR DAY

Merchants Plan Extensive Offerings of Goods Here Coming Thursday

Greenville merchants today were beginning to put final touches to plans for semi-annual "Dollar Day" to be observed here Thursday. Twenty stores will take part in the trade event this time, assuring the hundreds of shoppers expected to visit the city on that day the most extensive offerings in history.

Dollar Day this year is being conducted under auspices of the merchants' division of the Chamber of Commerce and considerable attention has been given to advertising and letting the people know what the various firms will have to offer.

The advertising campaign was expected to be pronounced today and tomorrow when participating merchants will make an effort to inform the public of the many bargains in which will be found on their counters throughout the day.

In view of the fact that buyers have been sent to Northern markets by some of the firms, Dollar Day offerings were certain to be of a wider range than ever before, giving everybody a chance to get what he wants.

People for miles around have been invited to attend and share in the harvest of values to be found on the counters of the various firms throughout the city.

The ancient Romans thought of silk as a sort of wool that grew on trees.

Many Values Will Be Offered Here On "Dollar Day"

The WORLD OF STAMPS

Monaco, principally on the Mediterranean, has issued a series of 23 stamps that range from 15 to 90 centimes and from 1 franc 25 centimes to 25 francs. Two postage values are included.

Sets reached this country ahead of detailed descriptions, but pictures of buildings and town views, some with the sea in the background, predominate. A portrait of Louis II, prince of Monaco, appears on four of the values.

Incidentally, Monte Carlo is neither the largest town nor the capital of the principality.

A striking design, containing more than a hint of modernism, appears on an air express stamp just issued by Italy. It shows an airplane flying above a cloud bank, with sun rays penetrating from the background. Its value is 2.25 lire.

In Fascist-land, by the way, the government not only handles stamps but advertises them—and apparently finds it good business. While the government as a whole is running at a deficit, its "stamp bureau," or office for the sale of Italian stamps of interest to collectors, continues to break even.

As director of the office, Commendatore Diana, an expert philatelist, prepares newspaper advertisements that vie with those from department stores and automobile dealers. And he has published an 87-page catalogue listing the varieties handled.

Birthday List
For those interested in collecting covers—envelopes—bearing the postmark of a town and date connected with the lives of the presidents, Burton G. Cowles, superintendent of the division of dead letters, Post-office Department, Washington, has prepared a presidential birthday list.

It shows, for example, that John Adams was born at Quincy, Mass., on October 30 and that covers should be sent to the postmaster of Quincy for mailing to the collector on that day; and that Warren G. Harding was born at Corsica, Ohio, on November 2, but that covers should be sent to the postmaster at Marion, Ohio.

New Books

By JOHN SELBY
New York—There is, fortunately, no stopping the posthumous vogue of D. H. Lawrence.

For the most part forced to live surrounded by turned up noses and the swish of withdrawn skirts, he now is fought over with almost the warmth allowed a popular actor.

So we have "The Lovely Lady," which is a collection of seven of Lawrence's last stories, most of which sound very little like the Lawrence of the "Letters." The sincerity against which no pretense could stand while Lawrence lived is not quite so evident in this posthumous publication.

However, there are in the seven a first rate study of hysteria in children, called "The Rocking Horse Winner," and a portrait of the yearning American so pointed it hurts, the name of which is "Thing."

Something Different
The urge to "reality interpret" Richard Wagner is insatiable. B. M. Steigman now does it in "The Unconquerable Tristan."

He revalues the man and his career, using as makeweights the four women who most influenced him: Minna Planer, Jessie Laussot, Mathilde Wesendonck and Cosima von Bulow, and as material (chiefly) Wagner's letters. More unreliable sources for any estimate of Wagner could scarcely be found than his own letters, as is universally known.

There results a strangely interesting psychological portrait, but not not exactly a book of fact. The general vagueness is accentuated by the fact that Mr. Steigman has omitted nearly all dates, doubtless with the idea of making it all seem easier reading. The book is written, also, so lightly that at times Mr. Steigman seems almost to be ridiculing his subject.

About War Veterans

In "Tattered Banners" Talcott Powell recounts the story of the discharged soldier through all of history. He arrives, about the middle of the book, at a consideration of the United States' plight, and from there on tells a good deal of what the veterans are doing to the United States, with only casual mention of what the veterans did for this country.

Sea lovers will retire behind Felix Risenberg's "Log of the Sea" with sighs of delight, reveling in its flavoured masculine account of a life well spent on the water; admirers of Walter D. Edmonds' "Rome Haul" will find "Eric Water" of equal value both as the story of two fine young lives, and as a history of the Eric canal's construction.

And those who like Erzsine Caldwell's starkness, will find him at his starkest in "God's Little Acre," which is as full of triangles as a geometry.

An electric finger exercises for musicians is the invention of a Portland, Ore., music teacher.

Gregory Kabat, star University of Wisconsin football guard and twice All-Big Ten choice, is a star varsity hockey player for the Cardinal.

POLITICS

By BYRON PRICE
(Chief of Bureau, The Associated Press, Washington)

President-Roosevelt not only has kept his promise to "surprise" the newspaper correspondents in selecting his Cabinet, but he has surprised many of his party leaders, as well.

In the beginning, the apprehension of these leaders was that most of the men really wanted for Cabinet service would find it impossible to accept.

Names frequently heard were those of Newton D. Baker and Albert O. Ritchie, between whom the Presidential nomination probably would have lain had Roosevelt been stopped at Chicago.

Yet there has been almost no mention of either of these names in the later emanations from Roosevelt headquarters. And more interesting still, the friends of both Baker and Ritchie believe they would accept as a patriotic duty, if asked, although neither really wants a Cabinet job.

That Barry Case

The explosion of a tired and irritable Senate over the magazine writing of the Sergeant-at-Arms, David S. Barry, will live in history as a flaming warning to government employees as to what allusions can and cannot be safely made.

What Barry said in his article was in effect, that most members of Congress were honest, but that amongst 331, some black sheep got in now and then. For that he was deprived of his job.

It is rather strange that during the several days of dispute over this case, no one mentioned that less than two years ago, in Evansville, Indiana, a member of the House was convicted of accepting a bribe, and sentenced to the penitentiary.

'Party Government' Restored

It appears that "party government" is about to be restored in Washington for the first time in fourteen years.

Congress is moving to give Mr. Roosevelt extraordinary power, especially in such matters as government re-organization, subject only to a veto by two-thirds of both Houses. It probably never will be possible to rally that many against him in the new Congress, where Democratic majorities are so large.

Furthermore, both Democratic and Republican are returning to the caucus method of shaping legislative policies, thus binding members, under threat of party discipline, to follow their leaders.

This is important news. Since 1919, when a Republican House took office under a Democratic President, party responsibility either has been divided or else vitiated entirely by "government by blocs."

Tax Parley Hold: Promise

Few coming events cast a larger shadow than the tax conference of governors to be held in Washington right after inauguration.

Many believe the problem of taxes in effect, that most members of Congress hold the key to most of the present troubles. The farmer, for instance, would come much nearer to recapturing his old place in the economic scheme were it not for the one item of greatly increased land taxes.

On top of the present increased Federal income tax twenty-three States and Territories have imposed their own. There are hundreds of other duplications. It will be difficult to get through a program unscrambling all of this, but the possible benefits are so apparent as to make real effort worth while.

OKLAHOMA SOUP KITCHEN HAS PIPE ORGAN ADJUNCT

Holdenville, Okla.—(AP)—Holdenville's municipal kitchen, which feeds approximately 2,500 persons a month in a city of 10,000, has one unusual piece of equipment—an organ used in religious services.

Forty-three persons are given employment in operating the kitchen, which daily feeds school children and homeless persons from many States of the Union.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH CUTS MISSION BUDGET

New York.—(AP)—A 21 per cent reduction in the 1933-1934 budget of the Board of National Missions of the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A. has been approved by the executive committee of the board, Dr. E. Graham Wilson, general secretary, announces.

The total amount appropriated for the fiscal year, which begins April 1, is $2,800,000, approximately one-fifth less than that for the current year.

Postoffice Will Change Holiday To Saturday

The local postoffice will observe half holidays on Saturday hereafter instead of Wednesday as customary in past months, it was announced by Postmaster H. R. Mumford.

The new half holiday will become effective next Saturday at noon when all windows will be closed during the afternoon.

When the Federal government inaugurated a 44-hour working week last year, the local postoffice decided to close on Wednesday afternoon instead of Saturday, to operate with local business houses which observed the Wednesday half-day closings throughout the summer months.

The postoffice continued this schedule until several days ago when an inspector called attention to the postoffice rulling setting aside Saturday afternoon for the half holiday.

In compliance with the law, Postmaster Mumford said today all windows would close at 1 o'clock next Saturday and continue on this schedule as long as the legislation remains effective.

Similar closing hours are observed by all other postoffices in this section of the country and the nation generally.

Kelvinator Men In School Here

Kelvinator service men from all parts of North and South Carolina are here this week attending a service school being held by their distributor, The Carolina Kelvinator Company of this city. The school is being conducted by George Eastman, of the Kelvinator Corporation, Detroit, Mich., and Hugh Blount, service manager of the local concern.

Local Laundry Changes Hands

Announcement was made today of the change in management and ownership of the Greenville Laundry, formerly operated by J. P. Rowlett. Mack E. Brown, son of the late Wiley Brown, announced he would operate the laundry under the name of "Cascade Laundry."

In taking over the plant on Dickinson Avenue, Mr. Brown said he would inaugurate drastic change in service, assuring his patrons of improved work combined with faster service and more attention to detail.

Mr. Brown, a native of Greenville, has spent the last several years in Greensboro, and returned here sometime ago to enter the business field.

The laundry which he is taking over was owned by his father and had been operated by Mr. Rowlett for the last several years.

SERVICES AT COLORED EPISCOPAL CHURCH

At the second service of the mission being held throughout this week at St. Andrew's (colored) Episcopal Church by the Rev. Robert I. Johnson of New Bern, practically the entire membership of the church was present. In this service the Rev. Johnson presented to the group congregation instruction, seeking to help those attending to find the truest meaning in their church membership. He talked to them of the fact that all the church depends upon the people in the pews. He challenged his hearers to look into their own lives with honest self-examination and see whether they were living Christian lives. He reminded the membership that every Christian should be working for Christ seeking to bring to Him every person who needs the Saviour in their lives regardless of their position or wealth or class. The service was marked by a deep response on the part of the congregation, many of whom remarked that what they had heard made them realize that they should be more actively at work for their Lord Jesus Christ. Rev. Johnson will continue his messages tonight at 8 o'clock at St. Andrew's Church in Bonner's Lane.

Hints on Contract Bridge Up-to-Date

POWERHOUSES COLLAPSE
(By Tom O'Neill)

Hands warranting opening forcing bids of two in a suit must be developed by correct subsequent bidding and often by excellent play to reap the proper reward in points.

William J. Huske, veteran master sat opposite six quick tricks dealt by his partner to himself in the following hand:

NORTH: S—6 4 2; H—7 5; D—Q J 10 5 4; C—J 5 3.

WEST, dealer: S—J; H—A K 2; D—A K 3; C—A K 8 7 6 4.

SOUTH: S—K Q 10 8 7; H—Q J 6 6; D—8 6 2; C—9.

Huske, EAST: S—A 9 5 2; H—10 9 4 3; D—9 7; C—Q 10 2.

West opened the auction with two clubs. North and south kept silent. Huske's first response was two no trump, the best answer. His hand was not quite a bust, but it was well not to offer encouragement. West rebid the clubs and Huske assisted them to four. Then west offered five no trump, indicating possession of three aces and the king of clubs. Huske replied with six no trump, from which the only conclusion was that he had the ace of spades. He really wanted to play six no trump, not being enthusiastic about his distribution. West replied with seven clubs.

North opened with the diamond queen which was taken in the west hand with the king. If the four adverse trumps were not all held in the north hand, a squeeze hand seemed to be the only way to make the contract, unless one hand should hold the doubleton queen-knave in hearts, which seemed improbable.

West drew one round of trumps, played the diamond ace, ruffed a diamond, then played out all the clubs, discarding three spades and one heart from dummy. His idea was that the opposition would be squeezed in hearts, so that the ten of hearts would make. South freed all her spades and made a heart trick at the end.

"That's not the way to squeeze," remarked Huske. "There was a perfect squeeze on the south hand. Leave two spades and two hearts in dummy as trumps are being run and south is helpless."

GOLDSBORO KILLING HELD IN SELF-DEFENSE

Goldsboro, N. C., Feb. 14.—Willie Wright, negro, was fatally injured at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon when he was struck on the head with a brick by Jim Alford, negro, on South Georgia Avenue. He died in the Goldsboro Hospital at 11:25 Sunday night.

Alford was exonerated of any blame following the inquest which was held at 10 o'clock Monday morning. Alford, an elderly negro, testified that Wright was drunk and cursed him. He said he told Wright to go on and let him alone and that Wright drew his knife and started towards him. Alford said he ran as long as he could, then picked up a brick and threw it at Wright, striking him on the head.

State forestry departments distributed more than 100,000,000 trees for forest planting last year.

THURSDAY, DOLLAR DAY

Thursday is Dollar Day in Greenville and again the residents of the Greenville trading area are invited to his shopping center to take advantage of the bargains offered in these semi-annual co-operative sales events. These Dollar Days offer a great opportunity to those thrifty persons who are looking for real bargains, and next Thursday promises to eclipse all former occasions from the value standpoint. You are invited to meet your friends in the stores of the local Merchants Thursday, Dollar Day.

THAT POSTOFFICE HALF-HOLIDAY

There has been some criticism in the past because of the observance of a half-holiday each week by the local postoffice. In justice to Postmaster Munford, attention is called to a news story in today's paper to the effect that this half-holiday was brought about by the passage of the 1-hour week by the Postoffice Department. While heretofore Wednesday afternoon has been observed by a local office, beginning this week the half-holiday will be observed on Saturday afternoons in keeping with the ruling of the department and the schedule now in effect in other offices throughout the country.

ABOUT TOWN

Kidnapping is becoming so widespread in this country that legislators of states must see that punishment becomes more severe than it is to halt the practice. Induction in many instances has a light death. The Lindbergh case is a striking example of this, and it is not discouraged through extreme penalty there is every reason to believe it will become more widespread. Because of the constant threat to the life of his family, Colonel Miles A. Lindbergh is planning to move to England. He realizes that in that country is quicker and more drastic as it pertains to the life of his family, and will throw complete safeguard around his child, who was recently kidnapped against kidnapers. The death penalty, as much as it is tested by those who do not believe in capital punishment, seems to be the only solution, and legislators in those states so seriously affected by abductions should take steps to make such provisions.

The coming of two Methodist camps to Greenville Thursday will greet with interest by the citizenship. It is not often a city has the chance of hearing two such heads the same day but that Greenville has ahead of it. Bishop Kearns, bishop of the Episcopal Church, will speak at a mission conference at the local Methodist church along with Bishop Moulton, who preached the conference sermon here two years ago. Both men are well informed concerning conditions as they affect the world and the messages they bring to the city should be of inestimable value to everybody. Greenville is always glad of the opportunity to entertain conferences of this kind and the gates of the city will be thrown wide to the visitors coming here to plan for greater spiritual uplift in the districts affected.

Plans for the seed loans to be made by the government again this year are rapidly taking form and application blanks will be available within the next several days.

The loans will be of great help to the farmers in planting their crops this year, and those who take advantage of them probably will be able to accomplish much more than they would were the money not available.

One of the features of the loans is the demand by the government that growers agree to cut production of principal money crops. This means the government is making a concerted drive against increasing the congestion existing on the world market. Farmers who abide by the demand will find themselves in much better shape in the course of the next few years because relief of glutted markets will mean greater demand in years to come.

Dollar Day here Thursday is expected to draw one of the largest crowds in years, and people who take advantage of the bargains will find themselves with a big saving in hand.

The semi-annual sales day will see more participating merchants than ever before. This means more bargains for progressive shoppers.

and more bargains mean greater savings. Greenville merchants are always trying to render the best of service to the thousands of people who shop here each season of the year and Dollar Day is a time when they divide profits with their patrons.

This is a time when everybody is trying to save every penny he can and those who come here Thursday will be able to accomplish that desire more pronouncedly than any other time of the year.

Eighteen persons died in accidents in the south during the past week-end. The majority of the fatalities occurred on the highways and others in explosions and by pistol shots.

The death toll on the highways is usually larger, but for some unaccountable reason people drove safer and came out better.

Careful drivers is what the nation needs at this time and people should give the matter more consideration when they get behind the steering wheel and start out on a journey.

Too little value has been placed on human life in recent years, and no improvement in the condition can be expected until people slow down and give more attention to the way they drive.

We may pass every law proposed by legislators but deaths will continue to occur until the drivers awaken to the danger confronting them while on the highways. We may not place much value on our own lives but other people do and we should respect their rights if not our own.

beneath his cloak a folded piece of coarse paper, thumbtacked and filthy, on which was scrawled: "Monsieur le Commandant le Major Riccoli."

"Get this to Major Riccoli somehow," he said. "If the sergeant of the Guard refuses, speak to your Officer yourself. If nothing happens, come and look for me in the market there, selling almonds."

And the speaker, retiring a few paces, squatted beside the road or track that led from the gate of the post.

Otho perpended. Clearly he must let Major Riccoli know, as soon as possible, that a tribesman demanded speech with him. Would Sergeant-Major Vittorelli take the message and the scrap of paper, or curse him for a fool and punish him for allowing an Arab to approach so close that he might have stabbed the sentry, snatched his rifle and fled; or have dashed into the fort and died slaying—perhaps succeeding in killing the Commandant himself, or even Sergeant-Major Vittorelli?

Had he better march boldly into the stone, but that was the Commandant's quarters, trusting that the scrap of paper would be his passport to forgiveness for such presumption?

(Copyright, 1932, F. A. Stokes Co.)

The "Moor" and Major Riccoli have a strange encounter, tomorrow.

NO FAVORITES FOR HIGH MT MAT TOURNNEY

Chapel Hill, Feb. 14.—No favorites are being quoted for the state high school boxing and wrestling tournaments here Thursday and Friday, the only audible prediction being that the fields are going to be large and fast and that there is going to be some ne scrapping in both tourneys.

Durham High is a possibility to lift Wilson's boxing crown, but on the other hand, the Barium Springs matmen have beaten Durham in dual meet competition and may easily win their wrestling championship now held by that school. Greensboro is another school which is expected to offer a wrestling team of championship possibilities, while Raleigh, champions in 1931, and Charlotte and Greensboro will send still other dangerous entries in boxing.

The two tournaments will be run of simultaneously in the Tin Can, under the direction of Carolina's boxing and wrestling coaches, Grayton Rowe and Church Quinlan, with first round matches starting at 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon, second round matches at 10 o'clock Friday morning and finals at 8 o'clock Friday night. All contestants are to weigh in at 11 o'clock Thursday morning and the coaches' meeting is to be held at 1 o'clock.

But except for Buster Crabbe, the swimmer, who seems to be profiting from the successful motion picture venture of Johnny Weissmuller, I do not find that these Olympic stars have made much financial headway since casting aside their amateurism.

Such as it is, Eddie Tolan, the double sprint champion, has a job in Detroit. "Jarring Jim" Bausch, the great all-around athlete, has been doing short turns with an orchestra. Ralph Hill, the greatest runner-up of the game, is looking for a teaching job and not finding it easy. I do not seem to find much evidence of those famous mermaids. Helene Madison and Eleanor Holm, being a sensation in the business of being exploited.

Gene Hits It Tough

How much do you suppose Gene Sarazen has made during the past year off his reputation as Open Golf Champion of Great Britain and the U. S. A., a feat for which he was voted the outstanding performer of 1932? His manager talked quite freely of a $250,000 cash profit, but I would be much surprised if the genial Gene has cleared, over and above his expenses, much more than $2,500.

Yet a few years ago the value of only one of these titles to a pro could be figured as at least $25,000 and usually $50,000.

All of which proves, incidentally, that when Mr. Robert Tyre Jones, Jr. pulled out of competition in 1930 with all the best known golfing crowns in his possession and proceeded to "cash in," he also pulled the smartest play of his career.

STATE FIGHT STAR WINS FOURTH TILT

Raleigh, Feb. 14.—Bill Dunaway of North Carolina State's boxing team counted his fourth successive knockout in the 155 pound class last Saturday night when he finished Spruill of V. P. I. after 77 seconds of fighting. Dunaway has engaged in 10 varsity scraps and has fought only 13 minutes and 22 seconds out of a possible 30 minutes. Two of his fights resulted in first round knockouts, and two in second round knockouts. One, his first of the season, went the full route.

State's other wins against V. P. I. were counted by Turner Billisoy, 115 pounds; Allen Nease, 12 pounds; and Capt. Charlie Garner, 145.

Coach Bill Beatty's proteges will close their dual-meet competition Saturday night when they face Georgia in the Frank Thompson gymnasium. Following that test, Beatty will get his team in line for the Southern Conference tournament in Charlottesville, Va., the last of next month.

State College's wrestling teams meet teams of Duke University Thursday night in Durham. State's varsity needs only a victory over the Duke grapplers to clinch North Carolina's wrestling title this winter.

The four-man relay team of N. C. State's swimming team has not been beaten in two years. This year the team has stroked to victories over Duke, William and Mary and Washington and Lee, three of the strongest teams to be found in the Southern Conference.

More than 80 high school teams of North Carolina have applied for membership in the eighth invitational basketball tournament for high school teams of the state, according to John F. Miller of N. C. State. The tournament is conducted each year at State College and will be held on Thursday, Friday and Saturday March 2 3 and 4.

FARMER HARVESTS $7,000 SEED CROP FROM 4 ACRES

Dyersburg, Tenn. (AP)—So far as J. B. Hundley, farmer, is concerned, the depression is whipped and whipped badly.

Hundley harvested $7,000 worth of lespedeza seed this year from four acres of ground. The yield was 1,400 pounds, and value of the seed is $5 a pound.

Starting his venture last year with enough seed from the University of Tennessee to get a start, he harvested enough to sow the four acres this year.

It is estimated that only about 130,000 pounds of this particular variety of seed are available in the United States. A year ago the seed was worth $40 a pound.

ANIMAL TRACTION MORE NOTICEABLE

Jonesboro, N. C., Feb. 14.—Horses and mules are coming back into their own in Lee County.

There are more horse and mule drawn vehicles in the shape of wagons and buggies being seen on the highways in this section than in years. The reason for this is the people are not able to buy licenses for their cars. However, some of these people who are now forced to ride in buggies and wagons will probably later on buy tags for part of the year as they did last year. There are others who will not take their cars out of the garage during the twelve months.

In five successive basketball games this season Notre Dame played to a total of 31,000 spectators—a better than 6,000-per game average.

SPORT SLANTS

By ALAN GOULD

Among other things the current re-adjustments in sport, by no means completed as yet, have made it increasingly difficult for our athletes to capitalize their skill or exploit their fame.

It is not only of the professional but also the amateur star. In the sense that it is deflating values, pricking the bubble of the hallyhoo and making for saner viewpoints, it is a very gratifying situation. Insofar as some of the performers themselves are concerned it has its pathetic touches.

The case of Babe Didrikson seems, at the moment, a classic one. What would the cash value of the Babe been, say three or four years ago, as a barnstorming professional, granting she had then achieved as much fame as she did in the last Olympics? I do not think it would be any exaggeration to estimate the figure at around $50,000 for a single year.

The Texas Babe would not last as a pro because her field of opportunities in athletics is somewhat limited. She would run out of real competition and the novelty of an extraordinary young lady champion would wear off. It seems to be doing so now.

If the Babe makes as much as $5,000 now, from any and all sources, within a year, she will be a fortunate woman, despite the fact she has been the beneficiary of some unusual hallyhoo. She would have been better off, in the long run, to have remained amateur and waited for a better opportunity to "cash in."

Lean Times For Heroes
The blame is not hers, but belongs to her advisers and to those bright young men who exaggerated her Olympic exploits and personality in the public prints.

There was supposed to be a terrific rush, following the Olympics, to capitalize the fame of the young men and women whose exploits monopolized the headlines in the greatest combined athletic show of all time.

It's fun to be fooled — ...it's more fun to KNOW

ILLUSION: The stage is all set for target practice. The magician lifts his bow and aims an arrow at the bull's-eye. His lovely assistant then steps in front of the target and he shoots the arrow—apparently through her—and it fixes itself in the very center of the bull's-eye! And she smiles through it all while the audience gasps.

EXPLANATION: The arrow which the marksman "shoots through" his assistant simply folds up into the crossbow! The arrow which is actually embedded in the target is shot by the girl herself from a belt concealed under her dress. She releases a little spring, the arrow unfolds, and shoots straight into the bull's-eye! It is all done in a flash! So quickly the eye cannot detect the girl's movements! To heighten the impression that the arrow has gone right through, the girl releases a ribbon from the front of her dress—the continuation, apparently, of the ribbon attached to the arrow in the target.

Like to see through tricks? Then let's look at another... the illusion in cigarette advertising called "Cigarettes and Your Throat."

If you have to consider your throat, the quality of the tobacco in your cigarette is important.

It is a fact, well known by leaf tobacco experts, that Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE tobaccos than any other popular brand.

Camels are as non-irritating as a cigarette can be because Camels use choice, ripe, tobaccos.

And because of the matchless blending of these costlier tobaccos Camels have a rich bouquet and aroma... a cool, delicious flavor.

Keep the air-tight, welded Humidor Pack on your Camels... to assure yourself and your companions a fresh, cool smoke.
