ZANGARA PLEADS GUILTY TO ATTEMPTED MURDER

Japan Threatens To Pull Out Of League Of Nations

ASKS LEAGUE TO CHANGE ON LAST REPORT of Assembly Refuses To Reverse Itself on Sino-Japanese Controversy Government Is Ready to Withdraw; Will Also Affect Disarmament Conference; Battle At Jehol Imminent

The Japanese cabinet has definitely decided that Japan will withdraw from the League of Nations unless the League assembly upsets all predictions and votes against its prepared report on the Sino-Japanese controversy this week.

This also will mean that Japan will withdraw from the world disarmament conferences.

A foreign office spokesman in Tokyo said he would not be surprised if the Japanese campaign to annex the Chinese administrative province of Jehol to Manchukuo would begin today the League takes up the Sino-Japanese report which condemned Japanese military activities.

Japanese military traffic choked the Manchurian Railway along the eastern border of Jehol and indications were that the zero hour was at hand for the big push.

About 50,000 troops will be poured into the province by the Japanese and about twice as many by the Chinese.

The Japanese command is confident Jehol City, capital of the province, about two hundred miles from the present battlefield, will be occupied in five days after the drive starts.

THREE SLAIN IN NEW YORK

Woman and Two Men Found Dead in Speakeasy by Newsboy Early Today

New York, Feb. 20.—(AP)—John Sweeney, peddling his papers, pushed into a mid-town speakeasy known as Porky's place early today and stumbled upon a triple murder.

On the floor between the bar there lay the body of a brunette, attractive, and John Egan, bandit and burglar, of New York and New Jersey, and performed last December the rare feat of escaping from Sing Sing Prison.

Behind the bar was the body of Michael Griffin, 45-year-old bartender. Each had been killed by a shot which went in at the side of the head. Police did not know who the woman was. She was about 25, attractive and modestly attired.

Sweeney, making his rounds of mid-town speakeasy belt with his newspapers, had run up a short flight of steps of the brownstone house at 257 West 52nd Street.

Passing through the hall he found the door leading to the bar ajar. The bodies of a man and woman were of almost at his feet as he pushed his way in.

MAKE APPEAL AGAINST RUM

Petition Here Calls On Legislature Not To Change Prohibition Law

A petition was being circulated here today calling on the North Carolina General Assembly not to make any change in the State prohibition law unless it effected an improvement in the legislation now in existence.

The petition was being circulated by members of the Ministerial Association and other interested in the dry movement and was expected to carry hundreds of the signatures when it is sent to the legislators at Raleigh.

The petition is an aftermath of the general temperance rally held throughout the county yesterday under auspices of the State Anti-Saloon League. It is one of thousands which will be sent to the Legislature from various sections of the State as supporters of prohibition push their campaign to prevent renaissance of legalized sale of whiskey in this State regardless of what action the Federal government may take.

From the pulpits of the several churches of the county yesterday, ministers preached dry sermons—some Sunday school type—but powerful messages showing the effort now under way to repeal the Eighteenth Amendment. The campaign reached its height in Greenville last night with a mass meeting at the Christian Church.

Although the petition issued this morning was widely worded, it impressed upon the legislators the inadvisability of changing the prohibition laws unless they had something more effective to offer. It was stated that while not as far-reaching as desired, conditions under prohibition were far more favorable than when legalized sale of whiskey was in its hey day.

ANONYMOUS LETTERS PREDICT REVOLUTION

Asheville, N. C., Feb. 20.—(AP)—Threats that a revolution would occur in Asheville as well as other sections of the nation within three months were contained in a letter received by Stanley H. Wright, former city engineer, and sign d "R. S. C. P. A."

This was one of a series of letters received by Asheville residents within the past several weeks. The anonymous letters are postmarked Asheville and the addresses and letters are unobtainable.

Mr. Wright said he received his letter about a month ago.

PROHIBITION REPEAL BILL IS PASSED BY THE HOUSE

Washington, Feb. 20.—(AP)—The 13-year-old constitutional amendment for national prohibition went back to the states for new decisions today on a 289 to 121 vote in the House of Representatives.

Duplicating the Senate action of last week when it favored sufficient submission of the repeal amendment to state convention by 63 to 23 vote, the House acted before being in session more than an hour and a half, cheered on by part of the galleries and in the face of ominous silence on the part of others there. The latter represented many of the dry organizations which served notice that the organizations and the Anti-Saloon League would fight out the issue to a finish in state capitals.

The vote was 15 more than the two-thirds required. Speaker Garner was treated with cheers and applause on announcing the outcome.

Immediately Chairman Summers of the judiciary committee and others moved for a federal law setting up the machinery for state conventions.

A hard road was in prospect for this effort as Garner and others on both sides of the capital have expressed the view that calling for conventions is a state function.

DRY CONFERS WITH HOOVER

Colonel Robbins Says He Has Not Changed His Stand On Prohibition

Washington, D. C., Feb. 20.—(AP)—Colonel Raymond Robbins, prohibition leader and friend of President Hoover, today issued a statement after spending the night at the White House, saying he was once again taking up the dry work.

The man who disappeared for two and a half months last fall while en route to visit the President, expressed the hope he would return to advocating temperance.

After a conference with President Hoover and with Walter Newton, White House secretary and personal friend, Robbins had nothing to say on the vote today in the House to speed approval of the prohibition repeal resolution to the States.

"I stand where I have always stood," he stated.

NEGRO SLAIN IN CRAP GAME

Police Seek Jasper Reddick For Slaying Of David Gorham Her Sunday

Police today were seeking Jasper Reddick, colored, charged with the "crap game" slaying of David Gorham, also colored, here early Sunday morning.

The slaying occurred at the home of Henrietta Dixon, colored, where the two men were engaged in an exciting game of "African golf," or "craps," in the vernacular of the negro.

Reddick claimed the cards had been stacked against him, causing him the loss of sixty cents. He demanded Gorham to return the money, and when Gorham refused he was alleged to have pulled a gun and shot Gorham through the head. Death occurred a short time later.

Reddick immediately escaped and no information had been received of his whereabouts. Police, however, had notified surrounding towns of the crime and it was expected a definite clue would be obtained shortly.

INDIVIDUAL PLEAS MADE IN ALL CASES

Man Who Shot Five People Attempting To Kill President-Elect Declares He is Sorry He Did Not Accomplish His Purpose as He Pleads Guilty in Miami Court; Judge Denies Effort to Enter Plea in All Cases

Miami, Fla., Feb. 20.—(AP)—Giuseppe Zangara today was sentenced to eighty years in prison for his attack February 15 on President-Elect Roosevelt, Mrs. Margaret Kruis of Newark; Russell Caldwell, of Florida, and William Sinnott, of New York.

He was sentenced to twenty years on each of four charges which were attempted to murder, getting a maximum sentence in each case.

Zangara may yet be tried for murder. His plea did not cover the case of Mayor Cermak and Mrs. Jos Gillof Miami, who are fighting for their lives in a hospital here.

Criminal Court Building, Miami, Fla., Feb. 20.—(AP)—Lewis Twyman, head of the defense counsel for Giuseppe Zangara, announced this morning Zangara would plead guilty to all charges of attempted murder growing out of the attempted assassination of President-Elect Franklin R. Roosevelt.

The announcement was made as Twyman entered formally a plea of guilty to charges that Zangara attempted to murder Russell Caldwell, during the attempted assassination of President-Elect Roosevelt.

Judge E. C. Collins declined a suggestion that a plea of guilty be entered to all four charges and required individual pleas in each case.

The announcement from the defense attorney set at rest speculation that the man whose bullets wounded five persons in an unsuccessful attempt upon the life of Mr. Roosevelt would attempt to escape prison by claiming he was insane.

County Solicitor Charles Morehead immediately read charges that Zangara during the attempted assassination of Mr. Roosevelt attempted to kill Mrs. Margaret Kruis, of Newark, and William Sinnott, New York policeman.

Twyman entered a plea for his client at the conclusion of the reading of each charge.

Zangara showed only one spark of interest during the reading of the charges. That was when he heard his name referred to as Giuseppe Zangara, alias Jose Zangara.

"That means the same thing," interposed Jose and Giuseppe means the same thing.

He waved his hand earnestly as he spoke. "You call me Jose and Giuseppe," he said to Morehead. "You make people think I'm a fool."

After reading of the charges he was taken aside where attorneys explained that Giuseppe was the same in Italian and Joe the name in English.

Twyman stated immediately afterward: "My young client admits that he is guilty. He has no regret. He is sorry he did not succeed in his attempt on the life of Mr. Roosevelt. He sneered at the idea he was insane. He said, 'No, no, I'm not crazy,' when we asked him if he thought he was crazy," Twyman went on.

News OF THE Day IN Pictures

Farm mortgages and the inability of farmers to meet interest payments constitute a problem that is puzzling the nation. Taking the situation into their own hands, the farmers have blocked foreclosure cases in many states. Above is shown how farm income has dropped since 1920 and how foreclosures have risen since 1929. The Iowa Farmers' Council of Defense which was formed to block forced farm sales is shown below.

Washington—(AP)—Harnessed with mortgages to a load of debt, America's farmers are mired in a clog of fixed charges.

Briefly, here are the factors behind the farm foreclosure battle that has swept over the nation:

1. Despite the depression, the total farm mortgage debt has remained practically unchanged. It is now about $9,000,000,000. In 1928 it was $9,500,000,000 and in 1920 it was $7,850,000,000.

2. Also little changed is his interest burden on the debt. It now is about $800,000,000. In 1929 it was $734,000,000.

3. In the face of these bare obligations are two rapidly changing factors. First grows farm income took a precipitous drop from $16,000,000,000 in 1929 to $5,240,000,000 in 1932. It was $13,500,000,000 in 1920. Second, farm prices from August, 1929, to August, 1932, fell 60 per cent while wholesale prices of the things the farmers buy fell only 24 per cent.

In addition to these three factors, farmers are faced with another fixed charge even more rigorous than debt—taxes. In 1920 farm taxes were $452,000,000. In 1932 they were $777,000,000.

Overwhelmed by these and multitude of other difficulties farmers in many states have organized groups to prevent foreclosure sales of farms, and more recently several eastern insurance companies have announced plans to deal more leniently with borrowers in difficulty.

About 45,000 American farms were foreclosed in 1929; 54,000 more fell in 1930, another 100,000 in 1931 and 150,000 in 1932. Nearly 10 per cent of all farms have been foreclosed or sold at forced sales during the last five years, and another 31-2 per cent have been sold for tax delinquency.

Back of the situation is the war. Farm prices went to record highs. Farm properties zoomed to unheard of prices. The capital value of American agriculture in 1920 was set at $71,700,000,000. Today it is about $50,000,000,000. Farm prices, compared with pre-war values, were 210 in 1919. They had fallen to 50 in 1932.

Under the excitement of the war boom farmers went into debt to buy more land, as did the rest of America, extended other purchases. Then farm prices fell. Taxes went up, debt increased, interest increased.

All sources of income dropped—but the debt and the interest and the taxes, the most fixed of fixed charges—ate up ever greater and greater proportions of the income. Finally, the income simply became insufficient to meet the charges. Then came foreclosures. Then debt strikes. Then moratoriums.

In 1920 there were 3,925,000 farms owned by the farmers of the United States. In 1930 there were 3,568,394 owned farms, a drop of more than 300,000.

In 1920, 1,146,308 of the owned farms were mortgaged. In 1930, the number of mortgaged owned farms had increased to 1,497,000. Thus, more farms were mortgaged in 1930 than in 1920, despite a considerable drop in the total number of owned farms.

At the same time, the total number of farms, owned, partly owned, tenanted, fell from 6,371,600 to 6,288—and the relative size of the farm was growing larger.

TYSON-WASHINGTON

Brilliant Wedding In Christian Church

The Eighth Street Christian Church was the scene of a beautiful wedding on Saturday evening at eight-thirty o'clock, when Miss Mary Ernest Washington and William Sherrod Tyson were joined in holy wedlock. The church with its decorations of stately palms, ferns, southern ivy and white lilies made an appropriate setting for the ceremony. The rostrum was flanked on either side by tiers of cathedral candles and large floral baskets of lilies tied with maline bows added alms and grace to the scene.

Mrs. R. A. Tyson, Jr., dressed in white and wearing a shoulderette of premier roses, was at the organ and gave a pleasing program as the guests assembled. Preceding the entrance of the bridal party, Mrs. Knott Proctor sang "Until," and Mrs. W. L. Hall, sister of the groom, sang "The Sweetest Story Ever Told." They both wore white gowns and shoulderettes of premier roses.

As the organ sounded the approach of the bridal party with Loehgrin's Wedding March, the following ushers entered: McKay Washington, brother of the bride; R. A. Tyson, Jr., brother of the groom; Charles Heber Forbes, Jr., and George Washington of Fredericksburg, Va. Next came the bridesmaids, Miss Madge Pettus of Edenton, and Miss Mamie Ruth Fleming. They were becomingly gowned in white crepe with rhinestone trimmings, long white gloves and crepe slippers, and carried arm bouquets of premier roses tied with green.

They were followed by the groomsmen, Major Claiborn Royall of Goldsboro, and Wirt Harrison of Washington, D. C.

Then came Mrs. Walter Harrington, cousin of the groom, and Mrs. S. E. Jennette of Henderson, sister of the groom. They also wore white crepe gowns with rhinestone trimmings and carried arm bouquets of premier roses tied with green. They were followed by the groomsmen, Herbert Bonner of Washington, N. C., and United States Representative Virgil Chapman of Paris, Kentucky.

Mrs. Clement Washington, mother of the bride, as matron of honor, entered alone. She wore a white crepe gown beaded with rhinestone and carried a basket of sweet peas and rose petals. And little Leon wore a dress suit. He carried the ring in the heart of a lily.

The bride entered with W. E. McKay of New York. She looked radiant in her wedding gown of white Duchess satin embroidered in seed pearls. It was a Jacques model empire style with large puff sleeves tight at the hand. Her veil was fashioned of net and illusion and worn in cap effect caught at the back with orange blossoms. She carried her mother's wedding handkerchief of lace. Her flowers were a bouquet of bride's roses showered with valley lilies.

The groom with his best man, Dr. W. M. B. Brown, entered from the study and met the bride at the altar. Rev. William A. Ryan, the bride's pastor, performed the impressive rite ceremony, joining them as man and wife. During the ceremony, Schubert's Serenade was softly played.

The ladies of the wedding party grouped on the rostrum and the gentlemen in conventional dress suits with boutonnières of gardenias, and the soft light from the burning tapers formed a beautiful tableau.

As the party repaired from the church, Mendelssohn's Wedding March was played.

Mrs. Tyson is the only daughter of Mrs. Clement Washington and the late Clement Washington. She was born and reared in this city. She is a graduate of the city schools and East Carolina Teachers College. Her popularity was attested in quite a number of pre-nuptial social affairs tendered her.

The groom is the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Albert Tyson, and this is also his native city. He is a graduate of the University of North Carolina and the Yale Law School. He is a member of the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity and a member of the Racquet Club in Washington. He is a former county solicitor and is a member of the Pitt County Bar. He is now clerk of the Committee on Accounts in the United States House of Representatives in Washington, D. C.

At the conclusion of the reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Tyson left by motor for a wedding trip through the Valley of Virginia and on to Washington, where they will make their home during the session of Congress. Mrs. Tyson, for traveling, wore a becoming gray suit with corresponding accessories.

MR. AND MRS. SMITH HOSTS AT RECEPTION

Immediately following the Tyson-Washington wedding Saturday evening, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Smith were gracious hosts at a brilliant reception. The home on Evans street was elaborately decorated with profusions of jonquils and fern.

On arrival the guests were greeted at the front door by Miss Kathryn Tyson and Robert Sugg Fleming. Receiving in the reception hall were Miss Jane Hall and Harry Brown.

Receiving in the living room door and introducing them to the receiving line were Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Cooper.

In the receiving line were Mr. and Mrs. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. William Sherrod Tyson, members of their wedding party, and out-of-town guests here for the wedding.

From the living room they passed to the sun room where punch was served by Mrs. H. S. Ragsdale and Miss Annie Perkins. Assisting in serving were Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Tyson of Wilson, and Mrs. P. A. Earl Hellen. The punch table was attractive with bowls of jonquils and green candles in green holders.

In the library were Mr. and Mrs. George P. Hadley, Judge and Mrs. D. H. Bland of Goldsboro, Miss Ward Moore and Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Hobgood of Farmville. Registering the large numbers of guests in the bride's book were Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Flanagan, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Bitts Ruffin.

Dr. and Mrs. K. B. Pace invited the guests into the dining room, where they were greeted by Mrs. Travis Hooker and Mrs. W. H. Tolson.

A green and white color note was used in this room. The table was covered with an imported Chinese lace cover. The centerpiece was a crystal vase flanked by five smaller vases filled with white sweet peas. The vases were connected with a crystal chain. White tapers in crystal holders completed the table appointments.

Misses Margaret Tyson, Laura Smith Fleming, Nita Lee Townsend of Farmville, and Mary Dorcas Harding served a green and white ice course with mints and salted nuts.

About two hundred guests called during the evening.

Alice Savage, "Fisherman and his Wife," Juanita Young, "House in the Wood," Louise Tadlock, "The Pith Doll," Louise Briley, "The Brown Field Mouse," Mary MacFayden, "Dust Under the Rug," Beatrice Hocks, "The Turkey Maiden."

THE NIGHT. Night trudges on behind the sun. The clouds into another color world. Of purple, pink and red. The sun dies down behind the world. And all things go to bed. All children, birds and bees, as flowers lay down their sleepy heads; The children say their prayers and then they jump into their beds. —Sarah E. Moore, 3rd Grade, Third St. School.

To Sponsor Dance. Miss Helen Burnette will be one of the sponsors at the Central Carolina German Club of Wake Forest College when they present a "Blue Monday Dance" in the Memorial Auditorium in Raleigh this evening.

The Valentine motif was emphasized in the place cards and table decorations. Covers were laid for six and Miss Stator's guests included Misses Louise Sharpe of Wilson, Lila Wynne of Bethel, and Messrs. Graddy Deans of Chapel Hill, Murray Hodges of Greenville, and J. C. Wynne of Bethel.

TAX RELIEFS GROUPS TO HAVE CONVENTION. Oxford, N. C., Feb. 20.—The Granville County Tax Relief Association, said to have a membership of 5,000, will take a part in the approaching convention to nominate a mayor and board of aldermen for the town of Oxford, according to A. A. Chapman, chairman of the association.

Mr. Chapman today issued a statement in which he called upon citizens of the town not to pledge support to either the incumbent, J. A. Taylor, who will ask re-election, or John R. Hall, who has announced his candidacy.

"Gadget" Aids In Capturing Thief

When it comes to catching thieves W. F. Owens, employe of the local postoffice who lives on Chestnut street, has a system all his own.

For sometime, Mr. Owens has been missing gasoline and various other things from his car while parked in his garage at night. Saturday he decided he was tired of donating so much gasoline for free joy-riding, and rigged up "gadget" or whatever that is, running from his car in the garage to his bedroom.

The contrivance is so sensitive that even the slightest touch to the car causes the alarm to go off. Along about two o'clock Saturday night when all was very still —r-r-r-ing, bam, bang! went the alarm, and in a few moments, the local police were on the scene. It only took a short time before the thief was rounded up in proper style.

No, they're not for sale. He just made it—but we'll vouch for one thing—it will be a long time before he misses any more gasoline from his car—and all on account of a little "gadget" that really does the trick.

Son Of Noted Inventor Found Here. Who found Jack Morse? Greenville received another bit of advertising last night over the radio, when Walter Winchell, nationally known newspaper reporter, over a coast-to-coast network, announced that Jack Morse, son (or descendant) of the famous inventor of the Morse Code of telegraph, who has been missing from his home for sometime, was found in Greenville last Friday hitch-hiking his way home. Who found Jack? Well, we don't know, but we hope the next time Mr. Morse comes this way he will make himself known to us. We are wondering if he was really impressed with Greenville, or just happened to wander down this way.

About NEW YORK. By WILLIAMS GAINES. New York—The politics of the theater intrigue me no end.

An actor friend who goes on his easy way, working year in and year out while many of his fellows can't get the semblance of a job, was given second billing on a variety program. The headliner was a star of the musical comedy stage.

I was in my friend's dressing-room where the representatives of a theatrical publication called upon him.

"We're going to say you first in this week's bill," he announced, and was surprised at the protest: "I appreciate that, but wouldn't it be possible for you to say the two top acts on neck and neck."

Pressed for his reason the sub-headliner merely said he thought the star deserved that consideration.

When the trade paper's representative was gone naturally I commented on this passing up of a good publicity break.

"Well, I'll tell you," volunteered my friend, who has plenty of reputation to keep him going, "a little thing like that might hurt worse than it would help."

"This fellow (the star) has several Broadway shows under consideration. Maybe I'd like to work in one of them."

"If my agent suggested my name, he might use his veto power as a child."

Famous Old Feud. Price figured in one of the most famous play-manager contract wars. The Shuberts had him under contract for five years, and for one reason or another they started battling early.

Working under the brother-managers, Georgia had plenty of cause to moan. He was kept out in the one-night stands and his professionally generally was ruffed. Broadway understood that the Shuberts would be relieved to break the actor's contract.

But Georgie stuck it out, and when it was all over he told the Shuberts if they had really wanted to end the contract, they could have taken advantage of the clause giving them his making phonograph records, and the Shuberts, somehow, overlooked that completely.

THE DRIVER'S LICENSE LAW

The pending legislation to require a state automobile driver's license has been so amended as to eliminate a fee for the license, according to Senator Arthur Corey, sponsor of the bill, and as we see it, this is a great improvement and puts the bill into such form that there should be little or no trouble in getting it passed. For a long time we have felt the need of and advocated the passage of a driver's license law and have urged that it be placed upon such a basis that would prohibit it being used just as a means of getting revenue by issuing the licenses to anybody who could pay the fee rather than upon the fitness of the applicant to drive an automobile on the public highways. The driver's license would furnish the best way we know of for keeping from the highways the incapable, wilfully reckless and drunken drivers and now that the bill has been made into such form as to prevent its being used just as a means of getting money out of the applicants, we see no just argument against its passage. Life has been too cheap on our highways and this is one way to help protect it.

LET THE PEOPLE SAY
 No doubt by the time this comment is printed Congress will have passed the measure for the repeal of the national prohibition laws. Regardless of the action as to the national prohibition laws again we urge that our present General Assembly in this state not undertake to repeal our own dry laws without giving the people a voice in it. North Carolina voted its own prohibition by an overwhelming majority many years before the national prohibition laws were passed and if we are to have a change in this state the change should come about only through a vote of our people on the question. If there are those who feel that sentiment has changed in our state since we voted prohibition we are willing for the people of our state to again go to the polls and vote their wishes in the matter, but other than to arrange for such an election we feel that the legislature would be making a serious mistake to touch the prohibition question in this state. There are a lot of people in this state who will argue that last November our people voted wet and as a result the legislature would be justified in going ahead in its efforts to repeal the dry laws. As we see it, the last election was col leads his Foreign Legion command into the Citadel of Mekazzen, ostensibly to parley with the Kaid of Mekazzen, actually to combine with him against France. The Kaid does not know that Riccoli plans even more treachery—to murder the Kaid and make himself Sultan of the Sahara. The Citadel is a maze of intrigue, in the midst of which are Raisul, son of the Kaid, Jules and Pedro Maligni, financial managers of the Kaid, and their wives.

Chapter 13 INTO THE PAST

Rarely has a more varied, incongruous and cosmopolitan circle—and a family circle at that—sat in stranger surroundings and circumstances. Margaret looked long and thoughtfully at her husband, Jules Maligni; at Raisul, his cousin; at Raisul's father, her uncle by marriage, the Kaid Haroun Abdallah Karim; at the Lady Zainub, his wife, the mother of Raisul; at the Lady El Beth el Ain, sister of the Kaid, and her own Mother-in-law; at Senor Pedro Maligni, her father-in-law; and, finally, at Sara, her cousin by marriage, the daughter of the Lady Zainub's famous brother, Kaid Mahammed Hassan, slain by the French.

Jules a "native"? What an unpleasant word.

from her home at Yelverbury, Kent, England was a thousand miles from the vast impregnable and ancient castle of the Kaid Haroun Abdallah Karim, and was also a thousand years from it. The Kaid Haroun Abdallah Karim lived and dressed and acted and thought much as did his ancestor of a thousand years ago; and surely this castle, or castellated rock, had not changed in a thousand years? Marvelous to think that the Union Jack floated over the Gibraltar only a couple of hundred miles away, and that so near were a British garrison, battleships, churches, clubs, messes, shops, and British law and order. Whether the thousand-year ideas were extravagant or not, one certainly traveled back more than 200 years in traveling that 244 miles. This castle, this life, these people, that town down there, below the castle, were all far more medieval than Tudor England, in outlook, in mode of life, in act and word and thought and deed. The things her husband's mother, Lady El Isa, Beth el Ain had told her! Unbelievable things! Perfectly incredible and perfectly true. Of how that fat woman Zainub, once so beautiful—with whom, apparently, she now dwelt in perfect unity—had done her best to murder Jules, the Kaid's nephew, now Margaret's husband. Strange to reflect how, but for that savage villainy, Jules would never have been sent to England, and Margaret herself would not now be Mrs. Jules Maligni seated there in that lovely artificial Moorish garden, beneath the African moon, contemplating this strange assembly of her relatives. No, she would not have been Mrs. Jules Maligni. Would she have been Lady Belme, had Zainub always been as fat and placid as she was today? Once more Margaret's eye traveled round that amazing circle. Jules, her husband, graduate of Oxford University, yet bred and born in that terrible castle, the son of Senor Pedro Maligni and the Lady El Isa Beth el Ain, the Kaid's half-sister. And, undoubtedly, Jules, lolling there on his cushioned rug, was well in the picture—Jules, with his black hair, pale face and great dark eyes. But then, of course, he belonged. This was his home, his birthplace. His mother was half-Moorish (oh, her terrible tale of her English mother sold in the market-it's very much the same with cigarettes.

 No cigarette should ever be "strong." That means that they should never be too rich or over-seasoned—not harsh or "bity."
 The taste of a Chesterfield is just as near right as we know how to make it.
 Not tasteless or flat, not too highly flavored for steady smoking, but with just the right kinds of tobaccos blended the one right way to satisfy.
 Chesterfields are mild. They taste better.

DUKE 1930 AND 1931 TEAMS TO CLASH TUESDAY

Durham, N. C., Feb. 20.—Duke University will put on its own basketball show in the Blue Devil gym tonight at 8 o'clock when that great aggregation of 1930 battles this year's team for the all-time university championship.

The game will bring together the best cage teams at Duke in recent years and will also show off some of the greatest basketball players in the South. Duke's contributions to All-Southern teams in past years.

Four members of the 1930 team arrived here together for the game since they were members of a professional team that played in Charlotte Saturday night. Bill Warner, Joe Croson, Don Garber and Harry Councillor have been playing pro ball since they finished their careers at Duke and the team they are with this season, which is completed by Bozie Berger, Maryland's All-American, has made an enviable record this season. They were joined here yesterday by George Rogers and Booley Farley, other members of the team.

A special cheering section and their old cheer-leader, John Lupton, have been secured for the "Old Line," those who were connected with the University at the time of the brilliant spurge of the 1930 team. Many other preparations for the game and plans for entertaining the returning stars have been made.

The two teams tonight represent the span of years Eddie Cameron has been coaching at Duke. He took charge of Duke basketball in 1929 and sent that team to the finals of the conference tournament and then coached the 1930 team to its great record.

The line-up follows:

Duke (1930)	Duke (1931)
Councillor	Right Forward
Croson	Center
Weber	Right Guard
	Weaver

STATE CAGERS TO MEET U. N. C. AGAIN TONIGHT

Raleigh, N. C., Feb. 20.—Gilbert Clark, N. C. State's star guard, and his mates will attempt to even old scores here tonight against North Carolina's Tar Heels for the early season defeat hung on them by the team from the Chapel Hill branch of the University.

This game rings down the curtain on another winter of Big Five basketball and the Techs are anxious to salvage lost glory from a season of mediocre success in family competition. A win for the Terrers will mean a tie with the Tar Heels for second place in the State standings.

This will also be the final game for the teams before the Southern Conference basketball tourney in Raleigh this week-end and both squads are expected to spend the next three days polishing attack and defense for this all-important event.

The test tonight will pit several individual performers who are expected to figure prominently in the all-Conference team selections. State will offer two seniors, Ralph Johnson and Gilbert Clark, who have been the backbone of the Terror team this winter.

Carolina will present two forwards who gained All-Southern recognition by their sparkling play in the Atlanta tournament last year. They are Wilmer Hines and Vergil Weathers. Fans are looking forward to a resumption of the duel between Clark, State's crack guard, and Carolina's high scoring forwards.

Freshman teams of the school will meet in a preliminary game beginning at 7 o'clock.

Bethel Cagers Meet High Here Tonight

The basketball teams of Greenville High School and Bethel High School will meet at the High School gymnasium tonight at 8 o'clock in what will probably be the last home game of the season. These two teams have met earlier in the season, and on that occasion the locals were returned victors by the margin of a single point.

The locals will be able to throw their full strength in the fray tonight as Madrin, star guard, has recovered from a siege of illness and will be in the line-up tonight. The probable starting line-up will be Gibbs and Hardee, forwards; Taylor, center, and Madrin and Windabam, guards. Warren, Wilson and Kittrell will likely see home action. Bethel will have as her star performer an excellent guard by the name of Durin and a fast-breaking forward known as Bullock. It should be a good game.

UNIVERSITY HEAD ACTS TO INCREASE FOOTBALL CROWDS

St. Louis—(AP)—Faculty indifference or opposition to athletics hardly can be charged at Washington University. Chancellor George R. Throp has organized a special committee to boost advance sales of season football tickets and increase attendance at games.

His statement announcing formation of the committee pointed to the "attractive schedule" arranged for next fall.

Last year Washington University secured Jimmy Conzelman, former professional player and coach, as head football mentor. At the close of the season, university authorities expressed satisfaction with his work and announced he could remain "as long as he wished."

CHURCH HAS DESIGNS UPON BOTH RICH WINTER RACES

New York—(AP)—Norman Church has designs on the two richest races of the winter turf season—the $50,000. Anna Caliente handicap and the $50,000 Cuban Grand National. He has named Plucky Play and Gallant Sir for both events and intends to start the former in the Cuban class and Gallant Sir in the Mexico feature.

BISHOP DARST SPEAKS HERE

(Continued From Page One) East Diocese. In the meantime St. Paul's congregation had outgrown their first building, and in 1895 a second building was erected and consecrated. At that time the Rev. N. Collin Phares, D.D., was rector of the church, and the following group composed the building committee: Dr. W. M. B. Brown, chairman; Dr. R. Williams, R. Collins, J. C. Col. E. C. Yellowley, Col. James Skinner, A. M. Moore, Charles Skinner, W. B. Jarvis, W. B. Brown, secretary. This church building was consecrated by the Rt. Rev. A. A. Watson, first Bishop of the Diocese of North Carolina, and served the congregation until 1910 when once again the growing congregation had outgrown their building.

Then followed the erection of the present building. The Rev. W. A. Lillie, rector at this time, and the following were the building committee: Dr. R. L. Carr, chairman; W. H. Dall, Jr., Dr. L. C. Skinner, Mrs. E. B. Ficklen, Miss Bessie Brown and E. B. Ferguson, secretary and treasurer. Continuing his sermon the Bishop said that all that have been achieved by St. Paul's congregation in the past, as well as by the first group of Christians in the first century, had come through faithful witnessing to Christ. He called upon his hearers to bear faithful witness in their day and generation, to be light-bearers by living lives of Christ-like faith, and truth, and goodness, and beauty.

Following the sermon of the Bishop, he confirmed the confirmation candidates who were admitted into full privilege of membership service of "Laying on of Hands." A packed congregation thronged St. Paul's church as the membership of the church and many of their friends of the other churches of Greenville and nearby places joined together for this service of such great historical importance to St. Paul's Church.

FARM NOTES

(By E. F. Arnold, County Agent)

Poultry
On February 8, 9 and 10 the Pitt County Mutual Exchange loaded 15,121 pounds of poultry which brought 218 farmers $1,465.85. This organization has arranged for loadings this week at Ayden, Greenville and Bethel, February 22, 23 and 24. The best market price obtainable is being paid for poultry brought to these cars and weights are being checked by this office.

Sweet Potatoes.
Sweet potato shipments will be finished this week by moving 2 cars from Grifton, making a total of 13 cars. All sweet potatoes listed with the exchange for sale will have been moved except Mr. McArthur's, who has a car he wishes to move at a later date due to other work he has under way on the farm at this time.

The moving of these potatoes from this immediate section should relieve the local congested situation relative to potato market and those who have not participated in the shipping should receive an indirect benefit from the activities of the Mutual Exchange in moving these cars.

Tobacco

E. Y. Floyd, state tobacco specialist, was in the county last Friday and Saturday checking up on tobacco demonstrations conducted last year and arranging for continuation of this work through this year. Mr. Floyd reports that to date there is no blue mold development in the Florida and South Georgia tobacco areas. While this does not mean that North Carolina will not have blue mold again this year, with favorable weather conditions it is possible for this section to also get by without an outbreak of this disease.

Torrest Of Talk May Mire Senate, But It Digs Out

By HERBERT PLUMMER
Washington, D. C.—It is a curious thing the way the United States Senate at times apparently shakes off its habit of engaging in long talkfests and puts on a burst of speed.

Only a short time ago observers in the capital, and elsewhere, too, perhaps, were shaking their heads at the seemingly dilatory action of the Senate. The time for the short session to end was fast approaching and Senators hardly had made a dent in the stack of the highly important appropriation bills.

It was the opinion in some quarters that Senators wouldn't get through with the job of providing the necessary money for running the government before March 4. Fadsn't they spent the better part of two weeks on one bill alone—the treasury-postoffice?

Into "High Gear"

But just as outsiders began to think that the Senators were hopelessly bogged they started digging out. With the often-discussed treasury-postoffice bill out of the way, the Senate moved into high gear. At one sitting the Interior Department bill was considered and passed. Then the Agricultural Department bill was brought up and disposed of as quickly. Still moving at high speed, the War Department supply bill was pounced upon and approved rapidly.

Within a short time the Senate had approved five of the dozens or so bills, including the defense measures, with the outlook that all of them would be passed. With all its roles for unlimited debate, the Senate can act hastily when it wants to. As many as three appropriation bills, carrying millions of dollars, have been passed in an afternoon session.

Why the Delay?

Most of the delay, or at least a large part of it, on appropriation bills, is caused by those Senators who have their pet aversions in the various departments. Of course, this year the drive for economy in all departments slowed things up. Rates for carrying the mail, for example, long have been a stumbling block for the postoffice appropriation. From the nineties, in the days when Senator Butler, of North Carolina, sat in the Senate as a Populist, this has been a favorite target. Butler would consume two of three days every year on this appropriation item alone.

"Pitchfork" Ben Tillman, of South Carolina, had a habit of delaying the navy bill because he was suspicious of the money that was spent on armor plate for battleships.

New York Cotton

New York, Feb. 20.—(AP)—Cotton futures opened steady, eight to eleven points on active buying on passage by the Senate of the Smith bill and on Liverpool cables. March sold up to 6.11 and July 6.41, or ten to twelve points net higher, but the advance was checked at these figures by realizing and selling. Prices sagged a few points late with the volume of business falling off, but the market at the end of first half hour was steady at an advance to five to seven points.

Realizing continued late in the morning with prices working off 6.06 for March and 6.32 for July, or with one to three points of Saturday's closing.

Stock Market

New York, Feb. 20.—(AP)—The stock market was a bit woly at the start of the new week-end today but regained its composure as the session wore on.

With the commodity market acting well, the pressure against the dollar lifted in foreign trade markets and week-end news of banking was of a reassuring character and the selling of stock dwindled and by afternoon the less of a fraction was reduced.

American Can fell three points, Allied Chemical and American Tobacco fell about two.

SAYS CAPITALIST IS AT ITS LAST STAND

Asheville, N. C., Feb. 20.—(AP)—Unemployment is not to be relieved under the capitalist system, even collectivization of the major resources of the country will not bring to an end the depression, and capitalism is at its last stand and should be given a shove, were some of the ideas expressed by Dr. Wilfred L. Chappell, secretary of the Methodist Federation of Social Service, at a lecture to more than 500 persons at the court here last night. Speaking under the sponsorship of the League for Industrial Democracy, Dr. Chappell described him-

It Takes More Than Salts, Calomel, Mineral Waters, Oils, or Laxative Pills to Arouse a Sluggish Liver

They Give Only Temporary Relief From Constipation and Biliousness, Because They Have No Effect Whatever on the Liver or Its Production of Bile

Bile is nature's own laxative and your stomach and bowels require at least one quart of fresh bile every day to keep them clean, pure, free from fermentation, putrefaction, gas and disease germs.

When your liver becomes torpid or sluggish the bile stagnates and stops flowing freely. The contents of your bowels become the breeding place for germs and poisons; your food does not digest—it just ferments and decays in the bowels. The blood absorbs these poisons and you suffer from constipation, gas, sick headaches, biliousness, nervousness and sour stomach.

Sargon Soft Mass Pills will remove the cause of this condition and purify your entire system in nature's way. They are not like any other medicine you have ever taken. They are so gentle, thorough and natural in their action that there is nothing about them to remind you that you have ever taken a medicine, and most remarkable of all you gradually reduce the dose until you no longer require a laxative at all.

Five years ago it was generally believed that calomel and laxative drugs stimulated the liver, but modern science has proved that calomel, salts, mineral waters, oils and other laxatives have no effect whatever on the liver.

Sargon Soft Mass Pills act directly on the liver because they contain two amazing substances which highest medical authorities agree are the only effective stimulants to the bile-producing activity of the liver known to modern science. These substances stimulate and invigorate the liver to cleanse and purify itself through increasing its production of bile. This fresh bile immediately starts to work neutralizing acids and poisons, stopping fermentation and decay, cleansing and purifying the bowels and sweeping out accumulated poisons.

Unless you have tried Sargon Soft Mass Pills you can have no idea of the effects produced by this natural cleansing of your liver and bowels. It makes you feel younger, stronger, healthier and color to faded eyes and cheeks, restores the appetite and sound digestion—gives you a new outlook on life itself.

Insist on genuine Sargon Soft Mass Pills. Don't be misled. There are only two known substances which will actually stimulate a torpid or sluggish liver to cleanse and purify itself by increasing its production of bile. Sargon Soft Mass Pills contain both of these substances and no other advertised medicine on the American market today does contain them.

Only 60c for a full 30-day treatment. At your druggist, or write G. F. Willis, Inc., Atlanta, Ga.

AYDEN TO PLAY SEMI-FINALS ON TUESDAY

Ayden, Feb. 18.—Ayden and Beulahville Highs are scheduled to meet in the Grainger High School gym in Kinston on Tuesday night in the semi-final game of the eastern championship series. The game will be called at 8 o'clock and it is expected to draw a large crowd from the first and second conference districts.

Ayden won first district honors by winning over such competition as Roanoke Rapids, Hertford and Elizabeth City, and Beulahville was victorious in the second district over Trenton, Pink Hill and Pollockville. Both have fast teams and a closely fought game is expected Tuesday night.

Cary and Jonesboro play at Raleigh on Tuesday night in the other semi-final game of the eastern series, and the winners of these two games will meet in Raleigh Friday night, Feb. 25th.

Ayden has won 11 games out of 13 starts this season, losing only to Hertford and Elizabeth City by the scores of 21-21 and 19-15 on a trip in the Albemarle section last week-end. Beulahville has a splendid record for the season, and lost one game to Pollockville by one point in the conference schedule in their district.

The Ayden team is coached by G. C. McRae and the Beulahville team is handled by Mr. Harrell. The principals of both the Ayden and Beulahville schools are from Trenton, both having graduated from the Trenton high school in the same class and going through college at the University of North Carolina together.

P. B. Pollock is head of the Ayden schools, while John M. Hargett has the same position at Beulahville. There will be keen interest in Trenton and Jones county in the game Tuesday night, and it is expected that a large crowd from the county will see the game.
