Secret Service Men Probe New Attempt On The Life Of Roosevelt

Shot Gun Shell Addressed to President-elect Located in Mail At Washington

Washington, D. C., Feb. 22.—(AP)—Secret service men were off again today on the trail of a man who apparently sought the life of President-elect Franklin D. Roosevelt.

A shotgun shell crudely wrapped and so arranged that it would explode if injudiciously handled, was found in a package in the Washington postoffice addressed to Franklin D. Roosevelt, Washington, D. C. It was postmarked Watertown, N. Y., and postal authorities began an immediate investigation in New York. Whether they had any definite clues as to the sender, they declined to say.

The Secret Service which is specifically charged with the duty of protecting the President was not immediately notified, but W. H. Moran, chief of the service, instituted an investigation. The fact that the post-office inspectors did not immediately report the matter to the Secret Service, and was taken by officials of the latter organization as an indication that the case did not present an acute danger to the President-elect.

Decide On Plan For Advancement Of Agriculture

Hillsboro, N. C., Feb. 22.—A definite plan for the advancement of agriculture in Orange County was decided upon here this week when the Crop and Soil Improvement Committee of the County Board of Agriculture met with Farm Agent Don Matheson and E. C. Blair, Extension Agronomist of State College. The conference discussed the outlook for agriculture in 1933 and then decided upon crops and methods which would be of greatest value to landowners.

Varieties of grain crops to plant, the addition of one variety of cotton, and the legume, soil-improving and forage crops to be encouraged, were agreed upon. This agreement will be the basis of work for the farm agent during the next few months.

Among other things, the two committees decided to push the production of more yellow corn and will use the Jervis Golden variety. Other recommended corn varieties will be the Southern Beauty, a white corn, and the Pamunkey, a slage corn. Purple Straw and Red Hart wheat, Fulgum and Norton oats, and Carolina Foster cotton were other crop varieties adopted for the county.

More 1 speeder and other soil-improving crops will be encouraged and more attention to pastures had hay crops for livestock will be promoted.

The committee members said that a trip to Coker's Pedigreed Seed Farm would be made in the summer and a bulletin board for the purpose of listing farm crops and livestock for sale or barter would be maintained at the county agent's office this year.

START WORK SOON ON POSTOFFICE ANNEX

Wilmington, N. C., Feb. 22.—Indications that construction of the proposed Wilmington postoffice annex will be started this spring were given Monday in the announcement of Acting Postmaster Robert C. Ruark that sealed bids to furnish temporary quarters for offices now located in the postoffice will be opened on March 9.

It is understood that the temporary space will be used for activities that must be moved or rearranged while the addition, which will cost approximately $130,000, is being built.

Postmaster Ruark's announcement that sealed bids for the construction of the annex will be asked.

Minister Resigns

Black Mountain, N. C., Feb. 22.—A congregational meeting of the Black Mountain Presbyterian Church will be held next Sunday, February 26, to consider the acceptance of the resignation of the church pastor, Rev. W. A. Murray. The pastor notified his congregation last Sunday, February 19, that he would tender his resignation, effective April 1. He has not announced his plans.

STANLY GOING IN FOR POULTRY INDUSTRY

Albemarle, N. C., Feb. 22.—Indicative of the increased interest that Stanly farmers are taking in better farm management and the production of cash money crops at all seasons of the year is the fact that over 4,000 pounds of poultry were bought by one firm here on Saturday for shipment to Northern markets. In addition, hundreds of dozens of eggs were purchased, putting many extra dollars into the pockets of farmers.

TWO MORE S. A. REPUBLICS TO DECLARE WAR

Paraguay Calls Congress to Declare War Against Bolivia On Friday

Asuncion, Paraguay, Feb. 22.—(AP)—Congress will meet Friday to formally declare war against Bolivia. For more than eight months the two nations have battled for possession of border territory and in their last fifty years of dispute hundreds have been killed in many battles, but neither country had declared war officially.

"Bolivia's aggressions created a de facto state of war," said the government's description last night in the summons for Congress to meet for the purpose of formally declaring war.

Sees Possibility Of Enlarged Dry Enforcement Dept.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 22.—(AP)—The opinion that a larger Federal force than now maintained will be required for complete prevention of shipments of liquor from wet to dry States should the Eighteenth Amendment be repealed was expressed today by Ames W. Woodstock, director of the prohibition forces.

He explained to newspaper men that in referring to complete prevention of shipments he meant every type of item that on the person and small quantities in automobiles as well as truck load and freight consignments. On the other hand should the Federal government leave the entire policing of the dry State borders to the States themselves, then no Federal force would be required, he added. Should the Federal government seek only to prevent the large operators, those shipping for commercial purposes, then it will not be necessary to maintain as large a force as at present, he said. The present personnel consists of 1,910 investigators and 180 special agents.

NO DECISION IN SIZE CASE

Alimony Hearing Before Judge Frizzelle Consumed All Day Tuesday

The term of civil court that convened here Monday, stood still yesterday while Judge J. Paul Frizzelle, sitting in chambers, heard the case of Size vs. Size in which Mrs. Ada Size is seeking $150 alimony from her husband, William Size, local custom tailor.

The hearing was another one of those affairs, filled with charges and counter-charges of unfaithfulness, in which a married couple uses the court to air its dirty linen. Size, a veteran of the Spanish-American War, and apparently several years older than the plaintiff, admitted that she was his sixth wife.

After completion of the hearing late yesterday, Judge Frizzelle took the matter under advisement and will probably render his decision late today or tomorrow.

Because of the time taken up with the size hearing, the restraining order hearing in the Page Trust Company-Munford property matter was postponed and will be heard before Judge Frizzelle at a night hearing while he is in the city.

The jury was called back for duty this morning and hearing of the regular docket was resumed. Most of the cases scheduled were of minor importance and indicates that they will be disposed of promptly when called.

MRS. JOE GILL OUT OF DANGER

Miami, Feb. 22.—(AP)—Mrs. Joe H. Gill, wounded by the assassin Giuseppe Zangara, who failed in his attempt on the life of President-elect Franklin D. Roosevelt, is past the danger point, her physicians said in a 9 a. m. bulletin today.

SCOTTISH RITE BODY TO KEEF ANNIVERSARY

Charlotte, N. C., Feb. 22.—The third of a series of meetings inaugurated by the Scottish Rite bodies of Charlotte, will be held in the Scottish Rite auditorium, Masonic Temple, Charlotte, Friday, February 24, at 8 p. m.

The picked degree team of Joppa Lodge No. 530, of Charlotte, under the direction of M. C. Alexander, will exemplify the illuminated with scenic and electrical effects.

This special meeting is of unusual importance, being the twenty-eighth anniversary of Joppa Lodge.

Herbert C. Alexander, grand master; John H. Anderson, grand secretary; F. L. Leagle, district deputy grand master, and other Masonic notables will be present.

NEW RATES EFFECTIVE ON CAPE FEAR BRIDGES

Wilmington, Feb. 22.—Reduced toll charges on the Cape Fear river bridges, ordered several days ago by E. B. Jeffers, chairman of the State Highway Commission, became effective Sunday at noon.

Chairman Jeffers wired the chamber of commerce Monday telling of the reduction.

The percentage of the reduction ranges from 35 to 50 per cent.

WIFE AIDS KIDNAP SEARCH

Doing their utmost to aid in the search for Charles Boettcher, 2nd, wealthy Denver, Colo., broker, Mrs. Anna Lou Boettcher, wife of the missing man, are shown arriving at Denver city hall to confer with police. More than a week after Boettcher was kidnaped his father said he had received communications which convinced him his son was alive and well. At the same time he announced he would henceforth conduct the case independent of police. (Associated Press Photo)

Late News Flashes

Today in the Legislature
Raleigh, N. C., Feb. 22.—(AP)—Consolidation of the State Prison and State Highway Commission was voted today by the Senate as the lower division of the general Assembly moved to reduce salaries of the highway employees. Meanwhile rumblings of a division in the ranks of the wet leaders in the House were heard on Capitol Hill during the morning. By a vote of 37 to 9 the Senate passed and sent to the House Reorganization Committee's measure to create a State Highway public works commission. The measure had been debated three days.

The Senate also passed the Joyner bill to make the State laws prohibiting the sale of convict made goods conform to the Federal statutes.

Both divisions of the Assembly adjourned in memory of George Washington. The Senate also included its principal clerk, Leroy Martin, in (Continued on Page Four)

HONOR BIRTH WASHINGTON SO. CAROLINA MAN IN CABINET

Nation Officially Observes Birthday Of First President Of United States

Washington, D. C., Feb. 22.—(AP)—Government and business activity slowed down in the nation's capital today in celebration of the birthday of George Washington. All the government departments were closed but Congress confronted by a mass of legislation to dispose of before March 4, kept at work.

Wreaths from President Hoover and others were placed about the base of Washington Monument. The 231st anniversary observance of the birthday of the first President was in sharp contrast to that of last year when the Washington Bi-Centennial celebration reached its zenith.

CITY GETTING PUBLICITY

Commerce Body Receives Inquiries From Various Parts Of the Country

Several times each week the local Chamber of Commerce receives inquiries asking for descriptive literature and booklets on Greenville. Forty-two copies of information about Greenville and Pitt county have been prepared and furnished to the information bureaus of the New York Central Lines.

The R. F. Johnston Paint Co., of Cincinnati, O., stated that everyone in their institution who has called at Greenville has commented upon the fact that Greenville is one of the liveliest and best towns to be found in the country.

Frank T. Harris, of Merced, California, a veterinary doctor, has asked for some literature on Greenville and Pitt county. He stated that he was considering moving to our city.

Within the last week literature and booklets on Greenville were mailed to Jackson, Miss., Rome Ga., Bowling Springs, N. C., Newport, Tenn., Lexington, N. C.

In the mail today was a letter from the Chamber of Commerce of San Antonio, Texas, asking for descriptive literature and booklets for free distribution in their office.

SUNDAY CAN'T VISIT ELIZABETH CITY NOW

Elizabeth City, N. C., Feb. 22.—Billy Sunday, noted evangelist who had planned to come here to conduct a revival this spring, will be unable to come because of illness. It was announced in a telegram received by the Rev. J. C. Wicker Saturday.

However, the evangelist was invited to come this fall. It was announced at a meeting Sunday of sponsors of the move to have the evangelist come here.

SELMA MAN HURT IN RAZING OF BUILDING

Selma, Feb. 22.—A. C. Crumpler, well-known and highly esteemed citizen of Selma, is in a serious condition in the Johnston County Hospital where he was taken yesterday afternoon. Mr. Crumpler was assisting in razing a two-story building that had been partially destroyed by fire a few months ago, when the upper floor fell, crushing the upper part of his body, breaking a shoulder and leg. Mr. Crumpler is about 65 years of age and has a wife and several children.

JAPS CONTINUE MAJOR DRIVE AGAINST CHINA

50,000 Troops Operating On 200 Mile Front. Chinese Resistance Ineffective

(Associated Press)
Driving westward toward the capital of Jehol the Japanese army was reported as halted at Teipao, 30 miles from the Manchurian frontier and the terminus of the railroad from Chingchow. Chinese resistance has been ineffectual and the invaders plan to sweep on to Jehol city with its 50,000 men operating on a 200 mile front.

At peiping an official Chinese announcement denied that Japanese had gained Nanling half way between the Manchurian border and Jehol. Neither account gave many details of the operations.

A Japanese dispatch from Chanzuhou also in Manchuria, said the Chinese commander of the Lufeh district army had deserted and offered 19,000 men to Manchukuo. This was not confirmed from other sources.

A Tokyo spokesman today confirmed the advances thus far and said it might be necessary eventually for the army to install itself at Peiping and Tientsin the former the old Chinese capital. In the latter several western powers, including the United States, maintain army posts.

Nanking, the seat of the National government of China, has not yet received the Manchukuo ultimatum demanding evacuation of Jehol province. If and when it does come a government spokesman said it will be returned unopened.

Report Long-Pending Revolution In Cuba Broke Out Yesterday

Half a Dozen Outbreaks Occurred Yesterday in Widely Scattered Parts Of Island Republic

Havana, Feb. 22.—(AP)—At least half a dozen outbreaks in widely separated parts of the island were reported today heralding the long predicted revolt against President Machado's rule. In the distant Oriente province, roade of all Cuban revolutions, including the one against Spain, at least one serious clash occurred yesterday.

At Santa Clara, in the middle of the island, rebels were reported to have attacked the government military station and carried away a quantity of arms and ammunition. In the other end of the island not far west of here a band of men tried to seize arms and money from a grocery store in the town of Alguayzar, critically wounding the owner.

Meager reports said that two soldiers were slain in a battle at San Antonio a town near the Cuban naval coaling station at Guantanamo. A group led by ex-Senator Gonzalo Perez Andrew, former supporter of President Machado, engaged without armed force in battle. No reports had been made on the casualties.

LEGION POST HOLDS MEET

Adopt Resolution Against Cutting Funds For Hospitalization of Disabled

The Pitt County Post of the American Legion held its regular monthly meeting last night at the High School cafeteria. Approximately 50 members, representing all parts of the county, were present and the meeting showed a great deal of enthusiasm. One of the members brought 24 pounds of bacon with which to pay his dues, explaining that he had a lot of meat but no money. The meat was purchased by members of the Legion, and the dues paid. The commander stated that he would accept chickens, eggs and produce of all kinds, at the market price, in payment of dues.

The Legion unanimously went on record against the proposed Bratton amendment now pending in the halls of Congress, and the Adjutant was instructed to wire Congressman Warren the Legion's attitude. The effect of the passage of this amendment, it was explained, would be to close approximately half of the hospitals now caring for the men who were wounded in the war, and thereupon place the care and hospitalization of these men upon the State or the communities.

Five members of the Legion volunteered to furnish the feed for the next meeting, and a large attendance and increased membership is anticipated.

PHYSICIANS SAY CERMAK BETTER

Miami, Fla., Feb. 22.—(AP)—Six physicians attending Mayor Anton J. Cermak announced in an official bulletin at 10:40 a. m. that his condition was somewhat better and that colitis is now the only cause for concern.

CARTARET COUNTY ALSO HAS ANCIENT MONEY

Beaufort, Feb. 22.—An item in Sunday's News and Observer stating that a Goldsboro man had an $8 bill issued in 1778 reminded Cartaret county people here that they had money equally as old and some even older.

Mrs. H. Hugh Jackson of R. F. D. No. 2, Newport, found in an old trunk of her grandfather, an old deer side purse containing more than $400 in old money issued in 1778 in various denominations up to $60. This has been non-redeemable since 1799 by act of Congress. In this batch of bills were several pieces of state money and some issued in 1777 marked "Colonial States of America." There were many pieces of "Carolina Currency" and Virginia and Maryland currency.

E. V. Adams of Beaufort has a North Carolina bill issued in 1776. It is printed on only one side and the reading there is "Carolina Currency No. 1117—one-fourth of a dollar." By authority of Congress at Halifax, April 2, 1776, Wm. Williams, Mr. Adams also owns a Virginia two-thirds dollar printed in 1777.

GO INTO COURT OVER POSSESSION OF CHILD

Elizabeth City, N. C., Feb. 22.—Four-year-old Howard Harrell was placed in custody of his half-uncle about three years ago when the child's father died and the mother was forced to seek employment. The half-uncle, Herbert Harrell, of Gates County, was fond of the little boy and he and his wife reared him as their own.

The mother, Mrs. C. L. Hewitt recently married again and wanted her child with her. The half-uncle refused, for he loved the boy. The mother procured a writ of habeas corpus and had the child brought in to court here Friday, where Judge G. Vernon Cowper awarded him to the mother.

As Mrs. Hewitt carried the boy from the court-room, the little fellow, who didn't know his mother, cried for his uncle and aunt.

Because Mayor W. S. Allen, of "Spelling bees" are still popular in Dixie. A recent one at Petal, Miss., a rural community, drew two hundred spectators.

Complete Survey Farm Resources In This State

Raleigh, N. C., Feb. 22.—A complete survey of the livestock and crop resources of North Carolina by counties is contained in the farm survey issue of the Farm Forecaster, issued by Frank Parker, head of the Federal-State crop reporting service, as the February publication of this service.

The publication gives a detailed statement by counties of acreages to the major crops, the prices paid to producers last year, the number of the various classes of livestock, the various crops, cotton ginnings, cost of producing crops and tobacco production and consumption. The tables prepared are based on reports made by the township tax supervisors and are probably the most accurate information available in any State of the South.

Farm agents of the State College Extension Service, vocational teachers and others concerned with the advancement of agriculture use the facts as a basis of much instructional work and find them invaluable in any county.

The figures are compiled by Mr. Parker and his associates from tax lists' reports taken in April and May for each year. The census of the United States gives figures for each State, but does not supply figures by counties such as are given by this work. These farm census reports have been secured in North Carolina since 1918 and have supplied agricultural workers with basic information on which they could plan the farm programs of value to the State since that time.

GEORGE WHITFIELD FREED IN EDGEcombe KILLING

Tarboro, Feb. 22.—(AP)—George Whitfield was released from jail here yesterday following a closed hearing in connection with the recent slaying of Caswell Suggs, commander of the Tarboro Spanish-American War veterans' camp who was fatally wounded when three men robbed his filling station.

The hearing was held in the office of Solicitor Don Gilliam and Whitfield was released when, officials said, an alibi was established by a number of witnesses.

Woodrow Whitfield and Herbert Fulsher are being held in Norfolk, Va., in connection with the death.

HICKORY MERCHANTS OPPOSE SALES TAX

Hickory, Feb. 22.—A resolution opposing any form of state sales tax was passed unanimously by the members of the Hickory Merchants Association Monday night, at the annual meeting of the organization at Hotel Hickory.

Copies of the resolution are being sent to the local representatives in Raleigh, and a big delegation of Hickory citizens is planning to go to the state capitol and register their protests in person, when a public hearing is set on the proposed sales tax measures that have been reported for passage.

Paul A. Bumbarger was re-elected president of the association another year, and Hecrae C. Lutz was elected vice-president, succeeding J. W. Shuford, who has been in ill health for some months.

The Legislature can see fit to make easier marriage and divorce laws because someone has expressed the belief that the state is losing a few dollars a year by couples going to other states to get married to avoid restrictions in this state, yet it does not value human life enough to pass a driver's license law that would help to rid the highways of incompetent, willfully reckless and drunken drivers. If it wasn't such a serious matter our people could get many good laughs out of a session of the Legislature.

DISABLED MEN SHOULD BE CARED FOR

The matter of the Bratton amendment now pending in Congress, which if passed will deprive a large number of disabled world war veterans of hospitalization should certainly have the attention of every person back home who believes that we should care for these ex-service men who sacrificed their health in the service of their country. Of course there is a lot of talk about the government being imposed upon by able-bodied ex-service men drawing compensation, and while there may be some of these instances, we do not think that the American Legion or any other veterans' organization would endorse such a thing, but as we understand this Bratton amendment, it strikes not at those men drawing compensation but rather at those who are lying upon their backs in hospitals with no opportunity to help themselves.

We know that every citizen wants the government to operate as economically as possible and wants every non-essential expense cut out, but we do contend that the country owes a debt to these disabled men that should not be overlooked regardless of depressed conditions. If this Bratton amendment would deprive the disabled soldiers of one bit of needed hospitalization we urge our Congressman not only to vote against the measure but to use his every influence to help defeat it and we likewise urge our citizens who believe that these disabled men should be taken care of, to get in touch with Congressman Warren now and let their wishes in the matter be known.

Berkeley, Calif.—AP—Bob Kline, star sprinter of California's 1932 track squad, is considering going out for the 440-yard this spring. He specialized in the 100 and 220 yard sprints and was a strong finisher.

Why had Jules brought this pink-and-white, beautiful English girl, who so reminded her of her own mother, Elizabeth Elaine Torson? Could not Jules have come to see his mother—the mother who had cut her very life in halves to save him, and who had so yearned for him all these years—without bringing another woman with him? Why bring her here at all, in any case? But doubtless young headstrong love would account for that. But had he told the girl everything? Did she know why he was here? How much had Jules told the girl of Pedro's business? And was she to be trusted? Was she such a one as would deny herself; suffer; give up everything; run every risk; intrigue and plot and lie and kill; in the interests of her lord and master, as she herself had done for Pedro? And suppose the girl knew nothing at all, and were merely Jules' doll? What would she do, as realization dawned upon her that the date of her return to England—indeed, her return to England at all—was vague and problematical.

A thousand pities that the boy should complicate matters and add to his difficulties, not only by marrying this girl, but by bringing her with him. And did he quite—or Pedro either for that matter—understand young Raisul? She thought not. She feared not. That young Raisul, if his opinion were worth anything—and it certainly ought to be worth something on that subject—was a young devil, if indeed, he were not the Devil himself, incarnate. She might be an old woman of forty who had practically lived her life in the castle of Mekazzen, but she knew what she knew, and if her knowledge were not wide, it was deep; and one of the things she knew was the character, intelligence, mode of thought, and future line of conduct of these people among whom she had lived and in whose hands her life had precariously been.

Let Jules beware of Raisul, and when the time came for the Kaid to be gathered to his fathers, let Pedro beware of Raisul. From babyhood his mother, Zainub, had poisoned his mind against Jules and Pedro, and though Raisul had far outgrown his mother narrow teaching, and was outwardly and apparently the good friend of his cousin Jules, what is engraved upon the mind of the man. Raisul would remain the good friend of Jules and of Pedro, just as long as they were useful to him.

Life had been hard after the brief delirium of her marriage with Pedro, and the golden joy of motherhood—those glorious days before the coming of the Lady Zainub—when her baby had filled her life, and she had been mistress of Mekazzen and the Kaid's good angel, her baby, his plaything and his heir. Pedro had come more often then, before business in Europe and Tangier had become so ever-increasing and important. Yes, those had been hard days, before Zainub had aged and mellowed, and before she had come to realize that neither she nor her son Raisul had anything to fear from the Lady El Isa Beth el Ain, or from her child. The woman had been an incarnate jealousy in those days, and it was a marvel that she had not succeeded in one of her many attempts to kill both her and the child Jules. And here was Jules returned, child grown into a man, and bringing to see his mother, the English girl, his wife. Her husband, her son, and herself, together under the same roof—the roof beneath which she and Pedro had spent their honeymoon, and Jules had been born.

It Takes More Than Salts, Calomel, Mineral Waters, Oils, or Laxative Pills to Arouse a Sluggish Liver

They Give Only Temporary Relief From Constipation and Biliousness, Because They Have No Effect Whatever on the Liver or Its Production of Bile

Bile is nature's own laxative and your stomach and bowels require at least one quart of fresh bile every day to keep them clean, pure, free from fermentation, putrefaction, gas and disease germs.

When your liver becomes torpid or sluggish the bile stagnates and stops flowing freely. The contents of your bowels become the breeding place for germs and poisons; your food does not digest—it just ferments and decays in the bowels. The blood absorbs these poisons and you suffer from constipation, gas, sick headaches, biliousness, nervousness and sour stomach.

Sargon Soft Mass Pills will remove the cause of this condition and purify your entire system in nature's way. They are not like any other medicine you have ever taken. They are so gentle, thorough and natural in their action that there is nothing about them to remind you that you have ever taken a medicine, and most remarkable of all you gradually reduce the dose until you no longer require a laxative at all.

Five years ago it was generally believed that calomel and laxative drugs stimulated the liver, but modern science has proved that calomel, salts, mineral waters, oils and other laxatives have no effect whatever on the liver.

Sargon Soft Mass Pills act directly on the liver because they contain two amazing substances which highest medical authorities agree are the only effective stimulants to the bile-producing activity of the liver known to modern science. These substances stimulate and invigorate the liver to cleanse and purify itself through increasing its production of bile. This fresh bile immediately starts to work neutralizing acids and poisons, stopping fermentation and decay, cleansing and purifying the bowels and sweeping out accumulated poisons.

Unless you have tried Sargon Soft Mass Pills you can have no idea of the effects produced by this natural cleansing of your liver and bowels. It makes you feel years younger, stronger, healthier and happier. It brings back life and color to faded eyes and cheeks, restores the appetite and sound digestion—gives you a new outlook on life itself.

Insist on genuine Sargon Soft Mass Pills. Don't be misled. There are only two known substances which will actually stimulate a torpid or sluggish liver to cleanse and purify itself by increasing its production of bile. Sargon Soft Mass Pills contain both of these substances and no other advertised medicine on the American market today does contain them.

Only 60c for a full 80-day treatment. At your druggist, or write G. F. Willis, Inc., Atlanta, Ga.

L. Ames Brown, who has been spending the past few days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Brown, has returned to New York.

Mr. Dresbach Improving. Friends of W. C. Dresbach will be glad to learn that he is very much improved and is able to be out, after several months illness.

Called To New Bern. J. D. Aman left today for New Bern, where he was called on account of the critical illness of his mother.

Prayer Service Methodist Church. In the absence of the pastor who is helping in a meeting at Grifton, Rev. W. A. Ryan will conduct the prayer service tonight at 7:30. All are invited to attend.

Leave For Georgia. Rev. and Mrs. W. S. Harden left Monday for a visit to relatives in Georgia.

Mr. Ricks In Hospital. Friends of R. E. Ricks will be sorry to learn that he is in Pitt Community Hospital, where he underwent an operation.

Memorial Baptist Church. The mid-week service will be given over to an associational conference concerning the present situation in denominational work, and will be led by the general secretary of the North Carolina Baptist State Convention, M. A. Huggins. Every Baptist is urged to attend. Our loyalty to our cooperative work means the salvation of this task at the present time. Representatives from the churches of the association are expected to be in attendance.

Called To Hickory. Mr. and Mrs. Cartwright Carmichael left this morning for Hickory, where they were called on account of the death of Mrs. Carmichael's niece, little Maude Shufford.

The child had been suffering from severe burns received last week from falling in a tub of scalding water which a servant was using. She was carried to a Charlotte hospital, where she died yesterday afternoon. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Shufford, Jr., of Hickory.

Before returning to Greenville, Mrs. Carmichael and two children will visit relatives in Charlotte.

WOMAN'S CLUB SPONSORS SYMPHONY TICKETS

The Woman's Club is sponsoring the advance sale of tickets for the Barrere Little Symphony concert, which will be given at East Carolina Teachers College on the evening of March 3.

The president, Mrs. E. L. Henderson, and the chairman of the committee having the sale in charge, Mrs. J. H. B. Moore, have worked out a plan whereby they can manage the sale of the reserved seats satisfactorily whether they are bought directly from members of the committee or from the box sheet that will be open for reservations on Saturday of this week.

A half price rate is offered for children, which includes school children through the high school. This will give the girls and boys who are interested in music and musical instruments an opportunity to attend the concert.

NO PRAYER MEETING AT PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

There will be no prayer meeting at the Presbyterian Church this evening on account of the absence of the pastor.

GREENVILLE GIRLS TO PLAY NEW BERN

The girls of the Greenville High School basketball team will play the New Bern High School team this evening at eight o'clock in the high school gymnasium.

T. E. L. CLASS TO HAVE OYSTER ROAST

The ladies of the T. E. L. Class of Memorial Baptist Sunday School will treat their husbands at seven o'clock Thursday evening to an oyster roast at the Dixie Inn. All members of this class are urged to be on hand and a good time is assured for those that come.

Methodist Choir To Meet

The choir of Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church will meet Thursday evening at 7:30. All members are urged to be on time and bring their cantata book.

HIGH SCHOOL BOXING TEAM TO MEET WILSON

Greenville High School's boxing team will stage a meet of about ten 3-round bouts with Wilson High School in the G. H. S. gym on the evening of Thursday, February 23, beginning at 8 o'clock. The public is urged to attend, to support the team in their first home fight, the first boxing meet ever to be held in the local high school.

MUSICAL FEATURES FRIDAY NIGHT

Attractive musical features will be given between the plays to be presented by the faculty and officers Friday evening in the Austin Auditorium of East Carolina Teachers College, at 8:30 o'clock. A male quartet, composed of Messrs. Slay, Deal, Meadows and McGinnis, will sing a group of familiar songs, as follows: "Bullfrog on the Bank," "Stars of the Summer Night," "Drink To Me Only With Thine Eyes," and "The Three Fishermen." Misses Gorrell and Mead will play two piano duets, "At the Donnybrook Fair" and "The Top O' the Morning." Violin solos will be played by Miss Gorrell accompanied at the piano by Miss Mead. These are Irish Melodies and love songs.

A. A. U. W. Meets. Miss Clem Bridges, Miss Mary York and Mrs. Ficklen Arthur were hostesses to the local branch of the American Association of University Women in its regular meeting Monday night, February 20.

The paper of the evening, a discussion of modern architecture in America, was given by Miss Lella Higgs.

The speaker discussed briefly the phases through which American architecture has passed, saying that the colonial was probably our greatest period but pointing out that the America of today has contributed the skyscraper to this field of art.

As the newest thing in domestic architecture, steel houses with porcelain finish, houses that never need re-painting, were described.

At the close of the program delicious refreshments were served. —Reported.

Hold Father And Son Banquet At Stokes High School

The agricultural students of Stokes High School were host to their dads at a Father and Son banquet held in the agriculture classroom at the High School building on Friday evening, February 17. Covers were laid for ninety and the girls of the senior class served a meal of two courses. Richard Barnhill presided and acted as toastmaster.

F. P. Latham was the chief speaker of the evening. In speaking of the depressed condition, he said: "Farmers must stop gambling on cash crops and begin the practice of living at home."

Roy Whitehurst, reporter for the Y. T. H. F. chapter in summarizing the results of the supervised farming that the students have been doing under the direction of G. M. Britt, instructor, brought out the fact that progress had been made in improvement in general farm practice, and also progress has been made on the construction of the work shop for the department.

This successful banquet was sponsored by the local chapter of the Future Farmers of America, a national organization of students taking vocational agriculture.

Other speakers of the evening were: E. N. Meekins, J. C. Gallaway, D. H. Conley, Z. E. Brinson, and E. P. Welch.

Talks To Parents

By Alice Judson Peale

Most parents make the mistake of thinking that children's confidences are not to be taken seriously. What the child is able to put into words only after long hesitation, and in a moment of particular nervousness is carelessly accepted to become part of a fund of entertaining anecdotes or is recalled to him later, perhaps even in the presence of others, to discipline or humble him.

The result is of course that the child in time learns not to communicate with his elders anything which is the least bit significant in his inner life. And with the beginning of this sort of secrecy there is an end to real understanding and helpfulness between parent and child.

The child has to muddle his way through the things that trouble and confuse him. Unless he is lucky enough to find in the persons of an especially understanding teacher or chance adult friend some one who restores his trust in grown-ups, he may remain cut off from real guidance during his growing years.

For this reason a child's confidences, no matter how amusing, trivial, or guilty they may be, should be absolutely respected. Even father should never learn what the child has chosen to tell mother, and even mother must never know what he has chosen only to tell father.

The only possible exception to this rule is in families where both parents are gifted with a r degree of fine feeling and where both can be counted on to take an enlightened, sympathetic and objective attitude toward everything that concerns their children.

In such families confidences will never be misused, rather they will be a means toward a better understanding and a wiser treatment of whatever problems arise.

SCALE OF LIVING TAX UNDER NEW ITALIAN SYSTEM

Rome.—(AP)—A new method of taxation for Italy, whereby a citizen will be assessed not only on the return he makes of income, but also on his scale of living, is about to go into effect here.

The government has designed it to lessen the great disparity existing between income and tax returns. It is estimated that Italians list for taxation only about twenty-five per cent of their actual incomes.

The bill authorizing the new system was passed through parliament after a sharp debate. Members criticized it on the ground that it meant spying into the private lives of people, and that it was unfair, since it taxed the man who stimulated business by buying and spending and favored the man who stagnated business by hoarding.

A corps of tax inspectors has been receiving special instructions at the Ministry of Finance on how to calculate the new tax.

World Almost Missed Gettysburg Address; Lincoln Asked To Speak As Afterthought

New York.—(AP)—New Lincoln studies appearing coincidentally with the observance of his birthday anniversary show that the world owes what has been called "the perfect tribute" to an afterthought.

Edward Everett had been asked to deliver the oration at the consecration of the Gettysburg cemetery. He had, a little pompously, demanded that the exercises be postponed a month to accommodate his schedule, and that was done.

Then the committee in charge sent out a number of formal invitations to members of the Cabinet and others. Joseph Tausk writes in "The True Story of the Gettysburg Address," just published, and included in this scattered list was one for the President. Unexpectedly, he accepted.

After some discussion it was decided to ask the President, as head of the nation, to deliver "a few appropriate remarks," writes Tausk. This was done, the committee making it clear that his share was to be limited, and offering in no way to accommodate its plans to those of the President. Lincoln was allowed to ride to the battlefield almost unattended, and was shown no special honor on the platform. He was not asked to speak until Everett had concluded a two-hour spell-binder. Then Lincoln arose, and in two minutes delivered "one of the world's masterpiece in rhetorical art."

"Ma" Ferguson, Governor Again, Tackles Big Job Aded By "Pa"

Austin, Tex. (AP)—Mrs. Miriam A. "Ma" Ferguson, governor of Texas once more, admits she has a man's job in attempting to life the union's largest state back on to its feet economically.

Coming back to the chief executive's chair after an interim of six years, Mrs. Ferguson is the only woman governor in the United States. Before she took office recently she said she was eager to "get going."

Helping her in the difficult task ahead will be her former-governor husband, James E. Ferguson, who has not been permitted to hold office in his own name since he was impeached and removed from office in 1917.

Mrs. Ferguson told the electorate when she was campaigning that her husband had been the best governor Texas ever had.

You are offered two governors for the price of one," she said. Mrs. Ferguson's main professed ambition is to lift the "tax burden from the back of the farmer." She wants to do away with the ad valorem tax on all real property.

She has in mind a general sales tax to replace the revenue source now provided by the assessments against farms, ranches and homes. "Put a sales tax into effect and you'll get to some of the persons now enjoying privileges of government who are not contributing a penny to its support," she said. She would also take one-third of the $30,000,000 collected annually up in ignorance—a reflection on our civilization," she said. Mrs. Ferguson has inherited not only a substantial deficit in the general revenue fund, but faces the necessity of providing approximately $19,000,000 for the public school fund in the next two years if the schools are to be maintained at the standard set in recent years.

Beauty Hints

Often it is impossible, owing to the nature of film work, for an actress to observe regular hours in eating. I try to atone for this by being especially careful of what I eat.

Personally, I find that when I eat sparingly I feel much better than when I have eaten heartily. A light breakfast, a lunch of salad, bread and butter, sometimes a bit of jelly and occasionally a pudding give me an appetite for dinner, which is also light—for instance, bouillon, broiled or roast meat, a green vegetable, a salad and frequently ice cream.

Next, I use an astringent, and finally rub ice cubes over my face.

Head and Back Quit Hurting

"Last winter, I did not feel good; did not seem to have any strength," writes Mrs. Harry Brooks, of Ellington, Mo. "I felt tired and worn-out. When I would try to do my work, my head and back hurt. I had taken Cardui about seven years ago to build me up. I decided to take it again. I took five bottles of Cardui. My head and back quit hurting. I am less stronger." Women who suffer from weakness often have many aches and pains which a stronger state of health would prevent. If you are in this condition, take Cardui, a purely vegetable tonic that has been in use for over 60 years. Sold at drug stores here.

SPORT SLANTS

On the basis of the sweeping shake-up they have effected this winter, the St. Louis Cardinals will put some of the strangest contrasts on the major league ball fields this season that the boys have inspected in a long time.

Whether it pays any dividends in gate receipts or in the standing of the clubs remains to be seen, but the Red Birds will exhibit the following at one and the same time:

Dazy Vance, erstwhile king of the speedball pitchers, and the youthful heir-apparent, Dazy Dean; an infield including Frankie Frisch, long the defensive peer of the second basemen, and the man with whom he figured in one of baseball's greatest deals, Rogers Hornsby; a deflated hero of the National League's only world series victory in six years, Pepper Martin, trying a bit desperately to regain a position as a regular anywhere in the line-up.

There are two former managers of the club on the roster, Hornsby and Bob O'Farrell, the old backstop to make things interesting for Gabby Street. If there is anything else lacking, to furnish color and confusion for the old sergeant, he will be able to find it readily when he calls the roll of talent to be assembled within the next few weeks at Bradenton, Florida.

Cool's Lone Touchdown. Tibacans know the story well, but since the untimely death of Willson Cameron (Gib) Cool, it's interesting to recall the lone touchdown credited to Cornell's great center during his three years of gridiron warfare in 1912, 1914, 1915 with the Big Red teams coached by Dr. Al Sharpe.

For his weight and inches, Cool was one of the finest pivots in football history. He yielded to Bob Peck of Pittsburgh in Walter Camp's estimation when All-America selections were made in 1915, but there were many critics who disagreed. Camp did pit Murray Shelton end, and Charles Barrett, quarterback Cool's teammates, on the 1915 All-America.

Barrett Fled Him In. Cool and Barrett, who died in 1924, were close friends and room-mates in college, besides making a great combination on the gridiron. Cool's secret ambition was to score a touchdown for Cornell before his varsity career was over and it was Barrett who finally gratified this desire in a game against Virginia Poly in 1915, a week after Cornell had defeated Harvard 14 to 0, for the Eastern championship.

As Bill Waters, r.ays the story to me: "Early in the second half, Cool intercepted a forward pass well in the opponents' territory. Three plays took the ball to the 4-yard line. Here Barrett decided to gratify Cool's ambition to score a touchdown. "Cool was called back, Barrett took an end position, and Anderson passed the ball. In two plunges, Cool went over the line, and the stands gave him cheer."

This afternoon Representative Suplever of Pasquotank, announced that he planned to introduce a bill in the House tomorrow to suspend the statute of limitations on open accounts in the state for two years and thus allow a moratorium on such accounts.

Representatives Murphy of Rowan and Bowie of Ashe, both former speakers of the House and each a signer of the Murphy-Bowie bill to legalize wine and beer when Congress allows them, took opposite sides on the matter of a referendum. Murphy said he would favor a prohibition modification measure which submitted the question to a vote of the people while Bowie stated that he would favor any such proposition as it would delay the state in getting revenue if beer and wine were legalized.

The House suspended the rules to pass the Douglas bill on its calendar.

Breaks Record Again. Daytona Beach, Fla., Feb. 22.—(AP)—Sir Malcolm Campbell, famous British racing car driver today, cracked the automobile speed record wide open in two thrilling dashes over the sands of the beach speedway here.

Campbell's first run was at an average of 273.566 miles an hour with his return trip at 270.676, giving him an average of 272.108 miles per hour—a new world's speed record on land. Campbell's world record set a year ago was 253.908 miles per hour.

Provide For Silver Money. Washington, Feb. 22.—(AP)—The House coinage committee today re-vised itself and approved the sub-committee bill providing for the purchase of silver bullion for monetary purposes. The bill was amended, however, to limit the purchase to $250,000,000 worth of the metal. The measure minus the $250,000,000 limit was rejected by the committee yesterday. Under the bill as it now stands, the treasury would purchase the silver, coin it into silver dollars and issue silver certificates against them.

Approve Cotton Plan. Washington, D. C., Feb. 22.—(AP)—The Senate plan for boosting cotton prices by creating a government pool for growers to participate in as an inducement to them to reduce their production was approved today by the House Agriculture Committee. The bill by Senator Smith, Democrat, South Carolina, would provide for a pool of 3,500,000 bales of cotton now controlled by the government and give the farmers option on shares of that cotton in return for contracts to decrease acreage below last year.

FELIX HARVEY SUFFERS FROM BULLET WOUND

Kinston, Feb. 22.—Felix Harvey III, 12 year old son of Mrs. Tilda Gill Harvey and the late Felix Harvey Jr., is suffering from a bullet wound in his right thigh, received when a pistol was discharged accidentally at a camp near here. The colored caretaker of the camp left the weapon in the cabin in which young Harvey and other boys were spending the night. They removed the cartridges from the magazine, but left one in the barrel. The bullet passed through the flesh of Harvey's leg and lodged in a wall.

REPORTS ON SEAL SALE IN EDGEcombe

Tarboro, N. C., Feb. 22.—Prof. N. E. Gresham, who acted as chairman of the Red Cross tubercular seal sales, has made his report to Dr. L. B. McRayner, State chairman. Notwithstanding the distressing economic conditions prevailing in the county, the campaign was quite a success. The Tarboro city schools led with the largest sales, and the local colored school had the second largest sales. Under the leadership of Carrie Battle Bratcher, colored rural supervisor, the colored schools made a very good record in selling seals. The total value of the seals sold was $116.13.

LENIENCY TO DEBTORS IS URGED BY JURIST

Plymouth, N. C., Feb. 22.—Taking judicial notice of the depression and ruling that security owners should deal gently with their debtors, Judge B. Hapt Parker in chambers in Rocky Mount held that a receiver for Sam B. Davenport would be of no benefit to the plaintiff and so dismissed a motion made by the Eastern Cotton Oil Company. The jurist based denial for a receiver on the opinion in a similar case in which Justice Clarkson, of the Supreme Court wrote: "Defendants in mortgage foreclosure cases, who are without fault of their own, but on account of the country's condition are unable to meet their obligations... are entitled to as much consideration as it is proper for equity to give them, just as the plaintiff is entitled to consideration and relief."

WAS HUEY SPOOFING THE CHIEF OF STAFF?

Washington, D. C., Feb. 22.—General Douglas MacArthur, chief of staff, and only ranking general now in the United States Army, still isn't sure whether Senator Huey P. Long, of Louisiana, was spoofing him. The General was attending a meeting of the Senate Committee, which he was deliberating on an Army appropriation. The "Kingfish" made a long and impassioned speech in favor of giving the soldiers what money they needed. When he finished and was drying his brow with a silk handkerchief, the General congratulated him. "Oh, that's all right, General," said Long. "I was glad to do it. And by the way, I haven't seen you lately. Where has the Army stationed you?" The head man in the Army stalked off with flushed face.

PROFESSORS TO DISCUSS LATIN AMERICAN AFFAIRS

Chapel Hill, Feb. 22.—Dr. James Fred Rippy, professor of history in Duke University, and Dr. Hubert C. Herring, director of the committee on cultural relations with Latin America, will be the speakers on the next open forum program being sponsored by the Council for Student Expression. The program this week will be the seventh of the series of eight, and will be held Friday evening at 8 o'clock, instead of Thursday, as previously, due to the fact the last of the Well lectures on citizenship is to be given Thursday. Dr. Rippy and Dr. Herring are both regarded as leading authorities on Latin America.

'Freshmen' Playing Strategic Part In Fight For Speaker

By HERBERT PLUMMER. Washington—(AP)—Quietly, and mostly behind the scenes, the battle for the speakership of the next Congress is being carried on by freshmen in the House of Representatives. The contest is being fought in the corridors of the Capitol building, and the stakes are high. The freshmen are playing a strategic part in the fight, and their actions will determine the outcome of the election.

CONSULTED ON LEAGUE CRISIS

After conferring with heads of the army and navy and national leaders including Admiral Count Heihachiro Togo, 85 (left), hero of the Russian war, and Prince Saloni, last surviving member of the council of the Genro, the Japanese cabinet decided that Japan will withdraw from the League of Nations as a result of the Manchurian dispute. (Associated Press Photos)

House is being carried on stubbornly on Capitol Hill. As the date of the Democratic caucus to select Jack Garner's successor approached, the half dozen or so candidates were working overtime to line up votes in their behalf.

You could tell by what was said publicly. Of course, ever so often something has come up on the floor that might be interpreted as having some bearing on the race. Ranking of Mississippi, for example, ple. self-described "unreconstructed rebel" took occasion to say on Lincoln's birthday that if that President were alive today he would support a plan for a controlled inflation of currency.

And there have been other instances where the candidates have cautiously ventured out into the open.

But the real work is being done back stage. New members are being communicated with by the various candidates. These men will sit for the first time in the incoming Congress hold the balance of power. Were they to unite behind any one candidate they might cause this election.

Just what the 700 or more newcomers will do is a question. Some of them already are attempting to perfect an organization which will put them in a position to do some bargaining. Will Rogers of Oklahoma has been trying to promote a caucus of those who will serve in the House for the first time prior to the regular caucus. Another representative, O'Malley of Milwaukee, has been urging the same thing in the hope of keeping the "freshmen" from being, as he describes it, "lost in the shuffle."

Their idea, apparently, was to set up some kind of an organization and agree on definite action in the hope they might force all the candidates for speaker into a position where they could talk turkey to them.

From indications at present it looks as if the choice for speaker will be made either before or immediately after March 4. Queries sent out by the caucus chairman to all the newly elected congressmen have brought replies from all but a few of them thus far that they will be able to attend a caucus at that time.

However, a petition is being circulated among the Democrats asking that the caucus not be called until just before the convening of the special session of Congress.

Whether this will be successful remains to be seen. It is generally believed, however, that the speaker will be chosen as soon as possible to get the question out of the way.
