PRESIDENT ASKS FOR DRASTIC ECONOMIES

Proposes Reduction Of Veterans' Compensation And Reduction Salaries

DEMAND MADE IN MESSAGE TO CONGRESS

Pointing to Deficit of $1,200,000,000 For The Fiscal Year, Roosevelt Demands Emergency Action For Balancing The Budget; Says Great Danger is Pressing National Security; Disabled Veterans Not to be Affected By Compensation Reductions

Washington, D. C., March 10.—(AP)—President Franklin D. Roosevelt asked Congress today for authority to reduce veterans' compensation and government salaries to take effect immediately.

Pointing to a deficit for this year of $1,200,000,000, the President demanded emergency action for balancing the budget.

"The very stability of our government is concerned," he told Congress. "And when this is concerned the benefit of some must be subordinated to the welfare of all."

"When a great danger is pressing our national security it is my duty to advise Congress of a way to it."

"In so doing I must be fair not only to the few but to the many. It is in this spirit that I appeal to you."

"If the Congress chooses to vest in me this responsibility it will be exercised in the spirit of justice to all, of sympathy for those in need and of maintaining inviolate the basic welfare of the United States."

Mr. Roosevelt in his message did not specify to what length he intended to go in banking and general appropriations and slashing of government salaries if given authority, but his advisers estimated at $500,000,000 the amount he intends to save.

A bill to carry out the purpose of the President was gone over last night at a White House conference.

The measure would require that salary reductions take into account the cost of living and limited the total to 15 per cent, including existing salary cuts. Permanently and totally disabled veterans would be excepted. Also veterans whose disabilities are traceable to service origin would be kept on the pay-roll.

The President would be given full authority to fix the rate of compensation for all of the thousands of other veterans now receiving allowances and who are not in this classification.

The text of the President's message follows:

"The nation is deeply gratified by the timely response given yesterday by Congress to the necessity for action to restore and improve the banking system and a like necessity faces it with respect to finances of the government. It also requires equally courage and prompt action."

"For these long years the government has been on the road to bankruptcy. For the fiscal year of 1931 the deficit was $462,000,000, for this year it is $2,472,000,000, and for the fiscal year of 1933 it will probably exceed $1,200,000,000. For this fiscal year of 1934, based on appropriation bills passed Congress and the estimated revenue deficit, it will exceed $1,000,000,000 unless action is taken. Since then we shall have piled up a deficit of $5,000,000,000."

"With the utmost seriousness I pointed out to Congress the profound effect of this fact upon our national economy. It has continued to the recent collapse of our banking institutions. It has actuated stagnation of our economic life. It has added to unemployment. The government house is in disorder, and for unknown reasons no effective action has been taken to restore it to order."

"Upon the unimpaired credit of the United States rests the safety of deposits, security of financial policy, activity of industrial enterprises, the value of our agricultural products"

HITLER HITS COMMUNISTS

Orders Arrest of all Communists in The State of Bavaria, Report Says

Berlin, March 10.—(AP)—Chancellor Adolph Hitler's merciless campaign against Communism was advanced in the state of Bavaria today by an order from General Franz Von Epp, the new commissioner, for the arrest of all Communist officials of the state.

In Russia also the anti-Communist faced the possibility of incarceration in a detention camp at hard labor.

The government is tightening its grip of independent states and has received the resignation of cabinet members in Saxony and Baden. The government board of censors suspended the Berliner Tagblatt, one of the city's best known newspapers, until March 13, after it had printed objectionable articles.

BOARD DEFERS RULING HERE

Action on Protest Regarding Erection of Warehouse is Postponed

Members of the Board of Aldermen met in special session last night to consider protests in connection with the reported erection of a tobacco warehouse in the residential section of Dickinson avenue but deferred action pending ruling of the Attorney General in the matter.

The building committee was instructed not to issue any permit for the erection of a warehouse until the ruling of the Attorney General has been received, and the matter will remain where it was prior to the special meeting pending receipt of the ruling of the state official.

Hearing that a tobacco warehouse was to be erected on the old Tucker lot on the upper part of Dickinson avenue, citizens residing in that section registered a complaint with the Board of Aldermen and asked that immediate action be taken to prevent it.

After consideration of the matter, the ordinance committee asked Mayor Finanigan to write the Attorney General for a ruling in the matter and not until this has been received with the committee know just where it stands.

It was said the question would be taken up for final consideration at the regular monthly meeting of the board the first Thursday night of next month.

Chinchow, Manchuria, March 10.—Japanese army headquarters announced today that troops under Major General Terauchi Kawhair had completed the occupation of Kuepikow, the gateway through the Great Wall from Peking to Jehol City.

The occupation followed a battle which Chinese defenders said had been going on for sometime.

The resignation of Hsio-Liang as military commander of north China has been accepted by the national government.

The command of Hsio-Liang, who submitted his resignation last week at the same time blaming himself for the loss of Jehol to the Japanese, was taken by Chiang Ki-Shek, Chinese generalissimo, who immediately threw fresh troops into the battle.

"Kuepikow, pass through the Great Wall.

Advices from Chinchow, headquarters of the invading forces, said Tadahi Kawhair had completed occupation of Kuepikow, which is 65 miles from Leping.

Nollie Cope, 19, charged with attempted criminal assault upon the same girl, is to be tried later. He was a witness for Wells.

Wells presented witnesses in an attempt to prove an alibi and to show that the victim of the assault was in error when she identified him as her assailant.

Zangara Sentenced To Death For Murder Of Mayor Anton Cermak

Banks May Be Allowed To Reopen For Business On Saturday Morning

Washington, March 10.—(AP)—A presidential proclamation kept rigid restrictions clamped tight today about operations of the nation's banks until possibly tomorrow when many of them can reopen for business as usual.

In less than two hours before restrictions would have become ineffective at midnight last night, President Roosevelt used the power Congress had given him by extending the bank holiday until further notice.

That means for the time being banks could continue to do only what they have been doing the last five days—enough business to prevent food shortages or to keep people from going payless. No change in the regulations was issued by the treasury since the government proclamation clamping an embargo on gold shipments and started the money holiday last Sunday night.

But early today Secretary Woodin announced that the emergency bank act which was rushed through Congress in six hours, gave the President power to make possible the opening of banks on a sound basis backed by an adequate supply of currency.

He added that the treasury will not authorize any banks reopening before tomorrow but already has taken steps to secure information through proper authorities as to the conditions of the various banks of the country.

H. C. HADDOCK DIES IN CHICAGO

Well Known Planter Succumbs to Illness Extending Over One Year

Henry Clay Haddock, 46, died at his home in Chicod township yesterday afternoon at 4:10 o'clock following illness of a year.

Funeral services were conducted this afternoon at 3 o'clock by his pastor, Elder W. H. Laughinghouse, pastor of the Pleasant Hill Free Will Baptist Church. Burial was made in the family burying ground near the home place.

He was a member of the Woodmen of the World, who took part in the final rites.

The deceased was born and reared in the community in which he died. He was one of the best known farmers of the section, and spent all of his life in this field of endeavor. He was of a genial, christian character and was held in high esteem by the people of that area.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Clara B. Haddock, three daughters, Mrs. Warren Jones, Misses Reola and Sallie Haddock; four sons, Jay, Andrew, William Earl, Grady Davis and H. C. #### NEW JURY BILL IS GIVEN OKAY

Raleigh, N. C., March 10.—(AP)—A radical change in the method of selecting special venires for trial of capital cases was approved by the House Judiciary Committee Nos. 2 today.

Under the bill given a favorable report, court officers of the various counties ordering special venires from another county to sit in capital cases would go to the county to select juries and the case would be tried in the county of original jurisdiction.

It was brought to the attention of the committee that in Lenoir County the case in which Herman Casey was charged with murder the court was required to pay the expense of seventy-five veniremen from other counties.

Had the proposed bill been a law, its sponsors said, the expense would have been cut, as the judge, solicitors, defendant's counsel, clerk of court and other officials would have gone to the adjoining counties and examined the venire, returning to Kinston with a jury instead of having 750 men report there.

The winter term of East Carolina Teachers College closes Saturday afternoon, March 11, and the spring term begins Monday morning, March 13, leaving no break between terms. #### LENIENT ON MORTGAGES

Metropolitan Insurance Company Announces the Halting Foreclosures

New York, March 10.—(AP)—The Metropolitan Insurance Company announced today it was still pursuing the recently announced policy of handling each case separately in dealing with mortgage foreclosures.

H. B. Bateman, of Wilson, president of the Branch Banking Company, money lending agency of the Metropolitan in the eastern section of North Carolina, announced last night he had been instructed to hold foreclosures of all mortgages under pending instructions.

Metropolitan officials were said to have stated this was not to be considered a general moratorium on mortgage.

Bateman said he knew all foreclosures in Eastern North Carolina had been ordered stopped and that all attorneys had been instructed to withdraw foreclosures.

The Metropolitan announced several weeks ago it would be lenient in mortgages, but that action would be determined by circumstances in each case.

GRANT SPEAKS AT M.E. CHURCH

Presiding Elder Delivers Sermon on Prayer at Preparatory Service

Rev. T. M. Grant, presiding elder of the New Bern District, preached a wonderful sermon on "Prayer at the M. E. Memorial Church last evening.

It was the second service preparatory for the week of services which begin Sunday. Among the things the speaker said:

"There are a great number of people who do not use prayer at all; some use it in times of emergency, some pray for selfish motives, making God a kind of Santa Claus and always asking Him for things while very few make use of prayer as power to be transformed into effective and useful living. Prayer that makes for effective living."

Prayer that makes for effective living, the preacher urged, "is the great need of these days."

Cottage prayer-meetings were held this morning in seven homes at points in the city as announced in the services last night.

The pastor will speak at the service this evening at 7:30 o'clock.

There will be no service Saturday evening. Rev. Albee Goddard, Chapel Hill, will arrive Sunday afternoon and have charge of the service through Sunday week. A cordial welcome is extended to all who may wish to attend these meetings.

Slayer Denounces Judge When Sentenced To Die In Florida Electric Chair

LARGE CROWD SEEKS LOANS

Rush For Government Seed Loans Continues At The Court-house Here

The rush to file applications for government farm seed loans continued here today with undiminished vigor, and the largest crowd yet converging on the court house where applications are being filed was present this morning when the farm office opened for business.

It was estimated that at least five hundred growers from various parts of the county sat or stood about talking in the courtroom today awaiting their turn to visit the filing clerks.

E. F. Arnold, director of the farm department, through whose office applications are being filed, said two hundred applications had been issued since the filing period opened last Monday morning and that the total would reach 250 by nightfall.

So great was the influx of loan seekers that three extra stenographers were put to work in the department office Monday, and this number was increased to five today. Mr. Arnold is being aided by Government Seed Inspector H. E. Lane in handling the applications.

With the additional office help, Mr. Arnold said they would be able to handle as many as sixty applications daily now and hoped to be able to relieve the rush considerably during the next week or so.

GOVERNOR TO SET DATE FOR HIS EXECUTION

Attempted Assassin of President Roosevelt Accuses Judge Thompson of Being a Crook and Capitalist as he is Led From The Courtroom; Will be Held in Dade County Jail Pending Removal to State Penitentiary

Miami, Fla., March 11.—(AP)—Guisepe Zangara, seelot and assassin, today was sentenced to death in the electric chair for the murder of Mayor Anton Cermak of Chicago, in his futile attempt to kill President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

The sentence was passed at 10:31 a.m. by Circuit Court Judge Ely Thompson, who read the sentence from a prepared statement ending with "And may God have mercy on your soul."

There was a flurry in the courtroom after the sentence was passed as Zangara denounced Judge Thompson and shouted: "You give me electric chair. I no afraid of that chair. You one of capitalist. You is the crook man too. Put me in the chair; I'm no care."

Deputies rushed Zangara from the courtroom as he shouted the last sentence. Spectators were held in the courtroom until after the prisoner had been removed to the elevator carrying him to jail.

Under the Florida law, the execution date must be fixed by the Governor of the State and officials of the State penitentiary at Raiford.

Judge Thompson's sentence ordered that Zangara be confined in the Dade County jail until he was removed to Raiford and that he be kept there until the governor sets the week of execution and the day to be set by the prison farm superintendent.

"SHORT THIRTY-SIX" PRESENTED TUESDAY

Tuesday night at 8 o'clock in the high school auditorium, the Conference Club of the Eighth Street Christian Church presented its annual play, "Short Thirty-Six," which proved to be one of the best amateur productions shown this year in Greenville. It was a comedy and kept the audience laughing from start to finish.

The part of Gordon Dansard, hero and disinherited son, was played by the pastor, W. A. Ryan, and his acting as such was equally as good as the feminine role he assumed at intervals throughout the play. The part of his pal, Joe Ripley, was played by Robert Moyer who made his appearance as "Count D'Asigny" with Mr. Ryan as the "Countess D'Asigny." Another outstanding performance was that of V. M. Mulholland who discarded the dignity of an English professor to become an artist.

Nannie Rowlett, leading lady, and Victoria Jackson, her companion, played their parts very effectively as did Louise Briley, gum-chewing hotel clerk, and Rita Turnage, chorus girl goldigger. The whole performance was good and the supporting cast, Elsie Windham, Mildred Wilson, Ruby Stokes, Robert Suggs Fleming and William Adams showed ability and well coached acting.

Ray Munford as dancer, and the Christian Church male quartet were called back twice for encores and a newly organized jazz orchestra serenaded the audience at intermissions.

Paper Praises "Sign of Cross"

The following editorial recently appeared in one of the Charlotte papers regarding "The Sign of the Cross," to be exhibited at the State Theatre here next Monday and Tuesday:

"Once in a while there comes a motion picture that combines a powerful and elevating theme with intense dramatic action and direction. Such a picture is 'The Sign of the Cross,' a story of the Christians of Rome. We had the good fortune to attend a preview of it yesterday at the Carolina Theatre, where it will be shown next week.

The shadow of Christ's divine greatness fell across a great pagan city when that stalwart little band of faithful endured the diabolic tortures of Nero rather than give up their belief. 'The Sign of the Cross' tells of a Christian girl, Mercia, whose faith was greater than death and who led one of Rome's greatest with her into the arena of lions. Barbaric and magnificent as the Roman organs of the Caesars, dramatic and touching, colossal and mighty, the picture yet has greatness in it mainly because of its sublimation of Christian faith.

Among those who saw and approved the picture yesterday were many Charlotte ministers and religious leaders."

The lecture was followed by an exhibit of hand-made rugs and clothing made by 4-H club girls and other organizations of the county. It showed clearly the skill and resourcefulness of the girls and women.

A group of readings by Mrs. O. H. Stroud and a piano selection by Miss Virginia Bell Cooper were greatly enjoyed by those present.

The home department served delicious refreshments carrying out a color scheme of green and white with shantock decorations.

Miss Alice Mitchell who sponsored the night session, gave a play showing the part home missions play in the churches' program.

A picnic lunch was served at the noon hour.

HOLLYWOOD SIGHTS & SOUNDS

By ROBBIN COONS

Hollywood, Calif.—If all screen writers followed Preston Sturges' scheme there might be much money saved the studios and at the same time a better quality of pictures.

When Sturges, whose plays "Strictly Dishonorable" and "Child of Manhattan" both have reached the screen, wanted to sell Jesse Lasky a film story he brought with him a complete screen play script. Lasky looked it over, bought it, and "The Power and the Glory" is on his schedule to star Spencer Tracy.

That is such a logical way to sell a screen story that it may appear to be scarcely worth comment. But if you think that, you don't know Hollywood.

Ideas On Sale

The usual procedure when a writer has an idea for a scenario is anything but logical, unless Custom makes logic, which it doesn't—especially not in Hollywood.

The writer dashes off, on a page or two, the essence of his plot. He submits this to the executive who, if it appeals to him, purchases the "idea" and employs the writer, at so much per week (or possibly two or three writers) to prepare a film treatment or screen play.

Then the circus begins, the literary Roman holiday. Often the "idea" emerges on the screen often, again, it is lost and the resultant hodgepodge is put forth to become "just another movie." The costs, meanwhile, have mounted daily.

It was such a haphazard system, for instance, which produced one of Ann Harding's less praiseworthy films, "Prestige." It sounded great in the sales talk of the scenarist, but the completed script was nothing like the promise.

Sturges points out that a playwright never attempts to sell a play from a short outline, and holds that the same should be true of pictures.

Writer's Gamble

But the novelty of his arrangement with Lasky does not end there. His monetary reward is to be, exactly as it would be on the stage, on a royalty basis. The "down payment" is comparatively small, and the total amount of his remuneration will be determined at the box-office.

If his picture is a failure, he will receive little. But if it is a big hit, he stands to get much more than is ordinarily paid for a script bought outright over the desk-top.

Washington Daybook

By HERBERT PLUMMER

Washington, D. C.—Senators stand a good chance of having a much easier time of it parliamentarily speaking, in the future than they have had during the last four years.

Neither Vice-President Garner nor the new president pro tem is rated as strict disciplinarian as have been Curtis and Moses of New Hampshire.

Curtis never related his efforts to keep perfect order. At times it seemed that he would hang a hole in his desk with his gavel.

It didn't go so well with some of the Senators, either. George Norris of Nebraska turned on him once and spoke his mind.

Forensic Amenities

It was during the debate on ousting Dave Barry as sergeant-at-arms, Norris and Glenn of Illinois were arguing in the rear of the chamber in anything but parliamentary fashion. Curtis' resounding gavel almost drowned out their voices.

"Does the Senator from Nebraska yield?" shouted Curtis.

"No," bellowed Norris in return. "No, not even to the chair!"

Moses, the president pro tem, while not as severe as Curtis, still had the knack of irritating the frayed nerves of Senators while in the chair. His sarcastic and bantering tone frequently got him into trouble. Once he nagged Ashurst, of Arizona, so hard that the big Arizona came back with a hot retort.

Ashurst had previously questioned the right of Moses to make certain statements while in the chair, demanding that he let some one else preside if he wanted to engage in debate.

It angered Moses and he started out to get revenge. Thereafter he would preface it with the statement: "If the Senator from Arizona will permit the chair, he rules..."

Warming Up

At first Ashurst ignored him. But when Moses kept repeating that phrase before every ruling the remainder of the afternoon, Ashurst "got sore." Finally he jumped to his feet and blazed out at Moses:

CONSTIPATION MADE MAN FEEL SICK

"My work is inside work and at times I get constipated," writes Mr. I. H. Webb, of Waco, Texas. "This causes me to have headache and a terrible worn-out feeling. I will get real sick and dizzy. When I get up in the morning, I feel all tired out. I heard about Black-Draught being good for this trouble and decided to try it. I found it was as recommended.

Now when I feel that I need something and my head begins to feel heavy, I take a few doses of Black-Draught and get relief."

DRIVE FOR WHEAT TO AVERT HUNGER STARTED IN CHILE

Santiago, Chile.—(AP)—Fearing future food shortages and the necessity of using some of the Central Bank's badly needed gold for purchases abroad, the government has ordered provincial officials to make an intensive campaign for more wheat.

The administration hopes to have 1,652,840 acres sown in wheat for next season a figure far above the present acreage.

The government announces that it will fix a minimum price, and that if any farmer is unable to sell his wheat, the commissariat of price control will take over his grain at that figure.

President Arturo Alessandri's farm colonization plan also is expected to aid in the increase in production of wheat. He hopes to have both collectives and cooperatives functioning before the next season.

STATE MIT TEAM LOSES ONE MATCH

Raleigh, March 10.—Although he inherited a squad which included only three letter men, Bill Beatty, who has just completed his first year as varsity boxing coach at N. C. State College, coached the team to its most successful season in history. The record shows one loss, two ties and three wins.

Last year Bill tutored the freshman boxers and when he became varsity coach this year, six of his former freshmen were on hand as sophomores to try out for the varsity squad.

There were only three lettermen available and prospects looked dark but Bill Beatty and his sophomores made good. Toward the last of the season, the six sophos had all clinched regular berths on the squad. Three of the first year varsity performers—Turner, Bilsoly, Bill Dunaway, and Jack Fabri, made a clean sweep of all state opposition and were crowned state champs in their respective divisions.

SPORT SLANTS

By ALAN GOULD

With the transfer of the Boston Red Sox to a new and wealthier ownership, the prochronic talk-ers out of the ruck gains another important trench.

As you may have heard before, it has been fourteen full seasons since the Red Sox were in the first division. It may still require a derrick and two or three more seasons to pull them out of it, but the Yankee-Collins ownership has ambitious plans, including a possible attempt to buy Babe Ruth from the Yankees at the end of this year.

The Phillies ended a fourteen-year stretch in the depths of the National League last season by yanking themselves into fourth place by the margin of a few percentage points over the Boston Braves. Burt Shotton has done a remarkable job, with little or no capital at his disposal, and may figure quite prominently in this year's pennant race.

Meanwhile the Chicago White Sox have put forth herculean efforts to end their long inhabitation of the lower regions. They have spent twelve consecutive years in the second division since the break-up of the great team that "threw" the 1919 world series. They also have spent close to $1,000,000 trying to find another winning combination.

All the other big league clubs have been up at some time since the war although it is true that the Reds, the Browns and the Braves have been mostly "down."

The Braves have been in the first division only once in the last sixteen years, but they have been on the border-line a number of times.

Griff Last of Old Line Washington observers, since the control of the Red Sox, point out that the Senatorial owner, Clark Griffith, now is the only real product of the baseball ranks to control a major league franchise.

The Shibes of the Philadelphia Athletics founded their fortune in the manufacture of sporting goods, but they were not so closely identified in their earlier days with baseball as was Griffith.

Other and varied industries furnished the current list of magnates. Charles Stoneham of the Giants entered the game from Wall Street and Colonel Jacob Ruppert's brewery business furnished the capital he put into the Yankees. Tml Puchs of the Braves is a New York lawyer and former magistrate. Bill Veck of the Cubs was a noted baseball writer under the name of "Bill Bailey" before being associated with the Wrigley chewing gum millions.

Antos and Airplanes Sidney Weil of the Reds was a big auto dealer in Cincinnati before he bought the club in 1929. Phil Ball of the Browns got his money in the airplane and real estate businesses. Sam Bredon of the Cardinals sold and drove automobiles rapidly.

Alva Bradley, of Cleveland, is a financier. Families famous in baseball, like Comiskey, Ebbets and Dreyfuss have carried on with new generations taking executive responsibility but that is the extent of their background.

PRESIDENT ASKS FOR DRASTIC ECONOMIES

(Continued From Page One) and the availability for employment. "The credit of the United States Government definitely affects the fundamental human values. It has become our concern to make secure the foundation for national recovery which depends upon it.

"Too often in recent history liberal governments have been wrecked on the rocks of loose fiscal policies. We must avoid this danger. It is too late for leisurely approach to this problem. We must not wait to act several months hence.

"The urgency is accentuated by the necessity of meeting refunding operations this spring. We must move with direct purpose now.

"Members of Congress are pledged to economy. I am, therefore, assuming that you and I are in agreement as to the urgent necessity, and my constitutional duty is to advise you of obtaining retrenchment at this time. I am not speaking to you in general terms. I am pointing out a definite road.

"The last Congress enacted legislation for elimination of executive agencies, but economies were left to be effected as small when view in the light of the great deficit.

"They will not meet the pressing needs of the credit situation."

Plans Unemployment Camps Washington, D. C., March 10.—(AP)—President Roosevelt was virtually ready for submission to Congress a far-flung unemployment plan for enlisting 500,000 idle men in corps similar to the army and placing them in camps in various parts of the country. Representative Rainey told newspapermen such a project would be part of the President's program for a $500,000,000 bond issue for public works probably to be sent to Congress tomorrow. Camps would be located at points strategic to public construction, reclamation projects and the men enlisted would be fed and housed and compensation would not exceed a dollar a day for work. President Roosevelt had already outlined the project centering around Muscle Shoals and others in mind. The camps would be like the unemployment camp in New York. It would hold well over a thousand men.

Today in The Legislature. Raleigh, March 10.—(AP)—Debate on the bill to repeal the state dry laws today was set for Monday night by the lower house of the General Assembly as the Senate spent several hours discussing the re-writing of the same constitution and carried the bill over until Tuesday without a vote. The House put over the bill as special order for next week after adopting the minority favorable report in preference to the House committee one. Reappointment of House representation so as to give the western counties a new representative at the expense of New Hanover, Nash and Rockingham, was brought back to life by the House. The measure was killed last night but reconsidered and set as special order for March 17. Both houses rushed through joint resolutions inviting the governor to speak to the assembly at his pleasure. The House also slid along to the Senate under suspension of rules a bill to immediately reduce the cost of 1933 automobile licenses to 3-4 of the regulate rate. The bill would make 3-4 effective April 1, effective upon ratification. Oppose Roosevelt Plan. Washington, March 11.—(AP)—President Roosevelt called on Congress today for dictatorial power to cut veterans cost and federal salaries and promised them in prospect for a balanced budget in a year. The Democratic phalanx of the House and Senate, not without dissent, set out at once to do his bidding expecting to save hundreds of millions for the treasury which the president told them it will pile up $5,000,000,000 deficit by June. Even before the measure could be read to the Senate and House there were threats of a disunion. House leaders arranged to bank their preponderance of strength in a caucus to get the bill through by Wednesday if possible. First opposition to the plan came when Senator Robinson of Indiana, expressed to reporters the hope Congress would refuse to give dictatorial power to the chief executive to cut veterans cost.
