CITY TO HAVE EIGHT MONTHS SCHOOL TERM

Mayor Says Length Of Term Will be Extended if Such is Possible

Greenville is going to have an eight months' school term this year, and the city fathers are going to do all in their power to make it longer if possible.

This was the gist of a letter which Mayor R. C. Flanagan wrote recently to the presidents of the various Parent-Teachers organizations of the city, and the fact that it produced much elation in the face of the uncertain financial situation affecting most all cities and communities, goes without saying.

To accomplish the purpose, the mayor told the Parent-Teacher heads, it is going to be necessary for everybody to pay his taxes promptly and people interested in the schools were urged to use their influence in this connection.

The letter, in detail, follows: "Please let the members of your association know that the town administration is keenly interested in the length of the term of the Greenville city schools, and that we are doing all we can for the interests of our school children in Greenville."

"I can assure you now that Greenville is going to have an eight months' school this year, and we are going to do all we can to see that the term is even longer."

"Now, we want you and your members in turn to do all you can for the schools, and you can really do something by urging the people of the school district to pay their taxes as promptly as possible. Do all you can to create among the public the feeling that our mutual welfare and the welfare of our children in particular depends upon the prompt payment of taxes by all who are in a position to do so."

COUNTY COURT ENDS SITTING

Docket of 25 or More Cases Disposed of Here in Two Day Session of Court

County court completed its two week docket here yesterday afternoon and adjourned until Tuesday morning. A two day sitting was necessary to dispose of the 25 or more cases which had been entered on the docket while the court was inactive during the two-week term of Superior Court ending last Friday.

The majority of actions disposed of the first day consisted largely of violations of the prohibition law, larceny and traffic infractions.

W. S. Mills, appearing on separate charges of possessing whiskey and assault with a deadly weapon, was fined $25 and cost in each case.

Stealing chickens resulted in Leroy Blount receiving a sentence of 90 days to the roads.

Convicted on a charge of resisting arrest, Willie Sugg, colored, was given three months on the roads.

In a second case involving a charge of immoral relations with Nettie Sugg, Willie Sugg was sentenced to the roads for six months. The woman was given six months at the county home.

SOLONS TAKE UP FINANCES

With Repeal Question Settled, Legislature Will Try to Balance Budget

Raleigh, N. C., April 6.—Faced with the necessity of waiting until 1934 before North Carolina can act on the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment, the Legislature today returned to financial labors.

The House Finance Committee yesterday reported a revenue bill which A. J. Maxwell, State Revenue Commissioner, predicted would not balance the budget if considered.

Finding the Supreme Court opinion had been misinterpreted, the legislators were checked in their drive toward final action on the proposal for repeal of national prohibition.

It was found that the court instead of approving the proposals which had been considered, had ruled unconstitutional the Murphy measure providing for a special election in November, 1933, for election of delegates to the convention.

FARMVILLE CHOOSES J. B. LEWIS AS MAYOR

Farmville, N. C., April 6.—In an election, unprecedented in recent years in the interest and enthusiasm evidenced and the number of votes cast, the incumbent mayor, Robert E. Belcher, was defeated by John B. Lewis, young lawyer who won by a margin of 103 votes. The total vote cast was 637.

Mayor Belcher has served as mayor for eighteen years intermittently, serving the community well since boyhood in almost every capacity of town government.

The incoming mayor, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Lewis, has been most successful in his profession since opening law offices here two and a half years ago.

The candidates for aldermen received the following vote: George W. Davis, 552; Dr. W. M. Willis, 520; re-elected; J. W. Bundy, 385; re-elected; L. W. Godwin, 333; re-elected; J. W. Joyner, 272; J. G. Spencer, 323; T. W. Latta, 319; J. Frank Harper, 231. The first five candidates were elected to the board.

BANK OF WINDSOR OPENS ON UNRESTRICTED BASIS

Windsor, April 6.—The Bank of Windsor, operating under restrictions for the past 14 days, since receiving a permit to carry on business following the national banking holiday, re-opened here Monday on a normal basis to receive deposits as well as pay out money on demand and charge bills for the convenience of local business people. For the present, however, the bank will act as collectors only for checks drawn on other financial institutions, cashing the checks only after they have been cleared and the cost of collection paid.

MAYOR SEEKS BIG CROWD AT FIELD OPENING

Flanagan Calls on People to Attend Dedication of New Stadium Tomorrow

In a proclamation issued this morning Mayor R. C. Flanagan called on the people of Greenville to leave their places of business tomorrow afternoon to attend the dedication of the new stadium at Third Street school grounds. The athletic field and community building which was recently completed through the public work program, is considered one of the finest in this part of the country, and is the pride of people interested in development of athletics and community improvement.

The dedicatory exercises, which will be featured by a band concert and flag-raising will follow an inspection of the field and community building by the hundreds of people expected to be on hand. This will be followed by a game between Greenville High School and New Bern.

Mayor R. C. Flanagan will officially throw open the field to public use when he tosses the first ball on the diamond setting the game in motion.

All business houses of the city have been asked to close from 3:15 until 5:30 o'clock to give employees an opportunity to be on hand and take part in the exercises.

The mayor's proclamation follows: "Whereas, the young people of our community are its greatest asset; and

"Whereas, they should be encouraged and supported in all those undertakings which make for fine manhood and womanhood; and

"Whereas, there has been developed and brought to completion in our city and athletic plant and community center which will be a great factor in the young life of our community; and

"Whereas, this plant will be thrown open to the public tomorrow at 3:15 o'clock with a baseball game between our High School team and that of our sister city, New Bern;

"Therefore, I hereby call upon the citizens of Greenville, in so far as possible, to leave their places of business tomorrow afternoon and be present at the formal opening of this valuable project as an encouragement to those who have labored to bring this fine asset to our other school achievements."

Court Orders Mistrial In Beaman Bribery Case

Mistrial was ordered at Washington yesterday in the case of Thomas E. Beaman, of Greenville, former United States Commissioner, charged with accepting bribes from violators of the national prohibition law.

The jury, after receiving the case yesterday morning at 10:30 o'clock, informed Judge Meekins in Federal Court ten hours later that an agreement could not be reached. No date for the new trial was set, but it probably will come up for consideration at the next term of court.

Beaman, a former minister, forged into the limelight the last three years in his prosecution of prohibition law cases here. Several months ago he was arrested by local officers and charged with accepting bribes from bootleggers for information furnished them regarding activities of law-enforcement officers.

BROAD POWER IS GIVEN TO THE PROBERS

Court of Three Members Will Act as Both Judge and Jury; Witnesses Must Testify Under Oath; Three Survivors of Disaster Will be Required to Testify; Wiley Will Sit in on All Sessions of The Court

Lakehurst, N. J., April 6.—(AP)—Broad powers of a general court-martial will be in the hands of the court of inquiry which begins Monday to search for facts concerning the crash at sea of the airship Akron with loss of 73 lives.

The court with its three members acting both as judge and jury can subpoena witnesses, and those who testify before it will do so under oath. In that respect it differs from the ordinary investigation which may or may not require witnesses to testify under oath.

The three survivors of the Akron disaster will be called as witnesses by the court. If there is evidence tending to incriminate them the court will notify them they are in the role of defendants.

From authoritative sources it was learned that Lieutenant-Commander Herbert Wiley, one of the survivors, had requested at the outset that he be designated as a defendant. He has that privilege, and by such designation he would be able to sit in at all sessions of the court.

Cuban Draws Nine Years For Forgery

Richmond, Va., April 6.—(AP)—Antonio Narvez, who told a Federal Court jury he had been duped to raise money in this country to be used in an attempt to overthrow the Machado government in Cuba, was under a nine-year penitentiary sentence today on a charge of cashing forged money orders.

The defendant's story that he had been hired by wealthy Cubans in Florida to raise money in the South for arms and ammunition was doubted by Police Inspector J. W. Cole.

The new athletic field and club house at the Third Street School would do credit to a city much larger than our own and should prove an incentive to our school children to strive to bigger and better things.

Assurance has been given by city officials that the local schools will continue through the eighth month of the present session and longer if possible.

Tonight at midnight the sale of beer in twenty odd of the states will become legal, and in a few more weeks North Carolina will join the ranks of the states selling beer.

Every applicant for license to deal in beer and wines should be thoroughly investigated and no license should be granted to persons or places with bad character or reputation.

Chapter 4 GIRL IN TERROR

Her fingers were scratching and fumbling at the door beside me. Then her face turned from looking over her shoulder and showed me whiteness and wide dark eyes and blowing hair, and she beat on the door with her fists and sobbed again: "Oh, do let me in."

Sue whirled in.

I shut the door into the corridor. There's one nice thing about not having much money; you aren't suspicious. There was still a little brandy untouched and I gave it to her and pulled up a chair for her to lean against and waited.

"Please don't leave. Just for a moment or two. I shall be all right again in just a moment. I—you see, I'm out of breath. I've been running. He was following me."

Something carried me to the door and into the corridor; it was not my reason or volition, for I had no wish to become entangled in abductions. She reached the door to the stairway as soon as I did and had both her hands on mine on the latch.

cision must remain with her. She was standing so close to me that I could feel her body tremble with cold. "Go back into my room and try to get warm." As she hesitated, I added: "Oh, I'll do as you say, of course."

"Please don't look like that?" she said. "As if I had cheated justice. I don't know how to explain all this to you. It must sound very lurid, thus far. But you must see that I can't involve you. And after all," she added unexpectedly, "one's abduction is one's own affair."

"It's very fortunate that it turned out in a way that permits you to say that." She looked at me quickly. "Don't think I'm flippant. I'm—I'm badly scared. Perhaps in a moment I can thank you properly. Just now I should like to get good and warm at your nice fire. Isn't it curious that just being cold can do things to your courage?"

she was a little fool not to let me go after the man myself or call the police. I said my name was Jim Sundean and would she have a cigarette. She refused and watched me light one. Her small nose sniffed a little, and she said in a pleased way: "What, that's an American cigarette!"

"You wouldn't believe how difficult it's been for me to get them. Of course, here in France it's easy enough, if rather expensive, but in Russia it was practically impossible. At least, where I was."

Retaining Vegetable Flavor. Many housewives use a pinch of soda to keep vegetables green in the cooking, but sugar-housewives use a pinch of sugar instead of soda, which not only retains the vegetables' fresh color but adds to the flavor. Keeping the lid off while cooking is also a help.

ness is available. A collapsible cup carried in its case does not take up much room in the school bag or coat pocket or flat paper cups of the sort may be found at many public drinking fountains may be bought and carried in an envelope.

Good Health Depends On Mineral Balance

Lee's Mineral Compound With Vitamins Builds Bodily Strength and Vigor by Supplying Needed Minerals and Vitamins

AMAZING NEW FORMULA Fortunately for humanity, science has found a way to prevent most of these conditions. After years of careful research and experimentation, a new and remarkable formula has been perfected. This preparation, known as LEE'S MINERAL COMPOUND is a scientific combination of the eleven most essential Mineral Elements of the human body combined with Vitamins. It is, in any sense, a patent medicine that is more in the nature of a FOOD VITALIZER. By supplying the system with the necessary Minerals and Vitamins, it aids nature in quickly balancing the Mineral content of the body so that good health naturally follows.

DEFICIENCY OF MINERALS The process of refining modern foods; bleaching of flour, rice, sugar, etc.; together with improper cooking takes out of our foods the very things that God intended we should have. ACIDITY DESTROYS HEALTH As the Mineral content of the body is lowered, slowly but surely the acid content of the system is increased until it finally reaches the point where the organs of assimilation and elimination cannot perform their natural functions. Our powers of resistance are lowered. Disease germs creep into the blood. The system becomes clogged with impurities. Various aches and pains appear, and before we realize what is taking place, we are on the very verge of a physical break-down.

BRINGS QUICK RELIEF Stomach disorders, such as indigestion, hyperacidity, "heart-burn," gas, and bloating soon yield to this amazing natural compound. Constipation and attendant ills, such as nervousness, headaches, biliousness, bad breath and sallow skin, soon give way to a feeling of renewed strength and vigor.

For Sale by Warren Drug Store, Greenville, and other good dealers everywhere or, send $1.25 to Lee's Laboratories, 167 Forsyth St., S. W. Atlanta, Ga., for large bottle postage paid.

Social and Personal

E. S. Williams spent today in Washington. Mrs. E. E. Rawl spent yesterday in Wilson. Mrs. P. K. Miles of Danville, Va., is the guest of the Misses Manning.

Mrs. Nicholson Entertains. Mrs. Rosamond Nicholson was a charming hostess to her bridge club and a number of additional guests yesterday afternoon at her home on Evans street.

On arrival the guests were welcomed by the hostess and her little daughter, Rosamond Hooker Nicholson. Tables for bridge were placed in the drawing room and sun room in an attractive setting of irises, tulips, jonquils and spirea.

Concluding a number of rubbers, Mrs. Hogan Gaskins was awarded costume jewelry for high club score. The visitors' prize, silk hose, was presented to Mrs. E. J. Garrett. The hostess, assisted by Mrs. John Flanagan and Mrs. Sidney Caswell, served a delectable salad course with coffee.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson Entertain. An important social event in connection with the Teachers College this week was the surprise buffet supper which Mr. and Mrs. McGowan Johnson gave in honor of Mrs. Johnson's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Howard J. McGinnis. It was in celebration of their silver anniversary. The affair took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. McGinnis on East Eighth street.

White iris, sweet peas and bridal wreath carried out a decorative scheme of green and white in the reception rooms of the home, where the guests, numbering twenty-four, were seated informally for serving.

The buffet table, covered with an imported linen cloth, also featured the spring flowers in its artistic appointment and was lighted with slender ivory tapers in silver holders. Mrs. Carl L. Adams and the hostess served at the table. At the honorees' table the decorations were sweet peas and lilies of the valley in a beautiful silver epergne, a gift of their friends.

Following the supper, the guests enjoyed bridge, the high score for women going to Mrs. A. D. Frank, for men, to E. L. Henderson.

Round Table Club Meets. On Tuesday afternoon Mrs. Milton White was hostess to the Round Table Club.

The president, Mrs. J. H. Rose, opened the meeting and read the program for the coming year. The minutes of the previous meeting were read by the secretary, Mrs. Lawrence Carr. The pronunciation referee, Mrs. Paul Fitzgerald, gave the following words correctly, nazi and alternate.

Each member of the club was delighted to have Miss Laura T. Rose, a member of the history department of the Teachers College, present, in an effective way, the members of President Roosevelt's cabinet.

The idea of the cabinet was probably brought from England. The cabinet of ten members is responsible directly to the President who chooses them. Each member has to be confirmed by the Senate. Leadership and harmony are the two outstanding traits the President desires of his cabinet. They have been selected with care from various parts of the United States.

Miss Rose discussed the probable reasons for the selection of each member of the present cabinet; his past achievements and works, and brought out in a concise manner his qualifications for being suited for his specific post.

At the conclusion of this instructive talk the hostess served a sweet course during which time Miss Florence Overton entertained with a delightful musical program.

During the social hour the club members enjoyed writing a Round Robin letter to Mrs. Howard J. McGinnis whose twenty-fifth wedding anniversary came on this day. Besides the members the guests enjoying Mrs. White's gracious hospitality were Miss Lottie Pruett of Danville, Va., Mrs. Tighman and Mrs. Wiley Brown.—Reported.

He was brought to the hospital here in the afternoon and an examination showed that his eye had been so badly injured that his vision probably would suffer impairment. COLLEGE PLAYS PLEASE AUDIENCE. Romantic love, richly costumed and staged, was the theme that made the audience at East Carolina Teachers College last night forget the troubles of humdrum life. The three plays, vastly different to the eye, showed that young hearts beat the same in other lands, and in other times, as "Told in a Chinese Garden" and "The Minute." The last of the three, "In a Spring a Young Man's Fancy," plays lightly on the theme with a young man flirt and six American girls.

In the first of the plays, "Told in a Chinese Garden," Alva Page as a gardener on the estate of Wang-Chu-Mo, is the victim of circumstantial evidence made by his cruel uncle, played by the beautiful daughter of Wang-Shu-Mo, played by Joy Pickard. Jack Barrett played the part of Wang-Chu-Mo. Guards, coolies, governesses, gardeners, umbrella boys, and servants add color to the plot.

Margaret Davis was the beautiful colonial heroine in "The Minute." Bob Eason was the dashing young patriot; Louis Whitfield, the dancing master. The feature of the play was the dancing of the minutemen characters in beautiful colonial dress with white wigs and shining buckles.

In the third play, "In the Spring a Young Man's Fancy," Alva Van Nortwick played the part of an American abroad who "doesn't always mean what he says." Proving that he liked best the one he was with, the hero proposed to five girls and their chaperon, each of whose name began with a J. Trouble began to brew when the six decide to accept him, by sending him notes signed with J's.

Beginning at 8:15 o'clock, violin and piano selections were rendered by Misses2 Gordon and Mead. Between the first two plays Mrs. Ruth Fenberg sang a group of numbers, and between the last two plays the male quartette, composed of Messrs Deal, McGinnis, Meadows and Slay of the faculty, sang several numbers.

The plays will be presented again this evening in the Austin Building at 8:30 o'clock with the admission placed at a very low figure. Proceeds of the plays are to go to the student loan fund.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—WITHOUT CALOMEL. And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go. If you feel sore and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and happy and full of sunshine. For they can't do it. They only irritate the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas blows up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned. It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely. But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Beware of substitutes. 25c at all stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

TAR HEELS TO PLAY 4 GAMES IN THE NORTH

Chapel Hill, N. C., April 6.—The Carolina baseball team will open a four-game tour of Southern Conference institutions with an engagement at V. P. I. Friday afternoon, April 7.

Saturday the Tar Heels will move over to Lexington, where they will play V. M. I. that afternoon and Washington and Lee on Monday, and Tuesday they will play at Charlottesville in the first game of the annual series with Virginia.

Third baseman Willie Powell is the Carolina captain and head man at the bat, having an average of .60 for the first four games. Joe Griffith, big veteran right-hander and speed-ball artist, and two youngsters, Nate Andrews and Fred Crouch, are the leading pitchers.

The rest of the starting line-up will be Norman McCaskill, catcher; Bill Dixon, first; Vergil Weathers, second; Johnny Phipps, short; Bill Croon, left; Johnny Peacock, center; and Lefty Hornaday, right field.

McCaskill, Phipps and Peacock played halfback for last year's football team, and Croon fullback. Weathers is Carolina's former All-Southern basketball forward.

The Tar Heels won their only Conference start from Washington and Lee 5 to 1. He has been hitting .376 for the year, but hasn't been bunting its his well, dropping 6-5 and 3-3 games to Michigan State and a 1-0 contest to Elon.

The Carolina freshman tennis team is scheduled for a match here Friday afternoon with the strong Devitt Prep team from Washington D. C., which boasts two outstanding players in Latona and Short.

The Tar Heels' present rankings and probable line-up include Bernard Friedman, Hunter Lott, Marcus Lynch, Sid Sobol and Jimmy Johnston.

The locals showed expected strength in shutting out Durham High in their opening match, but several of those matches were close, and the meet with Devitt will be a more important test of their power.

SPORT SLANTS

By ALAN GOULD

It would be a trifle difficult to understand the opposition of Ellsworth Vines to competing in a national open tennis championship if he based his reasons solely on the virtuous grounds he specifies. I cannot escape the conviction that his attitude, actually, reflects a desire to concentrate for the rest of this year on his forthcoming trip to Europe with the American Davis Cup team in the attempt to regain this famous trophy from France.

It will be time for the Californian to consider engaging in open competition, for whatever there is in it, after he has reached his goal of playing a dominant role on a winning Davis Cup team. He doubtless has been told by all and sundry that he is the mainstay of the forces of this year, that he has the "number" of his most formidable antagonist, Henri Cochet, and should mop up everything on the other side.

Doubtless, too, he has been told it will do him no good to get mixed up with a lot of professional talent including Big Bill Tilden, at a time when his best efforts should be concentrated on restoring international glory to the custody of the American amateur.

Win or lose abroad or at home, it will be quite all right next fall if Vines decides to change his mind and compete in the first national open, now slated for the historic courts of the Germantown Cricket Club, where Tilden first developed his game and where the last American home stand was made in defense of the Davis Cup.

It is extremely difficult to accept at face value this skittish attitude toward a national tennis open, either at home or abroad.

Pierre Gillou, the astute captain of France's Davis Cup affairs, has held up a figurative hand in some horror at the mere idea of mixing amateurs and professionals in the same competition, as is done in golf, but no one knows better than M. Gillou that this is no cause for alarm.

It would be a different proposition if amateur tennis players, of the top flight class, occupied a sphere of spotlessness which they felt they should be extremely jealous in protecting.

The fact is, however, that very few of the first class performers in any of the leading Davis Cup nations could keep up their games without some sort of subsidization. This may take a variety of forms, but it's existence is so well known that it hardly requires any proof.

Tilden, while in his prime, possessed talents which enabled him to capitalize his skill to a greater extent, professionally, than any other amateur tennis player before or since. Yet even the legitimate character of Tilden's side-lines were not sufficient to keep him out of difficulties and it was necessary to change the amateur rules in respect to player-writing, for example, so that Big Bill could be kept comfortably within the simon-pure stock-ades.

Taylor To Pitch For Greenville At Field Opening

Roger Taylor, known as one of the best high school pitchers in this part of the State, will pitch for Greenville High School against New Bern tomorrow in exercises dedicating the new, Third Street school athletic field. Fuller will do the mound work for New Bern.

New Bern defeated Greenville in the first clash last week, and with the locals anxious to do honors in the opening of their new stadium, the public may be sure of seeing a rip-snorting game.

Sermon said he had hoped to have the date of the Wake Forest game changed to November 18 that State meet V. P. I. on October 21, but said this arrangement did not meet with the approval of Deacon athletic officials.

Milo Stroupe, star tackle of last fall's N. C. State College football team, this week received a unique trophy of the Wolfpack's visit to Tampa, Florida last fall.

A State College graduate, R. E. Brackett of St. Petersburg, met the State player at the train last fall as they rolled into Tampa to play the University of Florida. He promised to send the team a mounted gator if they beat Florida.

Florida was beaten and the team returned home, practically forgetting the promise. However, the mount arrived this week—a handsome eight-foot specimen.

The trophy will be placed in Monneram Club room in the Frank Thompson Gymnasium with the inscription "State 17, Florida 6," painted on its side.

Braves' Infield Bolstered by Rookie

St. Petersburg, Fla.—(AP)—Two years ago Albert Wright, then 18, was captain of his high school baseball team in San Francisco.

Today the big, gangling kid is on the verge of winning a regular job at second base for the Boston Braves, of shoving the veteran Rabbit Maranville back to the bench for the first time in 20 years.

He's been nothing short of sensational in spring games, smacking the ball all over the premises and covering the keystone sack like a cloudburst. He is about the niftiest looking kid infielder to train in Florida this season.

Wright comprises half of the youthful infield duo purchased by the Braves from the Missions of the Pacific Coast League. The other half is Dick Gyselman, a rangy third baseman, two years older than Wright and a whirlwind around the far corner.

The Braves paid $10,000 just to look at the pair, and they are to put $55,000 more on the line if they keep them. That would make them the year's most expensive rookies—and right now it looks like a deal.

Wright played all last season for the Missions, hit .287 and fielded brilliantly. Gyselman spent most of the season in the Class D Texas-New Mexico League, joining the Missions late in the campaign. Quite a vault, from Class D to the big show in one year.

Both are baseball enthusiasts, crazy about the game.

"Gee, if I couldn't play baseball I think I would die," Wright said this spring. "Ever since I was so high I would rather play baseball than eat. It makes me sick to hear people on the coast talking football all the time, even during the baseball season."

Neither Wright nor Gyselman has been awed in the least by playing against the big leaguers. They see no reason why a player should "tighten up" in fast company.

CAMPBELL WINS FROM TEACHERS

Campbell defeated East Carolina Teachers, 7 to 3, in a junior college baseball game here today.

The visitors from Bule's Creek mixed four hits with an error in the ninth inning for the margin of victory.

Campbell's rally came right after the Teachers had put over a pair of runs in the length to tie the count at three-all. Lang's double sent in the tying talies.

Daniels and Fowler shared pitching duties for Campbell, the former striking out four and Fowler whiffing eight. Forbes, who pitched for the locals until the ninth, fanned nine.

Campbell's rally in the ninth was produced by hits by A. Matthews, Singletary, Fowler and Gaylor.

Dickson and Humphries, with two hits each, led Campbell's hitting.

Score by innings: R. H. E. Campbell . . . 000 120 004—7 8 1 E. C. T. C. . . . 000 010 020—3 10 3 Daniels, Fowler, and Singletary; Forbes, Tucker and Curry.

er are Greenville men. G. V. Smith, who has presided over the destiny of the Chamber the last two years, will preside, and five minute talks will be made by well-known business men from other parts of the great agricultural region embraced by the Chamber.

Although Mr. Harding had not yet made known his subject for the occasion, it is well-known fact he will discuss some questions of paramount importance to the nation and throw a great amount of light upon it.

In addition to the speaker and toastmaster, it was expected several other business men from this community would attend the dinner.

CONFERENCE OF EDUCATORS HERE FRIDAY

Carl Adams, professor of education and psychology in the college, will talk on "The use and abuse of standard tests." Miss Jeanette Sessions, a classroom teacher from High Point, a graduate of East Carolina Teachers College, will tell "Some of the ways in which the college can help teachers who are teaching for the first time." Again, topics will be presented from the floor.

Dinner will be served at 6:00 in the evening. A general meeting will be held at 7:30, over which M. P. Jennings, superintendent of Pasquotank county, will preside. Music by the college trio will open the meeting. President Wright will deliver the address of welcome. Two subjects of interest to all will be presented: "Why do teachers fail?" by Supt. E. H. Hicks of Plymouth; and "What do school officials wish to know about prospective teachers?" by G. B. Phillips of Greensboro, recently elected vice-president of the N. C. Educational Association.

On Saturday morning the round table groups will meet at 9 o'clock with interesting subjects scheduled for discussion. A general meeting will bring the conference to a close at noon.

OUTDOOR OPERA IN NEED OF 1,500 NEW 'ANGELS'

Cincinnati, Ohio.—(AP)—A campaign is under way here to make it easy and inexpensive to be an "angel" of an opera company.

Sixty wealthy Cincinnatians have been patrons of the Zoo opera in the past, but now it is proposed to make a popular appeal for 1,500 or more residents to underwrite the venture.

About $40,000 guarantee is required to keep the opera going this year. Last year the ten-weeks of outdoor opera cost $100,000.

Originally the Zoo opera was carried on by a company that operated the zoo and receipts from peanuts, pop and ice-cream went in to help support sopranos and tenors, but that company gave up the burden and a new company under city sponsorship formed. But city funds can not be used to finance arias, no matter who sings them.

New York Cotton

New York, April 6.—(AP)—Cotton futures opened steady, one higher to two lower under May liquidation.

Prices advanced to 648 for May and 687 for October at the end of the half hour, making gains of 7 to 9 points.

Prices worked up to 652 for May and 690 for October, or about ten to twelve points net higher.

The buying slackened at these figures but the market was within two or three points of the start.

Stock Market

New York, April 6.—(AP)—Another sharp bulge appeared in the stock market in the early trading today, although the buying movement soon spent its force and prices receded during the middle of the day.

Strength of commodities, especially wheat, together with denial of rumors that Chicago and Northwestern would seek re-organization prompted further short covering in the snare market.

The low level or earning still hung over the market, a shadow which held bullishness in check.

Extreme gains to one or more than three points in wide assortment of issues were reduced. American Telephone lost over a half of a rise of three points. Allied Chemical, Case and Union Pacific after losing half of three points gained strength and were up 2 or more in the early afternoon.

Cor Products rose three points and American Sugar two.

Copper and silver stocks were up fractionally and two leading mail order issues about a point.

Advance of a point of two were numerous in rails.

Utilities failed to hold well.

Late News Flashes

minor bills.

The compromise on the appropriations measure came in while Doughton was still undecided as to whether or not he would introduce the biennial revenue bill following a general sales tax.

Many committee members urged him to hold out the bill until the biennial allotments are agreed upon so that it may balance the budget.

In the conferees' agreement the main points were:

Support of the state wide eight months school term to cost $16,000,000 in preference to a House allotment of $14,050,000 for six months. Allotment of $832,240 yearly to the University of North Carolina; diversion of $1,000,000 yearly in the highway fund to general funds; compromise half way between the House and Senate figures on state units and certain other items such as highway maintenance.

The compromise figure is slightly more than $1,000,000 less than the Senate bill carrying $84,991,920 and nearly $400,000 above the House figure of $79,262,413.

The principal difference was adoption on the Senate figure for schools $3,900,000.

The Senate passed two bills regarding banks. One would reorganizing banks of the bank commission to approve excessive loans by banks and the other would call for public advertisement by banks liquidating agent before he offers any unlisted securities for sale.

Two joint resolutions already adopted in the House were given Senate approval. One of the state highway commission to give preference to improving state highways connecting with Roanoke island in its next letting, as a mammoth celebration is planned and the other authorizes the highway commission to regulate tolls on and give numbers to the proposed highway to Cape Lookout.

Methodists to Meet At Durham

Raleigh, N. C., April 6.—(AP)—The North Carolina Conference of the Methodist Church will hold its 1933 meeting at Duke Memorial Church in Durham in November.

Dr. W. A. Stanbury, of Durham, chairman of the conference committee, announced that representatives voted for the Durham church at a meeting at the Methodist Orphanage today.

Last year the conference met at Rocky Mount.

Members of the committee attending the meeting were O. W. Dowd, Goldsboro; Rev. Walter Patten, of Fayetteville; W. L. Knight, of Weldon, and W. A. McGirt, of Wilmington.

Belhaven Wants Beer

Raleigh, N. C., April 6.—(AP)—Belhaven wants to be able to have beer on the same terms as any other town in North Carolina, so the Senate today passed a bill to amend its charter.

Back in 1907 a prohibitive license fee of $1,000 was levied on sellers of alcoholic beverages by the town's charter.

Senator McLean told the Senate the people wanted to be sure the provision was repealed, so it was repealed and sent to the House.

Beauty Hints

By GRACIE ALLEN (Screen Actress)

A clear, smooth complexion is the result of regular care, not jerky, violent methods and changes from one astringent or lotion to another every few weeks.

It is necessary, of course, to experiment with the various creams and lotions, but when one has found a suitable combination, it is time to stop. Continual changes may do much to ruin a healthy complexion.

FINNS URGE 'BUY BRITISH'; BOYCOTT GERMAN PRODUCTS

Helsingfors — (AP) — Finnish farmers have decided to use the

"Buy British" slogan as a trade weapon against Germany.

A meeting of farmers and poultry raisers at Saga, one of the country's principal agricultural districts, has passed a resolution to boycott German products and buy British goods.

This was a sequel to German's decision to increase tariffs on eggs. This, it was feared, would ruin hundreds of small farmers in Finland.

Luckies Please!

In every corner of the world, both here and overseas, wherever you find joy in life, 'tis always "Luckies Please"

"Cream of the Crop" gives character...

"Toasting" makes them mild

What puts character in a cigarette? The quality of the tobacco. Lucky Strike's tobacco are carefully selected for quality, for tenderness, for distinctive flavor... the finest, most carefully selected tobacco grow.

And Luckies are truly mild—because these fine tobaccos are "Toasted"—mellowed and purified by the exclusive Lucky Strike process. For these two reasons—Character and Mildness—"Luckies Please!"

because "It's toasted"
