Tokuzo Komai Says New Government Asks Reciprocity From Other Nations

Tokyo, April 25.—(AP)—The Manchukuoan government's promise of an open door and equal opportunity made in Manchuria presupposes reciprocity by other nations and reciprocity is applicable only to countries which recognize Manchukuo. This assertion was made today by Tokuzo Komai, privy councillor for Manchukuo in an exclusive interview to The Associated Press. GAINES OPENS REVIVAL HERE

Raleigh Minister Delivers First Sermon At Memorial Baptist Church

Carefully delineating the tremendous possibilities in the human perspective, Rev. Louis S. Gaines, pastor of Hayes-Barton Baptist Church of Raleigh, delivered the opening sermon of the series of revival services last night at Memorial Baptist Church.

The sermon was preceded by congregational singing directed by Rev. A. W. Fleischmann, pastor of the church, assisted by the choir. Song services will be made a feature of each evening service. Mr. Fleischmann said, as a prelude to the inspirational sermons which Mr. Gaines has prepared for this meeting.

Services will be conducted each evening at 7:45 during the next two weeks with morning services at 8 o'clock. Arrangements have been made so that school children attending the morning services will not be counted tardy.

After making several announcements dealing with the meeting, Mr. Fleischmann presented Mr. Gaines who brought greetings from the Raleigh church and expressed hope that the revival here would "mean a deepening of the spiritual life of those who love God."

His text was taken from the 34th Psalm, the fortieth verse of the third chapter of Lamentations, and the 35th and 36th verses of the fourth chapter of the Gospel of John.

The first of the "Three Looks" was described as the "up look." The minister said the people should be constantly gazing upward to God for sufficiency of grace in all times of need. This constant keeping in touch, he declared, will provide strength in time of distress and enables one to meet trying situations.

The second point developed was the "in-look" or introspection, to see what is in our hearts, and what God would have us do.

The third point was the "out-look" the ability to look around and see the fields ready for harvest and the laborers needed to do the reaping. He said the call was for laborers, not for harvests, because the harvest was always plentiful and only awaited the coming of the laborers.

U. S. BOOSTS DISARMAMENT CONFERENCE

Roosevelt Conversations Promise Moral Support to Geneva Deliberations

Geneva, April 25.—(AP)—President Roosevelt's conversations with foreign statesmen gave to the World Disarmament Conference re-opening today the most promising moral support it has ever had.

The conference has reached the stage of considering concrete proposals for education, which, it is agreed, is tied up inextricably with the measure for economic recovery being sifted at the Roosevelt talks.

Norman Davis, United States' Ambassador at large, is here to put the same vigor in this conference that President Roosevelt is injecting in the broader field of world problems. The conversations are clearing fears of foreign statesmen that their nations will be invaded.

The resumption of disarmament is being centered around Franco-German relations. Opinion is expressed that if France and Germany would reach an agreement the whole problem of disarmament would take on a new aspect and soon find a solution.

Late News Flashes

Today In The Legislature Raleigh, April 25.—(AP)—Working slowly as a committee of the whole the Senate today voted to base license taxes for motion picture shows on a flat fee instead of the three per cent gross receipts while the House worked on a heavy calendar. The Senate was far behind the schedule set by leaders for the revenue bill and indications were that the controversial three per cent sales tax would not be reached before tonight or tomorrow. The Senate finance committee suffered its first reversal when the method of taxing there was changed by a vote to the old scheme. Senator Wynwick of Guilford offered the proposal embracing a graduated scale of $30 to $1,250 per theatre. The House had passed a proposal to levy a basic fee on half the present rate and allow theatres rebate up to 80 per cent of the basic fee if three per cent of gross receipts tax exceeded the license tax. This scheme was approved by the finance committee with increases of rebate (Continued from Page One)

The filing period for candidates in the municipal election to be held in this city next Monday will expire tonight and candidates who had not filed for the race were expected to turn their attention to the serious business of getting their hats in the ring at the last minute.

Three of the five aldermen had filed for re-election today one of the others, J. L. Hassell, having recently died, and Closs Hearne having moved away from the city.

Aldermen filing for re-election are H. E. Duncan, A. E. Hobbgood and Norman Warren. The office of Mr. Hassell will be filled by appointment. The same action will be taken in Hearne's seat in the First Ward if nobody tosses his hat in the ring.

Chancellor Tells Solons That U. S. Action in Going off Gold Standard Was Prompted by Internal Troubles; Deficit of $126,000,000 Shown by Government for Last Year; Special Action Taken Last Year for Paying War Debt

London, April 25.—(AP)—Chancellor of the Exchequer Neville Chamberlain announced today in presenting the budget to the House of Commons that no provisions will be made this year for war debt payments to the United States or for receipts for any debtors.

This is the same policy Great Britain followed in last year's budget. Special provision was necessary for the debt installment paid to the United States last December.

"The past year has been one of substantial financial achievement which was a necessary preliminary to a revival of activity," Chamberlain said.

The Chancellor told the House: "It is realized that America's action in going off the gold standard is in no sense related to relations or conversations with other countries but is prompted by internal conditions."

"The deficit for last year was 32-678,289 pounds, approximately $12-890,000," he declared.

"The deficit took into account $28-900,000 paid to the United States on the war debt and $17,250,000 paid to the sinking fund."

"Excluding American debt payment, the entire war debt surplus last year was $11,250,000."

"The actual expenditure in round figures last year was $77,900,000 pounds, or $2,253,000 where refunds was 745,000,000 pounds, or $2,160,000,000."

PROPOSED U. S. AID TO HOME OWNER SEEKS CREDITOR-DEBTOR PLAN

Uncle Sam would stand between the mortgage-burdened home owner and the mortgage-holder if project of federal legislation is approved. In the end, according to the plan outlined in the hypothetical transaction above, the debtor's obligation would be reduced, the creditor given a government obligation in payment and the government in turn secured by a new mortgage based on the adjusted figures.

By J. R. BRACKETT
New York—(AP)—Debt of America's farmers, federal statistics show.

To relieve both burdens is the aim of projected federal legislation. The mortgage debt of the farmer is about $3,500,000,000, of the small home owner about $20,000,000,000.

Total debt on urban real estate is $25,000,000,000, office and other big buildings, held by virtually every lending institution in the nation.

The new administration plan to aid the small home owner is similar in action and effect to the farm plan. It proposes to reduce both the face of the mortgage and the interest rate through mutual agreement of debtor and creditor.

It is directed toward those home owners whose homes have a value not exceeding $10,000, the present limit set by the government.

There are no statistics available to show what proportion of the $20,000,000,000 of home mortgages there $10,000 and under homes represent. But the proportion is sizeable in amount and preponderant in number of debtors, statistics indicate.

The home owner seeking aid under the proposed plan simply would approach the new Federal Home Owners Loan Corporation either directly or in cooperation with the individual or institution who holds his mortgage.

The loan corporation would seek to reduce the face of the mortgage, give the original lender bonds with interest guaranteed by the government for this reduced amount, and take over the mortgage at a lower rate of interest.

No published figures show how many mortgages are in danger of foreclosure but the government expects about $2,300,000,000 in new financing to be enough for the needy cases. Some city owners have objected to the plan on the ground it should cover larger mortgages so that home owners in metropolitan areas where the proportion of homes costing more than $10,000 is largest, would receive more benefit.

Easing of the home mortgage burden is held important not only to the homeowner alone but also in many cases to the holder of the mortgage.

Loan institutions find themselves with billions of frozen credits in the form of mortgages which may become liquid under the new plan.

Private authoritative statistics show that 27.5 per cent. of the total assets of life insurance companies is in urban real estate; 52.8 per cent of mutual savings banks; 90 per cent of building and loan associations, and lesser percentages in national banks, commercial banks and other institutions.

These securities are of more importance to lending institutions than are farm mortgages. While they will be reduced in amount under the government plan they will be replaced with more liquid bonds, enabling the institutions to carry the remaining debtors more easily and to protect their other assets from forced liquidation.

7	8	Child Health Week

Along with proper food, the U. S. Children's Bureau regards plenty of sunshine as the best "medicine" for normal children. Here are some of them wearing the type of sun suit prescribed by the bureau—for Child Health Week, or whenever there is sunshine and warmth.

Washington—(AP)—Sunshine suits popular since health information became general. The ultra-violet rays, which are the most healthful, do not penetrate ordinary clothing, and the usual type of window glass also impedes them.

The modern schedule will come in for fresh emphasis when May 1 arrives to open Child Health Week lasting through May 8.

As for the tonic effect of sunshine, public health officials advise putting the children into sun suits as soon as the days become warm enough.

The sun that tans a child's skin also gives his body power to build straight bones, strong muscles and well formed teeth, says the Children's Bureau.

Children need the sun most when they are growing, and they can get it best in the "sketchy" little sunare important for children. Tomatoes, oranges and raw cabbage give as many other greens and fruits as possible. After providing tomatoes and raw cabbage give as many other greens and fruits as possible. Second, the class of foods that give fuel and aid the body to work. Dark grain foods, such as brown rice and whole wheat, are important in low-cost diets. Grain foods such as rice, hominy, bread, are cheap body fuels. Use potatoes daily. Cook them in their skins. Sweets for children should come at the end of the meal. Foods rich in fat supply, such as bacon and butter, give flavor. But too much fat delays the digestion.

As for food, two types should be remembered, says the Home Economics Bureau in a new schedule just issued for health week program that will be held all over the country. First, the foods that build the body and resist disease. Milk, the best all-around body-building food. It safeguards the low-cost diet, preventing pellagra. Dried beans and peas. Lean meat, fish, poultry, eggs and cheese are muscle builders. Eggs

Frank Discusses Depression At Library Here

"Should we attempt to control depressions—the business cycle—if we could?" This was the question raised by Dr. A. D. Frank last night in his talk at Sheppard Memorial Library on "How the Government Can Control or Relieve Depressions."

The speaker began by reading Will Rogers' comment in the morning paper that one proof of insanity is saying—"Now, I'll tell you what this economic business really means," and said that he did not intend to attempt such a thing, but did want to present the ideas of leading economists on causes and cures.

Dr. Frank then traced a business cycle from one period of prosperity to the next, pointing out conditions that lead to a panic, and gave as the causes of a depression four things unanimously agreed on by economists:

- (1) over-production; (2) over-credit; (3) over-speculation; (4) extravagant living.

"Now what," inquired Dr. Frank, "can the government do to prevent or relieve depressions?"

In the first place, it can control money and credit by tightening credit and decreasing money in circulation when prices get too high, and loosening credit and increasing money as prices go down; or it can change the value of money, as the President is now trying to do.

Then, said the speaker, it can control production in various ways, either by controlling labor or controlling machinery. The day may come, according to Dr. Frank, when the government will not only dictate the hours a man may work but will say that once hired, a man can not be laid off except with cause, and by government permission; or when government permission will be necessary for installing new machinery.

Methods of relieving a depression will have to vary with time and place, Dr. Frank told his audience. One thing a government can do is to protect money and credit institutions. It can loosen credit, slow down foreclosures, and help institutions in trouble. It can relieve unemployment, though it is handicapped in doing so by the public demand that the government lower wages and lay off men in its employ, because this stimulates greatly the laying off of workmen by private firms.

The greatest thing the government can do in a depression is probably, though, to stimulate confidence and encourage spending.

The speaker then closed with his question, and a comment that he might be no better off in the long run with a controlled cycle than without our present way of having prosperity one year and a depression the next.

This talk was heard by an interested audience. The next of the series sponsored by the A. A. U. W., on social and economic problems, will be given next Monday night at 8 o'clock at the same place.

RED OAK NEWS

How would you like to earn a fortune of $50,000 by going to bed at eight o'clock every night for three months? Such is Eddie's chore, according to the terms of his father's freak will, and for a fast-stepping night bird like Eddie who frequently neglects to go to bed at all, it is some chore! He undertakes it, however, in the presence of all the family relatives, who are to benefit by the will in case he falls down on the job. He is also supposed to marry his sweetheart Judy, who is to inherit his fortune with him, but she has quarreled with him on account of his dissipated habits and he is having a hard time winning her back.

Naturally the scheming relatives do what they can to keep the lovers apart and particularly to spoil Eddie's in-bed-at-eight-o'clock record. But in the end the Wild Oats boy outwits them all. CAPS DISPLACE CROWNS ON SPANISH ROYAL STATUES. Castro-Urdiales, Spain.—(AP)—Mayor D. Pedro Dominguez is republican from head to toe and he wants the statues in his town to be the same way.

In the square stand huge stone figures of King Ferdinand and Queen Isabella of Christopher Columbus fame. Mayor Dominguez was as proud as any of his fellow-townsmen of the towering images but their crowns, symbolic of the monarchy, irked him.

Finally upon his orders masons climbed the statues and chiseled away the crowns. In their place were put Phrygian caps, emblematic of the new republic.

Tourists have been heard to remark that the statues thus adorned with the red cloth headpieces make it seem the sculptor caught the famous king and queen just as they were about to retire.

The Soviet maintains a colony on the island.

New Books

By JOHN SELBY. New York.—(AP)—There is considerable "reader satisfaction" in "Man Wants But Little," which first novel has just been published by Wilson Wright.

Mr. Wright tells of Cuba, not of the humid activities of the Havana cafes, but the lusty and very live activities of the mines and plantations. His protagonists are Jose Perdrigo, whose success comes from doing several distasteful jobs well, and Papa Marco, whose victories are the result of stupidly following the orders of a certain Cuban political boss.

The two are thrown into opposing attitudes by Jose's devotion to Maria, Marco's daughter, and Mama Rose's effort to bring about a marriage. The tone is light throughout but there is a profusion of well-drawn characters.

George Jean Nathan has another book on the stalls. He calls it "Sine Iben" (just why will not be evident to many readers), and it is a compilation of the dramatic situations, perhaps cliches would be of Tire Values

THE MASTERPIECE OF TIRE CONSTRUCTION

RACE DRIVERS know tires. It is their business to know tires—it means life or death to them. These men know that a tire that holds all world's records on road and track must be a masterpiece of tire construction. They know it must have superior materials, must be scientifically designed, and must be made by master tire builders. That is why Firestone High Speed Tires are First Choice of race drivers and have been on the winning cars for 13 consecutive years in the 500-mile Indianapolis race—the most gruelling test for any tire.

Road speeds of today are the racing speeds of yesterday. Yet millions of motorists gamble with their lives by using inferior and thin, worn tires on their cars. Guard the safety of yourself and your family with the strongest, safest non-skid tires—made by master tire builders. Have your car completely equipped with a set of these Extra Value tires with the patented construction features of Gum-Dipping and Two Extra Gum-Dipped Cord Plies Under the Tread, at prices you may never be able to duplicate. Your dealer will give you a liberal allowance for your old tires. Remember—Your Brakes Can Stop Your Wheels But Your Tires Must Stop Your Car!

INCREASED TIRE MILEAGE with the New Firestone SEALTYE Leakproof TUBE

The inside of the tube is coated with a special compound which seals against air loss. Constant air pressure is maintained, which increases tire mileage and safety. The tube has a tapered rubber valve which seals the rim valve hole, keeping out moisture and dirt. The rubber valve base is an integral part of the valve stem, built and vulcanized into the tube.

MOTORISTS! Save money NOW! Firestone quality is higher than ever—prices are lower than ever. These tire "war" prices cannot last—equip your car at once and get these great values before prices go up!

There is no reduction in the quality of Firestone Tires. Tremendous savings are made possible by the fact that Firestone owns and controls every step in the building of Firestone Tires and distributes direct to dealers from factories and warehouses—a one-profit, low-expense system.

Firestone Tires are not made by cheap labor—to sell at a price. Every tire is built with the patented Firestone features of Gum-Dipping and Two Extra Gum-Dipped Cord Plies under a Scientifically Designed Safety Tread—to give you Added Safety and Longer Mileage. Only Firestone Has These Extra Values—THEY COST YOU NO MORE.

Take advantage of these great savings—you may never again have such an opportunity. Buy Firestone Tires with the confidence that they are built up to a quality—not down to a price.

By ALAN GOULD
Apropos of our recent mariner's lament on the prospective shifting of the intercollegiate rowing spectacle of 1933 from Poughkeepsie to Long Beach...

"I'll grant you I am disappointed over our failure to keep the Poughkeepsie Regatta going this year and that, in my opinion, a mistake was made, but you need have no fears that Long Beach or any other spot will replace the event we have been building up and sustaining for more than thirty years."

"In the first place, the commercial angle to a regatta on the former Olympic course will not appeal to those of us old-fashioned enough to insist college rowing be kept free of such entanglements. Who is going to pay the expense of keeping Eastern crews in training for the extra period, before going to the coast in July?"

"Secondly, I do not consider the 2,000 meter (1 1/4 miles) course a conclusive test for eight-oared crews. It can't compare with the four-mile varsity races at New London of a crew's ability. I venture to predict they will all be back on the Hudson next year and like it."

More On the "Schoolboy"
Further on the subject of Schoolboy Rowe, Ralph Cannon, the Chicago scribe, paints some additional background for us as follows:

"Schoolboy started pitching for the Methodist Church nine in Eldorado (Arkansas) about eight years ago. He got his nickname one day when a fan cheering for the Baptist Deacon team yelled to the batter: 'Don't let that schoolboy strike you out!'"

"Lyn is tall, rangy and rather mournful looking. His father was a trapeze performer in a circus and has hands as big as hams. Lyn's the same way. He can throw a football into a bucket at fifty yards."

All-State Gridder
Walton (Lyn's first coach) took Lyn in hand when he was in Eldorado High School. In football Rowe made the All-State team three years in a row. He was on the All-State basketball team twice and was high-point man in eleven track meets. In golf it wasn't long before he played the Conway Club course two under par, tying the record made by Paul Runyan, a member of this year's Ryder Cup team.

"Schoolboy is also quite a fighter. He licked everybody in the oil fields his weight, and Jack Dempsey once told him he ought to try the ring game."

"Before Rowe joined Beaumont (1932) he pitched for a semi-pro team at Wichita and played on a basketball team at Monroe, La., that twice won the Southern A. A. U. title."

Mrs. Mebane To Deliver Opening Speech at Fair

Mrs. Lillie Morehead Mebane, of Spray, N. C., has been chosen to make the opening address of the Community Fair May 1, Monday night at 8 p. m. Mrs. Mebane is one of the outstanding women leaders of the State and nation. At the present time she is representing Rockingham County in the General Assembly now in session in Raleigh. The General Assembly recently endorsed her as Ambassador to Sweden.

Mrs. Mebane will appear on the platform in the costume in which she was presented at the Court of St. James. Mrs. Mebane has traveled extensively in Europe. She is a close personal friend of Queen Marie of Rumania, and it has been her pleasure to visit the Queen where she was royally entertained at the palace.

Mrs. Mebane will be presented to the audience by Mrs. J. M. Hobgood, president of State Federation of Women's Clubs. Rev. E. L. Hillman, pastor of Jarvis Memorial Church, will render the invocation.

The committee in charge is confident that a large crowd will be present to hear Mrs. Mebane, and at the same time have rare opportunity to see the costume in which she was received at the Court of St. James.

THREE FREED IN ROBBERY

case, and it was indicated that it would not be completed until this afternoon.

Frank Johnson, Blanche McGowan and Helen Parrow, held in connection with the robbery, were freed after State's evidence was in when a motion of not guilty entered by the defense attorney was granted by Judge Grady.

Frank Banks, the fourth person held in the robbery, was still on trial this morning, although he declared vigorously he did not rob the man.

The case grew out of a visit of the four about two months ago to the filling station operated by Manning in the Grifton community. Manning said the visitors offered him some whiskey, and after the party had been in progress for a time that Blanche McGowan tried to throw $150 from him. He said he told her he could not let her have it. Later, he said, Banks asked him if he was not going to let the woman have the money. When he replied in the negative, he asserted Banks slapped him down and robbed him of $147.

As the four started to get in their automobile and leave the place Manning fired into the crowd, a shotgun load taking effect in Banks' neck. Banks lay in a Kingston hospital in a serious condition for a long time, but recovered sufficiently to appear for trial here.

The quartette was later arrested and held under bond for their appearance at this term of court.

GAINES OPENS REVIVAL HERE

found in the New Testament. "If we do leave Christ, to whom shall we go? Many people had been following Him, and now they were beginning to turn away, to turn back. They had been following Him chiefly for the material benefits that were accruing to them through Him. Now they were confronted by the hard sayings of the Lord Jesus, and found it impossible to accept them. Jesus had declared that men should love their enemies. That was the last thing in the world they were prepared to do. They had been taught to hate, not to love. Others were faced with the problem of future ridicule and persecution if they followed Him. Jesus was calling them into immediate service, and expected them to respond then. Hence to them came the personal question: 'Will ye also go away?' This question cannot be avoided, and must be answered. There is no neutrality before Christ. What have we done about it? Have we gone away through neglect, through the influence of materialism's cold touch, through preoccupation with the world, or the supposed benefits of some other associations. Peter's reply was 'To whom shall we go? Thou hast the words of Eternal Life.' In Christ we find the satisfaction that is derived from following Him and living for Him."

New York Cotton

New York, April 25.—(AP)—Cotton futures opened steady, nine to fourteen points lower under-selling against May notices and commission houses and foreign liquidation. After selling off to 736 at the opening, May rallied to 647, or back to yesterday's close. Later months also traded after an early decline to 7.15 for October with the general market holding steady within a point of yesterday at the end of the first half hour.

Trading was less active later in the morning. There was some further May liquidation and realizing, but trade demand with commission house buying was sufficient to absorb it on slight rallies.

At midday May was ruling around 7.46 and October 7.85, or about one to two points net lower.

MIGRAINE—II. A common fault found among migraine sufferers is that in their despair they give no physician an adequate opportunity to study their case, for, impatient of results, they go from doctor to doctor.

In the onset of migraine there operate both external and constitutional factors. The disease itself in relation to the sufferers has been classified under the heads of bilious, ocular (eye), menstrual, cerebral and allergic.

Some sufferers of migraine belong to the so-called alimentary type. Disturbances in the gastro-intestinal tract, particularly in the liver, appear to contribute to the development of migraine. Some of these patients profit by strict regulation of their feeding habits and by medicinal treatment which promotes the flow of bile.

Certain sufferers find that their condition is affected by diet, not necessarily by any one food, but rather by individual and varying dietetic factors.

Thus some of the migraine sufferers thrive best on a high fat and others on a low fat diet. Some tolerate large amounts of carbohydrates and others do best when the carbohydrates are eliminated. The same is true relative to protein and animal food contents.

The complete medical study of a case of migraine includes a careful review of the individual's personal and family history, and a minute of the successful bidder, pending confirmation of the sale.
