Cotton futures jumped around $2 a bale in one of the most aggressive buying movements witnessed in the past several months.

Second Man Hurt In Auto Wreck Dies

Morehead City June 26—(AP)—J. E. Hardin, secretary of the Proximity Manufacturing Company of Greensboro, died in a hospital here today from injuries sustained several days ago in an automobile wreck.

Harry Dribbin of New York, was killed in the crash and Richard Mitchell of Greensboro, was slightly injured. They crashed about four miles from here on June 16.

Arkansas Basin Locks Aid From Government

Tulsa, Okla., June 25—(AP)—The swift forward movement of the federal government's Tennessee basin development plan has revived hope here in the ultimate attention of Washington to improvement of the snaky Arkansas, which heads in the perennial snows of the Rockies and empties into the lower Mississippi. Essential development of the Arkansas basin long has been a dream of residents of the 160,000-square-mile area, who talk of flood control, irrigation, water power, reforestation of arid plains areas and reforestation of the timberlands of the river's lower reaches.

FEW ARRESTS BIG CROWD AT IN PITT COUNTY F. W. B. REVIVAL

Officers Report Violation of the Law at Minimum Over Weew-End

People are evidently too busy in Pitt county to engage in lawlessness. For the second time in two weeks, city and county law enforcement officers reported only a minor number of arrests over the week-end.

Sheriff Sam Whitehurst said no arrests of any importance were made by officers of his department and the same statement was made by George Clark, chief of Greenville police.

Chief Clark did say his men picked up one drunk Sunday, but outside of this single arrest the officers found the week-end sublimely happy. They made their usual patrols, however, as a precautionary measure.

The same condition prevailed throughout the county last week and when county court met Tuesday only one case had been docketed, although three other actions continued from a previous session faced hearing.

Officers attributed the peaceful situation to increased employment on the farms and in cities. Considerable construction work is underway in Greenville at the present time affording employment for painters, carpenters, brick layers and common laborers and lack of idleness has been conducive to a drop in infractions of the law.

as far upstream as Tulsa, of irrigation for dry areas in western Kansas and eastern Colorado, and of power projects combined with flood control reservoirs.

For 1,460 miles the Arkansas proper winds its tortuous way from Leadville, Colo., to Arkansas City, in the southeastern corner of the state for which the river is named, sometimes playing strange pranks, both comic and tragic.

The South Canadian, 900 miles long, often dries completely in hot summer months, and clouds of dust swirl from the stream bed. Again, a "head" of water two or three feet high covers the bed 200 yards or more wide and rushes downstream after a few hours' heavy rain.

Evangelist Tyson Continues To Deliver Inspirational Messages Here

Using for a subject "Builders for Eternity," Evangelist Tyson with much firmness and simplicity delivered a most helpful message to a large audience last evening at the Free Will Baptist Church. His text is found in the book of Ecclesiastes 12:13-14 which reads as follows: (13) "Let us hear the conclusion of the whole matter: Fear God, and keep his commandments; for this is the whole duty of man. (14) For God shall bring every work into judgment with every secret thing, whether it be good, or whether it be evil."

In the very outset, Evangelist Tyson declared that each person on earth is a builder for eternity; and that all persons are on their way to eternity. The few days that are spent here on earth serve only as a span between two eternities. We eat, we sleep, we rise, we work, we die, and we are buried all by the clock, but on the wall of eternity there's no place designed for it. God, sitting in heaven on his magnificent throne, is keeping a complete record of each individual's life while here on earth. Since this record determines the destiny of each one, then it is of vital importance that the things recorded here be of a helpful nature. There are a few things that would be well for everyone to have recorded upon his record in heaven. These are: 1. Been saved by Grace; 2. Been an obedient child; 3. Lived morally right; 4. Been faithful to God and others; and 5. Been a soul winner for God.

DRY CAMPAIGN IS CONCLUDED

Forces Prepare For Elections on Repeal Question in Cal. and W. Virginia

(By Associated Press) The old "get out of the boat" plea today wound up campaigning in two states—California and West Virginia—which will decide what they want to do about the prohibition amendment. For once the wets and dries claim a common objective. In an argument over whether the vote would have changed results in the four, teen states that have already endorsed the repeal amendment, the leaders agree in Washington that everybody should vote in the forthcoming elections. Said P. Scott McBridge, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League: "Returns so far indicate that" (Continued On Page Three)

SIX NEGROES TRY TO ESCAPE AT HOSPITAL

Insane Inmates of Goldsboro Hospital Surrender After Wrecking Ward

Goldsboro, June 26—(AP)—Six inmates of the State hospital for the negro insane here, made a vain break for freedom last night, officials said today, but submitted peacefully this morning after standing off guards during the night when they partially wrecked one of the wards. Four of the six were committed to the hospital as criminally insane. The other two were patients. Hospital attaches said one of the leaders was Jake "Sunshine" Jones, convicted in Wake county and sentenced to life imprisonment for the murder of a filling station attendant.

George Foster, negro attendant on duty, said he suddenly saw the six advancing upon him. He suspected their intentions to make a break and immediately locked the ward doors and called for help. As officers arrived the negroes started tearing up their ward. Frequent shots were fired over the heads of the rebels in an effort to subdue them. No body was hurt. E. F. Howell, supervisor of the hospital, said the men had a small bag of clothes which he assumed were to be used in changing after the escape was effected. Throughout the night police stood guard a call was sent to Raleigh for tear gas but none was used. About 15 or 20 shots were fired during the night.

Early today officers told the prisoners that tear gas was handy and that they might as well surrender. They almost immediately calmed down and submitted to capture. Jones was taken to Raleigh along with Theodore McFalls and Alex Worthy. The other three were left here.

Raleigh, June 26—(AP)—Three negro prisoners of the Goldsboro hospital for insane negroes were rushed here today and placed on death row at State prison following an attempted escape last night. Jake "Sunshine" Jones, youthful negro desperado, convicted in Wake county for murdering a filling station attendant, was said by Warden H. H. Huncutt to have been the leader of the attempt at Goldsboro and he was under close watch here.

SECOND RAIN VISITS PITT

Refreshing Showers Reported in Various Parts of County During Sunday

Sections of Pitt county were visited by another refreshing rain Sunday afternoon and night with the result that the crop situation has been considerably improved.

Of course, damage done by the extended drought will not be overcome, but much of the growth has taken on new life and promises to bring forth a bountiful yield. The tobacco crop will be much lighter than expected because much of it has suffered irreparable damage from heat and hail reported in the Ayden territory last Friday.

The rain last night extended from Greenville almost to the coast and the shower between here and the Craven county line was much heavier than in Craven county. The area southwest of Greenville was also reported to have enjoyed showers, but north and west of the city no rain was in evidence. The downpour here Friday afternoon was believed to have been worth two million dollars to growers and while some sections were not affected, they were said to have enjoyed showers earlier in the week. Although the rain last night was accompanied by terrific lightning and thunder, no damage from lightning had been reported in Greenville today.

EPISCOPAL CAMP CLOSES

Two Week Gathering At Camp Leach Concluded This Past Sunday

The senior camp held at Camp Leach near Washington, N. C., during the last two weeks, closed on Sunday. This camp for older young people between the ages of 15 and 24 years, was directed by Rev. W. A. Lillycrop, rector of St. Paul's Church, Greenville, and Bishop Darsi of Wilmington, was the chaplain. The camp was crowded to capacity attendance by more than a hundred young people of the Episcopal Diocese of East Carolina, and other young people of other communities.

The program of the camp was one of the most well rounded of any camp held in this section. The young people were directed in physical, social and spiritual recreation. The closing campfire held on Saturday night was a revelation as boys and girls stood up and told how they felt closer to God than they ever had in their lives.

Many outstanding leaders of the Episcopal Church assisted in the program of the camp. Among these were the following from Greenville: Rev. W. A. Lillycrop, Miss Bessie Brown, Miss Elizabeth Andrews, Mrs. Jennie M. Howard, Miss Estelle Greene. Among the campers present from Greenville were Louis Smart Fekken, Frank Park, J. J. Summerell Jr., James Dees, Sam Dees, Naomi Gaskins, Helen McGinnis. When the camp closed on Sunday with the great service in the outdoor chapel with a sermon by Bishop Darsi, the award of the camp emblems for outstanding merit was made, and among the fortunate few who received such emblems were the following Greenville boys: James Dees and J. J. Summerell, Jr.

With the closing of the senior camp, the junior boys began. This will continue two weeks, then the junior camp for girls 12, 13 and 14 will begin for another two weeks period under the direction of Miss Cornelia Van B. Harris of Wilmington. Later a one week camp will be held for the children 9, 10 and 11 years of age under the leadership of Rev. Jim Beckwith.

BISHOP OUT FOR REPEAL

Episcopal Church Head Makes Appeal For Doing Away With Dry Law

Nashville, Tenn., June 26—(AP)—Listing four specific reasons, a statement today from the Right Reverend Thomas Gaylor of Memphis, Bishop of Tennessee, and former head of the Episcopal Church of America, said "I am in favor of the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment." The reasons were enumerated as follows: "The amendment was forced with just and adequate effort to ascertain the minds and will of the people. "This law has incited and encouraged crime and lawlessness of every kind and has taken revenue from the government and given it to bootleggers and racketeers. "I am in favor of the repeal because as a southern man I have been taught to believe in state's rights. "The repeal of the amendment will leave the question of prohibition to individual states and will not abrogate any law on the subject that the people of Tennessee may see fit to enact."

To Prosecute Gold Hoarders. Washington, June 26—(AP)—Names of gold hoarders who refused to return the metal in compliance with President Roosevelt's order soon will be published by the Department of Justice. Attorney General Cummings said today prosecution would follow the publication of the names and said the only thing causing the delay was that the department desired to have all of its evidence completed before presenting the cases to court. "Most emphatically there will be prosecution of gold hoarders," Cummings told newsmen. The attorney general said the campaign by the department to get hoarders to return the gold had resulted in $23,000,000 being restored to the banks. He added that he wished the present persuasive campaign to be carried out to give all the people the fullest chance to do (Continued On Page Four)

CULLY COBB TAKES CHARGE OF CAMPAIGN

Atlanta Man as Director of Crop Control Movement Says It is Challenge to South to Throw off Shackles of Slavery; County Agents Placed in Charge of Campaign in 800 Counties of the South

Atlanta, Ga., June 26—(AP)—The Federal government launched a south-wide campaign today to give some 2,000,000 farmers a chance to curtail the tilling of this year's cotton crop in exchange for benefits expected to aggregate more than $150,000,000.

Under the direction of Cully Cobb of Atlanta, cotton production chief of President Roosevelt's farm relief forces, an army of extension workers began a six day drive to inform cotton growers of the movement. In hundreds of rural communities farmers gathered to hear their leaders tell how the government proposes to pay them cash for plowing up at least 25 to 50 per cent of this year's cotton crop. The campaign is intended to affect more than 800 counties that produce cotton.

The government intends to retire 10,000,000 acres from production. This acreage already planted is expected to retire 3,000,000 bales and county agents have been made heads of the committees charged with details. Cobb, here today took direction of the campaign and said it was a "challenge to the south to throw off the shackles of cotton slavery."

UP TO THE FARMERS NOW

The drive for a sign-up of contracts for reduction of the cotton acreage under the government agricultural act is now under way and the good that the movement does for the farmers is entirely up to the farmers themselves.

As we have previously stated, the plan offers the farmers the privilege of destroying a portion of their present cotton acreage in return for which they will be paid in cash approximately $8 per acre and then be given an option on an equivalent amount of government cotton at six cents a pound, without cost, with all the profits from any increase over that price being paid to the farmers when the cotton is sold on their order.

If a large crop of cotton is produced this year it goes without saying that the price will be low and the government plan offers the only means of reducing the crop. The plan is in no way compulsory but unless a sufficient number of farmers are willing to sign up, the efforts of the government will be withdrawn with the resultant lower prices for the growers. As we see it, under the government plan the farmer has an opportunity to get some ready cash at this time, an opportunity to get options without cost on an equivalent amount of cotton with more opportunity to make a profit on it than if he raised it himself, and an opportunity to make more on what he does produce in view of the higher price that probably will be brought about by the crop reduction.

There is no catch to this government proposition. It is just a plan whereby the farmer is being given an opportunity to help himself by reducing his crop and at the same time being paid extra cash for such reduction.

We hope that every farmer in North Carolina will take advantage of the benefits this proposition offers by signing up at once.

There has been a lot of talk about the New Deal and last November the people of this country voted for a new deal by electing Franklin D. Roosevelt to the presidency. The New Deal is now beginning for the farmers if they will but grasp the opportunity.

Here is what President Roosevelt has to say regarding the cotton plan:

"The fate of any plan depends upon the support it is given by those who are asked to put it into

By the World FORGOT

A New Serial by Ruby M. Ayres

SYNOPSIS: George Bancroft, romantically adores Nicholas Boyd, movie star, whose career has been ended by a scarred face. But Boyd tells her he is about to leave the quiet village where he has been resting for Germany, and an operation that may restore his face. And a letter from her mother informs her that she and George's stepfather will soon be in London on their way from New York to Germany. George learns the name of the doctor to whom Boyd will go from Clifford Asher, a young friend in London, who asks George if he may see her often.

Chapter 25 THE CABLEGRAM

George went home with a strange feeling of excitement, it almost seemed as if the closed doors of life, as other people knew it, had slowly begun to open and let her through.

She sighed and let herself into the house. It was five o'clock and there was a smell of burning toast in the house; why was it that Mrs. Drill could never make toast without burning it, George wondered impatiently, and she thought rather wistfully of the wonderful lunch she had had; tea would probably have been just as good if they had had it in the same restaurant.

Mrs. Drill came out of the kitchen. "Your uncle's been hollerin' all over the place for you," she said.

"Where is he?" George asked. "Gone out, but there's a telegram on the dining-room table, and he said I was to tell you to read it." George went into the dining-room; the telegram lay on the tray beside an empty tumbler, and she took it up with a vague feeling of distaste.

Whoever could be sending a telegram—she could not remember ever having seen one in the house before. This was on different paper to the usual ones too; she looked at the printed heading curiously.

It was a cable, brief but to the point. "Arriving Friday the twenty-second, Evelyn."

George always thought it seemed funny her mother should invariably sign herself by her christian name and not "Mother."

Friday the 22nd was next Friday; funny, they should have troubled to cable her at all. She was of such little importance in the life of this woman who would sign herself Evelyn.

Mrs. Drill spoke from the doorway. "No bad news, I hope?" She was all inquisitiveness.

"No, only that my mother is coming home," George said.

"That will be nice," Mrs. Drill said a trifle disappointedly; to her way of thinking telegrams only meant one thing, and that was bad news. She waited a moment and then went back to the kitchen to fish burning the toast.

When Edward Bancroft came home later in the evening, he could talk of nothing else but the cablegram; he seemed to consider it as a personal insult.

"Wasting money—the kind of thing an empty headed woman would do. Why the devil does she want you to know that she arrives on Friday the 22nd? She's not coming to see you, I'll bet a fiver."

"I think it was kind of her," George said. "Kind!" Edward Bancroft roared like a bull. "She doesn't know the meaning of the word. Where's the whisky?"

George escaped. She went out into the garden and looked at the moon. It was a young moon like a thin sickle, and it lay on its back, which Lovelock had always declared was a bad sign.

She supposed that the same moon shone down on Germany, where Nicholas would soon be; they would have that in common anyway; not that he cared whether they had anything in common or not.

George opened the creaking iron gate and looked out into the road. It was nearly nine o'clock, and everything was very still.

Up in a tree somewhere an owl called mournfully, and away in the distance a dog was barking; they were the only sounds to be heard except a slow footstep coming down the road.

A slow, uneven footstep. George's heart missed a beat; she would know that footstep anywhere; surely if she were dead and it passed over her grave she would know it.

She stood staring, her heart beating fast. Boyd came on slowly; was he coming to the house? Coming to see her? She could hardly breathe.

He drew level with the gate and stopped, looking towards the house; then after a moment he went slowly on again.

George could bear it no longer; she ran out into the road. "Mr. Boyd—" He stood still at once, turning to face her. She tried to think of something to say, but all of the hundreds of words that clamored operation. This program for the cotton producer essentially places the responsibility upon the individual farmer. He and he alone will, in the last analysis, determine whether it shall succeed. This plan offers the cotton producer a practical, definite means to put into immediate application the methods which Congress has prescribed to improve his situation. I have every confidence that the cotton producer will face the facts and cooperate fully in the reasonable and practical plan that is proposed."

Put Your Liver To Work--Make This Test

You can't feel well and strong unless your liver furnishes your stomach and bowels plenty of fresh bile every day. Without bile food doesn't digest properly—it just ferments and decays—constipation, gas, sour stomach, headaches and nervousness follow. Don't be misled. Calomel, salts, bile, mineral waters, laxative pills, etc., have no effect whatever on the liver. There are only two generally recognized substances which actually cause a sluggish liver to increase its production of bile. Sargon Soft Mass Pills contain both of them. Unless you have tried Sargon Soft Mass Pills you can have no idea of their effect—you feel stronger, healthier, happier—life and color return to faded eyes and cheeks—appetite and digestion improve rapidly. Only one for a full 30-day treatment. At your druggist, or write G. P. Willis, Inc., Atlanta, Ga.—(adv.) For Sale by Hill Home Drug Co.

All Cigarettes are not Alike

Different Kinds of Tobaccos Make a Difference in Taste and Aroma

... Take Chesterfields, for Instance

SOME cigarettes are made out of only one kind of tobacco ... while others are made from several different kinds.

And everyone can understand that different tobaccos make a difference in taste and aroma. Chesterfields are a good example of this difference.

You see it's not easy to make Chesterfield's milder taste. It takes three distinct kinds of Domestic tobaccos. Then these must be seasoned with the right amount of Turkish. And they must be blended and cross-blended until their flavors are welded together ... to make a cigarette that has character and yet is not too strong ... to make a cigarette that's milder, a cigarette that tastes better.

Several hours by boat from New Orleans, the colony has natives many of whom never saw a moving picture, and great was the excitement—members of the company write—when the cameras arrived.

Natives are being used as extras, coming to the scene in all manner of craft, since Manila Village is approachable only by boat. These fishing people work "from can't to can't"—that is, from before dawn when they can't see to after dark when they can't see. There is a crude existence, in one or two-room huts over the water—no stellar bungalows here—but a happy one, as far as the Hollywood party can learn.

Lionel probably will return with new etchings.

Got Rid of Pains In Her Back and Sides

"I was not only weak and run-down, but I was nervous," writes Mrs. Ira Prince, of North Little Rock, Ark. "I suffered from pain in my back and sides. I did not rest well at night and would get up in the morning feeling miserable. My mother had taken Cardui with good results and advised me to try it. The first bottle helped me, so I continued taking it until I had taken four bottles. It certainly helped me. My back and sides quit hurting and I rested so much better."

Thousands of women have said that when they had built up their strength with the help of Cardui, real relief was obtained and their general health and feeling of well-being improved. Cardui is sold at drug stores here.

Edwina Booth Faces Death As Result Of African Picture

Promised a continuance of her Hollywood contract if she made good in "Trader Horn", Edwina Booth had visions of a glorious success in the films. But the year spent in Africa making the picture wrecked her health, says her mother, and she is in a critical condition. Here are two photographs of Miss Booth, the one on the right showing her as she arrived in this country from the expedition.

Hollywood—(AP)—An adventurous year in Africa, a better than average chance at movie fame and a few thousand dollars may cost Edwina Booth her life.

The blond heroine of the jungle made picture, "Trader Horn," has been ill virtually all of the time since she returned three years ago. She has been confined to her bed for the last 16 months. Recently her condition became critical and her mother says her recovery is extremely doubtful.

"Our doctors say the tropical sun burned up certain nerve cells in Edwina's body," her mother Mrs. James L. Woodruff, who is nursing her, explains. "They say these cells never can be regrown."

Condition Varies

"The damage suit hurt her terribly and caused a nervous breakdown."

Soon after the "Trader Horn" party came back Mrs. Duncan Renaldo, wife of the actor who played the hero in the film, sued Miss Booth for alienation of affection.

The case failed to reach trial when Mrs. Renaldo's attorney said his client had insufficient evidence to proceed.

An extra girl when she was picked to portray the character of Nina T. Miss Booth is regarded in many parts of the world as a reigning star. Her mother showed a pile of some hundred letters that had come from fans in every country. The most recent was from Palestine where "Trader Horn" played not long ago, more than two years after its release.

AYDEN AGAIN GRABS TOP OF THIS LEAGUE

Ayden again roosted on top of the standing of clubs column of the Coastal Plain league as a result of her victory over Kinston Saturday and Greenville's inability to take Snow Hill in tow.

It was the third or fourth time this season that the thriving Pitt county team was able to knock Greenville from the top perch, and fans were watching the next game with considerable enthusiasm to see who will do the climbing stunt next.

In one of the several exhibition games planned for the season Tarboro will visit Greenville tomorrow to try their luck against the local leaguers. Wednesday Greenville will return to Snow Hill to try to get revenge for the 5 to 1 licking administered by the Green county lads Saturday.

An unexpected interlude of Saturday's game at Snow Hill was an alleged attack by "Horse" Mewborn, Snow Hill short stop, on Umpire Beatty. Mewborn, was called out at first by the umpire. Instead of returning to the dugout he continued to second base where Beatty was standing and gave the "ump" a powerful wallop on the jaw. The blow came as a distinct surprise to Beatty but in an instant he was reported to have recovered from the blow and sailed into his assailant. In less time than it takes to relate it, a score or more fans were on the scene and Beatty was reported to have been handled roughly. Some of the players joined in the melee which was finally halted when G. V. Smith league president, and one of the largest men on the field, with several others broke up the warfare.

Manager Harrington called his men off the field but they returned as soon as the atmosphere cleared and continued the game.

Cecil Longest, former University of North Carolina hurler, held Greenville to six hits which were so well scattered that only a minor number played a part in the scoring. Snow Hill got eight hits off Finger and Forbes. Willie Duke led Snow Hill's attack with two hits. Brown obtained a similar number for Greenville.

JOHNNY GOODMAN - THIS OMAHA AMATEUR IS THE NEW U.S. OPEN GOLF CHAMPION

SPORT SLANTS

By ALAN GOULD

It may turn out, as Big Bill Tilden suggested, that the principal menace to our gallant lads in the Davis Cup matches next month will not be little Henri Cochet of France, but big Jack Crawford of Australia.

Separately, of course, each may prove to be considerable of a stumbling block to Vines, Allison, Van Ryn and Lott. They are handicapped, however, by lack of solid support, whereas the U. S. A. is equipped for the briskest kind of a tennis battle at every stage of the proceedings.

"This Crawford boy" confides our Paris observer, Melvin Whiteleather, "has come out like a flower with the noon-day sun and if he isn't at present the world's No. 1 or No. 2 he isn't further down the ladder than No. 3. He came here for the first time five years ago with Harry Hopman, but he never did much. He had the class, but not the quality nor the seeming desire to win. This year he has all.

"Cochet, like the old gray mare, ain't what he used to be. The days when Henri could drop two sets with perfect confidence he could win in five are gone. Vines shook his confidence and he hasn't regained it. His backhand is miserable, his precision shaky and the old genius which beat Tilden has escaped. His match with Crawford remained me of the heart-breaking matches in which Big Bill tried to summon all his old wizardry to beat this same Cochet.

"The French say, and among them Lacoste, that Henri has passed the age when he can go in there and win without careful training. Perhaps. They think that he can regain his old form by hard work. Perhaps again. But in the first set of the Crawford match Cochet was never better. He was in perfect physical condition. He flashed what he had, but when Jack sent them back shot for shot Henri had misgivings. His confidence slipped.

"I don't see how France can hold the big cup this year. Britain, Australia or the U. S. A. appear capable of lifting it. A miracle kept the cup here last year and miracles as a rule don't come two years in succession."

High Hopes In Golf
From the way our amateur golfing talent has been coming along this year, the U. S. A. should bring back another famous trophy, the National Amateur Golf Championship cup. Unlike the Davis Cup, it hasn't been away long or often, but for the time being Ross (Sandy) Somerville of London, Ontario, is the possessor.

Johnny Goodman, the 1933 finalist and new Open Champion, quite naturally will be the chief hope of the homebreds. The Nebraskan has his heart and ambition set on winning the amateur title.

Gus Moreland, the tall Texas youth, made a fine impression in the Open, finishing only nine shots behind Goodman in four rounds of medal play. Johnny Fischer, the college champion, who will be very much at home at Cincinnati, also has the shots and the experience now to come through. The Turnesas of Elmford, N. Y., are grooming their sensational 17-year-old Willie Turnesa, for the big amateur party.

ZEBULON WEAVER REPORTED IMPROVED
Durham, June 26—(AP)—The condition of Congressman Zeb Weaver of Asheville, and his son-in-law, Harvey Hites, who were injured in an accident near here yesterday, were described today by attaches of a local hospital as being good.

GRIMESLAND FALLS BEFORE BUNN HEARNE

Bunn Hearne's team from Wilson Sunday afternoon defeated Grimesland by the score of 8-2. Hearne pitched for Wilson and allowed 8 hits. Alford did the catching for Grimesland and Andreolie did the hurling and allowed 9 hits, Satterthwaite caught.

For Wilson Futrell with a home run, double and single led his team mates. Hearne also got a double and single. Fields and Andreolie were main hitters for Grimesland, each getting two hits. Hearne struck out nine and Andreolie struck out seven. Five errors on the Grimesland club were cause of most of the runs.

AYDEN ON TOP AGAIN
Ayden, June 24—Ayden got back top the Coastal Plain League by defeating Kinston, 5-2 here today while Greenville was losing.

Stewart Flynn, N. C. State College freshman hurler held Kinston to five hits while the locals were getting 11 off Stockton and Faulkner. Dudley caught for Kinston; Stephenson for Ayden.

Wall, with three hits, and Patten and Flythe, with two each led Ayden. Dudley and Wright, with two each, led Kinston. Stephenson's catching featured for the locals.

New York Cotton

New York, June 26—(AP)—Cotton futures opened firm 14 to 22 higher on active general buying and higher Liverpool cables.

In one of the most active and broad buying movements during the recent advance cotton worked up about $2.00 a bale early in the day. July position selling at 9.83 and ending at 10.30 with the entire list except July in the 10 cent column.

By the end of the first hour the general list had sold up to net gains of 52 to 61 points with July 10.03 three points above previous high for this position since the advance of late last August.

December sold up to 10.50 or about $3.00 a bale above yesterday's close on continuation of active speculation buying and foreign and domestic price fixing.

At this level demand tapered off somewhat and prices reacted 14 to 21 points from the best and the heavy profit-taking had again partially rallied toward midday when the list was ruling 45 to 50 higher.

July rallied from 9.85 to 9.94 and December from 10.29 to 10.40. The market advanced further late in the day on renewed wall, street and western buying.

Stock Market
New York, June 26—(AP)—Financial markets leaped forward today under the leadership of grains and cotton and new high prices for the past year were established by leading securities and most staples.

The so-called "farm stocks" were given a fast ride as wheat soared three or more cents a bushel and cotton recorded brought gains of $2.50 to around $3.00 a bale.

Corn and rye tripped up along with wheat. At the same time the American dollar held fairly steady on foreign exchange markets while good news of a business improvement continued to come from all parts of the country.

Shares prices opened steady to firm but a heavy buying movement began in the second hour. For a while the movement was speedy and the volume was at a rate of 5,000,000 shares. The activity quieted down in later trading and most of the sharp gainers dropped back from the top.

Case led the upturn with gains of 6 1-2 points and later yielded. Other agricultural groups up one to around two included Sears Roebuck, International Harvester, Montgomery Ward, and Chalmers.

Allied Chemical and National Distillers got up around four each while similar advances were registered by Bethlehem Steel American Telephone and Crown Cork.

The rails and oils were firm but not too enthusiastic. Transfers were 4,600,000.

Seeks Debt Adjustment.

London, June 26—(AP)—Senator James Couzens of Michigan, American delegate, stirred the world economic conference today by declaring in a speech that the world debt structure must be adjusted.

He emphasized the necessity of recognizing creditors throughout the world and of establishing some form of a body to act in an advisory capacity between organized creditors and debtors.

The Republican senator did not mention war debts but referred to indebtedness in general.

He warned: "This is in no sense to be construed as an invitation to debtors able to pay to scale down their obligations. Certainly it is not an invitation to default."

He urged world wide action to raise prices and to increase the demand for material in his address.

Make Way For Veterans.

Raleigh, June 26—(AP)—All of North Carolina's original quota of civilian conservationists will be moved from commission quarters at Fort Bragg to permanent locations and temporary camps on the military reservations before the end of June to make way for 650 veterans of wars to be enlisted in the corps in July, it was announced today.

Under a presidential order, North Carolina is to have 650 in the veterans corps of 25,000. This week's full contingent to the conservationists are expected to occupy camps at Stantonburg, in Wilson county, near Durham county and near Walnut Cove in Stokes. The Stokes county camp will be devoted to soil erosion work with others doing for est work.
