ROOSEVELT REFUSES TO ACCEPT GOLD STANDARD

Gold Bloc Preparing To Carry Out Threat To Quit If Plan Is Not Accepted

FIVE NATIONS INVOLVED IN DESERTION

Switzerland Makes First Move to Desert London Conference By Asking For Adjournment Until Thursday; Believe Move An Entering Wedge to Abandon Further Deliberations; American Delegation Quiet

London, July 3—(AP)—President Roosevelt's dramatic refusal to have anything to do with supporting the old fashion gold standard resulted this afternoon in the European gold bloc taking definite steps to make good their threat to desert the conference unless it rallies under a flag of gold.

In gold bloc quarters it was stated some delegates at least expected immediate orders of their governments to return home leaving only a few minor secretaries at London.

Should the entire gold group consisting of France, Belgium, Holland, Italy and Switzerland abandon the conference it would virtually be paralyzed.

The first move in behalf of the gold bloc was made through Switzerland.

Walter Stucki, chief Swiss delegate asked for an adjournment until Thursday of an important drafting committee of the economic commission on the grounds that no further work could be accomplished until the gold bloc delegates received fresh instructions from their governments.

A similar motion was expected in other committees this afternoon and if accepted would mean that a large part of the conference activities would be suspended.

Well informed persons close to the representatives of gold countries said this adjournment of committees was an entering wedge and anticipated that activities would not be resumed.

The Swiss delegation was understood to be expecting orders tonight or tomorrow from Berne directing it to return home leaving only a few secretaries on the job.

Other members of the gold groups are contemplating a similar move.

In the meantime the American delegation remained discreetly silent feeling the president had said all that was necessary in his statement which set the already distributed conference on its ears.

There was some disposition in American quarters to think that France and other countries still on the gold standard were bluffing but this group asserted that it meant business.

CITY SET FOR GLORIOUS 4TH

Business Houses To Close In Observance Of Nationwide Holiday

Although no celebration had been arranged, Greenville people today turned their attention to plans for observing the Glorious Fourth of July tomorrow.

While scores of people planned to go to seashore resorts for recreation, the majority will probably remain at home and go to the double-header ball games scheduled between Greenville and Ayden and shoot oratorical fireworks instead of the real thing.

Banks, public buildings and stores will remain closed during the day but the half Wednesday holiday will be abandoned by the stores to make up for business which they lost in celebrating the Fourth.

Along with the remainder of the business houses, the Daily Reflector will be closed and after today there will be no further publication until Wednesday. The staff will take the day off and devote attention to taking notes of the various (Continued On Page Four)

Ohio Plan Puts Jobless On Three-Acre Farms

Dayton, Ohio—(AP)—A new experiment in housing now under way here entails a marked transformation in the economic and social life of home-seekers engaged in it.

Salient features of the plan, which already has placed 35 families on a rural tract five miles from Dayton with crops and garden planted for the summer harvest, are these:

The people build their own homes, thereby eliminating a major item in the cost of housing.

Each family is lent funds to cover the cost of land, building, seed, livestock, tools and equipment, repaying the principal and interest in small weekly installments spread over a period of years.

The funds used to finance the first homestead unit as it is called, and to start 35 families on their self-supporting way came from the sale locally of $37,000 in 15-year 4-1/2 percent "independence bonds."

Some families already on relief rolls are to be taken as the result of the development.

RAILROAD RAY ESCAPES FROM COUNTY JAIL

Ring Leader of Robber Band Obtains Key and Walks Out Of Prison Here

M. P. (Railroad) Ray, member of a ring of robbers recently rounded up by Eastern Carolina authorities, walked out of the Pitt county jail late yesterday afternoon and his whereabouts was still a matter of mystery today.

Martin Bryant, another member of the ring, was confined in another section of the jail and was not able to gain his freedom.

Officers said today that Ray probably gained his liberty between 4 and 6 o'clock Sunday afternoon. Mystery surrounded the escape which was similar to that staged about 15 years ago by a man named Kelties, who was being held here for slaying his wife.

Ray obtained a key to the main vault door, walked out probably as nonchalantly as he entered, leaving the heavy iron door ajar and the key in the lock. The way to safety led through the sheriff's home on the first floor and this was accomplished without anybody seeing the prisoner, or if they did, he was not recognized and probably thought to have been a visitor.

The escape was well-timed. It came while Sheriff Sam White, hurt was in Snow Hill on official business and jail attendants were in some other section of the building. The escape was discovered sometime after 6 o'clock, and while a search was started, Ray still remained at liberty today.

The prisoner, a former ball player, and described by officers as one of the ring leaders of the ten or twelve members of the band of thieves held in various towns of Eastern Carolina for freight car, wholesale house and filling station robberies was given preliminary hearing the middle of last week and remanded to jail without bond. The same action was also taken against Bryant.

Speaking of the escape this morning, Chief of Police George Clark, who took a prominent part in rounding up the band, said he had planned to transfer Ray to a jail in some other part of the state sometime this week. Ray was regarded as a "slick" criminal and (Continued On Page Four)

RYAN SPEAKS AT FIRST OPEN AIR SERVICE

Pastor Of Christian Church Delivers Sermon at United Gathering Sunday

The first of the series of united services of city churches to be conducted here each Sunday evening during the summer months was held at the courthouse here last night.

The services had been planned for the courthouse lawn but rain came during the late afternoon, wet the benches and grass on the lawn, and apparently dampened the ardor of some of the church-goers, judging by the crowd which eventually assembled in the courtroom.

However, the crowd was not so bad from an attendance standpoint in the face of threatening clouds, which held sway for quite a while after the rain, but it might have been larger in view of the fact that it was the first service of its kind of the year.

E. G. FLANAGAN HOME BURNED

Beautiful Evans Street Home Guttered By Flames Here Last Night

Fire of undetermined origin last night gutted the home of Col. E. G. Flanagan on South Evans street, entailing loss estimated at between $15,000 and $20,000. The damage was said to have been covered by insurance.

The fire was discovered in the attic of the beautiful two story frame building shortly after 9 o'clock by Charles Flanagan. He immediately turned in the alarm at the corner of 7th and Evans streets. When the firemen arrived at the box they were told the fire was at the Forbes home on 9th street and immediately went to that place. Finding no fire they returned to the box and discovered the location of the blaze.

The fire by that time had gained considerable headway and the entire attic and part of the second floor was destroyed before the blaze was brought under control.

The house was one of the most elaborately furnished in the city, and much of the furnishings was damaged both by fire and water.

Mr. Flanagan said today the damage was great it would be necessary to rebuild the entire structure.

It was first reported that the beautiful furnishings were undamaged, but Mr. Flanagan said he had a policy for $10,000 on the building and one for $8,000 on the furniture.

The blaze drew hundreds of people from all parts of the city and some of the furniture removed from the first floor during the excitement disappeared and probably never will be recovered, it was stated.

NEGRO THIEF JAILED HERE

Ehron Moore Nabbed While Shoplifting At Grant's Store Saturday Night

Ehron Moore colored, alleged shoplifter, created something of a sensation in Grant's store on Evans street Saturday night when he attempted to escape with considerable amount of goods in his possession.

He was given preliminary hearing in police court today and bound over to county court.

Moore was said to have been detected "loading up" with merchandise by Mrs. Skittlethrope, a clerk who gave the alarm and attempted to halt the negro as he started down the aisle to liberty.

Moore was said to have hit the clerk but she was not seriously injured. Men standing nearby grappled with the thief and held him until police arrived and took the prisoner into custody.

STORM MOVES WEST HAVANA; NEAR DEL RIO

Cyclone Centered On Gulf of Mexico Believed Headed North easterly Direction; Crippled Communications Prevents Full Report of Havoc; Many Reported Homeless and Without Food

Miami, July 3—(AP)—Richard W. Gray, government meteorologist here, said at 10 a. m. that his estimates so far today indicated the center of the tropical disturbance in Cuba, still was in the vicinity of Kinar, Del Rio, west of Havana.

He said he had received no indication that the storm was moving in a northeasterly direction as reported by the Belen national observatory in Havana.

Advices in the weather bureau here, Gray said indicated the storm was a considerable distance out-west of Key West and that its present direction was not toward Key West.

Havana, July 3—(AP)—Father Gutierrez Lanaca, director of the Belen observatory announced today that the center of a cyclone which has centered on the gulf of Mexico is heading a northeastern direction.

The cyclone is of great intensity and of small diameter, he said. The wind velocity attained 70 miles an hour in Havana.

Port of Spain, Trinidad, July 3—(AP)—Complete account of the havoc wrought by hurricane, still awaited repair of communications facilities and roads today.

But it was known that 13 were killed, one thousand made homeless and property damage set at $3,000,000 was reported.

Hundreds of homeless settlers in the Pedres and Ichaes district suffered from lack of food. General Wise said medical facilities were at hand.

Death Claims Newton Minister

News was received here early today of the death in Newton last night of Rev. M. B. Woolsey, of the Western North Carolina Conference.

Mr. Woolsey, who died last night in a Statesville hospital following an operation, was a brother-in-law of Mrs. E. L. Hillman of Greenville, Mr. and Mrs. Hillman left for Newton today to attend the funeral.

SIGN NOW

With just this week left for cotton growers to get their acreage reduction contracts signed we urge our farmers to quick action if they have not already signed up. This is one time that the farmers are offered a real opportunity to help themselves and get money for doing it while failure to act no doubt will mean continued financial stress as a result of low prices. We would like to see our Pitt County growers sign this reduction contract 100 per cent.

NO PAPER TOMORROW

In keeping with our customary observance of Independence Day July Fourth there will be no issue of The Reflector tomorrow. The holiday is to be observed generally throughout the city and it is our hope that our people will enjoy the day free from any accidents that mar their pleasures.

NEWSPAPERS SCORE AGAIN

Naturally we believe that the newspaper is the best of advertising mediums and it is most gratifying to us when an advertiser takes the trouble to thank us for the fine results obtained through newspaper advertising. We are today in receipt of just such a letter from Mr. V. C. Woodcox, Director of Advertising, for the Kelvinator Sales Corporation, Detroit, and we bring it to the attention of our merchants who are seeking means of building up an increased business.

Mr. Woodcox's letter is as follows:

"I want to take this opportunity to thank your newspaper for the part it has played in Kelvinator's most successful year. 'Kelvinator's selection of newspapers to get its story to the attention of buyers has been more than justified by the record business this season when newspapers were used extensively. 'June, customarily a 'tapering off' month, this year ran very close to the all time record set in May and saw the sale of more than 40,000 units as compared with approximately 17,000 in June, 1932. Largely through the help of your newspaper, sales in your city showed proportionate increase."

MR. AND MRS. COBB RETURN FROM BOSTON

Mr. and Mrs. K. W. Cobb have returned from Boston where Mr. Cobb attended the convention of Rotary International as a delegate from the Greenville Club.

Mr. Cobb was recently elected president of the club here after acting as presiding officer over sessions of the club during the absence last year of Rev. A. W. Fleischmann.

He reported a fine trip and said many things for advancement of the international organization were considered.

SYNOPSIS: Georgie Bancroft, recently snatched from her peaceful life in an English village by her mother and step-father from New York, lives a gay life in a big London hotel. She meets a shop-girl acquaintance, Nelly Foster, out of a job and blue. But Nelly shows her a newspaper clipping about Nicholas Boyd's operation in Germany, where he has gone in an effort to have removed the scar that has cost him his film career. Meanwhile Bernie Boyd, Nicholas' wife, has arrived in England. Bernie cares nothing for Nicholas, and Georgie cares a great deal. Georgie plans to ask her step-father to find Nelly a job.

Chapter 31 NELLY'S JOB

"Hullo! I thought it was your mother," Bishop said. "No it is I." Georgie came forward and stood beside him. "May I ask you something?" she said hesitatingly. "I don't see what's to stop you," he answered, but his eyes softened a little. "Ask away." "I want you to get a job for a friend of mine," Georgie said. "A friend of yours—what is she? A chorus girl?" he asked cynically. Georgie's grave eyes were raised to his. "No, she's a shop girl," she said. "I met her on the boat coming back from America. Her shop gave her the sack three weeks ago, and I met her just now and she hadn't had any breakfast, and it's—oh, I think it's perfectly awful," she added with a shiver. Bishop smiled faintly. "A great many things in life are perfectly awful," he said grimly. "How do you imagine I can find your friend a job?" "I thought you might try," Georgie said earnestly. "You know so many people."

There was a telephone in her room, and in less than a moment she was through to Asher's house. "Hullo, Georgie! Ripping of you to ring up. I was thinking about you a moment ago." "How nice of you," Georgie said absently; she was not particularly interested in his thoughts. "I want you to do something for me," she added. "Will you?" "Will I? You know I will, and I want you to do something for me too—come out with me tonight." "Come out where?" she asked. "To a dance. A party of us are going and I've been asked to take a girl." "I should like it," Georgie said, not very truthfully. "Good, I'll call for you at nine. I'm glad you'll come. I want to talk to you about something very particular."

Georgie told him a white lie.

Nicholas, to tell him that she still loved him. Or was that something which one might not say even on paper to the man one loved? Georgie wrote the address carefully down in black letters; she felt that she could not afford to risk a single mistake. "Got it?" Clifford asked cheerily. "Yes." "Good; then I'll see you tonight at nine." Georgie hung up the receiver and looked down at the carefully written address with rapturous eyes. (To Be Continued)

Put Your Liver To Work--Make This Test

You can't feel well and strong unless your liver furnishes your stomach and bowels plenty of fresh bile every day. Without bile food doesn't digest properly—it just ferments and decays—constipation, gas, sour stomach, headaches and nervousness follow. Don't be misled. Calomel, salts, etc., have no effect whatever on the liver. There are only two generally recognized substances which actually cause a sluggish liver to increase its production of bile. Sargol Soft Mass Pills contain both of them. Unless you have tried Sargol Soft Mass Pills you can have no idea of their effect—you feel stronger, healthier, happier—life and color return to faded eyes and cheeks—appetite and digestion improve rapidly. Only one for a full 30-day treatment. Ask your druggist, or write G. F. Willis, Inc., Atlanta, Ga.—(adv.)

Christian Science Services. "God" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all churches and societies of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, July 2.

The golden text was from Exodus 15:18: "The Lord shall reign for ever and ever."

Among the citations which comprised the lesson-sermon was the following passage from the Bible: "And Elijah came unto all the people, and said, How long halt ye between two opinions? if the Lord be God, follow him; but if Baal, then follow him. And the people answered him not a word."—(1 Kings 18:21).

The lesson-sermon also included the following correlative from the Christian Science textbook "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "We lose the high significance of omnipotence, when after admitting God, or good, is omnipresent, and has all-power, we still believe there is another power named evil. This belief that there is more than one mind is as pernicious to divine theology as are ancient mythology and pagan idolatry."—Christian Science Committee on Publication.

An Appreciation. We want to make a public announcement of our great appreciation for the service and sympathy extended to us by both white and colored during the fire at our home. Friendship is the dearest thing on earth and we appreciate what you did for us, especially do we recognize the Fire Department and the service rendered.

Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Flanagan.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT. Whereas, the Heaven Father has seen fit to call from our midst our friend and co-laborer, Mrs. S. D. Tucker.

Whereas she has been a faithful and consecrated member of the Salem M. E. Church and of the Woman's Missionary Society, and a strong influence in every Christlike project.

Therefore be it resolved that this society express to her bereaved family its deepest sympathy in their hour of distress and pray that the blessing and comfort of God whom she served, may abide with them.

Resolved further that a copy of these resolutions be sent to her family, to The Daily Reflector, The North Carolina Christian Advocate, and a copy filed in the minutes of our society.

Special Flight. Ordinarily it cost eight cents to send a letter by airmail from Chicago to New York. The privilege of having it carried by one of the planes in which General Italo Balbo and his men plan to fly from Rome to Chicago will cost $1.70.

The post office department announces that "The Italian government has agreed to accept" mail to be carried on the return flight of this squadron. Letters from Chicago to New York for delivery in this country, or from either Chicago or New York for delivery in Newfoundland or Canada, will cost $1.70, if each is unregistered and weighs not more than one-half ounce. For delivery in Europe the rate will be $3.80.

It is reported that the United States plans to surcharge 8-cent airmails $1.70 for the proposed Chicago-New York trip.

Special catches are to be furnished the postmasters at New York and Chicago for use on all letters carried by the squadron, the department announcement states.

Envelopes must carry the name and return address of the sender in the upper left-hand corner and be marked diagonally, between the return address and the address "by Italian Air Cruise to New York" (or Newfoundland, Canada or Europe as the case may be). They are to be sent in an outer envelope to the postmaster at Chicago if destined to be dropped at New York for delivery in this country, or to either Chicago or New York postmaster if destined for Canada, Newfoundland or Europe.

While the rates are for one-half ounce (one ounce is the maximum for the regular 8-cent airmail), postal authorities ask that senders try to keep the weight to five grams, or one-sixth ounce.

The funeral cortege left the home this afternoon at 3:30 and services were held from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Harris, grandparents of the deceased, on the Ramshorn road at 4 o'clock. Burial was made in the family grave yard near the Robert Harris home. Final rites were conducted by Rev. R. F. Pittman of Ayden, minister of the Free Will Baptist Church.

Surviving are the parents, and a sister, Hazel Moore, and grandparents on both the parental and maternal side, Rev. and Mrs. C. J. Harris, of Belvoir, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Harris.

New Books

By JOHN SELBY. New York—One gathers from the critical felicitations being poured out upon Hervey Allen that his "Anthony Adverse" is accepted generally as one of the most important American novels so far produced.

Nor is it strange. Mr. Allen's gigantic work there are 1,200 pages, form a week's to a month's reading for the average man is a picturesque novel of first water, ranging through an immense territory and detailing each of its vicissitudes and locales faithfully. It is bound together by the life span of an ordinary man, and it moves on every page.

But it is more than merely a 1,200 page story of adventure. There is a philosophical basis for the structure that is implicit most of the time, but will be felt by sensitive readers, and there is a profusion of characters drawn with (as a rule) the swiftness of a caricature and the sympathy and attention to nuance associated with methods less rapid.

Aside from the plotting of the work as a whole, perhaps Mr. Allen's chief accomplishment is the way in which he utilizes the prodigious research necessary without impressing upon the reader a mass of prickly facts. The background is always in key; it likewise is always plastic and so contrasted as to make the events of the story vivid in the extreme. Anthony's adventures may be followed by layman or connoisseur with equal pleasure.

A hundred years of progress (from "lady" through "female" to "woman") has been compressed into "Angels and Amazons" by Inez Haynes Irwin for the National Council of Woman of the United States. Books sponsored by organizations not uncommonly make dusty going. But not this one.

Mrs. Irwin covers the period from 1933 to the present, from the "lady" who had a "very handsome house—with very handsome drawing rooms very handsomely furnished—and a very handsome free black coachman" described so devastatingly by Anthony Trollope's sharp-tongued mother, down to the women we know today. Her book may even be read by bachelors—it has life and color and occasionally phrases are so pat they ring in the mind.

By SHIRLEY DUNSTEAD (Screen Actress). Bangs and ringlets must always be kept from covering the eyebrows. I always watch this, when I wear bangs, because the eyebrows are most expressive among features and enhance animation.

When covered, the face looks less alive. Bangs cut shorter have the contrary effect and give an added piquancy.

SINGING CONTEST. NIGHT OF JULY 4. Local colored folks are sponsoring a singing and Charleston contest, which is to be held at Gorman's warehouse (now Dixie) Tuesday evening, July 4th, from 6:30 to 8 o'clock, to which white as well as colored people are invited. There will also be tap dancing and some of the best singers in the state will compete.

A feature of the evening will be music by the Capital City Aces, an orchestra which calls itself "Cab Calloway's greatest rival."

Special seats will be reserved for white people and the contest will start at 6:30 sharp.

During the afternoon and immediately after the singing contest, dancing will be held.

Harris Re-elected City Treasurer. In Saturday's news story with reference to the swearing in of the new city officials the name of W. Chester Harris, city treasurer, was omitted from the list of those re-elected to office. Mr. Harris was re-elected by the board at its meeting Saturday and sworn into office at that time.

BRAZIL CHECKS WILD-CAT TRIPS TO WILDERNESS

By PAUL SANDERS. Rio De Janeiro (AP)—Expeditions into the Brazilian hinterland will be confined hereafter to legitimate scientists accompanied by government officials, under a decree designed to prevent further exploitation of missing men mysteries.

Brazilian authorities and newspapers have been irked by adverse publicity arising from small and ill-equipped expeditions which, with negative results, have sought Colonel H. P. Fawcett, English scientist missing more than eight years in Mato Grosso.

Redfern Case Cited. Arrest of Tom Roche, gold hunter and ex-salot, who claimed knowledge of the whereabouts of Paul Redfern, American aviator missing since 1927, and the subsequent suicide of Richard Redfern, Paul's uncle, gave the government further reason for clamping down on expeditions. No substantiation of the Redfern-in-Brazil theory was found.

Neither has word been received from a small expedition which set out in April, 1927, to look for Fawcett. The expedition was headed by Stephan Rattini, gold hunter who claimed to have found Fawcett in an isolated region.

Government Takes Control. Hearafter expeditions, after proving that they have adequate financial resources and genuine scientific or humanitarian aims, must receive special permission from the foreign ministry before entering Brazil.

Once here, they must report to the ministry of agriculture, which will assign an inspector to the expedition.

Embargo On Specimens. The decree further requires donation of new animal, plant or mineral specimens to Brazilian museums. Only duplicate specimens may be exported.

The government feels it is a lengthy indictment against "shoe string" parties. Adventurers not infrequently have obtained money abroad under false pretenses, have antagonized Indian tribes, and have peddled phantastic tales.

RAILROAD RAY ESCAPES FROM COUNTY JAIL. (Continued from page One) he was to have been removed as a precautionary measure.

How the prisoner gained possession of the key to the vault will probably remain one of the inexplicable mysteries recorded in local jail history. That was the case in the Kettle case and it probably will be so with Ray unless he is captured and reveals who aided him in gaining his liberty.

CITY SET FOR GLORIOUS 4TH. (Continued from page One) happenings while at the same time trying to find as much recreation as possible.

In view of the intense heat wave which has gripped the community the last several days, it was probable the annual pilgrimage to the nearby resorts would be as large if not larger than in previous years. Some will tie away to rivers with rod and reel and others will pack their bathing suits and speed off to seashore and swimming pools to take a cooling plunge.

Ayden will play Greenville on their own grounds in the morning and Ayden will come here for the afternoon game. With the locals a single game ahead of Ayden for top honors, the two games were expected to be largely attended. It will mean that Ayden will either capture the top position, remain in its present position or drop a notch lower in the standing of clubs, hence the importance attached to the two contests.

RYAN SPEAKS AT FIRST OPEN AIR SERVICE. (Continued from page One) of the Ministerial Association, sponsors of the open air services, were not dampened by the rain nor the lack of a packed building, and they prepared to carry on through the remainder of the services confident of attracting tremendous crowds each Sunday.

While the rain may have been a slight handicap to the service, to Rev. W. A. Ryan, pastor of Eighth Street Christian church, it came as a blessing to the farmers of the community and everybody. The minister took this view of the situation after Rev. W. S. Harden, pastor of the Presbyterian church, presiding over the service, mentioned the fact that announcement of Mr. Ryan's pulpit appearances at an open air service was a signal for nature to open her sluice gates.

den led the singing. He was aided by a choir composed of members of various churches. A feature of the song program was a quartet selection by Spruill Spain, Herman Gaylor, Vick Forrest and Drewry Settle, of the Christian church choir.

Rev. E. L. Hillman delivered the opening prayer and passages from the Scriptures were read by Rev. A. W. Flishmann, pastor of Memorial Baptist church.

The speaker took his text from the 41st verse of the 18th chapter of the First Book of Kings, "Elijah said unto Ahab, Get thee up, eat and drink; for there is a sound of abundance of rain."

Prefacing his remarks by referring to the courage and faith of the prophets of the Bible, the speaker declared these qualifications were lost arts in present day religion. He paid tribute to Elijah's courage when he commanded Ahab to look at the skies for a sign of rain, not one time but many. Elijah had predicted rain and he had the courage conviction to believe that God would grant his desire.

He rapped preachers of the present day for not having the courage, or in the layman's phrasology, the backbone, to speak their convictions in the pulpit regardless of consequences. The difference between the prophets of the Bible and the

The New Ford V-8 Stands Out When Compared With High-Priced Cars For Beauty, Power, Smoothness, and Roadability—and With the Low-Priced Field For Economy of Operation

The model 40 Ford V-8 responds with powerful smoothness to the constant demands for terrific speed. Compare it at 25 miles per hour, 40 miles, 50 miles or 80 miles per hour. YOU WILL FIND THAT NO OTHER AUTOMOBILE USES LESS OIL OR GASOLINE AND REQUIRES AS LITTLE MECHANICAL ATTENTION

Make No Compromise Demand the Best!!!

FOR SAFETY: Steel constructed bodies completely insulated for body noise. X-Type frame for rigidity and safety under all conditions. Power to go and brakes that will stop 186 square inches braking surface. Safety Glass in windshield in standard models, safety glass all around in Deluxe models.

FOR COMFORT: 112-inch wheelbase and the short V-8 engine gives the same body base and inside body dimensions as any car of 118-inch wheelbase. The New Ford V-8 is large enough yet not BIG. Examine the upholstery and seat backs and springs. Honda Automatic, double acting, self-adjusting shock absorbers together with the new designed transverse spring take all the bumps out of the road.

FOR ECONOMY: No Car operates for less cost to the owner and the high gasoline mileage of the New Ford V-8 is amazing. Its low use (no consumption) of oil is insignificant. The V-type principle of building an eight has proven its worth in low maintenance costs.

FOR PERFORMANCE: In the New Ford V-8 you have a motor that actually develops 75-horsepower, gives you speeds from 3-on 3-miles per hour 40 well above 80 in high gear, and from a standing start in second to approximately 60 miles per hour. You have to drive the new Ford to appreciate its marvelous performance. Smoothness that only an eight can give, and acceleration that can not be equaled in any car on the American market. The new Ford ratio of approximately 34 pounds of weight to each horsepower gives you performance others may strive for but never attain. Nothing less than eight cylinders can give this performance.

FOR APPEARANCE: Look the New Ford V-8 over and compare it with any car for Beauty, Lines and Modern Style. See the New Ford V-8.

SNOW HILL TAKES 10-9 GAME HERE

Greenville still clung tenaciously to a precarious lead of the Coastal Plain league but it was no fault of Snow Hill

For three successive times within the last week the Greenville county lads have defeated the league leaders and advanced themselves to a tie with Ayden for the honor of second place. The final game Saturday virtually ended the Snow Hill-Kinston battle to keep out of the cellar and left Kinston in complete control of the bottom position.

The third of the Snow Hill victories came here last Saturday afternoon. It was a fine game for Greenville up to the ninth inning but that particular frame will stand out prominently as a nightmare to Greenville in the future and just a plain case of "bellyache" to the hundreds of fans who literally yelled themselves hoarse as they gloated over the apparent victory of the local club.

In the long-to-be-remembered ninth stanza Snow Hill, with only four runs to their credit against Greenville's nine, unleashed a terrific batting attack and when the smoke of the burning willow had cleared away, six additional Snow Hill runners had crossed the old platter to clinch the game.

Greenville fans looked on completely flabbergasted, one might say, by the spectacular turn of events in the face of what was generally considered a victory for the home town boys who have enjoyed the leadership of the circuit most of the time, with the exception of the day or so Ayden usurped the throne.

Bob Forbes, Greenville boy, who has pitched like a house afire all the season breezed along famously until the Snow Hill bats got busy in the first stages of the ninth. When the barrage got underway he was sent to the showers and Taylor took his place. The visitors bunched four hits in the two-thirds of an inning Taylor was on the mound, and this was sufficient to give Snow Hill the one run lead necessary to win the game.

It was a heart-crushing ending to what appeared to be an iced victory for the locals, and proved the old theory that a ball game is never won until the last ball is tossed.

Forbes yielded eight hits during the time he was on the mound Snow Hill's moundsmen—Sands, McGowan, J. Shirley and Longest, yielded a total of thirteen safeties. Snow Hill was credited with twelve hits.

Dean, Greenville pitcher who was placed in the outfield on account of a switch of positions, walked away with batting honors, obtaining one three bagger, a two base drive, and two singles.

Hicks came next with three hits, all of which were for one base. Neils, Fulghum, and Pittman featured for the visitors each being credited with two singles base walkoffs apiece.

New York Cotton

New York, July 3—(AP)—Cotton futures opened firm 35 to 43 higher on active buying, higher Liverpool cables and a sharper rise in foreign exchange.

The advance extended to 10.82 for October contracts during early trading with active montas generally showing gains of 40 to 44 points. The advance met realizing and prices reacted 15 to 20 points from the after the initial demand had been supplied.

October sold off the 10.62 and was ruling around 10.70 at the end of the first-half hour, or about 30 points higher.

Volume tapered off later in the morning but the market continued fairly active with prices reacting a few points under realizing.

At midday October was around 10.55 or 10.60 higher for the best with the general market holding steady at advances of 27 to 28 points on the more active positions.

The market reacted late in the day on reports from Washington that acreage reduction plans will be extended owing to slowness with which farmers are signing up.

Future closed steady 11 to 23 higher; Spots quiet middling 10.40. (Courtesy Speight & Co.)

Stock Market

New York, July 3—(AP)—Financial markets touched off some Fourth of July fireworks today in celebration of the presidential veto of currency stabilization. Stocks spurted one to seven or more points in one of the most jubilant upswings in the present movement as the dollar slumped in foreign exchange markets and grains leaped forward for gains of 1 to 4c cents a bushel. Cotton got up about $2 a bale before relaxing moderately and various secondary bonds were in demand at substantial advances. Tradig in shares was at a swift pace the turnover in the early hours being at the rate of $7,000,000 shares a day.

The ticker tape was several minutes behind floor transactions during most of the day. Rails and the so called farming groups made the best showing with Union Pacific up around 7, Case 6, Deere 4, and International Harvester and Sears 3 each. Columbian Carbin also got up five points and Allied Chemical five.

A heavy demand for stocks carried quotations steadily higher with advances from one to more than 5 points in late dealings. Transactions were approximately 6,700,000 shares.

Late News Flashes

(Continued from page One) was no question of the conference having collapsed. The British are determined that the assembly shall finish its work but it was admitted that the conference may have to hurry and that short cuts may have to be taken. All parties agreed that as a result of the American President's statement the whole idea of immediate stabilization of currencies must be abandoned. The British insisted that there are many points where agreement can be reached apart from currencies.

Biggs in Raleigh

Raleigh, July 3—(AP)—J. Crawford Biggs, U. S. solicitor general, and former Raleigh attorney, was a visitor here today to attend to private business and predicted that President Roosevelt this week will announce the appointment

Washington as assistant solicitor general. Mr. MacLean is one of the finest lawyers I know and I personally urged his appointment as my assistant, Biggs said.

Slow Signing For Cotton Cut
Raleigh, July 3—(AP)—N. C. Farmers who have signed contracts to retire cotton of this year crop under the federal reduction program up to today had pledged to... acres out of 263,000 but Dean I. O. Schaub of N. C. State college director of the drive, continued to express confidence the quota would be reached.

Reports from 18 counties today added 3,261 acres pledged to the more than 8,276 acres now growing cotton.

EMDEN BELL LOST AGAIN; GERMANS ARE SUSPECTED

Sydney—(AP)—The elusive bell of the German cruiser Emden is believed by police to be on its way to Germany.

Prized here as a relic of Australia's naval victory off Cocos islands, it was first stolen last summer and discovered by detectives buried in a hill.

It was then placed in the war museum but a month ago disappeared again. Commonwealth officials searched a Bremen-bound steamer but were unable to find the relic.

City Hunters Luckiest

Lansing, Mich.—(AP)—Figures of the state of Michigan put a dent in the popular supposition that hunters in the upper peninsula of the state, familiar with woods and wild life, are better deer hunters than the hunters from the lower peninsula where the cities are. Forty-seven per cent of the upper peninsula applicants for licenses got their buck last year, records show, while 61 per cent from lower Michigan were successful.

Onslow Ships Beans

Jacksonville, July 3—The first truck load of beans was shipped last week by farmers in Onslow county and brought $1.53 a hamper delivered to Gill Brothers in New York, reports County Agent N. M. Smith. Truck shipments will be made daily as long as the market holds up and all shipments will go by express.

Smith also reports the first tobacco curing completed by Wright Humphrey in Richlands township. While the crop is not yet ripe much curing will be done this week as a great part of it is burning and must be cured at once, he says.

FREEWILL BAPTIST TO HOLD CONFERENCE

New Bern, July 3—Several hundred delegates and visitors are expected here Monday for the opening of the State convention of the North Carolina Freewill Baptist League at St. Mary's Freewill Baptist church at 11 o'clock, with Rev. E. O. Gaskill, local pastor, preaching the opening sermon.

The convention theme, "My Father's Kingdom," will be observed Tuesday in the talks by Miss Gladys Tingle on "Contending for the Kingdom," Rev. W. K. Jordan, "Financing the Kingdom," and Miss Marie Wilson, "Extending the Kingdom." The session will continue through Tuesday afternoon.

NEW BERN FIREMEN TO ATTEND WORLD FAIR

New Bern, July 3—A score of firemen members of the New Bern "Button" fire company left during the week-end for Chicago to attend the world fair there, on their annual vacation trip. Some of the men left late Saturday by motor, but most of them went to Raleigh Sunday and took a Seaboard train from there Sunday afternoon. They will be away for a week.
