DROP NUMBER FROM PAYROLL

Modified Reorganization Program of Government in Effect Today

Washington, Aug. 10-(AP)-President Roosevelt's modified reorganization plans went into effect today with 10,000 employees, of whom about 900, have to look for new jobs.

There was first the prohibition bureau with 1800 workers. This was transferred to the new division of the bureau of investigation. Six hundred employees, 200 in Washington and 400 in the field were stricken from the payroll while the rest were employed in the new agency.

Next was the merger of the bureau of investigation and naturalization in the labor department. All the 3907 in these save 275 were retained temporarily for four months. The 275 were allowed ten days notice of retirement.

The third big transfer found the heretofore independent U. S. Shipping board and the American wheat corporation under the commerce department.

Secretary Roper, extending a survey, reappointed all the 924 in these two agencies. He said, that the contemplated reduction would come later.

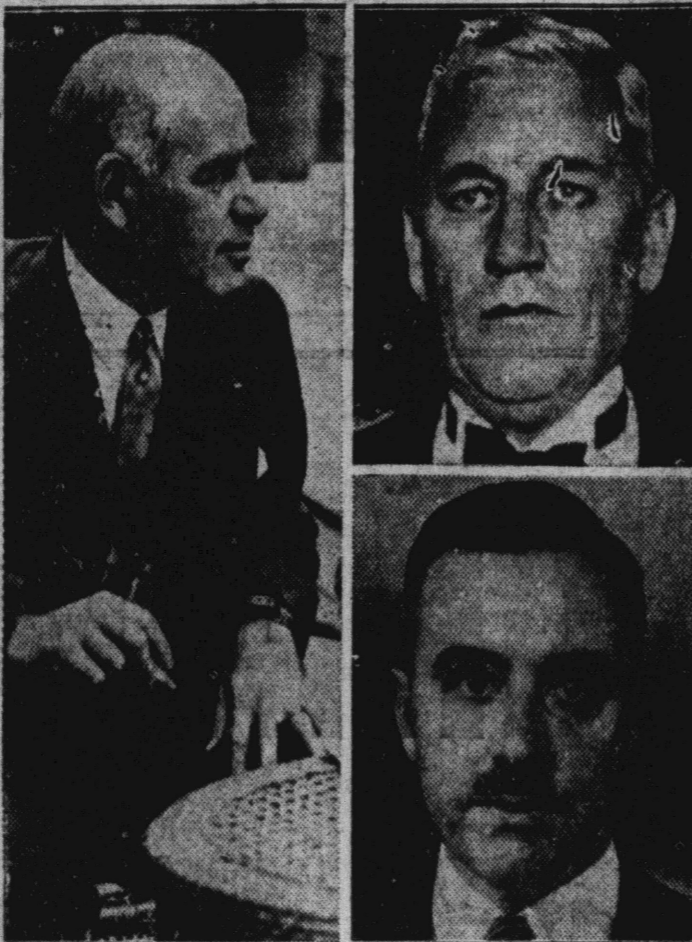

Until September 30 all the 2,800 employees of the abolished office of public buildings and parks of the national capital will be retained temporarily.

MOVE TO COMBAT MILK STRIKE

Ways and means to cope with the "fight to the finish" attitude of milk strikers occupied the attention of Gov. Herbert H. Lehman (left) as disorders continued over the New York milk sectors. He conferred with Maj. Gen. William Haskell (upper right) to determine what forces would be available if it became necessary to call out the state militia. Dr. Thomas Parran, Jr. (lower right), member of the state milk control board, notified health officers that the milk shed would be widened, if necessary, to prevent a milk famine. SEEK TO END LABOR TILTS

Settlement of Labor Disputes Now Sought By The Recovery Administration

Washington, Aug. 10-(AP)-Harmony in industry through the settlement of labor disputes was sought today by the national recovery administration.

From apparent success in settling the coal strike discord at Grindstone, Pa. President Roosevelt's national labor board turned its attention toward more Pennsylvania arguments between employers and workers.

The arbitration officials called before them today employers and employees in the Reading, Pa. hosiery strike. Dr. Leo Coleman, acting chairman of the labor board, also intended to bring his organization into action on another front, the Pottsville, Pa. shirt mill controversy.

The rest of the industrial rehabilitation army under Hugh S. Johnson toiled on meanwhile in an effort to bring still more industries within the stream of the fair competition code of the administration.

Within the last 24 hours half a dozen more industries have come in under the blue eagle through approval of proposals by Johnson.

The latest addition to the movement includes such industries as evaporated milk, batting and padding retail jewelry and oil.

Recovery Administration To Test Its Strength

By BYRON PRICE The national recovery administration would seem to have arrived at that moment which in most great enterprises in the past proved decisive. It is preparing, to use a familiar phrase, to test the strength of the iron hand under its velvet glove.

It began its labors amid soft words and sentimental appeal. Day by day its demeanor has reflected in increasingly the "state of war" mentioned somewhat shyly at first, and understood by few.

It still does not like the word "boycott" or even the word "control" But General Johnson's plan advice to the American people to "spend under the blue eagle" and his warning to those employers who have signed the code but have failed to increase employment, signalled the passing of a milestone in the history of this great venture.

What General Johnson was saying in effect, this: "We have passed the first hazard. Employers generally have signed

ROTES WILL VISIT AYDEN

Greenville Clubmen Will Be Guests Of Thriving Club Tomorrow Evening

Greenville Rotarians will visit Ayden tomorrow evening where they will be the guests of the Rotary club of the place.

The meeting, the first local Rotarians have attended outside Greenville in the last two years, will be held at 8:30 and a large attendance from both clubs was anticipated.

Billy Brunson, of the Ayden club will be in charge of the program, the nature of which had not been determined here today, although it was a known fact it would be liberally interlarded with plenty of good things to eat.

Although members of the local club made a practice of meeting with out of town clubs in past years this is the first time they have gone outside the city in two years. The last gathering of this kind, J. C. Gaskins, club secretary said today was held at Fountain.

Prominent business men of the Fountain community were invited to attend and the gathering developed into one of the best the club had had in years.

Although small from the standpoint of membership compared with larger towns, Ayden has one of the liveliest clubs in this part of the state and members of the Greenville organization were looking forward to their visit tomorrow with anticipation.

Woodin's Status There is authoritative basis now for saying that he will stay in the cabinet if he wants to, and if his health permits.

Reports that he disagreed vigorously with President Roosevelt's departure from the gold standard are without foundation. He saw that coming long in advance, even before he went into office.

Neither is there any likelihood he will be eased out because he was on the special customer's list of J. P. Morgan. Some Roosevelt supporters advised him to quit, but Mr. Roosevelt himself did not.

On the other hand, there is abundant evidence that the indisposition which has kept Mr. Woodin away from the treasury department for

EXPECT BIG ATTENDANCE AT LEAF MEET

Government Tobacco Control Movement To Be Considered Here Saturday

Plans continued to round up for the meeting of tobacco growers at the court house here Saturday at 2:30 p. m., it was announced today by E. F. Arnold, director of the Farm Department, under whose auspices the gathering will be held.

Mr. Arnold said indications pointed to large attendance of growers from all sections of the country and that it was likely sentiment regarding the position of Pitt county growers on the government acreage control movement for next year would materialize.

The object of the meeting is to discuss the government program and to determine what action growers desire to take regarding the price situation this year. With prices for commodities advancing along with the government's recovery program, it is going to be necessary for growers to receive higher prices for their tobacco, it was stated by those familiar with the situation, and it is the idea of the meeting to fully impress this fact upon the administration.

J. E. Winslow, chairman of the Pitt County Board of Agriculture will preside over the gathering and Mr. Arnold will explain the nature of the meeting and outline the government's plan for curtailing acreage next year in an effort to relieve world congestion.

Forty committeemen who took part in the cotton control movement are in charge of the advertising campaign and every effort was being made to impress upon the growers the importance of attending the meeting and letting their attitude be known in the matter.

U. S. READY TO ACT IN CUBA

Marines Will be Sent To Republic if Situation Increases in Seriousness

Washington, Aug. 10-(AP)-Although President Roosevelt has indicated every effort will be taken to avoid intervention in the badly disturbed Cuban situation, information in well informed quarters disclosed that should it be necessary the marines now stationed at Quantico, Va., probably would be the first to land.

About 1,000 men at Quantico, only a few miles from the national capital, are equipped as expeditionary forces for quick action. They could be landed in Cuba within a few days.

Unofficial estimates showed that probably 2,000 or more marines and sailors could be rushed to Cuba if necessary from other points on the Atlantic coast, shortly after the Quantico crew landed.

ROME PLANS BIG WELCOME FOR FLIERS

Old Time Roman Triumphal Celebration To be Staged For General Balbo

Rome, Aug. 10-(AP)-A Roman triumph, a custom not followed for many centuries, will be revived Saturday to give General Italo Balbo and members of his trans-Atlantic squadron a rousing welcome home.

It will have another purpose too to pay tribute to Premier Mussolini as the inspiration of Italy's renaissance in aviation. It will compete in enthusiasm with the reception given the fliers in Chicago and New York and in other places along their route.

General Balbo advised the air ministry today that he plans to bring his armada to Ostia, Rome's new airport, from Lisbon, Portugal, 1,300 miles without stopping.

On their arrival from Ostia General Balbo will be driven through the central passage of the arch of Constantine outside the ancient Coliseum which thousands of American have visited.

Chagrín Falls, O.-(AP)-Year by year a tree in the village park of Chagrín Falls is vindicating the judgment of Henry Church, blacksmith-sculptor, whose carved stone animal figures stood in front of his shop for many years.

Around the tree is an iron ring placed there by Church in 1878, bearing the inscription "Please let me be, upon this tree, until a century I shall see."

Church estimated the size the tree would be in 100 years, and made the ring to fit. The hoop is being filled out gradually.

D. G. MOORE LAID TO REST

Final Rites Conducted From His Late Home Near Greenville Yesterday

Funeral services for D. G. Moore were conducted from his late home on the old Ward Homeplace near Greenville yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock. Rev. W. A. Ryan, pastor of the Eighth Street Christian church was in charge of the final rites.

Mr. Moore, one of the best known farmers of his community, died Tuesday night at 9:30 after an illness of three weeks. He was 65 years of age, the son of the late Stanley and Mrs. Susan Moore.

The final rites were largely attended and the floral tribute expressed in a mute way the high regard in which the deceased was held. Pall bearers were: Harvey Tripp, Ernest Dudley, Luther Moore, Dr. Joe Smith, Ed Ward and Charlie Thigpen.

PRESIDENT OF REPUBLIC GIVES ORDER

Crisis Increased By Conflicting and Unyielding Attitude of Numerous Elements Involved; United States Attempts to Restore Normalcy. Leaders Called Into Conference

Havana, Cuba, Aug. 10-(AP)-A state of war gripped Cuba today with its purpose being peace.

Military forces patrolled the island under the decree of President Machado who said the general strike paralyzing the country and trade has given enemies of the public peace a chance to "create a revolutionary state in the country."

Conflicting and unyielding attitudes of numerous elements involved in the crisis increased the public tension. Machado has been deaf to suggestions that he and his secretary, of state Cressat Ferrer, resign.

The United States Ambassador Sumner Welles moved swiftly in his effort to bring quick fruition to the effort to restore normalcy. Governmental and political leaders were called in conference today to bring the several factions into agreement on some program of solution.

OIL UNPAVED STREETS HERE

City In Midst of General Street Improvement Program At Present

The sprinkling of unpaved city streets with a solution of tar and oil was underway today as the administration made an effort to make living conditions better for residents living off the paved streets.

The improvement program actually got under way several weeks ago and has been expanded until nearly every unpaved street of any importance has been oiled and put in better condition.

Chief of police George Clark, who is in charge of this work, said today that the solution was being used as a disinfectant as well as to allay the dust and smooth the road bed. It is not only improving streets, but killing practically every kind of insect that comes in contact with it.

It is also having an important effect on mosquitoes and recently the Board of Aldermen received a note of appreciation from a citizen thanking the administration for the effort to improve the streets as well as driving out mosquitoes.

Chief Clark said today the streets would be sprinkled with the solution at least three times and that by completion of the program it was expected the streets would be so well packed and smothered that transportation would be greatly improved.

Along with these improvements the city administration announced plans recently for resurfacing some of the worn out pavement in the principal business district. Although this has not materialized, it was stated the State highway commission had the matter under consideration and probably would render a decision sometime in the near future. Road Commissioners have the petition under consideration at this time and intimated they would render a decision as soon as possible.

MAN WHO HELPED JOHNSON BESIEGED BY JOB SEEKERS

Enid, Okla.-(AP)-If J. Y. Callahan of Enid, delegate to congress from old Oklahoma Territory, hadn't appointed Hugh Johnson to West Point in 1897, he might not be flooded with appeals to use his influence with the national recovery administrator to obtain jobs.

Job seekers who knew General Johnson as Callahan's protégé last no time in leaping to the conclusion that Callahan might be able to help them.

BOY PLAYING WITH GUN KILLS LITTLE BROTHER

Reidsville, Aug. 10-The tragedy of carelessness in keeping loaded guns around the house was re-enacted Monday morning about three miles west of Leaksville at the home of Robert Otto when his son, Robert, Jr., 12 years old, shot and instantly killed his 4-year-old brother. The load entered over the child's nose and blew the side of his head off.

It is said that the children were in the habit of playing with the gun which was kept unloaded but Sunday night the father, hearing some noise around the house put a shell in the gun and failed to remove it. Monday morning the 12-year-old boy playfully pointed the gun at his little brother and pulled the trigger was horrified when the weapon was discharged.

TIME FOR FARMERS TO ACT

With the best tobacco crop in this section in years now being harvested growers have every right to expect a good price for their product but the question now is "What will they get?" There has been much stir over the price situation in Georgia and then the first reports from the South Carolina and border markets today do not indicate that this year's crop will bring any fancy prices even though there will be some improvement over last year. Based even on last year's prices, grade for grade, this year's tobacco crop in Pitt County should average around 20 cents but most everybody believes that unless there is some united action by the growers and the government the price will be far less than this figure. If the tobacco farmers ever expect to get a living price out of their crop again they must be willing to join themselves together in a movement for controlled acreage reduction to meet the demands and until this is done they can expect little or no aid from the government and without the government's aid they will continue to be at the mercy of the buying companies. Mass meetings are being held in several places in this section during the balance of this week and growers in every community are urged to take part in these meetings. The meeting here is scheduled for Saturday afternoon and every farmer in this community should attend. There is but little time left now before the opening of the markets in this belt and unless some action is taken immediately, it is the opinion of many that the farmers this year, will again have their crops taken from them at below living prices. In view of this opinion we urge speedy action. One more bad price year and the farmers of this section will be financially beyond any hope of recovery and action is needed now to prevent this coming to pass.

LET'S KEEP GWYNE

(The Pathfinder)
It is more or less generally known that the old time dandies of the South always faced things hopefully, even against the greatest odds. And many of them are still that way. Just the other day some of our Southern friends called to my attention a striking bit of old Southern "dandy" philosophy that we learned in our boyhood days. No advice could be more appropriate just at this time when the whole country is enjoying the first gleaming from those awful four years of depression. It seems that the old dandy whose motto was

The HIDDEN DOOR

By Frank L. Packard

SYNOPSIS: Caught in one of the heavy fogs that infest the Gulf of St. Lawrence, Germaine Tremblay and Colin Hewitt, writer of detective fiction, have gone ashore while on their way from Cap a l'Orage to a sportsmen's club a few miles down the shore. Colin hoped to find Joe Lazzare there, and deliver a mysterious letter to him. Colin realizes suddenly he loves Germaine but says nothing, for his life is in peril from the Mask, New York underworld ruler. Suddenly a heavy body falls nearby, and a string of oaths is heard.

Chapter 16 THE VOICES

Germaine sat bolt upright. Colin felt her hand close tightly over his, then drew quickly away again as she touched the revolver he was holding. "Obviously no acquisition to our party!" he whispered grimly. "Don't make a sound! When I first heard a noise back there in the wood, I thought it was only some animal on the prowl." "What's the matter?" demanded a voice. "I fell over this bloody rock and bashed my leg." "Strike another match. All I'm saying is that you and I made a sweet pair of fools of ourselves in not making back for the club right from the start. I guess I can walk as fast as it will do us any good to go! What do you say, keep along the shore, now that we've found it, until we get to the river? Maybe by that time the fog will have lifted." "All right," agreed the other shortly. "Come on!" Colin's lips were a straight line. Again that night in Butch Connal's room! "W. P." That card he had found in the pocket of the Mask's tool The Mask's "interests" on the north shore here, to which Reddy had referred, seemed to be rather definitely linked up now with Mr. Millionaire Waldrow Kenniston's club! Footsteps crunched upon the sand and died away. Out of the fog, growing fainter in the distance came an occasional curse—the man with the injured leg was evidently making heavy weather of it! And then Germaine spoke. "It would appear that you have located that friend of a friend of yours," she observed dryly. Colin did not answer at once. His brain was racing. Suppose on

"Don't make a sound," Colin whispered grimly.

"Well, never mind—come on!" "Come on nothing!" retorted the injured one furiously. "At least not till I can stand up! Didn't I tell you I'd hurt my leg? It's sore as hell, and I can feel it bleeding." "Let's take a look at it. Here—I'll strike a match." Colin strained his eyes in the direction of the voices. He heard the match being struck, but its flame was almost indiscernible—no more than a pinpoint of light. "We were damn saps not to beat it back for the club at once!" Colin recognized the querulous voice as that of the injured man. "It was a fool stunt to keep on looking for the swine, or any trace of him, in a fog even if Lazzare has got the wind up. And now we're lost ourselves, and have been for God knows how many hours!" Colin, with a quick, low intake of his breath, leaned sharply forward; he sensed rather than saw Germaine stir suddenly at his side. "Maybe we should have headed straight back when the fog first began to settle," the other admitted; "but Lazzare's dead right and you know it. The man, whoever he is, knows too much. He got one look too many before Lazzare fired at him."

"Too bad Lazzare missed," growled the injured one. "or we wouldn't all of us have been hunting our heads off ever since daybreak. And a hot chance we ever had of finding him in this God-forsaken wilderness, anyway!" "Quit your grouching!" snapped the second man. "Hot chance or not, you know only too damned well we couldn't afford to pass it up. I'll admit the chances of getting him are small, but that's so much the worse for us. There's nothing to do now, of course, except to keep on trying to find our way back to the club as soon as you feel like walking again; but there's no use talking about it being Lazzare that's got the wind up any more than the rest of us."

"There's something that seems to be breaking around here lately that you don't like any more than any of us, and it looks as though this bird was in it. You haven't got to be told where we'll get off with W. P. if we don't play our hand right, have you?" "No more than you, blast you!" rasped the man with the injured leg, "keep going, don't give up," rimed it out like this:

"Ef it ran o' ef it blow
Keep uh gwyne.
Ef it sleet or ef it snow,
Keep uh gwyne.
Taint no use to sit an' pine
Ef de fish ain't on de line!
Jes' bait yo hook u-gin an'
Keey uh gwyne."

Simple, but well expressed. If we "keep uh gwyne" we are bound to get out of the mire. So let's all "keep gwyne," folks.

their return to Cap a l'Orage Germaine reported what she had heard? It would be the obvious and natural thing for her to do. She had heard enough to know that the club was nothing but a nest of crooks, and that it existed only for some criminal purpose. A millionaire, and a salmon river on the isolated north shore! He paid a mental tribute to the Mask. The camouflage was magnificent. Yet—but Germaine. If she told? Eventually, of course, the police. But the police were far away. Would the villagers themselves take action under the leadership of whatever local authority existed, or would someone, counting on being well paid for it, take a warning to the club? He did not care what happened finally to the club—or what specifically was going on there—but there was Lazzare. He did not want to see Lazzare in the toils or in flight. His own one chance was an alliance with Lazzare. As it was, the "members" were already alarmed at the presence of the man who had "got one look too many" and that was bad enough from his, Colin's, standpoint without adding anything more to it.

But he could not ask her to remain silent without giving her a reason. There seemed to be only one way out; to tell her as much of the truth as his promise to Reddy would permit. This sailing under false colors with Germaine was becoming unendurable. "Look here!" he said abruptly. "My name's not Howard." (To Be Continued)

*Based on the latest retail registration figures from R. L. Polk & Company (all states for five full months). Since January first Chevrolet has sold in excess of 370,000 passenger cars and trucks.

True enough, it isn't news any more to say that Chevrolet leads the world in automobile sales. People have come to take that for granted. But this year there is an important difference. In the face of the keenest "show-me" market the industry has ever known, Chevrolet has increased its margin of leadership. In fact, according to the latest available figures, Chevrolet alone has sold almost as many cars this year as all the rest of the low-price field combined!

When a car looms above its field like that, there can't be any argument about it. It must be an all-round better buy. And that's exactly what Chevrolet offers you.

The bodies are Fisher bodies, and that's the most famous name in its field. Famous for styling and luxury. Famous for pioneering such revolutionary advancements as the new ventilation system that lets you make your own weather. Famous for using the strongest and quietest body construction of the day—solid steel over a sturdy hardwood frame.* The engine is a valve-in-head six, and that's the same basic design that has been breaking economy and dependability records for year after year. It's Cushion-Balanced to blot out vibration. It's full of snap and vigor. In fact, it has been called the most efficient engine in the low-price field.

Then there's Syncro-Mesh with Silent Second. There's the Starterator. There's Simplified Free Wheeling, the Octane Selector, long, parallel-mounted springs—more advancements than we have space to describe, but all of proven value. What's more, Chevrolet prices start at $445, and no Chevrolet is listed above $565!

Already this year, hundreds of thousands of owners have put this car through every kind of test, driven it millions of miles, and proved that it is right! No other car in the world bears such a recommendation. Don't guess—buy from the leader.

The hostess served a delectable ice course.

Build Up that Skinny Child! Enrich His Impoverished Blood. Sickly, weak, underweight children are usually lacking in rich, red blood. When blood becomes poor, a child becomes rundown. Already weak, he loses appetite, which makes him still weaker. Take no chances on a child gaining strength by himself. Start giving him Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic right away. This famous tonic contains both iron and tasteless quinine. Iron makes for rich, red blood while quinine tends to purify the blood. In other words, you get two effects in Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic. Put your child on this time-proven tonic for a few days and see the difference it makes in him. Good appetite, lots of pep and energy and red roses in his cheeks. Children like Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic and take it eagerly. It is absolutely harmless and has been a reliable family medicine for half a century. Get a bottle today at any store.

RED OAK NEWS. For the first time we are able to report that our Sunday school class is ahead in the contest with the Reed Branch class. We are having one of the most enjoyable contests that we have ever worked in and of course, just because we are ahead at this writing it doesn't mean that we will be ahead when the contest closes Sunday after next. A good sport is one who can be a good loser as well as a winner—and in a contest between two sides one always has to be the loser. So when the final count is made, it matters not who wins, let's be good sports both ways. We had a wonderful class of boys and girls last Sunday—62 in all. We were very glad to have with us Mr. W. J. Bundy of Greenville, who gave us a most interesting talk on "Ruth." We hope that he will visit us again soon.

We used our new song books for the first time last Sunday and we enjoyed them very much. So many people would like to know when our two revivals start. Of course they are like a vacation for us and we are all glad when the time comes for them to start. The one at Piney Grove will be held some time the first of September and the one at Red Oak the latter part of September.

Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Dexter of New London, Conn., are visiting their parents Mr. and Mrs. N. T. Stokes. Mr. and Mrs. Dexter and Mr. and Mrs. Stokes are leaving tomorrow for West Point, Miss., to visit Mr. Dexter's parents.

Misses Margaret Coppage and Mary G. Dinkins of Vanceboro, were week-end guests of Miss Inez Allen.

Thomas Allen went to Wilmington last Sunday.

Mrs. Jim Case has as her guests this week Dot and Jack Fulford of Tarboro.

Ballard's X Road. No service Sunday afternoon. Sunday school at the usual hour. We have greatly missed Mr. Harden the two months that he has been away. Hope earnestly that he will be here to preach for us next Sunday. Again has this community been saddened by death. Mrs. Thomas Hyman, who had suffered from a long and painful illness was called to her heavenly home Friday afternoon at five o'clock. Funeral services were conducted by Mr. Ross of the Primitive Baptist Church. She was buried in the family graveyard near Robersonville.

Mrs. Hyman, who before her marriage was Miss Rillie Briley, had made many friends here. We extend to the bereaved ones our deepest sympathy.

Our roads are being widened and improved otherwise, thereby making our outlook much broader and clearer. It remains for the landowners to set trees, shrubs and flowers along the borders thus converting the unsightly places into vistas of beauty.

Let's do this and while we plant let's put a fruit tree in occasionally for the benefit of the wayfarer.

Mrs. Kendig Wallace and little son Robert, who have been visiting her sister, Mrs. Annie Flanagan, have returned to her home in Baltimore.

Mr. Elbert Tyson Jr., spent the week-end with his uncle, Mr. S. M. Flanagan, near Walstonburg.

Messrs. Harry Worthington and Wilbur Smith spent Sunday in Plymouth.

Mr. Malcolm Sykes who has been here for the summer, has returned to his home near Raleigh.

Miss Verdine Barrow of Arbor, was visiting Mrs. J. H. Wooten Sunday.

Miss Seba Flanagan has returned to the Maryland General Hospital in Baltimore, where she is studying, after a short visit to relatives in Farmville.

Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Pittman and son, Eborn, Jr., were visiting friends here Sunday.

Mr. Henry Oglesby of Winterville, were here Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. Waddell Leggett of Orange, N. J., spent Sunday night with Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Nichols.

Misses Ruth and Katherine Green, Frances Dilda, Emma McArthur, Hazel Wilkerson, Messrs. Stancel Dilda and Robert McArthur went to Bayview Sunday afternoon.

RECOVERY ADMINISTRATION TO TEST ITS STRENGTH. (Continued from page one) weeks is by no means a diplomatic or political illness. He underwent two throat operations in New York, and may have to have another.

Nor can there be much doubt that he has felt somewhat out of place in the treasury, being an industrialist rather than a financier.

Of course, no one knows definitely what may happen, but some of the President's intimates are ready to take a bet that a Woodin resignation is not imminent.

Parisian Pains. President Roosevelt's continued chumminess with the republican insurgents is looked upon by some old line democrats with both surprise and pain.

To take only one example: Secretary Ickes, a Hiram Johnson republican, is discharging government money on a scale never experienced by any democrat.

When Ickes goes home to Illinois where his wife is a republican member of the legislature, he personally to many people the Roosevelt regime in Washington.

Some Illinois democrats are asking how they can be expected to maintain a strong party organization in the state under an arrangement like that.

But the President is not disturbed. What he manifestly is fostering in states like Illinois is an "administration party" without too much regard for the old labels.

DRINKING VOLUNTEERS WILL RECEIVE NO PAY. Kinston, Aug. 10.—Firemen who get drunk on the job here will get no pay if recommendations of the police and fire commissioner are accepted by the city council. Proposing changes in the scale of pay for volunteers who help to man a part of the apparatus, he said volunteers had been known to drink liquor while fighting flames. A volunteer gets about $1 an hour while serving the department.

The commissioner proposed that pay be withheld from a volunteer getting drunk while on duty and that a regular who drink on the job be suspended for 30 days and discharged for a second offense.

New Use For Depots. Madison, Ind.—(AP)—Madison has found a new use for abandoned rail road stations. Civic leaders are dealing with officials for the abandoned Pennsylvania station here, which they propose to turn into a community center. The adjacent grounds are to be landscaped and turned into a playground.

Miss Doris Nichols spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Joyner.

Misses Hazel Wilkerson and Earma McArthur and Mr. and Mrs. Mack Smith were the dinner guests of Miss Frances Dilda Wednesday evening.

DISCUSS CRIME CAMPAIGN

A series of conferences called by Raymond Moley to seek ways of unifying federal and state activities opened the government's anti-crime campaign. Moley (right), appointed by President Roosevelt to investigate the crime situation, started his new duties by conferring at the state department with Joseph B. Keenan (left), special assistant to the attorney general in charge of anti-racketeering efforts, and William Stanley (center), first assistant attorney general. (Associated Press Photo)

NEW FERRY WILL BE IN OPERATION SOON

Elizabeth City Aug. 10.—Operation of the Eco short line ferry between Pasquotank and Perrell counties will probably get under way by the last part of this month, George G. Dodge, sponsor of the ferry said today.

The ferry will operate across the Albemarle sound from a point near Weeksville, on the Pasquotank side to a spot within a bout four miles from Columbia, the county seat of Tyrrell. It will reduce the route between Elizabeth City and Columbia from 126 miles by land around by Williamston and through Edenton to about 28 miles, 10 of which are across the sound on the ferry. The ferry will cross the sound in an hour.

KINSTON MERCHANTS APPEAL TO JOHNSON

Kinston, Aug. 10.—(AP)—A group of Kinston merchants telegraphed General Hugh S. Johnson, recovery administrator, yesterday urging immediate action to compel their competitors to operate under the mercantile code.

"Many Kinston merchants do not display insignia and refuse to cooperate," the telegram said, adding "it is impossible to continue unless some action is taken forcing our competitors in line. May we have some action at once."

U. S. AGENT CALLS FOR THOROUGH PLOWING

Fayetteville, Aug. 10.—More than half of the growers who have plowed up their cotton in this county under terms of contract with the government have done a poor job of the plowing, according to N. B. Stevens, county farm agent. He warned farmers to make a thorough job of it before the acreage is inspected by an outside inspector.

"Local commitment have been instructed to fill out no certificates until destruction has been completely accomplished," said Mr. Stevens.

ROBESON TAX RATE SET AT SIXTY CENTS

Lumberton, Aug. 10.—The Tax rate of Robeson county was fixed here Tuesday at 60 cents on the $100 valuation, which is a reduction of 10 cents over the rate for the past year. This comes on top of a horizontal cut of 10 per cent in valuation a $2,000,000 property loss and a loss of $300,000 in valuation brought by equalization. Township road taxes are to be added to the county-wide levy. Twenty-three of the 27 townships have such rates.

SOUTHERN PINES VOTES SCHOOL SUPPLEMENT

Southern Pines, Aug. 10.—(AP)—By a vote of 523 against a registration of 674, the town of Southern Pines today voted to supplement teachers' salaries and provide a nine months school term. It became the second town in the state to do so, Durham having approved a like proposal yesterday.

The special district tax rate is expected not to exceed 30 cents on the hundred dollars valuation. A heated campaign preceded the election.

Husband Pleased After Wife Lost BULKY FAT

Reduced 21 Pounds—Skin Clearer and Feels Much Better

"I've lost exactly 21 lbs. with 3 jars of Kruschen and am so happy to get rid of that bulky fat. My husband is very pleased with me. My skin is clearer and I feel so much better since I'm not so heavy on my feet. Friends say I look much better." Mrs. Norma Spickler, Maugansville, Md.

To get rid of double chins, bulging hips, ugly rolls of fat on-waist and upper arms SAFELY and without discomfort—at the same time build up glorious health and acquire a clear skin, bright eyes, energy and vivaciousness—to look younger and feel it—take a half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water every morning before breakfast.

One jar lasts 4 weeks and costs but a trifle at Pitt Drug Co. or any store the world over. Make sure you get Kruschen because it's SAFE. Money back if not satisfied. —(Adv.)

Reach for a Lucky —for always Luckies Please!

A woman's reason for liking a man's cigarette

Maybe you'll think I'm a bit inconsistent. Most things I'm fond of are really quite feminine... dainty, frilly frocks—delicate desserts—yes, and delicate compliments, too. To me my cigarette is a personal thing—it touches my lips—so give me one with real character. For some reason or other, I find that whenever I reach for a Lucky, always "Luckies Please". They're as mild and pure as can be—I wonder if "Toasting" isn't the reason after all because "It's toasted"

LOCALS TRIM SNOW HILL TO TUNE OF 11-1

By R. O. MOYE, (Official Scorekeeper)

Greenville yesterday afternoon rounced away with Snow Hill by the score of 11-1, behind the superb pitching of Bob Forbes, local boy. Needless to say Bob had the Greene county lads eating out of his hand the entire game and pitched a brand of ball that would be hard to beat. Bob struck out two men, allowed three passes to first and allowed only six hits, which were so well scattered that only one run was scored against the locals and this was in the 8th frame when they managed to collect two hits.

Then besides the fine pitching of Bob it is mighty hard to stop the old Greenville lads when once they get to hitting. Yesterday seemed to be one of their hitting days and they collected a total of 13 hits off Sively and Biddle. Miller led the locals attack with two singles and a double. Bostic also got a double and a triple. Dean a double and a single and Rogers two singles.

Sively who started pitching for the Greene county lads did not strike out a single man, in fact not a Greenville man struck out yesterday. Snow Hill made two pretty double plays during the game. In the first inning the play was Mewborn to Pittman, and in the third inning Bunting to Mewborn to Pittman featured the second double play. Vick, third baseman, made a beautiful catch in the 8th inning and robbed Roger Taylor out of a good hit. Fulghum, right fielder for Snow Hill, led their attack getting two singles out of two trips to the plate.

New York Cotton

New York, Aug. 10.—(AP)—Cotton futures opened easy eight to 14 points decline in response to lower Liverpool cables and under liquidation.

Trading was active at the start with the south selling a little here but after the initial offerings had been absorbed on the decline to 10.04 far December prices turned steady.

Trading was comparatively quiet toward the end of the first half hour. The market was quiet but generally steady later in the morning on continued trade, New Orleans and scattered local commission house buying.

Offerings continued light but after working up to 10.22 for December or about 5 points above yesterday's closing, the market encountered a little more cotton and reacted several points from the best under liquidation and selling. At midday December was ruling around 10.15 with active months showing losses of one to three. Futures closed steady 18 to 22 lower, spots quiet middling 9.65.

Stock Market

New York, Aug 10.—(AP)—Stocks hesitated somewhat today after an early display of buoyancy and forenoon gains of one to three or more points were either shaded or replaced with small losses.

Trading was quite brisk in the morning but the volume dwindled as prices began to slip.

Profit taking was fairly well absorbed. The slowdown followed publication of the U. S. Steel corporation's backlog which disclosed July recession of a trifle larger than expected.

Although the harvesting of the tobacco crop has required the undivided attention of the majority of growers, the farm director said about sixty per cent of the signers of the government cotton contract had plowed up the staple, and that the remainder were expected to do so in the near future, or as soon as they can get their tobacco crop in the house.

Under the federal control plan, Pitt county growers agreed to take approximately 5,000 acres of cotton out of production, or the equivalent of 3,000 bales. The county was one of several of the state to receive honorable mention for the fine cooperation on the job of the campaign.

It is the object of the campaign to take over three millions bales out of cultivation thereby relieving the congestion of the world market and stimulating the price situation. Prices jumped considerably at the

It's a big, extra sturdy tire... specially processed to give unbelievably long wear. And at $4.65, it sets a record for value—even today when prices are so low.

Why shop around for rock bottom prices? Why risk cheap "bargain built" tires in order to save money? Everything you could ask for in an AA quality tire is right here in this Goodrich Cavalier.

Come in and see it. Prove it yourself that here is the tire you've been wishing for... and at a price you like to pay.
