NRA REACHES TERMS WITH AUTOMOTIVE TRADE

Open Shop Plan Is Accepted By Auto Spokesmen

FIRST CHANGE IN BARGAINING CLAUSE OF ACT

Law Provides For Collective Bargaining of Employees Without Restraint on Rights of Representation; Additional Modification Drafted at Early Morning Conference

Washington, Aug. 17.—(AP)—An agreement between the automobile industry and the NRA upon the open shop provision of the industry code was reached today with spokesmen for manufacturers accepting modifications proposed by Robert W. Lee, deputy administrator.

The change which officials indicated represented views of Hugh S. Johnson, the administrator, was the first modification of the collective bargaining water clause of the industry code which has been written in co-operation with the NRA.

The law as written provides for organization and collective bargaining of employees with no restraint upon the right of representation they might select. This additional modification written in today after a conference follows:

"Under the foregoing provision the employers in the industry may continue the open shop policy under which selection, retention and advancement of employees will be on the basis of individual merit without regard for affiliation or non-affiliation with any labor or any other organization."

Cotton Jumps $2.50 A Bale In New Orleans

New Orleans, Aug. 17.—(AP)—Cotton staged a spectacular comeback here today rallying $2.50 a bale above yesterday's closing figures.

An active demand stimulated by a rally in grain and inflation talk in Washington was the incentive.

START DRIVE ON RANK WEEDS

Ten Day Campaign Expected to Result in Elimination of All Weeds of City

A campaign to destroy rank growth of weeds throughout the city got under way here today with a declaration by the Department of Sanitation that it hoped to have the city cleaned up in the next ten days.

Chief of Police George Clark, who is in charge of the phase of activity called on the public to co-operate with the city in its effort to destroy weeds on all properties.

There is a law requiring the cutting down of unsightly weeds at this season of the year and the administration will use this if necessary to clean up the city.

Commenting on the unsightly weeds growing on numbers of lots, Mr. Clark said they not only afforded a breeding place for mosquitoes but were eye sores to those appreciating the efforts of authorities to make the city look as good as possible at all times.

Persons who have weeds on their premises are urged to get busy at once and cut them down and in this way co-operate with the city in its effort to improve sanitary conditions as well as to remove unsightly spots.

INSTANTLY KILLED AS CAR RUNS INTO BRIDGE

Edenton, Aug. 17.—Mrs. Joel Bunch, 52 of the Center Hill section near here, was killed instantly yesterday afternoon when the car in which she was riding struck the railing of a highway bridge on the Virginia road near here.

The car was driven by Herman Copeland, Edenton mail carrier who with Mrs. Bunch's small daughter Viola were the only other passengers in the car. Neither Copeland nor the little girl was hurt. Copeland said that just as he neared the bridge an oncoming car crowded him off the road and sent him crashing into the railing. The car was badly damaged.

Copeland told physicians Mrs. Bunch was dead when he got out of the wreckage. Physicians said death was caused by internal injuries. Superficial examination revealed only one cut on her temple.

Mrs. Bunch was the mother of J. W. and L. C. Bunch of Greenville who left immediately upon receipt of information of the tragedy to attend the funeral.

RIDES MULE 30 YEARS NEVER HAD A WRECK

Elkin, Aug. 17.—(AP)—Rev. J. W. Bryant, Baptist minister of Elkin, still rides a mule to serve the churches on his circuit just as he did when he entered the ministry 30 years ago.

He has never aspired to the ownership of an automobile, his preference always being the faithful mule in fair weather or foul.

Bryant is seen regularly on his way to fill appointments astride his mule—Bible under his arm, umbrella across saddle. In rain or sweltering sun the umbrella always is stretched over him.

He is 62 years old.

Big Business' Labor Views, Little Merchant's Slim Purse Give NRA Its Biggest Worry

By BYRON PRICE
(Chief of Bureau, The Associated Press, Washington)

Two features of the NRA campaign are giving officials more concern than all of the others put together.

One is the attitude of certain big business interests toward organized labor. The other is the complaint of many small merchants that they simply haven't the money to expand employment.

If these two obstacles could be swept away, the recovery administration would be really happy. It has other troubles, naturally, but it seems quite serene about them.

It shows no great worry, for instance at reports that some employers have signed the code and then restricted operations, or doubled up jobs, so as to preclude the necessity of new employment.

Animals Caught on Streets Will be Slain; Mad Dog Killed Tuesday

"Dog days" are here and along with them came a warning from police authorities today that they would shoot every dog caught on the streets of the city.

The ultimatum came from Chief of Police George Clark this morning following the slaying of a rabid dog in the western section of the city Tuesday night. Although the animal caused considerable fright in the neighborhood where he was killed, it was stated he did not do any damage.

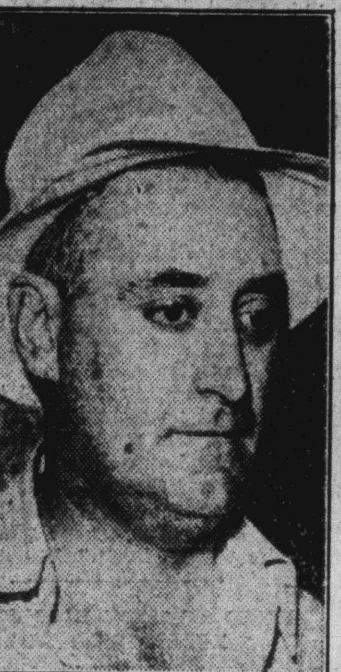

Scores of dogs were slain here last spring after mad animals had bitten three or four persons, resulting in the death of a child, but police for the last two or three months were more lenient and permitted dogs to go on the streets.

Chief Clark said this morning that the coming of "dog days" had made the rabid dog situation more serious and that his department was forced to act for the protection of public life.

Dogs running the streets should be muzzled and chained. Owners who fail to provide this protection for the public need not be surprised if their dogs are slain when caught on the street.

The police head said reports of mad dogs had been received from surrounding communities the last two weeks and it was imperative that his department take action immediately before rabid animals cause additional loss of life here.

Gang Leader Held

Harvey Bailey, notorious gunman, was arrested in a farm cabin near Paradise, Tex. Among other crimes Bailey is charged with the Kansas City massacre last June and the kidnaping of Charles Urschel of Oklahoma City. (Associated Press Photo)

PLACE QUAIL IN PITT COUNTY

State Distributes Birds Here For The Purpose of Increasing Game Supply

State distribution of quail to increase the rapidly diminishing game supply in various sections of the Commonwealth was announced today by Charles J. Moore, assistant State Game Warden.

Mr. Moore was in Pitt county today distributing quail for propagation purposes and stated it was hoped to greatly increase the supply of game through this method.

He also left sixteen of these birds with Baker and Davis Hardware Co. and they will be on display in the window of their Evans street store. After displaying the birds there they will be distributed to sportsmen in this county to be placed on land where they will be protected for at least this season.

These quail, Mr. Moore said, were hatched and raised at the State Game farm in Asheboro. Several thousand young quail have been distributed throughout the state this season by the Department of Conservation and Development, division of Game and Inland Fish.

PRESS FIGHT ON DOGS HERE

TO DISCUSS TRUCK CODE

Bailey Groome of State Truck Owners Association to Speak Here

Bailey Groome executive secretary of the North Carolina Truck Owners Association has advised R. E. Ricks that he is going to be in Greenville Friday night to make a talk on the NRA code as it pertains to the trucking interests. Mr. Ricks has endeavored to get in touch with all of the operators of for hire trucks in this section of the State and has stated that he would like to have every operator or owner come to his office at 8 o'clock Friday night to hear Mr. Groome. Malcolm Miller, deputy administrator of the National Recovery Administration, has indicated that the attitude of the government is that any code submitted to govern highway freight transportation must be broad enough to include not only the common carrier and contract carrier but privately owned truck. Mr. Ricks states that certain points of necessity for the complete understanding of the code will be explained by Mr. Groome.

CALL MEETING OFF FARM BOARD

Agricultural Department to Hear John Thorne at Meeting Saturday

A meeting of the Pitt County Board of Agriculture was called today for Saturday morning at 10 o'clock to discuss the proposed reduction of next year's bright leaf tobacco crop in keeping with plans of the government to curtail production and obtain better prices for the thousands of growers of the nation.

Notice of the meeting was given out this morning by E. F. Arnold, director of the Department of Agriculture.

John T. Thorne of Farmville, state tobacco representative who recently attended a meeting of tobacco growers and of the tobacco division of the United States Department of Agriculture at Washington, will attend the meeting here and discuss the proposed reduction movement with the farm department.

J. E. Winslow, president of the Pitt County Department of Agriculture, recently designated the board to represent the growers in working with Mr. Thorne, who was named by A. B. Hutson, United States tobacco administrator, as a member of the state committee.

The state committee will continue to function, it was said, and probably will be called in by the federal tobacco administrator from time to time as plans for the reduction program are formulated.

J. C. Lanier, of Greenville, who is a contract expert in the tobacco division of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, spoke here last Saturday, and told of a plan being considered by the government for paying the farmers to reduce next year's crop and a processing of three cents on domestic tobacco.

Resolutions were adopted at the meeting asking the government for a plan similar to that governing wheat and cotton growers. A tobacco licensing system was also proposed.

SHOCK KILLS LINEMAN HERE

Jimmie Harden Electrocutted While Rebuilding Power Line Near Greenville

Jimmie Harden, about 30 years of age, lineman of the Greenville Water & Light Commission, was killed instantly today when he came in contact with a high tension wire on the Greenville-Farmville highway, about 7 miles from Greenville.

Harden was a member of a construction crew rebuilding a power line from Greenville to Ballard's Cross Roads and was working up a pole when the accident occurred.

His foot was said to have been on a ground wire when his arm came in contact with the high power wire, causing 6600 volts of electricity to course through his body producing instantaneous death.

Strapped to the pole with a safety belt, Harden did not fall off when the shock occurred and workmen had to go up the pole to bring his body down.

Harden had been living in Greenville about four years and had been in employ of the power department since that time. It was not known at the department's office today what section of the county he came from. Funeral arrangements were held up because of the absence of his wife and three children who were visiting relatives in an unknown part of the state.

Representatives of the power company were making an effort to get in touch with Mrs. Harden this afternoon, and pending her arrival the body was being held at the Williams Funeral Home.

The accident occurred about 11 o'clock and the body was rushed to the hospital here where it was said death was instantaneous.

SUICIDE IN MURDER CASE

Sister of Girl Questioned in Death of Dr. Gaines in Spokane, Kills Herself

Spokane, Washington, Aug. 17.—(AP)—Another death, an apparent suicide, today added tragedy to mysterious shooting of Dr. J. I. Gaines, 41, year old Spokane sportsman and bloodless practitioner.

The body of Miss Auline Kelly, 36, of Los Angeles, whose sister, Kathleen, was Doctor Gaines' office girl, was found in the home of her brother last night. The coroner said she had poisoned herself.

Police expressed belief that publicity given her sister in connection with the investigation of the death of Dr. Gaines may have added to the despondency to which her relatives said she was subject.

They said no apparent direct connection between the probe and her death.

Meanwhile, authorities held an attractive young woman whose name they have not revealed, who Dr. left ten minutes before he was found dead, after he stepped from his car at his home Tuesday morning.

Floater's Called Health Menace

Iowa City, Iowa, Aug. 17.—(AP)—Hitch-hikers and "floaters" roaming about the country, living as best they may, menace the nation's health, says Dr. Milford E. Barne, University of Iowa health director.

May Play Big Part In Plans Of New Regime

FLOOD CLAIMS 50,000 LIVES

Thousands Made Homeless as Yellow River Goes on Rampage in China

Hankow, Aug. 17.—(AP)—Widespread floods of the Yellow river in northern China were said today to have caused 50,000 deaths in the last few days.

Officials of the Kinkow-Hankow Railway in giving this estimate said many undoubtedly had perished since the dykes began breaking over a wide area this month but that the complete total probably will never be known.

To add to the misfortune of the destitute population bandits have appeared and are plundering towns and villages.

Dozens of towns and villages were destroyed today as flood water moved lower toward the river mouth. Thousands were made homeless. Many were clinging to tree tops when the dykes broke and swept them to death.

TWO STAND OUT AS BIG POSSIBILITY

Former President Menocal and Col. Carlos Mendieta Return From Exile in U. S.; Both Predicted That Change Would Soon Take Place in Fatherland; Other Exiles Returning

Havana, Cuba, Aug. 17.—(AP)—Cuba awaited today the return from exile of former President Mario G. Menocal and Colonel Carlos Mendieta and wondered what part they will play in reorganization plans of the new provisional government.

Qualified observers profess to see the possibility that the two former leaders against the overthrow regime of Fernando Machado might ride back into favor and take an important part in President de Cespedes' administration and help to solve the political and economic issues borne out of last week's revolution.

Colonel Mendieta, one time congressman and newspaper editor (L'Heraldo) who first took up arms in 1906 and since has been linked with revolutionary activity, went to Florida February 18 remarking that "liberty is fresh in Cuba."

General Menocal has been in the United States more than a year during which time he has directed activities of the revolution juts.

As early as February he declared "The time is at hand" for the revolution that came last Saturday when Machado and several of his followers in their turn became exiles.

Meanwhile as the exiles returned or prepared to come back to the fatherland that has seen many changes in the last few days, there were others of opposite faith prepared to return.

YOUTHS GO TO REFORMATORY

Negro Boys, Held For Robbery, Confined in Correction Institution

Two negro youths who were jailed Tuesday for breaking into Leggett-Myers tobacco Company plant here last Sunday and obtaining a supply of smoking tobacco, have been sentenced to serve three years in a reformatory, while a third was placed in custody of a farmer to serve for a period of five years, or until there is a pronounced improvement in character.

The case was disposed of yesterday by J. Frank Harrington, Judge of Juvenile court, and the three boys were immediately dispatched to their new homes.

The youths, Harvey McCoy, James McCoy and Edward Richardson, each about ten years of age, were taken into custody by police here Tuesday after employees of the tobacco company had reported the robbery. Because of their age they were turned over to the Juvenile court for action.

Breaking through a window, the youths entered the storage room of the plant and obtained smoking tobacco and papers valued at around $4. They confessed the crime immediately after their arrest.

The McCoy boys were sent to the Hoffman reformatory for colored people near Hamlet, and Richardson was turned over to a farmer to keep until all criminal tendencies definitely disappear.

JOHN FACTOR UNDER GUARD

Chicago Millionaire Protected From Vengeance of Kidnappers

Chicago, August 17.—(AP)—A heavy guard protected John Factor, millionaire market plunger, today from the vengeance of his involuntary part in police efforts to entrap his kidnapers which failed.

Meanwhile, sixty selected Chicago officers armed with commissions to make their search an interstate affair, scoured the Wisconsin resort region—haunt of the Toohy gang, for trace of the extortionists who stepped out of their dragnet near suburban LaGrange Tuesday.

A death threat by telephone to the speculator who already has reportedly paid more than $100,000 to kidnapers who seized his son, Jerome.

"I was reluctant to assist the police," Factor said, "referring to activities in the kidnaping. Now they have failed and I'm left out on a limb, considered by the kidnapers to have broken my word to pay off the balance of the ransom now due."

While Factor, patently frightened in his hotel apartment by the turn of events after the failure of 390 police, aided by airplanes and elaborate planning, the Wisconsin search proceeded with the aid of local authorities.

U. S. Plans To Aid In Cuba's Reconstruction

(By The Associated Press)

Rehabilitation of Cuba, now that Dr. Carlos Manuel de Cespedes has become provisional president in succession to the ousted Gerardo Machado, is engaging the attention of American officials at Washington.

Plans are being laid for a trade agreement affecting particularly sugar, the true "bread crop" of the island, for the refinancing of the Cuban national debt and for a "back-to-the-land" movement.

The whole economic structure of the one-crop country may be headed into a new path, for reconstruction of the political structure and repair of the damage wrought by mob fury in Havana constitute but one phase of the problem which the de Cespedes administration faces.

American direct investments in Cuba are larger than in any other country except Canada, amounting to about $600,000,000 in 1930, according to government financial experts.

The value of American investments in the Cuban sugar industry, which has been in a desperate plight owing to low prices, was figured at $540,000,000.

Communication and transportation systems are second among American investments in Cuba in the amount of capital involved, the railroads aggregating some $217,000,000.

HAND TO HAND COMBAT IN NEW YORK MILK WAR

Here's a scene from one of the many battles brought on by the efforts of striking New York farmers to prevent milk from reaching market. This episode took place near Rochester when a crowd of striking milk producers disarmed guards protecting a barn and trucks. The strikers, armed with clubs, dumped the milk and wrecked the trucks. U. S. PLANS TO AID IN CUBA'S RECONSTRUCTION

This year has been the tenth for economic contraction for Cuba, with conditions growing rapidly worse in the last 18 months. Principal causes were the low prices for sugar, the greatly reduced demand for cigars and tobacco products, and slow markets for fruits and vegetables.

As government revenues from customs and taxes fell short of expectations, taxes and tariffs were boosted. Political sentiment was highly disturbed and acted as a deterrent to commercial activity.

Cuban foreign trade declined in 1932 to an estimated $110,000,000 of which $61,300,000 consisted of exports and $48,700,000 of imports. This represented a decrease of 48 per cent in value from the 1931 level or exports and 82.7 per cent under the exports of 1925.

Cuban trade with the United States, which has been in proportion with the total trade decreases. In 1925 the United States bought $264,000,000 worth of Cuban products, principally sugar. In 1932 Cuban exports to this country were valued at only $57,482,000 while in the first quarter of 1933 the decline continued.

The United States is the big consumer of Cuban sugar.

Among the suggested approaches to solution of the sugar problem have been a straight reduction of the American tariff on the Cuban product and the allotment of a quota to come into the United States under a preferential greater than that of 20 per cent which is now effective by virtue of reciprocal treaty.

BIG BUSINESS LABOR VIEWS, MERCHANT'S SLIM PURSE NAR BIG WORRY

Mr. Roosevelt had another idea. He put in several clauses which would strengthen the part the government was to play, and also would give a larger voice to labor.

It surprised many industrialists when the administration began saying "No" to so many things industry wrote into its codes. Probably ably 90 per cent of these "noes" had to do with wages and hours of labor, and to the relations between capital and labor.

Today dozens of codes are held up because big employers think labor is getting too much, and the government is going too far toward writing the labor clauses itself. The problem is not an easy one.

The question of the small merchant, standing at the other end of the industrial scale, is just as troublesome in the aggregate because so many people and so many communities are involved.

It causes much heavy thinking when a store-keeper writes in, as one of them did, and says: "I want to go along with the President, but what am I to use for money?"

Many are protesting that they just are able to make a living, and pay the salaries of their five or six employees; and if they are compelled now to put one or two more on the payroll, it will push them over the margin that now separates them from bankruptcy.

That is one of the reasons why Washington has put much emphasis recently on the need for loosening up credit facilities. Officials believe many such small employers would be willing to make increased payroll expenditures, in the nature of a capita investment, if they could get the capital.

For the moment the NRA is able to suggest no other answer, except to say that in any great enterprise of this kind some injustices are inevitable and that the whole experiment can succeed only if the big and little employers are willing to "hire until it hurts."

FRIED PUMPKIN BLOSSOMS RURAL MISSOURI TIDBIT

King City, Mo., Aug. 17.—(AP)—Pumpkin pie, favorite autumn dessert, has a summer forerunner in this part of the country—fried pumpkin blossoms.

After being gathered from the vine, the large, yellow blossoms are dropped for a few minutes into salt water. Then they are dipped into a batter made of milk, flour, egg, a pinch of salt, and sugar.

The blossoms, covered with the batter, are placed in a hot skillet greased with butter, and cooked until crisp and brown.

MERCHANT ELECTED MAYOR; UNABLE TO COLLECT BILL

Compton, Cal., Aug. 17.—(AP)—Clifton S. Smith has learned there are certain disadvantages in holding down the job as mayor. During the earthquake emergency in March Smith supplied merchandise valued at $17 to workers. Like other business men of Compton he presented his claim to the city.

Before it was approved Smith was elected mayor. Now he finds he cannot do business with the city as a city official and will be unable to collect the $17.

JOIN THE ANTI-FIRE ARMY

The greatest tragedy of fire is seldom seen. It doesn't lie in destroyed homes and industries and farms—tragic as these are. It is in their results—in the long chain of misfortunes that follow every fire, great or small.

It is in lost jobs and opportunities—things you can't measure in dollars and cents. It is in destroyed purchasing power—something you can't see in the smoldering embers. It is in higher insurance rates, which are an unnecessary burden on every resident of the community.

For the indirect costs of fire are always infinitely greater than the direct costs. If we destroy half a billion dollars a year directly, we destroy twice or thrice that indirectly. Those are the costs that no insurance policy can cover. Insurance, vital as it is, must necessarily deal with the concrete, the tangible—there is no form of protection that will compensate for the intangible values that are still more important.

During the past three years the tragedy of fire has become even more intense than it was before. During those years there has been a crying need for jobs, payrolls, operating industries. And fire was always their enemy. It robbed the nation of thousands of jobs. It destroyed immeasurable opportunities. It stole the livelihood of families. It was the friend of hard times, the enemy of recovery.

It is never too late to enlist in a good cause. There is a growing army which is determined to stamp out the causes of fire, so far as that is possible. Its duties are not onerous—they consist simply of inspecting one's property, of constantly keeping at it to make sure that hazards are eliminated and do not reappear. You, as an individual and a member of society, are needed in that army.

HORISON SLATED FOR GUARANTY BANK JOB

Wilmington, Aug. 17.—It was learned here yesterday that Harman C. Horison, liquidating agent of the local branch of the North Carolina Bank and Trust company, will hold a high office in the local unit when it becomes a branch of the Guaranty National bank.

N. L. Foy, member of the general board of directors of the Guaranty bank, made announcement to this effect on his return from Greensboro, where he attended a meeting of the board.

The HIDDEN DOOR By Frank L. Packard

Synopsis: Colin Hewitt has borrowed Germaine Tremblay's boat, in which he is on his way to the "club" a short distance down the St. Lawrence. He must warn Joe Lazarre that Captain Dollaire's men plan a hi-jacking expedition; he must also deliver a mysterious letter to Lazarre if possible. Lazarre and the rest of the gang at the club are in the pay of the Mask New York killer, and Colin's life is in peril from the Mask. Colin hopes to make an ally of Lazarre. And then Colin finds Germaine hidden in the boat!

Chapter 22 GERMAINE'S COURAGE He was holding her close to him as they stood there together in the boat, her face hidden now on his shoulder, his fingers playing with strands of her hair, soft gold in the moonlight, brushing them back from her forehead. "Thank God for you and your love, Germaine," he said brokenly "but you should never have done this. What did you expect to do—hole!"

"I came because I was afraid."

"I don't know," she answered. "I hoped with all my soul that there would be no need to do anything. But I—I was afraid." "Afraid? And yet you came?" "I came because I was afraid," she whispered. "You were alone—"

"And all this time you have been cramped up in that stuffy little hole!" "You would have turned back if you had known," she said. "I knew that. But you could not afford to turn back. Oh—Colin!" "It was the first time she had ever called him Colin. And now the name had come shily as her arms had tightened around his neck. "Yes"—he laid his cheek against hers—"but still—" "After what you told me last night," she interrupted quickly. "I realized what all this meant; what it means now to—both of us to get in touch with this man Lazarre, and I know that tonight he must be told about Dollaire. Well, you are here now, and it is too late to turn back!" "How did you manage this?" he demanded. "In collusion with Jacques, I suppose?" "Oh, Mr. Detective Wrighter—there was suddenly a trickle of laughter in her voice—"where is your imagination? When I went into the house, I went at once to the kitchen to Antoinette and Jacques. And I said: Mr. Howard will use the launch this evening. He wanted me to go with him but—I of course, I had to tell a little fib—'I am too tired, and I am going straight to bed. I think it would be very nice, Antoinette, if you would

I would probably be asked to test me would be why I did not bring help with me from Cap a l'Orange? You see?

"And if I admit I knew them to be crooks, I am likely to find myself in an exceedingly awkward position. Who is Mr. Donald Howard, one time of Boston and now of Cap a l'Orange? I could explain all this to Lazarre, and leave it to him to make what explanation he saw fit to the others, if I had the luck to run into him first off, but—well, there's the 'but'."

"The vital thing is that, for Lazarre's sake, a warning has got to be given. What they'll do then, I don't know. They may cut and run for it; on the other hand, and which is much more likely, knowing them for what they are, they'll probably fight it out—in which case Lazarre is as likely to get his as anyone else. But before that I've got to get Lazarre sorted out from the rest of them some way or other, and some way or other manage to get word with him in private I'll have to be guided by circumstances, that's all."

"Much too complicated," she said a little anxiously. "But why did you land so far away from the club? I am sure you could have gone almost right up to the club itself. Shall we do so now? You won't have so far to walk."

"And run the chance of you being seen! Not much!" He ejaculated decisively. "I don't go any farther because I was afraid of running into fast water. As it is, I thank my stars now that I landed where I did. Just the nicest kind of back shadows here against the bank! I couldn't have chosen a better hiding place for the boat—and you."

"Very well," she agreed. "Perhaps that's so. I am to be boat tender then?" "You are," he stated promptly. "And you're not to leave it. I'm the skipper tonight, and those are orders. I won't be away a moment longer than I can help. I shan't stay for the show, of course"—he laughed lightly—"now that you're here. Whatever else I do, I've got to get you out of this before the fireworks start."

"Yes," she said quietly, "that's another reason why I came."

It was an instant before he grasped her meaning, and staring at her understood why her eyes were wet again. (To Be Continued)

GROWERS ASK PRODUCTION PLAN FOR TOBACCO

A production adjustment program for the fine-cured tobacco growing industry with a processing tax to pay cash benefits to growers who co-operate, was recommended Tuesday to the Agricultural Adjustment Administration by an advisory committee of fine-cured tobacco growers representing North Carolina, South Carolina, Virginia and Georgia.

The committee met Monday and Tuesday with Chester C. Davis, director of production; J. B. Hutson, chief of the tobacco section; and J. C. Lanier, expert in charge of tobacco processing and marketing.

The committee asserted that prices now being paid for the better grades of fine-cured tobacco are considerably lower than parity prices for these grades. The committee recommended that the tobacco section of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration continue its efforts to reach an agreement with buyers to bring growers parity prices for these grades.

The committee recommended that the secretary of agriculture put into effect as soon as possible, a processing tax on fine-cured tobacco. Such a tax could be levied up to 3.7 cents per pound. This processing tax, the committee said, should be used to pay cash benefits to farmers for reducing production of fine cured tobacco in 1934 and 1935 under plans to be worked out by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

The members of the committee are G. M. Pate of Rowland, N. C.; John T. Thorne of Farmville, N. C.; L. M. Lawson of Darlington, S. C.; J. Hurt Whitehead of Chatham, Va.; Charles H. Cannon of Moultrie, Ga.; E. S. Webb of Hahira, Ga.; Horner S. Durden of Swainsboro, Ga.

Mr. Davis, Mr. Hutson and Mr. Lanier took the committee's recommendations under consideration.

Reedy Branch News

We were very glad to have Judge and Mrs. Dink James with our Sunday school last Sunday. Mr. James gave a wonderful explanation of the lesson about Hannah. His subject was "The hand that rocks the cradle is the hand that rules the world." I am sure everyone enjoyed his talk and we extend to them a welcome to be with us again.

Mr. E. D. Griffin of the Free Will Baptist Sunday school of Greenville will be with us next Sunday. Everybody try to come and be on time. This will be the last Sunday of the contest. It looks like Red Oak knew what they were doing when they challenged us. They are in the lead and looks like they will be the winner. We are glad for them—one side has to lose, so if it be us we will give a cheer for Red Oak.

My Beauty Hint

By DOROTHY LEE
(Artist's Model)
Early to bed and no, too early to rise is about the best beauty prescription I can offer. No girl can look fresh under a coat of paint when she is tired. A normal routine of living, including wholesome foods, fresh air and just enough exercise—these things are better for beauty than the preparations that come out of jars.

There may be real individuality in the subtle line of an eyebrow, in its relation to the entire facial "ensemble."

Plucking the brow requires skill. If the beauty-seeker is not sure she has this artistic touch, she would do well to seek an expert. Intriguing eyebrows are essential to a well groomed appearance.

WAREHOUSEMEN ADOPT CODE OF FAIR PRACTICE

Mullins, S. C., Aug. 17—The South Carolina Belt Warehouse Association is cooperating with the National Government in the reemployment drive under the National Recovery Act. All tobacco warehouses in the belt that are members of the association now have increased wages considerably and are employing more men.

Under the direction of C. W. Derrick of Mullins, attorney for the association, an employment code has been prepared which provides for more workers to be hired by the warehouses, and for increased pay to be given employees. This code was adopted unanimously by the association, and copies have been sent to the tobacco warehouse organizations in other belts as a matter of information to them. Reports have been received from them stating that they have adopted practically the same code as prepared by Mr. Derrick.

Stop Chills and Fever!

Rid Your System of Malaria!
Shivering with chills one moment and burning with fever the next—that's one of the effects of Malaria. Unless checked, the disease will do serious harm to your health. Malaria, a blood infection, calls for two things. First, destroying the infection in the blood. Second, building up the blood to overcome the effects of the disease and to fortify against further attack.

Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic supplies both these effects. It contains tasteless quinine, which kills the infection in the blood, and iron, which enriches and builds up the blood. Chills and fever soon stop and you are restored to health and comfort. For half a century, Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic has been sure relief for Malaria. It is just as useful, too, as a general tonic for old and young. Pleasant to take and absolutely harmless. Safe to give children. Get a bottle at any store.

New York Cotton

New York, Aug. 17—(AP)—Cotton futures opened firm 8 to 17 higher in response to steadier cables and commission house buying.

December sold up to 9.05 on early demand and but offerings increased after the opening of the wheat market. The lower opening of the stock market may also have been a factor on the decline that followed and which carried December off to 8.96, or about 10 from the early high and within 7 points of yesterday's closing quotations.

A sharp rally in the grain market proved a signal for a sharp upturn in cotton and for a time buying orders poured into the market from all directions.

December contracts rose to 9.52 a gain of 63 points or more than $3 a bale above yesterday's closing prices. Prices at midday showed reaction of 15 to 20 points from the peak.

The market advanced further late in the day on higher sterling exchange and buying Futures closed steady 64 to 75 higher.

N. Y. Stock Market

New York, Aug. 17—(AP)—The financial market rallied with a semblance of recent buoyancy but after a fast 20 minutes or so most of them dropped back to routine movement of the past several days.

A sharp turn about of grains at Chicago after they had slumped around the days limit at the opening set off a sharp recovery in shares which had been lying dormant.

In the brief upswing many equities gained one to five points and ticker dropped back of transactions. Wheat became irregular and cotton which had shown gains of about $5 also yielded some of its territory.

Stock buying slowed down and the market resumed its apathetic jog. Secondary bonds followed stocks. The dollar was a bit easier in foreign exchange.

Although trading activity dwindled to a minimum a number of shares favorites held their early gains.

National distillers got up around six points and issues up around five included Industrial Rayon, Western Union, U S Industrial, Dupont, Bear Stearns Roebuck, Allied Chemical, American Telephone, U S Steel, American Alcohol, and New York Central.

Santa Fe Chrysler and numbers of others regained one or more of their early advance. Transfers were 1,900,000 shares.

To Collect Farm Debts.
Washington, Aug. 17—(AP)—Secretary Wallace said today southern cotton farmers who participated in the reduction campaign this year would be required to pay back debts to the government amounting to less than $10,000,000 out of the $10,000,000 they will receive in benefit payments.

The secretary of agriculture told newsmen today that a cut by the farm credit administration and farm adjustment administration n-financial experts had shown that less than 10 per cent of funds would be affected by the debt the farmers owe the government for seed, feed and other loans in the past.

The ruling on the back debts owed by cotton farmers was that they would be asked to pay a part of this debt out of their money from cotton benefit payments if conditions permitted.
Cotton checks will approximate $110,000,000 and are now being sent to farmers who contracted to plow up part of their acreage.

By HERBERT PLUMMER

Washington, Aug. 17. — (AP) — There are very definite reasons for this Republican campaign of silence which prevails at the present time. Everett Sanders, chairman of the Republican National Committee, attempted at the close of the special session of Congress to conduct a series of political revival meetings, but there came reports that many of the Republican leaders objected strongly to his activity.

They expressed themselves as believing that this is no time for anything like that, for the reason it was said, that there are no outstanding issues at the present. At any rate, Sanders soon called off his conferences and made a trip to Europe.
