Tobacco Men Declare That to Open Before Government is Ready Would Prove "Disastrous." Hearing on Buyers' Agreement at Washington Set For Thursday; Reduction Drive Nearing End

Demand of Cotton States Placed Before President Roosevelt At Capital

Washington, Sept. 19.—(AP)—A copy of the demand of the cotton conference for inflation of currency to raise farm commodity prices and a guarantee of 20 cents a pound as a price for cotton was left at the White House today after members were informed President Roosevelt was unable to see them.

Florence, S. C., Sept. 19.—(AP)—The bright leaf tobacco warehouses of the two Carolinas, closed for the past two weeks by gubernatorial proclamation, will open next Monday, it appeared certain today.

The holiday proclamation by Governor Blackwood, of South Carolina, came to an end at midnight last night, but the State Warehouse Association agreed not to re-open the market until those in North Carolina opened next Monday.

Although many farmers were reported to be anxious to see resumption of sales since they have had no income for the chief crop the last two weeks, warehousemen said they were acting in the interest of the farmers in refusing to open the markets today.

They expressed the opinion that to open the South Carolina markets today would be "disastrous" since the government said not yet concluded production agreements with buyers to provide a minimum average price for the "golden weed."

A hearing on the buyers' agreement in scheduled to be held in Washington Thursday.

The whirlwind campaign to get farmers to agree to cut their 1934-1935 acreages by probably as much as 30 per cent was successfully wound up during the holiday. However, in North Carolina where some of the markets are not open ordinarily until later in the year, acreage reduction was still under way, although a majority of growers had already signed.

Varied Activities Precede Beginning of Class Work on Friday

Students began rolling in from every part of the country yesterday afternoon, and college grounds were agog with interest and enthusiasm today in preparation for the actual beginning of class work Friday.

Records today showed 350 freshmen and 550 upper classmen enrolled. This brought the total to that of last year and with others still coming in belief was expressed final figures would show a pronounced increase.

Two New Bern Men Hurt New Bern Sept. 19.—(AP)—H. B. Smith, superintendent of New Bern schools and W. L. Abrily local lumberman, were injured today when their car overturned near Granines, as they were returning from an inter-city Rotary meeting at Rocky Mount.

Four More Storm Deaths. Cape Hatteras, Sept. 19.—(By Way of Naval Radio)—(AP)—The coast guard today reported discovery of four unidentified bodies which had washed ashore near Portsmouth, apparently members of a fishing party that was caught in last week's hurricane.

Damage to the coast north of Portsmouth was estimated in excess of half a million dollars by the coast guard and inhabitants. Financial and sanitary distress was abroad in the entire North coastal section, with the Red Cross administering relief. Approximately one hundred homeless families were dependent upon emergency relief.

The gale reached 110 miles an hour in this section and a tide swept over the beach cutting five new inlets between Ocracoke and Lookout. Cape Hatteras was cut off from the mainland by a 100-foot inlet.

The three villages of Hatteras, Ocracoke and Portsmouth survived a six-foot inundation which forced Ocracoke guardsmen to abandon the island.

The young man was born and reared in Greenville where he attended local schools. He was a graduate of Danville Military Academy and studied for two years at the University of North Carolina.

For the past two years he lived at Palmyra, N. C., where he was in charge of one of the largest farms of his uncle, B. B. Everett.

He was well-known by a wide circle of friends who received news of his death with shock and sorrow. Ford in Dilemma There has been a keen understanding, in Washington of the dilemma confronting Mr. Ford when his competitors and others in the trade got together on a code. Some strong words have been spoken, but in the main the attitude towards him has been one of noticeable restraint.

HOLD FUNERAL FOR VICTIM OF ACCIDENT

Final Rites For Simon Justice Everett Killed at Palmyra Held From Home Here

Funeral services for Simon Justus Everett, Jr., 26, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Everett of Greenville, who was killed at Palmyra yesterday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock when he came in contact with a high tension electric wire, were held from the home of his parents here this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

The final rites were conducted by Rev. J. E. Ayscue, of Buies Creek, former pastor of Immanuel Baptist Church of this city and burial was made in Greenwood Cemetery.

The funeral was attended by a large crowd, including scores of out-of-town people, and a large floral tribute told in a mute way of the high esteem in which the young man was held.

Young Everett, who had been living at Palmyra with his uncle, B. B. Everett, for the past two years, descended an electric light pole to re- climb a live wire and he fell to the ground. Efforts to resuscitate him were made, but he died a short time later.

The body was brought to Greenville last night for burial.

CLARK'S BOND CUT TO $500

Two Men Shot by Greenville Man Sent Jail in Default of Bail

Ollie Clark of Greenville, who was held under $10,000 bond in connection with the shooting of W. H. Daniels and Leland Daniels at Pamlico Beach September 1, had his bond reduced to $500 at a preliminary hearing in Washington yesterday afternoon, according to information reaching the city today.

Daniels and his son were confined in jail after the hearing in default of $500 each.

The case grew out of trouble which Clark, operator of a dance pavilion at Pamlico Beach during the summer, had with the Daniels, who it was said were ordered from the building by Clark after they had created a disturbance.

They were said to have threatened Clark at the time, and that night went to his home armed with weapons. They knocked at the door of Clark's home at a late hour and asked Mrs. Clark to see her husband. Clark was said to have brought his gun into play and slightly injured both men.

RELIEF CORPS PUSH WAY TO THE SUFFERERS

Casualties Today Raised to 16 With Drowning of Negro In Sloop; Red Cross Workers Report Desolation and Suffering in Isolated Fishing Villages

New Bern, N. C., Sept. 19.—(AP)—The dual menace of hunger and disease hovered over the North Carolina sound-country today as relief workers pushed their way into one hundred mile stretch of lowland ravaged by hurricane last Friday and Saturday.

Casualties today were raised to sixteen with reports of a negro drowning at Kitty Hawk when his sloop was swamped. With many unaccounted for and communications with several small fishing villages cut off, Red Cross workers went into the stricken district and came back with reports of desolation and suffering.

Conservative estimates of the damage wrought by the storm today was between $4,000,000 and $5,000,000. Here at New Bern, which was not as hard hit as some of the smaller communities, the damage stood at well above $1,000,000. Want prevailed in many communities and city officers guarded against an outbreak of epidemics.

On Cedar Island, one of the many bits of barren reef along the coast, only fourteen of eighty-four houses were left standing after the storm-swept mountainous waves out of the sea. The homeless were estimated at close to one thousand.

Medical detachments were rushed into the hurricane-stricken areas. At Elizabeth City and other communities Red Cross workers prepared to provide food to the stricken communities. Coast guard boats were placed at their disposal. Besides destruction and unroofing of houses and drowning of thousands of heads of livestock, crops were destroyed.

The county court house at Manteo, county-seat of Dare County, where Virginia Ware, the first native white child was born, suffered irreparable damage. Ocracoke, one of the largest islands along the coast, was covered by four feet of water during the height of the storm, all animals perished and docks were washed away.

Inhabitants were rescued by coast guard boats. On Cedar Island merchants three open their stores and told refusal to help themselves. But there was not enough food to go around.

Mrs. Lamb was born in Wilson county where she joined the Free Will Baptist Church early in her life. Her husband was the late Jimmie Lamb. She moved to Pitt county about fifteen years ago where she has made her home with her children. She is survived by four daughters, Mrs. Will Sawyer of Stantonsburg; Mrs. R. T. WISDOM ACTION

The tobacco warehouses of South Carolina did a wise thing by declining to open today even though Governor Blackwood had lifted the holiday. The markets closed pending action by the government to assure better prices and it would be most unwise to re-open them until the government finishes its hearings this week.

WE SHOULD SEE IT THROUGH

There seems to be some doubt at this time that Greenville will be able to get the government loan desired for building a swimming pool and there is likewise a feeling on the part of some that even if the money is available we should not accept it because the required wage scale will be too high.

Whether or not we get any of the government public works money, we are going to have to pay our part of it to the government in the long run, so as we see it, we should not let up in our efforts to push through this loan and build the pool.

GREENVILLE MARKET REPORT

Markets Reopen Monday

Information has reached us that no market in South Carolina will open until next Monday, date now set for reopening of all tobacco markets following conference of buying companies with government officials in Washington, D. C., Thursday of this week.

We urge that you do not rush your tobacco to market, as we look for prices to strengthen as the season progresses.

We wish to congratulate the tobacco growers for their quick response to the government's request for your assistance in curtailing production of flue cured tobacco during 1934-1935. It is marvelous that so much has been accomplished in such a brief time.

The growers should be praised for their patience during these trying days. The government assures you better prices as your reward. Examine your tobacco carefully. Keep it dry and don't rush it to market.

Tune in on Greenville's Radio Station WEED every day (except Sunday) at 9:45 A. M., 12:45 P. M. and 5:45 P. M., for latest tobacco market reports. Will find it on your dial around 142 or 1420.

involved. Not the least was the potential resentment of the great majority of the trade, should Ford be singled out for special attention.

N. R. A. BRINGS TO FRONT INDIVIDUAL ENMITIES
story, Ford found himself in threefold difficulties.

He was asked to co-operate with the rest of the trade, possibly to end up by opening his books to the N. A. C. C., and that was against his whole philosophy.

He saw the possibility of such a scrambling of interest as might eventually drive him back to the accepted form of bank financing, which he swore long ago to have none of.

He envisaged unionization of his employees on a scale entirely destroying the individualism he had fostered so zealously for so many years.

The more thoughtful around the NRA were not surprised when he hesitated and took time to think it over.

Watching and Waiting
In the midst of the thinking over, word trickled into Washington that Mr. Ford might find it possible to go along, as a patriotic sacrifice, if the President would preserve the individualistic touch by openly sending for him and more of less publicly asking for his help.

The President was in Hyde Park. General Johnson, anxious to get Ford in, but uncertain how far to go, got on the telephone. Mr. Roosevelt did some thinking over of his own, for a great many things were

Another Angle
One other element should be taken into account to round out the picture: Some of the best-informed in Washington believed from the start that whether Mr. Ford came under the Blue Eagle or not was less important than appeared.

The reason was that thousands of Ford dealers over the country had signed the code on their own, presumably taking much of the edge off whatever Ford might try to do to the NRA, or whatever the NRA might try to do to him.

VOTE TO ISSUE $40,000 IN ANTICIPATION NOTES
Wilson, Sept. 19.—The issuance of $40,000 in short-term tax anticipation notes has been unanimously voted by the board of administrators.

The issuance of the tax anticipation warrants is made necessary by the falling due of a considerable amount in town bonds during the month of October and a sufficient amount of taxes has not yet been collected to pay off the bonds coming due. The borrowed money will be repaid within 90 days as the 1933 tax collections will start October 1 at which time it is also planned to advertise delinquent 1932 taxpayers.

EVEN PANHANDLERS WORKING UNDER CODE
Asheville, Sept. 19.—(AP)—Even the "brother-can-you-spare-a-dime" men are working under a code these days, judging from the story told by an Asheville physician.

A man entered the doctor's office, put up a good "hard luck" story and the doctor gave him a dime.

"The visitor was silent for a moment as he fingered the coin and then he said quickly: "Say, are you working under this here Blue Eagle?" The doctor nodded affirmatively.

"Okay," the man replied, pocketing the dime. "I don't beg from slackers."

Real Estate Movement Slow
The movement of realty continued sluggish here the past several days, and only ten deeds of transfer were filed in the office of the Register of Deeds during the period.

All of the transactions involved comparatively small sums, the largest from W. H. Bradsher, trustee, to Greenville Building and Loan, for a consideration of $1,666.25.

The remainder of the transfers follow:
R. T. Martin to Lizzie Gay, one lot, $1,405.

Circus To Show In Goldsboro September 22

People of East Carolina will have the rare opportunity of witnessing one of the largest and best performances of its kind coming to this section of the State this season when the Hagenbeck-Wallace circus visits Goldsboro next Friday, September 22. They will give two performances—afternoon and night—presenting, among its many features of entertainment, the famous Clyde Beatty, the world's greatest wild animal trainer, who appears in person in the most breath-taking wild animal exhibition of all times.

Among other entertainers appearing with the Hagenbeck-Wallace circus are Rudy Rudy, famous horse trainer, and Princess Mukam, the giraffe-neck woman from the Karen Hills, 700 miles north of Bangoon. Her neck has stretched a length of fourteen inches, and the combined weight of the twenty-one rings, which she wears, approximately 50 pounds. Bamayo, another artist with this circus, will thrill you with his mounding rope act.

Hagenbeck-Wallace has the largest menagerie ever exhibited to the American people.

VALUABLE MINERALS LOST IN STREAMS, EXPERT SAYS

Miami, Okla.—(AP)—Money flows in the waters of the state lead and zinc district, says W. George Waring, a chemist of Webb City, Mo. He wants to salvage this run-away wealth.

Waring estimates that metallic zinc and cadmium valued at more than $8,000 is carried away daily by the streams of the mineral area embracing parts of Oklahoma, Kansas and Missouri.

He advocates measures to precipitate the metals in the water and thus retrieve the mineral values.

How Black-Draught Stops Bad Feeling

"I have taken 'Bedford's Black-Draught' for about twelve years, when needed, for dizziness, and it is a wonderful medicine," writes Mrs. Elmer Leverett, of Carrier Mills, Ill. "I can usually tell when a headache is coming on by the bad taste in my mouth and a dull feeling. If I begin taking Black-Draught then, I can keep off the headache."

Children like the new, pleasant tasting SYRUP of Black-Draught.

IT TAKES HEALTHY NERVES

TURNER BREAKS OWN AIR MARK; WINS BENDIX CUP
Nerves Never Waver

LOS ANGELES—Colonel Roscoe Turner flashed across the finish line here 11 hours, 30 minutes out of New York, breaking his own coast-to-coast record for the running of the Bendix Trophy.

Forty-eight thousand spectators were on hand to greet the plucky pilot whose healthy nerves had carried him to victory. For a second time the coveted trophy was his. One of the Colonel's first was for a Camel. Asked by a man if steady smoking of Camels kept his nerves, Turner said:

"I WATCH MY NERVES as carefully as I do my plane," Colonel Turner says. "I smoke Camels for the sake of healthy nerves, and I enjoy them more because of their mildness and better taste. To me Camels are a much finer cigarette and I never have to give a thought to jangled nerves."

Steady Smokers turn to Camels

COLONEL ROSCOE TURNER, in discussing healthy nerves and cigarettes, says:
"Breaking air records is an exciting business—and a nerve-racking one! I know because I have gone out after a whole flock of records—and managed to pick off quite a few. Like most pilots I smoke a lot—in fact, I enjoy smoking any time. But I watch my nerves as carefully as I do my plane. I smoke Camels for the sake of healthy nerves, and I enjoy them more because of their mildness and better taste. To me Camels are a much finer cigarette, and being a faithful Camel smoker, I never have to give a thought to jangled nerves."

Are you nervous? Irritable? Try Camels and get a fresh slant on your smoking. Being a milder cigarette, Camels are better for steady smoking. You will find that Camels never get on your nerves...never tire your taste.

IT IS MORE FUN TO KNOW
Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE tobaccos than any other popular brand.

CAMEL'S COSTLIER TOBACCOS

SPORT 'HOLIDAY' AT CORNELL RELEVES FINANCIAL STRAIN

Ithaca.—(AP)—Cornell University athletics—speaking financially—are back in the fold of the athletics association, but the frugalities practiced during the "holiday" from January to June are going to be continued.

The association withdrew financial support last January deciding to conserve assets that would enable it to finish the school year without a deficit.

On the assumption that the country's financial and business situation will show improvement this fall, the association is again manipulating the purse strings, fortified by its own highly improved financial standing.

Practically, the change made little difference in the amount of competition for Cornell teams during the winter and spring seasons. The Michigan-Cornell indoor track meet was cancelled for two years, but Cornell played host to Syracuse and Colgate in a triangular meet.

Wooster, Ohio.—(AP)—Wet brewers' grains, principal by-product of beer, now being offered to dairy farmers as an additional source of feed, should be limited to about 25 pounds a day, fed in connection with hay and grain, advises A. E. Perkins, of the dairy department of Ohio experiment station here.

HENDERSON BANKS ON MAIN STREET REPAIRING

Henderson, Sept. 19.—So far as in formation could be obtained today, prospects are bright for the repaving with Federal highway funds of Henderson's main street through the business and part of the residential sections. Application for the project was laid before the State Highway Commission several weeks ago. The plea is based on the ground that this stretch of street is a part of Federal Route No. 1, going directly through the heart of the city, and bearing all through traffic.

Basketmakers First Citizens? No, New Mexico Finds Show

Clovis, N. M.—(AP)—Because an enthusiastic Clovis student was convinced that dry lake beds in this region held valuable information about early mankind, archeologists have been busy lately changing dates.

For the finds unearthed as the result of the archeological enthusiasts' interest adds to the evidence that the Basketmakers were not the first human inhabitants of the continent—by some thousand of years.
