Tobacco Market Agreement Made Ready To Sign

COMPANIES CAN BOOST FAG PRICES

Government Agrees Not to Invoke Licensing Power; Companies to Buy 250,000 Pounds of Leaf Between Now and March 31; Export Companies Able to Meet Price Raising Program

Washington, D. C., Sept. 28.—(AP)—A flue-cured tobacco marketing agreement which Representative Hancock of North Carolina said embodies the principal provision of the proposal offered by domestic manufacturers was to be made ready for signing today.

Upon the proposal agreed on by the arm Administration signatory companies would have the right to increase cigarette prices should condition warrant.

Hancock said the government agreed in the contract not to invoke its licensing power on the companies which under the proposal will buy between now and March 31 at least as much tobacco as they used during the year ending June 30 and to pay an average of not less than 17 cents a pound.

The total poundage was estimated at $250,000,000.

The North Carolinian who conferred yesterday with Secretary Wallace and Farm Administration officials said that the export companies can meet the price level because of the exchange value of the pound sterling.

These companies which handle about 60 per cent of the flue-cured tobacco crop have agreed to co-operate in maintaining the price average, but will not enter into the agreement.

RELIEF MONEY USED FOR FOOD

Sixty-Two Percent of All Money Spent in State in August For Foodstuff

Raleigh, Sept. 28.—Sixty-two and four-tenths per cent of all money spent for direct relief in North Carolina during August was used for the purchase of food, according to statistics made public today from the office of Mrs. Thomas O'Berry, relief administrator.

During August $227,932 was spent for direct relief and $146,768 of this sum was spent for food. This percentage is slightly higher than during July when 62 per cent of all direct relief expenditures went for food.

As was the case during July, medical care was the second most expensive item, at total of $26,515, or 11.6 per cent, being spent for this item. During July 14 per cent of the total went for medical care.

Contrary to a large popular conception, clothing represents only a small part of relief expenditures. During August it was four and six-tenths per cent. During the previous month it was practically the same, five per cent. In connection with the small amount spent for clothing it was pointed out that July and August can not be regarded as typical months. During the fall and winter months a much larger amount will be required for clothing.

Other items of cost, in order, during August, were cash contributions 5.8 per cent; canning and gardening expense 5.4 per cent; fuel, and the remainder for shelter, food, household supplies and miscellaneous.

It was pointed out by relief officials that the above figures apply only to direct relief expenditures as contrasted to work relief. Direct relief for August constituted 45 per cent of the total expenditures of $502,625, the remaining 55 per cent being spent in the form of work relief.

BIG GAIN IN EMPLOYMENT SEEN IN U. S.

William Green Says However Relief Needs Will be Greater This Winter

Washington, D. C., Sept. 28.—(AP)—Big employment gains today were attributed to the Roosevelt recovery program by William Green, American Federation of Labor chief, but employer-labor difficulties this time involving Henry Ford continued to worry NRA officials.

Green said the Federation estimated that 815,000 persons returned to work in August represented greater progress in employment than in any month since the depression.

He counted the remaining unemployed at 11,000,000 and said relief needs this winter will be greater than ever before.

Coincident with Green's comment on the recovery program were fresh intimations that a change in monetary policies to aid farm prices may be forthcoming soon. Dr. James Rogers of Yale returned from talks with President Roosevelt to confer with ranking Federal financial officers.

ALLOT FUND FOR WATERWAY MACHINE GUN KELLY TALKS

"Bad Man" of The Southwest Confesses Part in Urschel Kidnapping

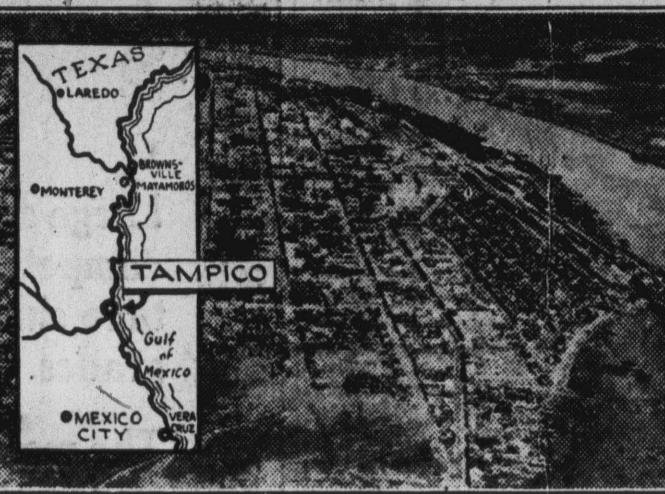

Memphis, Tenn., Sept. 28.—(AP)—Crowded by Federal authorities, George "Machine Gun" Kelly has talked.

W. J. Aurora, Department of Justice agent, announced last night the "bad man" from the Southwest had confessed a part in the kidnaping of Charles Urschel, Oklahoma City oil man, but that he had stoutly denied two other crimes which officers sought to link him.

"You got me right on the Urschel kidnaping, but not the Chicago robbery and the Kansas City union station robbery," Aurora quoted Kelly as saying.

Amplifying Aurora's brief announcement, confidential sources wrote to the Federal authorities saying Kelly in his confession named Albert Bates, now on trial in Oklahoma City, as the gunman's actual accomplice in the Urschel kidnaping.

Late News Flashes From Over World

Government Watches Tobacco. Washington, Sept. 28.—(AP)—Chester Davis, chief of production of the farm administration, said today finishing of the flue cured marketing agreement was being held up by the government's scrutiny of a provision covering the administration's proposed agreement not to invoke its licensing power at this time on domestic manufacturers who signed the contract.

Davis said the government wants to retain the right to license domestic buyers on their flue cured operations only later on if it is necessary to license companies that do not sign the contract.

He emphasized this was intended as a precautionary measure to protect the growers and assure the government of its ability to enforce the contract if this should become necessary.

Davis said the farm administration was not only desirous of giving the contract every consideration but that it was also anxious to get the reaction from the Carolinas markets before signing the marketing agreement. He said the administration has several investigators in the Carolinas who are making daily reports on prices, grades and the reaction of growers to the proposed marketing agreement.

"We are anxious to see how the manufacturers are putting their plan into effect on the market," said Davis.

"We plan to send a number of additional probes to the Carolinas markets so that we can keep right up with the situation."

He said the agreement probably would be signed by the end of the week.

School Suit in Offing. Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 28.—(AP)—A new controversy over transportation of school children in North Carolina is being started.

Carolina faced the State School Commission today with the announcement that a writ of "adequate transportation children there."

The Tyrrell suit is based on the refusal of the commission to allot enough funds to meet the cost of transportation of children in the county to schools under the contract system.

CUBAN LABOR TROUBLE ON AN INCREASE

Machine Gun Units Rushed to Interior Today to Take Care Of Situation

Havana, Cuba, Sept. 28.—(AP)—The government's machine gun units were en route to the interior today as labor trouble increased.

Army headquarters said the troops were going to Camaguey province to guard sugar mills against workers' attack, but soldiers declared their purpose was to suppress a revolution.

All the Herchey sugar interest suspended operation in Matanzas and Havana province because of strikes and the Hershey electric railway between Havana and Matanzas was not operating.

The situation remained tense at a match and cigarette factory in Matanzas where men workers attacked woman employees, one of whom was wounded.

Efforts of neutral mediators which failed to set a strike of Havana news employees continued, and it was learned authoritatively that members of service clubs were working to avert several strikes which it was believed might lead to a general strike.

The Eastern North Carolina Association, Incorporated, is now ready to function. The officers for the coming year have been elected which completes the organization.

Headquarters, as has been announced before, will be located at Greenville and modern, well equipped offices have been opened in the State Bank and Trust Building. Vice-Presidents: Stanley Woodland, Morehead City, and W. J. Corbett, Henderson.

Treasurer: Martin Swartz, superintendent, Greenville.

FARMERS TOLD TO HOLD LEAF OFF MARKETS

State Farm Head Says Blocked Sales Resulting in Damaged Tobacco

E. F. Arnold, director of the Pitt County Department of Agriculture today received a telegram from I. O. Schaub, director of the Agricultural Extension Department of the College, to use his power to encourage farmers to hold their tobacco crop off the market the next few days until a satisfactory price develops.

Mr. Schaub, who directed the tobacco reduction drive in North Carolina, said reports indicated "blocked sales on all markets were resulting in damage to tobacco and consequently lower prices."

More orderly marketing, it was said, should help Washington in developing a more satisfactory agreement.

Mr. Arnold said he would immediately take step to advise farmers of the danger of glutting the markets and urge them to take their time and wait until prices have had a chance to develop.

The advice of the Farm Director is similar to that given by Governor Ehringhaus when the marketing holiday came to a close. The chief executive stressed the danger of rushing the market, but growers, intent on getting their products on the floors of the warehouses, did not heed the warning and have seen price averages dwindle the last two days.

Referring to the tobacco reduction recently completed in this county, the farm director here, said only five growers refused to sign the government contracts. They were: F. L. Stanley, S. T. Hooker, E. M. Tyson, Henry Congleton, and Rev. Luther Joyner.

AVERAGE HERE FALLS AGAIN WEDNESDAY

Prices on Some Grades on Early Sales Today Showed Slight Upward Trend, Some Believe; Market Continues Glutted With Offerings of Farmers; Growers Urged to Market Slowly

The price situation continued disappointing on the Greenville tobacco market today with the average for each day's sale since the re-opening last Monday showing a steady decline.

While prices were a shade higher possibly on some grades this morning, there was a division of opinion among observers whether they were better than yesterday.

In the face of the continued price decline, farmers exhibited considerable dissatisfaction, but hope was expressed that reports of the signing of the government agreement with buyers to guarantee a 11-cent parity would have a stimulating effect on the market.

Warehouses, which have been loaded to capacity since the end of three weeks enforced holiday, were again packed to overflowing today, while streets of tobacco town were lined with tobacco laden vehicles waiting to be unloaded.

The rush to the market has been the most pronounced of years regardless of the fact that Governor Ehringhaus in declaring the tobacco holiday at an end urged growers to market their crop orderly and await development of prices.

Although prices on some grades may have been a shade higher during early hours of sale today, little indication of an appreciable advance was noticeable.

The official report of sales given out this morning showed the market yesterday sold 1,471,578 pounds of leaf for a total sum of $198,874.63, at an average of $135.

DRYS TO HOLD MEET TONIGHT

Delegates to be Voted On In November Election Will be Selected

The dry element of Pitt county will converge on the court house here tonight at 8 o'clock for the purpose of organizing a county-wide unit of the United Dry Forces of America.

Scores of persons interested in the fight now being made for repeal of national prohibition were expected to be present to do their part toward forming an organization to combat activities of the wets who have made inroads into the ranks of the dries in many states at this time.

Dr. R. H. Wright, who last Sunday was elected chairman of the Pitt county organization, will preside over the mass meeting tonight, and delegates to be voted on in the November election will be decided upon.

"Key men" from various townships of the county, chosen by the executive committee here this week, will lead supporters in their pilgrimage to the court house here tonight. Although no speakers have been selected, Dr. Wright will outline the purpose of the organization and sound the call to the dry cause.

The dry campaign had its inception at a meeting in Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church here last Sunday afternoon at which officers were elected and the meeting called for tonight to complete the county organization.

People who still believe national prohibition to be the thing after its test of years were invited to attend the meeting and again respond to the call to arms.

THERE SHOULD BE THIRTEEN

The action of Judge Harris yesterday in sentencing to jail one of the jurors who appeared in the jury box in an intoxicated condition was certainly most proper. The fact that this juror had to be removed from the jury caused a mistrial of a case that had consumed over two days of the court's time causing great unnecessary expense to the county and the parties concerned with the case. Certainly the drunken juror deserved the thirty days jail sentence meted out by Judge Harris.

There is, however, another feature, to yesterday's occurrence here. The incident is a good argument in favor of the adoption of a plan of choosing an alternate juror in each and every case in order that no technical mistrial might occur because of removal of a juror from the case for any cause. Had such been the rule when the case in question was begun the trial could have gone on to completion regardless of the fact that one of the jurors was reposing in jail and the cost of another trial could have been prevented.

TIME FOR A CHANGE

One thing that really gets our goat is to be on a tobacco sale and hear a warehouseman or some other person connected with the sale request the buyers to pay a good price for certain piles of tobacco because they belong to some widow or to some friend of the market who has brought the tobacco a great distance to sell in Greenville. Of course such requests are made by the warehousemen in an honest effort to help the growers as much as possible but the disgusting part of it is that they should be placed in the position where they feel that they actually have to beg in behalf of the growers in order to get them an honest price for their tobacco. Despite the fact that the tobacco companies have kept the farmers down for a long time and the farmers are really in need, it makes us plenty hot to see them have to beg the buying companies in order to hope to get even close to an honest price and then in most cases their pleas fall upon unhearing ears.

The tobacco farmer is just as entitled to receive a fair return for his labor and investment in growing tobacco as the buying companies are but the trouble has been that the farmer has been held down while the com-

Outrageous Fortune
by Patricia Wentworth

SYNOPSIS: A dazed man, picked up after the wreck of the Alice Arden, has been taken from the hospital by Neta Biddell, who says he is her husband, Jimmy Riddell. He is of her brother Tom's house in Edgington, and has been babbling in his sleep—of emeralds and such. A few moments after Neta and the man had left, Caroline Leitch arrives at the hospital, searching for her cousin, Jim Riddell. As she is leaving, disappointed, she remembers a scrap of a letter found in the man's pocket, with the signature "Caroline." So Caroline determines to carry on her apparently hopeless search. Meanwhile the man awakens, is told he is Neta's husband, and declares he does not know her. Next morning he confronts Neta, but rather weakly, for he cannot remember events earlier than the day before.

Chapter Ten
THE EMERALDS

"YES, I should like to know why I'm here," Jim said.

"I wonder whether you'll like it as much when you do know?"

"I shall know more about that when you've told me."

She smiled.

All at once the tension was less. She said in an easy, ordinary voice: "Sure you can't remember anything, Jimmy?"

"I've told you I can't."

"Then why do you talk about the emeralds in your sleep?"

"Sure you can't remember, Jimmy?"

It was exactly as if Neta had come towards him with a smile and then thrown a knife. He had seen knives thrown like that—he didn't know where or when, but he'd seen it. All right—he'd teach her to throw knives at him.

He looked at her with an effect of wooden surprise.

"Do you mind saying that again?" She said it again, louder this time.

"Why did you talk about the emeralds in your sleep?"

"What emeralds?"—but in his mind there was a lighted space where eight square green stones swung from a man's hand—eight square green stones, linked two and two with pearls.

"Like a kid's green beads—" said Neta with her eyes upon his face.

A pulse hammered in his temples. Where did she get that? Someone had said that before... a voice... his voice?

"You talked in your sleep," she said. Then she dropped her voice. "Jimmy—where are they?"

He wrenched away from the picture of the square green stones.

"Will you tell me what you are talking about?"

"Will you tell me you don't know?"

"Yes, I will. I haven't an idea what you are talking about."

Neta was smiling. When she smiled, she showed sharp uneven teeth, too small, too close, too pointed.

"You wouldn't know an emerald if you saw one, I suppose?" Then, with a change of voice, "Jimmy, we've been partners all through—you simply can't go back on me like this. Where have you put them?"

HE stuck his chin in the air.

"What's the good of talking like that? I don't remember anything. You say, where have I put them—and I keep on telling you I don't know what you're talking about. How much farther do you think that's going to get us?"

"You don't know what I'm talking about?"

"No, I don't."

Something hung in the balance. He saw her checked, hesitating, uncertain. Then with an impatient movement she came round the chair.

panies have shown net profits of millions upon millions. The time has come for a change and it is high time the government was taking definite steps to force the companies to give the growers a square deal. The tobacco companies should not be allowed to continue to make millions while the growers

BELHAVEN TO PLAY HIGH IN OPENING GAME

Greenville high school football team underwent final practice here today in preparation for the opening of the pigskin season here tomorrow afternoon at 3:45 with Belhaven.

Coaches Hewlett and Whedbee said today the team was in comparatively good condition to meet the invading outfit, and hope was expressed they would be able to keep the bacon at home.

Workouts have been under way the last two weeks, and while a considerable portion of the material is light and rather raw, the coaches were hopeful they could whip a winning aggregation into form. Lovers of football were urged to attend the game and give the boys the inspiration necessary for a winning aggregation.

E. C. T. C. Adds Weight To Its Grid Squad

E. C. T. C. has at last the thing most needed in a football team—weight. Admittedly last year's team was brainy, but this year we have an unbeatable combination—brains and weight.

There could be a little more speed, but the team is reasonably fast and we can't expect an All-American team in two years.

Coaches Beatty and Shicker are giving the boys hard workouts and they are there with the goods in a big way. The line will probably average 180 pounds with a lighter but good backfield. Due to the competition of the men, the coaches have been unable to definitely choose a first string.

Of course no one can pick a winner from practice observation, but I can say no team can show up so well at practice and not have a big upset for opposing teams.

There is no shirking of practice and there is a new spirit of teamwork, which has been absent before, which is bound to make a difference in offensive tactics.

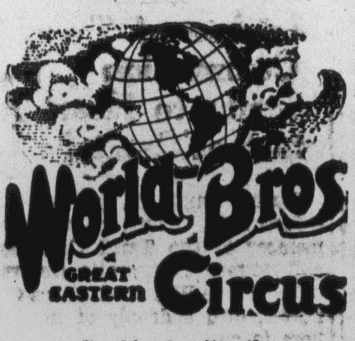

Greenville people, other than a few good citizens who have the town's interest at heart, have shown decidedly little interest in the fact that we have college athletic teams.

Now we have the chance to put Greenville in the eye of a sport-loving world; let's get out and show that we are proud of our team; win or lose, they give the best that's in them.

GREENVILLE MARKET REPORT

Large sales on the market again today. There is much more competition in bidding on the various grades today than at any time since re-opening of the market, especially on the better grades.

The market is flooded with a tremendous amount of common and medium tips.

Considerable damaged tobacco continues to show up.

In so far as the Greenville Tobacco Market is concerned, there is being displayed a splendid spirit of cooperation with the Government in advancing the prices, and we confidently believe that a close approach to parity prices will prevail for the season's average.

You will not find the tobacco buyers on any market cooperating in every way more splendidly than the buying forces on the Greenville Tobacco Market. This fact alone is more responsible for Greenville being the world's largest Tobacco market than any one factor. When such conditions as this exist on a tobacco market, better prices for the growers is always the result.

We advise against rushing your tobacco to the market as we believe prices will strengthen as the season progresses.

The Board of Trade does not permit under penalty of $50.00 fine, any warehouseman to reserve floor space for anyone. The principle of first come first served under the By-Law must be carried out.

Tune in on Greenville's Radio Station WEED every day (except Sunday) at 9:45 A. M., 12:45 P. M. and 5:45 P. M., for latest tobacco market reports. Will find it on your dial around 142 or 1420.

MRS. HEMBY AND MRS. THOMAS HONORED

Honoring Mrs. C. H. Hemby of Jacksonville, Florida, and Mrs. Townes Thomas of Martinsville, Va., Mrs. Harvey Ward was hostess at a most delightful bridge luncheon yesterday.

Five tables were placed for bridge in an artistic setting of snapdragons and gladioli. During the progress of the game Coca Colas were served.

For high and second high scores, Mrs. E. L. Baker and Mrs. Selma Carson Moore were presented attractive prizes. Shoulder corsages were given Mrs. E. L. Baker, Mrs. C. H. Edwards, Mrs. Hubert Joyner, Mrs. James L. Evans and Miss Mamie Ruth Turnstall for table prizes. The honor guests, and Mrs. Rokroff of Cincinnati, Ohio, were remembered with lovely gifts and shoulder corsages.

At one o'clock the hostess served a delectable barbecue lunch. Guests included members of Mrs. Ward's bridge club and friends of Mrs. Hemby and Mrs. Thomas.

ST. PETER'S CHURCH GETS MEDIEVAL CONFRATERNITY

The Rev. Timothy Monihan, a member of the Franciscan Order, who has come to the state at the invitation of the most Rev. Wm. J. Hafey, will explain tonight to the members of St. Peter's Catholic Church the purpose and the duties of the Third Order Secular. This Confraternity dates back to the days of the Poor Little Man of Cesais of the thirteenth century. After the number of his followers had grown to flourishing communities in so many cities he drew up a rule of life for those who still pursued the secular life. During the ensuing ages kings and princes, members of the nobility of both sexes, have found in its rules the inspiration for lives of greater virtue and Christian charity. Since there is so much similarity between the days of St. Francis and our own it is the belief of Bishop Hafey that men and women can find again those ideals guiding principles that will enable them to contribute the very best to society. The hour of the service is 7:45. Invitation is extended to the public in general.

Miss Shirley Myatt Honored.

Saturday afternoon Miss Leah Mildred Ross entertained at bridge and a miscellaneous shower for Miss Shirley Myatt who is leaving soon to make her home in Raleigh.

The home on Tenth street was attractively decorated with early fall flowers. After several interesting games, Miss Martha Minges was awarded handkerchiefs for high score and Miss Frances Willard was presented handkerchiefs for low score. Little Miss Myatt was then presented lovely gifts.

The hostess, assisted by her mother and brother, Ladyard E. Ross, Jr., served delightful refreshments.

Guests present were Misses Shirley Myatt and her classmates, Ruby Taylor, Martha Minges, Elizabeth Wells, Elizabeth Sugg, Ann McCormick and Frances Willard.

Finger Wave and Shampoo Shop.

Better After Taking First Bottle of Cardui

"I was in need of something to build me up, as I was in a run-down condition and suffering with my back and sides," writes Mrs. M. M. Cook, of Fort Payne, Ala. "The pain in my side seemed to cause a soreness all through my body. I was reading the newspaper and saw Cardui advertised. I thought it might help me. After my first bottle, I felt better and I took another, after which I was greatly improved, so much so that I have recommended Cardui since."

Get Rid of Malaria!

Banish Chills and Fever!

To conquer Malaria, you must do two things. (1) Destroy the infection in the blood. (2) Build up the blood to overcome the effects and to fortify against further attack. There is one medicine that does these two things and that is Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic. The tasteless quinine in Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic destroys the malarial infection in the blood while the iron builds up the blood. Thousands of people have conquered Malaria with the aid of Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic. In addition to being a noted remedy for Malaria, it is also an excellent tonic of general use. Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic is pleasant to take and contains nothing harmful. Even children like it and they can take it safely. For sale by all stores.

Stays Cool when other motors heat up

LOOK UNDER THE HOOD AND SEE WHY

YOU could forget all the other advantages of the new Ford V-8—and one thing alone would make this the ideal car for Southern driving. It just can't heat up!

Look under the hood and you'll see why. Notice the cylinder head made of aluminum instead of the usual cast iron. Notice the over-sized cooling system with two water pumps instead of one.

Then take this car out and drive it on the hottest day—drive it at 60, 70—80 miles an hour if you wish. Stop and open the hood. You'll find the motor so cool you can actually touch it with your hand!

That means a sweeter-running car in this climate—or any climate. It means economy, too. It means more mileage, less carbon, less wear.

Before you buy any car at any price, by all means drive this new Ford V-8.

A wide variety of colors and models—prices $490 and up, F. O. B. Detroit.

Run the new Ford V-8 fast for an hour or more. Then stop, open the hood—and feel the engine. It is so cool you can actually touch it with your hand.

Follow the trend to the "8"—and your Car won't be outdated next year

Governor Speaks to Farmers
Mount Olive, Sept. 28.—(AP)—Governor Ehringhaus urged farmers to give united support to the agricultural adjustment administration which he described as the same thing for the farmer that the NRA is for the business man in an address today at Mount Olive's farm festival.

"I hope to see the day when the farmer chisler will be held up to scorn by his neighbors," added the governor explaining he meant the farmer who agrees to make acreage reduction and then doesn't carry out the agreement, when he said "farmer chislers". Governor Ehringhaus said the agricultural adjustment administration intended to bring peanuts under its scope of activity soon carrying out the same sort of program it has engaged in with respect to tobacco and cotton.
