LEAGUE OF NATIONS SEEKS RUSSIA AS MEMBER

Action Of U. S. For Recognition Causes New Hope

SAYS RUSSIA AND LEAGUE ARE FLIRTING

Statesmen Impressed With American Effort Looking to Recognition of Soviet Government; Henderson's Address Linking United States and Russia Causes Much Interest

Geneva, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Reports that the United States is studying the question of recognition of Russia awakened new hope in international circles here today that the U. S. S. R. may be induced to join the league of nations.

MANY MAKE 'FATAL' LEAP

Pilgrimage to the Marriage Altar Shows Pronounced Upturn in County

Improvement in the economic situation has also resulted in improvement in business at the marriage altar and the office of Registrar of Deeds J. C. Gaskins here the last several weeks has been literally besieged by persons desiring to take the proverbial "leap in the dark."

Eleven applications for marriage licenses were made last Saturday and seven since that time. Heretofore the colored population has been leading the pilgrimage to the altar, but records for the past week show that white and colored split fifty-fifty. It is a pretty good record for this season of the year and causes the register of deeds to look forward with keen anticipation to the holiday season when the rush to the altar is always more pronounced than any other season of the year.

Issuances of licenses picked up sharply about two months ago along with the effort of the government to bring about better economic conditions, and with the situation improving steadily, it was expected the level would be inspired to greater activity during the last two months of the year.

Register of Deeds Gaskins is never more happy than when issuing marriage licenses, and the revival in business has brought joy to his heart. He believes everybody physically able to do so should take the "fatal leap," whether for good or bad, in that the experience has a salutary effect on those able to stand the gaff.

PLAN HEARING ON AGREEMENT FOR PEANUTS

Farm Administration To Hear Representatives of Industry Tomorrow

Washington, Oct. 19.—(AP)—The farm administration will hold a hearing tomorrow on a proposed marketing agreement for the peanut industry submitted by the Virginia-Carolina Peanut Association and the Southeastern Peanut Association.

Peanut growers from Virginia, North Carolina, Tennessee, Pennsylvania, Georgia, Alabama, South Carolina, Florida, Mississippi, Oklahoma, Texas, Louisiana and Arkansas are expected to be represented at the meeting.

LEGION DRIVE PUSHES AHEAD

Increase in Membership of The Local Post Reported by Committee

Membership offensive under the command of Battalion Commander J. B. Kittrell, at the last report of October 17, 1933, had made considerable progress on the entire front—at a council of war held Tuesday night it was found that a total of 102 men had been captured and are now firmly held and well protected within the folds of Pitt County Post No. 39, The American Legion. Perfect liaison has been maintained between the combat units, viz. Companies (A), (B), (C) and (D), and after the grand and well directed barrage laid by the heavy artillery last night, there is now no reason to doubt that a deep advance into the enemy territory will be made on the entire front, and many men reclaimed and re-habilitated.

It is hard for the offensive forces to understand, just why any man who is eligible for membership in the American Legion, an eligibility he should be more than proud of, has to be trailed, run down, smoked out, out-talked and convinced of his eligibility, and the duty incidental there to.

DIG POTATOES IN COMMUNITY GARDENS HERE

Bumper Yield Expected for Needy Consumption During The Winter

Digging of sweet potatoes in community gardens of the county got under way this week and an estimated yield of 1,000 bushels for distribution among the poor during the winter will be cured and stored within the next several days.

First reports of digging came from Belvoir township yesterday where a bumper yield is anticipated. Two of the potatoes from that garden tipped the scales at five pounds each. K. T. Futrell, director of the Pitt County Welfare Department, stated today.

Sweet potatoes were grown in four of the five community gardens in the county, the Greenville garden being the only one that did not plant the product.

Potatoes were produced in Falkland, Farmville and Ayden, in addition to Belvoir, and digging operations in the other three communities were expected to get under way immediately, Mr. Futrell said.

In addition to the bumper potato crop, the gardens have already yielded 75,000 quarts of vegetables which were canned here and at Farmville and stored away for use this winter. Also 558 gallons of molasses have been produced with reports from Falkland and Ayden yet to come.

The products are being stored away in the communities in which they are produced, and this winter the Welfare Department will use them in taking care of the demands of the needy. Indications were that the department would be in better position to take care of these needs than ever before. While the employment position has picked up sharply in some parts of the county, the call for aid was expected to be comparatively heavy this winter. However, with storehouses literally groaning under the weight of products from the community gardens, there was every indication the situation would be taken care of with few suffering from the pangs of hunger.

LEAF PRICES REMAIN FIRM

Good Tobacco Continues to Command Favorable Prices on Local Market

The price situation remained firm on the Greenville tobacco market yesterday and the same situation was expected to continue today.

Cofferings which have been fairly heavy throughout the week, were some lighter yesterday and sales were completed during the early afternoon.

In spite of the fact that there was a considerable quantity of common tobacco on the floors of the various warehouses yesterday, the price average showed an increase over the previous day when a pre-dominance of common tobacco was in evidence.

The market has sold over a million pounds every day this week, especially the first two days when a million and a half pounds was sold each day. Farmers who had been holding their tobacco off the market awaiting price development began marketing the remainder of their crop rapidly with the signing of the government agreement and this situation was expected to continue until the bulk of the crop has been sold.

The official report of K. W. Cobb, supervisor of sales, showed the market yesterday sold 1,063,888 pounds of leaf for an average of $15.93 per hundred pounds for which the farmers received a total sum of $170,165.43.

Sales were comparatively heavy today but indications were that the tobacco would be cleared up during the early afternoon permitting the warehouses to get in fine shape for the receipt of heavier offerings during the final sale of the week.

Hundreds of farmers who have sold here this week expressed appreciation of the improved price situation, especially as it applied to (Continued on Page Three)

GERMANY TO INCREASE AIR PROTECTION

Decree of Finance Minister Boosts Expansion Nation's Air Equipment

Berlin, Oct. 19.—(AP)—An unusual decree by Finance Minister Scherwin Krosigk indicated today that Germany is getting ready in earnest to ward off any attacks from the air.

All money expended by private individuals or firms for advancing Germany's protection for air attacks can under the decree, be deducted 100 per cent from the income in making income and tax returns.

"By the treaty of Versailles," it reads, "Germany was forbidden to maintain military planes and hence we are denied the most effective weapons against air attacks.

"All the great and important attaches to civil air protection measures calculated to insure the population against danger of attacks from the air," it continued, adding: "In the interest of the population as well as the national defense such measures must be encouraged also by tax reduction."

The decree observed that air protection primarily concerns industrial undertakings and business with a large number of employees and house owners—all of whom would take measure protecting their employees, houses and inmates.

SMALL TO HOLD COURT IN PITT

Albermarle Country Jurist Selected to Sit Here During November Court

Clerk of Superior Court J. F. Harrington received notice from the Governor's office yesterday that Judge Walter P. Small of Elizabeth City, had been selected to hold a term of civil court here the week of November 20.

Judge Prizzelle, resident judge of this district, who will appear here Monday for a two weeks term of court, will be in another part of the district while Judge Small is holding forth here.

The Albermarle country judge will be remembered pleasantly by numbers of people of this county. He held court here two or three times two years ago and was heartily commended by members of the bar for his ability to dispatch business rapidly and with due consideration for all parties concerned.

He is a former law partner of Governor J. C. B. Ehringhaus, they having been associated in the practice of law in Elizabeth City for a number of years before Judge Small's appointment to the bench and the governor's election to the high post at Raleigh.

PITT SCHOOL ATTENDANCE IS COMPILED

Conley to Present Figures at General Teachers Meeting in Ayden

Attendance figures of Pitt county schools will be presented at the general meeting of county teachers in Ayden next Saturday morning at 10 o'clock. Donald Conley, director of the Pitt County Department of Education, said today.

Mr. Conley has been busy for several days trying to obtain a definite check on attendance in the various schools, and said today he hoped to have this in readiness for the teachers when they gather at Ayden Saturday.

Increased enrollment was indicated on the basis of the reports so far received and in the face of decreased appropriations for public educational purposes.

The 175 white teachers of the county were expected to attend the session which will be marked by addresses by men high in the life of state education. These include T. B. Atmore of Washington, district school commissioner, who will tell of the new state school legislation; S. T. Emory, member of the faculty of the University of North Carolina, and Superintendent Byrd of the Ayden schools. Emory will tell of new geography texts and Byrd will discuss the educational outlook in this county.

The meeting will be held in the Ayden high school and Mr. Conley will preside.

RAY FREED IN ROBBERY CASE

Former Ball Player Acquired by Jury in Federal Court at Wilson

Wilson, Oct. 19.—M. P. (Railroad) Ray, former baseball player, was acquitted on a charge of possessing stolen goods knowing same to be stolen by a jury in United States District Court here late yesterday. Ray was the second of six men tried yesterday in connection with disposition of cigarettes and merchandise stolen from railroad box cars to secure an acquittal.

Four others submitted pleas and Judge I. M. Meekins placed two, E. L. Dawes and Leonard Woodard, under probation for periods of 18 months. Jim Hill, Smithfield cafe operator, was sentenced to two years in the Atlanta penitentiary on each of two counts of receiving stolen goods, the sentences to run concurrently, and T. C. Robbins of Rocky Mount, was sentenced to 18 months in the Atlanta prison. (Continued on Page Three)

PROBE WILSON MAIL ROBBERY

Postoffice Inspectors Begin Investigation Of Holdup Yesterday

Wilson, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Three postoffice inspectors arrived here today to investigate the alleged $50,000 mail robbery yesterday while Hugh Hawley, contract mail truck driver, was reported being held in the custody of officers.

Hawley was arrested yesterday after three sacks containing currency for banks here were found in the woods near where Hawley said the truck was rifled.

No charges had been placed against him.

Late News Flashes From Over World

To Probe Lindbergh Case.

Washington, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Recent success in rounding up kidnapers has prompted the Department of Justice to undertake a fuller coordinated probe of the 20 months old Lindbergh kidnaping. Sanctioned by President Roosevelt in his desire to consolidate all kidnaping probes under the Justice Department the move follows disclosure of the withdrawal of the case from the lone income tax investigator that had been working on it.

This agent, Frank Wilson, of Capone income tax probe fame, was taken off the case this week by Elmer L. Irey, chief of the Internal Revenue Bureau, and returned to his former duties with the united field office in Baltimore. They refuse to discuss the matter but it was learned that Wilson's withdrawal had White House approval. (Continued on Page Four)

Over Hundred Per Cent Re-Enrollment Of Members Reported Here Today

Accustomed to going "over the top" in the World War, members of the Pitt County Post of the American Legion today tested their skill at the old offensive game and went over the top again in an entirely new field—that of membership.

Reports on the membership drive now in progress submitted today by J. H. Rose, post commander, showed the Legion has obtained over a 100 per cent re-enrollment since the membership campaign got under way the first of the month. The total re-enrollment was given as 124 paid members compared with a total of 114 for the twelve month period last year.

A large group of local Legionnaires will go to New Bern Monday night for the public installation of Tom C. Daniel as State Department Commander. At that time the local post will be signally honored because of the large enrollment obtained in the present drive. It was indicated the post would have the best record of any post in the state.

CHAUFFEUR ABSOLVED OF BLAME IN FATALITY

Kinston, Oct. 19.—Clem Chavis, negro chauffeur for Mrs. Hilda Randolph Erwin of Durham, in Superior court yesterday, was acquitted of a charge of manslaughter in connection with the fatal injuring of Mrs. John T. Whitfield, wife of a prominent business man, in an automobile collision here last June. Cars driven by Whitfield and Chavis crashed in the suburbs. Several persons were injured. Witnesses from Durham gave the defendant a good character.

MOVEMENT IS STARTED IN NEW ORLEANS

Government Urged to Advance Four Cents A Pound in Addition to Ten Cents Loan; Seek to Fulfill Administration's Promise of Pre-War Parity Level

New Orleans, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Fifteen cent cotton! That is the objective of the American Co-operative Cotton Association which asked the government to raise its ten cent a pound loan to 15 cents to fulfill the administration's pledge of pre-war parity.

The association also urged the government to advance four cents a pound to farmers holding the plow-up option to prevent approximately 2,400,000 bales from being sold on the market by farmers needing money.

The plan proposes that the government carry through its ten cents loan program and advance an additional loan of five cents to farmers who carry out the Department of Agriculture's plan for reducing acreage next year.

The government would be empowered to sell the cotton on which loans are made where and if prices reach 18 cents. I. T. Williamson, president of the association, said the present loan plan will hold the market on the ten cent level while the proposed 15-cent loan would bring it to the parity level.

MOB LYNCHES NEGRO IN MD.

Governor Calls For Apprehension of Parties Responsible For Slaying

Princess Ann, Md., Oct. 19.—(AP)—Responsibility for the lynching of George Armwood, negro, who was dragged from the jail here last night and hanged from a tree near the town limits was placed today by Governor Alfred Ritchie squarely on the shoulders of Judge Robert Duer and State's Attorney John B. Robbins of Princess Anne.

Governor Ritchie directed Judge Duer, member of the bench of the first judicial district, and State's Attorney Robbins to take immediate action to set in motion the necessary legal machinery for the apprehension of those who were responsible for and who participated in the lynching.

Armwood, brought back here from Baltimore less than 17 hours earlier to face accusation of attacking an aged white woman, was wrenched from the protection of 25 state patrolmen last night and his body was finally left in a gasoline-soaked pyre on the main business corner.

The mob of more than 1,000 men, women and youths, stopped temporarily by a gas attack from state police, stormed the jail, battered down the heavy steel doors and after ripping the clothes from his body and passing a rope around his neck, dragged the negro into the streets.

GO AFTER IT NOW

The BUY NOW campaign is now being pushed throughout the country as a means of speeding up business, but locally little is being done in this respect. Recently General Johnson, recovery administrator, held up to the business men of the nation, advertising as the best method of creating increased business at this time. While some of our local merchants are following his advice with advertising and no doubt enjoying increased business as a result, many have still not come out of the hole into which they hibernated during the depression and if they continue to remain in that hole they will soon find that the business has gone to somebody else.

The wide-awake merchant who has honest merchandise to offer the buying public will find this newspaper the best medium through which to present his sales message to the buyers of this territory. With the farmers of this section now receiving money for their tobacco crop there is business to be had and the merchant who goes after it is the one who is going to get it.

HITLER IN NAPOLEON ROLE

(Pathfinder)
It's a well known truism that people never appreciate their good fortune until it's taken away from them. That's the way Americans would be if they no longer had free speech and a free press. Those rights conferred by the Constitution on King George the Third's one-time loyal subjects are now accepted by the 126,000,000 people of this country as a matter of course.

They might perk up their ears and look about this country of ours with a little more pride and satisfaction if they knew there are over 300,000,000 Europeans who are denied these foremost rights of enlightened government. This vast group of people, which is more than half the population of Europe, comprises the citizens of Russia, Germany, Italy and the Balkan states. Their governments range from communistic to constitutional monarchy, yet the people are told nothing by the daily papers, either about themselves or the outside world, except what their rulers choose they should know.

Hitler is making history in Germany—and some of it is not pleasant reading. His latest ukase about the press—namely that the publication of newspapers is a government monopoly—is so czaristic that it has surprised many people who cannot picture the German nation living under any such tyranny and accepting it.

In this action however, Hitler is not doing anything new; he is merely imitating what Napoleon and other models have done before him. It was Napoleon who said: "I fear three newspapers more than a hundred thousand bayonets." It seems therefore like a simple short cut to success to stop the expression of critical sentiment.

Suppressing the Jews and abolishing a free press is not the whole of Hitler's program. These are just "incidental" in a huge revolutionary schedule which is intended to "restore Germany to the Germans." It is too bad that he has taken a course which is antagonizing and alienating the best friends Ger-

Outrageous Fortune

by Patricia Wentworth

SYNOPSIS: Caroline Leigh has left Jim Riddell, her cousin, living at Hale Place, where he was engaged, while she goes to London to look up Nesta Riddell's marriage record. Nesta says Jim is her husband, and that he got only stole the Von Berg emeralds, but shot Elmer Van Berg, Jim's memory to go, although he recalls drinking with Von Berg. A woman on the train remarks that the police are taking finger prints from glasses found at the Von Bergs; Caroline follows her, learns that a page is missing from the book in which Von Berg kept the finger prints of the Von Bergs—and that the missing page bore the initials "J. E." She finds nothing conclusive in London, excepting the former addresses of Nesta and her husband.

Chapter 23

ON THE TRAIL

CAROLINE turned to the left, and she turned to the right; then she turned to the left again and arrived at Saracen Row. It was a narrow street of prim, decent houses. No. 14 was about half way down on the right-hand side.

She rang the bell, and presently the door was opened by a thin middle-aged woman in a lilac overall. Her drab hair was curled across her forehead under a net. She looked as if she had been interrupted in the middle of her cooking, for her face was flushed and damp, and there was a dab of flour on her sleeve.

"Why do you always make fun of Robert?"

"I'm so sorry to trouble you," said Caroline, "but was a Mr. James Riddell living here in July?"

"You've made a mistake," said the thin woman, and moved to shut the door. The smell of cabbage came up behind her.

Caroline took a quick step forward. With one part of her mind she wondered why people who lived in small houses nearly always had cabbage for lunch; with another part she was thinking, "I mustn't let her shut the door."

"Oh please," she said—"won't you try and help me?"

"I don't take gentlemen lodgers," she had a tight voice and a polite accent.

"He gave this address," said Caroline. "You don't know the name at all?"

"Sorry I don't," said the thin woman, and made such a decided movement to shut the door that Caroline stepped back and next moment found herself looking at the curiously letter-box. The cabbage was shut in, and she was shut out.

Whoever Jim Riddell might be, it seemed pretty clear that he had given a false address. She wondered what had made him pitch on this one. Perhaps the name had stuck in his mind. Saracen Row—it was the sort of name that might stick. And as for the number, 14 was as good as any another.

SHE went back to Grove Road and rang the bell of No. 3.

Here was quite a different type of landlady—a stout rolling person with a bibulous eye and an easy, jolly tongue. Of course she remembered Miss Williams—

"Why, she was married from here—and a pily she couldn't have a proper wedding. After 'all, you can't get married that way only once, with a wreath and a veil, and white satin slippers."

the little fellows that fall for the big upstanding girls."

Caroline's heart jumped. She said quickly and breathlessly, "The man Miss Williams married—was he small?"

"Never set eyes on him. Yes, you may well look surprised. The mysterious man, I called him, and fine and angry she was—And what do you mean by that, Mrs. Hawkins?"

"Why, I said, 'when a young lady keeps her young gentleman as dark as you do yours—meeting him round the corner and not so much as letting him see you home—well, she must expect remarks to be passed, and whether she expects it or not, passed they will be.'"

"Really, you know, she'd a violent temper, for I'd hardly got the words out of my lips, when he was through the door and banged it so hard that my first-floor-front came out on the landing to know what was up. 'T-o-o-pers,' I said. 'And mystery or no mystery, I'm sorry for the man that marries her, for she's one of those that'll have the upper hand or bust herself.'"

"Took the room for three weeks and came and went. You've got to live three weeks in a district before you can get married there, so she left a bag, and she'd be here for a day and gone for a week—and I'm not saying, I wasn't just as pleased, because the opinion I got of her was that if she'd been here the whole three weeks, she'd have been running the show, and me doing odd jobs and cleaning the boots and knives."

Caroline felt an affection for the bibulous lady. She felt that way about Nesta herself. She was a little cheered, but at the same time she didn't really seem to be making any progress.

"And you never saw the man she married?"

"No one in this house so much as set eyes on him," said the fat woman regretfully.

It was after six when Caroline got got back to the cottage. She found Patsy Ann sitting peacefully on the hearth-rug. She had a thimble on the middle finger of her right hand, and some blue velvet, a needle-case, a spool of silk, and two pairs of scissors in her lap.

But she was not sewing; she did not seem even to have got as far as threading one of the needles. When the door opened, she was gazing into the fire, which was on the point of going out. Without turning her head, she said, "Robert Arbutnot has been here."

"My poor thing! What's gone wrong now?"

"I don't see why anything should have gone wrong."

"Robert doesn't generally come unless it has. Why, it's only a month since he dropped in to say your Best Sugar bonds had defaulted on interest. What is it this time?"

"Robert came to lunch."

"He always does—and breaks the glad news over the coffee."

Patsy's head came up suddenly. "Why do you always make fun of Robert? I think it's very wrong of you! I'm sure it's very good of him to take so much trouble over our affairs—besides, this was different."

Tomorrow Caroline learns that something important has happened to Patsy.

political parties. When he took an inventory of Germany's political parties and found they numbered 26, and that they could not agree on anything whatever, he decided that it was time to melt the whole thing up and recast it into a single new homogeneous political body—the nation.

The experiment is a very interesting one—and we can only hope that nothing of the same sort will fall to our lot in this country. We hear a great deal of loose talk, even in high sources, about the threat of "revolution" in the United States. The labor leaders are issuing solemn warnings that unless the workers are met half way, they are liable to break loose and go all the way.

This is very serious talk, at a crisis like this. It is all the more serious when we can see how easily revolutionary forces can take charge of great nations, wipe out all minorities and set up centralized despotisms, as they have done in Europe.

GREENVILLE TOBACCO MARKET REPORT

EVERYBODY PULLING TOGETHER IN BEHALF OF THE TOBACCO GROWERS SELLING ON OUR MARKET HAS MADE GREENVILLE THE OUTSTANDING MARKET OF THE ENTIRE BRIGHT TOBACCO BELT.

Prices Now Highest of Season

All Sales Will Sell Out In Early Afternoon

IT IS IMPORTANT THAT:

1st---The weather has changed, and you are especially urged to keep your tobacco dry at all times.

2nd---Grade your tobacco more carefully, do not let green, reddish and black leaves get mixed with your bright tobacco.

3rd---Hundreds of thousands of dollars annually are lost on account of marketing tobacco in too soft condition and by careless grading.

You will not find the tobacco buyers on any market cooperating in every way more splendidly than the buying forces on the Greenville Tobacco Market. This fact alone is more responsible for Greenville being the world's largest Bright Tobacco market than any one factor. When such conditions as this exist on a tobacco market, better prices for the growers is always the result.

Let us suggest that every one preserve warehouse bills of sales and see that they are dated.

Tune in on Greenville's Radio Station WEED every day (except Sunday) at 9:45 A. M., 12:45 P. M. and 4:45 P. M. for latest tobacco market reports. Will find it on your dial around 142 or 1420.

Mrs. Smith Luncheon Hostess

Mrs. Jesse Smith was a gracious hostess yesterday at noon, honoring her house guest, Mrs. Elsie Foxhall of Richmond, Va.

The home on East Tenth street was lovely, with huge dahlias and other colorful autumn flowers. On arrival, the guests were given a cordial greeting by the hostess and honor guest.

Mrs. D. M. Clark then directed the guests to the dining room, where Mrs. H. L. Rivers and Mrs. W. E. Hooker, seated at either end of the table, served a tempting barbecue luncheon. Mrs. F. J. Forces assisted in serving and Mrs. A. W. Harris poured coffee.

The dining room was especially pretty with dahlias and Japanese sunflowers. The table was covered with an imported cloth, and centered with a silver bowl of marigolds.

A large number of guests enjoyed this delightful affair.

GERMAN ARISTOCRACY HAILS HITLER'S PROGRAM

Berlin—(AP)—German aristocracy in a pledge of loyalty, informed Chancellor Adolf Hitler it had adopted his racial program and that it would begin at once to organize into an "association with pure-blooded, historic German, aristocratic membership."

Signed by the marshal of nobility, Prince zu Bentheim-Tecklenburg, the letter to the chancellor read:

"Filled with utmost gratitude and in absolute agreement with your leadership and with your measures, we assure you, Herr Chancellor, of our absolute following in your work of saving the Reich."

The Small Cyclone

By MARY GRAHAM BONNER

The Chickens reached home safely, rushing out of the car and running straight to the protection of their mothers' wings. There was a look of pride and contentment on the face of every Hen.

Willy Nilly thought he would go back to his work after he had discovered what had happened to the Bears. He went to their home where they were nowhere to be seen.

"Now what in the world has happened to them?" Willy Nilly wondered, and began to imagine all kinds of trouble when suddenly Honey Bear and Jelly Bear could be seen on the top of a neighboring hill.

"Honey Bear! Jelly Bear!" he called.

"Where have you been all this time?" Willy Nilly asked.

They looked so well and so very, very fat that Willy Nilly was suspicious. "Tell me the truth," he said.

"Well," admitted Jelly Bear, "you see those Chickens and Ducks couldn't appreciate the woods as we could, so when I saw a most marvelous spot where there were countless berries, I told them to go on with Honey Bear and that I didn't feel well."

"Honey Bear saw more berries further along and then she knew why I wanted to rest, and she told the class to go on without her."

The Bears looked so contented and happy that Willy Nilly couldn't scold them. It was all over now, anyway, and he was tired and wanted to go home. But when he reached there it looked as though a small cyclone had struck the place.

Leonidas Wall was acquitted.

Dewey Williams and Paul Edwards, alleged ring leaders of a band of box car thieves that plundered railroad yards in the section for several months, were slated to go on trial this morning on a series of charges of car breaking, larceny and receiving. Ray denied any connection with the alleged "ring" when he took the witness stand yesterday afternoon, but admitted walking out of the Pitt county jail at Greenville when he found the door unlocked. He said, however, that he surrendered voluntarily when he was being accused of participating "in every crime committed in Eastern North Carolina while he was at liberty."

A large number of cases, mostly prohibition law violations, have been disposed of in this week's session of court which convened Monday morning. The Williams and Edwards trials are expected to take up most of today following which a civil docket will be tried by Judge Meekins.

Ray was represented by Colonel Albion Dunn of Greenville.

HIGH TO VISIT ROCKY MOUNT TOMORROW

The local high will leave tomorrow at noon for Rocky Mount, where they will play the Rocky Mount Blackbirds at 3:30.

The locals came out of last week's game with Morehead City in good shape. There being no casualties on the squad, therefore every available man is ready to be used against the strong squad from Rocky Mount.

Rocky Mount has been defeated by Chapel Hill, Woodrow Wilson, of Portsmouth, Va., and Raleigh. The latter won last week's game 25-0. However, Jankaski, former Duke star and Rocky Mount's mentor, has a green bunch of material and his boys should be clicking for this week's game. The locals are also learning a bit more about the fine points of the game so a real battle should result.

Coach Hewlett is not settled on his starting line up. He is confronted with the problem of having several players who are better defensively than others who are better offensively. If the latter can ever balance the former then of course these men will be started. However practically the entire squad will see service in this game.

The following men will make the trip to Rocky Mount: Wilson, McAdams, Hodges, Carroll, Price, Forbes, E. T. Forbes, Jack Saaid, Hatem, Moore, Cox, Tripp, Warren, W. Warren, C. Dunn, Size, Vinson, Smith, Brooks, Cozart, Hatem, Kittrell, Summerell, Brewer, Clark, Joyner, Parrish and Manager Clark.

Next week on Friday October 27, the locals will meet Ayden High School in Greenville. This is expected to attract one of the best crowds of the year.

TEACHERS IN FINE TRIM FOR BABY 'DEAKS'

Eastern Carolina Teachers College football squad went through final workouts today in preparation for the coming of Wake Forest freshmen tomorrow afternoon.

The clash was being looked forward to with interest and hundreds of lovers of the sport were expected to be on hand at 2:30 when the game gets under way.

By reason of the fact that six Ayden men will be seen in action a large crowd of fans from that town were expected to be present to give their boys a big hand. Four of the Ayden youths will play for the Teachers and two for the Deacons.

The probable starting lineup for the Teachers was given today by Coach Ken Beatty who expects his men to make a fine showing against the Wake Forest boys.

The starting line-up will be:

Watch AMERICA follow FORD to the "8"

Follow the trend to the 8 and your car won't be out-dated next year...

IN 1925 there were eighteen 8-cylinder cars made in the United States. Today there are twenty-six. Next year there will be more.

85% of all cars that have finished among the first ten at Indianapolis since 1919 have been eights.

The trend is toward the "8"! And there is a good reason for it. Slip into the new Ford V-8 and find out for yourself.

Put this car into second gear and step on the accelerator. You do so easily—and don't realize you're in second. Slip into high and go 80, if you like! Here is a combination of power, pick-up, smoothness and flexibility never possible before in a low priced car.

What's more—its performance plus economy, 17 to 20 miles to the gallon, low oil consumption, and lowest cost of replacement parts of any car on the market.

There will be more eights! Ford has taught America the thrill of real 8-cylinder motoring. Buy a Ford V-8 and your car won't be out-dated next year.

A wide variety of colors and models—prices $490 and up, F. O. B. Detroit.

MIDGET DEVIL BACK TO GET GREAT CHANCE

Durham, N. C., Oct. 19.—Sawed-off Walkers (Tarzan) Belue, Duke's midget wonder quarterback, will get a chance to "show off to the home folks" when with the regular signal caller out he will direct the Blue Devil machine against Davidson's Wildcats at Davidson Saturday.

From nearby Charlotte a great throng of fans are expected to come to see this five foot five inch product of their city "do his stuff" as chief boss of the Duke eleven for a day.

At Charlotte, while in high school, the best Belue could do was to be a substitute who was rarely used. But at Duke his fierce tackling and blocking caught the eye of Coach Wallace Wade when he came here from Alabama and the little lad did some fullbacking for Duke the first year the mentor was at the institution—and he gained some nice yardage.

Last year he was second string blocking back to Lowell Mason, captain of the team and incidentally also a Charlotte boy. In 1932 Belue did not call signals but in spring practice this year he was assigned the tacking job and has done it in games this fall.

It will not be an inexperienced field general doing the work when Belue takes his place in the starting lineup Saturday. He played most of the opener against V. M. I. saw plenty of action against Wake Forest and with Henderson cut, played the last half of Tennessee game. He has done well in starting the team in all of these games.

The little 155-pounder is rated as hard a tackler and a furious a blocker as there is on the squad. If he weighed 10 or 15 pounds more they say at Duke, he would be an All-American.

New York Cotton

New York, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Cotton futures opened fairly steady 3 to five lower under scattered selling and on the decline in foreign exchange.

The market strouded later in the morning and at midday was dull with Dec.ber selling around 9.14 and May 9.47 or about 2 to 3 lower.

Offerings were not heavy but there was comparatively little demand with December selling off to 9.06 and May 9.40 after the call or about 9 to 10 lower.

The decline was checked at this level by buying of July through brokers with wall street connections. There seemed also to be little more trade and local buying.

December rallied to 9.17 and May to 9.49 or back to about yesterday's closing.

At the end of the first half hour December was around 9.10 and May 9.45 or about 5 to 6 lower.

N. Y. Stock Market

New York, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Financial markets were afflicted with chills and fever again today, and despite intermittent panics nervous sinking spells were frequent.

Several stocks displayed resistance to selling pressure at times but the majority were inclined to slip to levels that in some instances violated the support figures of the charts.

The rails and a few industrials were rather heavy. There was an attempt to rally prices after noon but the trading volume continued large on the down run.

Grains and cotton sagged a bit, the dollar was a little reactionary in foreign exchange, United States government securities were firm but other bonds were hesitant.

There was some heresay in short selling reported but the total is still considered to low for the safe cushion which workers believe necessary for healthy market.

A dull recovery followed the active forenoon selling. Stocks were irregular in late dealings after having reduced early losses of one to three.

Transaction were 2,400,000 shares.

French Cabinet Faces Crisis.

Paris, Oct. 19.—(AP)—The cabinet today certainly confronted serious opposition in the Chamber of Deputies.

Kay Thompson has been looking very good at backing up the line, making it possible that Captain Bill Croom may move from full to half Saturday.

This might strengthen both the offense and defense. Croom and Thompson made two of the long runs that beat the Gators 13-13 last year. The Croom-Thompson passing combination is also a constant threat.

The Kentucky state board of health says that out of every 100 persons born in the state four may reasonably expect to meet death through some form of external violence.

A Progressive miner from Taylorville was shot and killed today as thousands of his comrades flocked into Springfield on a protest march while an announcement was awaited on the NRA's decision about the Illinois union conflict.

Melville Sapias, 21, of Taylorville, was fatally shot in the chest half a block from the headquarters of the Progressive Union. The assailant escaped.

Raps Recovery Program.

Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 19.—(AP)—Agriculture areas today were described as a "seething mass of unrest" by Governor Charles Bryan in a general attack on the entire national recovery program.

Bryan, brother of the "commoner" William Jennings Bryan, said he did not know what the farm unrest might lead to but said it was bringing a condition "we can't shut our eyes to."

U. N. C. GETS IN TRIM FOR FLORIDA FRAY

Chapel Hill, Oct. 19.—The Carolina football squad is priming its defenses for a great battle Saturday.

The Florida team, which will be met at Gainesville, showed great power in running up scores of 28-0 and 31-0 in its opening games with Setson and Sewanee.

Jimmy Hughes, the regular full-back and acting captain in last year's game, who was out with injuries for the scoreless tie with State, is reported to be back in shape and ready for the Tar Heel invasion.

With Sam Davis, the quarterback, and Hugh McAnley, left halfback, from last year's starting backfield, plus several regulars in the line, the Gators are expected to offer a brilliant and versatile attack.

The coaches are laying particular stress on pass defense. Two lapses in this department cost touchdowns in the Georgia game last week, and lots of people thought Florida would have beaten State with its fine aerial attack had the game been played in the day time.

Shifting of Babe Daniel from tackle to center has added 26 pounds extra in weight and apparently has strengthened the center line considerably.

Bill Moore who was moved from this position, is looking very good in his new post at left end, and may start over the sophomore, Gene Burwick, in place of the injured Frankel.

Kay Thompson has been looking very good at backing up the line, making it possible that Captain Bill Croom may move from full to half Saturday.

This might strengthen both the offense and defense. Croom and Thompson made two of the long runs that beat the Gators 13-13 last year. The Croom-Thompson passing combination is also a constant threat.

Taste For Brown

The dark brown taste is not going to be at all disagreeable this Fall. In fact, those who do not have it are going to be classified as out of fashion, because the fashion this Fall is dark brown. There have been other brown fall seasons, but few, if any, so intensely brown as this one, which is browner than Robin Hood's "Brown October Ale." There are dark brown hats and dark brown shoes, dark brown suits and dark brown topcoats. There are even dark brown shirts.

And as a still further emphasis, pretty girls have gone in for brown to an extent seldom exceeded before. As a climax to this Autumn, maybe on New Year's morning America will have reason to again recall the real dark brown taste, legally.

Our showing of dark brown Suits, Hats, Shoes and Topcoats, is in keeping with the styles of the day.
