GOVERNMENT GOES ON MARKET AS GOLD BUYER

French Senator Begins Task Of Organizing New Cabinet

SARRAUT TO CONFER WITH HIS FRIENDS

French Leader Agrees To Try to Form Cabinet After Conference With President Lebrun; Organization Regarded As Difficult in Face Of Bitterness Caused by Overthrow of Daladier Yesterday

Paris, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Senator Albert Sarraut today was asked by President Lebrun to form a cabinet and agreed to undertake the task.

The cabinet would replace that of former Premier Edouard Daladier which fell the week after heated debate in the chamber of deputies over the government leader's plan to balance the budget and protect the franc through various new taxes and government economy.

The premier-designate tentatively accepted what was considered a difficult task in attempting to form the new cabinet but asked President Lebrun's permission to consult his friends before making a final decision.

Immediately upon leaving the Elysee palace to which he had been summoned after lunch, M. Sarraut got in touch with party leaders and examined the prospect of forming a new majority to further the center faction wreck by the cartel.

As the most likely possibility for the premiership, he waited in his office at the navy ministry for the presidential automobile to conduct him to the palace. There he and Mr. Lebrun canvassed the situation for a full hour.

JONES FREE IN LARCENY CASE

Governor Refuses to Grant Extradition of Beverly Jones to Baltimore

Beverly Jones, formerly of this city whose extradition was sought by Baltimore authorities on an alleged charge of larceny, today regained his freedom when Governor J. C. B. Ehringhaus notified legal representatives here that he had refused to grant the return of Jones to Baltimore.

The action came after a hearing before the commissioner of pardons in Raleigh Monday at which time Dink James of this city, legal representative for Jones produced documentary evidence showing his client had made satisfactory settlements of the $120 involved in the Baltimore case. He produced receipts and letters showing that the payment had been made.

Jones was returned to Greenville under technical detention pending the return of Governor Ehringhaus from Norfolk. Immediately upon his arrival in Raleigh the governor announced he would not grant extradition.

Jones who has been in Greenville while awaiting action of the Governor, was arrested at a banquet in the Hotel New Bernian at New Bern several nights ago. He was taken into custody upon a request from the chief of Baltimore detectives. LEAF PRICES REMAIN FIRM ON MART HERE

Brisk Bidding Yesterday Held Average Above Parity Level In Greenville

The price situation remained firm on the local tobacco market yesterday but due to the fact that the average quality was not as good the average was not as high as the day before when a record price average for the season was hung up.

However, the average for the day was less than two cents under the previous day and farmers again expressed their appreciation of the upswing in prices.

It was estimated there was something like a million pounds of leaf on the floors of the various warehouses today with indications that sales would be completed during the early afternoon and open the way for heavier offerings tomorrow.

The report of the supervisor of sales presented this morning showed the market handled yesterday 1,261,338 pounds of leaf at an average of $17.09 per hundred pounds. The average for the previous day was $18.63. Farmers were paid a total of $215,706.94 for the day's offerings.

The sale yesterday brought total poundage for the season at 32,500,262 and today's offerings were expected to swell the total to near the 34,000,000 mark.

Bidding on the market both Monday and yesterday was brisker than any other part of the season, and prices for the good grades went above the 60 cent mark. The quality yesterday was not as good as on the opening day on account of a considerable quantity of re-handled leaf but prices on the better grades were as strong as the previous day when the market established a new season record on both prices and number of pounds disposed of.

Police at Boston Search For Mysterious Letter Writer in Lindbergh Case

Boston, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Police who had been questioning John Gorch about the Lindbergh kidnaping shifted today to a hunt for the person who gave the "tip" leading to Gorch's arrest.

They wanted to find out how much the mysterious letter writers knew about Gorch's past.

Gorch at first was believed to bear a resemblance to the John who collected the $50,000 Lindbergh ransom from John "Jafie" Condon. Condon had denied that he is the man and police Lt. James Finn of New York expressed to his superiors a conviction that Gorch had nothing to do with the kidnaping.

COURT HEARS DAMAGE SUIT

N. C. Tripp Suing Will Worthington For $5,000 as Result Of Auto Accident

Civil court which convened here Monday morning was occupied today with the hearing of the $5,000 damage suit of N. C. Tripp against Will Worthington, but work was expected to be completed during the early afternoon. Both the plaintiff and defendant are from the Ayden community.

The case grew out of a wreck in Lenoir county sometime ago in which Tripp claimed he received serious injuries. He said he had gone to Lenoir with his wrecker to take care of a wrecked automobile on the highway near Kinston.

While they were working along the road he contended that Worthington came along in his car, struck the wrecker and injured him.

Worthington, on the other hand, contended Tripp was working on the wrong side of the road and that the force of the impact was not severe enough to cause the plaintiff any serious injury. He declared damage to his car cost less than a dollar.

The case was begun yesterday morning and was going at full swing this morning with indications it would probably reach the jury during the early afternoon.

Prior to beginning work in the case, court disposed of three divorces for the present term to six, three having been granted the day before.

R. L. Dickerson was granted divorce from Callie Dickerson after two years of separation.

Francis Hardee received annulment of marriage from Clara Byrd Hardee on the grounds of lack of understanding of the marriage vows by the wife.

J. O. Teel was granted divorce absolute from Violet Teel on the grounds of adultery.

Judge J. Paul Frizzelle, of Show Hill, is presiding over the term which will cover a period of two weeks, the second week to be confined to the hearing of criminal actions.

STOCKS JUMP ON N. Y. MART

Upward Movement Caused by Government Sitting Gold Above World Level

New York, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Shares and staples advanced further in the initial dealings today as the Reconstruction Finance Corporation set its first gold price moderately above the world level.

The price set at $31.36 an ounce, however, compared to the treasury price of $29.80 yesterday and a London price today equal to $31.09 on the early exchange was regarded as conservatively increased.

Cotton jumped $1 a bale in the initial dealings.

Stocks were active with numerous blocks of 1,000 to 5,000 shares changing hands but advances ranged from a few cents to a little more than $1.

PRICE ABOVE QUOTATIONS OF WORLD MARKET

Gleaming Metal to Be Paid For Out of Reconstruction Finance Corporation 90 Day Debenture; Will be Easily Converted Into Cash; Price 27 cents Higher Than Opening Quotations of World Market

Washington, Oct. 25.—(AP)—President Roosevelt's unprecedented plan for controlling the American value of gold in the expectation of raising commodity prices was put into operation today with offers to purchase newly mined gold at $31.36 an ounce, 27 cents higher than the day's opening quotations on the world market.

Announcing the price, Jesse H. Jones, Reconstruction Corporation chairman, said the gleaming metal would be paid for in the corporation's 90 day debenture which, he added, could be easily converted into cash.

Government fiscal experts were working out a plan whereby the debentures can be discounted at a rate which will bring their holders full purchase price for their gold.

An executive order from the White House and regulations from the treasury department will be issued later in the day outlining the procedure by which the mining companies will transfer their gold to the corporation.

The government men entered the search immediately after the bank robberies in which the gunmen obtained $74,782 in currency and bonds at Green Castle Monday and $2,500 in cash and bonds in South Bend yesterday.

U. S. 'Watches And Waits' On Germany

By FRANK I. WELLES
 Washington—(AP)—Back of administration moves to prevent the collapse of the disarmament cause is contemplation of the burden facing the world should German demands for equality be worked out in terms of French "security."

Before Adolf Hitler's government recalled his representatives from Geneva and announced Germany's resignation from the League of Nations, the disarmament conference had disclosed that it would frown upon any material modification of the Versailles treaty which might bring about a restoration of pre-war power.

When the German withdrawal came it evoked revelations that the general scheme under discussion provided a scaling down of armaments in the world war victor states but without any accompanying upward revision in the vanquished countries. It would be at least eight years, and possibly longer, before practical equality would be accomplished.

Today there is a ring of steel around Germany. In the "French influence" area of Europe are five nations capable of putting 13,716,674 trained soldiers in the field.

Poland, on the east, has 332,100 active and 1,645,000 in reserve. South of Germany are the Little Entente nations—Rumania with 244,800 active and 1,485,500 reserves; Czechoslovakia with 138,000 under arms and 1,469,000 trained men; and Yugoslavia, whose army numbers 158,500 and whose reserves total 1,498,000.

Then on the west is France with 697,000 men on active service and 6,328,000 trained reserves. The republic thus replaces imperial Germany as the world's premier builder of armies.

Compared with these hosts Germany has but 100,500 regulars, no reserves, no fortifications such as bridges on the French side of the boundary, no tanks, gas or siege guns, limited ammunition and nothing but a commercial air fleet, whereas France has amassed nearly 3,000 battle planes into the most formidable air force in the world.

The German army looks puny against the backdrop of 1914. Some 800,000 regulars and 36,600 officers goose-stepped to the first battles of the world war and behind them came 4,200,000 reserves.

The regulars composed 217 infantry regiments, 18 battalions of light artillery, 11 machine gun detachments, 15 fortress machine gun detachments, 110 cavalry regiments, 106 field artillery regiments, 25 regiments of foot artillery, 33 engineer battalions, 3 railway regiments, 3 telegraph battalions, 6 balloon regiments, 5 airplane battalions and 1 mortar battalion.

Just as the Versailles treaty decapitated Germany's standing army it ended her glory on the sea.

In 1914 the great Helgoland naval base was considered impregnable. The German fleet boasted 355 vessels. There were 47 battleships, 56 cruisers, 182 destroyers, 47 torpedo boats and 39 submarines.

The treaty reduced German sea power to 3 battleships, 5 light cruisers, 12 destroyers and 17 torpedo boats and dismantled Helgoland.

The WORLD OF STAMPS

By QUINTON JAMES
 Scenes from nine of Richard Wagner's operas are illustrated on as many semi-postal stamps just received from Germany.

Intended also as an aid to charity, the stamps are being sold with an additional value ranging from two to 35 pfennigs, to be turned over to the national welfare fund.

The various opera scenes include: on the 3-pfennig stamp, "Tannhauser"; the 4-pfennig "The Flying Dutchman"; the 5-pfennig, "Rheingold"; the six, "Meistersinger"; the eight, "Walkure"; the 12, "Siegfried"; the 20, "Tristan and Isolde"; the 25, "Lohengrin"; and the 40, "Parsifal." In addition there is a six-pfennig postcard bearing the portrait of Wagner.

Austria's newest commemorative issue, in connection with the Catholic Congress in Vienna and the 250th anniversary of the freeing of that city from the Turkish siege, contains six stamps.

Values are: 12 groschen, green; 24 purple; 30 red; 40 deep blue; 50 blue, and 64 brown. The stamps depict, in the main, leaders of that time.

The sport in stamp collecting of recent years has sent many a householder scrounging amid his old correspondence in an attempt to unearth something of value.

It is surprising the price at which collectors rate some of the old U. S. stamps, and even quite a few of the more recent ones, particularly if they are of denominations other than for ordinary letter mail, from four cents up.

Outside of the one, two and three-centers from Civil war days to the twentieth century, catalog values will range from 50 cents up to, in some cases, $5,000.

It is necessary to go back only to the Columbian exhibition issue to find a rarity. While most of the stamps in this issue are fairly common, there is one that has a rating of $200 used and $600 unused. It is the 4-cent which, through an error, was in blue instead of ultramarine. It shows the fleet of Columbus.

GREENVILLE TOBACCO MARKET REPORT

EVERYBODY PULLING TOGETHER IN BEHALF OF THE TOBACCO GROWERS SELLING ON OUR MARKET HAS MADE GREENVILLE THE OUTSTANDING MARKET OF THE ENTIRE BRIGHT TOBACCO BELT.

The Market Sold Monday 1,576,670 Pounds for $293,807.95

AVERAGE $18.63

Market Continues Strong--Better Grades Now Highest of the Season.

More growers from distant counties are now patronizing the Greenville market than any time since the market was established, and they know it is paying them to sell here, some of them traveling over 100 miles.

The reason for the phenomenal record Greenville market has made and is at present making, is the fine spirit being manifested by the Greenville Tobacco Byers who are determined that no market shall excel Greenville in prices paid for every grade of tobacco.

GRADE MORE CAREFULLY

Hundreds of thousands of dollars annually are lost on account of marketing tobacco in too soft condition and by careless grading.

Let us suggest that every one preserve warehouse bills of sales and see that they are dated.

The Board of Trade does not permit under penalty of $50.00 fine, any warehouseman to reserve floor space for anyone. The principle of first come first served under the By-Law must be carried out.

Tune in on Greenville's Radio Station WEED every day (except Sunday) at 9:45 A. M., 12:45 P. M. and 4:45 P. M. for latest tobacco market reports. Will find it on your dial around 142 or 1420.

X.W.C.A. CABINET INSTALLED AT VESPER SERVICE

At the vesper hour Sunday night, October 22, the Junior Cabinet of the Y. W. C. A. of East Carolina Teachers College, was installed. A beautiful ceremony was used. The Junior Cabinet members are chosen from the first-year classes. They were selected according to the evidence of the capability in assisting in Y. W. C. A. work, and their interest in the services since entering the college. The ceremony was based on the old idea of becoming knighthood upon those who were to carry on the affairs of the kingdom.

The choir entered singing "Follow the Gleam" and took their places behind the thrones, which were arranged on the stage of the Social-Religious, or campus building. The choir was followed by Miss Ethelyn Saunders, president of the Y. W. C. A., who took the part of the king, and Miss E. Elizabeth Denney, vice-president, who was the queen. The members of the senior cabinet, as attendants in the court followed, wearing regalia which carried out the Y. W. C. A. colors, blue and white, and carrying lighted candles. They took their places on the stage, and the king ordered that the Junior cabinet be knighted. The freshmen and first year normal classes, wearing white, were assembled at the foot of the stage. The court attendants came from the stage and touched with their staffs the chosen girls. The Junior Cabinet then formed a semi-circle at the foot of the stage where they were given lighted candles and were asked to repeat the Y. W. C. A. pledge.

The king and queen, followed by the Junior and Senior Cabinet, left the auditorium, proceeded to the fountain in the Wright Circle, where they knelt and sang "Follow the Gleam," after which taps were sounded as a benediction.

LITERARY SOCIETIES HAVE DECISION DAY

Yesterday, October 24, was society decision day at East Carolina Teachers College. The Pogs lead in the number of new members with 171. The Laniers come next with 94, and the Emersons have 81.

The literary societies are the center of interest throughout the week. They have been presenting their claims to the new students in various ways, some rather spectacular. Yesterday interest ran high. The entrance hall of the Austin building was alive with color and life. Each society had a booth and their colors fluttered everywhere.

The next big event will be Saturday when the societies will formally initiate and entertain these new members.

Christian Science Services. "Probation After Death," was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, October 22.

The golden text was from Revelation 14:13: "Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord from henceforth: Yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labours; and their works do follow them."

Among the citations which comprised the lesson-sermon was the following from the Bible: "For he must reign, till he hath put all enemies under his feet."—1 Cor. 15:25.

The lesson-sermon also included the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "The Bible calls death an enemy, and Jesus overcame death and the grave instead of yielding to them. He was the way. To him, therefore, death was not the threshold over which he must pass into living glory."

Two striking features of education in Russia, the speaker pointed out, are its pre-school and its adult work.

The basic principles in pre-school education include active participation of children in building their own lives, socially useful labor, establishment of intimate connections with contemporary life, and development of a materialistic outlook on the world.

Even the toys of the child are censored, the fancy doll being banned, and toy dishes, stoves, etc., forbidden because they stress private home life rather than cooperative homes and group endeavor. The favored playthings are toy machines, replicas of cooperative kitchens, and other imitations of things in adult life.

No real fairy tales are allowed, and no religion is taught, as it is "an evil inheritance from the past."

The ultimate goal of pre-school education, said the speaker, is children's homes, which children will enter in infancy and leave only at maturity. Thus woman will be freed to "take her place side by side with man."

A. A. U. W. HEARS TALK ON RUSSIAN EDUCATION

To make primary education universal among all the races within her borders and wipe out illiteracy in all people under fifty by 1937 is Russia's goal in education under the second Five-Year plan, said Miss Annie C. Newell in her talk on "Educational Trends in Russia," given before the A. A. U. W. on Monday night, October 23.

That Russia has made real progress toward this goal, Miss Newell said, is shown by the fact that the country has now 25,000,000 children in her schools, nearly as many as the United States has after a century of public schools.

The speaker began by listing five major trends in education to be seen the world over: (1) a clearer understanding of democracy, one which emphasizes the return an individual owes the group for its protection of his right to "life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness"; (2) a new conception of the worth of the individual; (3) a better grasp of the tremendously increasing complexity of life; (4) a belief in active learning rather than passive reception of facts; (5) a belief that education is not preparation for life but life itself. All these trends are observable in Russian education.

Every school in the Russian city, according to Miss Newell, is attached to a factory, and each country school to a state farm; and in all cases the school work centers about the actual labor of factory or farm. The child is taught to put to work immediately all that he learns, and above all, to identify his own interests with those of the state.

The fundamental ideals Russian education aims to set up are collectivism, a society in which races and sexes come together on the basis of equality, and industrialism.

COFFEE PARCEL PROVES VERY INSECURE BANK

Laurinburg, Oct. 25.—Investigation of the Harvel store robbery case here has produced leads but nothing tangible, although a negro store employee, Ernest Smith, is held in jail, according to police. Harvel, one of Scotland's largest merchants, crammed about $600 cash, $150 Liberty bonds, $400 checks, a large number charge accounts and about twenty-five or thirty land deeds and mortgages into a barrel of loose coffee for safe keeping. Then he showed the barrel under a counter and went home. Sunday night thieves cut a wire screen above the front door and made a clean sweep of the improvised vault. The merchant said his deeds and mortgages were recorded but the charge accounts, of no value to thieves, were his principal loss. An imported fingerprint expert photographed the store interior and exterior but has not yet reported.

The First Touchdown

By MARY GRAHAM BONNER The Puddle Muddle crowd went wild when their team made the 10 yards in less than four downs; so were allowed four more chances. They hoped they would continue to keep the ball by gaining 10 yards in four downs or less every time, but this they could not do, so the Rough-Toughs now had the ball and from their side of the field the old black cat was leading the cheering by yells and shrieks learned in a week of lessons at the best Backyard Fence Cat Yelling school. The Puddle Muddle team was being beaten! Playing for all it was worth, it could not stop the Rough-Toughs, who made the first touchdown and scored six points. Then, of course, they were given the ball at the 20-yard line for a chance to gain another point by kicking it over the goalpost. With might and main the Puddle Muddle team tried to block the kick and then the Rough-Toughs argued that Puddle Muddle should be given a penalty for roughness and made to move back a number of yards, but this was refused. Now Puddle Muddle's score was nothing while the Rough-Toughs had six points. Puddle Muddle was on the 10-yard line with three minutes to play. Jelly Bear, instead of running with the ball himself, passed it to Honey Bear, who was less heavily guarded and so could run more quickly. The galleries were nervously silent now. Those who were for the Rough-Toughs were hoping that the Puddle Muddles would not score before the time was up. Only two minutes more!

U. N. C. LINE LOOKS STORNG FOR TECH TILT

Chapel Hill, Oct. 25—(AP)—With Julian Frankel back from injured row and looking his old self, the veteran Carolina line is running intact for the first time since the Vanderbilt game and is expected to show the greatest strength of the season in the stiff Homecoming battle with Georgia Tech here Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The defensive showing against Florida was probably the best of the season, the high-powered Gator offense being limited to five first downs. With Frankel back at left end in place of the less experienced sophomore, Moore and Barwick, the Tar Heels should be even stronger against Tech.

Tar Heel supporters can well be glad that the line has hit its stride and regained top power at this time. Although Tech dropped hardluck decisions to Kentucky 7-6 and to Tulane 7-0, the Tornado showed tremendous power in smothering the same Clemson team that beat State by a score of 39-2 and in defeating Auburn, 1932 champions of the Conference 16-6.

The Hamblin' Wreck has a fine array of hard running backs, headed by "Shorty" Roberts, sensation at 180-pound quarterback, Chick Galloway, the spring champion, "Jarring Jack" Phillips, the punter line busier, with a veteran line to clear the way. The forward wall in fact lists four of last year's regulars, Tharpe and Williams at the tackles and Laws and Dave Wilcox at the guards.

Carolina supporters are definitely counting on their big line led by such stars as Barclay, Collins and Brandt, to stop the Tornado charge Coach Collins and the Tar Heels are concentrating on instilling punch and power into their attack and in preparing a rousing attack and reception of their own to haul against the strong Tech line.

From all indications the Tar Heel offense should be much improved Saturday. Henry Burnett and Don Jackson, two of the leading ball carriers, are back in shape. Charlie Woolen, Jr., is also looking very good in his new role in the halfback position. All three boys are doing good passing. The punters, McCachren, Woolen, and Martin are also looking up, and the line blocking appears to be much more consistent.

The Carolina-Tech game will be the only Conference or Inter-Conference game in the State and one of the leading battles in the South Saturday. With the attendant festivities there are being arranged for the upcoming celebration, and judging from the heavy advance ticket sale continuing today, it is expected to draw the largest crowd of the present season to Kenan Stadium.

Among the extra features will be decorations of the main buildings, fraternities, and downtown, the open house celebrations of the fraternities, the parade and pep meeting Friday night, the Tech alumni luncheon and routing section, the Band and Cheer-o program at the game, the cheering section of girls from the Woman's College and Saint Mary's and the two dances for which Jelly Lettich and His Orchestra will furnish the music on Friday and Saturday nights.

TRAWLERS DECLARED TO BE BREAKING LAW

Manteo, Oct. 25—Fishing trawlers have become quite a pest in operation just off the coast near here within the past few days. Travelers by automobile and coast guardsmen reported from ten to twenty-five of them within a few hundred yards of the shore Friday and Saturday, operating up and down the shore.

The restrictions on coastal fishing by these trawler boats require them to operate not less than three miles from the shore. Last year and the year before reports have had to be filed with the Fisheries Commission in order to curb the activity of these people, most of whom come from Virginia.

Fishermen claim they disturb the fish that are headed for the inlets, destroying thousands of pounds of edible fish that are so small for use this season, they divert them from entering the inlet, and when their catches are made they go to the market and dump thousands of pounds of fish on the wholesale houses, thereby reducing the price of the catches of the small fishermen to less than sufficient to pay expenses of shipping.

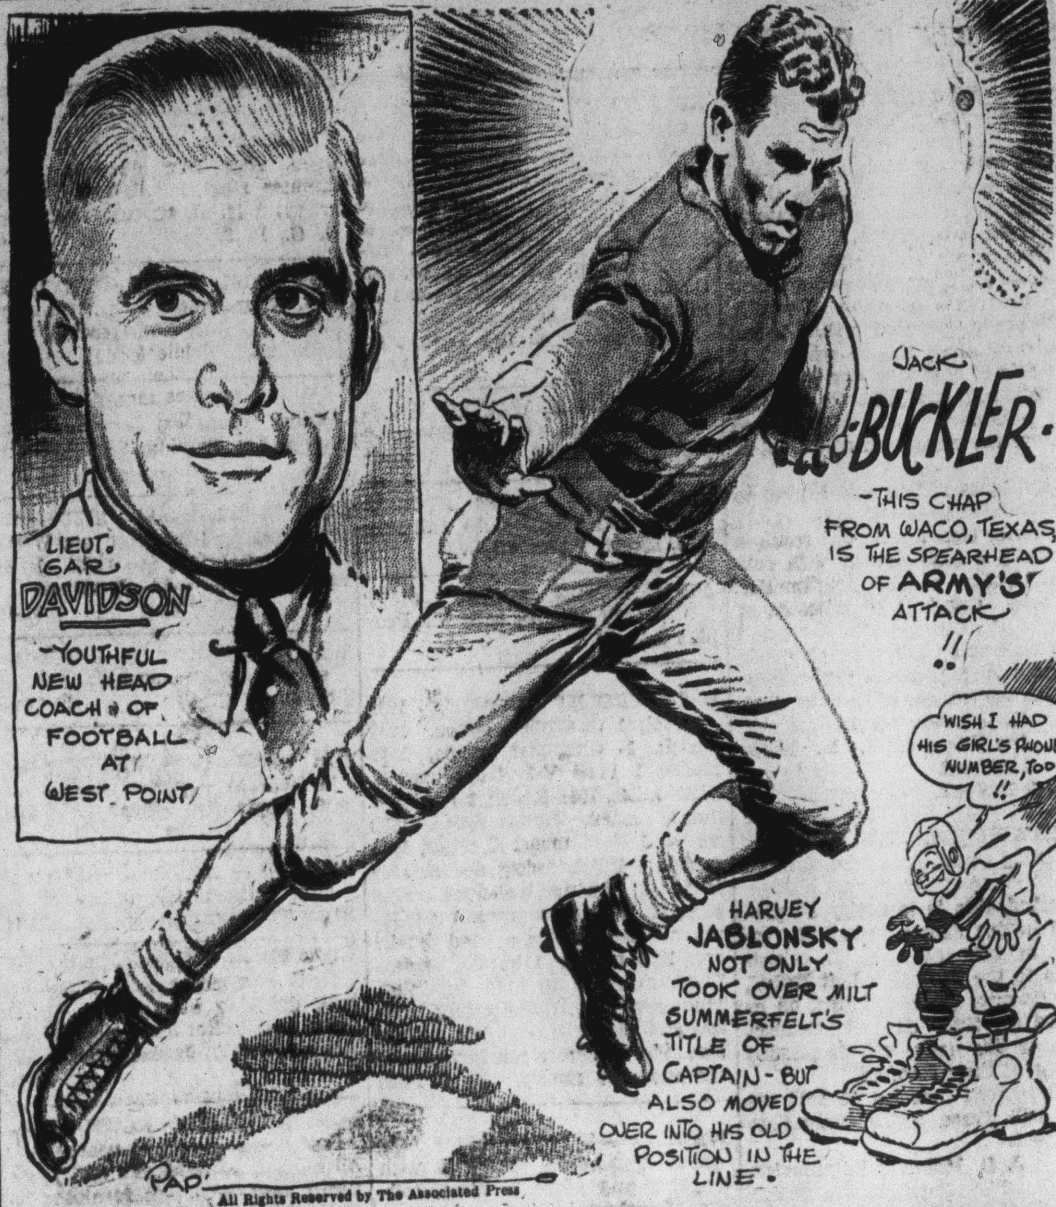

A protest has been filed with the Fisheries Commission by the Dare County Chamber of Commerce and by the Dare County Fishermen's association asking an investigation.

FIVE YEAR OLD'S COOKIES TAKE PRIZE

Amarillo, Tex. —(AP)—Every little 5-year-old girl probably likes animal cookies, but Patricia Seward of Amarillo bakes her own and wins prizes with them.

An assortment of Patricia's dainties won first prize at the Amarillo Tri-State fair. She likes to bake and exhibited her baking at the fair along with women from the Texas Panhandle, New Mexico and Oklahoma.

Patricia began baking the simpler things not long after she learned to recite the nursery rhyme of "Pat-a-cake, pat-a-cake, baker's man."

SPORT SLANTS

The Shaughnessy plan for determining baseball championships was given a trial in three of the larger league leagues this past season, and if the afterflow of comment from the magnates is to be taken, it will be bounced about considerably on the winter meeting tables.

The plan is akin to the customary hockey play-off, in which several of the teams finishing near the top are tangled in a round-robin series for the bunting.

It seems to be conceded generally even by those who have a black ball ready to drop in the box against it, that the plan did have a certain amount of silver in the lining. It is agreed that, instead of killing off interest, in the last month of play, with a leader well out in front, the winkle sustained fan attraction be cause any one of several teams had a chance to horn in on the prize.

Break For Buffalo Probably the plan will find more quarter in the American Association than in the International or Texas leagues, since in Tom Hickey's AA loop the Columbus Red Birds, who finished first on the season's play, defeated Minneapolis, the high standing team of the western division, and there was no room for moaning.

But in the International league Buffalo's Bisons lollied in the second division practically all season. On the last day, they slipped into fourth place to gain a jarring in the round-robin between the first four teams.

The Bisons waded through the assignment to win the championship although their season percentage was 494 and they were 2 games behind the first-place Newark Bears. It is easy to understand the tears and cries of anguish from the Newark patrons.

Much the same thing down in the Texas league, where San Antonio wound up in fourth place and then proceeded to trample its rivals and tuck away the flag in the play-off. Houston, finishing first, and being out of that position only seven days during the summer was eliminated in the first round.

Columbus playing Buffalo in the Junior World Series, and New Orleans contesting San Antonio in the Dixie classic after winning the Southern pennant saved their leagues many embarrassing blishes by copping the intersectional events. Suppose Columbus had lost to the fourth-place Bisons and New Orleans had been stamped by the fourth-place San Antonio tribe?

Minor Notes For those minor leagues which stage their annual split season races 1933 was a good year for first half winners. Four of them—St. Joseph of the Western League, Zanesville of the Middle Atlantic, Baton Rouge of the Dixie and Superior of the North ern—defeated the second half champs for the decisions. Second half winners coming out on top in the final scrap were New Orleans of the Southern and Beatrice of the Nebraska State loop.

Davenport won both halves in the Mississippi Valley and made it more than unanimous by stamping Rock Island in a post-season series. Greensboro players got home early from the Piedmont league by bagging both halves and proving the honesty of the game at the cost of their play-off shares.

Indiana Widens Highways. Indianapolis, Ind.—(AP)—A million dollar highway widening program is getting under way in Indiana with pick and shovel gangs selected from local relief rolls to build up the "shoulders" of paved roads.

SIGNS NEW FIVE-YEAR CONTRACT

Bill Terry, the young man who piloted the New York Giants to a world series triumph over the Senators, signed a five-year contract to continue as manager of the Giants. Terry sat down with Charles A. Stoneham (left), owner of the club, and signed a document reliably reported to call for $40,000 a year for his services through the season of 1938. In doing so they tore up a two-year contract Bill signed in 1932. (Associated Press Photo)

Farley's Visit To Texas Causes Lots Of Talk

By BYRON PRICE (Chief of Bureau, The Associated Press, Washington)

No political pilgrimage for a long time has had the eye and ear of Washington like the visit of Postmaster General Farley to Vice-President Garner in Texas.

There will be much listening and watching for weeks to come. The returns may be slow in coming in, for the vice-president is by way of being a very deliberate and silent man when he chooses. But sooner or later the results of the campaign councils of these two are expected to appear.

The story of Mr. Garner's attitude toward the office he holds, of his conduct in that office and of his summer's silent retirement in Texas includes a great many things not generally understood.

The key to the situation is an unpublished letter written by the vice-president to Franklin D. Roosevelt after the election of 1932. It declared there would be no vice-presidential advice as to patronage, except when it was requested; that silence would be the expected role of the second in command, but that there would be nothing but complete loyalty to the presidential policies.

To his personal friends Mr. Garner emphasized the determination to be silent. He felt that in his own way he might say something which would be misinterpreted by the public as representing the views of others.

The President invited the vice-president into the cabinet, and there has been no outward indication of any disagreement between them.

As time went by Mr. Garner was asked about certain appointments. He gave his opinion. The men he recommended were appointed.

Then, still later, it was represented in some quarters that this patronage had been awarded at Mr. Garner's request. The vice-president's friends resented that.

So matters stood when the session of Congress ended last summer. The vice-president's departure for a long rest in Texas was according to the custom he had followed for many years. When he remained silent through the height of the NRA drive, however, emerging only

LOCAL HIGH PLAYS AYDEN HERE FRIDAY

The local high school will reach their half way mark in their current football season Friday afternoon at 3:30 at the Third street stadium when they meet the Ayden High gridders. This marks the first meeting of the two rivals in several years.

Defeated last week by Rocky Mount, 6-0, the locals are hard at work for this week's game. In losing to Rocky Mount, Greenville did not lose any prestige, as, like Goldsboro, they are a class A conference team. Some indication of just how the locals are doing may be learned when Goldsboro last week defeated Wilmington 7-0. There are only two games lost by Greenville, which has been playing class B teams in the past three or four years.

This year Ayden does not boast the team that they've had in the past several years. They lost all but three or four men by graduation. However, they have a heavy, fast team that might click in this game. No line-up has been announced for either team. This will probably be made known tomorrow. Coach Hewlett has used 19 or 20 players in all games thus far this year and any of these boys might be in the starting lineup. The teach has reached the up-grade point and several new plays are being perfected, as well as a modification of the Notre Dame shift which will be displayed in this game.

Ayden will send a large number of fans for this game. It is hoped that local fans will come to the support of the highs which has been lacking this season.

The senior class of the high school is sponsoring this game and they have a few new ideas for the outside attractions, as well as cheer leaders from each class, leading the high school students in organized cheering.

This will be a great game and football fans will not have to ride for miles to see two good teams in action. Don't forget, Friday, Oct. 27th, Greenville vs Ayden, 3:30, at Third street stadium.

JONES COUNTY MAN ACCIDENTALLY KILLED

Kinston, Oct. 25—The funeral of Herbert M. Marshburn, 29, fatally wounded by a discharge from a shotgun carelessly handled by a negro boy, was held in Jones county Monday afternoon.

Marshburn, a farmer, was leaving the home of the boy's family near Trenton Sunday when the youth, 13 years of age, walked up with the gun. As they passed, the weapon was discharged, wounding Marshburn in the abdomen.

Marshburn died in a hospital. He is reported to have made a statement in which he asked that "nothing be done with the boy," saying he was positive the shooting was accidental.

The father of the boy, whose name was not learned here, explained he had sent him to the home of white youths a short distance away to get the gun, borrowed from him some days previously.

Marshburn was a member of a prominent family, the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Marshburn, residing near Trenton.

Russia Hopes For Vast New Field Of Credit

By STANLEY P. RICHARDSON

Moscow—(AP)—The opening of a vast new field of credit and the removal of restrictions placed on some of its exports is hoped by the Soviet government to be the chief economic effect it and when America recognizes the bolshevik regime.

In return for satisfactory credit facilities and the lowering of "forced labor" barriers against its goods the Soviet state is ready to place large orders for American industrial equipment and raw materials.

The Kremlin emphasizes, however, that the latter is conditional on the former; that if America wants to sell more to this country it must not only supply the required credit but also must give Soviet goods free access to the American market on an equality with those of other countries.

Moscow authorities calculate that the surplus of goods in the United States places the Soviets in position to drive a bargain and they frankly are out to get the best terms possible.

Long-term credit still is the main Soviet prerequisite for purchases abroad, more so than ever because of the shrinking market for its exports, which are its principal means of financing these purchases.

Credits of from two to more than four years have been extended to Moscow by Germany, England and Italy on rather large scales; so Russians do not think it unreasonable to suppose that similar long range financing will be expected from the United States.

Whether this is done privately or by government loan or by government guarantee of Russian paper, is immaterial to Moscow.

Soviet fiscal authorities were cheered greatly last summer when the Reconstruction Finance Corporation lent American business men $4,000,000 with which to finance the sale of cotton to Russia. Although the sum was relatively small, they regarded it as significant because it was the first American governmental financing of Soviet business.

While trade relations between the United States and Russia, which have declined in the past two years undoubtedly will be improved, American business men probably will be disappointed if they expect a rich flood of Soviet orders.

Notwithstanding the tempting bait dangled before the world by Maxim Litvinov, commissar for foreign affairs, in his statement at the London economic conference that Russia was ready to buy a billion dollars worth of goods in return for normal trading facilities, and the broad hints voiced by the Soviet press that America stood to profit enormously by recognition, there are definite signs here that there will be no immediate phenomenal increase in business.

In the first place Moscow has found it necessary to restrict new commitments abroad so as not to impair its badly strained capacity to meet its obligations. This is reflected in a sharp cut of more than 100 per cent in its imports in the first six months of 1933.

New York Cotton

New York, Oct. 25—(AP)—Cotton futures opened firm 19 to 22 higher on the inauguration of the government's gold buying policy, higher Liverpool cables and the decline in the dollar abroad.

Buying was general and active on the opening advance of 9.75 for December. Prices eased several points after the call with December reflecting to 9.63 while May sold off from 10.01 to 10.00 although selling continued in sufficient volume to give the market a steady undertone at the end of the first half hour.

The market continued steady later in the morning. At midday December was around 9.72 and May 10.09 with the general list showing gains of about 18 to 20 points.

N. Y. Stock Market

New York, Oct. 25—(AP)—Buying waves swept through the financial market today as both traders and investors under the spur of a lively revival of inflationary psychology changed money into commodities and equities.

The government's new price for gold of $31.26 an ounce was not quite as high as had been expected in some quarters and stocks bulged about uncertainly at the start.

Profit taking was quickly absorbed and another forward rush was started after the first hour.

The ticker tape fell behind on the advance and slowed down noticeably on intermittent realizing.

Wheat rallied three or more cents a bushel and rye got up more than four. Cotton was more than $1 a bale higher. Bar silver jumped one and an eighth cents at 38 5/8 cents and an ounce and copper firmed. The dollar rallied against sterling but eased in terms of the gold currency. Bonds were mixed.

The gold mining shares moved narrowly after their brisk advance on the previous session and Home-Stacks dropped 21 points at one time. Stocks resumed their advance following moderate profit-taking in the first hour. Metal shares moved higher but lacked recent buoyancy. Oils and farm implements were in good demand. Transfers were 2,850,000 shares.

Seeks Action in Mine Strikes

Washington, Oct. 25—(AP)—President Roosevelt is becoming impatient over the long drawn out negotiations for peace in the coal mines of Pennsylvania and was reported at noon today to expect a reply from Myron Taylor, chairman of the U. S. Steel Corporation, within a few hours.

The President has told the operators of these mines that if they do not make terms with the miners he will step in.

It was made very plain today at the White House that he feels these negotiations have been logn drawn out and that action is due.

Husbands Live Longer, Census Statistics Show

Washington—(AP)—The old contention that married life, particularly for men, is conducive to health and longevity, is supported by statistics which show the death rate of husbands to be lower than that of bachelors.

Analysis of vital statistics compiled by the bureau of the census discloses that at ages between 35 and 45 the death rate of husbands was not more than one-half and at all ages between 25 and 65 it is not more than two-thirds that of bachelors.

Prof. Walter F. Willcox of Cornell University, who made the analysis for the bureau, says that while the statistical results are uniform, the explanations are diverse. Young husbands, he says, are doubtless healthier on the average than men of the same age who do not marry.

"The question remains whether the continuous process of selection through marriage suffices to explain the great and persistent difference," he said. "Those who doubt or deny it claim that married life is intrinsically normal, at least for men, and conducive to health and long life."

"In support of the contention, they point out," he added, "that widowers as well as husbands have been through the selective process of marriage and yet the death rate of widowers is about the same as that of bachelors and much higher than the mortality of husbands."

I keep coming back to that word "balanced" on the back of the Chesterfield package

YOU often hear the word balance—something is out of balance—top-heavy, not on an "even keel."

What you read, "Chesterfield Cigarettes are a balanced blend," means that the right amounts of the right kinds of tobacco are welded together; that is, home-grown tobaccos, the right kind, the right quantity—are blended and cross-blended with tobaccos from Turkey and Greece.

When these tobaccos are balanced one against the other, then you have a mild cigarette.

When they are in balance, then you have a better-tasting cigarette.

May we ask you to read again the statement on the back of the Chesterfield package? May we ask you to try Chesterfield?
