Tobacco Prices Getting Closer To Parity Figure

WEEK AVERAGE WAS $19.99

Season's Sales of 41,429,812 Pounds Have Brought $6,196,290.48

The season's average price on the Greenville tobacco market closely approached the 15 cent mark with yesterday's sales, bringing the season's average up to $14.96 per hundred pounds. Sales during the week just closed have averaged well over 19 cents per pound, and some of the better grades offered have brought up to 77 cents a pound. With this year's crop estimated to be between 50 and 60 per cent sold to date, already the poundage and the money paid out of the Greenville market is well above last year, and the average price is about three cents above last year's total season average.

Official figures on yesterday's sales showed 1,632,248 pounds sold for $210,212.65, averaging $129.99 per hundred. Season's sales to date are 41,429,812 pounds for $6,196,290.48, averaging $14.96 per hundred.

The higher prices prevalent on the better grades during the past week have caused warehousemen to urge the growers to market their good quality fancy tobaccos at this time. A steady stream of vehicles loaded with tobacco have been arriving in this city since yesterday for Monday's sales, indicating that offerings Monday will be as large as at any time this year. In view of the price trend during this week those in close touch with the situation predicted even higher average for the week to come.

NASH COUNTY MAN IS EATEN AND ROBBED

Nashville, N. C., Nov. 4.—Eliener Daves, 27, who lives eight miles from Rocky Mount, on a farm belonging to M. T. Williams, was kidnapped last night between 8 and 9 o'clock by three white men, carried into Wilson County and whipped severely, according to the testimony which Daves gave the Nash County officers.

The criminals called him out of his house, blindfolded him, and took him in a Chevrolet automobile to a place near Town Creek Church, a distance of about twelve miles. There he was tied, stripped, beaten and robbed of $40.

When he was left, Daves stated he walked to the road where he was picked up by a stranger and taken home. From there authorities carried him to a hospital in Rocky Mount.

Daves stated that he is positive that one of the men participating in the kidnapping was Dewey Williams, who escaped jail in Raleigh last week. He did not recognize the other two.

Mrs. Daves who was in the house at the time of the kidnapping stated that she heard her husband call Williams by name and beg him for mercy. Daves had testified against Williams in Federal Court in Wilson when the latter was given a sentence in Atlanta prison for robbing railroad cars and stealing other railroad property. Williams was held in Atlanta until his transfer to Raleigh when he made his getaway. In his testimony Daves also said that the three men told him they were going to get Troy Braswell, Atlantic Coast Line detective. Braswell was immediately notified to be on the lookout.

No clues as to the whereabouts of the criminals have yet been found. They were last sighted in Rocky Mount by a policeman. Although Daves condition is serious, he is expected to recover.

REYNOLDS INVADES DRY LEADERS TOWN

Shelby, Nov. 4.—(AP)—Carrying his campaign for the repeal of the 18th amendment into the home territory of two of the most prominent of the dry leaders—Clyde Hoy and Judge E. Y. Webb—Senator Reynolds told his audience here today that he had no fight with those who are seeking to retain the prohibition laws. "If they can stand it so can I," he declared.

"My only complaint against present day conditions is that there is too much liquor, to be easily obtained, and to free of any restraints," said Senator Reynolds, "and if the people of North Carolina wish to maintain that state of affairs it is for them to say."

CITY TAXES TO BE ADVERTISED NOVEMBER 10

Sale of 1933 Delinquents Will Be Held On December 11th

Delinquent tax lists for the City of Greenville will be advertised next Friday, November 10, and the sale will be held on December 11, according to announcement made this morning by J. O. Duval, City Clerk and Tax Collector. While it was stated yesterday that the Board of Aldermen in meeting Thursday night had ordered the advertising to begin the week of November 13, it was found later that the restraining order signed by Judge Frizzelle that prevented the advertising some time ago provided for beginning of the advertising on the 10th of this month with the sale to be held on the 11th day of December.

In view of the specific dates included in the court order, it was announced today that the advertising would begin on the date set.

AUCTION LAND SALE STAGED AT WILSON

Wilson, N. C., Nov. 4.—Wilson's first auction land sale in several years was successfully staged Wednesday when Hugh S. Sheppard, representative of a selling corporation, sold L. P. Woodard's 130-acre farm adjoining the Wilson Country Club property for $6,292.04, of which more than half was paid in cash, despite the fact that liberal terms were offered purchasers.

The farm was divided into twenty lots and tracts and was bid in by eight different persons.

ARREST MAN FOR ATTEMPT EXTORTION

Winston-Salem Man Held For Threatening to Kidnap Mrs. Dick Reynolds

Winston-Salem, N. C., Nov. 4.—(AP)—The government today claimed another victory in its swiftly gaining war on the kidnapping. A 35-year-old jobless textile worker is held in jail here after confessing, officers said, that he penned two extortion letters to R. J. (Dick) Reynolds, youthful tobacco heir, under threat of kidnapping his wife, an expectant mother, and local society leader. The executor of the extortion plot, John Lanier, was arrested when he picked up a dummy package left by county and Federal investigators at a spot the note directed young Reynolds to place the sum of $10,000.

The letters and the confession, contents of which were not divulged, were turned over to Federal authorities who announced they would prosecute Lanier under the "Lindbergh law," which provides a maximum penalty of twenty years imprisonment for using the mails for extortion and kidnapping plots.

CAMPAIGN IN NEW YORK CITY NEARING END

Mayorality Campaign Will Virtually Close With Series of Rallies Tonight

New York, Nov. 4.—(AP)—Probably the bitterest municipal campaign in New York in years lined up today for its final burst of oratory directed at more than two million voters who will name the city's next mayor. Although there will be some speech-making in the last two remaining days before the election, the campaign virtually comes to a close tonight when the three leading candidates in the mayoral contest hold their last big rallies.

Tammany Hall will rally around Mayor John T. O'Brien at a mass meeting at Carnegie Hall. Fusionists will gather in Brooklyn, and Joseph McKee, recovery party candidate, will wind up his campaign at the Metropolitan Opera House. Tammany closed its Brooklyn campaign last night when O'Brien, speaking at a rally, pleaded for party loyalty and asked re-election on his record.

MANY FARM WELLS UNSAFE. IOWA ENGINEER ASSERTS

Ames, Ia.—(AP)—Although the old oaken bucket has passed out of common use and has been replaced by the pump, three out of four farm water supplies are still unfit for human use, says Lindon J. Murphy, municipal engineer of Iowa State College.

Murphy made a survey recently of farm water supplies and drew his conclusion after making bacterial tests of water supplies taken from farm wells. Seventy-five per cent showed indications of pollution.

"Wells and springs are polluted through open or loose tops and by four drainage underground," Murphy said. "Particular care must be exercised in the selection of the source of a water supply and in the protection of a developed one."

HUNDREDS VISIT GRAVES OF BLACK HILLS HEROES

Deadwood, S. D.—(AP)—Hundreds of tourists, carrying memories of the sagas of "Wild Bill" Hickok, Calamity Jane, "Preacher" Smith and "Leadwood Dick" Clarke, visit Mt. Moriah Cemetery each year to see the graves of some of the old west's most picturesque characters.

C. H. Robinson, care-taker of the cemetery for the past 35 years, is able to furnish them personal reminiscences more accurate than their story-book impressions.

He calls Calamity Jane's funeral as "one of the biggest we ever had" in the Black Hills country.

SURPRISED AT NCCPA ENDS FORD'S ACTION SESSION HERE

Employees to be Laid Off Seven Days to Bring Time Down to Code

Washington, Nov. 4.—(AP)—Recovery officials, amazed that Henry Ford will lay off his workers seven days to come within the automobile code's 35 hours working week, sought more information today with indications that some action might follow.

NRA Administrator Hugh S. Johnson declined to comment until further study but officials remarked that no other automobile manufacturer had taken such a step.

The reason expressed at the Detroit Ford office was that the workers had been putting in forty hours a week. The last of the week 9,000 of the 45,000 employees at the Rouge plant at Dearborn will be laid off for seven days so that their average will be brought down to the code's 35 hours.

SAY LINDBERGH KIDNAPPING TO BE CLEARED UP

Government Official Believes That Eventually Mystery Will Be Solved

Washington, D. C., Nov. 4.—(AP)—Officials of the Department of Justice whose field office heads are here for a two-day course in the latest technique in the government anti-crime drive are confident that the Lindbergh kidnaping will eventually be solved. Admitting that no new hot tips had been found, one of the officials supposed to know about the progress of the case said to newspapermen today: "There are plenty of angles and old leads that can be explored further. We'll solve that case."

Heads of the departments twenty-five field offices now meeting here may have been given some fresh instructions in the Lindbergh case, but trying to find out what J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the investigation division, told them behind tightly closed doors is difficult.

Hoover, who will close the conference today, described it as more or less routine, but older heads around the Justice Department could not recall the last time all the supervisors and field officials were here at one time.

MAY SEEK PERMANENT PROBE BODY

Senators Think There Should be Permanent Committee to Watch Wall Street

Washington, D. C., Nov. 4.—(AP)—The creation of a permanent Senate committee to keep constant watch over Wall Street operations is being considered seriously by members of the stock market investigating committee and may be recommended in its final report.

With the present inquiry nearing its scheduled end, Senators on the committee today said they realized it would be impossible to write legislation that would prevent repetition of the evils they have found and indefinite investigative powers would be desirable. It is not their idea that the committee should be continuous session, but to have authority whenever the occasion arose to inquire into specific cases. The suggestion is being considered in view of plans to wind up the present inquiry by the end of this year. There is some doubt, however, that the work will be finished by then.

OKLAHOMANS FIND BOUNTY ON BANDITS BRINGS NO RESULTS

Oklahoma City.—(AP)—The Oklahoma Bankers' Association has an offer of $300 each for dead bank robbers—killed under certain conditions—but State operatives say the reward has brought no noticeable results.

The reward is paid only if the robber is killed in the act of robbing a bank or in attempting escape. After several years, the offer of a State reward of $250 for bank robbers, dead or alive, was withdrawn when the Legislature declined to make appropriations for the purpose two years ago. The withdrawal was described as an economy move.

The number of bank robberies in Oklahoma has decreased sharply during the past year.

END TERM OF COURT HERE

Ray Jones Gets 12 Months For Attempted Sodomy. Several Cases Heard

After disposing of several minor cases late yesterday after the entire day had been taken up with the sodomy cases against Ray Jones, Judge J. Paul Frizzelle discharged the jury from further duty. The judge today continued his court sitting in chambers upon whether number one slot machines being operated in this county were in violation of the anti-gambling laws. All evidence in the matter was not in when the hearing was adjourned at the noon hour, and it was to be resumed this afternoon.

In the case against Ray Jones the jury returned a verdict of guilty of attempted sodomy, and Jones was sentenced to twelve months on the roads.

In a case against Tom Potter on a liquor charge, a twelve months' road sentence was suspended upon payment of costs and good behavior.

PLAN GENERAL FARM STRIKE MIDDLE WEST

Leader of Farm Holiday Movement Urges Full Action at Once

Des Moines, Nov. 4.—(AP)—Milo Reno, leader of the national farm holiday strike, today wired twenty-one State leaders of the organization to be prepared to throw the strike into high gear should President Roosevelt reject the holiday demands for cost of production prices of farm products. The demands were presented by five Mid-Western growers yesterday.

"If the press has correctly stated the situation at Washington," Reno said, "the governors have been flatly turned down by Secretary Wallace. This comes as no surprise to me. Secretary Wallace has been opposed to the farmers' union and holiday plan and obstructed it in every way possible. His plan is to make the farmers dole takers and mendicants dependent upon a government bureau for existence as has always been the hope of the group he has trained with."

SAYS REPEAL MEANS CHANGE FOR WORSE

Goldsboro, N. C., Nov. 4.—Clinton H. Howard, of Rochester, N. Y., chairman of the National Committee for Law-Enforcement, who has been speaking against repeal from one to five times a day in thirty-three States since January 1, addressed about 250 people at St. Paul Methodist Church in Goldsboro on Wednesday night.

The speaker stated that if the amendment is repealed we may expect to see conditions worse than they were before whiskey was outlawed. "In some States bar-rooms are already ready for business in anticipation of the repeal of the amendment. In States which have voted for repeal there are automatic slot machines for dispensing beer, and no one can say whether a man, woman, boy or girl buys a drink. In some States there is the 'beer paradise' in which rooms are rented."

GOVERNMENT SPEEDS HOME-BUILDING

A recent announcement from Washington is that Presidential pressure has been applied to expedite plans for re-opening banks, liberalizing credit and to make possible the building of low-cost homes.

Here is the prelude to a revival of major dimensions in the construction industry. For three or four years there has been a virtual lack of residential building.

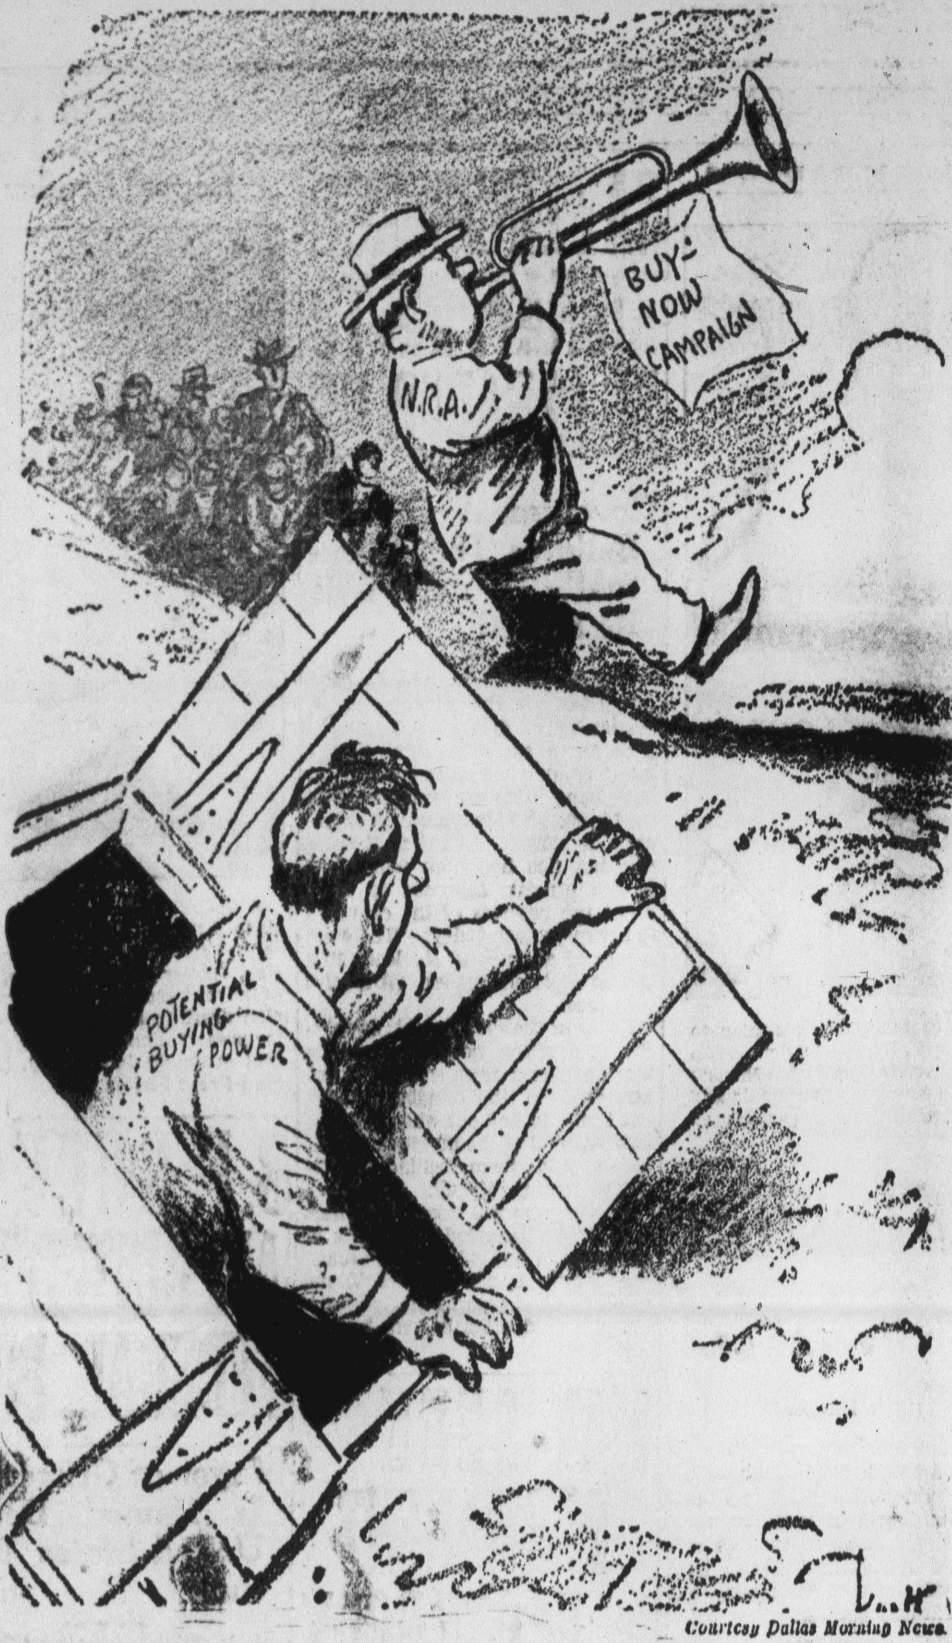

The person who waits a few months or a year before building and repairing, is going to be confronted by a tremendous advance in costs. He's going to pay many dollars for what a few dollars will buy now.

The "buy now" movement that is under way at present is very different from sporadic movements of the past which adopted the same slogan. This one is based on fact, not fancy—on the knowledge that recovery is actually under way, that residential construction is a tremendous influence in speeding it up, and that the era of bankrupt prices is definitely waning.

Outrageous Fortune by Patricia Wentworth

SYNOPSIS: Major Anderson, the Chief Constable, is making inquiries of Caroline about Jim Riddell, her cousin who has been tangled in the mystery of the Van Berg emeralds and the shooting of their owner.

Chapter 12 TRAILING NESTA

JIM RANDAL went into the library, but he did not stay there long. He did not even ask for the file which he had come there to look at.

He sat down on one of the stiff upright chairs, shut his eyes, and went over what Min had told him. NESTA had come down in the small hours at the summons of a handful of gravel thrown up against her window.

Min had then heard her say "It's all I've got," and something about keeping money in the house; after which the man said a lot of things she didn't hear, and one that she did. She heard him say, "Don't be late."

What he made of it was this—Nesta had given the fellow all the money she'd got in the house, and was under an agreement to meet him next day with more. If he was right, Nesta would be drawing money out of the bank some time during the day.

He had to keep an eye on Nesta Riddell's movements. Meanwhile he was going to risk a telephone call to Caroline. From now on she had got to keep right out of the business. She had got to be told that, and that he had left Hale Place.

He crossed over to the north side of the square, went into the post office, and rang up Hazelburg West. When Caroline's voice came to him after that long strange pause, his heart jumped. He said what he had come there to say, and heard Caroline say "Wait." She said it twice. What was the matter? Was it because he had said good-bye that her voice was stiff and dead?

He heard her laugh and say, "I can't stop either—I've got a visitor. I'll be at the end of Nesta's road—I can't remember its name—at nine o'clock. Will that be all right?"

HE left the post office, reached the High Street by way of Market Street, and walked out to Ledington End. It was all very well to say that he had got to keep an eye on Nesta Riddell, but how was it going to be done? Sandringham Drive offered about as much cover as a parade ground.

It all depended where she was going to meet the fellow. If it was in Ledington, she would pass the Kosy Korner Cafe, but if it was somewhere out in the country, she would come out on to the main road at the lower end of Sandringham Drive.

He passed the War Memorial, and presently the Kosy Korner Cafe. If there was a point on the main road from which he could see both ends of Sandringham Drive, things were going to be a little easier. The drive wasn't very long, so he had hopes. Another minute more and the hopes were justified. For a distance of five or six yards it was possible to see both turnings. These five or six yards covered the lower gate and part of the shrubbery of one of those large out-of-date houses which have been abandoned before the encroaching tide of bungalows and villas. The drive was green with moss, the garden a mere tangle. Between it and the road ran a low brick wall topped by an unclipped hedge. The whole place had a desolate, unvisited look.

Jim pushed open the gate with some difficulty and walked in. Nothing could have suited him better. There were half a dozen places where laurels, laurustinus, lilac and yew crowded up to the unkempt hedge, and where he could stand and see without being seen.

He had not to wait very long. In about half an hour Nesta Riddell walked briskly past the Kosy Korner and proceeded in the Ledington direction. He had only to keep one turning behind her and follow on. In point of fact she never looked round, but walked briskly into the town, where she entered the London County and Westminster Bank.

AFTER about five minutes Nesta came out. She stood for an instant on the pavement, and then gave him the fright of his life by crossing the road. A newspaper held wide open makes a good screen. There was a moment's suspense, and then he saw from under the lower edge of his paper six inches of bright blue skirt and eight or nine inches of rather light stocking ending in flimsy imitation leather shoes go up the two worn steps of the bank shop next door. He was so near that he could hear her rather strident voice asking for milk chocolate.

He moved farther down the street, and presently she came out and walked back along the way by which she had come, and at the same brisk pace. He watched Nesta disappear round the curve of Sandringham Drive and went back to his shrubbery.

The day passed with intolerable slowness. It did not rain, but the clouds hung low and the air was full of damp. In his own mind he felt quite sure that Nesta would not meet the man until it was dark. He could have wished that they were in December instead of August, for even on a gloomy day like this it would not be dark until after nine.

And Caroline was coming here at nine o'clock. He had tried to stop her, and she wouldn't be stopped. He fell into thoughts of Caroline which were angry, impatient, tender, and passionately self-accusing.

He had had no business to let her get mixed up in this affair at all. Even if he were not Nesta Riddell's husband, he was very definitely under suspicion of attempted murder, and beyond all question he had been in possession of stolen property.

He didn't believe that he was Nesta Riddell's husband; he believed it less than ever since his talk with Min. But he could not prove that he was not Jim Riddell unless and until the gap in his memory closed up and gave him back the lost weeks between the first of July and the fifteenth of August.

On the other hand, the Van Berg affair in some sort corroborated Nesta's statements. That didn't depend on Nesta's word. He himself remembered drinking with Elmer on the night that he was shot. He remembered seeing the emeralds in Elmer's hand.

And, most damning of all, he had found them in his own house in a secret hiding-place known only to Caroline and himself. Men had been hanged on slighter evidence than this. Caroline mustn't come within a thousand miles of it.

He went on thinking about Caroline. (Copyright, 1933, J. B. Lippincott Co.)

TEACHERS LOSE 8 TO 0

The Presbyterian Junior College football team from Maxton refused to be victims of East Carolina Teachers College's football victory and the Fighting Scots handed the E. C. T. C. crew an 8 to 0 defeat here yesterday.

The Teachers had expected the game to offer them a chance to break into the win column for the first time in the two seasons of football play at the local school, but the visitors proved too strong.

Captain Dutch Holland's Scots tallied in the third period when Roger-son, Teachers halfback, fumbled a bad pass from the center and then was tackled behind the goal line for a safety.

The touchdown came in the final quarter when the Teachers were trying a desperate passing game from behind their own local's one-yard line and four line tries were necessary before the Teachers' line would give that remaining yard.

The Teachers made seven first down to three for the visitors. Eason, quarterback of the locals, turned in a 30-yard run after taking a pass from Puckett and Morgan made a 30-yard run to produce the local's features. Johnson, tackle, and Cox, center, featured on defense for E. C. T. C.

For the visitors the backfield combination of Rogers, Northrop, Williamson and Faircloth divided honors. The visitors had the smiles of fate on what breaks there were in the game.

Tarboro Gets 40 to 0 Win Over Greenville

Tarboro High school football team registered its fifth consecutive win by defeating Greenville 40-0 in Tarboro yesterday.

Tarboro scored in the first two minutes of play and continued tallying in every period. Oelschner Raby and Balard were leaders in Tarboro's line. Burnette and Thomas were the leading backfield gainers, and Thomas staged a 70-yard trip to touchdown for the longest run of the game. James also featured in the backfield.

HUNT NEGRO SEEN AT WOMAN'S WINDOW

Laurinburg, N. C., Nov. 4.—A bloodhound and a posse of eleven men and four policemen scoured Laurinburg's south side until early this morning in search for a negro seen at the window of a Mrs. Love's residence about last midnight.

W. C. Taylor, local bookstore manager, saw the man at the window and shot twice as he escaped by a back lot.

Police were called and S. E. Dunlap's bloodhound was brought from Wagram. The dog followed a trail to a negro store in Washington Park (negro section), but examination of many blacks that seemed to fit the description resulted in failure.

New York Cotton

New York, Nov. 4.—(AP)—Cotton futures opened barely steady, one to five points lower in response to disappointing Liverpool cables and Southern selling. Business was moderately active at the start. Offerings were taken up by trade buying and covering and prices eased a few points. December declined from 9.62 to 9.55, with the general list showing net losses of five to eight points at the end of the first half hour. Futures closed barely steady, five to seven points lower. Spots quiet; middling 9.75.

N. Y. Stock Market

New York, Nov. 4.—(AP)—Ralls managed to steam forward a little in today's stock market but were unable to drive the rest of the list with them. Most groups eased under quiet trading and non-ferrus metals were again reactionary. Losses however were not large ranging from fractions with a few exceptions to a point. The list at the end of the three hours session was fairly steady with the volume of transactions for the day of 650,000 shares.

An early sag in the Chicago wheat market tended to hold down the share market although that grain rallied later. Wall Street remained preplexed at Washington's foreign gold buying policy as the dollar in foreign exchange dealings again was unresponsive to the advance in F. C. gold price and actually gained a trifle in relation to some of the gold currencies.
