HEAVY FIGHTING REPORTED IN HAVANA AREA

Roosevelt Turns Attention To Liquor Traffic Problems

TAX PROGRAM TO GO BEFORE NEW CONGRESS

Effort Also Being made by the President to Prevent Smuggling of Foreign Whiskey Along The Coast; Methods Of Dispensing Liquor Also Considered; House Ways and Means Committee Sees Higher Tax

Washington, D. C., Nov. 9.—(AP)—President Roosevelt is turning his attention to liquor traffic problems now that 37 States—one more than the necessary three-fourths—have voted to take the Eighteenth Amendment out of the Constitution.

A program of tax legislation to be submitted to Congress along with repeal of the Volstead Act to permit the sale of distillates in the District of Columbia and the Territories will be considered at a meeting of department representatives at the White House Friday.

The program includes plans to keep arid those States that did not vote to ratify repeal and may receive the sending of the much-feared pre-prohibition revenue agent into moonshine areas.

Objectives of the program are temperance methods of dispensing alcoholic drinks without a return of the old-time saloon. In addition, steps are to be taken through the coast guard to prevent smuggling of foreign liquors across the eastern and southern coasts where rum fleets are reported concentrated in a move to evade the $5 gallon import tax.

The House Ways and Means Committee will open hearings on liquor taxation legislation November 27 to prepare a bill for early Congressional action in January. Nobody knows yet how much money the taxes will raise. The present tax is $1.10 a gallon on whiskey.

Although it has been predicted this tax would be increased to as high as $3 a gallon, members of the subcommittee studying the question claim it will not exceed $2.20. They say a higher tax might encourage bootleggers to continue in business.

Steer in Cans Worth $67.50 Cloverdale, N. M.—(AP)—One six-year-old Mexican steer, of little market value, was converted into 450 pounds of cooked beef with an estimated wholesale value of $67.50 through the efforts of housewives of this tiny international boundary community.

Under instructions of the Hidalgo County Home Demonstration Agent, women of the village cooked and canned the steer in one day, putting up enough food to last a family of four nearly a year. Total cost of the canning was $11.15.

FARM FUTURE IS NOT ROSY

Some Improvement in Economic Life of Farm, However, Seen by Farm Body

Washington, D. C., Nov. 9.—(AP)—The farm family's outlook for 1934 is not painted in rosy colors by the Department of Agriculture, although some improvement over 1932 is predicted.

Farm incomes may increase, the Department's annual analysis says, "and there are indications these increases will offset the probably advance in the level of prices of the commodities that the farmer may buy."

But the Department assumed that a large proportion of farm families still will be able to buy only the bare essentials, while favorable prospects of farm prices are noted, the Department admits debts and taxes will absorb most of that increase.

GOVERNOR TO SPEAK AT BIG WEED JUBILEE

Ethinghaus to Appear at Farmville; To Also Visit Eastern Tobacco Marts

Governor J. C. B. Ethinghaus will speak at the Golden Weed Jubilee to be held in Farmville tomorrow night and one of the largest crowds ever to gather in the thriving Pitt County town was expected to be on hand.

During the afternoon hours the governor will make a tour of inspection of Eastern Carolina tobacco markets, returning to Farmville in time to take part in the celebration. The address will take place at 7:30 o'clock.

The address will be followed by the presentation of a pageant depicting the history of tobacco from the beginning of the industry until the present time.

The jubilee is being held for farmers, tobacco men and the general public, and everybody in Eastern Carolina was cordially invited today to be on hand and take part in the first event of the kind ever held in this part of the country.

It was at first thought the jubilee would be held in the day-time, but owing to the rush of business and congestion of the tobacco warehouses at Farmville, it was deemed advisable to hold it at night in order that everybody might be able to attend.

Other prominent personages to attend the affair, in addition to the will be Congressman Lindsay Warren, of Washington; J. C. Lanier, formerly of Greenville, but now a member of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration at Washington, and war-housemen and farmers who took part in the tobacco conferences looking to improved prices at the capital city.

Farmville was anticipating the largest crowd ever to assemble there, and ample accommodations were being made to take care of the thousands of persons expected to be on hand to help celebrate the first jubilee held in honor of King Tobacco.

Dr. Johnson was Minister to Liberia under President Wilson; Dr. Weaver, native of the capital, has been granted leave of absence from the North Carolina Agricultural and Technical College at Greensboro where he is professor of economics.

TWO MEN SENT TO ROADS FOR THEFT OF LEAF

Several Others Sentenced to Roads in Regular Session of County Court Here

Two white men charged with the larceny of tobacco in this township were sentenced to four months each on the county roads in the regular weekly sitting of the County Court here yesterday.

They were Henry Smith and A. G. Smith. They were charged with stealing tobacco valued at $17.50 from the farm of J. E. Winslow near Greenville.

They were taken into custody shortly after the theft was reported and were brought to Greenville and jailed for hearing in County Court.

Two dozen odd cases were disposed of by the court yesterday in the first sitting in two weeks due to the two-week term of Superior Court which caused postponement of the lower court sitting until yesterday. All of the actions were of a minor nature and little time was required in disposing of each.

Amanda Wooten, colored, charged with selling whiskey, was fined $40 and cost.

Convicted of driving an automobile while drunk, Bryant Harris, colored, was fined $50 and cost and had his license revoked for a period of 90 days.

T. S. Ross was fined $25 and costs for driving an automobile with imperfect lights.

Jesse Barrett, colored, was fined $50 and costs for carrying a concealed weapon.

Dave Battle, colored, was sentenced to six months on the roads for assault with a deadly weapon.

J. A. Battle, colored, was sentenced to six months on the roads for assault with a deadly weapon.

Convicted of larceny, John Spruill, colored, was given four months on the roads.

William Phillips was fined $75 and cost for having liquor for sale.

Jack Stokes, of Ayden, was taxed with $50 and cost on charges of being drunk and disorderly and resisting arrest.

Stancill Hudson, charged with reckless driving, was taxed $25 and costs and had his license revoked for 90 days.

NEBRASKA FARM PRICES FOUND LOWEST SINCE 90's

Lincoln, Neb.—(AP)—The difference between purchasing power of farm products in terms of what they will buy of other goods and the dollars and cents actually paid on the market is being driven home to Nebraska farmers by quotations gleaned from old newspaper files.

Prof. H. C. Pillely and Arthur M. Hajjke of the University of Nebraska have studied files of ten small town papers back to 1894 to determine the "at farm" prices of various products.

They compared these quotations with government figures on general price levels to determine purchasing power of such products as corn, hogs, eggs and potatoes.

From about 10,000 figures they concluded that Nebraska farm products as a group had less purchasing power in 1932 than in any of the depression years of the middle nineties.

CAROLINAS IN THE FRONT OF COTTON PRICES

Two States Lead All Cotton Producing Areas in Price Average in 1932.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 9.—(AP)—The Carolinas led all principal cotton-growing States in the average price for the 1932 cotton crop, the Department of Agriculture announced today.

The Department in its final report of the 1932 crop values said the South Carolina growers received an average of 7.21 cents a pound for 716,000 bales and North Carolina 7.12 cents for 666,000 bales as compared with the nation's average of 6.52 cents for 13,002,000 bales.

One State, Arizona, which produces a small quantity of the long staple, had a higher average than the Carolinas, but sold only 69,000 bales for 7.69 cents.

The total paid the nation's cotton growers for the 1932 crop was $424,061,000, the Department said.

SEEK TO HALT BIG RAT LOSS

Forthcoming Banquet For Rodents expected to Have Devastating Effect

Arrangements for the big county-wide rat banquet on November 17 are almost completed. The county agent reports that many persons are taking advantage of this opportunity to get rid of rats, and that orders for the special rat baits are pouring into this office.

Everywhere in the county having a rat infestation will co-operate in this campaign, many thousands of dollars will be saved by farmers and other persons. It is estimated that the labor of 200,000 men is required every year to produce the food and property damage destroyed by rats in the United States. It is hoped that this campaign will reduce Pitt County's share of the $200,000,000 loss each year in this country. In many of the campaigns conducted in New England, farmers have reported an average loss by rats of $40 a year. The use of special campaign baits seems to have been an excellent investment.

The rat is one of the most prolific breeders among mammals, having six to ten litters a year with an average of ten young to the litter. If one pair of rats were allowed to multiply at the normal rate of three years, and if all the animals lived, there would be 259,709,482 rats alive at the end of that period. No wonder that rats have spread over all the earth within a comparatively short time. The rapid multiplication of rats, as well as their migratory habit, makes it essential that everyone co-operate in this organized drive on November 17.

Since the bait must be ordered in time to arrive for the 17th, it is necessary that all farmers get their numbers of the leading business and

Officers Begin Probe Of Blount-Harvey Goods Recovered at Wilson

A considerable amount of clothing believed to have been stolen from Blount-Harvey & Company here was recovered by Wilson officers in a freight car there last night. Two negroes who were in the car escaped, reports reaching the city early today stated.

Chief of Police George Cease said, mysteriously surrounded the theft of the goods as a check-up of the store failed to disclose anything missing, although a robbery of the kind might have been committed without discovery because of the tremendous stock carried by the firm. The clothes bore the name of the local firm.

The police chief left for Wilson today to begin an investigation into the case, and hope was expressed that the two negroes who escaped would be picked up. With their arrest it was believed additional light would be thrown on the case.

The check-up at the store, Mr. Clark said, failed to disclose any evidence of robbery, although it was said thieves could have entered the store through an unfastened window on the side of the building near the office. The window, however, has not been fastened in two years, it was said, and doubt was expressed that the thieves entered there.

In addition to this theory, it was believed the goods, consisting of an overcoat, several suits of clothes, shirts and scarfs, might have been shop-lifted, and the investigation was being conducted from these two angles.

Owing to inability to check the missing goods, neither the officers or store employees had the slightest idea when it actually disappeared.

Gold Prices Mount Higher

Washington, D. C., Nov. 9.—(AP)—A price of $33.15 cents per ounce for Reconstruction Corporation purchases of newly-mined domestic gold was set today, an increase of ten cents an ounce over yesterday and another high.

Meanwhile, the skidding dollar carried the dollar of gold at London to $32.63, an advance of 27 cents since yesterday.

Mayor Cox, of Winterville, working in connection with his City Council, subscribed to a full page in the Rotogravure Edition which will be devoted to describing the industrial advantages of the Winterville territory.

In commenting on the action, he said: "We want to co-operate with every worth movement we believe will be helpful to our town and county as a whole. We have in Winterville several outstanding enterprises that have been big factors in the up-building of our town, and we want to certainly attract more here."

THIRD BRIDGE IS BURNED IN FARM STRIKE

Iowa Strikers Continue to Destroy Property in Higher Price Efforts

Sioux City, Iowa, Nov. 9.—(AP)—Further destruction of property was reported in the farm strike area today.

Another railroad bridge—the third since the "war" for high prices started—was destroyed by fire early today. The bridge was the property of the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific and was situated a mile south of Portsmouth.

Sheriff George Jensen, of Shelby County, said he found evidence of kerosene and other combustible materials on the burning structure and blamed farm strikers.

The little pigs as well as the big ones continued to move to market, however, as farm strikers pickets abandoned the highways.

Batches of the anti-selling movement sponsored by the National Farm Holiday Association as a means of getting higher prices from farm products, pushed the organization of the civil committee pledged to uphold efforts of peace officers.

CITY SET FOR ARMISTICE DAY

Legion Asks Employers to Permit Former Service Men to Take Part in Program

A request that all former service men be given a holiday Saturday to enable them to participate in the local celebration of Armistice Day was made today by the Pitt County Post of the American Legion.

J. H. Rose, Legion Commander, said the Post had gone on record in favor of the movement to bring about participation of ex-service men in the celebration, and all employers have been called upon to grant a holiday to employees who took part in the World War, or give them as much time off during the day as possible.

Mr. Rose said plans for the observance of the anniversary of the signing of the Armistice were being signed rapidly and that everything would be in fine shape when the program begins Saturday morning.

The celebration will be featured by a parade, exercises at the college, dinner for former service men and a football game between Campbell College and East Carolina Teachers College.

The parade which will be participated in by the military unit, Boy Scouts, high school band and former soldiers, will form at the A. C. L. depot, move through the business section of the city to the college for the main exercises.

Judge J. Paul Frizzelle, of Snow Hill, resident judge of the Fifth Judicial District, will deliver the annual address at the college immediately following the parade, and hundreds of people were expected to be on hand to hear him.

The parade is expected to be a colorful spectacle, reminiscent of that period fifteen years ago when signing of the Armistice caused the return of millions of men to their homes in various sections of the country. It will be a great event for the former soldiers and the public generally, and it was hoped everybody would make an effort to show their appreciation by taking part in the observance.

More Minnesota high schools than ever before, 80, are this year offering special instruction in agriculture through Federal and State aided departments.

LEAF PRICES CONTINUE TO MOVE UPWARD

Price Situation Here Continues Strong With Heavy Sales Reported

Tobacco prices continued to climb merrily upward here today, and indications pointed to one of the best days of the week on the local market.

The price situation yesterday continued strong and bidding was brisk on virtually all grades offered for sale.

According to the official report of sales made public today by K. W. Cobb, supervisor of sales, the market yesterday sold 1,196,392 pounds of tobacco for $242,784.42, at an average of $20.29.

Although a considerable amount of tobacco was on the floors of the various warehouses here today, indications were, the supervisor said, that sales would be completed by 3 o'clock, enabling the market to get in fine shape for the final sales of the week tomorrow.

Million-pound days have been the order of the days here since the resumption of sales after the enforced holiday sometime ago, and this condition was expected to continue from now on through the holidays as farmers who held their tobacco off the market awaiting price development continue the rapid marketing of their tobacco.

Greenville last week continued to cling to the honor of paying highest prices and had selling the most tobacco, and this position was expected to be strengthened considerably this week with the highest price levels of the season being reached.

NATIONAL FOREST FIRES AT ALL-TIME LOW MARK

Washington, D. C.—(AP)—Reports received from all national forest districts by the United States Forest Service indicate that there has been a decrease this year of 60 per cent in the area burned by forest fires and that an all-time low record in fire losses has been hung up.

The number of fires was 8 per cent lower than for the same period last year.

LOYAL TROOPS BOMBARD FORT EARLY TODAY

Scattered Rifle Fire Throughout City Accompanies Roar of Artillery; Wild Scenes of Looting Take Place; Populace Sacks Barracks Of Famous Old Fort; Bloody Battle in Prospect

Havana, Cuba, Nov. 9.—(AP)—Artillery went into action at 9 a. m. today as loyal government soldiers attacked the famous old Atares fortress where more than 2,000 rebels defied the government.

The bombardment was preceded by scattered rifle fire from the fortress which was replied to by the soldiers in the army of Colonel Fulgencio Batista.

The rebels had smuggled arms and munitions throughout the night into Atares fortress and consolidated the position on the second day of their uprising.

The strong position of the fortress atop a hill overlooking the capital city led military experts to believe that a sanguinary battle was in prospect.

The consolidation in Atares was accomplished before dawn when the rebels fled from Dargones and San Basilio fortress after Batista's men had threatened to bombard those abandoned fortresses immediately.

Wild scenes of shooting followed the federal capture of Dargones. The populace sacked the barracks, removing all furniture, while soldiers stood by without interfering.

Scattered firing throughout the city in minor skirmishes was drowned into oblivion by the awful artillery bombardment. Meanwhile the government still contended it had the situation well in hand in the interior of the country, although reliable information from provinces was impossible to attain because of the disrupted communication facilities.

The rebels said the rebellion was under way in Mantanzas, Camaguey and Oriente provinces.

LIQUOR MAKER SENT TO ROADS

'Cap' Little Draws Six Months For Manufacturing Illicit Beverage

'Cap' Little, colored, residing only a short distance east of Greenville, was sentenced to six months on the roads for manufacturing liquor in the regular weekly session of County Court here yesterday.

The negro was captured by county officers at a still one night last week and was brought to Greenville and lodged in jail to await hearing.

Along with the distiller, officers reported the capture of a large distilling plant and fifty gallons of contraband liquor. The seizure, as far as liquor is concerned, was one of the largest made in this county in some time, and did much toward crippling the whiskey traffic, officers said.

Little was at the still when the officers appeared. He was so busy pouring liquor into a barrel that he did not see the officers as they approached and was taken into custody without a struggle.

Sixteen States, plus Canada, Bolivia and Paraguay, are represented in the enrollment at Drake University, Des Moines, Ia., this fall.

"Grandpa won't know which one we've taken, and while he's making up his mind it will delay him still more. And we simply have to hope that he won't take the one we do."

"But after that what shall we do?" asked Honey Bear.

"We'll have to stay out of the way a long, long time until Grandpa has other matters to keep him busy," Jelly Bear answered.

"Oh, dear, it will be so far away from Puddle Muddle."

"Yes, that is true, but we must first think of our safety."

So, feeling as though they had been sent away from home and could never again feel free from danger, they went on and on.

At last they came to the open road.

"Now we'll go this way," Jelly Bear growled, pointing to the road that turned to the left.

Suddenly they heard an airplane overhead.

Junior Order Meets in Ayden

Ayden, Nov. 9.—The Charles B. Aycock Chapter of the Junior Order of American Mechanics of Ayden yesterday afternoon presented a Bible and an American Flag to the high school here.

The principal address was made by Professor E. L. Henderson of East Carolina Teachers College, Greenville.

He divided his talk into three parts under the headings, "The people who present gifts, the people who receive gifts, and the gifts themselves."

Under the heading gifts themselves he stressed the importance of the Holy Bible and the Flag and their value to all.

He placed special emphasis upon the inspiration association from the study of Bible characters and the Book itself as a guide to salvation.

The flag he depicted as an emblem of liberty not of license, and showed the difference between the two.

One man's liberty ceases where another's rights begin. He said that the aim of education is to train children physically, mentally, spiritually and socially for the exercise and enjoyment of true liberty and the right use of life.

The Bible was presented by Rev. E. H. Cannady for the order and received by G. W. Prescott for the School Board.

The flag was presented by E. K. Dunn for the Order and received by County Superintendent D. A. Connely for the County and local school board.

Chapter 46 THE POLICE CAROLINE heard Jim say, "It's all right." They came out into the open. Kitty and Jock were close together, whispering. The torch played on Jim again. Kitty ran forward.

"We've beaten you. You'll have to hurry!"

unless you've been introduced. Let me introduce myself. My name is Randal—Jim Randal. "Well!" Jock Anderson's voice was defiant. "Well, I don't want to go to the Heart and Hand, but I needn't take you out of your way. I suppose Major Anderson's still just across the road—I don't seem to see him moving house."

age for use in distributing same. Write or telephone your order to the county agent's office and you will be advised as to where to call for your bait.
