WASHINGTON MAN FATALLY INJURED HERE

Clarence Little Suffered Fractured Skull in Jump From Automobile

Clarence Little, young white man of Washington died in the hospital here about two o'clock this morning as a result of a fractured skull received when he jumped from an automobile on the Farmville highway near this city late yesterday afternoon.

According to information Little was standing at the Serve-U filling station and hailed a passing car to ask for a ride. The car he stopped contained three negroes from the Farmville section and Little got in and the car started on in the direction of Farmville. Only a short distance from the filling station Little was said by the negroes to have opened the door of the car and jumped out hitting his head as he fell on the side of the highway. The negroes stopped the car, picked Little up and rushed him to the hospital here where it was found he had suffered a fractured skull. The negroes James H. Joyner, driver of the car; William Jones and Hubert Exum were taken into custody by members of the highway patrol and were later released after investigation of the accident according to the statement of Exum who was riding on the back seat with Little. The white man made no statement before opening the door and jumping to the road from the moving car.

Little was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Little of West Second Street Washington. He was employed by the L. A. Trueblood Company in that city.

Funeral services will be conducted at the Presbyterian church, Washington tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock with Rev. W. D. McInnis officiating.

Young Woman Shot; Mistaken For Burglar

Ayden, Dec. 4.—Miss Retha Jones 35 years old, was very seriously wounded last night about 10 o'clock when Tobe Jones, her father, thinking she was a burglar, fired a charge from a shotgun into her head. The load tore away both her eyes, the bridge of her nose, and a portion of her skull. The brain was left exposed and a small part of it shot away.

Miss Jones was taken to Pitt Community hospital at Greenville yesterday. Her condition was surprisingly good. She was conscious, did not seem to be in great pain, and it had not been necessary to give her an hypodermic during the entire day. Physicians were amazed at the vitality which she showed.

Miss Jones returned last night from a trip to Farmville. She entered the home, near Ayden, the back way. As she stepped up on the back porch her father heard her, became excited and, without calling, grabbed his gun and fired through his room door, which opened on the porch.

MANIAC KILLS HIS MOTHER AND HIMSELF

Lexington, N. C., Dec. 4.—(AP)—Ollie Schneider, 54-year-old mentally unbalanced farmer, beat and slashed his semi-invalid 81-year-old mother to death and killed himself today at his home near here.

Schneider, who was unmarried, first struck his mother on the head with an axe and then slashed her throat with a razor. He used the razor to take his own life.

A cousin, Tom Schneider, discovered the bodies upon his return to the house from a barn where he had gone to feed the farm stock.

Papers were issued by the county judge of probable Saturday to commit Ollie Schneider to the State Hospital for the Insane. He had agreed to go to the institution, and manifested no violent tendencies before the tragedy today.

He was the only living child of his parents. His father died several years ago.

LINDBERGH TO HOP OFF LATE TODAY

Unable to Get Plane Off Water in Yesterday's Attempts at Ocean Hop

Bathurst, Gamla, Dec. 4.—(AP)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh indicated early this afternoon that he intended to take off before night to resume his transatlantic flight to South America. Mrs. Lindbergh assisted her husband as the "Flying Colonel" spent the morning overhauling their big monoplane following its failure to leave the water last night. They made several futile attempts to take off by moonlight and two under the broiling sun yesterday, but were balked in their hop-off westward unfavorable winds and a too heavy load of fuel.

NAVY HEAD PLEADS FOR LARGER NAVY

Swanson Declares Time For U. S. to Give up Disarmament Example

Washington, D. C., Dec. 4.—(AP)—Secretary Swanson today sought to convince President Roosevelt in furtherance of his pleas continued in his annual report for an American Navy second to none and for abandonment by the United States of its lead in disarmament. The Navy Secretary's statement also included reactions broad to his frank suggestions. He reported that London included reactions abroad to his frank suggestions. He reported that London indicated but little stir over his statement while from Tokyo comes that the Japanese are dissatisfied with their small end of the 5:5:3 ratio.

In submitting his annual naval activities report to the President, Swanson remarked that this country's disarmament move since the world war had set an example for the rest of the world, but had impaired America's relative naval strength. "The time has come, however, when we can no longer afford to lead disarmament by example. Other powers have not followed our example. Our weakened position will not serve to gain peace. Undue weakness will invite aggressive war and breed violation of rights," he declared.

THOMASVILLE MAN DIES BY HIS OWN HAND

Thomasville, N. C., Dec. 4.—Ellis Jackson, 56 years old, committed suicide this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at his home on Culbreth Street, using a shotgun. He shot himself in the heart. Besides his wife, three sons, Marvin, Lloyd and Finch and several grandchildren survive. These are all of Thomasville.

IRISH FREE STATE WOULD BE REPUBLIC

President de Valera Asks Great Britain For Expression of its Attitude

London, Eng., Dec. 4.—(AP)—The British Cabinet wrestled nearly three hours at a special meeting today on the probable crisis that must be reached relative to the Irish Free State and the British Commonwealth of Nations. The ministers had before them the dispatch from President Eamonn de Valera, of the Irish Free State, sent to Dominion Secretary J. H. Thomas. It is understood that de Valera said he awaited a statement as to what would be the British Government's attitude toward the declarations of an Irish Republic.

It was generally expected in political circles that the cabinet's reply to de Valera would be dispatched today containing this answer and be disclosed tomorrow in the House of Commons. This announcement will thus coincide with Thomas' reply to a question on the matter.

Thomas had been asked of the Dominion Secretary would bring to the notice of the natives of the Free State the disadvantage both this and their own country would suffer if the Free State was declared a republic.

RAIN HALTS FOREST FIRES

Rains Throughout State Over Week End Reduce Number Of Raging Fires

Charlotte, N. C., Dec. 4.—(AP)—Scourges of scattered forest blazes had been reduced to smoldering embers. Scores of scattered forest blazes had or else had been brought under control after raging unchecked for the better part of two weeks while blazes extending along a wide front, in the coastal sections had also been quenched. For these four western counties yesterday's showers brought relief for the second time in two weeks. Several days before the last fire broke out rains had quenched blazes in the area before an estimated toll of a million dollars in timber and property had been exacted.

Extensive damage has been done by fires in the eastern part of the State where a prolonged drought caused the blazes to reach an almost unprecedented proportions.

ICKES ANSWERS SMITH CHARGE

Says Number of Men Put to Work Should Be Sufficient Answer to Anybody

Washington, D. C., Dec. 4.—(AP)—Secretary Ickes thinks the announcement that 2,993,360 men have been employed under the work allotment to November 25 should be sufficient answer to Al Smith's charge that the Public Works Administration is not a failure.

Without mentioning the former New York governor by name, the PWA chief announced the job total figure and added: "The fact speaks for itself. Nobody can intelligently appraise the work program without studying these figures."

NEGRO BURNED TO DEATH HERE

Epileptic's Clothing Ignited When he Fell Into Fire at Slaughter House

Britton Shields, local negro, died this morning shortly after arrival at the hospital suffering with burns received when his clothes caught fire at the slaughter house near this city. According to available information, Shields was subject to epilepsy, and it is believed he fell into the fire while suffering an attack. Shields was said to have stopped at the slaughter house and said he was cold and sat down in front of the boiler to warm. Sometime later when no one was on duty at the plant but J. C. Jordan, and he was on some other part of the lot, a small negro boy ran to him and told him the negro man was on fire. Jordan rushed to the scene and smothered the fire from the negro's clothes and rushed him to the hospital but his condition was such that he died just a very short time afterward.

Shields was reported to have suffered severe burns at his home about a year ago when he suffered an attack and fell into the fire.

ADVERTISING TAXES AGAIN POSTPONED

Judge Frizzelle Signs Order to Extend Time For Thirty More Days

Advertising of the Pitt County delinquent tax lists scheduled for this week with the sale to have been held early in January, has again been postponed by an order signed by Judge J. Paul Frizzelle. The matter was presented before Judge Frizzelle at Snow Hill Saturday by interested taxpayers and it was pointed out that during the past thirty days a great number of taxpayers have paid their taxes and belief was expressed that if given a little more time many others would likewise pay.

After a full hearing on the matter Judge Frizzelle signed the order postponing the advertising until January with the sale to be held early in February. The rush at the tax office here during the past few weeks has almost completely swamped the force in that office and in signing the order Judge Frizzelle declared that he believed this extension would prove of benefit to both the county administration as well as the taxpayers.

With more money in circulation in this county than in several years many taxpayers have not only paid their current taxes but have likewise paid back taxes and hope was expressed that before this latest extension was terminated the heaviest collections in several years would be made by the tax department.

GOLD PRICES UNCHANGED

R. F. C. Prices For Precious Metal Same Today as During Last Week

Washington, D. C., Dec. 4.—(AP)—The government gold price was held unchanged today at $34.01 per ounce. The figure at which the F. F. C. may purchase newly-mined gold was fixed within less than an hour after Acting Secretary Morgenthau returned from his Thanksgiving holiday at his New York home. It remained at the same rate maintained during the last two days of last week after a 25 cents boost in three days previous days. The London price on bar gold was $22.38 per ounce of opening sterling quotations of $5.19 1-2 to the pound. After the opening, however the dollar strengthened appreciably to $5.14.

FILLING STATION MAN HELD UP AND ROBBED

Wilson, Dec. 4.—Joe Boswell, white filling station operator near the Country Club on the Wilson-Goldsboro highway, was knocked on the head with a rock Saturday morning about 2 o'clock and robbed of $275. Police headquarters were notified by an employee of Boswell as the desperadoes were leaving with their loot. A fair description was furnished of the robbers, who left in an automobile. Deputy Sheriff John A. Driver and Police Officers J. C. Pittman, L. C. Cooper, J. A. Gregory and P. R. Hardis were son on the hunt.

Roundsmen Gregory and Hardis, just before daybreak Saturday morning arrested Leander Knight and George Clay, Negroes, in a local cafe. They confessed to the robbery and led the officers to where they had secreted the stolen money—ten miles away. The sum of $207 was found hidden in a barn in bags of shelled peas.

JUDGE SCORES COUNSEL FOR DISRESPECT

Defense Counsel in Scotsboro Case Rebuked by Judge Callahan

Decatur, Ala., Dec. 4.—(AP)—Judge W. W. Callahan, presiding at the trial of Clarence Norris, one of seven negro defendants in the Scotsboro case, today sent the jury from the courtroom while he rebuked Samuel Liebowitz, the negro's chief counsel, for his remarks to a witness. Liebowitz was cross-examining Orville Zillery, of Abertville, Ala., regarding his trip to Montgomery to see Attorney-General Thomas E. Knight, Jr., who is directing the prosecution. Zillery had previously testified that he witnessed the attack upon Mrs. Victoria Price for which Norris is on trial. "I saw Mr. Knight," Zillery replied. "Are you trying to get smart with me," retorted Liebowitz, and walking toward the defense desk, throwing his pencil down on it with a bang.

Judge Callahan ordered the jury remove from the room and said: "I am trying to give the State and the defense a fair trial in this case, and I am going to do it if I can despite the fact that at times the counsel for the defense has tried to knife me into saying something disrespectful and at times the counsel has not been respectful to the court, slaming his pencil down upon the desk and by other actions at some of the decisions." He declared that such actions must be stopped and he ordered the jury to the courtroom.

TEN DWELLINGS ARE BURNED AT PLYMOUTH

Plymouth, N. C., Dec. 4.—Flames completely destroyed ten dwelling houses on Thanksgiving Day in a suburban settlement to Plymouth known as White City. The first house caught fire from a burning broomstraw patch that ignited when a young negro boy emptied a pan of live ashes in it. There being a high wind blowing directly northeast, every building within two blocks was in danger and every precaution was used by the home-owners for quite a little distance from the scene of the fire.

Due to the untiring efforts of the Plymouth volunteer fire department and an emergency squad under the direction of Fire Chief L. W. Gurkin, the flames were soon conquered by using the fire truck pump water from Coney Creek, which runs parallel with White City. This section being public fire protection, the fire hydrants were too remote from the scene of the fire to be of any avail. Homeless families crowded the welfare office appealing for aid. Some were entirely homeless and penniless, others were ragged and had lost everything, others had only their furniture left with no place to put it.

Food for immediate needs was supplied, and the next day the Woman's Club put on a house-to-house canvass.

CHEROKEES TO HAVE MODERN HOSPITAL

Sylvia, Dec. 4.—(AP)—The so-called machine age has passed the Cherokees by and they live much as their ancestors did, farming, hunting and practicing Indian crafts, but they will soon have a hospital that will be the last word in modernity. A total of $109,000 has been set aside by the Federal Government for the Cherokee reservation near here, and of this amount $65,000 has been allotted for a hospital and $15,000 for equipment. Twenty-nine thousand dollars has also been allotted for conservation work.

No employment of physical want disturbs the peace of the Cherokee village or four hundred families. Abundant crops are grown, and many of the Indians are skilled in weaving baskets, making bows and arrows and blow guns. The elder redmen still use the bow and arrow to hunt in the Great Smokies. A few college men dot the colony, but most of the men confine themselves to farming their twenty-acre plots of land and care little for the pale faces' learning.

BUNCOMBE AUTHORITIES MAKE WAR ON WHISKEY

Asheville, N. C., Dec. 4.—Three cars, 130 gallons of whiskey and three 60-gallon barrels have been seized and four persons arrested in a prohibition enforcement drive by the Buncombe County sheriff's office within the past fifteen days, according to report made today by Sheriff Lawrence Brown. The sheriff has a picked force of men-hunting liquor law violators and says he will continue the drive indefinitely in an effort to reduce the supply of liquor coming into Asheville.

signing the preliminary contracts early in September have benefitted greatly in the way of increased prices for the present crop and now they are to receive even further benefits in the way of government payments for signing the new contracts. Even if the government was not going to make benefit payments, the growers could well afford to sign to reduce acreage for the sake of the better prices to be derived next year from a smaller production, but the government payments in addition make the proposition doubly attractive and it would be nothing less than downright foolishness for any grower not to sign at once.

Oil From Iraq Ready to Flow Into French Pipes

Paris.—(AP)—Mesopotamian oil over which diplomatic battles have waged, will flow into Parisian automobile tanks within a few months, the French Oil Company, holder of one-fourth interest in the rich Iraq oil sands, has announced.

The 531-mile northern branch of the pipeline from Kirkuk, Iraq, to Tripoli, the French-mandated Syria has been completed and the southern branch—617 miles—from Kirkuk to Haifa, in English-mandated Palestine, is near completion.

Melops French Defense The pipe-line to the Mediterranean runs under the Tigris and Euphrates Rivers and over mountains and desert. Two ten-inch pipes were laid under dramatic circumstances and news that oil would soon flow from the Kirkuk wells was welcome in France which has no oil of its own.

Lack of the blue-black liquid hampered the French in the war and they have fought constantly since then to obtain an independent supply as a national defense measure. This created bitter controversy among the ex-allees who wanted to profit from the Mosul fields which fell into their hands as a result of the war. Three American-English companies and the French agreed in 1920 to share the oil equally, but this only started complications for both the French and the English wanted the pipe-line to end in territory over which they had control. The end to this dispute did not come until 1931 when it was agreed to construct two pipe-lines, one ending at Tripoli and the other at Haifa.

Reservoirs Ready For Oil
 The Shell Company of Palestine and the Vacuum Oil Company of the United States have erected large drums and filling instruments at Haifa while the French have been building necessary machinery at Tripoli to ship the oil to Le Havre.
 The French Oil Company is State-owned and the Chamber of Deputies is now considering creation of an oil monopoly. Until 1931, a half-dozen American companies furnished France with more than half of all petroleum products she imported. Since then, greater quantities have been coming from Russia and Rumania and America's share diminished from 53 per cent in 1930 to 36 per cent in 1932.

For the first time since 1928 North Carolina cotton growers this year failed to record an improvement in the quality of staple produced.

"DE GLORY ROAD" TO BE PRESENTED HERE THURSDAY

The story of "De Glory Road" which is to be presented at East Carolina Teachers College Thursday evening of this week, December 7, is based on episodes of negro life gleaned from the old Stevens plantation in Wayne county. The story takes you right into the heart of negro temperament and his activity in the cotton field. The opening curtain finds Mammy Rose seated in the doorway of her cabin, that commands the general run of the big farm. She is preparing the noon-day meal and meditating the ways of life and the trials and tribulations that are her share. Trouble had descended on her happy family sometime before and her pet boy, John Henry, was taken off to the chain gang. She is lonely for him. Then Uncle Toby, her preacher husband, is giving her trouble. "Seems like he cannot keep his eyes off dem widow wimmen round the big plantation." Wood John Henry's gal also is giving her trouble. "Seems like she jes' wont stay put." So all is all, Mammy's lot is not just a bed of roses. John Henry finally comes home and strikes out on "De Glory Road."

The Bears' Punishment

By MARY GRAHAM BONNER "Before I do anything," Willy Nilly said to Rip, the Dog, "I'll have to punish those Bears. Just think of the work I'll have to do all over again gathering food for the store room. The cold weather has really set in, too."

"What are you going to do to them?" barked Rip. "I'm going to send them to bed without any supper."

"Br, but it's cold," growled Jilly Bear as he came up to Willy Nilly's porch, followed by Honey Bear. "Br, it's freezing," growled Honey Bear. "You should be ashamed of your selves for complaining of the cold with the fur coats you wear!" said Willy Nilly.

"I haven't a very warm coat. Rip's coat is not nearly so thick as either of yours. Top Notch and the Ducks have only their feathers. Yet we are not complaining."

"I see through you! You want me to be sorry for you so that I'll forget that you both must be punished!" asked Jilly Bear, placing a paw on Willy Nilly's nose affectionately. "There, there, don't try to make me give in," said Willy Nilly. "I've made up my mind I'm going to punish you, for you certainly deserve it. You must both go straight to your cave and to bed without any supper. If I feel you're truly sorry in the morning you may have a good breakfast."

Jilly Bear and Honey Bear looked at each other wisely. They knew what they were going to do, but off they went to the cave. Tomorrow-"The Sleeping Bears"

Mr. Skinner Improving. Friends of Mrs. Hattie Skinner will be glad to learn that she is getting along very nicely. Mrs. Skinner was injured in an automobile accident last week.

Seeing Through My Windshield

(By ETHEL NICE, II. D. A.) Annual Reports.

Thanksgiving week is set aside as report week for Extension Workers each year. This is the time when a review is made of all work accomplished from December 1st to December 31st. Another set of reports dating to December 1st, 1933, have been filed in this office. Anyone interested is invited to come in and inspect them. So often club women and girls give the alibi, "I have done so little, I just didn't turn in my report." But it is the little things that make the big things and I believe most club folks would be surprised at their own reports. A very brief survey reveals the following facts: Girls: There are 502 4-H girls working in 18 clubs in 12 schools. Three hundred and two of these girls are under 14 years of age and 200 are 11 or over. Each girl works under a contract which she has helped to make. The contracts this past year included clothing, planting, reading, and health, song contest, 4-H camp. One hundred and sixty-eight girls completed all of their work and 345 did as much as three-fourths of it.

Women: Two hundred ninety-seven women are working in 12 clubs. The major project for this year has been clothing. The minors include work in gardens, home lawns, food conservation, relief, fairs, and county-wide programs. Some accomplishments of these women and girls are: 186 year-round gardens (a year-round garden is one that you can go to any month and find a minimum of two leafy vegetables and two root vegetables). A variety of 18 to 20 vegetables is found in the average club garden. Thirty club families have planted more small fruits; 63 home lawns have been improved; 740 trees have been planted; 877 birds are included in poultry books of club families; 260 cows are found in 280 club families; 62,341 quarts of food products were conserved by club women; 62,254 quarts of food products were conserved by relief agencies for winter use in relief families; 4,951 garments have been made by women and girls; 2,196 garments have been made-over; 432 garments have been dry cleaned at home; 345 girls took part in county health contest; 200 4-H girls and boys took part in a county-wide song contest; 2 three-act plays were given by home demonstration club women; 1 county style show was held with 50 dresses shown; 1 4-H camp was held with 85 in attendance; 1 plant exchange was held and 60 women exchanged plants and shrubs. These results were accomplished by means of 726 meetings; 480 home calls, 586 office calls, 381 telephone calls, 4,173 individual letters, 11 circular letters, and by traveling 9,375 miles.

New York Cotton

New York, Dec. 4.—(AP)—Cotton futures opened quiet two to four lower on disappointing Liverpool cables, unchanged government gold price and decline in foreign exchanges. Prices sagged off after the call. December went off to 9.83 and May 10.14 with active months generally showing net losses of 6 to 8 points by the end of the first half hour. Trading continued quiet later in the morning with fluctuations showing a tendency to follow the foreign exchange market. After selling off to 9.80 for December and 10.09 for May or 10 to 11 net lower, prices stiffened up 2 to 3 points from the lowest with the market quiet and steady at mid-day.

N. Y. Stock Market

New York, Dec. 4.—(AP)—The stock market performed in small motion fashion today with prices generally getting nowhere in particular, with no further increase in the dollar and steadier foreign exchange. Sterling dropped nearly 14 cents and the French franc 13 of a cent but recovered moderately later. Equities trading was around the dull end of the year. The ticker tape sputtered only occasionally during the early hours while there was little stock for sale and buyers were diffident. Gains sagged but later gained it back. Cotton rubber and silver suffered. Despite the extreme dullness a fairly steady undertone prevailed into the late trading. Futures approximated 650,000 shares.

Filipino Independence Knot Stays Snarled

By E. E. BOMAR Manila, P. I.—(AP)—With the period in which the pending Philippine independence act must be accepted nearing expiration on January 17, 1934, the insular legislature tied itself into parliamentary knots in trying to reach a decision. The bitter fight began before the opening of the annual 100-day session July 17 and it was nearly three months later before a definite program was advanced by Manuel Quezon, the mercurial senate president who has completely dominated the proceedings. Plans Washington Trip He then had the legislature go on record as opposing the act in its present form, but leaving the way clear for formal acceptance nevertheless before the lapsing of the congressional proffer of freedom. Quezon then revealed his plan to go to Washington for a conference with President Roosevelt. He is due to land in San Francisco November 27. If the President would assure him congress would consider amendments which he desired, he announced he would cable a recommendation to the legislature to accept the act. Halls Referendum Talk Time and again Quezon denounced the act as completely unsatisfactory but he would not assume the responsibility of demanding that the legislature reject it outright. The tri-

FORBIDDEN VALLEY by William Byron Mowery

SYNOPSIS: Curt and Sonya and Paul St. Clair are trading love in the Canadian northwest. At the close of the afternoon classes, Paul and Sonya are talking with Ralph and Sonya. Sonya is personally entomologist collecting insects on study. As they leave, Sonya asks Paul whether the insect is a butterfly or a beetle. He asks Sonya if she recognizes a beetle he has caught.

Chapter 19 THE TRUTH

SONYA chose her words carefully. "It's a very interesting species. Wouldn't it make a nice scarf pin?" "Quite true, Curt thought. And just like a girl, to say that. How ever, her description wasn't exactly scientific. He hated to go on with his questionings—a wisp of hair play against her cheek was almost his undoing. But he made himself be relentless.

"Do you know what family it belongs to?" Sonya stiffened a little and glanced up at him, a sharp searching glance as though she guessed why he was quizzing her. "I don't care to give a mere opinion," she parried deftly, on guard. "A person ought to make a microscopic examination before trying to classify."

Curt dropped the subject, slipped the beetle into his pocket, and started back to camp with her. He had found out what he wanted to know. Sonya had no idea what the beetle was.

At his first chance he took Ralph aside and showed him the Cicindela. Ralph knew no more about it than Sonya did, and furthermore he lacked her quickness of wit in getting out of a tight corner. Pinned down for an answer, he pretended to recognize the insect, and gave it a Latin name, but his bluff was a miserable one.

In a brown study Curt set the beetle free and walked over to Paul, to tell him what he had just found out. Neither Ralph nor Sonya was an entomologist at all! They knew absolutely nothing about the subject! He told Paul about the beetle.

PAUL glanced toward the fire, where Sonya was getting the meal ready. "What are they doing in this country then?" Curt made a gesture of bafflement. "You tell me and I'll tell you."

"Prospecting, maybe. Cheechakos take to that." "Ralph wouldn't recognize a gold conglomerate if he stubbed his foot against one; and she's worse."

"Vacationing?" "I can think of pleasanter ways to spend a vacation than water-dogging up this river and taking chances with these Klosoheas. And why should they make such a secret about a mere vacation?"

"Then what's your guess?" "I haven't got even a guess! All I know is this: whatever they're up to it's important. They know they're running into danger, know it as well as we do, but they intend to go right on regardless. And another thing—Sonya's the real leader of these two. She's the determined one. Ralph's just a tail to her kite."

Paul nodded. "Yes. It's not hard to see that. But what are you going to do about them?" "Have a slow-down with her and maybe her tell me the truth about the trip."

When the party got ready to go

Curt kept putting off his "show-down" with Sonya, for he hated to break into the pleasant mood of the hour. Even after a week of intimate association he never could tell how she would react to something, or what to expect from her next. Often he tried to analyze the tumult of his emotions toward her. He had never consciously said to himself that he had fallen in love with her. But he did realize now how lifeless were his relations with Rosalie Marlin, how utterly they lacked fire or meaning. As the very heart of the contrast between those two girls, he knew that he respected Sonya, whereas he had never respected Rosalie or anything save her prettiness and as a companion for a light-hearted evening.

At a creek mouth where a family of otters were tumbling about in a foamy overfall, they stopped to catch a string of trout for supper. Giving Sonya his rod, he leaned against a boulder, net in hand, wanting her to have the pleasure of taking them all. At such times, all too rare with her, she appeared to forget herself and shake off the trouble which he had seen on her face that night when he crouched behind the cordwood.

"Like it?" he asked, as he lifted the string of trout into the canoe and they started on. She nodded, her eyes shining. They skirted along in silence for a few rods. Just as Curt was thinking up a tactful way of broaching his talk with her, she surprised him with a sudden unexpected question: "Curt, you're not really a prospector, are you?"

For a moment he thought she had pierced his mask and had found out why he really was in there. "Why, yes," he asserted evenly. "What makes you think I'm not, Sonya?"

"I just can't imagine you as merely a prospector, Curt."

"Why?" She studied her answer. "I'm wondering how you can be satisfied with a life like this, year in and out, Curt. You're out of things, out of contact with the world; and you're making no contribution to—call it human society. For most men it'd be all right, but not for you."

"Why do you single me out?" "Because, Curt, you've got the capacity for something richer and

LOCALS WIN FINAL GAME OF SEASON

The Greenville High foot ballers ended their 1933 season with a 7-6 victory over their ancient rival, Washington.

The game played here last Friday was one of the hardest fought of the season. Although completely out-playing Washington, Greenville did not score until the final five minutes of play. A penalty had nullified a previous score, and an incomplete certain touchdown pass had fallen short of another score. All of these came in the last quarter. However, after forcing Washington to punt from behind their own goal, Greenville advanced their ball the final 35 yards on straight line plays, as McAdams went over from the 3 yard line for the score. The same man bucked across for the extra point.

Washington had benefitted from bad breaks in the final two minutes of the second quarter. Carroll fumbled a long high punt into Greenville's twenty yard line. Washington recovered. An end run failed to gain. Then a pass, Wright to Sparrow was good for fifteen yards. The same pass worked again, this time for a touchdown. This first time for the only first down Washington made during the entire game, as their running attack netted a total of 21 yards all through the game. This is by far the finest defensive play the locals have exhibited all season.

Greenville started the game with a rush. On the first play Carroll circled his own left end for twenty yards. The ball was quickly advanced to Washington's 15 yard line, where it was lost on downs. Superior punting by Washington held the locals from making good several scoring chances. The ball was advanced deep into their territory time after time, but the coveted goal line was not to be reached. An idea can be gained of just how Greenville was able to go places, as they compiled 12 first downs to 1 for Washington, and gained a total of 193 yards to 52. This includes the two passes that Washington completed.

For Greenville, the entire line featured on defense, while Wilson, McAdams and Price backed them up in fine style in the secondary. On defense, Carroll, McAdams and Hatem featured as ball carriers, while Cary Warren's pass receiving placed the locals in position for their score. Hatem and Price were outstanding in backfield blocking.

while the guards did great work in leading the interference, Smith, until injured had played a great game at tackle, as did Dunn. The latter playing his first season of football, has been one of the finest linemen Greenville has produced in years. Weighing 178 pounds, he is very fast, and his going down on punts has been one of the best features of the locals' defensive play. This is also true of Hatem, and very few teams have been able to go very far on punts returns.

This game ended the season for Greenville. While it has not been one of great success so far as percentage in the win column is concerned, it gave a large number of football candidates a chance to compete against outside teams than have done so in a number of years, which is one of the prime reasons for competitive athletics.

The only team that completely dominated the locals was Tarboro. In this game, Greenville did not play football as evidenced by the fact that Edenton defeated Tarboro 14-0 while they Greenville 20-13 in a battle that was decided only in the final five minutes by a blocked punt. Three games were lost by a single touchdown, while two were lost by two touchdowns. Then too, Goldsboro and Rocky Mount, two Class A Conference teams were met.

Announcement of those winning football letters will be made the later part of the week. A "G" club is going to be organized this week. This will include all high school students, boys, who are wearers of an athletic letter. Its purpose will be to inculcate a better athletic spirit in the high school, as well as promote a larger and better rounded athletic program.

HEALTH CAMPAIGN PLANNED BY NAZIS FOR ALL GERMANY

Berlin.—(AP)—A vast program to combat disease has been outlined by Prof. Hans Reiter, newly appointed president of the federal board of health.

The problems of cancer, tuberculosis and infantile paralysis, he stated, would be attacked, especially cancer, as, owing to the world war there is today in Germany a greater percentage of the population at an age which seems especially liable to that scourge.

Food is another vital question, he continued. "Our business," he said,

"is to determine what food yield the maximum of human efficiency and endurance." In this connection, the effects of nicotine and alcohol on the human system will be closely studied. Before his government appointment, Prof. Reiter held the chair of bacteriology and serology in the University of Rostock.

3 about Cigarettes

Not so long ago practically all cigarettes were made by hand

Now, Chesterfields are made by high-speed machines that turn out 750 cigarettes a minute, and the cigarettes are practically not touched by hand.

BY the use of long steel ovens in any way in the manufacture. Chesterfields are made and packed in clean, up-to-date factories, where the air is changed every 4 1/2 minutes. The moisture-proof package, wrapped in Du Pont's No. 300 Cellophane—the best made—reaches you just as if you went by the factory door. In a letter to us, an eminent scientist says: "Chesterfield Cigarettes are just as pure as the water you drink."

Chesterfield cigarettes are just as pure as the water you drink
