Shadow Of Germany's Spy System Seen In Activities Of Espionage Ring In Paris

TEN PERSONS ARE SEIZED BY OFFICERS

Opinion Expressed by Officers That Highly Valuable French Documents Have Left The Country; Evidence Leading to Berlin Indicated in Documents Captured; Two Americans Held in Case

Paris, Dec. 21.—(AP)—Shadows of Germany's reportedly "master spy system" was seen by police today behind the operations of a mysterious band of 45 in whose alleged network two Americans were caught. With ten persons under arrest, and the investigation broadening outside the borders of France, opinion was expressed by authorities that highly valuable documents containing French military secrets already had left the country. Evidence leading to Berlin was reported to have been indicated in the huge mass of documents studied by officials. The discovery of Communist documents among many of the papers and books seized caused police to believe that Soviet espionage was involved chiefly, but as the investigation slid forward today officials conjectured it might have been part of the plan to allow such documents to be found.

WALL STREET BROKER BACK HOME AGAIN

Jesse Livermore Tells Two Stories About His Mysterious Disappearance

New York, Dec. 21.—(AP)—Jesse L. Livermore, prominent Wall Street operator, whose disappearance led to fear that he had been kidnapped, is safe, at home after and absence of a little more than twenty-four hours. He said he woke in a room in a mid-town hotel yesterday afternoon and saw a paper which told him of the search being made for him and immediately took a taxicab home. There he told police and Department of Justice agents that he had been with friends. Later, police reported he told them that from the time he left home at 5 o'clock Tuesday afternoon until he awoke in the hotel "his mind had been a blank." His disappearance, however, was still something of a mystery. Livermore appeared pale and distraught when he reached home, and a short time later he was said to have gone to bed.

APPEALS FOR BETTER RACE CO-OPERATION

C. M. Epps Lauds Work of White People For Colored in Carolina

Striking out boldly and vigorously against those attempting to sow racial discord in North Carolina, C. M. Epps, principal of negro schools here, has sent out an appeal to preachers and teachers of the State, calling on them to use greater influence for co-operation among the white and colored people. Activities of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, which recently held a meeting in Raleigh, were scored roundly by the colored educator as he declared it "could have served a greater and better purpose if it had encouraged our negroes to go back to the farm for at least ten years more and there work out their salvation." Copies of the appeal were sent to prominent men in many parts of the country, and Epps today had received favorable comments from those high in official life of the State. A copy of the appeal follows: "Today the wisdom of the 'Live-at-Home' program—as has been demonstrated, in our rural communities, where there has been co-operation between landlord and tenant—is clearly shown. We as a race should face the present condition of the people with a determination to overcome present difficulties, by co-operating with men and women, who furnish work, or in any way direct affairs in our communities. Dependence on 'Community Chests' saps the manhood of any people. There are times, in the life of all people, when they are forced to call for aid during floods, and epidemic of diseases. Through co-operation our rural communities are in better condition than our cities and towns. Begin early to make preparation for 1934. Leave the crowded centers, go to the country and make for yourselves a valuable place as your fathers did. Building the church and school in the midst of a progressive farm community strengthens our position in the State. The men who criticize and contribute nothing in taxes have no reason to expect anything from the government. A strong pull for More Negro Farms. The hour has struck, men and women, who enter the schoolroom on the strength of character and a liberal education, must realize that two groups that are being trained in our public schools must be taught 'Love thy neighbor as thyself.' Then there must necessarily be (Continued on Page Four)

Late News Flashes From Over World

Foreign Liquor. Washington, Dec. 21.—(AP)—The administration today disclosed that the rush of foreign liquors into the United States had brought a majority of import quotas near exhaustion and at the same time moved to combat domestically what Attorney General Cummings described as a wholesale plan to violate international revenue laws on liquor. The attorney general told newsmen the entire force of 1,170 prohibition agents will be deputized by the department to prevent bootlegging and other illegal liquor operations. Joseph Choate, alcohol control administrator, meanwhile announced (Continued on Page Four)

Smithfield, Dec. 21.—Another offer of a site for a county recreation center for rural organizations has been made. A. G. Powell of the Sanders Chapel section has offered 42 acres, eight acres of which are cleared, in the Sanders Chapel section. The first one to offer a site was C. W. Pearce of Micro, who tendered a 20-acre tract in half a mile of Lowell's mill near Kenly. In addition to the above bonafide offers, two tentative offers have been made—one a 57-acre tract near Four Acks and the other 25 or more acres in Cleveland township. In order to facilitate plans for the recreation center an initial committee of ten has been formed and this committee will meet in the office of the home demonstration agent here next Friday morning at 11 o'clock.

CIVIL WORKS MONEY SPENT ON SCHOOLS

Improvements Costing Around $25,000 Under Way in Greenville Today

Improvements costing around $25,000 were being made to city schools today through funds allotted by the Civil Works Administration. Among the most important of the improvements was the enlarging of the library in the high school building and an athletic field for colored people on the Falkland road. The cost of improvements at the high school was estimated at $5,000. This will include repainting the interior of the building. Repairs were also being made at other buildings, and when the work is completed the structures will be in better condition than in years. Repainting of the Vines House, public school property, was also under way today. The athletic field for colored people is located on the public school property on the Falkland road. The field will be among the best in the city and will meet a long felt need. Additional money was also being spent on schools in other parts of the country. In fact, virtually all schools will be repaired and repainted and many additions made to take care of the growth of the various communities. Several thousand dollars was also being spent on the campus improvements at East Carolina Teachers College. This work has been under way for two or three weeks. It is a beautification project and will greatly improve the general appearance of the campus.

CREW FORCED TO ABANDON CRACK LINER

Twelve Passengers Reach Shore Safely As Crew Leaves Prince George

Seattle, Dec. 21.—(AP)—The crack Canadian liner Prince George was abandoned by its crew after midnight this morning on Vado Rocky in the far north British Columbia waters after its twelve passengers had reached shore safely in lifeboats. Running aground about 11 p. m. (Pacific Time) last night, frantic calls for assistance were sent out and within a short time the plight became serious. The passengers and part of the crew escaped in lifeboats. With the weather not severe, the lifeboats found their way to Anxov mining camp, several miles away, a wireless message picked up here said.

THREE TRAINS WRECKED WITH TWO KILLED

Wild Outbreak of Shooting Causes Resignation of Havana's Mayor; Violence Heralds Government Demonstration Against Platt Amendment; Snipers Busy on House-tops. Havana, Cuba, Dec. 21.—(AP)—Three trains coming into Havana with supporters for the government demonstration today against the Platt amendment were wrecked by unidentified persons with at least two deaths and several injured. Passenger train No. 2 was derailed near Aguilar with the death of a trainman. A wrecking train sent from Sagua also was derailed near Casajal. Passenger train No. 1 was derailed near Manichito with the death of a fireman and with several other trainmen injured. A wild outbreak of shooting, some of what officials said would be the largest demonstration Cuba ever saw against the Platt amendment precipitated early today the resignation of the city's mayor. While snipers deserted streets after a barrage laid down from house-tops by snipers, Mayor Alejandro Vergara was reliably reported to have presented his resignation to President Gerardo San Martin. He was said to have told the president he could not continue in office after the bombing of El Paño of the city's few remaining newspapers which was destroyed by fire Sunday at the hands of a mob and other outrages.

VIOLATIONS OF LAW DROP

Police Report Little Doing Among Criminal Element Around Town

People are so busy in and around Greenville they don't have time to be mean. At least that's the way officers of the law look at it today after going through half of the week with only a minor arrest or so. George Clark, chief of police, said this morning his men had not made a single arrest of any importance since the latter part of last week, and that things were quieter than any preholiday period in his memory. With the coming of clear, crisp weather, shopping was expected to be pushed forward rapidly Friday and Saturday and stores were preparing to do a land-office business. Trading has been comparatively active here the last two weeks but cloudy weather, accompanied by rain, caused a slight let-up in the feverish pace the last two days. Hundreds of people have thronged the business district each day, however, and a revival of trading was experienced by many stores during today. Greenville is in a receptive mood for the coming of Saint Nicholas. In fact, the city has been decorated brightly for the last two weeks and the appearance of Santa Claus the first of the week added stimulus to the situation. With hundreds of lights decorating the business district, homes have begun to give attention to lighting effects and scores of decorations of this kind have appeared the last few days. Along with this has come Christmas trees and tons of holly. Increased money paid out for the tobacco crop and the tremendous sums being poured into the ranks of the unemployed by the federal government have been instrumental in injecting new life into preparations for the Yuletide and thousands of people who had very little last year will find themselves surrounded by the things that go to make Christmas the happiest season of the year. Indications of more liberal spending have been in evidence for some time and with the coming of the holidays this became more pronounced as everybody turned his attention to preparing for the coming of Santa Claus.

FINDS NO FAULT WITH CWA OFFICE IN CRAVEN

New Bern, Dec. 21.—After careful inspection of records at the office of Mrs. John D. Whitford, Civil Works Administrator for Craven county, and conferences with Mrs. Whitford, Capt. Tom C. Daniels, department commander of American Legion, announced Monday night that he considered her office in splendid shape, devoid of any basis for criticism in connection with the general allegations of politics and partiality he had brought against CWA management in general throughout the State. At a meeting of the county re-employment board held Monday night in Captain Daniels' office, a resolution was adopted in commendation of the work and spirit of Mrs. Whitford.

A total of 425 students at the University of North Carolina have regular or part-time jobs.

CONVICTED ON CHARGE OF BURNING PACKHOUSE

Smithfield, Dec. 21.—The trial of the case of the State against E. Johnson, a young white man about 30 years of age, who lives in a Bentonville community, came to close late Tuesday afternoon when the jury brought in a verdict guilty of burning of his tobacco packhouse and its contents. The case had been in progress all of Friday and Tuesday. Sentence was deferred until later in the term. Chief evidence of the State was offered by Howard Atkinson, a young white man, about 25 years of age, employe of the defendant's, who testified that on the night of October 30, 1930, and while the defendant had gone to Kingston to get a load of tobacco, the witness observed the burning; that he had been induced by the defendant to set fire to this pack house and that the witness was to be paid $50 for his services, but that nothing had ever been paid him. He testified that he did not divulge this secret until he was 131, at which time he claims to have received religion and it was his religious convictions that impelled him to disclose the crime which had kept a secret until that time.

HOW DRY WE ARE!

In the news columns of this paper yesterday there appeared a story regarding the circulation of counterfeit $20 bills in this section and mentioned the fact that recently one man had received $180 in such bills.

While we warn our people against such bills and urge those handling money to be on the watch-out, here is another little inside story in connection with the recent passing of some of the bills that gives us a laugh in view of the fact that North Carolina is one of the two states that recently VOTED DRY.

For some time one of the popular brands of so-called bottled in bond liquor sold in some of the metropolitan cities of the country has been "Old Lincoln" and on some occasions persons from this city visiting in the North have made purchases of this "fine brand" to bring back to friends to whom only bootleg liquor was available. Now it comes to light, according to the story, that this fine so-called bottled in bond is manufactured, bottled and labeled right here in Eastern North Carolina, not more than thirty miles from Greenville, especially for the northern trade and the rum runners have been paying regular visits to this section to get their supplies.

On a recent visit one of the rum-runners from the North purchased $167.50 worth of the bottled in bond from this Eastern Carolina bootlegger and gave him in payment nine new $20 bills, the bootlegger giving him $12.50 change. Alas when the bootlegger got ready to use his money he found to his sorrow that he had $180 worth of counterfeit money in return for his liquor and his $12.50 change.

The fact that this pioneer prohibition state has been furnishing the liquor for the metropolitan centers might bring a shock to some of our people who believed that a dry law was all that was necessary to keep our state dry, and a laugh to others, but we are wondering if North Carolina's recent action on the dry question is going to make this state new headquarters for the hoodlums and racketeers from other sections.

FORBIDDEN VALLEY by William Byron Mowery

SYNOPSIS: Cobby Curt Tennu... brought her that black lily at the Iskitimwah camp.

Chapter 34. SONYA'S PLEA. "HELL get a damned bad disappointment!" Curt was thinking grimly.

The moment Sonya went he intended to start Francois and Jocku back south and send Ralph along with them. By traveling at night and hoping up during the day the three would get out to Russian Lake easily enough.

Through the open flap-front of Sonya's tent he could see her, moving about in the dim interior, making ready, he believed, to leave them that night.

GLANCING through the flap, she saw Curt lay aside his rifle and start filling cartridge clips, evidently getting ready for whatever might come.

She longed to step outside and talk with Curt, a few last words; but she was afraid to, afraid he would cut her cold as he had been doing for the last four days.

Whatever the reason, she felt that she had lost her best friend on earth, the one person whom she might have depended on to help her.

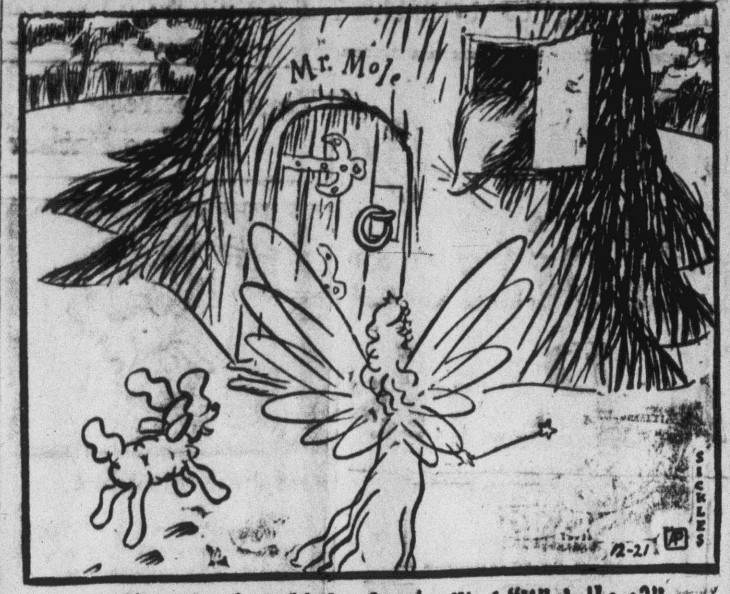

When her light pack was made up, she buckled it, laid it aside and stepped over to the tent door. Curt was almost done with the clips.

For a few moments she wavered, torn between her pride and the promptings of her heart. It might be that she had said or done something which had offended him and which she could smooth out.

She put her pride in her pocket and went out to him. "Can't I help you with those cartridges?" she proffered as an excuse to linger and talk.

"That's right," he barked, "I was in such a hurry." He looked unhappy so that Christina laughed and scratched his ear.

He could feel her but he couldn't see her. I tell you it's funny talking to some one you can't see.

But the bracelet said the person who can make me visible again lives at the roots of a tall pine tree, big woods?

WARD-GIST

A wedding of interest to friends throughout North Carolina was that of Miss Hester Markla Gist to Claude D. Ward which was solemnized Tuesday afternoon, December 19, at the Memorial Baptist Church in Greenville.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. W. Fleischmann in the presence of only relatives and close friends of the contracting parties. The wedding music was rendered by Mrs. Robert Fountain, Jr., of Fountain. During the ceremony "Venetian Love Song" was softly played. Mendelssohn's Wedding March was used as the recessional.

The only attendants were Miss Katherine Gross of Greenville, and Julian Ward, brother of the bridegroom, of Elizabeth City. The couple entered together. The bride wore a brown swager suit, fur trimmed, with matching accessories. Her flowers were a shoulder corsage of talisman roses. Immediately following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Ward left for northern points.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Gist of Badin. She received her education at East Carolina Teachers College, Greenville, and has taught in the public schools of Fountain for the past several years.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Ward of Elizabeth City. He is a graduate of Wake Forest College and at present holds the position as principal of the Winterville schools.

Mr. and Mrs. Ward will be at home in Winterville after January first.

WARD-HOOKER

The wedding of Miss Anna Dare Hooker and Wadie Ward was quietly solemnized Sunday morning at 8:30 in the Baptist Church in Bethel.

The church was beautifully decorated with pines and burning tapers and the spirit of the Yuletide predominated.

Prior to the ceremony Mrs. Harvey Ward of Greenville, played Traumerie and Schubert's Serenade, after which Miss Emily Clyde

Hooker beautifully sang "I Love You Truly."

At the strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March the ushers entered. Ollie VanNortwick of Greenville, with Dan Hooker, and Wiley Yelverton of Fountain, with Nellie James of Bethel.

The bride and groom entered together and the impressive ring ceremony was used. Mrs. Ward's pastor officiated. During the ceremony "Melody of Love" and "Indian Love Call" was softly played.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Ward are well known in Greenville. Mrs. Ward is the attractive and accomplished daughter of Mrs. Ella Hooker of Bethel, and is quite popular among a wide circle of friends in this city. Mr. Ward is the youngest son of Mrs. L. L. Ward of Bethel. He is connected with the Greenville Tobacco Company of this city.

New York Cotton

New York, Dec. 21.—(AP)—Cotton futures opened irregular, three points lower to one higher, on January liquidation buying of the months owing to steadier cables. Trade interests were buyers and there was more or less covering on the decline which carried prices above two to five points below yesterday's closing with March selling down to 9.99 before the end of the first half hour. The market worked lower later in the morning. December sold off to 9.78, or ten points lower, but later rallied with the last sale in that position reported at 9.83. Later months worked four or five points below yesterday's closing with May selling off to 10.13 at midday.

N. Y. Stock Market

New York, Dec. 21.—(AP)—Stocks steadied a bit today after their wash-out the previous session, but recoveries were limited to small fractions and intermittent rallies were rather feeble.

Dullness ruled in the early hours and most of yesterday's growling bears failed to venture into the open.

Whether they had already covered was a matter of discussion. There was little stock for sale and also there were few traders who showed any inclination to go after equities.

The dollar remained on even keel in foreign exchange dealings as gold was again unaltered.

Wheat and cotton sagged and other commodities were undecided. Bonds were mixed.

Although the late general tone was fairly steady, a number of issues met light selling.

Transfers were 950,000 shares.

Late News Flashes

(Continued From Page One) ed that both France and Portugal had exhausted import quotas allotted them and that other foreign quotas were nearing that point. The French commercial attache renewed his efforts to have his country's quota increased in a conference with State Department officials.

Insull Must Leave Greece Athens, Dec 21.—(AP)—The Greek government decided today that Samuel Insull, Sr., former Chicago utility operator must leave Greece by January 31.

The alien department was serving him today with a written notice that the government will make no further extension of his permit to remain in this country from which the United States seeks to extradite him.

Insull made no statement and did not indicate what his future plans were, other than that he had not decided on his next activities.

Probe Income Taxes

Washington, Dec. 21.—(AP)—The Evening Star said today that the federal government had just renewed a probe of income taxes paid by Senator Long and others affiliated with him in the Louisiana political machine.

Special agents of the Internal Revenue Bureau started such an inquiry in 1932 but this was said by the paper to have been suspended.

A. D. Burford, who directed the earlier probe, went to New Orleans two weeks ago in charge of a force of agents who have orders to make a probe of Long's finances and those of a number of his political allies, insofar as income taxes are concerned.

The resumption of the probe, said the Star, is understood to have received the approval of President Roosevelt.

Rallies to NRA

Washington, Dec. 21.—(AP)—The backbone of opposition to NRA price fixing for the dry cleaning industry was broken today when Isidore Paul of New York leader of the organized price violators informed officials he would urge all cash and carry stores to comply with the new schedule effective tomorrow.

Opposes Merger Navy

Washington, Dec. 21.—(AP)—Announcement at the national capital that President Roosevelt is considering a plan to merge the navy and the coast guard, today brought objections from Rep. Lindsay Warren.

The congressman telegraphed the President today that as representative of his district containing more coast guard stations than any other in the nation, he desired to protest against the proposal.

EFFORTS MADE TO INTIMIDATE SHERIFF

Tarboro, N. C., Dec. 21.—W. E. Bardin and his deputies arrested Lee Lawrence, colored, in No. 4 Township, charged with operating a still in violation of the prohibition law. At the still the officers found 35 gallons of liquor and several hundred gallons of beer. They destroyed the still.

Sheriff Bardin complains that he is being intimidated in consequence of his efforts to destroy the stills in the county, but it is believed there are enough law-abiding people in the county to give Sheriff Bardin the support that he needs in the enforcement of the prohibition law.

Banks to Pay Dividends

Henderson, Dec. 20.—Announcement was made today by K. L. Burton, the receiver, that a dividend payment of 5 per cent, will be made on Friday of this week, December 22 to depositors of the old Farmers and Merchants' Bank, of Henderson, which closed its doors in April, 1924. This distribution makes a total payment to depositors of 0 per cent, and Mr. Burton said there would be one more dividend payment before the receivership is discharged, and he hopes that one can be 10 per cent, which would mean 100 per cent payment to the depositors. It will probably be made late in 1934, he said.

"If the State has erred in its relation to the negro, it has through sympathy and kindness permitted men on State and county pay-rolls who have sown seeds of racial discord. North Carolina white men are the best of the entire South, they have given the best school system for negroes in the country, excepting West Virginia, Missouri and Texas.

"Every teacher in North Carolina who is at all grateful should attend the next meeting of the State Association and there, following sane leadership, readopt the pronouncement sent out during the administration of Dr. Brooks add Newbold—doing this they may rehabilitate their shattered fortunes.

"This is written to farmers and teachers who should be interested in continuing the fine racial relations existing in North Carolina. I realize that this generation does not hold you at a distance, in the same way that the former one did, but will be harder to win back as friends if you lose them. Those ties that bound older men and women of each race have become loosened. Falsehood wins no permanent battles.

"The meeting held in Raleigh by the National Association of Colored People could have served a greater and better purpose if they had encouraged our negroes to go back to the farm for at least ten years more and there work out their salvation.

"We listen to the song of the siren too often, and lose. We left our home organizations which functioned admirably in building up our standing in the State. Must we sit idly by, not alone as teachers, but citizens, of a great State and see our schools crippled? None of these recent visitors have contributed in any way to negro uplift. Whenever North Carolina negro organizations—educational or fraternal call—heed them, and 'To thine own self be true and it will follow as the night the day, thou can not then be false to any man.'

"The State School Commission is a creature of the General Assembly. The General Assembly biennially elected, received its mandate to do things that is law until repealed by a new body unless specially called by the governor. Good citizens will wait for the work from the people. The present distress of all people should cause the negro to observe caution in this hour of distress."
