Roosevelt Ball Will Be Staged Here January 30

DANCE HONORS BIRTHDAY OF THE PRESIDENT

Proceeds From Affair Will go to Permanent Endowment Fund for the Nation Wide Work of Warm Springs Foundation For Infantile Paralysis; State College Orchestra to Provide Music; Colorful Pageantry Expected

Plans for the Roosevelt Birthday Ball to be held here on January 30 were outlined at a meeting of representatives of various civic organizations at the Chamber of Commerce yesterday. Similar balls will be held in all parts of the nation and the proceeds will go to a permanent endowment fund for the nation-wide work of the Warm Springs Foundation for infantile paralysis. The President will be 52 years of age on that date. Committees to look out after the various phases of the affair here were named at the meeting and it promises to be one of the most colorful ever held in this community.

The dance here will be held for Greenville and Pitt County people and other places in this immediate section who do not hold dances of their own. Invitations have been extended to all Pitt County towns to take part.

Eddie Poole's Orchestra of State College, composed of ten musicians, has been secured to provide music for the occasion, and good music was expected to be one of the outstanding features.

Other attractions will be a radio address to be delivered by President Roosevelt to the attendants at the balls in all parts of the country. Speciality acts and other forms of entertainments are also being arranged.

The dance will be formal and all dancers will be required to appear in evening dress, but this will not be required of spectators.

The price for the dance will be $1.50 a couple for dancers and 50 cents each for spectators.

In view of the fact that the fund will go to the Warm Springs fund, there will be no free passes or complimentary tickets to any one.

The definite place of the dance has not been definitely arranged, but it is hoped to have it in the Campus building of East Carolina Teachers College or the High School auditorium. This is now in the hands of the general committee and definite announcement will be made as soon as possible.

The following committees were named at yesterday's meeting: General chairman, R. C. Stokes, Jr., secretary, Avery Wynne, treasurer, and W. W. Lee. General supervisory committee: Mayor R. C. Flanagan, G. V. Smith, Dink James, Mrs. J. B. Kittrell, Mrs. (Continued on Page Three)

PATRONAGE IS WORRYING DEMOCRATS

Several Members of Party Want Jobs Held by Republicans For Constituents

Washington, D. C., Jan. 5.—(AP)—The possibility of forcing a Democratic caucus on patronage matters today was discussed privately by several members of the party on the House side of Capitol Hill.

Many admittedly are not satisfied with the jobs they have been able to bestow upon their constituents. Several stated frankly the replacement of hundreds of the Republican office holders with Democrats would necessarily increase their own political strength at home.

The caucus could be forced by submission to Caucus Chairman Representative Lee, of California, of a petition signed by twenty-five Democratic House members.

B. C. Evans Dies Today

Benjamin Canady Evans, 57, died at 10:30 o'clock this morning at his home on East Fourteenth Street after an illness of two months.

Funeral services will be held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock from his late home with Elder W. H. Laughlinhouse, Free Will Baptist Minister, officiating. Burial will follow at the Evans graveyard, about six miles from Greenville, on the Cox Mill road.

Mr. Evans was born and reared in Pitt County and was the son of the James and Mary Everett Evans late of Pitt County. In 1898 he was married to Ida Smith, who survives him.

Besides his wife, he is survived by five sons, Clifton, Oscar, Herman, Jimmie and Willie; two daughters, Mrs. Jack Corey and Mrs. Snodice Mills; three brothers, Marshall, Lawrence and Gus; and one sister, Mrs. Martha Hardee, all of Pitt County.

A garment-making record was set in England recently when wool was shorn from twelve sheep and turned out as a finished suit in two hours, ten minutes.

NEW COTTON SIGN UP TO BEGIN TODAY

Committeemen Study Contracts Preparatory to Beginning of Campaign

Local cotton contract community committeemen have been appointed and met with the county agent yesterday for the purpose of studying cotton contracts and making other preparation relative to the sign up which starts today.

Farmers may now go to the same places where tobacco contracts were signed and sign their cotton contracts.

The cotton contracts is very liberal both in its method of arriving at base acreages and in its rental and parity price payments. Since Pitt County has been reducing its cotton acreage for the past several years and since the farmers may arrive at their base acreage by taking an average of the cotton planted during the years 1928-1932 inclusive, in a great many instances the farmers will not be required to cut at all, and in some instances perhaps can plant more cotton this year than last, provided his acreage in 1928, 1929 and 1930 was reduced in the following two or three years.

One-half of this rental payment may be made promptly this spring. The officials at Washington have assured those conducting the campaign in this State that they now have sufficient organization there to check contracts and issue rental payments promptly.

LEAF SIGN UP NEARS CLOSE

Only 35 Farmers in This County Have Not Yet Been Contacted For Signatures

The committeemen who put over the Pitt County tobacco sign-up met in the county agent's office yesterday and reports revealed that only thirty-three farmers living in Pitt County have not been contacted and secured. These farmers are expected to sign when approached by the committeemen. When these thirty-three signatures are secured, Pitt County's sign-up will be 100 per cent since land banks and insurance companies are understood to be making arrangements for blanket contracts with the State Department.

Twenty-one hundred contracts have been approved by the county committee and called to Raleigh. The other contracts are being checked and typed as rapidly as possible. It is expected that by the end of the week every contract signed in Pitt County will be in the hands of Government officials in Raleigh.

BEGIN TERMS IN STATE PEN

Three Mountaineers Withdraw Appeals And Begin Serving Sentences

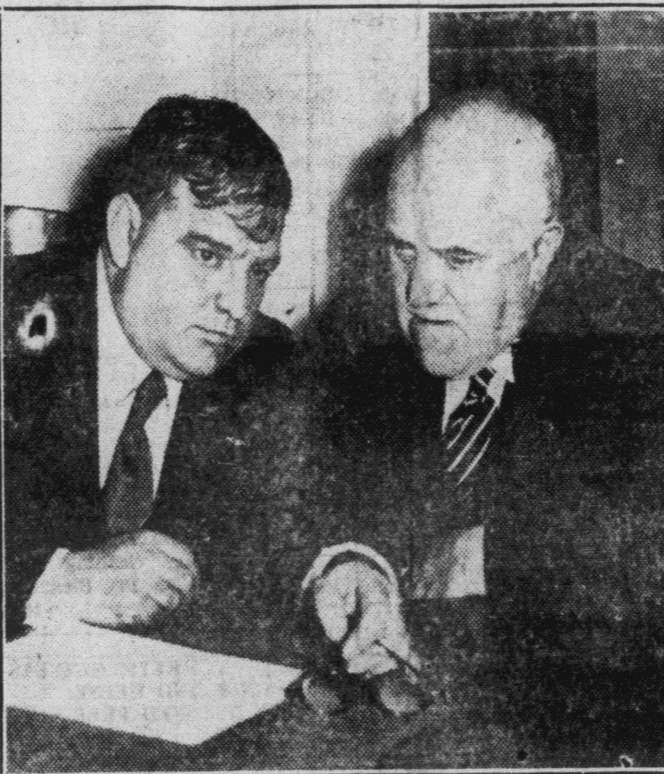

Waynesville, N. C., Jan. 5.—(AP)—Three mountaineers convicted of second degree murder in the slaying of Thomas Price, retired railroad executive on his mountain estate last September, have withdrawn their appeals and began serving their sentences, it was revealed today.

The defendants are Dewey Potter, sentenced from twenty to twenty-five years; Clarence Potter, his brother (two to five years), and Eric Ledford, a cousin, fifteen years.

The convicted men shot Price because one of their clan had been indicted for trespassing on his vast mountain estate.

CREDIT BODY GETS CHARTER

Greenville Production Association Ready to Make Loans to Growers Now

The board of directors of the Greenville Credit Association has been issued a charter and is now ready to make loans to Pitt and Greene County farmers to the extent of $400,000. The organization is headed by J. E. Winslow, chairman of the Pitt County Board of Agriculture, and is in a position to make loans to farmers for crop production purposes promptly.

The office of the organization and farmers desiring loans can secure information in this connection through County Agent E. F. Arnold.

This association is the outcome of the consolidation of seed loans, and agricultural credit cooperation place of these lending agencies and to provide a permanent source of credit for crop production purposes.

Collateral to secure these loans will consist of crop liens and chattel mortgages. The rate of interest will be around 6 per cent. Each farmer borrowing through this source will be required to take 5 per cent of his loan in stock. Interest charges will be made only for the time the money is actually in the possession of the farmer. Any farmers who have collateral can secure ample cash for operating his farm.

As stated above, farmers can make applications and have money delivered to them at a later date with interest charges beginning at date money is delivered.

BOTTLING CO. SAFE BLOWN

Yeggmen Escape With Between $5 and $10 Belonging to Nehi Bottling Works

Yeggmen, using nitroglycerine, blew open the safe of the Nehi Bottling Works on the corner of Evans and Twelfth Streets last night and escaped with between $5 and $10 in cash, it was revealed today by J. C. Waldrop, operator of the concern.

The safe was completely shattered by the powerful charge and the door was blown clean across the building. The robbery, believed to have been committed shortly after midnight, was discovered about 3:30 o'clock this morning when Mr. Waldrop opened the building preparatory to beginning the day's business.

The robbers, believed to be those who robbed the safe of the Blades Motor Company here last Saturday night, gained entrance to the building by prizing open the front door with a crowbar. It was the same method of entrance used in the first robbery.

A man living in a house back of the building reported hearing a blast shortly after midnight, and when he raised up to investigate the origin of the noise, he said he heard an automobile drive away from the bottling works building.

Following a complete check of the safe, Mr. Waldrop said the loss would be between $5 and $10. He said the safe was so badly damaged by the blast it would be a complete loss.

Police expressed opinion that the yeggmen are the same who robbed a safe of the Elades Motor Company in New Bern about a week ago and escaped with over $200 and then moved on to Greenville and robbed the same firm again. They obtained between $75 and $100 into the robbery here.

FLEISCHMANN NAMED HEAD OF MINISTERS

Other Officers of Ministerial Association Elected at Meeting Yesterday

The Greenville Ministerial Association met on Thursday evening, January 4, at which time the members were the dinner guests of the Rev. and Mrs. A. W. Fleischmann. The officers elected for the ensuing year were: A. W. Fleischmann, president, and Wm. A. Ryan, secretary. The members discussed a number of matters of importance in connection with the religious, social and educational interests of the community, particularly such matters as have to do with the building up of a sentiment in favor of general law enforcement. There was no action taken as in definite steps to be taken in this direction, but the feeling was general that there was evident a let-down in the matter of both the observance and enforcement of the laws which are upon our statute books. The Association passed resolutions of respect, appreciation and affection for the late Rev. W. S. Harden, a copy of which resolution appears elsewhere in this issue of The Daily Reflector. The date of the monthly meeting remains unchanged, but the hour has been changed to 7:30 p. m., effective February 1.

ALDERMEN IN MONTHLY MEET

Clerk Tells Board That Spending First Six Months Within The Budget

The city of Greenville operated within the budget during the first six months of the fiscal year, J. O. Duttall, city clerk, told members of the Board of Aldermen, meeting in regular monthly session at the City Hall.

The clerk said that every department had lived within the figures provided in the budget the beginning of the new fiscal year would find them still within the restricted limits.

The city finished last year well within the budget, and the economy measures by the board beginning of year again will make it possible to go again within the year within prescribed figures.

The meeting last night transacted only routine business, and no matter of any great importance was considered.

Mayor Flanagan referred briefly to the sanitary campaign being launched by the Board of Health and told the aldermen who would have more detailed information in this connection to present at some future date.

REPORT SAYS DAM BOMBED

Sheriff Begins Investigation of Flood and Loss of Life in California

Los Angeles, Calif., Jan. 5.—(AP)—An unverified report that Cheek Dam, a mile above Montrose, containing 100,000,000 gallons of water, was dynamited, precipitating the New Year's disaster which cost at least 39 lives, was received by the sheriff's office today.

The report came as Coroner Frank Mance announced an extensive investigation of the catastrophe which caused damage of more than $5,000,000. He said a jury would be empaneled to decide whether anybody was involved and to propose a preventative measure.

NATIONALIST GOVERNMENT USES BOMBS

Request of American Government Follows Advice to Move Americans to Another Section; Rebels Set up People's Government; National Government Authorities Reply With Bombing Planes

Peiping, Jan. 5.—(AP)—The United States legation today notified the Chinese Government that the United States looks to the Chinese for the full protection of the lives and property of Americans in Fukien.

The American declaration was in reply to the National Chinese government's request that Americans in the Fukien province be withdrawn to Nantai and to Kulanfu for safety.

The legation notified the Chinese that the U. S. Consul in Amoy and Foshow, the latter the capital of Fukien, had been instructed to advise American withdrawal at the consul's discretion.

The American declaration to the national government was preceded several days ago by a similar communication from Japan which said that they would hold the Chinese responsible for the safety of Japanese in Jiffin.

The Fukien situation was made serious when rebels overthrew the national authorities and established what they termed the people's government. The Nationals replied with bombing planes.

DUTCH FORBIDDEN TO BET; CHECKERS ON TABOO LIST

The Hague, (AP)—The Dutch government, a month after ordering the closing of all gambling houses, either of skill or of chance.

The move is officially stated to be dictated by the growth of the gambling craze among Dutchmen since the introduction of "straperlo and spiralo," a Dutch form of roulette.

In a village near The Hague the council has even prohibited all card-playing, chess, checkers and dominoes in the inns.

Glyde Powell Loses Life In Calif. Flood

Glyde W. Powell, 39, brother of R. L. Powell, secretary of the local Chamber of Commerce, lost his life while doing rescue work in the recent flood which swept over areas around Los Angeles, Calif., it was revealed by reports received here today.

The body is en route to Wilmington where funeral services and burial will be held next week.

Mr. Powell, heating engineer, was among the scores of persons who volunteered for rescue work in the flood-stricken area. He was said to have been standing on a precipice overlooking a gorge when the ground gave way and he was precipitated into the swollen stream of the canyon. The body was picked up by the raging water and carried for a considerable distance. It was not recovered until several days later. The accident occurred at Tunpa, about seventeen miles from Los Angeles.

PAYROLL FOR PUBLIC WORK MOUNTS HERE

$15,000 to be Paid Out to Civil Works Administration Employees This Week

The largest sum of money—$15,000—yet received by workers employed on Civil Works Administration projects here will be paid out this week, it was made known today from the office of K. T. Futrell, local administrator.

With the full county quota—1,023—already at work and 25 extra laborers on duty at the college, the payroll this week will be nearly two thousand dollars above that of last week, the administrator said.

This will do much toward improving business conditions in the locality as the former jobless people will be able to buy things they actually need and the money spent will help bolster the financial standing of merchants and other people receiving it.

Two additional work projects have been approved in this county during the last two days, Mr. Futrell said. The first calls for an expenditure of $2,000 for drainage of Conetoe Creek in the Bethel community. The second provides for painting of the two negro schools here.

Mr. Futrell said the entire county quota as provided by the Federal Government was absorbed last week, and that it was impossible for them to make room for more workmen at this time in spite of continued requests for work. He declared they could not go beyond the figure allotted to each community, although they desired to do everything possible to put as many people to work as possible. A few special workmen were allotted the county, but they also have been put to work. Twenty-five men assigned to work at the college were not included in the county allotment and are counted as a special assignment.

FORBIDDEN VALLEY
 by William Byron Mowery

Chapter 46
THE PLAN
 TENN-OG stepped away and coolly walked across the logs. That was more than Curt cared to try. He got down and crept along the bridge on hands and knees, with Paul behind him. Midway he stopped, loosened a piece of bark and listened to the water. Several seconds later he heard the bark hit against a rock and splash into the stream.
 The chasm, about seventy feet deep, was not so abysmal as he had thought; but for the man who fell into it those seventy feet would be plenty, with rocks to crash on and that underground creek to sweep one away.
 Joining Tenn-Og on the other side, he lit another match and looked around. He found himself in a large irregularly shaped cave, warm and dry and fifty feet across. Shfts like the entrance led off in a dozen directions, some straight back into the mountain rock, others paralleling the face of the cliff. By the match flare he also noticed signs of human occupancy.
 In the flickering light he glanced at Tenn-Og, who was staring at the snowshoes and fireplace; and on the stay there till he got ready to let them out!

 Under ordinary circumstances a bush-wise outfit like them would hesitate about venturing into so plain a deadfall, but in the heat of a fight they probably would not stop to weigh danger.
 The idea intrigued him, largely because it would avoid heavy bloodshed. He hated to think of shooting into those men and killing as he would have to kill to stop a determined rush. They were an admirable little clan. Besides, this fight was not their fight but Karakhan's, and the Russian would not be in that charge. He would be hiding behind others, letting others be victimized in protecting him.
 As much as he wanted to try the trap, he finally decided against it.
BACK outside, he explained to Tenn-Og that the cave was no good, and asked him to show them a better place.
 The Indian took them down slope fifty yards, worked over to the left and brought them to a little knoll. The spot looked ideal to Curt at his first glance.
 A tangle of rocks and windfall logs gave them fine cover; the slope fell away so steeply in front that an attack from that direction was

"Don't shoot," said Curt.

Indian's face, usually so masklike, he saw a storm of emotions. This was the place, the very place, where Tenn-Og and the Sikanni girl had spent their idyllic summer.
 Paul picked up a balsam branch, touched it to Curt's match, and looked around the cave with marveling eyes. "Name of the Name!" he breathed. "Here you and I could hold off a hundred men!"
 "Maybe so, but if they'd ever happen to bottle us up in here, we'd stay for a hundred years. I want something more substantial than that spider footing between me and the outside."
 Tenn-Og shook his head. "We get out quick." He pointed to one of the black shafts at their right and indicated that it opened out on a ledge near the fissure.
 "But suppose they'd plug that opening up?" Curt asked.

Impossible; and the upper side was protected by a thicket of devil's club, spiked with wicked three-inch thorns.
 The range was as good as he could ask for, and down at the lake shore the whole camp lay wide open to their guns.
 The stars had already paled and were fading one by one.
 Down at the cabin a man, a white man, stepped out into the gray dawn, looked around and started down to the canoe landing. Curt's fingers tightened on his rifle as he watched the Russian.
 At the lake headland to the east a canoe loomed out of the gray mist. Others followed it till presently ten were strung along the shore. One canoe nosed ahead of the others. In the prow of it Curt's aching eyes picked out a small slim figure sitting proudly erect, and his heart leaped. She'd come through safely!
 With rifle out at ready he watched the meeting between her and Karakhan, and saw them start up the path. While he waited, fingering his rifle impatiently, he was suddenly startled by a throaty yelp from the direction of the cave. Jerking around, he saw five of the big honey-colored huskies filter out of a thicket and come loping straight for the knoll.
 Tenn-Og dropped the leader with a silent arrow, killing the dog in its tracks. His next arrow struck a husky in the flank. It yelped, whirled and bit at the dart. The others took the hint and stayed back a respectful distance, with a furious snarling and barking.
 Down at the lean-to's several men grabbed spears and came rushing up the slope, thinking perhaps that the dogs had brought a prowling grizzly to bay. Still LeNoir did not show himself, and Slam-Klale was more than three hundred yards from the landing.
 "Don't!" Curt whispered, as Paul lined his rifle at the sub-chief. "He's too far, and we've got to get that LeNoir. We're sure to be discovered now, but before it happens we may put those two out."

With the opening of the tobacco market again next Monday those growers who still have a portion of their crop are urged to market it as speedily as possible. The definite closing date of the market has not been announced but the market will remain open for only a short time for the final sales of this year's crop. With season's sales here over a million pounds ahead of any other market in the belt every indication is that the end of the season will find Greenville in the undisputed possession of the title of the Largest Tobacco Market.

Announcement of approval of about $55,000 worth of improvements to our city school buildings by the CWA brings the realization of still further benefits this community is receiving through the government efforts at recovery. Not only will the community profit from the money being paid for labor on these projects for these additions and improvements in our school buildings will mean much to the health, comfort and welfare of the children who attend these schools.

Figures now being compiled indicate that the tuberculosis death rate for the United States for the past year will reach a new low figure of 56 per 100,000 population, while the figures for this county, according to recent reports, were 43 deaths in a single year. Based upon our population this figure places us nearly double the nation-wide death rate from this disease. When viewed in this light this is a serious situation for our county and section and plans for the establishment of a sanatorium for this county or section being given study. Once the data is all in hand and the movement for the actual procuring of the sanatorium gets under way every citizen in the county should give it his or her wholehearted support.

'HAPPY MEDIUM' SET AS HOGS' STYLE NOISE
 Urbana, Ill.—(AP)—The really fashionable hog of the near future will be the medium-type animal, according to a "style note" from E. T. Robbins, University of Illinois live-stock specialist.
 "Neither the stretched-out, rangy type of hogs nor the chunky type with its well-rounded curves and excess lard, can compete with the intermediate type in supplying present day demands of packer and consumer," says Robbins.
 "Already the demand for this type has made them scarce, he says. One Eastern breeder is reported to have crossed five States in search of hogs of the desired "happy medium."

BOYS DO FARM WORK UNDER PRUSSIAN EDICT
 Berlin—(AP)—Two hundred thousand Prussian school boys must go "back to the farm" for a year of labor, after graduating from city public schools in June.
 The idea, sponsored by Bernhard Rust, Prussian Minister of Culture, is, as he explained it in Nazi terminology, "to show the alliance between blood and soil in the new German community."
 The boys' work, Rust said, would pay for their keep.
 The United States depends on the Delta Hardwood region of the Mississippi River for a considerable proportion of its hardwood timber.

Social and Personal

Mr. and Mrs. Billy L. Branch and children, Ashley and Joyce, left today for Carthage, Tenn., where Mr. Branch will auction tobacco on the Carthage tobacco market.

Miss Muriel Jackson of James, N. C., spent the Christmas holidays with Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Herring. She will return home Sunday.

Miss Doris Garris has returned to Duke University to resume her studies.

Mrs. Wiley Brown and Rev. and Mrs. A. E. Brown of Manteo, Mrs. Lawrence White and Mrs. Will White of Bell Arthur have returned from a visit in Miami, Florida.

Mrs. Mayo and Mrs. George Leach of Washington, were Greenville shoppers yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Cannon of Ayden, and Mrs. McFayden of Washington, D. C., were here today. Mrs. Winnie Benjamin of Robersonville, is visiting Mrs. W. R. Smith.

Miss Sockwell in New York. Miss Ella Sockwell is in New York to purchase ready-to-wear for the Blount-Harvey Co.

Return From Baltimore. Rev. and Mrs. W. A. Ryan and family and Miss Victoria Jackson have returned from Baltimore, where they have been spending the holidays.

BRIDGE LUNCHEON FOR MISS WRIGHT. Honoring Miss Mary Wright, bride-elect of January 18, Miss Mary Lou White graciously entertained at a bridge luncheon yesterday at her home on Greene street.

Three attractively appointed bridge tables were placed in a setting of evergreens, and many spirited games were enjoyed. Mrs. L. R. Meadows, making high score, was awarded coaster. Miss Wright was presented silver in her chosen pattern.

Mrs. Curtis Perkins assisted the hostess in serving a tempting luncheon.

Golden Wedding Anniversary. The following invitations have been received by friends in Greenville:

1884 Golden Wedding Reverend and Mrs. William Preston Shamhart Friday, January the twenty-sixth Vienna, Virginia

Round Table Club. The Round Table club met on Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. T. A. Person.

Mrs. G. R. Combs was given a cordial welcome as guest of the club at the afternoon.

The subject for discussion was "Recent Day Trends in Education in North Carolina." Mrs. W. C. Vincent, discussion leader, in her introduction of Mr. J. H. Rose as speaker, said she felt that on this very vital and challenging subject members should have first hand information and discussion.

Mr. Rose spoke on trends in organization and control of schools, centralization of control in Raleigh, transportation problem, grading system and class room work.

Among the many phases of education now being closely scrutinized are—the question of public education for all children, the benefits of the twelve year school and junior high school plan (these have not been predominate in this state), the transportation of small children to school, the re-establishment of the smaller rural community centers, the necessity of effort to keep politics out of the schools and the evils of individual competition of students at the expense of others and stressing necessity of cooperation for benefit of all. Mr. Rose gave a frank and unbiased discussion of this subject with the thought in mind that progress in the right direction comes only by a critical analysis of the past and a careful study of present day trends to determine those which should be followed and those which should be eliminated.

The hostess served a delicious sweet course during the social hour.

Mrs. Moore Dinner Hostess. During the holidays Mrs. Selma Carson Moore was hostess at a lovely dinner party, honoring the staff of Radio Station WEED.

The home throughout was decorated in the gay festive Yuletide manner, with exception of the dining room, which was in green and gold. The table was covered in a Venetian lace cloth, and in the center was a miniature station WEED. Around this little house was talks of growing green and bright leaf tobacco. Covers were laid for eight and a six course turkey dinner was served. The color scheme of green and gold was further carried out in the several courses. Between courses there was much merriment over the guests telling their impression of the members of the staff, especially of Avery Wynne, owner and manager of the station. At the conclusion of dinner a miniature Christmas tree was brought in containing gifts for all.

Army and Notre Dame have been playing football since 1913, the year Knute Rockne and Gus Dorais started in a forward passing attack that buried the Cadets by a 35 to 12 score.

TRAINING SCHOOL BOYS GIVEN BIG HOLIDAY TREAT
Christmas week at the East Carolina Training School at Rocky Mount was a delightful occasion for the boys who live there. The entire week was given over to the holiday festivities, and only the necessary duties incidental to the farm and house work were carried out.

The festivities started with a Christmas exercise and tree, in each of the buildings, on Christmas Eve. Boxes and packages from home had been kept for this occasion, and these were handed to the boys after the exercises. Unfortunately, some boys receive huge boxes, while others received very little, but it was explained to the boys that this was something over which the school itself had no control. Boys are very nice about dividing with those who have less, so that a very happy evening was spent opening boxes and playing with toys and eating fruits, candies and nuts.

On Christmas Day the Shrine Club and Fire Department sent out bags of fruit, candies and nuts for every boy at the Training School. This was a generous treat, and it came wholly as a surprise, as the boys had never been remembered in this way before.

Thursday evening was the annual Christmas dinner.

During the holidays Mrs. Selma Carson Moore was hostess at a lovely dinner party, honoring the staff of Radio Station WEED.

COURSES FOR UNEMPLOYED TEACHERS AT COLLEGE

The courses offered by East Carolina Teachers College for the unemployed teachers who are getting ready to handle classes under the federal relief plan will begin Monday morning and will continue for two weeks. The cost to those attending will not exceed $7.00 a week for those staying in the dormitories. E. L. Henderson, of the Education Department of the college, is in charge of this work.

Training is offered for teachers of nursery schools for children of the pre-school age and for classes in adult literacy. A number of courses will be given. Classes in nursery school training will be given in Parental Education and Community Contacts, Art, Child Psychology, Number Work and Menu Planning. In the adult literacy course classes will be offered in English, History, Music and Health work.

The teachers must meet the state requirements of certification in order to enter. They must take two weeks of intensive training before beginning work with their classes but their pay will begin with their first day of training. All of the state institutions are offering two-week courses to train these teachers for various types of work.

The teachers will get $12.50 a week, the pay to begin with the first day of training and the work may continue for four months. All of the advanced state institutions are offering two-week courses of various types for fitting teachers for this work. The teachers must meet the state requirement of certification and they must be sent by authorities in charge of relief work.

Bridge Expert To Lecture. Mrs. Raymond Miller of Oakland, Cal., will give a lecture on Contract Bridge in the Woman's Club on Monday evening at 8 o'clock. Mrs. Miller is a well known bridge lecturer of San Francisco and Oakland. She has often played with both Mr. and Mrs. Culbertson. She has been in New York since Dec. 27th visiting the various bridge studios and learning first hand the very latest in contract.

Prices for the lecture will be 25c. The entire proceeds will go to the Woman's Club and members of the club hope that all the bridge players in Greenville and nearby towns—men and women—will avail themselves of this opportunity to learn what is newest and best in contract.

WOMAN'S CLUB HEARS MRS. WHITE ON NORTH CAROLINA MUSIC
The January meeting of the Woman's Club was held in the club house on Thursday evening at eight o'clock. The program was in charge of the music department of the club and was one of the most delightful of the year. Mrs. Charles White gave a paper on North Carolina Music and Musicians. Her discussion was interspersed with vocal selections showing characteristics of certain composers. Mrs. Guy Smith played the accompaniments for the songs.

North Carolinians are taking high honors throughout the nation in different fields of music. Lamar Springfield and his Symphony Orchestra, Wade Brown, the promoter of music contests in public schools, Max Noah and his Guilford College Choir, Caterina Jarboro, the negro prima donna, and Wilson Angel our young baritone were among the many outstanding leaders mentioned by Mrs. White.

It is gratifying to the music lovers of the state that these native musicians are devoting their time and talent to North Carolina and are inspiring a deeper appreciation of good music among the mass of citizens. North Carolina leads the nation in the organization of a state-wide symphony orchestra and a Folk Lore Society for the preservation of our native ballads and folk songs.

Mrs. White concluded her program by singing the "Old North State."

Following the program a brief business session was held. Members of the various departments and committees made announcements and gave reports. Mrs. W. A. Ryan and Mrs. W. R. Jones, new members, were welcomed into the club. Mother Teresa was elected to membership.

New Year greetings and an exchange of Christmas "Ups and Downs" were given as the members gathered around the tea table, from which Mrs. T. E. Hooker and Mrs. E. L. Henderson served tea and wafers.—Reported.

TO DELIVER SERIES OF ADDRESSES HERE

St. Peter's Church is to be the scene of most interesting and inspiring services this coming week. Fr. Leo Sporan, M.A., of Cleveland, O., a scholar of wide experience, a most convincing and ready speaker, will deliver three different addresses each day, entering into the various phases of present-day society and its relation to God and the supernatural. He will point the way, in harmony with the present wonderful program of our President, to better times and to an assured protection against the right evils than seen to threaten our very existence as a liberty-loving, rich and prosperous nation that has been leaving the world. He at the instance of Father Charles Gable, the pastor, the most heartily welcomes one and all who may be interested in these problems, to attend any and all of these services and lectures; he will conduct a question-box each evening, as well as be free to the approach of any one who may wish a personal interview or discussion.

Each morning there will be service at 7 o'clock with lectures, and at 8:30 o'clock with lecture. The evening service will begin at 7:30 o'clock throughout the week, including Saturday and Sunday evening.

SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT To Owners of VERY OLD Gorham Sterling Patterns

The century-known Gorham Craftsmen now make it possible for us to offer you additional matching pieces in virtually all their inactive flatware patterns without paying the extra die-charge heretofore required.

This is a most timely opportunity to add to, or complete, your table service, now invaluable for its association.

No extra charges will be made on orders received prior to January 31st for which deliveries will be made on or about April 1st. Deliveries required prior to that date will carry the usual die charge.

Bringing a sample of the pattern you desire to match, quickly enables us to not only accurately identify it, but duplicate with exactness any special marking it bears.

It is no longer necessary to deny yourself daily use of your long possessed silverware, because of its incompleteness.

Take advantage of present modest prices to add to your own or a friend's set, for the opportunity is limited. We urge you to make these substantial savings while they are available.

We are expecting prices to advance soon.

his own people and equally as much by all others throughout this city and county. He was a winsome interpreter of the Gospel of Jesus Christ, and courageously endeavored to apply the Christian principles of living to all phases of our present-day mode of life. He was a sincere lover of righteousness, and often led in our concerted activities for the improvement of the moral tone of the civic life of this community.

Through our years of association in common effort we learned to value his counsel, his deep consecration and abiding loyalty to the Master of his life. Deeply do we feel the loss of his presence in our midst with his cheery inspiration, but Heaven is dearer to us, and richer as he abides in the presence of our Lord as a trophy of His grace.

From his life there comes to us an inspiration to continue in more faithful service to our Lord and to those with whom we labor.

Darkness

By MARY GRAHAM BONNER

At last Willy Nilly seemed to be making some headway. With the help his animal friends could give pushing out the snow with their paws and feet, and with the work Willy Nilly did with his shovel, it seemed that they would be able to fit the door in place.

"Just a moment," Willy Nilly said. "I'll have to light the lamp." The first match went out, then the next match, and the third, until Willy Nilly went far over in the corner of the room and put the lamp where he thought the wind would not get at it. Then the fourth match did the work.

They were just about to get the door up when the wind was joined by a Breeze Brother coming from another direction, and the Breeze Brother wickedly found the lamp. Over went the lamp, breaking as it fell to the floor. They were in darkness, the lamp was broken, the wind had now knocked over the vase with the autumn leaves, and the snow was drifting in through the wide-open door.

"You'd better all rush upstairs," shouted Willy Nilly in the darkness. "I'll try to keep as much snow out as I can until this storm lets up."

"Don't be absurd!" quacked and barked and crowed the others. "We'll all help. We'll do what we can. Even a little is better than nothing, quack, quack, bow-wow, caw, caw, cackle, cackle."

TEACHERS TO BEGIN CAGE PLAY TONIGHT

Tonight will mark the opening of a two-game series between High Point College and East Carolina Teachers College. The visitors will arrive with a squad of thirteen men, led by Culler, probably one of the best forwards now playing in the smaller college circles. Last year High Point topped the Teachers by one point after an exciting hard-fought game.

This year, however, E. C. T. C. has a powerful team strengthened by Ridenhour, an outstanding center at Rutherfordton Junior College last year, Jimmie Johnston, an ace from the Raleigh Y. M. C. A. team, and Morgan, formerly of Oak Ridge.

With these reinforcements plus the remnants of last year's squad, Coach Ken Baitly is making great headway, and Burnett, one of the greatest floor workers in the game; Bostic, an outstanding man on the floor as well as Eason, Barrett and King are doing no mean part toward making their team outstanding.

Jolly, who received a badly twisted knee in football last year, will probably be out for the season, but Kapelic, who has nearly recovered from his football injury, will more than likely see service this year.

The games will be played on Friday and Saturday nights at 8 o'clock, on the new college court, in the Campus Building.

UNC WEAK AT FORWARD

Chapel Hill, N. C., Jan. 5.—Weakened at the forward positions by illness and injuries, the Carolina basketball team stands forward little chance of repeating last year's one-sided win over Davidson when the two teams stage their annual game in the Charlotte Central Gym Saturday night.

Although he shot seven out of seven fouls, the floor play of Vergil Weathers was serious handicapped in the Clemson game. Melvin Nelson, first substitute forward, has also been laid up all week with a severe cold.

The Tar Heels had a much closer shave with the Tigers than the 86-26 score indicated. With five minutes left to play their margin was only three points. As a result, Coach Shepard had to play the first team the whole route without a substitution, leaving the reserve strength untested.

Clemson offered the same speedy, veteran type of team which Davidson is said to have. On the other hand, the Carolina attack only looked good in spots, as in the nine-point scoring spurge of the last five minutes.

A bright spot of the opening game was the fine play of Jim McCachren, brother of the Carolina captain, who was breaking into the varsity line-up for the first time. Jim shot seven points and literally kept Carolina in the game during a 12-10 first half.

In the opening Big Five game with Davidson the Tar Heels will feature three Charlotte boys, the McCachren brothers at guard and Aiken at forward, and two former All-Southern performers, Captain Dave McCachren at guard and Weathers at forward.

Ivan Glace, lanky center, from Harrisburg, Pa., will round out the starting line-up.

Paul Kaveny is being groomed to take Nelson's place on the second team. The other members are Long, forward; Seale, center; Brandt and Blood, guards.

The Davidson line-up features Captain Harris and Lafferty, two flashy, dangerous forwards, with Ross or Morgan, center, and Holland and Yelverton, guards.

New York Cotton

New York, Jan. 5.—(AP)—Cotton futures opened fairly steady, unchanged to four points advance, with higher cables partly offset by near month liquidation. Business was active at the opening.

Near month liquidation continued and prices eased during the early trading. March contract declined from 10.60 to 10.54, while July eased from 10.82 to 10.83, with active months showing losses of about 0.10 to five points at the end of the first half hour.

Nearly all the early losses were recovered during the middle of the morning.

March contracts worked back to yesterday's closing price of 10.57, but met more cotton on the bulge. Prices at midday resulted about net unchanged to four points lower.

N. Y. Stock Market

New York, Jan. 5.—(AP)—Perplexed financial markets forced to figure in budgetary billions today appeared to be overcome with indecision and were unable to move over in any direction.

Stock were almost at a standstill in the early hours with the first of the speculative favorites dipping and rallying only feebly.

The middle group turned a little heavy after its latest rally of the previous session when inflationary protagonists lost some of the fever which they had drawn from implication of the government's huge expense account.

The dollar was recovered in foreign exchange dealings.

Grains, cotton and most other commodities held to a narrow range.

A rally in the second hour lifted the list for a time but heaviness in metal persisted and the downward trend was resumed in the late accounts.

Transfers were 950,000 shares.

cast that the economy legislation asked by the President in his budget message would be included in the first annual appropriation bill soon to be presented to the House. This legislation would extend the economy act for another year but reduced from 15 to 10 per cent the amount of the salary reduction that may be ordered for government employees for the fiscal year beginning in July.

Confesses Shooting.

Wilmington, Jan. 5.—(AP)—J. A. Clifton, chief of the Carolina division alcohol beverage bureau of the Department of Justice, today said C. R. Mills, had confessed the ambush shooting of Herman Barbrey, dry agent.

Barbrey was shot Wednesday shortly after he had arrested Jesse Mills, 18, brother of C. R. Mills, at a whiskey still which the officer raided. Not believed seriously injured at first, his condition has grown worse and hospital attaches today said his recovery was doubtful. Buckshot struck him in the left hand, arm and back.

Rejects $4 Liquor Tax

Washington, D. C., Jan. 5.—(AP)—A proposal to levy a $4 a gallon on distilled spirits was rejected today by the House as the administration formulated plans for decreasing liquor prices and the amount of unadulterated product.

In the first vote of the session by the House it turned down an amendment proposed by Representative O'Connor, Democrat, of New York, to the half billion dollar tax bill with a price of $2 a gallon. O'Connor contended the rate did not affect the price to consumers because of profiteering by distillers.

Representative Birksen, of Illinois, offered an amendment calling for $1.50. He has seven large distillers in his district.

Letter Written By Slain Girl's Sweetheart

Winston-Salem, N. C., Jan. 5.—(AP)—A handwriting expert today said a note which was found in the apron pocket of Leota Childress when she was found shot to death at her home near Elkin Saturday was not written by her, but appeared to have been written by her former sweetheart, Andrew Smoot, who is now under arrest.

Solicitor John Jones came here with specimens of the girl's handwriting and with samples of the penmanship by Smoot. These were compared by R. F. Carter, handwriting expert, who said he believed the letter found in the girl's pocket was written by Smoot.

Census of Birds Made

Buffalo, N. Y.—Sixty species of birds were seen in the Buffalo Ornithological Society's annual winter bird census of the Niagara frontier. The census is taken on a one-day hike every year. This year it was centered about Grand Island, in the Niagara River, and the mainland on both shores.

Black-Draught For Biliousness

"I have used Black-Draught for years and find it a great relief for headache and constipation and biliousness," writes Mrs. L. B. Crispin, of Pulaski, Ill. "When I get bilious, I feel tired and sluggish; have a bad taste in my mouth, and a bloated stomach. For these ailments, I take a dose of Black-Draught every other night until relieved."

Greenville Tobacco Market Report

Our market opens next Monday, January 8th. We will probably stay open balance of January. Let us urge that you market your tobacco quickly as possible while we have seasonable weather for grading. From the figures available, Greenville continues to lead all markets over 1,000,000 pounds. Everyone appreciates the patronage given the Greenville market and we know it will pay you to continue to sell in Greenville.
