NEW COLD WAVE SWEEPS ACROSS THE COUNTRY

Troops Are Concentrated In Paris For New Trouble

COMMUNISTS WILL START NEW OUTBREAK

Provincial Forces Held in Readiness For Attack of Communists; Twenty-Four Hour Strike Adds to Seriousness Of Situation; School Teachers Call Strike For Monday

Paris, Feb. 9.—(AP)—Premier-designate Gaston Doumergue today struggled grimly to bring about a political truce, while troops were concentrated in Paris for a threatened shock tonight.

His new cabinet was expected to be formed by the time Communists, defying police, planned to occupy the Place de la Republique, in the heart of the workers' district.

Company after company of provincial forces were bivouaced about the city and 14,000 police braced for a fight. Meanwhile, partisan politics loomed to handicap Doumergue in his effort to form a government designed to restore peace.

Radical Socialists sent for Premier Herriot to tell Doumergue that they might refuse to take part in his ministry unless they were given a full share of the cabinet posts.

Tonight manifestations were called against the government "of parties and fascism."

Adding to the seriousness of this situation was the 24-hour strike led by the federation of labor for Monday.

One of the most serious aspects of the strike was seen in the announcement that 800,000 French civil servants would join the walk-out. The civil workers, angered by pay cuts, included employees of transportation, communications, water, electricity, and gas and public service units.

Today the school teachers union joined the strike movement with order for closing of all schools on Monday.

Funeral Held For John L. Howard

Funeral services for John Leslie Howard, 49, who died at his home Wednesday night after an attack of pneumonia, were conducted from Williams Funeral Home this afternoon at 1:30 o'clock and the body was taken to Scotland Neck for burial. Final rites were conducted by Rev. G. R. Combs, pastor of Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church.

Mr. Howard a native of Halifax county, had been living in Greenville ten years, during which time he made a number of friends who received news of his death with regret.

JUGOSLAV CRITICS PRAISE AND ATTACK U. S. WHEAT

Belgrade, Jugo-Slavia.—(AP)—American varieties of wheat which resisted rust and other diseases have saved many farmers from ruin, say reports from many agricultural centers. Nevertheless, these select and very productive varieties again are under fire as "unworthy of the high standard which characterizes Jugo-Slavian wheat."

The critics say the old-fashioned "steel-wheat" of the Theiss and Banat regions—taken from Hungary and given to Jugo-Slavia by the peace treaties—is world famous for the high quality flour it produces, and that while American wheat grows twice as much per acre the bread produced from it is not so good.

The Belgrade Central Hygiene Institute, however, says that American wheat acclimated to Banat and Theiss conditions stands the bread-baking test as well as the old-fashioned, scanty-crop, local varieties.

A survey of rural housing conditions is being made by North Carolina State College to determine the needs of farm homes in that State.

Late News Flashes From Over World

Today In Congress.
Washington, Feb. 9.—(AP)—The Senate agriculture committee today favorably reported a bill by Chairman Smith, Democrat of South Carolina, authorizing the purchase of $150,000,000 worth of cotton and cotton products for free distribution to the needy.

The favorable report came after Cully A. Cobb, chief of the Farm Administration cotton section, had testified the program would require at least 1,000,000 bales which he estimated would raise the price of cotton at least one cent a pound.

Cobb said this would be considered as a relief measure than as a method of reducing the cotton surplus. The bill, contemplated insofar as possible, the distribution of materials for the home manufacture of cotton household articles.

A federal cotton distributing board would be created to buy and distribute cotton clothing material or cotton products for making of mattresses, bedding and simple household articles.

COTTON DRIVE PUSHES AHEAD

Over 1,000 Contracts Expected to be Signed in This County by Tomorrow

The government cotton reduction campaign was being pushed forward rapidly in Pitt County today in spite of the cold, and it was expected that 1,000 contracts would be in the farm office here by nightfall.

E. F. Arnold, director of the local farm department, said this morning that 850 contracts were on record in his office at this time with indications that the total would be swelled to near 1,200 by the week-end. Reports from committeemen in several parts of the county have not been received the last two days, but the director said, but it was a known fact that growers were signing and the total was around the 1,000 mark.

With the campaign coming to a close February 15, Mr. Arnold urged growers to give attention to cooperating with the government effort for reduction of next year's crop. He said legislation was now pending in Congress that would place 12 cents a pound on all growers who do not take part in the government campaign.

The object of the drive is similar to that of the tobacco campaign—to reduce production and the world supply and improve the general price situation. This offers a big inducement to farmers.

COLD HALTS CWA ACTIVITY

Outside Work in This County Suspended Today Account of Bad Weather

Outside activities of CWA workers were practically halted today by the cold wave sweeping over this part of the country. Although it was impossible to check up on the number of workers off the job because of the cold, K. T. Futrell, director of the CWA in Pitt, said he believed practically all outside operations had been suspended.

In spite of the interruption, however, Mr. Futrell said the pay-roll for this county tomorrow would be around $11,500 as against $7,500 for the previous week. The low figure last week was due to the first severe cold snap of the winter that caused workers to lose at least two days in virtually all parts of the county.

The administrator announced approval of two supplements to the fund for improvement of the Pitt County public school system, carrying a total appropriation for $7,500. This calls for the entire county system and in addition to several thousands of dollars received some time ago for this purpose. Both winter and colored schools are involved.

Cotton growers of the South realized about $457,750,000 for the 1933 crop, including lint and seed.

HEAVY STORM KILLS SEVERAL IN GERMANY

Near Hurricane Also Sweeps Into Scandinavia Doing Severe Damage

Berlin, Feb. 9.—(AP)—A near hurricane swept over Germany and roared across Scandinavia last night and today, killing several and injuring scores. It was one of the worst northwest European storms in years.

Three were known to be dead in addition to an undetermined number of sailors who were drowned when a fishing vessel with all hands on board sank in the estuary of the Weser river.

Baltic and North Sea shipping was driven into harbor with widespread damage reported on the seashore. Hamburg, Breslau and Stettin all reported heavy damage from the high winds.

At least one person was killed by a falling smokestack at Stettin. So suddenly did the storm strike Berlin that many motorists were injured by debris hurled into the air before they realized the seriousness of the situation.

Mrs. Z. M. Whitehurst Dies at Home Here After Twelve Days' Illness

Mrs. Z. M. Whitehurst, 74, died last night at 11:40 o'clock at her home, 704 East Fifth Street, after an illness of twelve days. Death was caused by pneumonia.

VERNE SANKEY HANGS SELF

Noted Kidnaper and Public Enemy Hangs Self in South Dakota Pen

Sioux Falls, S. D., Feb. 9.—(AP)—Verne Sankey has kept his word to cheat the law.

With a nose fashioned from two neckties and with a handkerchief in his mouth to prevent an outcry, he hanged himself in his cell at the South Dakota penitentiary last night.

When they caught him in Chicago last week with a gun muzzle rammed against him as he lay in a barber's chair, he had no chance to use the prison pills hidden in his overcoat. But last night on the eve of his arraignment to a charge of conspiracy to kidnap Charles Boettcher, II, of Denver, he beat the trap with death.

LAW TRAILS ABDUCTORS OF BREMER

Officers Believe They Are Close on The Heels of $200,000 Ransom Snatchers

St. Paul, Feb. 9.—(AP)—The law bayed close on the heels of Edward Bremer's kidnapers today.

The hunt swung in a widening circle blazed by very definite clues while the 37-year-old victim of the kidnapers remained in bed under doctor's orders.

The Department of Justice, priding itself on a near-perfect record in running down abductors, began methodically over a trail three days old that led from St. Paul to end at Rochester, Minn., where Bremer was freed last Wednesday.

Other trails were being followed. They gave definite indications that the law was not far behind the kidnapers and the $200,000 ransom the gang exacted for his release.

The officers had, among other things, the story of Bremer himself. They said the owner of the Commercial State Bank was not as helpful as they had hoped. Officers admitted his story gave them an edge on which to hang their plan of action.

NEW COLD WAVE GRIPS SECTION

Winter Rides In to Greenville on Northwind With Snow in His Whiskers.

Old Man Winter, with snow in his whiskers, strode roughly over this section today, accompanied by a north wind that sent the mercury hurtling to probably the lowest point in years.

B. T. Clark, local weather observer, said this morning the mercury dropped 44 degrees since yesterday morning at 8 o'clock. The reading this morning at the same hour showed a temper of 12 degrees above zero. He said the barometer stood at 17 at 6 o'clock. Yesterday morning the temperature was 56.

The weather observer said the mercury was still falling, and he expected it to reach the lowest point of the winter by the mid-afternoon. The temperature this morning was just three degrees above the reading established here Tuesday week when the coldest weather in years was registered here.

Winter rode into this section last night around 11 o'clock when a slight drizzle accompanied by a light snow flurry was reported. The snow did not start falling in earnest until early this morning, and this continued only for a short time. In fact, the ground was barely covered when the snowman halted his activities in favor of the north wind that produced temperatures too cold for snow.

Caught unawares, hundreds of citizens awoke this morning to find water pipes and radiators frozen with the situation promising to be as bad if not worse than the cold snap two weeks ago. Coal dealers also found the demand for fuel as great as any other time of the winter. With all-most spring-like weather prevailing yesterday, the citizenship led coal bins run to such a low level that when the cold actually appeared this morning their demands taxed the capacity of the various dealers here.

It was impossible to say how low the mercury would fall, but the weather man here was pessimistic concerning the afternoon and night, predicting probably the coldest weather of the year; in fact, in years.

BABYLONIAN ART BLAMED FOR LEGEND OF UNICORN

Chicago.—(AP)—The legend of the unicorn, horse-like animal with one horn in the middle of its forehead, probably arose from the ancient Babylonian practice of showing only one horn on bulls carved in profile.

This is the explanation of scientists of the oriental institute of the University of Chicago after uncovering many such carvings in ruins of Babylonian cities. The artists of those days had not progressed to the point of showing one horn behind the other in profile.

Someone later, seeing the carvings, mistook the bulls for one-horned animals, and the unicorn myth developed from this, it is thought.

BITING WINDS REPORTED IN ALL SECTIONS

Blanket of Snow Covers State from Asheville to Hatteras; Automobile Wrecks Reported From Slick Pavement; Much Colder Weather Predicted For Tonight And Saturday

(By Associated Press)
The winter's first general snow sweep over North Carolina today on the wings of high winds, but the precipitation was light. Generally the skies are overcast and gray when the snow flies but at Winston-Salem a heavy blanket of white was falling in the sunshine.

Today a biting wind gripped the state with predictions for a hard freeze in all parts of the state tonight.

High winds swept swirling snow into High Point and as the morning wore on it began to gather on the ground. A blustery wind prevailed at Goldsboro where the ground was covered with snow. The winter's first snow at Goldsboro stopped and gave indications of beginning again.

Snow covered the ground at Raleigh, but the official measuring was only 0.6 of an inch. Streets were slippery and a number of minor wrecks occurred. The weather bureau reported traces of snow from Charlotte to Hatteras but in Charlotte there was no snow in evidence.

Wilmington had a cutting north-easter that sent the mercury down at 21 at mid-morning and snow flurries were occasional. Salisbury had a short-lived snow fall.

All over the state the mercury dropped last night and held to low levels today.

Forecasts for the state at Raleigh tonight were for much colder with Saturday fair and continued cold.

MEDICOS SET UP LOAN FUND FOR STUDENTS

$100 Made Available To College Students Here; Comas Mark Discussions

Comas, both physical and spiritual, were the principal topics of discussion at the regular monthly meeting of the Pitt County Medical Society in the parish house of St. Paul's Episcopal Church last night.

The discussion came in the wake of a paper dealing with the "Coma," read by Dr. L. C. Skinner, and several members of the society took part. Among these were Drs. K. B. Pace, Joseph Smith, Tom Watson, T. G. Basnight, W. I. Wooten, and M. T. Frizzelle. It was Dr. Frizzelle who introduced the spiritual coma, and needless to say, his remarks met with considerable interest.

After Dr. Carl Adams, member of the faculty of East Carolina Teachers College, had told of the financial need of some of the girls attending college, the society voted to establish a $100 loan fund for the convenience of needy students.

Dr. Sommer, eye, ear, nose and throat specialist of Greenville, presented two colored children with bilateral cataracts which were revealing his attention. His explanation of methods of treatment was decidedly interesting as well as informative.

A guest of the evening was Rev. J. A. McIver, pastor of Immanuel Baptist Church, who listened attentively to discussion of the spiritual coma. It probably was the first time he had heard the question discussed from the professional viewpoint, but he remembered having come in contact with numbers of such cases during his long ministry as a preacher. However, he withheld any comment on the question. Instead, he led the physicians and surgeons in a brief prayer.

Dr. L. C. Skinner and Dr. Joseph Smith were hosts, and Dr. T. G. Basnight, of Stokes, newly-elected president of the society, was in the chair.

SCHOOLS OUT WORK AT NOON

Cold Wave Causes City School System To Abandon Work Until Monday

Because of the cold wave which visited the community today, city schools held an abbreviated session and suspended work until Monday. Classes quit work in all schools shortly after the noon hour because, J. H. Rose, superintendent of the schools, said the north sides of the buildings were too cold for comfort of the children, and it was impossible to "properly" heat all of the rooms.

He stated that attendance this morning was cut about fifty per cent because of the intense cold and snow-covered grounds which made it impossible for children living a long distance to reach school. Work will be resumed Monday morning at the usual hour.

KIDNAP VICTIM RELEASED

leave Mr. Greene. He's here somewhere. He was wounded a week ago and today they hit him—" "I know. But I'm afraid we can't take him this trip. Perhaps you don't realize, but we're in a dangerous position. We have a thousand-to-one chance of getting—" "You don't understand," she said weakly. "I will not leave here without him."

GRAHAME turned his head and found Janice just behind him. "I think," she said, "I heard noises of some kind. They seemed far away." "From below," answered Grahame. "Noise floats upward. It's about time the city below is awakening. We have no time to lose."

looking about him with the utmost curiosity, and, it seemed to Grahame, with a little dismay. Grahame remembered that the man had been carried to this height while unconscious. It spoke volumes in praise for Mr. Greene's poise that his expression betrayed so little consternation.

They began the descent, with the eastern sky splitting into streaks of saffron. Grahame led the way, with Janice following, and Greene bringing up the rear. Greene moved slowly, his fingers gripping at the rough stone steps with the nervous anxiety of a man unaccustomed to height.

They consumed their meal in silence. Greene rolled his last bit of meat in a fragment of tortilla and remarked that he could do with a glass of beer, a large one preferably, but lacking that, a half a gallon of spring water would do.

"When the Governor of North Carolina made his classic remark to his political neighbor," Frank observed, "he surely had Yucatan in mind. With luck we'll get a little water about four o'clock this afternoon, when it rains. The wider you can stretch your mouth the more you'll get."

The Democrats have today a Senate plurality of 29. Not counting abnormal vacancies (of which there are three or four), only 32 Senate seats are to be filled. Even to keep the Democratic plurality where it is, the Republicans must either defeat some Democratic incumbents or reject every one of the Republicans who are up. That is their problem.

TOBACCO GROWERS Here's why you should use Field Tested Fertilizer

GOOD quality tobacco is hard to grow. It takes hard work, experience, favorable weather, proper soil, and the right kind of fertilizer. It means a real investment in money and plenty of worry. Trust your tobacco crop to Royster's—the fertilizer that has been tested out right in the tobacco field.

WHAT TO DO WITH BREAD—AND ALSO WHAT NOT TO DO

Bread isn't only the staff of life—sometimes it's kitchen "life-saver." For instance, if you're having fried oysters, line the dish with slices of bread. This will absorb excess grease. The bread isn't to be eaten.

A piece of bread in the cake box will help to keep the cake from getting stale and hard, but bread in the cracker box will spoil the crackers.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Speight and Mrs. T. E. Cannon attended the P. T. A. meeting at Winterville Tuesday night.

Mrs. G. N. Edwards went to Greenville Saturday.

Carlton Dail went to Vanceboro Tuesday night to attend a ball game.

Mr. R. H. McGlohon has been on the sick list but is better at this time.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Broadwell were visitors in our community Sunday.

Miss Lena Rivers Broadwell of Winterville, spent Sunday with Miss Helen Grey Cannon.

Miss Louise Speight spent Tuesday night with Miss Hattie Lou Cannon.

Rev. and Mrs. R. F. Pittman of Ayden, have kindly offered to conduct a singing school at Bethany. This is a great opportunity for the people of the community, and should most certainly be taken advantage of. Mr. Pittman is pastor of the church and will gladly give his services to improve her choir.

The "Golden Rule" Sunday School Class was entertained last Friday evening by Dow and Nellie Manning. The guests were graciously received by the host and hostess and given a royal welcome. The large colonial fireplace, heaped with glowing logs, added a note of cheer to the evening, to say nothing of the warmth, which was most acceptable on so cold a night.

After the business was attended to, games were played and a delicious sweet course served. The class meets again Friday night before the first Sunday in March, at the home of Mary Travis Smith.

TWO APPEAL IN BEHALF OF WOMAN'S CLUB

Mayor Flanagan and Rev. A. W. Fleischmann Seek Financial Support of Club

Two new appeals were made today for financial support of the Woman's Club. They come from Mayor R. C. Flanagan and Rev. A. W. Fleischmann, president of the Ministerial Association.

"Next to the churches, the greatest contributing factor to the uplift of civic life of the city and community is the Woman's Club and I have confidence the people of Greenville will come to the support of these noble self-sacrificing women," the mayor said.

Mr. Fleischmann, speaking for the organization of ministers, declared in view of the excellent contribution to the life of the town and community, we join in the appeal that every one who will, shall do their part toward aiding this organization retain its home, and to continue their noble efforts in our midst."

The appeals follow: "Next to the churches, the greatest contributing factor to the uplift of civic life in this city and community is the Woman's Club of Greenville. Its doors are open to every movement that makes for right living. Its members are composed of intelligent Christian women who go about their duties with the thought of themselves entirely eliminated. One of their great aims has been a better and cleaner town and county in which to live and rear our children."

Through years of struggle to finance their property, and at the same time carry on their good work, they have patiently borne the burden uncomplainingly. Now they come and make a frank, clear statement about their financial condition. They frankly tell us that they need and must have help or their club doors must of necessity be closed. There is no force for good we can lose, and I have confidence that the good people of this city appreciates and will come to the aid of these noble and self-sacrificing women. With everyone co-operating, the task is easy and the club will be saved for greater and better work in the future.

"R. C. FLANAGAN, Mayor."

"Attention has been called to the citizens of this community to the appeal for financial support to aid the Greenville Woman's Club to clear the indebtedness upon their building. This appeal is being presented by a committee of interested citizens who are backing up their appeal by giving personally."

"In behalf of the Greenville Ministerial Association I present this word of endorsement concerning this effort. The Greenville Woman's Club has rendered, and is continuing to render, a service to this town and surrounding community that is invaluable. Their present home has its latch-key hung out for all who would use it for the welfare of the community. Moreover, this fine body of women have endeavored to build well for the moral, intellectual and social life of our people, young and old. They also strive to aid in a very material way in the development to all women in the matter of good citizenship. Therefore in view of this excellent contribution to the life of the town and community, we join in the appeal that every one who will shall do their part toward aiding this organization retain its home and to continue their noble efforts in our midst."

"Greenville Ministerial Assn. "A. W. FLEISCHMANN, "President."

France Builds 'Flying Battleship'

Paris—(AP)—A "flying battleship," armed with three machine guns, and a huge speedy bombing land-plane are being added to France's air force as additions to the country's defense system.

The seaplane, the biggest fighting craft of its kind in France, capable of carrying fourteen tons of useful load, also is intended as a model for planes to be used in the French air-mail service to South America and passenger service across the Mediterranean.

Tests Prove Seaplane Described by its builder, Louis Breguet, as a "high seas" plane, the ship is designed for long cruises over water. Thus it could fly far from its base to drop bombs on enemy ships, while keeping off aerial pursuers with its machine guns, fore and aft amidships.

Propelled by motors of 2,000 horsepower in all, it demonstrated its ability, in tests recently completed at Le Havre, to speed fully loaded at 155 miles an hour for more than 1,100 miles. Quick on the getaway, it climbs a mile in seven minutes.

Bomber is Monster For air-mail service across the South Atlantic, the plane would be fitted to carry fourteen tons of mail, while for passenger service linkk Marseilles, Algiers and Tunis, it would be given a second-class cabin for eleven travelers, a first-class cabin for six and a de luxe cabin for two.

The monster-like new bomber, powered with four engines, is designed like a seaplane for rapid climbing and flight over a long range with a heavy load. Its design

FLYING DuPONT YOUNGSTERS SCORN SEA AND JUNGLE PERILS

ALICE DU PONT

Miami, Fla.—(AP)—Like young birds trying their wings, two youthful scions of the wealthy DuPont family are sailing over blue seas and green jungles in an airplane tour of Latin America.

Unlike the birds, Alice du Pont, 21, and her brother, Richard, 23, have planned where they are going, and approximately when they will get there and when they will return, for both are licensed pilots.

They were a happy, eager pair when they hopped a Miami Beach in their own plane, with Havana as their first stop, and with laughing scorn for the dangers ahead.

As their itinerary unraveled, flexibility was shown when they arrived in San Juan, Puerto Rico, with the explanation of their delay en route from Miami as having been due to stopping at an inviting island beach for a swim. There was still plenty of time, they figured, for their journey through Central America and South America.

They have allotted themselves three months for the journey. But time is not the chief factor. The main thing is to see all that's worth seeing.

The young adventurers came by their flying honestly. Their father, A. Felix du Pont, of Wilmington, Del., is an aviation enthusiast and so is their older brother, A. Felix, Jr. In fact, Alice learned almost everything she knows about flying from them.

They walk in summer tennis and swimming. To conserve the skin I use a light creaming cream with occasional applications of nourishing cream.

By HELEN KEARNS (Stage Actress) If your skin is naturally dark, the teeth will look whiter because of the contrast. But to keep them that way, twice-daily brushing and regular visits to the dentist are essential. One week I spent in the mountains and forgot to take my tooth-paste, and that led to the discovery that simple baking soda is an effective substitute in such an emergency.

NOTICE This is to notify all persons concerned that I (Fred Weathington) have bought all the interest in the stock of goods owned by Joe Weathington in the F. Weathington and Bro. Mercantile business Winterville, N. C. All persons indebted to F. Weathington and Bro., will please make settlement to me. I also assume responsibility for all accounts owed by F. Weathington and Bro. against their stock of goods.

By MARIE KEARNS (Stage Actress) After each shampoo I rinse my hair in lemon water to make it light and wavy. The lemon helps to rid the hair of soap particles that the water has not washed out and gives it more gloss and sheen.

By ELEANOR KING (Screen Actress) If you like a lot of natural color in your cheeks, ride a bicycle half an hour, every morning. Although the weather shouldn't interfere, you should dress to keep warm. I ride every day in sun or shade, rain or snow, and my complexion is clearer and has more natural color than ever before.

By EVELYN GRENT (Stage Actress) Mental happiness, plenty of refreshing sleep and the right amount of exercise—these are aids to attractiveness.

As for exercise—in winter, skating.

SPORT SLANTS

By ALAN GOULD

It may be a long time before actual articles are drawn up and officially labeled, but the fact is that the East already has a "Big Seven" as the foundation for a collegiate athletics conference.

The group consists of Cornell, Columbia, Dartmouth, Harvard, Pennsylvania, Princeton and Yale. It includes the pioneers in every major sport and a maximum of tradition, even if not all the present-day Eastern powers in various branches of competition.

The point is that they have much in common and appear to be realizing it in a series of community huddles. They are already grouped together in the Eastern baseball and basketball leagues, both of which have added Harvard to the membership within the past year.

The Crimson, long a holdout from any fixed association beyond the confines of the old Big Three, has undergone a complete change of heart and policy. Harvard is now one of the "clubbiest" of the major Eastern universities, seemingly eager and willing to join any reasonable athletics enterprise.

Need Grid Cornerstone
The Big Seven, of course, can't claim much title to the designation until it operates with football as the cornerstone of competitive agreement. The gridiron being the source of nearly all athletic revenues, and hence the touchstone of intercollegiate subjects, it is only natural that it also should involve the most difficulties, looking toward the formation of a real Eastern conference.

Yet a good deal of progress has already been made within this family circle of seven. This year's schedules, for instance, show an average of four games for each college within the group. This is certainly sufficient basis for a good start, if not the actual completion or organization for common benefit.

Columbia and Penn play Yale this year. Princeton has already renewed relations with Dartmouth and resumes football rivalry with Harvard this year. The picture won't be complete, however, for the Tigers, until they get together on the gridiron again with Pennsylvania.

There may have been some unpleasantness in the old days between Penn and Princeton, but it is buried and forgotten now. I doubt if one out of a hundred undergraduates at either university could give the slightest information about their break-off after 1894. I recall that Penn won the last game, but I could not give the details myself, without considerable research.

Distances a Barrier
The relative isolation of universities like Cornell at Ithaca and Dartmouth at Hanover is, of course, a factor in the football business. It is a barrier to home-and-home agreements with colleges such as Yale, Harvard and Pennsylvania which draw from the big-city areas.

Dartmouth solves the problem readily by playing Harvard and Yale on the rival home grounds. Cornell's only fixture away from home is its annual Thanksgiving Day game with Penn at Franklin Field. In the past the Ithacans have declined to sign with Yale on the same basis and this, it would seem, is one of the mistakes that has slowed up the closer-knit together of the Big Seven in football.

Rocky Mount To Play Here Tonight

The local High School boys' basketball team will bring their home season nearer to its close tonight when they meet the fast quint representing Rocky Mount High. This is a return game with Rocky Mount. The locals were defeated there January 11. Since then Greenville has improved somewhat, and a real battle is expected in this game.

The local quint has won only three games this year. They defeated Washington, New Bern and Kinston. These were the team that we were supposed to win from. However, Rocky Mount has not shown very much improvement since early in the season, and the locals have a very good chance to turn the tables on them.

This will be the next to last home game for the boys this season. February 20 Washington will be played here. February 13 a game will be played in Kinston. This will end the season, unless the local enter the tri-county tournament that will be staged here the latter part of February.

PRISONERS MAKE BULLETS USED BY SEATTLE POLICE

SEATTLE—(AP)—Prisoners make the cartridges that Seattle policemen use.
L. M. Norris, police department firearms instructor, supervises re-loading of every cartridge fired in revolver practice on the target range. The old metal casings are reprimed, recharged with power and have lead slugs extracted from targets inserted after reshaping. Last year prisoners under his direction made 14,000 cartridges, saving the department one-half on each shell.

All the trustees in the jail who are good craftsmen are sent to Norris, who puts them to work making shells or repairing guns.

A will covering a piece of paper five feet long and nine inches wide was filed in the Alameda County, Calif., court. It disposed of $3,500.

New York Cotton

The market was active at the end of the first half hour.

The advance of 10 to 13 points above yesterday met increased realizing. May eased off to 12.34 and October to 12.60 with the market at midday ruling about net unchanged to two lower on the more active months.

N. Y. Stock Market

New York, Feb. 9.—(AP)—Financial markets slowed up with the weather today and prices movement were necessarily in relative to the torpid trading.

Speculative forces were said to have turned a little nervous in advance of the disclosure of the administration's complete proposal for federal regulation of stock and commodities exchange. Foreign exchange recored only small fluctuations.

Grains eased but cotton stopped up to new high levels since 130. Bonds were irregular.

Further expansion in retail buying was reported by Dunn and Bradstreet. Sales for the month were said to be averaging between 20 and 60 per cent of those for the same period last year.

Quiet offerings in the same period last year.

Quiet offerings in the forenoon gave way to active liquidations in the late dealings and shares conceded one to five over a wide front. Transfers were 3,300,000 shares.

Seeks To Free McCracken.
Washington, Feb. 9.—(AP)—Frank J. Hogan, attorney for William McCracken, whom the Senate ordered arrested today, said he would file habeas corpus proceedings as soon as the arrest was made.

MacCracken Ordered Arrested.
Washington, Feb. 9.—(AP)—The Senate, defied today by William McCracken, Hoover assistant secretary of commerce for air, ordered his arrest.

He failed to appear for the scheduled opening of his trial on contempt charges, challenging the Senate authority.

Three co-defendants, all attached to the air companies that benefited from mail contracts in the last administration were on hand.

When MacCracken failed to appear, Senator Black, Democrat of Alabama, chairman of the committee investigating the air all contracts, introduced a resolution calling for MacCracken's arrest. It was adopted without record vote.

Go! Stop!

By MARY GRAHAM BONNER
"It's certainly a comfort to have everything peaceful and happy again in Puddle Muddle," said Willy Nilly, the little knome-like man always so thoughtful concerning the creatures in the little community.

"Now I can get back to my chores, feeling that every one is all right. We certainly do care so much for each other and for our dear place here."

"Indeed we do," agreed Rip, the Dog. "Where are you going, Willy Nilly?"

Rip was delighted to see Willy Nilly put on his out-of-door clothes. "Will you take a walk with me?"

"I'm afraid I can't right now," said Willy Nilly. "But come with me while I go down to Top Notch's General Store. He said he was going to attend to his business down there today, and I'd like to see if he has some string for me. I need some. I'm all out of it."

They started off, but before they had gone very far they saw Top Notch in the center of the road. He was holding up a piece of fern.

They had no idea what he meant by that, but just as they approached him he held up a twig on which were some red berries.

"Whatever are you doing?" they asked as they went by. But Top Notch shouted:

"Why don't you look where you're going? I've half a mind to arrest you. Didn't you see the traffic signal was red? I held up the fern when it was all right to come along but the red berries meant to stop!"

"Why didn't you stop when you saw the signal?"

Tomorrow—"Top Notch Cackles."

Senator Black, Democrat of Alabama, chairman of the committee investigating the air all contracts, introduced a resolution calling for MacCracken's arrest. It was adopted without record vote.

Bremer Tells Of Kidnaping.
St. Paul, Feb. 9.—(AP)—Visibly upset and in a state of collapse Edward Bremer today related his experiences which kidnapers held for $200,000 ransom.

"I left the boy at school about 8:20 on the morning of January 17 and driving away I rode to the corner of Frederick and Lexington avenues, but stopped at the Imperial highway. As I stopped the left door of the car was opened and a right arm was extended through the door and a rough voice said: 'Don't move or I'll kill you.' I quickly put the car in low to cross the street and looked up and saw a car in front of me. I had to place my left foot through the door, and the foot reached the running board. By this time the man who opened the door had got inside the car. He began hitting me over the head, and I must have been hit 15 or 20 times. I tried to get out of the other door and bumped into something, and it was another man, who also hit me over the head. My eyes became filled with blood and I was dazed."

Professional Gap Found In Duce's Corporative State

Rome.—(AP)—The difficulties of either forming or foreseeing any such thing as syndicates of clients to act under Mussolini's newly overhauled corporative state is preoccupying some of Italy's outstanding professional men and artists.

These men have been formed in a syndicate along with all other blackshirt representatives of the nation's economic life. Like all others, this syndicate is granted the right to suggest legislation governing its own problems and necessities.

Senator Voices Woes
All this suggested legislation will be passed on by ahrdlaahrdlaahrd passed on by the council corporations, with Il Duce as final judge.

The syndicate of professionals and artists has about 100,000 members. Senator Cogliolo described their plight in regard to a public which has yet to show any syndicated purchasing trend, as "unhappy."

"Sad are their actual conditions," he mourned in the senate. "While the labor syndicates have their corresponding employer syndicates to confront with their problems, the professionals only have their clients—persons not easily unionized."

Silver Lining in Clouds
However, Senator Cogliolo described the professional syndicate as a good thing.

He said it has done something to extend the activities of many professional men who could not get a foothold previously.

Also, he found that party discipline is making it increasingly difficult for one artist or doctor or lawyer to monopolize all the best client markets to the disadvantage of his colleagues.

Greatly Relieved By Black-Draught

"Constipation caused me to have a tired, worn-out feeling and a dull headache," writes Mrs. J. W. Alverston, of Danville, Va. "I was anxious to find something to help me for I would not feel like doing my work. I found that by taking small doses of Black-Draught at night I was greatly relieved. It makes me feel just fine. I am glad to tell others about it."
