Scores Injured In Rioting In Three Cities Of France

Forty Taken Into Custody In Marseilles

Outbreak Follows Day Of Calm in the 24-Hour Strike; Hoodlums Inaugurate Reign of Terror by Firing Into Windows; Running Gun-Fight between Police And Rioters Takes Place; No Dead Reported

Paris, Feb. 23.—(AP)—Mounted guards rode down rioters in Marseilles, Nantez and Roubaix today. Time after time the guards charged into the shouting throngs in the three cities. It was nearly dawn before order was restored.

All cities found many injured but none killed. The outbreak followed a day of calm that marked the 24-hour general strike in which a million men protested Fascism they believed was gaining strength in the government.

The casualty list the fourth day of the strike listed one dead and about 150 injured and wounded in various outbreaks of violence.

Forty were arrested at Marseilles after furious battle between police and hoodlums. Riding through the streets of the city the hoodlums inaugurated a nocturnal reign of terror by firing into windows.

Police swarmed into the streets. Running gun-fights ensued. One man was killed before the rioters were routed or captured. Six of the rioters suffered gunshot wounds. Fourteen police were injured. Wrecked stands and embers burned figures littered the streets today where the fighting raged.

Knives, fists and bottles were used by the rioters when police attempted to disperse the Nantez mob. Firemen joined in the fray at Roubaix after street games fired on automobiles and men who attempted to put out the flames.

Amid these disorders duplicated in nearby Paris, five more persons were wounded in the last two weeks of anti-government rioting. These fatalities brought the total dead in the strike or terror to twenty-one. A few other disturbances were reported in other cities, but generally there was little trouble.

Prisoner's emergence from instruction today that no member of his cabinet should leave Paris owing to the grave domestic and foreign situation.

The cabinet took a firm stand in opposition to Chancellor Hitler's German re-armament demand last night. A note of reply to the recent memorandum from Berlin was approved.

Funeral services were conducted this afternoon in the Joyner family cemetery.

Surviving are the parents; three sisters, Frances, Virginia, Louise and two brothers, Clarence and Willie Gold. Surviving also are her grandmothers, Mrs. Case and Mrs. Fanny Joyner.

Walla Walla, Wash., Feb. 13.—(AP) Warden James M. McCauley sought the death penalty today for the ring leaders in the bloody prison break attempt in which eight men were killed, seven of them convicts, shot down from the prison walls.

Several of them had been giving trouble into the past, he said. While a rapid investigation was under way, he disclosed that he contemplated filing a death charge with the death penalty requested.

Meanwhile slight chance for recovery was held out for two of the convicts who were mowed down under withering fire of bullets from the wall.

Six prison employees, five of them turnkeys and one a guard, suffered slight wounds inflicted by the convicts. The other convicts bore bullet wounds.

AIR MAIL MAP SLICED IN U. S.

Fliers to Begin Soaring over 11,000 Mile Schedule Next Monday Morning.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 13.—(AP)—An air mail map temporarily sliced from 27,990 to 11,000 miles was spread today before army fliers who will spread-eagle it beginning Monday.

Simultaneously it was disclosed that the administration planned to eliminate direct commercial subsidies with a view of paying on the amount of mail transported. This was described on a basis of a new air mail legislation now being drafted for quick submission to Congress. Postmaster General Farley, although indicating permanent alterations, would be made in the whole air mail map, said the emergency system would be lengthened as speedily as possible.

Farley explained that the basis of need was taken as a rule for the lines.

DOLLAR DAY ON THURSDAY

Thousands of Values To be Offered by Local Merchants Here This Week

Semi-annual Dollar Day will be held in Greenville on Thursday and thousands of people from this great trade territory are expected to be on hand to obtain some of the splendid bargains to be offered from the counters of local merchants.

About twenty merchants will take part in the affair, staged semi-annually, and this assures shoppers of a wide range of goods to choose from.

In view of advancing prices in virtually all lines, it was said today that the public would do well to take advantage of the splendid offerings Thursday. In fact, it was said that merchants can't possibly replace the goods at the prices they will be sold on Dollar Day.

Always the great trade event of the year, Dollar Day this year probably will hold more interest to the general run of people than ever before. It is the season of the year when merchants attempt to split profits with their customers, and a day when everybody has an opportunity to buy at prices far below those usually prevailing.

Greenville is recognized as the principal shopping center of this part of the State, and this prestige was built up largely through the splendid values which merchants offer on special trade days.

Dollar Day is sponsored through the merchants' division of the Chamber of Commerce, and this is an additional guarantee of the importance of the affair to shoppers.

Tyer Child Dies Near Grimesland

Delton, S. C., Feb. 13.—(AP)—Half-old son of Mr. and Mrs. William Tyer, of the Grimesland community, died yesterday morning at 10 o'clock after an illness of a short time.

Funeral services were conducted from the home of the parents Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock and burial was made on the Jess Dixon farm in Beaufort County.

Surviving are a brother, William Earl Tyer and two sisters, Beulah May and Marjorie Lee Tyer.

THREE-YEAR-OLD CHILD IS FATALLY BURNED

Henderson, N. C., Feb. 13.—Mollie Louise Pruitt, three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Atho Pruitt, of South Henderson, died at 7:30 o'clock Saturday evening at Marine Park Hospital of burns sustained Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the home of her parents when she fell into the fireplace in the living room. The child was badly burned all over the front of the body except her face, and particularly on the chest and abdomen, and the hands.

According to information, there were three children in the room at the time. The father had gone out to feed the pigs and to bring in some wood. The grandmother was in another room and heard the screams of the child. She rushed to her aid and extinguished the flames. A doctor was called and the child was rushed to the hospital for treatment and lived a little more than 24 hours.

MANY FIRMS CONTRIBUTE TO LOAN FUND

Individuals Also Aiding in Movement for Needy Students at College.

Several business firms organizations and individuals of Greenville have recently made provisions for helping students at East Carolina Teachers College who are unable to continue their college work without financial aid, or to make provisions otherwise, could not come.

Dr. Carl Adams, who because of his position in the faculty, is keenly conscious of the very great need for such help, has been working on the problem for some time and has evolved plans by which any amount, however small or large, may be put to effective use. He has been making contacts with organizations, members of firms and individuals, and has met with enthusiastic response and received substantial help.

The first to make an individual contribution, Sam T. White, owner and operator of the White Stores, has given a scholarship, which is to be used this year.

Seven business firms have included in their budgets definite sums for this work. These are: Blount-Harvey, Inc.; C. Heber Forbes, Orange Crush Bottling Company, Coca-Cola Bottling Works, W. L. Best Jewelry Co., H. A. White & Sons Realty and Insurance Company, and the Greenville Banking and Trust Company.

Two organizations, the Pitt County Medical Society and the Greenville Tobacco Market, have established loan funds.

Others have been greatly interested in the work. As the movement goes forward, the combined amounts contributed, together with past contributions, will doubtless make a considerable sum for a Greenville scholarship and loan fund with many units.

The final selection of student to be recipients of aid will be left to a college committee composed of Dr. Adams and Dr. H. T. McGinnis, registrar. Definite qualifications for all students and others apply for aid have been set up.

FLETCHER IS CLUB SPEAKER

Washington Man Speaks on Rotary Ideals at Regular Club Meeting Here

Meynard Fletcher, of Washington, was the speaker at the regular meeting of the Rotary Club here last night. His appearance was in connection with the celebration of a "club service" program put on under the direction of S. T. White, chairman of the club service committee.

Mr. Fletcher, one of the leading members of the club in this part of the State, spoke on the subject, "How May Ideals of Rotary Be Realized?" He called attention of his hearers to the worth of unselfish living and the Rotary motto, "Service Above Self," declaring that to render service above self one must live unselfishly with the thought of his fellowman always at heart.

The clubmen enjoyed three solo numbers by Miss Bessie Brown, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. R. A. Tyson, Jr., club pianist.

K. W. Cobb presided over the session and called attention to the observance of the birthday of Rotary next Monday night. An elaborate program will be provided for the occasion, he said, and all former members of the organization will be invited to attend. Birthday celebrations are always of interest to the membership and full attendance, along with a number of guests, was being anticipated.

GOVERNMENT TROOPS SMASH BIG BUILDING

Troops Wreck $4,000,000 Apartment Housing 2,000 Socialist Families; Troops of Austrian Government Struggle Through Streets To Put Down Rebellion of Socialists; Battle as Horrible as Some of World War Days

Vienna, Feb. 13.—(AP)—Women and children were fed to the flames of civil war today as government artillery smashed the Karl Marx apartment building housing 2,000 Socialists.

No one knows how many were killed. The howitzers' shells smashed the third and fourth floors of the greatest apartment house in Europe. The middle arch collapsed.

The shelling of the $4,000,000 structure was only one corner of the aspect of Chancellor Englebert Dollfus' struggle through the bloody streets to put down the rebellion of the Socialists.

Apparently at least 300 have been killed outside Vienna.

At St. sharp fighting broke out again today when Socialists stationed machine guns atop a hill commanding the town. Other forces of Socialists were in possession of the great war-time Elycan plant. Government forces charged the plant in a desperate attempt to capture it.

Men fell dead and wounded, but there was no opportunity to count the casualties.

The battle at the Karl Marx building was as horrible as some of the scenes had seen who fought in the World War.

Machine guns had blazed from the windows of the homes of laborers at soldiers who sought to enter.

The government forces found machine guns, hand grenades and tear gas insufficient to put down the stubborn resistance, though they used the shells stripped into the concrete structures. Dust rose in the white corners of the buildings disappeared like magic.

Following the artillery attack government forces swarmed into the courtyard. Socialists continued their firing from machine guns. Rifle fire was also directed against the attackers.

Hand grenade fighting developed as the combatants came to close quarters. Other fighting also broke out again after an hour comparative calm in the Forststrof factory section of Vienna.

Final Rites Conducted from Home of Sister on Evans St. this Afternoon.

Funeral services for W. J. Blow, 55, member of an old and socially prominent family of this city, were conducted this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the home of his sister, Mrs. W. B. Wilson, on Evans Street, and interment was made in Cherry Hill Cemetery.

Mr. Blow, who for the last twenty-five years had been in the hotel business in various cities of the State, died Sunday night at about 9 o'clock in Duke Hospital, Durham, following an illness of several months.

The body arrived here yesterday afternoon and was taken to Mrs. Wilson's home to await burial. Final rites were conducted by Rev. G. E. Combs, pastor of Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church.

Mr. Blow was a native of Greenville, the son of the late H. A. and Mrs. Virginia Boddie Blow. He was connected with the Raleigh Hotel in Raleigh when he was taken ill last May. He returned to Greenville last August and had been making his home with his sister, Mrs. W. B. Wilson.

The funeral was largely attended by friends here and other parts of the State who received news of his death with sorrow.

Pallbearers were: B. S. Warren, A. L. Blow, W. H. Dail, S. L. Bridges, D. J. Whichard, Jr. and L. J. Smith.

Unscaled Peak
In India Goal
Of Nazi Party

Munich. (AP)—Nazi authorities have given their blessing to another Himalayan expedition scheduled to sail from Genoa in February.

Once more the aim is to scale Mount Nanga Parbat, 26,629 feet, virgin peak of the western Himalayas.

English Climber Dies
The first attempt to conquer Nanga Parbat was made thirty-nine years ago by A. F. Mummery, an Englishman, who paid for his effort with his life, after reaching an altitude of 24,000 feet.

Then came an Austro-German expedition of 1932, including two Americans, Elbridge Ran Herron of New York and Miss Elizabeth Knowlton, of Boston. With victory almost in their grasp, they were forced to turn back owing to mountain sickness among the native bearers, and loss of equipment.

No Americans are in this year's party, which will be headed again by Willy Merkl, leader of the 1932 expedition.

Plan Early Start

Others are Peter Aschenbrenner and Fritz Berchtold, his old companions; Erwin Schneider and Ulrich Wleland, both of the Dyrenfurth expedition of 1930; Dr. Welzenbach, Dr. Raechl, Dr. Bernard, a physician; Dr. Finkwalder, cartographer, and two others.

The expedition will sail from Genoa for Bombay about the end of February. This is two months earlier than the 1932 departure and thereby the leaders hope to avoid the snow storms that set in about mid-July in the Himalayan region. The Geyans hope that they will encounter no difficulties arising from the testament of the late Dalai Lama of Tibet, who was firmly convinced that the gods were angry at man's presumptuous invasion of their domain and had sent successive years of drought as a punishment.

A. A. U. W. Meets At College.

A highly appreciative group of A. A. U. W. members and their friends heard Miss Lucile Charlton in her reading of the play "Miss Lula Bett" at Ragsdale Hall Monday night. The reading was given before the A. A. U. W. drama group in its February meeting.

Miss Charlton gave a very understanding interpretation of the character of Miss Lula Bett, a drudge in the household of her selfish sister and brother-in-law, who finally wins independence from them and love for herself.

The pompous brother-in-law, whose brutal comments made even his own brother want to knock him down, as well as the querulous old mother and a badly spoiled child, who furnished the humor of the play, also were well presented.

Miss Hooper, chairman of the group, introduced the reader.

Garden Club Meets.

The Garden Club, a department of the Woman's Club, met Friday, February 9, with Mrs. P. G. Dennis as hostess. The chairman, Mrs. T. E. Hooker, presided over a short business session. The minutes of the past meeting were read by the secretary, Mrs. J. N. Hart. It was very inspiring to see so many loyal members brave the cold to attend this meeting but they were well repaid when Mrs. R. L. Smith, program leader for the afternoon, gave her talk on "Garden Features and Furniture." This was a most delightful paper. Mrs. Smith's descriptions were so vivid that her hearers almost forgot that it was not spring out-of-doors. She opened the gate to a garden, something that every garden should possess, and showed us, as we entered, beds of lovely sweet william, old apple trees, roses and boxwood hedges, old walls overgrown with ivy, and suggested that fences, walls or hedges are important in all permanent garden plans. Attention should be paid to both the quick and slow growing varieties. Usually the slow growing shrubs are more beautiful and much more lasting shade, as well as bird baths which should be placed in secluded spots, are important. Her beautiful as well as instructive talk will long be remembered by those who heard her.

The February calendar was read. This reminded us that it is now time to prepare soil, and also to trim the dead limbs from shrubbery. All shrubs and vines which have grown too rank may be trimmed this month.

The club's major project for the year is "A Park for Greenville."

The hostess served delicious tea and wafers—Reported.

Gardens.

Several hundred acres of Pitt county farm land are being taken out of cotton and tobacco production this year. The cotton contract provides the following uses of the land taken out of cotton production: "Soil improving crops; erosion preventing crops; food crops for the production of livestock, or livestock production for consumption or use by the producer on his farm; or following; or such other uses as may be permitted by the secretary or his authorized agent."

This being the case, why not concentrate on the home garden. Properly managed—the farm garden will contribute between 35 and 40 per cent of the family food supply. Gardens grown on this land rented to the government must be for home use only.

If you have never planted your garden according to a budget for your family needs, try it this year. Besides the vegetables used in the fresh state, plant so that you will be able to can 57 pints for each adult member of the family. You will probably want two garden plots this year—one for home use and one for sale. For your best information in planting vegetable gardens get a copy of "The Farm and Home Garden Manual" circular No. 122. These circulars may be obtained from the State College or from either the farm or the home agent's office.

In Memory Of Alex Evans.

In a quiet home for many days. Where things were once so happy and gay. The father lay pale and sick in bed. With nothing, not even death, to dread.

A good and faithful servant he has been. While living in this world of sin. To be a friend to all he did his best. And he was well prepared for eternal rest.

Although he was tired and weary of bed. By the Good Shepherd he still was led. Although he couldn't get out to enjoy the sun. He still said, "Lord, Try will be done."

It was God's will that he should die. And now he has taken him to live on high. There he will be free from sorrow and pain. Never to suffer or be ill again.

Freak Chicken Dies in Cold

The cold wave sweeping over this section last night claimed the life of a four-legged chicken on the farm of Henry Laughinghouse in the Cox Hill community.

The chicken, three days old, was apparently in the best of health yesterday, and using his four legs freely, but the cold weather came along last night and snuffed out his young life.

The birdie, which was preserved in alcohol at the S. G. Wilkerson Funeral Home today, had four perfect legs, and is a source of much interest to all who have seen him. He is believed to be of the Rhode Island species.

Tells How Cardui Stopped Cramping

"Several years ago, when I was younger, I was advised to take Cardui for cramping and irregular trouble," writes Mrs. Esther L. Dodson, of Lowry City, Mo. "It helped me and stopped the cramping. I feel that my good health is due to Cardui, and I can certainly recommend it to other women."

When womanly aches and pains and cramps are due to a weak, run-down condition, take Cardui. Sold at drug stores.

Kelvinator Co. Holds School

The Carolina Kelvinator Company is conducting a series of service schools in this city this week and numbers of representatives from all sections of the State were in attendance.

Representatives from the Kelvinator factory were in charge of the schools, giving demonstrations from day to day that proved most helpful to the various service men.

The school will continue throughout the week.

Hollywood—(AP)—Embodying enough typically winsome Janet Gaynor "footage" to be appealing to her fans, "Carolina" at the same time makes a bid for the consideration of those who like more solid dramatic food.

The new film, co-starring her with Lionel Barrymore, is an adaptation of Paul Green's play, "The House of Connelly." It is the story of the change wrought in an aristocratic but indigent southern family by the advent of a little Pennsylvania girl with new ideas.

The Connellys, portrayed victoriously by Henrietta Crossman, Barrymore, and Robert Young, live in poverty and pride on their dilapidated plantation, feeding on memories of the grandeur they knew before the civil war but having difficulty with the charge account at the country store. The son (Young) is restless but indifferent.

A Yankee Invasion.

Comes Janet as daughter of a tenant farmer on the place. When he dies, Janet carries on, raising her tobacco crop, although Mr. Connelly is positive the soil won't grow tobacco—and this being about 1900 the Carolina tobacco industry has not arisen to prove her wrong. Janet, we are to infer, is a pioneer.

Romance between Janet and Young is frowned upon by Connelly family pride, which plays the role of "heavy" in the piece. But it all ends happily, with tobacco millions rolling in—not, however, before some dramatic fireworks have cleared the air. Henry King directed.

'Hi, Nellie!'

Paul Muni's latest vehicle veers to comedy as a mystery as a change from the heavier material of "The World Changes."

"Hi, Nellie!" is a newspaper story, with Muni playing the two-fisted managing editor who is deposed by the publisher for playing conservatively a big story that other sheets are handling sensationally.

He has a contract and can't be fired, and so he is placed on the "Heart-Throbs" column—becoming "Miss Nellie Nelson." His ignominy is made less bearable by the taunts of a girl reporter (Glenda Farrell) who has done the chore before as penance inflicted by Muni. After a slow beginning, the plot thickens, vindicates his judgment on the big story by unearthing facts behind it—exposing dirty politics, a gang murder, and the "inside" of a huge embezzlement.

SPAIN TO SEEK SOLDIERS HELD AS MOORISH SERFS

Madrid—(AP)—Recurrent reports that a number of Spanish soldiers still are held prisoners of the Moors in the Sahara have given rise to a proposal in congress that an expedition be dispatched to settle the rumors.

The Moors took many prisoners in the combats of 1921, 1924, and 1925, but after the final Spanish victory all were supposed to have been liberated.

Since then there have been periodic reports that some of the prisoners still are held as slaves in remote desert strongholds.

RECOMMEND AGAINST DEEPENING OF CANAL

Elizabeth City, N. C., Feb. 13.—No further improvements to the Dismal Swamp canal after the present project for deepening the channel to nine feet has been completed are deemed advisable at this time, according to a report on the matter made to the Secretary of War by Major-General E. M. Markham, chief of army engineers. A copy of the report has been forwarded to the commerce association here by Congressman Lindsay Warren.

The report on the canal says in part: "The waterway traverses a sparsely settled territory and is used principally for local traffic between Norfolk and Elizabeth City, N. C. The bulk of the through traffic utilizing the more capacious channel afforded by the inland waterway from Norfolk, Va., to Beaufort Inlet, N. C.

"The commerce decreased from about 175,000 tons in 1928 to 75,000 tons in 1932. While this decrease is due, in part, to the economic conditions, it is probably due, in part, also to the use of the other route."

ARMY AVIATOR IS FOUND SHOT TO DEATH

Fayetteville, N. C., Feb. 13.—Three negro C. C. C. workers were placed in jail here late today in connection with the death of Warden Gilbert, air corps enlisted man from Mitchell Field, New York who was found dead this morning on the northern edge of the Fort Bragg reservation. Gilbert was in the crew of a plane which was held up at Pope Field by the weather while flying southward.

When found this morning the soldier had been shot through the right lung. There was only one wound. Otherwise the manner of his death is unknown, the post-mortem investigation is being made.

The three negroes who were placed in the Cumberland County jail this afternoon are Jesse Hammond, 25; William H. Lee, 20, and HMarvey Wilson, 19.

Gilbert was a young man about 25. His body is being held for disposition by a local undertaker.

BLOND GODDESS A New Serial by Herbert Jensen

SYNOPSIS: Frank Grahame has gone into the Yucatan jungle to look for his missing aviator friend, Bill Langton...

Chapter 31 ORTEGA

"WONDER how Bill got that bottle into the sea," said Frank. "I wonder... I have it!" he exclaimed.

He threw himself upon one of the stone benches. Their situation looked hopeless. If a man resourceful as Billy Langton could not survive in this place...

The cell was dark with evening when their guard returned. There were others with him. The cell door swung open...

Grahame stood erect with anger as he saw the next man to enter. Clad in white European garments, a cruel smile on his lips, stood Don Raoul Ortega.

He smiled suavely. "Good afternoon, my friend. We meet again in more favorable circumstances."

Grahame smiled coldly. "I trust your arm is better."

"You—" Ortega spoke a word that caused the American to flush deeply, and step forward.

The big man's hand dropped to his gun's butt.

"No!" exclaimed a voice from the doorway.

The tone was quiet, but Ortega seemed to shrink visibly. He muttered under his breath and stepped behind one of the guards.

With some surprise Frank peered toward the doorway. The figure of an Indian stood there, simply clad, and armed only with a knife.

As he stepped forward Frank drew in his breath sharply. Those falcon eyes, that vulturine nose, were those of the man he had last seen running from the car on that lonely Encinada road.

His face was queerly fascinating, arrogant with a lofty imperiousness; the lips were finely moulded. The eyes contained within their depths a glitter of fanatic fire, an impersonal cruelty, the savagery of a zealot.

He made a gesture with his hand, and Ortega stepped forward. The big man licked his lips, smiling slightly.

"I am to tell you," Don Raoul began, "what is in store for you."

He eyed Grahame maliciously, and pointed to the Indian who had commanded him to speak.

"He is Ahkin, the head priest, and is the living representative of Camatzotz, the Bat God, who serves Yum Chac the rain God and the most important of all. The bat tears off the heads of living men and devours the torn-out heart and blood of his victims. A pleasant custom that has survived the centuries in this country."

"Tomorrow, before the temple on the pyramid, you and your friend will assist in this rite. You will feed the god. He wants me to ask you which is of higher rank in your land; there is a matter of precedence involved, you know."

He paused and looked expectantly at Grahame.

Grahame drew a deep breath. Since he had heard Greene read Langton's last message, he appreciated most keenly the hopelessness of their situation. He knew that nothing short of a miracle would prevent their being taken to the pyramid and slaughtered as Ortega had promised. To prolong the span of his life but a few minutes at best, was begging the question of the inevitable. It was a small enough gesture to make, but he would give Greene the faint advantage it involved.

"YOU may tell Ahkin that I am of the higher rank," he replied. "It would cause me great offense, if I am not murdered first." He smiled sardonically.

"Where do you get that stuff?" cried Greene.

Gets Right On Job Snively lost no time getting down to business. Just a fortnight after his appointment he was on the campus here, holding his first spring workout.

With him he brought Max Reed, a former Bucknell star, who had aided him with the Bisons for the last five years.

Norfolk, one of the largest schools in the South, has a large student body from which Snively may draw his football candidates.

Later his schedule includes Kentucky, North Carolina State—where his team clashes with that of another mentor new to the South, Hunk Anderson—Georgia Tech, Davidson, Duke and Virginia.

On the first day of the year a white leghorn hen owned by Mrs. J. R. Thornton of Santa Cruz, Cal., laid an egg 1-2 inches in circumference and more than six ounces in weight.

There seemed small chance of escape.

Ortega's smile broadened. "Thank you," he said. "Only you misapprehend the precedence. Your importance makes you the last. I would like it better that way myself, for you. You will die, surely, but first you will see your friend on the cutting stone."

"Damn you!" whispered Frank. Don Raoul's teeth gleamed in amusement.

"What of Janice?" asked Greene. "The lady?" Ortega lighted one of his black-cigarets. Blowing out a cloud of smoke he expanded his chest. "She will be treated quite gently."

"We have—ah—elaborate plans for her... entertainment. Miss Kent has been brought here to play the most important role of her career. Here she will be the Daughter of Ich-Kin, the Sun God."

"Will they hurt her?" Greene whispered.

Smoke from his cigaret trickled from his nostrils. He shook his head. No. Fortunately her blond hair makes her a most important person. Ahkin here—his shoulder twitched toward his Indian companion.

"—saw her picture some months ago in some old newspaper wrappings I had put around a shipment I made him."

His dull eyes held a little spark of amusement as he looked at Greene.

"The power of publicity. You should be grateful, Mr. Greene. To think that here, in the heart of Yucatan—"

Greene made an inarticulate sound. He threw himself toward Ortega, who retreated as a guard roughly thrust the little man back.

Tomorrow, Grahame learns more of Janice's fate.

Injured in Accident New Bern, N. C., Feb. 13.—When the car in which he was riding with his grandfather, G. M. Henderson, collided with a Mill Supply Company truck, young Bobby Fuson, aged six, had two front teeth knocked out, sustained a facial laceration and a fracture of the jaw.

Tar Heel Seek to Regain Grid Glory By DILLON GRAHAM

(Associated Press Sports Writer) Chapel Hill, N. C.—(AP)—Memories of gridiron glories of yesterday and bright hopes for the morrow are before the Tar Heels of North Carolina, their old coaching regime overthrown and a new mentor installed.

Only mediocre success attended the efforts of Charles (Chuck) Collins during the latter seasons of his eight years here, and his contract was not renewed after the 1933 season.

Carl G. Snively, who built a fine record at Bucknell in Pennsylvania, was hired on a three-year contract, and with him as the pilot the Tar Heels hope to hit the victory trail again.

Gets Right On Job Snively lost no time getting down to business. Just a fortnight after his appointment he was on the campus here, holding his first spring workout.

With him he brought Max Reed, a former Bucknell star, who had aided him with the Bisons for the last five years. Reed will endeavor to produce as strong forewalls at North Carolina as he built at Bucknell.

Norfolk, one of the largest schools in the South, has a large student body from which Snively may draw his football candidates. He will have many of the aces of the 1933 team, including the fine guard, George Barclay, honored with selection on the All-Southern Conference team last season and the captaincy of the 1934 club.

Later his schedule includes Kentucky, North Carolina State—where his team clashes with that of another mentor new to the South, Hunk Anderson—Georgia Tech, Davidson, Duke and Virginia.

On the first day of the year a white leghorn hen owned by Mrs. J. R. Thornton of Santa Cruz, Cal., laid an egg 1-2 inches in circumference and more than six ounces in weight.

Lucky Strike advertisement featuring a tobacco plant, a pack of cigarettes, and text: 'NO Luckies don't use the top leaves... because top leaves are under-developed... they are not ripe... They would give a harsh smoke. YES Luckies use only the center leaves of the finest tobacco... because the center leaves are the mildest, tenderest, smoothest. NO Luckies don't use the bottom leaves, because bottom leaves are inferior in quality. They grow close to the ground, and are tough, coarse and always sandy. In making Lucky Strike, we actually discard most of the tobacco plant—because we select only the center leaves— and for these center leaves farmers are paid a higher price. We do not use the top leaves—because those are under-developed. Nor the bottom leaves—because those are inferior in quality—tough, coarse and always sandy. But these center leaves are the mildest leaves, silky, smooth, tender. And so only these center leaves are used in making Luckies the fully packed cigarette—so round, so firm—free from loose ends. The tobacco doesn't spill out. That's why Luckies draw easily, burn evenly—and are always mild and smooth... And then, too—"It's toasted"—for throat protection—for finer taste. Lucky Strike presents the Metropolitan Opera Company Saturday at 1:45 P. M. Eastern Standard Time, over Red and Blue Networks of NBC. Lucky Strike will broadcast the Metropolitan Opera Company of New York in the complete Opera, "Faust." Always the Finest Tobacco and only the Center Leaves

More Valentines

By MARY GRAHAM BONNER

The Puddle Muddlers certainly were getting ready for St. Valentine's day. They were hiding from one another what they were writing, and for whom they were making the valentines, as they wanted them to be surprises.

Willy Nilly had a little red heart for each of his friends, and through the red hearts he had drawn pointed darts to show that his heart had been pierced by love for all of them.

Christopher Columbus Crow wrote this valentine for Willy Nilly:

"My heart is never, never stilly— When I think of Willy Nilly."

Christopher had never heard the word "stilly" and he didn't believe anyone else ever had, but Willy Nilly would know what he meant and the rhyme, thought Christopher, was certainly nice!

This was what Rip, the Dog, wrote:

"Bones are juicy, bones are sweet, But Willy Nilly is a treat."

Rip hoped that this did not sound as though he would like to eat Willy Nilly!

Then they made valentines for one another, and when they were finished they put them in a hollow of an old tree nearby, which Willy Nilly said they would use for their Valentine's day post office.

Certainly they had kept some of the valentines they had made very secret, and all of the valentines were not so full of sweetness as those written to Willy Nilly.

In fact, all would not be happiness and love and sweet dispositions in Puddle Muddle when Valentine's day arrived.

Tomorrow—"Insulting Valentines"

FRUIT FOR YOUR DRESS? HERE'S A FIRST-AID TRICK

If fruit stains your dress or table cloth cover the stain at once with powdered starch and let it remain for at least an hour. Upon rubbing off the starch every trace of the stain has dried, rub each side of the material with yellow soap, spread over this a paste made of starch and cold water and rub it well. Then expose it to the sun and air until the stain disappears. Another trick is to dip the stain into sour buttermilk if you happen to have any around.

COLORED POPCORN BALLS POPULAR WITH CHILDREN

"MY KIND OF TRAVELING TAKES HEALTHY NERVES, TOO" Earle W. Schoonmaker of Nutley, N. J. travels thousands of miles every year as a commuter. He says: "I think I know something of nerve strain, too. Breakfast, the 8:04, the same trip again at the end of a hard day. I'm a constant smoker. My brand? Camels, of course. I can enjoy Camels steadily and I never have to worry about jangled nerves. Camels are the mildest cigarette. They've got what I call real flavor!" Thomas Olsen, who sailed a 26-foot boat across 9,000 miles of ocean, says: "There's one cigarette that I can smoke steadily without getting nervous or 'fed up' with smoking. I mean Camels. They taste mild—never flat—and there is a delicate flavor to Camel's costlier tobaccos that certainly does set Camels apart from other cigarettes." How Are YOUR Nerves? Most all of us know jangled nerves by these telltale signs — jumping when doors slam, scolding, worrying, nail-biting, frowning, foot-tapping. No wonder "nerves" are being put forward as one of the great questions of the day affecting men and women in every station of life. If you are the nervous type, check up on your eating, your sleeping, your recreation. And be on the safe side about smoking—take up Camels now. Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS than any other popular brand. Thousands daily are turning to Camels. And finding a new zest for smoking... an enjoyment that each Camel refreshes and renews. Enjoy Camels as often as you wish. Your taste will always respond to their finer flavor. And they never get on your nerves. TUNE IN!
