Johnson Unfolds Plans To Revise Existing Codes

NRA OFFICIAL BEATS CRITICS TO THE GUNS

Sweeping Amendments Contained in Six Point Program Presented by Administrator in Open Hearing; Revision Will be Followed by Bigger and Better Code Compliance

Washington, Feb. 27.—(AP)—Hugh S. Johnson beat the NRA's assembled critics to the guns today by suddenly unfolding a 12-point program for revising existing codes.

Before hundreds invited to the hearing could voice a single criticism the NRA administrator announced a wide code revision would be effected with sweeping amendments.

Individual instances, Johnson told the opening session of his field day for criticism would be allowed modification only if justification can be shown in public hearings.

Code revision, he added, will be followed by bigger and better Blue Eagle compliance campaign, call it what you will, he said, to make the emblem indispensable to all business.

"We are going on as we have begun," he said in a paragraph aimed at NRA enemies. These meetings were the first move in closing up of ranks for a new forward movement by the NRA.

"Chance or circumstances may stop us, but you are not going to stop or even make it falter."

The twelve corrections which Johnson said he had a ready gathered data as shown to be necessary were:

A more uniform and equitable rule of price stabilization when necessary to prove through custom and without further insurance against price outstripping purchasing power

ORDER NEW CWA CUT IN THIS COUNTY

Two Hundred and Eighty-two Additional Workmen to be Laid off Thursday

Orders calling for another drastic cut of CWA workers in this county was received this morning by K. T. Futrell, Pitt county administrator.

The new reduction will affect 282 men, making a total of 624 taken off the payroll here during the last two weeks. The new cut will become effective Thursday, the end of the work week with employees in this field.

Only 501 men, including every phase of activity, will be left on the payroll here next week, Mr. Futrell said, and women are included in this number.

The payroll of $11,500 last week will be cut to about $8,500 this week, the administrator said, and will be further reduced the following week.

Only necessary projects will be pushed forward from now on, it was said. They will include the swimming pool, community buildings and public school construction.

The reduction of workers will be felt most keenly among common labor, it was stated, in view of the fact that all of the work now in progress calls for skilled labor.

SLEET CAUSES MUCH DAMAGE IN CAROLINAS

Storm Brings Loss of Millions to The Piedmont Area of Two States

(By The Associated Press) Lower temperatures locked in ice the litter and wreckage in the Piedmont Carolinas Sunday by a sleet storm which swept away houses, indirectly caused three deaths, isolated towns and cities, forced down a passenger transport plane and caused property damage estimated in the millions.

Squads of workmen were busy everywhere clearing the highways of fallen trees, telephone poles and snarls of broken power lines. Small homes were repairing telephone and electric wires in the storm which completely cut off communication of the largest cities in the state.

Those who lost their lives as a result of the storm were: Charles E. Atwood, 38, of Chelmsford, Mass., killed here Monday night when his car skidded on the slippery road near Concord and crashed into a truck driven by A. F. Bowles, of Greensboro. Bowles was sent to a hospital for treatment.

Mary G. Moore, 3 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Gilmore, of Laurinburg, was fatally burned when she fell into an open fire.

A negro woman died of cold and exposure at Henderson. Lower skies and generally "dirty" weather which lingered Monday night as an aftermath of the storm forced down an Eastern Air transport plane carrying passengers in a field near Levv, S. C. Part of the propeller tore a hole through the cabin and caused the ship to zig-zag crazily.

The pilot made a safe landing with minor damage, and the passengers were picked up by another plane. Perhaps the heaviest sufferers from shrieking wind and hail were Winston-Salem and High Point.

At High Point, according to officials of the telephone company, the damage amounted to $1,000,000. Winston-Salem was without any communication until late Monday when telephone facilities were set up.

At Winston-Salem, home of the big tobacco industry, practically all work was at a standstill. The weather was cold today, snow being reported at several points, but the official forecaster gave promise of relief Wednesday when the temperatures are expected to moderate over both states with clearing weather prevailing.

Fowler, who resided just over the South Carolina line near here, was said to have been run over as he was repairing a tire on his automobile parked on the side of the road. Prince was held for grand jury action by coroner's jury which was impeached immediately following the accident.

WILMINGTON DRIVER HELD UP AND ROBBED Wilmington, Feb. 27.—A. C. Shipman, truck driver for the J. E. Marshburn and Sons Company, was held up Saturday night and relieved of several dollars by two unidentified young white men, he reported to police.

Shipman said he was driving in the southern section of town when a roadster occupied by two men started to pass him. Coming abreast the truck, they were said to have cut in front of it forcing it to the curb, where it was brought to a halt. Shipman said the two men, neither of whom he recognized held him up, taking $6 or $7 away from him.

Four Clubs of This Section to be Represented at Session Here

A group meeting of Rotary club of this immediate section will be held at the Rotary building in this city Monday evening, April 9, it was announced at the regular meeting of the local club last night.

Towns to be represented at the meeting are Ayden, Farmville, Washington and Greenville. Bill Smith of Farmville, is the group leader, and he is expected to provide one of the most interesting programs in years.

K. W. Cobb, president of the local club, presided over last night's session and the program was in charge of T. Y. Walker, of the Boys' Work committee. Club singing was led by J. B. Kittrell with Mrs. R. A. Tyson at the piano.

The principal speaker of the evening was Dr. W. Harvey Dixon, of Ayden, former head of the state school for mental delinquents at Kinston.

He told of the delinquency situation and said those effected were divided into three types—high middle and low. He said much of the mental trouble was hereditary, although environment in some instances was a contributory cause.

Three new members were inducted into the club by C. F. Harding. They were: Wyatt Brown, Ray Campbell and Edgar Meeks. After setting forth the ideals of the club, Mr. Harding presented the new members with copies of the Rotary code of ethics and club emblems.

Charlie Robinson was presented with the attendance prize given by J. B. Kittrell.

NEGRO WINS LAND SUIT

Henry Moyer Given Verdict in Final Day's Session of Civil Court

Thirty-five cases were disposed of in the one week civil term of Superior court which ended its sitting here late Saturday afternoon, records in the office of Clerk of Superior Court J. F. Harrington, showed today.

Although the majority of actions disposed of went the compromise route, quite a number were actually given hearing in spite of two cases that occupied two days each.

In the consolidated cases of Willie Moyer vs. Henry Moyer and Henry Moyer vs. North Carolina Joint Stock Land Bank, Henry Moyer came out winner.

Both the Maves claimed to have bought the same farm from the land bank. Henry Moyer was in possession of the place and Willie sought to have him ejected. Henry then filed suit against the land bank. The jury returned a verdict in favor of Henry.

George Cox and Wilbur Jackson, white men of the Winterville community, were arrested last week for violating state hunting laws and fined $5 and cost of action.

They were arrested by Heber Savage and Cecil Jones, county game wardens, and were given hearing before Magistrate H. L. Jenkins Saturday afternoon.

Numbers of similar arrests have been reported by county wardens from time to time. The wardens indicated the beginning of the hunting season they meant to enforce the game laws in an effort to protect the diminishing supply, and plan to carry their vigilance over into the fishing season.

Wintry Storms Help Increase Grisly Total

FRIGID WAVE HITS SECTION

Temperature Here This Morning 9 Degrees Less Than Former Cold Spell

Another cold wave whipped over this section of the state today causing widespread discomfort, but it was not as severe as the two cold attacks recorded several weeks ago.

In fact, B. T. Clark, in charge of the local government weather bureau, said this morning at 8 o'clock that the reading at that time was nine degrees less than the previous cold spell.

The government barometer at that time stood at 18 degrees. The last cold attack registered a low of nine degrees.

Automobiles were again frozen over today as well as water pipes, but the situation was not nearly as severe as the former cold spell when hundreds of pipes were burst and more radiators cracked than any other period in the history of the community.

The frigid temperatures followed two days of rainy weather and because of the dampness the cold was felt more keenly than under fair conditions. The sun was shining brightly today holding out hope of moderation in a day or so.

TORNADOES TAKE TOLL OF 20 LIVES

Blizzard North and East Sunday and Monday Accounted For 30 Deaths; Bus and Train Wrecks, Airplane Crashes, Gas Asphyxiations Also Add to Total; New York Struggles Vainly to Get Out of Snow

(By The Associated Press) Four days of catastrophe aloft and aground have brought sudden death to at least 85 people in the United States.

A train wreck, plane crash, bus smashup, lethal carbon monoxide and above all, the wintry storms have swelled the grisly toll that started Friday, Saturday, Sunday and Monday.

Tornadoes in the south Sunday and Monday, 30 dead. Bus wreck near Qualla, Arizona, Saturday, 6 dead. Cole gas asphyxiation at Dartmouth Sunday, 9 dead.

Several less serious accidents increased the toll. Two men died in Tampa, Fla., yesterday trying to fly and charred plane. Another crashing craft carried a national guard lieutenant to his death in a snowstorm near Loraine, Ohio, yesterday.

A freight truck and passenger bus crashed together in a blinding snow storm Saturday killing three. A New York bound Pennsylvania plowdown over an embankment last night after crashing through switch. Besides those killed four were injured.

Mercury plunging toward struck New York again today as it struggled in many cases in vain to dig out of a 36-hour snow which accompanied the record breaking blizzard last week.

Three other mad dogs were reported slain several days ago, but it is believed the one killed yesterday bit more animals than all the others combined.

Radcliffe, 35, prominent farmer and member of a widely known Pantego family has been underway since the murder at 8 o'clock Saturday night, officers say yet have failed to apprehend or locate the Negro.

County officers were out until about 4 a. m. Sunday, again later in the day and Sunday night went to Plymouth on a report that the killer was in hiding there at the home of a half brother. However a search of the relative's home in the Washington county town failed to reveal any sign of Armstrong.

The meeting was opened with a prayer by the chaplain, Mrs. Wiley Brown. This was followed by the pledge to our flag led by Mrs. McGeachy.

Dr. A. D. Frank of East Carolina Teachers College faculty, was then presented by our president and to Dr. Frank we are indebted for a very interesting and inspiring talk on the Life of George Washington.

Art Kassel Here March 6th.

The career of Art Kassel, popular leader of the orchestra of the Music Corporation of America, known to the public as "Kassels in the Air," reads like a novel.

Born in Chicago, just after the turn of the century, in a poor family, he peddled newspapers and picked up odd jobs when nine years old, not finding life miserable but attacking it with eagerness and interest.

The knowledge he gained of people then helped make his future career. He worked his way through high school getting in the school band and thus began his music career.

During the war he was in the Army band and when it was over he played in orchestras, in theatres, cafes and hotels. Then he had his own five-piece orchestra, played in a chophouse, and from there he traveled the road to success.

When he went out on the air his program made him and his "Kassels in the Air" one of the most popular radio entertainers.

Then came the demand for them to appear in persons and the concert tours followed.

They will give a concert at East Carolina Teachers College on next Tuesday evening, March 6, at 8:30 o'clock, in the Campus building.

ACCUSED WOMEN GRANTED FREEDOM

Rocky Mount, Feb. 27.—Mrs. Edith Holder, of Greensboro, and Mrs. Victor Fowler, of High Point, caught in a police dragnet here last Monday morning, released under habeas corpus writ Wednesday evening and rearrested a few hours later, walked to freedom from Nashville jail late yesterday.

The women charged with receiving stolen goods on warrants sworn out in Moore county, secured another writ and after a hearing before Judge Walter L. Small, of Elizabeth City, in Nashville, were permitted to leave the jail. While Sheriff C. L. Johnson had notified Moore County officers of the impending hearing and asked them to be present, no evidence was offered against either of the women.

They were taken when officers raided a suburban home here last Monday and captured Worth (Tack) Proctor and Eugene Gunter, held in Raleigh on a number of theft charges.

The third woman in the party, who gave the name of Evelyn Bradford was removed several days ago by Sanford officers, it was reported.

The Surprise

By MARY GRAHAM BONNER "Isn't Honey Bear going to get up?" Willy Nilly asked as they followed Jelly Bear to the cave. "Or has she decided to take another nap?" "She's awake," growled Jelly Bear, "and as anxious as can be to see all of you. She's waiting for all of us—waiting with the surprise. I really should say surprises."

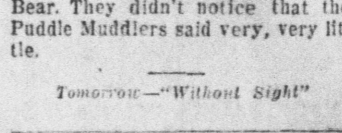

"Is there more than one surprise?" asked Christopher Columbus Crow.

"There are two surprises," growled Jelly Bear proudly. They all hurried as quickly as they could. Christopher wanted to fly on ahead and discover the surprises first, but they wouldn't let him.

At last they reached the cave, and Jelly Bear said, turning to the other Puddle Muddlers:

"The surprises are inside." They went inside and Honey Bear growled pleasantly to all of them: "Do you see what we have?" she asked.

And there in the half-darkness of the cave they saw two little creatures without any fur, almost without any shape. They were huddled close to Honey Bear.

"We have two Bear cubs!" announced Jelly Bear. "They came to us a little while ago and they are so contented just letting Honey Bear take care of them."

"Aren't they adorable?" asked Honey Bear, looking happily at all her Puddle Muddler friends, standing around in the Bears' cave.

"Aren't they perfect?" asked Jelly Bear. They didn't notice that the Puddle Muddlers said very, very little.

New York Cotton

New York, Feb. 27.—(AP)—Cotton futures opened easy 8 to 14 decline in response to lower Liverpool cable and under Wall Street and foreign selling on uncertainty over the crop control legislation.

Initial selling orders which included considerable liquidation brought in by the action yesterday's market sent prices off to 11.57 for May and 12.07 for October with active months showing losses of about 12 to 15 points right after the call.

The market steadied later on renewed rallies of 8 to 10 points from the lows.

The rally of 8 to 10 points met renewed liquidation but the offerings were absorbed and the market firmed in the morning.

At midday May was around 11.90 and October 12.16 with the general list showing declines of about 1 to 4 points on the active positions.

STOCKS

New York, Feb. 27.—(AP)—Financial markets displayed a little firmer front today but most leaders continued to maintain a watchful attitude.

Stocks were irregular and exceptionally dull in the early hours and the ticker was frequently idle.

A mild rally later failed to entice the proceeding to any extent. There were few developments of importance but brokers advised that the market's technical condition had been benefited by the recent reaction.

Grains, cotton, rubber and silver and other commodities indicators mullied about unexpressively.

"DIVING TAKES HEALTHY NERVES— AND SO DOES MY OFFICE JOB—"

Miss Elizabeth Harben, Secretary, Garden City, L. I., says:

"I know that deep-sea diving calls for healthy nerves. But, believe me, you can also feel plenty of real nerve strain being a secretary to a busy office executive! Telephones, callers, dictation, and a million other demands all take their toll. As to smoking—I smoke a great deal, but I'm careful in the choice of my cigarettes. I prefer Camels. They don't make my nerves jumpy, and I like their flavor better."

Frank Griley, Champion Deep-Sea Diver, says:

"Deep down under 300 feet of water, working feverishly under terrific pressure—no place for a nervous man! A diver's nerves must always be in perfect condition. I smoke Camels and have smoked them for years. They are a milder cigarette and they taste better. They never upset my nervous system."

How Are YOUR Nerves?

Do your responsibilities give you that "dragged through a knot hole" feeling? Do you come home tired, irritable, with nerves all askew?

Whatever your job or place in life, healthy nerves are worth any effort. Check up on your habits—your eating, your sleeping, your recreation—and do not overlook the subject of smoking—Turn to Camels, for the sake of your nerves. Any impartial leaf-tobacco expert will tell you that:

Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS than any other popular brand. An important fact to nervous people!

Camel pays millions more—for your enjoyment. And how much better Camels taste—mild, rich in flavor, delightful. They never get on your nerves... never tire your taste.
