COMPROMISE ON VETERANS BILL LOOMS IN CONGRESS

CONFEREES ARE NEARING AN AGREEMENT

House Modifies Measure, Cutting Expenditures Down to $261,000,000; Committee to Try For Agreement Behind Closed Doors Today On Payment to Veterans and Government Workers

Washington, March 15.—(AP)—The many millioned veterans benefit issue, productive of turbulent rising in the house and senate, was headed today toward a compromise acceptable to President Roosevelt.

Behind closed doors possibly today conferees from the senate and house planned to try for an agreement on payment to veterans and government workers.

The suddenly softened demand noted by the house last night, the senate sometime ago tacked amendments on the independent offices supply bill, adding about $354,000,000 to veterans benefits and promised payment to federal employees. This administration considered a blow at the economy program and veto by the president was threatened.

The house modified the measure last night, cutting the expenditure down to about $26,000,000. First indications were that a compromise could be worked out without long negotiations. The attitude of the senate was not finally determined.

House democrats after bolting their leaders capitulated suddenly last night to open the way to an agreement.

CWA WORKERS LAID OFF HERE

Sixty-Five Men To Be Dropped from Payrolls in Pitt County Tonight.

A reduction will make further inroads in the constantly thinning ranks of CWA workers in this county tonight when 65 employees are scheduled to be laid off in accordance with instructions received from the national administrator the first of the week.

Announcement of the cut was made the first of the week by K. T. Futrell, Pitt county administrator. It will bring the total number taken off the payrolls in the county to 730.

Mr. Futrell said that only 301 men would take the field next week and these will confine their activities to the construction of swimming pools, community buildings and general school improvement.

All of these projects are now under construction. Some are near completion while others will not be completed before the later part of April or May 1.

The weekly payroll has been sliced almost in two by the four reductions of workers made here the last several weeks and it is expected to diminish still further as the first of May draws nearer.

Improvement of rural schools will be continued under a new program to be launched in the near future, it was said the first of this week, and much of this work which has been suspended because of the shortage of workers will be pushed to completion as early as possible.

WINTER HANDS BIG SURPRISE TO THIS AREA

Unexpected Snowfall Recorded Here Last Night in Face of Fair Weather Report.

Old Man Winter, making what is generally believed the last attack of the winter, handed Greenville and community a surprise package last night in the form of a light snow. The snow was accompanied by tumbling temperatures which carried the mercury to below the freezing point this morning at 8 o'clock.

B. T. Clark, director of the local government weather bureau, said the snow was too light for recording, but it was believed the precipitation on the ground was an inch and a half. The earth was so warm, especially pavement on the streets, that the flakes melted almost as fast as they descended. However, house tops and much of the countryside was covered by a blanket of white when early risers peeked out from under the blankets this morning.

The snow started falling about midnight, quit for a while early this morning, started again about 7:30 and then descended completely a few minutes afterward. The sun was shining brightly a short time later with indications that the weather man's prediction of "fair and colder" would be sustained, although his predictions for the section went "warmer" last night.

Mr. Clark said the mercury was still hurtling downward this morning at 8 o'clock with indications that the temperature would be several degrees lower later in the day. Streets and sidewalks were completely clear of snow and pedestrians were not hampered in getting across the streets as they were last Saturday when six and a half inches were recorded here.

Cohen Out of Race

Washington, March 15.—(AP)—John S. Cohen publisher of the Atlanta Journal called upon President Roosevelt today and after the conference said he had not been offered the post as chairman of the Democratic National Committee.

Rumors that he was in line to succeed Postmaster General Farley circulated following his refusal of the committee secretaryship.

"I found the President looking fine and feeling fine and I think he is doing fine," said Cohen.

Late News Flashes From Over World

Take Crack At Bankhead Bill

Washington, March 15.—(AP)—Objections to the Bankhead cotton control bill were made today in the House on the ground that the compensation principle would be extended and turn the country into a semi-socialist state.

The speaker was Rep. Mot. of Oregon, but another Republican, Gilchrist of Iowa, favored the bill as designed to do away with "scabs and chislers." Thus the issue was drawn with the Democratic command confident of passage late today or tomorrow.

With no major controversy before the Senate spent part of the afternoon in good natured raillery. Republicans who voted against the St. Lawrence treaty yesterday despite the favor accorded it by former President Hoover, bore the brunt of the kidding.

More serious topics occupied other quarters. The American Federation of Labor warned that a momentous strike impends in the automobile industry. (Continued on Page Four)

HEARING FOR WOMAN SLAYER IS ABANDONED

Bond of $7,500 is Demanded for Release of Mrs. Pulliam At High Point.

Greensboro, March 15.—(AP)—A habeas corpus hearing for Mrs. Irma R. Pulliam 58, of High Point, charged with first degree murder of Lee H. Harvell was abandoned today and bond of $7,500 was set for the prisoner's release.

The hearing was called off when the state and defense decided to call no witnesses. Attempts were being made to arrange the bond.

No action was taken in the case of James Sledge, Harvell's 19-year-old grandson, indicted with Mrs. Pulliam for the murder. He is being held in jail.

As Mrs. Pulliam's hearing was called off, Solicitor H. Kentz announced he had a number of witnesses and that the hearing probably would be resumed. On the other hand Thomas J. Gold, defense counsel, said he had very few witnesses and that the hearing was to be as brief as possible.

A recess resulted in no witnesses being called.

SEEK YOUTHS FOR ROBBERY OF STORE HERE

Police Investigating Robbery of Store on Bonner's Lane Last Night.

A store robbery attributed to members of a gang of colored youths was reported this morning by George Clark, chief of the local police department.

The store robbed is that of Isaac McCoy's on Bonner's lane. When the store was opened for business this morning it was discovered that candy and cigarettes were missing along with a cigar box containing $25 tax funds.

The operator of the store said the box was practically full of candy which he had placed there from day to day for tax on various articles. He was unable to determine the amount of money represented.

The thieves entered the building by prizing open the front door. The door was ajar when it was opened for business early this morning.

Chief Clark said he believed the robbery was committed by members of the same band which has been operating here for sometime. All thefts have involved only a small amount of property each time but the nature of the crime is a serious one regardless of the amount of goods involved and police were busy attempting to round up the band.

POLICEMAN KIDNAPPED BY ROBBERS

Graycourt, S. C., Patrolman is Abducted as Robbers Loot Big Store.

Graycourt, S. C., March 15.—(AP)—Dennis Owens, night patrolman here, reported he was kidnaped today by two armed men who robbed the Abernethy and Owens store here of several hundred dollars worth of goods and fled after releasing him 18 miles away.

Owens was released at Mauldin, 8 miles from Greenville, and then walked back here where he reported the abduction.

He said two men alighted from an automobile about 1 a. m., under the pretext of seeking information. "In a flash," he said, "both pulled guns, covered me, and took my pistol."

The two policemen reported, the two tied him with a rope and pitched him into their car after which they leisurely looted the store of clothing and other goods and drove away.

YOUNG ROBBER IS PLACED ON PROBATION

Alonzo Rasberry Is Turned Over to Colored Family in Lenoir County.

Alonzo Rasberry, 12-year-old negro youth arrested here last week on a charge of breaking and entering a store in the western part of the county, has been placed on probation with a colored family in Lenoir county, J. F. Harrington, judge of juvenile court, stated this morning.

Judge Harrington announced several days ago that he planned to send Rasberry to the Hoffman school of correction, an institution conducted by the state for wayward negro boys, but since the time he decided that placing the boy with a family in a rural area might bring better results than confining him in the correctional institution.

Rasberry was nabbed by police Wednesday night of last week after he had broken into Charlie Allen's store in the western part of the county. A pedestrian who was passing the store about midnight saw the youth attempting to enter the front door. He notified police and a short time later Rasberry was taken into custody inside the store.

The youth admitted having entered the building Sunday night of the same week and taking a considerable amount of cigarettes, candy and a small sum of money. He was in the act of collecting things he desired when police surprised him in the second venture.

He was confined in the city jail but was later turned over to the juvenile court for final disposition.

REVISED LEAF SIGNUP TO END ON SATURDAY

Committeemen Are Expected to Turn in All Contracts by next Monday Morning.

The campaign recently launched for the signing of revised tobacco contracts will end Saturday night, E. F. Arnold, director of the local farm department said today.

Farmers whose contracts were returned by the government are requested to visit their committeemen and sign the revised contracts before the time limit expires. Mr. Arnold said, so that work of compiling them may be handled as rapidly as possible.

Mr. Arnold said committeemen would be asked to turn in all contracts by Monday morning so that they may be speeded to the federal department for final checking.

The campaign was necessitated by growers placing their production and acreage figures too high. It was said by the farm head, who is in charge of the signup, that about ninety per cent of growers in this county had had their contracts returned because of high figures.

Committeemen had been stationed at their old places in every township of the county to assist growers with the revision of figures, and it was said that in view of the limited time allowed for the signup farmers should lose no time providing the committeemen with new figures.

The government, it was said, is doing everything possible to aid growers, but this cannot be done if estimates for the next two years are to high. The object of the campaign is to cut production and stimulate prices.

RAIN HALTS FIRST LADY

Flying Boat Carrying Mrs. Roosevelt turns Back in Dominican Republic.

San Pedro De Macoris, Dominican Republic, March 15.—(AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt and her party traveling in a big Pan-American Airway flying boat was blocked by a rainstorm over Haiti today and returned to this airport after flying 120 miles west.

The big plane had arrived here at 7:05 (EST) after a flight from San Juan, Porto Rico. It took off a short time later on the return to Miami.

A terrific downpour of rain reduced visibility over the mountains of Haiti which pierce the western half of the island on which the Dominican Republic is situated. The pilot took no chances and turned back. The party left San Juan at 6 o'clock.

NATIONS OF ENTENTE ALSO ARE INVITED

Italy Realizes She is Not Strong Enough To Make Austria Independent and Needs Help of Other Nations; Invitation Will Be Extended as Soon As Present Conference Begins to Bear Fruit

Rome, March 15.—(AP)—Italy will invite France, Germany, and the nations of the Little Entente to join in the economic agreement expected to be reached in the tripartite conference in progress here today. The Associated Press was informed by an officially reliable source.

The invitation will not be extended soon, it is understood, but sometime after the agreement made by Chancellor Engelbert Dollfus of Austria, Premier Julius Goemoes of Hungary and Premier Benito Mussolini has begun to bear fruit.

In well informed quarters it is explained Italy realizes she is not sufficiently strong—even with the help of Hungary—to make Austria independent of Germany commercially and thus assure her political independence.

The cooperation of other powers is necessary to accomplish this end. The nations of the Little entente are Czechoslovakia, Yugo Slavia and Rumania.

FOIL ATTEMPT TO BREAK JAIL

Officers Halt Mack Potter's Effort To Batter Way through Jail Wall.

Mack Potter of Goldsboro, who has been held in jail here for some time awaiting criminal court action on a charge of stealing an automobile, made an unsuccessful attempt to end his incarceration last night.

Potter, officers said, tore down his bunk and with the aid of the iron parts attempted to batter his way through the brick wall of the county jail. He was checked by officers in time to avoid any serious damage, although the bunk and wall were considerably damaged.

Potter probably would have made good his bid for freedom had not jail attendants discovered him in time to call in the sheriff and halt the activity.

Potter stole an automobile here sometime ago and went to Kinston to bring an aged woman to Pitt county to see relatives. On the outskirts of the city he wrecked the car, severely injuring the woman, instead of assisting the injured woman, Potter was said by officers to have fled. He was not heard of until sometime later when he was taken into custody in Kinston.

The attempted break occurred last night about 9 o'clock and officers are summoned to the jail on the run to nip the threatened break in the bud.

New Books

By JOHN SELBY

George Cronyn's "The Fool of Venus" is historical romance, but it is certainly not historical romance of the type written by the Baroness Orczy.

Mr. Cronyn had some difficulty fixing the form in which he would present his conquering troubadour. First the form was a pageant, then a poem, then a play. Now it is a novel, but one so full of the history and romance of its period that it might almost be taken as a source-book on the period of the troubadours.

The period is, incidentally, that of the third and fourth Crusades. The cradle of the book, as it were, is rovenice in the time when great ladies held court, of love, and when it was marked a bad taste for one of them to refuse the attentions of a properly qualified wandering minstrel.

There is no space even to summarize the career of Mr. Cronyn's fascinating Peire Vidal; suffice it to say that the book is a long, riotous pageant of romantic love and intrigue, so highly colored that one must sometimes close one's eyes to rest, but carrying conviction on almost every page.

Russia Again

The complicated question of "who is to blame for what" in Russia today is once again open, this time by Alexander Kerensky, leader of the provisional government set up after the abdication of the Czar, and now editor of the White Russian paper in Paris.

Kerensky calls his book "The Crucifixion of Liberty," and makes in it a number of interesting points. One is that Leninists had no more to do with the February Revolution than did certain nobles, for example. Another is what Kerensky calls Lenin's cruelty. A third is that there is no dictatorship in the world more nearly complete than Stalin's. A fourth is that the Soviet's industrial campaign had been initiated long before the Soviets took charge.

As relief from this somewhat somber view of Russia today one might turn to Alexander Woolcott's "While Rome Burns," in which that portly writer makes some amusing comments on Russia—among other things. The book is a collection of Woolcott's pieces in a certain popular weekly, and is as full of chuckles as a pomegranate of seeds.

New Novels

Phil Strong apparently finds himself condescending a trifle toward his familiar Iowa characters in his latest, entitled "Village Tale." And Jeannette Phillips Gibbs is quite at one with hers in "Copy for Mother," which is the story of a writing mother who brought about various odd situations by using her family as "material."

Peter Gray has gone to the Grecian isles for the substance of "Pillar of Salt," wherein certain curious customs regarding executions are detailed and a quite unusual plot expounded. . . and Margaret Wilson, in "The Valiant Wife," is telling a romanticized version of the sacrifice for love of a Quaker girl who lived more than a century ago.

Among the mysterious fraternity there is one shining example of urbane horror—to wit, Sydney Horler's "The Secret Agent." It's about a plot to blow up Gibraltar.

The many strange voices sounded closer. The Puddle Muddlers did not know what it all meant.

"Hurry and tell us what you saw," Willy Nilly begged Christopher.

"We'll," said Christopher, "there are many wagons and in the wagons are lions and dogs and pigeons—not all together, of course! And there are any number of elephants marching along, and there are people and there is a band, too, although they aren't playing now; so we can't hear them."

"It is a circus, a circus!" cried Top Notch, the Roustabout.

"It is a circus, a circus," cried Christopher Columbus Crow. "I discovered that!"

"Well, you didn't say so, cack-a-doodle-do," answered Top Notch.

"What is a circus doing here?" asked Willy Nilly.

But now the sounds were so close that Willy Nilly knew he would soon find out.

And in a moment around the bend of the road, back of the cave, appeared many brightly colored circus wagons and a long line of elephants and many people, and in addition to the horses pulling the wagons there were eight black ponies.

"Hello, hello, hello," shouted to the people. And the lions roared so that the Puddle Muddlers felt cold shivers go up their spines. And the elephants lifted their trunks and trumpeted and the band began to play.

It was certainly exciting to have a circus pass through Puddle Muddle, but Willy Nilly wondered why they had chosen this out-of-the-way route. Soon he heard their most surprising plan.

Don't Get Up Nights Lax the Bladder With Juniper Oil, Buch, Etc.

Drive out the impurities and excess acids that cause irritation, burning and frequent desire. Juniper oil is pleasant to take in the form of BUKETS, the bladder laxative, also containing Buchu leaves, etc. Works on the bladder similar to castor oil on the bowels. Get a 25c box from any drug store. After four days if not relieved of "getting up nights" go back and get your money. If you are bothered with backache or leg pains caused from bladder disorders you are bound to feel better after this cleansing and you get your regular sleep. Pitt Drug Co., says BUKETS is a best seller.—(Adv.)

AWARD DAMAGES IN CIVIL COURT

Henderson, March 15.—Mrs. Laura N. O'Neil was awarded $10,000 damages and her husband M. J. O'Neil $5,000 by a jury in the civil term of Vance Superior Court today in their suit for $20,000 against S. O. O'Neil and Will Curtis, of near Madison Fla. The action was brought as the result of severe and serious injuries sustained by Mrs. O'Neil in an automobile wreck in Florida more than a year ago.

The defendants didn't put in their appearance at the hearing and the jury acted on the testimony offered by the plaintiffs. Mrs. O'Neil suffered a broken hip bone, and was confined in a hospital at Madison, Fla., for several weeks and later was brought to her home here, where she was in Maria Parham Hospital a much longer time, and for weeks after that was confined to her home. Harvey was sentenced to Atlanta penitentiary. He was transferred from that prison to a camp in the vicinity of Norfolk. He was granted a parole a few days ago.

Harvey revealed shortages himself and asked that he be indicted and tried so he could "take his medicine" without delay.

Lady Benefited By Cardui

"I was weak, discouraged, wasn't able to do anything for about seven months," writes Mrs. Sallie Bryson, of Kennedale, Texas. "An old lady friend suggested I give Cardui a trial. After I had taken half a bottle of Cardui, I was better and stronger. By the time I had taken three bottles, I was up, able to do my work and have gained in weight. Sometimes in the spring, if I feel nervous or a little run-down, I take a couple of bottles of Cardui and get all right. I feel I owe my good health to the use of Cardui. Buy Cardui at the drug store."

Judith Lane
 by JEANNE BOWMAN

SYNOPSIS: Judith Lane, Big Tom Bevin's "perfect stenographer," has agreed to marry Norman Dale, junior partner of the Houston law firm that handles legal business for the Bevin's engineering and construction concern. Now Judith finds that her employer's daughter, Mathie, is trying to take Norman from her, and that Norman's partner, Morton Lampere, is trying to wreck Bevin's plan to dam the Rio Diablo and reclaim a vast tract of land in Western Texas. Bevin has called Judith at the Deles, and asked her to go to his office.

Chapter Ten
BEVIN'S PLAN
 NORMAN left her at the street door and Judith ascended to the floor of the Bevin Building on which Big Tom kept his private suite. She opened the door with her own key, then stood for a moment. The room was dark, and Big Tom sat before the wide window opening onto the dusk and city lights.
 "Thank you for coming, Judy," he said. "Turn on the desk light, will you please, there..." he sighed queerly as the yellow glow revealed the desk with its pile of neatly stacked papers.
 Judith looked at it in surprise, she looked at him.

"As things stand now, I have Lampere blocked both ways."

"Mister Bevin... you're ill," she cried.
 "No, Judy. I was ill this morning. All right now. Judy come here, come close... that's a girl."
 He searched her face with an intent gaze, such as Delphy had searched it an hour before, and like the old colored woman, he nodded satisfied.
 "Judy," he said, "you're a fine girl. You've made up in great measure for my not having a son. We've worked here together for four years and I believe we understand each other pretty thoroughly, don't you?"
 Judith looked at him in surprise. He seemed suddenly old—"Yes, indeed, Big Tom."
 "I may do things in the future which seem a little queer to you, but knowing me I believe you'll see below the surface to the motive. Now to business.
 "Get that surveyors plat of the Rio Diablo basin, will you... that's it. Now see the crease line... then those dotted lines beyond.
 "I've a record of the deeds filed in Rio Mar here, and I have a few new deeds, taking care of the upper dam. I want you to check that map as I read these off... you remember you made a copy from the one in the County Clerk's office... and see that every inch of the basin, upper and lower dam, spillway and two miles beyond is covered. Ready?"
 HALF an hour later Judith looked up, "It's water tight, Mr. Bevin. Except for the Scoggins farm angle which jets into the main basin, there isn't an inch of ground you need that you don't own."
 "Tomorrow, Judith, you will own it."
 "What... what do you mean?"
 "This. After I left you last night I got the wires buzz. By dawn I knew Lampere was trying to double-cross me. When our reports of the annual water footage which might be expected in the Rio Diablo basin came in; Lampere discovered that what he had thought an old fool's hobby, could be made a veritable gold mine.
 "He thought that by purchasing a salient piece of land, a piece necessary for my building of the dam, he could force me to exploit the project, charge the poor landholders exorbitant rates for their irrigation privileges, and utilize the water power for selfish purposes.

 "He discovered I owned every bit of the land save that owned by Scoggins and sent a representative to Scoggins, offering him a remarkable price for his land. Fortunately he approached the most loyal, land-loving man there. He kept faith with me and refused to sell (you understand, Judy, that Lampere did not show his hand in any of this, but because of your friend, Cila, I was able to trace it back to his influence).
 "Having failed to obtain land around the lower dam, Lampere had a wily engineer by the name of Manhauser, go over the copy of a blue print, obtained from the original real estate people there, and he discovered that they might switch the course of the Rio Diablo, through an artificial channel, around the land owned by the natives and through virgin territory, upon which Lampere quickly obtained an option.
 "However, he first had to acquire land around the upper dam, and thanks to that storm, I was spurred into buying that before he got into the field.

OUT OF THE MASS GROUP INTO THE CLASS GROUP
... for a few dollars more a month!

The 2-Door Sedan—List Price at Pontiac, Michigan, $725.

The whole ideal of American life is built around the philosophy that tomorrow must be better than today.
 Day after day, we hear people say—"I'm so glad I decided to purchase a Pontiac Eight! It is such a satisfaction to feel that we have something more than mere transportation."
 This extra measure of satisfaction, of course, is strictly a plus value when you buy a new Pontiac Straight Eight.
 For, purely on the basis of what the car itself provides—it is the most logical car in America for anyone to buy.
 First of all, Pontiac is a big car—with a wheelbase of 117 inches—and big, roomy bodies by Fisher.
 It is powered by the great Pontiac "Speedway Eight" engine—one of the finest motors in use today.
 It rides, with its new "Knee-Action" wheels, with amazing comfort on any road.
 And, finally, it is one of the two most beautiful cars in America today—absolutely regardless of cost.
 Certainly, it's a pleasure to own the new Pontiac. For it is unmistakable that the man who drives a Pontiac has gone out of the mass group into the class group.
 And yet—it costs practically nothing to take this step. When bought on time payment, the difference between the cheapest cars and the Pontiac is frequently not more than a few dollars a month.
 Come in for a demonstration. Let us show you how easy it is to step up to "Straight Eight" ownership!

With convictions of kidnapers in seven states in the past few days and with Delaware adopting legislation that makes the crime punishable with death or life imprisonment, there is growing evidence that the country as a whole is going after the kidnaping racket with gloves off. Kidnaping, in our opinion, is one of the meanest of crimes, and the sooner those engaged in the racket realize that quick apprehension and sure punishment await them there will be less of these crimes.

A JUST COMPLAINT

Within the past few days we have received several complaints from residents of lower Swift Creek township in this county and even some from over the Craven County side regarding the CWA drainage project in Swift Creek, and if we are correctly informed as to the situation the folks of that territory have a just kick coming. According to the information the drainage project was primarily a health measure seeking to minimize the mosquito menace with its accompanying malaria but now, according to the complaints brought to us, it appears that the job will be far from completed when the CWA workers are called off the job with the result that those folks of the lower section of the township will be even worse off than before.

The work so far, according to reports made to us, has resulted in the cutting of numerous trees blocking the natural run of the water. Now some of the residents report that they are informed that the actual dredging will begin at the upper end of the territory and be carried only so far as the time and money set aside for the project will permit, leaving the residents of the lower end of the territory to make the best of a bad situation, for left in such a state it means that more water from the upper end will drain into the lower end with no possible escape thereby flooding the lower area.

If these reports are correct and if these citizens have been correctly informed as to the intention of those in charge of the project certainly they have a just kick for there is no justice in draining one section only to dump the water into the fields of residents of another.

SPORT SLANTS

By ALAN GOULD

Throughout the south this spring I hear the query: "Will baseball come back this year?"

You might think that in the land of the palmettos and orange blossoms, with ball clubs scattered all over the premises in their training camps, the atmosphere would be full of enthusiasm for the national sport and its ability to stage a come-back.

But outside the camps themselves this is not the case. The Florida folks to be blunt about it, think baseball has lost much of its old grip on the popular imagination. They are from Missouri, so far as 1934 and its prospects are concerned.

Perhaps this is due to the fact that there's a slacking of baseball interest between training seasons. Contrary to the usual notion, distance may not lend enchantment when the big league campaigns get under way in the north. It may not be necessary for the magnates to grow any more gray hairs because of this situation, but it's worth pondering on what the year holds for the old game.

Big Leaguers Co-Operate
If the 1934 season does not show a substantial upswing around the major league circuit, I know at least 16 big league club owners who will be sorely disappointed, if not actually suspicious.

They have combined to develop plans and activity calculated to pull almost everybody out of the red this year or at least to give the more sorely-pressed outfits an even break. Sunday baseball in Pennsylvania should be a boon to three teams experiencing financial difficulties in recent seasons. New capital for such chronic tail-enders as the Cincinnati Reds and Boston Red Sox has started both on the road to recovery. The Phillies and Athletics sold enough stars to avert a temporary crisis, hopeful meanwhile that no serious reckoning will result therefrom in the shape of decreased public patronage.

Brooklyn changing managers somewhat abruptly just before the start of the training season, appears determined upon further drastic measures. Detroit already is feeling the reaction of hiring the aggressive Mickey Cochrane as manager. The two St. Louis clubs, never big money-makers even in boom times, have hung on long enough and despite enough obstacles to feel that any change will be for the better.

An Odd Proposition

One of the oddest propositions that has been put up to a ball-player in some time is the suggestion of Connie Mack to his big first-sacker, Jimmie Fox, that he (Jimmie) take a cut in salary for 1934 and then gamble on the gate receipts at Shibe park for the possibility of additional money.

There have been many cases where the player was offered a bonus on his own personal exploits as a hitter or pitcher, but this is the first time I can recall that a player has been offered a scale dependent on the size of the crowds.

Mack offered Fox $15,000 flat, plus $2,500 extra if the Athletics draw 100,000 for their 77 home games, an $2,500 additional for each additional 100,000 cash customers.

As the A's only drew around 300,000 last season, with Groves, Earnshaw and Cochrane among the drawing cards, Fox was unable to figure how the proposition would benefit him, even with Sunday ball playable in Philadelphia for the first time in history.

Suppose THAT CORD BROKE in your tire!

THIS is a machine for stretching cords the way they'll have to stretch in your tire - every time the tire rolls around, which means about 500 times a minute at 45 miles an hour.

Both cords have been stretched exactly the same - and then released.

Look at the farther cord. It's come back tight and straight again. That's Supertwist - the cord used in every ply of every Goodyear Tire.

Now look at that broken cord in the foreground - and think what might happen if you had cords like that in your tire!

There's a little lesson in safety that's won millions of people to Goodyears - because it shows, without a lot of empty claims, exactly how much better Goodyear protects you from blow-outs - and why you get longer average life from a Goodyear Tire.

If this sounds a little technical - we'll sum it up in this: More people ride on Goodyear Tires than on any other kind - and of course that means more people buy them! How about you?

ben hed. There will be a meeting Saturday night of one hundred local people who will take various extra parts in the play.

The Passion Play is the story of Christ's last seven days upon earth, the last days preceding His death on the cross. It is told in a reverent and sincere manner by the players, who are now on their final tour of this country, having played here for more than five years.

The play is one of the most colorful, dramatic and impressive theatrical scenes presented in this country. The leading roles are assumed by the players, who are always assisted by local persons for the scenes. This is true, also in the old country, where the mob is recruited from the townspeople.

The coming of the Passion Play to this city should be of the interest of all God-fearing people, for it contains the real heart of the story of all Christian religion. Beautiful and elaborate scenic equipment, carried by the company and the costumes that are worn by the 125 people who enact the play are historically correct.

Those who are fortunate enough to witness the presentation which comes to this city, will behold one of the most beautiful and impressive spectacles that has ever been presented to the American public. Words not only fail to describe the scenic beauty, but also the beauty of the impressive text as spoken in English by the members of the cast. The vocal and musical numbers interspersed throughout the unfolding of this story of the Master and His last seven days on earth, will be rendered by members of the Choral club.

One of its most thrilling mob scenes is the one in which Pilate gives the people the choice to judge between Jesus and Barrabas. The mob asks that Jesus, the giver of life, be crucified, while Barrabas, the killed, be freed. This scene is a riot of color and action in which the entire chorus, cast and extras appear.

Ask the Men Who "Know Their Oil"

From long experience, expert mechanics and fleet operators will tell you that Tiolene, the 100% Super-Pennsylvania motor oil, stands up - resists heat - lubricates longer and better. Ask for Tiolene at any service station displaying the PURE seal sign. For you, too, it will cut motoring costs.

More Proof That Tiolene Can Take It!

I have used several different brands of Motor Oil, but I am now using TIOLENE 100 per cent Pennsylvania Motor Oil exclusively. I find it holds its body or stands up better than any oil I have used. I use it in the motor that pulls the mill, which runs at a high rate of speed. Sometimes it is run 50 hours or more before the motor is cut off, and I always find that Tiolene Oil is in good shape. I also use Tiolene in my truck, where it holds up better than any oil that I have used. I hardly ever add any oil before changing. I can highly recommend it for either a stationary or an automobile motor.

New York Cotton

New York, March 15.—(AP)—Cotton futures opened quiet lower under liquidations and southern selling in absence of any new constructive developments.

There was no feature to the early trading and the market continued quiet without particular trend.

May contracts sold off from 12.25 to 12.22 and at the end of the first half hour the general market was unchanged to three lower.

The market turned easier late in the morning. The decline in May extended to 12.17 and at midday the market was at the lowest for the day this far representing losses of 7 to 9 points.

N. Y. Stock Market

New York, March 15.—(AP)—Stocks had no friends today and prices generally sagged in trading even duller than that of the previous session.

Weakness of the non-ferrous metal issues was an unsettling element following word that the administration was not disposed to do anything more for silver at this time. Other Washington developments continued to hold attention of the speculative fraternity.

Most commodities were hesitant and silver dropped nearly two cents an ounce. Grains and cotton eased but rubber again showed improvement. The late tone was heavy.

U. S. Smelting lost more than 8 points and Cerro de Pasco and American Smelting were off three each. Declines of one to around two points were shown by Sant Fe, Southern Pacific, U. S. Steel, American Telephone, Montgomery Ward and American Tobacco.

Transfers were 1,300,000 shares.

try and General Motors Corporation gave simultaneous notice that it would never recognize an A. P. L. union as such.

The views were given as far apart as the scenes themselves with President William Green of the Federation, appearing before a congressional committee.

Downtown a statement by Vice-president William Knudsen of the corporation was addressed to the NRA labor board which is seeking to conciliate between automobile employers and employees.

Stricter observance and enforcement of the NRA occupied both the executive and legislative branches.

Insult Escapes.
 Athens, March 15.—(AP)—Samuel Insull, Sr. wanted in Chicago on charges of embezzlement and grand larceny, fled from his apartment home early today and it was believed he was on his way to Paris.

He was said to have escaped dressed as a woman.

After hours of official silence and dozens of conflicting unofficial rumors of the government through the department of alien control, admitted officially that the 74-year-old former utilities czar had escaped.

Insull apparently made his escape through a police cordon that surrounded his home where he had been a refugee from American authorities for more than a year.

Refuses To Take Part In Probe.
 New York, March 15.—(AP)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh in a telegram to Secretary of War Dern today reiterated his refusal to take part directly or indirectly in the investigation into army aviation.

"I want to thank you for your telegram and to assure you that I deeply appreciate the honor of being asked to serve on the committee," Lindbergh's telegram said.

"I do not feel that I can take part directly or indirectly in the operation of the military forces of American business and commerce.

"The army is now being used to operate the commercial airmail system. Consequently I regret to reply again that I do not feel I can serve on a committee which is charged to study a report on the performance of the army air corps in its mission to carry the mail and directed by an executive order."

Even so.. you can say Chesterfields are "not like others"

Not like others..

NO two people in the world look alike... act alike. So it is with tobacco... just like folks.

No two leaves are the same.

And it's the same with cigarettes... no two brands are alike.

Furthermore, not only are the tobaccos different, but the way the tobaccos are handled is different.

This, you can understand.

You know just as well as we do that no two manufacturers use the same kinds of tobaccos, or blend them or cross-blend them or weld them together in the same manner.

We do everything that science knows and that money can buy to make CHESTERFIELD as good a cigarette as can be made.

We hope you like them. They are "not like others."
