VIOLENCE FLARES ANEW IN NEW YORK TAXI STRIKE

Over Six Hundred Perish As Fire Wrecks Jap City

NEARLY 500 PERSONS ARE ALSO INJURED

Twenty-Three Thousand Homes Destroyed in Direst Tragedy Since Yokohama Disaster; Several Warships Dispatched Two Are With Blue-jackets and Medical Supplies

Tokyo, March 22.—(AP)—The governor of the prefecture of Hokkaido announced officially today that the casualties in the fire which destroyed the port city of Hakodate yesterday were:

Killed, 650. Injured, 460. Houses destroyed, 23,000. It was Japan's direst tragedy since the Tokyo-Yokohama earthquake and holocaust of 1923.

Witnesses described the city which held 213,000 citizens as "living hell" today.

Firemen, police and soldiers moved through the still burning buildings on a grisly search for bodies.

Four destroyers and two other warships were dispatched from Omote, carrying blue-jackets and medical supplies.

The army rushed blankets and food to succor of the destitute and homeless which faced a bitter, shelterless night.

The meager details which beat through the capital over the badly wrecked communication system told how during the day and night before whole crowds got between the fire in a mass to the water. Many of the persons already injured and burned drowned at the dockhead.

Infantrymen patrolled the streets to prevent looting of whatever remained of the homes.

The fire meant freedom perhaps for many convicts for they were turned out of the jail into the streets when the flames bore down on the prison. Authorities said their presence abroad would increase the chance of crime.

EAKES WINS IN MULE SUIT

Pitt County Farmer Awarded Decision Against Local Livestock Dealers

A lowly mule held the stage in yesterday's session of civil Superior court here and the man who bought him was the winner, although he didn't think much of the mule.

The case was that of J. L. Askew and Company, local livestock dealers against J. S. Eakes, farmer residing several miles from Greenville.

Eakes bought a mule from the Askew firm. It was one of those "times" deals so the firm took a claim on another mule which Eakes owned.

Eakes contended the mule was no good and that he attempted to get the dealers to take the animal back. He paid some on the mule, but declined to make further payment.

The concern immediately took steps to obtain settlement, contending the animal was in fine condition when sold and that he was capable of doing general farm work such as demanded by the purchaser.

The jury decided Eakes was not only entitled to the mule but that he should recover $15 of what he had already paid on the animal.

Late News Flashes From Over World

Talk Labor Troubles. Washington, March 22.—(AP)—The administration let automobile labor union representatives know today that part of its plan for peace in the industry is appointment at once of a committee to pass upon several hundred charges of anti-union discrimination by manufacturers.

Showing this much of its hand just before the labor men took their position to President Roosevelt personally Hugh Johnson met with 30 spokesmen of American Federation of Labor locals in Michigan, Wisconsin and Missouri. They laid the discrimination charges against their employers before the NRA head.

It was indicated the question of an election to use workers' representatives for collective bargaining had not been touched upon, being left for the White House parley.

The union men did not receive from Johnson any outright settlement proposal.

They informed him that although the men were anxious to avoid a strike, all were demanding some concrete word from Washington tonight. The union spokesmen said there were 25,000 insisting that a decision be arrived at at once.

Johnson's plans for immediate action on the discrimination basis, many of them alleging they were employers before the NRA head.

NEW CWA CUT ORDERED HERE. Sixty-five Men To Be Dropped From Payroll in This County Tonight. The federal paring knife continued today to slice additional men from CWA forces in this country.

K. T. Futrell, director of CWA activities here, stated this morning he had been advised from State CWA headquarters at Raleigh to take 65 persons off the payroll at the expiration of the work week tonight.

Approximately 800 persons have been dropped from the payroll here since the paring process has been under way the last month or so and this will reach its height May 1 when the entire CWA will be disbanded.

Only 301 workmen will take the field here next week, the administrator said, and continued broads will be made into the force from week to week until the disbandment actually takes place.

Virtually every type of work in the county will be affected by the new reduction order, Mr. Futrell said. The men will be picked from jobs where the work will be least affected.

It is the object of the administration to push all necessary work as rapidly as possible, Mr. Futrell said. This includes swimming pool, community buildings and school construction. Numbers of these projects have been completed or are nearing completion at this time, while others will not be finished until the abandonment order has actually been issued.

TWO SCHOOL CHILDREN DIE IN COLLISION

Two Also Injured As School Bus and Lumber Truck Crash in Montgomery

Troy, Mar. 22.—(AP)—Two Wherrie school children were instantly killed and two others were seriously injured in a collision between a school bus and a lumber truck about ten miles west of here this morning.

The dead are: Ray McIntyre, 10, son of George McIntyre, and James Hamilton, 8, son of Crowley Hamilton.

The injured, both critically, are: Cline McIntyre, brother of Ray, and Pauline Hamilton, sister of James. All lived in Montgomery county and were enroute to school when the accident occurred.

Cleora Hurley, driver of the lumber truck, was taken into custody by Sheriff C. C. Howell, pending investigation.

School officials also began an investigation of the crash, said to be the first serious bus accident in the country's history. The bus was struck as it passed the truck on a curve and was practically demolished, as loosened timber was whirled against it.

Raymond Dennis, driver of the bus, and the truck driver escaped with minor injuries. There were no other children on the bus.

Evidence was that both vehicles were travelling at a moderate rate of speed.

MAN HELD ON THEFT CHARGE. Simon Cardwell Finds Greenville so Hot he Steals An Ice Truck Last Night.

It's getting so hot around town for thieves that they are now taking ice wagons. Simon Cardwell, 24, former resident of Greenville, didn't realize it when he returned here several days ago, but he knows it now.

Cardwell, described by police as a "floater," was taken into custody early today charged with robbing an automobile, stealing another automobile and then an ice truck. He pulled all three jobs last night.

Both the car and truck were abandoned and an overcoat and kodak stolen from Ralph Pendergraft's automobile were recovered.

Cardwell, police said, not only confessed but carried officers to where the stolen goods were left. He was arrested at the home of Dave Johnson on North Jarvis street. Jarvis and Cardwell married sisters, police said. His wife was at the house at the time of his arrest.

Cardwell started out on his clean-up job early last night by stealing Ralph Pendergraft's overcoat and kodak from his car which was parked in his yard on Summit street. He went next door, stole an automobile belonging to a Mr. Bonner and drove away.

Some time later a tire burst on the stolen car and it was abandoned. Going to the home of Ike Moore, Cardwell, police stated, stole an ice truck belonging to the Citizens Ice Company. This was abandoned on First street during the night. Police had heard of Cardwell being in town, and immediately went to where he was visiting and questioned him. The confession followed. Chief of Police George Clark said Cardwell would be given hearing in mayor's court Saturday morning.

SLAIN MAN IS IDENTIFIED AS GANG LEADER

Man Found in Gutter In Cicero, Ill., Said To be Notorious Fred Goetz

Chicago, Mar. 22.—(AP)—That man whose body they found full of lead in a Cicero, Ill., gutter Tuesday was identified today as a criminal long hunted for some time and one of the most sensational and cold-blooded gangsters.

Except for his fingerprints, the man might have been concealed in death as he so successfully did in life his true identity—Fred Goetz, 37, college educated, gangster and brains of a deadly group of desperadoes Chicago police ever hunted.

The law caught up with him post mortem in a morgue where prints taken from his lifeless fingers showed he was Mack George Ziegler, under which name he had been tentatively identified.

One time football player at the University of Illinois, suspected participant in the St. Valentine Day massacre of seven Moran gangsters, the machine gun slaying of four officers and convicts in the escape of Frank Nash at Kansas City union station last June 17.

The seven were arrested here on March 6 when they attempted to interfere with non-striking workers as they entered the mill gates.

LOST AIRLINER DISCOVERED IN ARGENTINA

San Jose, Which Disappeared in 1932 With Nine Aboard, Found in Andes

Mendoza, Argentina, Mar. 22.—(AP)—The Pan-American Airways airplane San Jose lost in 1932 with nine persons aboard was found today in the Argentine Andes, four miles south of Puente Del Inca. The disappearance of the great airliner had been a mystery of aviation for months.

For days it was lost on the flight between San Diego and Buenos Aires. Other planes cruised over the regular route in constant radio communication with Mendoza and Santiago. Other expeditions were sent out on foot through the snow covered mountain passages in an effort to determine the fate of the fliers. The ship carried three passengers and three crew members.

The San Jose left Santiago at 6:40 a. m. July 16, 1932. Its radio was last heard here at 7:40 a. m., but an hour later the plane was seen flying over the Argentine Andes near Las Cuevas, Argentina.

The plane was discovered by employees of the Puente Del Inca hotel who advised Pan-American Airways that the plane was wrecked and nine bodies were found.

Fatally Hurt In Car Crash

Aulander, March 22.—Col. Davidson, the 18-year old son of Spurgeon Davidson, died Tuesday in Parkview Hospital at Rocky Mount, from injuries sustained Sunday evening just after dark.

Everett Brinkley, of Ahoskie, and C. W. Crowell, while on their way from Aulander to Ahoskie and about a mile from Aulander met an automobile going in the opposite direction. Just as their car passed the oncoming car it struck Davidson fatally injuring him. Young Davidson was walking on the concrete highway and on the right side, going toward Ahoskie. As Mr. Brinkley's automobile passed the other automobile he felt the bolt of the impact with the pedestrian. He immediately stepped and found the young man lying on the side of the highway where the car had knocked him. He took him up and rushed him to the office of Dr. S. A. Saunders of Aulander, where first aid was administered, and then Dr. Saunders took him to Parkview Hospital, Rocky Mount, for further treatment.

Demonstration in Theatre District Broken up by Police Reserves After Regular Patrolmen Are Swamped; Five Thousand Take Part In Demonstration in Times Square

New York, March 22.—(AP)—Violence flared anew today in the taxi strike after another clash between strikers and police in the theatre district.

At least 15 persons were injured and 14 arrested as a result of the disorders in various parts of the city.

The demonstration in the theatre district, centering in Times Square, was broken up by police reserves who were called in when regular patrolmen were swamped.

Strikers and sympathizers estimated at least 5,000 surged down from Broadway just as the theatres were emptying. They pulled doors from cabs, yanked out taxi drivers, and hurled missiles through cab windows.

The demonstration then broke into a riot and the crowd continued attacking cabs. Four policemen were reported as being attacked by the demonstrators. Two required medical attention.

SIMONS WINS LAND DISPUTE. Bethel Man Recovers Property In Suit Against J. L. Williams Of Greenville

A jury in the civil term of Superior court yesterday afternoon returned a decision in favor of A. J. Simons, of Bethel, who was suing J. L. Williams, of Greenville, for recovery of a piece of land given as security for a loan of $500.

The case, started Monday morning, was received by the jury Tuesday afternoon about 5 o'clock and the verdict was returned late yesterday.

The suit centered around a piece of land in the Bethel territory in which Simons has a "life" estate. When Simons obtained a loan of $500 and agreed to make settlement by January 1, 1933, he gave Williams a deed to the property with the understanding if he did not settle as agreed Williams should farm the land for a period of two years.

Williams farmed the property last year when Simons failed to repay the loan and was preparing to place a crop on the land again this year when Simons filed suit for recovery.

Simons contended Williams made enough on the crops the first year to settle the indebtedness and that the property should be returned to him. Williams contended, however, there were so many debts he was unable to make enough to cover the loan. The jury's decision was to the effect that Williams had made enough off the property and ordered that it be returned to the plaintiff.

A motor will run without oil at the Blue Bird filling station Friday and Saturday of this week. It was announced today. The motor will be displayed in connection with the introducing here of Pyrol lubricating process which guarantees easy starting and 100 per cent motor protection. The use of this oil, it is said, reduces friction from 30 to 50 per cent, thus increasing power and speed on less fuel.

The Blue Bird invites its many friends around to see the motor operate without oil.

THREE CARY STORES ROBBED TUESDAY NIGHT

Cary, March 22.—Burglars broke into three Cary stores on Tuesday night. At each place entrance was through the front door which was prized open.

From W. L. Jones' corner store about $5.00 from the cash register a dozen boxes of hose and eight or ten boxes of women's ready made underwear were stolen. The boxes containing the dry goods were left piled near Gray's old store and at the old Seaboard freight depot.

From Jones' cash store, operated by A. F. Hunter, a little change, some flour and cigars were missing. Mr. Jones estimates his total loss to be about $150.00.

Mrs. W. L. Pipkin, who recently opened a grocery store just beyond Breeze's filling station, said she did not think very much was taken from there, but the door was found prized open when P. C. Pleasants, who runs a hatchery in the same building, went down early in the morning. The bread man, who came to W. L. Jones about 6 a. m., discovered the burglary there and notified Ernest Northcutt, a clerk. Hunter did not find out that his store had been entered until he came to open up at the usual hour.

Here's a Headache For Banks; Two Can Write Identically

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE (Associated Press Science Editor) Durham, N. C., March 22.—(AP)—Although he says there are 63,705,000,000,000,000,000,000,000 variations possible in writing the figure "1", Robert Saudek announces discovery of the thing experts held impossible—identical handwriting of two persons.

He has found this handwriting mostly among identical twins. Among 234 such pairs the identical encephalograms occurred in five per cent. More remarkable, he discovered one case of identity in unrelated persons. He concludes that this unheard-of similarity is possible once in about each 10,000 persons.

Saudek is a London psychologist and announces his studies, with pictures of the handwriting, in the International Quarterly for Psychodiagnostics, Character and Personality, published here at Duke University.

Made Same Errors.
The unrelated pair are 11-year-old girls, inmates of the Royal hospital for the deaf in Edinburgh. They were unacquainted until they met at the school. The main difference in their writing, he says, is in size of script. In writing the word "flame" these two even made the same mistakes. Writing "they" and "done", both got the word "done" wrong and corrected it.

Of one of the examples identical writing he states "It is out of the question that 10 years ago any expert would have admitted the possibility, even were it only theoretical, that various parts of this specimen could have been written by different persons; and it is quite inconceivable that any court would have accepted the report of an expert who would claim that it had been written by two persons and not by only one."

The sample is 12 lines, the first six written by one girl, the last six by her sister.

Some of the identical hands he has found, Mr. Saudek says, "would not only mislead the laymen (among whom practically all bank clerks dealing with their clients' signatures must be counted), but also the expert."

WOMAN QUITS POST ON PARTY COMMITTEE

Washington, March 22.—(AP)—Miss Ellen S. Woodard said tonight she had notified the Mississippi State Democratic committee of her resignation as Democratic committee woman from that state, because of her position as director of women's work of the Emergency Relief Administration.

She is one of the several holding government offices here who in compliance with the administration's wishes have relinquished Democratic committee membership.

Miss Woodard said she had sent the State committee a copy of the resignation she presented to Postmaster General Farley, national Committee chairman.

She said she did not know whether the vacancy caused by her resignation would be filled by appointment of the state committee or whether a convention would be necessary to elect a successor.

NEGRO BISHOP IS GIVEN SENTENCE

Brooklyn, N. Y., March 22.—(AP)—Bishop Charles Manuel Grace, Negro, of Charlotte, N. C., was freed on a $7,500 appeal bond today after he was sentenced to a year and a day imprisonment on a Mann Act conviction.

Grace, head of the House of Prayer for All People, a sect claiming 200,000 members, moved to carry the case to the circuit court of appeals immediately after Federal Judge Marcus B. Campbell imposed sentence.

The bishop was convicted last week after a trial during which he was attended by eight Negroes in colorful, broad military uniforms.

Grace, pianist, Minister of the Gospel, Negro, carried to court an infant son, Charles Manuel Grace, Jr., and stifled the defendant took her to Baltimore in 1932, with lengthy stops at Washington, D. C., and Philadelphia.

Grace, on the witness stand, denied the charges. Today he was questioned by Judge Coleman, before sentencing, on alleged "involvement with the authorities" in Savannah, Ga., Charleston, S. C., Augusta, Newport News and Birmingham.

Grace charged these were caused by "jealous creatures" and added "Forty-two preachers banded together to stop me from preaching in Charleston."

My Beauty Hint

Scarfs, large hats and other protections against the sun are used as a matter of course in the daytime. If the sun by chance has worked some damage to the complexion, peroxide and lemon juice are brought forth to bleach out the skin.

THE CIGARETTE TAX QUESTION

There seems to be a growing demand for a reduction of the federal tax on cigars and if the movement successful it should reflect great benefit to the tobacco growers.

The cigarette manufacturers have stated that should there be a reduction in the cigarette taxes the saving to the farmers in the form of higher prices for their tobacco and to the consumer in lower prices for his cigars.

Every tobacco farmer and every citizen, especially in a tobacco growing area, could be interested in this movement.

According to an advertisement, an automobile will be operated here tomorrow Saturday without oil.

Jonquils and japonica, thought Judy. She'd use them oriental fashion in her brass opium bowl for... she hesitated... would she be giving that bridge luncheon for her mother-in-law now?

She paid the driver at the highway entrance, then began the climb to the cottage. Lige should have massed the bluetts so they would look more like flowerlakes in the rock cups...

"JUDY, Judy, don't do that; don't cry like that." Norman was there. He was holding her in his arms, picking her up, carrying her to his den to hold her in his arms in a deep chair. "There, there, Judy—"

"If I'd stayed, would I have been here?" questioned Norman with masculine logic. Judith reached for the handkerchief he offered. Her own, a sodden small hand, had been discarded en route. "No," she choked, then reluctantly, as though realization of what he said had penetrated—"No, you were here when I came in, weren't you?"

"Yes, I stood at the window and watched you admiring your work all the way up the hill. You have no modesty at all, Judith Dale... and look at the poor lily you plucked, crushed..."

YES—THE BASEBALL SEASON IS JUST AROUND THE CORNER

It won't be long now. Pitchers are unlimbering their arms, sluggers are getting their eyes on the ball and fielders are shagging flies and digging 'em out of the dirt—training for another baseball season. Let's take a tour of some of the camps. First we see Hughie Critz (left), New York Giants infielder, spearing a high throw at Miami Beach, Fla. Next Charley Berry (below), Philadelphia Athletics catcher, socks one at Fort Myers, Carl Ulrich catching. Above are three Chicago White Sox players taking the kinks out of their legs at Pasadena, Calif. Left to right: Whitlow Wyatt, pitcher, George "Mule" Haas and Milton Boczek, outfielders. SPORT SLANTS

By ALAN GOULD

There's something about the great hitters of baseball that you can't miss, whether it's a Cobb or Ruth, a Sisler, a Fox or a Hornsby. They have distinctive methods and styles. Of course, but there's something beyond that to fascinate the onlooker an impulse of admiration and interest in them that exists long after they have passed their prime.

Ruth, on the downgrade, still is the highest paid player in baseball. Fox has already moved up to occupy the home run throne and has acquired a big following. Hornsby is a manager in the American league his playing days largely behind him after some 18 years of activity, but the Rajah is the most commanding figure in the camp of the St. Louis Browns at West Palm Beach. This is not due entirely to the Browns' lack of individuality but because Hornsby can still hit the ball for tremendous distances with fascinating ease and grace.

Heine Manush, a former American League batting king, remarked as he watched the Rajah give the ball a long ride: "That fellow always will hit as long as he cares to step up there. It may seem strange but the batting eye, coupled with judgment of speed and distance, is the last thing a really great ball player loses."

'It Only Takes One'
Like a great many other long-range batsmen, Hornsby rose quickly to hitting fame with the post-war advent of the lively ball in 1920.

Then with the St. Louis Cardinals the Rajah jumped his average 52 points that year to 370 and led the National league for the first time. The same season marked an output of 54 home runs by Babe Ruth, nearly double the best previous record. For 10 straight years Hornsby out-was only once below .300. He averaged better than .400 for five consecutive seasons, 1921-25 inclusive, and set the modern mark of .424 in 1924.

No wonder now that all Brownsies and prospective Brownsies are lending an attentive ear to any suggestion Hornsby makes about their hitting or copping the Rajah's loose easy swing at the plate. He has them all with their best of their shoulders, ready to step quickly into the pitch. One of Hornsby's batting axioms is: "It only takes one strike to produce a base hit. Don't worry about the count." His own theory always has been that confidence is fully half the battle in swinging against any kind of pitching.

"Let the pitcher do the worrying," he advises.

Frankness—No Liability
It is one of the unspoken laws of baseball that the player who is admittedly one of the best in the game and former leaders in the game are given notice of appeal.

charge of the American's 1933 cell club.

Frankness of a sometimes brutal variety has been both a liability as well as an asset to the hard hitting Texan. He has no more hesitated to tell a club-owner what he thinks than to give a rookie the plain facts. Athletes and newspapermen admire the Rajah most for qualities that undoubtedly have cost him a couple of lucrative jobs.

Windsor, March 20.—Although the entire force of the Civil Works Administration, in Bertie County is to be demobilized on March 31, all principal projects started under the program will be completed under the new set-up, the Federal Emergency Relief Administration, which supercedes the former on April 1, it was learned here Monday from J. H. Sprull, county administrator. However, in the future, greater stress will be placed upon a rural rehabilitation program, improving farm tenantry and getting people back to the land, rather than providing jobs for the general run of the unemployed on civil works.
